Local members are elated to know that they are to entertain two bishops over the week, one of whom will devote his time to inspirational messages.

Pastor E. B. Bowen in speaking of the Conference said: "The entire community is cordially invited to attend at any time. You will be welcome. We are especially anxious to have you hear Bishop Smith twice each day, and Bishop Boaz on Sunday morning."

There will be about ninety official lay delegates. In addition to these, there will be a large number of preacher's wives, laymen and connectional representatives from Nashville, Tenn., Louisville, Ky., St. Louis, Mo. and other places.

The auditorium was filled to capacity and everyone had a good time.

Farm Trucks Must Comply With License Law

Sheriff Guy Pierce has asked the Leader to announce that the new truck law went into effect October 16th which requires trucks and trailers operated on farms to bear a license plate.

This new law was passed by the Legislature while in session last winter, but did not go into effect until October 16th. Mr. Pierce says the highway patrol will begin picking up those who do not have a license.

Joe Noble Makes Debating Team on State School

This is Joe's second year in the law school. Phifer Estlack and Ancel Barton are the other boys from Clarendon who are taking their second year work in the law department there.

He will preach at the evening service at 7:30 and each evening during the coming week. There will be no day service. The public is cordially invited to hear Elder Sanders who has been doing some good preaching at Spearman recently.

J. H. Hurn Attends The Old Settlers Reunion

Having located in that section way back in the 80's, Joe H. Hurn found much to see and many to greet last Friday when he attended the old settlers reunion at Henrietta. Many of the old timers had not been seen since he moved away from Clay county near 30 years ago.

He saw the Comanche Indians brought over to make the occasion more real. He saw the rodeo in all its grandeur, and did not pass up the big feed that always goes along with the gathering of old settlers.

He visited with his brother Frank Hurn and family north of Henrietta. The two then visited a sister and other relatives at Dallas. A brother-in-law of these men has been on the police force at Dallas almost thirty years.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Palmer and son James Wesley were Amarillo visitors Saturday.

ARMISTICE DAY PROCLAMATION

Whereas, as it is very important that the American people should always revere and remember November 11, 1918, as it was one of the most momentous days of recent history, and considering the fact that on this date the bloody struggle in which our Nation was involved came to an end,

Therefore it is befitting that each year we should observe the memory of our participation in the World War, I, as Mayor of the City of Clarendon, respectfully request that our citizens observe November 11, 1933 as a Holiday, and request that those business houses whose proprietors deem it expedient, close their doors during at least a part of the day and join with the American Legion and other organizations in their observance of the day.

W. P. CAGLE, Mayor, City of Clarendon.

Rain Covers Wide Drouth Area Wednesday Night

Reports from over the Panhandle indicate that the wheat crop in jeopardy has been saved by the rain which began falling early Wednesday night.

Varying amounts fell over Donley county, but in sufficient quantity to help winter pastures. The north end of the county apparently received the heaviest rainfall.

Fine Program Assured When Fathers-Sons Meet

Plans were practically completed Wednesday night when the several committees met to iron out details of the program to be presented at the Father-Sons banquet to be held in the basement of the Christian church here on the night of the 16th.

A copy of the program will appear in the Leader next week when each of the participants shall have been given time to accept places. Every effort is being put forth to make this the best banquet ever held.

Other lines have been added to the tire business of the McElvany Tire Company since the firm moved to the Trent building across the street from the old location. Mr. McElvany, owner of the business, announces that a complete battery service will be offered his customers. New batteries will be stocked. Old batteries rebuilt and recharged.

The new building offers every convenience regardless of the weather, he says, in that the drive-in feature from the west side of the building will enable workmen to have steam heat during cold weather. A large stock of tires will be kept, the building affording plenty of room for expansion.

$24,000,000 IN HIGHWAY JOBS IS ALLOTTED TEXAS

Panhandle Improvements Will Share in This Amount To Large Extent

Further highway work in Donley county is assured in addition to that portion for which a contract is already let from Clarendon to the west county line. This is seen in the announcement of regional engineer C. E. Swain of the Federal Bureau of Roads this week. The Federal Government has allotted Texas $24,000,000 for highway improvement.

Swain estimates that 85 percent of the work employing at least 21,000 men will be well under way by January 1st, and the full force at work by February 1st, providing the maximum jobs when it is most needed to protect the unemployed.

Some construction will be done on highways of each of the 254 counties of the state during the winter. At present 4,607 men are employed. This number will be increased to 12,225 by December 1st with the letting of contracts amounting to $9,430,000 now authorized.

Needs to right-of-way from Clarendon east are rapidly being assembled with every prospect for an early letting of contracts on this portion of Highway 5.

Literary Society to Present Program at Midway

The literary society of the Midway community will present two plays Friday night. "Borrowing Trouble" is a one-act play. The other play is entitled "Tying the Knot," and is a two-act play. Songs, readings and music will also help the folks to enjoy a pleasant evening. If the folks out there get over in as big a way with this as they did the "pie Supper," it will be a grand success.

Lelia Lake School to Have Box Supper Friday Nite

Announcement is made of a box supper to be held at the Lelia Lake school Friday night of this week by W. V. Thomasson. C. R. Gamblin will auction the wares. Prizes will be given the prettiest girl and the ugliest man.

A basketball game between the Lelia school team and that of Windy Valley is to be a part of the program.

There will be plenty of good music on account of a bunch of good fiddlers living in that community, and plenty of talent to help out with other instruments. While no definite announcement is made at this time, it is expected that L. H. Earthman will have something of interest for the folks as he has on similar occasions.

DOPE BUCKET IS SPILLED AS LOCAL SQUAD LOSES 12-13

Shamrock Now Conference Favorites After Whipping Strong Broncho Team

The old dope bucket took another spasmodic plunge last Friday afternoon when the Shamrock Irishmen managed to gain a one-point margin over the highly tutored Clarendon Bronchos on the Shamrock gridiron. This defeat for the Bronchos was a complete up-set, they having recently beaten the McLean Tigers 7-0, who a few weeks before had humbled Shamrock to the tune of 52-0. Clarendon fans were somewhat surprised but took the blow with good spirits, hoping to get another crack at the Irishmen before the conference struggle is finally settled.

Clarendon made her first score during the second quarter with Whittlock making the touchdown. The second counter came in the third quarter as a result of the ball bouncing off a Shamrock man after a punt. "Pup" Evans was the boy who picked up the fumbled ball and raced untouched across the goal line. Both tries for points after touchdowns were no good.

The Bronchos still have a chance for the championship should either Memphis or Wellington hand the Irishmen a defeat. The Bronchos are still strong contenders, so don't forget to show them that you are still behind them.

FUNERAL RITES MRS. Wm. SPITZER HELD WEDNESDAY

Came to Donley County In 1909 Settling First Near Ashtola

In the passing of Mrs. Wm. Spitzer Monday, Donley county lost one of its earliest settlers, a civic worker and a noble christian character. Her death came after a lingering illness, through all of which she bore up bravely and faced eternity with that serene calmness of mind that comes to those who have implicit faith in Him who doeth all things well.

Few women ever enjoyed them more or had more friends than she. As a member of the Home Demonstration Club she was the eldest member and was reverently referred to as the "mother of the club."

Born Elizabeth Jane Davidson in Stark county, Illinois in 1858, the family was one of ten to settle in western Iowa when she was a girl of nine. Pioneering hardships endured gave to her a strength of character that stood her in good stead when she later became a pioneer in Colorado.

At Manson, Iowa she was united in marriage to Wm. Spitzer in 1883. Within a few years the family home was established on a homestead in Douglas county, Colorado. Ft. Collins became the family home a short time before coming to Donley county in 1909 where they lived on a farm near Ashtola for several years before moving to Clarendon.

Mr. and Mrs. Spitzer celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary here August 30th surrounded by a host of good friends who took them by surprise in providing a meal thoroughly in keeping with the occasion.

Rev. Robt. S. McKee, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, had charge of the funeral service at the family home Wednesday afternoon. The ladies of the Eastern Star, of which Mrs. Spitzer had long been an honored member, had charge of the services at the cemetery. Masons attended the casket.

She is survived by her husband, W. M. Spitzer, and four sons. They are Ray, George, Dan and Floyd. Ray C. and Floyd were with her in her illness and present with their father at her death. She also had two grandsons.

The Leader joins with the many friends of the family in expressing sincerest sympathy in the passing of a loving wife and mother, a christian character whose good deeds will live after her, and one who will be greatly missed.

Campaign Chairman Predicts Success During Roll Call

Success in the forthcoming membership campaign of the American Red Cross was predicted today by Mrs. W. H. Patrick who recently was appointed Roll Call chairman in Donley county.

"Although the dates from November 11 to 30 have been set aside for the Roll Call this year," the campaign leader said, "I am convinced Donley county's membership goal can be reached or exceeded in a much briefer period. For many years, and particularly during the economic depression, the outstanding performance of this humanitarian organization has become common knowledge. Any results other than a swift, successful campaign are inconceivable when we realize how much the existence of the Red Cross means to this community, state and nation."

The Roll Call chairman added that local campaign machinery is being rapidly perfected with an aim of carrying the organization's message to every adult in the county between Armistice Day and Thanksgiving.

Mrs. Will Martin who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Clappitt, returned to her home at Amarillo Wednesday.

LEGION EXCEEDS QUOTA OVER FOUR DAY DRIVE HERE

Aubyn E. Clark Post Boasts Of Largest Membership In Its History

Just what determined men can accomplish when they make a united effort was amply proven here last week when the members of the local Legion Post put on a membership campaign.

The drive began Monday and ended Friday night with a "feed" and a general jollification as the membership gained was totaled up to one hundred and seventeen, seven over the quota or goal set. Seven more have been added since that date making the total post membership 124, or 8 more members than at any other period since the Post was established.

Much interest was shown Friday night when it came time to total up records of achievement. Battalion "B" was found to have won a victory over "A" by 130 points.

Legion buttons of 14-K gold were distributed to the most deserving. T. M. Shaver as Major of Battalion A received a button. He in turn presented a button to Lt. Guy S. Pierce as his appreciation for faithful and efficient service.

Major Sloan Baker of Battalion B presented buttons to Capt. B. C. Antrobus, Lt. Cecil W. Smith, and to Cliff Decker, Clarence Pipes and Henry Toomb of his "firing squad" of Company D.

Commander G. L. Boykin of the Post rendered distinguished service with a profusion of oratory in presenting the awards.

The campaign was managed by Adj. Clyde I. Price and past Commander Ralph Kerbow.

Not being satisfied with the feed at the close of the campaign, new members were given a further opportunity to enjoy the good fellowship of the Post by sharing in a Halloween feed at the Wiedman ranch southwest of town Tuesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Youngblood of Brice attended the funeral of Mrs. Wm. Spitzer Wednesday.

The continued illness of Editor Ed Boliver of the Hedley Informer is a cause for much regret on the part of the profession and his numerous other friends.

In the backwoods of Alabama thirty-six school districts are without school this season because of a lack of funds. In Chicago, not classed in the backwoods, no school tax has been collected since 1932, but they carry on somehow.

We are not saying that these thousand and one new ideas of the so-called brain trust are not a good thing, but we will say that if they do work out just right, it will be the first time in the history of the world when a poverty-stricken people ever recovered on a credit.

Those who accuse the Ferguson administration of job selling at this time would likely find it hard to explain why Ferguson appointed rangers are rounding up the alleged job sellers. But then we are likely to read any thing in the subsidized press.

The Italian ships of the air visited Chicago's Century of Progress, making the trip from their nation and return with small casualty. At about the same time, a number of Italian submarines bobbed up in New York harbor. All of the visiting was of a friendly nature. The Italians merely wanted to know what they could do in case of necessity.

Down in Jack Stricklin's town where he is "high-cocklorium" of the Herald, they voted in beer last week. It must have been quite a celebration when a man climbed out of jail from the third story via of the blanket strip route to join the celebrating throng. Except that the man failed to find the crowd and is still out looking for it. They at least have failed to find him.

All the nations of Europe that are not preparing for war at this time, are preparing for self-preservation. Distrust exists because all nations have found out that treaties are made to be violated. If the treaties now in existence could be enforced, there would be no possibility of war, and consequently no unrest at this time. The next war is scheduled to begin within a year. At the close of the fighting, mostly from the air, it is believed that only three nations will survive—Japan, Russia and the United States.

Corn pone will again become a luxury after next Saturday. A processing tax of 28 cents a bushel will be put on corn. It might be a good idea in some sections, but here where the weather and insects curtail the corn crop to almost nothing, they will be forced to resort to war time methods. Back in those days, small mailorder mills were used to grind kaffir. Several breakfast foods as well as pancakes were invented in the process. There is something about American people that is generally recognized but little understood. That is that you can't force them to do very much against their will. The corn grower may get a slight raise in price, but the miller will get the most of the raise just as the flour millers have done.

Down at Wichita Falls recently, a buxom young man was given a five year suspended sentence upon conviction of having stomped and beaten an insane patient aged 71 of the state hospital until he died from the effects. Perhaps if the young man had known that he was going to be dragged into court about the matter, he wouldn't have bothered the old man.

The fault lies with the jury system, it having originated during the time of Henry II of England about 700 years ago. Previous to that time court decisions were made by mortal combat. The victor always won his case. Later, juries were made up of the actual witnesses. Now no one may sit on the jury if they know too much about the case, but must render judgment according to the law and the evidence. Many criminals go free because the lawyer appeals to the sympathies of the jury, or tricks them in the law itself. This would be impossible if the case were tried before a judge sitting alone as the jury. But it will take a long time to change a jury system in vogue 700 years.

Oklahoma passed a law in 1931 to sexually sterilize the mentally deficient. Only one patient has been so treated. Now they are bringing the law into practice in the two state prisons, and four hospitals for the mentally deranged.

Montana and a few other states have had laws in operation for some time requiring sterilization of criminals to stop a further increase in that breed that must continue to pester the remainder of the inhabitants unless checked.

An effort is to be made to have some law passed at the next session of the Texas legislature designed to put a stop to the further propagation of the species that can only mean murder and misery for the others. Had this been done a hundred years ago, or even fifty years ago, millions of dollars would have been saved if we cared not to take into account the thousands of lives that would have been saved. This not to mention the misery, cripples and other barbarous wrecks that ignorance brings down upon the heads of the careless and indifferent.

Co-ops' Parity Price Plan Gains in Favor

With ten cent a pound being advanced on actual cotton, the Cotton Cooperatives are now pushing toward the next stage of their "pre-war parity price" program, the making of a similar advance on "plow-up" options.

A statement from cotton cooperative headquarters at New Orleans this week says that an advance of four cents a pound on the options would put fifty million dollars cash into the hands of 660,000 growers, and permit them to hold their options for such market advances as may be obtained from the acreage control in which these growers are taking part. The 4-cent advance, with the original 6-cent valuation of the options, would put the options on the same 10 cent loan basis as actual cotton.

The cooperative plan also calls for government loans of fifteen cents a pound to growers after they have actually complied with the acreage control requirements, and the final step is to have the government allow the 10-cent loan now, and the 15-cent loan later, on cotton which growers may repurchase to replace that part of this year's crop which they may have sold. Without this last provision, it is explained, the price raising program would be of no immediate benefit to growers who have already sold their crop, as is the case with a very large part of them.

Practically unanimous support has been voiced for the cooperative plan by individuals and groups to whom it has been presented throughout the cotton states. All state commissioners of agriculture who have expressed an opinion have been wholeheartedly for it. The State Bankers Association of Louisiana approved it unanimously at its annual convention. One hundred and fifteen directors of cooperative gins in West Texas gave unanimous endorsement, as did editors and publishers of agricultural papers which go to a million and a quarter southern homes.

The plan is said by co-op leaders to be a "practical method of putting into effect President Roosevelt's announced intention of restoring cotton and other farm commodities to their pre-war buying power." Cotton has been selling lately at about 60% of its pre-war value, it was stated, while things farmers buy are selling at an average of 116%.

Those who approve the plan are urged to write Henry A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, at Washington, D. C., since "a supporter doesn't register approval where it counts until he registers at Washington."

Sloan Baker is making extensive improvements to his home at this time. He purchased the Shaw place southwest of the Methodist church some weeks back.

Why Doctors Favor a Liquid Laxative

A doctor will tell you that the careless choice of laxatives is a common cause of chronic constipation.

Any hospital offers evidence of the harm done by harsh laxatives that drain the system, weaken the bowel muscles, and even affect the liver and kidneys.

Fortunately, the public is fast returning to laxatives in liquid form. The dose of a liquid laxative can be measured. The action can thus be controlled. It forms no habit; you needn't take a "double dose" a day or two later.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin has the average person's bowels regular as clockwork in a few weeks' time. Why not try it? Some pill or tablet may be more convenient to carry. But there is little "convenience" in any cathartic which is taken so frequently, you must carry it with you, wherever you go!

Its very taste tells you Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is wholesome. A delightful taste, and delightful action. Safe for expectant mothers, and children. All druggists, ready for use, in big bottles. Member N. R. A.

TEMPLE OF TRUTH
By the Apostle

A story going the rounds has to do with a cotton grower who was in a delirium, and his wife called the doctor. When the doctor arrived, the old man gave him the once over and said, "send him away, Mary, and get the undertaker. I'm full up on these middle men."

Now that we are to have federal loans on peanuts, the Apostle of this column feels that all will be saved. He has three tow sacks of hull-gull material on hand right now with more peanut brittle material in the offing headed this way in some places to deliver no salt pork earlier than 10 a. m. to enable the recipients to clear away the breakfast and hide the premium breakfast bacon.

Thanks Mrs. Harvey Shaw for that sack (tow) of fine, large peanuts. They are filling a long felt "want" and a want that has been empty for three years.

The trouble with some of us is that our wish bones have floated to our heads.

Speaking of creatures of habit, the writer of this column has worn the same style of shoe for 12 years and purchased every pair of the Rathjen shoe store. It pays to buy the best. The prices during that time have ranged from eighteen down to eight dollars. Each pair has given entire satisfaction, been regarded as bargains and not a "corn in a carload."

Dr. Jessie L. Givens of Bowie is president of the Texas Homeopathic medical association this year. Almost thirty years ago her father, a pioneer physician of Bowie, passed away after a long faithful service in Montague and surrounding counties. Miss Jessie, as we knew her, was the only child. She was and is the companion of her mother. Never having been thrown in contact directly with world affairs, we were somewhat surprised when she announced that she would become a physician taking up the work of her illustrious father where he had left off through death. After a few years, the young lady completed her medical school studies and began practice in her home town. After almost thirty years, she continues as a highly honored physician, still single, and has patients over several states. While a general practitioner, she has specialized in the treatment of women. In that particular phase of her work, she has been eminently successful. The only child started out to build a monument to the memory of her illustrious father through her kindly ministrations to the suffering. She has succeeded beyond the fondest expectations of her most ardent admirers.

Some "yahoos" are worried as to what to do with their time if and when the government puts all of us on a 40 hour week. Any one who cannot find a delightful moment for every bit of spare time is indeed unfortunate. There are places to go and people to see, good books to read and plenty of places to spend time and favors. The women folks won't have as much trouble as the men. Most of them will rest, rest, rest. And most of them need that resting time.

If the filling stations continue to improve on their courtesies, the boys will be getting a free shave, and being a lady, perhaps they will pull a tooth—all gratis.

A local man is greatly disappointed in being informed that his application as a hat checker for a Ft. Worth nudist colony was out of line. They were forced out of business on the Trinity last week by cool weather and coon dogs.

Now that beer is back, we have some idea as to where it comes from, but where the moonshine comes from, is a secret still.

Three stages of progress are safety pins, garters and roll 'em.

An ungrateful paper down state says that a little girl of that town complains that "Cactus Jack" Garner looks like a horned toad.

Some sage advises: "Never become a native. Always be a friendly stranger merely passing through."

All of which suggests that people never get real friendly until met in some distant place away from home. Neighbors are few and seldom appreciated as they should be—at home.

We live by "trial and error," always on trial, sometimes on a false charge, and seldom given credit for the ability to err so long as we are human.

A friend is one who comes in when the whole world goes out. Even at that they can't exist forever on neglect, or a lack of appreciation by either word or deed.

In writing a personal letter to the Apostle, J. E. Fitzgerald of Stephenville, the nature lover and tree grower deluxe, asks us to give "Will Johnson a dozen persimmons because he has sold Mrs. Johnson more vegetables to feed Will on than we grew in Donley county in a year." Will got the persimmons. Not because we felt that he was entitled to such a prize for having eaten persimmons, but more because he once lived in Erath and moved to Donley. Another request in the letter from friend Fitzgerald was to "give a hardware man's wife a dozen because she had sent him a number of nice orders for flowers, trees and shrubbery." We looked over the field and found that Mrs. Crockett Taylor was entitled to the second prize. Both requests were complied with to the letter.

Erath county is about as arid as Donley. Trees grown there are acclimated to our section. The Fitzgerald trees, flowers and shrubs are as good as can be had. The prices are as low as good stock can be sold for at any time, and lower than a lot of nurserymen.

Our section is adapted to the growing of cherries, European plums and grapes. We could grow many other things if we fought the insects as they do in other sections. We have wild persimmons growing. Just a few trees imported of the wild having been tried out. The tame ones make a nice shade tree and bear fruit abundantly. There are a number of varieties of as many colors, almost. Try some this season. Get advice from Mr. Fitzgerald as to what you should plant out here. He knows all about the wind and late frosts.

The writer in mentioning the live stock menace here in this column, has merely sought to render a service—to carry a message from the ones who feel that they have been imposed upon, to those who have been negligent about caring for their live stock.

This town, which means these taxpaying citizens (and that includes all if we consider those who pay either directly or indirectly), is not under obligations to care for the live stock kept within or near the corporate limits. It would cost the salary of a man and his mount to look after such matters. Very little tax money is being paid in and this extra expense is impossible right now.

Do you know that the city government only pays a part of the cost of maintaining a city marshal? Do you know that the citizens likewise pay a part of the cost of keeping the streets cleaned? This town is in hard shape. It reflects the conditions of the inhabitants just as other towns do at this time.

The Mayor is a very considerate and tolerant old man. He would do most anything to keep any one from getting into trouble. He would go a long way to see that you "got by" if keeping live stock would help to get you by these hard times. At the same time, he hears complaints. Complaints that are based on his very actions that are designed to help some 'poor devil' get by. You owe the Mayor more consideration than that. Most every one has put up their stock. The rest should do the same or get rid of them. You don't find men like Mayor Cagle every day. He is the friend of the "under dog" and thereby his sympathy goes out to the poor and distressed. Show your appreciation folks, by helping him to keep on good terms with the public while he is helping you. Put up your cows, mules and horses, and if you can do anything with your dog, keep him at home too.

The Mayor never asked for any help from this column, but we know he needs it, and is broad-minded enough to appreciate it. Let's all give him a lift and have more cooperation in our town affairs.

Back in Arkansas or somewhere where they do not wean their kids as soon as they do in the windy belt of West Texas, comes a new story which we pass on to the readers of this column. The mother not wishing to be disturbed at church, resorted to a liberal application of quinine to the sources of the son's natural food supply. All went well until soon after the mother and half grown son were seated well up toward the front of the congregation at the good old-time camp meeting. The son suddenly felt the urge and rather than disturb the entire assembly, the mother gathered the son in her arms. After trying first one and then the other of the sources of lactated food supply, the son jumped to the top of a bench, located the "old man" in the rear and yelled, "Hay Paw, bring me a chaw of backer, maw's been eatin' rag weeds."

Words famous in history—"Kiss me honey, nothing makes me sick."

PROGRESS - PURPOSE - PRINCIPLE

The business of a bank, like any other institution, is contingent upon its service. Its progress upon its upstanding principles. Its certification of soundness is dependent upon the strength of its character.

It must perforce be righteous as to principle, but at once reasonable as to practice. Its success is largely a matter of attitude and of latitude - - - of loyalty to the industries that make it, of leniency to the business it is making, of the personal interest it takes, rather than the interest it receives.

This bank has passed through the storms of business successfully, whole, hearty and more human for its experience. Its cornerstone has been cooperation—its birthstone—and birthright—SERVICE.

some future time. If this is not so why all these books. The Italian when he goes to plant a grape vine digs out a hole as big as a cellar, then he fills this hole with cobs, old iron, dead cats or any thing else handy. And believe me the Italians can grow some fine grapes. It may not be the way they plant them but the way they take care of them after they become big plants. An Italian can grow more corn on an acre than we Texans can grow on three. I visited some Italian farmers near Thurber and found them growing three good stalks of corn where I can grow but one. I asked the man if the drouth would hurt his corn worse because it was so thick and he said a drouth that would hurt thick corn would hurt thin corn just as bad. I think his argument was a little wrong but just the same he was raising the corn and lots of it on a small space. The same Italian had the finest peaches, apples and plums I ever saw in my life. He also had grapes and figs but one thing he had lots of chickens in his plum and peach orchard. He said the chickens got all the bugs and they must have.

Lax the bladder as you would the bowels. Drive out impurities and excessive acids that cause irritation burning and frequent desire. Get a 25 cent box of BUKETS, the bladder laxative, from any drug store. After four days if you are not relieved of getting up nights go back and get your money. BUKETS, containing buchu leaves, juniper oil, etc., acts pleasantly and effectively on the bladder similar to castor oil on the bowels. PLAINT

My nights are constant in their lassitude,
I know betimes the way that they will go;
A pipe relit—a silly book reviewed
A glass of wine, which stirs my memories so.

There was a spell I had no need for this,
I read your eyes and found the answer sweet;
And wine enough was hidden in your kiss
To speed the hours by on dancing feet.

Now I am free—my key turns in the door,
No letter there in your familiar scrawl;
No phone call makes my heart pound any more,
But why go on—you're thru with me, that's all.

You've quite forgotten that we ever met—
And I've forgotten, too—how to forget.

Grape Growing Discussed By a Nurseryman

It is said that there has been nearly four hundred books written on grape culture in America to say nothing of those written in Europe. Grapes have always been a mighty interesting subject to all people. Grape growing can be reduced down to what they call an exact science if there is such a thing as exact science. What people think is the best way to grow grapes they may find is the wrong way at

Frank White Visits Purina Mills in St. Louis

Interest in scientific research and a desire to study first hand the latest developments in livestock and poultry feeding sent Frank White Jr. of the Clarendon Hatchery to St. Louis this week where he spent two days making personal observations at the Biological Laboratories, Mill, and Experimental Farm of Purina Mills, manufacturers of Checkerboard Feeds. Mr. White, whose firm has been appointed authorized Purina Service Station at Clarendon, as a result of his trip and study, has just returned home and advises that he has learned new tested and proven ways to make farming pay under today's condition, and that he has brought with him this timely and profitable information for local feeders.

"While in St. Louis," White says, "I observed the research, experimental work, and milling processes that enter into the manufacture of Purina livestock and poultry rations from raw ingredients to the finished products. It is amazing to see how completely modern science controls every step of production."

"I saw how foodstuffs were analyzed and formulas developed in the laboratory, then proved by actual feeding tests under average farm conditions on the Purina Experimental Farm, a 330 acre tract near St. Louis which is the proving ground for all Purina Chows before they are put on the market. In the Mill I was shown at close range the skilled methods used in the manufacturing process to clean all the ingredients and keep the finished products uniform in feeding value."

"Of special interest at the Purina Farm were the facts which led to the development of a greater money making dairy program for farmers, through the production of more efficient feeding and management methods. This program consists of finding out how much milk each cow in a herd must average to make money at today's prices, getting rid of those cows which can't measure up to that average, and then feeding the remaining money makers so that they will produce to full capacity. Following that program the Purina Farm cuts its own herd from 77 cows to 60 in the course of a year, increased the daily milk production 8 pounds per head and cut the total feed cost to the point where, with milk at 89c a hundred, they made more net profit than the year before when milk was worth $1.21 per hundred."

"This complete calf-to-cow money making program developed by the Purina Farm would, it is conservatively estimated, pay American farmers over $300,000,000 extra profit annually, figured on today's milk prices, if followed on the basis worked out by Purina research men. This money making method is now available to all local feeders in a new booklet which may be had by writing to Purina Mills, Educational Division, St. Louis, Mo.

"Here also at the Purina Farm," says White, "I observed carefully the latest advances in poultry raising, particularly the development work that has been done in growing pullets from the sixth week until they are in the laying house. I saw from the experimental records, for example, that when baby chicks are given a good growing start during the first six weeks and then kept coming right along on a balanced growing mash like Purina Chick Growers, they develop into big pullets that are in the nests early-laying big profitable eggs that cost little to produce but bring the highest returns on those early fall and winter markets when egg prices are at their best.

"And I saw the other side of the picture too—records on baby chicks that were given a good start during the first six weeks, then allowed to coast through the summer living on nothing but grass, grain, and bugs. Their growth was badly retarded. Their health was impaired, the records showed. The pullets dragged along through the fall until middle December before they started laying. Then I realized how much truth there is in the old saying that a poultryman either makes or breaks himself by the way he cares for his pullets from the sixth to the twentieth week, but he doesn't find it out until the following winter.

"If he grows them through to laying time on a good feeding program like that recommended by the Purina Poultry Department, he'll hit the period of high egg prices—September through January—with big pullets at 50% production or better. By March 1st he will have paid his feed cost for the entire laying year, paid a profit above all costs and his birds will be making money for the remainder of the year, regardless of egg prices. On the other hand, if he lets his birds rustle on grass, grain, and bugs through the growing period he cannot hope to get anywhere near 50% egg production during the high egg price period. And he'll have many of his overhead costs to pay during the months of low egg prices from February through August.

"Is it too late for the man who has been feeding only grain to his pullets to switch to this better feeding program? I asked the man in charge of Poultry production at the Purina Experimental Farm.

"Oh no," he replied, "Last year we changed a large number of our grain fed birds over to this balanced mash feeding program later in the season. Within three months they looked good and were laying well.—Of course it would have been better to have changed them earlier.

"This Purina Poultry manager also recommended worming the pullets before they go into laying house in the fall. All pullets and layers become more or less infested with intestinal parasites which must be eliminated in order to secure maximum egg production. Purina Worm Capsules which both kill and expel these parasites are what they recommend for treating the birds.

"One of the most interesting features of the Purina Research Laboratory," White says, "is the big death chamber where experiments on the killing power of various insecticides are conducted. In the Purina Laboratories, flies are hatched and raised all the year around in bacterial cultures and the testing of various insect killing formulas goes on continually. It was by these fly culture experiments and death chamber tests that the present Purina Fly Spray was developed to a point where its killing power is practically 100% perfect.

"All Purina feeds and Purina Sanitation products are thoroughly tested and proven in the laboratory and on the farm before they reach the consumer. And in cooperating with the Clarendon Hatchery as authorized Purina Service Station for Clarendon and vicinity, Purina Mills are literally extending their vast research facilities and feeding knowledge over this local territory in a practical way to bring down feeding costs to a minimum and increase farm profits."

More Men Placed In Texas Penitentiary

Commitments to Texas penal institutions have shown a steady increase during the last three years it is revealed by figures released by the bureau of the census. A total of 3,300 persons were sent to state and federal prisons in Texas during 1932, as compared with 3,196 in 1931 and 2,607 in 1930. The report gave no reason for the increase.

Discharges from penal institutions within the state have shown a slight increase. Prisoners discharged during 1932 totaled 3,875 as compared with 3,213 in 1931 and 3,017 in 1930. By far the most of these received their freedom by discharge at the expiration of sentence. During 1932, 2,005 Texas prisoners were freed at the expiration of their sentences, while 1,174 were paroled. The figures for 1931 were given as 2,152 discharged on the expiration of their sentences and 442 paroled, and for 1930, 2,098 discharged at the end of their terms and 121 paroled.

Alvin Allgood and Miss Bula Chastine were married at the courthouse Saturday, Judge Hubert P. Day officiating.

Our Weekly CHURCH CHAT

W. E. FERRELL
Minister First Christian Church

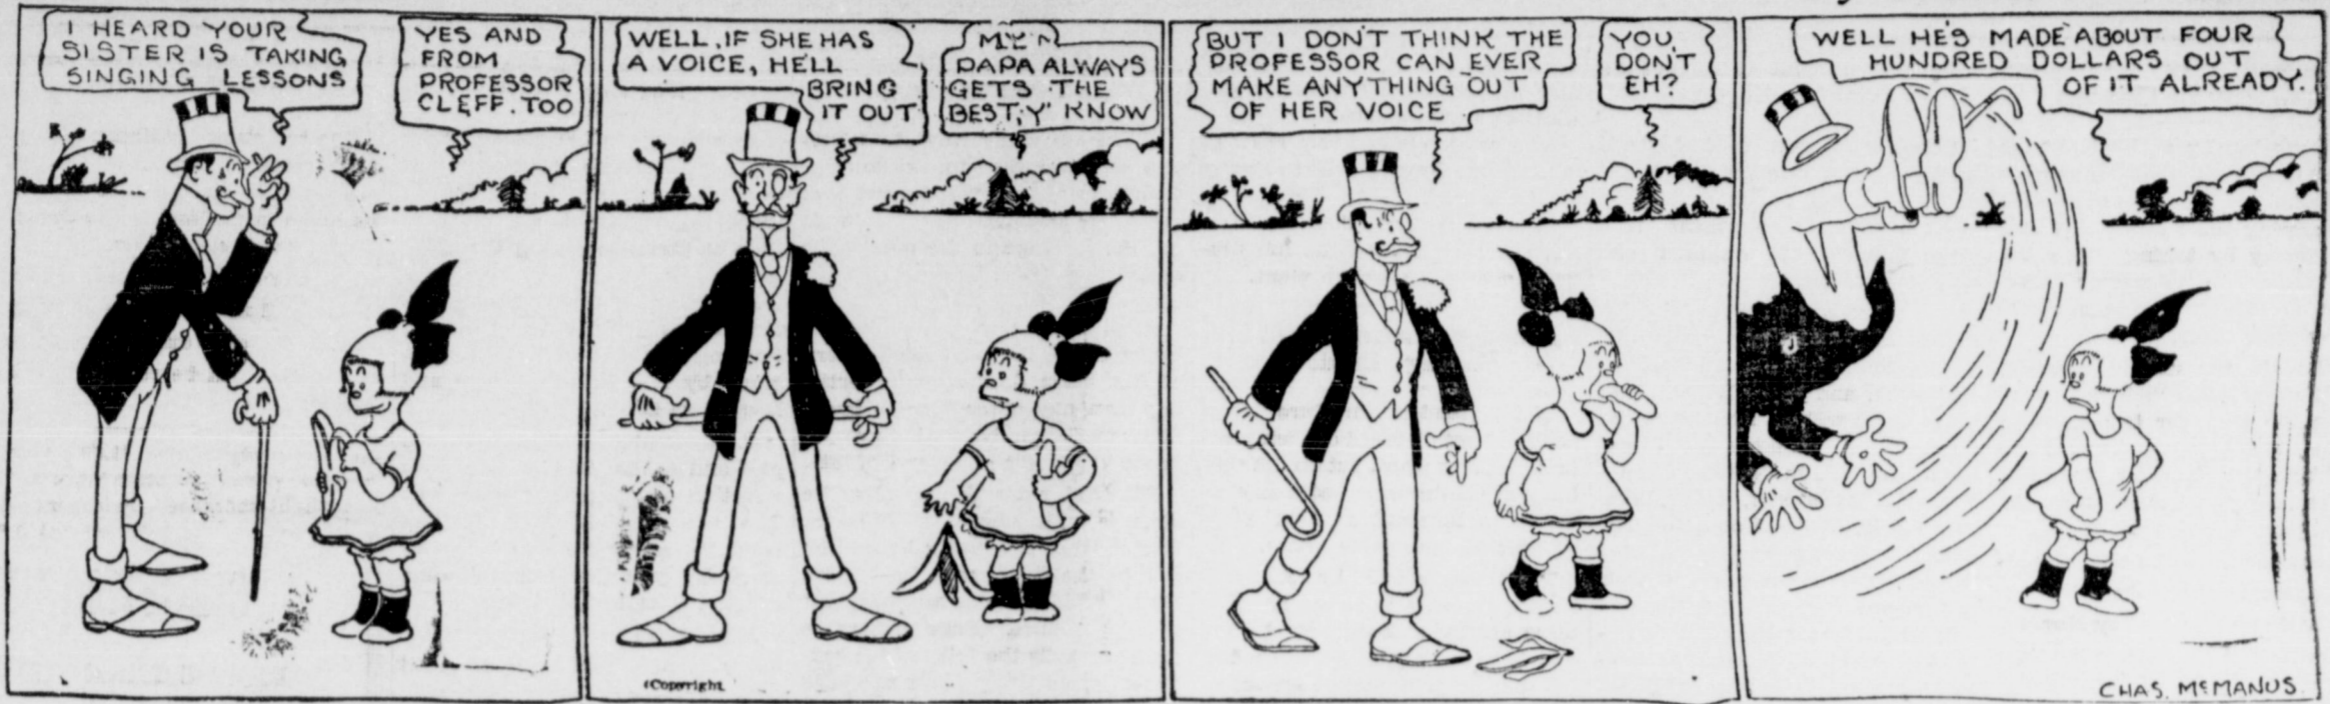

"The Face of Jesus."
The face of man is an index of his character. Place a light within a marble vase and it becomes translucent. Let holy principles dwell within a man, and they will give an expression to the face. But on no human face are all the excellences ever expressed. One has patience, another generosity, another boldness, or love or peace, or contentment. But from the countenance of Jesus Christ, there beamed forth every ray from a full-orbed and complete character.

"For God, who commanded the light to shine out of the darkness, hath shined in our hearts, to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ." (II Cor. 4:6.)

God the Father has made a photographic album composed of the face of Jesus His Son. This album is the Bible. As we turn the pages of this divine Book, the face of Jesus looks up at us, and the different pictures which we behold of the one face taken together gives us the biography of the most wonderful personage the world has ever known.

The Bible reveals four thousand one hundred and eighty-five things about Christ. There are twelve hundred and seventy-five prophecies, seven hundred and sixty-five shadows, types or pictures, of Christ, revealing Him to us from many different angles as God's Son and our Saviour. In the New Testament, there are five hundred and fifty-five events of his life made known, and from the first chapter of the book of Acts, to the close of Revelations He is mentioned eleven hundred and forty times. Surely this must be a wonderful Christ. The face of Christ appears to us under many circumstances, and we should become acquainted with Him, while we have time. To know and to serve Him now means that we will be permitted to spend eternity in His presence after death.

DOROTHY DARNIT

By Charles McManus

Sunday morning our subject will be: "The Face of Jesus". We hope to present Him to you in a way that you will not forget. Sunday night our subject will be, "A Free Salvation." You ought to hear this sermon.

IF YOU COUNT THE COST

The cost of attending our school is nominal for two reasons: In the first place, our tuition charges have always been very reasonable and, in the second place, we afford the student the opportunity to get the fullest possible out of his investment of time. In other words, we make it possible for the good student to finish his course in a short time, thus both limiting the cost of his education and giving him a chance to take employment much earlier than would be possible were his courses unduly extended.

It is said one pays for an education even though one does not get it. This is true. One pays for it in decreased earning power, limited opportunities, and small achievements. Therefore, the cost of an education is infinitesimal as compared with the cost of not having it.

After all, a thing is worth what it will do for its owner—nothing more. On this basis some types of education have doubtful value, but business education rates high in the scale of worth. It means preparation for immediate and certain employment, as well as certain advancement; so the worth of a practical business education is greatly in excess of the cost.

The practical training is the type of training we specialize in. We endeavor to equip the young ambitious person so he may step right out the next day after graduation and begin earning—not four or six months each year but for the full twelve months.

We solicit the bright ambitious young man or woman, equipped with at least a high school education to spend a few months with us. When his course is finished and with the aid of our Employment Department, we will find him or her a place in business, with an assured future to economic independence.

Homestead Tax Exemption Still May Be Claimed

Persons legally entitled to the State tax exemption on homesteads who failed to claim this exemption in rendering their taxes may still save money by taking their tax statements to Assessor Armstrong's office for correction before paying their taxes.

Although the statute provides that the exemption shall be claimed before the time for tax rendition expires, the Attorney General has ruled that the claim for exemption can be made any time before the actual payment of taxes.

Taxes for 1933 are now due. If the payments are to be split the first half must be paid by Nov. 30. Otherwise Jan. 31, 1934, is the final date for payment before delinquency.

Construction on Gasoline Plant is Begun

Construction on a casinghead gasoline plant 12 miles northeast of McLean was begun during the week affording employment to a large number of unskilled and skilled workmen.

The plant will be owned by the Smith Brothers Refining company, which includes Vester Smith, Porter Smith, and T. J. Coffee, all of McLean. It will be located on the George W. Sitter lands just across the county line in Wheeler county. The total investment, it is estimated, will be $250,000 or more. The Smith brothers have devoted most of their time in the past to their cotton gins.

Machinery for the plant, purchased from the Continental Supply company, is being shipped. The site of 30 acres is being cleared of sage brush. During the peak of production, about 60 men will be used. About thirty are employed now in preliminary work. Engineers are on the ground.

The location is in a "hot spot" of oil interest. Several wells are being drilled nearby.

It is understood that contracts have been signed for the full production of the gasoline plant.

Clarendon Mattress Firm Still Making Product

The Clarendon Furniture company has not disposed of their mattress making plant, but on the contrary are better equipped than ever before to turn out a first class product at reasonable prices.

The firm owned by J. Frank Heath offers wide range of patterns at prices to suit most any one. New equipment added enables the firm to give prompt service of the kind that will please their customers. Read their advertisement in this issue.

Building Small Business With Advertising

There are many ways to advertise a business to advantage. Courtesy, honest quality and fair prices are essential, but in order to get the message to the public, the newspaper must be employed to help out.

In proportion to the volume of business, the Cooper Cash Grocery of Clarendon does more advertising than any other firm in town. Sullivan Cooper began his present grocery business in August of '31.

His first act was to advertise his wares through the Leader. Finding that this method paid him well on the investment, he doubled his advertising space and has kept that pace since. Four issues a month he tells the folks of his bargains. He carries a stock and sells at such prices as will enable him to get a quick turnover. His profits on each item is a small matter, but when he turns the complete stock in a month or less, the volume takes care of the price.

Read his bargain list in the Leader each week and you will not wonder that he has built up a trade that is a credit to any man's business. He formerly was employed by the R. A. Kelly grocery at Quannah for four years before coming to Clarendon.

Lions Club Plan Minstrel For December 8th

Acting upon Lion Boykin's request that arrangements be made for advertising for the Minstrel to be given Dec. 8, the Boss Lion asked the Major Activities and Finance Committees to get together and work out details for the show as soon as possible.

Lion Burton announced the P. T. A. play Friday night, and the football game at Borger also Friday night.

Lion Cagle asked the cooperation of Lions in making Halloween safe.

Lion Mulkey reported that he had seen the Ragle boy in the Hospital at Dallas and that he was doing nicely. Also that the Deaver Road had furnished passes for boy and mother to Dallas and return. On motion of Lion Patrick, it was voted that the thanks of the Club be expressed to the Railroad.

Guests were introduced as follows: D. R. Davis, Clarendon; G. O. Ricks, Amarillo, and J. C. Watson and John Salwaecher, Lubbock. Program chairman Drennan called on Lion Shepherd to speak on "What the Lions Club Can Do for Scouting."

J. C. Watson, representing the Good Roads Association, spoke on the need and the opportunity of securing good roads in Texas and in the Panhandle, and asked local cooperation.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Russell had as their guests Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Bush, Roy Bush, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence West, and daughter Billy Jo, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Payne and daughter, Marfuits, all of McLean.

Chamberlain Has Big Crowd For Pie Social

In addition to the pie and cake social, an interesting program was presented at the Chamberlain school Friday night, the Goodwill Club of Clarendon being the sponsors.

L. H. Earthman led the song service or vocal part of the program. Readings of unusual merit were given by Mrs. Theda Hough and Miss Nova Cook.

C. R. Gamblin auctioned off the pies and cakes in his humorous vein that always gets the job done. The sum of $32.22 was realized from the sales, the sum being divided between the Goodwill Club and the Chamberlain school.

Miss Frances Hott drew the lucky number and was awarded the handsome Goodwill quilt. Miss Mary Sue Watters was awarded a cake when she drew the largest vote in the pretty girl contest. M. W. Mosley was awarded a pie for being adjudged the ugliest man present.

Mrs. Irene Mitchell has again returned home. She will conduct her beauty shop at her home as in time past, and asks your kindly consideration when in need of one of her skill.
