Few people appreciate the great value to any community of the railroads. Of especial value are the railroads in Brownwood and Brown county, not only through their service to the community, but from an actual dollars and cents benefit. Attention is to be called to the work of the railroads and their importance to the community next week, June 10 to 15, which has been designated as "Railroad Week" by those lines serving the vast territory west of the Mississippi river.

Brownwood And Railroads

The railroads themselves pay to the various governmental units in Brown county, $26,225.41 taxes annually. This sum is divided between the state, county, school districts, water improvement district and the city of Brownwood. In addition, the railroads pay to utility companies and the city for water, ice, telephone service, electric current and gas, another $18,611.08, making a total of $44,836.49 paid out of railroad funds into the business and governmental life of Brownwood and Brown county.

But this is a small sum compared with the amount spent individually by those who are employed by the railroads and make their homes here. There are 212 railroad employes in Brownwood, and railroad families total 968 people. These employes are paid annual salaries of $275,890.24, practically all of which is spent in Brownwood. Of these employes, 119 own their own homes, upon which they pay $11,204.55 taxes annually.

Decreased use of the railroads by shippers and travelers, which means to some extent a decreased appreciation of their value to the community, has resulted in a decrease in the annual payroll in Brownwood of $365,166.56 from 1935 to 1934. In other words, it is less than half today what it was five years ago.

Additional interesting facts regarding the railroads, as concern all citizens of Brownwood, will be contained in next week's issue of The Banner. These are sufficient, however, to call attention to the importance of the railroads in the daily life of the community and point out the need for cooperation with them at every opportunity.

In one of the most splendid tributes ever paid a public official by that rather caustic magazine, Time, Vice President John Nance Garner is praised as one of the strong leaders in the Democratic ranks. The article, unlike most of Time's personal references, is a sincere effort to present the Vice President in a true light before an uninformed public. Time points out that Mr. Garner achieved a place on the ticket largely through the efforts of William Randolph Hearst, who started the original Garner-for-President boom which gained the support of Texas and California. Mr. Roosevelt kept him silent during campaign days, and during the early days of the present administration. It was unnecessary, for Mr. Garner had no desire to talk.

Praise For Mr. Garner

A conservative and cautious politician, who has spent practically all of his mature days in public office, Mr. Garner was in contrast with the brain trusters that gathered about Mr. Roosevelt. The Vice President became a balance wheel for the Administration, warning against radicalism, pointing out the wise political moves.

For the first time since the policy was started in Woodrow Wilson's administration, the presence of the Vice President at Cabinet meetings has been an important factor. Mr. Garner actually takes part in the meetings, and his seasoned wisdom has been relied upon greatly by the less experienced members of the President's Cabinet.

There were those in Texas who were not sure that Mr. Garner could measure up to the responsibilities of being Vice President. But he has brought new prestige to the office, and in so doing, has brought credit to himself and to Texas. His accomplishment is all the greater in that it has brought forth the admiration and praise of a magazine that seems to prefer to hold our public officials up to personal ridicule.

The United States may yet become a member of the League of Nations. Senator James P. Pope of Idaho, a Democrat now serving his first term as a member of the United States Senate, has introduced a joint resolution in the Senate authorizing the President to "notify the appropriate authority of the League of Nations that the United States accepts its membership in the League of Nations," on certain terms and understandings which are set forth. These have to do largely with specific understandings that war is not to be resorted to as an instrument of national policy, and that membership in the League shall not be interpreted as obliging the United States to adopt measures which might involve the use of armed force.

Joining The League

It is pointed out by The Texas Weekly that the joint resolution proposed does not require a two-thirds majority vote in the Senate, as does a treaty ratification, but can be adopted by a simple majority in both houses of Congress. The Weekly points out that there is ample precedent for action by the "joint resolution" route. Hawaii was annexed in 1898, and long before that Texas was annexed to the United States by joint resolution. In the case of Texas' annexation, the vote was 118 to 101 in the House and 27 to 25 in the Senate, where a change of one vote would have defeated the resolution.

But more interesting are the reasons advanced by Senator Pope for action at this time. He points out, as quoted in The Texas Weekly, that the question of how the United States can stay out of any future war is now being discussed throughout the country with an interest and a vigor seldom witnessed. Embargos and regulations in traffic in arms have been suggested in Congress, and there is sentiment for stringent neutrality laws. Mr. Pope says that he is in sympathy with such proposals, as is almost everyone, but he is convinced that this procedure is an inadequate reliance for the safety of any nation, and in the end may even provoke war. There is ample evidence that he is right, as he is when he states that the people of this country, and every other country, desire peace. The way to achieve it, Senator Pope feels, is through cooperation with other nations of the world, and not through holding aloof.

Whether this is the proper method of achieving what we all want—peace—is not quite clear to us, but the Senator presents a logical argument, to which The Texas Weekly agrees.

"It is precisely because this is true that the highest interests of the United States can be furthered only by a policy of the closest cooperation with every effort among nations to minimize the danger of war. That is why Senator Pope's resolution is more timely than all the other proposed measures, and why it should be adopted."

True Ghost Stories By Famous People

By IGNAZ PADEREWSKI Pianist. "I very seldom play any gambling games. I have not the time, neither have I the inclination to gamble," said the great pianist with a graceful and sweeping flourish of his hand. "But one day in Monte Carlo I awoke with an irresistible impulse to play roulette and a premonition that luck was running my way. Always my work has been based on exactitude and study. For once I wanted to play with a premonition. "I went to the roulette table and won seventeen times in succession. The next morning I woke with the same, impelling hunch. I returned to the table, and won thirty-eight times. Confirmed gamblers tore their hair because I would not place more than the small 5-franc note. "The third day my hunch was still strong. Again I went to the tables and won thirty-four times. The Casino was in an uproar. The gamblers decided that Paderewski had a system. The musician with his knowledge of intricate mathematics had evolved a system! Of course, I had no such system. They crowded to my side, and they wanted to place their money on my numbers, but I always waited until the last moment to place my note, so no one would know what number I was going to play. "The fourth day I awoke with a distinct premonition that my luck had run out. I wanted to test the validity of the premonition, so I strolled to the Casino and placed a few francs. I lost. I played a few rounds, and then stopped."

COTTON CHECKS RECEIVED

THE ONLY SOLUTION (Industrial News-Review)

During 1934, the automobile caused the deaths of 24.7 persons out of each 100,000 of our population. Each 100,000 cars in use killed 130.4 people. Every time 10,000,000 gallons of gasoline were consumed, 20.1 persons died.

There are three different ways of looking at the automobile accident problem—and any one of them should be sufficiently impressive to make the public think and think seriously. The problem would be had enough if it were no greater than in previous years, but statistics show that it is steadily becoming more acute. In 1931, for example, automobile registrations were 3 per cent greater than in 1934 and gasoline consumption about one per cent greater—but 1931 automobile deaths were 8 per cent under 1934. This year, with automobile registrations and gas consumption again on the up-grade, it isn't pleasant to speculate on what the death toll will be—unless that proportion of the motoring public which is reckless, incompetent and plain discourteous is forced to change its ways.

A glance at the records shows that the so-called "unavoidable" accident is so rare as to be practically non-existent. All but a handful of accidents are caused by one of two things—mechanically defective cars, or a defect in the person behind the wheel. And of those two, the last is infinitely more important—93.9 per cent of the cars involved in accidents last year were in apparently good condition.

The time has passed when appeals to the reckless driver to improve his ways are sufficient. He has refused—and the force of public opinion, backed by modern, aggressively enforced laws, presents the only solution to the problem.

Flares Must Be Placed At Parked Trucks At Night

Local officers are calling attention of truck owners to a law requiring flares to be placed at commercial vehicles left along a highway at night which was passed by the last legislature. The law reads as follows:

"Whenever any commercial motor vehicle, truck, tractor, trailer or semi-trailer, motor bus, or any vehicle equipped with a crane or lifting device ordinarily referred to as a 'wrecker' shall, during the period of one-half hour after sunset to one-half hour before sunrise, and at any other time when there is not sufficient light to render clearly discernible any person on the highway at a distance of 200 feet, be stopped upon the main county relief administrator, said traveled portion of any highway in this state for as long as 15 minutes, the driver or operator thereof shall place a lighted flare upon the highway upon the roadway side of such vehicle and one such flare shall be placed at a distance of not less than 150 feet nor more than 200 feet from such parked vehicle, near the edge of the roadway in every direction from which a vehicle may approach, such lighted flare to admit light of sufficient intensity to be plainly observed as a signal by the driver of any approaching vehicle for a distance of 500 feet."

The law carries a penalty of not exceeding $50 for the first violation and not exceeding $200 for the second violation, and not exceeding $500 or 60 days imprisonment or both, for any subsequent violation.

COURT DECISION ON NRA TO HAVE EFFECT ON LOANS ON COTTON

Regarding the AAA as shaken by the Supreme Court's decision, officials said Sunday they believe extension of the 12c loan on cotton to cover the 1935 crop may be affected by the ruling.

While various predictions about extension of this loan peg on prices have been made, AAA officials steadfastly have refused to comment. They said no prediction of any kind could be made until after the first 1935 cotton crop estimate in August.

However, some AAA experts said privately that in view of the expected decision of the Supreme Court on the Bankhead cotton control law in the fall and the uncertain course of action facing the entire farm program there might be some hesitancy in granting a new loan. The 12c loans on the 1934 crop, due to expire July 1, recently were extended until February 1, 1935.

AAA records showed that 10c and 12c loans, for 1933 and 1934, on 1,800,000 bales in the cotton pool, totaled $47,800,000.

Loans on cotton outside the pool, a total of 4,357,549 bales, aggregated $267,595,797.

Of the total loans, the Government actually advanced only $33,171,000 in cash. The rest was handled by banks, with the paper guaranteed by the government.

Extension of the cotton loan was one of the problems believed under consideration by administration farm officials as they drafted the amendments designed to strengthen the entire farm program against constitutional challenge. These were scheduled for completion by Monday or Tuesday.

It was believed that the amendments would include marketing agreements, but would eliminate the controversial licensing provisions of the AAA. Some form of Federal rules and regulations, such as those utilized by the Federal Trade Commission or the Interstate Commerce Commission, probably would be substituted for the licensing provisions.

CCC Boys Must Be From Relief Rolls

A new ruling requires that the families of boys accepted for enrollment in CCC camps must be on relief rolls. C. E. Boyett, Brown county relief administrator, said this week that this will probably result in Brown county's quota not being filled in the next enrollment.

Enlistment in the CCC is absolutely voluntary and this fact together with the new ruling will make it hard to fill the quota, he said. In past enrollments, boys from families not on the relief rolls but classed as "border-line" cases were accepted after as many boys from relief families as possible were enlisted from a county, he pointed out. A survey of relief families made during the past few days shows that not nearly 50 boys from these families plan to enlist in the CCC in this enrollment. A definite quota for the county based on this survey will be set soon.

MAKING Smart CLOTHES

This is an adaptation of a dress created by a famous Paris designer—it is one of the loveliest things you could possibly imagine for a print. Notice the new rather full hemline and the large soft sleeves. In fact, this is the new silhouette that we've all been waiting for and everybody's going to be talking about.

The soft jabot type neckline is very flattering and very smart. One of the features of this dress is that it can be made entirely of one material without contrast. You can wear it now under your coat and far into June without a coat. It is also excellent made in one of the new sheers.

This is a Butterick pattern and can be purchased at your nearest department store.

Hints for Home Canning

The modern easy way

Since this is canning time, it is the ideal time to discover the labor- and money-saving efficiency of the 1935 gas ranges.

These new gas ranges offer the utmost in flexibility—from full flame for rapid boiling in jelly-making, to a very low flame (or simmer burner) for proper cooking of preserves and jams. For oven canning, oven heat control assures just the right temperature... improved insulation makes possible more cooking on the same amount of gas and helps to keep kitchen cool.

This month your gas company is featuring special displays of these new ranges and offering them on the easiest kind of terms. See them and learn how you can modernize that kitchen for little money.

- Trade-in allowance!
- Extra allowance on Ranges other than Gas!
- Small down payment!

Think of the power of plunging pistons... sufficient to move tons of rock up steep mountain grades. Yet the efficiency of pistons depends on the adequacy of the combustion chamber. Carbon-stuck valves, leaking rings, weaken the piston stroke and make motors lag and balk.

PYROIL increases power in motors because it seals rings and keeps valves carbon-free. Simply added to regular gas and oil. Supplies constant lubrication to the entire motor head where withering heat kills ordinary lubricants. Actually builds lubrication into the metal.

PYROIL deposits a patent-processed, heat-, wear- and dilution-proof element on all metal parts, building and constantly maintaining an actual self-lubricating surface. Bearings run freer, cooler. Power, endurance, are marvelously improved. Easily saves many times its small cost.

Ask at your filling station or garage for further details. Try PYROIL today.

GENUINE PYROIL is patented in the U.S. and Canada by W. V. Krieger, its inventor. Packaged in easy-to-use, illustrated, lithographed cans and identified by the colored Pyroil trademark and signature of W. V. KRIEGER on every label.

UTILITY EXECUTIVE SAYS RAYBURN BILL STILL DESTRUCTIVE

That the committee revision of the Rayburn-Wheeler bill has not materially altered it and that the purpose of the revised bill is the same as of the original measure—not to regulate but to destroy—was charged by Philip H. Gadsden, chairman of the committee of public utility executives, in a statement just issued.

"Despite misleading assurances that the bill would be modified," he said, "it retains all the destructive features of the original draft and, if enacted, will either dissolve or dismember practically all utility holding companies and will mean the socialization of all operating companies."

Charging that the committee changes are merely an attempt to dress a wolf in sheep's clothing, he characterized the present bill as "unsound in substance, unwise in spirit and destructive in its effects." Its provisions, he said, would make rubber stamps of the management of operating companies and largely nullify the powers of local and state authorities over them.

In the face of the opposition of practically every major business organization in the United States, of the Nation's savings banks, of state utility commissions and of more than a million investors, sponsors of the bill, he said, have completely ignored all protests. Utility investors and employees and also local business men dealing with operating companies must face the fact that socialization of the utility industry, which is the real purpose behind the bill, will directly affect their own lives, he declared, for the Rayburn-Wheeler bill is only another important step in the campaign that government ownership advocates have been carrying on for years.

"Not one of the destructive features of this bill is necessary to prevent the abuses charged against holding companies," said Mr. Gadsden in conclusion. "Our committee has submitted to the House and Senate committee specific proposals for regulation that would completely prevent recurrence of such abuses. No criticism has been made of these proposals and no one has charged that they are insufficient to meet every reasonable regulation required. But the sponsors of this bill are not interested in regulation. The purpose of the revised bill, as of the bill when first proposed, is not to regulate; it is to destroy."

RAILROAD WEEK TO BE OBSERVED HERE

The week of June 10 to 15 has been set aside for the observance of Railroad Week, during which time tribute will be paid to the Western Railroads for their achievements. Governor Allred has issued a proclamation setting aside Railroad Week. Mayor Thompson has issued a proclamation urging all citizens and organizations to take part in the celebrations planned.

E. P. Woodruff is chairman of the local committee in charge of Railroad Week activities, which will include addresses by competent speakers before the service clubs and other organizations, specially prepared films at the theatres and other specially planned programs. He requests that all individuals or groups interested in taking a part in the celebration notify the committee.

The text of Mayor Thompson's proclamation is as follows: "WHEREAS, this city has been served for many years by the Santa Fe and Frisco Railway companies; and

"WHEREAS, these railroads have long played a vital part in the lives of our people; and

"WHEREAS, these railroads have paid, and continue to pay, large amounts in taxes; and

"WHEREAS, these railroads have furnished employment for many; and

"WHEREAS, these railroads have joined with other Western Railroads in, first, reducing basic fares and sleeping-car charges and second, in air-conditioning all principal passenger trains; and

"WHEREAS, this has meant lowered costs and improved travel service to the traveling public; and

"WHEREAS, the governors of western states have asked that the public pay honor to the western railroads for their continued pioneering;

"Now, therefore, I, W. H. Thompson, Mayor of the City of Brownwood, ask our citizens to join in the observance of Railroad Week from Monday, June 10th, to Saturday, June 15th.

"W. H. THOMPSON, Mayor."

E. P. Woodruff, who is chairman of the local committee in charge of Railroad Week activities, has asked that all individuals or groups interested in taking active part in this observance, get in touch with the committee by phoning or writing him.

Among the activities already planned for the week, according to Chairman Woodruff, are: Addresses by competent speakers before the service clubs and other organizations, specially prepared films at the theatres, and other methods of acquainting the public with the railroads and their operations.

WHEN LIVES ARE AT STAKE

You need the same protection that race drivers demand

KELLY PETILLO ON MAY 30, WON THE 500-MILE Indianapolis Race on Firestone Tires, breaking the track record and driving the entire distance at a rate of 106.24 miles per hour.

This record is an outstanding demonstration of tire efficiency. To go 500 miles in less than five hours on this rough and bumpy 26-year-old brick track, without tire trouble of any kind, demonstrates the strength and blowout protection that Firestone builds into their Gum-Dipped Tires.

AB JENKINS ALSO RECENTLY demonstrated the stamina, efficiency, and blowout protection built into Firestone-Gum-Dipped Tires. He drove his 500.0 pound car over the hot salt beds at Lake Bonneville, Utah, 3000 miles in 23 1/2 hours. This was an average speed of 127.2 miles per hour, and although temperatures were as high as 120°, he had no blowouts or tire trouble of any kind.

These records are made possible by special construction features built into Firestone Tires.

Take no chances—protect your life and the lives of others by letting us equip your car with Firestone Tires and give you the Safety and Blowout Protection that race drivers demand.

Before you buy new tires ask yourself these three questions

- 1—"Will the tread give me the greatest traction and protection against skidding?"
- 2—"Are they built to give me the greatest blowout protection?"
- 3—"Without sacrificing these two important safety features will they give me longer mileage, thus making them the most economical tires I can buy?"

ANSWER No. 1—Leading university tests show Firestone High Speed Tires stop your car 15% quicker than the best of all popular makes of tires.

ANSWER No. 2—Unequaled performance records for sixteen consecutive years prove that Gum-Dipping gives you the greatest blowout protection ever known.

ANSWER No. 3—Thousands of car owners report unequalled mileage records—evidence of the longer wear and greater economy of Firestone High Speed Tires.

KIWANIS CLUB TO PRESENT PASSION PLAY JUNE 20-21

The Great European Passion Play in English is to be presented in Brownwood June 20 and 21 under the auspices of the Kiwanis club. The performances will be at Howard Payne College football stadium.

It is said of this play that it has its high purpose in that the members of the company believe they have a mission to perform. They wish to reach the majority of the people rather than the exclusive minority. Living the history of the New Testament days, is the religious element in their action. To them the New Testament has become vigorous actuality. They know their native village and their play is theirs. Little changed in text from the play of centuries ago, they know that it was performed in front of the Cathedral in 1204, long before America was discovered.

The common people in that great era of feudalism were cramped between the vast power of ecclesiastical autocracy and the nobility—they were sunk in ignorance hardly understandable in this day and age, the most fantastic superstitions were accepted as truths.

They had few pleasures, few forms of entertainment. The people had nothing. The noble, walled within his castle, alone enjoyed the meager luxuries of the day and because they had so little, and their master comparatively so much, it was the people who turned so eagerly to such a spectacle as the Passion Play.

In the present production, no expense has been spared, it is declared, to make it the most beautiful and elaborate spectacle ever presented to an American audience. Hundreds of costumes are carried by the company, for the large extra list of people used. The players convey the atmosphere of this sacred drama to the hearts of both the portrayer and the hearer.
