Two Million Annually Spent in Twelve Counties of District.

WPA program as outlined in the plan will provide employables with relief from unemployment. The plan provides for the establishment of a district office, to be established in each county, to be established in each county, to be established in each county.

Lad of 11 Gets 5 Years as Killer

A slayer at 11-George M. Snow sat at the witness stand in a crowded courtroom, as shown above, and told how he killed Johnny Holt, 16, with his knife, after the Holt lad had hit him three times with rocks. A jury of farmers found the defendant guilty of voluntary manslaughter and he will serve five years in the state reformatory. George is the son of a well-to-do farmer and his victim was the son of a neighboring sharecropper.

PLANS COMPLETED FOR FIRST ANNUAL REGATTA; BIG CROWDS EXPECTED HERE FOR WEEK-END

FINAL plans had been completed this week for the first annual Regatta and Water Carnival, to be held Saturday and Sunday, August 3 and 4, at Lake Brownwood. Numerous entries received from professional and amateur racers from Fort Worth, Dallas, Houston and Shreveport, indicate that the National Outboard Speedboat Races, which will be the feature of the Sunday afternoon program, will be one of the best that has been conducted in Texas this year.

The Sunday races are expected to draw thousands of spectators from throughout this section of the state, who will be afforded an opportunity to see big-time racers in action for the first time.

Equally interesting will be the Saturday afternoon races and water sports program. Races Saturday afternoon will not be under National Outboard Association sanction, but will draw numerous entries, and because of the large number of local boats to be entered in these races are expected to prove of great interest to Brownwood people.

The two day program will get under way at 9 o'clock Saturday morning, when the bait and fly casting tournament is scheduled. Local fishermen have been practicing diligently each afternoon for the past two weeks for these two events. Prizes totaling $60 in value are being offered to winners.

Following the casting tournament, a diving and swimming contest is scheduled for 10:15 o'clock. A number of local entries, as well as entries from Stephenville and other nearby towns are scheduled to compete in these contests.

An added feature will be a diving exhibition by Bob Bradford of Fort Worth, director of life saving for the Fort Worth chapter, American Red Cross, and three of his pupils, "Toots" Gilliam, Red Cross life saving instructor for Brown county, also will give an exhibition on this program.

Saturday Afternoon Saturday afternoon's program will begin at 1:30 with a surf board riding contest. Several local boys will compete in this. An exhibition in riding water skills also will be given following the surf board contests.

A military aviation exhibition scheduled for Saturday afternoon had to be eliminated from the program when the Captain J. C. Kenadvised Regatta officials that he did not have sufficient planes or pilots at the fields at this time to stage the exhibition as scheduled.

The field is under-manned at the present time, Captain Kennedy wrote, and unexpected assignments for the week-end made it impossible for him to send any aviators to Brownwood for the Regatta.

First races of the regatta will get under way at 3 p. m. when local commercial and inboard motorboats will be entered in competition. Then outboard motorboats will race in two classes and inboards will race in one class.

The outboards will race on the surveyed course in front of the boat docks and the inboards will race around McCartney island. A large number of boats will be entered in these races.

Cotton Farmers Begin Fight To Retain Benefits

H. G. Lucas Leading Opposition To Ginners Fight To Cancel Processing Tax.

Cotton ginners are facing active opposition by the farmers as the result of their enjoining the issuance of Bankhead tags required for movement of cotton. Members of the Texas Cotton Advisory Committee, now meeting in Washington report that the ginners can either suspend the court order or go out of business.

"The ginners can either side with the farmers and have the order relieved, or we will take steps to see that they have no cotton to gin from now on," H. G. Lucas, committee member and president of the Texas Agricultural Association, said.

When ginners attacked the validity of the Bankhead act, they had no idea of the far reaching effects, the committee asserted.

The Bureau of Internal Revenue refused to issue additional Bankhead tags after being enjoined by court order against tax collection. At present the Department has issued about 25 per cent of the tags necessary for the Texas crop.

Cotton cannot be moved without tags. Texas produces approximately 4,000,000 of the nation's 12,000,000 bales cotton yield.

Mr. Lucas, who is president of the Texas Agricultural Association, is in Washington this week attending the meeting of the Cotton Advisory Committee and completing plans for the court fight to test the constitutionality of the protective tariffs for industries and to build up a defense of the processing tax.

The AAA processing tax is the farmers' tariff and agriculture is entitled to protection the same as other industry. The manufacturing industry has destroyed the processing tax by injunctions and the farmers are plenty mad," Mr. Lucas stated.

Plans for the court action will be made at a meeting of the directors of the association, together with 30 or 40 leading farmers of the state at Bryan Friday, August 2nd. Mr. Lucas announced from Washington that date of the meeting had been changed from August 1 to August 2. At this meeting a report of the association's legal advisors will be heard and a suit will be prepared to test the constitutionality of the protective tariffs for industries.

Mr. Lucas said last week there would be no resolutions adopted at the meeting, but that the plan of action would be decided upon and actually begun.

TWO LIQUOR CHARGES FILED AFTER RAIDS

Two arrests on liquor law violation charges were made Saturday night by Sheriff Jack Hallmark, Deputies Chester Avinger and Ivan Ellis of Brownwood and Deputy Campbell of Cross Gut. Myrtle Lamb, Rising Star, and Mack Smart, Cross Gut, were given examining trials Monday morning and bonds for each were set at $1,000.

Myrtle Lamb was charged with possession of liquor for sale and when arrested she had four pints of whiskey and five half pints of whiskey, officers testified. Smart had a quantity of corn liquor, and a number of empty pint and half pint flasks in his car, according to testimony given at his trial.

Hens are laying more eggs this year than last, says the bureau of agricultural economics. Harmony Baptist church at Clarksville, Tenn., recently celebrated its 100th anniversary.

County Officials Are Here To Learn More Of WPA Plans

Approximately 200 officials from the 12 counties comprising this Works Progress Administration district were in Brownwood Thursday for a school of instruction regarding the plans of the new governmental bureau.

The meeting was called by Major Karl E. Wallace, director of this district. Major Wallace, Carl Blasiak, assistant director, and an official from the state WPA office in San Antonio will explain the types of projects which the WPA will foster, and the methods to be used in making applications for projects and securing their approval. Several district department heads also will address the visiting officials.

The meeting is one of a series being held in the headquarters cities of the twenty districts in Texas, and is for the purpose of familiarizing the officials who will be charged with sponsoring projects with the details of the work they are to undertake.

All county judges, county commissioners, mayors, city aldermen, school officials and heads of other subdivisions were invited to attend the meeting. Counties in this district are Brown, Coleman, Runnels, Concho, McCulloch, San Saba, Menard, Mason, Llano, Kimble, Gillespie and Blanco.

Following the meeting Thursday a two-day school of instruction for all county engineers will be held. Details of planning WPA projects and filling out application ties where located and should absorb from 60% to 100% of the able bodied employables now on the relief rolls, taking into account the prospective highway construction and work under the P. W. A.

Putting Men—

The sponsors will submit all proposals to the director in whose district they are located. The director will see that the proposals are properly completed and supported by proper papers and these will be submitted to State Administrator and when approved by him will be submitted to the National Director at Washington for final approval.

Types of Projects

Projects should be worth while, useful and constructed on property owned or leased by a public body and be so designed as to create the greatest possible amount of employment to those now on the relief rolls.

Projects coming under this classification are as follows: Swimming pools, wading pools, sidewalks, tennis courts, curb and gutter, street paving, street repairs, lateral roads, recreational parks, playgrounds, low water dams, landscaping, water storage reservoirs, seats and tables for parks, disposal plants, sewerage systems, sidewalks to school houses, driveways on public property and other similar projects.

Finances

The allowance of $600 per man per year will be the extent to which the Federal Government will participate in labor or material. Additional materials may be furnished by sponsors.

Wages required to be paid on a basis of 120 hours per month vary from $21 per month for unskilled work in counties under 5,000 population to $35 per month in counties over 100,000 in population.

Skilled work wages range similarly from $38 to $98. Government funds not required for payment of wages may be used toward purchase of materials and rental of equipment.

Sponsoring bodies may contribute any amount possible toward the project cost, thus assuring a better and more permanent type of construction, but in all cases they will be expected to participate to the fullest extent.

Ninety out of each one hundred laborers employed on each project must come from the relief rolls. The other ten out of each one hundred may be specialty men employed for a specific job. Sponsoring bodies may furnish additional or technical supervisors at their own expense to which said requirements does not apply.

During construction of any W. P. A. projects should the number of laborers on the relief rolls become insufficient to supply 90% of those being paid from Government funds it will be necessary for the sponsor to retard the work accordingly or furnish the additional labor at its own expense.

Regulations

Wherever possible, the sponsoring bodies must arrange for preparation of preliminary surveys and plans. The W. P. A. district offices may assist when necessary.

In every instance, the sponsor is responsible for adequacy of project design, conformance with legal requirements and concurrence of overlapping agencies such as State Board of Health, Fire Insurance Commission, Reclamation Department, Planning Board, etc.

Although the relief bill provides for partial contracting of construction, the most practical method by which to obtain prompt action appears to be by force account.

Regardless of size, any project rejected by the P. W. A. may be eligible under the W. P. A., otherwise it is contemplated that W. P. A. undertakings cost less than $25,000.

NRS OFFICES TO BE LOCATED IN COUNTY AGENT'S OLD OFFICE

The local National Reemployment Service Office is to be moved next week from Memorial Hall to the space now occupied by County Agent C. W. Lehmburg's offices on the first floor of the court house. Mr. Lehmburg will move to offices on the third floor of the court house.

Miss Lillie Bowman, in charge of the local NRS office is attending a meeting of NRS interviewers and assistants to the district manager at Abilene today.

Abilene is headquarters of NRS district No. 5 in which the Brownwood office is located. Operations of the NRS incident to the new WPA program will be discussed in detail and explained at the Abilene meeting. All persons employed on WPA projects must be registered with the NRS.

PIONEER RECALLS FIRST ROAD BUILT FROM BRADY HERE

Jeff Benson, pioneer McCulloch county citizen, recalled some interesting features of the original laying out of the old Brownwood road from Brady, and which took place fifty years ago. The county commissioners appointed three reviewers for the work, W. R. Pence, J. M. Duke and W. E. Benson—all of whom have gone to their eternal reward—and these three were assisted in the undertaking by Jeff Benson, who alone survives.

Although Mr. Benson says he did as much work as any of the three officials, he received nothing, while the reviewers received in full pay the sum of $1.50 each, or a total of $4.50, for the completion of 12 miles of road from Brady. This included plowing a furrow, putting up a mile post, etc.

Measuring the distance was accomplished simply thru counting the number of complete revolutions of a wagon wheel, and which proved quite accurate, since the 12-mile post still stands as recording the correct distance from Brady.

From the 12-mile post to the Colorado river crossing (at the old bridge) there was a road, or a wagon track, and Mr. Benson's recollection is that the commissioners court called for that without any review; thus this part of the road cost probably not so much as a thin dime.

Concluding, Mr. Benson says: "Now we voted $25,000.00 in bonds just to get a right to start the same road, and when all is paid, possibly it will cost from $5,000 to $6,000 more. (I voted on the winning side). A brief record published on this would be appreciated by me."

RADIO PERMIT REFUSED

Application for construction of a radio station filed by Lee Medley and T. O. Hurst of Brooksmith has been denied by the Federal Communications Commission. Failure of the applicants to file appearance applications was given as the reason for denial of their application.

"Production Projects." A. C. Allen, WPA Production Department, San Antonio.

"Correct Procedure in Making Out Application for WPA Projects," by a representative from the engineering department of state WPA headquarters at San Antonio.

Introduction of departmental heads.

Following the discussions, officials present will be given opportunity to ask questions about the WPA program. In order to conserve time, they are asked to write their questions on slips of paper to be furnished, and these slips will be taken up and the questions answered.

Our First Regatta
Success of the Regatta from the standpoint of entries in the various events - featuring the speed boat races Saturday and Sunday afternoons - has been assured for some time.

The Regatta is a worthy undertaking on the part of Brownwood citizens. It affords an opportunity for Brownwood to show West Texas the most beautiful as well as the largest lake this part of the country has ever known.

Plans for the Regatta have been worked out carefully by the several committees in charge. Every detail has been planned for the convenience and entertainment of the crowds, and the races and other events should move along smoothly and with satisfactory rapidity.

The committees in charge are to be congratulated upon the thoroughness with which they have carried to completion the tasks assigned them. One of the most encouraging features of the preliminary work has been the hearty teamwork and the ample demonstration of the ability of men of many and varied interests to work together for the good of the community.

In addition to the crowds that will be here from other communities, the Regatta affords an opportunity to many hundred Brown County people to see the Lake for the first time - for there are many nearby who have never been to the Lake.

Now that the preliminary plans are completed, let's all go out to Lake Brownwood and have a good time for the two days - August 3 and 4.

Very interesting, regardless of its practical value, is the suggestion of Rail Coordinator Joseph B. Eastman that careful study be given the suggestion of the revolutionary "postage stamp" railroad fare plan.

Anywhere For A Dollar
The plan contemplates blanket fares for rail passenger transportation, regardless of distance traveled. Thus, for $1, a passenger could travel anywhere in one direction on any rail line, up to a maximum of 500 miles distance.

The plan, if given serious consideration, would have to be worked out along lines of a government subsidy such as applies to mail transportation by most carriers. This is justified, Eastman's position is understood to be, because of the present plight of the railroads, and the possibility that government subsidy in some form must be worked out if the railroads are to survive present depressed conditions.

There can be no doubt that so far as passenger traffic is concerned, the railroads cannot view a return to prosperity as an indication of a greatly increased patronage. Other means of transportation have so largely been substituted for railroads that it would take more than a business and financial revival to bring passengers back to the railroads in any great numbers.

The postage-fare plan would bring them back, to be sure. In such numbers, no doubt, that it would mean revolutionary changes in schedules and equipment, for there would come the necessity for increased number of trains, which would mean added crews, increased employment. Automobiles would almost completely drop out of the picture so far as trips of any length were concerned, and with increased business would come improved equipment.

The plan probably is far in the future, but as one possibility of bringing the rails out of the woods, it is worthy of consideration.

Writing in Public Safety, Robert I. Catlin points out that there are three factors involved in solving the automobile accident problem—Education, Engineering and Enforcement. He then says that Enforcement represents the weakest link in the chain, and makes specific suggestions for strengthening and improving our legal machinery for coping with reckless and incompetent drivers.

First, every state should enact the "standard" driver's license law, providing for a thorough examination of all applicants for licenses. Second, there should be more suspending and revoking of licenses of drivers who are congenitally unable to operate their cars safely.

Third, separate traffic courts should be established, whose purpose should be educational as well as punitive. Fourth, traffic schools should be set up for violators of driving laws, under supervision of the police department. This has been done in several cities, and the work is meeting with great success.

Fifth, there should be more adequate protection for pedestrians - who are worst sufferers from dangerously driven automobiles - such as walkways and overhead and underground passages across congested intersections. Sixth, a Citizens' Advisory Committee should be created in every city to cooperate with the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles in an effort to further increase the efficiency of traffic law enforcement and to educate and interest the public in safety work.

These suggestions are simple and workable, and they can be put into effect in any town or city. They point the way toward saving thousands of the lives that are now needlessly destroyed by automobiles each year.

Observance of certain notable days should remind us of the obligations which those dates suggest. Nothing is more important than the focusing of attention on the needs of our world. It is highly important that people think, think seriously, think aright, and that their thinking shall prompt their actions and give color to their days.

The popular form of government is that in which people do their own thinking, elect their own officials and crystallize the sentiment that makes the laws. But we too much and too often emphasize thinking en masse. It is splendid if we can have majorities for the ushering in of every needed reform. But many a reform is obtained through an invincible personality—one person doing and saying what he thinks is right and standing by his guns though the heavens fall.

As a man thinks, so is he; so is his neighborhood; so is his community; so is his nation. One man has often set in operation a train of influences that never spent their force until the desired reform was won.

The wisest man is he who changes his mind and does different thinking today from that of yesterday, if convinced that he was in the wrong yesterday. It is not only important that we have firm convictions, but it is equally important that we have reasons for our convictions. Many a person, to take his word for it, does not know why he belongs to a certain church or votes a certain ticket. He has never thought through to its logical conclusion the philosophy to which he subscribes.

As a man thinketh, so does a nation think. As a nation thinks, so is it. The nations of the world thought for years in terms of militarism, commercial rivalry, secret treaties, jealousy, suspicion, and intrigue. The most destructive war the world has yet known seemed necessary in order to change the thinking of the world.

Now our civic responsibility and humanitarian obligations tell us we must think in terms of arbitration, love, service, and universal peace.

Let us continue to change our thinking. It is time our thoughts leaped from armaments to the personal needs of man. The unemployed, the tired, the hungry, the illiterate must be helped and saved. Crime must be overpowered. Children must be given the right to live the best of lives.

The contagion of sound thinking, of sincerity, integrity and moral courage can save our civilization.

FARMERS TAKE COUNSEL

(Houston Post.) Conditions of rural life are changing rapidly, bringing new problems that require new solutions. The new order raises a challenge to agriculture, calling upon the best brains of the industry for leadership and guidance.

Therefore it was with particular wisdom that the program of the annual Farmers' Short Course, which opened at College Station Monday, was planned to revolve around the theme of "The Changing Country Life." That is the keynote of all the discussions, the adjustment of rural life to changing conditions.

Approximately 5000 representative farm men and women and boys and girls from all over Texas are attending the three-day session. They will hear discussions and exchange views on the various momentous problems confronting agriculture from production to marketing, and return home with new information and new ideas for their solution.

Never was the farmer of Texas and of the Nation generally more acutely in need of the best counsel that can be derived from a meeting such as this for instruction and the thorough sifting of their problems. The large attendance at A. and M. college for the short course indicates that the progressive elements of the industry are awake to the need. It is to be hoped that they, and through them agriculture generally, will benefit greatly from the assembly.

ON TEXAS FARMS

Comanche—Thirty-five dollars profit per acre was made on seven acres of blackberries this year by Wilson Herndon of Comanche county, according to J. A. Barton, county agricultural agent.

Herndon says that his land would not make more than one-fifth of a bale of cotton to an acre, which after counting out all costs left no profit. He is now enlarging his berry patch as well as adding grapes and plums. He feels that his 27 acre place will make him an easy living through the sale of berries, fruits, truck crops and through the live-at-home program he is getting under way.

Memphis—A great saving in the feed cost for his hogs this spring is reported by John Ewen, swine demonstrator in the Estelline community in Hall county, according to James A. Jackson, county agricultural agent.

Dimmitt—The carrying capacity of a pasture on the land of Colin Walton, Castro county farmer, will be more than doubled this season because of water held by terraces from one recent rain, according to the estimate of the county agricultural agent, E. W. Thomas.

Relief workers at Clarendon, Texas, recently unearthed the complete jawbone of a prehistoric horse which roamed Texas millions of years ago during the late miocene or pliocene period.

Big Spring—The problem of wardrobe storage for the entire family has been solved by Mrs. D. W. Rogers, clothing demonstrator for the Soash Home Demonstration Club in Howard county, according to Miss Mayme Lou Parr, home demonstration agent.

One large closet 2 1/2 by 8 feet has been built to the ceiling, opening into adjoining bedrooms with doors into each room. Seven 2 1/2 foot shelves and an eight foot shelf provide adequate space for the quilts and most of the linens. Hats and folded clothes are also stored there. Three rods give convenient hanging space. The 7 year old daughter has her individual closet and storage space.

Lufkin—Surplus milk has been utilized by Mabel Modisette, pantry demonstrator for the Redland 4-H club in Ansellina county, in making 28 pints of processed cheese, she tells Miss Nellie Ward, home demonstration agent.

The cheese is made in quantities of three to six pints and stored for ripening in an underground cellar where it remains at a temperature of about 50 degrees for several days before it is used. The texture and flavor of the cheese improve as the ripening stage is lengthened.

Denton—Four thousand four hundred pounds of Irish potatoes were raised on one-fourth acre of land by R. R. Goode of Corinth in Denton county this year, according to Mrs. Edna W. Trigg, home demonstration agent. The quarter acre was used as a garden in 1934 and was fertilized with barnyard manure. This year the barnyard fertilizer was applied early and the land was listed before the potatoes were planted.

The land was too dry to plow the potatoes, so they were harrowed. After it began raining, it was too wet to plow until the plants were too large to plow. The only cultivation the potatoes received after they were harrowed was with a hose. They were hoed twice.

Entire cost of the project, including asphalt topping of the sewer and extension of the sewer was $1,653.60, according to Superintendent Sam Thomas, who was in charge of construction.

DRIVE AGAINST BEER SELLERS RESULTS FOUR ARRESTS

Sheriff Jack Hallmark's campaign against sale of 22 1/2 gallon cases of beer taken in raids in Brownwood has so far netted four arrests and four convictions. He stated this week that every bottle of beer in Brownwood before the end of the week.

Other arrests include Jess J. taken in a raid at a downtown address and Jean French, taken in a raid in Brownwood Heights. Four of beer were taken in two raids at one place, one at a residence and one case in a raid where arrests were made.

The sheriff says that he will interfere with delivery of beer chased elsewhere.

"The state of Texas provides for a citizen to drink and we don't want to limit with this legal consumption, they order from these truckers and pay them in advance a case or two of beer that is right," the sheriff said.

"We are going to stop the hawking of beer in Brownwood well as stop its sale. If anyone wants beer, let him order it legal way and we will not do as long as he is getting it for private use," Mr. Hallmark concluded.

PYROIL actually enabled a car to run 745 miles with no oil in the crankcase! Ask for the complete story.

PYROIL Increases POWER

Think of the power of plunging pistons... sufficient to move tons of rock up steep mountain grades. Yet the efficiency of pistons depends on the adequacy of the combustion chamber. Carbon-stuck valves, leaking rings, weaken the piston stroke and make motors lag and balk.

PYROIL increases power in motors because it seals rings and keeps valves carbon-free. Simply added to regular gas and oil. Supplies constant lubrication to the entire motor head where withering heat kills ordinary lubricants. Actually builds lubrication into the metal.

PYROIL deposits a patented processed, heat-, wear- and dilution-proof element on all metal parts, building and constantly maintaining an actual self-lubricating surface. Bearings run freer, cooler. Power, endurance, are marvelously improved. Easily saves many times its small cost.

Ask at your filling station or garage for further details. Try PYROIL today.

THE EARLY HISTORY OF TEXAS AS SHOWN FROM THE AUSTIN PAPERS

(Note: This is one of a series of articles taken from the three hundred special collections of family archives in the University of Texas library. The collections cover all periods of Texas history, from the earliest days of the Spanish missionaries in the province of Tejas, through the colonial era, to the present. This series of articles presents interesting excerpts from a number of these family collections, some chosen for their intrinsic significance in the development of the empire of Texas, others for their purely human interest in portraying personalities, economic conditions and social intercourse.)

cut its way through a considerable mountain of marble rock, at the Mormon Mills, is in the space of 300 yards, about 60 feet. The fall where the mill stands is 35 feet, and the pool of water into which he water pitches, has been tried with a rope 75 feet long but did not reach the bottom. In several places in the pool, quantities of some kind of gas is boiling up in considerable volume. They had no boat, and I could not approach the gas spouts. Mr. Posey told me that deep down in the pool, the water is strongly impregnated with sulphur.

"3, Friday—We left the Mormon Mills, passed over a very rocky mountain into backlovely valley. This valley is in some places stony, others very coarse gritty sand, while some are good soil for tillage. We camped at Marble Falls on the Colorado. The water pitches over ledges of black marble, making several falls of 8 to 10 feet in course of a mile. This marble is of fine character and will be valuable in time to come. The entire falls at this place, in course of a mile and a half is about 60 feet, according to my judgment.

"4, Saturday—Collected some recent freshwater shells and some botany also, some butterflies and coleoptera. Caught half a dozen large catfish. They are good, palatable food. The scenery about these falls is very fine, the whole affair has been gotten up on a grand scale. The three ledges of black marble over which the water tumbles, lies in the form of a crescent, with the swag down stream, near the center of the river. These rocks are regularly stratified, having a dip of 10 or 20 degrees W. They are riven into large slabs which lie parallel, corresponding with the course of the river. Through these splits or cracks, the drift of pebbles have rushed for ages, whetting the rocks into gaps through which the river now passes in many pretty little cascades.

"9, Thursday—Went to the west side of the Colorado at the Marble Falls. I took specimens from the lower Marble Falls. The marble at the lower falls is white and very fine. These falls afford superior water power, and when the right kind of people take possession of them, it will soon be made a great place. The inexhaustible quantity and great variety of marble that is deposited here will be worked and I predict that it will attract the attention of the civilized portions of the globe.

"17, Friday—Passed through Nuebraunfels, a neat little Dutch town. Their farms look well and are generally in good order. The water power here is sufficient for any amount of machinery.

"21, Tuesday—Found in the vicinity of Belmont a pretty extensive deposit of iron ore in which, in some places, is large quantities of marine fossils. They consist of shells, belonging to the tertiary period.

"23, Thursday—No. 41. In Joseph Pearce's field on Smith's Creek, Gonzales county. No. 42. From large and extended ledges of rocks in Dr. Hardiman's field, on San Marcos, Gonzales county. These rocks are composed of oyster shell of the recent species. There is a great deal of iron ore in this region—Gonzales county—some of it of a character that would remunerate the laborer."

Following his return to his home in Austin, Mr. Lincecum was impetioned by Governor Throckmorton to write out an account of his excursion and have it published. Several weeks later he made this entry:

"17, Monday—Captured some nice butterflies, coleoptera Hymenoptera, Diptera and neuroptera. Also wrote a letter to the governor, or rather finished one to him, giving a short account of the mineral resources of Texas, examined by me during my travel of three months, in 15 counties—Washington, Burleson, Bastrop, Travis, Williamson,

Burn Grass, Says City Fire Marshal

Fire Marshal J. M. Bowman has made an appeal to citizens of Brownwood to eliminate fire hazards of dry grass and trash on their property. He asked citizens who burn grass to watch the fire and keep it under control. A city ordinance makes it against the law to burn trash in the open, and provides that it must be burned in a metal or stone container.

With grass as dry as it is now it provides a tinder-box for a spark of fire, and grass fires sometime cause thousands of dollars property damage, the fire marshal said.

SHER-RITT WELL IN OLD BLAKE FIELD IS EXTENSION OF POOL

The Sher-Ritt Oil Company of Brownwood has drilled in a well with an estimated daily production of between 150 and 350 barrels on the J. T. Stewart tract in the northern part of Brown county. The well was bottomed at 1,550 feet and is a new south extension of 800 feet of the old Blake pool. Sher-Ritt has also drilled in its Leatherwood No. 2-B in the same pool for an estimated daily production of from 30 to 50 barrels.

The company will probably make two more locations in the southern part of the same pool soon. They are also beginning operations in Comanche, north of Sipe Springs.

Preparations are being completed at the McDonald and Campbell well on the Smith tract, 3 1-2 miles south of Zephyr, to casing and to cement of the Ellenberger at 2,860 feet, the present good showing of oil encountered this week about 10 days before setting casing and completed.

Motorcycle racing may be all it's cracked up to be, but Peewee Cullum would have been hard to convince just at this moment as he sailed from his mount in a spectacular spill at Los Angeles stadium and was caught in this remarkable camera shot as his legs whirled over his head. Tiny Carroll, right, and Do Ligman, behind, were making desperate efforts to miss Peewee and his fallen cycle as they whirled around the track.

COUNTY AGENT GIVES FORMULA TO COMBAT COTTON LEAF WORMS

The following formulas for use in combatting leaf worms on cotton plants have been furnished by County Agent C. W. Lehmburg for the benefit of cotton farmers in this county.

1. Calcium arsenate. Use undiluted. Application per acre, three to four pounds. Apply with dusting machine or the pole and bag method. Calcium arsenate will not burn the plants.
2. Lead arsenate. Use 1 pound of arsenate and 1-4 pound of hydrated lime. Will require 3 to 4 pounds of this mixture per acre. Apply in same manner as calcium arsenate.
3. Paris Green. Use 1 pound of Paris green to 5 pounds of hydrated lime.

Either one of the three above formulas will give good results if applied as soon as leaf worms make their appearance.

If a liquid spray is desired the following formulas are recommended by the Extension Service of the A. & M. College.

1. Lead arsenate or calcium arsenate 1 1-2 to 2 lbs. to 50 gallons of water.
2. Paris green, 1 pound, quick lime 2 pounds, water 50 gallons.

In cases where lead arsenate, calcium arsenate or paris green is not available the following formula may be used:

1. White arsenate 2 lbs., Sal Soda (Crystals) 4 lbs., water 1 gallon. Boil for 15 to 20 minutes. Add just enough water to make up for what is lost in boiling. Keep this mixture in jugs or bottles plainly labeled poison, until needed. When ready to use add 8 pounds of hydrated lime and 200 gallons of water. In applying this solution a spray with a very fine nozzle should be used.

White arsenic should be used only when the other above named poisons are not available. Special care should be taken not to get the white arsenic spray stronger than recommended above. White arsenic when used too strong will seriously burn the plants.

Livestock should not be allowed to run in the fields after any of the above poisons have been applied. Remember that these materials are poisonous and will kill livestock.

C. W. LEHMBERG, County Agent.
