8 Inches Rain Promises Bumper Crops

City Schools Complete Closing Programs of Year Friday

47,000 Egg Capacity Hatchery To Open Here

TOTAL RAINFALL NEAR 8 INCHES

SPLENDID RAINS MEAN MUCH TO DONLEY FARMERS AND BUSINESSES

The rattle of mud chains as they flap on the pavement and the splashed condition of automobiles is again the order of the day in Clarendon and Donley County as this part of the Panhandle is rejoicing over a series of rains that means much to the producers of the county. The rain started falling last Thursday evening and scarcely halted for an hour until Sunday night when a short respite was had. A shower Monday afternoon completed the settling of the dust and raised the total received to 3.48 inches for the session with Jupiter Plus.

As far as has been determined, the rainfall was fairly general all over the Panhandle and other parts of the state. Parts of Donley County were the recipients of a great deal more moisture than was recorded in Clarendon although no part of the county received so much rain as to cause a great amount of damage to crops planted or to the roads of the county.

ODOM SPEAKS TO LIONS TUESDAY

BUSY SESSION MARKS LAST LUNCHEON BEFORE DISTRICT CONVENTION

The Clarendon Lions enjoyed a program crammed to the brim with action Tuesday of this week as the final arrangements were completed for the District Convention that is to be held in Wichita Falls Monday and Tuesday of next week. A committee was named to secure the greatest possible attendance on the program the first two days of next week. The committee made their report Tuesday evening.

A stunt chose the most handsome man for the delegation to Wichita Falls and this honor was conferred on Walter Wilson after a hotly contested race with Lion Bill Murrell. One of the committee men stated that his men all had dirty ears, one man stated that his men sported rudimentary tails, and the report of the other man was not made for the reason it was too bad to be made publicly. Lion Wilson made the race on the platform of being a minister and thus should be clean.

PATHFINDER CLUB LIST STORY HOURS

SUCCESSFUL YEARS IN PAST POINT TO FURTHER INTEREST DURING SUMMER

Following their usual custom for the summer months, the Pathfinder Club has designated each Tuesday evening beginning with June 5th as Story Telling Hour. The old Grammar School building at the head of Kearney Street will be used for the place as in the past. Competent people have been designated to entertain the children and they will be in charge of two assistants on each evening. The outline of the work is found below:

GAS LINE BROKEN—TO BE REPAIRED SHORTLY

Three sections of the gas line were washed out late Wednesday afternoon between Hedley and Lelia Lake and Clarendon is out of a gas supply for the first time since the service was started last Fall. The people of Hedley had gas Wednesday evening around nine o'clock and no let-up was reported in the service for that city since that time. Crews from both Hedley and Clarendon were at the break all night Wednesday and were making their plans to get the line repaired and service restored to Clarendon users of gas as soon as possible. Miss Davis, the book keeper of the Clarendon office stated that she had not heard from the force and could not state when the service would be resumed, but was certain that this would be done just as soon as it was humanly possible.

CLASS SERMON AT METHODIST CHURCH

FIRST OF GRADUATION EXERCISES HELD IN CHURCH SUNDAY MORNING

Braving the elements which seemed to be out of step with events for graduation purposes, the parents of the graduates and the graduates filled the auditorium of the Methodist Church to a comfortable capacity Sunday morning as the first of a series of programs for the Seniors of the College, High School and Junior High School was held. Special parts of the church had been reserved for the graduates of both schools and they made a colorful and beautiful sight as they filed into the auditorium honoring their day. The High School and College seniors had decided not to don their caps and gowns for the occasion and the dark day was brightened and made beautiful by the colorful costumes of the graduates and their sunny smiles.

Allison delivered an address for the day dedicated to Mothers the world over. The attendance was small due to the inclement weather, but the program and sermon were well received. The following program was rendered: "Come Holy Spirit, Heavenly Dove"—Wildermere, Choir. "Midnight Bells"—Kreiser, Miss Ruth Haning.

PLEASING PROGRAM PRESENTED FRIDAY

FIRST OF PROGRAMS OF BUSY WEEK GIVEN BY FIRST TO SIX GRADES

Playing before a crowd that was beyond all expectations, the students of the first to sixth grades inclusively presented one of the most pleasing programs that has been staged in Clarendon for some time. The size of the performers and the time needed to put them into the perfect form entailed much effort and time on the part of the teachers and the musical director, Miss Sarah Thompson. The auditorium of the college was comfortably filled although the weather prevented some of the people from attending the program. There were in excess of 200 children in the program, few of them playing in two parts, with the majority of them making their appearance only one time.

NATIONAL EDITORIAL ASSOCIATION — PANHANDLE PRESS ASSOCIATION

Eight inches of rain over the Panhandle. Hot dog! and other classic expressions.

We note one senatorial candidate sending out a little booklet exploiting his platform, on the back cover of which appears an advertisement of a Louisville, Ky., printing concern. All over Texas there are printing houses who do as good and better printing as the booklet referred to, and we fail to understand just how this candidate expects to attract votes using such disloyal tactics. He ought to run well in Kentucky.

Waco keeps Baylor. From the speed and alacrity with which the education commission reversed its top-heavy vote to move Baylor to Dallas, backing up and voting unanimously to keep the school at Waco with an enlarged building program, it seems that the brethren are possessed with quick ears and know the warning sounds of a mighty ground-swell when they hear the rumbles. We compliment them on their ability to cover a short-sighted decision with precision and dispatch. Truly, "Vox populi, vox Deo".

Those who had almost forgotten the difficulties of a Panhandle graded dirt road under the influence of two to eight inches of rain, got a complete renewal of the sensation the last week-end, if they were out on the roads anywhere. Our graded roads are all right, until it rains. Relief from slow to impassable roads is paved highways with state and federal aid. Rains cause the impassable roads, then rain makes it possible to put over and pay off on the bonds. Cause and effect.

For the benefit of the clerks of the stores who have recently signed up for daily closing at six o'clock in the afternoon, with the exception of Saturdays, The News desires to urge the people of Clarendon and this community to get their buying done by that hour so nobody will have to stay on the job after closing hours for your service. The volume of business being done by the stores of this city and neighboring cities can easily be transacted between the hours of seven in the morning to six in the afternoon, and the employees and proprietors are certainly due the two hours in the late afternoon for recreation and leisure, and they can have it without discommodation to anybody, if we will take the right view of the matter and co-operate in a neighborly way. Our lives are happier when we live in hearty co-operation with our neighbors and fellows. Clarendon has a reputation in community amity—let's extend it in this matter.

FLATTERING BUSINESS PROSPECTS FOR SUMMER AND FALL IN DONLEY COUNTY

Eight inches of rainfall over Donley County came along the past week, just like the old-timers used to say, "just fifteen minutes before it was too late", with the result that Clarendon and Donley County has had few years when the crop and business outlook was better at the same period of time.

With the seasons getting on a schedule enjoyed in Donley County for the past forty years, with the exception of last year, there is the greatest reason for optimism in every line of business, and already there are indications on every side that business and prosperity will be ours through the summer months and that the Fall of 1928 will see a mighty volume of business with attendant growth and progress on every side.

If conditions had continued as they were last year—if the heavy rains had not come, we would have had a better summer's business than last summer, for the reason that dairying and poultrying has become rather general through necessity and the use of splendid judgement by our farmers. Cream, milk, butter, chickens and eggs would have brought more actual cash into the county this summer, without rains, but now with the copious and beneficent rainfall we may expect a most satisfactory condition of the county for the remainder of the year.

We may expect a large volume of garden truck from Donley farms, which will be trucked to Amarillo and Pampa markets for ready sale at good prices, which means, all in all, that there is going to be two or three times as much money in the country this summer as last.

General growth and prosperity may be expected in every section of the Panhandle and West Texas, if not in all Texas, but the thing for us to keep in mind is the fact that Donley County and Clarendon faces the brightest future that she has ever known.

Business is going to be good this summer. Business is going to be wonderful this fall.

Next week the News editor will clip two conventions off his program for the season. Monday and Tuesday he will attend the district convention of Lions Clubs at Wichita Falls, with other Clarendon Lions, going on from there to Texarkana, where the Texas Press Association will hold a joint convention with the Arkansas Press. We'll see lots of Arkansas folks and tell them about their Donley County kinfolks.

With the wonderful natural resources of that section of Texas, the East Texas Chamber of Commerce, which recently closed its second annual convention at Greenville, bids fair to do for that portion of the State what the West Texas organization has done in this section. The re-creation of a vision and the unifying of effort is all that's needed in East Texas. Given those, and wonderful progress and growth will take hold in the old settled districts of Texas. There's no room in Texas for any spirit but the spirit of progress.

T. JONES FURNISHES MATERIAL FOR DISPLAY

A display that attracted more than ordinary interest from the visitors to town Saturday was that one placed in the North window of the News building Saturday morning of last week made up of the trophies of Mr. and Mrs. T. Jones. The two bear hides are recent additions to the collection of these two people, having been killed during their stay in New Mexico the past winter. The Mountain Lion hide has been in their possession for some time and was at one time placed in the window of the News. The horns have been gathered at odd times by the hunting couple and form quite a display of themselves. The display was placed in the window quite early Saturday morning and there was a crowd around the place until late in the afternoon of the same day, looking and talking of the animals that were in the group. One set of horns, mounted on the head of the original owner, is the most nearly perfect of any set that was ever brought to Clarendon.

While placing the mounted objects in the window, the town cat was making his usual call on the News office. On catching the odor emanating from the hide, he jumped backward about half the width of the sidewalk and emitted a series of spits that could have been heard half way up the block, at the same time, arching his back and swelling his tail until he looked deformed. The News force got the best laugh of the season from this event and have been looking for the cat since the time he was seen leaving the immediate vicinity of the office.

High Cost of Living or Increased Carelessness in Spending

Every day you hear some one make mention of the idea that the continued high cost of living is about to ruin the country. (And it is generally agreed that it costs more to live than it did some years ago.)

But there is another question of much greater importance than that of the "High Cost of Living," and yet one that you never hear mentioned, and that is—"The increased carelessness in spending."

PARKING LINES REMARKED BY CITY FORCE THIS WEEK

Starting early Monday Morning, the force of the city has been busily engaged for the past few days getting the white parking lines ready for the use of the automobilists of this city and surrounding territory. Street intersection have been marked and the safety zones in the centers of the blocks have received their due share of attention. The arrows pointing to the stop signs in the principal streets have also been attended and all of these have been brightened that the passing motorist may not become embarrassed by undue attention from the traffic officers of the city.

THIRD STREET BRIDGE COMPLETED LAST WEEK

The two ends of the Third Street bridge were placed in their respective positions the latter part of last week and have been completed and painted in a pleasing combination of colors that makes that part of the city stand out very nicely. The pillars are of the same general construction as the present bridge on Second Street with the exception that they are higher and are probably constructed a little more strongly. This completes the structure that was held up by the cold weather of the winter months that opened just as the contractors had the bridge opened for use by traffic.

There are over 138,000,000 acres of uncultivated land in Texas.

Concrete Roads Stand Up Under Punishment

No other pavement withstands the attacks of the elements and the pounding of traffic like Concrete.

Rain, wind, heat and cold do not affect it. The rigid, always even surface makes driving easy and safe all the year. And Concrete highway pavement can be built to carry the heaviest traffic indefinitely, practically without repairs.

In many states a steadily increasing mileage of Concrete Road is being built. These states have learned through experience that no other road performs like Concrete.

Our booklet tells other interesting things about Concrete Roads. Write this office for your copy.

WEST TEXAS CONVENTION TO HAVE MANY PARADES

Parades of various natures will feature the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Convention in Fort Worth this year if all plans of this part of the arrangements work to a successful conclusion. The first day's parade will be the Fort Worth parade, in which the opportunities and possibilities of that city will be shown to the many visitors on the convention. The exact time for the starting of this work has not been set, but will be announced in plenty of time to allow for the men and merchants of Fort Worth to get their arrangements all made.

The second day will be turned to the delegations present. This will represent one of the most popular parades of the past conventions, in which the towns represented will show who they are and what they plan to do. The final day of the convention will be featured by the College and Good Roads parade in which all colleges served by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce are asked to be represented and show their student body to a good advantage. The good roads feature is new to the convention and it is the hope of the committee in charge to include the major Highways serving West Texas with the towns represented showing their loyalty to the road by having a delegation present in this parade.

The convention and arrangements committee states that a competent corps of decorators will be present to assist to make the parade as beautiful as possible.

Llano—Location has been selected for the 40 room hostelry to be erected by the Llano Community Hotel, Inc., at a cost of $96,000. Comanche—Comanche held its first "Jersey" show on May 7 under auspices of the Chamber of Commerce.

RACE DRIVERS USE GUM-DIPPED TIRES FOR RECORDS

Racing history repeats itself. Firestone Gum-Dipped tires, winners of every national championship for years, are again shattering all world's records on the great speedways of the country.

The story has been the same at every important race in years. Firestone equipped cars win all national championships.

The average man who owns a car necessarily should be assured of the same tire safety to Firestone Gum-Dipped tires. Veterans of the speedway understand the extra strength and speed built into a tire by reason of the exclusive Firestone Gum-Dipping process. They know that this method impregnates and insulates every cord of the carcass with live rubber, reducing the possibility of internal friction, and unifying the whole structure of the tire.

Moreover, the Firestone scientifically designed balloon tire tread provides driving dependability, and long mileage at low cost.

How Many More Miles are left in your car

ONE factor more than any other will determine the number of miles left in your car. That factor is lubrication. Feed your motor the right oil regularly and you'll prolong its life indefinitely. Feed it the wrong oil—then watch it wear out.

Conoco Motor Oil specializes in keeping cars young. It protects the moving parts—thus reducing wear and tear and staving off "old age." Conoco Motor Oil fights friction—the motor's worst enemy—and clings to the cylinder walls with its constant oily film under practically all conditions of motor operation and strain.

There's a particular grade of Conoco for your motor. Ask for it.

POOR PAVEMENTS AGGRAVATE JAMS

ROUGH STREET SURFACES CAUSE TRAFFIC TO SEEK CROWDED ARTERIES

Neglected side-streets and back-streets are like hardened arteries. Rough, uneven, broken pavements, shunned by all jar-fearing motorists who prefer traffic jams to bumps, throw an unwarranted burden on main thoroughfares. Every city has its backyard, but because old, run-down buildings front a street, it does not follow that the pavement should not be maintained for the traffic that must pass through. Streets with scarcely any traffic may be found a couple of blocks or so from the crowded downtown main thoroughfares of practically every city. This is so either because these streets are not through streets, blocked by blind endings or bottlenecks, or are poorly paved.

Through careful study, regional planning authorities have determined that cities will not have any too much room for motor traffic, even though all street space be utilized to the full extent. Mid-town Manhattan in New York City has an average building height of about five stories, as revealed by surveys, but even at this average height the streets are over-taxed. If the building height average were to be doubled, it would be practically impossible to move traffic in mid-town New York. The present congested condition in New York City, as well as in other cities, can be greatly relieved through the creation of parallel routes and the proper paving of them.

A great many cities are widening existing pavements by two methods. The first is the cutting back of sidewalks, reducing the pedestrian area, and the second is the widening of the entire street through the cutting off of buildings and setting back the building line. But in many instances, this is impossible, or at least impracticable because of the great expense involved. Consequently, one of the first steps to be taken in traffic relief is that of making all streets equally desirable for motor travel through the placement of smooth pavements.

Recommendations were made recently in Chicago against tying entering county roads directly in with streets carrying street car lines. At present, most of the county roads entering Chicago are forced to follow street car tracks into the heart of the city, routes which make automobile travel scarcely any faster than street car travel. A double line of street cars occupies practically the same space as two or three lanes of automobiles. The holding back of motor traffic by street cars is, of course, more intensified where street car travel is fairly heavy.

Routes parallel to and separate from the street car line roads should be constructed. In entering metropolitan areas, particularly the larger ones, the experienced motorist expects a loss of one or two hours proceeding through the few miles of suburban districts. This is a real economic waste, which, in a few years, amounts to the price of a new parallel route.

Sports Champs Assemble Chevrolet

Denmark's champion athletes, entered in the forthcoming Olympic games in Amsterdam, proved their versatility the other day when the group assembled an automobile from the ground up. Here they are with their car, a minute after the final assembly detail was attended to. Miss Else Jacobson, world's champion woman breast stroke swimmer; Mrs. Doctor Ellen Oleson, world's champion woman fencer; and Miss Agnete Olsen, Scandinavia's fastest swimmer, are shown, reading left to right.

INTEREST GROWING IN STATE C. E. CONVENTION

Reports from over the state of Texas indicate the interest in the Amarillo State Christian Endeavor Convention is growing. The convention is being financed by the Investment Certificate or Registration plan. The Investment Certificate contest opened with great success, in fact there was a "stampede" for first place with five districts trying for Flag Number One. The sixth flag has since been won and several districts are very near to the goal. The five districts trying for first place are Austin, Beaumont, Dallas, Valley and Houston. The sixth was won by Midland District. Each district will march in the big parade according to the honor received in the contest.

Houston and Dallas Districts are coming to Amarillo after the 1929 Convention. Both districts will bring large delegations and both expect to take the Convention back with them.

Valley District expects to bring twenty delegates from the Valley and also a ten piece orchestra. The delegates to the Convention will be entertained in the homes of the Amarillo Endeavorers and their friends. The entertainment will be on the Harvard plan—room and breakfast provided for each registered delegate. All trains will be met by the transportation committee. The delegates will be taken to the church, where assignment of home will be made, thence to the assigned home. Posters and signs will be posted throughout the city and on all approaching highways for the convenience of those who come in cars.

Only five crops—cotton, corn, wheat, oats and grain sorghums—produce more annually than the sweet potato crop in Texas. The yearly value is almost $9,000,000.

TRAFFIC COSTLY ON POOR ROADS

STUDIES POINT WAY TOWARD BETTER MEASURE OF HIGHWAY SERVICE

Measuring the serviceability of types of roads in terms of traffic carried and money expended is something new in the highway world which should be of far reaching value in future road construction.

Of Erie county New York, in which Buffalo is located, recently announced the results of studies that show that the cost of carrying a large volume of traffic over inferior road surfaces is excessive.

A continual traffic census has been taken on Erie County roads since 1923. The report shows the cost of road surface for the actual service performed or tons of traffic carried over each mile of roadway. The average cost of highways per ton-mile of traffic carried in 1926 was less than one half the cost in 1923, due to the increasing mileage of permanent type roads.

The cost of providing and maintaining the road surface to serve a one-ton automobile driven 6,000 miles during the year 1926 was as follows: Waterbound macadam, $114; bituminous macadam, $37.00; sheet asphalt, $23.40; and portland concrete $18.90. These figures show definitely the close relationship that actually exists between the automobile and the road surface.

Just what $100 buys Erie County in the way of roads is shown by the following figures which give the ton miles carried by each type of road for that sum during the year 1926: Waterbound macadam, 5,263 ton-miles; bituminous macadam, 15, 873 ton-miles; flexible pavement 26,641 ton-miles; concrete 31,746 ton-miles.

For the most part, car operating expenses are awaiting a substantial reduction. With automobiles now models of efficiency, the greatest possible reduction will come through the construction of better roads. Money saved through lessened upkeep costs will buy more good roads which cut motoring costs still further.

The zone system is a new departure for the Theater men and will be tried out in an attempt to secure a greater amount of cooperation from the independent operators of the Panhandle and adjacent territory. One significant feature of the meeting was the raising of the number of directors from seven to sixteen with one director in charge of a zone near his home town.

J. Ross Bell, Candidate for the Eighteenth District for Congress spoke in the city this afternoon at 2:00 o'clock. Mr. Bell is making a tour round the Panhandle, which is the territory in which his campaign will be made and has been scheduled to speak in Lelia Lake and Hedley today after his appearance here. Mr. Bell made his announcement some months past and was in Clarendon for a short time afterward, making his preliminary trip. He met many of the folk and renewed acquaintance with some others while he was here. His visit will be welcomed by his friends and supporters in the race against Marvin Jones.

THOMAS N. BLANTON TO SPEAK HERE MAY 18TH

The News is in receipt of a letter from Thomas N. Blanton of Abilene, Candidate for United States Senate, stating that he will be in Clarendon on Monday, May 28th. Mr. Blanton is starting the week in Clarendon at 10:00 o'clock in the morning and will follow from here to Memphis on Tuesday and will speak at Childress and Motador on the same date.

METHODIST SUNDAY SCHOOL CELEBRATES 38TH NATAL DAY

The first Sunday in May thirty-eight years ago, the first Methodist Sunday School was organized in Clarendon. The new building used was formerly across the street from the Central Ward school building and has long since been removed to other quarters. Thirty-four members were enrolled in the Sunday School the first day and P. A. Buntin was the first man to be listed on the roll. Mrs. Buntin was the second to be enrolled. Mr. Buntin was the first Superintendent of the Sunday School and filled many other important places in the Church and Sunday School. Of the original thirty-four members of the Sunday School, there are probably half now living, with only four of them here in Clarendon. Sixteen members were enrolled in the Church and probably no more than nine of these are alive today. The present membership of the Methodist Sunday School nears the 500 mark.

KNOW TEXAS

Though Texas leads the country in value of crops, agriculturists say her billion dollar farm output could be tripled by more intensive farming methods and increased acreage under cultivation.

Of the 254 counties in Texas, 196 produce cotton in sufficient quantity to be reported in the ginning figures of the United States department of commerce.

Ellis, Williamson and Nueces are usually the leading cotton growing counties, but in 1926 there were 27 counties that produced more than 50,000 bales each.

The production of the entire state in 1849, the year after annexation of Texas to the United States, was only 58,073 bales.

The corn production of Texas ranges from 75,000,000 to 125,000,000 bushels annually.

Miss Ella Clark returned from Temple Friday morning after a visit with her mother, Mrs. John Clark, who is in a sanitarium there. Mrs. Clark's condition is much improved and her many friends here hope to see her at home and well before many days.

Why Not Double Your Working Capacity?

IN these days of labor shortage and the consequent high wages demanded by the available farm help, every mechanical device that saves time and labor and money appeals to the progressive farmer.

When one man can operate a P. O. Two-Row Lister Cultivator and double his own working capacity, saving the time of one man, there is no answer against the argument that he should possess one of these machines.

One of the appealing features on the P. O. is the wide range of adjustments for first and second cultivation, and the ease and facility with which they can be made.

FORMER CLARENDON MAN MENTIONED IN MAGAZINE

The late issue of "Liberty" contains an item on the old town of Dodge, Kansas and the many noted desperadoes and gun men found in the state of Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas who made this town their headquarters. E. Dubbs, Senior, now living at Milford, Indiana, was mentioned in the story a number of times as being an eye witness to some of the battles and scrapes in which these men were the star actors. One especial mention was given Mr. Dubbs and concerns the time he was practicing with his six shooter and a fine looking chap rode up and engaged him in conversation. Later Mr. Dubbs was asked to throw two tin cans in the air on which action the visitor drew his guns and fired a couple of shots. Later it was learned that the visitor was Bill Cody, famous as Buffalo Bill and that four shots had been fired instead of two. Each can had two holes in it. Other incidents point to the identity of Mr. Dubbs as being the man referred to in the story.

FORMER CLARENDON BOY ELECTED AT STATE U.

Byron G. Skelton, a former resident of Clarendon and a nephew of L. H. Skelton of this city has recently been chosen as President of the Student's Association of the University of Texas by popular choice of the entire campus. At the last report from the campus, Skelton had won hands down from his opponent by reason of the withdrawal of the opponent at the last minute on the night before the election. Byron is a graduate of the Clarendon-High School of the class of 1923 and has been a student of the University of Texas for the past four years. He received his Bachelor's Degree from that school last June and is now working on his Master's Degree, which he is eligible to receive in June of this year. Following his receipt of the higher degree, Skelton plans to enter the Law School of the University this year.

An excerpt from the announcement of Skelton in the Texan is found below:

Skelton has been, for the past year, a member of the Students' Assembly. He was elected to Phi Beta Kappa last June. He is also a member of Pi Sigma Alpha, national political science fraternity, and Sigma Delta Pi, national Spanish fraternity.

He has been a member of the Cowboys for two years. In 1926-1927, Skelton served as president of the junior class. Due to his high scholastic record, he was awarded a University scholarship for 1927-1928 by the Board of Regents. He was also selected as a representative of the University for the Rhodes Scholarship last fall.

Skelton has been self-supporting during his four years at the University.

His membership in various University organizations and the Students' Assembly has given him a wide knowledge of student affairs and a thorough understanding of problems confronting the president of the Students' Assembly.

Last year Texas produced 81,200 tons of cabbage valued at $2,436,000. Nearly all of it was raised in the Rio Grande Valley.

Fifty more jersey cows for Donley county is one of the best investments against dry weather anyone can think of. We will admit that those heifers had not had much to eat during the winter, but we are glad they are here, and six months and a little care will make $100 dollar cows out of most of them.

Do not forget the yard contest. Entries are still few and are not near enough entered. You have one of the best water rates in West Texas.

In passing lets give the city commission credit for a real piece of beautification as well as usefulness in the city hall, let alone a nice place to work, or "loaf" as some of my vulgar friends are in the habit of saying, when speaking of the author of this column. Anyhow I appreciate the selection, even if the perspective from my window could be improved upon.

We are glad of the results the men are having numbering the houses of the town. When this work is completed the only other thing needed to make Clarendon city streets up to date will be street names. The city commission has this work under consideration and we hope will get the names up at an early date. The house numbers are of practically no value without the street names.

HOW TO SELECT A DAIRY COW

By J. W. Jennings

With the increasing interest in the dairy cow in this county, our people will do well to exercise good judgement in the purchase of their foundation stock in order to get stuff of good type and conformation. If good cattle are bought, which fails to deliver the goods, money is lost, not only in the original purchase price, but the industry will be set back possibly for several years to come. Such a condition has existed in several counties of the Panhandle because of cows that have been shipped in from other sections that were not up to standard.

This has caused not only the farmers to lose faith in the proposition, but the bankers and business men refused to finance other shipments, concluding that if they were stung once they would likely be stung on any other deal.

A Dealer's Obligation
Any dealer who is shipping dairy cattle into a community occupies a very strategic position in being able to materially assist in the upbuilding of the dairy industry in his community. He can ship in good stuff, thereby stocking the country with high-producing cows or, he can ship in cows of poor quality, discourage the industry, and at the same time injure his reputation as a dealer.

Every dealer should exercise great care in selecting the stock that he buys and he should bear in mind the fact that when he goes into a herd he can buy only the culls from that herd, unless the owner should be closing out his herd, or unless the dealer is willing to pay the price for good stuff.

The Farmer's Duty
The purchaser has the last word in such transactions, and as he is the man who is finally to profit or lose in the deal, he should exercise just as much care in selecting his animals from what is offered.

WHEN BABY CHICK-ENS BECOME UNRULY

By F. W. Kazmeier, Bryan, Texas. At this time of the year we hear much about the old saying, "May chicks sleep themselves to death". As far as we know there is absolutely no foundation or truth whatever in this saying. We raise each year about 5000 to 8000 May hatched chicks. We find they do as well as those hatched earlier.

Laziness in taking care of the May hatched chicks has put many chicks into an ever-lasting sleep. Carelessness and indifference, in the raising of chicks causes much trouble.

Keep the chicks away from the old hens or the earlier hatched chicks. Raise them on fresh and clean ground. Move the coop out into the corn field, cotton patch or pasture, away from the rest of the flock. Provide green food and shade. Do not over-crowd the houses. Keep houses comfortable day and night, by proper ventilation. Watch and study the birds, to make sure they are comfortable and contented. If you are using artificial heat, be sure it does not over-heat the entire house too much. Watch for mites. They will appear in large numbers almost over night. Feed the chicks plenty of sour milk. In fact, keep it before them all the time.

Much of the bowel trouble and diarrhoea complaints are caused by improper brooding, faulty feeding, filth and neglect. If you will provide the correct brooding temperature and wholesome feeds, the chicks will show no bowel trouble. The symptoms of a chilled chick is bowel trouble of the worst form. Over-heating will do practically the same thing.

When chicks crowd, they have either been chilled or over-heated. Chicks that have once started the habit of crowding, will continue to do so. Keeping the house too hot will cause chicks to pile up in the corners. Keeping the house too cold and not proper temperature under hover, will also cause piling up. Chicks that have ever been chilled, have a tendency to want to crowd. The corners of the house may be eliminated by rounding out with wire or boards. After dark, examine the chicks, and see to it they are hovering close to edge of hover all the way around the hover. Do not keep it so hot under hover as to drive them too far away from edge of hover.

There are many causes of toe picking and other cannibalistic habits, some of these are, over-crowding, brooding different ages together, improperly balanced ration, poor management and idleness. Sometimes we think it is pure mischief. To control and prevent if possible give more room, feed a balanced ration, feed a variety including green food and milk, darken the brooder house, remove those injured and try to keep them busy. If confined to the house or small yards, give them more room.

WATCH THE SWIMMING POOL

The swimming pool is blamed for a large number of infectious notably prevalent in the summer time when swimming is a popular pastime.

Bathing places have been found to be factors in the transmission of such diseases as typhoid fever, ring worm, gonorrhoea, syphilis, dysentery, colds and boils. It has also been shown that various eye, ear and nose, throat and skin infections, such diseases as influenza, tuberculosis, lobar pneumonia and rheumatism may be transmitted by bathing places.

The chief contributors considered as important in the transmission of these various diseases are the polluted water and certain articles of the pools' equipment (suits, towels, etc.) and the lessening of resistance through prolonged chilling of the body, diving and other enervating influences.

Daily cleansing with disinfectants and clean water must be demanded for public pools, otherwise there are a serious menace.

HOKUS-POKUS GROCERY TO OPERATE NEW MARKET

The announcement will be found in this issue of the News of the opening of the Hokus Pokus Market in connection with their grocery business. The old City Meat Market has been leased by Homer Ellis and will be operated by Mr. J. S. Booth, a meat cutter of many years experience in Amarillo and Clarendon. The former site of the market will be used with new counters, floor coverings and fixtures throughout the entire place. An opening will be cut in the South wall of the present grocery to allow access to the market from the grocery side of the business. The market will be opened for business Saturday of this week.

CITY GRADES PARK TO SOUTH OF DENVER DEPOT

Following the rains of the latter part of last week, the city force set to work with their graders and drags and levelled down the parkway to the South of the Denver depot in this city. The place had become packed unevenly and presented a very bumpy approach to the business part of town from the depot. In addition to this work, the drags of the city were put into action and the streets were dragged following the rainfall, putting them in excellent condition. The rain of Wednesday will cause a part of this work to be done over, but did not harm the streets past redemption.

DONLEY FARMERS WARNED AGAINST JERSEY "CULLS"

Dairymen of this section should have the utmost confidence in the dealers who ship the stock into this country, is the advice of H. D. Cuykendall, field representative and educational worker for the cotton oil mills of Childress, Memphis, Quanah and Chillicothe and the Gate City Creamery of Childress and Quanah. Mr. Cuykendall says that every tonload of cattle that comes into Fort Worth will usually have one or more good-color Jersey cattle in the number. These good-looking Jerseys are culled out by men who make that a practice, and pen them up separately. Then when dealers come to Fort Worth to buy dairy cattle, the Jerseys are sold to them, to be in turn sold to farmers in the dealer's territory.

Now these Jerseys would never have been sold in the first place if there had not been some defect about them. They are culls and culls only. They are stock that the average farmer will be disappointed in and give him dissatisfaction with the dairy industry. The fact that they have good color does not mean anything, because color does not give milk.

The best way to overcome this method of dealing is to have confidence in the men from which you buy so that you feel certain you are getting just what the dealer tells you he has purchased.

HOLDER SHIPS 112 CORN FED STEERS

FEEDER OF MANY YEARS EXPERIENCE SHIPS YEARLINGS TO FORT WORTH

Shipment was made Monday of this week of 111 head of yearling steers to the Fort Worth market. These steers were shipped by W. R. Holder, stockman and rancher of Donley County with more than twenty years of feeding experience and will be handled there by the Cassidy-Southwestern Commission Company.

A significant feature of the feeding of these steers is to be found in the fact that they were fed entirely on products raised in the county. They were fed for 111 days and added an average of two and one-half pounds per day during the time they were fed. The principal feeds used are corn chops, ground corn, including shucks, cob and corn, sorghum and cotton seed meal. The only material purchased by Mr. Holder to complete the feeding ration was the meal, which was possibly made from Donley County cottonseed. The yearlings weighed an average of 650 pounds when shipped and will probably shrink a little on the trip to Fort Worth.

OIL MILL AND CREAMERY WORKER HERE THIS WEEK

H. D. Cuykendall, field representative and educational worker for the cotton oil mills of this section, arrived in Clarendon on Wednesday noon, bringing in the rain. He arrived during the first fifteen minutes of rainfall. He had to spend two or three days here before he could get out.

Mr. Cuykendall comes here to line up the local gins to handle the sale and exchange of cottonseed for meal and hulls next year. This will make it possible for the farmer to go to his nearest gin, where he does his ginning, and trade his cottonseed right there for meal and hulls to feed his dairy and beef cattle, as well as his hogs and chickens.

This enables the farmer to have the utmost convenience in making the trade. He does not have to go clear to Memphis to get meal and hulls. He gets a receipt for his weight in cottonseed at the gin and credit on the books for the amount due him. Then he goes to the gin, at any time, and takes out what feed he needs. He does not have to take it out all at once. The gin stores it for him without cost.

There is another advantage in that the farmer gets the advantage of any raise in price in that the price of meal and hulls that prevails the day he swaps his seed. If meal and hulls go up, he still pays the same old price that was in effect when he traded his seed for the feed.

The mills are putting on this innovation as an experiment and to help the farmers to use oil mill products. The farmer is out no cash for feed, merely trading his seed for the meal and hulls.

A complete program for this work will be found in the next issue of the News.

GRAY COUNTY COURTHOUSE SOLD AT AUCTION MONDAY

A relic of Gray county was being torn down Tuesday morning in LeFors. The old courthouse, which has served Gray county since its erection in 1902, was sold by public auction Monday for $322.50. George Thut of LeFors was the purchaser of the relic, which had to make way for prosperity and growth.

Promptly at 2:30 Monday afternoon on the court house steps Deputy C. E. Pipes, acting as auctioneer, called for bids for the building, delect lighting system, and the old calaboose. Many old timers of the county and residents of LeFors were present at the auction. Bidding was opened by George Thut at $250, and was kept until the price reached $300, when all bidders but three dropped out. Rivaling I. S. Jameson, Deputy Pipes kept bidding keen until the final three was droned and George Thut became the owner of the building.

The building was purchased with the understanding that it would be torn down immediately. Mr. Thut had workmen on the

Kings of Saddle and Rope to Compete at Calgary

Calgary the "Cowboy Capital of Canada" will stage its annual Calgary Exhibition and Stampede July 9-14, and, according to Stampede Manager Guy Weadick, it will be one grand reunion of cowboys and cowgirls from the Rio Grande to the Peace River, Indians, pioneers and Northwest Mounted Police veterans for six wild and woolly days and six wonderful Western nights!

Calgary is a hustling city in Western Alberta and its Stampede has the patronage of the Prince of Wales, who owns the near-by "E-P Ranch," Governor General Willingdon and various provincial and Dominion celebrities. A few years ago the attendance was less than 100,000 and last year 210,879 people saw this colorful pageant of the last great West.

For the coming Stampede the Prince of Wales has donated a trophy for the winner of the Canadian bucking horse riding contest, and other trophies are offered by Lord Willingdon, who will be present at the Stampede, E. W. Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway; Edward F. Albee, of the Keith-Albee-Orpheum Vaudeville Circuit, and R. James Speers, noted Canadian turfman.

During the Stampede, Governor General Lord Willingdon will be the guest of Alberta's pioneer ranchmen, Pat Burns, Cattle King of the Canadian Northwest, A. E. Cross, owner of the A7 Ranch, and Senator Dan Ryley of the "Flying U" Ranch at an old-time chuck wagon dinner at the big camp of the Stampede grounds. He will also be one of the judges of the various Stampede events, including broncho busting, steer decorating (which was once called nut dogging), calf roping, wild steer riding, wild horse and chuck wagon racing, wild cow milking contests and races in which buck Indians and squaws show that the noble redman has lost no speed in this wonderful age.

The Indians camp at Victoria Park and are a most picturesque phase of a really remarkable show. Last year a squaw was doing her housework in her brave's tepee when she was notified that the squaw race was next. Rushing from her tepee with an apron on she jumped an Indian canoe and won the race and first prize with her apron whipping behind her in the breeze.
