With war drums beating for general mobilization, these wild Moslem irregulars from the interior of Ethiopia marched with tireless stride toward the frontier to meet the Italian invaders.

PECAN MEN ASK GOVERNMENT TO MAKE PECAN LOAN; PLACE RESTRICTIONS ON CASHEWS

RESOLUTIONS requesting the Production Credit Corporation to make a loan of 8 cents per pound on average orchard run pecans under the same conditions as apply to loans on cotton and corn...

The meeting was called to discuss methods of bringing about an increased price for this year's pecan crop, one of the largest on record, and which is selling at what pecan men claim is a ruinous price.

The meeting also called on the growers throughout Texas to form cooperative organizations and pool their crop, storing at least half the crop. This would make the growers eligible to loans on the crop from the Bank of Cooperatives.

Whereas, the prices of nearly all foods are now about the average for the past ten years, and the price being offered for pecans at the present time is less than one-half the average for the same period of ten years, and

Whereas, the prices of native woods run pecans have usually been about the same per pound as cotton, and

Therefore, Be it Resolved, by representatives of the various Pecan Associations in Texas assembled at Brownwood this 10th day of October, 1935, that we request the Production Credit Corporation to make a loan of 8 cents per pound on average woods run pecans under same conditions applied to loans on cotton and corn, and

Be it further resolved that we urge President Roosevelt to raise the tariff on Cashew nuts and all other nuts competing with pecans to the same as tariff on pecans, and that the quota be fixed at the average annual importation prior to 1931; and

Be it further resolved that we take up with our local association that we ask all growers and growers organizations to join us in these plans.

Attending the meeting were: W. J. Milligan of Bend, president and W. S. Price, Gustine, secretary, of the Texas Pecan Growers Association; A. C. Easley, Waco, president of the Central Texas Pecan Growers Association; Wendell Mayes, Brownwood, secretary of the West Texas Pecan Growers Association; J. L. Rainey, San Angelo, W. R. Wulff, Brady, J. J. Cockrell, Goldthwaite, directors of the West Texas association; W. J. Morris, Bend, secretary, and E. D. Keeney, Chapel, director of the Bend Pecan Growers Association; H. G. Lucas, Brownwood; Marvin Black and other growers.

Hit by Baseball; Asks $20,000

Balm of $20,000 for being struck by a baseball is sought by Mrs. Hettie Marie Shute, above, wife of "Denny" Shute, famed golf pro. Mrs. Shute has sued the Pittsburgh National League club for that sum, charging she was hit by a thrown ball while a spectator at a game in the Pirates' park last June 6.

Connally Urges Authorities To Keep Camp Here

United States Senator Also Recommends PWA Loan For Water District.

Senator Tom Connally of Marlin sent messages to federal officials strongly recommending the continuation of the CCC camp at Lake Brownwood for another six months period and urging approval of the PWA loan being sought by Brown County Water Improvement District No. 1 for further improvements following his recent visit to Brownwood. Senator Connally made an inspection of the work being done at the park and of the lake site and highly commended the progress made so far.

In the following telegram to Harold L. Ickes he urges approval of the loan:

"Brown County Water Improvement District No. 1, Texas project No. 1329, now before PWA. Have personally inspected this project and desire to strongly urge approval. District has issued bonds for its portion of costs of additional improvement which can be made with proposed grant. Without additional improvement investment already made in lake will be of little value. Large body of fine land below dam subject to irrigation and Brownwood city water supply will be made permanent by improvement. Strongly urge approval."

The water district's application to the PWA is for funds to construct an irrigation distribution system in Pecan Bayou valley below Brownwood dam.

His recommendation for a continuation of the CCC period was made in a letter to Col. Robert Fechner, Washington, director of Emergency Conservation Work.

The letter: "Last week I personally inspected CCC Camp #72, Brownwood, Texas. This project is State Park #6-T.

"The men in the camp have been employed in improving and beautifying a state park site, title to which was secured by the people of Brownwood and donated as a park. The park is adjacent to a wonderful lake belonging to the Brown County Water Improvement District. With proper improvement this park will be one of the great attractions of all this Southwest territory.

"It is highly desirable that the camp be maintained at this point for an additional six months, since the abandonment of the work at this time will largely destroy the value of the work already done. I very much hope that you may be able to authorize its continuance for an additional period.

"Herewith I am sending you drawing of the lake and the adjacent park, in order that you may acquire an accurate idea regarding the same."

Doctors Must Take Pay Relief Offers In Accepting Case

The present policy of the Texas Relief Commission is to discontinue medical service to relief clients unless such services are rendered voluntarily by local physicians on the basis of charges outlined in the State Medical Association contract which was ended October 1 by vote of the association. The association based its action on the belief that the emergency period for which the contract was established has ended. By terms of the contract which became effective November 24, 1933, special terms were allowed relief clients.

Doyle T. Brooks, district relief administrator, said last week that he believed most physicians in the five counties of district 14-A are willing to continue charge for medical aid to relief clients on the basis of the contract.

CITY GRATIFIED BY EARLY TAX PAYMENT

Collection for the first week of the period for payment of city taxes which opened October 1 have been unusually heavy, according to City Tax Collector H. H. Gresham. The period extends to January 31, 1936. A number of property owners are using the split payment plan of payment which provides for payment of half the taxes before January 31 and the remainder to be paid any time from January 31, 1936, to July 31, 1936.

The first citizen to pay 1935 city taxes was Mrs. Alice Brewer, 1108 Vine street. J. C. Galloway, 1311 Coggin avenue, was second to make his payments.

The city tax rate for 1935 is $1.75 on the $100 valuation, which includes both city and school taxes, a reduction of five cents from last year's rate. Total valuation on which the rate is based is approximately $9,880,000. The $1.75 rate is divided as follows: 70 cents to schools, 70 cents to city general fund and 35 cents to city special funds.

CHILDREN'S BOOKS TO GET ATTENTION DURING BOOK WEEK

Reading of imaginative literature by children will be stressed during the 1935 Book Week, November 17 to 23. Schools and clubs will observe the period set aside for this purpose by programs and other features planned to stimulate boys' and girls' interest in reading.

The theme of Book Week "Reading for Fun" is summed up by Anne Carroll Moore in her "Roads to Childhood."

"Dreams, fancies, humor, are the natural heritage of childhood and are at the foundation of what is beautiful and poetical in literature, art, and human experience. Never in our history has there been greater need for men and women of vision and power to persuade. These qualities may, and assuredly do, take form and clarity from the facts of science, but they live only in literature and in the aspirations of the human heart."

A new poster and leaflet of suggestions for Book Week exhibits and programs will be ready, soon. Schools and clubs may obtain these by sending the usual fee of 25 cents to the National Association of Book Publishers, 347 Fifth Avenue, New York, N. Y.

The English followers of John Wycliffe are called Lollards.

TO PLAN YEAR'S WORK OF INTERSCHOLASTIC LEAGUE AT MEETING

Brown County Interscholastic League will be organized for the year at a meeting of all Brown county teachers to be held at the Brownwood High School Saturday afternoon. All county teachers will meet in the auditorium of Senior High school at 1:30, and city teachers will meet at Junior High school at the same time. A joint session of both groups will be held at 2 o'clock to complete the work of organization.

The meeting has been called by County Superintendent F. D. Pierce and F. J. Woodward, superintendent of the Brownwood schools. It is one of the most important meetings of the school year, and every teacher is urged to be present.

A director-general for the league work will be elected, and directors for the various departments of the work will be chosen.

PROMPT TAXPAYERS MAY GET REFUNDS

If a law providing for discounts on 1935 taxes paid during October, November and December is held valid refunds will be given all those who have already paid their taxes. Validity of the law is being tested in a suit now in the courts at Austin.

Last month Tax Assessor-Collector Winston Palmer received instructions not to allow the discount. This week he received information which indicated that the law might be proved valid. He suggests that citizens wait the outcome of the suit before paying taxes. However, the deduction will be refunded to those who wish to pay taxes now in the event that it is allowed.

BANNER WAS ESTABLISHED IN 1875; EARLY ISSUE TELLS OF PIONEER DAYS IN BROWNWOOD

THE Brownwood Banner enjoys the happy distinction of being the oldest business institution now in existence in Brownwood. As a comrade the Banner greets the pioneers of 1875 and 1876.

From the best information available, the Banner was started in the latter part of 1875, its name being then the Brown County Banner. Some years later it became the Banner-Bulletin and was published for a long time under that name. About two years ago when it came under its present ownership, the name became the Brownwood Banner.

Under its different ownerships and slightly varying name the Banner has been a weekly visitor into Brown county home for 60 years. Many of those now registering for Pioneer Day remember this paper as the companion of their early days here, as well as through the succeeding years.

They say that life is measured by heart throbs. What the life of the Banner has been when laid down by that yardstick it is impossible to calculate. To the happy heartbeats of joyous parents it has chronicled the birth of thousands of babies, and many are the times that its painful duty has been to carry to its readers the news of the death of beloved friends. It has been its happy privilege to publish the good tidings of progress and development as this country step by step has followed its onward course.

A copy of the Banner of October 9, 1880, for many years among the possessions of Dr. P. C. Ragsdale, has come into the hands of the editor this week. It gives an in-

BEDROOM EXHIBIT OF COUNTY CLUBS WILL BE HELD HERE NOV. 2

Many Brownwood merchants have already contributed prizes to be awarded the winning exhibitors in the County Bedroom Exhibit to be held here by the Home Demonstration clubs Saturday, November 2. Miss Mayesie Malone, Brown county home demonstration agent, and member of committees representing the different clubs in Brown county are endeavoring to contact every merchant in the city. They report that most of the merchants so far interviewed are offering to help make the exhibit a success.

Several hundred exhibits will be shown representing work done in the various fields of 4-H club work. In addition several complete demonstrations will be given and club members will present skits representing various phases of the work. Approximately 60 prizes will be awarded.

No definite arrangements have been made for a building for the exhibit, but a downtown building will be secured soon, according to Miss Malone. One merchant has agreed to lend furniture for an ideal bedroom exhibit, which is to be an outstanding feature of the affair.

COUNTY PLACED IN NEW DISTRICT FOR DEMONSTRATION WORK

Brown county was placed in District 7 recently when Texas was redivided to form several new county agent and home demonstration agent units. Miss Maurine Hearne is the district Home Demonstration Agent for the new district which includes Brown, Jones, Shackelford, Stevens, Palo Pinto, Taylor, Callahan, Eastland, Erath, Comanche, Coleman, Runnels, McCulloch, San Saba, Mills, Mason, Llano, Gillespie and Blanco counties. All except six of the counties in the new district have Home Demonstration agents.

C. E. Bowles is district agent for District 7. T. B. Woods, agent for the district which formerly included Brown county, was transferred to district 9 which includes counties in East Texas.

Miss Kate Adele Hill, former Home Demonstration Agent for this district, was retained in a West Texas district.

Scotland's Loch Lomond is only 23 feet above sea level.

Program Being Formulated For Pioneers' Day

Plans will be under direction of Committees From Rotary Club.

Plans have been practically formulated for the First Annual Pioneer Day to be held Tuesday, October 22, at the Municipal Auditorium in Brownwood. The event is sponsored by the Brownwood Club. Pioneers of Brown who came to this county prior to that date, are especially honored.

Primary plans, being worked by a committee from the Club under the direction of the Club, call for registration of the Pioneer Day at the Municipal Auditorium, starting at 10 o'clock in the morning.

A meeting of the committee will be held in the Auditorium at this time an organization of Brown County Pioneers will be organized. Officers elected, and those appointed. Following the organization meeting, the day will adjourn for lunch.

The day will be served by the Club, with the Boy Scouts of Brownwood assisting, at noon in the Auditorium.

SALE NETS $45 AND ASSURES BAND OF NEW UNIFORMS

Plans for members of the Brownwood High School band will be held within the next few days as the result of the strong support given the band during their "Day" campaign, which netted $45 for the band fund. Saturday members of the band and members sold tags at various points in the downtown area during the day, and the band played a concert on downtown streets during the afternoon. The new uniforms will be military style maroon and suits trimmed in white.

"Pioneer Day" was the first entrance of a series to be sponsored by the Band Parents' Booster Club. Members of the club hope to raise $100 for the purchase of new instruments for the band. The contest to be held in the auditorium.

Zephyr Achievement Day To Be Oct. 26

One of the most interesting Achievement Day programs being planned by the various Brown county Home Demonstration clubs will be held at the M. E. Fry church near Zephyr Saturday, October 26. Miss Gertrude Fry, winner of Brown county Bedroom Demonstration, will be hostess, and an exhibit of her prize winning bedroom will be included on the program.

Other Gold Star girls, Katharine Fisher and Edith Kimmons, will give reports on their work. Miss Fry and Miss Kimmons, county Home Demonstration, will make reports on their work and on that of their cooperators. Other features of the program will be a talk by Miss Mayesie Malone, Brown county Home Demonstration Agent, on a skit, "The Eight Sleepy Hours" and a stunt, "Willie Goes Swimming."

EMISON & SON

Frank Emison, who established this business, had faith in Brown County from the day he landed here in 1875. Today we congratulate the Brown County Pioneers who meet in Brownwood Tuesday, October 15. We admire the courage and foresight that has builded for us a wonderful city and County.

Although a Pioneer grocery store, Emison's has kept abreast of the time, and through the years has maintained fine stocks of groceries for the many customers who have come to depend upon us for the best. Today you will find Emison's has anticipated your wants, and is ready and anxious to serve you with the finest in groceries and fruits.

MANY INTERESTING EVENTS RECALLED BY BROOKE SMITH, BELOVED BROWNWOOD PIONEER

BROWNWOOD had a population of only about 129 in 1876; but its importance in a business way can not be measured by that unimpressive figure. Brownwood was the center of a large trade territory, and though the country was sparsely settled the aggregate of those coming here for their supplies and the amount of goods they bought was large.

Brownwood drew trade not only from all Brown county, which was then considerably larger than its present dimensions, but also from Coleman and McCulloch counties, the southern part of Eastland county and the northern part of San Saba county, according to Brooke Smith, pioneer merchant and banker, whose fund of knowledge of the Brownwood and Brown county of the last fifty-nine years is not exceeded by that of any other citizen.

Wagons Came for Supplies
Ranchers sent in their wagons for their supplies and the sale of a bill of goods amounting to $300 to $500 was a common thing at the store which Mr. Smith and his associates operated.

And those buyers were people who paid their bills, Mr. Smith observes. From 1876 to 1882, he states, his firm sold at least $300,000 worth of merchandise on a credit and did not lose from the entire amount more than $500 from bad collections. And of that $500, he says, at least half was on what was considered as charity when the goods were sold and on which it was never expected that collection would be made.

Mr. Smith came to Brownwood in 1876 from Waco, where he had worked for a wholesale firm. Waco was then an important Texas town and trade center of about 3,000 population. With Mr. Smith to Brownwood as his business associate came the former chief clerk of the Waco firm, Otto W. Steffens, who remained in Brownwood until about 1882. Charles L. Steffens, brother of Otto, who died in Brownwood a year or two ago, was a clerk in the new store.

The new store here had the backing of the Waco firm, with its strong buying power. The Waco house had its special representative, a member of the firm, in New York City, giving it a great advantage in its purchases. While the Brownwood store was a pioneer store, it was a good and strong store, able to meet the demands of the large territory that it served.

Were Interesting Days
Those were interesting days, from 1876 into the early 80's. The same action that freed Brown county from the Indian dangers had also freed from the same danger all of West Texas and a great tide of immigration set in. Cheap and appealed to people of the older counties. Many came into this county, or proceeded further west, from Williamson and other counties. At night thirty to forty camp fires could be found along the necks of this immediate section. Early morning would see many immigrants starting out to seek their new locations in this county. While trains of wagons at early dawn would be carrying others to further western country.

Mr. Smith came to Texas in the early part of 1871, having spent New Year's day of that year on the Gulf of Mexico enroute. He was married in 1880, going to Kentucky or his bride.

Brownwood's First Banker
Mr. Smith was Brownwood's first banker. The banking business, he says, was thrust upon him. There being no bank here, many stockmen or others would come to the store to get drafts cashed. Some of these drafts were for large amounts and the holders would not want to take all of the money with them but would ask that part of it be left on deposit at the store. The store was called upon to perform the numerous services for which a bank is designed. Mr. Smith as office manager soon found his time largely taken up with work of this kind, for which no charge was being made. So Smith and Steffens opened a private bank here in 1876, which was known as the Pecan Valley Bank.

They opened a store at Buffalo, then the county seat of Taylor county, in 1878, and also opened a bank there, which they named the Taylor County Bank. When the railroad went to Abilene and it became apparent that Abilene, and not Buffalo, was to be the main Taylor county town, moved their business to Abilene. Deciding upon a move they placed an advertisement in the Buffalo newspaper announcing that on the following Saturday evening they would move the bank to Abilene. Accordingly, after the close of business Saturday they transferred the money, books and banking appurtenances to Abilene and opened for business there Monday morning. Not a depositor drew out his money or got

NEW POLICE RADIO FOR CITY, COUNTY WILL BE INSTALLED

Installation of equipment for operation of Brownwood's new police radio station at the city hall and at county jail will be completed by Saturday, and regular operation of the station will start. One police car already has its receiving set in operation, and two others will be equipped by the end of the week. The station is already complete, several calls having been made during the past week. It has power of 100 watts and operates on a frequency of 2,458 kilocycles. Call letters are KNGW. Alton Stewart, builder of the station, and Clyde Bodine recently passed examination of the Federal Communications Commission at Dallas for licenses as radio-telephone operators and will operate the station under a contract from the city.

Several adjoining counties will cooperate with Brown county in maintaining the station. Equipment will be installed to cover the larger territory as soon as the counties' contracts receive governmental approval.

First White Child Was Born In County February 25, 1858

The first white male child born in Brown county was G. L. Lee, now deceased, son of Brooks W. Lee, who was born at what is now Brownwood on February 25, 1858. Aaron D. Lee, brother of G. L. Lee, now lives in Brownwood, at 1320 Avenue G, and is one of the few remaining sons or daughters of any of those pioneers who were in Brown county prior to 1860.

Referring to the large trade territory that was Brownwood's in the early days, Mrs. Smith declares that "Brownwood is coming back."

Why? "Good roads," is his terse reply. Good roads make it easy for a trade center to expand the bounds of its trade territory, he points out.

And as to Pioneer Day, well, he is interested in meeting all the other old-timers and suggests that it ought to be made an annual state-wide affair.

LOCAL STORE ONE OF FIRST IN SERIES OF PIGGLY WIGGLY UNITS

Henry Wilson, a native of Brown county, began the operation of the Piggly Wiggly store in Brownwood in 1918. This was only three years after the opening of the first Piggly Wiggly store in the United States and two years after the opening of the Brownwood store. The Brownwood store was No. 138 of the entire Piggly Wiggly system which now has 3,000 stores.

Mr. Wilson at first bought an interest in the store here and then gradually acquired the other interests until he is now sole owner of the Brownwood system, which comprises three stores. The entire capital stock of the Brownwood concern when he bought into it was $5,000; it is now $30,000.

Mr. Wilson's grocery experience previous to entering business for himself consisted of three years in the wholesale end of the business in the employ of Walker-Smith company, one year with that company in Brownwood, and three in Houston.

Even when a boy his ambition was to be a grocer. He confides that even then his ambition was to some day have the biggest retail grocery business in Brownwood. During four years that he worked on the Cognin ranch he virtually had in for all that time an application with W Company.

At Houston he observed the time the business of one Pioneer Piggly Wiggly there determined his future. With the growth of the store space, modern replacing the old high style, and other changes.

The Piggly Wiggly Brownwood have four employes, representing the of between forty and fr

JACKETS IN GAMES; BILLIES PLAY AT SHERMAN

The football program of the Brownwood High School meeting the light but added Claco Lobos here tonight for the second of the Oil Belt series. The Lobos season with a scoreless record to date made a good showing.

Lobos will give the team of trouble and may be in their campaign for honors. No drastic changes are planned for the team by Coaches Cagle and Baker.

Baker Hill Billies meet conference opposition when they go to Sherman the Austin College team who at present are the most outstanding for championship hon- ors with a record of a 3 to 1 win in the game last week-end are expected to lose in this week's game.

Football fans will again have a chance to see the Howard Payne team in action Friday night when they play Westmorland in Antonio. Although the team boys are considered favorites for Keaton's Yellow Jackets there will be no let-up in the H. P. C. playing.

Games were held to a close by Trinity University last week. The Red Lions, playing East- ern, came off victors with a score after a game in the Mavericks made a last minute, nearly taking the game from the Billy Frosh team before Ranger Junior College Ranger Friday, 6 to 0.

PATTERSON MOTOR CO. IS GROWING CONCERN

Brownwood after a history of over seventy-five years continues to grow by the fact that it still attracts business men as a logical trade and distributing center.

R. L. (Pat) Patterson, Plymouth-Dodge dealer, has been in business here since April 1, 1933. He wholesales cars to De Soto and Plymouth dealers in Coleman, Brady, Santa Anna, Comanche and Rising Star, and picked Brownwood as the logical point for supplying this territory.

In announcing the new 1936 Plymouth, Mr. Patterson has three new models on display today. The new Plymouth, he says, will meet every requirement of those who choose a fine car in the low priced field.

The parts and service shop of the Patterson establishment meets 100 per cent the factory requirements for service maintenance.

Mr. Patterson is proud of the fact that his house has bought used cars and has given a repeat business since its establishment here.

He has a complete staff of efficient automobile salesmen ready at all times to show the public every courtesy in the inspection of the new cars.

1936 PLYMOUTH AND DODGES ON DISPLAY

Abney & Bohannon entered the automobile business in Brownwood in 1922. The members of the firm are DeWitt F. Abney and G. B. Bohannon. They have handled the Dodge and Plymouth cars since September, 1929, and had the Chevrolet agency previous to that time.

The new Dodges and Plymouths are now on display at the Abney & Bohannon show rooms. The dealers believe the public will be pleased with the new 1936 models and the values offered in them. The public is invited to see them.

The firm maintains complete parts, accessories and repair departments. Before entering the automobile business Mr. Abney and Mr. Bohannon were stockmen and ranchers in this country.

"Dark Angel" Is Great Love Story

Merle Oberon and Fredric March in "The Dark Angel"

One of the most powerful and beautiful love stories ever filmed reaches the screen of the Lyric Theatre Friday, October 10, when Samuel Goldwyn's production, "The Dark Angel," starring Fredric March, Merle Oberon and Herbert Marshall begins a two day engagement.

Adapted from a play by Guy Bolton, the screen play of "The Dark Angel" was prepared by Lillian Hellman, author of the smash Broadway stage hit, "The Children's Hour," and Mordaunt Sharp who will be remembered for his stage success, "The Green Bay Tree."

Parker-Duncum Is Pioneer Tire Store

John Parker and Homer Duncum, owners of Parker-Duncum Tire Company here, have been in the tire business in Brownwood longer than any other tire dealers. They started business in 1922 in a tire shop next door to the present site of the business. Beginning with a small retail shop their business has grown until they are now the owners of two wholesale tire companies, one in Brownwood and one in Brady, which service a five-county area for Federal Tires.

These two men have weathered the depression, and their business has grown in spite of it. Present volume of their trade necessitates the handling of an average of 10 carloads of tires a year for the two stores.

FIRE PREVENTION IS STRESSED THIS WEEK

This week was observed by local organizations and the citizenship in general as Fire Prevention Week. A proclamation issued by Mayor W. H. Thompson set aside the period from October 6 to 12 for the purpose of education in fire prevention and fire protection.

Members of Brownwood Fire Department cooperated with other city officials in the annual campaign against fire and fire hazards.

Pioneers—those men and women who came to Brown County in 1876 or prior to that date—are to be honored at a special all-day program in Brownwood next Tuesday, October 15. Arrangements for the day's entertainment are in charge of the Brownwood Rotary Club, sponsors.

Pioneer Days

Those pioneers who left homes of security and pleasures to build for themselves and posterity homes in the wilderness of the Southwest, are worthy of our respect and admiration, and it is proper and fitting that some Brownwood organization should take the lead in paying them, if not fitting tribute, at least the greatest tribute possible in these times of limited means.

Throughout the ages Pioneers have been given a place of honor, and justly, as they pushed westward to establish new frontiers. Most of the time the causes have been worthy; sometimes not hallowed by justified ambitions. In the case of those who helped to build the great country that became Texas, no more worthy, no more hardy Pioneers have found a place in the history of this country.

Brown County was particularly fortunate in the character of people who came here years ago to build a country. Obviously, this country would in time have been settled and would have enjoyed some measure of prosperity commensurate with the development of other sections in this West Texas area, had they been less far-sighted. But it is not amiss at this time to recall the fact that those who settled Brown County were able, through their own efforts, to build this county and the city of Brownwood to be the outstanding county and city in this section of the State of Texas. For that reason alone, we owe them a debt of gratitude.

In paying to the Pioneers the tribute that is their just desert, we should not be unmindful of those who followed, and, side by side with the Pioneers of 1876, and later taking up the task that they were forced by time to lay aside, carried on the good work and continued the work of building of Brown County and Brownwood a better community; a better place in which to live. To those who followed the Pioneers we also are indebted. Builders in any age are needed, and unless the spirit that was the characteristic trait of the Pioneers is found in those who must in time carry on the work of building the community, that community will not continue the march of progress.

And so, while paying a heartfelt and timely tribute to those who built this country in the Pioneer Days, The Banner wishes to give due credit to those who in these later years have accepted the responsibilities of citizenship, and done their part as best they could toward ever striving and building for a better City and County.

At this time when thoughts are turned toward Pioneers, it is well to give some thought to the future. And thinking of the future brings up the thought of trees. Trees planted by the Pioneers now make this one of the most beautiful cities in West Texas; trees planted now will make this a better place in which the generations to come can live. Most practical of the trees for this area is the pecan. No more beautiful tree exists; no more practical tree can be planted with success in Brown County.

Trees, More Trees

An interesting example of the worthiness of planting pecan trees is contained in an editorial exchange between the Greenville Banner and State Press in the Dallas News. Says the Greenville paper:

"Dr. J. F. Clark wishes Greenville people would set out producing trees instead of elms or something. And he has a powerful argument for pecan trees in the two in the back yard of his home. He showed us twigs from each, both soft shell varieties, Stuart and Success, bearing six and five pecans, respectively, of big proportions, and he says the limbs are bending sharply because of the heavy load. Budded eleven years, this year the two trees are expected to increase past years' bushel to a bushel and a half yield to three bushels. He has four other pecan trees in his front yard, young but producing."

To which State Press replies:

"Dr. Clark knows why too few trees are planted—too few fruitful trees and too few shadeless trees, too few plain trees suitable for firewood and weather protection. It is because the people who might plant them think it is too much work, and too long to wait. Most fathers are willing for their children to start young and take twenty-one years in growing up. But they want trees that mature in one or two years. Nature doesn't work that way, and for that reason many men who need trees refuse to work with nature. There is an old proverb, perhaps a wisecrack, which says that those who plant pears plant for their heirs. Maybe so, but why not? Why expect time to work in other ways and not with trees? Why plan to leave the farm to the children and not plan to leave it in better kelter than when it was acquired? In some portions of Europe, inherited trees are regarded as inherited riches. Trees have always been cheap in our country, with wood to be had for the cutting, in many cases. Yet we choose to burn coal or gas and grumble at the cost. When farms contained home orchards and hand-worked cider presses there was contentment on the land. A draught of good cider at noon was compensation for half a day's work in the field. We need more orchards, more cider presses and fewer highballs. Farm life is attractive when made so."

This week—from October 6 to 12—is being observed throughout the Nation as Fire Prevention Week. The public is being offered an unparalleled opportunity to learn of the hazards of fire and how they may be avoided and eliminated, as well as what course to pursue once a fire has started. Fire marshals and chiefs, insurance representatives, and public and private organizations are cooperating to the fullest extent to make the week the success that it deserves to be.

Fire Prevention Week

The public is learning of the danger of old or out-of-condition heating plants, one of the most prolific sources of fire. It is being instructed in the dangers of stored inflammable liquids and rubbish, and of the danger of accumulations of ancient furniture, clothes and knickknacks in basements and attics. Much good should result from the elimination of fire traps and fire hazards.

Thousands of lives are lost each year through fire. They can be saved, as can hundreds of millions of dollars worth of property that annually goes up in smoke. Fire Prevention Week is a worthy annual institution.

NO LARGE CITIES IN TEXAS IN 1876

In 1876, the date on which the minds of Brown county people are fixed as a pioneer mile-post at this particular time, there were, according to the census records, only two towns in Texas as large as Brownwood is now. These were Galveston and San Antonio, with Houston also somewhere near the line.

Austin, the capital of the state, was making a rapid growth, and its population increased from 4,428 in 1870 to 11,013 in 1880. Dallas had only 10,358 inhabitants in 1880. Dallas was destined to make rapid strides in the next decade. In 1890 its population had increased to 35,667.

We have all the census figures for Fort Worth prior to 1880. In 1880 that was still a small town, with a population of 6,663. El Paso in 1880 had only 736 inhabitants.

Galveston had a population of 13,518 in 1870, which had increased to 22,248 in 1880.

Houston's population in 1870 was 9,382. In 1880 it had increased to 16,513.

The population of San Antonio in 1870 was 12,256. In 1880 it was 20,550.

Miss Mary Jo Emison, newly elected sponsor of the Junior High School football team, will make her first appearance as sponsor at the Junior High-Williams football game at Daniel Baker park Friday afternoon.

Miss Emison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Emison, was elected in the finals of a contest held at the school. Miss Betty McIntosh ran close second in the race.

R. C. Brooks Buys Brownwood Feed Co.

R. C. Brooks took over operation of the Brownwood Feed Company, 503 East Broadway, as owner October 1. He has purchased the concern, of which he has been manager for the past four and a half years, from Scott Brothers' Grain Company of Fort Worth. There will be no change in the administration of the business under Mr. Brooks' ownership.

In addition to carrying a stock of feed and poultry supplies, Mr. Brooks will continue to operate the store's 33,000-egg capacity incubators and a feed mill.

Mr. Brooks is a native of Brown county and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Brooks, are long time residents of the Bangs community. He attended Bangs school and later was a student in Howard Payne College here.

Before returning to Brownwood as manager of the feed store, Mr. Brooks was salesman and poultry expert for Scott Brothers, first in the West Texas territory and later in East Texas with headquarters at Jacksonville. Previously he was manager of the Frazier Poultry Farm at Cisco.

COUNCIL REFUSES LOWER GAS RATE

City council this week refused to lower the gas rates here from 35 cents to 50 cents at the request of Neil K. Shaw, representative of Natural Gas and Fuel Company. Council vote was split with Aldermen Henley and Hart voting for the increase and Aldermen Flowers and Roberts voting against. The deciding vote was cast for the negative by Mayor W. H. Thompson.

R. O. Mathews, representing Brownwood Public Service, appeared before council to ask that his electric franchise, passed on first reading last week, not be passed on second reading at this week's meeting. The city had objected to one clause in the original franchise, and C. L. McCartney objected to another clause. These clauses were removed from the franchise.

The matter of whether the city should purchase advertising was brought up when Rev. G. C. Schurman asked a one-half page advertisement from the city, welcoming pioneers to Brownwood for the Pioneer edition of The Brownwood Bulletin. A committee from First Methodist church also appeared asking a $25 page advertisement in a program to be printed for the Methodist conference to be held here. A request for a $15 advertisement on a new curtain at Brownwood High School was also presented.

City Attorney R. L. McGaugh expressed the opinion that it would be illegal for council to spend tax payers' money in this fashion. Councilmen decided to take the advertisement in the church program each councilman contributing $5 personally. A suggestion that the cost of the three propositions be split and each councilman pay one-fifth was opposed in the vote on the question.

Included in the parade was an old surrey, pulled by mules, in which ladies dressed in the mode of the eighties were riding.

Wednesday, designated as school day, brought many schools to the fair in a body. Both Shields and Turner Ranch were here one hundred per cent, and were awarded prizes by the Santa Anna Trades Day Association.

Community booths were also judged, and prizes awarded to

FARR GOES TO BIG SPRING; FOSTER TO MANAGE HOTELS HERE

George W. Foster has arrived in Brownwood to assume management of Hotel Brownwood and Hotel Southern. He succeeds J. D. Farr who is being transferred to the Settles Hotel, Big Spring. Mr. Foster comes here from Cisco.

Mr. Foster is not a stranger in Brownwood as he was associated with Hotel Brownwood for a short time when it was first opened. He was then transferred to Hotel Kilgore at Kilgore, Texas, as manager. From Kilgore he went to St. Louis, where for nearly three years he was manager of the Marquette Hotel. From that place he was transferred to Cisco as head of the Laguna there, and the Hotel Ghoulson, located at Ranger.

Upon assuming his duties yesterday afternoon Mr. Foster said: "I am glad to return to Brownwood. When I was here before I did not stay long enough to really become acquainted with the town and the people, but with what I saw of Brownwood, I was favorably impressed and am glad of the opportunity of returning as manager of the two hotels.

"The friends that I made while I was here, I have remembered, and am glad to again have the chance to become associated with them and the traveling public of this part of Texas, although I have been in contact with them at Cisco. With what I know of Brownwood people, and from what Mr. Farr has told me about his friendships here, I know that my wife and I will be very happy in our new surroundings," Mr. Foster concluded.

Farrs Leave This Week: Mr. Farr and family will leave the latter part of the week for Big Spring. Mr. Farr said he was sincerely sorry to have to leave Brownwood. "I have been in the hotel business for more than a decade and during that time have met literally thousands of people, but of all these I count my best friends and happiest days in Brownwood.

"The friends that I have made in Brownwood will always hold a very warm spot in my heart, in fact the warmest of all, and I look forward to returning here for visits as often as I can. I want to invite all my friends out to Big Spring, where they will always find me ready to greet them with a smile, as a Brownwood friend.

"This is the best community in which I have ever had the pleasure to live, and it is with sincere regrets that I will say goodbye to it," Mr. Farr concluded.

Liberty, first; Shields, second, and Leedy, third. Late Wednesday, poultry judging was incomplete, and some canned fruits and vegetables, and cakes, pies, and breads had not been judged.

The crowd was estimated at five thousand. Exhibits in all classes far exceeded expectations of the Trades Day Association, who began their advertising campaign more than a month ago.

Out to Match Her Parents' Fame

Once in the movies, the Moores remain moored to them. Witness lovely 19-year-old Alice Moore, right, daughter of the once popular Alice Joyce and Tom Moore, of silent screen days. Alice has just been signed by a major Hollywood studio, and if her talents prove as attractive as her features she certainly ought to go as far as her parents did in popularity. Alice's mother, Miss Joyce, shown upper left, now is the wife of Clarence Brown, director. Moore, Alice's father, is at lower left.

RENFRO'S

FREE! $2000 IN PRIZES During Renfro's Puzzle Picture Contest Begins Now - - Ends Saturday Dec. 14, 1935

PYROIL (Simply added to Oil and Gas) Increases POWER Think of the power of plunging pistons... sufficient to move tons of rock up steep mountain grades. Yet the efficiency of pistons depends on the adequacy of the combustion chamber, carbon-stuck valves, leaking rings, weakened piston stroke and make motors lag and balk. PYROIL increases power in motors because it seals rings and keeps valves carbon-free. Simply added to regular gas and oil. Supplies constant lubrication to the entire motor head where withering heat kills ordinary lubricants. Actually builds lubrication into the metal. PYROIL deposits a patent-processed, heat-, wear- and dilution-proof element on all metal parts, building and constantly maintaining an actual self-lubricating surface. Bearings run freer, cooler. Power, endurance, are marvelously improved. Easily saves many times its small cost. Ask at your filling station or garage for further details. Try PYROIL today.

"OLDEST CRUDES MAKE TOUGHEST MOTOR OILS" - SINCLAIR Sinclair engineers have found that, by and large, the oldest crudes make the toughest motor oils. The crude oils used in making Sinclair Opaline and Sinclair Pennsylvania Motor Oils are among the oldest ever discovered. Each of these oils gives a lubricating film that will withstand a pressure of more than 3 tons per square inch. This toughness has been proved on special Film-Breaking Machines in Sinclair's East Chicago Testing Laboratories. Look for the dinosaur on the Tamper-Proof cans in which Sinclair Opaline and Sinclair Pennsylvania Motor Oils are sold.

TELEPHONE COMPANY CONTINUES WORK OF PIONEER GROUP HERE

When the Southwestern States Telephone Company came into Brownwood it was as the successor of a company organized here 31 years ago.

The Southwestern States Telephone Company should feel close kinship with the pioneers whose preparations for their Pioneer Day celebration are now under way.

The West Texas Telephone Company was organized here in 1904, the incorporators being J. A. Walker, G. N. Harrison, R. G. Hollingsworth, John G. Lee, C. H. Woodward, N. H. Hollingsworth, H. T. Williams and L. R. Conroe.

Before the company sold out in 1928 the number of exchanges had been increased to sixteen, with about 2,000 miles of toll line.

McKee began in 1907. J. H. McKee began work with the company in 1907 as auditor.

district manager of the Brownwood district, which has eleven exchanges.

S. A. McKie is another one holding a responsible position with the present company whose services dates from 1907.

Miss Minnie Pittman, who is now clerk in the accounting department, was also in the employ of the company in 1907.

The original unit of the present telephone building was erected just a quarter of a century ago, in 1910. The addition, of equal size, was erected in 1918.

Two Buildings Occupied This building is now occupied by the executive offices of the Southwestern States Company as well as the local exchange and local office employees.

C. H. Woodward was general manager from October, 1904, until May, 1907. W. P. Stromeyer was his successor, serving from May, 1907, until Nov., 1911.

The Southwestern States Telephone Company, with headquarters in Brownwood, has exchanges in 189 towns, in four states.

PROF. RAGSDALE WAS ONE OF BROWNWOOD'S EARLIEST TEACHERS

Dr. P. C. Ragsdale taught school in Brownwood in 1873. Three others now living here taught in Brown county in that year.

Dr. Ragsdale not only began his teaching in Brownwood fifty-six years ago but continued in the profession here for ten or twelve years and is widely remembered as a pioneer teacher.

Dr. Ragsdale was first superintendent of the school at Temple when that town was started on the Bell county prairie.

After his eight years as head of the public school, Dr. Ragsdale was for two years president of the Methodist College then in Brownwood, known as Southwestern Methodist College, and the following two years he and his brother, Mark E. Ragsdale, who was associated with him in practice, conducted a private school.

Dr. Ragsdale has taught the same Sunday School class, at First Methodist church in Brownwood continuously for fifty-three years—the same class, though, while some members have now been in it for several years, there is not a member of it now who was in it at its beginning.

Turning from school teaching, Dr. Ragsdale became a pioneer in Brownwood in another line. He operated a jewelry and optical store in Brownwood for twenty years, beginning about 40 years ago, and has continued in the practice of optometry to this time.

Three Schools The Brownwood High School had a double column ad announcing a session beginning September 13, 1880. This was over the signature of P. C. Ragsdale, principal, and M. E. Ragsdale, assistant, and read as follows: "Large, Comfortable and Commodious Buildings. Parents living in Brown and adjoining counties desirous of giving their children a practical business education—or preparing them for college—are especially invited to address the principal. Board to be had in private families at reasonable rates. Will be secured before coming if desired."

Two other Brownwood schools were also advertised in that issue. They were the Home School, by Mrs. C. A. Stroude, and the Coggin's Academy, Male and Female, of which Prof. R. D. Wear was principal.

A church directory in that issue announced that "Services are held monthly at the church in Brownwood as follows: 1st Sunday—by Rev. W. D. Wear, C. P.; 3rd Sunday—by Rev. R. L. Baker, M. B.; 4th Sunday by Rev. B. T. McClelland, O. S. P.

The paper carried the announcement of Winfield Scott Hancock of Pennsylvania for president, William H. English of Indiana for vice president, and O. M. Roberts for governor.

C. V. HARRISS

C. V. (Uncle Charlie) Harriss bears the distinction of being the oldest native citizen of the county. He was the second male white child born in this county.

Mr. Harriss lives about five miles west of Brownwood, on the Coleman highway, on the farm to which his father moved fifty years ago. The Harriss family lived in or near Brownwood from the first days of Brownwood and Brown county until the coming of the Santa Fe railroad in 1886, when the elder Mr. Harriss sold his land here to Brooke Smith and bought the present Harriss farm, to which the family then moved.

SHOP OF YOUTH HERE MORE THAN 16 YEARS

Shop of Youth, Brownwood's only dressmaking shop and the only establishment of its kind in this section of the state, has been one of Brownwood's outstanding concerns for the past 16 and a half years.

The importance of Shop of Youth as a Brownwood business establishment is clearly brought out by the fact that all during the past six years it has maintained an average payroll of $1000 per month. In addition to serving the local market it numbers among its customers prominent people throughout the entire West.

Twenty-Nine Years Since Coming of First Brown County Settlers

Williams Chandler, First Citizen in 1856—Early Days Enlivened by Visits With Indians—Capt. Brown Visited Section in Early 30's—Brown County Settled in 1857.

Williams Chandler and his family took up their residence on the banks of Pecan Bayou there were not more than 700 men, women and children in Brown county; and this notwithstanding that Brown county embraced a larger area than at present and that a considerable portion of the population lived in that portion of the county that is now in Mills county. Of the 700 people in the county at that time about 80 of them lived at the town of Williams Ranch, which is now in Mills county, and about 120 were in the town of Brownwood. This left about five hundred people, or probably 100 families to inhabit that large area embraced in the present limits of Brown county and extending to three miles east of the present town of Goldthwaite.

There were pioneer days here after 1876—days in which the pioneer spirit shone forth in the citizens whose lives characterized the country of that time; days in which scores of the modern inventions, conveniences and luxuries were unknown; days that set the memories now throbbing with the echo of their thrilling and interesting events. But they were different days from those of the two decades preceding that date.

growth from that period forward is known to all.

With this perspective we approach a brief historical sketch of the pioneer days of Brown county.

A new era had been ushered in. In the four years from 1876 to 1880 the population of Brown county increased three-fold, reaching a total of about 2,000. In twenty years the population had grown to 700, an average of 35 a year. In the succeeding four years there was an approximate increase of 1,300, an average of above 300 a year. The steady and rapid

COUNTY'S FIRST TAX LEVY, ASSESSMENT

"Wild And Woolly In 1874" Pioneer Says

J. M. Price, writing from Quemado, Texas, to register the names of himself and M. L. Price for Pioneer Day, says that he "sure would like to meet all the old boys and girls of boyhood days." Mr. Price writes:

"I was hauled in a two-horse wagon from Arkansas and landed in Brownwood in 1874. It was the wild and woolly west. Two dead Comanche Indians were on the north side of the square." He tells further of the last Indian fight in the county, in 1874, and says: "We were on the lookout all the time and our hair pushed our hats off many times."

He further says: "I guess my wife will come in on this registration as she came to that county in 1875 and lived on the Colorado river and went to school in Brown county. Her name was Lee Anna Huddleston."

The first court house in the county was built in 1860.

W. M. BAUGH IS ACKNOWLEDGED DEAN OF COUNTY'S PIONEERS; SETTLED IN COUNTY IN 1858

W. M. BAUGH is dean of the living Brown county pioneers. He has been in this county longer than any other citizen. He came to Brown county with his parents in 1858, a few months before he was four years old, and this has been his home ever since. That was in the year in which Mrs. Ella Stafford of Dallas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Welcome Williams Chandler, was born.

So far as can be learned, Mr. Baugh and Mrs. Stafford are the only survivors of those who were in the county in that year or earlier.

The things recounted of the early days here by later citizens have all come under Mr. Baugh's observation or have been part of his own experiences. All the experiences of the early Texas pioneer have been his.

When Mr. Baugh was growing up here, this country was all open range. On the west there were no settlements between here and Fort Concho, now San Angelo, and on the east there was not a house, at his earliest recollection being the Baugh home and Comanche.

On coming to this county the Baughs located where now is Lake Brownwood, and there made their home from that time on. Mr. Baugh recalls that in his early boyhood their nearest neighbor was a Mr. Roberts, who lived two and a half miles away, and their next nearest was the Welcome Williams Chandler family, near Brownwood.

There were ten brothers and sisters in the Baugh family. His brother, L. P. Baugh, who died in Brownwood in 1913, killed two Indians in the days of the Indian depredations here. Mrs. Lev Baugh, oldest daughter of D. H. Moseley, one of the prominent Brown county pioneers, still lives in Brownwood.

A brother-in-law, Don Cox, killed two Indians and was then killed by the Indians himself. Mrs. Cox was later married to S. P. McInnis.

The oldest sister married Bill Williams, and after his death married Mr. McReynolds. McReynolds was killed by the Indians and his body found seven days later near Camp Colorado.

W. M. BAUGH

Baugh were Mrs. Pres Brewer, Mrs. G. H. Adams, Mrs. S. R. Windham, Mrs. W. H. Sloan, S. C. Baugh and J. O. Baugh.

S. C. Baugh died in California two years ago, after a residence of about fifty years in that state. J. O. Baugh died in this county, near Thrifty, about four years ago and his widow still lives in this county.

W. M. Baugh was married in 1876 and his wife died last year. His daughter, Mrs. Nat Broocke, and family are now with him at his home at 1317 Third street.

Mr. Baugh's sons and daughters are as follows: George S. Baugh, Brownwood; Dr. W. L. Baugh, Lubbock; Mrs. Homer Chastain, Grosvener; Judge J. H. Baugh, Austin, associate justice of the Third Court of Civil Appeals; Elbert Lee Baugh, Brownwood, who was in the World War, being in five battles in that war; Mrs. Winnie F. Straut, Big Wells; Mrs. Mattie Lewis, San Angelo; M. M. Baugh, of Brownwood; Mrs. Ed Franke, Brownwood.

Sam Jones Revival In 1894 Drew 5000 People Into City

Those who are now among what may be called the old-timers of Brownwood recall the meeting held by the noted evangelist, Sam P. Jones in this city forty-one years ago, in the month of May in 1894.

It was a big event for the small city of Brownwood of that day, and it would be a big event for today. A large pavilion was erected on a lot near where is now the office of the City Ice Delivery and great crowds attended the services. From all accounts there was an attendance of from 5,000 to 6,000, hundreds of them from out of town at the services of at least one of the days of the meeting.

On that day the Santa Fe ran a special train of four coaches from San Angelo. The Fort Worth & Rio Grande ran a special train of eleven coaches from Fort Worth. The crowds swarmed into town. Editors of papers at San Angelo, Balinger, Comanche, Dublin, Stephenville, Granbury and other places came with the visitors on the special trains or otherwise and went home and wrote accounts of their trip and of the meeting.

Brooke Smith recalls that the pavilion built for the Jones meeting was still standing in 1899 when President McKinley was assassinated and that a memorial service for the slain president was held there. Though McKinley was a northern man and a Republican, says Mr. Smith, the audience in this southern Democratic community attending the memorial service completely filled the large building. The address was delivered by Judge Goodwin.

The members of the first commissioners' court were David Baugh, T. D. Harris, Thomas J. Priddy, Edmund McReynolds and D. S. Hanna. All have been dead for many years.

The first district court in this county was presided over by Judge Vontress. Thomas Hughes was the first district attorney.

PIONEERS' CHILDREN USED CATTLE BRANDS TO LEARN ALPHABET

J. H. Miller taught school in Brown county before the idea prevailed that children should be taught to read before they were taught their letters. However, he doesn't argue over the relative value of the two systems. He says he didn't really find it necessary to teach the children their letters when they started to school, anyhow. They had already learned them from cattle brands.

Mr. Miller taught school in Brown county fifty-six years ago. He arrived in Brown county from Kentucky in 1873 and began teaching at Thrifty, then called Jim Ned, the same year. He began the school as soon as the people of that community had completed the new school building. That was the old Masonic building and school house which was torn down only a few months ago.

What is now Thrifty was at that time called Jim Ned, and Mr. Miller explains that the name Thrifty was supplied by the Post Office Department at Washington. There had been a post office at Jim Ned but it had been allowed to lapse. The people decided they wanted the post office reinstated and at the community's request Mr. Miller wrote the postal authorities asking that the Jim Ned postoffice be again put into service. The Postmaster General's department replied that when a post office was discontinued all postmasters in the United States were so notified and that the name was never used again for a post office. They granted the application for a post office but named it Thrifty.

I. C. Mullins, the present county treasurer, was one of the A-B-C pupils when Mr. Miller taught at Thrifty.

Speaking of the cattle brands, Mr. Miller says it is remarkable how many brands both children and grown people knew—brands not only of the cattle owners in this county but of other counties too. Sometimes a stray would oc-

UNCLE JACK SMITH IS A HORSE AHEAD OF THE INDIANS; DROVE CATTLE TO WEST COAST IN '88

Forty-seven years ago the county clerk of Brown county was one of the younger citizens of the county—age 31—by the name of J. F. Smith. He served from the time he was 31 until he was 35; that is, from the years 1888 to 1892.

This was the J. F. Smith who is now known among his friends as "Uncle Jack." Citizens who were here when he was county clerk say he was a very popular official. Though he had been a citizen of Brown county about twelve years when he was elected as clerk and has lived here the forty-three years since his retirement from the office, that was his only time to ever seek public office. In his first race his opponent was H. C. Elliott. In his race for re-election his opponent was Will McChristy.

After retiring from office Mr. Smith was for some time engaged in the furniture business in Brownwood.

Is Native Texan

Mr. Smith, a native Texan, came to Brown county in 1876 with his brother, Jim W. Smith, and they engaged in ranching here. A year or two later their father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Smith, three brothers and two sisters, joined them here. The brothers were E. L., R. A., and Davis Smith and the sisters were Mrs. C. H. Jenkins and Miss Willie Smith. Miss Willie Smith was married to Mr. Knight after coming to Brown county. Uncle Jack is the last survivor of the nine. Some of the well-known and esteemed present citizens of Brownwood are of their succeeding generation. Jim W. Smith moved from this city to Colorado, Texas, where he died about ten years ago. He had been elected tax assessor of Mitchell county shortly before his death.

Uncle Jack Smith was born in the village of Fort Worth in 1857 and his early recollections are of

F. P. Grantham Native Texan; Here 31 Years

As compared with those citizens who have been in Brown county around sixty years or more, F. P. Grantham is something of a newcomer, having lived here only thirty-one years. Still, thirty-one years is no small span of time in the life of a town or community.

Mr. Grantham was not in Brown county in 1876 but he was in Texas at that date. He is a native Texan and on the tenth of next February will have lived in the state 70 years. He was born and reared in Milan county. He moved to Williamson county and from there came to Brown county. Arriving here he bought a farm, near Brownwood from the late E. C. Kitchen, father of Eastman Kitchen, and engaged in farming until about ten years ago, when he went to California where he spent one year. Returning here he located in Brownwood to engage in the real estate business.

His father being in the war as a Confederate soldier.

On Trail to California.

He lived in Tarrant and Parker counties and in Colorado before coming to Brown and as a boy from 12 to 14 years of age had the thrilling experience of helping to drive a herd of 2,000 cattle from Texas to California. The cattle, belonging to his father and other men of that section, were rounded up at Fort Worth. They were driven to Colorado, where they were wintered, and then the drive to California continued. The value of the cattle in Texas when they started was $7 a head. In Nevada the owners received an offer of $40 a head but refused it. They continued to California to find the cattle on their arrival there worth $15 a head. They traded most of the cattle for horses at an equal exchange, head for head, and then started back, selling or trading the horses enroute as opportunity offered. Mr. Smith did not return directly to Texas but was for six years in Colorado, ranching and trading horses for cattle.

On starting from Fort Worth the herd drivers fell in with an immigrant train, bound for further west. For Indian protection this train stayed along with them until they got into New Mexico, or out of the Indian country.

A Horse Ahead of Indians

Uncle Jack has always said that he was one horse ahead of the Comanche Indians. When he was a boy scarcely twelve years of age some Indians passed near his home one night in Parker county. A horse that had given out after an evidently long and hard ride was abandoned there. He got the horse next morning. This was the horse, or one of the horses, that he rode to California and back on the cattle drive.

When he came to Brown county, says Mr. Smith, it was to find himself among the most hospitable and generous people in the world. Frontier days were interesting and there was much to be fondly remembered, but he does not sigh to return to the conditions of the old days. Now, as then, he is forward looking.

The first school in the county was taught by J. J. Galop, in 1860.

W. W. Chandler First to Plant Crop in County

A paragraph from Brown county history as written by the late Henry Ford, reads as follows:

"Welcome Williams Chandler planted the first crop raised in Brown county, which consisted of 100 acres of corn and five acres of wheat.

"The crop was planted in 1857 and gave a yield of 40 bushels of corn and 40 bushels of wheat to the acre. The wheat was cut with a cradle and sickle and threshed on the ground with horses.

"Mr. Chandler raised fifteen crops in succession on the land without a failure."

MANY PIONEERS WILL RECALL MEMORIES OF SOCRATES MARTIN, SR.

Among those who have passed on to their reward whose names will be recalled by old-timers on Pioneer Day the names of Socrates Martin, Sr. and Jr., will find a prominent place.

Socrates Martin, Sr., came to Brown county in 1876 and settled at Indian Creek, where he died about twenty-eight years ago at the age of 81. His two surviving daughters, Mrs. Lou Boyd of Brownwood and Mrs. Lizzie Davis of Robert Lee, Texas, have registered on the Brown county pioneer list and both expect to attend the Pioneer Day celebration.

Socrates Martin, Jr., an honored citizen of the Indian Creek community for many years, died only a few years ago.

Socrates Martin, Sr., was a veteran of both the Mexican and the Civil War. A complete record of his life would make an interesting volume. The following is from a sketch published in the Brownwood Bulletin soon after his death in 1907:

"Socrates Martin, Sr., who died at his home near Indian Creek January 2, 1907, was born March 9, 1826, in Hickman county, Tennessee. At the age of twenty he enlisted in Company A First Tennessee Volunteers in the Mexican War. His father enlisted with him and under Capt. Whitfield they went to Mexico and fought in battle against the troop of Gen. Santa Anna. The elder Martin died and was buried in Mexico. Socrates Martin returned to his Tennessee home, taking with him many souvenirs taken from Mexican troops, one of which was a sugar bowl which he presented to his old friend, Billy Byrd, who was a revolutionist.

"After his return home in 1848 Mr. Martin was married to Priscilla Griner. In 1851 he came to Texas in company with his uncle, Sam McLaughlin, Billie Moore and Dr. Byrd Moore. They all settled in Fayette county, near La Grange. Here Mr. Martin worked at the shoemaker's trade and freighted from Houston. When the war with the states broke out Mr. Martin was contemplating the matter of going to Alabama to join his old command under Capt. Whitfield, when the governor issued a proclamation that no more troops should leave the state, so he raised a company of which he was captain and went to defend the state. At headquarters Socrates Martin was commissioned to go to South Texas and collect as many as 200 mules and a number of wagons. The commission which the Bulletin writer now has before him said:

"You will proceed without further delay to the section mentioned and will endeavor to purchase two hundred mules and forty wagons. If you can not purchase them at tariff rates you are hereby commanded and authorized to impress them, and will at once do so agreeable to the terms of the impressment act." On this mission he was accompanied by his First Lieutenant Jesse Harrell, father of Judge E. C. Harrell, of Brownwood.

"In 1876 Socrates Martin moved with his family to Brown county and with W. H. Posey settled at Indian Creek, where he passed the remainder of his life. Here he engaged in farming and stock raising until forced to retire from active life on account of old age. He lived a Christian life and for more than half a century was a faithful member of the Methodist church."

The first settlers in Brown county were Welcome Williams Chandler and family, in 1856.

The first church in the county was organized on Blanket Creek by Revs. George Vest and William Mayberry, Methodists, in 1862. The same ministers organized a church at Hanna Valley in 1863.

CHANDLER FAMILY ARE REAL PIONEERS OF COUNTY; W. W. CHANDLER CAME HERE IN '56

Brown county dates its history from the time that Welcome Williams Chandler established his home on Pecan Bayou, near the present town of Brownwood, in 1856.

Mr. and Mrs. Chandler and their nine children who came to Brown county with them were the county's first citizens. Four other children were born to them after their coming here.

Mr. Chandler lived in Brown county until his death in 1870. His grave is at Florence, Texas. Having become ill at his home here he was placed in an ox wagon to be taken to Austin or Round Rock for medical treatment.

Welcome Williams Chandler was born in North Carolina in 1813. In his middle teens he went to Mississippi and was married in that state at the age of fifteen to Miss Sarah Brown.

Sons and daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Chandler are named here in the order of their ages:

Mrs. Jane Harriss, Mrs. Harriss was the wife of the late Jesse Sutton Harriss, uncle of C. V. Harriss, who is the oldest native citizen of the county.

The first wedding in the county was that of J. H. Fowler and Miss Mary Chandler.

Baron Joseph Lister, founder of antiseptic surgery, was born at Upton, Essex, in 1827.

AUSTIN MILL ONE OF PIONEER INDUSTRIES; ESTABLISHED IN 1894

Austin Mill & Grain Co., one of the pioneer milling institutions in West Texas and one of Brownwood's oldest business organizations, was established in 1894.

J. A. Austin, for many years and until his death in 1920 a leading citizen of Brownwood and from the early days one of the largest property owners in the city, was a partner in the Lambertson Milling Company from its establishment. In 1906 Mr. Austin purchased the interest of Mr. Lambertson, and changed the name of the company to Austin Mill & Grain Company.

The mill since its establishment has had a reputation of milling fine flour. In the days of the Lambertson Mill, the trade name of the leading brand was "White Light" Flour, and the slogan, "White Light Flour makes Light White Bread" became famous throughout West Texas.

Henry Stallings, prominent West Texas capitalist and merchant, purchased the mill on May 20, 1920, when Mr. Austin, long in ill health, was forced to retire from the business.

Present officers of the company are: Henry Stallings, president; Leonard Stallings, Ballinger, vice president, and Louis E. Walker, secretary-treasurer.

In addition to the leading brand, "Cake Flour," the mill also manufactures Gold Arrow flour and the Gold Arrow line of feeds, in addition to a large number of mixed feeds, and distributes a wide line of feed, field and garden seeds and kindred items.

The mill here is one of the largest independent mills in Texas. It has grain storage capacity of 500,000 bushels. The mill has a daily capacity of 300 barrels of flour, 220 barrels of corn meal, and a 100-ton feed mill is operated.

The first post office was established in Brownwood in 1859. Miss Jane Chandler was postmistress. The first fight with Indians in this county was in 1858.

The first cattle here were brought into the county in 1856 by J. H. Fowler.

The first white child was born in Brown county in 1857.

The first county levy and assessment of taxes was made in 1859.

MAJOR JOHN Y. RANKIN WAS KNOWN AS FATHER OF CITY; OWNED ORIGINAL TOWNSITE

R. RANKIN, 491 Grove street, had not arrived in Brown county in 1876 and consequently is not registered in the list of pioneers now on record for Pioneer Day next Tuesday. But he just missed it by 33 days. He arrived here on the second day of February, 1877. And that he was not here sooner is not his fault. He didn't stop over in any other state nor any other county but came directly to Brown county, as the birth records will show.

His two sisters and his brother were here in 1876, though neither of them is a resident of the county at this time. They are: John Y. Rankin, Jr., who was born in Brownwood in 1874 and who has lived in Fort Worth since he was about 16 years of age; Mrs. E. A. Parks, who moved some twelve or fifteen years ago to Dallas, where she now lives; and Mrs. J. P. McClary of Henderson, Texas, who moved from Brownwood to Henderson at the time of her marriage at the age of 22.

These are sons and daughters of Major John Y. Rankins, who came to Brownwood in 1871 and was for many years one of the leading figures in the development of Brownwood. Major Rankin died at his home here in 1924, at the age of 99.

He came to Brownwood from Comanche, where he had spent about one year.

Herbert H. Baneroff in his History of the United States, Vol. 16 (and Vol. 2 of Texas), says:

Father of Brownwood.

"Major John Y. Rankin, the 'father of Brownwood,' as he is termed, is a Kentuckian by birth, removing to San Augustine, Texas, in 1853, when twenty years of age. After serving through the war, in 1871 he settled at Brownwood, where he established a land agency; his first addition to the town, purchased for $10 an acre, is now the best business portion of the city."

Major Rankin was truly a Texas pioneer. Locating at San Augustine in 1853, he pursued the study of law for a time in the office of J. Pinckney Henderson, who was the first governor of Texas, and who was elected to the United States senate in 1858. Mr. Rankin then served as lieutenant of a company of Texas Rangers, at a time when the ranger service was a very hazardous occupation. Later he went into the commission business on the Houston & Texas Central railroad, which was then just building northward from Houston.

At the outbreak of the Civil War Major Rankin raised a company at Navasota and reported with them for service in the Confederate army to Col. J. S. Ford, a soldier well known to early day Texans as "Old Rip," because of his reputation as a fighter. Major Rankin served in the 25th Texas Cavalry until dismounted in Arkansas.

Half His Life Here.

While Major Rankin led an active and eventful life in Texas for a good many years after reaching mature manhood, more than half of his entire life was spent in Brownwood and it is with this city that his name and memory are most closely associated. His name and his activities here will be recalled by many of the pioneers as they talk over old times here next Tuesday.

Major Rankin's first wife died here in 1873 and he was married two or three years later to Mrs. Josephine Wiggins of Henderson, Texas. Two of the sons of his second wife, by her former marriage, J. Y. and J. H. Wiggins, both now dead, lived in Brownwood and are remembered by many citizens here. A daughter, now Mrs. L. R. Warren of San Antonio, also was reared and educated here and is remembered by many friends.

W. S. Daniel Came To Brown County in 1877

If he could have made a shift of only one year in the calendar, W. S. Daniel would have been eligible for registration in the list of 1876—or earlier pioneers of Brown county, which has been compiled during the last two or three weeks.

Mr. Daniel arrived at Williams Ranch, which was then in Brown county, on December 22, 1877, his father, the late N. S. Daniel, and his family taking up their residence there at that time. A year later they moved to Rough Creek near Regency, which was then called Hanna Valley. They moved to Brownwood May 22, 1880.

Mr. Daniel has, therefore, been a citizen of the town of Brownwood a little over 55 years. His father died here about thirty years ago and his mother about eight years ago. When he came here, says Mr. Daniel, Brownwood was a small town but a pretty busy place. He was married here between thirty-five and forty years ago to Miss Ella Brewer.

The first Brown county bale of cotton was raised by W. F. Brown in 1858. It was ginned at Comanche.

HE DIDN'T GET HERE IN '76, BUT JUDGE RUSSELL WAS ONE OF THE COUNTY'S PIONEERS

YOU will have to move the calendar up to the year 1879, and to the closing days of that year, to catch the arrival of Robert L. Russell in Brown county. He is not one of the seventy-sixers, but, at that, he has lived in Brown county over fifty-five years. Moreover, any list of Brown county lawyers, Brown county school teachers, Brown county postmasters, Brown county merchants or Brown county newspaper men of 45 to 55 years ago must contain his name.

Mr. Russell stopped in Brown county on his way to old Fort Concho, or San Angelo, where it was his intention to locate. After two or three days here he decided that he liked the people and the country so well that he would become a Brown county citizen.

A Christmas dinner at which he himself was the host hastened his decision to locate here. He had crossed the Colorado into Brown county on Christmas Eve, 1879, to visit for a few days with his father's youngest brother, William Henley Russell, who lived at Indian Creek. He met a number of cowboys of that section of the country and liked them.

Being in Brownwood Christmas week he decided to ask these cowboys and a number of their friends to be his guests at dinner. He chartered the W. C. Harriman restaurant for an hour or so and invited them in. At the close of the dinner he announced to his guests that he had come here with the intention of proceeding further west but that he had found that he liked the Brown county people so well that he had decided to remain here. He has been here ever since and declares now at the age of 80 that he has liked the Brown county people better and better the longer he has remained among them.

Once Owned Banner.

In 1885 Russell with Prof. Carl Vincent and T. W. Gilbert bought the Brown County Banner from the Harris brothers. They operated the paper two years. Later he was in the drug business at Blanket with John W. Turney, and when John F. Day resigned he was appointed postmaster at Blanket. He lived at Blanket for some time, operating the drug business, acting as postmaster, practicing law and serving as notary public when in 1888 he was elected district clerk. After he went out of the clerk's office he was for about ten years the representative here of the Union Central and New York Life insurance companies.

But on New Year's day, 1900, announced to his wife that he was going to devote himself to one single business or profession from that time henceforth, and ever since then he has been engaged in the practice of law in Brownwood.

 opposition often has it that County was named for W. Chandler Billy Brown, whose was about 3 1/2 or 4 miles of Brownwood, and who lived almost reach his 100th mile Mr. Brown did not come to until the next year following its creation in 1856.

First Family in 1856
 The late winter or early spring 1856. Welcome W. Chandler his family to what was a wild western prairie, but later made into Brown County, his family lived here until that without any one else coming. about six men, some with and some without, came their home. In 1857, about with families, came, 1858 many more.

Build Double Log House
 Chandler soon began to a desirable place for his by building a two story double house with the hall between. This was the first house in the county, and it stood east side of the Pecan Bayou that is now known as the up-river farm (now the Lucas ides building a home for his Mr. Chandler had to have other than the meats of the animals and the fish. This in his planting and raising first crop this soil had ever red, or the first crop in the. This crop consisted of 100 of corn, and 5 acres of wheat, crop gave a yield of 40 bushels of corn, and 40 bushels of wheat were. The wheat was cut with and thrashed on the ground use of horses, Mr. Chandler 15 crops in succession on land without a failure. To Mr. Chandler in his crop he his own sons, were the slaves which he brought to county. They were the first introduced here.

title was introduced into this by J. H. Fowler in 1856. was another step toward ment. One step leads to another, but it was not until 1868 taxation was raised in this county W. F. Brown. This sale was at Comanche in a gra oped by horses. A tent was used with the lint.

First Wedding in County.
 With history goes romance, so Miss Mary Chandler and J. H. Fowler were united in marriage. The ceremony was performed by a Primitive Baptist minister by the name of Ainsworth. was the first marriage in the by but many more have follow-post office was set up in 1859 the home of Welcome W. Chandler with Miss Jane Chandler as Mistress. The mail was carried horse-back once a week, from Meridian, ninety miles. A young man by the name of Neill was the first mail carrier.

The first lawyer coming to this county to practice law was a man by the name of Trammell, and the first man by the name of Gallop. The practice of this profession at that time paid so little that Trammell left, and Mr. Gallop taught in school teaching. The first school was erected in 1860, on post oak log benches were seats.

Church on Blanket Creek.
 In 1862 these people thought it a and necessary step to establish a church. The church was organized on Blanket Creek by Rev. and Wm. Mayberry, ministers of the Methodist Episcopal Church. The same ministers organized a church in Hanna Valley in 1863. In their religious work, church creeds and doctrinal differences were not mentioned. One common altar sufficed and camp meetings and other places of worship were attended by all, and no one cared or asked what church the preacher belonged to.

Nearest Physician 50 Miles Away.
 The nearest physician for this section lived at a distance of 50 miles, until in the fall of 1862, Dr. DuBose, an experienced physician, and one of nature's noble men, settled in this country. In 1865 Dr. Windham came to this section to make his home. He too was an experienced physician and a man whose citizenship would have been a valuable acquisition anywhere.

First County Officers
 An attempt was made toward county organization in the latter part of 1857, but did not succeed. Permanent organization was effected in the early part of 1858. The first election was held in the log house of W. W. Chandler on August 6, 1859, with officers elected as follows:
 W. W. Chandler, County Judge.
 M. G. Anderson, County Clerk.
 W. F. Brown, District Court Clerk.

B. J. Marshall, Treasurer.
 Marion Potter, Sheriff.
 The first Commissioners Court was composed of David Baugh, L. D. Harris, Thos. J. Priddy, Edman M. Reynolds and D. S. Hanna. The first District Court was presided over by Judge Voutless and Thos. Hughes, District Attorney. The court was held in the log court house built on the old Chandler place at the upper ends of what is known as the Swinden farm. It was built of logs floored with boards sawed out of pecan timber with a whip saw, and covered with clapboards split from pecan timbers. W. W. Chandler and Greenleaf Fisk superintended its construction.

Tax Levy in 1859
 The first levy and assessment of taxes was made in the year 1859 by Isreal Clements, Assessor and Collector. Twenty-two names appeared on the roll with property values assessed as follows:
 2,978 acres of land valued at 80 cents per acre.
 10 negroes valued at $850 each.
 41 head of horses valued at $59.15 per head.
 395 head of cattle valued at $6.00 per head.
 Miscellaneous property, valued at $3641.00.
 Cash, $225.00.
 Total rendition, $33,182.00.
 Total tax, $66.90.

Ratification of Secession.
 Under an ordinance of secession passed by a convention held at Austin February 1st, 1861, an election for the ratification or rejection of this ordinance was held at the home of Welcome W. Chandler on February 23, 1861, which resulted in Brown County casting her lot for ratification. The result of this election was celebrated by those present by raising a Confederate flag on a 100 ft. pole. The flag was made by Mrs. Chandler, Miss Jane Chandler and Mrs. Brooke W. Lee. The material for the flag was furnished by W. W. Chandler and J. J. Anderson. The flag pole was made by fastening Spanish oak poles together, the work being done by John and Tolle Chandler, slaves.

District Court.
 The legislature in 1858 passed and amended an act creating the seventeenth Judicial District, composed of the counties of Williamson, Burnet, Llano, San Saba, Brown and Lampasas. Brown County was given one week twice a year for courts and proceedings. Grand juries held their inquisitorial proceedings in some sheltered spot, and in after years the grand jury established a room, usually a log cabin, but petit juries made up their deliberations seated on the ground on the banks of the Slough. Clients held consultation with their attorney under the shade of a tree. The court house was seated with split log benches, while a rawhide seat arm chair was used for the judge. The chair was donated by Ichabod Adams. The papers, records of proceedings, etc., were kept in a flour sack.

First County Seat Location
 Brownwood, the county seat, was first located a short distance above where the Lucas farm house now stands. Failing to obtain water at that point, it was moved below the Connell farm and a short distance east of the present railroad bridge. The log house which was used as a court house was also moved and afterwards in the fall of 1865 the Masonic fraternity added another story to it and organized the first lodge in the county.

A title to the land upon which the new location was made could not be obtained and Judge Greenleaf Fisk, having offered 60 acres for a site and 100 acres for county purposes, the settlement was moved to its present location. The location act creating Brown County made Mukewater Creek with its meanders to the Colorado River the West boundary line. Under this act the northwest corner of the county was placed about 13 1/2 miles south of its present northwest corner. This line was changed by an act of the legislature of 1858. A separate land district was created April 30, 1874, with Coleman and Rannels counties attached. S. E. L. Art. 2967. Coleman and Rannels Counties were attached to Brown County for judicial purposes Feb. 14, 1860, and attached for this purpose until the organization of Coleman County S. E. L. Art. 1883.

In the year of 1858, the State legislature passed an act appropriating $70,000 for frontier protection. Indian depredations were then so frequent and troublesome that Ichabod Adams was delegated by the people of the country to go before the session of legislature and ask that a company of Rangers be stationed here for protection to the settlers. The request was granted by Capt. John S. Ford, then raising 100 men for frontier protection, and was authorized to appoint fifteen men to Brown County.

Few Restricting Laws.
 The early settlers had but few restricting laws. They needed none. They were as a general rule men who were governed by direction of consciences, or consideration of personal honor which was the unwritten code of laws. This code was more easily maintained by reason of their isolation and mutual dependence. They came here unaware of the dangers and many difficulties they would have to encounter in this then termed vast western solitude, but the fine, simple and wholesome life it afforded though attended with exciting events, had sufficient fascination to keep them here. Some of these men of broad intellectual experience and were drawn here by an irresistible impulse to go west.

A great many were strangers to the luxuries of the drawing room and the King's English often suffered at their hands, but beneath the too nonchalant exterior of these rugged pioneers one could often find the true man. Here and there occasionally could be found a man among them who had only a hazy conception of the binding character of the Golden Rule, especially when it came to a sale of cattle to a tenderfoot on the range delivery plan, but this kind of men were rare exceptions.

Frontier Bill of Fare.
 The usual frontier bill of fare consisted of cornbread, milk, butter, wild honey, bacon, beef, coffee and sugar, when they could get it. Flour was used only on state occasions. The streams were at all times full of fish. Deer, antelope, bear, wild turkeys and other wild game were in abundance, and were frequently drawn from and added to the bill of fare.

Receptions were held wherever people happened to meet; oftentimes at camp meetings. They were not as formal as now, but were glad hand shaking, sincere affairs. Having once met a person, a second introduction was not necessary. Manly honor, pure womanhood, and good common sense were the only requested passports to further society. Pads, fancies and abbreviated wearing apparel were regarded as a mark of mental weakness.

The homes of the early settlers were built of logs, the double log house, half between style of architecture, prevailing. Clap-boards were used for shingles, the floors were made from whipsawed hardwood lumber known as rawhide. Often times hewn split logs were used for the purpose of floors. The furnishings were of the simplest kind and they were generally home made. Door locks and door bells were not fashionable, but the proverbial latch string hanging on the outside knew no bounds in these pioneer homes.

Waco Nearest Supply Point.
 In the early settlement of the country, and for several years afterwards, Waco was the nearest supply point, although sometimes trips were made to Houston for the purpose of laying in supplies. Ox teams were used altogether for these trips, usually from three to six yoke to the wagon. It took one month to make the trip to Waco and two months to Houston. During the civil war cattle were sometimes driven to Mexico and traded for supplies. There coffee was worth one dollar a pound and a beef steer bought 16 yards of calico. Alexandria, Simsport and Shreveport, La., were the nearest shipping points for stock. The nearest mill was at Tomask, on the Brazos River, 150 miles distant.

Owing to the prairie fires this section was then free from undergrowth and weeds and with broad expanse of prairie and with its open post oak glades it afforded a vision of surpassing beauty. Grass grew luxuriantly, cattle and horses were kept fat on it the year around and were it not for Indian raids it would have been a veritable stockman's paradise.

Indian Raids.
 Indian raids were frequent in this section of the country after 1857. The Indians were friendly with the whites until many families came, then they felt like they were being robbed of their land. Many lives were lost in these Indian raids and the accounts of them would be of much interest if they were related in story form. This is a very brief account of the little bit of local history that has been gathered together from time to time. Of course the history will never be complete, because most of the old settlers are dead. These pioneer people did much to make our county what it is now and to start industry and the building up of business. We owe much to these people for what they have done and their brave deeds to help the future though they might have been unconscious of it at the time.

HURT IN FALL

O. W. Ingram of Blanket Medical Arts Hospital for a fractured right hip, suffered Friday afternoon when he fell from a truck at the McDaniel Moore gin near Santa Fe pass. His condition is not considered serious although the pain is very painful.

Peanut Pool

This Association will load cars of Peanuts at Brownwood, Comanche, Rising Star, and Cross Plains, right along through the marketing season and members wishing to contribute to this pool should notify the association as far in advance as possible, giving an estimate of the number of bushels and the week, as nearly as possible, when the nuts will be properly cured and ready to market, to enable the association to arrange loading dates for your convenience at the nearest loading station.

The cars will be sold the day of loading at prevailing carlot market prices for direct shipment to Texas Mills, and you will be made a liberal cash payment at the time of delivery to the car, with the balance mailed to you as soon as our office has time to check your weights and grades.
