AN EDUCATIONAL MEETING CALLED MONDAY MORNING

Representatives From All Thirteen Counties Will Meet at Childress

Mr. Bryan Dickson, Dist. Deputy State Supt. of Education has arrived in Dist. No. 3 to begin active work. District No. 3 is composed of Donley, Collingsworth, Hall, Childress, Motley, Cottle, Kent, Knox, Stonewall, Haskell, King and Dickens counties. Mr. Dickson's headquarters will be at Childress, Texas.

Dist. No. 3 is unusually fortunate in securing the services of Mr. Dickson who was, prior to his appointment last Thursday, County Supt. of Kaufman County. He received his A. B. Degree from Texas University with business administration as a major. He was the only County Supt. asked to appear on the program of the Texas State Teacher's Association which met in Austin last week. He was one of the most popular speakers at the County Superintendent's Conference at A&M during the past summer.

On Monday morning, December 11th, at 10 o'clock, at the Childress Courthouse, Mr. Dickson is calling a meeting of all County Supts., City Supts., members of County Boards, members of local boards, and all other citizens interested in school work. At this meeting he will outline the educational program advocated by Dr. L. A. Woods, State Supt. of Public Instruction and will consider the immediate needs of Dist. 3 with an idea of making his schedule of activity in such a manner as to be of the most service to the Dist.

Mr. Sloan Baker, County Superintendent of Donley County, will be a speaker on this program. He will discuss ways and means of securing Federal aid in repairing and improving school buildings and school grounds. Mr. Baker is doing some unusually splendid work along this line and is the most capable man in the district of discussing it.

Educational Committee CWA To Meet at Hedley

The County Educational Advisory Committee to the Superintendent of Schools will hold a meeting at Hedley at 9 a. m. next Saturday, the 9th. E. L. Lewis of Lelia, W. C. Bridges of Hedley and Sloan Baker will be in charge.

A similar meeting will be held at the courthouse here at 3 p. m. the same day. W. A. Poovey of Ashtola, O. L. Jacobs of Hudgins and R. E. Drennon of Clarendon will have charge of the meeting here.

The purpose of these meetings is to arrange for CWA schools. All unemployed teachers are requested to be present at the meeting nearest them.

Leader Wants Letters To Santa Claus

Our little folks are invited to write a letter to Santa Claus which is to be printed in the Leader where he will be sure to see it. If your parents are slow to understand how to get word to Santa, write the Leader a letter. Then both Santa and your parents will find out what you are expecting Christmas.

Write short letters and on only one side of the paper. The letters must be written plainly to insure publication.

Those of you who are too old to ask Santa for anything, should remember that a year's subscription to the Leader makes a very appropriate Christmas present. The cost in the trade territory is $1.50 a year, and if it goes to a place more than 100 miles from here, the cost is $2 for the full year. The reader will be reminded of the gift 52 times during the year, and you will always be glad that you sent it.

MRS. LEATHERS' FUNERAL RITES HELD WEDNESDAY

One of Earliest Settlers Coming to Donley County in 1897

Funeral services were conducted at the First Baptist church here Wednesday afternoon for Mrs. J. R. Leathers, by the pastor, Rev. B. N. Shepherd, who was assisted by Rev. F. N. Allen. Mrs. Leathers passed away Tuesday after an illness of several days.

She was a native of Limestone county where she was born August 20, 1863. The family moved to Donley county in 1897 locating near Lelia, though she had spent the past 15 years in Clarendon at her beautiful home surrounded by a flower garden, her hobby being the growing of flowers of a large variety.

She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. J. C. Christal of Lelia. She leaves five sons, G. E., E. J., H. K., Kinch and D. E., all of whom reside with their families near Lelia, the old home. She also has a number of grandchildren. Her husband preceded her in death in 1908, also two children who died in infancy.

Mrs. Leathers united with the Baptist church at the age of 15, and her life was a beautiful example of one walking in the steps of her Savior, and spreading kindness and sunshine. Those in distress found in her a friend. Her good deeds were limited only by the extent of her physical strength.

Those attending the casket were Elbe Ballew, Carroll Lewis, Lee Holland, Fred Ballew, W. W. Jones and Allan Bryan.

Cleo Norwood Makes Movie Pictures at Goodnight

In order to give the nation first-hand knowledge of the famous buffalo herd at Goodnight proper publicity, the "Sports-Eye-View" movie people have been making a series of pictures of the animals and the Goodnight ranch recently. The buffalo became unruly in one instance, refusing to have their pictures taken. One was driven into the tank and Norwood, mounted on his trusty cow pony, was pictured with the buffalo in the water. The pictures will appear at the Pastime some time during the year, it is claimed.

BRONCHOS DEFEAT HEREFORD TEAM THURSDAY, 13-6

Local Gridiron Warriors Put Up Good Fight in Defeating District Champions

The District champions, the Hereford Whitefaces met their "Waterloo" here Turkey day when they went down fighting under a barrage of charging Bronchos, who have kept their home ground clean from defeat. The Bronchos displayed every quality of a championship team.

The Bronchos outplayed their worthy opponents from Hereford throughout most of the game. Whitlock and Evans of the Bronchos were the boys who made the touchdowns for Clarendon. Playing his last game, Whitlock turned in a good game with line plunges and long runs.

Behrens, O. C. Watson and Evans shared the glory of the day with Whitlock and the other boys who did themselves proud before the holiday crowd.

The Bronchos emerged from the season's onslaught with but two defeats. The first was a one-point margin lost to the Shamrock Irishmen and the other to the Borger Bulldogs of class A rating.

Some of the faces of this year's team will be missing next year, but there will be other faces and the tradition of strong Clarendon teams will live on.

Mrs. C. G. Stricklin and daughter Beverly Gray and Vernon Tucker, are visiting her uncle and family, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Dugan at Greenville, Texas.

HIGHWAY CAMP HEADQUARTERS IS NEAR ASHTOLA

Preparations Being Made To Begin Work on Highway 5 At An Early Date

Alex Hale is foreman of the highway camp that has been established near Ashtola. Work was to begin Monday, but has been postponed with no definite date set so far as can be learned. Ten men were called out on the CWA work there Wednesday.

It has been announced through the local CWA office here that contractors on the highway jobs west of Clarendon on No. 5 will use their own teams for the present.

The Bell creek project between Hedley and Lelia is being held up awaiting further instructions.

Several miles of gravel has been placed on No. 66 from Jericho east. Work continues on this project.

Each precinct has been allotted $800 under the CWA for improvement of lateral roads. Roy Beverly of Precinct 1 has a force working on highways in the Chamberlain community this week.

Announcement has been made that 214 men, including those now at work, can be used at this time. The applications are said to exceed one thousand.

Shamrock Lad is Fatally Injured by Horse

While taking part in a boy's rodeo at his home Sunday afternoon, Wallace, aged 13, and a son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Hill, was fatally injured when his horse became unmanageable in a race and ran into a wire fence.

The lad was rushed to a hospital where he passed away about nine that night. Funeral services were conducted at the Ad Holmes residence Tuesday. A large assembly was present for the last rites, many of them coming from outside the city. Those attending from here were Gus B. Stevenson and J. C. Estlack.

Mr. Hill has been manager of the Shamrock Chamber of Commerce for several years. The large number of telegrams and other evidences of condolence attested the popularity of the bereaved parents.

Admirers of Jugtown Wares Sponsor Sale Here

Because of their admiration for the finer grades of pottery, Mrs. Homer Glascoe and Mrs. T. H. Ellis are sponsoring a sale of the famous Jugtown pottery at the Glascoe home at this time.

Jugtown pottery is an American Folkcraft. It has persisted since the first settlement of the English in America, and is being made in a remote town in North Carolina. It is artistic with a form of variety and uses; it is patriotic because it is American Folkcraft; it is historic because of its continuous production since 1740.

PIE SOCIAL IS TO HELP ORPHAN FUND GOLDSTON

Four Churches Represented In Effort to Help The Helpless And Needy

Every year an effort is made in the Goldston community to help the orphan children of the various homes. This time the four churches have combined their efforts to sponsor a box supper and pie social combined to swell the funds. It is realized that since prices are now higher, the need for funds is greater.

In addition to the above, a musical program has been arranged. Gus B. Stevenson and his band of Clarendon will be present. The Goldston quartet armed with new popular songs will sing. There will be other attractions to add to the evening's enjoyment.

Those who are deeply interested in the success of the affair assure the public that every one present will be well repaid for the effort made to help those who are unable to help themselves.

Members of the four churches represented there are working in cooperation to secure funds in larger volume than ever before. They ask the public to make plans right now to be present.

Warm Weather Develops 3rd Cotton Crop This Season

Unprecedented warm weather this late in the growing season has caused cotton stalks to continue a growth that is little short of phenomenal.

A. L. Otto, residing six miles west of town brought in some limbs Saturday that plainly indicate a beginning on the third crop. Plenty of blossoms and squares were indicated on the last growth.

Fields across the river north of town are putting on a top blossom crop with squares already forming. "Nature is trying to out-do the crop reduction plans of the government," as one farmer expressed himself. Another saw in the late crop a warning of a shortage of cotton cloth due to the destruction of a much-needed staple this season to fill the needs of the victims of the depression.

AUTO LICENSE WILL COST SAME AS LAST YEAR

Only Farm Trucks Entitled To a Reduction Under New Law

Sale of 1934 automobile licenses started even more slowly than usual Friday, the first day the new black and orange number plates have been issued.

J. L. Maberry of Lelia Lake was the first to purchase an auto license this season. Nine tags were taken out of the collector's office Saturday.

The office force asks that car owners bring along with their last year's license when applying for a new one. This will save a lot of time in looking up the old numbers.

M. W. Mosley, tax collector, emphasized the fact that, with one exception, there has been no reduction in auto license fees this year, the amounts being the same as last year. The only reduction was made on trucks owned by farmers and used on the farm, on which the fees have been reduced 50 percent.

Thanks to the last Legislature, the law no longer requires a certificate showing the car lights have been tested, which formerly cost 25 cents. Many of those making light tests "skewed" the lights down until their usefulness was impaired at least half. If the lights do not meet the highway law requirements now, a highway patrolman will tell you about it in a polite manner, probably adjust the infringement, or at least show the owner how to accomplish the desired results.

This is the 40th year that autos of some kind have been in use. There will be displayed this year 26 color motifs. Thirty-four states will change tag colors on January 1st. Arizona has the most elaborate and expensive type of license tag. A burnished sheet of copper is used with the figures and letters in black. Copper is, or has been very cheap in the leading copper state for some time, and the tags were contracted for when the metal was cheap.

RAISING THE DEAD IN LOUISIANA.

During the Huey Long investigation last week in New Orleans, his accusers alleged that one voter had cast a ballot in 1933 though he had died a year previously. The Kingfish was startled if not astounded. Next day the accused dead man came before the Court of Inquiry in person and denied being dead at any time during the year 1932. When further pressed by the inquisitors, he grew tense and vehemently denied being dead at any time during 1933. We naturally expected this inquiry to border upon the supernatural at some stage of the game.

BOASTFUL CONFIDENCE DESTROYERS.

During the famous kidnapping trial at Oklahoma recently, and before "Machine Gun" Kelly had been apprehended, a reward was offered amounting to $15,000 for his capture, dead or alive or for information that would lead to such consequences.

The sum was being offered by an ex-peace officer who had become "cockey" through heavy financial returns from oil wells. He stepped right into the middle of the limelight so to speak.

Within a short time, Geraldine Arnold, aged 12, gave the officers information that led to Kelly's capture within a few hours afterwards, if we may believe press reports appearing in the daily papers.

Now she has been denied a reward of any kind, though penniless. The show is over. The renegades are in federal prisons. There is no further demand for boastful broadcasts. In child-like simplicity, Geraldine believed the wealthy men to be sincere and honest. Suit has been brought to collect the reward offered that it may be used to educate the child who aided in breaking up the most cold-blooded bunch of outlaws that ever roamed the nation. She is due just $15,000.

MAHATMA GANDHI LOSES A DISCIPLE.

Nila Cram Cook, aged 22, has rebelled. Nila some two years ago shocked the American finer sensibilities by announcing to the cock-eyed world that she was going to India and become a follower of the Mahatma. She did. To become a follower of that Indian publicity seeking character of goat milk and breechclout fame, is no easy task. Listen to what Nila has to say:

"I slept on a bed of bricks for eight months." Shrouded in a Gandhi garb of abbreviated extremity, she likely became well acquainted with the thrills of a brick bed. Bodily discomforts likely produced a keener mental status that has apparently reached an extreme. Listen to Nila again:

"My heart is leaping for thrills. I want speed. I want to fly. I want to attend orchestra dances." No one could hardly blame the young lady for craving some modern form of diversion after spending eight months on a brick bed. Upon leaving for New Delhi in a get-away, Nel was provided with a modern auto by an English company also craving some free publicity. Nel was too hasty, having wrecked the car within seven miles of New Delhi. Hinduism has lost a patient and the company an auto.

Since the days of Grant when his daughter purchased a scion of nobility, dozens of so-called American girls have purchased diseased titled-bearing wrecks in Europe, only to cast them overboard via the divorce courts soon afterwards. One bargained for Count Boni de Castellene and steered clear of the divorce courts ever afterwards—he croaked, saving her the trouble.

Wealthy American girls are guilty of foolish ideas, matrimonially speaking, but Nel is the first burdened with monetary affluence, to exchange a life of ease for Hinduism and a brick bed even for a limited time.

UNETHICAL MEDICAL TRUST.

An enterprising health commissioner in New York City said a few years ago, "The Department of Health stands ready and always has been ready to act, really, as the advertising agent for the private practitioner." Against such an attitude it is pertinent to ask to what extent it is fair—if at all—to employ tax revenue raised from all the people in kinds of health propoganda which for the most part merely advertise a certain medical group that has grown strong through a close cooperation rather than upon its merits.

A hearing now in progress before the Senate Commerce Committee at Washington is a proposed bill that is alleged to revise the present Pure Food and Drug Act authorized by Dr. Harvey W. Wiley head of the Bureau of Chemistry, some thirty years ago.

Dr. Rexford C. Tugwell, Assistant Secretary of Agriculture, is author of the new proposed bill.

Dr. Royal S. Copeland, U. S. senator of the state of New York will sponsor the bill in the national law-making body at the proper time.

A revised act was prepared by Dr. Tugwell and presented during the last session of Congress, striking at fraudulent advertising of patent medicines and cosmetics, and beauty treatments alleged to be harmful.

The Wiley law banned questionable patent medicines, foods, etc. Soon after the passage of the Wiley law, Mother Winslow's Soothing Syrup was banned because it was alleged to contain a narcotic. It had been a favorite baby medicine for more than a hundred years. False labeling of foods and drugs was stopped.

No one could object to a law that would protect the sick and disabled. But shall we sanction a law that has for its purpose the advancement alone of the financial interests of the medical practitioners?

The Wiley bill protects the public against advertisements of any drug or food that are really harmful. The Tugwell bill could do no more.

A list of fifty or more diseases are enumerated in the Tugwell bill which he claims cannot be treated at home. We naturally infer that he has reference to patent medicines being used as a remedial measure in fifty different diseases.

This may be true. At the same time, shall we permit medical men to tell who, when and how members of their profession may treat such fifty diseases, not to mention several hundred more? Some physicians are known to err in a diagnosis. It might be possible that he would fail to recognize one of the "50 varieties" that are due to become famous pretty much as Heinz' 57 varieties of alleged edibles.

The human family cannot be legislated into that sphere of good health. It is no more than right that a purchaser should know what is being bought by a careful perusal of the label. After that he is "architect of his own fortune," believing that good health is his most priceless possession.

The medical trust may become overconfident of its power to manage the human family after experimenting upon guinea pigs for near a half century. Some of us are stubborn. So tubborn that we refuse to personally assume a placid consent to placing our health status on a parity with the tailless quadruped.

We are willing that our physician should continue to prescribe in latin terms since he may change the text next day after a short period of experimenting before we shall have learned to pronounce the wording of the first prescription. But we prefer to permit each to choose his or her own practitioner of whatever school seems best. There are a plenty. Those who prefer to pin their hope on simple faith or upon earnest prayer may be sadly mistaken, but they will have to experience a change of mind through education. A people cannot be ligislated into a state of sincere acceptance of anything. There was a time when our medical doctors freely prescribed whiskey for many ailments. We of today prefer to use it only for snakebites. Most any of the present day brand would kill the patient, and we believe it would prove equally as disastrous to the snake.

The medical trust is out of bounds. They can never kick a goal from the point where located. The honest practitioner inculcates faith in himself while the quack seeks to use government force.

TEMPLE OF TRUTH
By the Apostle

The latest moving pictures are showing a decided interest in the populatative welfare of the nation. The necking pictures, racy and rude, may have had a tendency to disrupt morals, as some concluded. Perhaps this is the reason the picture themes have been changed.

Movies of today tend to discourage race suicide. We mean if pictures have any influence for badness, they might have an influence for goodness.

It has gotten to the point to where it is no uncommon thing for at least one baby to be born to the picture. The one shown here last week pictured twins.

the unerring weather of West Texas was a safeguard against rheumatism, including those varieties known as inflammatory and sciatica. Not only that, but germs were left on the streets where they belonged rather than swept up and carried into the homes. The Scotch have long been noted for knee action, the men wearing skirts, but this is said to have been brought about through economical ideas. The Scots were using sacks for pants.

"We serve meals without English peas."

Any cafe wearing the above slogan ought to get plenty of business, besides conferring a great favor upon disgusted and disgruntled humanity.

Just what year was it when squeaky shoes emitted their last squawk? There was a time when we soaked the soles of new shoes in water before going to church lest we be arrested for disturbing public worship. Now we expect nothing but silence which goes to prove that we never really appreciate the advancement of the human race.

A fellow came in Monday to sell some "high-gear." After a close comparison of viewpoints, we finally agreed that it was hegari, though it has many adopted names which probably came about through the many degrees of quality of the plant when bundled. Some of the bundles brought in recently were of the "hegira" type because they were blown away by an ordinary wind. Most of them were first-grade.

A Mexican neighbor some years ago announced the arrival of a litter of pigs thusly: "Kem over, me hen pig he hev um pups."

Neely F. Hudson of the Chamberlain community leads in subscription payments. He came in Saturday and paid for four years. He got a little behind and wanted to make up for it, he said. We never lost faith in a Hudson yet. The Hudson boys had one of the best men we ever knew for a father. Their sainted mother has no superior. With parents such as they, it is easily understood why all the Hudsons are fine folks—both boys and girls. Visiting in the Hudson home when both parents were living is a pleasant remembrance. To have folks of their quality back the Leader is a great encouragement. Thank you, Neely.

A colored boy strolling through a cemetery reading the inscriptions on the tombstones, came to one which read, "not dead, but sleeping." Scratching his head, the negro remarked, "he ain't foolin' nobody but himself."

During the drouth in New Mexico in 1916-17, dogs never barked for almost two years. By June of 1916 a dog would run out at a stranger and go through all the motions, but not a sound was heard. We naturally concluded that it had gotten so dry that the "bark" evaporated when it came out of his mouth.

Pay your poll tax. There will be so much excitement in both elections next year that you will feel like you have gotten ten times the cost of the tax. A poll tax is unjust because it disfranchises so many poor people, but since we have the law in force, pay the tax and get ready to vote against somebody. More people get more satisfaction in voting "against" some one than voting "for" anybody.

A fellow up from the Jack end of Briscoe county tells a wonderful story of prenatal influence, birthmark or something. A few years ago he had a hen to steal out her nest. He noticed a snake skin near the nest. The eggs hatched in due time and the chicks appeared hale and hearty. The following July the chicks, now grown, shed their skins, feathers and all. He remembered the snake skin near the nest of the old hen and supposed that every chicken hatching from that batch of eggs was "marked" in some way. The hot sun during midday was trying on the "raw" chickens to such an extent that they staid in the chicken house until the cool of the evening. Hearing a commotion one day, he investigated. He found a large bull snake hissing at the raw chickens. Every time the snake quieted down, a raw hen would reach over and peck it on the head. The snake would instantly get busy and begin his hissing or fanning process. The chickens lined up in front of the snake and made him pump air to cool them.

As cool weather came on in the fall, the chickens began to hunt up their discarded suits shed back in July because they did not grow another. The rooster looked quite comical strutting around in a pullet's suit. The pullet had been eaten by the family a month before, and a dog ate up the rooster's suit so he had nothing to do but adopt the pullet's skin. The other skins were in such bad order from having lain around all summer that the whole works froze to death before Christmas and the curious breed of skin-shedding chickens perished.

The wind was so high here in the spring of 1903 that it played many pranks besides blowing hats and tubs into Oklahoma. A man on Antelope flat hauling wood off Palo Duro fork of Red river would hear some animal "haw, haw, haw" along several times. After hearing this "haw" racket several days, he concluded some new animal must have taken up farther up the creek. After heading up Palo Duro to a point south of Claude he found a lost mule on the rim of the canyon. The wind was blowing a gale. Instantly the man figured it all out. As the mule would "he-haw" for his mate, he got out the "he" part all right, but the "haw" was blown to Antelope flat.

As a rule, congregations had rather be amused than instructed.

Persons of least merit demand most in others.

None are bored if you talk about them instead of yourself.

The reason 3.2 beer sales have fallen off to practically nothing is that bottles are being filled with home brew and sold as brewery stock. A local man tells of drinking a single bottle at night and waking up next morning. Upon investigation, he detected 7 cloudy bottles in a case. It is next to impossible to strain home brew so that the "cloud" will not show. Besides, only home brew gives one a headache on a one-bottle drink. As a matter of fact, a lot of folks are disgusted with 3.2. In Amarillo where it first sold at the rate of 2 bottles for 45c, it now sells 2 for 25c. Sales are slow and after effects the bunk.

Oscar Banister of Bray Community Passes Away

Oscar Banister, nineteen year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Banister, who are residents of the Bray community, passed away last Wednesday morning at the St. Anthony Hospital at Amarillo. His parting was mourned by his father and mother, several brothers and sisters, a number of relatives and a host of friends. He had for some time been staying with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Banister, whom he had been helping with the gathering of the crop.

Oscar was apparently in a fair state of health, and on Saturday had driven with his aunt, Mrs. Martin Banister, and other relatives to Amarillo to do some shopping. That night after returning from Amarillo, he spent quite a while with the radio, even after the others had retired. During the night his uncle and aunt were awakened by his groans, and it was seen that he was critically ill. He was rushed to the hospital on Sunday, and there he fought with the spectre of death until the end came early Wednesday morning when he placidly yielded and peacefully passed into the great beyond. But while his parting brings grief to his many friends and loved ones, they have the consolation that he has gone to a home where there is no sorrow or pain.

Oscar was a quiet, peaceful young man, who was admired by all that knew him. He was an obedient son, and he gladly bore his share of burdens to the home. It is to be regretted that this world does not have more young men of his kind.

His parting brings grief to his loved ones. There is an empty chair that will ever be a memory of the one whose presence is so sorrowfully missed. There is a void feeling in the heart that is beyond human power to forget. But no doubt if he could speak, he would say with the poet:

"May there be no mourning at the bar
When I put out to sea."
—Reported.

We sometime hear the casual remark that we folks, friends and neighbors do not have the old time hospitality that folks of long time ago had, but I beg to differ with them. While we know that most all seem to be in a hurry and are so very busy making a living during these days of depression for their families, I must say you let a friend or neighbor get sick and all will halt in their work to go see them, and do any kind deed that can be done for them.

And as this is so near Thanksgiving season, we feel we have many blessings to be thankful for.

JOAN OF ARC

(By Dorothy Nell Baker)

The maid of Orleans was born of poor but religious parents in the village of Domremy on January 6, 1412. She was very religious from her cradle until her death. When she was about seventeen, the City of Orleans was about to be captured by the English. She was a French girl, and she put on male dress and put herself at the head of six thousand men. On April 29, 1429, she began to attack the City. After fifteen days the English had to retreat. At once the face of the war changed, the French spirit awoke, and within a week the enemy was swept from their position on the Loire.

It is December she was carried to the headquarters of the English. She was heavily bound and flung into prison. Her trial was long and was disgraced by every form of shameful brutality.

My father, while in France, saw the church in front of which her statue stands. This church was a little larger than the Presbyterian church here.

Campaigns to Discourage Acts Which Give the School a Bad Name

1. Hooting visitors isn't good sportsmanship. It only shows ignorance and lack of training.
2. Cheering when a visiting player is hurt is not necessary, and it only shows what you are.
3. Cheering when opponents are penalized is not at all a good sport. If cheering is carried on the other team should be penalized also. There isn't anything any better than to be a good sport.

4. Crowding over the side lines during the game is very rude.
5. Leaving the field before the end of the game. Does this show loyalty to your school or visiting team?

6. Throwing apples or cushions is very poor sportsmanship. If the home team is defeated, cheer for the winners, don't throw apples or cushions.

Sophomores

Vernell Leathers entertained the Sophs with a Thanksgiving party in her home last Tuesday night. At 7 o'clock we were there and ready to begin the games which lasted until a late hour.

At 10 o'clock bells begin and the big wedding was about to take place. Billy Admire was the charming bride and Winston Nippert the lucky groom. Bernice Self was the bridesmaid and Tommie Allen, best man. The witnesses were there and the guests. The preacher stood waiting for the bride and groom to enter. They walked slowly in as Vernelle Leathers played the wedding march. We all held our breath until they vowed to take each other man and wife and we were invited in to the big feast which consisted of beans, cornbread and onions.

Afterward candy and lemonade was served to a happy bunch of youngsters.

Those enjoying the entertainment were Misses Marie Howard, Mavis Wiggins, La Nell Lewis, Francis Johnston, Fern Martin, Billie Admire, Loretta Hamm, Bernice Self and hostess, Vernell Leathers. And Messrs. Jeff Wiggins, Billy Howard, Ewell Admire, Tommie Allen, Billy Floyd, Winston Nippert, Pat Stebbins, D. W. Tomlinson.

Wandering Around

We find the Seniors are starting a play. Bill thinks they will get it up by the time school is out.

We all knew Miss Hill was very happy over something. We found out Wednesday evening when a tall man appeared.

Everyone that didn't go to Midway certainly missed a real ball game. The scores was 84-4. Our boys sure had a tough time. They all fought over which was to take a shot. I think Pat won out. When our boys learn not to fowl I think we can "skunk" them.

The Juniors have sure been "goosey" since they at all that goose at their banquet.

We were all disappointed because we didn't have Friday off. Some of the kids were even too disappointed to come to school. We wonder if it was the disappointment or too much turkey.

Chapel Program

The chapel exercises for last Friday December 1, 1933 were conducted by Reverend Allen. He brought us several interesting remarks about our Pilgrim Fathers. He also told of some of their experiences leading up to the first Thanksgiving day.

As a second topic of his talk he made some remarks on school loyalty which held advice worthwhile for the assembly. He advised us to be loyal to our school in all ways possible. For example, if the school team is having a ball game, do not go to the movie or some other place of amusement, rather than go to the ball game. Be loyal to the team and give them encouragement.

We all enjoyed his talk very much and hope to hear another one soon.

Locals

When Mr. Thomasson announced Wednesday that we would not have school Thursday but that we would Friday, many groans went up and the question "Why, can't we have a holiday Friday too?" was asked many times. A few of our pupils spent the day, or at least part of it, in the ball patch. But anyway, many of us had sumptuous dinners.

Dona Mae Koen, an ex-student visited school Friday.

H. R. King spent Thursday night with Edward McDaniels.

D. W. and Jessie J. Tomlinson, H. R. King, and others spent Thanksgiving with their grandmother.

Mary Jane and Anita Cook spent Thursday in Ashtola.

Erma Lee Penninger was a guest in the Koen home Thursday. Jessie J. Tomlinson spent Sunday with Laura Mae Gerner.

Aline Morton and Lorene Larry visited Erma Lu Penninger Saturday.

Erma Lu Penninger visited with Miss Dona Mae Koen Sunday.

Relatives from Amarillo visited Ernest and Henry Gerner Sunday.

Miss Dean Bullard, ex-student is visiting a few days with home folks.

The Juniors

My! this is one time the Juniors really had a feast. We celebrated Thanksgiving in the way it ought to be kept. We had a banquet at Moody Aten's home Tuesday night.

All the Juniors were there except two who found it impossible to come. You will not wonder why we had a big time when I finish telling what we had to eat and what we did. Our class colors were carried out well. The tables were set with pink and white. Pink and white nut cups and place cards were on the table. At seven o'clock we were told to find our places at the table. When everyone was seated a delicious fruit cocktail was served.

Oh! Yes! We had a big band to play for us. Guess who it was? A large band that came to us over the radio. D. W. Tomlinson was toast master. Miss Hill gave a toast to the Junior class. The next course served was a real pretty plate of salads, goose, dressing, gravy, cranberries and sweet potatoes. While eating we selected a name for everyone present to go by the rest of the evening. Some of the names were very comical. Some were: Juanita Jones, Peat; Rubye Jones, Repeat; Margaret Gerner, Chick; Inez Wood, Boom; Lottie Mae Holland, Memie; Virginia Williams, Kit; Beatrice Hardin, Bat; Marguetta Cruse, Jet; James Reynolds, Curley; D. W. Tomlinson, Rub; Morris Finch, Dimp; Pat Stebbins, Cat and our sponsor Miss Hill was called "Miss Patsy." This was very amusing.

Then the next course was "good ole pumpkin pie" and whipped cream. Everyone had all they could eat which was a plenty. Sides were chosen by Rubye Jones and Margaret Gerner. We played several games. The one winning the most was to receive a prize. Rubye Jones side won. They were very kind and let us help eat the sack of candy they won. After this forfeits were taken because we called some of the Juniors by their names instead of their "nick names." One of the funniest things some of them had to do to get forfeits back was Beatrice Hardin had to write her name on the wall with her nose. Several more were very amusing. After a bit of gossip it was the hour to retire.

Everyone reported a real nice time. Those present were Misses Rubye and Juanita Jones, Margaret Gerner, Virginia Williams, Lottie Mae Holland, Beatrice Hardin, Inez Wood, Ora Johnson, Geneva Roberson and Margetta Cruse. Messrs. Pat Stebbins, D. W. Tomlinson, James Reynolds, Morris Finch, and Miss Hill our sponsor, and Moody Aten, hostess.

The Juniors hope this will not be the last banquet they will have. Don't you wish you were a Junior?

Golden Sandstorm Report

Twenty members answered the roll call Tuesday, December 5, with the name of a famous person that played an important part in the World War.

Then the club sang "Battle Hymn of the Republic" followed by a World War story by Marie Howard. Pat Stebbins, Millard Cruse, LaNelle Lewis and Bernice Self, assisted by Fern Martin at the piano sang, "Just Before the Battle Mother."

Winston Nippert gave an interesting talk on "The War in the Air." Mrs. Thomasson gave another interesting talk. Billie Admire, assisted by Fern Martin at the piano, sang a vocal solo. The last number, a song by the club, was enjoyed by all.

After the program, we practiced on a new song.

We will meet again December 19, to enjoy a Christmas program.

Boys Basketball

On last Wednesday the Lelia High Zebras went to Midway to play our first game with them. We were expecting a hard battle to be fought.

At the first of the game, coach Cooper ran in all of the second string that he had with him.

From the first the Zebras began to pile up scores, with Tomlinson sinking the first basket. At the quarter, the Lelia boys were in a big lead.

Just after the first quarter, Bain made a foul, with which Midway made their first point.

Before the third quarter, Bain fouled off. His place was filled by Finch.

When the game ended it was found that Lelia had some eight fouls while Midway only had three.

We found out several things in this game:

That each man should not try to crown himself with glory, but the Substitute Teachers

Miss Loree Hamm left Wednesday at noon to celebrate Thanksgiving at Mineral Wells, Texas. Mrs. Martin taught in her place the remainder of the week. As Miss Hill was unable to be at school Friday, Mrs. E. V. Cooper taught her classes. The children were well pleased with these teachers and feel that no one could have filled our regular teacher's places as well as Mrs. Cooper and Mrs. Martin did.

On Tuesday afternoon the second team will meet Martin at Martin.

On Wednesday night, the Zebras will meet Ashtola on Clarendon gym.

Only One Casualty Resulting From Thanksgiving Hunt

Dozens of hunters invaded the fields and pastures Thursday over more than one county. Most of them found birds very scarce except in favored localities.

The only casualty occurred among the colored gentry when Bodin Wells accidentally got in too big a hurry failing to give James Henry Kennedy time to duck, causing James to receive a charge of No. 4 shot in the back. Most of the shot barely touched the skin and little damage was done.

Health Department Issues Warning About Pecans

A warning issued by the State Health Department cautions purchasers against the consumption of shelled pecans. It is alleged that many of the nuts are shelled by negroes and Mexicans in private homes where the sanitary conditions are very much neglected.

The warning further states that many communicable diseases are spread through the handling and consumption of shelled pecans, and that due caution should be given as to the source of the nuts when purchases are made.

HOW WOMEN CAN WIN MEN AND MEN WIN

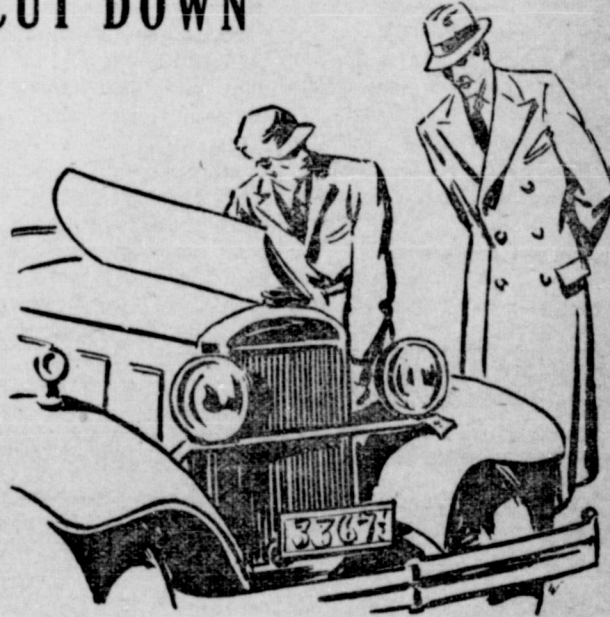

The Favor of Other Men

Unless two pints of bile juice flow daily from your liver into your bowels, your food decays in your whole body. Movements get hard, tongue, yellow skin, pimples, dull eyes, bad breath, bad taste, gas, dizziness, headache. You have become an ugly-looking, foul-smelling, sour-thinking person. You have lost your personal charm. Everybody wants to run from you.

But don't take salts, mineral waters, oils, laxative pills, laxative candies or chewing gums and expect them to get rid of this poison that destroys your personal charm. They can't do it, for they only move out the tail end of your bowels and that doesn't take away enough of the decayed poison. Cosmetics won't help at all.

Only a free flow of your bile juice will stop this decay poison in your bowels. The only vegetable medicine which starts a free flow of your bile juice is Carter's Little Liver Pills. No calomel (mercury) in Carter's. Only fine, mild vegetable extracts. If you would bring back your personal charm to win men, start taking Carter's Little Liver Pills according to directions today. 25¢ at drug stores. Refuse "something just as good," for it may gripe, loosen teeth or scald rectum. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name and get what you ask for. ©1933, C.M.Co.

Our Weekly Church Chat

W. E. FERRELL
First Christian Church

Christianity, is the teaching of Jesus Christ and His Apostles put into practice. The record of His doctrine is contained in the New Testament. Many prophecies of the Old Testament are fulfilled in the New. Care should be taken that the old covenant should be understood with the New.

Christianity does not consist of theories, creeds, etc., but in the lives of men who believe them or not—things that are to be believed, not acted upon just because they are true.

Christianity is the last and greatest and most glorious revelation. The old dispensation shines like the twinkling stars, but Christianity as the noonday sun.

The design of Christianity is to save fallen men, to bring the wanderers home, to make provision for their needs, and prepare them for the eternal residence in the "Eden above."

Too often the Christian religion is regarded, not by the doctrine of the New Testament, but by the theories of uninspired teachers and the lives of professing Christians. Care should be taken to distinguish between the "faith which was once for all delivered to the saints" and accretion to faith—extraneous additions, consisting of human speculations, or unchrist-like conduct.

As workmen have at times, covered up the ornamental designs of the interior of certain buildings, with layers of white-wash, so men have covered up the doctrine of the New Testament with the white-wash of speculative theology. Our religion is plain. Occasionally, workers have been engaged to remove the layers of white-wash and the ornamental work has been revealed in its original beauty.

We must endeavor to tear away everything spurious, that the faith of the church, may once more be revealed in its original simplicity and beauty.

Our Sunday sermons are to help in removing some "White-wash." At the morning hour our object is, "Called to Service." Sunday night it will be "What is Christ's Message?"

Mrs. Wewerka and Mrs. Bob Abcock of Elreño and Miss Helen Martin of Pampa visited Miss Mildred Martin over the Thanksgiving holidays.

THE HOME PROGRESS

By Mrs. Harry A. Burnham

"Aunt Dinah's Quilting Party" is being revived. Corn huskings, spelling bees, singing schools, square dances, along with quilting parties, are again in vogue. Some of us think that they are among the most hopeful signs of progress.

All of this is by the way of opining that people, individually and collectively, are again finding happiness in simple entertainment; are depending upon their own initiative, and from it are developing original and wholesome fun. The day when the professional entertainer was called into homes for the regalement of guests is giving way to charades, candy pulls, and good honest conversation.

This is the bridge between the Then and Now. Fifty years ago entertainment was all homemade, like pies and bread, cloth and clothes, soap and candles. There followed, in swift succession, factories and mills, bakeries and laundries, until entertainment seemed to be about the only remaining function of the home. Then commercialized diversions beckoned, and for a time it seemed to some as though the home was about to become simply a hat-rack and a cafeteria.

Common Sense
But common sense, a fundamental appreciation of values, and an innate love of the real as distinguished from the artificial, stepped in and saved the day.

Listen carefully, mark your reading, watch what is going on around you, and you will hear and see much about weaving, quilting, knitting, crocheting, and tatting. You will hear rumors of community drama, music, and art.

The splendid thing about all this is that most of these activities are now leisure-time diversions instead of hurried and pressing duties; that is what gives them the mark of progress.

Changed Housekeeping
It would be trite, and almost unforgivably boring, to enumerate the mechanical developments in community life which have definitely touched the home in the past 50 years. If we were doing that, we would mention the fact that it is not so long ago that each family drew its water supply from wells or springs, that public highways are a comparatively modern development, that public gardens, parks and play areas are not so very old, and that the public school system and public libraries are, comparatively, very young indeed.

Inside our homes the transformation has been as rapid as in the community, and as complete. All of these changes are to familiar to enumerate. Almost without exception they spell progress, but, also, almost without exception, at each new development, some one has arisen to decry the "downfall of the home." A recent magazine article asks, "Can the Family Be Saved?" Dear me, no. It was never lost.

I can serve a cold dessert with a much saintlier smile from my mechanical refrigerator than I ever could after I had forgotten to empty the ice-chest pan. I can look just—or almost—like the pictures in the advertisements, as I sit in a comfortable chair and read while my mechanical washing machine does the family laundry for me.

Yes, the educational, economic and industrial functions of the home have changed tremendously in the past 50 years. Aren't you glad that they have? I am.

But the spiritual something that is almost too sacred to define; the sympathetic understanding that grows and grows as people live together and learn to know the meaning of the brisk or tardy footstep, the fleeting change of a facial expression, the voiceless words in a timid glance; these have not changed. They are as changeless and as secure as the eternal heavens or the everlasting hills.

—The Pathfinder.

MARTIN
Mrs. Jim Baker

Many of the Martin families enjoyed the Thanksgiving Holidays in the good old fashioned way—family reunions—turkey dinner with all the trimmings. We all have much, indeed to be thankful for.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Patterson had their daughter, Mrs. Edna Wood and family from LaFors, with them for turkey dinner Thanksgiving.

Miss Kate Talley, who teaches up north of Amarillo came home in a new Chevrolet sedan to spend the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Talley. Miss Kate's school must be one of those we used to hear about that paid off every month.

Mr. and Mrs. Guk Sibley from Dallas visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will Barker and Mr. and Mrs. Sibley over the week end.

Harry Hartzog of this community and Miss Oneta Isham were married last Thursday. Judging from the number of showers that were given them they are very popular young people. Martin joins with their many friends in wishing them every happiness. We are glad to have them settle down in our community.

Mr. and Mrs. Edd Hodge honored their daughter, Mrs. George Bain from Dumas with an old time party Saturday night. Old fashioned games were enjoyed by all until a late hour.

The Intermediate Sunday school class of Martin enjoyed a social at Mrs. Jim Baker's Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. George Kavanaugh spent the holidays with her brother, the Rev. A. B. English of Borger.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Baker had turkey dinner with her mother, Mrs. Arnold of Naylor.

Martin school is progressing nicely. The attendance is increasing daily and we're hoping all this cotton will soon be out so that all the children can get back in school. Those who made honor roll grades in the Primary room, taught by Mrs. Kavanaugh for the second month of our school are: FIRST GRADE—Helen Joe Bullman, Mary Lee Hefner and Cecil Wood.

SECOND GRADE—Fay Sullivan and Josie Davis. THIRD GRADE—Redell Henson, Billie Hefner, and Bobbie Marshall.

Those in Intermediate room, taught by Mrs. Jim Baker are: FOURTH GRADE—Kitty Ruth Baley, Billy Ruth Bullman and Maggie Lee Davis. FIFTH GRADE—Doris Bailey, Christine Pittman and Willie Nell Shannon.

SIXTH GRADE—Emily Davis, T. R. Atkins and Rex Shannon.

Those who made honor roll grades in the Principal's room, Mr. Kavanaugh's were: EIGHTH GRADE—Elene Marshall, Margaret Easterling and Allen Pittman.

NINTH GRADE—Johnnie La Fon, Winston Wood, Ella Mae Sullivan and Louise Patterson.

ASHTOLA
CHURCH NEWS
"I Will Publish the Name of the Lord"

Last Sunday there was quite a number present at Sunday school. The Helpers had, as a visitor, Mrs. Thomas' mother, Mrs. Fox. Mrs. Fox made a very interesting talk which was appreciated by the young people exceedingly. Her visit was enjoyed and all hope that she will come back soon.

There was a special program and each member of the class wore clever little turkey stickers in observance of Thanksgiving. The vice president, Mary Graham, will not preside any more as she is to be married soon and will not live in Ashtola. Everyone appreciates the deep interest Mary took in Sunday school and wishes her unbounded happiness and invites her to come back and cheer the Helpers whenever she can. Also the third vice president, Claude Lockhart, is moving, which makes two of their most lively members missing. All hope that Claude will like her new home and friends but that she will think of her S. S. here and visit as often as possible. Everyone whether a member or not, come and help spread His word by doing your part.

Dr. C. G. Stricklin and Mr. Hutton attended the football game between T. C. U. and S. M. U. Sat. at Ft. Worth, returning home Sunday.

Mrs. Goodman and son Tommie visited in Amarillo Thanksgiving also over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Bones visited relatives at Canyon over the week end.

Mrs. Major Hudson and son Willard and Mrs. Bill Greene visited in Memphis Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. N. George and son Byron of Dawn, Texas visited Friday and Saturday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Smith.

Oklahoma Takes Measures To Fight Diphtheria

Greatly alarmed when more than five hundred cases of diphtheria were noted at the end of the week in Oklahoma, the state Department of health has issued an edict that all children of a certain age must be given the anti-toxin preventive treatment.

The disease is said to be in a virulent form causing fifty-four deaths the past week over the state.

GOLDSTON LITERARY SOCIETY

After the Thanksgiving holidays school got under way with an increased attendance. The teachers took advantage of the two holidays that we had and visited parents and relatives. Some of the kiddies visited relatives, some visited friends, and some visited the cotton patch and celebrated by picking or pulling the fleecy staple. The pupils are taking renewed interest in their school work this week. This may be accounted for by the fact that they have more competition since the increased enrollment.

The school boys and the outside boys played a basketball game Monday afternoon. The school boys were victorious by a small margin. The game revealed some of the weaknesses of the team; however, we are looking forward to an enjoyable season.

Plans for a Christmas program are moving forward rapidly under the direction of Miss Potter, Mrs. Smith and Miss Blanks. The program will be rendered Friday, December 22. The patrons are urged to attend this program.

Last Friday evening, December 1st, the district Trustees and Teachers Association met at Goldston. Mr. Sid B. Thomas principal of Ashtola school gave an interesting and instructive address on "Some of the Values of Inter-School Athletics" and his "Pirate organization." Mr. Thomas gave to the teachers some practical advice concerning the handling of boys. Mr. Kavanaugh of Martin was to give us an address on "Some of the problems of School Boards" but for some reason unknown to us he failed to appear. Mr. Weatherly of Jericho was also expected to appear on the program and discuss some of the values of the Inter-Scholastic league activities. But for some reason or another Mr. Weatherly failed to appear. Then Mr. Gatewood tried to pinch hit for both of them and as a result he gave a rambling discussion on Educational trends and Problems. We expected Mr. Baker to be here but his official duties detained him.

After the program was rendered the ladies of the community served cake and coffee to the crowd. Judging from the rapidity with which the cake and coffee disappeared, it surely was enjoyed by everyone.

Reggie Lawler is visiting this week in the ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. Doc Howard.

Mrs. M. T. Crabtree and daughter, Miss Obie, spent Thanksgiving with her daughter, Mrs. Lanham Ball at Amarillo.

Mayor Cagle visited in Lubbock over the Thanksgiving holidays.

WINDY VALLEY SCHOOL NEWS

School began in Windy Valley for the second term on Monday morning Nov. 27, 1933, with a very good attendance considering the fact that a great deal of the crop still stands in the fields. Beginning Monday morning we had at least 85% of the total enrollment in school. Mr. Dillard, Miss Johnson and Miss Taylor are back on the job after nine weeks of vacation and study. Our teachers avail themselves to every opportunity to increase their efficiency for teaching school, by going to school or taking correspondence work from a standard school.

Due to two conflicting programs following on two successive nights in December and due to the Christmas on Friday night, Dec. 23, the play "Wild Ginger" has been postponed until after New Years.

Mr. Dillard has drawn up plans for the CWA which were mailed the last of last week which include many needed improvements on the school building and grounds. If the plans which we presented succeed in going through, old residents of the Valley returning, will not know the place. We have a splendid school at the present time, but in the early spring with all these improvements, Windy Valley will rank among the first.

We, the teachers of Windy Valley, wish to take this means of thanking the 1926 Book Club, who have adopted us again this year for the splendid cooperation that they are giving us. During the magazine drive last week the School Adoption Committee of the club, gathered up several hundred copies of standard magazines for school use. This is a great help and joy to the teachers as well as to the students. We also wish to thank the club for the splendid list of books that they ordered for each of the three departments. Things of this nature will be done for the school throughout the entire club year.

Plans for the Christmas program are making rapid progress and it is our expectations that it will be a much better program than it was last year. The kiddies are looking forward to the coming of old Santa and his Xmas Tree loaded with gifts and good things to eat. It is through the cooperation of the community that this yearly program is made possible. The program for this affair will be announced at a later date.

The Trustee-Teachers Organization will meet in Windy Valley, Friday night, Dec. 8th. This is the regular monthly meeting which is held at a different school in the district each month. An excellent program has been arranged and every one is cordially invited and urged to attend.
