Bronchos Honored By Many Citizens In Big Feed Thursday Nite

Football Boys And Coaches Receive Many Deserving Compliments In Talks

The Bronchos and their coaches were the recipients of many compliments in the many impromptu remarks of local citizens at the "feed" given in their honor in the basement of the Christian church Thursday night.

Snow had been falling more or less all the day and the weather that night was anything but inviting thus cutting down the attendance to about two dozen aside from the football boys and their coaches, Messrs. J. G. Hutton and Frank A. Stocking.

It was strictly a boys affair and that limited to the Broncho football squad. Joe Noble, captain of the squad, very ably acquitted himself as toastmaster in his first effort to fill that responsible position. In fact Joe did as well as any one who has made an attempt at "toastmastering" in the basement.

Superintendent H. T. Burton was on hand as a specially invited guest and entered into the festivities with a zest taking the good-natured jokes poked at him in his usual good-natured manner.

The feed being the principal item of interest so far as the guests were concerned, Mr. Homer Mulkey was called upon to return thanks and during the eating, various citizens were called upon by the toastmaster to express themselves.

What these speeches lacked in oratorical trimmings, were made up for in sincerity. Each man called on did his dead level best to let the boys know that they were appreciated, the coaches and Mr. Burton coming in for their share of the compliments. The Pep Squad was also paid a glowing tribute by many of the speakers as they rightly deserved.

Following talks by the elders, each of the boys was asked to express himself in his own crude manner, which they did much to the amusement of the audience. Many of them were profuse in their thanks to the citizens of the town for their financial and moral support this season.

The following citizens were present: J. H. Rutherford, Odos Caraway, C. L. Benson, Frank Whitlock, W. W. Taylor, H. Mulkey, J. C. Estlack, M. M. Noble, H. T. Burton, C. G. Speed, Fred Rathjen, Cleo Wood, G. L. Boykin, Walter Wilson, Howard Stewart, C. J. Douglas, Lloyd Stallings, Dr. H. L. Wilder and Jack B. Jones, Jr.

The ladies of the Christian church served a turkey feast with all the trimmings, and judging from the expressions of those present, must have beaten all their former efforts. They certainly did their part and did it well.

Local Men Charged With Stinnett Bank Robbery Friday

Three Men Held In Jail At Stinnett and One Released On Bond Monday

Following the robbery of the First State Bank of Stinnett early Friday morning, four men have been arrested charged with theft of over $50. Two of these men, R. A. Franks, cashier of the bank, and T. A. Popejoy, resided there.

The other two men charged with complicity in the robbery are J. W. Adams, who has been making his headquarters in Clarendon, and Bert C. Smith who has been operating one of the chain Smith Bros. signs at Lelia Lake. Smith was released on a $6,600 bond Monday.

Adams and Franks are alleged to have made confessions implicating themselves and Smith. At the same time, Smith denies having any part in the robbery and is said to have conducted officers to where the money was buried under his house, claiming that Adams threw the sack of money in his car near Stinnett.

Adams was arrested in an Amarillo hotel where the officers found $500 in $10 bills beneath the mattress and $40 in his purse. Smith was arrested as he came to Adams' room. Adams and Smith are said to have then conducted Sheriff Moore and Deputy Sheriff Burton to Lelia Lake where it is alleged the remainder of the loot was found under Smith's house.

All of the money is said to have been recovered except $138. News of the robbery came as a distinct shock to citizens of this section when it was learned that Bert Smith was charged with complicity in the crime. Smith has been considered as one of the leading business men of this section and his honesty has not been questioned up to this time.

Boy Scout Meeting Held Here Friday

A meeting of those interested most in Boy Scout work was held here Friday afternoon to devise plans for putting on a financial campaign and to elect new committeemen.

The following men will work with the Scouts the coming year as local officials: General Chairman and District Commissioner, Rev. Sam E. Allison. Troop and Training Promotion, Rev. Robt. S. McKee. Court of Honor and Vocational Guidance, J. R. Porter. Rural Relation, Geo. H. McCleskey. Civic Service, G. L. Boykin. Camp and Hikes, T. E. Trostle. Finances, Holman Kennedy. Vice President Southeast Panhandle Area Council, T. E. Trostle.

The drive for finances, which includes all the Scout troops of the county, began Monday of this week.

Aside from the Clarendon Troop, other Troops are located at Hedley which has a membership of twenty-six. One at Jericho has six, and one at Goldston with nineteen members.

An effort is to be made to establish a troop at several other schools in the county where a membership number may exist. Mr. McCleskey will work with the rural clubs with the assistance of Mr. I. E. Jolly who is Scout Executive of the Southeast Panhandle Area.

Mrs. J. U. Boston was accompanied home from Heald Wednesday by Mrs. N. G. Rollins of Abilene, who is president of this missionary zone.

THANKSGIVING

Two hundred and sixty-six years have passed since the first Thanksgiving was celebrated by the first American colonists. What a contrast in the life we live today and that of the first people to celebrate that eventful day. To each, be he rich or poor, great or humble, there comes at this time an inspiration to be thankful.

For life and its daily tasks; health and the joy it brings; for courage to meet with the obstacles that constantly confront us and turn them into victory; for the many opportunities to gain happiness and contentment; for peace which means progress; for home, neighbors and friends and educational opportunities; for religious liberties and the consolation it brings.

We all need to know more of just what gratitude really means—it broadens and deepens life. Gratitude forges the chains that hold a grip on all that is great and good.

We should be thankful that we live in the Great West where people by nature are hospitable, charitable and neighborly. Crops in Donley county were far above the average this season as compared to other sections of the state.

The writer feels a deep sense of gratitude toward those who have shown us many favors in making a success of our daily task of publishing a weekly paper. Your messages of cheer have meant much to us. Your letters have cheered and inspired us to greater things. Your voices of appreciation brought solace and contentment.

Your support in its entirety has enabled us to publish just such a paper as has met with your approval. Without your support, this would have been impossible. Above all, we are thankful that we are privileged to serve a people who are appreciative.

Our readers have sent us many subscriptions. Seldom a day passes that we are not placed under further obligations to do our best because of this manifestation of confidence.

The business men who have used our space have our sincere thanks. You have been loyal to your interests and ours. You have made it possible to broaden the trade territory and supply our people with goods of a quality and at a price equal to any merchant. You have enabled us to create a better understanding and a better feeling between the people of this trade territory. You are entitled to this honor and we are grateful for the privilege of serving you in carrying your message to the buying public.

May this Thanksgiving Day be the best of the year for you and yours. True honor to God of all gifts will help one to get the most out of life and bring corresponding joys.

The Editor.

Palo Duro Option Committee In Session At Amarillo Monday

A meeting of the Option Committee of the Palo Duro Park Association was held at the Amarillo hotel Monday afternoon. W. H. Patrick of this city, and chairman of the committee, presided.

In his opening remarks, Mr. Patrick stated that "we must ascertain the metes and bounds of the park or the area to be covered so as to have something concrete to put up to the legislature" brought out a general discussion.

It appears to be the general consensus of opinion over the Panhandle, that the park area should include all the scenic portions of the canyon with at least one well built highway extending up the canyon permitting ingress and egress without reducing the joys of travel on the part of tourists who come from a section where modern highways are in use.

A tour of inspection will be made through the Canyon Sunday and Monday next that the Committee may become more familiar with the subject with which they are to deal.

Mrs. J. R. Leathers visited with Kinch Leathers and family of near Lelia Thursday.

J. B. McClelland Seriously Ill At His Home Here

No change in his condition for the past twenty-four hours, was the report given the Leader as we go to press. Mr. McClelland has been seriously ill for the past week.

Meeting To Develop Quicker Settlement Of Panhandle Territory

A meeting of bankers, landholders and men of affairs has been announced for December 13th at Amarillo. This is the first meeting of this kind to be held in the Panhandle.

The principal object of the meeting will be to have an understanding as to some plan to assist the worthy settlers who wish to develop land from Wichita Falls to Amarillo for the purpose of making it their home. Speculation will in no sense be encouraged, only developers are wanted.

A further plan is to be worked out looking to the financing of those already here that they have means for the purchase of stock and especially dairy cows. The railroads entering the Panhandle are also said to be behind the movement as well as merchants who see in this development hundreds of consumers of their stocks.

The Panhandle of Texas is said by many to offer the best advantage for a man of small means to acquire a home and realize a good profit on his investment by keeping dairy cows and poultry in addition to the regular crop marketing plan as followed in most localities.

Jordan Auction Sale Will Be Held In December

An auction sale to be held by W. M. Jordan at the Chamberlain farm and advertised in this issue, includes some choice dairy cows that should not be allowed to go out of the county.

These cows are said to be equal to anything in the country and were purchased from an Amarillo dairy. The cows are young and some young stuff is also included in the lot.

Prizes Awarded Club Members Friday In All Day Rally

Many Clubs Represented In Interesting Programs And Noonday Feast

The Home Demonstration clubs of Donley county celebrated "Rally Day" in the auditorium of the local Methodist church Friday with over eighty members in attendance and a number of visitors.

The program was begun at 10 a. m. with the singing of the club song, "America, the Beautiful." Stunt program contests, the second number on the program, proved most interesting. Ashtola, Chamberlain and Lelia Lake clubs each entered for this honor, Chamberlain winning. Mrs. H. M. Reid is accredited with being largely the cause of her club winning when she surprised the audience with talented readings.

Children of the local schools, under the direction of their teachers, aided materially in the entertainment. Miss Helen Beck, instructor in Home Economics of the local high school, spoke on the subject of "Home Economics Teacher, and Mothers of Pupils." She also invited those interested to visit her department at the College building.

Miss Christine Shroeder, teacher of music in the College, and Miss Fray Stallings each contributed of their skill much to the pleasure of the gathering. Both young ladies are talented musicians, Miss Stallings being considered as one of the most skilled in the Panhandle.

In reading the complete report of this gathering as given by Miss Harvey Thompson under "Club Notes" in this issue, one will at once come to the happy realization that interest in club work is widespread, that there is a cooperative spirit and that results are most pleasing.

One may also be surprised to learn what can be done in the way of gardening from a reading of the reports of the ladies who entered in the garden contests. The wide variety grown and the production of Donley county soil is a revelation.

In connection with this garden experiment work, it will be noted that the local Chamber of Commerce under the direction of Mr. G. L. Boykin, had much to do with the seed selection, which were a gift of the organization. Mr. Boykin being farm raised, farm trained and a graduate of an A. & M. college, is competent authority on seed selection, cultivation, etc. and is an enthusiastic booster of club work.

A complete report of this meeting, together with prizes awarded, is given by Miss Harvey Thompson, County Home Demonstration agent, under "Club Notes" in this issue.

Clarendon Boy Honored At Dartmouth College

Adna Cole, eldest grandson of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Trahey of this city, is making a record on the Dartmouth College football team this season. Dartmouth has been defeated by Yale only in the present series.

Adna Cole is a native of Clarendon. Attended Terrill School in Dallas and was awarded a four year scholarship in Dartmouth for excellent grades. He has graded "A" in Dartmouth despite the fact that he is on the football team which is a rare exception among the large schools.

Donley County Champion Bean Market

Lester Martin, who resides near Graft, Colo., and nephew of W. D. Martin of this city, arrived with his fourth truck load of speckled beans the past week. He finds a ready market in Donley county for his product.

On one trip, he sold a full truck load to the Lowe grocery. The load weighed 3595 pounds, all this year's crop.

Rev. B. N. Sheppard, new pastor of the Baptist church, moved his family into the parsonage today. They recently resided at Tahoka.

Latson Building Is Ready For Occupancy Middle of December

Other Building Changes Are Announced With One New One To Be Built

Main street property changes the past week would indicate anything but a dull season. Mr. Cal Merchant purchased the Queen Theatre building as an investment. There will be no changes for the present.

The building now occupied by the Drs. Jenkins and owned by Geo. Bugbee, is to give way to a new structure that is to be 25x115 of one story design. The building will be owned by Geo. Bugbee and will likely be occupied by the Clarendon Drug Store.

Contractor O. W. Latson, who owns the two story adjoining building, has the contract for the new building, work to begin at an early date.

Drs. Jenkins will move their offices to the Goldston building where they have arranged to occupy one of the handsome office suites in the second story.

The two story building being constructed by O. W. Latson and owned by him, will be ready for occupancy by the 15th of December according to a statement made Monday.

This building will be occupied by several different firms. The Mitchell barber and beauty shop will occupy the small front space with a balcony for the beauty parlor. The remainder of the front is to be occupied by the Clarendon Furniture store owned by J. F. Heath and R. E. Paxson.

The store spaces fronting north have not been rented up to the present. The second story will be made into apartments largely with two office suites in the front. More than a month will be required to complete the finishing work on the second floor.

Fanning Champion Duck Killer This Season

Hunters have been profuse in telling of their good luck and skill in hunting this season, but the championship for duck killing is one shot apparently belongs to C. C. Fanning, driller at the Marine Test Well or Sawyer No. 1, north of town.

Mr. Fanning recently killed sixteen mallards at one shot when he fired into a bunch with hopes of getting only one, or possibly two. There is no telling what might happen if he got into the deer country.

Amarillo To Have Second Daily Newspaper

Announcement is made that Amarillo is to have another daily, the name of which is to be the Daily Examiner.

E. E. Manney is publisher, J. Sam Lewis is editor and Paul Odor general manager of the new publication.

Youth Jailed Here Sunday On Statutory Charge

The sheriff's department arrested Howard Bradshaw near Giles Sunday night and lodged him in the local jail on an alleged statutory charge.

Young Bradshaw is recently of Oklahoma and has been employed near Giles for several weeks. A preliminary hearing will be given the accused next Saturday.

Union Thanksgiving Service Presbyterian Church Wed. Evening

All Churches Will Unite In Union Thanksgiving And Song Service

Due to the absence of Rev. Marler Wednesday, Rev. E. N. Sheppard, pastor of the Baptist church will preach the Thanksgiving sermon at the Presbyterian church at the union service beginning at 7:30 Wednesday evening.

The best voices from the various church choirs will be selected for the special song service that is to be a part of the Thanksgiving program.

A free will offering will be taken for the benefit of the Good Fellows fund. This is the first offering to be taken for this organization for many months, most of the funds being contributions from the membership.

A cordial invitation is extended every one to attend this service, and especially the stranger who should not have the opportunity of attending a like service in his home town.

Local Man Gets Buck In Hunt Near Fredericksburg Last Week

Up to this time, Fred Buntin is the only man locally who has gotten a buck deer this season. Fred went to Ft. Worth several days ago and was accompanied from there by his nephew, Andy Price, and Dr. Ernest Stanfield, who made the trip to territory north of Fredericksburg.

Fred soon killed his deer and he and Price returned leaving the Stanfields behind, they choosing to get the bag limit while at it.

The deer was brought to Clarendon where the family has been feasting on venison for several days.

Cal Merchant Remembered By Old Friend

Cal Merchant and Sam Hedgecock have been cow hand cronies for many years. Sam and his folks are wintering at Corpus Christi. Naturally when Sam made a big haul, rather than write Cal about it and leave some doubt, he sent Cal some fine looking "red horse" fish.

The fish arrived Friday. Most of them were about a foot in length and had been especially selected for eating size. Somehow these old cow hands never forget and they want most everything proved and more especially a fish story.

Box Supper Will Be Given At Chamberlain

That bustling community south-east of town, better known as the "Chamberlain Community", will have a genuine old-fashioned box supper Friday night. The public is invited to come in and enjoy the affair to the fullest extent.

The proceeds of the meeting will go toward paying for the lighting fixtures that were installed some time back. As a general rule, these community benefits are largely attended, and this one is expected to be no exception.

BEAUTY SPOT.

Donley county is situated below the Cap Rock, that is why it is "the dimple of the universe."

SAGE ADVICE.

The idea is to raise a good garden and sell what you can, and can what you can't.

A DIFFERENT SONG.

We don't hear much of the plowboy songs any more, but we do hear the pt-putt-putt of the modern tractor in the Panhandle while it turns under twenty-five to three hundred acres per day.

BAR HISTORY.

The Panhandle Bar Association has decided to have a history of the Panhandle bar written. Their first act was to appoint four of the leading lawyers of the city to censor the martial to be printed.

CELEBRATORS.

Chicago announces to the world that the city will celebrate their 100th anniversary in 1933. Their first act will probably be to place orders with the munitions manufacturers.

PROHIBITION?

A recent visitor to Amarillo was questioned as to the "dryness" of the town as applied to prohibition. He said: "Dry? Bah! They have dampness, moisture, precipitation, showers, rains, torrents and floods."

OVERPRODUCTION.

The reason that the majority of the radio programs consist of cheap jazz, is that it is about as cheap as a phonograph record. Many "jelly beans" are content with having their names announced over the "mike" instead of receiving pay.

TREE PLANTING.

If Clarendon is to continue as a "city of trees", it is time to begin planning on displacing the half dead locusts with Chinese elm. This variety of elm has been planted extensively in west Texas without disappointment.

HIRSUTE HIRSHFIELD

Albert Hirshfield, artist and portrait painter, has filed suit against a theatrical magazine claiming damages to the extent of $100,000.00 because that magazine stated in an article that the Hirshfield beard was "confusing."

MEMPHIS ATHLETICS.

Citizens of Memphis got together Friday morning and elected an Athletic Committee composed of fifteen members which included representation in the schools. The good citizens of that town have taken the right step and have set a good example for Clarendon and other towns. Athletic events should be under the supervision of sane sensible men and women.

When the good people of a town become aroused and take the matter in charge, there is no need for further comment.

Memphis citizenship compares favorably with any in the state. Her schools are the equal of any in the state in a town of like size. Her christian institutions are on a par with any other town.

A good citizen of Memphis called at the Leader office Friday afternoon. He is a sane, sensible, christian gentleman. His explanation of problems in his home town are the same as ours. It behooves the better element of our towns to stand shoulder to shoulder. We are neighbors, and friends, each trying to reach the same objective.

Our boys and girls are our most valuable asset. It requires the constant attention of the better element in every town that the influences and environment may be such as to produce men and women who respect law, order system and the rights of others.

The Apostle is all blown up on the possum deal. It appears that there is a state law against killing a possum until after the first of December. Well the dang things won't be killed until after that date.

Of all the fool things that could be thought up, our legislature seems to take the cake. During the last session they passed a law that no renter could move off a man's farm except during certain hours of the day. Well, it was not long until some fool cuss who imagined that he still lived in America, got up and moved.

He didn't owe any one anything and thought he had a right to go when he got ready but not so. They haled that fellow into court. His only crime was that of being a poor renter. The case was tried. He was convicted and the case appealed.

The judge reviewing the case on appeal said it was the biggest piece of foolishness he had ever seen and declared the law unconstitutional and let the poor devil move. But there will be no move made on the possum until after Dec. 1st.

The women folks had a great time at the Methodist church Friday. The Home Economic clubs of the county got together and you never saw such an exhibition of finer cooks congregated under one roof anywhere.

They had plenty to eat? Lots of it was plain old grub of the kind that sticks to your ribs. Country sausage put up in two ways and eaten in three ways—pokin', shovin' and crammin'. Pies by the dozens. Roast meats—lots of it.

Dressing like mother used to make. Vegetables 'neverthing. All good, nothing lacking and just the kind of an affair to make folks appreciate their neighbors.

The Apostle is under great obligations to Mrs. John Gerner for Lelia Lake for the fine batch of sausage donated to the needy family Friday. There never was a better tasting article and not a crumb was wasted. John has a good cook and help mate which accounts for the fact that he is a successful farmer as well as being a mighty good man.

A fellow up on the plains has invented a new idea. The drouth of the past summer is the cause of his brains coming out for air according to his neighbors. This fellow is going to plant onions with his spuds. When the onion gets into the eyes of the spuds, he figures that the tears will furnish enough moisture to supply both plants whether it rains any or not. (O. C. Hill says it will work—he tried it.)

And again, for dinner—that doesn't mean supper time either—the Apostle and his Domestic Regulator and the five half-starved children feasted on "Red Horse." No, not mule it was horse and a white one at that.

It happened just like this: Mrs. Joe Humphrey, Sr., who has probably seen more hungry kids in my family than most any neighbor, received a nice large shipment of deep sea fish from Sam Hedge-coke, a relative wintering at Corpus Christi. She gave D. R. three big juicy fellows. They had tongues and teeth. They are fish alright but they are also called "Red Horses". Just why I don't know because they are white fish and a dandy taste tickler.

Thank you Mrs. Humphrey, Sr., may your disposition kindly spread. Wouldn't it be a grand world if we had more women like Mrs. Gerner and Mrs. Humphrey and they kept the thing going so that the Apostle would have nothing to do but strut around and talk politics and get into arguments?

That all happened on Saturday. When supper time came and D. R. invited the family in to supper and produced only a bowl of cold greens with water to drink, the Apostolettes beat it for town while the old folks pulled one of their famous family rackets. What's the use of having a woman around if she can't make the living somehow. Lots of fellows are making it work.

A good friend who happens to be a skylit offered the Apostle a present of a sack of "nigger durham" smoking tobacco if he would hear him preach every Sunday from now till Christmas. The Apostle told him he did not believe in any Santa Claus and turned the proposition down.

Some time ago the Apostle personally invited an old cornfield preacher to help out in the possum feed. God never made a better man than he and the old fellow came in to pay his respects Friday. He ate possum and later in old Alabam before the Apostle was invented.

We talked about his work and the weather. All the time that old man's mouth was watering and his mind was centered on only one thing—possum. I knew it and I dreaded bringing the subject up. Finally when the matter could be put off no longer, the Apostle gently informed the brother that we could not kill the possum until after Dec. 1st.

When the matter was explained that the great state of Texas was defending the life of the possum temporarily, that preacher broke down and cried like a baby. My first impulse was to knock him in the head and put him out of his misery.

Finally the old man staggered out of the office mumbling something about the folks back in old Alabam having liberty, but out here in Texas we haven't anything—not even possum.

Winter Campers Don't Catch Cold

Many mothers of scouts are afraid to let their boys go camping because of the fear that they shall catch cold. How do we catch cold? It there some little imp lying in wait for us, ready to bite us in a vulnerable spot? No. Exposure may be a predisposing cause but the basis of it all is the presence of germs in the nose and throat.

These we have with us all the time, we usually get along pretty well with them. We learn to ignore them and really pay no attention to them, but supposing our neighbor has a different family of germs in his nose or throat, now these may be just like ours, great pets, but a slight difference in their makeup may cause us a lot of trouble. For instance, lowered resistance, and by that we mean insufficient food or rest, exposure or overwork.

When we go out into the snowy wet woods, hike along, get our feet wet, sleep outside—the things that make mothers hair gray—we might think that cold would be frequent but just the opposite is true. Arctic explorers rarely have colds; we will wager that Paul Siple, the American Eagle who is with commander Byrd the Antarctic will not catch cold. But don't think that just outside with snow and ice will you from catching cold, you be strong, in good health and accustomed to outdoor exercise, hot house plant fares very well in a blizzard but if a scout get outside, take hikes in the ter, romp in the snow, you will much better for it if you can warm and dry at night.

Oh, yes, we were going to you how colds are caught, but not hard, the keyword is care. Going to school may do it, ball, movies and in closely crowded buildings where personal contact is made. It is in these places we inhale some of the other lows pets and then they set inflammation in our nasal passages and people tell us we have cold.

CLUB NOTES

Eighty Home Demonstration Club folks attended the Rally held in the Auditorium of the Methodist church in Clarendon Nov. 22. In spite of a snow covered ground and continued freezing temperature. During the day as many as 20 guests took part in the day's program. Those who came at noon promise never to cease singing the praises of Home Demonstration Cookery.

The program started at 10 a. m. with a get acquainted contest. The Club song America the Beautiful, was sung. Then came the stunts programs. Ashtola, Chamberlain, and Lelia Lake taking part. All voted Chamberlain 1st place on the interesting readings and songs presented at this time. Then came the reading of the summary of the year's work by secretaries of each Club represented. Ashtola, Chamberlain, Clarendon, Giles, Lelia Lake, Martin and Naylor had reports, altho Giles had no delegate present. After the reading of the reports all the Record Books were turned over to Miss Elsie L. Phillips of Claude who judged the reports contest.

The group was then turned into a council meeting headed by Mrs. O. L. Fink. Suggestion Club Programs were finished during this meeting and the apportionment of the prize money for the Records Contest was selected.

Adjournment for lunch was announced after repeating the Club pledge.

The afternoon session opened at 1:15 p. m. with the singing of a verse of America. Then the Clubs were delighted by the readings rendered by Mrs. Frank Stocking, Clarendon's talented dramatic reader.

After announcing the invitation extended by the Lee Beaux Arts Club to the H. D. C. group to visit the art display they held in the county Club Room Friday and Saturday, music interpretation was given by Miss Ever first and second grade pupils. Motion and rite songs were featured by the 12. The whole group gave "Lady Bug"; "John Brown's Indian"; "Postman"; "The Little Shoemaker"; "The Turkey Gobbler"; Ben Hill, Jr., sang a solo, "The Gypsy Peddler" and with Fred Chamberlain, rendered the duet "The Little Seed".

Louise Wood and June McMurry sang "Betty and Billy" as a special feature of this program. Miss Christine Schroeder, next on program, favored us with two piano selections, Ecassaises-Beethoven, and The Rush Flour in Hong Kong-Chasins.

The Demonstration on Living Room Improvement, which was given at this time by Miss Thompson treated of color-harmony and rhythmic repetition as well as utility arrangement in making the interior of the home livable.

One of the greatest treats of the afternoon was then afforded the group when Miss Fray Stallings rendered "Torch Light March" and "Memories".

The relation of "Home Economics Teachers and Mothers of Pupils" was charmingly discussed by Miss Helen Beck, who invited all of the women to come and see the Home Economic Department of Clarendon College.

As a grand climax of the demonstration on Living Room Improvement those attending the rally were told of Living Rooms set up in the windows of Kerbow & Sons and the Clarendon Furniture Store for them to inspect, after adjournment.

The election of a rural Representative to the Panhandle Park Association was considered and postponed until the next county meeting.

The meeting adjourned in union. The Club prayer after Miss Phillips announced winners in the contests. To end the day the Lee Beaux Arts Exhibit was visited and all went home feeling a joy that can come only when a day has been well spent.

SOCIETY

Baptist W. M. S. Met At The Church Wednesday

The Baptist Woman's Missionary Society met at the church Wednesday afternoon. The topic, "Our Unchanged Task in a Changing World", was led by Mrs. J. T. Warren. Other ladies on the program were: Mmes. Mollie Gray, E. R. Tatum, Geo. H. McCleskey, W. C. Stewart.

Mrs. Frank Simmons sang a beautiful vocal solo. Committees for the year were appointed by Mrs. Gray, the president after which the T. E. L. class served refreshments to the twenty-four members present and one visitor.

CHRISTIAN LADIES AID

Mrs. C. L. Knight was hostess to the Christian Ladies Aid at their meeting Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. O. D. Liesberg presided over the business session and Mrs. Tucker led in the devotional, the subject being taken from the 7th Chapter of Luke.

The members were especially delighted to have Mrs. D. W. Clappitt with them again, she having been ill for some time.

Delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Knight, assisted by Mrs. J. D. McAdams.

MISSSES MARY AND HELEN SLATER ENTERTAIN

Misses Mary and Helen Slater entertained a few of their friends with a "42" party Friday evening.

After several interesting games were played, refreshments were served to: Misses Bessie Lee Clayton, Gladys Nobles, Dock Mann, Buck Nobles, Farrel Howard, Roy Larry and the hostesses, Misses Mary and Helen Slater.

MRS. SAM DARDEN HOSTESS TO BRIDGE CLUB

Mrs. Sam Darden was hostess to the Young Matron's Bridge Club Thursday afternoon. The guest suite was decorated with Thanksgiving suggestions, the same scheme being carried out in the games.

In the games, Mrs. Dorr Ellis won guest prize, Miss Lelia Mae Kerbow was awarded high club prize.

A delicious turkey luncheon was served to: Misses Lillian Murphey, Bette Weatherly, Edna Butler, Mmes. Dorr Ellis, Clifford Davis and Joe Ellison, as guests and to the following members: Mmes. Lanham Ball, Carl Bennett, Jr., Kelly Chamberlain, T. Stargel, Lillian Brady, B. F. Kirtley, T. O. Norwood. And Misses Lelia Mae Kerbow, Loraine Patrick and Lotta Bourland.

HI-LEAGUE SOCIAL

Several members of the Hi-League met in a social Thursday evening at the Methodist church. James Smith presided and Adaline Smith led in the devotional.

Plans were made for the Hi-League to have charge of the music at the church services once each month and to assist the Junior and Senior League members in their programs on Fifth Sunday meetings.

Rev. Sam E. Allison, in a few well chosen remarks, complimented the members for their work being done and expressed his appreciation for their support in his work.

During the social hour, games were played and refreshments of fruit and cookies were served to about thirty members. Miss Fannie Perry was guest of the evening.

MACDOWELL CHORAL CLUB IS DOING SPLENDID WORK

Much interest is being manifest by the members of the MacDowell Choral Club in their work this year which probably is due to the efficient direction of Mr. C. C. Cope, who was elected director of this club early in October.

Mrs. Clark Hemminger, the president, also is working quite faithfully to keep up the interest of the club and very few members are absent from the rehearsals which are held each Tuesday evening in the Ladies Parlor of the Methodist Episcopal Church South.

Miss Thompson met with the girls club at the school house Wednesday morning with a large crowd of girls present. She gave them a lesson in sewing.

THANKSGIVING DINNER

The ladies of the Christian church are to serve a real Thanksgiving dinner in the basement of the church Thursday.

Committees have already sold a large number of tickets and it looks like they are to have their biggest crowd on that day. Turkey with all the trimmings and then some is the way Homer Mulkey and Ora Liesberg told it to the folks Monday as they handed out the tickets to eager takers at a dollar a shot.

The ladies will use the funds towards raising the church debt, only a small amount being necessary to make the final payment with what the men folks have raised the past week.

Recluse Is Victim of Mysterious Murder

Fe. N. M.—The little art of Tnos, N. M., is thrills as a murder mystery which is the weirdest tales of fiction. A. R. Manby, wealthy English recluse, was found in the library of his home there, his body clad in a brown and his severed a nearby room. He had lived alone in this big well furnished and adorned with two ferocious dogs as his companions. He was kept chained at the table. Manby for years had been in a diary but entries in a diary he had made that he was still following day. On July 3 he was notified by persons who were withheld that he had been seen for several days there was reason to be dead. An officer entered after killing the dog at to find the man's dead

Death, First Verdict. The jury decided that he met his death from nature and that the second man's body and bit the spine, carrying the other room. Manby had been murdered, and he began an investigation. The task in the hands of a skilled French doctor has been living in the last two years because of his ill health.

The evidence Martin body of Manby was found it was found that he had been murdered with a sawed-off which had blown away. The murderer had the head, picked out from the chest and placed the head in the it was found.

Wester Background. Next few days evidence which forms the for this amazing murder. A man named Stone discovered in Colfax county, the Mystic mine. He met a man Ben Hill with whom he had been in partnership. The man had been in the mine for some time. The man had been in the mine for some time. The man had been in the mine for some time.

First to Vanish. One disappeared and it was said that he had been in 1895 Manby appeared. He was a partner in gold prospecting the West and in the entered partnership with another man. He became more and more. It is now claimed that there was systematic in connection with the Aztec property. The man disappeared in 1921, after disappearing for some time. He began to have hallucinations, it was said, were some one interested in him. He heard noises, heard his dead voice, even claimed he was possessed. The result was that he went mad and was taken to Las Vegas, where he died. This left only Manby's daughter, Teris, in the Mystic mine. At the time Manby was investigations started at home was stripped of measures, rugs, furniture in gold and dust known to have been in the building was re-

POSSUM AND TATERS
Sam Fryar, editor of the Clarks-ville Times, is trying to rib up another business proposition. He wants some East Texas later raiser to get with Ernest Parker of the Sherman Democrat, who owns possum dawgs, so they will have the combination—possum and taters.—Bonham Favorite.

ELOQUENT FIGURES
Young men, you can make your choice now and provide for the days of old age. There are certain young men who do this but not many. A business amounting into billions of dollars has been built by depending upon the law of average as to what becomes of one hundred healthy men at the age of 25 when the sixty-fifth mile post is reached. Here it is and you can take your choice now as some do and therefore be among the few who are not dependent: Out of the 100 who start out at 25, four are wealthy at 65; one is very rich; 36 will be dead; 5 will be self-supporting by labor; 540 will be dependent. These are facts that you can't get away from. By spending $25 a month on cigarettes, "cokes" and an occasional bottle of bootleg you waste an amount that would make you independent if properly invested long before you reach 65. But the law of average holds. Few have the determination to stick to a saving program.—Uvalde Leader News.

HUNTING THE HUNTER
The daily papers have been called upon to chronicle the killing of a number of hunters in Texas during the past two weeks, that line of news forcing the auto tragedies off the front pages: One estimate places the death of hunters as high as fifteen in the State, which, if true, is worse than auto work in the same line. Too many men become excited when a gun is placed in their hands, being ready to shoot at any object that has the look of wild game.—Childress News.

HAVE A LITTLE MERCY
If preachers, teachers, school, club, society and other reporters who help furnish interesting news for this widely read paper would cooperate a little closer and help a little more by getting their copy in earlier in the week it would elevate our spiritual condition a hundred per cent. Items which could just as well come in Monday about things which happened the previous week, or announcements for meetings to be held next week, the plans for which are just as ready Monday as they are Thursday, are delayed in reaching us frequently until Thursday morning, when the shop is in a jam with late happenings which have to go, correcting proofs, making changes necessitated by different conditions arising, and the force generally is in about the condition of a man having a nightmare. This makes the paper late, and causes disappointment to subscribers and the postmaster gets mad and the press busts or the folder cuts a tape, and everything is worse than when the biscuits burn at home and the coffee boils over on the gas jet. We have plead with our friends until we have just about reached the conclusion that they don't care where printers go, but prefer that they go quickly.

If a little thought were given to the trouble procrastination in sending in items gives the country print shop, or any other shop, there would be more charity exercised in helping to prevent editors and printers from going mad.—Garland News.

INJUSTICE TO TAXPAYERS
Postponement of trials of criminals may have its basis of equality to the lawbreaker, but the delay brings injustice to the taxpayers. A man is arrested and jailed for committing a crime. For one reason or another he languishes behind the bars for months and sometimes for years. The keeping of inmates in jails is an expensive procedure. Those inmates must be fed and warmed and doctored. The list of expenditures runs into dozens of thousands for paying out the people's money. The only relief is immediate trial.

Furthermore, postponement in most cases enhances the criminal's chance to escape the just penalties of the law. Witnesses die, or they disappear and can not be found. The immediate shock of the crime weakens with time, and even executive officials do not feel so keenly the necessity for vigorous prosecution. Criminals become ill, and in their ill health a maulin sympathy is permitted to influence the whole community. Criminals' families become objects of charity, and then additional floods of sympathy deluge the land, and new charities are created.

Any just system of jurisprudence should make crime pay for itself at least, and leave a balance to the credit of the penal account. Our crime budget is the largest item of local, state and national expense. War expenditures may exceed it, but war is an abnormal condition of the whole country, and should not be considered in any comparative statement of expenses alongside the cost of crime. The only equitable system in one which demands and makes effective a procedure wherein the criminal, by fine or confiscated labor, pays the cost of his lawlessness. Such a system would relieve our tax rolls of large burdens and lower the tax rate substantially. No method can be justly defended that keeps criminals out of court over long periods of time during which the lawless must be housed, fed, clothed, guarded and sustained in all the necessities of life.—Denison Herald.

FASHIONS DECREE OPPOSED

When the demi-mondians of Paris decided to exhibit their legs publicly as well as privately and the fashion edict of knee-length skirts went forth, the feminine world was started but promptly bowed to the decree. Now another edict has come from Paris, as radical as the former, commanding an immediate return to long dresses, and the feminine world is anguished over the bitter choice of surrendering short-skirt "freedom" or consenting to look "old-fashioned." Prominent women have written in outrage to the papers, declaring that this time they simply will not bow the knee of Paris and girls who have to "crash the subway" mournfully assert that they simply cannot "wear a train." Never before has there been such a clamor of rebellion, but if the past is any indication of the future, the rebels of all classes will soon be found in line on the principle that a woman might as well be in her coffin as in old-fashioned clothes.

Even some of the men who at first were shocked by the spectacle of legs of all degrees of beauty (and ugliness) have joined in the protest. After all, legs are legs even if no longer a "treat" on account of their multitude and disturbing variety. To the delight of the protesting women, the Science Service of Washington has marshalled an impressive list of medical authorities and hygienists who hold that mud-sweeping skirts are unsanitary and should not come back. But Paris will merely laugh at such futile struggles, knowing that its will is law. Meanwhile the philosophic non-partisan wonders why a sane compromise of skirts three or four inches above the ankle is not possible of arrangement.—Albuquerque Journal.

They're on again! the motor's down, We're running swift and slick, But a paper's on the rollers now, And you bet it's there to stick. The whole d-n bunch is mad as sin And cussin' more or less, For h-l breaks loose on Friday, when The paper goes to press. —By Captain Jack Mills, many years ago on the Ada Indian Territory Democrat.

PRESS DAY JOYS

There's trouble in the printshop, No language can express; For Friday's rolled around again The day we go to press. The compositors are hustling fast, Each has a dirty proof, The make-up man is cussin' In a way to raise the roof. The "devil" pied a galley full Of solid nonpariel; The foreman's saying things to him That makes the brimstone smell. The stenographer is jawin' 'bout An ink-spot on her dress, And any gol-darned fool can tell We're trying to get to press. Everything is all "balled up," The forms are in a mess; And now the Old Man's asking: When we're going to press?

Through the room there rings aloud, A piercing hell-born wall— The office dog is yelpin', 'cause They've stepped upon his tail. The pressman is ready now—but The d-n old forms won't "lift," So he whittles out a "dutchman," And gives his quid a shift. The forms are on the press at last, The press is running great— But we've got to take 'em off again— "Forgot to change the date!"

Foremer Clarendon Men Make Record Drive

A. M. (Dusty) Taylor and T. M. Little, Jr. made a record drive from their home at Ft. Collins, Colorado to Clarendon the first of the week. Leaving there early in the morning, they drove to Clarendon where Mr. Taylor remained over to visit with relatives, while Mr. Little continued on to Mangum, Okla., a distance of 735 miles made in one day. Mr. Taylor is engaged in the painting and paper hanging business in his home town where he also operates a prosperous paint store with a nice stock. Both men returned to Colorado Saturday.

Thanksgiving Feasts Recorded In Ancient Biblical History

Tribes Of Many Lands Pay Tribute In Some Form During Harvest

That the idea of Thanksgiving originated among the early American colonies, is in error, partly at least. The Pilgrims set up a different form and used many different dates. According to Bradford's history, the first Thanksgiving Day was held during the year 1621 between the dates of September 23rd and November 11th.

Again in 1623, the date was changed to July 30th. This day was first observed as one of feasting. The idea of making it a day of religious worship originated later.

In reading ancient history, the Canaanites celebrated their harvest which is recorded in the Book of Judges as follows: "And they went into the fields and gathered their vineyards, and trode the grapes and held festival, and went into the house of their God, and did eat and drink."

In Deuteronomy commands of Moses are on record as commanding the people to observe a "feast day." In Leviticus the command is: "When ye have gathered in the fruit of the land, ye shall keep a feast unto the Lord."

The Romans later observed a day of paying tribute to Ceres, their goddess of the harvest and chose October 4th for the celebration. England later observed "Harvest Home" for the same purpose.

When the first white people came to America, the Indians were found to be observing a feast day celebration. The present "Green Corn Dance" of the New Mexico and Arizona Indians is a remnant of such a celebration.

Abraham Lincoln is said to have issued the first Thanksgiving Proclamation to be nationally observed on November 26, 1863. Previous to that time, governors of the various states had issued state proclamations. Later, President Andrew Johnson dispensed with this idea.

History records the fact that shortly after his inauguration George Washington issued a Thanksgiving Proclamation in 1789 from the White House then located in New York City that is said to be the masterpiece of proclamation classics in all American history. This proclamation is quite lengthy, but may be found in most any history of the United States.

4-H Club Radio Program

The fifth of a series of National 4-H Club radio programs to be broadcast over a national hook-up of 36 stations is scheduled for Saturday, November 30. This will take the place of the December program which would ordinarily have been scheduled for the first Saturday in that month. The program will consist of talks by the State leaders from Illinois, Michigan, Minnesota, and Mississippi, and music furnished by the National Broadcasting Company's staff orchestra. The broadcasting will be done from the Chicago studios of the National Broadcasting Company on this date. Mary A. McKee, Specialist in Junior Club Work, Illinois, will speak on "Social Values of Large Meetings to Farm Boys and Girls"; Elaine Massey, assistant in girls' club work, Mississippi, will speak on "Values of Team Demonstration and Judging Work to Boys and Girls"; A. G. Kettunen, State Club Leader, Michigan, will speak on "Educational Values of Trips to Farm Boys and Girls"; and T. A. Erickson, State Club Leader, Minnesota, will discuss "Farm and Home-Making Achievements and Their Value to Boys and Girls."

The time for the broadcast for this particular program has been advanced one hour, resulting in the following schedule:
Eastern Standard Time, 12 noon to 12:45 p. m.
Central Standard Time, 11 a. m. to 11:45 a. m.
Mountain Standard Time, 10 a. m. to 10:45 a. m.

Finance Cost Reduced By Ford To Assist In Business Promotion

Carrying Charge Cut Declared Equivalent To Lower Prices

Officials of the Universal Credit Company, associated with Ford Motor Company, to finance purchasers of Ford products on a time basis, say the reduction in financing costs announced Nov. 1 by the Universal Credit Company were made in conformance with the Ford policy to contribute toward the continuation of good business throughout the country, and in contemplation of lower money costs to them as a result of the general softening of money rates.

The reduction amounts to from 8 to 15 per cent of previous financing costs, depending upon the amount of the unpaid balance, the number of months the transaction is to run and the amount of the reduction in the price of the particular Ford car purchased.

In 1928 a total of 35,000 purchasers took advantage of the economies of this finance plan, with a resulting volume of business amounting to $15,000,000.

During 1929, the first complete year of the company's operation, nearly 500,000 customers will avail themselves of this plan. A total volume of business of nearly $225,000,000 is expected by the twenty-five branches in operation.

"Universal Credit Company is a specialized financial institution created to provide uniform and authorized time payment plans at low cost for the purchase of Ford products on an installment basis," and official said.

"The purpose is to reduce the cost of credit to the individual who buys on time, commensurate with sound business policies. Simplicity of forms, special bookkeeping and statistical machinery and general uniformity of procedure all under centralized control and contributing to cut these costs.

"This cost of credit is just as vital as the cost of any of the material that goes into the building of the automobile.

"Thus the Universal Credit Company's new low finance charges are equivalent to a further reduction on the Model A car and other Ford products.

"If industry is to continue to create products, they must be consumed. To make this consumption possible by the wage earner who helps create the product, the manufacturer presents low cost finance plans and makes available credit where credit is due. A sound installment plan is now one of the necessary elements of our modern business system and is so recognized."

Dallas Drygoods House Is After Clarendon Business

During the past week, hundreds of small catalogs of an old reliable Dallas dry goods house have been received by the folks in this trade territory. There is more of them this time than ever before. If they got no business, or it did not pay, they would have quit.

Dallas is getting the business that rightfully belongs at home simply because the local merchant in many instances, does not push his business by advertising to the folks just what he has. No, there is no question but what he has the goods and price is right, but the merchant and the newspaper man are the only two who know about it. These same two fellows can get together and keep the business at home if they will. Are you willing to help us, Mr. Business Man?

Mrs. Nat Rollins, president of the Missionary Zones One and Two, spent Wednesday night with Mrs. C. A. Burton, on her way to the Memphis meeting.

HEDLEY

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Masterson motored over to Amarillo Tuesday attending to business also visiting with their daughters, returning home Wednesday.

The Brice High School Boys and Girls basketball team came over Wednesday afternoon to brush up a little on our new in-door Gym and as the High School team had planned a Weenie Roast, it came that the All-star team play a scrim game with them. The All-Star gave them a good run and held the score down to 9 to 0 in favor of Brice. This being a high school team gave the All-Stars, pep and they hope to get in some real good practice in the next few days and when they play the school girls again the song may be just a little different, lets boost for the All-Stars, They need it.

Ruby Moffitt and Gladys Ewen motored down to Memphis Thursday afternoon attending to business.

Friday morning about 9:30 o'clock Harve Wilson of the Wilton Drug Store was taken seriously ill, a doctor of Clarendon was called and upon arrival, he thought the best plan would be to take him to the hospital. When they had given him a thorough examination found that he had an acute attack of appendicitis. At the present writing he is reported as doing as well as he could be expected under the condition he went there in.

Mr. and Mrs. Cousins of McLean were over for the week end with Mr. Cousins sister, Mrs. Chas Lowry.

Mrs. R. B. Adams left Saturday night to be gone through Thanksgiving with her sister in Childress.

Mr. William Adams of Memphis spent the week end with friends. Miss Neta Culwell who had been teaching school in Kirkland, had been sick for several days, when she was carried over to the hospital in Clarendon, and had an operation performed Thursday morning. At this present writing she is doing very well under the conditions.

Mr. Joe Nipper of Memphis was here Saturday seeing home folks and friends.

The 1919 Jr. Study met in the regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Ralph Moreman Wednesday afternoon. The program rendered was very much enjoyed by those present and the hostess served a dainty plate lunch to the members. Not being able to attend the program I failed to secure the names of those present. Reporter.

The play presented by the grades, with Miss Mace as sponsor was very much enjoyed by those present and the children showed real talent and Seniors look out these kiddies are coming. The night was cold and bad, but there was a nice crowd out.

Mrs. C. L. Johnson is spending a few days with relatives over in Oklahoma.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Grundy and sons Darnell and Tommie were up from Memphis visiting with Mrs. Grundy. Mrs. John Edwards, also in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ebb Hooker.

Bill Edwards spent the week end with relatives in Memphis. Mr. Homer Simmons of Memphis was here seeing friends, also attending business Saturday afternoon.

Thanksgiving is almost here and if we look around us we will find many, many things to be thankful for. Everyone should try and express thanks for one or more things for we have that day set aside for that purpose.

POULTRY FACTS

LAYING HOUSES IN NEED OF CLEANING

Scrape and Scrub Various Utensils Made Use Of.

Information to poultrymen concerning fall cleaning of poultry houses is given in a statement just issued by Hoyt M. Wells, poultryman for the Colorado Agricultural college.

"The laying house for the pullets should be given a thorough cleaning," says Wells. "All dropping boards, roosts, nesting boxes, feeders and drinking containers ought to be scraped and scrubbed with a good disinfectant. Roosts may be painted with a carbolineum product to control red mites. Old litter should be removed from the floor, and if the floor is wooden or concrete, it should be scraped and sprayed with a good disinfectant.

"Whitewashing walls and ceiling will give greater sanitation and provide more light in the house in winter. Whitewash may be applied best with a force spray pump. This mixture gives good results. Slack lump lime with water to the consistency of cream. Take five quarts of this, add one pint of good coat tar disinfectant and one quart of kerosene, stir thoroughly, and add an equal amount of water. Strain the whitewash through a fine screen or a piece of burlap before using it in the sprayer.

"Window lights should be cleaned and broken ones replaced. Sweep down all muslin curtains, and replace with new muslin those that are too dirty or torn.

"This is the best time of the year to repair the roof, or put on a new one. Check over all seams on patent roofing for leaks.

"A good deep litter should be put in the laying house next, and new nesting material in the nest boxes. Remove old litter and replace with bright, clean straw every four weeks or oftener, if necessary."

Scratching Found Not Essential to Fowls

Three flocks of Rhode Island Reds and three White Leghorns at the University of Illinois indicated that hens do as well when fed grain in boxes as when they are obliged to scratch for it in deep litter. This method has the advantage of being much cleaner and more sanitary.

One lot of each breed was fed dry mash in hoppers and scratch grain morning and night in straw litter. A second lot received dry mash in hoppers, but the grain was fed twice daily in shallow troughs. For the third lot the scratch grain was ground and mixed with the mash and the whole ration self-fed in hoppers.

No high records were made, but the egg yield was not affected materially by the methods of feeding. The test ran for 41 weeks.

The grain mixture was shelled corn, 70 pounds and oats, 30 pounds. The mash was made up of 17 pounds each of ground corn, ground oats, wheat bran and flour middlings, 25 pounds of dried buttermilk, 5 pounds of bone meal and 2 pounds of salt.

POULTRY FACTS

Shut up the broody hens each night.

Eggs are a food which is quickly and easily digested.

Infertile eggs do not spoil as readily as fertile eggs do.

Don't forget the water pans. Eggs are not produced without a constant supply.

Cleanliness is next to godliness. In the chicken business it spells success or failure.

Eggs from hens have a higher rate of hatchability than those from pullets, and produce larger and more vigorous chicks.

Ducks consume a great quantity of green food in the ration to insure them getting sufficient. The same holds true with the geese.

The collection of flowering cherry trees that was presented to the city of Washington by Japan in 1912 consists of almost 2,000 trees.

Records kept by poultry flock owner shows that culling of flocks and marketing of unprofitable layers and surplus broilers are highly profitable practices.

For the gosling a mixture of corn meal bran and ground oats mixed with the table scraps and moistened with milk or water to a crumbly consistency is satisfactory.

If there are mites in the poultry house keep the chicks outside. The mites can live for six months to a year without the chicks, but the chicks can't live six days with the mites.

Hawks and crows are often blamed for chick losses that trace to stray cats. These thieves can be caught in box traps, set near the poultry runs, and baited with a dead chicken.

A little extra feeding now may give you more late summer and fall eggs. Hens won't eat much in the real hot weather, and a bit of extra weight put on them now will help them to lay better.

Pioneer Ranger To Leave Force

Captain Frank Hamer, After Twenty-Six Years of Service, Will Enter New Line of Work

Austin, Texas.—"Well, I won't be happy, but there are other things—" Captain Frank Hamer of the Texas rangers, mused.

He was talking about taking one of the many "comfortable" situations that have been offered him in the 26 years he has given to his state in working up evidence in running down criminals.

He has under serious consideration acceptance of a place that will pay him more money and afford him a less hazardous occupation.

But, Frank Hamer does not like to think about not being a Texas ranger. He is still young despite his more than a quarter of a century service in the saddle, out of the saddle—shooting and being shot at. He has never been known to shoot except when shot at first.

This big man who has worn a six-shooter almost since he discarded his swaddling clothes and who can puncture a bull's eye without half trying is tenderhearted in spite of the many frigid hearts he has dealt with.

As a rule he runs down criminals and after he gets the goods on them he becomes an "influence." They generally trust him above everybody else and give in to his keeping confidences that they know he will regard as sacred.

Then, after the call is wound up and they walk across the divide—into the electric chair—they send for Captain Hamer for a last chat. Then, as a rule he obeys their last injunction of friendship.

"Frank, don't look on while they give me the juice."

Hamer has never been known to "look on," when he has been asked not to. He usually stands out in the window of the little room whence no convicted criminal returneth.

Now Captain Hamer is thinking of "other things"—Mrs. Hamer and their interesting children. He has made up his mind to take one of these numerous "positions" offered him from many sources.

Perhaps he is thinking of that little boy of his—just now starting to school—who had his long golden curls that reached almost to his shoulders recently cut. It was reported Wednesday that he is going to resign.

Paul Hodges is in Post this week on a business mission.

Miss Neda Colwell of Hedley was operated upon at the Adair Hospital Friday for appendicitis.

The original declaration of Texas' independence was placed on exhibit in the capitol building at Austin the past week when it was recovered from the storage files by the Secretary of State.

Hugh Taylor, who bought the Ed Speed farm east of town some time back, will have a house built and otherwise improve the place just as soon as the weather moderates. *John Eudy has the carpenter part in charge.

HEART MISPLACED

Raymond Richards' football playing ability is not hampered by the fact that his heart and other vital organs are reversed from their normal position. The 200-pound tackle of the University of Nebraska's squad plans to enter aviation following his graduation next spring.

CAPITAL WEEKLY PRESS

THE GOVERNOR

Moody Week:

Governor Moody urged the Federal Farm Board to arrange for banks and local farm cooperative units to make cotton loans. The Texas Farm Bureau, Dallas, is handling all loans. Falling prices of cotton, the Governor said, were checked by extending loans to producers.

"If the Farm Board regards it as practical and legal, it seems to me that more of the cotton farmers could be reached if the Board, in addition to what it has done, would authorize responsible banks as representatives of the Farm Board to extend loans to a fixed amount upon specified grades of cotton."

The Governor reiterated his strong stand in favor of a statewide bond issue for highway construction in an address before the American Association of State Highway Officials, meeting in San Antonio.

Another indication, political observers say, that Moody will force the bond plan as a campaign issue for next year in a try for reelection, or as a mantle to cast to his 'pick'.

Restoration of citizenship rights was made to L. A. Lafon, Webb County, convicted embezzler, on request of District Attorney John Falls, who needs Lafon's testimony in an important case.

TEXAS AGRICULTURE

Seed Planting Laws:

The Division of Pathology and Seeds, State Department of Agriculture, J. M. Del Curto, Chief, is now quite busy receiving applications and filling orders for germination tags. These requests have come from some of the largest growers of planting seed in the State.

The State Department of Agriculture has two divisions which administer State planting seed laws. One is the Field Seed Certification Division, which administers the law pertaining to variety of seed.

The other, the Division of Pathology and Seeds, administers the law pertaining to mechanical purity only—that is, germination and the percentage of noxious seeds and foreign matter. This Division has nothing to do with the law applying to varietal purity, as is clearly shown on the tags.

That feature of the mechanical purity law which requires the seller of planting seed to procure tags from the State Department of Agriculture is entirely new and somewhat unique, in that it is backed by the seller's affidavit of the correctness of the test, as shown on the tag. It also requires that untested seed must be labeled, "untested". However, this law is not to be confused with the law pertaining to certification as to variety.

HIGH COURTS

Court of Criminal Appeals:

Held unconstitutional a law enacted by the 41st Legislature, which prohibited the removal of tenants and laborers from farms during the night time without consent of farm owners.

"Has this country come to the point where honest men who labor to make a living dare not call on any person to move them or their affects except within certain hours prescribed by the Legislature? What a tremendous power it would put in the hands of landowners and landlords in this country. We are constrained to hold this law violative both of the State and Federal Constitutions, and that it is so indefinitely framed as that its comprehensions and prohibitions are impossible of enforcement."

Overruled motion for rehearing of case of E. V. Allen, under death sentence from Eastland County for robbery of a Carbon bank, December, 1927. The motion charged misconduct of the trial jury, it being claimed that eleven jurors, for the death penalty, prayed for the 12th juror to agree, which he finally did. Allen must die.

Supreme Court:

Dismissed for want of jurisdiction suit of Frank O'Rourke, former secretary of the State Prison Commission, against the Fort Worth Star-Telegram and the Austin American for libel, alleged to have been made from O'Rourke's testimony before a legislative committee. Libel suits against newspapers by officials must be brought in the district in which his duties are performed.

CRIME:

Judge John W. Brady, prominent lawyer and former State official, is held without bond in connection with the fatal stabbing of Miss Lehlia Highsmith, Supreme Court Commission of Appeals stenographer, in Austin last week. The Capital was rocked by the sensation.

Judge L. J. Brucks, 38th Judicial District, Bandera County, charged with driving an automobile while intoxicated, will face a prosecution aided by an Assistant Attorney-General. The aid was promised at the request of the Bandera County district attorney.

Texas Boys Win 4-H Cottonseed Trip To Chicago

Dallas, Texas, Nov. 24.—Six Texas boys will attend the International Live Stock Exposition and the 4-H Agricultural Club Congress at Chicago on Nov. 30 to Dec. 7, as guests of the Texas Cottonseed Crushers Association. It was announced here Wednesday by T. J. Harrell, president of the association.

These boys are winners in a Texas farm contest which was completed recently by the cottonseed organization. Trips are also being given for contests by other industries throughout the country so that approximately 1,200 boys and girls will be present at the Congress. There are about 750,000 members of the 4-H clubs through the country.

In the Texas Cottonseed Crushers' contest, six trips to Chicago, six watches and six gold medals were offered for the first, second and third prizes respectively.

High score in all Texas was won in the poultry contest by Olgee Gowen of Lamesa, Dawson county. Because of his good work, Olgee won for himself a trip to Chicago and for his teacher, M. C. Brandon, a watch.

terian colleges will be effected at Sherman, it was decided by the commission of the Synod of the Southern Presbyterian Church, meeting in Austin last week. The Daniel Baker College, Brownwood; the Austin College, Sherman; and Texas Presbyterian, Milford, are the schools to be merged.

THE DEAD.

QUINTUS U. WATSON, 53, former State senator and one time acting Governor for three days, died in Houston last week. He was a most colorful figure in state politics; an influential lobbyist, and outstanding lawyer. As President pro tem of the Senate he made famous: "I can hear the gentleman, but I can't see him."

Doughboy Monument Will Be Unveiled at Ft. Worth

General John J. Pershing will be the principal speaker at the unveiling of the Doughboy monument of Bothwell Kane Post at Ft. Worth next week.

Congressman Fritz Lanham will visit Gen. Pershing and invite him in person when he arrives at New York after a visit of nine months in France where he has been serving the Graves Locating committee.

O. L. Bodenhamer of Eldorado, Arkansas, national commander of the American Legion, will also be a guest at the unveiling of the monument.

Miss May Bennett has been spending some time in and near Hollywood, California recently. Her many friends here will rejoice to learn that her health has improved greatly since going to California.

Lubbock county had the greatest number of prizes, winning two firsts two seconds and a third. Scurry county came second with two firsts and two thirds.

Requirements for entrance into contest were membership in the 4-H Club and residence in a county where the Walraven book covers were distributed by a cotton oil mill belonging to the Cottonseed Crushers Association.

Winners in the six classes were: Poultry: 1st, Olgee Gowen, Lamesa, Dawson County; 2nd, Clay Pettit, Abernathy, Lubbock County; 3rd, Raymond Freeman, Hillsboro.

Pig: 1st, John H. Trussell, Fluvanna Scurry Co. 2nd, Russell Hoch, Von Ormy, Bexar County; 3rd A. E. Trussell, Fluvanna.

Sheep: 1st, Hugh Pettit, Abernathy; 2nd, Monroe Minssen, Luther Peterson, Lamesa; 2nd, Jordan Goddard, O'Donnell, Lynn Co. 3rd, Archie Duncan, Shallowater, Lubbock Co.

Story Contest: 1st, Milton Davis, Lubbock; Earl Fine, Slaton, Lubbock; 3rd, S. D. Hays Jr. Snyder, Scurry County.

RED CROSS

The American Red Cross is known a n d highly respected throughout the entire world. Suffering mankind in every land has been aided and comforted by its ministrations. No single charity in the world enjoys more favorable recognition. Its efficiency and accomplishments make the strongest possible appeal to our generosity. It must be remembered, however, that its power to carry on its work of relief in times of great disaster and wide-spread suffering is always limited by the funds placed at its disposal through the benevolence of our own people. Recognizing the increasing usefulness of the American Red Cross to the Army, and also, with the progress of the years, its increasing obligations to humanity, I earnestly hope there may be a correspondingly large enrollment when the annual membership drive opens on Armistice Day.

Prisoners Thank Donley County Jailer

The editor of the Leader is requested by two prisoners of the local jail to publicly express their appreciation of the treatment accorded them by Sheriff M. W. Mosley and Mrs. Mosley.

Jim Brown, who received a five year sentence for alleged complicity in the Hedley murder case, and whom the court appointed Judge A. T. Cole to defend, has been a prisoner here for the past eleven months.

He states that he has been given good food, clean bedding, plenty of both and otherwise treated fairly during the entire time of his incarceration. He wishes to thank these good people and Judge

Cole and others for every humane act.

Bud Randell, given two years for an alleged complicity in a yearling theft case, and who has been a prisoner here for some four months, also wishes to thank Sheriff Mosley and Mrs. Mosley for their many acts of kindness. He has been a cell mate of Jim's and both boys expect to be taken to Huntsville any day.

These young men asked that the good people of Donley county give them a chance to make good before believing that they were wholly bad. Both men pledged themselves to make model prisoners and to again face the world wiser and better. That they will, is the sincere wish of every fair-minded citizen of this county.

POULTRY

DAMP FLOORS ARE MENACE TO FOWLS

Owners Who Tolerate Them Are Inviting Big Losses.

Damp floors in poultry houses are inexcusable, in the opinion of E. R. Cross, agricultural engineer at the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station. Poultrymen who tolerate them are inviting heavy losses in their flocks and a general reduction in the efficiency of the birds that survive.

A dry wooden floor may be made of two layers of boards with building paper between, the top layer to be a good grade of matched flooring, so that it may be kept clean. Many poultrymen find it desirable to keep the floor 12 to 18 inches above the ground and to leave the south foundation wall open for air circulation. The other sides should be closed tight to keep out cold winds.

For a dry concrete floor, either of two methods may be used. The first is as follows: Build the foundation walls; level the ground inside, do not remove any soil; fill in with 6 to 8 inches of coarse sand, gravel, or cinders; then place 3/4 to 4 inches of concrete floor on top. In this construction, be sure the foundations are high enough for the fill of cinders and the floor. This raised floor with insulating fill will be dry.

The other method is to lay a two-course concrete floor with a layer of roofing paper between.

Sometimes the floor itself is not the cause of dampness. Then the remedy must be sought in a study of the care of the house ventilation, litter, or sunlight admitted.

Fertile Eggs Reason

for Paltry Returns

Nature intends the egg to hatch a chick. To get the best food results from eggs we have to defeat nature's purpose by producing infertile eggs. A fertile egg is just as good as an infertile one, if it is used at once, but it won't hold up under summer market conditions.

Sell or confine the roosters as soon as the breeding season is over. The hens will lay just as well without the male in the flock. Using early hatched cockerels is a good breeding practice on the farms. Selling them as soon as your hatching season is over saves a feed bill of from 90 cents to $1.50 each. If you have particularly valuable males, confine them.

Difficult to Decide

Sex of Young Poults

It is difficult to be absolutely sure of the sex of young turkey poults. The males will usually "shoot the red" and show development of the fleshy growth on the head a little sooner than the females, and they are also likely to grow more rapidly than the females.

With the Bronze variety of turkeys the sex can also be detected by the plumage color as soon as they are well feathered. The breasts of the females show the characteristic white tips to the breast feathers, while the males will show dark tips.

Changing Breeds

Several years ago it was common advice to avoid changing breeds of poultry. It was before the days of the large hatchery when poultrymen established a flock with a few settings of eggs, possibly bought at a high price, and then spent several years in developing their own flocks. A change meant starting all over. In many cases parts of both breeds would be retained, and soon a pure-bred flock became a flock of crosses followed by a flock of mongrels.

Poultry Meat Breeds

On many farms ducks, geese and turkeys are the sources of considerable income. Ducks are the meat birds of poultry. They are hardy and with the exception of picking are easy to handle. A duck, if well cared for, weighs five pounds at the end of ten weeks. It takes a chicken twice as long to grow to this size. Ducks are good egg producers. The eggs are larger than hens' eggs. The Pekin and Runner are popular breeds, the former weighing around ten pounds when matured.

Must Have Feed

The Purdue university poultry department summarizes the general treatment of the farm hen as follows:

"Hens won't live on hopes and prospects. They must have feed, and plenty of it. The hen does not get enough to eat in summer. The fields, barnyards and feed lots will furnish the hen little else but grains and green food. These alone and in their present insufficient quantities will not be sufficient to produce good egg production."

Like Old Roosts

Pullets learn to like their roosts in the colony house and fruit trees. After they have been housed for several weeks the weather may be warm and sunny, and there is a great temptation to turn out the flock for a few more days of exercise on the range. If this is done, and the pullets have any way of returning to their old roosts, they are apt to leave the laying house some evening, and it is a most discouraging job picking them from the trees.

WHAT CHIROPRACTIC IS

EDUCATIONAL SERIES—No.1

It is not the purpose of this circular to discuss any special disease, but to give you the basic principles of Chiropractic in a general way, and tell you what it has demonstrated itself qualified to do.

Chiropractic as defined by the International Congress of Chiropractic Examiners, and Steadman's Medical Dictionary, is the science that teaches health in Anatomic Relation, and disease in Anatomic Disrelation, and the art of restoring anatomic relation by a process of adjusting by hand. This means that when you are sick, there must be disrelated tissue in your body.

Contrary to the illusion that has gotten out to the public, Chiropractors do not claim that a misplaced or subluxated vertebra is the cause of all disease. They do claim that irritation beyond tissue resistance is the cause of all abnormality. This irritation may be grouped under three classes: First—Hereditary tissue tendency; Second—Environmental, which includes traumatic injury, emotional injury, etc.; Third—Chemical, which includes wrong diet, inoculation into the system. This causes occlusion of Life Force through the nerves to the area involved.

Chiropractors know how to locate this occlusion and disrelation, and then adjust the body so as to bring all parts back to anatomic relationship. When this has been accomplished all occlusion or interference with the nerves is relieved. All parts of the body start to function normally. Then health is the result.

So if the nerves are right, the man is right. If the nerves are wrong, so is the man.

The Chiropractic adjusting, by restoring normal action to these nerves, supplies normal Life Force to all the weakened organs and tissues of the body.

The practice of Chiropractic, then, is the system of adjusting all parts of the body, by hand, to bring all parts back to Anatomic Relation. It is the most efficient method of relieving disease yet known to man.

If you want information about Chiropractic, or the application of Chiropractic to your own case, go to your Chiropractor to get it. He is the only one who knows, because he has made a study of it.

Chiropractors are not fighting the medical man, the osteopath, or the surgeon.

The surgeon will always be needed, and in time will be working right alongside the Chiropractor, as many are now doing.

As to the other two, we maintain that each person, when sick, should be allowed to call the one he desires, whether it be a medical man, osteopath or Chiropractor, so why should there be a fight? The one who delivers the best results will survive. We are willing to put the merits of Chiropractic against those of any other method, and let the people choose by the results.

Chiropractic is not medicine, surgery, osteopathy, or anything—but Chiropractic. It is a science of positive location of basic anatomic disease, and the art of re-

WAYS AND MEANS

No matter what the shortcoming, scolding or perpetual nagging never cured it. A word of encouragement, rightly placed, is worth a carload of impatient adjuration.

I know a man who is generally regarded as a financial failure. As such he is passed by, as not worth the attention of the busy world. He, therefore, becomes despondent at times; if he does a good deed, people seem to think he has not done all he should. They regard him as a goodnatured guy, who could have been wealthy if he had just had any sense.

In reality, this fellow has lent a hand every time he found a brother in need—a hand, for that was all he had. He gives his mite cheerfully to charity, church and state. Peddlers regard him as "easy money," if he happens to increase his income a little; they swarm about him like mosquitoes.

His wife nags him, because he does not make good like other husbands do for their wives. His life of service to others is anything but a happy one. If every man was as honest as Joe, this would be a better world.

Once he confided to me, "I've tried to be a good man, and, above everything else, to wrong nobody; I've done my best, but it don't seem to make me any friends."

"Joe," I replied, "you haven't enemies; everybody like you—I'm sure of that."

"But, doctor," he came back, "they never tell me so. If somebody'd just—"

He drew out a faded handkerchief, turned away for a moment and repeated, "if they'd just give me a word, now and then—"

I saw myself as in a mirror; I had never found time to lighten Joe's burden—to give him what his hungry heart was crying for. And it would have cost me absolutely nothing!

Joe is a better man than I am. I felt like a culprit under an unintentional rebuke.

John D. Rockefeller tells about overhearing a negro workman on his pocanico Hills estate calling his son:

"Come heah, Weatherstrip!" "Why do you call him Weatherstrip?" the oil magnate inquired with surprise.

"Why, you see Mr. Rockefeller dat chile was born'n just befo' de wah and Ah calls him 'Weatherstrip' because he done kept me out of de draft."

The Glasco (Kans.) Sun is certain that Italian bigamist who confessed having five heads of Europe.

moving the same. It is equally efficient in all phases of disease.

At no distant day Chiropractic will be recognized, as teaching the universal relationship of body to soul. The application of these eternal principles will do much to relieve the sickness, sorrow and despair now incident to human living. Then we shall enjoy such health and strength as has never before been known.

Drouth Compels Jones County Farmers To Sell Cows

Saturday, an old time friend of the Editor, Marvin Faulkner of Roaring Springs, dropped in for the first meeting in 23 years. We talked over old times and as Marvin buys and sells cattle for a livelihood, being a rancher down his way, we naturally got to talking about cows.

In speaking of cows, this man has been going down into Jones county and other drouth stricken sections and buying good Jersey cows for $40 to $50 dollars and hauling them by truck to the plains and getting a handsome profit.

Well the Editor would not want to but in on a good thing that Marvin might have lined up, but there is a lot of croplers area down there and the folks are having to sell their cows because of a lack of feed. Some of our folks up here might investigate the situation and get some good cows headed toward old Donley county.

We need 'em and we need 'em badly. While the Editor has several crack Jerseys, we will take one more at the right price and of the right kind to head a list and if some one acquainted down there will investigate, we might get a bunch of good stuff at a bargain. Who will push this thing along?

A Correction

This is a simple correction without apologies. Last week Miss Harvey Thompson, H. D. agent, handed us a letter written by a girl who has taken a trip to the Dallas fair. There was no name signed to the letter. Miss Thompson did not notice the omission. When we got ready to print the letter, Miss Thompson was busy out in the country and we could get no information from any other source.

We thought long and loud—and missed our guess. We signed Ima Poovey's name to the letter, and it should have been Opal Dunning. No one's fault in particular, and we will forgive all these

THANKSGIVING DINNER!

Folks, we have a lot to be thankful for this year. It could have been worse and yet we are better off than most parts of Texas.

We are thankful for the many good customers that we have. In selling groceries at rock bottom prices, it is necessary to have lots of customers and sell lots of groceries to make ends meet. The overhead expense goes on just the same.

We have all the trimmings for that Thanksgiving Dinner, and a fine lot of other stuff that we want you to see. You can always depend on a fair deal at Wood's.

Donley County Man Diversifies Making A Profit Every Year

Farm Business Requires A Close Study And Constant Attention With Work

"Farming is an interesting business requiring a close study and plenty of hard work if one makes it pay", is the statement of W. M. Pickering made in the Leader office Saturday. Mr. Pickering came to Donley county from Colorado about eighteen years ago with a cash capital of five hundred dollars and located near Ashtola.

After living there some nine years, he sold out at a handsome profit and got cheaper land and more of it by getting farther away from the settlement. He located near the mouth of Lake creek near the Naylor community.

This farm has quite a bit of loose sand upon which Johnson grass is growing after finding that it did not pay to try to farm blowing sand. Some of the land is subirrigated, and on this has been planted bermuda which is an excellent pasture at present.

Only the choicest land amounting to about 175 acres is being farmed at present. It is Mr. Pickering's idea to diversify on the farm and he has proven that by practice. His varied interests requiring too much of his time, a portion of the land was rented to Mr. J. F. Barnes this season. The sweet potato harvest alone netted them 1560 bushels which went direct to the home curing plant. "That's the idea," stated Mr. Pickering, "take care of what you make and hold for a better price." These potatoes will not be sold until towards spring when the price is best. This has been his custom for several years.

This dry house is of hollow tile construction laid flat and a stucco job on the outside. The dimensions are 10x24 with a 13 foot ceiling. It costs about a hundred dollars to fuel the special oil heaters thru the winter season and there is practically no loss at all so far as frost damage is concerned.

This farmer makes profitable use of a truck marketing cantaloupes, peas and other truck in season and in buying and selling hogs and cattle. Speaking of hogs, Mr. Pickering has about twenty slandy big bone polands and is a stickler for thorough stuff saying "you can feed a thorbred as cheap as you can a scrub and get more for it."

The cattle are graded white faces and return a profit from the rough portions of the farm is fit for pasture only. It is thru feeding some of these cattle for market that the owner finds a better market for his grain.

"Yes we have an orchard and grow a garden too", replied Mr. Pickering when the Leader man dug deeper to see just how modern day farmer made the old farm pay. The orchard products are sold if the market is right, otherwise it is canned. Vegetables and meats are also put up by means of a pressure cooker.

"Can a fellow really make a farm pay?" is the query shot at this business man by way of a parting question. "He can if he will stay on the job and attend to his line of business, but he must work and manage and let the other fellow do the running around", stated the man who has demonstrated that farming will pay if a fellow will be fair with himself and make a reasonable effort.

Negro Jailed For Stealing Pantaloons

Charged with the larceny of a pair of pants, Geo. Mitchell, colored, is waiting in jail to see what the white folks are going to do with him.

The pants belonged to Owen Butler of Lelia Lake and were taken from his car while parked in front of the O. D. Liesberg residence over a week ago. The pants were recovered but a pair of gloves belonging to Rev. Marler taken at the same time have not been located.

College President Criticizes Instruction Methods Of Colleges

Speaker Lays Special Stress On Fundamentals Of Character Building

A shake-up in the fundamentals of the present method of teaching in public schools and colleges of the United States is needed, Dr. P. L. Thompson, president of Union College, Lincoln, Neb., told members of the Dallas Junior Chamber of Commerce at its weekly luncheon Wednesday noon at the Baker Hotel.

Dr. Thompson's address was a protest against the meaning of the word "leadership" with particular reference to "colleke."

"A college education can not make one a real leader," he declared. "It can help, but can not accomplish this alone. For instance Sing Sing prison has a higher rate of college inmates than any county seat in the country."

"For leadership one must have education, live a moral life, be a good husband and father and above all be a good man."

"An interconsciousness of living should be taught in the schools. One should learn how to live a wholesome life in the schools and not how to be a leader. Making your life more essential than making a living. If you make your life, the living usually comes natural."

"Leadership is not attained by the hurry-up method. If one leads a normal wholesome life, real leadership may follow."

Dr. Thompson appeared as a speaker before the chamber upon invitation of Dr. H. Taylor Huguley, as a personal friend, whom he is visiting in Dallas.

Jack Keller to Save Bodies of Veterans From Medical School

Dallas, Nov. 21.—Rather than let the University of Texas Medical college have the bodies of Confederate soldiers, or their widows, who are inmates of a state institution for the purpose of dissecting, as it is entitled to under a law passed by the last legislature, Rep. Jack Keller today said he would personally pay for the funerals of all such soldiers and widows, and so notified R. E. Walthall, chairman of the state board of control.

Local barbers, some sixteen or eighteen in number, have received application blanks the past week from the State Board of barber examiners which they are to fill out and return at once.

According to the wording on the blanks, one wishing to practice the tonsorial art from here out will have to do a lot of explaining. For instance he is asked if he has ever been convicted of a felony. In fact he must not admit it if he is to be permitted to practice.

He must further certify that he has never been guilty of malpractice or incompetency either as a barber or assistant barber. If such questions were asked of some of the patrons, mighty few barbers would get by. Who has not had a dull razor dragged across their face? Or does that come under the head of "malpractice?"

He must further certify that he is free of all contagious or infectious diseases, tuberculosis or communicable diseases. That he is of good moral character. (Who ever knew of a barber being otherwise?) That he does not use "dope" in any form or habit-forming drug.

He must also exhibit a signed photograph near his chair when he is working. Also his permit from the state, both of which are to be posted for public inspection.

He must accompany with his application, two signed photographs taken not later than three months previous. He must also include a certified check, draft or money order to the amount of ten dollars. The last requirement appears to have occasioned the most disturbance among the fraternity.

One barber states that a hot towel may not be used on more than one customer before being laundered. Wonder if the laundryman had anything to do about that? He is to be congratulated if he did.

Barbers have increased their charging schedule in a number of places which is probably due to the application of the new law. The public should not grumble if conditions are improved or the barber put to extra expense.

Charter Member Texas Cattle Raisers' Association Is Critically Ill

One of the last, if not the last, surviving charter member of the Cattle Raisers' Association organized near a half century ago, lies critically ill at his ranch home south of Lovington, New Mexico.

This man, Joe H. Graham, always a rancher, formerly lived near Graham, Texas, the town being named after his father. Uncle Joe, as he is known over the southwest where he has an acquaintance equal to that of any man, served his county as a commissioner for many years.

He also was a strong stockholder in the First National Bank of Carlsbad for many years at which place he introduced to a crowded opera house, the Great Commoner, William Jennings Bryan, while dressed in his every day cow puncher garb much to the consternation of some of the elite, though Bryan was highly pleased and less disturbed than any one.
