LOCAL ODD FELLOWS HOLD ANNIVERSARY HERE MONDAY NIGHT DRAWING LARGE CROWD OF MEMBERS TO TOWN

ONE HUNDRED AND SECOND ANNIVERSARY OF ORGANIZATION CELEBRATED AT COURT HOUSE—FAMILIES OF MEMBERS WERE AMONG THOSE PRESENT—REFRESHMENTS SERVED.

The local lodge of Odd Fellows celebrated their one hundred and second anniversary at the courthouse Monday night assisted by many visiting brethren, some thirty of whom came up from Hedley bringing their families. About three hundred and fifty were present including men, women and children. The welcome address in behalf of the city to the visitors was made by Tom Connally in his usual graceful manner. The not a member of the order, he surprised many by reason of his thorough understanding of the tenets of the order showing a close study from the standpoint of an outsider though he had given the order close scrutiny. He spoke of the membership in the highest terms. The response to the address of welcome was made by J. D. Gillan of Hedley who, in his inimitable manner of clean cut words voiced the sentiment of approval of the visiting body. A solo "From Jerusalem to Jericho" rendered by Mrs. W. P. Bailey, member of the "Volunteers of America" of Amarillo, brought forth a storm of applause. She repeated the number many times during the celebration which to the delight of every one present. The rendition was all that could be desired—a clear musical voice backed by intense sincerity won the attention of the entire audience.

Those who contributed further to the success of the program were Hettie Finley, Mary Watters, and Martha Ratliffe who, in the "Three Links" aroused a round of applause and much appreciation because of the excellent manner in which the trio performed both in gesture and speech. Excellent addresses were made by Mr. Haggard of Hedley and by W. A. Walters.

The feast consisted of plenty and some to spare of coffee, cake, pie sandwiches, etc. of many varieties. The courthouse was filled to overflowing and not one displeased person present. May it happen again.

MODERN OFFICE BUILDING TO GRACE SOUTH KEARNEY

A contract has been let by Dr. B. L. Jenkins, O. W. Latson for the erection of a nine room office building on the lot south of the Presbyterian church. Laid brick will be used and composition flooring for the entire building. With the exception of the room to be used for X-ray purposes, special attention has been given in the plans to secure all the light possible and plenty of ventilation. Each room will be equipped with speaking tubes and buzzer buttons and other features to be found in a modern office building of this kind. The other rooms will be used for reception, consultation, dressing rooms, etc.

One room will be used for a reception room, two will answer for private consultation and another for joint consultation. The laboratory will occupy one room entirely. A son, Dr. Oscar L. Jenkins, now on the surgical staff of a New York City hospital will arrive when the building is completed to join his father in a general practice.

BURGLARS MAKE NARROW ESCAPE WHEN LADY RETURNS HOME AT NIGHT

Most women under the stress of excitement and especially anything pertaining to burglars, would either faint or swoon away. Not so with Mrs. Ida Chitwood, county demonstration agent. When she returned home Friday night she heard foot-steps in the kitchen when she entered an adjoining room. When she received no reply to her call as to who was in there making the noise, she phoned to a neighbor. Before the neighbor could get there, the prowlers escaped. It is presumed the intruder was looking for the car key as the lock on the car in the garage was found to have been tampered with on next morning and a knife blade broken off in the key hole. This is the second attempt to make way with the same car according to Mrs. Chitwood.

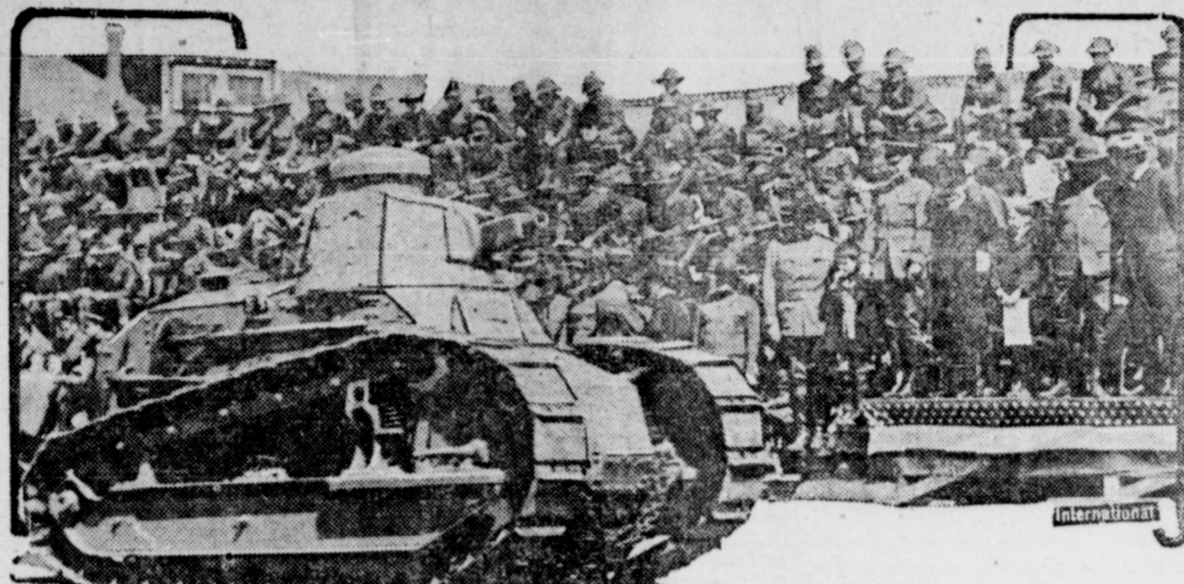

CONTRACT FOR KELLY HOME LET TO CRANE BROTHERS SATURDAY

Another residence of the class of the finest residences to be found in the "City Beautiful" was let by M. L. Kelly to Crane brothers Saturday, construction to begin as soon as material can be had. Mrs. Kelly is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Chamberlain of this city. The Kellys were residents of Clarendon at one time, but have been making their home at Memphis since leaving here where Mr. Kelly has been engaged in buying cotton.

A marriage license was issued the last of the week to John Frazier, Jr., and Miss Vernon Stubblefield, both of Groom.

J. U. Shepard, gin man of Leslie and a mighty handy citizen to have in any community, looked after business in Clarendon Tuesday.

COLLEGE BANQUET MAY THURSDAY, MAY 13TH

Under the direction of Miss Jessie Rambo of the West Texas State Normal College Domestic Science Department, Mrs. Stegman of Clarendon College and Mrs. Ida Chitwood Home Demonstration Agent of Donley County, a banquet is being given at the Girl's Hall of Clarendon College, Thursday night, May 13th, proceeds from which will go to equip the Domestic Science department of the College.

The menu will be announced next week and tickets will be on sale in advance. The capacity of the Hall is approximately 175 and an early reservation is necessary to be sure of a place. The College Orchestra will furnish music and the affair will be one of the social events of the season.

PANHANDLE PRESS MEET IN AMARILLO BEST IN HISTORY

AMARILLO PROVES GREAT HOST LARGE ATTENDANCE OF PANHANDLE EDITORS—CLARENDON NEWS EDITOR ELECTED PRESIDENT.

Within the memory of the oldest member, who is none other than Frank B. Barmen, secretary of the Panhandle-Plains Chamber of Commerce, no annual convention of the Panhandle Press Association has ever equaled the 1920 convention which assembled in Amarillo, Friday and Saturday, April 23-24. Great in point of interest and helpfulness and unsurpassed in point of attendance.

The headquarters were at the Amarillo Hotel and the sessions were held at the Board of City Development rooms, and it is even true that with the many other courtesies extended to the convention by the big-hearted hosts of the Plains city, the patrol wagon of the police department was placed at the disposal of the members, the writer enjoying a short ride (not without escort) from one end of Polk street to the other and return.

The date is Thursday night, May 13th, and the place, Girl's Hall, Clarendon College. Out of town clubs, people and patrons are being invited and it will be well to send in your reservation early. $2.50 per plate will be the charge and with the music, the menu and the good looking girls to serve it "it would be a gift at twice the price" according to Secretary Keen.

PROMINENT OIL EXPERTS MAKE INSPECTION HERE

Representatives of the Mid-West oil company of Denver have been here all of this week making a thorough inspection of this section in company with their geologist. The inspection evidently met with their approval since their general manager arrived Tuesday to close up some important lease deals. We are reliably informed that we may expect some important development work near here in the immediate future. It is said by those who know that the Mid-West is one of the very strongest oil companies operating in the southwest.

CLARENDON BOY ON HONOR ROLL OF STATE UNIVERSITY

Austin, Texas, April 28.—The honor roll of the University of Texas for the winter term, as announced by the dean, contains the name of Leake Rette of Clarendon among the best 8-10 per cent of the 4,000 students.

J. R. Curtis and L. O. Huson, both of Tucumcari, were in town for a short time Tuesday. They looked this section over for a location and later went to Wellington.

PRINT PAPER GOES TO THIRTEEN CENTS A POUND

The price of print paper continues to increase, and is now costing the News 13 cents a pound. The price January 1st was 8 cents. The price five years ago was less than three cents f. o. b., Clarendon. This is not the end for jobbers declare that the price will reach twenty cents a pound by fall.

A paper drummer was in The News office this week and stated that it was the general opinion of all paper distributors that the twenty-cent mark would be reached by fall. The big city dailies are alarmed over the paper situation and are buying every pound they can get. Many of the large dailies of Texas—notably the Fort Worth Record—is already economizing on print paper by cutting out many features already contracted for and which means a decided loss to them. Many small weeklies have suspended on account of not being able to get paper.

The News is rather fortunate in being able to get from houses that practically insure an adequate supply though the price will be very high. We would regret to have to increase the subscription to $2.50 per year, but if the price of print paper goes much higher, we will be forced to do so.

LELIA LAKE ORGANIZES PIG BABY BEEF AND FEED CLUBS

The County Demonstrator, Mrs. Chitwood, of Donley County, visited the Lelia Lake public school Tuesday April 27, 1920, for the purpose of organizing a pig club, also a Baby Beef and Feed Club.

Mrs. Chitwood asked those who wanted to join the Club to please come out in the hall and presently there were ten boys in the hall.

The Club was then quickly organized and all of the boys took an interest in the Club. The officers were elected as follows:

Owen Butler, President; Joe Allen Adams, secretary. We all know that Donley County is the leading county in the state for high producing and Texas is the leading state in the United States and we Lelia Lake boys want to help increase the production of hogs.

PROMINENT MEMPHIS PHYSICIAN SUFFERS A STROKE OF PARALYSIS

While riding in a car with Dr. Johnson Sunday, Dr. J. Q. Durham is reported to have been suddenly stricken with paralysis and is in a critical condition. The doctors had been out to see a patient in consultation and the first intimation of anything wrong was when the car swerved from the road.

meet concurrent with the parent organization, holding their meetings in different part of the city and joining with P. P. A. in one joint session. Much interest was manifested among the women writers of the Panhandle in this organization and with Miss Hammer at the head of the body it will no doubt grow in membership and power. Miss Marquis and Miss Mamie McLean of Clarendon are charter members.

Another totally new feature of the convention was the fact that one editor came to the meeting in an airplane. Editor Fred F. Haskett of the Childrens Index left his home city Friday morning as a passenger in a Panhandle owned ship, came over Clarendon about seven o'clock made a landing at Edwin Bailey's home west of town where he and the pilot enjoyed a real Donley County breakfast, and were in Amarillo before nine o'clock. Great is the Panhandle of Texas! Great was the 1920 meeting of the Panhandle Press Association!

TUESDAY LUNCHEON MOST INTERESTING

The regular business men's Tuesday luncheon was held in the Y. M. C. A. lobby this week, the splendid menu being prepared and served by the Boethian Class of the Christian Sunday School. Every plate was taken and the full attendance felt themselves especially honored by the presence of Col. T. S. Bugbee, pioneer cattleman of this section and promoter of every forward movement of Clarendon, who has just returned from a few months stay in California. At the conclusion of the luncheon Mr. Bugbee was introduced by Mr. Tom Connally and made a short talk about the progress of the Panhandle section, more particularly Donley County and voicing his pleasure at the movement to complete the Y. M. C. A. building for the use of the community. Toastmaster Keen then called upon Mr. Bugbee to introduce his guest, Mr. Bucklew of Fort Worth, a long-time worker in Y. M. C. A. activities and now adjutant for a line of insurance companies. Mr. Bucklew gave a number of his experiences in Y. M. C. A. work and pleaded for more carefully looking after the growing boys by agencies similar to the Y. He cited statistics to show that few criminals ever developed from among the boys who were under Christian influences of the church and Y. M. C. A.

An announcement was made by Secretary Keen of the movement in the Chamber of Commerce to increase the monthly income of the organization for enlarged work in building Clarendon and seeing that the world knows about it.

The Boethian Class received the personal thanks of every attendant on the excellence of the cuisine and the service of the luncheon.

DOUGLAS-TATUM

Clyde J. Douglas and Miss Dorinda Tatum were united in marriage at the parsonage at Memphis Tuesday evening by Rev. B. M. Gardner. Mrs. Douglas has been performing the duties of stenographer in the office of Caraway & Chase for several months and is a very capable business woman. Mr. Douglas is in the employ of the Rexall store. They will make their home in Clarendon.

Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Leisburg visited at Clarendon, Saturday. Mrs. Leisburg remained there for an indefinite visit with her daughter, Mrs. Lynch and her mother, Mrs. R. B. Robison.

MATERIAL NOW ARRIVING FOR COLLEGE WING

LOCAL SCHOOL WILL BUILD NEW WING TO LADIES' HOME TO CARE FOR INCREASED ATTENDANCE WHICH WILL BE HERE NEXT YEAR.

The first shipment of material for the new wing to be added to the girls' dormitory at Clarendon College arrived this morning as a perfect load on the building site. The new wing is to be the same size and architecture of the wing constructed last summer, with the exception of the inside arrangement. The wing built last year has a basement reserved for the laundry of the institution, while the one to be erected will have its complement of rooms for young ladies and several suites for resident teachers who will be installed in the building for next year.

The addition will be built on the same plan financially as the other one. That is the money will be largely furnished by John VanCleave, oil king of Wichita Falls, who has donated $25,000 for a science building to the college. Mr. VanCleave leaves the matter of building this building to the discretion of the board of trustees of the school, and has very kindly advanced money on the gift to be used for more pressing needs of the institution, with the understanding that it will be replaced in the science building when the school is ready for its construction.

Faced brick to be used in the main building will be used in the work on the new wing, which when completed will afford the school a wonderfully large capacity for boarding girls. The addition will make the girls' dormitory of Clarendon College one of the most capacious and modern in Texas and one of which any school can feel justly proud. The writer doesn't know of another junior college in Texas with such dormitory equipment as Clarendon College, and the completion of the addition will assist in putting the school in the rank of a Grade A College, which lumpy event cannot be far distant, considering all the forces that are now being marshalled to that end.

President Slover says that the indications are most flattering for a large attendance next school year, and that the added rooms to the girls' home will put the school in position to handle all the boarding girls that the present faculty will be able to handle.

"If you have any broken legged mules, run down cultivators, patent churns or inland gold bricks for trade or sale bring them in Monday" was the report of Secretary Keen of the Chamber of Commerce made Tuesday when asked about the Trades Day program.

"Now be it distinctly understood that we didn't bring this show here for Trades Day that is billed to show here—for that is one thing that the Chamber of Commerce does not try to bring to towns—but of course while we may officially deary the derogatory influence upon the adolescent perspicacity of habitual show hounds it does not necessarily follow that we won't be right there when the band plays goobers in one hand and a balloon in the other—still the constructive value of shows of the average class is considerably less than minus zero. But as every old codger in seventeen miles of Clarendon as well as the city itself will explain to their neighbor "I don't care anything for shows myself but I'll have to take the kids to see the animals". It is remarkable the attraction the animals have for some people's children on show day."

"Mr. Henderson of Claude will maintain an all day auction sale upon the open square near the depot, station or railroad landing field—just as you choose to call it, in front of the Clarendon Grain Company and there he will offer for sale anything and everything that may be brought in for sale and in the order that it is presented to him or the clerk in charge at that time. The first sale will open at 10:30.

"As one lady expressed herself upon the last Trades Monday—"What I liked about it was that you let us alone and didn't try to sell us nothing," this Trades Day is to be your day to spend as you see fit—mix with each other and visit with us in the town. It is strictly your day from start to finish, come out and make it a good one.

"We are trying to line up some good political speaker for the day but most of them want to rest after the efforts leading up to May the first, before starting in on the grind that will take them up to the Primaries. We do not know how that is going to be. If any of you wish to run for Governor, President or City Dog Catcher it might be a good time for you to announce.

"For the ladies who are in the promise of a place to rest and rock the baby to sleep—in a stiff back chair possibly—but our funds are already provided and the material has been ordered for the completion of the Y building and the work will be rushed as soon as it is possible to be gotten together. But for the coming first Monday the building will be open and plenty of chairs provided for all ladies that wish to spend a while there during the day. We are sorry that running water and other conveniences will not be there by that date but Mr. Patman of the Ford garage also offers the use of his rest room to the visiting ladies and we believe that you can find a place to rest and care for the baby, if you care to come in.

There are so many details that must be worked out to make of this day the real pleasure and benefit possible in its completeness that we can only get after a few of them each time and maybe by the time we are old and gray our grandchildren will have worked out a perfect Trades Monday—in the meantime believe that we are doing the best that we can and ask you to assist in making it better each time. Write in your suggestions.

Now folks I wrote this whole blooming thing myself, and didn't say a word of it in conversation like the quotation marks try to make you think. You know I hate to admit that I can't write any better than I can talk—which is in rather a rambling, uncertain way that is liable to lead most anywhere. But the idea I am trying to get over is have Trades Day in Clarendon is a permanent proposition and that we are doing our ding-busted best to make the day worth while and want you to jine in and help. Get me.

Curtis A. Keen, Sec.
Chamber of Commerce.

GROUND BROKEN FOR SIXTH GARAGE IN CLARENDON

Donley county boasts of much prosperity. That condition has brought a large number of cars into the county—most of which are of the more expensive kind. In order to keep up with this branch of our development, the sixth garage will be located two blocks east of Kearney on first street. Ground was broken for the foundation Monday for Caraway & Chase, who propose to have a building of outside dimensions of 50x115 feet, mission style architecture, tile roof effect. The front part of the building of 50x50 feet will be a modern drive in filling station back of which will be a plate glass accessory stock. The part of the building of 50x65 feet will be used for a show and sales room. Folding screens will be used instead of the regular partition. Adjustments for Buick cars only will be made and no machine shop work will be done. The main structure will be of fire proof, reinforced concrete construction. In all, this building will resemble some of the stations to be found in Amarillo only on a larger scale.

NOTICE—Any erroneous reflection upon the character, standing or reputation of any person, firm or corporation which may appear in the columns of The News will be gladly corrected upon its being brought to the attention of the publisher.

One day this week a woman introduced Senator Bailey at one of his speaking dates, saying that she was just a plain woman who was content to fill a woman's place. Seems to us like there is a little inconsistency somewhere. Senator Bailey says he is opposed to women voting, yet in Amarillo the other day he advised women who were present and seemingly favorable to his candidacy to go to the polls and counteract the vote of other women whom he classed as unfit to vote. The News doesn't believe in women voting at all, therefore it looks with suspicion upon a politician who would try to use two evils in order to get one right. There is nothing like being consistent. From Bailey's viewpoint he should shrink from receiving a single woman's vote, choosing rather to meet defeat than win by the support of the ladies at the polls. The suffragist may consistently bid for the support of women—others may not. That's fair isn't it?

Mexico is again in revolution. The News hopes the fight goes to a finish this time—a finish for the Carranza government.

If this was any other section of the Lord's footstool than Donley County, these threatenings of rain that turn off into northers would be woefully discouraging. This is Donley County, thank heaven, therefore we go peacefully along secure in the knowledge that when we must have rain that we shall get it in the proper abundance.

Senator Hy Johnson is becoming the nightmare of the old guard bosses of the Republican party. The wily Californian is gathering in the instructed votes for presidential nomination at the Chicago convention, but we cannot see how he has much chance as distress is apt to draw together several other factions against him when the show-down comes.

Saturday, May 1, is a very critical day in the life of the Democratic party of the nation. If Texas, with her forty delegates goes to the San Francisco convention not willing to endorse a single act of the administration then a great disaster is in store for the party not measured by the loss of one election. On the other hand if forty Texans go there bearing the endorsement of the administration from the Lone Star State, then the loss of the next election would merely be an incident and the party would continue to present a solid front to those of other beliefs. It is a well-known fact that the News is not in the class of the bo-constrictor when it comes to swallowing whole the pet ideas of Pres. Wilson or any other party leader. We are thoroughly Democratic, but not of the brass-collar variety, but at this time or at any other time we do not believe that it would be good politics nor good sense to lightly sweep aside every good act of the administration in order to show our displeasure over those acts which we do believe to be fanciful and palpably hurtful to the cause of sound democracy. We do not believe that a party which brought into being the Federal Reserve and the Federal Land Banks should be repudiated just because its headstrong leader linked the league of nations pact with the peace treaty in one document against the advice of his own co-workers, thereby insuring their defeat in the senate. We do not believe that the administration should be repudiated just because the president so far departed from the honored traditions of the nation as to attempt to dictate to states and districts who they were to elect as members of the senate and house of representatives. We do not believe that just because the president became peeved over his secretaries of state desire to be something above an office-boy, the party should be repudiated in the face of an election, like a debt contracted in flush times is sometimes denied when a financial rub comes. The News does not believe that the party should be repudiated, we do not believe that the administration should be repudiated, we do not believe that Texas Democracy will do that. There will be a general endorsement of the administration from Texline to the Gulf, from Texarkana to El Paso, and thousands of Democrats who feel just as does The News will be on the firing line that the endorsement will be effectually made. Such Democrats are the balance wheel of the party, they are the ones who see to it that when one error is made that the same error shall not be repeated, they intend that Democracy shall always try to be Democratic in its own household. Such Democrats are those who will face the nation and opposing parties declaring that Democracy has wrought well despite mistakes. Their reason is the sort that will appeal to the voters of the nation and upon their impregnable defense without egotism or bombastic boast depends the victory in the November elections. Saturday is the day when this matter is decided and The News reckons accurately when it announces in advance that Donley County Democracy will be on the firing line with banners flying when the precinct conventions are adjourned.

The Amarillo convention of the Panhandle Press Association the past week was the victim of a piece of propaganda put out by the enthusiastic friends of the Canyon Normal, who in the absence of a large number of the membership from the room passed a resolution endorsing the addition of the agriculture courses to the Canyon school. Every member of the Panhandle organization is a friend to the Canyon Normal and all of us are proud of it, but it appears to us that it is an unwise friendship for the institution and a disregard for the welfare of the Press Association for any member to come on the floor with a resolution that is really political in its nature. A number of the towns in the Panhandle will be candidates for location of the A. & M. college for this part of the state, and most anyone knows that if the addition should be made to the Normal, there would not be granted a new school to this section. Supporters of the resolution say that the A. & M. will not be located above the cap rock, but if there is anything the Almighty does not know it is just what a legislature or a legislative committee will do. The News would rather see the addition made to the Normal at Canyon than for the Panhandle and west Texas to be without the benefits of agricultural courses, but we consider it a last resort. Fact is the school fund will not stand additional expenditures when state schools are already suffering until additional sources of revenue have been made operative. The question until that is accomplished is largely academic, and what engages our attention most at present is that every member of the Panhandle Press Association, every member of the Texas Press Association, every member of any press association should stand ready to put their influence emphatically against any resolution which partakes of political significance. Such things destroy the harmony which ought always to exist among the members and will, if persisted in, bring about a disintegration of the organization. For one

The News editor is against the passage of any resolution endorsing any political or semi-political movement—even of those things we personally favor. The floor of a press convention is no place to consider such matters.

Some people are fools enough to believe that if a certain man is elected governor of Texas that they will be able to get whiskey in Texas again. That's the reason some ignorant voters are supporting a certain candidate. Such ignorance is really enough to bar any man from voting, if a literacy or intelligence test could be applied. You might as well put it down in your little red day book, boys, "likker" is gone to stay. No man is big enough to legalize its sale in Texas again—honestly, we don't believe any man thinks he can do it.

UPTOWN STUFF

"Say boy, did you ever see such 'Up-Town' stuff in your life as this little burg is getting into? Why, honest to goodness, when I start across the street I look out for the kyars!"

Such were the ravings of Secretary Keen who stood in front of the Mercantile Show Window one day this week. With the editor he had just had a drink across the Million dollar—more or less—fountain recently put in at the Pastime, had talked with Mulkey about all of the new picture house to be made from his present Theatre and a lot of other new stuff along the street.

"And did you see Baldwin's window? One of the classiest dresses—don't mean ladies dresses but window dresses—put in a window since I have been here. Right across the street—over on North Kearney, you know, Sitzer has a New York dress on his window, Hayter Bros, look like August of Fort Worth only the prices are some different. I always gawk around town and take in the sights when I go to town and naturally, rube like, I stopped before August's window in Ft. Worth last Sunday and gazed open eyed at the line of $75 silk shirts he was displaying. Silk shirts are good to look upon—that's about all I can afford now—but $75 silk shirts is just too bloom-in' much shirt—even to look at.

"T. M. Little has the big town windows that look nice in almost any dress they are given and some exceptional displays have been made there within the last few weeks. That is all good stuff and say what you please but it pays. A lot of folks argue that folks will buy goods whether you display them or not—but if you will notice it the merchants that make the most money and have the biggest following of returning customers always carry a good display in their windows, in their advertisements and in their stores. It may be that they put on the show after they make their money—but we doubt it.

"We have all admired the Taylor front and the high class display their store makes of the quality furniture carried—but did you realize that that is the oldest hardware and furniture store west of Ft. Worth? There are a lot of interesting things in connection with every business in the city of Clarendon if you just take time to dig under the little retail surface of the daily sales. I am working upon a plan now to take each firm in town—one each week—and write just a little history of the firm and the individuals that compose it, for The News.

"There is a lot to living besides just getting the nickles to buy bacon and beans and there is a lot to a man's business besides the selling and wrapping of the rags. As one dry goods merchant stated it—'There is a lot to a drygoods business besides 'ripping rags.' If folks knew of the fortunes, the ambitions and the inside game of business more I believe there would be a closer appreciation between the merchant and his customer.

"Take the insurance business—we usually think of that as just so many dollars paid in to care for a little period of misfortune that might come at some later date—and some folks are even opposed to that. But a very interesting article was in the American Magazine this week about Lloyds of London. They insure anything or everything that is put to them. For instance they will quote you a price on a $10,000 policy guaranteeing that it will or will not rain here the first day of April 1927, if you want such a policy. One man taking a policy for $125,000 that he would not beat up his mother-in-law.

"Watch our individual merchants grow and put on this Up-Town Style and then watch which merchant grows and makes money. And right along that same line there are a lot of fronts on Kearney Street that needs a little policing up. 'Little taps of the hammer, little gobs of the paint, makes the devil of a store front, look like a little Saint.'—Shakespeare.

HOW TO WRITE ADVERTISING
The day of the jazz advertising has gone by though many highly paid ad writers don't seem to know it. Much of the national advertising in magazines still seek to win attention by smart funny business, that has little relation to the merit of the goods. That kind of advertising does not persuade the public.

What people want is to get information about things they want to buy. They want to learn the facts not be amused by smart stories and pictures having nothing to do with goods.

An advertisement should be like market reports. It should add something to popular intelligence about the goods.

The ad that gives information about goods, that helps a buyer decide where he can get the best value, is well written. An ad that does not give such information is not well written, no matter how smart and witty it may seem.

A Very Important Announcement

—Because it means that many, many ladies of Clarendon will now be able to eliminate the greater part of the drudgery of their housework? How? Read on!

—There has hitherto been no systematic effort made in Clarendon to put before the ladies of Clarendon, in a convincing way, the wonderful labor-saving possibilities that lie in the strange current of electricity which is lighting their homes, and easily available for all these other purposes, and at an insignificant cost for operating current.

—Of course, many have known there were labor-saving electrical devices, but believed their cost prohibitive. We believe them to be real economies, and think we can prove to you that any one of them will pay for itself. What more can you ask of machinery? Knowing the need of such a plan as we offer you, we have made an agency agreement with the

Western Electric Company

(manufacturing the only fully complete line of electrical household devices on the market today) by which we are enabled to sell any one device or a combination of them, for a small cash payment, and a small monthly payment thereafter. This is done through the Morris Plan Bank of Dallas, and has proven to be the most practicable plan for enabling householders to equip their homes with these wonderful time and temper-savers. The devices offered include

- Washers
- Irons
- Sewing Machines
- Vacuum Cleaners
- Dish Washers
- Sewing Machine Motors

and many others, ALL ELECTRICALLY OPERATED, and constituting as much help as a number of servants would afford you, and ENTIRELY eliminating the back-breaking drudgery.

—At your request, a Demonstrator will go to your home, do an entire washing for you, and explain fully the easy plan of paying for a "Western Electric" Washer or other devices. Just tell us you want us to do a washing for you.

—Don't argue that an electric washer is too expensive, because we can show you that it will positively pay its own purchase price, and do it quickly. And all we ask is an opportunity to prove that to you. As for the cost of current it is too small to be of any significance at all. And that is true of all the other electrical devices we sell.

—The Demonstrator will be in Clarendon soon. Phone us at once, that you would like to be shown how the washer works when the Demonstrator comes. We will list you at once for a demonstration in your own home, and on your own washing. Go to the phone right now and call 144 and ask for the washing machine man.

We intend to make housekeeping a Delight in Clarendon

STRICKLAND-STORY'S

"THE DEPENDABLE STORE"

DOES THIS INTEREST YOU?

The system of land lord, tenant and all cotton, to the exclusion of live stock and feed crops, is responsible for the following conditions in Texas today:

Over 60,000 farms without a hen, or cow of any kind and butter at 60c a pound.

Over 164,000 farms without a hog, and bacon at 40c a pound.

Over 60,000 farms without a hen, and eggs at 60c a dozen.

Over 100,000 farm tenants within a radius of 100 miles of McGregor who are raising up more than 300,000 children without the hope of a home or love of a country in their hearts—a menace to society. Continue this system and the worst is yet to come.

Yet:

Five good cows, one good sow and fifty hens will support and family in Texas on a farm, by raising the feed at home and selling cream and butter and eggs and feeding the skimmed milk to the pigs and poultry, thus living on cash and no debts to pay in the fall! The main crop should be used to make a first payment on one's own home. This sounds like a pipe dream, but it is actually being done by some people and can be done by more. It means just the difference between homeless and digging and happy living.—McGregor Mirror.

PROMINENT CITIZEN CELEBRATES HIS BIRTHDAY WITH QUILTING BEE

An old fashioned quilting bee such as our mothers used to enjoy was arranged by Mrs. W. C. Veazey to celebrate her husband's birthday the 21st. A well cooked dinner such as can only be found on a first-class farm presided over by a first-class cook, was an important part of the program. The quilt top had been waiting for the finishing job for eighteen years and was the gift of Mr. Veazey's mother. He has one other quilt 64 years old. Those to take part in this enjoyable affair were: Grandma Shannon, Mrs. Odos Shannon, Mrs. G. R. Grant, Mrs. Frank Elmore, Mrs. Bryant, Mrs. Mitchell, Mrs. N. D. Hudson, Mrs. Neely Veazey.

THREE HOTEL CARS FOR THE KHIVA SHRINE

All arrangements have been made by Khiva Shrine Club for three Pullman cars to Portland, Oregon, to attend the session of the Imperial Council, at which meeting Amarillo Shriners will request a dispensation for the establishment of a Shrine Temple in this city.

Khiva's drum corps will accompany the party and will furnish the noise for the trip. Several able speakers will also accompany the party and address the Council in behalf of Amarillo and the Panhandle section. As many boosters as possibly can are especially invited by the Shriners to make the trip and lend their influence.

The Fort Worth & Denver will operate a through sleeper to Portland provided there are as many as twenty-five paid fares. The sleeper will move on the following schedule:

Leaving Amarillo at 12 o'clock noon, June 17, the car will arrive at Pueblo at 2:15 a. m. June 18. At Pueblo the party will be joined by the nobles from Mosiah Temple and proceed from Pueblo over the Denver & Rio Grande, leaving at 12:20 p. m., June 18. The train will arrive at Salt Lake City at 12:40 p. m. June 19, leaving at 1:15 p. m. the same day. Arriving at Ogden at 1:40 p. m. on the D. & R. G., the party will leave on the Union Pacific at 2:30 p. m. June 19 and arrive at Portland at 7 o'clock p. m., June 20.

This schedule will enable passengers to see the Grand Canyon and Royal Gorge of Colorado, through which the Shrine Special will pass about 2 o'clock p. m.

On the return trip if the party remains intact, the route will be by way of the Southern Pacific through the Shasta Mountains of California to San Francisco, then to Los Angeles, passing through San Jose and Santa Barbara. From Los Angeles the party will go via El Paso on the Southern Pacific and into Amarillo over the Santa Fe, stopping at Grand Canyon en route.

El Maida Temple of El Paso has extended an invitation to the delegation to spend the day in El Paso.

The railroad rate, including war tax will (approximately) be $99.85. The Pullman fare Amarillo to Portland (approximately) will be $16.75. If any one wishes to go to Portland as above routed and return the same short route the railroad fare will be (approximately) $86.40. Pullman fare the same as above stated. The exact fare will be published just as soon as obtained from the railroad company.

Shriners and their friends desiring to avail themselves of this through car service, should make a remittance covering Pullman fare to R. R. Swift, who will make the reservation, and who will refund the amount paid, in the event the required number of passengers are not secured.

Tickets good to October 31 and can stop over as desired.

SOME NEWS ABOUT THE OIL WELLS

The Childress-Duluth people report plenty of water since the rain and everything is going nicely now. The well is down more than 1600 feet and they are drilling in a blue shale that is yielding nice showings of both oil and gas, enough to give much encouragement. Preparations are now being made to put down the 8-14 inch casing. This they hope to use to a depth of 3,000 feet, if necessary, to find a well worth while.

The Don John people are to resume drilling today, the necessary repairs and supplies having been received and hauled out.

The Riverside well is building a new derrick and expect to have it 96 feet this time, instead of 84 feet as before. They hope to get the drill started again within a week or so.

T. J. Jefferies reports work of drilling going right along on the Hereford Grove well but says the formation has been quite hard from the very top, hence drilling is rather slow.—Childress Post.

GOOD RAINS FALL OVER CHILDRESS CO.

Saturday morning and again late in the afternoon good rains fell over all parts of Childress county heard from. Then early Sunday morning another downpour came and it is believed that these rains reached over adjoining counties quite generally. While nothing had suffered seriously from lack of moisture, the top of the ground was getting dry from the winds that had blown so much this spring. The rain appears sufficient for all purposes; it filled cisterns, water holes on the ranges and supplied moisture enough for the wheat that is growing so rapidly now. Some of the oil companies were hauling water at a great expense, hence the rain is very welcome to them.—Childress Index.

WIDOWS AGAIN SIP CONNUBIAL BLISS

These doubting Thomases, fellows who are too stingy to support a wife, or men who selfishly refuse to do their duty toward relieving the lonesome life of single females are given the lie when they say conjugal bliss is all a myth. Their theories that there is no pleasure in wedded life are given the lie by the issuance of four marriage licenses here yesterday to as many widows and as many swains who seek them in wedlock. These four widows have tasted once the sweet cup of conjugal felicity, and they faint would drain the vessel to its last dregs, or at least, they happily again sup from it.

Here they are:

CREAMERY STATION ESTABLISHED MEANS MUCH TO FARMING INDUSTRY

We have long wondered why our farmer friends did not sell cream and thus have a daily income. We found that though our town was up to date in most every other line, we had no cream station here. That defect in the financial status was remedied this week when a large creamery of Amarillo established a cream station with the Clymer produce company. There is no reason why all the surplus cream should not be turned into ready money and the skimmed milk turned into high priced pork.

GLEANINGS FROM THE CLARCO

Seven members of the Junior Fine Arts department were presented Monday evening at the College Auditorium in a recital of unusual merit. Every number was rendered with extraordinary skill and competency and the program will be remembered as one of the best of the season.

The recital was opened by two piano soli by Miss Cleora Brummett "Improvisation" by Brown and a Polish Dance by Scharwenka. These numbers were played with an unusual degree of skill and they revealed forcibly the talent and ability of the performer. This was followed by two readings given by Miss Bessie Eaves. The first of these "Son" was given with much feeling and expression, while the latter "The Woodsticks", was a humorous impersonation and was given in a charming manner. Next came two piano numbers by Miss Barnhart. The last of these "Danse Negre" by Cyril Scott was played by Ornstein in his recent concert here, and Miss Barnhart's interpretation was excellent even in comparison with the great artist. "The Going of the White Swan", a reading, was next on the evening's program, and it was given by Miss Gertrude Miller in the entertaining manner that is always characteristic of her selections. Piano soli by Miss Helen Martin were next rendered, showing in a marked degree her talent as a pianist. Miss Mary Tomlinson then gave a charming impersonation from "Miss Minerva and William Green Hill" in a "Transaction in Mumps." This was followed by two more piano numbers by Miss Roberts, who played exceedingly well. This closed the recital and it is needless to say that those present spent an enjoyable evening. V. M.

The Junior Class of C. C. is not only the largest in number, of any class in school, but it is also the leading body in social, athletics, intellectual and various other lines. Since the first day of school when almost one hundred and fifty radiant students were happily enrolled as "Juniors", this class has been steadily pushing forward, and it readily became foremost in all student activities. To begin with, we have had a good time throughout the year if not in having a number of social affairs, in planning them and anticipating the jolly times that we are going to have at the coming Junior-Senior reception and junior party. It has not been our fault that these affairs have been delayed so long, and we are certain that, when they are finally given, they will register, as two of the most enjoyable affairs of the entire year.

Secondly, we, the Juniors, have had star athletes in every game of football, baseball and basketball that has been played this year. In fact Juniors have made up a greater number of athletes than any other class. In football, Hansard and Maples brought honor to their class, in basketball, Maples, Quattlebaum and Lewis kept up the good work, and now, on the baseball field, Lewis is making a splendid record. In basketball and tennis, too, the Junior girls have made a record that they can justly be proud of.

I think, too, that no one will question the fact that the Juniors have in their number the most brilliant students in school. This can be proven, not only by the general opinion of the faculty and students but by looking at their reports. In fact, the long string of A's made by two of our Junior boys last term was enough to make any aspiring Senior turn green with envy. Speaking of Seniors, that brings up another point in our favor. Everyone knows how we have gotten back at them at every turn this whole year. None of the ordinary Senior pranks have phased the triumphant Junior class and we don't intend that they shall, either. So, on every side, the Junior class of '20 has proven an all round body of competent students fair and square in every deal, and we hope to put out a Senior Class of '21 that will equal or excel any that have ever left the walls of C. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Quattlebaum and daughter, Lillian, of McLean were here for the Ornstein Recital and visiting their son and brother Hughes. They were accompanied by two fair young ladies of McLean—one of whom seemed to be very interested in Hughes.

There is a prevailing "belief" in the boys' dormitory that things are going back into the old ways of our grandfathers as is shown by our music, French harps and singing without a tune.

The score indicates what the game was: A close, hard fought game throughout, College battery, McCool and Thompson, score 3 to 1 in Clarendon's favor. The best game of the year up-to-date, the seventh game, the fifth victory for our team, was not won until the third man was out the ninth inning. We have to hand it to our adversary of Friday that they play ball. They didn't lose the game, our team won it. The score should have been 2-0, but not many games are played between amateur teams, or professionals far as that goes, in which there are not a few errors made by players of each team. But as the game was, fewer errors were pulled than in any previous game, better ball was played on both sides. Our scores were made in as many innings, the first, fourth, and sixth, one of them was made thru an error on the part of Shamrock, but the other two were brought in from third base by timely sacrifice hits to the outfield, enabling the runners to come in on caught fly balls. The dope looks better and better for Clarendon College with each game she plays, and we feel confident that Plainview High's thus far clean slate will be dirtied when their team comes in conflict with our nine wall-lopers.

It was indeed a privilege to watch our splendid pitchers work. "Dirty" McCool pitched four innings, and Walker pitched five innings, allowing only four hits during the entire game, while Thompson behind the bat displayed his usual cool headwork and ability. More than once the first batter up was held on the bases for three outs, while the fast infield playing airtight ball, except for a very few breaks, was backed by an errorless outfield.

The hitting was pretty well scattered among the boys; in fact, the opposing pitcher had a head which he used, and a fellow couldn't hit just every time he came to the bat, but Big Mac poled out one two-bagger that, when the Shamrock right fielder overthrew second base, resulted in a home run for that doughty lad. Cooke got on twice but was unable to come on around.

The fielding was good. Harris, at short, Cooke at first, played splendid ball. Probably the most spectacular feat was by Lewis, Clarendon's left fielder, who ran plumb over behind third base and took a high foul. hind the line of cars out back and Clifford, third base, except for one fatal error, grabbed all that came his way. Harris, Maples and McCool brought in the three scores for Clarendon. There was also a goodly bunch of rooters, many of them town boys, that went from Clarendon, who did their part in winning the game. We don't know exactly when we have Shamrock here, but we can promise you an interesting game when they do come, from the standpoint of both teams.

The Clarendon College baseball club left Tuesday morning for Wellington where they were to play their first game on an enemy's ground. The team arrived, and made a raid on the Cafe.

The game was called at three o'clock, but was put off until five. The reason for this was obvious. A large fat man, whom everyone called "Fatty" had bet heavily on the game and as he was desirous of winning, he bribed an entirely new team. Clarendon was supposed to have played the high school team, but there were only three of the players that were on the team which played here. Fatty recruited his players from the salaried club that Wellington has, and Bob Burleson, an ex-leaguer, pitched the game.

The game started with a rush, Clarendon making four runs in as many innings, to Wellington's one. McCool pitched a swell game of ball, only getting four hits during the fifth and sixth innngs, Wellington scored four times making the score 5 to 4 in their favor.

Adams, our first baseman, with the sun in his eyes, and Clifford, by over and underthrowing, gave them those four scores. It seemed as if our men had lost some of that old confidence that always showed itself in the games played at home.

But in the eighth inning Wellington scored twice more and had the bases full, with no men out. Then it was that McCool did some pitching. Just like 1-2-3, he struck the next three men up out, and the score stood seven to four. Cooke was bating beautifully.

Then in the first half of the ninth the best hitters were sent to the bat with the result that we run in two scores. Mac struck out and the game was over. The last score being seven to six in Wellington's favor.

The line-up for Clarendon was: Out-field, Lewis, Stocking subbing for Keen and Cooke. Infield, Thompson, McCool, Adams, McCullum, Harris and Clifford.

Misses Isla Mae Milner and Bess King accompanied Minad Sims and Gerald Walker to Canyon Friday night and were present at the track meet Saturday. They reported a great time.

Fay Bynum proved to be very loyal to the Add Society when she purchased herself a large purple hat from Miss Sarah Porter's millinery shop.

Talking Things Over

It isn't about golf, politics or wedding bells its about clothes.

Perhaps the Donley County farmers, stockmen and a good many of our fellow townsmen, think we lose sight of the fact that they wear work clothes a big part of the time.

But we don't. We may not talk so much about them, but that's because work clothes isn't so important a matter to you.

It's clothes for "Dress Up" that you're particular about. They involve more of an investment and they are the ones you rely on when you want to look right. That's why we feature so strongly Hart Schaffner and Marx, and Styleplus Clothes. They are stylish and worth the money.

But you'll find the same good values in the things we have here for work wear. Shirts, Overalls, Khakis, Gloves, Hats, Shoes, anything you need at surprising low prices.

SPRING IS HERE AND CLEAN UP DAY IS IN ORDER

It has been the custom of every real city in the State each year to designate a certain week in the early spring as clean up week and Clarendon has always followed some such custom. It is needed again this year and plans are being laid with that end in view.

We are known as the most beautiful city in the Panhandle—why not add to that the Cleanest City in the Panhandle? Last year the Chamber of Commerce paid some cash prizes to the boys with the largest pile of trash inspected—but after the prizes were given a number of boys reported piles that had not been inspected. That was a mistake that crept in from the fact that there was no one man to look after the details of the matter and in the rush of their own business failed to get to that particular section of the town in time to see that boys' trash pile. Then also there were some piles stacked that have never yet been hauled away. A man was hired and paid for two weeks to do nothing but haul this trash out of town and he did haul an awful lot of it out—but he reported to the City Commission that it was all out and they discharged him. This year we have a man who will spend his time seeing that every trash pile is reported, inspected, and hauled out. When the matter was brought up before the commission Tuesday afternoon Secretary Keen said:

"We are in a better shape to handle a real clean up week now than we ever were before. I believe I am safe in guaranteeing the full cooperation of every school kid in Clarendon—we get along together pretty well—and the rest of the kids of this town—Just between US girls—as Mr. Patrick told the Ladies Club last week. They will stack more trash in about a week than we can haul out the rest of the year. Then when this is all stacked we will just knock off a day, sign up every blooming blessed man in the whole town for a day's work to haul it off. I have already spoken to a number of men that will be glad to furnish a truck and two or three hands for the job and we will just fall in our little overalls and clean things out. It may leave a few blisters in some of our lily white hands and a freckle or two on our nasal extremities but it will be worth it.

"I believe that we can find some of the ladies who will stir up a pot of beans and bacon for us at noon and we will make it a Whooping Big Community Day. It is not that we could not hire someone to haul this out and get it out in time just as well as we can do it ourselves for we could. But we need not work together, to meet each other and to put the thing over big in one day and then we can really see what a remarkable difference there is between a dirty town and a clean town. Hauling it out dibble at a time the contrast is not so striking.

"It will take a week or ten days to get the thing completely organized. We want to make straw bosses out of a lot of the women—they are used to the job and will get results. Each section of the town must have its overseer, someone who will be responsible that it is thoroughly clean and that all of the trash is reported to the proper authority. And then when we get all set we'll put over the biggest Clean-Up Day ever attempted in Clarendon and have a lot of fun doing it, too."

Dates will be announced later for this Clean-Up Campaign and The News promises to have two or more men in the middle of the party when it comes off. Our city is getting the publicity due her prominence in the Panhandle this year for the first time and with four more pages of pictures already in course of completion for the Star-Telegram and Record and more to follow it is up to us to present to the world the cleanest town in the Panhandle. We already have the most beautiful—even before the addition of our pavement and the number of fine residences now under construction.

With our trees and flowers all bloomed out, the grass green, the great number of new houses and older houses made new again, the white way down Kearney street, the long stretch of paving out First and Second streets—we will have the most modern and home-like town in Texas.

WANT ADS ARE CASH IN ADVANCE

We wish to again call the attention of our patrons to the fact that unless they have a regular monthly account with us, it will be impossible for us to open an account with them in order to charge a small item. The loss of time in making these small collections amounts to more during these times of high expense, than in for the want column must be paid for before the day of publication if the party has no regular monthly account.

OLD CITY GARAGE BUILDING

The preliminary Oratorical contest to decide who shall represent Clarendon in the forthcoming Intercollegiate contests April 30th was given Monday morning at the chapel hour. The entire student body gathered to hear their favorite speaker and a high degree of interest was noticeable throughout the proceedings.

The contestants, who were directed to speak on some phase of reconstruction, drew lots for places in the order of speaking. Mr. Cleo Norcross, P. L. S., drawing first place. His subject was "The Opportunities of America Today."

Kenneth Pope, A. L. S., followed. J. E. Eldridge, P. L. S., came next "Co-operation of Labor and Capital" being his theme.

Chas. W. Ferguson, A. L. S., spoke fourth, on "Every Man to His Task."

Glenn Lewis, P. L. S., speaking last, dwelt on the subject "Reconstruction of Ideas."

J. E. Eldridge, P. L. S., took first honors. Second and third places were given the A. L. S. speakers, Pope and Ferguson, and fourth and fifth places to the Panhandle speakers, Norcross and Lewis, respectively.

Mr. S. H. Condon, Mrs. H. H. King, Mr. H. T. Burton, Mr. P. E. Dudley, and Misses McLean and Howren, all of the faculty, acted as judges. Some criticism of the decision was heard, but on the whole, it appeared as popular with the students, and both Societies are joining in wishing Mr. Eldridge success in the intercollegiate clash.

The Intercollegiate contest will be held April 30th in Clarendon.

We have been wondering why the nice looking Y. M. C. A. building has never been finished and wishing that it would be. So to our delight Mr. Coulter, a Y. M. C. A. secretary visited the College last Tuesday morning and gave us a very interesting talk. He told how the town is beginning to take interest in the Y. M. C. A. building and a campaign waged. Enough money was raised to complete the building and equip it very nicely for the enjoyment of the citizens of Clarendon.

Mr. Coulter announced that the Y. M. C. A. was to hold an Open House that evening from five to seven-thirty o'clock. He very kindly invited all the College students. The ladies of the town served delicious refreshments and the College orchestra furnished music for the evening. Everyone had a nice time.

By the opening of school next year it will be finished and ready for use. There is to be a swimming pool and the College kids are looking forward to that. Thanks to Mrs. Adair for starting such good work and to Clarendon for finishing it. We knew she could if she would.

The girls of the "Purple and White" met in regular session Thursday afternoon. Of course we always have good programs but probably this was the best we have ever had.

The program opened by singing our Society song "The Purple and White Forever". This song always gives us the desired pep and afterward everything goes off beautifully.

The next number was a reading by Miss Mattie Price, this caused much amusement. The next was a steel guitar solo by Miss Jessie Morrison. It was beautifully rendered and for an encore she played the ever popular Aloha Oe.

Then Miss Erna Lewis read a letter musically speaking. It was cleverly arranged and very much enjoyed. After this was a song "My Isle of Golden Dreams" by the Orthonian quartette. This part of the program being over, we adjourned for a short social hour. Lovely eats were served by Misses DeLaural Beville and Alpha Kemp.

Our next meeting will be a real honest to goodness pep meeting and a very peppy program is planned. If there are any Orthonians who failed to come last meeting, wake up and come. Don't forget the motto: "The Purple and White Forever."

Regardless of the fact that Mr. Ornstein was in our midst we met in regular session Thursday evening, April 15th, at 6:00 p. m. Our program lasted only about forty-five minutes, accommodating those who wanted to attend the recital at a later hour. It is true that our attendance was not one hundred percent, but as it was, a very interesting program was rendered.

After devotional exercises and other preliminary proceedings, Chairman Hart, called for voluntary speeches. Mr. Stinnett started the good work going. His lecture was an intellectual treat to the Panhandle Mind. He made many good suggestions, occasionally adding a kindly to the fire by mentioning the Panhandle reception that is dated in the near future. Following Mr. Stinnett were: Messrs. Thomason, Norcross and other members present. The idea of intra-society co-operation was thoroughly established by these speakers. After a short business session Chairman Hart entertained a motion for adjournment, and each member left the hall with a new determination in his heart, and never regretting the fact that he placed himself to a little more trouble to be present. Let every member of the Panhandle Literary Society be present at the next meeting. Something very important to be discussed.

—R. L.

Thursday afternoon, April 15th, the Pan-Altheans met in the Pan hall for their regular meeting. A long program had been planned, but as the dump girls were to have dinner at five (because Ornstein was coming that night) it was decided that that day's program would be postponed until the following Thursday, and an impromptu program would be given that day.

As the time was short the devotional services were not held. The president called the house to order and the secretary read the program. As late members dropped in, numbers were added to the program with this result: A song was rendered by Pearl Miller. Short and snappy readings were given by M. Bailey, G. Miller and V. McGowan. Piano solos were given by L. M. Hamblen and G. Bryant. Witty jokes were read by M. R. Massey. Rat gave the late C. C. gossip, N. Bourland gave a prophecy of the members of the society present. Possibly the most striking number was the original dance, J. Cousins.

The meeting was enjoyed by every one present, and all said that they wished to enjoy another impromptu program in the near future.

Kate Allen succeeded in getting her dinner brought to her room last Sunday.

On April 21st, 1919, Mr. Walters added: "Since I last recommended Doan's Kidney Pills, I have used them once in a while to keep my kidneys toned up, with excellent results."

SHALL WE EQUIP THE COLLEGE TO CARE FOR ITS GROWING PATRONAGE?

We are soon to close, all things considered, the best session in the history of the College. We have enrolled 431 to date, which is 95 more than last session. Under similar conditions I think we can enroll anywhere from 500 to 550 next session if we have the facilities to care for them.
 The plan outlined and endorsed by the board of trustees involves the expenditure of something like $45,000.00 between now and September. This will finish and overhaul the administration building, erect the other wing to the girls' home, put in a central heating plant and install a laundry. With these added facilities and the addition of at least two teachers, we can handle 500 enrollment. It will take at least $18,000 more collateral than we have to cover the cost of these improvements.
 I want to urge at least three things: (1) That those who have not given in the recent campaign do so this week. (2) Those that have given and those that do give make the money available as soon as possible as it will all be needed before September. (3) That those who gave their notes for the erection of the boy's hall pay them off as soon as possible. You will find the notes at the various banks.
 To accomplish this work it will be necessary to have the co-operation of a great number of people. I appreciate very much the response by quite a number of the citizens of the community in the present campaign but a hearty response from as many more is badly needed. The college has grown to such proportions that the load is too great for just a few to carry. We had just as well make up our minds to continuously put considerable money in the college as the needs arise if we purpose to keep it abreast with the demands upon it. These demands are growing at a rapid rate and should they be allowed to accumulate without being cared for they would soon become overwhelming and discouraging.
 An institution can not allow its obligations to accumulate any more than a firm or an individual. Nor can it afford to be hindered for lack of resources to meet the demands upon it any more than an individual. I am not expecting any resources to amount to anything from the general campaign before this fall a year. Clarendon College can not wait two years for money to meet its immediate and pressing needs to care for its growing constituency. We can not afford to allow our school to bleed at every pore for the lack of funds. This I am sure we will not do. We will rise up and do what should be done.
 G. S. Slover, President.

HOLIDAYS THAT PAY

One drawback to the joy of holidays is their cost, but where most of us spend, others have now, not only a fortune, but fame into the bargain. Thomas Edison once shut up his laboratory and went to Long Island for a rest. He took a stroll across the stretches of sand. Noticing the dark peculiar color, he examined it closely and with the aid of a pocket magnet found that it contained finely powdered iron ore. That rest resulted in an invention for treating low-grade ore, which brot him a fair size fortune.

A miner in Pennsylvania out holiday making laid his lunch beside him on the grass. When he began to eat the sandwiches tasted of petroleum. The next day he purchased several acres of the land around. He bored to a depth of seventy-five feet and was rewarded by a gush of oil. He had discovered one of the richest oil springs in the district.

Most holiday seekers would be glad to imitate Reid, who spending a holiday in the Carolinas chanced upon the first gold nugget found there.

Its weight was 151 pounds and its value $4,250.

One of the Chilean silver mines was discovered by the brothers Bolados, who, visiting the place after an earthquake found an immense block of almost pure silver in a freshly opened crevice. They extended their vacation by two years during which time they mined $750,000 worth of silver.

The wonderful 'glycine subterra-

nea' whose bulbs can supply the place of bread, meat, butter, and vegetables, was found by a Uganada coffee grower who was wandering about the country for a change. He benefitted not only himself, but its introduction into India may save countless lives in the famine.

WHAT HON. MARVIN JONES THINKS OF THE PANHANDLE PRESS ASSOCIATION

On receipt of a personal invitation to attend the meeting of the Panhandle Press Association, of which he is an honorary member, Hon. Marvin Jones, answered as follows and it is such a tribute to the newspaper workers of the Panhandle that we reproduce it below: "I am in receipt of your generous invitation to attend the meeting of the Panhandle Press Association at Amarillo, April 23-24, and I regret very much that the fact that Congress is in session will prevent my having the pleasure of spending these two profitable days with the congenial spirits that make up that fine organization.

"I may add in this connection that my wish for a great meeting is with you. No class of people does so much unselfish work in building up the various communities and sections in which they live and operate, as the members of the press. No other citizens perform so many thankless tasks in so fine a fashion. No matter how hard the times nor how difficult the task they are always fighting the battles of our country and its citizens. When others frown, they smile; when others pull back, they push forward; when others frown, they smile. Telling thru the long hours to give an exacting world what it most wants—the latest news—they find time to mention every event even of local importance. No infant is cradled but the mother is made proud by a notice in the local paper, no wedding but the bride is thrilled by a description of her gown, and no funeral but the relatives are consoled by the fine tribute paid to the qualities of the deceased. They furnish more free advertising for community and people than any other agency under the sun. With facile pen and tireless work they keep the records of history. They are community builders. Their mission is to create and construct rather than to tear down and destroy. The country owes them a debt of gratitude. "I am inexpressibly proud of the friendship of the members of the Association."

Sincerely yours, Marvin Jones.

CLARENDON MAN DISCUSSES BAILEY

'Egotism—big "I" and small "U"—is a heritage and may be cultivated to an abnormal state. Ego—in a normal state or supply is quite essential to maintain self respect, dignity and to wield an influence among men—while on the other hand an abnormal supply detracts.

Ego—in its abnormal stage is misleading to the possessor of same. Ego—in over supply has misled nations and likewise individuals to self destruction so to speak. Ego—abnormal, causes the nation or individual possessing same to place a high rate upon themselves and at the same time liable to under rate others. Ego misled Russia when she under-rated Japan. Ego misled Germany when she started the world's greatest and most destructive war in an attempt to Germanize the world. We could go on and name many and numerous instances where ego has played a prominent part both in nations (made up with individuals) and in individuals (made up with things) that gets beyond his control and not able to stop—however, sometimes not willing to acknowledge defeat.

Ego—likewise, is misleading certain individuals today the same as it has been from time immemorial. We will take for instance, the Hon. Joseph Weldon Bailey, who has come down to Texas (where he once resided) with an over stock of confidence and a mistaken personality and undertakes to dictate a course to a free and thinking people of this great commonwealth and this after alienating himself from us by both words and actions.

This seems to be the most striking object before our eyes today—where "Ego" has played a prominent part and is not only baffling the minds of many of his thinking opponents but of his admirers the same. We have often heard of the man with an axe to grind and other kindred names for the real thing and many things to "Camofulgate" the real object. However, taking these things in view and other things barely discernible—we are bound to arrive at one of two conclusions, viz: That he either has revenge in his heart—long treasured up—or else he is backed by a "slush fund" from the G. O. P. with only a hope backed up with bad-judgment. We are inclined to take to both the above objects, though the latter may be the strongest incentive to the Actor in the case.

I am not from Missouri but must be shown some things just the same as the Missourian. Taking up Mr. Bailey's record from away back (almost longer than some who now vote can remember) we are unable to find one important act that bears Mr. Bailey's name or brand—worthy of praise. He claims to be a pure and unadulterated Jeffersonian Democrat. We will take this for all it is worth—looking up Thos. Jefferson's record we are unable to find where he ever bolted his party when things were "rocky" and not to his liking and played into the hands of the opposing party, but to the contrary he stood by in faithful service when his country was involved in war with a foreign power. The records show that the once admired Joe Bailey did with malice and forethought oppose the Cleveland administration 1892-1896.

We find that the same reason he opposed William J. Bryan. Coming on up to the present day we find him opposing our own Woodrow Wilson administration in every act and everybody connected with it—notwithstanding a large majority of the people of Texas have heartily endorsed same. And the worst feature of the case, this was at a time when we were in combat with a most dangerous foe, and our country passing thru a most dangerous period.

In fact the records bear us out in saying he has been a confirmed "knocker" on everybody and everything that did not take to his ideas and dictations—in fact he won't "stand-hitched" to anything that doesn't bear the big "I" brand.

He has also denounced our state administration and everybody connected with same. He has also virtually slapped our intelligent women in the face and at the same time has catered to the desires of the anti-prohibitionist with a veiled promise. With the above charges as a visible campaign issue and his reputation not entirely clear of spots and blemishes—we again repeat you must "show" us that the rank and file of the voters of Texas are ready to submit to the egotistical dictations of an inflated mind to a satisfying degree.

We will venture to predict that the day has passed when self-styled Democracy of the brand herein described will win in Texas any more. With the improved methods and modes of transportation (we must give the automobile credit)—a new factor has come into existence for the education of the boys from "the forks of the creek" who in days passed and gone stayed close to home and were readily influenced by personal charms. They are now reading daily papers and keeping posted and we will venture another prediction here that we will have zero weather in August before it happens as our would-be-savior would have it happen.

BACKMAN-TINSCH TRAINED WILD ANIMAL SHOWS

Amusement lovers, particularly the kiddies, will welcome the announcement of the coming of The Bachman-Tinsch Big Trained Wild and Domestic Animal Shows to Clarendon Monday, May 3rd, for one big day only. The big water proof tent will be pitched on the regular Show Grounds. Every man, woman and child in Clarendon and surrounding country should avail themselves of this opportunity to witness this highly educational exhibition of wonderfully trained Lions; one of which actually makes a balloon ascension, accompanied by a beautiful young lady trainer flying far into the lofty peaks of the mammoth canvas and while the Beauty and the Beast are enjoying their aerial flight a beautiful display of fire works is turned loose while the entire tent is darkened. Positively the most inspiring, sensational, at the same time beautiful act, ever before attempted or accomplished by any other show in America.

Many other new and novel acts have been added to the Bachman-Tinsch Shows one of which deserves special mention, that of Handsome Mike, the Marvelous Roller Skating Bear, who skates around the big elevated stage with all the grace and confidence of a professional skater of the human type.

Space will not permit but slight mention of the many startling features to be presented by this mammoth collection of Animal Actors consisting of lions, leopards, tigers, bears, horses, ponies, monkeys, dogs interspersed with many novelties by America's foremost lady and gentleman artists of the tented world.

Remember the date, Monday, May 3rd.

CLARENDON IN THE PAST WHAT IS HER FUTURE?

County Attorney, R. H. Beville "loaned" us an edition of The News "too precious for a gift"—published on August 2, 1879. At that time The News was printed at Sherman and mailed out from here. Many changes have taken place in old Donley during these forty years. Rev. L. H. Carhart was the owner of The News and the edition would be a credit to a number of towns of the present day.

Among the many interesting items we find that the best land near town—Clarendon was located down on the river then—land could then be bought for $3.00 to $8.00 per acre on long time. The country was sparsely settled for an item recounts the fact that a hundred people, including men, women and children, gathered here on the 4th of July, 1879 to celebrate the occasion. The band for that occasion consisted of a piano presided over by a Miss Dora Heffebower. Among the numbers to materially assist in properly observing the notable day were: H. B. Hawkins, Mrs. C. Goodnight, Osborn, Kimball and Heffebower. People invoiced about the same traits in that early day as they do at present, since we read that "the public feast and spread was the best ever set in the Panhandle." Those were the good old days when everybody knew everybody and you walked right up and helped yourself—after the ladies and children were pacified. A lengthy program included such speakers as: Jas. L. Parks, Revs. Allen, Ames, Rockwell and Reece. Holy horrors! The name of a lady appears on the program for we read that "Mrs. N. D. Freeman" spoke on "The Ladies of the frontier."

People of that day were very careful of their toilet pretty much as they are now it being announced that a barber chair arrived during the week. The item says nothing of talcum and toilet water so we naturally presume that they were forced to resort to corn starch and plain old aqua pura. At any rate we would be willing to bet those old timers never suffered more from a dull razor than we do in the average barber shop of the present day. Considering the razors and the "eats" those good old timers had us skinned on at least two points.

Speaking of speed, the paper recounts the fact that with a fact team and a light rig, the trip to the nearest railroad—Sherman—may be safely made in six days.

Most all the freighting, however, was done from Dodge City, Kansas. Just why they added the "city" to that burg remains one of the complex mysteries of the "wild and woolly" past. The announcement that a team of six mules and a good wagon would insure Clarendon all the necessary supplies of all kinds undoubtedly brought joy to the hearts of these sturdy pioneers. What would one freight outfit amount to at present? It is safe to say that the men folks were careful to see that the supply of tobacco was replenished at intervals insuring no epidemics of "nerves" and merchants scarce as hen's teeth.

We read long where a man disposed of five hundred chickens at the munificent sum of a dollar a dozen. If that man were living today no doubt he would rave and tear his hair at the thoughts of being held up according to present day prices when just one common old dominecker will bring more than a dozen in "good old days."

An interesting item appears in connection with Elm creek in Jones county, where deer, bear, turkey and antelope abound. We read the item with vain regrets that we could not have been there during the hunting season until we find that one Bill Stalworth was arrested for threatening the life of a man named Wright and while in charge of a guard, was attacked by a mob and riddled with buckshot. That was in a day when malefactors were summarily dealt with, though men even then were not in strict accord with the method of punishment—especially the victim. Those were the good old days but we see no plausible excuse for anyone wanting them to return.

Another item of interest recounts the fact that Col. N. L. Norton and vice Gen. R. P. Lane are starting on their journey to survey the three million acres to be given in payment for the building of the state capitol. The party is being escorted by a body of troops in command of Gen. Pope to see that no unwary Indians impede the progress of the surveying by obscuring the line of vision of the man behind the compass—transits were an unknown quantity at that time. It further seems that the aborigine was slow to catch the idea of a more modern civilization though many experienced a sudden change of heart due to the unerring aim of the sturdy pioneer. Others continued their old habits until the buffalo were destroyed. The last Indian to hold out for a raise was Geronimo who was finally induced to retire to Ft. Sill society though it is not recorded in the account with a howling success as a lounge lizard.

The Indian, like the Buffalo and other big game, is gone for all time. In his going he left two things behind to inflict his more savage pale face brethren. One is the tobacco habit and the other is modern dress—the "spring-chicken" having adopted the plan of exposing about as much of her person as the aborigine.

With the passing of the uncomplaining pioneer God's noblemen became scarcer. The pioneer mother was God's uncrowned queen whose throne was a humble home where confidence anxiously awaited the hour watching across the plains for the home coming of her king. Many times he failed to return and thus were the cares of the mother increased a thousand-fold. In this modern day we can hardly realize the ability of the mind to withstand the turbulent times. It is a wonder that many did not become insane. We of the present day owe the pioneer men and women a debt for blazing the way, that we can never pay. The world would be far better if we had more of their stamina and strength of character. How happy we should be that others paved the way and made it possible for us to enjoy a home, life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness unmolested.

NO TRAPPING
Positively no trapping in any of the JA pastures. If you want to avoid prosecution, observe the above J. W. Kent, Superintendent.

Use Discretion

Coal buying time is here again, or rather the season for storing the precious nuggets. There is no chance for you to go wrong in buying your coal early. It is an assured fact that coal is cheaper now than it will be next winter and it is easier to obtain.

The person who does not take advantage of the situation and lay in a good supply of coal at this time is sleeping on perfectly good warning, and runs the chance of having to go to bed to keep warm next winter.

W. T. McBRIDE HAS MODERN BIG TYPE POLAND-CHINA HERD

This being the initial announcement of the W. T. McBride Modern Big Type Poland China Herd, which is located south of Lelia Lake 2-4 mile in the alfalfa belt. Alfalfa is one of the best grazing crops for hogs known and furnishes several elements in feed rarely found in other green fields. McBride reared the benefits to be derived from locating in an alfalfa section long before establishing and assembling his wonderful herd of modern Polands. This little herd, little in numbers only, but large in quality and type consists of six sows and four gilts and several very fine and promising pigs, and one male.

This herd is headed by Royal Big Bob, a 900 pound, 18 months old boar, his sire being the incomparable "Big Bob", the most distinguished Poland China sire living today and named the most distinguished of any sire that ever lived. The sows are of the most modern type and best individual and blood lines to be found in the U. S. These sows are right in every way, being sired by some of the greatest boars the breed has known. The selection of this magnificent herd, Mr. McBride spared neither pains nor money, the result of which reflects the breeder's knowledge of selection and keen judgment in knowing what a Poland China hog needs to be in type and modern qualities to meet the great and growing demand for the present day modern, big-type Poland China hog. This natural gift being a prerequisite quality which assures any breeder success in the live stock industry; with industry, a willingness to work hard and the proper facilities to handle the business well.

With this natural gift and quality as a feeder and a breeder and his adaptation and last but not least his love for the work we bespeak for Mr. McBride a rapid rise into popularity and favor among Poland China breeders throughout the country.

The corner stone of any business is determination, pure old hard work, concentration, application and genuine honor, hinged with absolute satisfaction and love for detail and knowledge of the method of its workings, this is the ideal to which the foundation of this herd of promising Polands is established. Secretary Keen visited this farm and others in the Lelia Lake territory Wednesday and says he has some tales to tell next week about what he saw.

FINANCE CAMPAIGN TO MAKE SKY LIMIT

Pupils of the Clarendon schools will on next Saturday fasten a tag on every friend of education in Clarendon who is willing to contribute to a fund, which will be used in an effort to pass an amendment to the state constitution permitting any school district to vote as much taxes as it sees fit for educational purposes. Superintendent Nelson is at work preparing publicity matter and arranging for the tag day.

The campaign is state-wide and is known as the Better School Campaign. Next Saturday every town and city in Texas is expected to observe the movement to improve school conditions by instituting a tag day. Sums from ten cents on up will entitle each giver to wear a tag. Half of the money collected will be sent to state headquarters at Austin to finance the bringing in of out-of-state speakers and to pay for other wide publicity, while the other half collected will be retained by the county to finance local publicity.

Proponents of the movement point out that the largest cities in Texas now have the privilege of voting more than a fifty cent school tax. They ask why the smaller districts should not be given the same privilege. These advocates of the amendment to be voted on in November further say that the teacher situation is critical because of inadequate funds. More than 70,000 boys and girls were unable to attend school in Texas last year because of a teacher shortage of 2,000. This shortage was due to the fact that the teaching profession paid less than other more attractive callings.

HAIL AND STORM INSURANCE

Most all people protect their property with

Fire Insurance
but neglect windstorm and hail insurance. Items of protection cost so little as to be a mere trifle. We want to urge this form of insurance as well as fire as losses from these causes often occur, and if your property be destroyed your loss is as great from one cause as another. We will also write on growing crops in old line stock companies and solicit your business. 18c.

DOES COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT EARN AS MUCH AS CONSTABLE OR JUSTICE ?

Austin, Texas, April 28.—County Superintendents of Public Instruction are to be paid more if plans of the committee on educational affairs of Texas mature. "They should not hope to get as much as a carpenter or bricklayer," said a member of the committee. "They are to be paid, I hope, as much as the justices of the peace or the constables in their counties receive. Investigation shows County Superintendents receive, after their expenses are deducted less than any other county officials."

In many counties the superintendent is compelled to distribute material for trustee elections. This expense alone frequently exceeds the amount allowed for office expense of the superintendent; superintendents of Fannin and Collin County spend more for stamps alone than their allotment. Visiting each school in the county once a year costs more than $300.00, for which no provision is made; the superintendent must pay it out of his salary. Relief will be had from the special session of legislature, which is to be called to meet in May. Governor Hobby met with the committee, which he had named and its members are assured the recommendations of the committee will be submitted at the called session. All recommendations have the support of all the teaching fraternity of the state.

Three other recommendations were made by the committee. They are that the certificate law should be revised, so certificates issued in other states may be honored in Texas; that the limit of salary that may be paid teachers be raised; and that additional appropriations be made for the state schools and the State Department of Education.

Mrs. J. B. Baird returned Wednesday from a three months' vacation trip through South Carolina, Florida and Alabama, with other southern states. Mrs. Baird visited her relatives in the first named states and stopped by the state university of Alabama on the return trip for a visit with her daughters, Misses Lelah and Beulah, who are students in that great school. Mrs. Baird says the young ladies are counting the days until they return here for the vacation, and that she knows just how much they will enjoy getting home by her own feelings.
