IMPROVEMENT IN FINANCES NOTED IN CITY AUDIT

Operation of Water Works Shows Greatest Saving Of $1,789.38

A condensed statement of the condition of the city records as noted by an audit by Dempsey A. Winn, is published in this issue of the Leader.

From the statement of the auditor, it appears that the operating expenses of the City was reduced $4,122.41 the current year as compared with the preceding year. Operation of the city water works shows a decreased cost of $1,789.38 as the biggest curtailed expenditure.

Operation of the fire department shows a decreased cost of $201.22.

Further savings were effected in the matter of the night watchman, sewer maintenance expense, street and alley maintenance, administrative expense, general overhead expense, etc.

The statement shows that a total of $1,417.81 has been spent on flood control. This likely has reference to the building of dams southwest of town.

In the dam projects, Transient Bureau and Relief labor were both used. The City furnished transportation, cement and paid other incidental expenses. The federal government paid the laborers.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Boswell of Erick were guests of the Dr. Gallaway home over Sunday.

NECESSITY FOR EROSION CONTROL SEEN AT DALHART

Wind Damage Beggars All Description in Report Made by Visitor

On Saturday, April 20, the Vocational Agriculture teachers of the Panhandle-Plains area visited the Soil Erosion Control Project near Dalhart for the purpose of getting information on the soil management policy advocated by the government wind erosion experts. J. M. Hill, who made the trip with this group, reports that damage done to farm lands and pastures north and east of Dalhart by wind erosion is almost unbelievable. Mr. Hill says that many thousands of acres in this region have been blown out clear down to the hard sub-soil which has never been stirred by a plow, and that fences and farm buildings in many places have been almost covered up by the drifting soil. Some few farmers in the midst of such disastrous conditions have been able to prevent such great damage to their land by leaving a protective covering of vegetation on the land.

Mr. H. H. Finnell, director of this soil erosion project covering 26,000 acres, says that such great damage to the land is due mainly to the poor and short sighted farming practices used by a number of the farmers in recent years. The two outstanding mistakes that some farmers have made, he says are first, the burning off of wheat stubble and straw, and second, grazing of stalk fields and pastures.

Mr. Finnell has studied farming practices and their relation to soil erosion, for many years and he believes that if all farmers will use only good sound farm practices that damage due to wind erosion will be prevented to a large extent in the future. He named three principal control methods for preventing soil erosion as follows:

First, grow crops which leave an erosion resisting residue of stalks and roots, such as milo, hegarl, and kaffir. He stated that corn and cotton offer little resistance to blowing. Where cotton or corn are grown, strip cropping was suggested, using alternating strips of cotton and some erosion resisting crop. Mr. Finnell also stated that

Rev. King is sure that no one will have any use for the book of sermon notes except a Baptist minister, and he is not sure that another preacher of his own faith would care to use it. The preacher is greatly in need of the note book. If found, please call him at 104.

His acknowledged accomplice, Bill Fisher, was given a sentence of 7 years two weeks ago on a similar charge.

Hall also included a burglary on the home of Bart Russell in January, in summing up his tirade in this county. Russell lost 10 sets of harness, a quantity of wheat and cotton seed to the thieves.

A part of the harness is said to have been recovered by officers in the home of Bill Hall in Childress county.

The public is cordially invited to attend. Admission free.

HIT IS MADE BY BOYS DRUM CORPS AT WELLINGTON

Large Number From Here Are Present at Legion Meet Both Days

The 18th District Convention of the American Legion and Auxiliary at Wellington Saturday and Sunday attracted a large crowd.

One of the most interesting features of the convention was the hit made by the drum and bugle corps of the Sons of the Legion which took a part in the parade, and otherwise made themselves conspicuous by their skill. A great deal of their success is said to be due to the training given them by their leader, Bandmaster Eskridge, who accompanied them.

Judge John Lee Smith of Throckmorton was the principal speaker. Other speakers were also on the program.

Among those attending from here were G. C. Reeves and family, Mrs. Clarence Pipes, R. W. Moore, C. Huffman and family, Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Antrobus, Mrs. O. L. Fink, Guy Smith, H. R. Skinner, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wilson, Mrs. C. J. Douglas and children.

JOINT MEETING SCHOOL PEOPLE IS GALA AFFAIR

Enthusiastic Program Gets Attention Until Late Hour With Banquet

Since no ladies appeared on the speaking program, each speaker might be termed "a tireless worker, handsome gentleman, and a good speaker," in the meeting held here Friday night.

This was a rural school affair in which teachers and trustees shared the limelight. A few ex teachers and visitors were permitted to enjoy the "feast of soul and flow of reason," as one teacher expressed himself.

W. A. Poovey of Ashtola, member of the County Board of Education, was unanimously chosen to head the Teacher-Trustee Association the coming year. Few men in the county have been more active in school affairs, or have given more unstintingly of their time and means than has Mr. Poovey.

The program was opened with a duet by Dennis Smith principal of the Midway school, and Clarence Jackson, principal of the Windy Valley school. Miss Nova Cook of the McKnight school favored with a reading, and was followed by a piano solo by Miss Doris Rogers.

Trustees saw their actions reflected in a "skit" in which Dave Waldron, principal of the Sunnyview school, Bob Weatherly, principal of the Jericho school, and Dennis Smith were the performers.

Some of the trustees facetiously remarked that a "viceversa" skit would be on the program next session.

"Looking Forward" was the theme discussed by Supt. Sloan Baker, in which he outlined the work ahead for better school, consolidation where practicable, and state laws affecting the welfare of rural schools.

Miss Eunice Johnson of the Chamberlain school gave a musical reading with a co-worker in the same school, Miss Agatha Taylor at the piano.

Dean R. E. Drennan of Clarendon Junior College, himself a rural

Uncle Rich Bowlin Reaches 86th Milestone Today

There is great doin's out on the Bowlin farm northeast of town today. There is a crowd there. They are doing him honor. He has reached his 86th year. He has been a resident of this county 44 years, and has made a good citizen.

My! How we would like to be there—wife and I as we were last year. But this is press day in the Leader plant. We can't get off, but we are with that crowd in spirit.

The Editor and GW send their regards. May the cake be a bit bigger, the handclaps a little stronger, and may Uncle Rich enjoy it a bit more than ever before.

Highway Contractor Brown Loses Cement

A dozen sacks of cement were taken from the job on Highway 5 near Hedley Monday night. A truck was used in making a getaway. The cement was the property of the Brown construction company.

Constable Jack Peabody of Hedley went to work on the case early Tuesday morning believing that he had a strong clue. This is said to be the first case of theft or molestation of highway contractor material on this job.

Barking Dogs Save Owner Auto Tires Monday

Had it not been for barking dogs scaring away thieves at the Fred Russell home Monday night, he would have come up loser of several auto tires which they were removing at the time of the canine fulsome.

Russell lost an $8 hydraulic auto pump. The spare and some tires are said to have been removed, but the thieves failed to make way with them.

LEGION POST TO SPONSOR MOTHER'S DAY PROGRAMME

Committees Are Appointed To Complete Plans For Union Service

At least a portion of the observance of Mother's Day here May 12th will be a union service on the courthouse lawn in the morning. A speaker using the subject of "What science has done to make motherhood safer," is yet to be secured.

A program in which all civic bodies are expected to share with the churches of the city as outlined above, will be preceded by a parade on the streets. The parade will include men, women and children in groups. The band and drum and bugle corps will lead the parade.

Ralph Andis, Dick Chunn, L. N. Cox, R. W. Moore, C. B. Morris and H. T. Burton represent the committee of the American Legion. The two committees are to make full arrangements.

A. A. Mayes attended to business in different points in Oklahoma Friday.

NIGGER SHOOTS ANOTHER BLACK SUNDAY NIGHT

Says Wounded Man Wronged His Young Daughter Near A Year Ago

Congregatin' at the meetin' apparently was unwise Sunday night so far as Red Wells, negro bully and bad man among his tribe, is concerned. Joining the crowd in front of the colored church, Red Wells met up with "Marble Eye" Boyd, father of the young girl with whom Red had become enmeshed more than a year before.

Wells, who has basked in the county bastille on bootlegging charges in times past, joined the crowd in front of the Holliness church, but not until after Boyd had notified the Sheriff that Wells was back from McLean where he had been living, and that there might be trouble.

The shooting is said to have occurred about 9 p. m. Five shots were fired by Boyd, only one of which took effect in the abdomen of Wells. The injured nigger was taken to Adair hospital.

Boyd rushed to the jail and asked to be locked up. He had first reported his scrape to the night watchman, but was directed to the jail. The 'ail has been the residence of Boyd since Sunday night. The grand jury is expected to take some action this week.

The wounded nigger continues to improve at Adair hospital with every indication that he will recover.

Attends Family Reunion In Old Mississippi Home

John Stewart returned recently from Mississippi where he attended a family gathering of Stewart descendants of pioneer forebears. He was accompanied home by Joe and Ivy Stewart, brothers, and their wives.

The brothers were on their return to their homes in California. The main gathering was held in the old community church in which a brother of John Stewart, the Rev. J. C. Stewart, conducted services. Some 75 relatives were present.

In describing impressions of his trip, Mr. Stewart says he saw plenty of water and whiskey. One sign along the highway read: "Whiskey, wine and beer sold in wholesale lots."

UNCLE SAM—HANDBILL DISTRIBUTOR.

It won't be long now! Order no. 6338 is to be rescinded. On April 15th Postmaster General Jim Farley signed an order rescinding, effective July 1, 1935, the department's order permitting direct mail advertisers to use a simplified address system for posters and other advertising.

The mails were cluttered up with third class matter addressed to "householder" or "patron" or "boxholder" and was carried by Uncle Sam at a very special rate.

The reason given for the discontinuance was that "after six months it was decided that it did not pay." Who thought it would pay in the beginning? Nobody but chain stores and catalog houses, of course!

HELL HATH NO FURY.

It was a wise old bird who originated that old saying that "hell hath no fury like a woman scorned." It might have been Shakespeare.

At any rate, it has little to do with comparing conditions in Texas with those of Kansas, in one respect at least.

While a recent candidate for the mayorship of Topeka, a certain editor made a talk before the Woman's Good Government Club in the Y. W. C. A. building.

The speaker, among other things, called the ladies' attention to a certain saloon that was being operated in open defiance of the laws of the great prohibition state of Kansas. The saloon was operated by a "lady" who is alleged to have a long criminal record.

The candidate had not patronized her joint. More than that, he did not patronize it, though not an alleged teetotaler himself.

Her business had been scorned! Yeah, it had been criticised by a man popular among the more decent set. Her fury broke loose!!

When her fury broke, this "lady" employed a nigger lawyer and sued the speaker for $10,000.00!!! She alleged that he had damaged her business that much in 5 days. The speech was made five days before the election.

The case comes to trial in the district court of Shawnee county next week.

One can imagine what would have happened had this publisher printed his statement rather than spoken it to a select assembly.

WEST TEXAS HIGHWAY PROBLEM.

When Governor Allred was inaugurated he at once encountered an insistent demand that Highway Commissioner Ely be not reappointed. Most of the opposition came from West Texas, the region whose demand for a West Texan on the commission had brought about the appointment of Judge Ely in the first place.

The principal complaint came from the Panhandle-Plains region, which, although it has many hundreds of miles of paved highways, lacks a single all-weather outlet to the rest of Texas. It was the failure of the commission to remedy this situation that brought about much of the opposition to Judge Ely's reappointment. Later this opposition abated considerably, due to the Panhandle-Plains region's belief that he could probably accomplish as much for it, by reason of his experience, as a new member could. That region will now look hopefully to Mr. Hines to bring about the completion of its program.

Amarillo wants highway 5 completed promptly. This involves the paving of a 70-mile stretch through Donley and Armstrong counties. Amarillo also wants its principal east-west route, U. S. highway 66, completed across the Panhandle. Lubbock wants highway 84, southwest to Sweetwater, and highway 24, due east to Fort Worth via Seymour, paved. Plainview's principal concern is highway 28 to Vernon. Wichita Falls, of course, has a direct interest in all of these projects save highway 84. It is vitally concerned in the completion of highway 5 to Amarillo and it is very much interested in the highway 24 and highway 28 projects to Lubbock and Plainview.

West Texas as a whole is going to be sorely displeased if early action is not taken on these roads. It wants not only paving, but paving by which it can go somewhere. There is ample basis for its feeling that its needs have been neglected. It is to be hoped that the commission will take definite steps without further delay. —Record-News.

AN OPEN LETTER

Webster, So. Dak.
March 1, 1935.

U. S. Treasury Department,
Washington, D. C.

Gentlemen:
The enclosed form, on which I am asked to make a record of my income for the last fiscal year is returned to you with my respects and my deepest appreciation of this subtle form of flattery. I was particularly impressed by its resurrection of old forms and figures of English speech, such as "compensation from outside sources," "Net profit received," "income from rents," "interest on bank deposits," etc.

One question I got a great laugh out of was "were you during the taxable year supporting in your household one or more persons closely related to you?" Boy, that's a honey!

Say, Mister Secretary, you would be surprised. There are so many persons closely related to me staying at my house that I am what you would call surrounded. Only the other day three distant cousins of my wife came in, making a new high for the moment. And one of them brought a friend. For the last four years my house has been full of strangers, all claiming to be my cousins, or aunts, or something. I can't identify half of them, and what burned me up was when my wife's Uncle Jerry who has been living with us a year, slapped me on the back the other day and asked, "Haven't I seen you some place before?"

The blank says it will allow me $400 for each dependent relative, and I would say the government is over-pricing them, and I would trade the entire lot for $11 and throw in a pair of bicycle pants and a magic lantern (two of my wife's aunts, you can have for the asking.)

Heigh-ho and lackaday. The blank also asks me to "describe your business as provided in item

2," and I am glad to answer—lousy, Mister Secretary, lousy. And it asks me to "enter on line 1 of schedule "A" my total receipts for 1934. I wish you would stop joking, Mister Secretary. Fun is fun, but enough is enough, and you can carry anything too far.

Then you say something allowance for "obsolescence, depreciation and depletion." That's where I come in. As an American business man, I am a study of obsolescence. I am depleted, deflated, depressed, denatured, denounced, deranged and dejected. And so is my old man.

JOHN W. TAXPAYER.

By the Apostle

There is nothing like having public affairs. It draws the folks out into the open and gives them an opportunity to get better acquainted. For instance the "colonels" had a hanging over in Kentucky last week. From a newspaper account of the affair, they must have taken along a generous supply of likker. More were killed in auto wrecks getting to the hanging than were hanged. Still—"a good time was had by all."

Here is a suggestion that is worthy of trial. Up on the plains where the dandelion is bad about taking charge of the flower yards, they have found a way of killing the dandelion without injuring the soil in any way. Simply mix one part of creosote with four parts of kerosene and drop a few drops right on top of the plant. Mix up the mixture thoroughly for best effects.

Wichita Falls has a beauty parlor known as "No Man's Land." Miss Bucha Baker is the owner where it is said "many fastidious women have been pleased." Now was it the quality of workmanship or the peaceful repose from the presence of husband that pleased the fastidious?

Mussolini threatened to invade Turkey recently, or just as soon as he could get rations together for his army. Kemal Pasha, Turkey's ruler who has taken a pattern from western nations, including America, simply stated that "all Moosee would need would be a place to bury his dead!"

Oh well, here comes on a poem pain. Spring weather superinduced by that strange feeling of languidness is the technical name for it.

The poor old Eagle's through, I pity him, and how! If he was blue before he flew, He must be bluer now!

Dear Albert: We don't make any corrections of typographical errors. Not even to defend Noah Beery!

The high cost of beef has been occasioned by a scarcity of cattle and a pestilence of asses.

Every community will take a long step ahead when it wakes up to the fact that no one is above suspicion.

Uncle Sam is offering a five billion dollar bounty on the "wolf at the door."

A FABLE—Dear Children: Once upon a time there was a bozo who strove for success many years—honestly. Finally he had success thrust upon him. He moved to town and located on Easy street, while his wife's relatives live across the tracks. The whole gang deviled the life out of him for small loans, worried him with their family fights, and made life hideous for the old bozo on Easy Street. Finally he got sick of the whole mess. He even got sorry that they had struck oil on the old farm. He began to lay out. Not any place in particular, but places that did not enhance the social standing of the family name among the elite of the city. For instance, the old bozo sneaked back to the farm where he leisurely held his head above a healthy pig pen inhaling the fumes that chases the odor of Turkish cigarettes from out of his nostrils. Captured by his sophisticated daughter and her shiek, he was transported back home in a sport roadster where he confessed that he wished he had never heard of oil, much less own a foundation farm for its exploitation. Selah!

The "three little pig" episode is a relic of the imaginary age, but thank the Lord, we still have the wolf with us yet.

Statesmen of yesterday played poker, fought duels and got drunk in their frenzy to impress their constituents that they were real he-men. Today they fish from million dollar yachts and howl over the radio. Ain't that progress! Or ain't it progress? Or sompin'.

When the time comes—if ever—that common sense can keep up with progress, this will be a grand old world.

It's barely possible that if Congress doesn't do something soon, the country will get tired of waiting and go ahead and recover in spite of it.

One of the adult students offers to haunt houses here for 2-bits a room. He claims he learned it from the government.

Sheeza Fizzle says her pa did not raise her up to be a goldigger, but he never has objected to a little mining on the side.

There used to be a time long years ago when certain parties of the town would hang around the newspaper office and bum copies of the little old weekly that they did not think worth subscribing to. That day has almost passed. The papers today sell for a nickel each. We always print extra copies and sell them out at 5c each. If a fellow is too poor to spend the nickel, we will let him sweep out Thursday after the paper is run. Ain't that fair?

There will never be an equality of the sexes in business. Imagine a tired business woman being the life of the party at a night club?

Fanny Failure says the "hand that rocked the cradle" may have been different in other days, but today she is trying to find the address of a junk dealer.

Bill Barker, who has been making ralls in the government timber belt on Salt Fork tells of an unusual incident. It happened after that worst Sunday dust storm. The dust had filled up the water holes. When he heard a loud "squonking" racket, he looked toward the river bed and saw a 200 pound turtle with mud chains on totin' a batch of fish toward Red river.

A number of our state legislators put on masks during a recent dust storm. That is the first thing they have agreed upon this session.

During a dust storm last week, an aviator thought he landed at Amarillo, got out of his plane and walked half way to town before he discovered that he was up in the air 2,000 feet.

One of our dust storms encountered rain when it reached east Texas. It was the first time that mud was seen in the air when nobody was running for the governorship.

A Dalhart citizen found a bunch of junk on his west porch after a band sand storm—not that any one ever heard of a good one. In the batch he fished out a battered tepee, sheep-hide sandal and a squalling papoose. A scientist at the Canyon museum pronounced the junk as being of Oogalah origin, and the papoose was sent back to his home in West Nebraska Tuesday.

The supposed mail plane that went over two weeks ago Saturday was a tractor that got away from Henry Brady at Claude. It was located on the Clear Fork of the Brazos.

Socially, the realty exchange this spring has furnished us with more excitement than the national bridge game contest.

Speaking of dust, a fellow smart-alec down in the piney woods sends me this one:
Now I lay me down to snore,
With lots of dust in every pore
And if the dawn I fail to see
They won't have to bury me.
His name is Boyles and he worked on a Sweetwater paper for years before he got enough ahead to buy a fare to a job in Lufkin. Or maybe they finally just paid him to leave. At any rate, it is basest ingratitude. I intend to visit him in July and board off him a full month. If the dust keeps sifting.

I'll be seeing you and hearing you at the same time and place in this column next week.

Uncle Sam—Chief Chisler!

And what must the small Newspapers of the country expect next? Some months back this editor received a CODE BOOK, saying we must charge $4.75 for 500 20-pound bond letter heads, printed. Only last week this editor was offered the job of printing up 500 20-lb. bond letter heads, 8 1/2 x 11 inches, the same kind of a job which the CODE SAYS MUST BE charged for at the rate of $4.75 for 500. The Relief Agency of Armstrong County, who ordered this job had quotations from State Headquarters saying the 500 20-pound bond letter heads must be printed by the local printer at ONLY ONE DOLLAR AND SIXTY-ONE cents, a few cents more than the ACTUAL COST of the blank paper. The local appointees of Armstrong County Relief are in NO WISE responsible for this dirty, double crossing deal, handed out to the smaller papers throughout the state. Newspapers through out Texas have given, unstinted, and without any charge whatever, thousands of dollars worth of advertising to relief work and toward the dole system and for pay for this FREE advertising they are ask to print up 500 20-pound

The Rural Community Has Come to Town

The rural community and small city faces a new future. Electric service and all that electric power and light mean to home life, commercial and industrial development is now available for a more constructive and wider field of achievement.

Much work, planning, testing, engineering and large investments of capital was necessary in order to make this possible. Our 2600 miles of power transmission lines, interlacing 49 counties in West Texas and serving 160 towns and communities provide an adequate and economical source of dependable electric service with precise regulation to meet the requirements of modern day appliances.

Today hundreds of small West Texas towns and communities can offer to industry this modern electric service in proximity to its raw materials... two very necessary prerequisites for industrial progress.

We point with pride to our part in assisting the small towns and communities in this way, thus guaranteeing to them the same opportunities in respect to power as the larger metropolitan cities enjoy. It is our policy to fully co-operate with the small towns and communities we serve so that they may realize the full benefits accompanying and made possible by electrical development.

AT THE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

J. Perry King, Pastor

There is Always Worship Fellowship :: Service

Last Sunday found all the places of worship in our city beautifully decorated and well attended. I am happy to believe that we made a full Sabbath day's journey toward the better land. Your pastor preached on the one great doctrine that all Christians can and must unite, if there is anything to christianity, "The Resurrection of Christ." We learned that our hope is not vain, that our preaching is not vain, that our faith is well founded, and that we can follow our leader and fear no danger. Christ is our leader. He knows the way. We are to follow Him. The glories of the Resurrection Morning ought to stimulate all of us in our efforts towards making our churches better, our lives more attractive and our religion more convincing. They will provided we will ever keep in mind that every Sunday morning dawn in commemoration of that great event in the life of our Lord.

Make the prayer expressed in that beautiful little poem of Whittier concerning his church, "your prayer and see what a wholesome influence it will have in your life and for your church."

"O Master deign this church to bless,

This house of prayer, this home of rest; And let its doors a gateway be To lead us from ourselves to Thee."

Be in your place next Sunday to welcome the strangers and worship the Lord as your better self tells you to do. You will be happy and we will be happy because joy is something that multiplies when it is divided.

RURAL WRITERS BEING OFFERED REWARD HONORS

Journal of National Circulation Seeking The Best Correspondent

Editors of country newspapers throughout the United States are showing keen interest in the recognition which is being given to rural correspondents in a nationwide contest inaugurated by a national farm magazine.

A prize of $50 is to be given annually, for the best item of rural news published in the columns of a country newspaper. The first contest is now under way, and will close on May 20.

Scribes, their friends, and their editors are alike invited to send in entries. Any reader can submit his favorite clipping, provided only that it comes from the columns of a bonafide country newspaper and that it was published during the 1930's. Only printed news and comment will be judged.

Wheeler McMillen, editor of The Country Home, who has given the first year's prize and will act as chief judge in the contest, says in his preliminary statement:

"The country correspondent is the forgotten man of American letters. Novelists, poets, playwrights, historians, reporters for metropolitan newspapers, - - - all these have prizes to which they may aspire. But the country correspondent has had no such opportunity for recognition. We propose to give it to him.

"This prize is offered in the belief that such recognition is more than merited. The terms of the award are that it is to go to the best example of country correspondence submitted to us. We do not expect to unearth any great author, although many great authors have come from the ranks of the country correspondents. But we do expect to call greater attention than ever before to the excellent writing that comes from the farms and small towns, and is published in the local columns of the country newspapers.

"It is a simple, honest sort of

Preparing for Gardening In The Panhandle

Timely preparation is the secret of successful home gardening in the Panhandle, says Everett R. Clark, horticulturist at Panhandle A. & M. College, Goodwell, Okla.

Through soil conditioning, selection of good seed of adapted varieties, planning the garden, and starting tender plants inside are practices followed by successful gardeners everywhere. In the Panhandle, in addition to these, adequate irrigation and protection from the dust laden southwest winds are vitally necessary. The usual farm windmill will ordinarily provide sufficient water to irrigate a family garden while wind protection is best afforded by permanently located belts of trees and shrubs. However, farm buildings, board fences, and strips of burlap stretched between wires can be satisfactorily utilized where trees cannot be grown.

Tests at the Panhandle Experiment Station and the records of garden contestants have proved the worth of these practices. Panhandle Bulletin No. 48, "The high plains farm garden," which is available to interested persons, discusses these practices and also describes successful varieties of the various vegetable crops.

INTERESTING FACTS REGARDING TEXAS HISTORY IN AN EARLY EXCITING EPOCH

SERIES II, No. 9

It was not long after Texas won her independence from Mexico that thriving businesses of various kinds were established in the new republic. One of the earliest and most extensive of these, and one which projected itself not only through the lifetime of the founders, but through succeeding generations, was the mercantile house of Cartwright.

Matthew Cartwright was born in Wilson County, Tenn., November 11, 1807. He came to Texas with his parents in 1825, settling on a farm four miles east of the present site of San Augustine. In October, 1836, he was married to a neighbor girl, Amanda Holman. Sometime before his marriage he and his father entered the merchandising business together, he later buying out his father's interest and continuing operation in his own name until 1847. He had marked success in his business venture, and accumulated large properties. From 1847 to 1860, he became a real estate dealer, locating, buying and selling large and small tracts of promising Texas land. He was lenient with regard to terms, and not infrequently gave outright to widows the titles of lands their deceased husbands had failed to pay out. In 1865, he again entered the merchandising field with his sons, A. P. Cartwright and Leonidas Cartwright, continuing until his death April 2, 1870.

Records of the Cartwright business are among the family archives collection of the University of Texas library, and the correspondence of this firm is valuable in reflecting the economic conditions of early Texas. One of these documents is an agreement between Matthew Cartwright and his father, John Cartwright, on the occasion of their renewing their partnership after a lapse of some time.

"Free State of Coahuila & Texas

"Municipality of San Augustine
"An agreement made and entered into this March the 15th, eighteen hundred and thirty five: Be it known that John Cartwright and Matthew Cartwright of aforesaid municipality and State have this day agreed to put in an equal capital of thirty five hundred dollars each and renew the firm of M. Cartwright & Company for the term of one year for the purpose of carrying on a mercantile house in the town of San Augustine and any other speculation that may be agreed on by the parties. Conditions as follows: Matthew Cartwright agrees to take charge of the business of said firm and attend to it in every capacity according to its interest, with diligence and industry; in consideration of which, John Cartwright agrees to pay him five hundred dollars at the expiration of said firm—The goods and merchandise remaining on hand belonging to M. Cartwright & Co. are put in to the new firm at six hundred dollars. The firm agrees to receive of John Cartwright lot No. 147 and corner half of No. 145 in the town of San Augustine; at two hundred and fifty dollars as part of his stock. Either party failing to furnish his amount of stock to go into operation with said firm agrees to procure it on his credit by said party paying the amount at any time of the firm with fifteen per cent interest from the time of procuring said amount.

"It is agreed that the firm shall take the buildings on lot No. 145 and pay for them and all improvements that may be made on them. "Either of the parties shall have merchandise or goods for special use and consumption at a discount of twenty five per cent on the regular retail price. "M. Cartwright agrees to discontinue out of the amount to be paid him by J. Cartwright for the time that said J. Cartwright may have to attend to said business in M. Cartwright's absence.

"The conditions of the foregoing contract being complied with, the said John Cartwright and M. Cartwright shall be equally interested in all the property and effects belonging to said firm of M. Cartwright & Co.

"Equity & Justice our motto: Agreed to by the parties day and date before written.

(Signed) Jno. Cartwright
M. Cartwright

"By the consent of parties the before mentioned firm of M. Cartwright & Co. is continued until the 15th day of March 1837—said M. Cartwright takes charge on the same terms."

(Signed) Jno. Cartwright
M. Cartwright

Another of the Cartwright papers in the University collection affords a revealing glimpse of the early trade in cotton, from the first one of Texas' major industries. It is a letter addressed to M. Cartwright and Company, and came from a New Orleans firm of brokers, Peyroux Arcuelli & Company. Dated December 10, 1838, it reads as follows:

"We have not replied to your Mr. Cartwright's favor dated Natchitoches 1, September, ere this in consequence of the interruption of the navigation of red river, but having learnt that the water communication with Natchitoches is now reestablished we hasten to inform you of the due reception of that letter together with the therein enclosed remittance of a certificate of deposit of the City Bank for one thousand dollars the proceeds of which we place to your credit. The pressure in our money market still continues to exist notwithstanding our favorable anticipations and although nothing would be more agreeable to us, as to be able to wait until it may be quite convenient for you, to make us remittances, we find ourselves forced to crave your earliest activity on that subject. Texas Treasury notes instead of improving in value are lower now than formerly and we see them quoted 50 to 55 and 61 discount. We would therefore advise you not to loose any opportunity which might offer of disposing of those you hold at a reasonable sacrifice. Our cotton market is very firm and prime cotton fetch 14 readily whilst ordinary middling are selling at from 11 to 12½ good at 13. As the navigation is open now as far up as Shreveport we would be very glad if you could make an arrangement for an early shipment in that commodity and would even advise you to take cottons for your treasury notes whenever you can do so with advantage. Prices are not likely to decline much this season and may perhaps be much higher for even now there appears to be a tendency upwards."

The final examinations in Civics was given Friday and most of the class was well pleased with their grades. The rest of the final examinations will be given Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, so you should understand that we are working hard preparing for them.

By far the greater part of the huge annual crime bill is spent in the apprehension and trial of criminals and in housing them in reformatories, jails and prisons.

Our Weekly CHURCH CHAT

W. E. FERRELL
Minister First Christian Church

After Easter—What Shall We Do

A few days ago the churches of our land commemorated the resurrection of Christ. Easter Sunday, is listed as one of the greatest Church days. We told the whole world that we believed in Christ as the world's only Saviour and that He died and proved His divinity, by breaking the bonds of death and coming forth from the tomb.

Now is the best time in our lives to teach the world some lessons by example. If we believe in Christ as we said we did last Sunday, we must also believe that man has a transient body and an eternal soul. We believe that Christ rose from the dead, and that He lives on high, never to die again. We believe that because so lives, that we will also live beyond the grave and that in the fullness of time that we will be resurrected. The risen Christ is the visible witness to the sublime truth that the grave has no victory and death no sting.

With these thoughts in mind, what is our duty after Easter? The same lesson came to us today that came to the people on that first Easter morn. "Go and tell." There are yet thousands of people that do not know the power of Christ's resurrection, the power of the gospel, or the terms of salvation. Jesus would have us to go and tell the full story.

Jesus said that it was necessary for him to die and to arise according to the Scriptures, that remission of sin might be preached in His name. We are His witnesses of today. He proved His divinity for us and he commands us to go. If we believe that He had power to come forth from the tomb, why do we doubt the other things of His life and teaching. He wants us to be true witnesses, to tell the full story of His love and to make it clear to all people that He is Saviour indeed, with the power to save from sin. One of the best ways to be a true witness is to live the eternal truths that he Master taught and to show by our lives that we do believe in Him, his teachings, His commands, His promises and His threats. Easter is past for this year, but the work of telling the story rests with you.

LEADER FAMILY CONTINUES TO APPROVE QUALITY OF THIS COUNTY-WIDE WEEKLY

The success of a weekly publication depends upon so many factors that it is a difficult matter to readily place or designate its strongest support. The reader interest is said to be the most valuable asset of any publication. In that respect, the Leader has been a success.

The reader interest has been maintained through the cooperation of a number of contributors each week, this one being no exception. No one individual is entitled to any special credit.

A special effort is put forth each week to make the issue better than the week before. Each of the rural correspondents who loyally put their respective communities on the map each week, are due a lot of credit for having a public spirit—a willingness to help their home folks. We are just as glad to help them.

boy and later a rural teacher, paid a high tribute to the loyalty, earnestness and skill of the rural teachers—often under serious handicap. "The teacher has far more bearing upon the success of the pupil," he said, "than the method." The speaker used "Ray's Third Part" arithmetic as a basis of comparison when he stated that 7th graders now knew more arithmetic than their elders did when they got through school in the old days. He also advocated the teaching of music in the primary grades, and stated that primary teachers in the near future would be required to have musical training. He explained at length the advantages of the Junior College.

Wilson H. Gray, a trustee of the Goldston school, assumed charge of the "round table discussions" through the popular demand of all those present. Many were the interesting subjects that came to light during this period which cannot be enumerated here for lack of space.

W. A. Poovey gave a resume of the work of the County Board the past three years.

The late M. S. Swinburne, trustee of the Ashtola school, was paid high tribute after the crowd stood with bowed heads in respect to his memory. Dennis Smith, Ben Lovell and R. E. Drennan were appointed a committee to write resolutions to be presented to his family.

Toastmaster C. W. Howard, principal of the Bray school, appointed W. H. Gray, Geo. Cavanaugh, principal of the Martin school, Robt. Dillard, principal of the Ashtola school, Supt. Sloan Baker and W. A. Poovey as members of a committee to draw up the "principles" and recommendations of the Association. This article appears in this issue under the heading of "Teacher-Trustee Resolutions."

The excellent banquet was served by the ladies of the Christian church. The quality drew forth much praise and the actions of those served, better expressed appreciation than mere words.

Mrs. Morris had as her guests during the Easter holidays Mrs. G. Morris and her three children of Amarillo.

NECESSITY FOR—

when it was so dry that a crop could not be grown on the land during the normal growing season, that a catch cover crop for soil protection only should be planted even late in the season when it did rain.

Second, conserve all moisture that falls on the land in the form of snow or rain, thereby helping to grow crops which in turn will keep the soil from blowing. This moisture could be largely held where it falls by a good system of terraces and by contour listing.

Third, by maintaining a reserve of livestock feed on the farm so that during years of drouth, the farmer would not be compelled to over graze his fields and pastures in order to keep his stock alive. This feed reserve can be maintained by stacking bundles or by using trench silos. Mr. Finnell says that feed cut for bundles should be cut high so as to leave more stubble on the land.

Other control measures recommended for certain localities are, tree planting on a large scale for wind-breaks and retiring of marginal land, that blows easily, from cultivation and seeding it to permanent pastures. The basic treatment for the land in the Dalhart project seems to be the proper terracing of all farm land.

Miss Laverne Lott and her cousin Miss Marjorie Lott spent the Easter holidays visiting her mother, Mrs. Will Lott. Both girls are attending school at Lubbock.

Mrs. J. L. Allison and son Glen and Mrs. U. S. Absher visited her son U. E. Absher and family at Hobart, Okla. over the week end. Mrs. Absher remained to spend the summer with her son.

M. M. Noble has returned from Austin where he has been visiting his family.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Johnson announce the birth of a 7 1/2 lb. boy April 22nd. His name is Albert Louis II. Grandmother Cooper feels 10 years younger since the arrival of the grandson.

Miami Banker, Rancher And Builder Died Saturday

The Panhandle lost one of its most valuable citizens Saturday when Ben F. Talley died at a Pampa hospital. He suffered a stroke in a store early in the morning and died at 1:45 in a hospital.

Talley was a breeder of prize winning herefords of national reputation. A product of his herd won first place in the Amarillo stock show this spring, though it was brought from Mason county.

Funeral services were held Monday from the First Baptist church at Miami, Rev. Wilson in charge.

C. L. Benson and daughter, Mrs. Houston Bell, have returned from Hot Springs, Ark.

Mr. and Mrs. Dickey of Memphis spent Sunday here with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Everett and children of Hedley spent Easter Sunday in the home of Rev. and Mrs. Landreth. Mrs. Everett is a sister of Rev. Landreth.

Buff Orpington Hen Contests Egg Laying Record

Most any hen can lay an egg, when in the right mood. Several Donley county biddies have been breaking the records as to size of the cackleberry this spring.

The latest is one produced by a Buff Orpington on the R. L. Bellamy farm near Ashtola. This egg measures six and a half inches round, and eight inches over the ends. Considering the girth of the egg, the Buff seems to hold the record so far this season.

Tom Corder, operating the Corder service station here, attended a district meeting of Texaco agents in Amarillo Friday.

Mesdames Karl Adams, Sloan Baker, Potts, Heckle Starks, returned home Friday from Bowie where they attended the Dallas Presbyterial.

Misses Helen Martin, Beatrice Drew, and Lelia Clifford, all teachers in the Pampa school system, spent the Easter holidays in Clarendon with their home folks.
