YOUR 1943 INCOME TAX

J. A. Warren, local income tax man, is furnishing us herewith just a little advance information about filing 1943 income tax reports. He advises the Leader that most persons liable for filing, except in the case of farmers, those who obtain as much as 80% of their income from farming, must file an "Estimated" Return of their full year's income, from wages, trade or business, on or before Sept. 15th, 1943, except in the case of the exception above, farmers, and they have until December 15th to file their "Estimated" reports.

have filed "Estimated" returns on Sept. or Dec. 15, 1943, must, after January 1, and before March 15th, 1944, file a "Final" and correct return, as you have done heretofore, at which time all differences in your Estimated and Final reports will be adjusted. He advises that as the dates above set out as final filing dates, mean that these reports must be in the office of Collector of Internal Revenue of your district, on or before those dates, therefore please remember and mark it carefully on your calendar, that in order to meet this requirement, it will be necessary that you make your report early, say in August, or else it will be impossible to complete them on time, as they are so complicated, so many angles to take into consideration this time that they cannot be made up with the same dispatch as heretofore, but will require much time and attention. Some, who will not be required to file Estimates Returns on above dates, will probably have to file after Jan. 1st, as heretofore.

"Striking" Back

EDITORS NOTE—The following article is contributed by James Troy Rumpy, a Seabee and son of J. F. Rumpy. He is located somewhere in the south Pacific at this time. This editorial was published in the mimeographed paper put out by the Seabees and known as the "Seabreeze" and published at their home base.

We, the members of the armed forces, that are so far from home are shocked, and not a little incensed at the attitude of those workers (?) at home who are quibbling over their pay envelopes, already fattened by this war! It shocked us when we think—and how true this is—that the very people sabotaging the war effort at home, by striking, are our own people! Don't they realize that they are bartering the body and blood of their own sons, fathers, and brothers for a few tainted dollars? Yes, almost as tainted as the Silver Pieces of Judas Iscariot! The shock is even greater...

Our anger will make us remember the ones who stabbed us in the back, by going on strike—when, and IF we get back home! These same people will argue as to their inherent RIGHT—to strike. We out here ask "By whose grace do you have that RIGHT at present?" Is it not the gift of the men who face the enemy* that wants that right taken away from us? Is it not the blood and life of those men who DIED for their Right? Then why turn on those same men by holding these men back from their avowed purpose of freeing the world of slavery, the slavery of the Axis Countries? Why sentence your own flesh and blood to death for a few paltry dollars? Are the days and weeks spent in fox-holes and under fire spent for nothing? Why do we fight, only to be stabbed at home? We men will go on, and win, but, we betide those people guilty of such doings, because, those dancers will be made to Pay the Piper! We will not all remain in outland graves; and those who return—can you, who go on strike now—face your own—and exclaim, "My rights!" We think not! We only wish this could reach all of those responsible for these outrages! The men of the armed forces are giving their all. What sacrifice does this band of strikers give? We can see none! If their love of country is so strong, then—let the work go on, and on, until the war is won. Then, and only then, will they have also won the right to strike! Let's be Americans!

Have a "Coke" = Welcome, Friends

... or how to get along in Alaska

The American soldier in Alaska meets up with a hundred little things that remind him of home. One of them is Coca-Cola. Have a "Coke", says he, and it clicks in the Yukon as it does in Youngstown or Yuma. From pole to pole Coca-Cola stands for the pause that refreshes—has become the high-sign between kindly-minded strangers.

Phillips Petroleum Company
Announces the Completion and First Operation of its 90,000,000 Lb. Butadiene Manufacturing Plant

For an annual production of rubber equivalent to 11,000,000 tires

A MODERN miracle of petroleum research and chemistry has figuratively transformed a few acres in the Panhandle of Texas into one-third of a million acres of rubber plantation.

Here rubber will be drilled from the depths of the U. S. earth, instead of tapped from East Indian and Malayan trees.

From wells overlying the greatest raw gas field ever discovered, will come the natural gas to be processed into butadiene, the basic and major ingredient in synthetic rubber.

This great plant . . . designed and built by Phillips . . . based on Phillips research . . . using Phillips own patented processes . . . independent of German research . . . will make butadiene for an equivalent of 30,000,000 rubber trees.

Thus is brought nearer the no-longer distant day of U. S. self-sufficiency in rubber. Thus is Victory made more certain. And with that great day will come the full peacetime benefits of this outstanding wartime development.

Brief Notes about Phillips as Trail Blazer in the Synthetic Rubber Field

Tires containing rubber produced from Phillips butadiene have been on the nation's highways for more than two years.

In 1941 Phillips produced, for commercial rubber use, more than four times as much butadiene as any other oil company.

Phillips has freely supplied technical data on butadiene, styrene, and other related processes, to the petroleum and other industries participating in the Government rubber program. As a matter of company policy, Phillips advocated the production of butadiene by all dependable processes, from all possible raw materials, including products of the farm.

Texas Statehood
A Garland Adair, Commissioner Texas Centennial of Statehood 1945-46
History conscious Texans are asking the question "What is being done on behalf of a state observance of the centennial of Texas Statehood?"
The answer to this is there is perhaps being done as much as could possibly be done during the stress of war to plan, for an appropriate patriotic and cultural statewide observance in 1945 and 1946 of the admission of Texas as the 28th state.
There's an official Centennial of Texas Statehood Commission now being fully organized.
The Statehood Commission is cooperating in every way possible with the war effort on behalf of an early victory.
Karl Hoblitzelle of Dallas is chairman of the Statehood Commission; Jesse H. Jones, U. S. Secretary of Commerce is the chairman of Federal Participation; Paul L. Wakerfield is the Executive Secretary; W. Lois Hodges is Executive Assistant and Treasurer; A. Garland Adair is the Commissioner, and headquarters have been opened at 612 Norwood Building, Austin, Texas.
No funds have been appropriated by the Texas Legislature for the work of the Commission. Voluntary subscriptions are going to be depended upon to carry on the program which has been divided into three divisions: Preparation, Legislation and Participation.
The program in prospect calls for the cooperation of the entire citizenship and the patriotic, civic and commercial organization, fraternal bodies and historical societies, and is meeting with most gratifying response. Many commissioners, both men and women, are to be added just as rapidly as it can be done and entirely with cooperation with the war effort uppermost.

BARBED WIRE AVAILABLE
Approximately 20,000 tons of barbed wire with extra long barbs, made for military purposes, will be used to meet a shortage of barbed wire on farms, according to WPB. The action is part of the Office of Civilian Requirements' program to make needed supplies available to farmers. The wire shortage was aggravated by the recent midwestern floods which washed out many miles of fence.

JAP PRISONERS DIE
More than 300 U. S. war casualties are the result of unhealthful conditions in Japanese prison camps, according to messages received through the International Red Cross from Japan. Disease is stated in each case as the cause of death.
In case a worker finds that wages credited to his social security account number are not in accordance with his own records or belief, he should report the facts to the Social Security Board. This must be done, however, within 4 years after the wages were paid.
A single layer of oxygen atoms on a sliver of steel the size of a safety razor blade can be weighed by a sensitive balance in the Westinghouse Research Laboratories. Such a layer weighs two hundred-millionths of an ounce, or about a hundredth as much as a speck of pepper.

University of Texas men students who recently sold their furniture and other equipment from the Oak Grove Cooperative Dormitory—turned over to the Navy—have "salted away" the proceeds in a trust fund for resuming operations after the war.
Contrary to the old saying, lightning usually strikes more than once in the same place. Engineers of the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Company took a photograph in North Carolina of a thunderbolt that consisted of 31 consecutive separate strokes, all occurring within six-tenths of a second.

TOOLS FOR FARMERS
Wrenches, pliers, screwdrivers and other mechanics' hand service tools should be more generally available to farmers and home mechanics as a result of an amendment of Order E-6 by WPB. The amended order, which is designed to bring a better distribution of these tools among consumers, sets aside from 20 to 25 percent of the monthly production of specified tools for commercial distributors.

Only one Texas business concern had to go into bankruptcy in May and one in April, as compared with pre-war monthly totals which sometimes went as high as 20 or 30. University of Texas Bureau of Business Research records show.
Texas farmers sold 74 million dollars worth of agricultural products during May, compared with 54 million in May, 1942, a University of Texas business research statistician reports. Higher prices rather than increased marketings account for the gains.
Plants of the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Company use more radium than the largest hospitals. With radiations from radium salts, engineers take "pictures" through metal castings more than a foot thick, to detect flaws.
Any worker may ascertain the amount of wages credited to his social security account by securing a post card from any office of the Social Security Board and mailing it to Baltimore. It is self-addressed. The only thing needed is to affix a 1-cent stamp to it.

TRAINING FOR FARM WORK
More than half of the men and women taking the rural war production courses offered by the War Manpower Commission are interested principally in the operation of farm machinery, food processing, and egg production. The Cotton Farmer Is Still Operating Under Smaller Income Rise Than Industrial Worker

The cotton farmer, while encouraged at 20-cents-a-pound prices, is still operating on a much smaller income-rise than is the industrial worker, Dr. A. B. Cox, University of Texas cotton marketing authority, points out.

The director of the University's Bureau of Business Research quotes U. S. Department of Agriculture figures to show that in April, 1943, industrial wages stood at an index of 286, compared to 211 for cotton prices. In both cases, the period 1935-39 was taken as a base period, equalling 100.

As a matter of fact, there was already a wide gap between the two even in the 1935-39 period, he emphasized. At that time, the old base period of 1909-14 was used as a yardstick, or 100, and by 1939 the index for cotton prices had dropped to 73, while industrial wages stood at 215.

Recent reduction of the prices of artificial fibers will help hold down prices of cotton goods and raw cotton, he said. Staple viscose rayon fiber is now selling for 24 cents a pound or close to the price of medium staple cotton.

Furthermore, the cotton industry is actually "subsidizing" the beef, pork and dairy products industries because of the ceiling price that has been placed on cottonseed meal, he declared. This ceiling price is at a lower level than the products into which it is being converted, he asserted.

He also raised objection to the "very large profits made in the manufacture of many lines of cotton goods in 1942 because the price ceilings on cotton goods were based on prices of raw cotton more than two cents a pound above actual prices." Cotton prices, he believed, should be permitted "to go high enough to cause farmers to stay on their farms and to produce the minimum amounts and qualities of cotton demanded."

WHAT TO WRITE SOLDIERS

"The soldier wants the intimate details of life back home," says Chaplain (Major) Alvie L. McKnight of Cleveland, Mississippi, who has just returned to the U. S. after five months of duty on Guadalcanal. "That the girl two doors down has taken a war plant job, or that the couple across the street have had a baby may make your letter read like a personal column in a small-town weekly newspaper, but that's what he wants. By all means, don't tell the soldier about your troubles. He has enough of his own. Domestic troubles affect the morale of the soldier at the front more than anything else. Something to live for and go back to is what keeps a soldier going. It is what gives a man fight. Home life is everything to the man at the front."

GARDEN GLANCES

"America beautiful lies in the hands of the gardeners."

The Fred Chamberlain home and grounds are very lovely this time of the summer. The huge maples towering high into the air, the ivy covered rustic rock fence with its Knotty pine gates, the spacious grassy lawn, the perfectly trimmed formal hedge combined with various blossoming flowers and shrubs produce a very pleasing effect.

The landscape at the R. T. Brown home is also very attractive. Bright red cannas in an oval bed brighten one side, while the petunias, phlox and a number of dahlias add color to the other side.

The landscape of the Turner Nichols home is beautiful, well-kept and noticeable. Numerous shrubs and flowers help to make it more attractive.

Perennial phlox of bright colors are to be found in the gardens of Melvin Cook, M. P. Gentry and Nathan Cox.

Red Cannas in an oval bed produce a gay splash of color at the home of Miss Marjorie Graves.

A number of early dahlias have begun to appear in many gardens. Some very pretty ones are seen in the gardens of W. B. Sims and George Norwood.

Put your Extra Dollars into War Stamps this month to Buy the SHANGRI-LA

What is the Shangri-La? It's the symbol of America's power and trust in freedom. It is the airplane carrier that will take our planes back to Tokyo where they will avenge the barbarism of the Japs and leave their city in total destruction. It is the fulfillment of every American's promise that the job started by Jimmy Doolittle's boys will be thoroughly finished, in true American fashion.

How can you help? You can do your part by spending your extra change for War Stamps. It is your dollar, together with the dollar of every man, woman and child in the country that will pile up to the total of $131,669,275 and build the mystery ship. By passing up nick nacks, or by converting the change from your lunch check into War Stamps, you will be carrying the answer of democracy to dictatorship!

Kin Send United Nations Prisoners Of War Parcels

"Stalag," "Dulag," or "Oflog," might be just three more German words to most people but to hundreds of American families they mean the addresses where their brothers, husbands, or fathers are held prisoners of war in German camps. Stalag is an abbreviation of a German word meaning a prison camp for privates, Oflog is a permanent officers' prison camp, and Dulag is a transient camp. But whatever the camp, it is such an address on the labels furnished next of kin of captured United States personnel by the Office of Provost Marshal General which enables them to mail parcels to their brothers and husbands.

Italian prison camps are designated by P. G. and P. M., followed by a designating number. The P. M. is an area and the P. G. is a specific camp. Through April 30, 1943, the American Red Cross had been informed of the dispatch of 31,889 parcels from Geneva to American soldiers in German and Italian prison camps.

The standard American Red Cross prisoner of war food parcel contains powdered whole milk, oleomargarine fortified with vitamin A, American cheese, pork luncheon meat, corned beef, liver pate, salmon, dried prunes, orange concentrate, army biscuits, sugar, coffee, chocolate, cigarettes, and soap. Each parcel weighs eleven pounds, more than eight of which are food.

Order Weekly Parcels

The International Red Cross has been instructed to dispatch sufficient standard American Red Cross food parcels so that one may be distributed each week to each United States prisoner. Other United Nations prisoners of war receive American Red Cross food parcels, which are purchased by foreign Red Cross societies, governments in exile, and private relief organizations. Parcels for American prisoners are paid for by the Army and Navy.

Purchasing Regulations

New regulations have been issued by which close relatives of United Nations prisoners of war may send standard food parcels to identified prisoners in Europe through the American Red Cross. These regulations, now effective, can be obtained from local Red Cross chapters, and cover prisoners of Belgian, Polish, Yugoslav, Norwegian, Dutch, Greek, and other nationalities. Prisoners held by Japan are not included in the new regulations, due to present lack of transportation facilities to the Far East.

The American Red Cross emphasized that only through placing an order for a standard Red Cross food parcel, and under certain regulations information about which can be obtained at the local Red Cross chapters, may these parcels be sent. They cost $3.50.

In addition to food parcels delivered each week, articles of clothing and other supplies are delivered to Americans in prison camps as they are needed. In March 1943, the following distribution of such articles was reported by the International Committee to the American Red Cross: 960 overcoats, 1308 pairs of shoes, 1,323 shirts, 1,280 undershirts, 1,306 shorts, 2,280 pairs of socks, 2,660 handkerchiefs, 185 trousers, 130 army caps, 130 gloves, one case disinfectant, 100 toilet sanitary articles.

Relatives Send Parcels

The same type of standard food parcel is distributed weekly to all American prisoners of war, and is paid for by the United States Army and Navy. Private parcels may be sent direct to American prisoners whose next of kin reside in the United States, to whom labels are issued by the Office of the Provost Marshal General, War Department, Washington, D. C., or by any individual to whom the next of kin transfers his label. Labels issued by the Department of War Services, Ottawa, Canada, to next of kin in the United States of captured members of the Canadian forces authorize the sending of a private parcel each ninety days. The American Red Cross does not accept contributions for the standard food parcels for United States prisoners, but does accept unrestricted contributions for general relief to United States prisoners, applying such funds to the purchase and shipment of medical supplies, cigarettes, tobacco, and other comfort articles not provided by the Army and Navy. The new regulations do not apply to civilians living in enemy-occupied countries.

Having Trouble Getting Help?

So are we. Like you, we're faced with the biggest production job in our history. And, like you, we've lost many of the men who used to help us.

Yet that's only part of the story. Every day, on farm and factory, there's something new to test the skill of those running the business. Not only getting help, but—to mention a few others—rising costs, making a fair profit, and setting aside reserves for a rainy day. Essentially, those problems are the same for farm and factory, though they may at times differ in size.

But it is that thing called "management," that peculiarly American ability to think through problems no matter how tough, that is helping to see us through today.

It is this skill in management that farmers and businessmen have most in common, a skill which insures the realization of our determination to produce all that's needed for our country today, and tomorrow, to make a fair living through greater service to our fellow Americans. DAVIS Bumper to Bumper Service

DALE HILL, Manager

A letter to relatives here this week from L. C. Williams advises that he finally reached his home in Arizona, after much "thumbing" of rides, as at the time he left Amarillo no west-bound bus tickets could be bought.

Pfc. Robert W. Warren, who is stationed in the Army Air Corps at Frederick, Okla. spent from Friday to Monday here with his parents, and with his sisters in Amarillo. He returned to his base Monday.

Your Congressman Says - - -

Although the present statute for servicemen's absentee balloting is adequate in the case of voting within the United States, changes must be made if servicemen outside the U. S. are to have a real opportunity as well as the abstract right to vote.

It was with this thought in mind that I offered amendments to the bill last week. They will enable balloting among men overseas to be carried out by V-Mail processing. This procedure will also be available to civilians abroad.

Under the existing statute a ballot is not effective if it is received by the state election officials later than the hour of the closing of the polls on the day of election. In view of the vast distances over which balloting must take place, one of the amendments will make a ballot valid if the date of the oath of the elector is not later than the date of the holding of the election and if the ballot is received by the election officials no more than two weeks after the date of the holding of the election.

A possible disadvantage of this proposal is the uncertainty of candidates as to whether they have been elected. This must be weighed against the necessity of guaranteeing to servicemen a real opportunity to vote; the privilege of every American.

Not only the people of Texas, but high government officials were extremely pleased over the appointment of Marvin Jones as War Food Administrator. The great respect he commands from members of the House can best be judged through the many words of praise appearing in the Record on the day after his appointment was made by the President.

Many people have wondered how the President is standing up under the tremendous strain placed upon him as Commander and Chief of our forces and as President during this most critical period. While a very limited number of visitors are admitted to the White House, several weeks ago a group of congressmen were invited to the White House for an informal visit. Also present were Admiral King, chief of naval operations; Gen. George C. Marshall, chief of staff; and Gen. Hap Arnold, commander of the nation's air forces.

Each of these men gave us most interesting off-the-record information regarding the conduct of the war, condition of troops, effect of our bombing operations and many other war time matters. The President looked fine, his physical appearance seemed excellent and his spirits good. He works late at night but tries to secure much rest during the morning hours. Many people marvel at his unlimited energy and composure during the enormous press of work.

WIBB FOWLER LIKES THIS COUNTRY

It was back in 1898 that Wigg Fowler first came to this part of the country. He went over in the Greer county country and staid until sixteen years ago, but his liking for this country never left him. He came back and finally located for good when he acquired the Montgomery four sections over near the mouth of White Fish. Wigg is a mighty good citizen, and the country could use a lot more men like him.

Disease Problems Of Poultry

Coccidiosis, which usually attacks chicks between the third and eighth week of age, or even later, is one of the poultry raiser's major disease problems. But H. M. Breedlove, County Agent, says that by a good sanitation program it can be more easily prevented than cured.

Coccidiosis is caused by a one-celled organism found on nearly all soil, but especially on all places where poultry previously has been kept. It is very resistant to the common disinfectants, and dampness and wet weather increases its tendency toward infection. To be a source of harm, however, the cell must incubate 18 to 72 hours under favorable conditions. Hence, if a bird picks up one which has not been incubating long enough it will cause no injury. But, if it is in the infective stage it is likely to hatch immediately and penetrate the linings of the intestines where it can multiply by thousands.

Breedlove says that sulphur, along with sanitation, is used extensively as a preventive. Dusting sulphur is the type recommended, but flowers, or wettable sulphur, also can be used. It is fed at the rate of two and one-half pounds to each one hundred pounds of mash.

In case of an outbreak of the disease, sulphur can be given at the rate of 10 per cent for two days, five per cent for three days and two and one-half per cent thereafter. Sulphur, however, never should be fed to chicks under three weeks of age—and they should have sunshine daily to prevent rickets. In case of disease outbreak, move the birds to a dry clean, comfortable place and try to keep them eating. Dried milk products added to the mash at the rate of twenty to thirty per cent is helpful as a nutritive.

The Trouble Shooting Chart for Poultry, which may be obtained from the county agricultural agent, or by writing to the Extension Service, College Station, will be found helpful in treating poultry diseases.
