NEWS' BIG AUTO CONTEST CLOSED SATURDAY NIGHT

MRS. H. MULKEY WINS BUICK.
BRIGHT TUCKER WINS FORD
SEDAN, MISS THELMA
ALLEN AND TOM COKE CON-
NALLY SECONDS.

After eight weeks of strenuous campaigning the entrants in the Clarendon News' big subscription campaign deposited their last ballot in the locked box placed in the Donley County State Bank and the race came to a close promptly at ten o'clock Saturday evening as scheduled.

The judges committee composed of Mess. F. E. Chamberlain, J. D. Swift, F. A. Story, A. A. Mayes and R. A. Long began counting at once and by half past eleven the winners had been ascertained, the returns tabulated and the results made public. Quite a crowd had gathered to see the finish and the winners were the recipients of hearty congratulations when it was found who had won.

While the campaign was not as great a financial success as the News management would have liked to have had, yet it has greatly increased the circulation, which enables the paper to give a greater service to its readers and in consequence of the campaign The News is now carrying and will continue to carry a greater volume of national advertising than any other Panhandle weekly. For years it has been the boast of this paper that it had the largest circulation of any weekly paper between Fort Worth and Amarillo, but now the management is convinced that it may take in a much greater territory when making the statement. Of course there are a few sore spots among a few of the candidates, as always the case in any sort of a campaign or contest, but The News guaranteed a square deal, as it has always done, and while it is regretted that everyone could not win an automobile or a cash prize, yet the rules of the contest were fully outlined many times and it should be very apparent to everybody that only a few could win. But, like other human disappointments, the birds always sing and the sun shines to the forward looker, and the good loser usually wins ere long.

The Clarendon News, like every other business in the city needs advertising, therefore if the financial returns were not as large as hoped for, the paper is pleased with the campaign in that it has increased our list updaters of fifty percent and afforded our advertisers a correspondingly larger weekly audience for their merchandising and service talks.

Following is the statement of the judges and the official returns of the campaign: Clarendon, Texas, April 29th, 1922. We the undersigned members of the executive committee appointed to have supervision of the subscription campaign of the Clarendon News, concluded this date, and who have been selected to act as judges and auditors, certify and state that we have this day and date made a careful count and double check of the ballots cast in this election, and find as follows:

It is our belief that the campaign has been conducted in a fair and impartial manner to everyone interested and concerned, and we commend the management of the campaign under the supervision of Edward D. Park, of the Charles H. Bartlow Co., and Sam M. Braswell, editor and owner of the Clarendon News, for the business like methods in conducting said campaign.

We further find that the contestants whose names are herewith given received the number of votes given opposite their names and are declared the winners in their respective positions.

PICNICS, FRIED CHICKEN AND EVERYTHING

Armstrong county will have more fried chicken at her picnics this summer and more chicken dinners at home than any county in north-west Texas, because Armstrong county has more chickens per farm than any county on the Denver road or the Wichita Valley. There are 131 per farm. Potter and Dickens counties will also be good feeding grounds. In Potter there are 108 chickens per farm and in Dickens 102. All other counties have less than 100 per farm.

Also Armstrong county will have more nick-nacks all year and more Christmas presents next winter than any other county because her farmers return more money than those in any other county. Chickens and eggs in that county bring $272.00 in per farm.

Wise county hasn't nearly so many chickens per farm but they pay their owners nearly as much ($239.00). In Potter County $238.00, in Wichita $235.00 and in Clay $202.00 per farm. Farmers wives in these counties will buy many necessities and perhaps some home conveniences from their chicken money. Farmers in other counties will either have to eat less or sell less because in all other counties poultry sales are less than $200.00 per farm. In Childress county poultry sales are less than $100.00 per farm; smaller than those in any other county, but they boast of a hog county and sometimes chickens don't thrive in the hog pen anyway. One reason the poultry sales per farm in Childress county are low is because there are only 69 chickens per farm. A few other counties have small flocks too. Stonewall county has only 51 chickens per farm, Dallam 46, Hartley 57 and Kent 69. A lot of summer company will thin down these flocks until they won't hardly supply eggs for home use. All other counties have over 75 hens per farm.

Childress county likes pure bred stock of all kinds including chickens because she has learned the value of pure bred hogs. Therefore, she has all standard bred chickens on 52 of her farms. No other county on the Denver Road or Valley has so large a per cent of farms with all standard bred chickens. Wise County has standard breeds on 50 percent of her farms, Wichita on 50 percent and Hartley on 50 percent. All other counties are below the 50 percent mark. Stonewall gets the booby prize on scrub chickens. Only 6 percent of her farms have standard bred chickens but the farmers are reforming rapidly since the Ft. Worth & D. C. Ry stopped the poultry special in that county. It was during that campaign that the above data was collected.

C. C. BULLDOGS DEFEAT BUFFALOES FROM CANYON

Playing on a field that was slightly heavy from the recent rains the Clarendon Bulldogs defeated the Canyon Buffaloes in the first game of this season. The outstanding player of the day was "Chief" Youngblood who pitched invincible ball during the whole nine innings of the game. He held the Canyon team to a no hit game and allowed them to get only one ball into the outfield. Youngblood got 12 strikeouts while the Canyon pitcher only got 7. In earned runs Clarendon was the recipient of all four of her scores while Canyon won her score on an error of Clarendon. Batteries for the day Clarendon; Youngblood, Mead, Canyon; Whittaker, Johnson.

The Bulldogs defeated the Buffaloes again yesterday in the second game of the series, although the Canyon team played good ball they were never at any time up to the standard of the local team. The outstanding feature of the game was the number of home runs by the Clarendon team, Jackson getting two, one of them in the fourth inning with the bases full, and Oscar Close getting one. Smally got 8 strike outs while Miller for Canyon only got 5. Batteries Clarendon; Smally, McKenzie; Canyon; Miller, Johnson.

CITY WATER BONDS BRING BIG PREMIUM IN TUES. SALE

HOUSTON FIRM PAYS CITY
$104.90 FOR $75,000 WATER
BOND ISSUE. RECORD PRICE

As had been advertised for some time, the water works bonds of the city of Clarendon were sold Tuesday afternoon May 2 at two o'clock. That money matters are loosening up is evidenced by the fact that there were a number of bids for these bonds. Each bidder putting up a certified check for $2,500.00 in evidence of good faith. The company that finally secured the bonds is a Houston firm represented here by Mr. A. W. Snyder. The price that was paid for these bonds is good evidence that this particular kind of a bond is in great demand, as they were sold they brought par and accrued interest to date, together with a premium of $3625.00. While this money will not be paid over to the city until the bonds have been printed and approved by the attorneys, it will not keep the plans from being worked up to the highest point of efficiency by W. D. Howren, the engineer in charge of the construction of the works. It may be some six or eight weeks before actual construction will begin, but we are now assured a good water works system to take the place of the one that is now in use.

Since drilling operations in the field to the North of Amarillo are taking on the aspects of an oil boom, the city of Clarendon is to be praised for taking this step, for with the development of the oil field that is sure to be beneath the plains of Texas the population of Clarendon is certain to be increased. This step toward the improvement of our town is just at the right time and no time should be lost in the pushing forward of this work that is to so much improve our town and community.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB MEETS

The Home Economics Club of Clarendon met last Wednesday in the home of Mrs. W. E. Bray, for their regular session. The first part of the program was held by Miss Richmond, the County Home Demonstrator, who showed the club just what could be done with one yard of material in the making of a hat, making at least a half dozen different models without once cutting the material. The remainder of the afternoon was taken up in the discussion of the regular course, the subject for the time, being Interior Decoration. Mrs. Tombs, Mrs. Mann and Mrs. Eddings, presenting the subject for the approval of the Club. There were about twenty-five present including two out of town visitors, Mrs. Cochran and Mrs. Sligar from Lelia Lake.

CONDON SPEAKER AT COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES

Dean Stuart Condon, of Clarendon College, was present at the graduation exercises of the Wheeler High School Friday evening, being the speaker of the evening. Before the speech of Mr. Condon, the seniors rendered a very creditable program. Mr. Condon addressed the graduates touching on many of the phases of education today; a large audience was present.

Miss Thelma Bonner of Dalhart and Misses Mary C. Royal, Anna D. Howell and Irene Moore of Wellington, who were week end guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Richards left Tuesday morning for their respective homes.

A. T. Cole will accompany the debating team from the local High School on their trip to Austin the latter part of the week, he is going in the capacity of coach.

Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Allen received the word Sunday of the birth of twin boys to their daughter, Mrs. C. J. Brooks of Tyler. Mother and babies are doing well.

SILVERTON ROAD PROJECT ENTHUSIASTICALLY MET

Three cars of enthusiastic Clarendon boosters met the Briscoe county delegation Monday at Silverton, consisting of county judge, commissioners and other county officials, and presented to them the plans of a new proposed road from Silverton to Clarendon, thru the J. A. ranch and the Howard land. This road will make the best route north and south thru Donley and Briscoe counties and open up a new section of land that will mean much to both counties.

The J. A. lands are going to be sold in small tracts and small valuable land will be made into small farms. This will mean many new people in this section of the country and this new proposed road will be the best way to Clarendon or Silverton.

The Silverton delegation assured the Donley County boosters they believed it is the desired route and hope to be able to co-operate with them along this line, and we believe this new road will be open in the near future.

The committee of the Clarendon delegation: T. D. Hobart of Pampa and J. W. Kert, representing the J. A. land, Dock Howard the Howard lands, County Commissioners, G. A. Anderson, F. L. Goldston, T. L. Naylor, also W. H. Patrick, Tom F. Connally, Robt. Wilson, Odos Caraway and A. N. McCardell.

After receiving a phone call this morning from Silverton, a delegation from Tulsa and the following citizens from Clarendon left this morning for further conference in regard to the Silverton-Clarendon road: H. W. Taylor, W. H. Patrick, J. W. Kent, M. T. Howard, Whitfield Carhart, Fred Rathjen, M. M. Noble, W. A. SoRelle and Rev. K. S.

EARLE B. MAYFIELD, CANDIDATE FOR SENATE SPEAKS FRIDAY NIGHT

Hon. Earle B. Mayfield, candidate for United States Senator from Texas, and at present a member of the Texas Railroad Commission, will speak Friday night at the Court House at 8 o'clock in the interest of his candidacy.

Mr. Mayfield has a large number of personal friends in Donley County, and a great list of supporters, who no doubt will greet him on his appearance here.

Mr. Mayfield, while still a young man, has had a splendid career in public life in Texas. For many years he was State Senator from his home senatorial district, his home being in Meridian, Bosque County, then he was elected as State Railroad Commissioner, and for the past few years has been rendering the state splendid service in that position.

He has included in his platform, and discusses in his addresses matters regarding freight rates charged by the railroads, a matter with which he is very familiar.

Being a brilliant orator, with a keen mind, and a splendid knowledge of public affairs, his address will be worth hearing, and with a great following over the state, especially among the agricultural interest, he is probably to be reckoned with in the Senatorial race in the July primaries.

The following are named as a reception committee to meet Mr. Mayfield and to have charge of the arrangements for the speaking: Mayor W. P. Cagle, Judge W. T. Link, Curtis E. Thompson, I. S. Mullins, A. M. Beville, C. C. Powell, C. L. Benson, Sam M. Braswell, J. W. Morrison, David Johnson, O. C. Watson, R. H. Beville, A. N. McCardell, F. L. Bourland, M. M. Noble, C. M. Peabody, Jas. T. Patman, Matt Bennett, Dr. B. L. Jenkins, Dr. H. L. Wilder, M. W. Mosely, R. A. Long, Joe M. Warren, P. T. Boston, Ed Boliver and Ed Dishman of Hedley, T. C. Johnson and J. D. McCants of Giles; E. L. Lewis, G. T. Adams, B. G. Smith, Lelia Lake; Mrs. John T. Sims, Mrs. R. H. Beville, Mrs. M. M. Noble, Mrs. Cyrus Cope.

N. E. Chenault, owner of the Grogan Ranch, came into Clarendon Tuesday morning to look after his interests here.

J. R. Mace, of Lelia Lake, was a business visitor in this city Saturday.

LUNCHEON THIS WEEK IS ENTHUSIASTIC AFFAIR

ONE OF BEST ATTENDANCES OF
SPRING IS PRESENT. VISITORS
ARE HEARD WITH APPLAUSE. IMPORTANT AN-NOUNCEMENT MADE.

With one of the best attendances of the spring, the luncheon of this week which was postponed from Tuesday until Wednesday, was a peppy affair, the success of the affair, no doubt, being due to the return of Secretary McCardell, who has been away on a month's vacation. Prominent visitors were heard, and announcement made of the fact that the Hildebrand two room house just west of the Ford Station has been rented for the summer to be used by tourists during rainy or stormy weather.

Secretary McCardell acted as toastmaster, to the delight of his friends; and after many entertaining remarks by the toastmaster regarding conditions as he found them during his recent trip to the East, showing the favorable conditions of Clarendon and Donley county. Rev. E. L. Hughes, the new pastor of the Christian Church, was introduced. He made a pleasant address showing that he sees it the duty of the pastor to be in line with the civic and community progress of his home town. The next guest introduced was M. B. Oates, of Wichita Falls, agricultural agent for the Ft. Worth and Denver. Mr. Oates took this occasion to thank the Chamber of Commerce for its co-operation in making the poultry special car a success when it came here in January. He further stated that it is always a pleasure to visit Clarendon, and that he thinks it one of the most progressive communities along the whole route.

Following this W. C. Stewart, one of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce, made announcement of the fact that the Hildebrand house has been secured for the summer, thus furnishing a shelter for tourists in inclement weather. The way in which Clarendon regards the tourists is in a small way seen by this provision for them; nor is that regard altogether altruistic, for these passersby furnish valuable trade during the summer season.

The luncheon was postponed until yesterday due to the fact that the Amarillo Boosters were expected on the latter date, but they were unable to travel on account of the bad condition of the roads.

RECITAL OF MISS BENSON AND JACK CAGLE PROVES EXCELLENT ON MONDAY

The senior recital of Miss Ina Benson, presented by Miss Ruth Pirtle in reading, and Jackson Cagle, presented by Miss Beatrice Story in the violin, Monday evening at the College auditorium proved one of the best rendered and most delightful student recitals of the year. Each of the performers was at his or her best, and they did immense credit, not only to themselves but to their teachers as well.

Miss Benson's readings varied from the comic to the heaviest work in that art; and she showed remarkable ability in her interpretation of the various characters appearing in the readings. Her greatest triumph, perhaps, was in her rendition of "Polly of the Circus"; here she moved forward with such wonderful portrayal of the characters that the audience sat so hushed that a pin might have been heard to drop.

Jackson Cagle added new laurels to himself with an ease and agility seldom known to a young performer. After having rendered several of the well known concert numbers, he used as his closing number De Beriot's Ninth Concerto. The most difficult test of the violinist came in the last movement of this; through the parts composed of double stops in thirds and sixths and phrases extremely difficult of execution he played with grace and ease.

A large audience was in attendance, and their hearty enjoyment of the program was voiced by their prolonged applause.

CULLEN THOMAS SPEAKING HERE THIS EVENING

Cullen F. Thomas, candidate for the United States Senate, is speaking at the court house in the city at eight o'clock this evening. According to advance information received by the News from Mr. Thomas' headquarters, the speech of Mr. Thomas will be along the line of his speeches in other places. Tom Connally, an old friend of the Thomas family, is in charge of the arrangements and Mr. Thomas is receiving good response.

A part of the sentiments of Mr. Thomas is outlined in the following statement made by him: "The establishment of the Federal Reserve System was one of the constructive accomplishments of the national Democratic administration. It was designed and founded to supply a flexible currency adapted to the uses of the American people. The system served the country well during the strain of world war. He is blind who would not give the system credit for saving American business from chaos and catastrophe during the war.

"The contraction policy of the Washington board was followed by a loss to the producers of this country in four or five months of four or five million dollars. I do not believe the board can escape its share of responsibility for this economic tragedy in the country's life. I share the thought of many of the country's most conservative thinkers that Governor Harding has outlived his usefulness. His term expires next summer. It is said that President Harding will reappoint him. If I were a member of the Senate I would vote to reject the appointment. Why not put upon the board some splendid figure possessing knowledge and sympathy for the country's agricultural interests, some Theodore Price or Colonel Frank P. Holland?"

HIGH SCHOOL REPRESENTATIVES LEAVE FOR AUSTIN

James Patman, Stephen Russell, and Eugene Smith left for Austin Wednesday evening last to attend the state meet of the University Interscholastic League. James and Stephen will represent the Panhandle district, district number one, in debate, and Eugene will represent the district in the shot put and the discus throw. The state is divided into thirty-two districts for interscholastic league purposes, and Donley County is in district number one, the Canyon or Panhandle district, which district also contains 22 other counties.

Our boys leave with high hope and a strong determination to give a good account of themselves, and yet they are not unmindful of the fact that they will meet with strong competition among the other thirty one teams of the state.

The boys, as well as the entire high school, desires to express their appreciation to the public spirited citizens of Clarendon who have made this trip possible by contributing liberally toward raising a fund to defray in part, the expenses of the trip. Without some such fund the long distance to Austin and the consequent heavy expense would make the trip almost prohibitive to any one except a capitalist. Something like $45 were contributed by those whose names appear below. A few contributed who did not sign their names to the list. The list follows:

J. L. Bain, W. M. Patman, Dr. G. C. Stricklin, W. W. Taylor, Sanford, Watts and Shelton, Jerome D. Stocking, Clifford & Wilkerson, Baldwin Bros., Harned Sisters, Mrs. John Blocker, Clarendon Grain Company, J. N. Woods, O. L. Jenkins, Clarendon Motor Co., W. E. Nelson, Allen & Jasper Garage, Byron Blewins, Matt Bennett, People's Pharmacy, Candy Kitchen, Pastime Theatre, Pastime Confectionery, E. T. Pope, Rathjen's Shoe Store, N. N. Martin, J. D. Swift, Hayter Bros. "Slim" Parsons, S. M. Braswell, Larry Stiner, Stephen Cox, C. N. Headrick, Mrs. C. S. Marshall, Donley County State Bank, A. V. Clark, H. C. Kerbow & Sons, F. C. Caraway.

Misses Irma Zeigler and Beth Stiles spent the week end in their homes in Shamrock and Wheeler. They went over with Professor Condon who was in that part of the country in the interest of the College.

MOST FRATERNAL PROGRAM OF YEAR AT SHRINE FEED

CLARENDON SHRINE CLUB'S
MONTHLY FEED HIGHLY ENJOYED WITH MANY VISITORS PRESENT—BASEBALL DISCUSSED.

The May Feed of the Clarendon Shrine Club was without doubt the most thoroughly enjoyed affair of the year and it was a typical gathering of the nobility who entered into the festivities at the Masonic Club Rooms Tuesday evening.

The feed committee were well organized and had provided just such a feed as men enjoy as they demolish, and with well filled stomachs there was nothing to mar the fraternal spirit that ruled throughout the evening.

After the repast, Toastmaster Noble Trent announced the presence of a number of visitors who responded as they were introduced with many words of good cheer and masonic reminiscences. Noble White of Gasis Temple, Charlotte, N. C., gave some interesting sidelights on the activities of his temple at the Portland imperial council, his impressions of Texas and why he was still wedded to the Tar Heel State. Noble Furlong of El Mina Temple, Galveston, was next introduced and made an interesting and inspiring address on his experiences among the Masons of England and other lands, he having been a navigation officer for many years. It developed during his talk that he had been an officer with Capt. E. J. Smith, who perished with the Titanic, when that gallant officer was captain of the "Majestic." His experiences with brother Masons in Liverpool, England, was most interesting and instructive. He is native Irish and his address bristled with the usual and unending Irish wit. Another visitor was Noble Chenault of Maskat Temple, Wichita Falls, known here as the purchaser of Grogan ranch, who expressed himself as being happy to be present on such an enjoyable occasion. Noble Lee of El Mina Temple, Galveston and a district agent for the Gulf Refining Co., responded to call briefly, he having been a visitor and speaker at a former meeting of the club. Effort was then made to get Nobles Reynolds and Wilson to give an account of the big Shrine barbecue at Claude some weeks ago, but without much success.

Reports were heard from Manager Noble Stiner of the Shrine Baseball Club and Captain Noble Buntin of that doughty organization. From their reports it seems that all equipment has been ordered, that the team is being whipped into shape and that other Shrine Clubs of the Panhandle will have to extend themselves if they expect to stay in the class of the local club.

Some discussion of the proposed Commandery for Clarendon, the proposed new Masonic Temple for this city and announcements from Secretary Noble Hunt ended the pleasurable evening.

CLARENDON SENDING THIRD DEBATING TEAM TO STATE

In last week's issue of the News a statement was made that was in error. The statement was that in sending James Patman and Stephen Russell to State, this is the second team that Clarendon has sent to compete in the Interscholastic finals. As a matter of fact, this is the third team from this city that has won the district contest, the first team being Claude Ferebee and Collis Stocking several years ago. Later Leon Lewis and Oswald Coleman won the district meeting, and now this year Fatman and Russell make the third winning team.

C. E. Griggs is in the city having come in Sunday night on account of the mud. He will leave the latter part of the week.

Major E. A. Simpson left Tuesday morning for Canyon where he will inspect the local company of the Texas National Guard.

BARGAINS

Women are accused of being bargain hunters, but I'm inclined to believe this is like the mother-in-law joke—material for wits. We all like a bargain, when we know its value in genuine, the story of the man who tried to sell five dollar gold pieces for two-ninety-eight, notwithstanding.

There's the story of the fellow who went into a store that was advertising a bankruptcy sale. "How much is this hat?" he asked. "Marked down to three dollars," said the clerk. "This store has gone bankrupt?" he asked. "Yes," said the clerk. "Too much deflation of stocks on hand?" "No, trying to undersell." "Where did you buy this hat?" "At a manufacturer's bankrupt sale." "Ah, he got stuck on raw materials?" "No, his trouble was brought about also by trying to undersell." "How much did he intend that this hat should be sold for?" "Seven dollars." "Huh! That should be some bargain! I'll take half a dozen."

This also calls to mind the story of the man who stole a hundred head of horses in Oklahoma, drove them overland to Texas, sold them all on one first Monday, and lost money in the transaction.

Nothing is a bargain that you can't use, give away where it'll do good, or resell at a profit. Too many bargain sales are a bad thing for a community. Where they are forced they help neither the merchant nor a large percent of his customers.

In fact there is a growing sentiment against bargain sales, or season clearance sales, as they are called. The man who goes down on the first of the month and pays fifty dollars for a much needed suit of clothes, resents that store's jutting that same suit on sale at thirty-five dollars on the tenth of the month. He feels that the store charged too much for the suit early in the season that it might charge too little when clearance time rolls around. He favors an equalized price all through the season. In fact, a great many merchants are coming to favor this. They are feeling the pressure of an ever increasing number of men who wait for sales to buy everything they wear.

New conditions require new selling methods and we may hope that the day will soon come when prices on the essentials of life will be standardized according to quality. This will be hard on bargain hunters, but so much better for us mere mortals. —"Heart to Heart Talks" of W. D. Trotter.

NOTHING MILITARY ABOUT IT

Having been the secretary of a second-class council and deputy commissioner of the Boy Scouts of America, and having attended many meetings and encampments of the Boy Scouts, I feel no hesitancy in discussing the statement frequently made that the organization savours of militarism, nor in contradicting the statement unqualifiedly.

The main argument used to substantiate such a statement is that the Scouts wear a uniform, but that makes those familiar with Scouting smile. We never think of the letter carrier, the elevator or bell boy in a hotel the Red Cap in a railway station nor the gallant fireman on his hook and ladder truck, as a soldier or a marine. And when the knights of something-or-other parade all dressed alike, who is so foolish to raise hands on holy horror and cry, "Look the soldiers are upon us."

The Scout uniform is merely one of the badges of service and utility. A boy can be a good scout and never own nor wear a uniform, but he feels better if he wears the badge on a uniform or some award of accomplishment on his hat. And more than that, the lads in khaki feel more democratic if none of them are wearing better clothing than any other. It brings them all to a real level of independence and opportunity and ends forever any competition as to who is better dressed than his brother.

Another indictment of the Boy Scout is that he marches, and keeps step, in fact he acts as if he were under strict discipline! People march in the Grand March at a ball, children march when they go from the class rooms into the assembly hall of a school and the prizes are awarded usually to the best marchers when a carnival parade is held. It is merely system such as one ought to obtain in any methodical business, and the making of worth-while men out of boys is a very important business.

There never has been nor never will be such a thing as a gun or revolver in boy scouting. Scouts are not trained to kill anything except their own wrong impulses. The word "Scout" really means a lookout, some one who is sent somewhere to get the lay of the land, to find out what is what, and profit by the knowledge thus gained. The only ammunition which scouts use are the brain, body and soul, furnished to them in unstinted measure by God the Great Commissary. These they are taught to use methodically but gloriously for their own welfare and that of the rest of their fellow citizens.

There is nothing better for a boy than Scouting, and nothing better for the community than Boy Scouting; unless the day shall come when human being are broad and splendid enough to agree that for boys to strive and work and camp together under proper supervision, will produce the right sort of pal-like relationship among them, and the sort of manhood which our forefathers anticipated when they established the Republic.—Benjamin C. Everingham, Civic Council, La Crosse, Wis.

OBSCENE BOOKS AND MAGAZINES ARE UNDER BAN

Lovers of questionable literature in Amarillo must look elsewhere for their favorite publications, than on the local news stands!

Potter County's grand jury is asserting itself, and has issued an order to all news dealers forbidding the vending of publications of questionable character.

It is learned that a number of such publications were inspected by the grand jurors Monday. After the inspection, the order was issued, and it is expected that today there will be a dearth of the rakish matter formerly, according to prevalent allegations so easy to be acquired.

Complaints had reached the grand jurors of the character of this matter, and this led to investment in several pieces of it for inspection. The "racy" stories, the "snappy" anecdotes were reviewed, and then —"bang!"

Bootlegging obscene literature, and other "pet hobbies" of some of the citizens are being rendered far less popular, it is stated, by the action of the grand jurors.—Amarillo News.

NEW CASH AND CARRY GROCERY OPENED FOR BUSINESS SATURDAY

Next Saturday, May 6th, will be the opening day for the cash and carry grocery business being opened up by Mess. Homer Ellis and Jim Morris under the firm name of Ellis & Morris in the new building recently completed on the site of the buildings burned during the cyclone April 1921.

Homer Ellis has lived in Donley County many years, having formerly been associated with his father at Lelia Lake and more recently a trusted employee of the Farmers State Bank of this city. Jim Morris moved to this city some two years ago, and has been associated with his father, R. F. Morris in the farming, ranching and real estate business. He also had some business training in South Carolina, before moving to Texas. The new firm is composed of young men with ability and initiative, who believe that there is room here for another hustling grocery business founded on good merchandise, low prices and fair treatment.

It is to be hoped that the new firm finds the success that they deserve and that 1922 is a good year for them as it looks like it will be for every business in Clarendon.

How Ironized Yeast Fills Out Figure

And Puts New "Pep" and Energy in Thin, Nervous, Rundown Folks

Hundreds of thousands of people all over the country are now taking IRONIZED YEAST tablets for health with results which in many cases are actually astonishing. For thin folks to gain five pounds or more on the very first package is not unusual. Common ailments such as pimples, etc., are very often entirely cleared up within 10 to 14 days. As for increasing "pep" and energy, apparent "miracles" are reported by folks who were formerly run-down, weak, and lacking in physical and mental vigor.

Here Is The Secret!

Nature intended that you should have a well developed figure, with the clear skin, sparkling eyes, strong nerves and rugged strength that goes with it. And if you are now thin and run-down it is because certain of Nature's laws have been disobeyed. Nature requires that we get a proper amount of vitamins and iron into our systems. But these two essential elements are lacking in the modern diet. That is why so many of us are thin and run-down.

Yeast Best When Ironized

The thing to do is to supply this lack by taking with each meal two tiny IRONIZED YEAST tablets which contain in highly concentrated form, a specially cultured yeast grown under the strictest supervision for medicinal purposes—a yeast unequalled for its richness in the essential Water Soluble B vitamins. In addition it contains the correct amount of the two other vitamins—Fat Soluble A and Water Soluble C—which are equally important to health. These three vitamins bring excellent results even if taken alone—but when taken with a proper amount of easily assimilated organic iron, as in IRONIZED YEAST, these results are secured often in just half the usual time!

Watch The Results!

Note how IRONIZED YEAST immediately increases your appetite—how it enables you to get real joy out of every morsel of food you eat. See how quickly it drives away pimples, blackheads, etc., and how your newly acquired "pep" makes hard work or play a pleasure instead of a task. Try IRONIZED YEAST today! Pleasant to take—will not cause gas or in any way upset the stomach. Each IRONIZED YEAST tablet wrapped air-tight in wadded sanitape when made, thus assuring 100% purity and strength. Special directions for children. Go to your druggist or mail coupon today—NOW!

WARNING!

Not all yeasts will give the desired results. There are certain types of yeast which have absolutely no value whatsoever. By insisting on the genuine IRONIZED YEAST, and refusing cheap imitations or substitutes you can be sure that you are taking a vitamin tonic treatment which is unsurpassed in effectiveness, convenience and genuine health-building value.

PUBLIC SCHOOL SYSTEM IS TOTTERING

The public school system of Texas has been constructed by piece-meal hence Texas stands 39th in educational activities. When Texas came into the Union (because really it was never annexed as other states) this state reserved the right of eminent domain for educational and other purposes. Her public lands have been gold or leased at a very nominal figure. A vast empire has gone for a few paltry dollars. To illustrate this the land donated for erection of the present state capitol to the Chicago Syndicate was 3,000,000 acres, supposed to be worth $3,000,000. That land is now valued at $150,000,000. So it is with the other dispositions of public lands and enough lands and remission of taxes twenty-five years built the International & Great Northern railroad. But there is no use to recite these mistakes that have been made by legislative enactment in Texas during the past.

The vast public domain set aside for educational purposes is now a mere bagatelle. The $3,000,000 common school funds appropriated by the 37th Legislature to which is to be added the sum of $2,500,000 for rural aid for two years and added special funds for 1922-23 will only allow a per capita of $10.50. This is a drop from about $14 per capita. Something must be done or the public schools of Brazos county and the entire state of Texas will materially suffer. Next year will be the crucial test or the crisis.

Politicians and short-sighted people have quibbled over the educational problems and have failed. The average person now is poorly educated, trained and equipped for work, business or the professions. Our educational system is a make-shift, a snare and delusion. Inefficiency stalks everywhere. Of the 48 states in the American union Texas stands 39th in education and there are only nine states below her. What are we going to do about it? This question was asked the Eagle by County Superintendent Eck Smith, of Brazos county. As long as we have a system of education that will give the child on one side of the highway three months' public school training and perhaps on the other side of the same road in the same county children will receive six or perhaps nine months of public school training there is something radically wrong. Every child in the commonwealth of Texas should have the same chance of winning knowledge. Texas has amended and patched her constitution until it is almost a joke—a public calamity. Texas needs a new deal to take her place among the great states of the Union. The public schools of Texas must be maintained on a basis of equity and every child must have the same chance based upon attendance and not on enrollment and the public school houses of Texas, fully equipped and with a force of militant teachers for nine months in the year. An uneducated and untrained citizenship for the future means disaster and a decaying citizenship. The time has come in Texas for a new deal and a new constitution to meet the demands of the new conditions and perpetuate and save our great institutions that stand for liberty, justice and civilization. Shall we hesitate longer? Our forefathers wrought well and laid a great foundation but we have wasted much of their heritage and now there must be another sovereign declaration for future greatness and glory of the commonwealth. Shall we fail?—In Bryan Eagle.

When opportunity knocks at your door, do you answer. "I haven't time?" This is the age old excuse that has kept many a man from making his mark. In its capacity for covering a multitude of short-comings, it has no equal. It is the world's greatest alibi.

TOO BUSY TO IMPROVE

Whoever admits that he is too busy to improve his methods has acknowledged himself to be at the end of his rope. And that is always the saddest predicament which any one can get into.

For there is a vast difference between being busy and making progress. When we see that clearly we have gained an important bit of wisdom.

The easiest thing some people do is to keep busy. You have seen the person who is always busy—doing trivial things.

Opportunity comes to him as to all others; but he is so occupied with attending to ordinary duties, that he has no time to listen. The routine of his work swallows him up, and he forgets what he is busy for. His favorite idea, and his response to all requests is "I haven't time."

The man who makes progress is of a different stripe. He does not think of his job as something to fill up his time; but as something to accomplish. He has a goal; and he is always thinking, planning, and seeking the quickest and best way to attain it.

Man must often choose between the trivial and the worth while.

When a proposal is put to him by his co-workers, who wish to guide and help him, how easy it is to reply "I haven't time." But that is not the pathway to progress.

He should rather say to himself, "Let's assume that here is opportunity. I must consider carefully what it has to offer. Maybe I'll have to readjust my time; perhaps I'll have to change my methods. But I am ready for anything that will help the business." Whoever reasons and acts thus, can not go far astray in the business world.

The man who is eager to improve does not ignore requests. When he is asked to do something that he believes to be less important than the things that already occupy his time, he will think the subject through and then prove his point.

And "I haven't time" does not prove it!

All of us have time to improve—not only at the suggestion of others, but of our own initiative.

All of us wish to improve—for therein lies the greatest pleasure of honest work.

All of us can improve—for around all about us are many things on which we may start right now.

Here is the most inspiring thought I can bring you at the beginning of a New Year. And, if we are all agreed on this, we can round out 1922 with results which will make us all rejoice.

—J. Ogden Armour.

REAL BUSINESS MEN SHOULD ABANDON ALL FAKE ADVERTISING

There are many ways to advertise, and many places where the same goods as may be bought, but there has never been any way to advertise that will beat newspaper advertising yet, or at least this is the testimony of the big advertising concerns of the country. We frequently see flashing bill boards set in conspicuous places along the roadside, which becomes an eyesore to the general public, and these all carry the money expended for them out of the country, and it does the public no good so far as putting the money in circulation that is expended for them. The time is rapidly passing when people take these things into consideration no more. The business world is coming to realize that this is the time when we should live and let live, and all the money spent for things outside of the community that could be left here is detrimental to the community. If you have firms from whom you buy goods who propose to advertise these goods, have your contract read that they are to do it in your home paper; this will help a business enterprise in your town and incidentally help you. People have a regular time to read their newspapers every day. The fake advertising appears here and there and nobody reads the schemes or the advertising. Too many business men in Madisonville and other towns are caught by fake advertising. This hurts everybody and only enriches those who fleece the business people who haven't the courage to turn down fake advertising schemes.—Madisonville Meter.

THE HONEYMOON NOW AND WHAT IT USED TO BE

Gone are the good old days when John and Mary went bravely to the altar and plighted their troth in the face of the fact that their sole capital consisted of a few silver dollars, two strong bodies, four willing hands and two hearts that beat as one.

In the little cottage by the side of the road were a rude table, two chairs, a stove, a bed and a few stone china dishes.

That was all except the abounding joy of their young hearts, which made the cottage a palace and John and Mary king and queen of their sacred domain.

They expected to share each other's burdens, and they did. They expected success, and it came.

And with success came the looking back to the old days of mutual toil and sacrifice as the happiest days of their lives.

Now, all of this is changed, John must have a car and Mary must wear a solitaire. The cottage by the side of the road must be a modern bungalow with rugs and period furniture to match father's.

Then, too, the strain of keeping up with the procession often robs life of its simple joys. Mary's demands irritate John and John's inability irritates Mary. Clashes become more and more frequent until by and by their love dream becomes a painful tragedy.

In this complete age it would be difficult to go back to the old ways of simplicity and honesty content. But an emulsion of the spirit of simplicity that characterized the old days would work wonders toward restoring life to a more normal plane. —Shreveport Times.

SULPHUR MAKES PIMPLES VANISH

Says Sulphur is Quickest to Clean Up An Ugly Skin

Any breaking out of the skin on face, neck, arms or body is overcome quickest by applying Mentho-Sulphur. The pimples seem to dry right up and go away, declares a noted skin specialist.

Nothing has ever been found to take the place of sulphur as a pimple remover. It is harmless and inexpensive. Just ask any druggist for a small jar of Mentho-Sulphur, and use it like cold cream.

CASH BASIS

We are often asked why it is necessary for us to be so rigid with our collections. The reason is very easily explained. Every thing we buy must be paid in cash.

We have adopted the policy of paying cash for all material and supplies that we buy locally.

When we buy fuel we have to pay cash in advance.

Freight and express are always cash.

Labor is always cash.

Ninety-nine per cent of everything we buy must be paid for in cash.

This plant is owned by a big company, but it is operated by itself. We have to pay all expenses out of the money we collect. As all our expenses must be paid in cash it is necessary for us to have the cash to pay them.

We all know that following up delinquent accounts is an expensive process. And that if we can pay cash for what we buy and get cash for what we sell we can operate our business on a cheaper basis.

The state laws limit our profits to a reasonable return on the physical value of the property. It is to the interest of our customers to help us reduce our expenses. You can do this by paying your bill as early in the month as possible, so that we can keep our business on a strictly cash basis.

This is the reason why we ask our customers, to pay their accounts before the 10th of the month.

CATTLE FIRM; LAMBS HIGH-ER HOG PRICES EASIER

With moderate receipts there trade in fat cattle ruled active at strong prices. Chicago quoted a quiet trade at 15 to 25 cents lower prices. Hog prices were 5 to 10 cents lower than last week's close and 10 to 15 cents higher than a week ago. Trade was active at the decline. Sheep and lambs were in active demand with prices 10 to 25 cents higher.

Today's Receipts
Receipts today were 10,000 cattle, 11,000 hogs, and 7,000 sheep, compared with 13,000 cattle, 13,000 hogs, and 8,000 sheep a week ago, and 9,075 cattle, 19,085 hogs, and 8,815 sheep a year ago.

Beef Cattle
The strong demand which developed for cattle last week continued today with prices firm at last week's advance and 35 to 40 cents higher than a week ago. The advance here has been maintained in the face of lower prices in Chicago and is due to a large general demand. Seaboard cities continued to take a large number of heavy steers. Orders from other sections were for light weight steers and mixed grades, and local killers bought all classes. The bulk of the good steers sold at $8.00 to $8.50. Cows, heifers, and bulls were fully steady.

Stockers and Feeders
Trade in thin cattle was active at strong prices. Receipts were light and some orders remained unfilled. Flabby feeders sold more readily than last week.

Hogs
In order to get a moderate price reduction packers fell short on their orders and on the close paid nearly steady prices. At the outset prices were down 10 cents and soon strengthened. The average was down only 5 cents. The top price was $10.20 and bulk of sales $10.10 to $10.25. Figs sold up to $10.50, the highest price in several weeks past.

Sheep and Lambs
Prices in the sheep division were mostly 15 to 25 cents higher. Colorado woolled lambs sold at $15.25 to $15.60 and Texas clipped weathers $9.00 to $9.75. Trade was active.

Horses and Mules
Trade in horses and mules held about the same lines as in former weeks. Good grades sold readily, but the plainer kinds were in small demand.

OPPORTUNITY IS KNOCKING

Opportunity knocks at our door at different times during our lives, and if we only use some wisdom and recognize it when we hear the knock we will succeed and seldom if ever fail.

At this time Clarendon and all Donley County has the opportunity to secure a place for the future that will put us and hold us where we belong as one of the banner counties in the Panhandle.

With the prospects of a new road from Silverton to Clarendon, practically assured through the JA and Howard lands and with improvements to our present road to Brice and the Lett Ranch, we will have two fine roads that will mean much to this county to make it grow.

But opportunity when knocking must be used, others are listening and waiting for the sound and will make use of it if we do not avail ourselves of the chance given.

Many people go along life's pathway and never see the many opportunities offered from day to day and then wonder why. If we only see our head and our eyes, we will see and recognize them.

Most folks are inclined to do the right thing and few deliberately do wrong. Most errors in every day life are committed without any intentional wrong, but from not knowing the true facts in the case, and when we meet such conditions few endeavor to show the real reason; we can convince most of the people if we take the time, and if we are right and every person has a right to an opinion, so let us at all times try to use reason and good judgment in our endeavors to convince people of the merits of the case.

All the Panhandle counties with the recent rains puts the lands in such condition that for most crops, are the best we have ever known, and indications are for a banner year for 1922. It is opportunity knocking at our door to be let in.

Improvements in our city are taking place and let the good work go on, improve the streets, let us have good sidewalks, and then improve all of our highways and make every thing attractive to the tourist who is coming this way this summer. It is advertising our city and county and telling what we have and showing them at the same time. To the outside world, "No citizen, no town, no county can live unto itself." If we are to prosper we must expand, if we are to grow we must bring people here, if we are to bring them here they must be shown what we have or they will not come to stay.

As a merchant cannot hide his wares and tell the people they have them for sale if they expect to sell. They must have them on display, they must be shown.

So let us show our county and city, convince those who may not know what we have, let us use our opportunity and let everyone know what we have, let us use our opportunity, and everyone boost for all Donley County. If we do not blow our horns, no one else will.

We have one of the best counties in the Panhandle for general diversification, we have an opportunity now of locating a cheese factory in Clarendon, it would take care of all the surplus milk and need a great deal more. It is opportunity.

We are now going into the 32nd year without a crop failure, we have a county where peace and plenty has always been known. Will we convince others and use our opportunity during the year 1922?

Use opportunity, it is knocking at our door. Use no other knock and watch us grow.

PALO DURO CREEK HIGHEST IN THIRTY-EIGHT YEARS

The Palo Duro creek reached the highest point in thirty-eight years as the result of the young cloud burst which visited this section Sunday afternoon and night.

Rain started to fall a little after three o'clock Sunday afternoon. The fall was not so large in Canyon as it was a west of the city where rain simply fell in torrents. The rain was accompanied by one of the largest hail storms we have had in years.—Randall County News.

An announcement has been received in the News office of the coming marriage of Miss Blanche Fontaine of Durant Oklahoma to Sam Hilburn. Mr. Hilburn is well remembered in the city of Clarendon, as he was a popular student in the College, having graduated from there in 1917, since that time he has attended S. M. U. with the exception of the time that he was in the army. Mr. Hilburn is a young man of sterling qualities and it is predicted that he has a brilliant future ahead of him. The News extends its hearty congratulations with a wish for a long and happy life for the couple.

COUNTY AGENT SAYS HOGS ARE BECOMING BEST MONEY CROP

Are you producing Hogs as cheaply as possible? We have never seen a time when we should really put more thought into making a farm plan than is necessary for this year 1922. It is not as important that we make such an enormous production, as it is that we produce everything at the least possible cost. It is always more economical to cultivate fewer and make them produce more.

Hogs are becoming one of Donley's most important money crops. We are in most cases keeping our own brood sows and fattening our pigs at an early age. The feedings we are making it pay have found it absolutely necessary to feed tankage, cotton seed meal, or some other protein rich feed as a supplement to the common ground corn, kaffir and maize which are chiefly carbohydrates. They have also found the above protein feeds quite expensive and are striving to find a method by which this feed can be produced on the farm, and the pig properly grown out ready for the fattening period on home grown feeds. It seems to me that the following throws some valuable light on this subject.

At the Amarillo experiment station some recent experiments were conducted in cultural methods of grain sorghums in the 6 year period from 1914 to 1919 inclusive. Dwarfed milo in rows spaced three and one-half apart made the highest average yield, 30.8 bushels when it had 12 inches row space to the plant. In rows spaced 7 feet apart during this same period the highest average yield, 33.2 bushels was made by the plant spaced from 8 to 12 inches apart in the rows. Other experiments with kaffir showed as good or better yield when planted in rows of 7 feet apart. A more detailed description may be gotten by writing the U. S. Department of Agriculture for Farmers Bulletin number 976.

If the above is true then we would make as good a yield in we plant our grain 7 feet apart, or for our implements here it is more convenient to plant two rows together and then skip a row. In this third row we can plant a row of stock peas, soy beans or any kind of legume crop. These crops are soil builders and are rich in protein and fairly rich in mineral matter, the element for which we so highly prize tankage or cotton seed meal and especially for the growing animal. Peanuts are also good for the above purpose, with the exception that they do not improve soil to such an extent. The crops are especially good to graze off with pigs and the pork produced by them will be at the lowest possible cost, since we do not raise this legume at a sacrifice of our grain yield.

Another plan which many of our successful hog feeders are practicing, is getting a permanent pasture of sweet clover or alfalfa started for a hog pasture. A few acres of any of these legume crops will be worth a great deal to any hog producer in the course of a year in growing out his pigs. They contain the elements of which the growing pig is made, and the difference between having them and not having them, often means the difference between feeding thrifty and thriftless pigs.

Does it look like a sound business policy to raise part of our high priced protein feed at home, if we can produce as much grain as usual besides, and at the same time add several hundred pounds of much needed nitrogen to our soil, and keep our money in our own bank, or would it be using our better judgment not to allow our land to produce its full capacity, and send our money to Fort Worth to buy feed?

Roy W. Hendrix, County Agent.

Miss Anne Myra Bennett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Bennett of this city spent last Monday at Mammoth Cave in Kentucky. Miss Bennett made the trip as a member of a party of six hundred students from Ward-Belmont, Nashville, Tenn., where she is pursuing her studies. The trip which was made in a special train is a manual outing arranged by the school as an opportunity for the students to inspect one of the great natural wonders of the world.

Hughes is a young man and is very aggressive. This is just the sort of a man that is needed in our town and we welcome him here gladly.

MEN HELD FOR KLAN SILENCE ARE RELEASED

Austin, May 3.—The court of criminal appeals Wednesday ordered H. D. Miller, Wallace Martin and Jim Jennings, all of Wichita county, released from the custody of the sheriff of that county. These men were committed to jail and fined $100 each by District Judge E. W. Napier for failure to answer questions propounded by the Wichita county grand jury. The questions asked these men and which they refused to answer all pertained to the Ku Klux Klan.

The reason given for the order of release was that the questions were not in the form of a criminal investigation by the grand jury, and therefore the men were not in contempt of court for refusal to answer. The first question asked each of these men was, "Have you ever been a member of the Ku Klux Klan?" Another was, "Do you know any one that is a member of the Ku Klux Klan?" To these question the relations refused to answer.

Both the county and district attorneys were closeted with the grand jury when these question were asked and both later said that when the questions were asked that no crime was being investigated by the grand jury.

In the opinion rendered by the court of criminal appeals it was stated that the questions would have been pertinent if they had been asked during a criminal investigation wherein the answers to the questions would have brought to light any lawlessness. An excerpt from the grand jury report is as follows:

"We have not been investigating any crime which we have any thought or reason to believe has been committed at the instance of the Ku Klux Klan in Wichita county."

Judge Wants Drastic Steps
Wichita Falls May 3.—When informed of the action of the court of criminal appeals discharged three defendants held for contempt in his court for refusal to answer questions relating to their membership in the Ku Klux Klan, Judge E. W. Napier of the Seventy-eighth district court, said:

"I shall not question the soundness of the court's opinion, but if it is the law, it is one more good reason for drastic legislation against masked organizations which conceal their membership and work under the ground like a mole."

AGED MINISTER DIED MONDAY

Friends of Rev. S. N. Pool will be grieved to hear of his death early Monday at the home of his son-in-law, R. L. Bain who lives five miles south of town. The deceased had been a local pastor in the Methodist church for fifty years and was eighty five years old at the time of his death. He spent the greater part of his life in Wise county, having lived in Donley county only one year. The last five years of his life were spent without a companion, as his wife had preceded him to the grave that length of time. The remains were shipped to Indianola Oklahoma where interment will take place.

He leaves eight children to mourn his going, seven boys and one girl, Jess Pool of Hedley and Mrs. R. L. Bain of Clarendon being the only children living in Donley county.

Mrs. Sadie Hartman, one of our subscribers from Olvey Arkansas is visiting in our city with Fred Rathjen and his aunt, she will possibly be here all summer.

LADIES! DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

Use Grandma's Sage Tea and Sulphur Recipe and Nobody will Know.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get this famous old preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known, downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark and glossy. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire a more youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

SMITH-CAPERS WELL PRODUCER 200 BARRELS

IN TUESDAY MORNING TEST FAMOUS SMITH-CAPERS WELL SHOWS TO BE 200 TO 1000 BARRELL PRODUCER.

What promises to prove one of the greatest business boons Clarendon and vicinity has experienced for many months is the bringing in of the Smith-Capers or Magee well north of Panhandle.

Oil shot over the derrick in a solid 8-inch stream when the Smith-Capers well was uncapped Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock and the production is estimated at from 200 to 1,000 barrels according to well-side information. The well was immediately shut off on account of lack of facilities to care for the oil.

The Smith-Capers went into the pay sand last Saturday, a week ago and oil gushed in three successive streams, shooting over the derrick before the control head could be capped. Hundreds of people were present when the well was uncapped.

There is no longer any doubt in the minds of oil men that the Smith-Capers will prove to be a big producer.

The amount of the flow is convincing evidence that the drill needs to be sent down only a few feet more to bring in one of the biggest wells in the country.

Lease prices are certain to go much higher as a result of the showing made Tuesday, oil men say. It is said that there is no close-up acreage on the market. Most of the listing in that territory were withdrawn last week when the first showing was made.

The owners of the property are W. H. Holmes, Harry T. McGee, S. D. McIlroy, J. J. Currie and a number of others, operating under the firm name of Harry T. McGee & Company.

With the control head partly closed the oil, in sprays and spurts, is being blown high into the derrick through a one-inch opening.

Conservative estimates placed on the production is from 200 to 500 barrels, and oil men believe that when the cap is removed that the well will make 1000 barrels a day.

The gas in the well is 100 feet above the oil and the oil apparently rises as fast as the hole can be emptied through the small opening. Efforts will be made to complete the well; by drilling deeper. This work will probably be done by the last of the week, it is reported. Casing is on the ground, and efforts to get the gas pressure from over the oil will be made. The work is considered dangerous and is being done with caution.

Automobiles and airplanes have been arriving on the field all during the day, and hundreds of people are on hand, including representatives from the larger oil companies.

SALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

We eat too much meat, which clogs Kidneys, then Back hurts and Bladder bothers you.

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have headache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe leadache, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications. A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

CHANGES HINTED IN THE POSTAL SERVICE

Washington, April 27.—What was believed to be the forerunner of an announcement that first, second and third class postmasters are no longer to be chosen after an examination but are to be chosen directly by the President upon recommendation of Republican senators and congressmen, was made in an address by First Assistant Postmaster General Bartlett before the National Civil Service Reform league here tonight.

"It should be needless to say that first, second and third class postmasters are not under civil service now," Bartlett said. "Such executive orders as have been made with reference to them have been merely a delegation by the President to the civil service commission of the duty of examining them and making up a list for the President to select from. The President is not even obliged to select from these lists when they are made up. The power of appointing these presidential postmasters is with the President and the senate. He has the right to change this order any minute he chooses. It is merely a means of selection. To speak of Postmaster General Works' desire to vacate the present order with presidential postmasters as tending to undermine the civil service commission is illogical and irrelevant. They are not a part of the civil service commission at all."

The statement of the assistant postmaster general is taken to mean that the administration has come around to the way of thinking of many members of congress who have urged that the cost of the examination be done away with and postmasters chosen in accordance with the recommendation of the local Republican organizations. It is probable that this method soon will be adopted and will govern in the case of future postmaster appointments.

"TALK" TRAVELS ACROSS CONTINENT AT LIGHTNING SPEED

The question is frequently asked and seldom answered correctly as to the speed at which telephone and telegraph messages travel over long circuits such as that between New York and San Francisco or a submarine cable crossing the Atlantic Ocean.

Measurements made by the Bell telephone engineers show that on the average about 1-3 of a second is required for a telegraph sounder in San Francisco to operate after the key is closed to New York although the initial electrical impulse travels across the continent at the rate of 186,000 miles a second, this being the speed of light. The propagation of telephone currents, on the other hand, is much more rapid. The trans-continental circuits are open wire and contain no loading coils and the current builds up in them almost instantaneously so that telephone messages are transmitted across the continent in about one-fifth of a second or practically the speed of light. In loaded circuits and especially in cable circuits, the telephone current builds up much more slowly. For instance, a cable circuit 200 miles in length may be as long electrically as the trans-continental circuit which is over 3,000 miles in length.

The electric currents carrying telephone or telegraph messages represent a case in which "coming event cast their shadows before." Along the surface of the conductor, whether it be open wire line or in a submarine cable, the electric impulses travel with the speed of light. The amount of current, however, which is conducted by the surface layer of the wire is extremely minute and is not sufficient to operate a receiving instrument, whether this be a telephone receiver or syphon recorder.

After the initial impulse has traveled over the surface of the wire, current in the same direction as this impulse proceeds to build up both upon the surface and within the wire itself, taking place toward the center of the wire. The rate at which the growth of current occurs on the surface of the wire depends upon the so-called electrical characteristics of the circuit, it being much slower in a submarine cable with large electrical capacity than in an open wire line which has a relatively small capacity. The growth on the surface also occurs less rapidly in loaded open wire lines than in nonloaded lines. The building up of current within the wire follows its growth on the surface by a short interval of time which depends upon the size of the wire and the metal of which it is made.

After the current within the wire has built up to a certain effective value it becomes large enough to operate the receiving instrument. The delay, therefore, which occurs in the transmission of messages by electric currents results not because the initial current travels at a low speed but because an appreciable length of time is needed for it to build up to an effective value.

It may be pointed out that no direct measurements have been made proving that the speed of electric currents along wires is equal to the speed of light, namely, 186,000 miles a second. This conclusion is reached on the basis of modern electrical theory which postulates that light is an electric disturbance. This theory has been tested in many ways and there is every reason to believe that it gives the correct result regardless of the propagation of an electric current along the wire.—Public Service.

COUNTRY NEWSPAPER BUSINESS IS GREAT GAME

The Publisher Brings to His Business An Unparalleled Devotion.

The country newspaper publisher, more than any other man, is the man whose finger is on the pulse of the community life about him, who hears the heartbeat of his neighbors, whether that heartbeat is in joy or in anguish, and who sees their tears of joy and of laughter.

It is these things that bring him close to the life of those about him, and give him a better understanding of men and give him the knowledge and the ability to help solve the problems—matters for the individual or for his neighbors generally.

If the publisher of the great metropolitan paper would know how the day of the country editor is passed, let him read the following words from the Oakley, Kas. Graphic:

"The newspaper business is a great game. Just in the midst of an obituary of a dear friend, and when hot tears threaten to flow down and blot out the words you write, there breaks through the office door the radiant face of the daddy of a new boy. Tears and joy mingle in the same breath, and the giving and taking of life are recorded on the same page.

"Before you have finished the obituary the breezy advance man for a comedy show pops in and asks you to write a scream for the 'Forty Fat Frolicsome Fairies' and how joyous they are. Before you have done with the kind words about your departed friend, the joy of the new baby and finished the showman's ad, a fellow sneaks in to ask you to suppress the story of the fight that he was mixed up in. Then, after putting all the lace and trimmings on the bride's wedding gown, dressing the groom in the conventional black and starting them off with the congratulations and best wishes, you turn again to the tear side of life and write, 'But the stately ship moves on to the haven under the hill, and oh, for the touch of a vanished hand and the sound of a voice that is still!'

"Then comes a lull, and the big typewriter is content to record the common-places facts, knowing that just around the corner, and each waiting his turn, stand Joy, Grief, Sorrow, Mirth, Sarcasm, Wit and Laughter.

"Small wonder, then, that the newspaper man brings to his business a devotion that is not found in any other walk of life."—Jefferson City Democrat.

SAYS NEWSPAPER IS TOWN'S BIGGEST ASSET

Live Publication Is Most Important Factor in Boosting a Municipality.

A town's biggest asset is its newspaper, providing, of course, the newspaper has the interest of the town at heart. The true value of this is very often underrated by careless and unobservant persons. A live newspaper can do more to boost and advertise a town than any other force in it. Its importance is obvious.

A "dead" paper is a hindrance to any town. A town is judged by the way it is reflected through the columns of its newspaper. A commendable publication in a town draws the attention of outsiders, maintains interest in home industry and goes out heralding the news that its town is the best.

There are many things that go to make up a good newspaper. It is not only the source of news and information, but it acts as a medium for the business houses and their customers. By reading its columns of advertisements, the shopper is informed of bargains that would otherwise escape notice. It renders the merchant a service by bringing his goods before the people's notice. This double service carried on through the advertising columns is the biggest feature of the modern paper.

There is quality in advertising. The publication that strives to make the ads attractive will get the advertiser the best results. No one cares to read an ad that is not pleasing to the eye. The modern and up-to-date paper specializes on the stungements and make-up of its ads to make them attractive and appealing to the reading public. This works for better general results, pleasing to both readers and the advertisers.

The home paper is always the best, as it comes in closer touch with the problems of life in your community. Its interests are your interests and it is desirous of the betterment of all local things. Watch the paper that boosts the home industries, schools, churches, etc., and lend it your support.—Cameron (Texas) Enterprise.

THE ABILITY TO REASON: A NECESSARY QUALITY FOR CITIZENSHIP

We are getting ready to be intelligent citizens—men who can judge public affairs, do independent thinking on national problems, and lead the nation into right lines of policy. Democracy needs this sort of leaders even more than it needs doctors or engineers; and it finds them very scarce. It is a good thing for a nation to have skilled medical advisers and skillful engineering experts. But it is an even better thing to have the energies of the nation as a whole wisely directed. The health of the body politic is more important than the health of one man or a hundred men. The waste due to misguided legislation is ten times greater than the waste due to miscalculated force. It is more fundamentally essential to preserve the country from political dangers at home or abroad than from the physical dangers which beset individuals.

The source of these dangers to the body politic lies in the fact that most people in their political and social relations are guided by emotion rather than thinking, intuition rather than judgment. They alternate between unreasoning selfishness on the one hand and unreasoned benevolence on the other. The history of Greece and Rome and the cities of mediæval Europe show how this difficulty over and over again has wrecked democratic government and brought nations which were once free under foreign rule or domestic tyranny.

First, we must know how to find out facts; where to look for them, how to test them, how to judge the evidence for one statement or another in the face of our prepossessions. This is often a difficult task. We are always tempted to accept the statement which is easiest to understand, instead of the one that is most scrupulously near the truth; to take our knowledge from the highly colored phrases of the novel or the newspaper, rather than from laborious investigation of our own. Our eye is so caught by the label, the headline, or the advertisement, that we feel no impulse to test the underlying reality. The name of American work as a whole, both public and private, is the unwillingness of our people to take trouble to get things right.

But we must do something more. It is not enough for us or for the country to face facts truthfully. We must know the relative importance of different kinds of facts. The man who has facts at command, knows their relative values, and understands the art of stating them in proper order, is the guide whom the people crave. Men sometimes talk of the selfishness of the masses or of their lack of intellectual curiosity. The trouble is not so much selfishness as restricted vision; not lack of curiosity, but to gratify that curiosity too easily. The man whose study of language has taught him to avoid unnecessary words, and whose study of mathematics or of law has taught him to take his thoughts to pieces and put them together again goes out into the world equipped as a leader of men. His it is to lift them above their prejudices. His it is to help them to wisdom which the citizens must possess in order that a free commonwealth may remain free. His it is to develop the rational patriotism and rational religion on which permanent freedom must rest.—Arthur T. Hadley.

EAT LESS MEAT IF BACK HURTS

Take a glass of Salts to flush Kidneys if Bladder bothers you—Drink lots of water.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful after-dinner lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.

GENERAL GRANT

WILLIAM MCKINLEY

A great life never dies. Great differences were the best hope of civilization.

With Washington and Lincoln, Grant will continue in history and the affections of the people. To-day his memory is held in equal esteem by those whom he led to victory and by those who accepted his generous terms of peace. The veteran leaders of the Blue and Gray here meet not only to honor the name of the departed Grant, but to testify to the living reality of a fraternal national spirit which has triumphed over the differences of the past and transcends the limitations of sectional lines.

It is right, then, that General Grant should have a memorial commensurate with his greatness, and that his last resting place should be the city of his choice, to which he was so attached in life and of whose ties he was not forgetful even in death. Fitting, too, is it that the great soldier should sleep beside the noble river on whose banks he first learned the art of war and of which he became master and leader without a rival.

New York holds in its keeping the precious dust of the silent soldier; but his achievements—what he and his brave comrades wrought for mankind—are in the keeping of all Americans, who will guard the sacred heritage forevermore.

WEST TEXAS PAYS TAXES OUT OF PROPORTION TO BENEFITS IT RECEIVES

Were State taxes levied uniformly in all counties of Texas, the present unjust distribution of the burden of government could not occur. Unjust treatment of West Texas will continue until there is such uniformity of taxation as compels East Texas to pay its proper share for the maintenance of the State government.

A white light is thrown on the situation by the report of the State tax commissioner for 1920 that 50 counties after paying into the State Treasury all taxes due under the State ad valorem rate for all purposes received back in school apportionments more than the taxes so paid, and $1,530,000 besides.

The whole trouble is that these counties assess their property too low. They pay as little as possible into the State Treasury, and take back as much as they can.

They are among the most populous and richest of the farming counties. West Texas counties, with property valuations placed much higher contribute heavily to the State Treasury receive little in return, and help support the schools of East Texas counties.

Records of the comptroller's department and of the department of education, furnished by State tax commissioner John G. Willacy, showing percentages of assessment in 1920, taxes paid to the State Treasury, and amounts returned in school apportionment in 1921, are very informative.

Here are some of the most glaring examples of under-assessment and heavy withdrawals from State funds by East Texas counties:

Harrison county drew out of the State Treasury twice as much as it paid in. County land was assessed at 15 per cent of value, city and town lots at 30 per cent, and banks at 60 per cent. The county paid into the State Treasury $96,608 and withdrew under the school apportionment, $190,242, plus $4,500 for rural aid.

Anderson county land was assessed at 15 per cent, city and town property at 33 per cent and banks at 75 per cent. The county paid into the State Treasury $94,320. It received in school apportionment $127,881, and for rural aid $14,710.

Hopkins county received three times as much State tax money as it paid. Its land was assessed at 15 per cent, city and town lots at 35 per cent, and banks at 60 per cent. It paid into the Treasury $65,441, received from the school apportionment $173,316, and from rural aid $11,505.

Calahan county paid $49,073 into the Treasury and received $55,732.

Brown county paid in $79,428 and received $92,851. Hill county paid in $188,200 and received $199,000. Hunt county paid $161,000 and received $244,000. Fannin paid $145,687, and received $210,558. Kaufman county paid $134,292 and received $163,405.

See how payments were reversed in West Texas where assessment rates were higher.

El Paso county paid $453,344 into the State Treasury and received from the school apportionment $329,563, with nothing for the rural aid fund. Brewster county paid $53,906, and received $15,965, with no rural aid.

Jeff Davis county paid $25,784, and received $6,253, with no rural aid.

Culberson county paid $24,800, and received $2,197, with no rural aid. Culberson county paid ten times as much States taxes as it received. Hopkins county in East Texas received three times as much as it paid. Presidio county paid $50,474, and received $40,261. Terrell county paid $30,008 and received back approximately one-seventh as much, $4,693. A striking contrast.

Reeves county paid $41,905 and received $18,939. Ward county paid $24,837 and received $8,984. Huddersley county paid $36,343 and received only $5,136.

Practically all counties in the State where large cities are located, paid no more taxes to the State Treasury than they received. For instance, Tarrant county paid $815,815 and received from the school apportionment $475,410, plus $21,680 for rural aid.

Dallas county paid $1,220,000 and received from the school apportionment $606,762, plus $15,532 for rural aid.

In all these counties in East and West Texas the State tax rate was the same, 62 cents on $100 of property valuation. It was the valuation rate that differed, the East Texas counties putting theirs as low as they could.

The record shows plainly the great need for a uniform basis of valuation for State tax purposes.

One thought to bear in mind is this: If the State appropriates for rural schools, El Paso county contributes about $75,000 without receiving a cent.—El Paso Herald.

"THINK OF THESE THINGS"

He who is busy attending to his own affairs has no time to meddle with the affairs of others.

The King's business means to love our neighbors as ourselves, and aid him when we see him in need.

It is only when neglecting our own business, the King's business, that we are tempted to interfere in the business of others.

If one is constant in his attention to the duties incumbent upon him, he will have no desire to intrude upon the affairs of others.

A wise and good man once said, "If I were to be commissioned to write an additional Commandment to the Ten, I would write, 'Mind your own business.'"

Each individual is responsible for his own work, for the proper employment of his talent, genius and capacities, and for the fidelity with which he pursues his vocation.

When asked by Peter as to another of the Apostles, "What shall this man do?" the Master answered, "What is that to thee? Follow thou me." In other words, "Mind your own business."

Advice is one of the best things possible when it is good advice, but do we always make sure that it is good advice, but do we always make sure that it is such before offering it? Are we always sure that such matter under consideration is such as warrants our voluntary intrusion?

Of course we would render all possible aid to our neighbor in his business when requested to do so, or when we shall see him struggling under a weary load of care, or grief, or trouble. Then his business becomes the King's business, which is our business.

"Mind your own business" is a command which means that we should not intrude into the business of others, offering unsought for and undesired advice, volunteering comments and criticisms, as to the manner in which they have done, are doing or may be certain things which do not concern us.

It is exceedingly doubtful if there is any phase of the miserable habit of officious and gratuitous meddling with other people's affairs so productive of misery, unhappiness and unnecessary trouble as that of criticizing, censuring and bearing tales concerning the family relationship of our neighbors and friends. This is most often done, too, by those who are not fortified in impregnable domestic citadels of their own.

He who is diligently engaged in the "King's business" realizes that it is no part of the King's business for him to tell his neighbor how he should do his part of the work. The King's business is the business which gives a cup of cold water to the thirsty, which pours the balm of comfort into wounded hearts, which gives unto them "beauty for ashes, the oil of joy for mourning, the garment of praise for the spirit of heaviness."

Josh Billings once said, "It is easy enough to attend to our neighbor's business, but our own sometimes bothers us." Which is very true. We are too prone to say, "If I were in his place, I would do so and so," when the fact of the matter is we might do very much worse than he whom we are adversely criticizing. It should not be forgotten that in such criticism we are not only meddling with the affairs of another, but are guilty of the double offense of meddling and casting reflections upon the one criticized.—DeWitt Murray, 33 degree Hon.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Lewis left the latter part of last week for Ft. Worth where they will visit for some time with their daughter.

OPEN NOSTRILS! END A COLD OR CATARRH

How To Get Relief When Head and Nose are Stuffed Up.

Count fifty! Your cold in head or catarrh disappears. Your clogged nostrils will open, the air passages of your head will clear and you can breathe freely! No more sniffling, hawking, mucous discharge, dryness or headache; no struggling for breath at night.

Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist and apply a little of this fragrant antiseptic cream in your nostrils. It penetrates through every air passage of the head, soothing and healing the swollen or inflamed mucous membrane, giving you instant relief. Head colds and catarrh yield like magic. Don't stay stuffed-up and miserable. Relief is sure.

THE DIFFERENCE

It has been said by cynics that the cash register was invented by the Chinese; but so far as the world is concerned, the cash register is a product of Dayton, Ohio. Certain Norsemen are reputed to have discovered America along about the year 900, but it wasn't until 1492, when Columbus sailed the trackless ocean blue, that America, so far as civilization is concerned, was discovered.

"There is nothing new under the sun," has been repeated so often that a great many fall back upon it when confronted with facts which upset their morbid perspective of life and distrust of good things which come out of the human mind.

"Why, I have often thought of that myself," we frequently say when we read or hear a great thought from the brain of another. "Very simple; anybody could build that thing," we remark when a new invention comes into our hands.

All of which is true. Of the great number of us who are capable of thinking great thoughts or doing splendid things, but few of us have the courage to speak, or the energy to act. We drift along with the tides and let George do it.

Perhaps a Chinaman did invent, or build, the first cash register. Why didn't he follow it up? China has one fourth of the total population of the world. China has as rich natural resources as any nation on earth. China has been called the treasure house of the world. The cash-register-building Chinaman certainly had a great field at hand, as well as the whole world as his market. He didn't follow through and, as a result, the cash registers in China bear the trade mark of a concern in Dayton, Ohio.

A certain register company made the world think in terms of "Get a Receipt." It had a very meager beginning; today it gives employment to over 10,000 persons and has branch houses located throughout the world. By mass production it has brought the price of the cash register within reach of the smallest cross-roads store. By persistent selling effort and advertising, during the year of 1921 it sold more cash registers than in any previous year of its existence.

Of course, it's just possible that the Chinaman had the same prejudice to contend with that a great many Americans have—that of having his countrymen turn up their noses and say: "Huh, I used to go to school with that guy! He couldn't invent anything worthwhile!"

But the difference between men is this: One has the initiative to put his ideas across and the other hasn't. Both may think equally well; one worries about what people will say and think, and the other doesn't give a darn. A man whose ideas are bigger than the naggings of the multitude, goes ahead and succeeds.

Give the world what it wants, and the world will give you what you want. That's all there is to success.—"Heart to Heart Talks" of W. D. Trotter.

DRINK HOT TEA FOR A BAD COLD

Get a small package of Hamburg Brest Tea at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teaspoon full at any time during the day or before retiring. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores of the skin, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus driving a cold from the system.

Try it the next time you suffer from a cold or the grip. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore safe and harmless.

RUB BACKACHE AND LUMBAGO RIGHT OUT

Rub Pain and Stiffness away with a small bottle of old honest St. Jacobs Oil

When your back is sore and lame or lumbago, sciatica or rheumatism has you stiffened up, don't suffer! Get a 35 cent bottle of old, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it right into the pain or ache, and by the time you count fifty, the soreness and lameness is gone.

Don't stay crippled! This soothing, penetrating oil needs to be used only once. It takes the ache and pain right out of your back and ends the misery. It is magical, yet absolutely harmless and doesn't burn the skin. Nothing else stops lumbago, sciatica and lame back misery so promptly!

BACKACHE IS DISCOURAGING But Not So Bad If You Know How to Reach the Cause

Nothing more discouraging than a constant backache. Lame when you awaken, pains pierce you when you bend or lift. It's hard to work or to rest. Backache often indicates bad kidneys. Clarendon people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Ask your neighbor!

J. M. Capehart, Clarendon, says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills of and on and gladly recommend them. I was troubled a lot with rheumatism pains in my joints. My back was weak and I had sharp pains through it. The kidney secretions passed too frequently, getting me up often at night. Doan's Kidney Pills never failed to relieve me of the complaint. Doans did me more good than any other remedy I have ever used." (Statement given November 27th, 1915.)

On April 21st, 1919, Mr. Capehart added: "Doan's Kidney Pills cured me and my cure has been permanent. Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Capehart had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

Mrs. Ratcliff was a consecrated Christian and a member of the Baptist church, having joined at Hutchin in 1904 with the distinction of being the first person to be baptized in that church, before this time she was a member of the Methodist church. At an early age she was left an orphan and was raised by William Patton of Dallas. Three children were born to her, two of whom, Edwin L. aged 16 and Martha A. aged 13, live to mourn her going. JURISTS RULE RED RIVER BED U. S. PROPERTY

Washington, May 1.—The United States supreme court today decided the long standing dispute between the states of Oklahoma and Texas over the ownership of the bed of the Red river by declaring that the river bed belongs to the federal government. The river is the boundary line between the two states for more than 500 miles.

The river bed is valuable because of oil discovered under it and it has been claimed by Oklahoma on the ground that the river was a navigable stream.

The court held that the river is non-navigable along its known oil stretches, thereby denying Oklahoma's contention.

Oklahoma, however, was granted riparian right to the middle of the stream, and the claim of Texas to any part of the river was denied.

Washington, May 1.—The court in a decision a year ago held that the south bank of the river constituted the boundary between the two states, but in today's opinion did not say whether the river bluffs or the "cut bank" was the boundary.

The court today held that the riparian rights to the claimants, holding as Indian allottees extended only to the middle of the river and not to the south half of the river belonged to the United States. This conclusion as to federal ownership Justice Van Devanter said, was binding upon all claimants.

Another finding of the court announced today is that the river is not navigable, thereby sustaining the contention of the federal government and rejecting the claims of Oklahoma to the bed of the river. Justice Van Devanter said the court rejected the claims of those interveners which were based on Oklahoma's claim to the bed of the river.

"We think it (the river) was the channel extending from one cut bank to the other, which carries the water in times of a substantial flow."

The court in the course of its decision made a statement which in some quarters was regarded as a foreshadowing what its opinion may be in locating the boundary line of the south side of the river.

RELIGION IS CALLED THE BASIS OF NATION BY VICE-PRES. MARSHALL

Sherman, April 26.—Former vice president Thomas R. Marshall closed a series of six lectures given in Sherman under auspices of Austin colleges on fundamental principles of good citizenship, with a lay sermon delivered from the pulpit of the First Presbyterian church Sunday evening, in which Mr Marshall discussed "The Contribution of Christianity to America's Greatness." The former Vice President left Sherman early Monday morning for St. Louis, where he has accepted an engagement to speak before leaving immediately for a tour of Europe.

Mr. Marshall began his discourse with a reference to a man reputed to be a politician occupying the pulpit of a Christian church, but declared that it was his observation from a number of years' contact with the great and near-great at Washington that no man was really great who did not have the spirit of service for his fellowmen exemplified in the life of the Nazarene.

Mr. Marshall dwelt on the fact that this country was founded by men of Christian character, and pointed out that even Thomas Jefferson, reputed agnostic, was by his acts and words, not a real agnostic. The Declaration of Independence, of which he was the author, began with an invocation of divine guidance, and for the motto of the University of Virginia which he founded he chose the words of Jesus: "Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make ye free."

The speaker pointed out that while the government founded by the fathers guaranteed freedom of worship according to one's own conscience, this had resulted in many citizens developing peculiar consciences. Too many, he declared, have taken this to mean that they do not have to worship at all.

Mr. Marshall pointed out the shadowy principle which is too often the guide of men in business and economic affairs today. Whereas, it was formerly asked the lawyer "Am I right?" such a question is never asked, but "Can I get by with this?"

RAINS BREAK INTO GOVERNOR'S PLANS

Governor Pat Neff filled his appointment to be in Shamrock, Wheeler and Mobeetie on the 26th which was Wednesday. But he did not speak in Wheeler or Mobeetie owing to the lateness of his arrival at the respective places. The Governor and his party were scheduled to be present at the opening of the Red River Bridge but the rain and muddy roads caused this event to be postponed. The big dinner and speaking and general entertainment was pulled in Shamrock. Dinner with Barbecue as the piece de resistance, and any number of other good things in the greatest of profusion was served on long tables on the sidewalk. In the afternoon the Governor and other state officials spoke in the Liberty Theatre. All those who had an opportunity of hearing the Governor speak are loud in their praise of him.

It has not yet been announced just when the bridge will be opened. The celebration Wednesday will probably serve as the official dedication of the new structure.—Wheeler News Review.

A BUSY DAY IN OUR CITY

The big crowd in town last Saturday certainly looked like times had come back to normal. Early in the morning the folks began coming in, and by the noon hour the streets were literally packed with moving humanity, some going one way, some another.

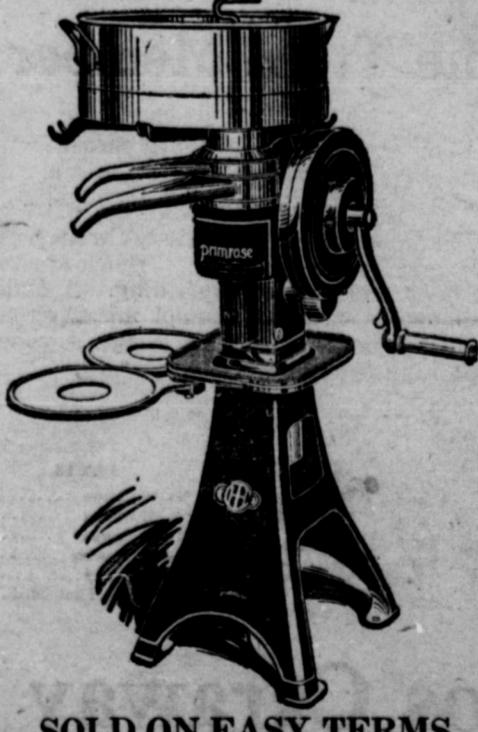

The streets were pictures of parked cars, and everywhere were signs of busy folks.—Paducah Post.
