

SWAT THE LEAF WORM BEFORE HE SWATS YOU

By C. W. Lehmberg
County Agent

In certain sections of the county the leaf worm has made its appearance. On certain farms in these sections the leaf worms have done heavy damages.

Leaf worm damages can be stopped if proper methods are carried out. Positioning with arsenical is the only satisfactory method.

The only poisons recommended by the Entomology Department of the Extension Service of the A. & M. are entirely safe to use or Calcium Arsenate or lead arsenate the latter being so expensive as to be impracticable so long as Calcium Arsenate can be obtained. Either may be dusted or sprayed. If dusted 5 to 8 pounds per acre of either should be applied depending upon the size of the cotton. The best time for application is in the early morning when the dew is on the plants and when the air is usually quiet.

If to be applied as a spray, 3 pounds of either material should be mixed with 50 gal. of water and this mixture kept well agitated during the application.

In applying the materials in spray form, any manufactured machinery suitable for the purpose may be used. Growers in many sections improvise their own machinery from a spray pump attached to a barrel, with plumbing pipe used to form a boom, supplied with tees and nozzles to direct a spray downward over each of three to five rows. These are generally satisfactory for control of the leaf worm and are not expensive.

Manufacturing dusting machinery is the best for making dry applications, however for leaf worm control, other cheaper and more primitive methods of application are usually effective.

The simplest form is the pole and bag method. Cheese cloth bags filled with the poison and attached to a pole is a simple and effective way. Four rows can be handled at a time. The pole can be placed over a saddle as one rides on a horse-back. Still another effective method is to fasten a 2x4 across a cultivator carriage, with bags attached to accommodate three to five rows. Blocks wired to the tier of the wheels at intervals gives a jolting effect that shakes the poison on the plants as the cultivator is drawn along.

CAUTION: White arsenic, Paris Green and London Purple are apt to prove injurious to cotton and are not advised if other methods can be obtained.

Paris Green or London Purple if they must be used, 4 parts of hydrated lime should be thoroughly mixed with 1 pound of either poison for dry application, this amount to cover an acre, or 1 1/2 pounds of lime mixed with 1 1/2 pounds of either poison to 50 gals. water as a spray. Where white arsenic is to be used the following formula should be carefully followed.

White arsenic 1 pound, Sal Soda (Crystals) 4 lbs., water 1 gal.

Boil for 15 to 20 minutes, add just enough water to make up for what is lost in boiling. Keep this solution in jugs or bottles, plainly labeled "POISON", until needed, when ready to use take 1 quart of this solution to 45 gals. of soft water to which add 2 pounds of hydrated lime. The lime will lessen the danger of burning. In applying this solution a spray with a very fine nozzle should be used.

Remember that Paris Green, London Purple and white arsenic or lead arsenate are not to be used only when calcium available.

The question is often asked "Will it pay to poison where the leaf worms have destroyed the major part of the leaf surface?" This question may be answered in the following way. As soon as the worms have destroyed the leaf surface of the cotton plant they will eat the shuck of the boll, when these are consumed they will eat into the young bolls. I inspected a field a few days ago and found that bolls that were two-thirds grown were badly eaten by the leaf worms.

Since the cost of poison per acre is small every effort should be made to save the crop.

DOVE SEASON OPENS WITH LARGE CROP

A plentiful supply of doves due to a good nesting season this year is expected to keep hunters busy with the opening of the dove season September 1st until its close, October 31st, according to J. H. Wood, game warden for Brown county.

The bag limit is fifteen birds a day and 45 a week, but not more than 20 in possession at any one time. Daily shooting hours are from 7 o'clock in the morning to sunset. Doves may be taken with a shotgun only, not more than 10 gauge and not capable of holding more than three shells. Grain or any other food must not be used to lure the birds.

A hunting license is not required by the dove hunter in his home county. If he goes into another county to hunt, however, a license is necessary. Hunting licenses may be obtained at the county clerk's office and other places. The cost of the license is two dollars and is valid until August 31, 1937, date of expiration.

Campaign Headquarters Hum

National headquarters of political parties are a-buzz with activity, as the campaign moves toward top pitch. Hundreds of employees are kept busy in Democratic headquarters in New York and the G. O. P. centers in New York and Chicago. Here is shown part of the staff in the Democratic office in the metropolis, busily inserting party literature in envelopes. More than 150,000 pieces of mail are sent out daily from here.

SURVEY OF ADAMS BRANCH UNDER WAY

Survey work on Adams Branch in the city of Brownwood is now in progress and as soon as the necessary data has been secured city officials will submit a report to the WPA. Major Karl E. Wallace, district 14 WPA director, has assured city officials that his office will approve the project when it is submitted. After approval here the application must be referred to San Antonio and Washington for state and federal approval.

An approximated cost of $20,000 is estimated for the project which is to continue for a period of about three months under WPA supervision and labor.

Straightening, draining and thorough cleaning of the creek which meanders through the northern and eastern sections of the city will be undertaken in the improvement project. An unsanitary condition of the stream is existent at present which is a menace to public health. Stagnant pools of water for long periods of time which serve as breeding places for mosquitoes will be eliminated by proper drainage.

Jake Palmer, city engineer, is making the survey.

Gem Theatre To Have Appreciation Week

Manager Colman of the Gem Theatre announces that beginning Sunday and running through Saturday, Sept. 12th, will be Appreciation Week at the Gem theatre. "The people of Brownwood have turned out one hundred percent for the Gem's new Double Feature policy started several weeks ago and to show our appreciation I have booked for Appreciation one of the finest programs of Double Features ever shown anywhere," Mr. Colman said.

Getting off to a big start Sunday and Monday with Appreciation Week, the Gem will have as its big Double Feature program none other than that sensational picture, "Trail of the Lonesome Pine," starring Fred MacMurray, Henry Fonda, Sylvia Sydney, Fred Stone and "Spanky" McFarland. The second feature on the program will be "Potluck Pards" starring Bud and Ben and the wonder horse, "Starlight." Jack Denny and his orchestra in "I Feel Like a Feather in a Breeze" rounds out a perfect "four-star" program.

Tuesday, for one day only, Brian Donlevy and Glenda Farrell starring in "High Tension" will head the big Double Feature Appreciation Week program for this day. The second big feature on the program will be "Amateur Gentleman" starring Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., and Ellena Landi. To make this program even greater Manager Colman has booked a special song hit subject, "The Queen's Birthday."

Wednesday and Thursday of Appreciation Week will see another bang up program headed by "Prisoner of Shark Island," starring Warner Baxter and Gloria Stuart. The second big feature on the program will be "Timothy's Quest," starring Eleanor Whilney and Dickie Moore. In addition to these two fine feature attractions there will be a thrilling short showing the many dangers faced by cameramen in securing news shots for you. This subject is known as "Securing The Skies" and will furnish plenty of real thrills.

Friday and Saturday of Appreciation Week will be another of those splendid programs headed with "Heart of the West" starring William Boyd. The second feature

APPLICATIONS TO BE MADE PRIOR SEPT. 10 FOR CCC ENROLLMENT

Applications for enrolling in the CCC for the next period which will begin in the first part of October must be made at county relief offices before September 10, Mrs. Jessica W. Bennett, district administrator, announces.

An estimate of the number of boys that likely will enroll must be sent to state headquarters at Austin in order that a quota may be set for Brown and other counties in relief district 14.

If an applicant already has been in the CCC it will be necessary for him to present an honorable discharge at the time of his application for reselection, or furnish substantial information if he has lost his discharge papers, so that duplicates may be obtained.

A man who served less than four months during his last enrollment is ineligible for reselection regardless of the type of discharge. The only exception to this requirement is those men who were honorably discharged prior to October 21, 1933. To be eligible for reselection a period of one year must have elapsed following date he was last honorably discharged.

Those eligible to enroll are: Unmarried and unemployed young men whose families have been referred to the WPA for employment, who are American citizens between the ages of 17 and 28 inclusive, and who have dependents in the United States or its possessions to whom they are willing to allot a substantial amount of their monthly allowance (at least $22 per month and not more than $25 per month.) Applicants may be either white or colored. Age limit was formerly 18 to 25, inclusive, which has been extended to 17 to 28, inclusive.

Boys of families eligible to receive surplus commodities and other forms of relief from county welfare agencies may enroll for selection from the standpoint of the relief requirement.

Provided all requirements are met, young men who are members of Rural Resettlement families and whose labors are not required to assist in farming operations may be selected for enrollment in the CCC.

Attu, westernmost island of the Aleutian chain, is the farthest west of all United States possessions. Technically, it is in the eastern hemisphere, but international law bent the international dateline to the west of the island, so that it would have the same time schedule as the rest of the chain.

SALARY SCHEDULE FOR TEACHERS LISTS FEW NEW RULES FOR YEAR

No changes of importance in connection with the rules and regulations of the salary schedule adopted at the last meeting of the State Board of Education in regard to payment of high school teachers for the coming school year were made, according to an official schedule received by F. D. Pierce, county superintendent of schools.

Teachers of schools not classified or accredited by the State Department of Education will receive a base pay of $80 with additions of $2.50 for third year college, $2.50 for a degree and $5.00 for standardization of the school for eight months. An additional $5.00 will be added to principals' salaries for each additional teacher in the school.

Schools classified as two-year high schools or four-year high schools but not fully accredited may operate on the foregoing schedule with base pay of $80 for eight and one-half months. Principals of such schools may be allowed salaries for ten months.

Fully accredited two-year and four-year schools provide a base pay of $90 with additions in the amount of $2.50 for three years of college, $2.50 for a degree and $2.50 for nine months terms. Superintendents will receive a base pay of $90 with additions according to the number of teachers employed in the schools as follows: five to eight teachers $40 for nine months; nine to eleven teachers $40 for ten to eleven months; twelve to fifteen teachers $40 for twelve months. Principals in schools of twelve teachers or more will be allowed $25.00 additional on a nine months basis.

Base pay of any teacher, principal or superintendent with less than two years college training is $75 per month.

One dollar per month for each year's experience beginning with the third year will be added to the salary of any teacher of a state aid school, provided such increase does not exceed $10 per month.

Salaries of vocational agriculture (Smith-Hughes) teachers and vocational home making teachers in state aid schools will be allowed the maximum salary to which the teacher is entitled according to the salary schedule for eight months.

Trustees are asked to take into consideration before making a contract that when any salaries are paid for a longer period than eight months that the additional time is to be cared for out of local maintenance taxes of high school tuition.

In the rule adopted by the State Board of Education August 11 in regard to payment of high school tuition for 1936-37 it was resolved that an affidavit for each application must be presented to the state superintendent of Public Instruction by October 1, 1936 in the case of geographical barriers or other conditions which might prevent children from attending a school in their home district in which event the State superintendent may waive in such exceptions the collection of tuition subject to the approval of the State Board of Education.

SHORTAGE OF HORSES AND MULES FOR 1937 REPORTED IN NATION

A state-wide shortage of about 3,500 work horses and approximately 47,900 work mules, which will have to be imported from other states for replacements alone before the 1937 work season starts, is reported for Texas, according to information received by County Agent C. W. Lehmburg, from Wayne Dinsmore, secretary of the Horse and Mule Association of America.

Dinsmore's figures also show a national shortage of about 175,000 horses and 325,000 mules when the work season opens for 1937.

The shortage is attributed to neglect to breed mares, between 1925 and 1933 which has left the United States with an excess of horses and mules over 10 years old and not enough between 3 and 10 years of age.

Statistics reveal, according to Dinsmore, that colts raised in Texas in 1934 will fall short the number which will equal losses by death in 1936. As a result of this shortage in work animals, Texas farmers will be required to pay out $9,230,000 in cash for work horses and mules many of which they might easily have been raised.

An increase in breeding is noted, and it is estimated that there will be about one million horse and mule colts foaled and raised this year, but death losses in 1936 will be around 1,200,000.

A new pamphlet (No. 225) which gives complete information about the horses and mules in every state may be obtained free from Mr. Lehmburg.

CHURCH FEDERATION TO FURNISH SUPPLIES FOR NEEDY SCHOOL CHILDREN

Projects to be undertaken by the Carrie Looney Federation of Church Women, discussed at the regular meeting of the group at the First Presbyterian Church Monday afternoon, will include the obtaining of school supplies for poor children, a larger milk fund, contribution boxes for sewing supplies, a community playground and penny banks in the churches.

Mrs. J. C. Epps described the work of Miss Kate Erwin, who is director of the NYA sewing rooms at Howard Payne College, at the opening of the meeting. Operated as a government project, clothes for underprivileged children are made by young college girls from material donated by members of the different church auxiliaries. Last year 160 quilts were made at the community house on Anderson street in this manner, it was reported.

Progress made in the education of local Mexicans was discussed by Mrs. Charles Moore, teacher in the Mexican night schools conducted by the federal government.

A report of health questions in the Mexican district and steps being taken to better educational facilities of the Mexicans was made by Mrs. Roy Gower, nurse at the community center.

Projects carried on by the Federation many of which have proved highly successful as was pointed out at the meeting are providing milk for undernourished children, treatment for persons stricken with tuberculosis, typhoid serums and furnishing soups, fruit juices and ice to typhoid victims.

CONSTRUCTION OF MAY GYMNASIUM TO BEGIN

Bonds for the construction of an $8,000 gymnasium for May School have been voted and work will begin within a few days as soon as the contract has been let for the building, Horace E. White, superintendent, announces.

The building will be of brick and tile construction, 80 x 90 feet. On each side of the gymnasium bleachers, which will seat about 1,000 people will be built, with a 50 x 88 feet playing floor between. Shower and locker rooms will be built under the bleachers. A movable stage will be added to the equipment later which will enable the gym to be used as an auditorium.

The elementary school building which was remodeled under a WPA project has been completed. Two class rooms have been added to the ground floor and with the complete remodeling of the interior provision for six class rooms and one book room has been made. The second floor of the two story brick building was removed entirely.

The faculty has been completed and school will open Monday, September 7, Mr. White said.

POPULAR CIRCUS TO SHOW IN BROWNWOOD

Circus fans and lovers of clean amusement should make note that the big Russell Bros. Circus and menagerie will exhibit in Brownwood on Monday, Sept. 28.

There is an unexplainable something about the circus which attracts every person, regardless of color, sex, creed or politics. Even those associated with the business itself admit a lure which holds them in the business just as the public is drawn to it for entertainment.

The fact that the circus is a transient city, here today, elsewhere tomorrow, controlled by perfect organization, and daily surmounting obstacles which to others seem impossible, these physical facts cause its presence in any community to be fascinating entirely regardless of the performance. The circus seems a sort of fairyland to old and young. All sorts of conditions and people share its mysteries and delight in visiting it.

In every presidential election year, the country is flooded with straw votes of various kinds, trying to predict the strength of the two major party candidates. This year is no exception; in fact the number of straw votes being conducted throughout the country has reached proportions undreamed of a few years ago. Almost every newspaper or magazine is either conducting or reporting results of presidential straw votes.

Straw Votes

Political leaders scan these straw votes feverishly, and possibly they give a fair basis for campaign work. But it is a poor campaign manager who cannot read the figures, no matter how discouraging they may be to the rank and file of the voters, so that they will show up to advantage for his particular candidate.

Straw votes to show public thought on public questions has become a big business, and at least one agency makes weekly reports on current questions to subscribing newspapers, with monthly reports on the trend of sentiment in the president's race. Probably of all the straw votes, this is the least reliable, for it is done by the "sampling" method. Only about 200,000 ballots are sent out to the entire nation, and the results obtained from these taken as an indication of the sentiment of the entire population. Every politician who has been through a campaign knows how unreliable "sampling" can be. The method does not take into consideration the organization work, does not give any reliable indication of the trend of thought even in a small locality, let alone the nation. Another weakness of the current "sampling" vote, is that fact that no definite figures are given to indicate what proportion of the voters are being quoted.

Thus Texas may be listed as 87 per cent for Roosevelt and 13 per cent for Landon, without anyone knowing whether 100 or 1,000 persons were called upon to express that opinion, while the solemn statement that New York is 51 per cent for Landon and 49 per cent for Roosevelt may mean anything or nothing, depending upon whether the jority of the votes are from Democratic New York City or Republican rural New York.

Most reliable of the nation-wide polls is that of the Literary Digest — one of the few polls, by the way, that sent ballots to far away from headquarters as Brown county. The value of this poll lies largely in the fact that it is so large that it can hardly fail to get a true picture of the political situation at the time the poll is taken. With several million ballots sent out, and most of them returned, the result is fairly certain to predict the result fairly well. The main weakness of this poll lies in the fact that, taken in September, it would fail to record any great shift of voters from one candidate to another in the weeks preceding the election. The Literary Digest is beginning its fourth presidential poll this month. Accurate or not, the results will be watched with interest.

Governor Martin L. Davey of Ohio has been in a difficult spot for the past several weeks. Carlton B. Chilton, a man past 40, was arrested recently in Ohio, charged with having escaped from an Oklahoma reformatory while serving a two-year term for bank robbery. The escape was made in 1914; the arrest in 1936. Meanwhile Mr. Chilton had established a reputation as a law-abiding, useful citizen; had married and was raising a family. We was well liked by his Ohio neighbors.

Oklahoma prison officials insisted that he be returned to serve the remainder of his term; that any other procedure would encourage others to attempt escape, and would break down the morale at Oklahoma reformatory. Upon this plea, Governor Marland of Oklahoma requested extradition of the prisoner.

Tempering Justice

But a Governor's powers often are discretionary, and after a hearing Governor Davey refused to grant the extradition request. No doubt it was the best solution to a difficult problem. Governor Davey feels that he has done the right thing in tempering justice with mercy; Oklahoma officials probably will be willing to surrender their rights to the prisoner now that they have made the claims demanded by their code, and certainly Mr. Chilton and his family should be well pleased with the turn of events.

In a recent study of American highways, with particular attention to the relations of roads to safe driving, the magazine Fortune said: "The cold fact is that traffic today is a combination of an eighty-mile-an-hour car in the hands of a twenty-mile-an-hour driver struggling to adjust itself to a thirty-mile-an-hour road." The statement is reminiscent of Jim Ferguson's statement of a dozen or more years ago, that we are "building four-year-roads with forty-year-bonds," but it is true, just the same.

Safety On Roads

There is little we can do about the car in this case—its speeds will continue to increase, and the automotive engineers have done wonders in improving the "safety factor," brakes, lights, steering mechanisms and body construction approach perfection.

As Fortune points out, there is something we can do about the highways. Half the highways in the United States, the magazine estimates, are obsolete. It points out that engineers have devised the model highway of the future—a road with over or under passes at intersections, with a wide dividing island down the center to prevent head-on crashes, and with separate lanes for slow and fast traffic. Such highways will be built, but their cost is gigantic, technical problems are involved, and it will be many years before the mileage of such super highways will amount to much in relation to the total mileage of all roads.

In the meantime, all we have to work on is the twenty-mile-driver with his eighty-mile-car. More stringent safety regulations, better highway patrols, strict licensing laws and educational programs to encourage safer driving — these seem the only answer to the problem of how to reduce appreciably the terrific toll of the highways.

It has been observed that although President Roosevelt has been in office only three years, he looks fully twenty years older. This is the best argument we have heard against the probability that we will ever have a woman for President. No woman would undertake a job that would add twenty years to her appearance in two or three years.

School Days
Picture Post Cards
Tall Grew the Pines

The schools days come
The kids must go,
And poor old Pap
Is drained of dough,
Excuse his looks,
His sagging mouth,
He's just gone through
Another Drouth.

It's the truth. The fathers of this year's college crop are having to make real sacrifices to send the kids back to school, if they get to go at all. But those who really want an education won't be hampered by drouth, no crops or sand storm. They'll fall in and help dad in some way to make it by the second semester, or they'll find a job at school and work for what they get. American girls and boys are that way.

Now comes this news picture of the boy and girl from Texas who got married in the mouth of the huge whale, a preserved 62 foot specimen on exhibition. Well, well, from an old timer at this marriage same they'll look down in the mouth soon enough without being married that way.

"It is easier to make a trade for a new automobile than for a new wife because they will always give you a good trade-in allowance for the old car," says Vad in the End Events.

Picture post cards oft remind us Centennial days are going grand And Galveston's bathing beauties Leave their footprints in the sand Unlike great men gone before us We can't make our lives sublime We can't choke Big Ben's reminder We must get to work on time!

A new book that any Texan should be proud that one of the native sons is its author is "Tall Grew the Pines" by Sierra Byrd, published by the Appleton-Century Company.

A story of the Piney Woods region of Texas or rather a series of episodes rather than a novel. The every day life of a small Texan town and its people is pictured. The rich color, the high drama and a love for these every day folks have been woven into a book of real entertainment and worth. On reading the book, one finds himself naming the characters as people he has known and he feels that he knows the town exactly. That is if the reader has ever lived in a small town. That is wherein the book's greatness lies. The town's name is New Hope but it might be any town in the Piney Woods section.

The story of the girl who loved is perhaps the outstanding episode but there are others equally as gripping according to the taste of the reader. Mr. Byrd has chosen his material carefully and skillfully. The old familiar characters who march through every episode seem to hail you as friends and to sit down to chat with you about things in which you are interested and want to know about.

It is said that every small town holds material for a thousand short stories and a hundred novels. If this is a sample it is a very tasty one and the reader looks forward to a bigger slice from the same pie.

The volume as a whole is one of which Texans will enjoy particularly and feel proud that a Texan wrote it.

I had intended to review that much talked of book by Margaret Mitchell, "Gone With the Wind." But having read about half of it, I've decided to wait until I go to the old ladies' home and spend my last years in this joyful pastime. The heat is doing something to my literary taste.

COLLEGE STATION—Water and the country, representing several power reservoirs in many part of billions of dollars in investments, are being endangered by excessive silt, according to the Soil Conservation Service bulletin. "Siltting of Reservoirs," just issued by the Department of Agriculture, Cleaning a reservoir, the bulletin emphasizes, is usually too expensive and the only way out is to stop erosion and keep out the mud.

The problem of protecting these reservoirs from destructive siltting goes hand in hand with the problem of saving farm and range lands from ruin by uncontrolled soil erosion, according to Henry M. Eakin, in charge of Sedimentation and Hydraulic Studies for the Soil Conservation Service, author of the bulletin.

The main reliance for prominent conservation of reservoir resources, he says, must be found in the control of silt production at its primary sources—in the fields, pastures and watershed area behind the reservoir. This can be done by more widespread and effective application of established erosion control methods.

Eakin points out that although certain supplementary practices of debris disposal may be employed to guard reservoir storage capacity against siltting, they are generally subject to prohibitive difficulties and limitations.

"Siltting of Reservoirs" is Technical Bulletin 524. Copies may be obtained from the Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D. C. at 40 cents each.

FALFURRIAS—John Negri, Brooks county dairyman and farmer of the Falfurrias community, last winter applied 101 loads of manure on a five acre field of Jigt sand. This spring he planted watermelon on the field, harvesting a bumper crop and made $74.20 profit per acre, according to Louise Franke, county agricultural agent.

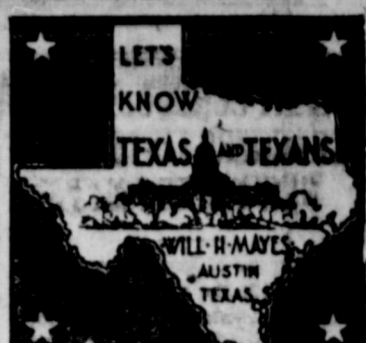

On an adjacent field also planted melons, but not fertilized with manure, Negri made only $4.35 profit on six acres.

CHANNING—A. L. Shackelford, who is one of the outstanding wheat farmers in Hartley county, has a very good and practical way for the tillage and planting of his wheat crop, reports J. E. Crabtree, former assistant county agricultural agent.

Shackelford follows the combine with a one-way plow which destroys the vegetation. About a week later, he follows this operation by chiseling the ground very deep and on the contour with a large chisel. This creates reservoirs to hold and retain water where it falls and gives an even distribution of moisture.

The assistant county agricultural agent points out that by using this method the land is prepared in fine shape for plowing. The wheat crop itself is also planted on the contour and retains the moisture in a like manner as does the chiseling.

ELDORADO—To keep the expense down in the improvement of her bedroom, Nell Edmiston, 4-H club bedroom improvement demonstrator in Schleicher county, used the canvas from the walls of her old room.

Q. Who was William J. E. Heard?
A. C. Wharton.
A. He came to Texas from Alabama in 1830 and settled first in Jackson county, but soon moved to Wharton; commanded a company in Burleson's regiment in Battle of San Jacinto, immediately in front of Mexican battery; at flash of cannon, his men all fell c'wn, but instantly rose on command and rushed to capture the cannon before they could be reloaded; in 1840 was engaged in Indian campaign on upper Colorado; was chief justice of Wharton county; moved from Wharton county to Chappell Hill after Civil War and died there in 1874.

Q. How does Longhorn Cavern compare in size with others in this country?
A. It is third in size, being exceeded only by Carlsbad Cavern and Mammoth Cave. It is thought that future exploration will largely increase its present size, as new chambers are constantly being opened.

Q. What is the length of Texas shortest highway and why was it built?
A. It is two blocks long and extends from Highway 19 in Huntsville to Sam Houston's grave, having been completed some three months ago.

STATE DEMOCRATS TO HOLD CONVENTION AT FORT WORTH SEPT. 8

A number of Brown county Democrats are planning to attend the State Democratic Convention in Fort Worth next Tuesday, September 8, at which time the Democratic state platform will be written and the state executive committee for the coming year will be selected.

Little actual work is in store for the delegates to the convention. The platform, major item of business to come before the convention, is being drafted now by friends of Governor James V. Allred, who, as the Democratic nominee for Governor, will be in control of the convention. Few controversial subjects are expected to appear in the final draft which will be presented to the convention.

Among planks suggested which might call for debate are the proposal of the Dallas county delegation to petition the Legislature to define the open saloon, barred in Texas by constitutional amendment; revision of the Democratic primary laws eliminating the second primary, this also in the form of a recommendation to the Legislature; and the possibility of taking a stand on censorship of student publications at the University of Texas.

William C. Reppas, managing editor of the Houston Chronicle and close personal friend and political ally of Governor Allred will be named temporary chairman and keynote for the convention. Mentioned as possible permanent chairman is Mark McGee, formerly of Brownwood but now a resident of Fort Worth.

No changes in the democratic state executive committee are expected other than filling a few vacancies. Myron Blacklock of Marshall will continue as chairman of the committee, Vann Kennedy of Austin secretary, and H. H. Jackson of Coleman will continue to serve as committeeman from this senatorial district. Jackson replaced L. D. Hillier of Brownwood when the latter resigned.

Following are the delegates from Brown county: Thomas H. Taylor, T. H. Hart, Wendell Mayes, Louis Harris, E. B. Sikes, S. E. Lacy, W. R. Chambers, W. F. Timmins, J. W. Page, Nat Simmons, C. L. McCartney and Dr. Mollie W. Armstrong. Alternates are L. N. Yarborough, F. S. Abney, James C. White, Hance Cobb, Mrs. J. W. Trapp, W. E. Burleson, Joe Danney, McGillivray Muse, W. F. Barnett, Rufus Stanley, Port Bladworth and Chester Harrison.

COURT GIVES CAPES TWO-YEAR SENTENCE

In a special session of District Court called by Judge E. J. Miller, Wednesday, Elzie Capes, 21, was given a two-year sentence in the state penitentiary after pleading guilty to the charge of theft of over $50. The theft was committed on the afternoon of July 5 when Capes allegedly took $52.15 from the Texaco Filling Station, operated by Charles R. Ater on Main Street, while the attendants were outside the station waiting on customers.

Sheriff Jack Hallmark and Deputy Chester Avinger arrested Capes a short distance from Ballinger on July 6 when the latter "thumbed" them for a ride. He was returned to Brownwood and lodged in county jail. When arrested Capes had in his possession 13 cubes of morphine, according to arresting officers.

An agreement between attorneys was reached that if the defendant would serve the minimum penalty of two years without asking for a pardon or parole of any kind, Capes would not be forced to serve a five year suspended sentence for a theft from Brown county, according to District Attorney A. O. Newman.
