Pre-Centennial Committees Become More Active As Opening Day Draws Nearer

Exhibits Will Likely be Shown in Display Windows of Business Houses as Volume of Collection Gets Capacity of Any Public Building

The various committees working on the big show to be held here July 4th which is termed a Pre-Centennial, have already begun to whip matters into line.

Since the parade will be the first outburst of the day, Chairman Homer Mulkey has helping him such weather-worn stalwarts of blizzard and dust storm experience as Winks Adams, Jimmy Moore and Ed Fox. All old-time cow-punchers before the "cow waddies" came along. Ed claims to have made the first sour dough bread that Adam ate in the Garden of Eden. Fact is, Ed is quite an old timer.

Jerome Stocking, himself a pioneer of near a half century, is in charge of exhibits—prehistoric and modern. Helping him are misses Lorraine Patrick and Jo Ella Stewart. Also Bill Chamberlain and J. C. Estlack, both relics of a past age.

Stocking already has lined up a number of old-time photos. One shows the first train entering Clarendon back in 1888. Another takes you back to meat market days with beef, deer and antelope hams hanging in front of the market about where the First National bank now stands.

Relics, pictures, clothing or anything else of interest is wanted by Mr. Stocking. Old guns, Bowie knives, ox yokes and other relics of the famed "good old days" are wanted. All relics loaned will be carefully guarded and returned to the owner.

Anybody know any old songs? Sloan Baker wants to make up a list. He is head of the vocal department. Remember way back when "Hard Times Come Again No More" was a popular ballad? They used to sing it around Tascosa in the early '80s. Hand him a list of hymns, sentimental or other songs.

Bill Patman and Frank Whitlock promise barbecue a-plenty for the pioneers who came to the Panhandle before 1895. Then the trimmings will be used in a pot of "county attorney", if we may use the more polite form.

The long list of other committees will have something to announce next week. A strong effort is being made to out-do anything that has ever been attempted before.

CONG. MARTIN DIES

Congressman Martin Dies, of Texas, will speak on the subject, "The Alien Menace to America." The local groups of these patriotic orders will be in session to listen to this program. Congressman Dies is an able speaker and the outstanding National leader in the effort to restrict immigration and deport the millions of aliens who are unlawfully in our country. We plan to have millions of people to listen in and we think this is a most important program in the effort to combat un-American activities and propaganda.

Geo. B. Bagby spent the first of the week in Dallas attending a life insurance convention.

SOFT BALL LEAGUE

Last Thursday the Highway boys gave the Lions a real taming. Both teams were in fine shape, but the Highway bunched their hits at the proper time, winning the game by a score of 17 to 9. Summary, Highway 17 runs, 22 hits. Lions, 9 runs, 17 hits. Umpires, Bradley and Jones.

Friday's game was won by the Transient Team on a forfeit, the Chamberlain team failed to put in their appearance. In order not to disappoint the large crowd of fans that had assembled, a game was played by the Transient team and an All Star pick-up team. The Transient boys showed they were ready to play ball by beating the "All Stars" with a score of 22 to 14. Umpires Cobb and Rhodes.

Monday the F. F. A. gave the Baptist team their second beating of the season and winning their first game. The F. F. A.'s revealed the fact that they had some real stars. Reid the catcher had five chances at the bat made four safe hits, was walked one time and brought in five runs. T. Behrens, manager of the team thrilled the spectators with his wonderful fielding ability, saving the day several times with long running catches. The Baptist boys played good ball but could not get their hits timed so they would count for runs. B. Allison, A. Cobb and R. Nichols each are credited with home run hits. Summary F. F. A. 13 Runs, 23 hits. Baptists, 5 runs, and 12 hits. Umpires Reiger and McCrary.

Tuesday's game, the fastest of the week. The Lions crossed bats with the Methodist and gave the fans a good game from start to finish. The Lions took the lead early in the game and held the Methodist boys in a tight place until the last inning. The Methodist team staged a wonderful rally and ran in six runs in the last inning. Summary, Methodist, 8 runs, 16 hits. Lions, 6 runs, 12 hits. Umpires, Williams and Jones.

A new team will be organized to take the place of the Chamberlain team which has dropped out.

Dramatics Club to Present Play at Goldston

The Clarendon Dramatics Class will present the comedy "Look Out, Lizzie" at the Goldston school house Tuesday June 18th at 8:15 o'clock. This will be their seventh time to present this play.

"Look Out, Lizzie" tells the story of backwoods farmers making their comical bow into society life so their daughter could make an impression on her fellow from the city. It is good for plenty of laughter. There will be entertainment between acts also. This is the last time this play will be given in Donley County and those who have not seen it should not miss this opportunity.

Clarendon Pioneers Attend Pampa Pre-Centennial

Among the number from this county attending the Pampa celebration were Mrs. J. B. Baird and Mrs. Annie Hall, each of whom came to the Panhandle in 1887.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Baker and their daughter, Mrs. W. H. Tice who came to the upper Panhandle in 1900, were there.

Others from here were J. M. Hill, Frank Whitlock, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Drennon and daughter Ethlyn, Homer Mulkey who went up Friday.

FOUR ARE HURT SUNDAY NIGHT IN AUTO COLLISION

Auto and Truck Hit Head-On On White Hill East of Hedley at Midnight

White hill two miles east of Hedley, the scene of many minor wrecks, was the place where an auto and a truck came together near midnight Sunday battering both vehicles and injuring four occupants.

C. T. McCartney, salesman for the IHC company of Memphis was the one most seriously injured according to Deputy sheriff Guy Wright. McCartney had a leg mashed and a bad hip injury. He was taken to a Memphis hospital.

Geo. Menninger, riding with McCartney, was cut and bruised on his arms, but not seriously. The auto, driven by Charles Pierce of Clarendon, also contained Mrs. Pansy Graham and her small son as occupants. Pierce received head injuries and bruises. Mrs. Graham received only minor injuries.

The lad asleep on the back seat was protected by a suitcase at the time of the impact and escaped without a scratch, Mr. Wright said. A Memphis ambulance was called and took the more seriously injured to a Memphis hospital.

Daughter of R. Dean Shure Dies in Maryland

Miss Mary Bertha Shure, aged 20, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Dean Shure of Tacoma Park, Maryland, died June 5th after an illness of eight weeks. The information comes from a clipping received by Mrs. L. S. Bagby, and taken from the Evening Star, a Washington city publication near the home of the Shures.

Miss Shure was born in Clarendon May 13, 1915. Her father was head instructor in the department of music of old Clarendon college at the time. She is survived by her parents and one brother, Ralph, who is an attorney in Chicago.

Apricot Tree 47 Years Old Bears Fruit Again

A tree of the apricot variety on the old Harvey homestead near Chillicothe still is bearing at 47 years. Some fruit off this tree was brought to the Leader office Monday by Misses Ethel Harvey and Lucile Polk who, with Miss Grace Harvey visited the grandparents of the Misses Harvey near Chillicothe Sunday.

The apricots are of full size, beautiful color and fine flavor. The young ladies also enjoyed a cherry crop while down there, and brought back a quantity of nice fruit of each variety for canning.

Little Miss of Three Sets Fishing Record Here

Fishing stories of a more or less astounding nature are often reported from the lakes around Lelia, but it remains for a little girl of slightly more than three years to set a record that will not likely be equaled soon.

Ira Jean Estlack is the name of the little tot who, with cane pole and regulation habiliments, snatched from the waters of Taylor lake Monday night two catfish, one of which weighed more than a pound.

Her photo was made early Tuesday morning as she proudly displayed her catch of the night before. She is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred D. Estlack.

Next Sunday is Father's Day But He Expects Little

Some how there is no program for Father's Day. He must get along just as he always has. Next Sunday, June 16th has been set aside for him, but that is about all. He is saying little about it. Perhaps he will not think of it at all. At any rate, some one was thoughtful enough of him to suggest a "day" and he got it. Every dog has his day, and why not father?

CITIZENS HONOR GOVERNOR ALLRED WITH BREAKFAST

Judge W. T. Link Presides As Master of Ceremonies Friday Morning

Governor James V. Allred found the same enthusiastic welcome awaiting him upon his arrival here Friday morning at 7 o'clock that has been accorded him on every other occasion.

This was the Governor's first visit here since the campaign at which time he was introduced by J. C. Estlack when voters from all over the county heard him speak near the Antro hotel. W. P. Cagle, ever an ardent supporter of Allred, presided at this meeting, and was on hand to welcome Jimmie, as he affectionately knows his favorite, as the train rolled in Friday.

GOV. JAMES V. ALLRED

Despite the early hour, a large number of representative citizens from day laborers to bank president were on hand to greet the Governor. He made no distinction, mixing with his friends in boyish enthusiasm that characterizes his every day life.

Arrangements had been made by the editor of the Donley County Leader for a breakfast honoring the visit of the Governor. The information was spread by word of mouth and telephone and no selection of any special citizens was attempted. It was strictly a family affair to which any one was welcome.

The breakfast was prepared by the ladies of the Christian church. It pleased the visitors who were permitted to eat and do all the speech-making. Judge Link presided and James L. Standridge, pastor of the Church of Christ, delivered the invocation.

Ed Clark, private secretary to the Governor and former assistant attorney general made the first talk. He was followed by Col. H. Otto Studer of Pampa, a member of the Governor's staff. Both men took occasion to inject wit in plenty which was relished by the large number of home folks present.

Governor Allred spoke "off the record" in which he gave a resume of his stewardship as governor up to date. He was frequently cheered as he stated his definite stand on matters of vital concern to all the citizens of all the state. Allred is not a sectionalist by any means. But he is said to be the first governor of Texas to really discover that the Panhandle of Texas is a part of the state proper.

He left here for Pampa in the company of Col. Studer and Gilmore Nunn. He spoke before the thousands attending Pampa's Pre-Centennial celebration, and to the Young Democrats at Amarillo Friday night.

While here the Governor stated the object of his visit in one sentence when he said, "On my other visits I came to ask your help. At this time I want to come back and thank you for the big majority you have given me in every race I have ever made."

John R. Ragland, recently returned from Texas Tech where he attended school during the last term, left Tuesday for Wichita Falls where he will enter the employ of the Shamburger lumber company.

HIGHWAY FIVE PAVING AWAITS FEDERAL ORDERS

Instructions to Use Ninety Percent of Relief Funds On Pick and Shovel

Depending largely on relief funds allotted by the federal government with which to supplement state highway funds, the Highway Commission has reached the crossroads this week because the federal department instructs that "90 percent of the funds must be spent for labor."

Harry Hines, chairman of the Highway Commission, is of the opinion that materials cannot be had for improvement when purchased with the remaining 10 percent.

Relief labor has been used extensively on grade and drainage projects, it is said, but machinery and materials are largely used in paving or other finishing on the grade.

Harry Hines and other state officials will be in Washington Saturday in an attempt to clarify matters that gaps may be completed at the earliest possible moment. Until this matter is settled, no paving will be done on Highway 5 or 66, it is announced.

Donkey Baseball Game To Be At Clarendon Tuesday

Announcement is made of the coming of a trained bunch of burros from the backs of which a real baseball game may be played, so states Homer Mulkey, the only battle-scarred veteran of donkey ball in the county. Mr. Mulkey got mixed up in an Amarillo game last year in which he played from the under side not knowing the difference until he became a battered wreck.

This will be a rough and tumble game. One continuous comedy act through the entire game. The Transient Camp boys will match their team skill against one of the City's.

Don't forget the date. College Park, Tuesday, June 18th at 2 p. m.

There are seven of the Amendments. They cover a number of important subjects on which the voters must pass judgment August 24th.

FOSSIL HUNTERS UNEARTH SPECIES OF RARE HORSE

Find in Donley County Gets Attention of Scientists Of Large Museums

The relief workers under the direction of Will Chamberlain, local paleontologist, have located among several interesting specimens a complete jawbone of an ancient horse that inhabited this section during the late Miocene or Pliocene era.

This specimen is known as "Hipparian" to scientists and passed from the scene in the Pliocene age, but not before it had given rise to some 35 species. This specimen retained the two outer toes, though they did not reach the ground.

Some of this species improved their teeth beyond anything known in the present day horse—the grinding teeth by which it is most readily recognized.

This form of teeth indicates a drouth condition when herbage was dry and tough. Its feet were better adapted to running or traveling over a wider area in less time than its ancestors.

Other specimens of horse found in the local fossil beds had as many as four toes, lived in swamps and was little larger than a jack-rabbit, it is claimed.

A representative from the University of Southern California museum came early in the week with a view of purchasing this new "find", but went away disappointed. Mr. Chamberlain informed the visitor that the Canyon Panhandle-Plains Museum was entitled to the rare find, one of the very few of its kind intact.

PANHANDLE WILL GET MILLIONS IN CONSERVING SOIL

Giant Soil Erosion Project Will Begin in Full Swing About July 1st

Two million dollars is now available to prosecute plans for soil erosion in the Panhandle of Texas under the direction of regional director H. H. Fennell whose headquarters is located in Dalhart.

The west Texas area will be allotted $5,250,000 out of $25,000,000 allotted to five southwestern states, Kansas, Colorado, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Texas.

President Roosevelt gave representatives of Texas his assurance recently that a complete soil conservation plan would be made workable, and put into effect during the summer.

Congressman Marvin Jones, chairman of the powerful agricultural committee, is given credit for being responsible for the soil erosion plans. It is due largely to his influence that the millions have been allotted the work at this time.

Donley and surrounding counties are included in this soil conservation plan that will include terracing and ditching.

Mrs. J. D. Jefferies and Granddaughters Ruth and Jean McDonald visited in Childress Sunday.

STATUES OF PIONEER MOTHERS.

There never has been a statue of a pioneer mother that accurately told the story. A woman standing holding a child and peering toward the west with the breezes fanning her skirt does not begin to portray her as she existed in real life.

The old-time pioneer mother tramped behind oxen teams foot-sore and tired. Often she carried her baby—the babe born in a log hut without medical aid.

She made her home in a half dugout on the far flung, wind swept plains where mesquite brush became her clothesline. She guarded her little brood with the aid of a gun and unerring aim against Indians and outlaws.

But she stuck and western civilization became a reality because of the grit and determination of mothers who knew not fear in any form.

ALIENS AND THE LABOR SITUATION.

Congressman Martin Dies of Texas protests against America's alien population. Meaning of course that those who have no legal residency in our nation.

"The Alien Menace of America" will be the subject of Mr. Dies' talk over the NBC broadcasting system the evening of June 21st from 9:30 to 10 p. m.

He proposes that a law be passed stopping foreign emigration from every country. Not only that, but he wants those illegal residents sent back home. He says that we have 3,500,000 aliens in the nation who have gained entrance unlawfully.

Congressman Dies wants Americans to have the jobs now being absorbed by the six million aliens and those who have not complied with the requirements of citizenship.

Protesting against the Dies idea comes first the Jewish members of our national lawmaking bodies. Next the factory district registers a protest as the aspect of higher priced labor looms when the cheap hands of southern Europe are sent away.

It is one of the few purely American protection laws advanced in the several years of our alleged depression. The passage of such a law would materially help.

In the southwest, thousands of Mexicans, a few Japs and Chinese gain entrance to Uncle Sam's domain each year without complying with any legal requirements. The Orientals are smuggled in, and the Mexicans come over the Rio Grande at their leisure because border patrols are not sufficient in number to keep them out.

Knee-Action Proves Popular With Chevrolet Owners

Individual front wheel suspension, or knee-action, although introduced in America only last year, has established a new record for quick acceptance by the motoring public, surpassing every other major improvement in the history of automobiles, according to J. M. Crawford, chief engineer, Chevrolet Motor Co.

"At the automobile shows in January, 1934," Mr. Crawford said, "knee-action was a novelty. At the end of the year, 1,058,507 automobiles equipped with coil spring knee-action suspensions had been registered, representing 56 per cent of the total registrations in the United States last year. This far surpasses the records of all other important automobile developments, including the electric starter, four-wheel brakes, balloon tires, and lacquer finish, all of which are now in universal use.

"Knee-action now has passed the conclusive test of owner-use just as successfully as it passed all the rigorous laboratory and proving ground tests that engineers could devise.

"Manufacturers who adopted correctly designed individual front wheel suspension last year knew not only that it would fulfill the main purpose for which it was intended—that is, to improve the ride—but that it would work other benefits of nearly equal importance. Actually, these incidental benefits alone would justify the use of knee-action even if there were no improvements in the riding qualities of the car. This is especially true of the all-enclosed type of knee-action unit, which has worked so great an improvement in steering that, if a less costly way were discovered to give equally good front-end springing, we could not adopt it if it meant a return to the old style steering arrangement.

"This improvement in steering is not merely in sensation and handling, but in the mechanics and the geometry of the entire steering layout. With all-enclosed knee-action, all the steering connections, and even the king-pins, are attached to the chassis frame. Thus the drag link and tie rod are entirely stabilized, unaffected by the ups and downs of the front wheels, no matter how rough the road. This, of course, means the complete elimination of shock in the steering wheel and of rapid wear in the steering connections and in the steering gear itself. As a result, after a year's experience with cars in the field, we found it possible in our 1935 knee-action models to make changes tending toward the ideal steering mechanism, and to avoid compromises that were required when we used conventional springing.

"Knee-action progress in the last twelve months has not been in engineering and production alone. Far greater progress has been made among motorists in proving the advantages of the suspension. A year ago, there was a belief among motorists that knee-action was 'an experiment.' It was not, of course, for European cars had used it for years, and its use overseas is increasing every year. Other objections were as baseless,

Now, a year's use has answered all the questions about knee-action and its strength, durability, safety and practicability."

Relief Allotments for June To be Radically Reduced

Austin, June 3.—Radically reduced allotments for the relief population of Texas are in prospect for the month of June, it has been announced by Adam R. Johnson, state relief administrator.

Federal authorities notified Johnson that the state will receive $2,500,000 for general relief, although application was made for more than $4,000,000. Budgets, therefore, were made up on the basis of a state caseload of 210,000. Although the caseload has dropped steadily since January 1, Washington officials have repeatedly expressed dissatisfaction with the number of families on relief in Texas.

"Accordingly, our case grants will be reduced from $17 in May to about $10 in June," Johnson said, "and our total relief disbursement from $5,612,000 in May to $3,391,000 in June."

"Although at first sight this may appear to be dreadfully severe, we expect thousands of cases to quit the relief rolls in June for employment on farms where they can make more than the $10 we are able to give them. Farmers everywhere are calling for labor to help them cultivate their crops and we feel that in the case of the employable families there should not be any suffering because of this reduced grant."

June funds will be spent by the counties for purposes described in the following budget:

General relief, $2,125,342; hospitalization, $8,963; rural subsistence, $725,063; capital goods, $532,154.

To meet these obligations, the Texas Relief Commission will receive $2,500,000 from the federal government and $400,000 of state funds for general relief. Other grants for the special program of rural rehabilitation, student aid and emergency education are expected to be received from federal sources during the month.

Young Texans in Transient Camps Now Eligible For Conservation Program

Austin, June 4.—Young Texans in transient camps in the state have been ruled eligible for enrollment in the Civilian Conservation Corps provided they can meet all other enrollment requirements, it was announced this week by Neal Guy, enrollment supervisor for Texas, following instructions received from the Department of Labor in Washington.

"Heretofore, unattached transients have not been allowed to participate in the Conservation program," said Guy, "but the new work program under the Relief Appropriation Act of 1935 is intended to provide employment for all those on public relief rolls. Therefore, if a young unattached Texas transient is a member of a relief roll family, he may become enrolled in the Conservation Corps. He must be enrolled in his home county, but is not sent home from the transient camp until AFTER all arrangements for his enrollment have been made."

The new ruling on transients coincides with another new provision that all members of the Civilian Conservation Corps must be members of relief roll families. In the past, as many relief boys as possible were enrolled first, after which boys from borderline families were enrolled to fill the quota. This latter group numbered approximately 20 per cent of the total enrollment. Under the new provision, for every boy enrolled, a family will be removed from the relief rolls, as the enrollee's salary is sent to his family.

Texas' quota for the next enrollment, to take place between July 15 and August 31, is 12,780. This will mean the removal of the same number of families from the relief rolls, affecting approximately 50,000 individuals.

Enough boys will be enrolled at first to fill the state's existing 55 Civilian Conservation Camps, after which enrollment will be made as fast as the 43 new camps now under construction are completed. Approximately 7,000 will be sent to camps in neighboring states.

TEMPLE OF TRUTH
By the Apostle

Having one home man introduce another home man, who, in turn introduces the visiting speaker, is about as sensible as parking a set of false teeth in the mouth of a babe before the regular teething period.

Were you ever "perturbed"? Being perturbed is the bitter moment which most human beings stung by the ego bug have to face, as reality and personal evaluations clash. It's a painful moment of adjustment between life as you think it should be, shrouded in imaginary personal greatness, and life as it is—hard, real and uncompromising. That's the reason some fellows who imagine themselves leading citizens, eventually wake up to find that the neighbors regard him as nothing more than a public nuisance.

Publisher Lyman Robbins of Memphis who generally regards himself as a republican, loaded the Memphis Gold Medal band aboard a bus and headed to Clarendon Friday when he heard that a governor opposed to the NRA was to make a talk. When the bus arrived and it turned out to be Gov. Allred and brass collar democrats celebrating, the band was taken on to Pampa for the Pre-Centennial celebration. That just goes to show how our republican friends are going to snap into the campaign next year. There's not an individual democrat in the Panhandle who can influence a band like Lyman Robbins.

This is the time of the year when we learn for sure whether the school mar'm is really married or whether all that has been said is plain gossip.

Some pie crust tastes as if it had been built with the aid of a trowel.

Shezza Fizzle says that some girls wonder why they are stared at as they pass along the sidewalk, but as for herself, if there is any staring done toward her, she knows right off that something rather important is slipping down.

After attending a dutch lunch Tuesday night where limburger was an item on the menu, Ima Falyure says she woke up next morning with a taste in her mouth like the inside of a bird cage, or like a Russian army had camped there for a week, or somebody had crawled in there and died during the dust storms, or - - -

Three days after a drygoods store had been robbed, the manager received the following letter: "Dear Sir: When we get a chance, we will ship the suits back to you. They are marked so high we can't sell 'em."

After listening to a number of speeches by Young Democrats in that Amarillo convention, I came to the conclusion that the average member is of the opinion that he symbolizes the spirit of America. His eyes search the heavens for a greater destiny; his voice is a symphony of conquest; he is an inspirer of men; he challenges the unacquainted; he embodies fear conquered and courage crowned king; he is the call to high adventure with a forward look and an upward reach; his voice cries from the highest cliff of a crumbling empire. He has hitched his political chariot to the stars of plenty, happiness and peace—the upward march of man has just begun.

A Young Democrat delegate rushed out of the Herring late Saturday night in a mad rush for the Amarillo Denver depot three blocks north. Being a stranger, he asked a part time constable how far it was to the depot. The constable histed his cigar with the dignity of a major general, readjusted his tinplate badge and inquired: "Well sir, young man, that all depends on where you are measuring from."

Hobo: "Mister, spare me a dollar?"

Citizen: "You mean a dime, don't you?"

Hobo: "Naw!! Dadgummit, you run your business and I'll run mine."

A city raised student writes the following thesis in obtaining his M. A. degree:

"The cow is a female quadruped with an alto voice and a countenance in which there is no guile.

She collaborates with the pump in the production of a liquid called milk, provides the filler for hash, and at last is skinned by those she has benefitted, as mortals commonly are.

The young cow is called a calf, and is used in the manufacture of a chicken salad.

The cow's tail is mounted aft and has a universal joint. It is used to disturb marauding flies, and the tassel on the end has unique educational value. Persons who milk cows and come often in contract with the tassel have vocabularies of peculiar and impressive force.

The cow has two stomachs. The one on the ground floor is used as a warehouse and has no other function. When this one is filled the cow retires to a quiet place where her ill manners will occasion no comment and devotes herself to belching. The raw material thus conveyed for the second time to the interior of her face is pulverized and delivered to the auxiliary stomach where it is converted into the cow.

The cow has no upper plate. All of her teeth are parked in the lower part of her face. This arrangement was perfected by an efficiency expert to keep her from gumming things up. As a result, she bites up and gums down.

A slice of cow is worth 8 cents in the cow, 14 cents in the hands of the packers, and $2.40 in a restaurant that specializes in atmosphere.

A poor man is a blamed fool, but a rich man stung by the same bug is "eccentric." One fellow visiting our office has a "nonchalant" habit of chewing up our gum paper. He must have cultivated an appetite for glue by eating limburger cheese in his more prosperous days.

One of the many boneheads in my experience was in meeting a friend of many years ago who was accompanied by a small son. I complimented the lad on many points but failed to elicit much interest from my old friend. I found out later that it was his wife's son by a former husband.

Letter received at the Relief Office in a large city:

About the only thing going on around town this week is the preparation for the Pre-Centennial exhibit here July 4th. The farmer folks are busy with their planting and we are as dull as San Diego before the fleet got back there Monday.

Duststorms in the Panhandle

Herbert W. Foster (9th grade, Amarillo schools) The dust storms in this country—They inspire both awe and fear, They whistle 'round the corners With noises loud and drear.

The young children, O my brothers Have dirt behind their ears; The soil upon their faces Hides both their smiles and tears.

The housewives and their helpers, Like hardy folk of yore, Daintly wield the broom and sweeper,— And it only blows the more.

The ranchers in the country, Who have held out to the last, Stand still with awe and wonder And watch their lands go past.

The workmen in the city, When dirt they move away, Simply loosen it with shovels— It will be gone before the day.

And when the wily redskin Dying—bit the dust, He was observing an old custom That's been handed down to us.

"Border-Land Christians"

Num. 32:1-5. Multitudes of Christians are seemingly content to live in the border-land of Christian experiences, preferring the commonplace type of religious life, with all its worldliness, to the spiritual privileges and enjoyments of life hid with Christ in God. Paul in I. Corinthians calls the "carnal Christians." Like the tribes of Reuben and Gad, they prefer to dwell on the outskirts of spiritual privileges and power.

I. The border-land Christian is more interested in securing temporal, than spiritual advantages. Prospects of worldly prosperity is more alluring than possibility of spiritual privilege. Reuben and Gad asked, not where is the best place to bring up our families, but where is the best place for our stock, the best place for our cattle.

II. The border-land Christians are satisfied with partial conquest of spiritual foes. Reuben and Gad had done some faithful fighting, had helped to clear the land of some of God's enemies, but they were satisfied with this and wanted to settle down, while the whole land was filled with enemies. The border-land Christian, starts well, conquers some foes, overcomes some faults, but is satisfied to stop when the work is only well begun. He enthrones Christ in his heart, but leaves much soul territory in the hands of his enemy.

III. The borderland Christian's influence is discouraging to aggressive Christian work. Moses was displeased with their request, because it was calculated to "discourage the hearts of the people." Border-land Christians are always somewhat of a weight in every spiritual campaign. When a revival is suggested or aggressive work planned, they are always the pastor's field rather than his working forces.

IV. Border-land Christians are always the first to fall away in time of spiritual stress. Reuben and Gad separated from the rest of the tribes, by the river Jordan, were soon out of touch with the national spirit and the religious life. They were exposed to the first attack of Israel's enemies. They were always getting into trouble and needed much attention.

A FLAG DAY THOUGHT

To live for one's country in time of peace, someone has said, is quite as essential to true patriotism as to be ready to die for one's country in time of war.

This is a fitting thought to ponder on the one hundred and Fifty-ninth anniversary of the adoption of the Stars and Stripes as the flag of the United States of America.

The flag of no other nation today is as much as 159 years old, for no other flag has remained unchanged during that period.

And that fact itself is a symbol which has become incorporated with the flag, a momentous fact which the flag represents increasingly with every passing year.

For it has not been only the valor of our people on the field of battle that has kept it flying so proudly for nearly a century and a half.

It has been also the faithfulness of the people to the principles upon which the Nation was founded, day by day, through all of those years.

When the national safety is threatened by enemies from without, that flag rallies us to the country's defense and leads America's sons into battle.

But there are foes within, foes of the precious things for which that flag stands, and against whom it is quite as much our duty and interest to defend it.

It is not merely lip-service of the hip-hip-hurrah character which we should render the flag in time of peace, but the service which consists of devotion to the ideals for which this Nation stands and of which the flag is the symbol.

County agent Breedlove and Ernest Lamb had official business in Childress Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Shipley left Tuesday for Long Beach, Cal., after spending several days here with her brother, D. F. Wadsworth and family.

"WE HAVE IT" . . . for homes, for farms, for towns and cities, for industries.

ELECTRIC POWER!

West Texas is abundantly supplied with power resources. The West Texas Utilities Company's 2,600 miles of transmission lines are linked with modern, strategically located generating stations, bringing power to you wherever it is needed.

"Let's Have Cheap Power!" We Have That, Too.

Power is a commodity which grows cheaper the more it is used. The power from this company's lines, available every hour in the day or night for a variety of uses, can be purchased cheaper than it can be manufactured by the individual city, or the individual industry, farm or homes.

"Let's Have Abundant Power, for a More Abundant Life." We Have That in West Texas, Too.

You may recall, many years ago, when some neighbor was able to boast of his electric lights through cords hanging from the ceiling. Light was expensive then, only the well-to-do could buy this service. Today, everybody uses electric service, for the electric dollar buys now an abundant amount, about three times as much electric service as it did before the World War. Electric service is delivered to you now so cheap that its daily cost can be counted in pennies.

The area served by the West Texas Utilities Company has ample power facilities to meet the demands of this growing and progressive "Land of Opportunity," West Texas.

ADIEU.

I saw the trembling lips:
I heard your stifled sob that night
As I touched your finger tips

I could not let you know I cared
Because we had to part:
And so I only kissed your cheek
To hide a broken heart.

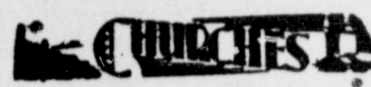

All day I held my head quite high
And wore a clown's gay mask:
You could not know how my heart
cried
As I fulfilled each task.

But when you left and all was still
The robin's mournful song
Brought tears to throbbing eyes to think
You'd be away so long

Clarendon Lady's Recipe Is Given Recognition

Mrs. Audrey West, daughter of Mrs. H. J. Eddington of this city, has been awarded a Certificate of endorsement by Better Homes & Gardens, a national publication, for her recipe, "Anne's Special Sauce."

The recipe is given below:
1 pint mayonnaise (2 level cups)
6 tablespoons ketchup
3 teaspoons Wooster sauce
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1/4 teaspoon table salt

Mix the above ingredients well and place in a covered jar in a cold place. This dressing or sauce is good on lettuce or other green salads, and on meats (especially weiner sandwiches) using hot toasted buns with a thin slice of tomato and a leaf of lettuce. It may be used as a sauce for sea foods.

Haunting music of Victor Herbert, blended with thundering drama of the founding of a great city, and with a delicate love romance running through it; such is "Naughty Marietta," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's spectacular translation to the screen of Victor Herbert's masterpiece, which will be shown Sunday and Monday, 16-17 at the Pastime Theatre.

Jeanette MacDonald, who never was more beautiful nor sang so divinely, and Nelson Eddy, young American operatic baritone, who makes his debut as a screen hero with a performance that indicates he is on the screen to stay, head an elaborate cast.

Jeanette MacDonald

Songs You Can't Forget
The story is staged on a spectacular scale. Huge settings, including a replica of old New Orleans of Creole days, gorgeous costumes, and intense dramatic action embellishing such song hits as "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," "I'm falling in Love with Someone," "Chansonette," "The Italian Street Song," and other immortal Herbert music.

W. S. Van Dyke, directing, injected many deft touches of artistry into the romance of the French princess who fled to New Orleans to escape a state marriage, and there found romance in a young English army officer.

Have Prominent Roles
A specially elaborate cast surrounds the two principals, including Elsa Lanchester (Mrs. Charles Laughton), Frank Morgan, who plays the pleasure-loving governor, Douglas Dumbrille as the stern French prince, and others.

Miss MacDonald wears several elaborate costumes throughout the action of the picture in Paris and Louisiana. Miss Lanchester, in a whimsical role which she plays deftly, is also elaborately costumed. Comedy is provided by Edward Brophy and Harold Huber as Eddy's two sergeants, and little Cora Sue Collins (Baby Garbo) adds charm as little Felice. Other notable players in the great cast are Akim Tamiroff as the puppeteer, Joseph Cawthorne as Herr Schumann, Greta Meyer, Walter Kingsford, Cecilia Parker and Walter Long.

The pirate capture of the ship bearing the Casquette Girls, the great "Marriage Auction" of New Orleans, the fight in the Everglades between scouts and pirates, the recapture of the princess, are among the dramatic highlights of the production.

Donley County Man Visiting In South Texas

The following excerpts are taken from a letter written by A. L. Mill-sap, who is visiting his son at Fairbanks, Texas:

On the way here made a short stop at A&M College, and had the pleasure of riding the very noted freak horse whose mother is a mule. He is a beautiful blood bay stallion twelve years old and weighs eleven hundred pounds, normal in every way, a first class saddle horse, gentle but full of pep. He is the only known one of his kind in existence.

Have visited many historical points including the site of the first capital of the republic of Texas located then at Harrisburg, now part of the city of Houston. Visited San Jacinto battlefield; stood under the great oak where Santa Anna surrendered to general Sam Houston. In viewing this spot, one has the feeling as if treading on sacred ground, as a backward glance recalls the historical event which brought liberty to the struggling Texans. The great king of the forest stands only a few feet from the bay, and with its towering height and waving foliage, it gives promise of many more years of monumental honor to the great father of Texas. The spot is marked with a granite slab giving details of the historical event.

Monuments mark all important points on the battlefield, including the beginning of the struggle carrying you to the point where Deaf Smith cut the bridge blocking the retreat of the cowardly Mexican army. A son of general Sam Houston, now an old man is keeper of the battle field which immortalized the name of his illustrious father.

Too much water for good fishing at present. Plenty of squirrel down here, but according to an old hunter there are other varmints in this neck of the woods beside squirrels.

According to the story the old tribesman was hunting near the mouth of the Brazos, and seeing a large steer fall he investigated and learned the animal had been pierced through the heart by a giant mosquito and just then another giant member of the cousin family appeared and said where will we eat him, here, or carry him down by the creek? The answer was we will eat him here, if we take him to the creek those big fellows will take him away from us.

Am eating corn off the cob and vegetables galore.

Donley County Man Visiting In South Texas

The following excerpts are taken from a letter written by A. L. Mill-sap, who is visiting his son at Fairbanks, Texas:

On the way here made a short stop at A&M College, and had the pleasure of riding the very noted freak horse whose mother is a mule. He is a beautiful blood bay stallion twelve years old and weighs eleven hundred pounds, normal in every way, a first class saddle horse, gentle but full of pep. He is the only known one of his kind in existence.

Have visited many historical points including the site of the first capital of the republic of Texas located then at Harrisburg, now part of the city of Houston. Visited San Jacinto battlefield; stood under the great oak where Santa Anna surrendered to general Sam Houston. In viewing this spot, one has the feeling as if treading on sacred ground, as a backward glance recalls the historical event which brought liberty to the struggling Texans. The great king of the forest stands only a few feet from the bay, and with its towering height and waving foliage, it gives promise of many more years of monumental honor to the great father of Texas. The spot is marked with a granite slab giving details of the historical event.

Monuments mark all important points on the battlefield, including the beginning of the struggle carrying you to the point where Deaf Smith cut the bridge blocking the retreat of the cowardly Mexican army. A son of general Sam Houston, now an old man is keeper of the battle field which immortalized the name of his illustrious father.

Too much water for good fishing at present. Plenty of squirrel down here, but according to an old hunter there are other varmints in this neck of the woods beside squirrels.

According to the story the old tribesman was hunting near the mouth of the Brazos, and seeing a large steer fall he investigated and learned the animal had been pierced through the heart by a giant mosquito and just then another giant member of the cousin family appeared and said where will we eat him, here, or carry him down by the creek? The answer was we will eat him here, if we take him to the creek those big fellows will take him away from us.

Am eating corn off the cob and vegetables galore.

Local Projects Suggested By Relief Commission

Austin, June 12.—County relief administrators have been advised by J. E. Keely, chief engineer of the Texas Relief Commission, to develop projects in cooperation with local governmental agencies to be carried on under the new Works Progress Administration.

While no definite instructions have been received with reference to submission of new work projects, administrators were advised that the engineering department of the Texas Relief Commission will receive applications, in the form of briefs, and pass them through the proper channels for consideration.

Briefs will include accurate estimates of costs for the various types of labor, for materials, equipment and other items. Governmental agencies cooperating in the projects will be expected to assist in financing them insofar as possible. Actual submission of projects will be delayed until new forms and regulations have been received. From all indications, projects will be considered proper if they satisfy the following conditions:

Projects must be useful and constructive in nature.

Projects shall be of such nature that a considerable portion of the money spent will go into wages for labor.

Projects which promise ultimate return of money to the Treasury are desired.

Projects should be so designed that activities may be carried to a successful conclusion within a reasonable period of time and not be carried over into succeeding years.

In all cases, projects must be of a character to give employment to those on relief rolls.

Projects will be allotted to localities or relief areas in relation to the number of workers on the relief rolls in those areas.

Projects must be designed to move persons from relief rolls to work on such projects that will force a maximum number of persons from relief rolls into private industry in the shortest time possible.

It will be necessary that careful plans and specifications be developed with each project.

Applications For Aid From Rural Schools Under Way

Austin, June 5.—Examination of applications for aid from rural school superintendents was under way again this week as Texas Relief Commission officials were formally notified by federal authorities that money for the program will be allotted from Federal Emergency Relief Administration funds.

"We already have approved applications from 454 schools and have begun the examination of applications from 648 more," said Adam R. Johnson, state relief director. "School superintendents are reminded that all applications found to be in order will be approved immediately. Those not in order will be returned to superintendents. Checks to teachers will go forward as soon as money for the program is received from Washington."

The 1,102 applications received by the Texas Relief Commission request $864,107.27 to pay the salaries of 6,940 teachers and 655 bus drivers, who continued to perform their duties in order that their school might proceed to the end of their normal terms after funds for their maintenance had been exhausted.

A staff of examiners has been assigned to expedite the work of clearing the remaining applications. The work is expected to require three or four weeks' time. Superintendents were requested not to worry about applications not returned to them for corrections.

"If school heads do not hear from their applications, in most instances it means they have been approved and that we are waiting on funds from Washington to supply the requested aid," said Mr. Johnson.

T-Anchor College Farm Ends Very Successful Year

Canyon, Texas, May 27.—T. M. Moore, professor of Agriculture at the West Texas State Teachers College, announces the closing of a successful year for the T-Anchor College farm, of which he is overseer.

The College farm is operated entirely by student labor, having its young men carefully selected by Mr. Moore each year from the applications of hundreds of high school graduates over the Panhandle. Aside from helping forty boys defray the necessary college expenses, the farm serves as a partial laboratory for the College Agriculture Department, and supplies Grade A milk to the college dormitories and cafeteria.

Foremost among this year's achievements has been the construction of a five room rock house to be occupied on June 1 by six boys. This building, constructed of native rock by student labor, was built with slightly less than $400. It consists of three bedrooms, a kitchen, and a common study room. The house is attractively situated near the Amarillo highway on a hill overlooking the farm, the Palo Duro Creek, and the city of Canyon.

An irrigation project conducted on the farm this winter has turned out fruitfully. A fourteen-acre plot of ground situated beneath the artificial farm lake was irrigated through pipes from the lake and made to yield enough pasture to materially reduce feed costs for the dairy herd. The lake is fed by a large spring.

The lake is being converted into a scenic spot to provide a college recreation grounds. Two-hundred trees, most of which are willows and cottonwoods, are now being planted around the lake.

Next year the farm will cooperate with the Dalhart Soil Erosion authorities in an experiment to control wind erosion on T Anchor. Efforts in this direction may reveal methods of erosion control for this particular region.

Six of the forty positions for young men on the farm have been filled for next year. They are: Fred Thompson, honor graduate of Samnorwood; Roy Marshall; Cee Vee (Cottle Co.); Marvin Porter, Conlen; Howard E. Boatman, high point judging champion of Tulla; Claude Miller, Friona; and James Blaine, Claude. Many boys of the present personnel will continue at the farm. George S. Gandy of Tulla and John W. Blaine of Claude will graduate and leave the farm this spring. Mr. Gandy has worked at the farm through all four years of his college career. Applications for places on the college farm are being received by Mr. T. M. Moore of the College.

R. C. Holden, auditor of the Shamburger lumber interests, had business here the last of the week.

Victor Moore Says: "It's the Top in Motor Cars"

Victor Moore, now starring in Broadway's biggest musical hit, "Anything Goes", says: "I bought my new Dodge because of its striking looks... and was delighted to find that it gave me amazing gas and oil economy."

And Mrs. Gertrude Regal, 2953 Decatur Ave., Bedford Parkway, N. Y., N. Y., says: "I've got plenty of friends who own small cars, but none of them save money the way my new Dodge does. I get from 3 to 5 more miles per gallon of gas than they do, and my oil costs are as much as 20% less."

Wherever you go, the story is the same. Owners are simply amazed at Dodge economy. And yet that's only one of its advantages. You, too, can enjoy the extra roominess, comfort and luxury of this big, sturdy Dodge—for a trifling few dollars more than the lowest-priced cars. List price now only $645 and up at factory, Detroit.

Interest Rate On Federal Farm Loans Has Been Reduced

Big Saving is Effected To Many Donley County Land Owners

The interest rate on all Federal Land Bank loans made through National farm loan associations will be reduced to 3 1/2 per cent for all interest payable in the one-year period commencing July 1, 1935 and to 4 per cent for all interest payable in the two-year period commencing July 1, 1936, according to C. E. Killough, secretary-treasurer of the Clarendon National Farm Loan Association. This announcement was made June 6th when Mr. Killough was notified of the new loan rate by A. C. Williams, president of the Federal Land Bank of Houston and General Agent of the Farm Credit Administration of Houston.

This temporary reduction of interest on Federal Land Bank loans having installments due prior to July 1, 1935 is the result of new legislation, the Farm Credit Act of 1935, which was signed by President Roosevelt June 3. Interest payable on installment dates occurring after July 30, 1935, will be at the original contract rate, which is 4 1/4 per cent on loans now being made through National farm loan associations and varies from 5 to 6 per cent on loans made prior to April 1, 1935.

The Farm Credit Act of 1935 also provides for another important innovation. Under its terms, the Land Bank Commissioner now may make loans to finance the purchase of farms by deserving tenant farmers. Formerly, Commissioner loans could be made only for the purpose of refinancing debts, for repurchasing farms lost through foreclosure and for working capital. The Act extends to January 1, 1940 the time in which the Land Bank Commissioner may make direct loans to farmers on first and second mortgages. The Commissioner loan plus any prior encumbrances on the property may not exceed 75 per cent of the appraised normal value. Commenting on the new provisions Mr. Killough said: "The new provision enabling the Land Bank Commissioner to make loans for the purpose of purchasing farms provides a new opportunity for young farmers and deserving tenants to become farm owners and home owners in their own right. We shall be glad to talk things over with worthy tenants who wish to buy farms of their own."

Since May 12, 1933, when the Farm Credit Administration was established, the Federal Land Bank of Houston, acting for itself and as agent for the Land Bank Commissioner has made 42,738 loans aggregating $129,192,350.00. This is almost as large as the amount of business carried on the books of the bank on May 1, 1933 after 17 years of operation. The interest rate reduction provided by
