Colored P. T. A. Has Helpful Convention

Report of the Brownwood colored Parent-Teacher Association given at the state council meeting of the Colored Parent-Teacher Association at Marshall last week by Hattie Moore, member of the local organization, received much favorable comment. The Brownwood delegate was appointed chairman of the local committee for the Old Folk Festival of the Texas Centennial in Dallas, June 14-19.

More than 200 representatives of organizations throughout the state attended the Marshall meeting. An old slave market still stands at Louisville, Ga.

Hen Eggs Better For Hatching Than Those From Pullets

Eggs laid by pullets during the first year of egg production, even though the percentage of hatch is better, are not worth nearly so much for hatching as the eggs laid by hens after the first year of egg production has been completed, according to J. R. Couch, poultry husbandman, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, who states that the chicks hatched from pullet eggs are not so strong and healthy and are not so productive as chicks hatched from mature hens. In checking the behavior of chicks from pullets as compared with those from hens, it was found that fewer chicks from pullets survive to laying age as compared with those from hens. And, during the first laying year losses from death were 10 per cent greater among pullets from pullets than among the pullets from hens. Furthermore, the pullets from hens laid two dozen more eggs per fowl during the first laying year than the pullets from pullets. In discussing this difference, Mr. Couch, in a paper read before the Texas Baby Chick Association recently, stated that even though this superiority of pullets from eggs laid by hens might be only one dozen eggs per fowl for the first year, the poultryman should consider this difference which would be about 49 dozen eggs per 100 chicks. This estimate assumes that 40 pullets would be raised from 100 chicks. Thus, if chicks from pullets are selling for $8.00 per hundred and eggs are worth 25¢ per dozen, the purchase of the chicks from pullets would involve first a loss due to deaths of say four laying hens at $1.25 each, next a loss of forty dozen eggs at 25¢ per dozen, and these two items together with the $8.00 paid for the 100 chicks from pullets would mean $23 which the poultryman could afford to pay for 100 chicks from hens in preference to chicks from pullets at $8.00. Certainly there is not that much difference in the price of chicks from hens over the price of chicks from pullets. Thus it is obvious that it is more profitable to buy chicks hatched from eggs laid by older hens rather than by pullets regardless of the high producing quality of the pullets themselves.

Another important reason for using chicks from hens rather than those from pullets is that there is no means of knowing if the eggs are coming from high producers until such producers actually show up their quality in recorded performance. It is well known that there is a vast difference in the egg-laying capacity of hens, and that high producers are grown from eggs laid by high producers; and it is well understood that hens must produce at least a good high average number of eggs in order to be profitable. Those who buy incubator chicks therefore, with the expectation of saving the pullets for laying should assure themselves that the eggs are from high producing hens as well as being sure they are from mature hens.

Hatcherymen can, of course, supply chicks from pullets at a lower price than they can those from hens for the reason that hens are laying a smaller number of eggs than the pullets and some of the hens are probably moulting. Furthermore, eggs from pullets hatch better than those from hens. This not only means that the hatcherymen have to get a higher price for the chicks from hens than from pullets, but the obvious superiority of the chicks from hens makes them worth much more to the purchaser. Mr. Couch thinks a good practice to follow here in Texas is to have enough hen's chicks to restock the place with pullets. These make up the stock that is to be kept on the place and usually the eggs from the pullets should be marketed for food; but if one is engaged in the broiler industry, pullets' chicks may be used for the production of broilers inasmuch as they are cheaper than hen's chicks and the pullets produced in the broiler enterprise are usually sold as broilers and not kept for laying. Where an attempt is made to use pullet eggs for broiler production, Mr. Couch states that the pullets that are used should be culled often by removing the unhealthy smaller pullets that have low vitality and which natural selection would probably eliminate during the first year of production, and another point to be watched is to hatch only those eggs from pullets that are mature enough to lay eggs weighing at least 23 ounces per dozen.

A heavy demand for incubator chicks such as prevails this season, causes the hatcheries to use some pullet eggs, and, even though they frankly describe the chicks they are selling, it may be that neither the hatcherymen nor their customers fully understand the wide margin of superiority which the eggs from well bred and well developed hens

TO THE DEMOCRATIC VOTERS OF BROWN COUNTY

As a member of the State Advisory Committee of the Democratic National Campaign Committee for Texas, I have been requested by that Committee to urge upon the Democratic voters the importance of keeping in mind the on-coming conventions. The National Convention for the nomination of a Democratic candidate for President will be held in Philadelphia, commencing June 22 of this year. The State Democratic Convention to elect delegates to the National Convention will be held in San Antonio on May 28. The County Conventions to elect delegates to the State Convention will be held on Tuesday, May 5. The Precinct Conventions for the election of delegates to the County Conventions will be held on Saturday, May 2.

It is a foregone conclusion that President Roosevelt will be renominated at the National Convention and it is desirable that no delegate be sent to that Convention who is not wholeheartedly in favor of his renomination. In order to insure that result, it is necessary to commence at the beginning—that is with the Precinct Conventions. I am taking the liberty of requesting that these matters be kept in mind, and that there be a full attendance at the Precinct Conventions next Saturday, and that delegates to the County Conventions have over the eggs from immature pullets or from hens of poor quality. Under such conditions, it is safer to use the chicks from pullet eggs for broiler production.

be chosen from those who are genuinely in sympathy with the renomination and re-election of our present President. It is hoped that such delegates will be chosen, and that there may be a full attendance at the County Conventions next Tuesday.

Very respectfully,
C. L. McCARTNEY,
Member of State Advisory Committee.

GIRL SCOUT WORK TO BE PRESENTED

Training courses in Girl Scout work will be conducted here next week by Miss Bessie Bine of New York City, member of the National Staff of Girl Scouts, who is to arrive in Brownwood Saturday. During her stay here, Miss Bine will spend some time training girl scout leaders and members of the local Girl Scout Council. She also will speak before several clubs and other groups.

Miss Bine is a member of the National staff of Girl Scouts as regional director of the Cactus Area, composed of Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Arizona. Before her association with Girl Scout work she was connected with the League of Red Cross Society in Geneva, Switzerland.

Anyone interested in scout work or in taking the courses is requested to telephone Mrs. C. Budrus, 645, or Mrs. A. M. Stalcup, 976, for further information.

Rehearsals Start For Senior Play

Rehearsals have started for a three-act comedy, "Shirt Sleeves," to be presented by the senior class of Brownwood High School at Howard Payne Auditorium May 8. Miss Marjorie Morrison, instructor of English is directing the play and the stage setting is under the supervision of Miss Marjorie Gresham, English instructor. Joe Wiley, history instructor, is in charge of the business management.

The following seniors are included in the cast: Stella Margaret Prude, James Davis, Margaret Denman, Bill Brocke, Len Clardy, Stella Easley, Jean Morrison, Ewald Johle, Anita Joy Lindsey, Abner Ragsdale, Billy Ellis, George Allcorn, Homer Allen, Marguerite Ford, Ila Mae Michael, Dorothy Dougan, Jarvis Belvin, Collis Hayman, Bobbie Jean Brookover, June Floyd, Charlie Mae Scott and Bill Denman.

Committees in charge of staging and properties include Elizabeth Johnson, Ila Mae Michael, Louise Chastain, Jarvis Belvin, Billy Denman, Mary Hurlbut, Lauleta Walker, Tommie Vaughn, and Stuart Bowman.

Red Cross Aids 100,000 Families In Flood-Stricken Eastern Area

The appalling floods that swept over eastern states during the middle of March caused the American Red Cross to take under its care more than 100,000 families in thirteen states. Pennsylvania was hardest hit, and in the cities of Pittsburgh and Johnstown the Red Cross either fed, sheltered or clothed 117,000 persons. The suffering was intense, because added to deluges of flood water, came rain, snow and intense cold.

Many cities and towns were cut off for 48 hours or more from communication with the outside world, both in Pennsylvania and in Connecticut. The Red Cross used airplanes to rush medical supplies into afflicted towns, and to drop food supplies from the skies over other places. Trucks with water, medicine, food, clothing were rushed into many towns. Amateur radio operators told the outside world over short wave sets what the true conditions were.

Within a few days the Red Cross had more than 200 relief workers and 200 Red Cross nurses in all of the communities in the thirteen states which had suffered from flood waters.

Admiral Cary T. Grayson, Chairman, notified President Roosevelt, who is President of the Red Cross, that a relief fund of at least $1,000,000 would be needed. President Roosevelt addressed a proclamation to the nation asking for liberal contributions. When double the number of families came under care of the Red Cross than had been anticipated, Admiral Grayson urged that this three million dollar fund be exceeded by chapters. Many responded by doubling and trebling their goals.

Citizens were urged to contribute to their local Red Cross chapters. After the flood emergency passed, the Red Cross prepared to restore needy families to their homes and anticipated that their workers would not conclude the relief job for several months.

DISTRICT AGENT HERE

Miss Maurine Hearne, district home demonstration agent, was a visitor in Brown county last week. She accompanied Miss Mayesie Malone, Brown county home demonstration agent, on several home visits and attended a meeting of the Indian Creek Home Demonstration Club Thursday afternoon.

SANDERFORD SPEAKING

State Senator Roy Sanderford of Bolton, candidate for Governor, was scheduled to give an address in Brownwood Thursday afternoon in the interest of his campaign for governor. During the week he had speeches scheduled at Lockhart, Lampasas, Brownwood, Ballinger, and Stephenville.

Two Held on Charges Of Theft of Saddles

T. C. Ragan and V. T. Thornton are being held in county jail on charges made in connection with the theft Thursday night of two saddles and two bridles from the barn of Will Copic, four miles north of Bangs. Examining trial for the two men, who were arrested by Sheriff Jack Hallmark and Deputy Chester Avinger of Brownwood and Deputy Sheriff George Roby of Coleman county in Coleman Saturday afternoon, was held Monday morning. Bonds were set at $100 in each case, but the bonds have not yet been perfected.

Homemade mattresses are replacing straw ticks, long used by many rural families in the south, thanks to 110 pounds of tax-free cotton allowed growers for domestic use.

Instructions Given To Club Reporters

In a reporters' conference held last week under the direction of Miss Mayesie Malone, Brown county home demonstration agent, a practical exercise in reporting was given the reporters of the county Home Demonstration Clubs who attended. Two Daniel Baker College home economics students, Miss McMurry and Miss Smith, gave demonstrations which were written up by the reporters.

The reports were read and judged by the group which used the following test of good reporting: "Does this report carry a piece of information given at the meeting which will be useful to someone who was not there?"

Clark C. Coursey, reporter on a Brownwood paper, discussed their work with the reporters and stressed the importance of sending in copy on time.

In a short business session which followed the conference Gertrude Fry was elected to serve as chairman for the county reporters' committee. A total of 18 persons attended the conference.

Vital Farm Topics Will Be Discussed

Subjects of unusual interest will be included in the daily programs broadcast daily from 11:30 to 11:50 a. m. over radio stations WBAP, WFAA, WTAW, and WOAI by the Texas Extension Service in cooperation with the United States Department of Agriculture. The program for Friday includes a discussion of the results of agricultural experiments by A. D. Jackson, Editor, Experiment Station, and a talk by C. M. Elwell of the State Department of Education on "Rural Education."

Other program for the week will be as follows:

- Saturday: (1) Activity Books for Boys and Girls, Mrs. F. L. Thomas, College Station. (2) How the Home of a 4-H Boy Can Be Identified, C. E. Bowles, Extension District Agent.
- Monday: (1) Resettlement Administration, J. E. Bos, Resettlement Administration. (2) One Hundred Years of Grazing in Texas, R. R. Lancaster, Extension Pasture Specialist.
- Tuesday: (1) Points in Canning, Miss Grace I. Neely, Extension Food Preservation Specialist. (2) Agricultural Economics, Department of Agricultural Economics.
- Wednesday: (1) Poultry Notes, Department of Poultry Husbandry. (2) Forestry Notes, Texas Forest Service.
- Thursday: (1) Important Questions on the New Agricultural Program Replied to by Jack Shelton, Extension Vice Director and State Agent and A. L. Smith, Administrative Assistant. (2) Poultry Exhibits at the Centennial Exposition, Walter Burton, who is in charge of the poultry exhibits for the Texas Centennial.

STUDENTS FROM HERE PLACE IN CONTESTS

Several Brownwood and Brown county students placed in the literary contests of the regional Inter-scholastic League meet in Abilene Saturday. Students winning places included:

Art—drawing, Louise Chastain, Brownwood, first; art—modeling, J. D. Dunsby, Brownwood, first.

Typewriting—Charlie Mae Scott, Brownwood, second.

Shorthand, Esther Bohlin, Brownwood, second; Charles Day, Brownwood, third.

Essay writing, Class A, Mary Jane Fugh, Bangs, fourth.

Declamation, junior boys, Creel Grady, Brownwood, third; rural senior girls, Mildred Page, Winchell, second.

The girls debate team from Brownwood High School, Betty Jo Sanderson and Iris Scales, won second place, being defeated by the Abilene team in the finals. In the first round, the Brownwood team defeated Miles.

Although Brownwood students did not win individual first places in the typing and shorthand contests, the Brownwood students as teams were first in both contests. In typing, Miss Scott as second place winner scored 153.65 points, the first place winner scored 154.61 and the third place winner scored 145.7. As winner of second in shorthand, Miss Bohlin scored 174.32 points and Charles Day as third place winner scored 174.19. The first place winner scored 174.85. Margaret Denman of Brownwood won fifth place in typing contest and Stella Margaret Prude of Brownwood won fifth in shorthand.

ber of Commerce, will attend the convention and appear on several of the programs and give publicity to Brownwood's bid for the next convention. They will also sign on a program to be broadcast over the Amarillo radio station. One of the convention programs on which they are to appear is the one arranged for the evening Governor James V. Allred will be in attendance. Members of the trio are Misses Genevieve McInroe, Marguerite Wilson and Beverly Taylor. Miss Mavis Douglas, head of the voice department of Howard Payne College, also will attend the convention and appear as soloist on several of the programs.

W. R. Parker will direct the Brownwood band, which is expected to take a prominent part in the entertainment programs of the convention. Arrangements for taking the band were made by Gus Rosenberg and D. D. McInroe.

A committee composed of Wendell Mayes, Gus J. Rosenberg and Joe Weatherby made a two-day tour of West Texas this week in the interest of securing the convention. On returning they reported that very favorable response to the Brownwood invitation was made in nearly all the towns visited.

The local publicity committee for the Amarillo convention met Tuesday and made arrangements for securing badges, canes and headbands to be used by the delegates from here as a part of the program to advertise Brownwood. Members of this committee are Robert Sparks, Turner Garner, H. W. Leverage, Adrian Box, James C. Timmins, and Dr. Mollie Armstrong.

Letters have been sent by A. P. Rowland, manager of the Community Natural Gas Company here, to local managers of the Lone Star Gas Company in a number of West Texas towns urging them to contact their Chamber of Commerce directors in the interest of securing votes for the Brownwood bid for the 1937 convention. The local company is owned by the Lone Star Company, which has branches in 44 towns which have memberships in the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Passing the Buck

It is interesting to note the fervor with which some members of the Legislature criticize the administration of Old Age Assistance in Texas. After all, the law was written in the Legislature of Texas, and if it is a poor law, whose fault is it if not the Legislature's? Granted the law is not all that could be desired, who wrote it? Who is responsible for the fact that no money has reached the aged to whom it was intended? If the law does not represent the intent of those who voted it so enthusiastically, does not the blame attach to those who framed it? If so, then those members of the Legislature who are so outspoken in criticism of delays are the ones directly responsible for delay; those complaining of discrimination wrote discrimination into the law and those who criticize the interpretation of the law possibly wrote a law too bungling to be easy of satisfactory interpretation.

Let's consider it from the national standpoint. Back in 1924 Congress adopted the Adjusted Compensation Law, giving a bonus certificate to those who fought in the World War. Congress did this. The President, opposed to the idea, vetoed it. Yet Congress passed the law and set a certain date for issuance of the certificates. No power, not even that of the President, was big enough to stop issuance on the date specified.

And just this year, over the President's veto, Congress passed a law to require payment of these bonus certificates on June 15. In spite of the veto and opposition of the President to payment, does anyone doubt that that payment will be made promptly upon the date specified, in the exact manner as prescribed by Congress?

That's the situation with regard to Old Age Assistance. If those members of the Legislature, who are such staunch friends of the aged now that it is so close to election time; if those critics had been so anxious to be of assistance to the old people, why didn't they write a simple law specifying some date to begin payments, set the amount of the payments and adopt tax measures to finance them? Does anyone doubt that if the Legislature had passed a simple law providing, say, that everyone over 65 years of age in Texas, on this good day of April 30 and every 30 days thereafter would receive $15, and then provided a way to raise the necessary money; does anyone doubt but that this afternoon everyone in that classification would have $15 in his pocket?

We agree there have been disappointments regarding the Old Age Assistance. We agree that many who should be receiving money under the amendment are not receiving it, and will not for some time to come. We agree this is not a desirable situation.

Whose fault is it? Well, the Legislature makes the law, and made this Old Age Assistance law. If it were a good law, members of the Legislature would be taking all the credit. If it is a poor law, whose fault is it? To say it has been misinterpreted, that it was never intended that certain things be done, is to admit that it is a poor law; a bungling makeshift that doesn't set forth in simple language what is to be done and when and how.

Passing the buck is just another way of avoiding responsibility. To blame Governor Allred or those directly in charge of putting the Legislature's law into operation is unfair; they are just as anxious as anyone else to get the job done right, but after all they didn't write the law.

Up at Paris, Texas, they have devised a county-wide graduation exercises for those in the country schools who have passed the seventh grade work. It is a good idea, and from news dispatches we gather the idea that it is working splendidly in Lamar county. It would work well in any county, and since we are primarily interested in Brown County, we hope that such a plan will spread and be adopted here.

County-Wide Exercises

The plan, briefly, is for all rural schools in the county to have exercises at the county seat each year. Each school is given an opportunity to have a brief spot on the program; there are songs and musical numbers, an outstanding speaker is secured to deliver the graduating address and the pupils are presented their diplomas either by the county superintendent, or by some official selected by the schools.

It is a plan that merits consideration. Too often, because the number enrolled in some of the schools is small, they do not have as attractive a program as the larger schools. The graduation, in such cases, is not as impressive; does not mean so much to the pupils, the parents, or the school officials.

The idea of bringing all these pupils together for a combined exercise; allowing them to see something of the work the others are doing, and to give them the advantage of massed numbers; these are progressive steps. It is a plan we are glad to endorse and recommend for consideration here.

An Important Convention

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce will hold its annual convention in Amarillo early next month. The 1937 convention should be held in Brownwood, and will be held here if plans of the local Chamber of Commerce materialize. The convention is the largest held in this section of the state; one of the largest conventions in Texas.

Unlike the West Texas conventions of other years, when Brownwood last entertained one, for example, the modern West Texas Chamber of Commerce conventions pay their own way. No expense, other than the normal cost of individual entertainment, evolves upon the host city. On the other hand, much money is left in the town, and much benefit derived.

It is generally agreed that it would be a good thing for Brownwood to entertain the convention next year. But unless the Brownwood Chamber of Commerce is given quite a bit of assistance, it will not be possible to secure it. Bear that in mind when committees call on you in the next few weeks for your aid.

PEEP SHOW

—For Ladies Only—

BY MIGNON

I didn't raise my boy to be a soldier, I didn't raise my voice to make him preach; But worst of all I'll drown my little daughter Before I'll let the dear child go and teach.

This is the time of the year when the big shuffle comes along in the teaching profession. Parents who are anxiously awaiting the decisions of those who sit in high places in such matters. The school teacher has the child more than the mother. When a child starts to school at the age of six he is just at the age when his life's opinions can be swayed one way or the other. A teacher becomes his ideal and idol. Children want to be like their teacher. They pattern their lives by example. Opinions expressed by the teacher become the opinion of the child. Morals and character are copied from the teacher even more than from the parent. A teacher who like Caesar's wife is above suspicion in every way, a teacher who has a way with children, a teacher who knows the psychology of a child's make up, a teacher who has had years of experience, a teacher who has all the degrees necessary for the highest standard school is demanded these days. Yet a teacher may possess all these attributes, be as beautiful in character as one would dream of his child growing into, have the tender understanding heart of a mother and yet with the flip of a man's thumb can be just another teacher seeking employment. The teaching profession is becoming no longer the high calling of a dignified and educated set of people, but a job in which divided communities use its members for ninetins.

With the gardens coming to the front, growing into beauty on the outside it is time to think of the inside. What kitchen wouldn't like a face-lifting this time of the year? For a sunny kitchen can keep a disposition sunny if properly cared for and properly done in the beginning. Here is a new suggestion for those lucky ladies whose hobbies presented them with a set of new aluminum cooking wear for Christmas. Paint the walls a light gray, the doors and windowcoating a deep gray; the woodwork and cabinets white with chromium trim; Inlucum gray marbled with black border and white insert. Then hang yellow curtains at your window, put yellow cushions in your chairs and hang up your new cooking vessels. Talk about a face lift... it is an uplift for the entire house.

May 1st begins the National Music Week. Of all the weeks that we observe now-days I think Music week is one of the finest to observe. I found this clipping and saved it all this time for you gals to read while you're having Music Week in your town. Here 'tis:

I AM MUSIC Servant and master am I; servant of those dead, and master of those living. Through me spirits immortal speak the message that makes the world weep, and laugh, and wonder and worship.

I tell the story of love, the story of hate, the story that saves and the story that damns. I am the incense upon which prayers float to heaven. I lift the smoke which falls over the field of battle where men lie dying with me on their lips.

I am close to the marriage altar, and when the graves open I stand near by; I call the wanderer home, I rescue the soul from the depths. I open the lips of lovers, and through me the dead whisper to the living.

One I serve as I serve all; and the king I make my slave as easily as I subject his slave. I speak through the birds of the air, the insects of the fields, the crash of waters, on rock-ribbed shores, the hissing wind in the trees, and I am even heard by the soul that knows me in the clatter of wheels on city streets.

I know no brother, yet all men are my brothers; I am the father of the best that is in them, and they are fathers of the best that is in me; I am of them and they are of me. For I am the instrument of God.—Anonymous.

ON TEXAS FARMS

COLLEGE STATION—That the Soil Conservation Allotment program is progressing is evidenced by the many hundreds of meetings being held throughout the State by county agricultural agents, and the organization of county boards to administer the new farm program. Farm demonstration councils and key farmers have divided the counties into "communities" of about 500 farmers. Each of these "communities" has elected three committeemen who altogether will constitute a County Soil Conservation Board. Officials point out, in reviewing some of the highpoints of the program, that all crops will be classified into two classes—soil depleting and soil conserving; and that a neutral classification has been set up to include idle land, fallow land, woodland, pastures, vineyards, tree fruits, small fruits and so forth. Payments will be made to farmers upon proof of having cooperated in the program. This money, which will be paid in one check, will include payments for replacing certain percentages of soil depleting crops with soil conserving crops and for using soil building practices.

Bases established on the old reduction contracts will be taken as a guide for establishing the base for 1936 on the soil conservation program, with due allowance for crops not included in former contracts. About 20 per cent of the base acreage in soil depleting crops in 1935, must be replaced by soil conserving crops in order to qualify for participation in the program.

The soil conserving payments will be based on the productivity of the land; for cotton it will be five cents per pound; for peanuts 1 1/4 cents a pound based on the average yield per acre of the farm; for rice it will be 20 cents for each 100 pounds of the producer's domestic consumption quota, subject to certain specified agreements. Rate of payments for soil building practices is being approved, according to officials of the program.

After reading the March report of the county agricultural agents, M. R. Bentley, Extension agricultural engineer, commits himself to the belief that the work done in terracing and contouring land on Texas farms and ranches was "stupendous and colossal."

Bentley thinks that the answer to the oft-asked question, "How can I terrace when there is nearly always a growing crop?" is to be found in some of these reports. Live Oak County—Crops must be planted on this land before the terracing machinery will be available, but the farmers are leaving out a 25 foot strip along the terrace line so that the terraces may be built at any time the machinery becomes available.

Howard county—Early maturing or soil improvement crops will be planted on a strip 40 feet wide along the terrace line to leave ample room for the terrace building work without molesting other crops.

Oldham county—Henry Creitz, farmer of Adrian, says, "I will mark my terrace lines at present with one round of a disk plow or small county grader that I can pull with my own tractor. Then I will do all working and planting on the contour between the lines, adding at least one round to the terrace each year until a good crop is made; then I can complete the terraces. In the meantime getting some advantage from the terraces, and much from the contour farming."

Lee county—C. F. Wieder, farmer in the Good Hope community, recently decided to strip crop his land and build the terraces next fall after harvesting the crop. Falls county—H. E. Wrenn, farmer living near Marlin, has had terrace lines run on 90 acres, changed his rows to run with the lines and will strip crop this land before building terraces. Part of those strips he has planted to sweet clover and will plant begoni on the other strips with the intention of building the terraces this summer after those crops are harvested. This gives an opportunity to build the terraces after crops are made and during a time when the ground is in better shape for moving the dirt.

Henderson county—The county agricultural agent in this county has been suggesting to farmers that in all instances where terrace lines are being run, if they fail to get their terraces built at the present time, by all means run the rows on the terrace contour with the intention of building the terraces after the crop is harvested, when more time is available. Wheeler county—Farmers in this county who will be unable to wait for the county grader are leaving a wide row so that the line can be found next year and there will be no necessity for rerunning those lines again. Many of these farmers who will not have time to build terraces are listing their land with the terrace lines.

FIRST WORK SHEETS SIGNED IN COUNTY

The new federal soil conservation farm program was officially launched in Brown county Wednesday when farmers in the May community met with County Agent C. W. Lehnberg to sign their work sheets and work out their programs with him. Second meeting scheduled was one at Williams for Thursday. The county agent and his assistants have made arrangements to visit every community in the county within the next two weeks for the purpose of launching the program here.

Members of the Brown County Soil Conservation and Allotment Board will assist the county agent in launching and administration of the program.

The schedule of meetings yet to be held is as follows: Cross Cut, April 30th, 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. (1 day only). Blanket, April 30th, 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. (1 day only).

Early High, May 1st, 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. (1 day only). Brownwood, May 2nd, County Agent's office all day.

Zephyr, May 4th, 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. (1 day only). Owens, May 5th, 8 a. m. to 11:45 a. m. (half day only).

Holder, May 6th, 1:15 p. m. to 5 p. m. (half day only). Woodland Heights, May 6th, 8 a. m. to 11:45 a. m. (half day only).

Indian Creek, May 6th, 1:15 p. m. to 5 p. m. (half day only). Jordan Springs, May 7th, 8 a. m. to 11:45 a. m. (half day only).

Winchell, May 7th, 1:15 p. m. to 5 p. m. (half day only). Brooksmith, May 8, 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. (1 day only).

Bangs, May 8, 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. (1 day only). Brownwood, May 9 at County Agent's office all day.

Clear Creek, May 11th, 8 a. m. to 11:45 a. m. (half day only). McDaniel, May 11th, 1:15 p. m. to 5 p. m. (half day only).

Grosvenor, May 12th, 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. (1 day only). Byrds and Weedon, at Byrds, May 12th, 8 a. m. to 11:45 a. m. (half day only).

Thrifty, May 12, 1:15 p. m. to 5 p. m. (half day only). The county agent's office will be closed on the above dates and all business must be transacted at these places.

Final date for acceptance of the work sheets is May 15, according to Mr. Lehnberg, who urges that all farmers check the above schedule and get their work sheets signed on the days designated. Applications of copper sulphate will increase the productivity of reclaimed swamp lands.

It had been a long time since any of us had seen Bud, but his coming brought back many pleasant memories of the Whites who lived for years in our community. None of them are here now, but the old White homestead is still the possession of his mother, Mrs. M. L. White, of Brownwood.

Mrs. Wharton and Baby Eloise accompanied Brother Wharton last Sunday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Davey Hester of Brooksmith and Mr. and Mrs. A. J. McChristy of Brownwood also came with them.

Measles have broken out in our community and are hindering the school attendance among the little folk. We hear Estelle Russell, R. V. and J. B. Beeman, Darwin Roberts, and Etta Clements have them. Norville McMurphy has also been very sick with them.

Ralph Wilmet of Big Valley spent Saturday and Sunday at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Austin Cawyer and Edna Both of Pasche visited Mrs. Cawyer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Dwyer, and attended church here Sunday.

Mrs. W. A. Whittenburg has a small strawberry patch, about 9 by 12 feet, from which at one time she picked four gallons of strawberries.

Between acts in the play Friday night, Dorothy Thompson gave a reading which captivated the audience. The listeners say that the reader and the reading were both angelic.

Mr. Weaver, our county agent, held a school of instruction on the new farm program here Wednesday.

For your next change in glasses see Dr. R. A. Ellis, Optometrist.

CARD OF THANKS

We take this opportunity to thank our many friends for their kindness, sympathy and beautiful floral offering during the illness and death of our son and brother, May God bless you in our prayer. Mr. and Mrs. Sam Jenkins. Miss Dorothy Jenkins. Miss Myrtle Jenkins. Mr. Ivy Jenkins. Mr. McKenneth (Sonnie) Jenkins.

cream and cake was served to 25 guests. All reported an enjoyable afternoon.

Cottonwood

Well, we had a nice little show last night and everything looks refreshed this morning. It will be a great help to the gardens and feed that is up.

There was a good crowd at Sunday school Sunday and all classes reported a good lesson. They did not have much singing on account of the cloud that came up and ran most of them off.

Chester Field of Burkett visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Field, Sunday night.

Miss Alva Field was operated on Thursday at the Stump hospital. She is doing fine. We hope she will soon be back at home. Mother Powers has been sick also.

There is lots of sickness around here. Almost everybody has a bad cold.

Mr. Riley McFarland's folks have nearly all been down with colds.

Velma Field was out of school two days last week on account of cold.

This is the last week of school. They are going to have the 7th grade graduation Wednesday night and the eleventh grade, Thursday night and have the closing program Friday night. We hope for them success.

Miss Lena Field is spending the week with her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Field of Burkett this week.

Mr. Bill Powers has been on the sick list but is able to be at work this morning.

Calvin Field visited in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Field, Sunday afternoon.

My eye examination is different. Try Dr. R. A. Ellis and see.

Shell color in eggs is inherited and the best way to eliminate the color is not to set any eggs showing tinted shells.

SINCLAIR

WINS NAVY OIL CONTRACT

The U. S. Navy has awarded Sinclair for the 5th year in succession the annual contract for supplying lubricants to the Navy on the Atlantic seaboard and to other government departments in 42 states. Included in this contract are lubricants for battleships, submarines, destroyers, airplane carriers and airplanes, motor cars, trucks, tanks, tractors, etc.

Due to the vast 5th TIME! Public Works program and improved types of automotive and aircraft equipment used, the Navy this year called for a wider range of lubricants and made more stringent many specifications. As before, the contract was awarded Sinclair on the basis of lowest service cost as determined by Navy Work-Factor tests and competitive bids.

MAY

The ladies Home Demonstration Club met at the home of Mrs. Will DeHay, Thursday with 18 members present and two visitors. The roll call was answered with favorite author or favorite poem. Mrs. E. H. Bettis made a very interesting talk on a public reading center for children and grownups. Afterwards a round table discussion was held on the same subject and everyone was willing to help. Some volunteered to give magazines and books and also to help keep the library if the plan is completed.

The next meeting will be at Mrs. Roy Crawford's, which will give all the club members a chance to see Mrs. Crawford's yard, which the club sponsored. Everyone is to bring their hobby to the club which will be May 7.

INDIAN CREEK

"Since the bedroom is the most important room in the house, being the one in which we spend the greatest amount of our time, it unquestionably should be the most attractive room that we possess," said Miss Mayesie Malone, Brown county home demonstration agent, to the members of the Indian Creek club in a meeting at the club room Thursday afternoon, April 23. "To make the bed room more attractive we should have only the articles and pieces of furniture in it that are necessary and beautiful. The necessary pieces of furniture and articles in a bed room are the bed, dresser or dressing-table, with necessary bench or chair, clothes closet, and in homes where there are no bath rooms, bathing facilities. All objects should be arranged in the room for greatest beautification," said Miss Malone.

In the lecture Miss Malone also discussed the rugs, walls and ceiling of the bed room. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. C. B. McBride and all the business of the club up to date was attended to. The club was then led in singing a number of Texas songs by the song leader, Mrs. Charles Stewart.

The Indian Creek Club was honored by having Miss Maurine Hearn, district home demonstration agent, present at the meeting. She delivered an address to the club members on their loyalty to their club Agent, at a meeting of the Indian Creek Girls 4-H Club Thursday, April 23, 1936.

Malone and Miss Hearn. The club will meet again Thursday night, May 14, at which time an entertainment will be given for the husbands of the club members in the club room.

INDIAN CREEK

"If you want your room to be harmonious and restful in atmosphere, be careful about using bright or dark color in the floor, walls, and ceiling," said Miss Mayesie Malone, County Home Demonstration Agent, at a meeting of the Indian Creek Girls 4-H Club Thursday, April 23, 1936.

The floor should be darkest, but not dark enough to show foot tracks, the walls lighter and the ceiling lightest. Miss Maurine Hearn, district Home Demonstration Agent, was present at the meeting, and talked about 4-H Club work. Twelve girls were present. All girls were asked to bring the story of the year's work to the next meeting May 14, 1936.

ZEPHYR

The Zephyr 4-H Club Girls sponsored a Texas Patriotic Program, April 21, at 8 p. m. A pageant was given commemorating the Texas Centennial, written by Miss Elizabeth Dobbs. The program was as follows: Talk—Miss Malone, County Home Demonstration Agent. Reading, Pioneer Women of Texas—Edith Kimmons. Song, "The Eyes of Texas"—Audience. Pageant, Peace Ways and Starlight Across Texas, by 23 club girls, assisted by Mrs. Virginia Hardy Williamson of Brownwood, who furnished three vocal numbers in costume, typical of early days. Others who contributed to the program were Messrs. Arthur Vernon, Bates, Friend, Mr. Carnes and Mrs. O'Brien, piano accompanist.

THE STATE OF TEXAS

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Brown County—Greeting: You are hereby commanded to summon Al Nabours by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your County, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in the nearest County where a newspaper is published, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Brown County, to be held at the Court House thereof, in Brownwood, Texas, on the fourth Monday in May, A. D., 1936, the same being the 25th day of May, A. D. 1936, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 6th day of January, A. D., 1936 in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court No. 7049, wherein J. H. DeHay and Wife, Willie DeHay are Plaintiffs, and Al Nabours is Defendant, and a brief statement of plaintiffs' cause of action, being as follows: That plaintiffs are the father and mother of Ethel Dale DeHay, who, on the 4th day of January, 1935, was a minor 17 years of age. That on or about the 4th day of January, 1935, the defendant, without the knowledge and consent of plaintiffs, took plaintiffs' said minor daughter to Coleman County and induced her to enter an unlawful marriage contract with him. That afterward on or about April 24th, 1935, the defendant returned plaintiffs' said minor daughter back to them, the said plaintiffs, for her future care. Plaintiffs pray the court that the unlawful marriage relation made and existing between the defendant, Al Nabours and the Plaintiffs' minor daughter, Ethel DeHay Nabours, be annulled and for the restoration of her maiden name, to-wit: Ethel Dale DeHay and that all cost of suit be adjudged against the defendant, Al Nabours. Herein Fail Not, but have before said Court, at its next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same. Given under my hand and seal of said Court, at office in Brownwood, Texas, on this 22nd day of April, A. D. 1936. L. J. WILSON, Clerk, District Court Brown County, Texas.

10,417,237 Bales

The cotton crop of 1935 was reported by the Census Bureau to have totaled 10,417,237 running bales, counting round as half bales, of 10,625,156 equivalent 500-pound bales, in the final ginning canvass.

The Agriculture Department estimated the crop last December at 10,734,000 500-pound bales.

Production was 9,472,022 running bales, or 9,626,559 500-pound bales in 1934, and 12,664,019 running bales or 13,047,262 500-pound bales in 1933.

Production was by states as follows: Ginnings, in equivalent 500-pound bales, 1,061,159, Arizona, 125,219, Arkansas, 857,137, California 238,264, Florida, 26,630, Georgia 1,062,436, Louisiana, 556,228, Mississippi 1,259,527, Missouri, 173,914, New Mexico, 71,836, North Carolina 573,361, Oklahoma 564,585, South Carolina 743,766, Tennessee, 216,401, Texas 2,960,117, Virginia 27,199, all other states 7,097.

PRECINCT MEETINGS SATURDAY WILL NAME COUNTY DELEGATION

Political machinery will be set in motion Saturday, which eventually will lead to re-nomination of President Roosevelt and Vice President Garner as the 1936 Democratic national candidates Saturday, May 2, at each precinct voting box in Brown county. Precinct conventions are to be held, to select delegates to the county Democratic convention, to be held Tuesday, May 5. Precinct committeemen will preside at the precinct conventions and Thos. H. Taylor, county Democratic chairman at the county convention Tuesday.

The precinct and county conventions are the remaining vestiges, so far as the voter is concerned, of the extinct convention system of naming party nominees. The convention long since has been superseded by the direct primary for selection of all nominees other than those for President and Vice President.

The county convention Tuesday will name delegates to the state Democratic convention, to be held May 26 in San Antonio. The state delegation will name delegates to the National convention in Philadelphia, where the actual nomination of the candidates will take place. The state convention will instruct the Texas delegation how to vote in Philadelphia, both as to candidates and major platform issues. There will be no opposition this year, so far as Texas is concerned, to the Roosevelt-Garner ticket.

Brown county will be allowed at the State convention one delegate, or more properly, one vote, for every 25 votes cast in the 1934 general election. There is no limit on the number of delegates that can be elected to cast the county's vote.

NOA Mails Regatta Blanks To Racers

Entry blanks for the second annual Lake Brownwood Regatta, to be held June 20 and 21, were mailed out to racers throughout the Southwestern United States from the Chicago offices of the National Outboard Association this week. In the list of sanctioned races announced for this year one race not held last year, the Class C which is free for all runabouts, is included. Only one entry in the races has been received but response to the first mailing of blanks is expected soon. A second mailing will be sent from Chicago in about two weeks and a final mailing will be made just two weeks prior to the Regatta, according to information received from the NOA by Chester Harrison, secretary of Brownwood Chamber of Commerce and executive secretary for the Regatta Association.

George C. McGown, Jr., of Fort Worth, who acted as referee for the races last year has been designated by the NOA to act as official referee for the 1936 Regatta. Other officials have not been named.

EXPORT BENEFIT PLAN FOR PECANS IS ANNOUNCED; WILL BOLSTER 1935 CROP PRICE

BROWN County pecan growers were jubilant this week over the announcement from Washington that 5 cents per pound would be paid as an export benefit on pecans from the 1935 crop sold on foreign markets. The announcement is expected to cause an immediate increase in price, and will especially benefit those growers who have pooled their pecans to hold them for a higher market. Nearly 250,000 pounds of the 1935 crop are held by growers in cold storage in Dallas through the Southwestern Pecan Growers Association.

Payment of the export benefit was first suggested by Texas pecan growers, and through a fund raised from Brownwood, a committee of growers was sent to Washington last fall to work on this plan and also to seek an 8 cent government loan on the 1935 crop. The committee, composed of H. G. Lucas, of Brownwood, E. W. Harrison of Graham of Eagle Lake, was unable to secure the government loan, but made strong recommendations that the export benefit be allowed. Government officials at the time promised to study the situation and make the benefit allowance if conditions justified it.

An announcement from the Department of Agriculture says:

"Under the plan, the Secretary of Agriculture will invite exporters of pecans to submit offers to sell for export, between the date on which each offer is accepted and June 30, 1936, pecans of the 1935 crop produced in the United States which are not below the medium size and No. 2 quality specified in the U. S. standards for unshelled pecans.

"Under the provisions of the offer, each exporter would agree to export at least 1,000 pounds of pecans, and would specify the maximum volume that he expects to export. The Secretary of Agriculture would determine the total quantity to be exported on the basis of the effect these exports would have in improving returns to growers. Exporters would be paid an export benefit of 5 cents per pound on the pecans sold abroad under the terms of the offer as accepted by the Secretary. Under the plan, the pecans for export will have to be sold between the dates of acceptance of the offer by the Secretary and June 30, 1936, and must be exported prior to October 1, 1936.

"The program was developed at the request of the National Pecan Marketing Association, a growers' cooperative, and other groups of producers in the industry. The circumstances which caused the industry to request this program are unusual since the 1935 United States production of both pecans and walnuts, competitive crops, was the largest in history. The problem in the walnut industry is being handled through a marketing agreement program and a program for diverting surplus walnuts to other uses. The 1935 crop of pecans, the heaviest on record, represents an increase of 84 per cent of average annual production during the preceding ten years, and an increase of 136 percent over the 1934 crop. Returns to growers have been extremely low.

"Export markets are said to indicate a promising outlet for pecans since they are NOT commercially produced in any foreign country except in Mexico, where production is confined to the seedling type. Exports of pecans other than to Canada have been made only in small volume because pecans, generally speaking, are a new commodity to foreign markets, and export prices, even on a small quantities, are considerably less than the present low domestic prices.

"The program is designed to reduce the effect of the present surplus on the 1936 crop of pecans. It seeks to assist the industry in developing foreign outlets that will be needed for the indicated larger production in the future. Removal of a portion of the existing surplus from domestic markets is expected to strengthen domestic prices and increase returns to growers."

Chandler Case Is Sent To Dallas By Federal Court

In the Federal court at San Angelo this week M. L. Chandler of Brownwood, charged jointly with B. H. Hutton in connection with the operation of the "Gilley Auto & Radio Supply Company," of Coleman, was granted transfer of his case to Dallas, where it is said he will plead guilty. Hutton pleaded guilty in the San Angelo court.

The two men were charged by the government with operation of a fraudulent system of soliciting and ordering radio and automobile parts and accessories from different firms and individuals over the country. According to the charges they would receive and sell the articles and would not pay for such purchases as promised.

Several other Brown county cases were brought before the San Angelo court. They were as follows:

Mrs. Bessie Allen, former postmistress at Brooksmith, who admitted making a false quarterly report in which $147.45 of stamp cancellations were not actually cancelled.

Ora B. McDonald and John M. Slinger of Brown county admitted guilt of counterfeiting charges involving a quantity of 50-cent coins.

Ira E. Michael, of Brown county pleaded guilty to possession of a still, 100 gallons of mash, and 6 1/2 gallons of unstamped whiskey.

Horace G. Guffoy of Brown county pleaded guilty to possession of morphine.

Brownwood and Brown county men summoned as petit jurors this week in Federal court are: J. H. Browder, BANGS; Earl Reasoner, Zephyr; C. E. Boyett, Brownwood; Dean Ripptoe, Brownwood and J. L. Garnet, Brownwood; Bert Hise attended the opening of court Monday as a witness.

WALTON LEAGUE SEEKS ASSOCIATION CHARTER

Incorporation papers for the Lake Brownwood State Park Association which will handle concessions at the state park at the lake will be filed this week with the secretary of State at Austin. The Isaak Walton League voted to form the corporation at a meeting held Friday night.

At that time seven directors for the new association were elected. They are D. Coslson, Leo Ehlinger, David Henley, Elmer Haynes, J. Edward Johnson, Rufus Stanley, and Hurl Hurlbut. Officers of the board will be named at a meeting to be held soon and plans for opening the park will be made.

The League secured a concession contract on the park with the Texas State Parks Board when land for the park was purchased from Brown County Water Improvement District. Pledges of the League members made the contract possible.

Water is now being let into a fish rearing pond built below the Lake Brownwood dam. Project for construction of the pond, sponsored by the League, was planned to rear stock fish for the lake.

WACO BUSINESS MEN TO BE HERE TUESDAY

A large delegation of representatives of Waco wholesale and retail business firms, manufacturers, educational institutions which is making a tour of this section of the state will spend Tuesday night in Brownwood, according to a letter received Thursday by Chester Harrison, secretary of Brownwood Chamber of Commerce, from W. V. Crawford, vice-president and general manager of the Waco Chamber of Commerce. The group will arrive here by special train at 6:45 p. m. Tuesday and will remain here until 10 o'clock Wednesday morning.

In Mr. Crawford's letter he stressed the fact that the trip is strictly a business one and no form of entertainment is sought. The visitors are making the stop here for the purpose of meeting Brownwood business men.

"We would appreciate it if you would arrange to give this visit publicity to the end that your business men may know of it and be available while we are here," Mr. Crawford's letter stated.

The delegation will remain on their train at the Santa Fe station and officials of the local Chamber of Commerce urge that as many as possible business and professional men of the city take advantage of the opportunity of contacting them at that time.

WATER DISTRICT PWA LOAN AND GRANT NOW ON SENATOR'S LIST

All that remains to be secured before the application of the Brown County Water Improvement District for a PWA loan and grant for financing construction of an irrigation system for the waters of Lake Brownwood is the appropriation of funds by Congress, according to information received from Washington this week. In a letter received Wednesday by Chester Harrison, secretary of the Brownwood Chamber of Commerce, from Joe D. Ward, member of the firm of engineers who made the Brownwood city plan here several years ago, J. H. Allison, Wichita Falls editor who is now in Washington, was quoted as follows:

"You may want to advise Chester Harrison, Secretary of the Brownwood, Texas, Chamber of Commerce, that the Brown County Water Improvement District's project is OK here and . . . is awaiting additional appropriation from Congress for the PWA.

"It looks as if we have the application as far as it can go until Congress provides additional money."

Mr. Allison, who is greatly interested in irrigation for this section of the state, recently became interested in the Water District's application and has done a great deal to further its presentation in Washington.

Another letter received from Washington this week by Mr. Harrison is one from E. N. Gustafson, engineer connected with the Portland Cement Association. He says, "With reference to the Brownwood irrigation project I find that it has been completely approved by the PWA engineering and legal departments."

In a telegram received from Senator Morris Sheppard Friday the information was given that the project has been approved for Senator Hayden's list of projects for which funds are asked in a pending Senate resolution.

Despite the encouraging reports received from Washington the project is far from assured. Water Board officials stated this week. They said that much remains to be done before the project can be refinanced and the irrigation system built. However, it was added that progress reported this week was very encouraging.
