FARM RELIEF THAT COUNTS

The best form of farm relief that could be measured out to the producers, is a reduction in taxes. In fact this is the only form of farm relief that seems possible right now.

Traffic Census On Highways Covers Four Day Period

Work will be directed by O. J. Fleeman, Foreman Donley and Armstrong

Beginning Saturday morning, a traffic census will be taken of the state highways passing through Donley county.

Autoists are cautioned to observe the red lights during night driving, and slow up. Signs will be displayed reading "Taking Traffic Census—Please Drive Slow." A man will be stationed on each side of the highway where the count is being taken.

Men will be at a point stationed four miles east of Clarendon, west of Clarendon at the Donley-Armstrong county line, nine miles north of Clarendon, at Rockledge on 66 highway, Donley and Gray county line on Highway 88.

The count will be taken at the five places named above. This census is being taken at this time to determine which highways have the heaviest traffic, as state appropriations for highway work will be based on the amount of traffic.

Roy Wilson Case Reversed by Higher Court

The case of Roy Wilson, convicted at the last term of court on an arson charge and given three years by a jury here, has been reversed by the court of Criminal Appeals and will come back for a new hearing.

The case of Hess Tyler, charged with the murder of Bryan Nall, Eli storekeeper and given the death penalty at Memphis March 1, 1930, has also been reversed and will again be brought to trial at Memphis or nearby county.

These cases are said to be the only two reversals in the district since Judge Fires assumed the bench by election some four years ago.

Furniture Made During Days of Civil War In Use Here

School Desk is Hand Made in 1864; Intact After 67 Years of Service

Among the interesting relics of pioneer days to be found in Clarendon is a desk, the property of Mr. T. W. Smith, who resides on the south side of town.

This desk takes one back to the old blue back speller days for it was made by a carpenter by the name of Dixon in 1864 in his carpenter shop at Waxahachie. Mr. Smith explains that each pupil was forced to provide his own desk at that time.

When the desk was finished, Mr. Smith, then aged seven, and his mother drove to the shop behind a yoke of steers hitched to a "lynchpin" wagon. He modestly admits that he was proud of the desk, a top-notch for those days.

The desk is made from pine with the legs rabbited in and a sloping top that may be raised. It has plenty of room beneath for books and was used by several of the children of the family in school as years went by.

The desk measures about four feet in length and about two and half feet in width. The legs were hand turned and the job reflects credit on the workman even in this day. It has never become necessary to renail, the legs and body being rigid through the sixty-seven years of hard usage and moving. It is now serving as a linen closet.

Mr. Smith has another desk, solid quarter-sawn oak that was used by an official at the World's Fair at St. Louis in 1904. It was purchased there by a Panhandle banker and later sold to Mr. Smith.

This desk is of excellent workmanship finished both front and back. Glass doors, drawers and pigeon holes are all finished in excellent taste. Naturally, the desk is very heavy being of solid oak, a class of furniture seldom offered for sale at this time.

Oil Discovered Near Quail Affects Local People

Oil was found at a depth of 2498 feet Friday in the No. 1 Bell being drilled by Downey and others about three miles northeast of Quail.

The well is located on Sec. 102 of Block 21, H&GN Survey about 16 miles northwest of Wellington.

The oil sand was penetrated about two feet when the oil rose 350 feet in the hole. A number of local people have visited the well and samples have been brought here. It is said to be 38 to 40 gravity oil.

This well is located near the ranch lands owned by the Bourland heirs and the ranch of Mack Bourland. Flop Pyle also has 80 acres just east of the prospect. Other Clarendonites and Donley county citizens own land in fee or lease rights near the well.

Over a Hundred Contribute to Barbecue Fund

City Marshal Flop Pyle made the rounds of the business houses Tuesday gathering up donations of coin of the realm towards a fund with which beefs will be purchased for the barbecue here the 4th of July.

Over a hundred individuals and firms contributed to the fund amounting to $244.85 up to Wednesday night.

This fund will insure plenty of barbecued meats of different kinds which will be free to consumers who come to celebrate. It is apparent that nothing is being overlooked to make this big show a success enabling every one to have a grand and glorious time.

T. C. Gardner Speaks at Baptist Church

State B. Y. P. U. Secretary, T. C. Gardner spoke to a most interested audience at the Baptist church Sunday morning.

Mr. Gardner, as always, brought a challenging message, stressing the need and value of trained workers in the service of Christ.

Mr. Gardner met the B. Y. P. U. workers in a very helpful conference from 2:30 till 3:30, in which problems peculiar to the training department of the church were discussed.

Mr. Gardner went from Clarendon to Memphis to speak there at the evening hour.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Douglas and children are spending a vacation period in Dallas with his brother and mother.

H. B. Kerbow has been doing service again on the Federal Grand Jury at Amarillo.

He will office with his brother in the goldston building. His family will arrive soon and the good citizens of this section extend him and his family a welcome.

Chas. J. Derrick is Buried Here Tuesday Afternoon

Late Saturday afternoon Chas. J. Derrick suffered a stroke of paralysis at the Rutherford apartments leaving him unable to speak. He was taken to Adair hospital but continued to sink passing away late Monday afternoon.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. R. S. McKee, pastor of the Presbyterian church at the Buntin funeral home Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock with interment in Citizens cemetery.

The deceased suffered his first stroke during August of last year while working on a ranch in New Mexico. He spent some time in an Amarillo hospital but never fully regained his health.

Mr. Derrick has been punching cattle in this section of the Panhandle for the past forty years. He spent several years on the J. A.'s and a longer period on the Jim McMurtry ranch.

He is a half brother of Romeo Derrick of the Rowe ranch, and a cousin of Mrs. Geo. Doshier who resides southwest of town.

Rain Clouds Limit Brice Attendance at Trade-Trip Meet

Industrious Ladies Enrich Athletic Fund Over $16 in Cold Drink Sales

Low hanging rain clouds and a stormy evening probably discounted the size of the crowd by half that would have been present at Brice Friday night on the occasion of the Trade-Tripper program at that place.

County Agent T. R. Brown announced the events to fill out the 4th of July program here.

I. B. Pierce, pleased with his masterful skill on the Hawaiian guitar to which Reed Aycock played the accompaniment. These boys furnished a class of music not at all common and is said to have pleased a larger percentage than any other novelty number.

Mrs. John M. Bass contributed a pleasing piano solo. Charley Walker followed this number with a saxophone solo with Miss Delphia Bones at the piano.

Mrs. W. C. Stewart contributed a reading in her own inimitable manner that was especially pleasing.

Tap dancing where superior skill is involved, always is a pleasing number, and this was no exception when young Miss Mary Travis Dyer gave an exhibition of the art accompanied by Miss Fray Stallings at the piano.

The Clarendon band boys directed by Gus B. Stevenson were much in evidence playing their first numbers in the open air. The band played a few numbers on the inside of the auditorium putting the crowd in a fine mood for the excellent program that followed.

T. D. Nored was master of ceremonies directing the program and assisting in seeing that every one had an enjoyable time. J. H. Gillespie of Brice thanked the visitors and gave them a cordial invitation to return at any future time.

Las Paratas members served ice cream, lemonade, cake and other dainties from which sale they realized more than sixteen dollars. Clarendon contributed the largest number of visitors while Brice and nearby communities made up the remainder two hundred or more to enjoy the event.

Railroads Will Deliver And Pick Up Freight Here Soon

New Method To Take Effect After August First Over Entire Southwest

In an effort to meet truck competition, the several railroads serving the southwest will put into effect August 1st a system of picking up and delivering freight at your place of business when such shipments are in less than car lots.

This new method will effect shipments from and to Clarendon according to information coming from the local freight office. It is said that this extra service applies only to freight shipments coming within 300 miles of here.

The 'pick-up and delivery' method will be in charge of some local trucking firm, the contract being let by bid.

When one has a freight shipment all that is necessary is to call Number 7 and the freight will be picked up without extra charge. Freight arriving at the local station will be delivered without extra charge if such shipment is in less than car lots. This is the latest definite plan on the part of the railroads to offset the inroads of the truck lines.

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Trostle and daughter Marue, visited relatives in Gruver Tuesday.

Miss Lois Cox will accompany Rev. and Mrs. Ferrell to El Paso Tuesday stopping to view Carlsbad cavern. On the return she will leave them at Sweetwater and return home. The minister's family will continue to New Bern, North Carolina.

Clothing Contest Is Held At Club Room Here Wednesday

Eighty-Five Ladies Doing Club Work Were Present During The Day

One of the most enthusiastic gatherings ever held by the H. D. club women of this county was held in the City Hall here Wednesday. So numerous were the dresses entered in the dress contest that the exhibit was made in the spacious offices of the County Agent and H. D. Agent.

The noon luncheon was prepared in the Ladies Club Room. A few men dared to come out for the wonderful display of kitchen products that consisted of all the products of quality cookery.

It was especially noticeable that a number of the foods spread on the table were worthy products of the home canner handled by an apt student. Canned meats and vegetables made up a long list of products.

The attendance, enthusiasm of her pupils and the wonderful display of products closely identified with her work, is a distinct compliment to Miss Martha Buttrill, Donley county's highly appreciated home demonstration agent.

Dress Contest: 1st prize, Mrs. C. E. Lindsey, Clarendon Club. Prize is a trip to A&M Short Course contributed by the Clarendon Chamber of Commerce.

2nd Prize, paper for living room given by Cameron Lumber Co. awarded to Mrs. Ross Adamson of the Wifadasos Club of Hedley.

Nored Is Elected President of Credit Men's Association

Election of Officers And Directors at Banquet Tuesday Evening

Several matters of importance came up for discussion at a meeting of the Retail Merchant Credit Men's Association at the meeting held at Hotel Clarendon Tuesday evening.

The Association voted to incorporate by unanimous consent after the matter was discussed by several relative to the merits of such an action.

The problem of closing for the 4th of July holiday was also up for consideration. After some discussion this matter was passed up as practically all of the members had signed pledges to close several months ago.

An election of officers was held following the banquet period. The official family for the remainder of the year is as follows: president T. D. Nored; vice president, Ralph Andis; J. E. Teer, A. Parker and Joe Holland, Jr. were elected members of the governing board.

Making A Small City Lot Acreage Pay Big Dividends

Mechanic Finds Pleasure In Devising Methods That Boost Production

With no time for golf, too old for baseball, Mr. Will Johnson of the well known machine and welding works firm of Johnson & Dawkins, finds health and pleasure in outdoor recreation while producing vegetables and strawberries on small acreage at his home in Clarendon.

Being a mechanic by nature and training, Mr. Johnson is enabled to devise means and methods of getting best results at a minimum of cost. His water system, for instance, consists of an ordinary cylinder pump to which he has attached an electric motor for power.

This contrivance furnishes the water for irrigation purposes. "What about the cost of operation?" he was asked as the motor was going at full speed and the water shooting out at more than thirty gallons a minute. "Just two cents an hour," he said, having figured out every item of expense as he progressed with his project.

His garden shows up a wonderful lot of beets and English peas ready for the table. His squash are amazing. The peanuts and onions are the best ever. His beans are coming right along and scarcely a weed is seen in the whole truck garden.

His strawberries set out seven weeks ago have berries on them and some vines have long runners taking root. The plants look to have been set a year ago. Fine large, thrifty plants.

These berries are irrigated by an underground system. Laths were nailed together taking the place of piping. The seepage from the "lath-piping" irrigates the plants. He expects to change to cypress lathing another year. This is merely an experiment, he said.

It will surprise any one who will take the trouble to look at the fine array of stuff Mr. Johnson has growing on a small city lot acreage. It shows the possibilities and the small cost of production. This is his only recreation, and what could be more worth while?

Mystery Cleared By Judge Porter At Lions Luncheon

Boss Lion Keeps Meeting Pepped Up by Grueling Cross Examination

After disposing of the selection of a delegate to the International Lions Convention at Toronto, Canada in which the newly elected president, G. L. Boykin was given the trip, the Boss Lion turned his attention to jocular affairs to enliven the meeting.

Calling attention to the fact that a curious crowd was seen on the street surrounding Judge Porter, the Boss Lion was curious for an explanation.

After a severe cross examination the examinee admitted that he was innocently exhibiting a wagon wheel to the curious. The said wheel being a part of the wagon driven by Judge Porter's grand father from Tennessee to Missouri, and then to Texas.

He relaxed under the gruelling redirect examination to the extent of admitting that he fully intended to contribute the wheel to the historical collection of the museum at Canyon, and thus the mystifying circumstances were cleared up.

Sam Braswell, Sr. gave a report on the State Press meet at San Angelo and stressed the optimism of the profession.

Dr. M. L. Stricklin of Groesbeck, who has decided to become a resident of Clarendon, was a guest of the meeting. Mrs. Richmond Bowlin was also a guest of the Club.

Square Dance is Being Given by Council

Old time fiddlers have been engaged and old time callers in number will be present to do the calling act. The big show starts at 8 and will continue until 12 stopping promptly at midnight.

In addition to the square dancing, there will be waltzing and schottisches just like the old days of fun and frolic. If plans do not fail, there will be some good old time buck and wing performance to recall pioneer days.

The ladies are staging this performance for the purpose of raising funds to send delegates to the Short Course.

Annual Picnic is Observed by Preachers' Families

Monday was a big day for the preachers of the Methodist denomination of this district. They, with their families celebrated the annual picnic affair at Lelia Monday.

While the ladies visited, the men folks played games of ball and pitched washers. A minister reporting this enjoyable affair emphasized the fact that washers instead of 'dollars' were used in the 'pitching' process.

The children were also provided with plenty of amusement in playing a number of games. More than sixty were in attendance.

The big feature during the social hour was a contest entered into by three couples. This contest consisted of removing from a suit case a coat, hat and umbrella for each partner, making a race across the room and repacking.

Goldston Ball Players Win Victories

Goldston's crack baseball team stacked up two more victories over the week.

The game with Tulla played at Silverton Sunday resulted in a 6-0 victory. Again young Vodie Clemmens demonstrated his ability to twirl phantom ball easily backing the enemy to the goose egg line.

Jericho stepped out to give the boys a test Wednesday. Considering the team they went up against, Jericho made a good showing. The score was 5-2 in favor of the Goldston team.

Varied Program Greatly Appreciated By Rotary Club

Rhythm-Dancing and Music Precedes Pleasing Talk of Clarendon's Postmaster

The members and visitors at Friday's luncheon of the Rotary club were instantly 'pepped up' from the start on a well arranged program when the obliging band director, Gus B. Stevenson, complimented them with a saxophone solo. Rotary Ann Rhoda Wiedman accompanied on the piano.

Grace and rhythm was much in evidence when little Miss Mary Travis Dyer tripped lightly to the tune of "On the Sidewalks of New York" as played by Rotary Ann at the piano.

Postmaster Chas. H. Bugbee brought both humor and information to the Club in a splendid talk regarding postal service and regulations. His was one of the most pleasing addresses heard in some time and was highly appreciated.

Geo. H. McCleskey and L. H. Baker were voted new members at this meeting and will be received into the Club at their meeting the 19th.

Life's Hazards.

Next to dogging high-jackers, we know nothing more hazardous than being a plump young rooster during protracted meeting time.

Commencement.

The reason graduation exercises is referred to as "commencement", is probably due to the fact that the graduates are ready to begin looking for a job.

Doubling Up.

Dozens of large corporations are making a big cry about maintaining a high scale of wages and salaries.

They say nothing about the thousands who have been discharged with the remaining few doing double and treble duty to receive the same wage scale. Those who are elected to remain on the job are said to have been instructed to "keep quiet" if they expect to continue on the pay roll.

Whatsa Matter Tom?

During the last governor campaign, if our memory serves us rightly, Thos. T. Waggoner referred to supporters of Jim Ferguson as being "flannel-mouthed anarchists."

Now friend Thos. T., bold editor of the Claude News with a strong penchant for saying what he thinks at any and all times, is telling his people to subscribe for and read Ferguson's Forum because they will get more political news out of it than from any other source.

Chicago Heard From.

A federal grand jury in Chicago Friday indicted 68 alleged manufacturers of strong drink. In the 68 indictments, it is estimated that 5000 offenses have been committed dating back for ten years.

Until Cermac became mayor of the windy city, booze hounds had it all their own way. The lawyers will now have a chance to even the score. Capone is among those to be charged with violation of the liquor law. Cermac is making his promises good to clean up that city before the opening of the World's Fair.

Character Counts.

There was a time when bankers doted much on the financial ability of a borrower to repay loans. They have learned better. Times and conditions may have brought about a change. Perhaps the bankers have grown wiser from experience.

Be is said to the credit of local bankers and bankers of the Panhandle, a poor man who has an honorable record, can borrow money within reasonable amounts much more easily than can a man who owns thousands of dollars of collateral.

Character is the first consideration. Past record for repayments is also a prime consideration. His ability to properly judge of the amount of responsibility to assume is also another criterion by which the banker judges him. It is a long step forward for the banks to begin to recognize merit.

Gamblers-Big and Little.

Judge Gough of Amarillo continues his efforts to bring to a court test the legality or illegality of board of trade gambling in farmer products. The boards operate in many places. Members gamble in futures and have much to do with price fixing of commodities produced by the sweat of the farmer class.

In this highly civilized nation, crap shooting and poker playing is regarded as a crime though only a few are affected. On the other hand, boards of trade are permitted to gamble on the prices of farmer products affecting the very existence of millions. It may be legally right, but it durn sure is morally wrong.

Oil Proration.

Every paper on picks up these days is filled with a lot of stuff about proration. This proration idea is supposed to govern the crude oil output. It is a means of saving the big companies as against the independent operators. The large oil companies import millions of barrels from foreign nations. If they can succeed in getting oil production prorated or cut down in these United States, the small producer will become extinct. Small land owners will not have a market and oil and gas under his land will not be worth a dime.

If oil proration is a good thing, lets have wheat proration. In fact let's prorate the whole blamed thing if it is as good as press agents of the big oil companies claim for it.

Whaddayu Mean, Sheriff?

And here Sheriff Crimm over at Littlefield hails the honorable mayor T. S. Sales into court and makes him pay a fine of $37.30 for being drunk in a public place, according to newspaper reports.

That just goes to show how little some mayors know about a town in which they are mayoring. Perhaps he had been used to drinking in private and did not know where the private and public deadline really was now.

Mayors should know the difference between public and private places in their own towns. That fine should have been doubled. If he was fined for being drunk, he should have been fined again for being ignorant.

And that sheriff! He claims it doesn't make any difference who violates the law, he's just agonna jug him whether or no. And all this happening over in the section where a tiger tore up a mere babe onlooker last year.

Where We Headed?

Here's a problem in high finance we would like for Andy Melon to figure out. If the government can increase its expenditures five times within 15 years, how long will it take this government to reduce its citizens to paupers?

Upon analysis of the government's figures we see that certain services were increased as follows: general law enforcement, 11 times; promotion and regulation of commerce and industry, 11 times; postal services (deficiency in revenue) 10 times; promotion and regulation of agriculture, 14 times; promotion of labor interests, 13 times. Total fixed debt charges, 50 times. In relief measures alone was there any decrease over the 15 year period.

In addition to indirect payment of the above, the ordinary citizen pays his increased county, state, city and dozens of other taxes that are constantly on the increase. In view of the fact that this citizen's ability to earn in proportion during the past two years has been greatly cut down, where are we headed for, anyhow?

President Traylor.

About a week ago a number of large banks merged in Chicago, probably to save embarrassment. On Monday morning Melvin Traylor mingled with the mob in the lobby and told them "this is the First National Bank now and I am president."

He continued all of Monday and Tuesday to assure the depositors that their funds were then and would continue to be handled safely. This Melvin Traylor was formerly cashier and janitor and what-not of a bank at Malone, Texas. He later stepped up to a 'job' in the Citizen's National at Ballinger, Texas.

In the course of eleven years he became president of the First National of Chicago, one of the three largest banks of this nation. He was born in Kentucky of poor parentage. He got his first pair of shoes at seven. He never saw a train until he was nineteen years of age.

As president of the American Banker's Association, he became acquainted with men higher up. The big city called to the country born youth of poverty to come in and save the day for the big bank in the worst panic the world has ever known. Melvin Traylor will put over the job just as he has others.

Thanks, Governor, Thanks.

The Canyon Museum appropriation escaped the Governor's veto. Whether the hundreds of letters mailed him from the Panhandle, and dozens from Donley county and given through this paper, had any effect, we do not know. It likely had a lot of bearing on the case inasmuch as the Governor states that he approved the measure simply because the people out here were raising a similar sum to insure the building.

The state has set aside $25,000. M. K. Brown, pioneer of Pampa, is chairman of the committee to collect funds. This is a matter in which all the Panhandle may share a part.

Priceless relics of pioneer days worth thousands of dollars have been deposited with the school at Canyon. Prof. L. F. Sheffy has spent a lot of time and money individually in collecting these relics. Others have given unstintedly of their time and means in helping along this important work.

With the erection of the new building, relics of other ages will then be sought. Fortunately, this museum will be placed in the richest field of the globe so far as prehistoric animal relics are concerned. There is no reason why the Panhandle cannot in a few years boast of a collection equal in interest to those of Field's, American or other museums of world-wide fame.

Buying at Home.

Opening our mail one day this week we pulled from an envelope bearing the return address of T. Jones & Company, local plant growers, a price-list that had been sent him by a Ft. Worth printing house.

They proposed to print envelopes at $1.95 for 500, or $3.50 per thousand. Other prices quoted were in keeping with the prices quoted here. Mr. Jones does not buy anything out of town that can be had here even if he has to pay more.

As Post would say, "there's a reason." That Ft. Worth printing concern never did and never will buy his plants. Every dollar he might send them is gone forever. That firm never did give his worthy enterprise any publicity. They don't care a tinker's dam whether he succeeds or not—they merely want his money in any cut throat manner they can get it.

We buy his plants, tell the neighbors about his business, extend him every courtesy and value his friendship to the extent that we are proud of his success. This country would be a thousand times better off if every man in the country had the same opinion of mail order firms as Mr. Jones.

Father's Day.

Next Sunday we pause to pay our respects to the fathers. Without detracting one iota from Mother's Day, how fitting that we should now pay tribute to that personage whose every thought, and whose every effort, is for the betterment and happiness of his dependents.

Fathers, like mothers, are merely human and feel deeply the solace and joy of little arms around the neck of him who would give his life to protect. Father not being prone to tears never-the-less often feels that same impulse, that same craving for assistance beyond human habitation.

Mother has her cares and in the discussion of the daily worries receives sympathy from the faithful of her household. Father too, has cares but being the stronger adds not to the burden of others and bears them in silence. How aptly the poet has said—

Remember me? I am astray,
And darkness shrouds my lonely way;
So rugged is the path I tread,
And clouds are thickening overhead.

So often the pathway becomes so rugged, sorrows and disappointments so numerous, he pauses on his journey and wonders if it is really worth while to strive to "carry on." The storm passes, through dark clouds come gleaming rays of hope. Remembering those whom he loves more than life, he takes on new courage, and continues the battle without other hope of reward.

All honor to him who bears in silence the tragedies of life. All honor to him whose strength of character enables him to give to the world the best that is in him. The world expects much of him. He must not fail. There is no place to quit.

Lessons In Finance

Conditions affecting us the past several months has taught us many things. We have learned to work more, save more and to think more about things worth while.

We are learning more about buying. We are becoming better judges of values in food, clothing, machinery, stock and numerous other things.

When we shall have lived through to the starting of another upgrade of prices, may we carry these lessons with us to a more prosperous era and escape the difficulties of the next depression. We have had them, have one now, and will have more in the future.

TEMPLE OF TRUTH

By the Apostle

The College Hill widow says that marriage is a sort of a lottery, with a lot of extra hazards and no guarantees.

Have you a little canner in your home? (With apologies to Fairy soap.)

After asking a number of people what they thought about it, I have come to the conclusion that a "courtesy card" on the gasoline company is a howling failure.

There is one consolation, the gas agents are withdrawing the cards so rapidly on account of bum risks that only a few millionaires will be able to carry one successfully by July 1st at the rate we are traveling.

Oh yes, there is a lot being said about all the folks around here who wrote the Governor not to veto that museum building over at Canyon. It went over big and I have several letters thanking us for taking a hand in the affair.

The museum building will belong to all the Panhandle. We can enjoy it within a few months, and our children and on down through the ages folks will be going through the building feasting on the educational advantages.

It will beat all the whoop and hurrah that Panhandle people spend perfectly good money in making exhibits and trips every season. The museum will be a feeder to Palo Duro park. Both together will attract more people than Grand Canyon. It will be near enough that the family can hop in the tin lizzie and visit there without being out a whole lot of money.

When it comes to being accurate, the Apostle rings the bell. In estimating the amount Bill Stewart paid for the cake at the Martin trade trip expedition, he stated that Bill paid $8 for the cake. This was exactly nine hundred and seventy-five thousandths percent too much.

That cake cost Bill Stewart just twenty cents. We humbly admit that $8 is tolerably high for a cake even in a land where the Hoovercrats are in the majority. If Bill will call off the impending suit which he claims has damaged his financial standing, even though he frankly and honestly states that he would have been glad to have paid a $100 for the cake, we will call it square and take a new start.

Then Holman Kennedy up and bids in the cake for $2 when Bill donated it back to the 4-H girls. The only humiliating thing that happened was when Milt Mosley wanted to bet Holman that he could eat the whole cake instead of making a show affair by passing it out to the crowd a piece at a time.

If I can find out where this man Mosley lives, I'm going to have the good woman bake a cake and send it to him if he wants to commit suicide by over-feeding. There are a few things that can't be done with very much success, and eating a ten pound cake all at one time is one of them.

Conversation heard one night recently: He: My arm measures eleven inches. She: Well, what about it? He: I was just thinking it came near being a foot.

She: Well, you act like it was. A man wants to know if the Apostle is deaf and dumb. He would be if he was deaf.

Good advice: "Do right and fear no man. Write no letters and fear no woman." "It is told of an Aberdonian Scotchman—wealthy, but stingy," said Mr. MacKenzie. "For years his wife had pestered him for a trip to far-off California, where they had relatives. Finally he consented that she make the trip. Shortly after arriving on the Pacific Coast, she became the victim of a tragic accident and was drowned. A relative thereupon sent the following cable to her husband: 'Wife drowned in accident here today. Body recovered, adhering to which was specimen of very rare fish for which the Biological Society has offered ten thousand dollars. Wire instruction.' The Aberdonian replied, 'Accept offer and re-set bait.'"

Now that the equalization boards have met and done their stuff, does any one know of any who had their valuations reduced? I ask didga? Memphis took a ten percent reduction this year. Perhaps they got some money from the Red Cross.

If taxes keep on going up in this burg, it won't be long until we will be turning in our homes as a down payment on the tax bill, and a mortgage on our job to pay the balance by the well-known extortion plan so common in the radio world.

A man from Wichita Sunday was asked in Clarendon was it as quiet as his town. "No! Thunder no!" He went on to say that business was so quiet in Wichita that he could hear notes drawing interest in the First National Bank three blocks from his store.

We have been hearing the same thing here, but we thought it was static.

Well, well! Here comes a fine offer from an Ohio concern to sell coconut oil shampoo. (My boys have been using cup grease.) It goes to state in this highly gilded letter that any one can make three dollars an hour selling the stuff. They also include a pair of scissors and a Buick sedan as premiums, and a grand prize of $1000.

The Apostle is going to grab off that agency business before several others get in their applications. If people in great gobs did not fall for that kind of high-jacking, they would not continue to mail out bait. (P. S. A $5 registration fee is required as an evidence of good faith. No, son, you don't even get a sample for that money—just experience.)

"How long have you known Frank Houston?" asked Darrel Nored Friday. "Well," I said, "it has been a long time. In fact it dates back to the days when 'neck' was a noun."

The first time that I met up with Frank was while we were both very small boys. We met at the side of a circus tent after dark in Bellevue. We both slipped under the tent to see the show. When we got inside we found out we had slipped into a holliness camp meeting in time of prayer.

We slipped out again. Thinking back and remembering what Frank said about the mistake and the class of language he used, I never would have thought that he would have reached the official position that he occupies today in the Presbyterian church in his home town of Childress.

Frank Houston is district manager of the West Texas Utility company. He is as fine a man as there is in the district and we have some real men out here. The company never had a more loyal employee and no man ever had more real sincere friends than Frank Houston.

This is food for reflection, said the billy goat, as he ate the looking glass.

Hearing that a certain party had happened to an accident in Clarendon this week in which his face was skinned, I asked his son what happened. The boy innocently said that "mama says it was too much yeast and papa says it was too much sugar."

I was promised a half dozen not to print his name in this column of foolishness.

More letters are coming in every day for entry in the prize letter writing contest on the subject of "why merchants should advertise in the Leader." The women are in the big majority so far. That is to be expected because as a buyer, a woman has a man beaten a block, and the women are doing the buying in times like this. They also read more of the advertisements.

Get these letters in just as soon as you can. Write with a pencil or typewriter and use your own words. First prize is $3 and the second is $2. These letters will be judged by business men with only numbers on your letters. Sign your name at the bottom of the sheet for purposes of identification. The contest closes June 25th. Your letter, if mailed, must not be post-marked after that date to be considered. Mail letters or bring them to the office of The Donley County Leader, Clarendon.

$5 IN PRIZES FOR BEST LETTER

In order to arrive at any conclusion, we are offering two prizes for the two best letters written on the subject of "Why Merchants Should Advertise in the Leader." We want to get your idea about why merchants should advertise in the Leader. Thousands have read the advertisements in the Leader and we want you to tell us "why." The contest closes June 25th. Send in your letter now—today. Confine your remarks to 200 words. Write on one side of the paper. Write plainly. Use lead pencil or typewriter. Sign your name at the bottom as the name will be removed and a number only will appear on your article when it gets before the judges. The first prize will be $3. The second prize will be $2. We are paying these amounts for the privilege of publishing the prize letters after the awards are made. If you believe the paper has a big circulation, say so. If you believe your neighbors like the paper, say so. If you think the folks read everything in the paper, say so. If you think the paper is what it claims to be—"A Common Paper for Common People", say so. If you think the Leader gives you and your community a square deal, say so. If you think the Leader is fair alike to all the folks of the trade territory without bias, prejudice or "big-headness", say so. If you think that the Leader is fair alike to every one unhampered by influence of sect, creed, individual or organization and worthy to enter any home, say so. These are a few suggestions that might be of service to contestants. Of course you can add to or take from all you please. Above all, write in your own language in your own way. The contest is open to all ages living within 100 miles of Clarendon.

Lost War Ballad Found In Carroll

Song Dedicated to Lexington Girls by Soldier Killed on Battlefield

One of the most beautiful songs of the Southern Confederacy never found its way into print, although it was one of the most popular songs of the South during the days of the War between the States. The song was written by an Alabama boy, Lieutenant Harrington, according to an exchange.

Although quite popular in the South during the war, the song is now almost forgotten, save by the old Confederate soldiers. The song was sung by the campfires and on the march throughout the South. It was called "The Homespun Dress." It is said that some years ago, Dr. John Uri Lloyd, Kentucky writer offered $50 for a copy. He wanted to reproduce it in one of his books, he never secured the copy and the song, so far as is known, has never been printed this day.

The words were found in an old manuscript, written by George D. Musgrove, of Carrollton, Ky., which manuscript he called "Kentucky Cavaliers in Dixie."

When Morgan's army was in Lexington the ladies of that city gave a ball one night in honor of Morgan's men. On this occasion it is said the ladies appeared in homespun dresses. Lieutenant Harrington of Alabama, who was a member of Morgan's men and who attended the ball, and was deeply affected by the flower of Kentucky's young womanhood appearing in homespun dresses that he wrote the words to the song, "The Homespun Dress." During the evening the young lieutenant met at the ball a Miss Earle, and during those few hours there grew an attachment between the two that was more than friendship.

Miss Earle was an accomplished musician and improvised an aid for the young lieutenant's song-poem and played it on the piano and sang it during the evening. It is said that the men of Morgan's command soon learned the air and often sang "The Homespun Dress."

Lieutenant Harrington gave Miss Earle the original manuscript copy of the words, and it was from her that Mr. Musgrove of Carrollton, Ky., secured the copy as found in the manuscript written himself.

Lieutenant Harrington was killed in the battle of Perryville, Oct. 8, 1862, only a few days after the ball in Lexington. Miss Earle died a short time ago. She never married. She kept the manuscript copy of the song just as it was written by Lieutenant Harrington all her life.

The Homespun Dress
Oh, yes I am a Southern girl,
And glory in the name;
I boast of it with greater pride
Than glittering wealth or fame!
I envy not the Northern girl
Her robes of beauty rare,
Though diamonds deck her snowy neck
And pearls bestud her hair.

CHORUS
Hurrah, Hurrah,
For the Sunny South so dear;
Three cheers for the homespun dress
The Southern ladies wear.
Now Northern ladies are out of date,
And since old Abe's blockade,
We Southern girls cannot be content
With goods that's Southern made
We send our sweethearts to the war
But girls ne'er you mind—
Your soldier love will not forget
The girl he left behind.
The Southern land's a glorious land
And has a glorious cause.
Then cheer, three cheers,
For the Southern rights,
And for the Southern boys!
We scorn to wear a bit of silk,
A bit of Northern lace,
But make our homespun dresses up
And wear them with a grace.
And now young man a word to you
If you would win the fair,
Go to the field where honor calls
And win your lady there.
Remember that our brightest smiles
Are for the true and brave
And that our tears are all for those
Who fill the soldier's grave.

Judge Lewis Names $1500 Bond in Barton Case

In a preliminary hearing before Judge L. O. Lewis here this (Thursday) morning, bond was set at $1500 when H. C. Barton of Hereford was charged with operating a vehicle while intoxicated.

The charge against Barton is the result of a collision between a car alleged to have been driven by him, and one driven by Rev. Davis of Dodsonville, a short distance east of Hedley some two weeks ago.

The car driven by Rev. Davis was crowded into the bar pit and wrecked by the impact. Four ladies were with him on their way to Hedley to attend a B. Y. P. U. meeting.

The car said to have been driven by Barton was damaged and several bottles of liquid thrown out. They reloaded the bottles and left their victims by the roadside. Sheriff Pierce was notified and traced them into Oklahoma.

The party was picked up by the sheriff at Hereford Wednesday and Pierce brought him here for the hearing. He is in jail in default of bond awaiting the action of the Grand Jury.

Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Pyle and Mrs. Joe Terry met Mr. and Mrs. Jack Frye by appointment at Amarillo Friday when they flew back from Dallas. Our local people were given a ride over the city and enjoyed it immensely.

*A "Special Brand" Tire is made by a manufacturer for distributors such as mail order houses, oil companies and others, under a name that does not identify the tire manufacturer to the public, usually because he builds his "best quality" tires under his own name. Firestone puts his name on every tire he makes.

for ANY BABY.

WE can never be sure just what makes an infant restless, but the remedy can always be the same. Good old Castoria! There's comfort in every drop of this pure vegetable preparation, and not the slightest harm in its frequent use. As often as Baby has a fretful spell, is feverish, or cries and can't sleep, let Castoria soothe and quiet him. Sometimes it's a touch of colic. Sometimes constipation. Or diarrhea—a condition that should always be checked without delay. Just keep Castoria handy, and give it promptly. Relief will follow very promptly; if it doesn't, you should call a physician.

Grandma Stewart Driving A Chevrolet Across The Nation

Grandma Stewart, who recently celebrated her 73rd birthday, is piloting her new Chevrolet coach on the long road between Detroit and San Pedro, California. She left the Motor City a few days ago and expects to cover the 2,800 mile journey in about thirteen days.

And Mrs. Stewart—although she speaks of herself, and is known to a host of friends and relatives as Grandma Stewart—will drive every foot of the way. She has made the trip five times, usually alone, and although she has two friends with her on this journey neither of them can drive.

Mrs. Stewart, whose home is in California, has been visiting her son in Detroit. With her visit drawing to a close, she decided to "shop around for a new car" to make the long trip back home.

In shopping around, Mrs. Stewart was so favorably impressed with the performance of the new six cylinder Chevrolet coach and its reputation for economy that she decided on its purchase after a thorough demonstration by a Detroit dealer.

Although a native daughter of Illinois, Mrs. Stewart has lived in California, where she operates a chicken farm, since 1916.

DEATH OF MR. WHEAT

Mr. Bread White died at the family residence, known as "the pit" after lingering illness attributed to over exposure in Washington, to a dreadful disease being fatal to business, known as Hoover's farm relief.

Mr. Wheat was born in the year of Joseph "B. C." survived the panics and depressions of all ages only to be stricken down in the year of 30, lived an honorable and upright life before God and man, serving with unflinching zeal, faith and confidence the human race for more than 2,000 years without regard to race, creed or color. A friend and faithful servant in war as well as in peace, the farmer's best friend, he stood for upright, honorable, sound, logical and reasonable business methods. A devout believer and exponent of free and unrestricted commerce between nations and individuals, based upon intelligent thinking and honorable practices.

Mr. Wheat is survived by three great grandsons—Doubt, Guess and Gamble. A legally adopted step-son Hoover's Farm Board, who was constantly at his bedside during his last days and is now sitting up with the corpse; two daughter-in-laws survive him, who were with him constantly when he was exposed to this dreaded and fatal business disease known as Farm Relief, also called Stabilization—Mrs. Broken Down Bankrupt Coops and Mrs. Peanut Politician.

The death of this honorable character is a distinct loss to the economic world, he being one of its most faithful and responsible servants.

Services will be conducted by the Rt. Rev. Alexander Yegge and the body will lie in state for public inspection between the hours of 9:30 a. m. and 1:15 p. m., each business day until the remains can be smelted as far east as Washington.

Burial—if any—will be in the campaign of 1932 and the honorary pall bearers will be selected by the present farm board.

By request, no flowers, donate the proceeds to the relief of some worthy farmer, the most of whom have been relieved of everything in God's great garden except taxes, debts and right to free air.

Wake Up Your Liver Bile —Without Calomel

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just jockys in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resist a substitute.

"From Despair to Happiness"

(or Cupid in the Northland)

Written by W. E. Ferrell

CHAPTER II
Part VII
Part VI

"I had an idea that it might be somewhat embarrassing for you to appear before the public and family with your present clothes, so I just stopped at old friends at the post and told her to get you a complete outfit, dresses, hose, shoes, coat and everything that goes towards making up a ladies wardrobe, that is the things that they use in this country."

I brought forth one large bundle and several smaller ones, and in a few moments Doris was inspecting the garments, one by one. The sight of real store clothes aroused within her the natural woman's instinct. Like a butterfly flitting from one flower to another in search of nectar, she turned from one article to another, nothing escaping her searching gaze as she examined the goods.

I thought that she was the most beautiful woman under the sun when I had watched her fight the frost devils, but when she donned a part of her new outfit and appeared before me, she was completely transformed, she had brought to bear the natural instincts that had been lying dormant, instead of the girl with home made clothes, man's boots and hat, there stood before me a woman dressed in real feminine apparel. I was bewildered, I did not think that a few clothes could make such a change. To me I had never gazed upon a picture half as beautiful and picturesque, the hand of the master painters could blend his colors and bring out the glorious tints that were portrayed in this living picture, no sculptor could carve in stone or wood the graceful lines of this animated model, no poet could describe her beauty, the goddess of Grecian mythology, with her magic wand could not have created any thing so lovely. For many minutes I was as one under the spell of a fairy, and I was afraid that my dream would end, and that I would awake and find my self alone.

Then I did come to my senses, in a few days I would be alone, the picture would be all. She would be gone, gone from me forever. To-night I was happy I had her with me, soon she would be with some one else. The keepers of cemeteries say that people soon forget their dead, but the living can not forget the living, when one becomes a part of the other. God said in the beginning that it was not good for man to live alone. It was God that had said that man needed a help mate. God instilled into every man the longings, the desires, the passions for a mate and I believe that I had found my soul-mate, the one that could satisfy every longing desire and thirst, in this lovely girl of the northland.

Doris must have noticed the different look in my face, she crossed the room and stood beside me. She seemed to be filled with the thoughts of returning home and with appreciation for the gifts that she could not speak without sobbing.

"You - - have - - been mighty good to me. I hate to leave you. I don't want to go away, and leave you out here alone."

This was almost more than I could stand, but I knew that she did not know what she was saying, or thinking.

I tried to smile as I told her how I appreciated her kind words and thoughts for me. I soon told her that it was after mid-night and that it would be necessary for us to get a little sleep before day.

CHAPTER IV

Five days later the start was made towards Chisana. It was dark when we left the cabin and by day-light we were far up the trail and several miles of fresh tracks could be seen behind us.

That first day we made nearly thirty miles. I soon discovered that my companion was no stranger in the work of guiding a sled with the gee-pole or managing a team of huskies. At times she would walk ahead and pack the snow with her webbed snow shoes, to make it easier for the dogs. We would change places with each other and in this way we rested each other and traveling was not half bad. I had a hard time trying to convince her that my dogs could pull her and that she would not have to walk all the way. I knew that all of the soreness was not out of her system and that this long hike might be against her.

That night we selected a place for a camp and settled down to rest and to wait for another day. The dogs soon had holes dug in the snow drifts, and were curled up asleep.

The second day we did not travel so far, the country was getting rough, there were several small creeks to cross, and this took up lots of time.

My companion was forced to ride more, as she was not able to stand the tramping as she did the day before. I was very well satisfied with the progress that we had made so far. I knew that at our present rate of speed that we would reach the gold country by noon tomorrow. Long before we camped that night, the Wrangell and St. Elias mountain ranges were in full view. I told her that these snow capped mountains were many miles beyond Chisana, and that between us and those lofty mountains, her father was waiting for her.

OUR WEEKLY CHURCH CHAT

"The Bible."

The Bible is God's inspired word. When compared with the Book of books, the best of this world's literature pales into nothingness. Without the Bible, the world's history is incomplete. Little would be known of that period prior to four hundred years B. C. Without it, nothing would be known of a Savior. It is the book of a Man, the Man of men, the peerless Son of God. It presents Him to us as our Savior, "the way, the truth and the life" (John 14:6). In the Old Testament the approach of Christ is gloriously predicted, but in the New Testament, He appears as our living, loving Lord. Without the Bible, men would know nothing of the plan of salvation, they would not know how to come to Him, or to live acceptably in God's sight. "Faith cometh by hearing and hearing by the word of God," (Rom. 10:17). Of his own will he brought us forth by the word of truth. Without the Bible, men would be in utter ignorance of the future and the eternal abode of man.

The Bible, and not the creeds of Churches or the interpretations of commentators, should be our sole standard of appeal to religious matters. Error proceeds from man, but never from God. His word is absolutely infallible. "To the law and to the testimony: if they speak not according to this word, it is because there is no light in them" (Isa. 8:20). The Bible should be our daily meditation. "Oh how I love thy law! It is my meditation all day" (Psa. 119:97). Let it be our comfort in sorrow, and its words shall whisper hope and peace in the death hour. "There is a Bible, because there is a God, and there is only one Bible, because there is only one God." (Garbett)

The enemies of the "Word of God" are busy, trying to destroy faith in the "Book of Books" the challenge has been sounded, the hour has arrived when all Christians should rally to its support and proclaim its truths to the ends of the earth. Church pews are empty, and churches are wondering why. Atheistic and infidelic literature has been distributed by the carloads, people have read tons and tons of that faith-destroying, soul-damning and hell-filling literature, which is worse than cringing, crawling, biting rattlesnakes, infesting the paths of our boys and girls. The effects of this literature is being felt and seen in all of the churches of the land. The time is at hand for the Bible loving people to take their stand against the enemies of the Word of God. The best way to defend the Bible is to get acquainted with its truths, and after having learned its truths, put them into practice. "Be living epistles known and read of all men."

In our two sermons Sunday, we hope to present to you two messages that will help to strengthen your faith in God and in His word. The morning subject will be: "The Word Power of God." Sunday evening our subject will be: "Sin and Its Cure." In this lesson we wish to see what the Bible has to say about "sin" and then show you the "cure" for it as we find it outlined in the Scriptures.

We invite you to be present at both services.
W. E. Ferrell, Minister, First Christian Church, Clarendon, Tex.

Plases the Most Particular

EVERYONE has experienced that little feeling of nervousness when entertaining certain particular guests—the sort who "notice things"; the ones who are a bit fussy about the flavor of their coffee, and the way it's served.

When you entertain your "particular" guest, just plug in your gleaming Electric Percolator—you'll be surprised at your confidence—the little flourish and the smug little smile with which you pour. You'll receive the congratulations just a little complacently, for you knew success was assured—the electrical way.

Are you making the fullest use of your Electric Percolator? ... The surety of always perfect coffee—always faultlessly served? There's not a chance of anything going wrong when you make your coffee in one of the delightfully convenient and attractive Electric Percolators.

FURNITURE SALE

at DEALER COST and LESS

Sale Starts - - - - Store Wide
SATURDAY, JUNE 20th, 9 a. m.

---And Will Continue for 10 Days---

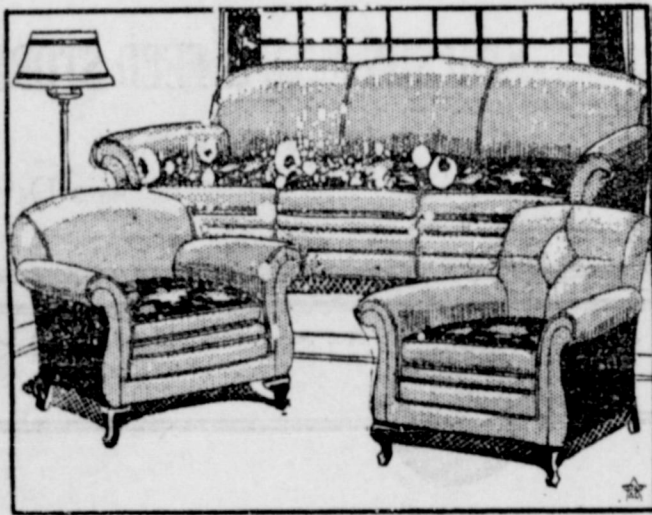

Choice of any floor lamp in our stock will be given with the first purchase of $10 or more on opening date.

On account of large furniture jobbers and manufacturers closing out, we have been able to buy high-grade new merchandise, that was bought during the last furniture market, at prices far below actual cost of manufacture.

We have just received a large shipment and will have more arriving almost daily. We have gone over our entire stock and marked it down so prices will compare with this new merchandise.

This new furniture is being bought at a big reduction, and we are pleased to pass this on to you for a quick turnover, at a very small profit. This is truly the greatest furniture sale you have ever witnessed, and if you expect to buy furniture at any time during the year, this is your greatest opportunity.

Anticipating a big business, at these low prices, we have bought heavily of these rare bargains made possible only by the distressed condition of some manufacturers and jobbers, therefore we Must give you prices which you cannot afford to ignore.
