Sen. Connally's Anti-Strike Bill

The Connally Anti-Strike bill has passed the Senate and House and is before the President.

The principal object of the bill is to keep war plants producing.

"On June 12, 1941, I offered an amendment in the Senate which provided for taking over by the President and the operation by the Government, of plants engaged in producing national defense articles wherever such production was impeded or hindered by strikes or labor disputes. That amendment was adopted by the Senate as early as 1941 by record vote of 67 to 7. However, it failed of adoption in the House of Representatives.

The bill was later modified and improved. The bill approaches the issue from the national viewpoint, from the war needs, from the dire necessity to keep plants going and to keep production moving to our heroic men on the far-flung battlefronts in this war. The main provisions of the bill are: (1) It prohibits any strikes in a Government-operated plant or plant seized by the Government, under penalty of imprisonment and fine. (2) It provides for a 30-day notice of a labor disturbance in a private war plant and a secret ballot. (3) If a strike then occurs, the Government can take over and penalties will operate against any further strike. (4) It gives the War Labor Board power of subpoena and clear statutory powers. (5) It is no offense for any individual worker to quit work in any seized or Government-operated plant but penalties are provided for inducement or conspiracy with others to interfere with the continuous operation of a Government-operated war plant. (6) It authorized the President specifically to take over strike-bound plants.

No citizen of the Republic is above a sacred duty to his country and to his fellow citizens in this time of emergency. The war must go on until victory is achieved. Plants and mines must go on and must get their goods to the armies if we are to crush the enemy. The bill is a champion of the national need, the climatic national need of keeping the stream of weapons, equipment, and munitions going to the battlefields where our flag is flying and where our boys are battling for the victory that shall not be long delayed.

WITH OUR ARMED FORCES

EDITORS NOTE—The following letter was received by The Donley County Leader from Sgt. Marvin Warren who is now located at Tacoma, Wash. Before going into the armed forces, Sgt. Warren was manager of the Clarendon Furniture Store.

June 16, 1943
Dear George Wayne and Alfred:

Thought I would thank you for keeping me posted on the News from Home by sending me the Leader each week, and I thoroughly enjoy it.

I am well and feeling fine; have not been too busy but manage to keep going at something most of the time. I have been attending some schools and have really learned a lot.

I hope that both of you are enjoying good health, also your families.

We are moving this week and as soon as I get to my new station I will advise you of my new address.

Please say hello to all my friends.

Again I wish to thank you for sending me the Leader and every soldier appreciates hearing from home and the newspaper is one of the best sources of news. Keep the good work going and I think you will be repaid for your efforts.

I will close and say, Regards and Best of Luck.

WORKERS STAY ON JOB

Labor and management in the Southwest have given overwhelming support to the national wartime no-strike, no-lockout policy, a report by the Eighth Regional War Labor Board reveals. The region, including Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana, has far surpassed the recent national record of only three one-hundredths of one per cent of man-hours lost through work stoppages. In the seven months the Regional WLB office has been in operation, only four strikes have been recorded, the report showed.

THE WRITINGS OF SAM HOUSTON

Printed for the first time are some 150 or 200 documents signed by the famous Texas hero, Sam Houston, in an eight-volume work edited by two University of Texas historians.

The eighth and last volume of this series, which is entitled "The Writings of Sam Houston", has been completed and sent to the press by the editors, Dr. E. C. Barker, professor of history, and Dr. Amelia W. Williams, editorial assistant.

The entire work embraces some 4,500 pages of manuscripts and documents covering Houston's entire career from a young U. S. Army lieutenant serving with Andrew Jackson to his last fight as governor of Texas to prevent this state's secession from the Union and entry into the Civil war on the side of the Confederacy.

V-MAIL PICTURES FOR DADS

Photographs of children under one year of age of soldiers serving overseas or children born after the father has departed for overseas may be sent V-Mail under certain conditions, the War Department has announced. The regulation form must not be altered in any manner and the photograph is limited in size to not more than one-third of the correspondence space on the V-Mail form. The photograph must appear on the upper left portion of the correspondence space. It may include the mother or some other person holding the child.

MAY SUBSTITUTE TIRES NOW

Farmers needing farm implement or front wheel tractor tires will be permitted to purchase suitable substitutes when they are unable to find a dealer with tires designed expressly for their purpose, the OPA has announced. Dealers may also sell passenger car owners tires and tubes of a slightly different size than is called for by the rationing certificate.

Then he yells—
'BOMBS AWAY!'

What boy wouldn't like to just sit in a flying fortress! And to fly it... well, this pilot ranks with Superman!

One look at the instrument panel and you feel the same way. It's hard to believe that ordinary mortals could ever master the maze of dials, buttons, levers and switches required to fly and fight a 30-ton bomber.

But a lot of West Texas boys are doing it with deadly efficiency. (Ask Adolf, Benito or Tojo.) And they don't learn their jobs just by reading a book. It takes intensive training and practical experience to produce the bomber teams who risk their lives together.

The electric business is like that. You can't make kilowatt-hours with theories. You've got to learn how—the hard way.

That's the way most of the men and women with us got their start. It's the American way. Do a better job—and you get better jobs to do.

It's the system of free enterprise. It's simple—but it works.

It works so well that America's big peacetime industries became great war machines overnight.

It works so well that America's electric companies, under business management, were able to supply war plants with far more electric power than any nation has ever known before in addition to normal peacetime needs.

They're doing the job without rationing—and without increased cost to you!

It works so well that we're winning the war in spite of socialistic bureaucracies. But to hasten the day of victory, the bureaucrats must concentrate on the war and desist from their plans to permanently change our system of government by which America stands to lose its freedom at home.

THE TEMPLE OF TRUTH

By the Apostle

CITY WORKERS.

City men going into the country to help "rear" the crops is getting to be quite a fad down in Dallas county. Several bookkeepers got together and were lined up to go out to a certain farm home on a certain Friday evening. They ate supper, swapped stories and then went to bed at the same hour as the farmer at 8:30. But before turning in for the night, one poor devil ventured to inquire of the farmer: "What time in the morning do you want us to be up?" The old man looked pleased when he said with a liberal air: "Oh, any old time to suit yourselves just so it ain't later than 4:30!

WHY WORRY?

Don't worry about the condition of the world. As bad as you may think it to be, it still will be here long after you are gone.

GRANDPA'S DAY.

From all history, girls weren't so kissable in grandpa's day. But he still had a big advantage. The sofa wouldn't smash into a light pole during the kissing process.

IN AUSTRALIA.

A soldier from this section in Australia writes back that the sheep are little larger than Plains jackrabbits. In talking with a native, he was surprised when the native referred to his bulls as "bullocks." In fact he was learning a lot of new things. But when he spied his first kangaroos, he was stumped. He came back to camp and told the boys to get ready. "There is the dangedest looking grasshoppers headed this way that you ever dreamed about!"

FARM WAGES.

Unions are being formed in some places where farm labor is in big demand. We shudder at the thought of ceiling prices on farm products when the farm laborers get over with house to field and field to house and time and a half wages for overtime, and a 35-hour work week.

ARE YOU A NUT?

A scientist explains that the individual has no way of proving to himself that he is not an imbecile for all imbeciles imagine they are the smartest people yet. According to that process of reckoning, there are plumb plenty of them running loose.

DAD'S DAY.

Had a swell time Sunday, the same being Father's Day. Tobacco, cigars, clothing, soap and ties and a lot of things. It should happen around often. The mistake was made when it wasn't made at least a semi-annual affair instead of annual. Father's Day was begun June 19, 1910. Mrs. John Bruce Wood of Spokane, Washington and one of six motherless kids grown up, started the idea in memory of her father who raised his brood after the saintly mother passed on. It was made a national holiday by Congress in 1913.

Among the gifts Father's Day is a framed picture of Lt. Phifer I. Estlack that now adorns my desk. He could not have sent me anything that I appreciate more.

The contest is on in full blast. Wherever the old man started his Victory Garden and laid down on the job, and it was carried on by his wife, that wife can become a competitor for the cash prize. List your names with me, ladies. I want to know who plays the most dominoes, fishes or just fools around. The women always come in to save the day, and she will be doing it now. Let me have your names - - please.

The rest-pause that refreshes
Welcome in peace...
more welcome in war work

MANAGERS and personnel directors will tell you that regular rest-pauses plus the refreshment of ice-cold Coca-Cola increase contentment in their plants. Thus production is increased. A pause for Coca-Cola is a little thing in itself, but one of the little things that brighten a busy day.

You might think it strange that workers have such a welcome for a 5¢ soft drink. But Coca-Cola has something all its own in goodness. Made with a finished art, its taste always pleases. More than just quenching thirst, it brings a happy after-sense of complete refreshment. The only thing like Coca-Cola is Coca-Cola, itself.

Letters from plant managers from coast to coast emphasize that the little moment for an ice-cold Coca-Cola means a lot to workers in war plants. It's a refreshing moment on the sunny side of things... a way to turn to refreshment without turning from work.

A breathing spell, a rest-pause and ice-cold Coca-Cola. Contentment comes when you connect with a Coke.

"... SO I TOLD JOE, WE'LL NEVER WIN THIS WAR FEELING THAT WAY"

• "It burns me up! To hear some people talk, you'd think this war is something 'not for us'.

• "Take Joe, for instance. 'Course, his boy Clem's too young for the service, and he doesn't have any kinfolks to keep him posted on what our boys are doing 'over there'. But when he told me he couldn't see what we, at home, could do toward winning the war, I told him exactly how I felt.

• "I told him that if very many people thought as he did, this war could last months longer, and more of our boys would be killed . . . that we might even lose this war, and with defeat would go all the freedoms we love so dearly.

• "Well, that seemed to start him thinking . . . so I told him a few of the ways he could help . . . how his investing in even a $25 War Bond would help some American soldier get the equipment he needs . . . how the old iron and scrap metal around his place would make a couple of machine guns . . . and how important it is to save grease and fats, and grow his own garden so more canned goods can be sent to our armies. 'We've gotta make sacrifices . . . sacrifice until it hurts,' I said, 'if we back up those men at the front who are giving up their lives for us.' Well, maybe I blew off a little steam, but that's the way I feel. And now, I'm sure Joe agrees with me."

WACCs Arrive At Lubbock

Lubbock this week joined the rapidly growing number of West Texas cities having WAAC contingents, when cadres of the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps arrived almost simultaneously at both the Lubbock Army Air Field and the South Plains Army Air Field.

At both fields the new WAACs were met by sympathetic but perhaps critical officers and personnel. With everything moving in routine Army fashion the girls were then escorted to their sparkling new barracks and assigned to beds. The next morning a wary group stepped forth on new grounds, but their fears quickly vanished when they were given a welcome as warm as West Texas sunshine.

The cadres at both LAAF and SPAAF are busily at work getting everything in perfect shape for the arrivals of full strength companies.

In addition to the WAACs now stationed in Lubbock, there are members of the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps in El Paso, Pecos, Pyote, and Big Spring.

The belief that WAAC companies stationed in Lubbock will be of an invaluable aid to WAAC Recruiting has been expressed by Lieut. Col. Marvin B. Durette, commanding, West Texas Recruiting District. "As soon as the young women of West Texas can see at first hand the all-important work being done by WAACs in our Army Camps and Air Bases, I feel certain an ever-increasing number of our patriotic women will volunteer for service in the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps," Colonel Durette stated.

Women between the ages of 21 and 44, inclusive, with at least two years of high school education, and no dependents or children under 14 years of age, are urged to contact their nearest U.S. Army Recruiting Station for WAAC information.

The Victory Tax, which to date has been withheld from wages and salaries, above exemptions, at the rate of 5 percent, will be included in the 20 percent withholding plan provided for in the current tax payment act, on or after July 1. AUTO USE TAX STAMPS MUST BE PLACED ON CARS BEFORE JULY 1

Auto use tax stamps in the denomination of $5.00 are now on sale in all postoffices and offices of Collectors of Internal Revenue. The stamps went on sale Thursday, June 10th. The stamps will evidence payment of the tax for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1943, and must be purchased on or before that date. The stamps are serially numbered, are gummed on the face, and have provision on the back for entry of the make, model, serial number and State license number of the vehicle.

In order to guard against loss or theft, it has been suggested that, when affixing the stamps, the vehicle owner should dampen the windshield rather than the adhesive side of the stamp. This method has been recommended to keep the stamp intact upon the windshield. As an additional precaution, it has also been suggested that each motor vehicle owner should make a record of the serial number which appears on the use tax stamp in the event the stamp should become lost.

Every owner of a motor vehicle which is used upon the highways should call at his local postoffice and secure a $5.00 use tax stamp and affix it to his vehicle on or before July 1, 1943. After July 1, all violators will be subject to severe penalties imposed by law.

Among products affected are dress gloves and mittens, brief cases, new upholstery, radio cases, pocketbooks, handbags, cigar and cigarette cases, key cases, tobacco pouches, watch straps and dog furnishings.

for 100 OCTANE Phillips 66 Aviation Gasoline

Research begins... not in a test tube... but in the mind of a man.

Since Phillips Petroleum Company has the world's largest proven gas reserves, it was natural that the minds of hundreds of Phillips research men should early turn to the problem of new and better things from petroleum gases as well as from petroleum.

The resulting development, in the early 1930's, of POLYmerization enabled the use of light petroleum hydrocarbons (gases) which until then had been regarded as by-products of little value. Soon, several years before Pearl Harbor, they became feed stock for 100 octane gasoline.

Still other Phillips pioneering processes, alkylation, HF alkylation, and cycloversion permitted the production of 100-plus octane aviation gasoline, a significant contribution to extra airplane horsepower.

Phillips was one of the first, and remains one of the largest manufacturers of high octane aviation fuels. Thus we see how the peacetime study and work of Phillips scientists is of great value in our all-out war on the Axis. Similarly, when victory comes, today's accelerated Phillips wartime research program should bring to the American motorist new and greater gasolines for his post-war car.

Rubber Situation Explained By Jeffers

The following statements which were made by Rubber Director William M. Jeffers in a nationwide broadcast on June 13, 1943 should give each of us an idea of the current rubber situation.

QUESTION: When will we be in the clear so far as military and essential civilian needs are concerned?

ANSWER: "We shall supply rubber for all military and lend-lease requirements this year. We feel that we can supply essential civilian requirements—but, and this is important—by essential civilian requirements is meant the conveyance of farmers and their produce, workers to and from their places of employment, and other uses of equal necessity. BY THE FALL OF 1944, if we have no major setbacks, and there are none in sight at this time—I believe we can safely forget the rubber problem so far as essential supply is concerned. The big problems ahead are the facilities, equipment, and manpower to process rubber into essential products."

QUESTION: Do you anticipate that rationing of tires for civilians can be abolished in the near future?

ANSWER: "I believe that tire rationing should and will be continued until production of rubber and tires has reached a point where every driver is assured that he can have tires available when he definitely needs them to continue driving.

QUESTION: What can civilians do to help conserve rubber?

ANSWER: "The fundamental conservation measures which have been so widely publicized are still sound policy for every American motorist. Above all, he should never permit his tires to wear down to the point where they no longer can be recapped. NEW TIRES WILL BE ISSUED ONLY WHEN OLD ONES ARE NO LONGER RECAPABLE."

"In view of the above statements," the local Board warns, "it is obvious that mileage rationing must remain for many months and that during this period local Boards must continue to administer the Tire and Gasoline rationing programs strictly in accordance with the regulations and instructions established by the National Office. Local Boards must be certain that gasoline is issued only for essential driving, and that new tires are issued only when existing ones are no longer usable or recappable."

Cattle Will Do Harvesting

Some Texas farmers are planning an economical method of harvesting some of their field crops this year. They realize that a change must be made in their cropping system this year to enable them to obtain maximum production of livestock products or wartime needs, says H. M. Breedlove, County Agent. The method is expected to put poundage on their beef cattle without manual labor.

"The plan is to use feeder cattle to harvest the pasture grasses, sudan, Johnson grass and sweet sorghums during the growing season. After the cotton is picked and the grain sorghum harvested, the beeves will do clean-up work in the fields. Then the feeder cattle will be finished for market by using the feed grains which the farmers have produced themselves.

One of the biggest problems facing cattle feeders everywhere is obtaining cheap gains on cattle being fed. Breedlove says that from 100 to 200 pounds of cheap gain can be realized during the summer months by giving the cattle access to this grazing.

A minimum amount of labor will be required when the feeder cattle are permitted to harvest as much of their feed as is possible under good farm management.

Not all Texas farmers who have adopted this method will consider the establishment of breeding herds. They have arranged their pasture and cropping systems to permit them to handle a few head of feeder steers or calves during the summer months, and at the same time grow some additional feed on their farms.

TO THE PRODUCERS OF DONLEY COUNTY:

Mrs. Joe Ritter, Acting Secy. Donley County ACA

Due to weather conditions, pre-measurements may be brought in to the County office for some time yet. All measurements should be as accurate as it is possible for the producer to get them, especially those on the cotton acreage. Any producer is welcome, as far as the county office is concerned, to get his neighbor to help him with his measurements, however, each individual producer is responsible for his own farm this year. On Thursday, June 24th there is to be a meeting of all the County and Community Committeemen held at the county office for the purpose of studying the Compliance Program. The Community Committeemen will then be in position to give suggestions and assistance to the men in their respective communities regarding the Program. It should be borne in mind that the Community Committeemen are as busy as other producers, and that they cannot take the time to measure all the farms in their districts.

Several producers have yet to sign the Farm Plan Sheets for the 1943 Program. Remember, these Sheets must be filled out and signed if the producer is to be eligible for a conservation payment.

Word has come from the State Office that in some cases insured farmers are not making proper effort to secure essential labor as required under the Cotton Crop Insurance Program due to their unwillingness to pay the current and prevailing wages in their communities and counties. Some of these producers are under the erroneous impression that they will be able to collect indemnities under these conditions. It must be determined that the Insured Producer has made every practical effort to obtain the essential labor, otherwise it shall be considered that a war shortage does not exist and no indemnity will be paid for this cause.

Three Clerks from the County Office are to attend a meeting in Amarillo on Friday the 25th to study the Wheat Loan Program. After that meeting we will be glad to help any Wheat Producer with his Loan.

Chester Talley Jr., who recently volunteered for Naval service in the armed forces, left Monday for San Diego, Calif., where he will be inducted into service and receive his training.
