

Soil Plan Board For County Will Direct Program

Nullified AAA Discarded, But Work Will Be Carried On To Aid Agriculture.

The Brown County Soil Conservation and Allotment Board, composed of committees selected in each of the five districts of the county to assist in administration of the new federal soil conservation program in their respective communities, met Saturday afternoon with County Agent C. W. Lehmburg and elected a Brown county committee of three members which will assist the county agent in directing the county program. L. F. Bird was elected chairman of the county committee, T. N. Simmons was elected vice-chairman and Olin Strang of Bangs was elected the third member of the committee. Gene Chambers of May was named alternate member.

As soon as work sheets and grant application blanks are received the community committees will begin their work of listing the acreage on the cooperators' farms. The acreage will then be checked by the county committee, working with the county agent, who is to act in the capacity of representative of the Secretary of Agriculture in directing the program in this county.

Replaces AAA

The soil conservation program, planned to replace the nullified AAA program, provides for benefit payments to farmers who voluntarily comply with the provisions of the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act. Bases established on old reduction contracts will be taken as a guide for establishing the base for 1936 on the soil conservation program with an allowance being made for crops not included in former contracts.

Four main points of the program as outlined in the provisions of the new law are: 1. Building up the soil; 2. Soil conservation; 3. Supplementing the farmer's income; 4. Protecting consumers from exorbitant prices.

Under the plan for county administration the county was divided into five districts, each unit containing land operated approximately 500 farmers. At meetings of farmers in each district a community committee of three members and two alternates was elected. These committees are to serve as the county soil conservation and allotment Board. They in turn elected the county committee of three members which will direct operation of the county as a whole.

New Program Explained

In a statement explaining the nature of the new program Mr. Lehmburg said last week that in order to make the program a success there must be concerted action on the part of the farmers in carrying out the requirements of soil conservation.

"The government proposed to pay the farmer for doing something that he should do without asking for remuneration," he said.

"The program is entirely voluntary. No high powered methods will be used to persuade farmers to join the new program. Every operator of a farm and those interested in the operation of that farm will be asked to exercise their own judgment in the execution of the new Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act. Only those who participate in the farm program will receive benefit payments," he explained.

Members of the community committees are:

PLANS BEING LAID TO SECURE WTCC 1937 CONVENTION

Appointment of a committee to promote a large Brownwood delegation to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce 1936 convention at Amarillo May 11-13 was authorized by directors of the Brownwood Chamber of Commerce this week as the initial step in the campaign to secure the 1937 convention for this city. Much encouragement has been given Brownwood, and a successful campaign for the next convention is in prospect if the citizens show sufficient interest and enthusiasm, officials state. D. T. Strickland, president of the local organization, will announce his appointments soon.

The directors endorsed a proposal by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce for the preparation of motion pictures of Brownwood scenes to be run daily at the Fort Worth Centennial and Frontier exposition beginning July 1. Scenes to be used for the pictures will be selected by Mr. Strickland and a committee named for that purpose.

An invitation from the Mason Chamber of Commerce for representatives to be sent to the annual banquet at Mason Thursday night was accepted. Several Brownwood representatives will attend.

B. P. Bludworth was named to represent Brownwood as director of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce for the coming year.

The semi-annual convention of the Heart of Texas Press Association will be held Saturday, April 18, at Brady, with Harry F. Schwenker, publisher of the Brady Standard, as host. Saturday afternoon will be devoted to golf for those who like it and a tour of Brady for those who don't. John Gorman's golf trophy, now held by H. F. Mayes of Brownwood, is the prize for which the golfers will play.

CROPS AND PASTURES HELPED BY INCH RAIN

Crop prospects for this section were considerably heightened and pastures brought back to life Thursday morning by a 1.10 inch rain which fell, starting early in the morning and continuing with intermittent showers throughout the day. The rain, the heaviest received since March 8 when a 1.75 inch rain was registered, brought the total rainfall this year to 3.64 inches.

County Agent C. W. Lehmburg said Thursday morning that the small grain crops in many sections would be greatly helped by the rain, although in other parts the crops had gone so long without rain little good would be done. Gardens all over the county will be helped, and the rain has given the cotton growers much needed moisture for planting their seed, the agent said.

The rain was general all over this section of the state with good rains reported from many towns in this area.

BLANKS MAILED TO COTTON FARMERS TO GET 1935 FIGURES

County Agent C. W. Lehmburg this week is mailing blanks to all cotton farmers in Brown county requesting data on the amount of cotton harvested in the county in 1935. It is essential, Mr. Lehmburg stated, that this information be secured, in order that the allotment for 1936 for Brown county is correct. Danger of securing too small an allotment would result from incomplete figures.

Mr. Lehmburg urges that the blanks be returned to his office, as directed, immediately.

The program, sponsored by the Baptist W. M. U. of District 16, included a specially arranged chapel service Saturday morning, a barbecue luncheon at Howard Payne Hall at noon, visits to points of interest on the campus and a football game between two teams of Howard Payne students in the afternoon.

Houston Men Thank City For Reception

Appreciation for the reception given a group of Houston business men who made an overnight stop in Brownwood recently as a part of a good will tour being made through this section of the state was expressed in a letter received by Brownwood Chamber of Commerce from W. N. Blanton, vice-president and general manager of the Houston Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Blanton's letter said, "Just to express my deepest appreciation for your efforts in connection with arrangements you made for our stay in your city. We enjoyed every minute of our visit with your good people and regret it was not possible for us to spend more time in Brownwood."

STILL WORKING ON HEALTH UNIT PLAN

No action was taken on the proposed establishment of a county health unit in a meeting of city, county and school officials held Tuesday night for the purpose of considering the matter, but all those present endorsed the establishment of such a unit in the event that the matter of cost can be worked out. Another meeting for further consideration of the plan will be held as soon as it will be possible to have a representative of the State Health Department present.

The health unit, as outlined under the Social Securities Act, will be financed with federal funds up to 60 per cent of the amount needed, the remaining 40 per cent to be paid by local governmental agencies. As the governmental units already have adopted inflexible budgets for the year the matter of raising the local quota of funds is presenting a major difficulty.

The unit would employ a full-time doctor, part-time doctor, full-time nurse and a full-time sanitarian.

HIGH SCHOOL BAND TO ENTER CONTEST

Final preparations for its first entry in a state band contest were being made by the Brownwood High School Band this week in anticipation of the western division of the contest to be held at Big Spring Friday. W. R. Parker, director of the band, will accompany the boys on the trip.

The Junior High School Band won second place in the West Texas Band Contest at Abilene last week for the third consecutive year. The band, also under the direction of Mr. Parker, received a loving cup as second place winner.

In the class D division of the Abilene contests Blanket band, under the direction of M. G. Smoot, won first place. Bangs school band, directed by P. A. Sandifer, won second in the division.

FIRST MEETING OF PECAN CO-OP WILL BE HELD ON FRIDAY

The first membership meeting of the Southwestern Pecan Growers Association, a local cooperative marketing organization handling Texas pecans, to be held at Hotel Brownwood, Friday, April 17, beginning at 10 o'clock, it was announced this week by H. G. Lucas, president of the association.

Officers for the coming year will be elected at the meeting and a marketing committee appointed. Temporary officers have been serving since organization of the association in the fall. The marketing committee will have charge of the sale of the pecans which have been pooled by the association members, and which now are in cold storage in Dallas.

The association has assembled approximately 250,000 pounds of pecans, Mr. Lucas stated. Pecans were selling at about 4 cents a pound when the association began assembling the pool. Price advances have brought the price to about 5 cents a pound, with some pecans selling for 6 cents, Mr. Lucas stated. It is expected that by holding the pecans until about October a better price will be realized for the crop.

The marketing association was organized by Mr. Lucas and other local growers, after efforts to have the government make an advance on the 1935 crop failed. Because of the lateness of the season when the pool was formed, the pool did not reach the proportions which are anticipated in future years. An advance of 3 cents per pound was obtained from the Houston Bank for cooperatives, and has been paid to members of the association. Future payments will be made to members as the pecans are sold.

Officers of the association, who have been serving since its organization, and who will be replaced by the officers to be elected Friday, are, in addition to Mr. Lucas: T. O. Hurst, vice president; Wendell Hayes, secretary-treasurer; Lucas, Hurst, Mayes, C. L. McCartney and C. G. Sivells, directors.

LABOR NEEDED TO START MAY SCHOOL

As soon as sufficient labor is available in the May community work will be started on remodeling the May school plant, planned under a WPA project. The project approved calls for modernization of the two-story May grammar school building. The top story is to be removed and two ground floor classrooms are to be added, providing room for fifty additional pupils.

BUSINESS LEADERS FROM DALLAS ARE ENTERTAINED HERE

A group of Dallas business men, making Brownwood a stop in a good will tour of West and Northwest Texas, arrived here Monday morning by special train and spent about an hour visiting in the city and presenting a specially arranged program by a group of WFAA radio entertainers who were accompanying them. The tour is the 35th annual business tour sponsored by the Dallas Chamber of Commerce and the Dallas Wholesale Merchants Association.

Headed by their band the delegation of 70 business and professional men marched from the Santa Fe station to Memorial Hall, where the program was presented. A number of Brownwood citizens were on hand to greet the visitors. J. Ben Critz, manager of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce presided at the program. Carl Blasig welcomed the visitors.

W. J. Hayes, vice-president of the Republic National Bank, Dallas, invited the people of this section to attend the Centennial Exposition in Dallas this summer.

Jimmie Jefferies, announcer for the Early Bird program of WFAA, was master of ceremonies for the musical program. Entertainers presented were Wilbur Orr and Johnny Thompson, Ross Majestic and his High Five band, the Bumble Bee Trio and Jules Verne Allen, cowboy singer.

At the close of the program Chester Harrison, secretary of Brownwood Chamber of Commerce, expressed the appreciation of the city for the visit.

HELP NEEDED ON CENTENNIAL SHOW

Cooperation of many volunteer workers will be necessary if a Centennial celebration is to be given in connection with the second Lake Brownwood Regatta, according to members of the Brown county Centennial Advisory Board, which this week is trying to secure enough volunteers to assure success of the program. Several organizations and individuals have already offered their services, but many more people are needed to assist in managing various phases of the show, originally planned for the opening of the regatta program.

The board met Tuesday evening to consider formation of an organization for conducting the Centennial pageant. Plans were made at that time to secure as many volunteer workers as possible so that the pageant may be staged.

Since there is only a limited time in which the celebration may be arranged, members of the County Board urge that quick response be made to their appeal for assistance. Mrs. H. F. Mayes, chairman, is directing the organization. Definite plans for the celebration will be made as soon as the number of workers who will help is known.

Bones of a mastodon found near Saltito, Pa., will be hardened by a chemical process before being removed.

Added Race To Be Feature Of Second Regatta

Prizes Announced For Boat Race Event To Be Held at Lake Brownwood In June.

Revision of the schedule of prizes to be offered at the Second Annual Lake Brownwood Regatta so as to include an added race with no increase in total prizes was decided upon at a meeting of directors of the regatta held Wednesday night. Regatta dates are June 20, and 21, with the races Sunday, June 21. The added race will be a free-for-all for Class C runabouts. The race is added at the suggestion of the National Outboard Association, officials of which stated the race would increase interest among racers and add much to the race program from the standpoint of the spectators.

All races will be for 10 miles, with two heats of 5 miles each, and prizes will be awarded on the point system, rather than splitting the prizes and awarding half for each heat. This also was advocated as a factor in favor of the spectator.

Prizes will be offered for Classes A, B, C and F, and in the special free-for-all. In each event the prizes will be $50 for first place; $30 for second, $20 third and $10 fourth. These prizes are a bit above those generally offered for similar races in Texas cities and are expected to be sufficient lure to attract the best racers in the Southwest.

Committees to handle the underwriting of the regatta and the Centennial program which will be held on June 18 and 19 and to arrange the program and to handle publicity were appointed by Chairman E. B. Henley, Jr., at the Wednesday night meeting. These committees are:

Finance: W. Lee Watson, Rufus Stanley, Walter Emison, John Blake, James Timmins, G. F. McKay, D. C. Pratt, D. T. Strickland, Joe Weatherly, Harry Knox and John A. Collins.

Program: R. T. Haana, chairman; Leo Ehlinger, Chas. R. Ater, and J. Claude Smith.

Publicity: Wendell Mayes, chairman; D. T. Strickland, Rufus Stanley, Tom Fowden and B. P. Bludworth.

Directors voted to increase the number of directors of the association from 15 to 17, and added J. Hervey Mayes and T. C. Wilkinson, Jr., to the board.

Mrs. Capps was born in Cleburne, Texas, September 7, 1869. Her husband died about 10 years ago.

WHITTENBURG—Rufus Andrew Whittenburg, 92, Confederate veteran and one of Brownwood's oldest citizens, died Sunday afternoon at the home of his daughter, Mrs. A. Hillman, 404 Milton avenue. Although he had been confined to his home for several months due to his advanced age, Mr. Whittenburg's death was unexpected.

Funeral services were conducted at three o'clock Monday afternoon at White & London Funeral Home with Rev. D. A. Chisholm and Rev. W. T. Whiteside officiating.

Mr. Whittenburg was born November 27, 1843, in Talladega, Alabama. When a boy he moved with his parents to Texas, settling in Bell county. He enlisted in the Confederate Army at the age of 18 and took part in some of the principle battles of the Civil War.

Soon after the close of the war Mr. Whittenburg married Miss Sarah Hodges, and they settled near Temple where he was engaged in farming and ranching for more than 30 years. Later he moved to Killeen and from there to Lometa, Brownwood. One brother, Jack Gilliam, and three sisters, Mrs. J. T. Barros, Mrs. Frances Mayo and Mrs. Lizzy Mayo, all of Tennessee, also survive.

Mr. Whittenburg was the son of a Methodist minister and joined the Methodist Church in his youth. He took an active part in community activities during his entire life and even at his advanced age took a keen interest in present day events.

He is survived by the following children: Mrs. Maud Hillman, Brownwood; Dr. W. A. Whittenburg, Lometa; two sisters, Mrs. Joe Neal, Dallas; three grandchildren, Drew McCaughan, Brownwood; Mrs. Edd Kirby, Lometa, and Mrs. Delma Ford, Lometa.

HENSON—Mrs. James Henson, 82, for many years a resident of Brown county, died at the home of a son, W. D. Henson, at Sylvester Sunday night. Funeral services were held in the Home Cemetery near Blanket Monday afternoon.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Lola Townsend, Blanket and Mrs. Sadie Griffith, Baird; two sons, Welborn Henson, Sylvester, and Lloyd Henson, Blanket, 28 grandchildren and 12 great grandchildren.

FOR COUNTY JUDGE

In announcing my candidacy for a second term as County Judge, I desire to express the appreciation of myself and family for the many kindnesses heretofore shown us. Realizing my human frailties, I would not be so vain as to claim a perfect administration, but do have the satisfaction of knowing that it compares favorably with any the county has had. Although there has been less revenue coming in to the county because of the falling off of taxable values, the reducing of the county rate, and the inability of some people to pay their taxes, still the financial affairs of the county are in excellent condition, although a large part of that collected must go to pay the bonded indebtedness heretofore voted by the people. I have worked hard and have disposed of a large number of civil and criminal cases, as well as a great volume of probate proceedings and juvenile delinquencies. There have been quite a number of insane cases, but to date, none of them have had to stay in the county jail but a few days, and in most cases have been placed in the asylum without being taken to jail at all. There have been a surprising number of people committed to the State Tuberculosis Sanatorium for treatment, and this, too is a part of the County Judge's duties. By virtue of his office, the County Judge is presiding officer of the Commissioner's court and this in itself is attended with multiplied duties and responsibilities, all of which I have performed with the best of my ability. It has been a great pleasure to serve you as County Judge for the past year, and if you believe that my past services merit it, we shall very much appreciate your support for another term.

Yours very sincerely,
A. E. NABORS.

BROWNWOOD YOUTH IS KILLED IN ACCIDENT

Eldon Jones, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Jones of Brownwood, died early Friday morning en route to a hospital, from injuries received in an automobile wreck which occurred between De Leon and Comanche in which he and two other Brownwood boys, Charles Low and Donald Salter were injured. The youths were returning home from Dallas when the car, driven by Dallas, turned over three times in an attempted double reverse curve. The car was demolished.

Charles Low, 20, son of Bob Low, received injuries to his hips and back and numerous cuts and bruises, but was moved to Brownwood Monday afternoon from the Gorman hospital where he was taken following the accident.

Donald Salter is a son of Carl Salter, Sr. He suffered a broken ankle and is receiving treatment at Gorman.

Funeral services for Eldon Jones were held Saturday afternoon at three o'clock at First Presbyterian Church with Rev. Wm. H. Foster officiating. Interment followed in Greenleaf Cemetery with White & London Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Eldon was born November 24, 1914, in Brownwood. He lived here all his life. Until recently he had been an employe at Harris Motor Company but at the time of his death he was manager of the Southern Parking Station.

Survivors include his parents and one brother, Blake Jones, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J.

Slogan Is Sought
The general committee Monday night decided to conduct a slogan contest for the purpose of finding a suitable and inspiring slogan for Brownwood's Centennial clean-up and beautification campaign. Details of this slogan contest, as well as the entire beautification campaign, will be announced in a few days. The competing districts will be South Ward, Coghlin, Ford, Looney, Brownwood Heights and the business district. Coincident with this campaign, Brownwood will be entered in the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Clean-up and Beautification contest also starting May 1.

Preliminary efforts of the general committee will be to have zoning ordinances passed. Discussion of this possibility was conducted at the meeting Monday night with Chester Harrison reviewing the zoning ordinance as it was framed about twelve years ago. It was passed by the City Council on the first reading he said, but after that time the matter was dropped. Mr. Harrison with other

Beautiful Brownwood during the Centennial year is a worthy undertaking, and one which no doubt will receive the enthusiastic cooperation that it deserves.

Start With the Streets

Beautiful Brownwood during the Centennial year is a worthy undertaking, and one which no doubt will receive the enthusiastic cooperation that it deserves.

And yet Brownwood is equipped through nature and through the careful handiwork of those who have been engaged in the business of building homes and business houses, and thus building a city, for these many years; through these advantages Brownwood is well equipped to regain and maintain those laurels again.

Beautifulification of homes and home premises is important, and in the general effect must be taken care of if the city presents an attractive appearance. But it is not in this line that the city now is falling behind. Most Brownwood homes themselves are attractive; most home premises are kept clean and neat, and are beautified to the extent of the ability of the resident. But Brownwood streets—

Unfortunately, Brownwood has few streets that are credits to the city. The paving is crude, rough, poorly kept, dirty, unsightly—everything but beautiful. And the streets offer the greatest opportunity to make a favorable impression on visitors. Obviously these streets cannot be repaved during the coming months, although many of them are being paved now and will be ready within a few weeks. The only remedy for the present would be keeping them clean.

With very little extra expenditure, Brownwood streets and alleys could be cleaned up and then kept clean. With this accomplished, half the battle would be over, for clean streets naturally cause a feeling of pride on the part of property owners who would thus be encouraged to improve their own premises. On the other hand, untidy streets are a discouragement to extra effort on the part of even ambitious citizens, and unless this essential work is done no amount of work on the part of committees can produce very satisfying results.

We consider the Japanese a war loving people, and not without cause, for the military party controls Japan with an iron hand, and the government is dependent upon support of the army and navy chiefs for its very existence. Further, Japanese activity in the past few years has indicated a strong sentiment among the Japanese people for aggressive tactics.

A Suggestion For Peace

It is a bit strange, then, for a worthy suggestion for world peace, at least in the Pacific, should come from an outstanding Japanese writer, a naval officer of high rank. Commander Tota Ishimaru of the Japanese Navy suggests, in a book published in America and released this week, a division of authority in the Pacific between England, the United States and Japan, each to be supreme in its own domain.

Commander Ishimaru suggests that America be given authority over the eastern part of the Pacific, Japan the western and England the southern Pacific.

"Let each respect the wishes of the others, honestly assist their progress and development, finally abandon all ideas of racial discrimination and hatred, remove all tariff walls and restrictions on migration, encourage the settlement of differences by an efficient system of arbitration," the Japanese commander suggests.

There can be no question but that world difficulties have been in the past and will in the future be settled along commercial lines. Japan has earned its right to be considered an important commercial nation, and to deal with the "Japanese problem" openly and in recognition of the commercial importance of the nation seems to be a sensible suggestion, for Japan will continue for many years to be an important buyer of American goods and an important merchant to American business.

Possibly the Utopian condition suggested by the writer might eventually obtain: "Then limitation of armament will present no difficulties, mutual confidence will increase and the Pacific Ocean will not belie its name."

There is something uncanny about the sudden and unexpected death of so many of the outstanding opponents of President Roosevelt and the New Deal. During the week news dispatches carried accounts of the death of James M. Beck, noted attorney and former solicitor general of the United States.

Thinning The Ranks

Likewise a former Congressman, Mr. Beck, Pennsylvania Republican, had been outspoken in his opposition to New Deal practices and during the past few months had devoted much time to bitter speeches denouncing the President.

His death brings to five the number of outstanding opponents of Roosevelt, both Democrats and Republicans, who have been removed by death during the past two years. Possibly there are more, but five come to mind at the moment.

First of these was Senator Cutting of New Mexico, whose aid was valuable to Roosevelt during the campaign, and whose opposition to his Chief had made him a serious contender for Republican nomination this year. Senator Cutting was killed in an airplane crash just as he was reaching the zenith of his spectacular political career. Many think he was headed for the Presidency.

The assassination of Huey Long removed an outspoken New Deal foe whose activity gave the Democratic leaders much concern. His colleague in the United States Senate, the blind Senator Thomas D. Schall, was killed in an automobile accident in Washington, with an announced anti-Roosevelt speech undelivered. Heart failure took former Governor Ritchie of Maryland, New Deal opponent, before his time.

Of course, in no instance was political activity responsible in any way for the death of these distinguished Americans. But the anti-Roosevelt cause has certainly been dealt a heavy blow through a reduction in the number of its most important leaders through death.

The beau and error keep Cupid and the divorce court busy.—Denison Herald.

Folks will join any kind of lodge or society, provided it does not require a pledge to mind their own business.—Gilmer Mirror.

A Mississippi farmer walked into the tax collector's office recently and asked how much his taxes were. When told he fell dead. A commentator said it must have been a very common occurrence because the papers carried the notice of the death in only a few lines at the bottom of a column on the back page of the paper.—Pittsburgh Gazette.

It Could Be Worse Centennial Spring C. C. C. Review Floods to the east of us. Sand to the west of us—Makes the whole country Kin to the rest of us.

It does look like we all have a lot to be thankful for. While we're sweeping out sand the others are scraping mud from their homes, where they have homes left. Then the sand we sweep out of our houses really came from somebody's field and almost scraped it to the rocks beneath, according to reports. However, our people are the kind who can hump their shoulders a little higher and come right out of it. They have shown that beyond question in last year's storms and flood. It only makes a bond stronger of sympathy and understanding between the east and west. This week, men who felt their farms were almost being swept from beneath them by the strong western winds, dug down in their pockets for the Red Cross without a question, that the flood sufferers might be taken care of.

I found an editorial last week reminding the home folks that this is Centennial Spring and that thousands upon thousands of people from all over the world will pass through the southern states to the big Texas birthday party. The editorial was admonishing the Peter Pickers to please leave the wild flowers which line the highways for the pleasure of the guests who will pass this way. They should be allowed to flourish as a gesture of welcoming beauty.

An almost unlimited variety of wild flowers hides the ugliness which man makes along the highways which out visitors will travel. Vast expanses of color gladden the eye wherever man has left space for Nature to work her Spring miracle. It is an annual visitation of beauty so majestic as to call forth the reverence and respect of every human being who witnesses it. Think of this when driving along the highways.

Instead of a book review this week, I want to review with you the past five years, one of the one of the greatest movements that has ever been afoot for the youth of a nation, the C. C. C. camps which dot our hillside and which have been a door of life for the youth of an entire nation. As one, the mothers and sisters should "stand up and cheer" that the door which was all but closed in the past few months has been thrown open again. In thankfulness to the great heart of America that has made it possible for the young men to catch themselves on the verge of despair and move forward with cleaner bodies, cleaner hearts and broader souls.

1932—Half million boys on the tramp—Dad has lost his job, there is nothing to do but search for work and work cannot be had. Sleeping in box cars, hitch hiking, a hobo jungle with seasoned criminals. An army of hopeless youth searching for something, often not even enough to eat.

1933—C. C. C. camps throughout the country inviting boys to work, be fed and clothed and find respectability again. Swinging axes, voices lifted in merry song, full stomachs, a ribbon of road around a towering mountain. Stars over head, wind through great trees... happiness... content.

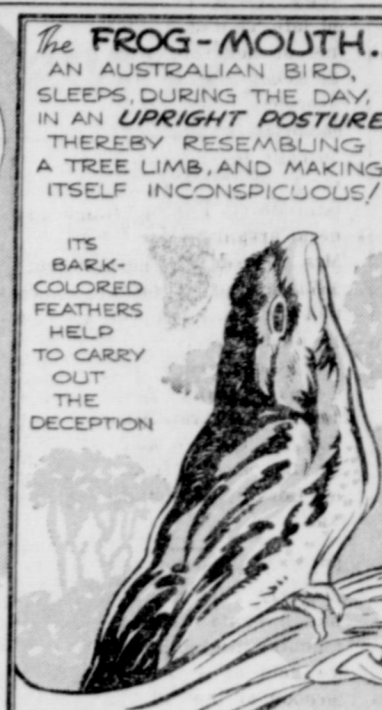

1934—Progress made. Young shoulders standing square to responsibilities. Young hearts firing ambitions to be something, somebody. A new understanding of the quiet of Nature, the conservation of all that belongs to this great mother.

1935—Youth lions deprived of education, receiving for the first time a discipline of educated bodies as well as minds and hearts. Traveling libraries. Learning to play under an athletic director.

ON TEXAS FARMS

COLLEGE STATION — "The whole purpose of the new farm program is to help farmers plan their farming operations so as to conserve their soil and enable them to reap greater returns from the land in the long run," Jack Shelton, vice director and state agent of the Texas Extension Service announced in reviewing some of the major problems of the new program.

He also pointed out that diverting crops of soil depleting nature into soil building and soil conserving crops would pay the larger cash grants under the rulings of the new farm program.

"For the most part, the common, well-established soil building improvement crops and practices already in use by Texas farmers will receive recognition throughout in planning the program to fit Texas farms," Shelton said.

The temporary State Soil Conservation Domestic Allotment Board plans to apply the national farm program to Texas so that it will best meet the needs of the Texas farm people in carrying out their cropping systems.

Shelton also said: "Farmers must keep in mind that a separate base acreage will be established for each of the following crops: cotton, peanuts, rice and sugar cane for sugar."

"The new farm program as applied to Texas is being pushed with all the resources of the Texas Extension Service to put it into the field as soon as possible," Shelton concluded.

COLLEGE STATION—Immediate action being necessary on the new farm program, a temporary state Soil Conservation Domestic Allotment Board has been appointed by Director H. H. Williamson of the Texas Extension Service to act on a number of important questions that must be passed on by a board for the approval of the Secretary of Agriculture.

The temporary board members are George G. Chance, Bryan; George Slaughter, Wharton; A. H. Montgomery, Darrouzzett; and L. C. Trousdale, from Houston, Texas.

This temporary board was appointed on the basis of one representative from each of the four major commodity boards that served during 1935. They served as to:

ago. Through the depression he managed to make a living, improve his herd, and add 20 cows, some of which are pure blood, according to John H. Erickson, county agricultural agent.

By the use of high quality bulls, Bowen has improved his herd so that many of the young cows produce from 15 to 20 per cent more milk than their mothers and average higher in butterfat. An abundance of roughage is produced on the farm, and in addition a pit silo is filled for winter use.

While Bowen is a tenant farmer, he has greatly improved the pastures and meadows on the farm and cuts and puts up several thousand bales of hay each season.

FAIRFIELD—"I am feeding 150 goats, 20 head of cattle and 30 hogs on the silage that I put in my trench silo last fall, and they are doing far better on it than on any other roughage I have ever fed," says Jim Sessions of Freestone county, according to J. W. Richards, Jr., county agricultural agent.

Sessions dug the silo last fall and stored a 12 acre crop of hegarl in it. He states that the total cost of this feed did not exceed $1 per ton. This included the cost of growing the feed, building the silo, and storing the feed.

MOUNT VERNON—Nine dollars worth of Korean lespezea sowed broadcast over a 10 acre Bermuda grass meadow in 1935 increased the profits in hay by $45 on the farm of W. J. Morris, Franklin county farmer, according to W. N. Williamson county agricultural agent. The ground was prepared by cutting in one direction with a disc. After sowing lespezea the disc was run the other way.

An excellent stand was obtained and the meadow yielded 300 bales of hay. Morris prices this mixed hay at 15 cents per bale more than ordinary Bermuda hay. He is preparing to plant 15 acres this year.

Howard, Bonnie Bartlett, Grace Bradley, Alan Baxter, Brian Donlevy, Ruth Donnelly, and Fred Keating, Mitchell Losen, who made "Hands Across the Table," directed the new film, and as you might suspect, his latest effort has all the speed and smoothness of the former.

"Thirteen Hours by Air," is a dramatic chronicle of the adventures that befell half-a-dozen passengers and the crew of a transport plane as it zooms across the country from New York to San Francisco. MacMurray and Howard are co-pilots of the ship. Miss Bennett is the lovely passenger who intrigues MacMurray. Bonnie Bartlett is a spoiled young heir to several million dollars, who makes life miserable for his governess, played by ZaSu Pitts, and the remainder of the passengers. Three mysterious male passengers are aboard—Baxter, Donlevy and Keating.

As the plane roars toward its destination, MacMurray concentrates his attention on protecting Miss Bennett, whom he believes to be in danger. And danger comes—not only for the girl, but for everyone else in the plane. There is an attempted kidnapping, fast gunplay, a forced landing and a series of other exciting developments.

How the plot is finally resolved brings the film to a thrilling climax. Every ounce of excitement is squeezed out of the story by the players.

High schools of Long Beach, Calif. are taking up crew in a big way, but the finest coxswain in the business is leader of one of the shells. He is Billy Monroe, above, of Long Beach Polytechnic High, who is 15 and weighs only 65. West coast colleges see in the adoption of crew by preparatory schools a new source of material for their squads.

TEXAS ALMANAC FOR CENTENNIAL ISSUED

The book of 100,000 facts—the 1936 edition of the Texas Almanac—is just off the press. It is the largest volume in the history of this publication—a total of 512 pages, on better grade of paper and more profusely illustrated. The 1936 book, although designated as the "Centennial Edition", and compiled in tribute to the grand celebration in Texas this year, misses only twenty-one years of reaching its own centennial year, having first been issued in 1857 by the Galveston News, the parent organization of The Dallas News, its present publishers.

Features of the current issue include an extensive description of the Texas Centennial, including celebrations at Dallas and other points in the state, an outline of the history of Texas from its beginnings to the present, an illustrated chapter on the wild flowers of Texas, lists of the different kinds of trees and wild animals found in Texas, extensive lists of historic old towns and origins of names of Texas towns, a text of the State Constitution with all its amendments and brief account of submission since adoption of the Constitution, and the new farm census figures of 1935. There is much of interest for the coming political campaign, including the current poll tax payments by counties. All figures on State, county and city bonded debt are brought up to date. There are several chapters devoted to points of interest for the Centennial tourist in Texas, and a new map made in four colors especially for this edition of the Texas Almanac, entitled "Texas for Tourists," is folded between the leaves of each volume.

There are more than 100,000 facts about the history, natural resources, crops, livestock, industries, commerce, transportation, finance, government, politics, educational system, cultural institutions, and other phases of Texas economic, political and social development.

BREAD You're Proud to Serve
BREAD You'll Enjoy Eating
BREAD That Builds

AND BREAD THAT IS . . .

EASY TO MAKE

Bread making is a much neglected art, largely because of the common belief that it is such a difficult undertaking. The success of your baking depends on the quality of the materials used. Try baking bread with a tested flour—CAKE FLOUR.

You'll find that it's easy to make, far more delicious than any baker's bread could be, and certainly it will be more nourishing than any other kind of bread.

Your family deserves home made bread. And you owe it to yourself to use CAKE FLOUR in making it. Buy a sack today, and see how much easier your baking will be.
