WANTED—A SON.

Wanted a son who can tend a furnace and mow the lawn and not complain.

Wanted, a son who is on time at his meals, who can keep his room clean, and who does not leave his clothes scattered over the house for his mother to pick up, who is not selfish or lazy.

Wanted, son who does not neglect his mother, who will not whine for her to wait on him, who is good and thoughtful to her, who is proud of her, and tells her that he loves her and doesn't care who hears him.

Wanted, a son who keeps his temper, who can be happy around the home, who is respectful of his father and mother, who can be as chivalrous to his sister as to his sweetheart, who offers his father and mother his seat when they enter the room, who can close a door without slamming it, who is thoughtful of others.

Wanted, a son who likes the company of older boys but who does not need to take them away from his home to have a good time with them, who can be happy with them before his mother and father.

Wanted, a son with ambition to amount to something, who believes in himself, is self-reliant, whom other boys can not lead astray, who will not swerve a hair's breadth from truth or right who hates villainess who leads a clean life.

Wanted, a son who can remember and keep a promise, who scorns a lie.

Wanted, a son who has the making of a man in him.—Exchange.

SHALL MEN TREAT WOMEN RESPECTFULLY.

We don't quite understand these Alice Paul and Margaret Hildreth persons who hang out a Washington, as the leaders of a so-called "Women's Party." Miss Alice and Miss Margaret have decided to hold a convention of the party in February, at which time they will take steps to put an end to the thing of men taking their hats off to ladies and standing up in the presence of women.

They denounce such gallantries as "piffing," and not becoming to the independent woman who now has a vote.

To our mind the male individual who shows respect to womankind, proves that he is a real man. The fellow who won't take his hat off to a woman is either an ignorant or a ruffian. Of course there are plenty of them, especially in Europe, where women often take the horse's place at the plow. In America respect for women is a national trait, a characteristic that makes our men manly, gentle two-fisted humans.

We don't think Alice and Margaret will get very far with their kind of party. Also we suspect in their party is one that they can carry in their ves pockets.

But, anyhow, we know one man who will salute the women with respect and treat them dutifully and with devotion at all times and under all circumstances, regardless of all mannish Alices and Margarets in Christendom. We don't mind stating that that man is this editor.—Wellington Leader.

A letter received from Dr. C. E. Richardson of Peach Orchard, Arkansas, bears the information that he will arrive with his family about the 20th. Dr. Richardson was here last week and at once realizing the need of a local veterinarian, decided to cast his fortune with us.

WINTER CARE OF SOWS INSURES HEALTHY LITTER

WILLIAM W. SMITH GIVES VERY VALUABLE ADVICE ON CARE AND PRODUCTION OF PORKERS.

It is during the winter, in most of the pork-producing sections, that the problems of housing and management, sanitation and feeding become more than usual importance. With cold weather, frozen ground and dry feeds, the breeding herd is under conditions which make it more difficult to maintain good health. The problems involved in the successful management of the herd during the winter directly affect the results in economy of maintenance and in the number and quality of the pigs produced.

An item of first importance in the winter management of the breeding herd is its proper grading. Only those individuals whose requirements for feed and general care are the same should be together. The effect of allowing the fattening sows to run with the fattening sows is to jeopardize greatly the chances of a good pig crop in the spring. Hogs that are being fattened for market do well in restricted quarters, and with full fattening rations. It is impossible for the pregnant sow under these conditions to produce healthy, vigorous pigs or to nurse them properly after birth. The sows demand a special ration and plenty of exercise. Open and bred sows should be separated from the mature sows, for they require more liberal ration and one containing more bone and muscle-building ingredients, especially during the first half of the winter. With advanced pregnancy, the sows should be separated from the open gilts when the facilities make this possible. The practice of allowing the pregnant sows to run with the fattening sows is not only objectionable but also injurious to the sows and their consumption of feed is not carefully guarded. Hogs and hogs do not get along well together, and when the hogs are compelled to seek the same shelter the chances of injury are greater than one can afford to take. Although the number of divisions necessary in the proper grading of the herd may present some difficulties on the general farm where other usual classes of stock must be provided for experience has demonstrated that it is a matter of great importance.

Care of the Boar in Winter.
The mature boars should, of course, occupy independent quarters from the boar pigs. The boar is often allowed to run with the bred sows, which is not objectionable so long as he behaves himself. It will facilitate his care and generally improve his opportunity for needed exercise. Old boars may in most cases be turned together after removing their tusks, but their initial encounters should be supervised closely to prevent any serious injury to either. After supremacy has been decided, they will be contented and will do better together than if kept separate.

The hog is more or less sensitive to the extremes of heat and cold in the northern latitudes, and houses are necessary during the winter in order to maintain health and save feed. All classes of hogs must have comfortable quarters in order to do well. This is a principle that cannot be ignored. The financial loss which results from undue exposure and chill is more than would be sufficient to provide suitable structures. The hog house must be warm without being close, and the boars must be clean and dry and free from much dust.

The question as to the best type of house must be determined by the conditions. From the standpoint of the hog, any house which is rain and wind proof, adequately ventilated without being drafty, and which has a dry floor, is satisfactory. A kept clean, provision should be made for admitting to the interior as much direct sunlight as possible. The light is one of the best potent factors in destroying disease germs and helps to maintain order. A house which is not adequately ventilated is not only expensive, but also dangerous for the proper grading of the herd. In the use of several houses is desirable under most conditions. If these are possible, they may be so placed in the pasture or lots as to encourage exercise, an added advantage for this type of shelter.

Warm Sleeping Quarters.
One of the conditions of good health is sanitary surroundings. In the winter management of the breeding herd, the sleeping quarters should be the chief concern in the effort to maintain healthful conditions. No hog can thrive if his bed is damp or dusty. Rheumatism, bad colds, coughs and pneumonia are the ailments most commonly the result of over-crowded, dusty sleeping quarters. Such conditions not only cause irritation to the nasal and bronchial passages and make colds and pneumonia, but the dust particles may carry the germs of disease like cholera and tuberculosis. There should be enough air to prevent steaming, and the quarters should be cleaned with sufficient frequency to keep them clean and free from dust.

The frequency with which the bedding should be changed and the quarters cleaned depends chiefly on the weather and the character of the floors. When the weather is cold and things are frozen up tight, it is much easier to keep the quarters dry and sanitary than when soft. Likewise, well-constructed buildings with tight floors require much less work to keep clean than do poorly constructed houses with leaky roofs and dirt floors. As a rule, the houses should be cleaned thoroughly once a week. When the bedding has been removed, it is a good plan to lay the dust by sprinkling with crude oil. An occasional spraying with a strong disinfectant is desirable, also, to keep the quarters from harboring lice and disease germs. When the weather is cold, bedding should be supplied in liberal quantities; when very warm, the less bedding the better, of the dust is kept down and the floors are dry.

The water supply should be clean and fresh and easily accessible. Pregnant sows and young pigs especially require considerable water to satisfy their needs. When the water is ice-cold, the tendency for hogs to drink less than they need is increased. Furthermore, the drunk must be raised to the temperature of the body, which necessitates the sacrifice of considerable food energy when the water is cold. When the water is given with the feed, it will pay to heat it. Ordinarily, the effort should be made to get them to take as much water as they will. Patented watering devices should be cleaned frequently, for they sometimes become contaminated and may prove a constant source of infection. The water in such devices should be kept as warm as possible by banking manure about them or by the use of heaters.

Exercise for Sows.
The amount of exercise which the pregnant sows require during the winter bears an intimate relationship to the strength and activity of the pigs which they produce in the spring, to the ease of pigging, and the promptness of their recovery, and to their general thrift and health during the gestation period. The reliability of the boar during the breeding season is conditioned on his opportunity for taking exercise throughout the seasons when he is not in breeding service. The young gilts and boars must have exercise if they are to attain the healthy development required for successful lives in the breeding herd. The experiences of hogmen are so unanimous on these points that no experimental proof is necessary to establish them as important facts.

Weak pigs may be caused by several factors, must that limited exercise is one of them cannot be doubted. When the winter is severe and the snowfall heavy, the spring pig crop is generally short. Under these conditions the sows stay close to their beds and take little or no exercise, with the result that the mortality among the pigs at birth is abnormally high and trouble is more frequently experienced with the sows in giving birth to their pigs. Exercise promotes a loose, open condition of the bowels and does much to maintain a healthful functioning of the other organs of the body. Exercise contributes strength and vitality, reduces the long and disease costs, nothing and is an indispensable factor in the maintenance of health and breeding thrift.

As a rule, the breeding hogs will take sufficient exercise if given the opportunity. With plenty of range, access to pastures, stubble land or stalk fields, the sows and gilts will be out most of the time if their rations are properly restricted. When their range is limited because of deep snow or ice on the pasture, the practice of scattering on the ground some grain, such as corn, barley or legum hay for them to work over will encourage exercise by keeping them out and on their feet. By having the sleeping quarters or lots, they will be compelled to exercise at feeding time. Although exercise is imperative, sows heavy in pig should not be compelled to push their way through snowdrifts in order to get to their feed or sleeping quarters. Ice places should be made safe by covering with straw and ashes or litter of some kind. Proper Nourishment, With Economy.
Two principal objects should be sought in the winter feeding of sows due to farrow in the spring; first, complete nourishment for the sows and their developing pigs in embryo, and second, economy. On the completeness of nourishment depend in large part the general vigor and strength of the sows at farrowing time, the development and strength of the pigs and the capacity of the sows for milk secretion after the pigs are born. Good feeding also requires that the rations shall be cheap as well as balanced. The cost of feeding so during pregnancy period represents an important item in the cost of the individual pigs at birth, and the initial cost of the pigs is an important factor in determining the cost of the pork production.

News of Interest From The Clarco

COLLEGE DEFEATS TOWN TEAM 17-0

At the College Park, Thursday, November 11th, the Clarendon College football team defeated the Clarendon town team by a score of 17-0.

The town team was composed of a number of veteran players and old C. C. stars. They had some heavy men, but were not in practice and could not be expected to do as well as the college men. They were hampered for lack of "wind" having taken no part in athletics for some time. The College played first and second team men as needed.

The first half was played scoreless. Smalley came near getting away with passes a few times but every time was downed by a good tackler. The play was nearly always on the town team's territory.

The second half was opened speedily. Neither team scored, but the College was on the town's 20-yard line when the third quarter ended.

In the first few minutes of the fourth quarter, Meads drop-kicked a field goal which counted 3 for the College. The ball was then put on the Town's 20-yard line with the Town boys in possession. The next few minutes of play resulted in a forward pass to Smalley who ran about 15 yards for a touchdown. Meads kicked the goal and the score stood 10-0. Toward the last of the game, Creighton picked up a fumble on the Town's 40-yard line and ran for a touchdown. Meads again kicked goal and the score was 17-0.

The day was very cold but a large number of College students and town rooters turned out. The cause for which the game was played, was well supported and a fair sum was collected.

College Lineup.

Substitutions: Lewis for J. Noble; Peoples for Close.

Town Lineup.
R. E. Cappel, R. T. Sawyer, R. G. Stocking, C. Sims, L. G. Alexander, L. G. Anthony, L. E. L. Connally, O. F. Connally, R. H. Doughty, L. H. Adams, F. B. Kenedy.

THE MUSIC CLUB.

The Music Club met in regular session Thursday evening at 6 o'clock, and there was a very good attendance regardless of the cold weather. The members of the Club voted to have their pictures in the Annual. After the business session the following program was enjoyed by everyone present:

Piano solo—Mary Hazel Morrison
Piano solo—Annie Morrison
Vocal solo—Roy Beights.

ARMISTICE DAY IN CHAPEL

Although we did not get a regular holiday last Thursday, the program which was rendered in chapel made up, in a large measure, for not having the holiday. The chapel was decorated in appropriate colors with C. S.'s service flag occupying a prominent place, and red, white, and blue floating over the platform.

Various speeches were made commemorating the bravery of the American soldier at the front. The first of these was made by Miss McLean in the interesting manner which always characterizes her work. This was followed by a talk by Mr. Norcross in which he mentioned C. C. boys' part in the World War. He is an ex-service man and his experience in the war made his speech original and extremely interesting. Rev. Foster then gave the audience one of the best treats of the program by singing for us "In Flanders Field." He was encored again and again and then sang "Mother o' Mine," which met with equally as much applause as the first song. Mr. John Thompson then read for us in an inimitable and loving manner "The White Comrade" and the program was closed by one of Miss Reid's rare violin solos. These and other numbers made chapel a suitable and beautiful service and helped C. C. students realize more than ever what November 11th should mean to us all the world as well.

"SENIORS"

A meeting of the Senior Class was called immediately after chapel November 10, in the history room. The Senior class is indeed a wide awake bunch of intelligent C. C. students and most all the members were present.

The house was called to order by the president, after which the committee for ordering pins reminded the members that this was the last chance to deposit the money in order to secure a pin. Some few have decided to get rings.

This business having been attended to, some one made the suggestion that the Seniors have a party of some kind in the near future. The President appointed Oma Griggs, Jessie Glynn Daugherty and Jessie Campbell to appoint their own committees to carry out the plans. No definite date has been set but we are indeed more than anxious for this event to occur, and we think or rather know it will be a success for when Seniors do it, it is well done.

Reading—Effie Lee Richards.
Piano solo—Fannie McLendon.
Vocal solo—Oro McDaniel.
Reading—Avis Christian.
Piano Solo—Mary Garrett.

Besides the pleasure we get from these programs, they help the students to feel easy on the stage, and prepares them for the public recitals.

STUDENTS RECITAL

The first Students Fine Arts Recital of the year 1920-1921 was given at the College Auditorium November 12, at 7:30. On account of the weather and the inconvenience of heating the auditorium there was not a large crowd.

The program consisted of piano and vocal solos, and readings. Each number showed talent and were enjoyed by every one present. Each piano solo was highly appreciated and especially those rendered by Misses Hudgins, Stallings and Russell. The vocal solos brought hearty applause as also did the readings given by Misses Alexander and Conner, and Glenn Lewis.

The Students' Fine Arts department has been organized for the year and other recitals will be given during the year.

DOMESTIC ARTS GIRLS ENJOY THEMSELVES

Last Saturday afternoon, November the sixth, the girls in the Domestic Art laboratory spent about an hour of hard work studying to be successful housewives for our dear boys. Miss Fincher with a smiling face, told us to fold our work carefully. We noticed four girls, Bobbie Cole, Jewell Blackshear, Ida Lou Ellis, and Ella Mae Lyle, rise and go to the kitchen from which delicious odors of chocolate came. These girls assisted Miss Fincher in serving steaming chocolate and cakes.

SLUMBER PARTY.

Misses Alice Miller, Erma Zeigler, Beth Etyles, Ida Lee Ellis, "Bess" King, Margaret Myers, Alice Mulkey, Jessie Glynn Dougherty, eVra McGowen, Ama Browning, Reda Clay, Gladys Makeg, Mary Garrett. All enjoyed a "Slumber" party in room number 28, last Saturday night. Many good stories, jokes and fortunes were told.

Just before the hour of 9:45 "lump" ice cream was served, and then "it was time for the lights to go out."

CHIN-CHIN

About eight o'clock p. m., on November 4, 1920 eighteen girls gathered in the parlor for the purpose of organizing a club. It had been planned to give the club an entirely different name but at a written request of one of the old chin-chin members, who this year does not attend Clarendon College, decided to call our club the Chin-Chin Club. This club was first organized in '18. It is true that they did not organize last year but this does not in the least affect our case.

Miss Berchfield acted as chairman and the following officers were elected: President, Sam Mickle; Vice President, June O'Brien; Secretary, Lorena Wilson; Sergeant-at-Arms, Daisy Berchfield.

The members of the club consists of nine Pans and nine Adds: Alice Miller, Beth Styles, Irma Ziegler, Ida Lue Ellis, Naomi Allison, Pauline Alexander, Elizabeth Stegmen, Louise Hardy, Daisy Birchfield, Ela oCnner, Kahleen Martin, June O'Brien, Lorena Wilson, Bera Bowden, Christine Collins, Edna Daly Sammy Mickle, Cleora Brumlett.

The fiscal year 1920 will soon be passed and it will soon be time to elect new officers. Each above named member is urged to be thinking about who he would like to have as officers for another year. The American Legion room in the City Y. M. C. A. building will soon be ready for occupancy and then the Legion will operate on a bigger and better basis and will really be in a position to do bigger and better things and will enter the new year with better prospects for doing things.

Ed C. Boliver, apostle of the Temple of Truth of Hedley, otherwise known as the Informer publisher, was up Monday looking after his usual run of business. We noted nothing out of the ordinary except to see that Ed has turned over a new leaf since he is accompanied by his good wife and the babies which enables him to leave town before night and thus save a valuable lot of time that has wasted heretofore.

Rev. P. R. Huckleberry visited home folks the last of the week for a day or so going on the road again the first of the week.

ANOTHER GREAT DAY TO BE THANKFUL FOR

Is Thanksgiving Day Nineteen Twenty

—You always have something to be thankful for; maybe you have a lot of things. But much or little, this is a good time to show it.

—It isn't such a bad old world, take it all together; most of us are getting enough to eat and to wear and a decent place to sleep in; and some of us have a good deal more than that.

—The purpose of THANKSGIVING DAY, a day set apart by formal proclamation, is that we shall pause for a short time and "check up" on the things we can be thankful for. And having done that, let's be thankful, not just think about it.

Buy as Freely and Steadily as You Ever Before Did

We have sold an astonishing amount of merchandise because you know that our prices are reduced as never before. In this sale

We have lost sight of profit. We are taking our loss as smilingly as anybody can. Of course it hurts! We bought this merchandise expecting to make a profit when sold. Instead--it's a Loss

—There is a united opinion among wholesalers that next season the retailer will be able to buy his merchandise at lower prices. How much lower than present stocks cost originally, no one knows. But, believing that they WILL be some lower, we are going to take our loss, cheerfully, and thus be in position to replace at lowest price levels. Thus, in the long run, OUR customers are benefitted twice—in this Sale and in their future purchases.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION.

The State of Texas. In the District Court, Donley County, Texas, January Term, A. D. 1921.

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Donley County, Greeting:

You are hereby commanded, That, by making publication of this Citation in some newspaper published in the County of Donley four weeks previous to the return day hereof, you summon: Mary Waller Rea and husband B. M. Rea and Charles Molter who are alleged to be non-residents of the State of Texas to be and appear before the District Court, to be held in and for the County of Donley at the Court House thereof, in the City of Clarendon, on the Second Monday in January A. D. 1921, the same being the 10th day of said month, then and there to answer the petition of Kimbrough, Underwood & Jackson, partnership firm composed of W. H. Kimbrough, R. E. Underwood and M. J. R. Jackson as plaintiffs, filed in said Court on the 29th day of October A. D. 1920, against Mary Waller Rea and husband B. M. Rea, John A. Rea, Henry Holmes, T. M. Dickey, Mrs. P. L. Luce and husband R. G. Luce, A. F. Luce and Charles Molter as defendants, said suit being numbered 1106, the nature of which demand is as follows, to-wit: Suit on promissory note for $1500.00, dated October 30, 1917, executed by Mary Waller Rea and B. M. Rea, payable to the order of Kimbrough, Underwood & Jackson one day after date, and to foreclose deed of trust on Lots Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, and 6, Block 19, and Lot 7, Block 18, Original town of Shamrock, Wheeler County, Texas, and Lots Nos. 6, 7 and 8, Block 1, Grant Addition to Original Town of Clarendon, Donley County, Texas, securing said note; that on September 14, 1917, Mary Waller Rea and B. M. Rea executed a deed to John A. Rea conveying the property in Wheeler County, Texas, to him for the sole and only purpose of placing same beyond the reach of their creditors; that in Suit No. 1094 in District Court of Deaf Smith County, Texas, Mrs. P. L. Luce, R. G. Luce and A. F. Luce, plaintiffs vs. Mary Waller Rea and B. M. Rea, et al. defendants a writ or attachment issued and placed in the hands of the sheriffs of Wheeler and Donley counties, Texas, and was served on the property above described; that when said cause went to trial it resulted in judgment for the defendants Mary Waller Rea and B. M. Rea; that in Cause No. 2656 in the District Court of Potter County, Texas, defendant Charles Molter secured judgment against Mary Waller Rea and B. M. Rea for $27.85; that writ of attachment issued out of said cause to the sheriffs of Donley and Wheeler counties, Texas, and was levied upon the property above described except that no levy was made on Lot No. 7, in Block No. 18, in Shamrock, Wheeler County, Texas; that in the County Court of Potter County F. R. Carl secured judgment against Mary Waller Rea and B. M. Rea for $205.68; that writ of attachment issued to the Sheriff of Wheeler County and was by him levied upon all of the property in Wheeler County above described.

Plaintiffs pray for judgment against defendants for their debt, principal, interest at the rate of 6 per cent from October 30, 1917, to date of payment of same, and attorney's fees, for foreclosure of their deed of trust lien against the above described property; that said property be decreed to be sold in satisfaction of said debt, principal, interest and attorney's fees; that the deed to John A. Rea be cancelled and held for naught; that the writs of attachment be declared void and held for naught, in favor of Mrs. P. L. Luce, R. G. Luce, A. F. Luce, and F. R. Carl be cancelled, set aside and held for naught, and declared secondary to their deed of trust lien; that the deed to the defendant Henry Holmes be declared void and of no effect; that the sheriffs deed and attachment lien in favor of Charles Molter be declared void, and no effect, cancelled, and set aside; that the claim of T. M. Dickey (who is asserting some sort of claim to said property, in Wheeler County) be declared to be inferior to their deed of trust lien; that the claims of all the defendants be declared to be inferior to their deed of trust lien; that said lien be declared to be a first and valid lien against said property; that in case the court may determine plaintiff's mistaken saying that the sheriff's deed to Charles Molter and Henry Holmes are void, then plaintiffs say they have a right to have their deeds of trust lien foreclosed and tender to Charles Molter and Henry Holmes the amount which they paid for said property, and offer to redeem said property from the claims of Molter and Holmes, for costs of suit and general relief.

Herein fail not, but have you then and there before said Court, this Writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Witness W. E. Bray, Clerk of the District Court of Donley County, Texas.

Given under my hand and seal of said Court in Clarendon, Texas, this 29th day of October, 1920.

(Seal) W. E. BRAY, Clerk District Court, Donley County, Texas.

A CHRISTMAS SERMON BY HENRY EDWARDS

Christmas is just around the corner. You do not feel how that you will care to give anybody but your own children anything. You feel this way because you have not had big luck in business and made a lot of money. But as the time approaches, you will catch the spirit and it will be in your very bones to want to make some widow or some little orphan, or some aged person, or some unfortunate fellow-human a little happier than that person would otherwise be at Christmas time.

If you should not get this feeling into your bones, you will be an object of pity. Why? Because that person who is blessed with health and strength and good eyes and strong limbs and a sound mind is to be pitied if he or she does not feel the call to go a little out of the way, at least at Christmas time, to bring happiness and sunshine and joy to those less fortunate.

Here's hoping that you get the feeling that ought to spring up in the heart of everybody in Christendom at Yuletide—Troupe Banner.

Rev. John Kohlmeier attended conference at Wichita Falls the first few days of this week.

lawfully seized and possessed of the following described land in Donley County, Texas, to-wit: all of Lots eleven and twelve in Block five in Grant's Addition to the city of Clarendon, according to the map of said Addition recorded in Vol. 13, page 235 deed records of Donley County, Texas, that plaintiff under and through whom he claims title and possession of said described property have had peaceable and adverse possession of same, occupying, using, enjoying and paying taxes thereon and claiming title and shadow of title to same under properly executed and recorded deeds for more than ten years, to-wit: deeds recorded in Vol. 19 page 585, Vol. 34 page 157, Vol. 45 page 212 and Vol. 45 page 214 of the deed records of Donley County, Texas; that defendant unlawfully entered upon said premises and ejected plaintiff therefrom and unlawfully withholds him from possession thereof to plaintiff's damage $2750.00. Plaintiff prays for judgment of the court, that defendant be cited to appear and answer this petition, that he have judgment for possession of the above described land and premises, that writ of restitution for said premises issue and he pray for damages, costs of suit and for other relief special and general to which he may be entitled.

Herein fail not, but have you before said Court, on the first day of the next term thereof, this Writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

A SENSE OF HUMOR.

A few days ago a preacher in New York, in speaking of the movement to purify dancing, declared that "You can't purify a polecat!" In commenting on this writer observed, "This explains the queer line in Shakespeare which says, 'Comparisons are odious.'"

This strikes me as being one of the cleverest bits of humor that I have seen manifested in some time.

It also reminds me that a sense of humor is more to be coveted than the gold of king. The man with a sense of humor can jest at the troubles of life and thus maintain his equilibrium, when the more sober-minded are going down in ignominious defeat.

The sense of humor enables its owner to see the other fellow's point of view. It is a subtle, penetrating thing that worms its way into the very heart and core of things and brings out the sunshine. A sense of humor enables its possessor to laugh when others weep; see the sunshine when the sky is overcast with lowering clouds. A sense of humor enables one to understand and appreciate the foibles of folks and visualize the workings of a mind that may be entirely out of harmony with its surroundings.

A sense of humor keeps us from taking ourselves too seriously. A sense of humor enables us to adapt ourselves to the varying conditions under which we are liable to find ourselves from time to time. It makes us better business men, better neighbors, better home builders and better citizens.

"Laugh and the world laughs with you; weep and you weep alone." The world loves a man with a sense of humor because the world loves to enjoy itself and it finds its greatest enjoyment in seeing those around enjoying themselves.

A laugh is contagious and a good joke or a quaint remark is to the ordinary sessions of life what salt is to the Irish potato.

Give us men with a sense of humor and we'll never worry about the world going to pot, bombs, infernal machines or beary-eyed radicalism.—Clipped.

PLAINVIEW MAN REAPS RICH HARVEST OF CELERY.

That the plains country might be a celery growing district was least thought of by any one. D. C. Aylsworth of Plainview, who has been growing truck for some years, branched off on a two acre patch of celery the past season. His first venture was a mere experiment. His present crop is netting him at the rate of $2,000.00 per acre. Next season will call for a greatly increased acreage. His shipments this season have been made to local towns but next year he will compete in the markets outside of the state. The quality is said to be equal to the California product.

Van Boone, prominent man of the Hedley country, made it a point to see the business men of our town Monday. Van is prospering and gives a good account of his section.

Every Drop an Asset

As a dairy farmer you can figure out to the penny what your cream is worth. You know that every particle of butter fat has a distinct value to you. You cannot afford to use a separator that misses any cream.

The Primrose Cream Separator gets every drop of cream. The principle on which it operates is as simple as the mechanism. The frame is open and sanitary—the supply can large and low. Every bearing and quiet gear is well oiled by a splash system.

In Primrose separators, good workmanship and materials, close skimming and durable qualities, are the distinguishing points.

No matter what the size of your herd, the Primrose is a money-maker. Two-or-three-cow farmers use them with profit.

The Primrose is the only cream separator that automatically drains out the used oil from the gear case when new oil is added.

Let us demonstrate this and other points. If it is not convenient for you to call, phone us and we will bring a machine out and show you how it operates and what its financial advantages are to you.

Start Tomorrow and Keep It Up Every Morning

Get in the habit of drinking a glass of hot water before breakfast.

We're not here long, so let's make our stay agreeable. Let us live well, eat well, digest well, work well, sleep well, and look well. What a glorious condition to attain, and yet, how very easy it is if one will only adopt the morning inside bath.

Folks who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when they arise, splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the sluices of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.

Everyone, whether ailing, sick or well, should, each morning, before breakfast, drink a glass of red hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the water and phosphate is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs.

The millions of people who are bothered with constipation, bilious spells, stomach trouble; others who have sallow skins, blood disorders and sickly complexions are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of inside-bathing before breakfast.

TO DARKE NHAIR WITH SAGE TEA

Look Young! Bring Back Its Natural Color, Gloss and Attractiveness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug-store, all ready for use. This is the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not such we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and after another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy soft and luxuriant.

R. A. LONG DRUG COMPANY

CLARENDON MAKES RECORD AS LAWABIDING TOWN

The best criterion by which a town may be judged is the court records. In that respect Clarendon's citizens hold ranks among the best in the state. According to the statement of W. L. Crane, chief of police and M. P. White, night policeman, very little infringements exist in our town at the present time. Due to the vigilance of our peace officers, very few rnygadecut from the outside world ever venture to depredate within the corporate limits. The best work of a peace officer is found in the removal of temptation and not in arresting offenders of the law. In the enforcement of our city regulations, our official family is always kind but firm. We may include in this official family the "city dads, and the mayor, a body working at all times in harmony and for the betterment of trespassers against the law and dignity of the city. No favoritism is shown and the most critical will, if he takes pains to inform himself, find that every ordinance is being rigidly enforced regardless of personal feelings or public sentiment.

Of the places of business open at night, no place draws larger crowds than the local picture show owned and operated by Homer Mulkey. Mr. Mulkey maintains order and commands the respect of his patrons at all times. To his credit may it be said that only the cleanest pictures are shown—pictures that do not mar the teachings of the most fastidious but so appeal to the more refined senses of the better element of humanity. Confectionaries of this city maintain respectful order at night as well as day making them a pleasurable retreat where a lady may enter with every assurance of respect and courtesy. Proprietors of drug stores open until late hours as well as the proprietors of other places mentioned above, co-operate at all times with the officials in maintaining one regard for law and order. At this time there is no favorite gathering place or rowdies in the city because of a wholesome citizenship and a scarcity of a lawless element.

During the ten months that Mr. White has been on the night force, he has made few arrests, preferring rather to caution those of reckless habits rather than arrest for the misdeed is committed. Night prowlers are seldom seen and burglaries are unknown. In view of this fact, we feel that much credit is due those in charge of law enforcement in keeping this undesirable element out of the city.

Facts enumerated above, coupled with the fact that Clarendon is essentially a school and church town of the first class, is it any wonder that homes in Clarendon are always in demand? Not a vacant house. Property is rated at its real value. Our population is constantly increasing and the fame of the "City Beautiful" is ever extending its sphere of influence in all that makes life really enjoyable.

DECLINE IN CATTLE PRICES SHEEP STRONG HOGS HIGH

K. C. Stockyards, Nov. 15.—St. Paul had 28,800 cattle, Chicago, 30,000 cattle, and Kansas City, 30,000 cattle today, a supply sufficiently large to add a further decline to the week's close last Friday. Trade today was slow in all classes with most sales 25 cents off and the lowest of the year, in fact in several years past. Hogs declined to a new level for the season late last week but rallied today. Sheep trade was quite strong to 25 cents higher prices.

Today's Receipts. Receipts today were 30,000 cattle, 15,000 hogs, and 6,000 sheep, compared with 27,000 cattle, 10,500 hogs, and 37,000 sheep, 11,500 hogs and 8,257 sheep a year ago.

Beef Cattle. Considering the total receipts the percent of beef cattle offered today was relatively small, but heavy receipts elsewhere together with lower prices caused a decline here. Quality of the offerings was plain. The few good short fed steers here brought $13.00 to $14.00, and plain-er fed grades sold at $11.50 to $12.70. Grass fed steers sold at $6.25 to $11.50 and few for $11.00 or under. $8.60. Cows and heifers, most of them from the range, were in liberal supply and they sold 25 cents

COTTON PALACE HONORS GO TO WEST TEXANS.

The Waco cotton palace exhibition is now a matter of history. This is the second biggest thing of its kind in the South. Exhibits from all over the state are offered in competition for the prizes, many of them running well into the hundreds of dollars. Prizes such as call for a lot of study and effort and well worth the time expended upon them if they win. It is no surprise to west Texas people to learn that all of the prizes on corn, kafir, maize, pumpkins, kershaws were awarded to the west side of the state, winning the prize of a thousand dollars. In that exhibit Donley county took a prominent part. The best was culled from our county exhibit at the state fair and transferred to Waco in charge of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. Our county exhibit will next be shown at Houston on the 30th of this month. This will make the sixteenth fair at which we have offered exhibits this season. Donley county has won prizes at all of them. Not only this, Donley county has helped to advertise the Panhandle of Texas more than any other county this season. Not that others did not see forth the effort, not at all. They tried and tried hard to get there with the goods but were no competitors with us in any number of agricultural products. Good news comes from the central state where our products were seen for the first time. When a Donley county "rubbin" passed under the scrutinizing gaze of a corn farmer of Illinois, it had to be something pretty good to catch his eye for any length of time, but it did. He came and saw and hundreds of them were convinced that we have the best agricultural section in the Southwest. As a result of these exhibits hundreds of farmers will come our way seeking homes, many of them have already done so. Others are yet to come and will buy homes when they get here. The best advertisement is the exhibit itself.

Two clerks from different stores were discussing the business done in the town last week. One clerk said that Saturday was a good day, but said one clerk could have handled the business of the town on any other day. The other clerk disagreed with him and said one of the clerks in their store had averaged cash sales of over $100 each day. There are seven more clerks in that store. One store advertised the other did not. Yet some people say it does not pay to advertise. Polk County Enterprise.

FOR SALE—A new Dodge car, J. L. Allison. (47p)

lower. Some fed heifers at $11.50 to $12.00, and fed cows at $9.50 to $10.00 were quoted steady. Veal calves sold slowly at weak prices.

Stockers and Feeders. Though more country buyers were here than for some time past receipts were heavy and prices sagged another 25 cents. Few daily sales were reported at countrymen were more in the capacity of lookers than buyers and were lining up values, intending to make purchases later in the week. Quality of the offerings is good, supply large, and prices low, affording an excellent time to buy.

Hogs. Hog prices late last week reached a new level for the year, but the decline attracted increased demand today and the market was stronger in the face of liberal receipts. Today's arrivals were 15,000 the largest supply on any Monday since last May. Trading opened early at strong prices, and later was 15 to 25 cents higher. The top price was $12.85 and bulk of sales $12.25 to $12.75. Hogs were 25 to 50 cents higher, top $12.60.

Sheep and Lambs. Though the prices in the sheep division were steady to 25 cent higher, quality was rather plain, and there was no particular snap to the trade. Most of the offerings were short fed native lambs that sold at $11.00 to $11.70. No choice western lambs arrived. Sheep were quoted steady.

Horses and Mules. A further moderate improvement was reported in demand for horses to $11.00 and mules, and the general trade is recovering from the present recent depression. CHARLES M. PIPKIN.

COME, CURE CARE.

Co-operation won the war. Co-operation builds a town. Co-operation on the part of the Methodist Women of Clarendon will make the Mission Study Class one of the best in Southern Methodism. Wednesday, November 10th a large group of enthusiastic women enjoyed the discussion of the second chapter of the "Church and the Community," the new mission study book.

Next Wednesday afternoon the class will meet to discuss the third chapter of the book. After the lesson a special feature will be introduced which will entertain, instruct, and encourage you to be a better missionary woman.

Come Care Care by bringing some one with you. Co-operate to make the class a "go." We can do it if you will.

RUB RHEUMATIC ACHING JOINTS AND STOP PAIN

Instant Relief with a small trial bottle of old "St. Jacobs Oil."

Rheumatism is "pain" only. Not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Stop drugging! Rub soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Oil" right into your sore, stiff, aching joints, and relief comes instantly. "St. Jacobs Oil" is a harmless rheumatism liniment which never disappoints and cannot burn the skin.

Limber up! Quit complaining! Get a small bottle of old, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" at any drug-store, and just a moment you'll be free of rheumatic pain, soreness and stiffness. Don't suffer! Relief awaits you. "St. Jacobs Oil" is just as good for sciatica, neuralgia, lumbago, backache, sprains.

Why hens go on a strike!

The feed elements that make yolks of eggs are entirely different from those that make yolks. When hens aren't fed both the white and yolk making elements, they can't lay.

Missouri Experiment Station tests prove that 100 lbs. of wheat, corn, oats, barley and kafir corn make (above bodily maintenance) an average of 224 yolks to 154 whites. Based on data from the same experiments, Purina formulas produce, (above bodily maintenance), as follows:

Purina Scratch Feed	247.49 yolks	142.11 whites
Purina Chicken Chowder	182.05 yolks	282.55 whites
Combined Ration	429.54 yolks	424.66 whites

These Purina feeds not only make a practically equal number of whites and yolks but more of both than ordinary feeds.

Note that Purina Chicken Chowder contains the necessary white-forming elements to balance up the yolk-making grain ration. That's why it makes hens lay so heavily. Instead of the yolks being absorbed by the hen's system, Purina Chicken Chowder makes the whites to complete the eggs and they are laid. Thus we can absolutely guarantee more eggs or money back on Purina Chicken Chowder if fed with Purina Scratch Feed as directed. You take no risk.
