HOG SUPPORT PRICE RAISED

A 50 cent increase in the support price for good and choice butcher hogs, Chicago basis, on all weights up to 270 pounds, effective immediately and continuing to September 1, 1946, has been announced by War Food Administrator Marvin Jones.

A joint statement by the War Food Administration and Office of Price Administration received by the A&M College Extension Service, said that the support price increase, along with a larger 1945 fall pig production, are planned to insure the largest practical production and marketing of pork products.

At the same time, the statement continues, Price Administrator Chester Bowles announced that there would be no reduction before September 1, 1946, in the ceiling prices for live hogs from the present levels of $14.75 a hundredweight, Chicago basis, for butchers and $14 for sows.

The statement points out that about 240,000,000 more bushels of corn are available for livestock feeding now than one year ago. If normal yields are obtained on the 960,000,000 acres of corn which farmers indicated on March 1 they intended to plant, WFA officials believe that sufficient feed supplies should be available to fatten a 37,000,000 fall pig crop this year.

Judge Jones explained that the 1945 fall pig production goal calls for the largest number for which it is safe to plan upon the basis of the expected feed supplies. But expected heavy demands for pork makes it advisable to maintain hog production at the highest possible level.

Canning Season Approaches

Canning season is approaching again. Are you sure of your pressure cooker gauge? Play safe and bring your pressure cooker, at any time, to the Home Economics Department for testing. Be sure that the temperature inside is what the gauge registers.

Now, more than ever before, you need to conserve your time as well as your food. If you were among the cautious who had your gauge tested last year, have it done again. The instrument is delicate and if you used it much last year it could be off some now.

There are no charges for testing your cooker. This is a part of the service rendered by Miss Maurice Berry in connection with her summer Homemaking program.

9 Donley Youths To Feed Calves For 1945

Nine Donley County youths will feed baby calves for the 1945 season, according to J. R. Gillham, local Vocational Agriculture instructor. All of the calves were secured from Jack Molesworth, Forest Sawyer, Clyde and John Howard Gilbert, and Murphy, W. J. Lewis, Jr., also agreed to cooperate in the calf feeding program, but all of the calves had been secured before the cattle were "worked" and gathered on the RO.

Dairying Is Potential Million Dollar Industry Here In Donley County

CEMETERY TO BE WORKED ON DECORATION DAY

A voluntary cemetery working, sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary, will take place at Citizens Cemetery next Wednesday, Decoration Day, beginning at 9 a. m.

If a large number of volunteers turn out, it will be easily possible to clean the Cemetery up in the one day, and have it in shape to where it can be more easily kept the remainder of the year.

CHURCH COUNCIL MEETING

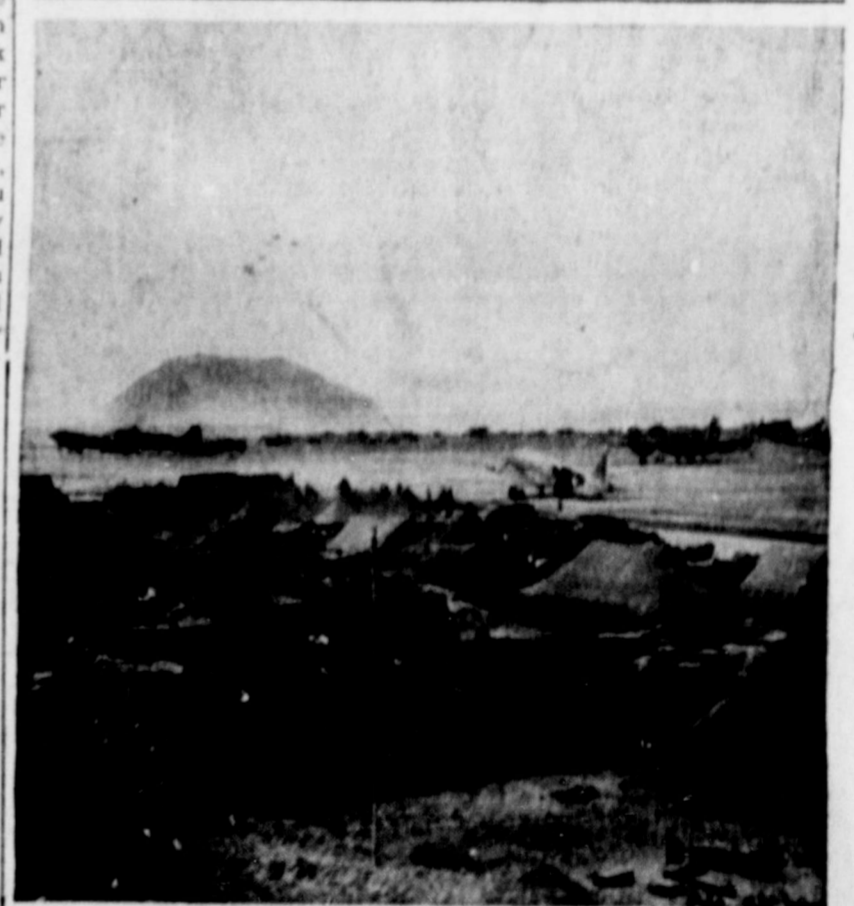

The Church Council will meet on Wednesday, the 30th, at the S. J. Ranch with Mrs. Millard Word, president of the council. The women of all the churches are invited. It is hoped many of them can go.

Dairying offers one of the surest and largest type of income to farmers in Donley County. Always noted as a feed producing county, Donley is much better adapted to dairying than most counties throughout Texas. For many years, thousands of pounds of cream have been shipped from Donley County, and now new markets for whole milk at the Cheese Plant at Memphis for Grade C milk and the milk plants at Amarillo have greatly increased the income from dairying.

Officials of the two milk plants at Amarillo informed representatives of the Clarendon Chamber of Commerce last week that they were importing over five thousand gallons of milk per day and many thousand pounds of condensed and powdered milk, and that they were much interested in developing a much larger milk producing basin in Donley Co.

Pvt. Frankie McClenny has been in the hospital in Amarillo for the past week and a half and is going to Longview next week for another check-up down there.

RAIL LAW CONFUSION

Another case of government inconsistency is being spotlighted in Congress by a proposed amendment to the Interstate Commerce Act.

Rep. A. L. Bulwinkle of North Carolina has introduced a measure in the House which would provide rate agreements among carriers to be approved by the I.C.C. only when found to be in furtherance of the national transportation policy declared in the Interstate Commerce Act. That sounds like mere routine; but if passed, the amendment would clear up a lot of static that has been created by the Department of Justice.

Last August, the anti-trust division of the Department of Justice filed a suit against the Western railroads, basing its charges on a series of rate agreements made with the approval of the Interstate Commerce Commission. Then, the Justice Department put itself in the position of attempting to nullify the policy of an agency created by Congress for the specific purpose of regulating railroads and other carriers. Nothing can come of it except confusion.

The Bulwinkle measure, however, would maintain the power of approving rate agreements, in the public interest, in the hands of the Interstate Commerce Commission, where it belongs.

Fred G. Gurley, able and public-spirited president of the Santa Fe, said in Los Angeles the other day that the single issue raised by the Bulwinkle bill is whether the railroads shall be regulated by the Interstate Commerce Commission or by the anti-trust division of the Department of Justice. He was eminently correct.

It should be noted that the late Joseph B. Eastman, former chairman of the commission, upheld the policy of rate agreements now under attack by the Justice Department. Mr. Eastman maintained that wide-open competition, with rate agreements barred, would mean that the benefits would go to shippers "in proportion to the size of the 'traffic club' that they could wield."

Somehow it doesn't seem fair that the railroads, in the midst of the world's greatest transportation job, should be heckled by a suit of this sort which clearly is nothing but a jurisdictional test. If the Bulwinkle amendment passes, it should clear the air.

Then Mr. Biddle, who has a habit of barging in on business regardless of consequences, will be forced to retreat from his ill-advised challenge to the Interstate Commerce Commission.—The Amarillo Daily News.

DO YOU NEED A SOCIAL SECURITY ACCOUNT NO. CARD IN A HURRY?

Seventeen per cent of all the applications for original Social Security cards received through the mail in the Amarillo, Texas field office of the Social Security Board have to be returned for completion or correction, according to James L. Farmer, manager. This means that every sixth person, applying through the mail, has to wait twice as long to receive his card because of his hasty preparation of the application.

The information on the application must be complete and correct because it identifies the person for his old-age and survivors insurance account. It will be used to identify the person for paying benefits when he reaches age 65, or in the event of his death at any time. All the information on applications for Social Security Account number cards is strictly confidential and cannot be disclosed by Board employees. No one should hesitate, therefore, to give the correct information about himself. Short, simple instructions for completing the form are on the application itself. If these instructions are followed, the account number card can be mailed back to the applicant immediately.

Personal assistance will be given any applicant who calls in person at the Board's office, 324 New Post Office Building, Amarillo, Texas, and an original Social Security account number card can be issued there to the individual within a few minutes.

Undulant Fever Season Here

This is the season when an increase of undulant fever may be expected, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

An undulant fever patient suffers from chilly sensations, or severe shaking chills, sweats, and high fever. The patient loses weight and becomes weak. If the illness is of mild type, the patient may find it hard to remain in bed, but if he tries to keep on with his work he finds he has not sufficient energy.

Symptoms often continue for a number of weeks before recovery occurs. Fortunately undulant fever has a low death rate. Body temperature may reach a higher mark each day than the day before for some time, and then gradually return to normal over a period of several days. Fever may be absent for some days and come back again in the same way as before, registering higher each day and then gradually going lower. The patient's temperature chart will resemble smooth waves or undulations. The appearance of the temperature curve in typical cases has given this disease the name undulant fever.

Undulant fever is one of the infectious diseases known to be transmitted from animals to human beings. In hogs and cows, the germ produces a great economic loss because it causes contagious abortion. When this same germ invades the human body, the resulting disease is undulant fever. Prevention is dependent upon (1) eradication of the disease in farm animals, (2) careful pasteurization of dairy products, and (3) avoidance, in so far as possible, of direct contact with infected animals.

The hardest job to do is to do a little job well.

You can't change the nature of your faults by blaming them on your nature.

THE TEMPLE OF TRUTH

By the Apostle

HISTORY.

Norman Ballee-Stewart of England went to prison for five years for selling military secrets to the Germans. When he got out of hock, he went to Germany and became what is known as "Lord Haw Haw." He gave the German radio propaganda news to the world in English. Now he is a prisoner of the English and, after four years of Haw Haw, he will likely miss the final Ha Ha.

The pioneers were not due so much credit for being law-abiding. They simply didn't have so many laws to break in those days.

HEADLINE STUFF.

"Jap privy council meets," is the daily paper headline for Monday. Where else would you expect them to meet after our boys have done all that bombing over there.

POPULARITY.

The most popular song in Germany today is said to be "Don't fence Me In."

EXPLANATION.

"Gone With the Wind" is said to be a book title. Right now it is the old Apostle's garden title. Do you remember the wind storm of three days and nights back in February of 1896? It blew Panhandle dirt down on the black lands of east Texas and covered up fences with sand from eastern Colorado to Cooke county, Texas. Most any old timer in the area will recall that worst of all spells.

RED POINT STUFF.

Goering's stripped of medals And don't know what to do; And that big hunk of fat Is in a great stew.

If Berlin bombings is true Hitler may be a grease spot too. Or did he high tail to Japan To join up with the monkey man?

BAD JUDGMENT.

Then there was the Scotchman who was nearly beaten to death. He thought the sign on the door said "Laddies."

Russell Morris, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Morris, has been promoted to the ranks of Petty Officer First Class. Russell was lately confined to a hospital at his base because of a tropical fever.

His condition however, has improved and he was to get out of the hospital soon after he wrote the last letter received by his folks.

They say he would have lived to a ripe old age if he hadn't eaten so many cherries — from the bottom of his cocktail glass.

If you want to know why the girls close their eyes when they kiss you, look in the mirror.

Let's all buy a bunch of bonds, to bomb a bunch of bums. Think that one over—then try to say it fast—then go buy a bond.

When ma says that pa hammers nails like lightning it doesn't necessarily mean that he's fast; could be that he just never hits twice in the same spot.

When he asks for our daughter's hand, we are going to urge him to take the one that is always in our pocket.

Maybe it isn't a disgrace to be poor, but it's mighty inconvenient.

The mocking bird is the official bird of Texas.

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 7
 proposing an amendment to Article VI of the Constitution of Texas providing that any person in the armed forces of the United States, or the Armed Force Reserve of the United States, or of any branch or component part thereof, or the United States Maritime Service, or the United States Merchant Marine, or who has been a member of same within eighteen months prior to the holding of any election in this state authorized by law, and is otherwise a qualified voter, shall not be required to pay, or to hold a receipt for the payment of, a poll tax in order to vote at any such election, if same is held while the United States is at war or within a certain stated time thereafter; providing that members of the regular Army, Navy, or Marine Corps of the United States shall not be permitted to vote; providing that other members of the armed forces shall be entitled to vote under certain conditions; providing the form of the ballot for voting on said proposed amendment; fixing the time for holding an election; directing the Governor to issue the necessary proclamations; and making an appropriation.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:
 Section 1. There shall be submitted to the qualified voters of the State of Texas the matter of amending Article VI of the Constitution of Texas, by adding thereto a new section which will modify the present restrictions concerning voting. This new section shall be inserted between Section 2 and Section 3 of said Article VI, and shall be known as Section 2a, and shall read as follows:

"Section 2a. Nothing in this Constitution shall be construed to require any person, who at the time of the holding of an election hereinafter referred to, is, or who, within eighteen months immediately prior to the time of holding any such election was, a member of the armed forces of the United States or of the Armed Force Reserve of the United States, or of any branch or component part of such armed forces or Armed Force Reserve, or the United States Maritime Service or the United States Merchant Marine, and who is otherwise a qualified voter, under the laws and Constitution of this state, to pay a poll tax or to hold a receipt for any poll tax assessed against him, as a condition precedent to his right to vote in any election held under the authority of the laws of this state, during the time the United States is engaged in fighting a war, or within one year after the close of the calendar year in which said war is terminated.

"Provided, however, that the foregoing provisions of this section do not confer the right to vote upon any person who is a member of the regular establishment of the United States Army, Navy, or Marine Corps; and provided further, that all persons in the armed forces of the United States, or the component branches thereof, not members of the regular establishment of the United States Army, Navy, or Marine Corps, are hereby declared not to be disqualified from voting by reason of any provision of sub-section 'Fifth' of Section 1 of this Article."

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this state on August 25, 1945, at which election all voters favoring said proposed amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the following:

IN FLANDERS' FIELDS
 By Col. John McCrae
 On Flanders Field the poppies blow
 Between the crosses row on row,
 That mark our place; and in the sky
 The larks still bravely singing fly,
 Scarce heard amidst the guns below.
 We are the dead.
 Short days ago we lived, felt
 Dawn, saw sunset glow,
 Loved and were loved and now we lie
 On Flanders Fields.
 Take up our quarrel with the foe,
 To you from falling hands we throw
 The Torch—be yours to hold it high;
 If ye break faith with us who die
 We shall not sleep, though poppies grow
 In Flanders Fields.

They raised the Flag again on Corregidor...

Let's raise the money in the MIGHTY SEVENTH

OUR FLAG flies once again over Corregidor. The cost was great in blood and pain, but our fighting men did not turn back. And on two Jims, four thousand men—more and more—died to take the long step forward to Victory. Twenty thousand others suffered wounds. Yes, we're on the way to Tokyo!

At home, your contribution to Victory is measured in dollars. The Seventh War Loan is the biggest in America's history because seven billion dollars must be raised from individuals alone. That means you must buy more and bigger War Bonds.

This is really two great loans in one; for this time last year you had been called upon twice to subscribe in War Loans. As our fighting men raise Old Glory all over the world—let's raise the money back home!

VICTORY - MEMORIAM

The following article was sent in by G. D. Shelley Jr., a veteran of the Iwo Jima battle. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Shelley of Clarendon.

Today, 8 May, 1945, is a day that will live in the hearts and minds of the peoples of the world for all time. It is a day that will loom bright on the pages of history books. In years to come, humanity will think of it as a day for prayer, thanksgiving and celebration. For today is V-E Day. The European war is finished. The forces which for years have blanketed the ideals and principles of the peace loving nations in Europe, have at last been destroyed. Eisenhower, leading the armies of the United States, Russia and England, has triumphed over the murderous hordes of Hitlerdom. Yes, today is a joyous day!

There is one little spot in particular, in this great world, of which I would like to write. It is just a little open field but to the 27th Marines, it is the Regimental Parade Ground. And on this little parade ground today, sadness was intermingled with joy. For there today, the 27th Marine Regiment of the United States Marine Corps, gathered together to pay tribute to their gallant comrades who paid the supreme sacrifice in the fight for Iwo Jima. It was a beautiful, sunshiny day with only a few rain clouds poised over the hills in the distance. However, God, in his goodness and understanding, delayed the rain till the ceremony was completed. As we sat on the fresh, green grass, gazing at "Old Glory" and the Regimental Colors waving gently in the soft breeze, the thought entered my mind as it must have entered hundreds of others, "Those boys who lie in the sands of Iwo will never again see the sun or the grass, will never again gaze in awe at the splendor of a rainbow and will never again feel the touch of a balmy, spring breeze on their face." At the same time, a lot of us were thinking, "After the next push, when the regiment gathers to remember those who died, will I be there or will I be one of those being remembered?" But forgetting the thoughts we had of ourselves, what words could possibly describe the pity and affection we felt at that moment for the dead on Iwo Jima? There are many adjectives among them being, awful, terrible, horrible and a host of others. But these seem to me words which men and women standing on street corners in the United States or over their breakfast tables in a peaceful home, these are the words they would use. There are only three little words I can think of which these men I was with today would use. But in those three little words would be more tender feeling and a deeper, abiding love for their fallen comrades than in all the larger, better-sounding words utterable. Those three are, "It's really rough!"

After the invocation by the chaplain, a quartet from the regiment sang the hymn, "God Of Our Fathers." Their strong, young voices rang out clearly over the heads of the men who were seated. There could not have been a man present whose thoughts did not drift to God in His heaven and the prayer that He would have mercy on the souls of the boys who died on Iwo.

Following the hymn, the chaplain spoke a few words mentioning the fact that the last time the regiment gathered together was to celebrate D-Day in Normandy and today, the day we are meeting in memorial to the fallen heroes of Iwo Jima, is, by a great coincidence, V-E Day in Europe. He then announced that a plaque bearing the name of every member of the 27th Marines, who was killed on Iwo Jima, would now be presented to the Regimental Commander. Accepting the plaque, the "Old Man", as he is called by the troops, delivered a few words. It was a very fine tribute, more so in fact than if it had been rehearsed though it was quite plain to see, it had not been. He stated that the reason we were gathered here today was that in battle, there is not time for sentiment but it is only fitting that there should be a time and place for us to think of those who did not come back. He asked us to remember, each Memorial Day, in years to come, the boys we left on the way, in our drive toward final victory.

Taps was then sounded, very beautifully; the National Anthem was played by the Regimental Band and the ceremony was ended.

Yes, today is Victory Day, but to the men of the 27th Marines, it is also Memorial Day.

The round trip to Tokio is over water all the way. There aren't any emergency landing fields—just those endless, marching lines of big, green Pacific rollers.

It's no wonder, then, that the flight engineer on a B-29 is one of the most important men aboard. They call him the "gasoline salesman"—the fellow who nurses that big baby along and makes every single drop of 100-octane fuel count. And we think there's a pretty good moral in his story for you folks.

After all, you're the "flight engineer" of your car. And though you won't get a ducking in the Pacific if you let her run out of gas, you still can't afford to neglect your car's running order. Because you have a direct responsibility to your Uncle Sam to "Care for your car for your country!"

Too many cars are going off the road these days just because of needless neglect. And those irreplaceable cars are part of our vital war-time transportation system!

But you can easily take that added ounce of precaution which will keep your car purring along—and your Phillips 66 Service Man will be delighted to help you!

He'll check your tires for cuts and bruises and criss-cross them with the spare; he'll check your oil and water and brakes; he'll look at your battery and oil filter, and he'll keep his eyes open for loose nuts and bolts, too. In fact, your Phillips 66 Service Man will do all the things he does for many of your neighbors—all of them part of the Phillips Car-Saving Plan that keeps 'em rolling!

For your car's sake as well as your country's—stop in the next time you see the Orange and Black 66 Shield... the sign of famous Phillips 66 Gasoline and Phillips 66 Motor Oil.

RED CROSS VOLUNTEER SERVICE

HOME SERVICE
By Mrs. C. A. Burton

The Red Cross Fleet is now in process of liquidation. Each vessel as it sets out from Philadelphia is on her last voyage for the Red Cross. By the middle of June the Fleet will have been disbanded and will pass into history. In 124 round trip trans-Atlantic crossings Red Cross and other chartered neutral ships have carried since the beginning of 1941 up to April 1945 more than 170,000 tons of relief supplies including 28 million food packages.

The Prisoner of War Bulletin will be discontinued in its present form in June. This has been sent all next-of-kin to prisoners and to all Home Service workers for more than 2 years. It will be replaced later on by a Far Eastern edition of the Bulletin, giving information from the Far East only.

Employees at depots in areas where prisoners are being released in Europe are being asked to work in night and day shifts with the purpose of providing food from the 200,000 tons of supplies from combined Allied Red Cross societies of Sweden, Switzerland, England, Canada, and the U. S.

The four packaging plants at Brooklyn, New York, Philadelphia, and St. Louis will close June 1st. These centers have carried on the vast amount of work with women volunteers.

Packages for prisoners of war in the Far East to the number of 300,000 are being prepared in St. Louis and 100,000 in Philadelphia. Besides these, the Army is having prepared for the Red Cross 300,000 packages of a different type, starting June 10, and continuing through August, at the rate of 20,000 per week.

Relatives of prisoners of war have been reassured by the statements that there is a difference between camps of civilian labor groups and prisoners of war captured. International Red Cross has had no control of the former, but has been able to bring in supplies and give a certain amount of protection to the latter, under the terms of the Geneva convention. Therefore the accounts of the atrocities have been largely among the former. All mail addressed to prisoners of war in Germany is being returned, and postmasters will accept no more.
