

Rally To Arouse County Interest In Party Ticket

Democrats of Brown County To Hear Speakers; Form Organization September 17

Brown county Democrats will rally round and give a few rousing cheers for the National ticket at a county-wide meeting to be held at the court house next Thursday, September 17. The meeting is designed to put a little fire and enthusiasm into the party in this county, which has been lulled into inactivity through a sense of security, according to Democratic leaders sponsoring the meeting.

While there is no danger of Brown county's loss to the Democratic cause this year, there is a strong belief that the lack of interest in a small vote here. Every effort in the National ticket may fort will be made to bring out the vote, and pile up a heavy majority for the Roosevelt-Garner ticket on November 3.

The meeting will perfect a campaign organization for the forthcoming election. It is under the general direction of the Democratic organization in this county, of which Thos. H. Taylor is the head. Precinct chairmen, responsible for party organization within their precincts, are expected to be present, and encourage attendance from their precincts.

Women Democrats in the county already are organized. Dr. Mollie Armstrong has been named county chairman of the women's division and Mrs. Carl Blasig secretary. Women especially are invited to be present at the meeting.

Hillyer, Mrs. Hillyer, and Larry, Jr.; C. L. McCartney, Louise Harris, Charlie Bynum, Mrs. J. W. Trapp, Mrs. Mollie W. Armstrong, Chester Harrison, W. Lee Watson and Wendell Mayes.

COUNTY TO LAUNCH DRIVE TO COLLECT DELINQUENT TAXES

Suits for collection of taxes will be filed against delinquents who fail to pay state and county taxes by December 1, 1936, if a decision reached this week by the commissioners court is carried out. The court is faced with the necessity of collecting delinquent taxes or increasing the county tax rate of $1 on the $100 valuation. A resolution passed by the court directing that notices be sent to all who owe taxes requesting payment by December 1, 1936. The county attorney was directed to file suits against those who fail to respond.

County records show, according to the resolution, that "about 70 per cent of the people are paying taxes and 30 per cent are not paying any taxes and have not done so in several years, and it further appears to the court that a great many of those not paying any taxes are equally able to pay taxes as some who are paying their taxes."

Bearing on Tax Rate

The resolution further stated: "The law requires the Commissioners' Court to fix a tax rate that will raise sufficient funds to meet the bonded indebtedness of the county, and if that is done, it is absolutely necessary either to collect the delinquent taxes or raise the rate on those people who are now carrying the burden, which would be unfair."

The court voted to pay $310 per month to Brown County Board of Welfare in lieu of amounts heretofore allowed monthly to the Community Council, paupers and salary of the case workers. The money given by the county and city, received in donations for charity work will be spent by the Welfare Board as the central charity agency of the county and city.

I. B. Gaines was appointed election judge at Grosvenor, for precinct 11, to take the place of Tom Moore, deceased.

PLANNING BOARD TO MAKE MINERAL SURVEY

The greatest treasure hunt in the history of Texas is underway. From the Gulf to the Red River, and from Louisiana to New Mexico the search is going on.

Back of this unique treasure hunt is the Mineral Resources Committee, a unit of The Texas Planning Board, which is seeking the location and charter of every mineral deposit in the State.

Preliminary work discloses the fact that Texas is exceedingly rich in valuable minerals. Mineralogists in the employ of the Committee have classified and located most of these minerals; yet in Brown County there are deposits of clay, sandstone and lime which have not been fully located.

Residents of Brown County can render a great service to the State by sending full information on these deposits to Chas. W. Walker, Mineral Resources Committee, The Texas Planning Board, Scarbrough Building, Austin Texas.

Between Two Fires in Spanish Revolt

The British garrison on impregnable Rock of Gibraltar at the entrance to the Mediterranean found itself surrounded by the Spanish revolution, with shells from combatants bursting overhead. Rebels forces at Ceuta, to the south, were being attacked by loyalists, while rebel gunboats bombarded Linea, to the north. The rock is seen towering above parading British troops.

FIELD SUPERVISORS BEGIN MEASURING CROP LANDS IN COUNTY; WORK TO BE RUSHED

MEASURING of farm lands in compliance with the Federal soil conservation farm program began Thursday morning when fifteen field supervisors reported to farms in various sections of Brown county, according to County Agent C. W. Lehmburg.

The supervisors were selected at a meeting of the county board Friday after an examination had been taken by all applicants in the county agent's office recently. A school of instruction and training was conducted Tuesday and Wednesday in regard to the measuring program.

One afternoon was devoted to demonstration and practice work in the field. A combined method of measuring will be used including both the plane table and the chain in order to get correct measurements and an accurate map of the entire farm. All crop lands will be measured.

Supervisors will select their own chain-men to assist them in measuring the farm lands which have been signed up for the Federal farm program. Persons who wish jobs as chain-men may see the supervisor of their district. Supervisors will receive $3 per day for their work and will furnish their own transportation, according to the rate set by the state board.

Farmers have been given instructions in regard to the measuring program by letter and at a series of meetings held over the county. It will be necessary for each farmer who is taking part in the program to set a stake sufficiently high to be seen above growing crops, to assist the field supervisor in measuring the land, to give the supervisor all necessary information regarding the use of the land, including exact location of all fields so that an accurate map may be made of the entire farm and crops.

The work is expected to be completed by October 1, Mr. Lehmburg said. The sooner the work is completed, and reports and maps are checked, and sent into headquarters, the sooner cooperating farmers will receive their benefit checks, he said.

In the event that any supervisor is unable to continue his work, replacement will be made by a man from the reserve list who has taken the examination and has met the requirements necessary.

Brown county has been divided into five districts with three supervisors assigned to each district. They are as follows:

- District No. 1: T. S. Chambers, Cross Cut; C. J. Thompson, Williams; D. Dewbree, May. District No. 2: L. W. Gorman, Early; Z. B. Coffey, Zephyr; Carl Petros, Blanket. District No. 3: J. C. Wilson, Jordan Springs; T. O. Hurst, Winchell; W. B. Shannon, Woodland Heights. District No. 4: R. L. Bangh, Thrifty; C. S. Matthews, Bangs; J. D. Mullis, Brooksmith. District No. 5: J. S. Hart, Jr., Holder; George Burns, Owens; O. L. Bates, Grosvenor.

Explanation of the plan of operation of the project house to be maintained at Texas A. & M. College for Coleman and Brown county students will be made at a Co-operative Student Group meeting in Santa Anna High School auditorium at 8 p. m. Friday, September 11. County Agent C. W. Lehmburg announces.

Approximately 25 boys from the two counties are expected to attend college this winter under the cooperative plan. While most of the students to reside at the project house are residents of Brown and Coleman counties, other students in this immediate area will be invited to live there as a large house has been leased for the school term to accommodate as many as 35.

Sam Sartor of Novice was elected project manager at a recent meeting at Santa Anna. Other officers named were Clayton Coffey, of Zephyr, secretary; Baxter Featherston of Novice, treasurer, and Mrs. Stafford Baxter, Coleman, matron.

PROBE CONTINUES AS MYSTERY OF SOWELL DEATH IS UNSOLVED

Mystery surrounding the death of Tom Sowell, 53, near his ranch home on Lake Brownwood, had not been solved Thursday, and officers were continuing the investigation of circumstances leading up to the incident. Mr. Sowell's body was found by officers from the sheriff's department Wednesday morning, in a pasture a short distance from his home.

Gripped in his hand was a 30-30 rifle, which had not been discharged. The body was lying on its back. An autopsy conducted Wednesday by County Health Officer Dr. Roy Hallum, failed to disclose any evidence of foul play, but officers do not consider the case closed, and are searching for clues which might lead to apprehension of the assailant, should Mr. Sowell have been the victim of foul play. This point is still undetermined. County Attorney Conner Scott is expected to join the investigation Friday.

Members of the family called the Sheriff's office Wednesday, reporting that Mr. Sowell rode away from his home on his horse Tuesday morning about 11:30 o'clock and had not returned. The investigation which followed resulted in finding the body.

Funeral services for Mr. Sowell were held Thursday afternoon at Rocky Church.

SHORTER HOURS FOR LOWER GRADE PUPILS GRANTED BY BOARD

First and second grade pupils in Brownwood public schools will have shorter hours this year, it was announced this week. First grade classes will be dismissed at 3 p. m. and second grade classes at 3:30 p. m. Formerly the hours have been 3:30 and 4 o'clock.

This is the first move made in several years to bring the hours of Brownwood schools in line with standard hours in other Texas cities. The announcement was hailed with enthusiasm by mothers of school children as a step in the right direction. Complaint still was heard, however, that the shorter hours should be extended to higher grades. Practically all Texas city schools are dismissed at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, but Brownwood holds to the 4 o'clock closing hour.

The Brownwood school district ended the year, August 31, with a cash balance of $17,461.68, as compared with a balance of $7,995.13 a year ago, according to the annual depository report made at a meeting of the school board Monday night. It is hoped that the balance will be sufficient to keep the schools on a cash basis until the first state apportionment money is received. Total receipts for the year were $116,158.93.

Bus service was denied a group appearing before the board from the Shelton Dairy community, on the ground that the road in that section is not in an all-weather condition.

Work on Stadium. Good progress was reported on work to put the new high school stadium in condition for use during the coming football season. Bleachers are now being put up and installation of flood lights will be completed as soon as some additional equipment arrives. The shipment of this lighting equipment has been delayed and the lights cannot be tested out now as had been planned. Everything will be completed in time, however, for the first game of the season, with Comanche Thursday night, Sept. 17.

C. F. Gore was elected bus driver for the Mt. View route. The route will be the same as last year. The health and sanitation committee of the board called attention be vaccinated against smallpox. New students must present vaccination certificates before they will be assigned to classes.

Chambers, chairman of the Brown County Agricultural association, and H. G. Lucas, president of Texas Agricultural association. The luncheon program was under the direction of the Kiwanis Club, in which members of other civic and luncheon clubs participated. Several out of town visitors were present. J. Edward Johnson was chairman.

Dr. Montgomery spoke at each meeting on the "American System." "The American System, as I see it," he said, "consists of three simple things. First, a system that will do the greatest amount of good to the greatest number of people. And this was Jefferson's idea, not mine. Second, goods and benefits should be distributed in direct proportion to the earnings of the people. No

BOY SCOUT NEWS

Members of Troop No. 2 hiked to City Park Saturday evening and were served with a barbecued goat supper furnished by Winifred Cornelius.

Stuart Painter, who has been in a Milwaukee Scout Camp for the second summer instructing classes in Indian lore, returned to Brownwood for a brief stay before leaving for San Saba where he will be engaged as teacher in the public school.

Both of these young men were formerly engaged in local Scout work.

Individual ballots have been mailed to voters of Brownwood and nearby communities in a new Literary Digest poll of over 10,000,000 persons to ascertain who will be the next President of the United States.

Returns from Texas in this 1936 referendum will be tallied as a unit so they may be compared with the voting of other states, it is announced.

The voting of the post-card ballots is secret as no signature or other identification is required and the return postage is paid by magazine.

This is announced as the fourth quadrennial national Presidential poll conducted by the Literary Digest. The three previous polls have forecast the Presidential winner with "uncanny accuracy."

Make your plans now to attend Homecoming Day at Eureka Baptist Church, Coleman County.

The old statement that there is nothing new under the sun is being refuted this season by Harley Sadler, popular Texas showman, who is bringing the Harley Sadler Circus to Brownwood on Wednesday, September 16, for an afternoon and night performance.

Believing that the public wants something different in the way of circus entertainment, Harley Sadler has assembled a circus that is a distinct departure from all circus performances. The performance opens with a processional pageant, depicting "Texas Under Six Flags," with all special costumes and musical numbers, then comes the circus performance where act after act takes place with lightning-like rapidity.

Among the circus acts will be the great Orton troupe of wire walkers, acrobats, and gymnasts, the Valera family presenting a sensational flying act high in the big tent, Miss Tito Moromoto, little Japanese star of the circus, acclaimed to be one of the greatest performers in the circus world.

Musical and jazz jugglers extraordinary, Capt. James J. Hamiter and his school of highly trained horses, the Gomez troupe of acrobats, from Old Mexico, Lee Smith and his gang of funny clowns to make you laugh, Capt. Buck Bonham and his performing elephants, featuring his act by allowing himself to be carried the length of the hippodrome track by his head in the mouth of "Big Vera," world's largest elephant.

Home Demonstration Clubs

A tufted bedspread adds so much to the appearance of a bed room, says Mrs. W. A. Forman, of Bangs club. Mrs. Forman has made a tufted spread for her demonstration bed room using a diamond design which covers the entire bed, both the tufting thread and domestic used were in the natural color. A three inch hem was made with each corner mitered and the design worked to the hem, thereby giving it a finished look.

"If I had known that an adequate clothes closet could have been built for as little as 15 cents I never would have waited this long to build mine," said Mrs. E. T. Gorman, bedroom demonstrator for the Early Home Demonstration Club. Mrs. Gorman bought a refrigerator box for 15 cents and made her closet out of it with the exception of a small door and some scrap lumber, for shelves in one end of the closet to give storage for folded garments, a long rod was added for hanging dresses, suits and coats. A rack for shoes will be added next in order to remove them from the floor and make cleaning easier as well as to take better care of the shoes.

Text of State Democratic Platform

Following is the text of the State Democratic platform, adopted at the state Democratic Convention in Fort Worth this week:

During this, the Centennial birthday of Texas independence, the State Democracy rededicates itself to those general, great and essential principles of liberty and free government enunciated in the Bill of Rights.

We pledge our continued support of a progressive program for state betterment, to the end that the interests, security and happiness of all the people may be perpetuated. These high ideals can and will be attained "within the broad lines of existing institutions."

We enthusiastically acclaim the leadership of the National Democracy and pledge our loyal and wholehearted support to the re-election of Franklin Delano Roosevelt and John Nance Garner. These great leaders have humanized the policies of the Federal Government and have for the American people revived the faith and restored the hope that was almost destroyed under 37 years of Republican rule. Above all else, our Democratic leadership has supplanted the dictatorship of privilege and greed under Republican rule by restoring the Government of the United States to the people themselves.

We endorse all nominees of the party in the Democratic primaries, and call upon them members of the party to give them their support at the general election.

It is with much pride that we endorse the administration of our Centennial Governor, James V. Allred. Although he assumed his duties as chief executive in most trying and troublous times, he is ending his first term with an outstanding record of progressive reforms and achievements for the people. Under his leadership nearly all of the unlightened party platform proposals of 1934 have been carried out. During his humanitarian administration, and with his vigorous support, Texas has launched a social security program that hereafter will protect worthy and needy citizens against the hardships of modern life.

Finances Are Sound
Despite heavy outlays during the past two years for relief, for the Centennial celebrations, for the most liberal educational program in history, and for other extraordinary expenses of government, Texas face the future in a sound financial condition.

The accomplishment of these things for Texas is a lasting tribute to the ability, the sincerity and the leadership of James V. Allred.

Not the least of his many accomplishments is the thorough manner in which our chief executive has revealed the romance and charm of Texas, her glorious past and her bright future to the people of the United States during this invitation year. In doing this he has won the respect and admiration of people everywhere for himself and for his native state.

We realize that much remains to be done in order to restore and make secure a sound economic and social structure. Knowing, however, that Texas is fabulously rich in resources, both human and material, barely touched, we face the future with hope and courage.

We believe that these resources should be drawn upon and developed with an eye both to the present and to the future, and utilized in such a manner that will bring the most good and happiness to the greatest number. In order that maximum benefits may be attained, we favor continued co-ordination of state efforts and plans with those of the National Government, so far as practicable.

For Race Law Repeal
So that the program of the Texas Democracy may be shown to all, the following is adopted as the party platform:

We declare our continued support of the proposals contained in the party platform of 1934. Among other things we renew our demand for a revision and enlargement of the antitrust laws for the better protection of the small home owned business and industry; for the jealous guardianship of state-owned oil lands for the benefit of the public school system; for the strengthening and broadening the graduated chain store tax; for simplification of criminal and civil procedure; and for strengthening the anti-flooding laws. We declare again our opposition to a state general sales tax and to the law legalizing race track gambling, and we favor the immediate repeal of the law legalizing race track gambling.

We urge legislation to ease the burden of taxation on homes, farm and ranches. To accomplish this necessary relief we favor a reclassification of property for taxation purposes so as to bring on to the tax rolls the large percentage of wealth now escaping the ad valorem tax.

We favor restoring the rate of tax imposed on breweries and beer dealers to amount imposed by law prior to the amendment adopted by the Legislature at its last session.

We favor the progressive development of a well-rounded social security program that will adequately care for the aged needy, the orphans, the crippled and the blind. We assert that this program should not be undertaken except upon a sound plan of state finance and in close co-operation with the Federal Government under the National Social Security Act. We urge suitable legislation to accomplish these ends.

We call upon the Legislature of Texas to make adequate provision at the earliest possible date to properly care for all insane or psychopathic patients in proper hospitals.

Would Limit Pensions.
We favor limiting benefits under the Texas Old Age Assistance Act to those in need.

We favor state participation in federal unemployment insurance.

Unless absolutely necessary, we oppose any increase in taxes for the ordinary purposes of Government. We recognize, however, that additional revenues will be needed to finance a social security program upon a permanent basis.

We favor a substantial increase in tax on natural resources, including oil, gas and sulphur.

We advocate a reasonable franchise tax against the gross assets of oil and gas pipe line companies.

We favor a revision of all the franchise tax laws in order to increase revenues from that source.

We advocate a reasonable increase in inheritance taxes.

The tax laws of the State should be revised in order to prevent evasions. Substantial sums of money could and should be collected by simplifying the method of collecting delinquent taxes.

We favor a constitutional amendment to expedite Supreme Court decisions as to the constitutionality of legislative enactments.

We further recommend that the Legislature delegate to the Supreme Court the full rule making power in all matters of practice and procedure in civil actions.

The State Tax Board should be given authority to aid counties in equalizing the values of properties of oil companies, sulphur companies, utilities and other large businesses in order to increase revenues from that source, and insurance companies.

For Electrification.

We urge continued co-operation and co-operation of the State with the Federal Government in plans to aid the farmers; and especially in equalizing the discrimination operating against them because of their having to sell raw materials in an unprotected market and having to purchase manufactured products from a protected class.

We pledge whole-hearted co-operation with the President in his plan to aid the drought affected area of our State.

We favor state encouragement of rural electrification under the federal plan.

We favor a continuance of the work of our agricultural experiment stations, county agents, home demonstration agents, and the further extension of agricultural education in the public schools. We advocate the further extension and development of farm co-operatives, the widening of markets, and the extension of credit to the producers of farm products.

We favor the continued liberal support of our public school system and state institutions of higher learning.

Public utility rate should be reduced. We advocate the enactment of laws making it practicable for any city or town to acquire and operate its own public utilities. We advocate enlargement and strengthening of the regulatory powers of State and municipal authorities and the simplification of trial and appellate procedure rate cases. We favor the conservation, development and use of the State's water power in the public interests.

We favor reduced hours of labor without the reduction of individual earnings, as a means of spreading employment.

Child Labor Plank.

We urge the Legislature to ratify the child labor amendment to the Constitution of the United States.

We recognize the right of labor to organize in order to improve its conditions and favor a public policy outlawing employment contracts abridging such right.

We oppose the issuance of injunctions in labor disputes without previous notice and hearing.

We renew our demand that the supervision of boxing and wrestling be placed elsewhere than with the labor department.

We advocate a revision and simplification of election laws.

As stated in the platform adopted by the State Democratic Convention at Galveston in 1934: "We oppose the abdication or surrender of the State's power to control the production of its natural resources. We likewise oppose any federal encroachment upon the exclusive power of this State to control the production of oil and gas. We oppose any plan that results in the compulsory unitization of oil fields." We favor a renewal, for an additional term of two years, of the interstate oil compact, for the sole purpose of the prevention of physical waste in the production of oil and gas, as now written.

We commend the Governor for the worthwhile results that have been obtained by his establishment of a system of voluntary parole boards in the several counties of the State. The salutary effect it has had should commend the plan to the Legislature. We urge legislation making the system official.

In the recent primary elections the Democracy of this State overwhelmingly endorsed the administration of Governor James V. Allred and his program for Texas. We regard this vote as a mandate from the people that the progressive proposals herein outlined be carried out. To accomplish this, maximum co-operation must be had between the executive and legislative branches of government. To that end we call upon all public officials to give these declarations unstinted support.

THE COLD GERM IS WAITING FOR YOUR DEFENSE TO BE LOWERED!

Don't give a "common cold" an even break! The fact that this is good advice is emphasized by the report of leading doctors who point out that fifty per cent of all disabling diseases start with a "common cold."

It is well known that sudden chilling of the body after overheating will often cause sneezing, watery secretions or nasal obstruction. Of this, there can be no doubt from the experience of generations of people everywhere. Any sudden change in bodily temperature during winter months such as going from a warm room into a cold one disturbs the heat regulating apparatus of the body and lowers your defense against the insidious attack of the cold germ.

If you heat only one or two rooms . . . if you "huddle" in these warm rooms while the rest of the house remains cold, sudden indoor temperature changes are unavoidable. It's good health insurance as well as good advice to provide adequate heat and a proper circulation of pure warm air in every room of your home during the coming winter months.

Despite the preponderance of Democratic voters in Texas, there can be no question now that President Roosevelt and Vice President Garner face stiff opposition from the Republican party and its nominees.

Aiding the Cause

Roosevelt's personal popularity and his record in office would assure his re-election without serious opposition, has passed. There is no use evading the question: the Democratic party is going to have a hard fight retaining President Roosevelt in office.

Democrats enjoy such a heavy majority in Texas that we are prone to consider the fight as a problem for someone else. To a great extent that is true; or, to be more accurate, most of the campaigning must be done in those regions where the result is in doubt.

And yet, the Democratic party is the party of the people. It is the party that those without unlimited funds or powerful allegiances must look to for consideration in governmental problems.

Who is going to fight the battle for those who are enjoying the benefits of the present Administration? Who is going to carry on the campaign necessary to preserve a government that for the first time has considered those of us who are in the lower income brackets?

Well, this is our fight. It will be carried on, of course, regardless of our attitude. But it is our fight, and unless we are willing to do our part, it will be a woefully weak fight.

Texas has been called upon to do its part. Brown county has been given an allotment. How well the assignment is met is the only gauge by which can be judged the attitude of a people toward the work that is being done in their behalf.

The Fort Worth Star-Telegram is a bit alarmed that newspaper editors in smaller cities in Texas are giving support to the Moffett constitutional amendment which would limit the number of representatives in the Texas Legislature which any county might have.

More equitable Representation The Fort Worth Paper disclaims any intent to oppose the amendment, and prophesies that it will become a law, but it protests mildly to newspaper support for the measure, on the ground that it might engender a feeling between rural and urban population of Texas.

As a matter of fact, and as the Star-Telegram admits, there is no such feeling in Texas, nor is there likely to be. Most Texans either live in the country now, or have such close kinship that there is little danger of any antagonism on the part of the residents of the cities.

On the other hand, the amendment is certainly in order, and should be adopted. As a matter of fact, it would reduce the representation at present in no Texas county, it provides that no county may have more than seven representatives unless the population of such county shall exceed 700,000.

In predicting the consequences should city voters band together to defeat the amendment the city newspaper actually points out the need for its adoption. Witness: "Of course if there were such a thing as 'city consciousness' of urban voters, the amendment would not have chance of adoption, for the reason that there are more Texans who live in cities than do not."

Our only objection to the amendment is that it does not go quite far enough. Five representatives should be sufficient for any county, no matter how great the population.

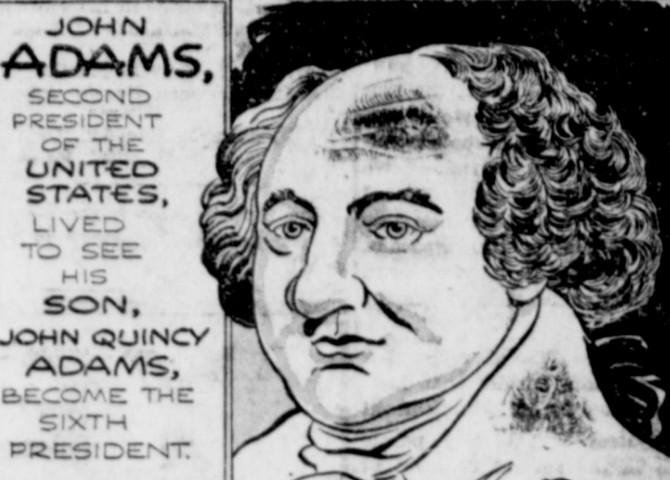

In a European country, the cars of motorists convicted of flagrant violation of traffic laws are painted with an emblem, as a warning to other drivers. It is said that this practice, newly started, has caused an appreciable decline in dangerous driving, as motorists naturally want to avoid the embarrassment and publicity the emblem gives them.

A great many thousand American motorists should have their cars so branded.

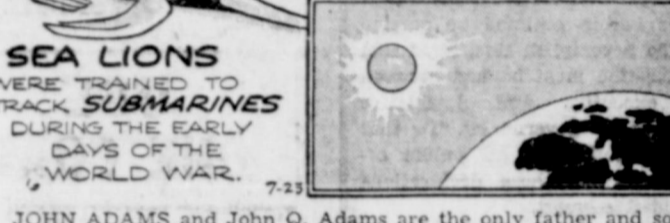

The worst class of offenders consists of those who push the throttle to the floor-board as soon as they get out of sight of a traffic officer. Excessive speed - and there are times when 15 miles per hour is excessive - is responsible for more deaths than any other driving violation.

Drouth Party Bouquet for the Sticker American Literature Franklin called a caucus

To see about the drouth Alford fared forth bravely So grim about the mouth Oklahoma's governor

Got some Landon cheers Made him hot and sweaty And pink behind the ears. "How the first act ended?" "How are we to know?" But Alford has no back talk

For Franklin Delano. Now the drouth is broken, Everything is swell. Farmers take a long breath

And start to rasing. Well, fall gardens, feed crops and a whole lot of things that can yet be raised when it rathus the first of September.

Speaking of the drouth stricken farmers who are really the world's bravest heroes, I'd like to pass this little bouquet along that I clipped from a western Oklahoma paper, where the drouth had really hit the farmer hard for five years straight. It is a classic:

The Western Oklahoma Farmer For indomitable courage, for a neverquit determination, for ceaseless effort to win against all seeming odds, the western Oklahoma farmer is in a class to himself.

When the fates are kind to him he pursues the even tenor of his ways, reaps his bountiful harvests, pays his debts, provides all the possible luxuries for his family and worships his God under his own vine and fig tree.

Then when reverses come, does he give up? No, not this western Oklahoma farmer. See what he has endured the last few years. His soul has been burned out with drouths, frozen out with wintry blasts, had his crops eaten up by grasshoppers pounded out by hail, eyes blinded by dust storms, his markets ruined by the stock gamblers, his shoulders bent low under an ever increasing tax burden, and yet he has never quit.

God must have fitted the western Oklahoma farmer for a peculiar situation and fitted him well. When the average man would quit and say it is no use, with an ever abiding faith and hope that next year will be better, he just spits on his hands, grabs a new hold and starts all over again. Such courage cannot fall.

All of you gals may not be like me, but I'm telling you I rot a big thrill out of the new adopted American Literature text book which has been recently compiled by Dr. Bennett, president of Oklahoma's A. and M. at Stillwater.

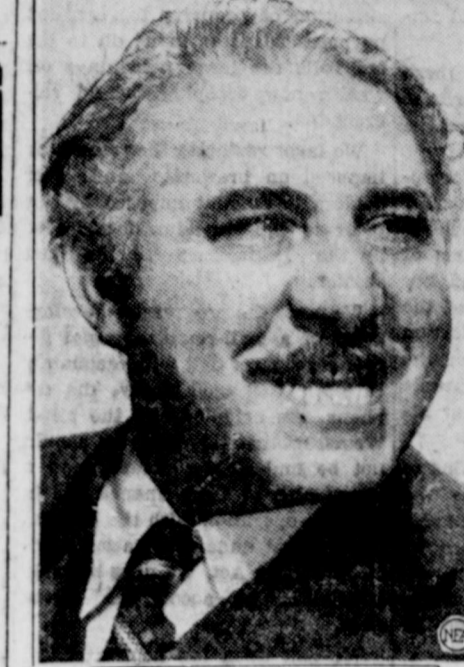

The high school students of today not only read about the ancients, the moderns but actually study the poets the authors and the orators of the present down to the last degree. They even know personally, many of them, some of the writers who are making today's literature. How interesting . . .

how much more interesting I should say for a high school boy or girl to study than it was away back when we had to study poetry as a punishment. . . . If Johnny could not memorize his multiplication tables he had to learn Grey's Elegy. . . . Now they send for the writer, hear his or her own interpretation of the "piece," why they wrote it, and they get a glimpse of true inspiration and a love for literature that nothing can ever take away.

The new text contains an even dozen Oklahoma writers. Isn't that a thrill? There's the radio address of Will Rogers which he made on "Bacon, Beans and Limousines" a classic in humor from Oklahoma's most loved and most famed son. . . . Poems from Stanley Vestal, Violet McDougal, Jennie Harris Oliver, Welborn Hope, B. A. Botkin, Lena Wittaker Blankeney, Kenneth C. Kaufman, Muna Lee, Lucille Langston, Henry T. Chambers and a short story by George Milburn. They are all so typically Oklahoman too. . . . with a love of its red earth, its rivers whose moods are as changeable as a willful woman, whose hillsides are a mass of bloom and its wheatfields "beauty for my heart to dwell upon" shining in every flowing line. It shows a mastery of expression of the true poet and can be placed alongside of "Barter" by Sara Teasdale, with poise and ease. Like a lady who finds herself in elegant company, all at once she is conscious of what she has on. The real lady is inside she knows, but does the assembled company see it? Indeed it does. These Oklahoma writers have clothed their state with its rightful pride. Beauty without gaudiness. . . . pioneering spirit without vulgarity. The old west comes to life and passes on, a heritage to be proud of. The blanket flowers on the old reservations make a beautiful contrast against the ruins of the first Indian missions, while Indians in their rainbow blankets "stand like Jack Oaks in a sunset." But our Jennie Harris Oliver is right "your feet will carry red earth to the end" and so Oklahoma's children should be made conscious of the beauty and grandeur of their state.

NEW WELL PRODUCES 75 BARRELS PER DAY

Shearer - Cunningham No. 2 Armstrong, new well in Gully Field, between Cross Cut and Pioneer, was reported producing from 50 to 75 barrels of oil per day after the well was given a shot of nitrogen last week. Production of about 80 barrels per day was reported for Shearer-Cunningham No. 1 Armstrong, brought in several weeks ago.

Increasing production was attempted of Tyler-Holden No 1 Armstrong, drilled in last week for 35 barrels per day. The Roy Ragsdale well on the McDonough tract, between Cross Cut and Cross Plains, is reported drilling at 2,540 feet in black lime. A 3,000-foot test will be given the well.

It was announced that Leo Ehlinger No. 4 Armstrong would be rigged up and expected to spud in within a few days.

When the new Shearer-Cunningham well was clipped to the pipe line Saturday, all the producers in the Gully field have connections with the Sinclair-Prairie pipe line

Russell Brothers To Bring Circus Here Monday, Sept. 28th

Animal actors are similar to the human performers when it comes to being sleepy and it frequently happens that at the night performance of Russell Bros. Circus, due in Brownwood on Monday, Sept. 28, the beasts are either irritable or slow as they may have been awakened from a strong sleep to enter the ring.

Of the several score of animal actors with this circus, perhaps "Buddy" is the only one that is as alert and quick of action as the night show as he is at the matinee. Buddy is recognized as the best trained seal ever before the public and his act is perhaps the only case where one single animal is the sole performer during one number. Buddy works in the center ring under the direction of his trainer, Fred Jenier and he seems to know that all eyes are always centered upon him as he does his best always and is well rewarded with liberal supply of fish during his act.

Notable as Buddy is, there are many animal acts which are interesting and some are very comical. The liberty horse act on the hippodrome track featuring Millers dancing horses; the riding monkeys and chimpanzees; the clown dogs; kicking donkeys and mules; leaping hounds; remarkable acts by fox terriers; the best herd of trained elephants ever with any circus, and last and most sensational, Reb Russell's famous horse, "Rebel."

Trained wild animal acts are tedious and tiresome as compared with the acts by the domestic and more docile beasts. The public has come to value and admire horses as never before and for that reason several specimens of the beautiful ring horses, dancing horses, jumping horses, and "Rebel" are exhibited in the menagerie tent of the Russell Bros. Circus, together with the cute sheland ponies and their tiny colts.

TEXANS HAVE SERVED UNDER MANY FLAGS

Dallas.—The prevalent idea that Texas had only six flags has been knocked into a cocked hat by historians who have felt the Lone Star should have her full quota. The six flags in the Cavalcade of Texas weren't half of it.

The result is the recent arrival of the seventeen battle flags which flew over Texas during the period of colonization and the revolution. These banners were ordered from New York by producer A. L. Vollmann, and will be carried in the presentation of Cavalcade from now till the close of the big drama December 1.

Aside from the banners of the various nations who ruled the Land of the Tejas, which include the Lions of Spain, the Fleur de Lis of France, the Eagle and Serpent of Mexico, the Lone Star of the Republic, the Stars and Bars of the Confederacy and the Stars and Stripes, Texas has had many other battle flags, brought into her border from other states which gave her aid in her hour of need.

These include Dr. James Long's flag of 1819; the Freedonian flag of 1827; Joanna Troutman's famous Lone Star flag, which Col. Henry Ward's Georgia Battalion carried, fashioned of Joanna's white satin petticoat and centered with a blue star made from the young girl's bodice; Sarah Dodson's Lone Star flag, made for her husband with vertical bars of blue, white and red which some historians say was at the Alamo; the radical flag of Captain Scott, blue, with a white star center and "Independence" written upon it; the Kentucky Volunteers flag; flag of Miller's Men from Tennessee; Captain Moseley Baker's Battle Flag, sometimes called the San Felipe flag; Stephen F. Austin's flag; the Navel Flag; Captain Brown's flag of Velasco; David G. Burnett's flag, a golden star centered on blue; the Gonzales "Come and Take It" flag; the flag of the New Orleans Grays also at the Alamo; now in the National Museum, Mexico City; the Conservatives' flag, used by Mexico under the constitution of 1824, and said also to have been flown at the Alamo; the Zanesville, Ohio, flag, and the single flag flown at the Battle of San Jacinto, heroic figure of an embattled Liberty with a bloody sword held aloft.

All these banners, with the single exception of the San Jacinto flag, have been purchased by Mr. Vollmann, and placed in the battle scenes of the Cavalcade of Texas. The San Jacinto flag is in the process of making. Its embattled Liberty has to be painted on the white surface, and Cavalcade artist, Wah Chang, adopted son of Blanding Sloan, director, is at work doing the reproduction of this famous banner.

The erection above the Alamo of the Mexican flag with 1824 printed across it, is already bringing its quota of criticism from historians and Daughters of the Republic throughout the state, since no one has ever been able to agree positively concerning which banner really flew above the Alamo. No man was left to tell the correct story and the flag was either destroyed or taken away.

The belief held by many is that since the martyrs in the old mission were fighting for the rights of the Constitution of 1824, the Mexican flag of that period flew over the Alamo. Others say that Sarah Dodson's Lone Star flag was there and that fragments of it were discovered in the sacked fort after the revolution had ended.

Still another school of thought insists that the blue banner of the New Orleans Grays was the Alamo flag. This contention is upheld by the fact that the New Orleans banner now lies in the National Museum at Mexico City as the flag captured when the Alamo fell.

A Real Circus Beauty

In fact, several of them are included among the scores of arena stars with Russell Bros. Circus, and dainty Claudine Hodgini will be one of the attractive ones as she does her part to put the clever Hodgini riding act over with this circus which is due in Brownwood on Monday, Sept. 28.

Economist Says—

man should be paid for something which he does not do. The minute you pay one person a dollar for something he did not earn, then you take a dollar from another person who earns it but doesn't get it. This does not mean that I believe that every person should be paid an equal amount, nor does it mean that I believe every man should earn by the sweat of his brow. But he should be paid in direct proportion to his worth to the community and no more. Of course there are the acknowledged exceptions such as school children, the aged and the crippled.

Third, I want as much liberty as possible for the individual, so long as his liberty does not interfere with the liberties of others.

"There is nothing complicated about either of these stipulations. We all agree on them. Where there are differences is in the way we are to go about obtaining these things."

He declared that 40 per cent of all production in America was controlled by a monopoly, and that under such a system the remaining 60 percent were forced to govern themselves by the actions of such monopoly or suffer the consequence.

He declared that the cost of living should be measured in commodities required to purchase other commodities. In 1929, for example, eight bales of cotton bought an automobile. In 1932, 43 bales of cotton were required to purchase a car of the same price. This situation, he declared, was due to monopolistic control of a few big industries, which regulated production to demand, at prices representing the desired profit to the manufacturers, and farmers being forced to sell in an open competitive market where prices were regulated by an uncontrolled supply.

He commented on the Department of Agriculture's program of crop reduction and drew a parallel between that and industrial production control as having been practiced for a hundred years. "When farmers killed off three per cent of the hogs on hand, there was a terrible howl raised. Certain persons thought it was criminal to reduce the supply of pigs by three per cent; but these same people who howled most were at the same time reducing the supply of pig-iron 83 per cent."

While farmers were cutting cotton production 20 per cent, millions of people were going without shirts, he pointed out; and also at the same time, machinery manufacturers were reducing farm equipment production 87 per cent; but they did not reduce prices.

"Killing pigs and reducing crop production has been the most educational experiment in the modern history of this country," Dr. Montgomery declared. "It taught people to think about the agricultural situation and ask why such drastic steps were necessary. Of course, it is not right to kill pigs when people are hungry or plough up cotton when people need clothes; but farmers had to do something. They merely followed the policies of the monopolies."

He recommended as remedies of the situation a curtailment of holding companies, limitation of investment banking activities, less government sanction of such monopolies and close organization on the part of farmers and small town business men.

The next meeting of the Texas Agricultural association is in Wichita Falls, Friday and Saturday of this week.

THE FACTS ABOUT THE BROWN COUNTY "BEER RACKET"

Who asked for this election to legalize beer? . . . Who did they ask for another vote on this question? . . . Who are the real friends of the bootlegger? . . . How many bootleggers are there in the county? . . . Why are these bootleggers here? . . . How many would remain if beer were legalized? . . . What effect would legalized beer have on business? . . . What could it do for the young people of the city? . . . How could legalized beer affect the people of the county? . . . What has legalized beer to do with old age pensions? . . . Are beer joints preferable to vacant store buildings? . . . Would legalized beer promote temperance and discourage drunkenness? . . . Who would profit from operation of beer joints? . . . What can citizens of Brown county do about it?

Let's Have a Showdown on This Situation

WHO ASKED for this election? A total of 490 persons petitioned the County Commissioners to call the election. There are eight thousand voters in Brown county, and less than 6 per cent of them — a very small minority — insisted upon another expensive election to determine whether the brewers may have this county as a field in which to sell their product. These petitioners were in the main the SAME PERSONS who petitioned for two other elections on this same subject. Are they good sports, willing to abide by the majority opinion?

WHY DID these petitioners ask for the election? Primarily for two reasons. Some of them wanted to be able to buy beer openly and freely. Some of them wanted to sell it openly and freely. Some had no reason whatever for signing the petitions.

WHO ARE THE FRIENDS of the bootleggers? These petitioners have the affrontery to say that those who oppose legalized beer are the friends of the bootleggers. But is it not a fact clear to every thinking citizen, that the REAL FRIENDS of the bootleggers are those who have been buying beer and liquor from them, those who have been helping them provide bonds when arrested, those who have been protecting them from interference by the officers of the law? And is it not a fact that all such persons are planning to vote Saturday for legalized beer?

HOW MANY BOOTLEGGERS are there here? The beerites say that there are fifty or more, and during this week they have conducted a systematic campaign of exaggeration to frighten people into voting for legalized beer by saying a certain "big shot" sold a hundred cases of beer here last Saturday. Every bootlegger in Brown County has faced the bar of justice since last January 1, some of them several times. Those inspired citizens who say there are fifty bootleggers here are the same citizens who, if called before the next grand jury, would be unable to remember the name of a SINGLE BOOTLEGGER. Are they citizens of the type that builds good government? Look that question squarely in the face.

WHY are the bootleggers here? Because there are some people who want beer and liquor, and are willing to pay the bootlegger for it. These same citizens are ready to vote for legalized beer next Saturday. Now, WHO IS RESPONSIBLE for the bootleggers — the respectable prohibitionists of the county or those who are perennially clamoring for another beer election?

HOW MANY bootleggers would remain if beer were legalized? The answer is that all now here would remain, and continue in business BECAUSE not one of them could get a state license — and does anybody believe these boys would fold up and quit after having defied the law and the people through the years? To the contrary, the BOOTLEGGERS WOULD STAY HERE, all of them, and it would be harder than ever to convict them so long as they were surrounded by beer sellers operating under state licenses. If you want to turn this county loose just legalize beer and watch the results.

WHAT EFFECT would legalized beer have on business? The only business to be benefited by it would be those selling it. Every dollar spent for legalized beer would be TAKEN OUT of the regular trade channels, and so far as benefiting business is concerned might as well be thrown into a well. No town's business has ever been benefited by licensing a traffic that is essentially wasteful of money, destructive of moral standards and ruinous to homes and home ideals.

WHAT would legalized beer do for the YOUNG PEOPLE and children? It would encourage them to cultivate a taste for alcoholic beverages, by placing beer within an arm's reach at all hours of the day and night. They would find it wherever they might go, and soon would lose whatever fear of alcoholic beverages they might have. IT WOULD TRAIN A GENERATION OF BEER DRINKERS who would become a generation of hard liquor drinkers.

WHAT would legalized beer do for the RURAL PEOPLE? It would place open beer joints in front of their boys and girls every time they come to town or visit a neighborhood store or filling station and would tear down the whole structure of morality and decency which rural citizens have erected for their home and community life during the past thirty-odd years. Does the Brown county farmer want to do his shopping in a beer-ridden city, or does he prefer a decent, dry town?

WHAT has legalized beer to do with OLD AGE PENSIONS? Not a thing. Old age assistance would be paid if there were no state liquor tax, because the Constitution says IT MUST BE PAID. The few dollars that would go to the State treasury from Brown county beer licenses would make absolutely no difference to the pensions or pensioners. But is it not an insult to our aged people to suggest that WE MUST DRINK SWILL IN ORDER TO GIVE THEM A PITTANCE? Respectable pensioners do not want to profit from operation of beer taverns.

ARE BEER JOINTS PREFERABLE to vacant store buildings? There are few vacant store buildings, and not many of them would be used for the sale of beer. BEER WOULD GO INTO ROAD HOUSES ALONG THE HIGHWAYS, into hotels and cafes, drug stores and confectioneries, hamburger stands and other places where the people must go in order to secure the necessities of life. It would STARE US IN THE FACE at every turn, and the vacant store buildings, most of them, would remain vacant.

WOULD legalized beer promote TEMPERANCE? Just read the newspapers. They tell you every day of drunken driving, shooting speers, tragic highway crashes THAT HAD THEIR ORIGIN in "A COUPLE OF BEERS AND A SHOT" at some beer tavern. Temperance does not mean moderation. It does not mean "drinking just a little." It means abstinence from everything that is harmful. Legalized beer would mean an enormous increase in the consumption of alcoholic beverages, and it would lead to more DRUNKENNESS, more CRIME, more TRAGEDY in this whole country.

WHO WOULD PROFIT? the BREWERS would. Nine hundred square miles of new territory would be opened to them in which to sell their products. The BEER SELLERS would profit. They would have a popular "Sideline" to add to their regular business, and some of them would have a nice bait to draw young people into their joints. NOBODY ELSE would profit a solitary cent.

WHAT can the citizens of Brown county DO about it? They can go to the polls Saturday and by marking their ballots AGAINST BEER they can protect their homes, their children, their schools, their business establishments, and their county's reputation against the threat of legalized vice. DON'T FORGET that this is a WINE AND BEER election. The ballot reads, "For (and against) legalizing the sale of VINOUS and malt liquors that do not contain alcohol in excess of four per cent (4%) by weight."

A VOTE FOR BEER is a vote toward the legalizing of unrestrained liquor drinking. BROWN COUNTY DOESN'T WANT IT, and must say so Saturday in such a decisive manner as forever to stop this brewery-inspired agitation for legal sanction of beer joints and everything that goes with them.
