GOOD PROFIT IS MADE BY FEEDING CALVES IN NORTH

SUCH IS EXPERIENCE OF TAYLOR WATKINS OF ELIZABETHTOWN, KY., WHO IS IN CLARENDON BUYING STOCK TO SHIP BACK HOME.

There is profit in Texas calves. This has been proven beyond question by the experience of Taylor Watkins of Elizabethtown, Ky., who has been in Clarendon for some two weeks buying calves for the purpose of shipping them back to that state for fattening. Mr. Watkins has been buying stock in Texas every fall for some time but heretofore has stopped in Fort Worth and bought them off the market. Meeting T. H. Bugbee in that city last month, the Kentucky man explained his method but was convinced by Mr. Bugbee that buying the stuff first hand from the range would be more profitable. Accepting the local man's advice, Mr. Watkins has established his headquarters here. To date he has bought about 500 calves and expects to remain until he gets 1,000.

The following taken from the Elizabethtown News outlines the principles of Mr. Watkins' success:

How A. H. Douglas, a Hardin county farmer, made profit of $12.66 a head on 55 Texas cattle and a loss of $2.09 a head on three native cattle under the same feeding and selling conditions is told by Mr. Douglas' father-in-law, Mr. Taylor Watkins, who gave especial attention to the enterprise.

Feeding Texas cattle is something of an experiment in Hardin county, and Mr. Watkins' observations, therefore, will be of especial interest. He said yesterday:

"The three native calves, weighing 385 pounds, were bought September 20, at a cost of $57. The fifty-five Texas calves were bought October 11, 1921, nearly a month later for $1,118.43, which included $18.03 of 19,650 pounds.

"They were turned out on grass until November 15, and then they were put on one feed of silage per day. They were fed about 31-4 pounds of shelled corn a day until they were put on grass about April 15. The corn was fed in the morning, and also as much shredded fodder as they would clean up during the day. The fodder, however, was very bad, and no value is put on it in the cost of feeding.

"There were two calves of Mr. Douglas' fed with the fifty-eight head he bought, making sixty in all, and the cost of feeding the lot was as follows:

1,100 bushels corn.....$660
Silage feed, estimated.....300
200 bushels oats.....90
11-2 tons cotton seed meal.....70
Crazing, at $5.00 per head.....300
Total.....$1,420

Average feed bill per head $23.66. "When bought the 55 Texas calves weighed 19,650 pounds, and when sold August 26 their weight was 42,900, showing a net gain per head of 423 pounds.

"They sold for $3,115.71 and cost $2,419.71, including the feeding, thus showing a net profit of $695, or $12.66 a head.

"The three native calves cost, as stated above, $57.00. The feed bill, at $23.66 a head, was $70.98, thus showing a total cost of $127.98. When sold they weighed 2,215 pounds, making a gain of 410 pounds to the head. They sold at $5.50 a hundred, or $121.72, which was a net loss of $6.26 or $2.09 per head.

These calves were fed about 33-4 pounds of shelled corn per day after they were turned on grass from April 15 to July 15. Then the pasture gave out, and there was added the same weight of shelled oats ground with the corn until August 15, when there was added 11-2 pounds of cotton meal to their ration.

"In my opinion it would have taken double the amount of feed to put the same gain on large cattle."

LOCAL GUARDSMEN RELIEVED OF DUTY

CAPTAIN PERRINE RETURNED MONDAY WITH EIGHT DISCHARGED MEN.

Capt. Nat S. Perrine arrived Monday from Denison with Sgt. Frank L. Ferguson, Cpl. Gerald Shadle, Cpl. Orgie Behrens and Private Duke C. Keys, Paul B. Murff, Tom C. Connally, Ernest H. Bowers and B. Carlton Chapman. They have been stationed at Denison doing guard duty during the strike crisis but are now relieved from duty. Capt. Perrine reports that thirteen Clarendon boys remain on duty and that it is very uncertain when they will be relieved. He turned over the command of Co. H, 142 Inf., to Lt. George Taylor.

Capt. Perrine is enthusiastic in his praise of the conduct of the local unit. "The morale of the boys from Clarendon was all that any one could have hoped for," he said. "They every one acted the gentleman, attending strictly to their own business and performing their duty willingly and carefully. The same might be said of every company in the Second Battalion, however. This unit included companies from Claude, Canyon City, Hereford, Amarillo and Clarendon and was the only battalion at Denison that received special commendation from Governor Neff."

When reminded that there has been some question in the minds of the public as to the advisability of placing that city under marshal law the captain warned to the subject and supported the governor's action by relating incident after incident wherein the civil authorities had failed to effectively combat the lawless element, which he says predominated there.

"For one thing we found a dope ring doing a land office business which we broke up, landing forty-one in jail and securing sufficient evidence convict a number of them," he continued. "We turned all of this over to the special agent of the Federal government. We found the town filled with prostitutes who were paying for protection, and we found enough bootleggers to supply the state."

Discussing the strike situation Capt. Perrine described how thoroughly the city of Denison is unionized. "Why even the farmers of the country have to belong to the farmers union before they can sell their stuff on the streets," he explained. "Men who have come in there to take the place of the strikers are unable to obtain rooms and are being boarded by the Katy road. If a man goes to a place to get a room the strikers will follow him and inform the owner that if they let him have a place their property will not be safe."

He explained, however that the majority of the union men were splendid citizens and that all of the trouble was stirred up by about forty per cent who were out and out "Bolsheviks." Most of the better element, he said, have left Denison and have accepted positions in other lines some other place.

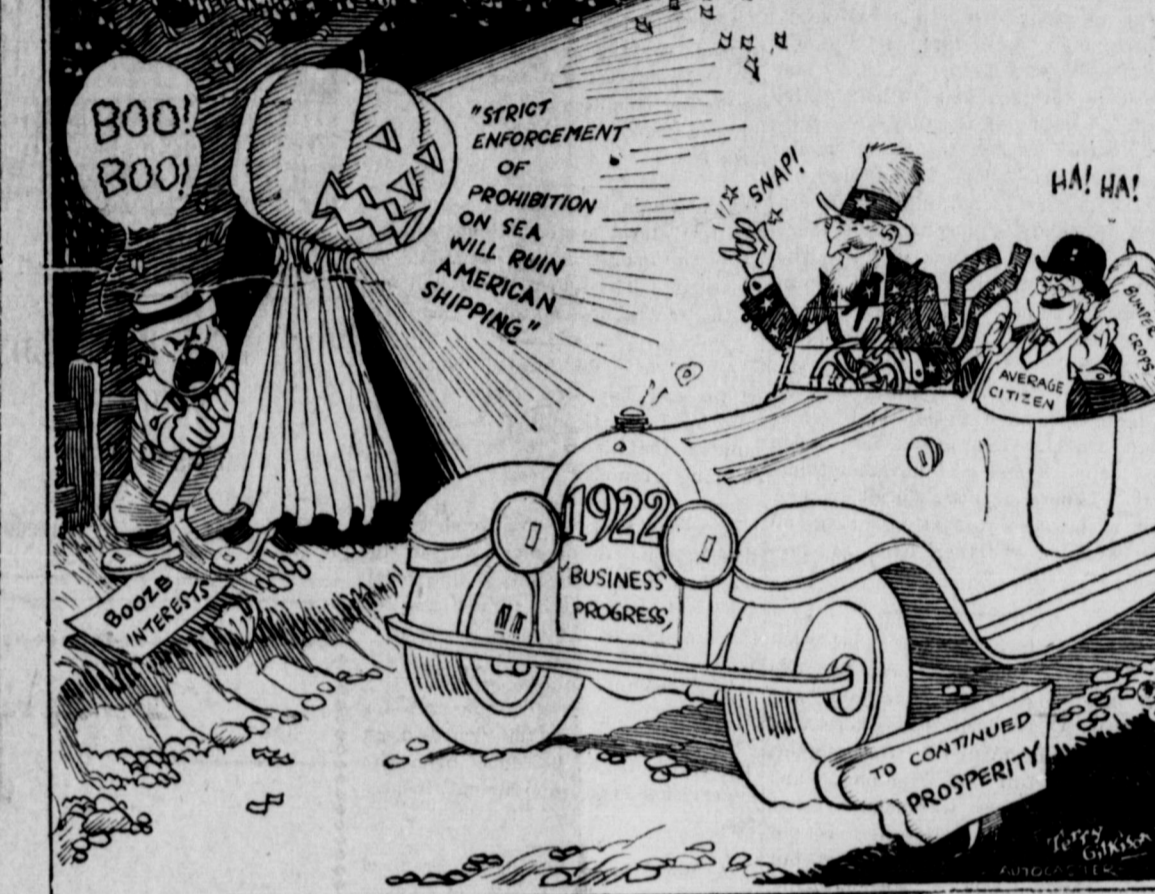

Capt. Perrine was profuse in his praise for Major Simpson. "He is making a wonderful record for himself in prosecuting the 'Open Port' cases in the civil courts," the captain advised. He related how one speech made by the major was reported by the Dallas News as a classic on the tendency of the day toward lawlessness.

Capt. Perrine left Tuesday night for Fort Benning, Ga., where he goes to receive special instruction. His wife will accompany him from Denison.

BULL DOGS DEFEAT N. M. M. I. 23-19

JACKSON INTERCEPTS TWO OF SOLDIERS' PASSES AND RACES FOR TOUCHDOWNS.

In one of the hardest fought games of the season the Clarendon Bulldogs humbled the N. M. M. I. Bronchos on their own grounds last Friday to the tune of 29 to 13. The game was featured by some spectacular playing on both sides in which Captain Jackson of the Bulldogs was the outstanding star. In a contest replete with thrills the spectators were treated to an unusual variety of plays.

Scoring began in the second quarter when the soldiers effected a counter on an off-tackle play, although the Bulldogs crossed the enemy's line in the first period but were brought back and penalized for tripping. The Bronchos failed in the kick "after goal" when G. Close blocked the ball. A successful line buck in the last quarter accounted for a second touchdown.

Clarendon was unable to count until the third quarter when Smith blocked a punt and Hitchcock fell on the ball behind the line. Shortly after this Jackson added three more points by a field goal from the thirty-five yard line. This play was followed within a few minutes by the second touchdown. Hitchcock received a forty-yard pass and carried the ball on a broken field run of twenty yards across the goal.

The Bulldogs' last two touchdowns came in the last quarter and both were the results of intercepted passes by Jackson. On both occasions the speedy quarterback exhibited some broken field running that is seldom seen in this section.

Practically all of the gains by the soldiers was due to their effective strength through the line. They were unable to skirt the Bulldogs' line for any material gains and their aerial tactics proved to be a boomerang when Jackson turned them into scores for C. C. However, the Texans steadied themselves in the latter part of the game with the result that the Bronchos were repeatedly held for downs. Clarendon resorted largely to end runs and passes. Their interference was such that there were but few occasions when they did not net some gains on their open plays.

Hitchcock at end played a remarkable game and the toe work of Smith aided materially in the victory.

Line ups: Clarendon—Lane, L. E.; Peoples, L. T.; Bulls, R. G.; Smith, R. T.; Hitchcock, R. E.; Jackson, Q.; Goodwin, L. H.; O. Close, F. B.; G. Ratcliff, L. G. Collingsworth.

DONLEY GIRLS WIN STATE FAIR PRIZES

MISS MORELAND OF PLEASANT VALLEY TAKES FIRST ON RECORD BOOK FOR YEAR.

Miss Willie Mae Moreland of Pleasant Valley was awarded first prize at the State Fair at Dallas for her year's club work and Miss Cordie Holland of Lelia Lake took third place on the club caps, according to Miss Trullie A. Richmond, county demonstration agent, who returned Monday night from Dallas. Misses Moreland and Holland and Miss Agnes Ayres of Windy Valley won free trips to the Fair this year by superior work in their club activities. Their railroad fares were paid by members of the home demonstration club of the county and they were the guests of the Fair Association after they arrived in Dallas.

Miss Richmond was official chaperone for all the "free trip" girls from the Panhandle. She joined some of them here and the party was increased all the way down the road until it had reached a total of forty by the time they reached Fort Worth.

"We were royally entertained after we arrived in the city and had a wonderful time," she said. "We were the guests of the manager of the Majestic one afternoon at the matinee. Another afternoon we were given free passes to the Coliseum and all the time we were there we were cared for at the dormitories erected specially for the club girls. There were a total of 314 girls there this year and the work submitted was superior to any displayed in previous years."

FIRST REAL NORTHER HITS MONDAY NIGHT

The first real, blustery norther came like a roaring lion Monday night about seven-fifteen o'clock and roared on through the night, bringing the temperature down around thirty by day-break. This is rather early for so strong and chill a wind and bears out in some measure those weather prophets who are predicting a long, hard winter for this season.

NATATORIUM IS PROVING POPULAR

Y. M. C. A. SWIMMING POOL IS PROVING ATTRACTIVE TO WOMEN AND GIRLS

The fact that a total of 740 have taken advantage of the natatorium in the Clarendon Y. M. C. A. since the opening four weeks ago indicates in a measure how enthusiastically local people are taking advantage of the privileges of that institution. Of this number, 215 were women and girls. Secretary E. L. Hughes points out that these figures argue that the swimming pool is more popular with the women than men for the "Y" is open to them but one day a week while the men are permitted the privilege five days. If this fact is given consideration, he said, the percentage is largely in favor of the female sex.

But the "nat" is not the only attraction at the "Y". There are game tables, a reading room and a gymnasium for those who do not care to indulge in a swim. Due to the fact that a majority of the patrons are school boys, the largest attendance of the week comes Friday night. The secretary estimates that an average of 200 are accommodated on this night, about 150 on Saturday and something near 100 on other days. About 150 women enjoy the "Y" on Thursday, he says. On Sunday the building is open only in the afternoon and he believes that an average of fifty take advantage of the reading room on that day.

The building will be opened every day from 2 to 6, and every evening from 7 until 11 except Wednesdays and Sundays, according to the scheduled announced. On Sunday afternoon, only the reading room will be opened.

Despite the fact that the people are manifesting a wholehearted appreciation of the institution by the manner in which they are taking advantage of the privileges, Mr. Hughes does not think local citizens are backing it financially as they should. Under the present arrangements, the only source of income is a meager amount of $24 per week donated by business men through the board of directors—and some of this is grudgingly paid, the secretary advised. This amount is not sufficient to take care of the running expenses and does not allow for repairs and improvements that have been necessary. "For instance we have arranged to pipe warm water from the light plant but there has been no means worked out to pay for such as this," the secretary explained. He insisted that just a little financial support will put the institution on a sound footing and in position to properly utilize the building for the purpose for which it was built.

U. S. GOOD ROADS PROGRAM LARGE

CONSTRUCTION OF 180,000 MILES IMPROVED HIGHWAYS WITHIN NEXT FIFTEEN YEARS.

Fifteen or twenty years of building good roads lie ahead of the United States. Under the program which the country has adopted there will be built, during that time, 180,000 miles of improved highways which will constitute the Federal-aid highway system and an equal or greater mileage of State and local roads. When the great job is done, the transportation facilities of the country will far exceed those of any other nation, past or present, in the world. The highways of the ancient Romans, whose fame come down through the centuries, will pale by comparison.

Details of this vast road-building program are to be planned before the Highway Education Board at its conference in Washington, October 26 to 28, inclusive, by the State Highway Engineers and officials of the Bureau of Public Roads, United States Department of Agriculture, to whom has been entrusted the work of planning and supervising the construction of Federal-aid highways. The plan will be presented to enable the Board to proceed authoritatively with its work of devising aids for schools and colleges to which road-builders of the country are turning for competent highway engineers.

Officials of the bureau place the aggregate cost of the Federal aid program alone at about $3,000,000,000, spread over the twenty-five year period. They base this estimate on an average cost of $17,000 per mile. The average cost, in turn, takes into consideration all classes of improved roadways from the cheapest to the most expensive types. Approximately one-third of the proposed system, or 60,000 miles of improved highway is already either built or building.

The program is a new one. Up to comparatively recent years, road-building in the United States had been conducted without special regard to a national system. Highways had been constructed where needed without considering whether they would link up in the most effective manner with the whole network of roads to be spread over the nation. Engineers had sought more to meet immediate and local demands than the broader requirements of the States and nation.

The present Federal-aid road-building program, officials of the bureau state, will contemplate the construction of only such roads as fit into the national program and contribute to the national system. At the same time the roads will be so selected as to serve the most important local requirements. With marked modifications, the system adopted in building the railways of the country will be borne in mind in the construction of the country's new highways. There will be main lines of highways connecting between centers and thousands of miles of feeder roads, reaching back into the more sparsely settled regions and into the rich agricultural sections, to tap areas whose population and products will flow over the new system.

New roads will be planned and built, thousands of miles of them, where they will fit in most advantageously with the entire program. The bureau is continuing its research work into most efficient methods of road-building, including the character and wearing power of materials, resisting qualities of varying subsoils, etc., and has amassed a considerable store of valuable information all of which will be available for the highway engineer of tomorrow, whom the board is seeking to have educated in practical and modern methods.

Fred Rathjen returned Friday night from a several days' visit at Waco and other Central Texas points.

the institution on a sound footing and in position to properly utilize the building for the purpose for which it was built.

DONLEY COUNTY SECOND IN GIRLS' WORK AT T-O FAIR

TWELVE PRIZES, SEVEN FIRSTS, WON BY LOCAL CLUB MEMBERS FOR SUPERIOR WORKMANSHIP. TOTAL AMOUNT OF AWARDS $17.

By taking twelve prizes, seven of which were first, Donley county won second place in Girls' Club work at the Texas-Oklahoma fair at Wichita Falls, according to information received by Miss Trullie A. Richmond, home demonstration agent, Tuesday. Those well informed on this character of work who saw the display assured Miss Richmond that only the limited number of exhibits prevented this county from being first. The quality of the workmanship was far superior to that of articles shown from other places, they say.

Miss Richmond feels that she is justly proud of the record made by her girls, especially in view of the fact that the exhibit from here was very hastily collected and arranged. She might have sent quite a number of articles more if she had had the time.

On two of the articles included in the entries Donley county girls captured every prize offered. They were the cup towels and holder, and the uniform apron. The total amount of prize money for the thirteen prizes, counting the award to the county, will amount to $17. Miss Richmond expects the winners to receive their checks within the next few days.

Following is a list of the prize winners:

Cup towel and holder—Miss Mildred Harp, Ashtola, first; Miss Lillian Howell, Pleasant Valley, second; Miss Henrietta Longan, Pleasant Valley, third. Uniform cap—Miss Pansy Harp, Ashtola, first; Miss Mildred Harp, Ashtola, second; Miss Daisy Conner, Windy Valley, third. Sewing bag—Miss Lillian Powell of Pleasant Valley, third. Clothing contest (including dress, toddies and slip)—Miss Gladys Holley of Lelia Lake, first. Pillow cases—Miss Layma Taylor of Lelia Lake, first. Best article on home improvement (a dresser runner was submitted)—Miss Layma Taylor of Lelia Lake first.

Table cover and six napkins—Miss Lucille Naylor of Naylor, first. Teddies—Miss Lucille Naylor of Naylor community, first.

The entries have been returned from Wichita Falls and are now in Miss Richmond's office in the court house.

OFF FOR ANNUAL HUNT

Mr and Mrs T. Jones left Tuesday night for the Magdalen mountains in New Mexico for an extended hunt. This is an annual event for the Clarendon couple and they never fail to bring back evidence of the fact that they have "been there." They go to a country that abounds in wild game of almost every description and not infrequently they encounter such denizens of the wilds as lions and bears. Mrs. Jones participates in the hunt on equal terms with her husband and "she usually gets the first deer" he says.

PIONEER VISITING HERE

Rev. Immanuel Dubbs arrived in Clarendon Tuesday from Amarillo where he stopped over several days enroute from his home in Indiana. He will spend some time visiting friends in Donley County. Rev. Dubbs is a pioneer in this section of the state having been one of the first settlers of the Panhandle. He is the author of a book on the early settlers and conditions which has been widely read and is considered authoritative history. He made his home in Clarendon until several years ago when he moved to Indiana.

AN UNLIMITED SUPPLY

If ye abide in me, and my words abide in you, ye shall ask what ye will, and it shall be done unto you.—John 15:7.

The merchant who doesn't advertise is usually looking for a nice, quiet spot—and he has it—in his own store.

"Eight Thousand Population for Clarendon in 1927" will be the result of a "Million Inhabitants in the Panhandle by 1927." Isn't it worth working for?

"If it is for the good of Clarendon, The News is for it," is a mighty good motto and one that we try continually to live up to. Let us all try to originate and put over something for the good of our city.

Peddy won't get many votes in south Texas where the foreign element is sore at Mayfield and the prohibition element in the Democratic party. The bohunks can't write English, even if they do mumble it.

All eyes of Texas and the southwest are now on the Panhandle and Plains section of Texas since they won all the high awards in agriculture and live stock events at the State Fair. It isn't going to be a very herculean task to bring that "million inhabitants here by 1927." They are wakening up to the wonderful possibilities of our country and another year will see an unheard of rush of immigration to the Panhandle and Plains of Texas. So mate it be.

In these days of divorce, divorcees and promiscuous scandal it is a wonderful thing for any man to have the love of one good woman and the respect of all the others. Living in such a manner as to warrant those conditions and rewards will rid our courts of divorcees and clean up the pages of our daily press.

The fall rush of business will soon be over as most of the cotton will be in by the last of this month, and then the merchant who keeps his cash register busy will be the man who has studied and continual advertising. A number of our merchants are already laying their plans and will be the ones who will little realize that the "cotton is all in." When you don't get yours the other man is getting it.

Peddy isn't man enough to live up to his primary pledge, therefore he is no fit representative for the white people of Texas. Nobody drove him into the Democratic primary, and nothing but foolishness and bullheadedness caused him to jump the party corral. God doesn't expect every man to be a Democrat, but He does demand that he be a man of his word—honorable in all things, political and otherwise.

The Southwest Business Conference which convened in Dallas last week and participated in by men of affairs from every walk of life has been pronounced as one of the most constructive meetings that has ever been held in the southwest. A certain business expert of the East said that he had never witnessed such a body assembled for the purpose of looking their difficulties squarely in the face and laying plans for the surmounting of those difficulties, in such an intelligent and serious manner. The nation is recognizing the fact that the best ability and thought on the American continent is in the southwest, where conditions have been held up by the sagacity of her business men in spite of adverse conditions.

Occasionally one reads of some big corporation receiving some sum of money with an accompanying letter from some person who pleads guilty to having stolen the money or merchandise at some former time, and asking forgiveness for the sin. Right here in Clarendon only a few days ago one of our citizens who has long since retired from mercantile pursuits was accosted by a young man who explained that many years ago, while a student here, he had stolen a pair of gloves, that he had since been converted to the religion of Jesus Christ and that he wanted to pay for the cost of the gloves with interest since the theft and plea for the former merchants' pardon. Conscience is a wonderful guide to conduct when brought to life by the Spirit of the Almighty and there is no other agency—no other religion—under high heaven that will cause a man to right an old, forgotten wrong.

but the Christian religion. Righteousness protects life and property while its guarantees earthly happiness.

During the last two years of the war, more especially, the newspaper publishers were forever haunted by the ghost of low supplies of newsprint. It came to the point where "price was no object," and the one aim of the publisher was to secure an adequate supply of the precious newsprint. Prices rose from around three cents per pound to sixteen cents—sometimes higher—but when the war was over the price dropped down to around five and a half cents where it has been reasonably stable until the past few weeks. The price is now six and a half cents, with prospects of it going yet higher. It seems that the paper manufacturers have adopted the methods of the miners in not mining enough coal to create a surplus, and there is no surplus of newsprint. The News has about six weeks' supply on hand and hopes to be able to stay even with the game, even if the price is "diggin'". There is another reason why it is almost impossible for a newspaper man to pay high rents, high wages, high prices for paper and supplies and still have anything left. There is little profit in any sort of business just at this stage of the nation's "beating back to normalcy."

"Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends." So said John, and ever since has glorified the hero who sacrificed his own life for another. History is full of examples, and peace as well as war shows many heroes. Sometimes the hero is not even a man, or a human being, but a humble animal; a dog, perhaps, whose love for his master is greater than love of life. A dog, so say the scientists, has only instinct. A dog, say the wise men, does not think or reason; he does not react to his environment. Doubtless they know, but if a dog does not think or reason, what holds a dog to his master's side in the face of certain or painful death? Trapped in the plant of the Long Island Waste Company, John Bracken, watchman, died from fire and smoke. By his side dead was his bull pup. When they were found, after the smoke and flame had stilled the dog's barks for help, he was not at the barred door, or at the blocked window; he was found with his head upon his dead master. To make this true story the better one, let it be chronicled that John Derrick, friend, was so severely burned in a futile effort to rescue man and dog that he, too, may die. Probably dogs do not reason or think; the scientists are usually right. Probably John Derrick didn't think of anything but his love for his friends when he fought for their lives. Would that more of us could learn the lesson of brotherhood as these have learned it, man and dog. Perhaps the little hero pup did not die in vain, if his selfish heroism brings home to us who read the lesson which John read to us so many years ago.—Claude News.

Character in Conservation

The conservative man is not necessarily an unprogressive, cautious or timid man. The conservative man usually is thoughtful and intelligent, refusing to follow will-o'-wisp ideas of foolish or scheming leaders. Summed up, the character of conservatism is caution without timidity and a sincere respect for the world's experiences.

This bank reflects an individuality of conservatism. It is a safe, sane and serviceable institution for you to profit through. Whether it be deposits, checking, investment or loans, you will be glad of making this bank your bank.

TEXAS HAS MANY THINGS
BESIDES SIZE AND OIL

Dallas, Oct. 9.—Texas is proudly declared to by her native sons to be more than a state; it is a commonwealth, they say, embracing one-half of 1 per cent of the land area of the world, with great diversity of soil and climate and with so large a variety of agricultural and mineral resources that it is more nearly self-sustaining than any other state in the union.

Texas is the greatest producer of raw material in the country, and her capacity of production is seven or eight times as great.

The state has both forested areas and treeless plains. Along the coast are produced tropical and semi-tropical fruits and vegetables, and in the high altitude of the north panhandle grow hard winter wheat, choice apples and other crops of the colder regions. In some parts of Texas the rainfall is 55 inches a year; in other but 8 inches.

Texas came into the union with the privilege of division into several states but now no Texan believes this will be done. So say the native born Texans who have traveled all over its farflung land from the pine forests of east Texas to the llano estacado of the south plains; from the dreary wastes of the Rio Grande, Big Bendy country, to the cotton fields around Texarkana; from the white caps of Galveston bay to the prairies of the Amarillo country.

Some Size to Her

Texas is four and one-fourth times as large as the combined area of the six New England states, Massachusetts, Vermont, New Hampshire, Maine, Rhode Island and Connecticut.

If Texas were as densely populated as Missouri, it would have some 25,000,000 people instead of about 5,000,000 as it has today.

If all the people of the United States were to move to Texas its population per square mile would not exceed that of Massachusetts.

Texas is larger than the combined area of Pennsylvania, New York, Ohio, New Jersey, Maryland, Delaware and Rhode Island.

Imagine if possible, Texas to be on a hinge at the north line of the Panhandle; from this hinge turn the state over and Brownsville, which is the southernmost town in the state would be in the middle of North Dakota.

Dallas county Texas, is nearer St. Paul, Minn., than it is to Brownsville, Texas.

It is further across Texas than it is from New York to Chicago. Texas measures 740 miles east and west and 825 miles north to south. It is further around Texas than it is from New York to Liverpool.

Get Your Acre Now

Texas has enough land to supply every man, woman and child in the country with a truck patch of one and one-half acres. The approximate land area of the state is 167,924,720 acres. While for every person who moves from Texas, eight comes to the state in return, at the present rate of growth it will take nearly 400 years to thoroughly develop the resources of the state, agricultural experts say.

Texas leads all states in railway mileage with some 16,000 miles, sufficient to reach across the nation five times.

For a number of years Texas has led all states in value of agricultural production and was the first state to produce one billion dollars worth of farm products in a year. The state is making this record with but about one-fourth of its available tillable land in cultivation.

The uncultivated area in Texas is as large as the 13 original colonies, with the exception of Georgia and North Carolina.

Nearly three-fourths of the people of the state live in the rural districts. Texas leads the country in the number of farms and of farmers.

King Cotton Rules

Texas produces about one-fourth of the cotton of the country. If the bales of a Texas cotton crop were placed end to end they would almost reach from the Gulf of Mexico to Canada.

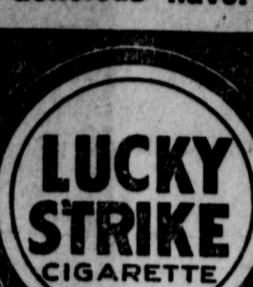

One-fourth of the cottonseed oil mills of the country are in Texas leads in the manufacture of cotton seed products.

Texas has the widest variety of Agricultural production of any state coffee and tea being the only important products used in the state that cannot be grown commercially within its borders.

Texas ships some 60,000 carloads of truck, fruits and small crops annually.

Texas leads the country in the production of cotton, grain, sorghums, pecans, early onions, mules, beef cattle and ranks among the leading states in the production of cabbage, figs, honey, broom corn, sweet potatoes, sugar cane, corn, oats, peanuts, and rice.

Texas produces 50 per cent of the mohair of the nation.

Texas has the largest farm and ranch in the world.

Nearly every known mineral is found in Texas, including gold and silver. Texas has fully 150 minerals.

Quarter of Country's Oil

Texas produces about one-fourth of the country's oil and leads in its refining.

The lignite production has grown since 1900 from 150,000 tons to 1,000,000 tons annually. Texas has the greatest lignite deposits in the world underlying 60 counties, with a total supply estimated at 25,000,000,000 tons.

During the past few years Texas has been producing about one-half of the sulphur of the world. Texas ranks second in the country in the production of Fullers earth. Texas has vast undeveloped iron ore deposits as well as undeveloped mineral resources of many other kinds.

State Capitol is Largest

The state capitol at Austin is the seventh largest building in the world and the largest state capitol. It was built exclusively of Texas materials, save the copper wire alone.

Texas has been under the flags of France, Spain, Mexico, Republic of Texas, Southern Confederacy and the United States.

Texas has produced as high as $2,000,000,000 worth of new wealth in a single year, or more than $2,000 for every family of five.

Texas has a total undeveloped water power estimated at 500,000 horse power.

The assessed valuation property valuations of Texas are $3,300,000,000 percentage of actual values assessed upon approximately 33 1-3 to 40 per cent.

• Ironized Yeast
for Rheumatism

Do You Realize What Ironized Yeast-Vitamines Will Do for Rheumatism and Lumbago?

Do you know that vitamins and iron are part of your very life? Do you know that the tissue-and-blood factory in your body needs these two materials, and needs them badly? Do you know that if your body furnace does not get enough of these, that queer poisons, joint poisons, muscle poisons, acid poisons are formed instead of the healthy flesh and the rich blood you used to have in days gone by? If you hobble in your gait, if pains distort your body, if bending over is an unpeppable agony, if dull pains make you breathe heavily and moan, do not scramble at the roughness of the way—smile sweetly, there is a rainbow ahead. Things are different now than they used to be, in the days of liniments, salves, complicated drugs, and all that—remember? The happy secret today is ironized yeast, one of the greatest body-and-blood builders of all time. Begin taking Ironized Yeast today. Beware of imitations and substitutes, because Ironized Yeast is not a mere combination of yeast and iron, but is yeast ironized, which is a substance all by itself. There is only one Ironized Yeast in all the world. Sold at all drug stores at $1.00 a package and containing 60 tablets, each tablet sealed. They never lose their power. Mfg. only by Ironized Yeast Co., Atlanta, Ga. Say goodbye to rheumatism from now on!

"Whoopie! Rheumatism Pains and Aching All Gone. Ironized Yeast is Surely Wonderful!"

THE GOODS ARE HERE

Our store is full to overflowing with seasonable merchandise of the better kind. This store has always stood for advertising that carried only facts. We have not advanced our goods one penny, yet we are keeping posted on wholesale replacement of our stock and today if we were to go into the market to rebuy our Fall goods we would pay quite an advance—we say the early shoppers are the ones who will profit by taking advantage of present conditions. Cotton seems upward bound. The Tariff has caused a high wool market. Common reasoning points to higher prices in finished materials. We still say the early purchasers will pay less for their Fall goods.

WOOLEN PIECE GOODS

If you choose to make your garments we have beautiful selections of woollens. All wool serge in Storm and French, Poret Twill, Tricotine, Men's Wear Serge, Broadcloth, Shepherd Checks and many others from 36 to 54 inches wide.

MEETING OF COLLEGE PARENT-TEACHERS'

The Parent-Teachers' Association of Clarendon College met on Monday afternoon, Oct. 16th in the domestic science room of the girl's dormitory. The club decided to give at an early date, a linen shower to the domestic science department, and Miss Wilson, the head of this department, very kindly outlined the needs.

It was also decided to begin a movement for securing new curtains and a rug for the stage of the college auditorium. Committees of investigation and of ways and means were appointed, and it is hoped that, ere long, the public will enjoy a newly decorated stage in the auditorium.

The program of the afternoon was a short talk by Dr. Slover on "Christian Education." As the time was too short to deal with all phases of so broad a subject, he limited his remarks to the discussion of the influence of the schools of our country upon the leaders of affairs. He stated that statistics show that one half the leadership of America has come from state and independent schools, and the other half from church institutions. As religious influences are emphasized more in Christian schools, these schools have furnished ninety-one per cent of the preachers, and eighty-five per cent of the moral leadership of the country. This fact alone emphasizes the great power of church schools.

Dr. Slover spoke specifically of the need of supplying education to ambitious young people who were unable to pay the full cost of a college education. As expenses at large have increased from year to year, so has the cost of higher education, making it more and more difficult for a poor boy or girl to come to college. Because of this condition, Clarendon College has opened a boy's co-operative club which meets the needs of sixteen young men at the present time; and next year a young ladies' home will be established on the same plan. This plan provides for the equal sharing of the work and expense contingent to the conducting of such an establishment.

Also as an aid to struggling pupils, the New Mexico conference will care for a loan fund for needy boys and girls from that section, and will give besides a donation each year for the same purpose.

After this interesting talk by Dr. Slover, the ladies enjoyed a social hour, during which the hostesses, Mrs. L. C. Parker and Mrs. Will Lott served refreshments which attractively carried out the green and white of the college colors. The club will meet again the first Monday in November, at the usual place, with Mrs. W. H. Patrick, Mrs. T. W. Carroll, and Mrs. O. C. Watson as hostesses.

Mary H. Howren, reporter.

DUCKS ARE PLENTIFUL HERE

The opening of duck season Monday found this section of the Panhandle bountifully supplied with this game according to local sportsmen. Quite a number of Clarendon nimrods have taken advantage of the "opening" and all report splendid luck. The continued drought has cut down the number and size of lakes and ponds upon which the ducks have in past years been accustomed to congregate with the result that they are found in large numbers on what pools remain.

Miss Oressa Teague, who is teaching in the High School in Panhandle spent the week end here visiting with her parents and friends.

MRS. H. B. WHITE OUT FOR DISTRICT CLERK

The Clarendon News is authorized to announce the name of Mrs. H. B. White as a candidate for the office of District Clerk of Donley County in the coming election, Nov. 7th. Mrs. White is a Democrat and will make the race on her known ability to handle the details of the office. For thousand dollars, for since the county years she has closely associated with clerk will be a woman, Miss Lottie her late husband, of H. B. White, in his law office, she is accomplished as a clerk and a typist and thoroughly familiar with legal forms and terms. Mrs. White had nothing to do with the forced separation of the county the election, Nov. 7th. Mrs. and district clerks' office in this county, but her election means the saving to Donley County of about a thousand dollars, for since the county years she has closely associated with clerk will be a woman, Miss Lottie

Lans, it would not be necessary for the two offices to have separate equipment, as both ladies could use the same office with full propriety and without conflict. This is an economy measure that will appeal to the voters of this county.

Under the present status of the case Mrs. White's name must be written on the ticket under the space left blank for the district clerk's office, and she solicits the voters to write in her name in the proper place on Nov. 7th on the Democratic ticket. She feels that she is competent as she needs the office she has no hesitation in urging her candidacy. See her name in the announcement column.

ALL-DAY MEETING FOR GOLDEN CROSS LADIES

The ladies of the Golden Cross will have an all day meeting next Monday at the home of Mrs. John Lott. This will be both a social and working meeting. Some sewing has already been planned but anyone having scraps that can be used in quilts is asked to bring them as we wish to get this work started. For lunch each woman will prepare one dish and bring with her.

All members of the Golden Cross are urged to be present and all women of the church who are interested in the advancement of our work are cordially invited to attend. Anyone not having a way to go are asked to please phone either Mrs. Noble, Mrs. Shawver or Mrs. Braswell who will be glad to arrange transportation. We wish to leave town by 10 o'clock and spend a profitable as well as happy day.

W. T. Hayter is a business visitor in Memphis today.

CLARENDON MEN ATTEND CONVENTION AT DALLAS

J. L. Bain, county judge-elect, and County Commissioner J. H. Hurn were in Dallas Thursday and Friday attending the state convention of county judges and commissioners. They also attended the State Fair while in the city. They report a most profitable session and a splendid program of entertainment at the hands of the Dallas citizens.

Mr. Hurn says that a tour of other sections of the state should inspire optimism in anyone from the Clarendon country. Judging from what he saw and from reports brought to Dallas by officials from other parts of Texas, he is convinced that Clarendon and Donley county have reason to be thankful for their condition. "Our crop production and financial condition is far above the average," he said.

CLARENDON BOY HEADS A. & M. PANHANDLE CLUB

C. C. Barsfield of Clarendon was elected president of the A. & M. Panhandle Club at a session held last week for the purpose of organization for this term. R. H. Watres of Lubbock is secretary and W. H. Harrel of Claude named treasurer.

The enthusiasm manifested at the first meeting indicated that the club will be more active this year than ever before. The total enrollment to date is sixty-seven, distributed as follows: Lubbock, 11; Amarillo, 10; Hereford, 5; Plainview, 4; Dalhart, 3; Canadian, 3; Clarendon, 3; Miami, 2; Acmé, 2; Lamesa, 1; Claude, 1; Quanah, 1; Childress, 1; Spearman, 1; Wheeler, 1.

CHRISTMAS GREETINGS ARE FRIENDS' CLASP OF CHEER

Did you ever wake up some morning along the latter part of December facing just another day of "trying to make both ends meet" and feel that the world was all wrong and that you did not have a friend in the world? You recall the times in the past when you rejoiced in the association of friends who were friends indeed but they were—well, you did not know where they were—anyway you felt that they had forgotten you and were not enjoying the memory of their association with you as you had hoped they would. You felt that if you could just know that they thought of you once in a while you would feel that you had not lived in vain and that you would be strengthened to meet the problems of the day.

In this mood you gloomily set out for the days work, having first communicated to your family your attitude of disappointment and sadness—a nice condition in which to greet the holidays. You go by the post office to get the paper to read about the murders and every other article that might feed your cynicism. You also expect to get a bunch of bills which will also be evidence in the argument with yourself that the world is going to the dogs and that life is not worth living.

But having arrived at your box the first thing you pull out is a Christmas card from Jack Friend. By Jove! That was thoughtful of old Jack. Well! Well! Here was at least one friend who remembered you. That helped some. But you had just, as well read those bills and get it over with and so thinking you pull out the remainder of the mail but instead of bills you find at least a dozen cards from friends expressing the sentiment that "they just wanted you to know that they were thinking of you and wanted you to know that they wished you all kinds of luck." And then you felt ashamed of yourself that you ever entertained the thought that they never thought of you and did not care how you were getting along. Here they were saying that they wanted you to make good—you must make good, for they expected it of you.

And then it occurred to you that you had not remembered a one of them with similar greetings. You had been berating them for the very same thing of which you were guilty. And so you rush down to the Clarendon News and order a bunch of "Christmas Greetings" cards which you will mail out that night. You go to work whistling and feeling that you are living in an entirely different world. The "Christmas Greetings" from friends did the work.

The News will have an exceptionally varied selection of card patterns this season and can supply quotations expressing any sentiment you desired expressed. It will be well worth your while to investigate our supply before selecting your holiday cards.

J. B. BAIRD'S SISTER DEAD

Friends will regret to learn of the death of a sister of J. B. Baird in Brownwood last week. COTTON RECEIPTS FOR SEASON REACH 2,444

Up until noon today, Clarendon gins had handled a total of 1,005 bales of cotton. Reports from the fields indicate that this amount represents the greater part of the yield this season as most farms have about all of their crop gathered. Cotton men estimate that the production of cotton this season in this locality will be in the neighborhood of 1500 bales.

Following is the ginning report: Moreman, 940. Fitzgerald, 765.

Weighed in at public scales, 2,444. The last figures represent a number of bales raised in other sections but brought to Clarendon on account of this city being one of the best markets in this section of the state. Cotton was selling on the streets this morning at 21 cents.

Misses Mable Betts, Maude Shaw, Pansy and Mattie Eva Lane and Josephine Seay made a trip to Amarillo Saturday accompanied by Elizabeth Adeline.

SEASON'S CHANGE?

The first snow of the season has fallen, says a newspaper dispatch from a city far up in Canada. King Winter is coming to life in the northland, getting ready to creep south. Old-timers soon will be saying, "The seasons are changing. We don't have the cold weather we had when I was a boy."

Not so, say the Weather Bureau experts in Washington. Their records show no radical changes in the seasons.

Weather runs in cycles. It may be exceptionally hot or cool or rainy for several years, but nature soon steps in and evens things up. Over long periods the average is about the same.

For instance, accurate weather records have been kept since 1780 at New Haven, Conn. These records show that a mild winter is counterbalanced later by a cool summer or a severe winter.

Striking an average over 10-year periods, the records show that the yearly temperature has hovered around 50 degrees since 1780.

The warmest July was in 1780, but the temperature then registered almost exactly the same as in July, 1876.

The coldest January, in the 142 years recorded occurred as late as 1857. The coldest February occurred years after the warmest one.

Back in 1770, Dr. Hugh Williamson wrote that the winters of the preceding half century had been much milder than "in the old days." That is much the same story that the old-timers tell now.

It probably has been so since the days of the cave man, people imagining that seasons are changing. They get their idea from the fact that severe weather occurs only in intermittent cycles. And severe weather sticks in the memory, while exceptionally mild weather that pulls the long-range average to normal is forgotten.

PAN-PAN ALETHEAN OPEN SESSION WELL RENDERED

A large crowd witnessed one of the most interesting programs ever staged in Clarendon Monday night when the Pan-Pan Alethean literary societies put on their annual Open Session. The hall and stage were elaborately decorated and the entire program was rendered almost perfectly.

The program was opened at 7:30 o'clock by a welcome address by P. W. Walker. Mr. Walker graphically presented the advantages of the literary societies to the college and emphasized the extra effort inspired by the friendly rivalry between the two branches of the societies. After the opening address the program was continued as follows:

Piano Solo—Pauline Pierce.
Reading—Billie Nell Pirtle.
Vocal Solo—William C. Craig.
Reading—Clara Leach.
Piano Solo—Carrie Wilder.
Reading—Orien Sharp.
Vocal Solo—Roy Beights.
Reading—Ina Benson.

One act play—"The Tangled Web of Deceit." Cast of Characters: Kitty Goldthwaite, a Senior—Clara Leach; Gladys Courtney, her friend—Oberia Hamblen; Miss Griffin, principal of seminary—Margaret Campbell; Fred Olney, cousin of Gladys—Olan Key; Charley Goldwaite, Kitty's brother—Roy Furr.

AUSTIN COMPANY LOCATES DISTRICT OFFICES HERE

E. R. Bobo, general agent for the Texas Title Insurance & Trust Company, has moved from Austin and is establishing district offices for that company in Clarendon. Mr. Bobo has charge of the Panhandle district which covers thirty-three counties.

The Austin man has given a great deal of time to the selection of his Panhandle offices, having investigated every town of any importance in this section of the state. He advises that he was governed largely in his choice of Clarendon by information and statistics furnished him by the Chamber of Commerce.

"I thought any town that supported such an active commercial organization as the one that compiled and forwarded me the information I received would be a good bet," Mr. Bobo said. "Any town with material to furnish the personnel for such an organization must surely have a future. But greatly to my disappointment when I arrived in your little city I found that for some inexplicable reason that organization has ceased to function effectively. What is the matter?"

"It is a matter of deep regret that Clarendon should at this stage of the game lose the advantage she has gained by reason of the Chamber of Commerce. It is a reflection on any town that pretends to any progress not to have an active Chamber of Commerce and particularly in this so of a city of Clarendon's size and one that has the reputation of having the most efficient of its character in the Panhandle. And that is a fact. Everywhere in this section of the state I found that the Clarendon Chamber of Commerce of the past has made itself known."

TERRACING LAND FOUND PROFITABLE IN DONLEY

The value of terracing has been unmistakably demonstrated in Donley county, says County Agent G. W. Harris. Mr. Harris insists that while a sufficient amount of this work has been done to demonstrate its value a very small portion of the land that should be worked over has received attention.

"Some still object to terracing," he continued, "because they do not want to follow the terraces with the rows. Where the slope is gentle enough this objection can be met by the use of the ridge or the broad base terrace. With this type of terrace the rows can be run the same as before the ridge was thrown up.

"The cost is practically nothing. The county agent is at your services. All he wants is plenty of corn bread and red beans, one or two men to help, and four mules and a plow. Arrangements can be made for a grader or one can be very easily and cheaply made.

"Some who have terraced have not kept their land in repair and therefore are losing the benefit of their labor. Please let this serve as a gentle reminder of the loss to them as a result of profitless labor. Furthermore, it results in a reflection on the policy of terracing.

"As soon as the crops can be gathered, make arrangements for a satisfactory day with the county agent by telephone, letter, or better still, call on him at his office at the court house. He wants to meet you."

HOTEL OFFICE TO BE MOVED FRIDAY

The Hotel Amarillo will move its office to the new portion of the hotel building next Friday, in order to permit the workmen to proceed with the remodeling of the present hotel building, the management announced Friday morning.

The high board fence, which has been standing on the Polk Street elevation since the construction work began has been torn away, and the marble workers, tile layers, painters and other finishing experts are at work on the interior.

Steam for the entire building is being distributed from the new battery of boilers just installed, and it will be only a question of a few weeks until the entire structure is ready for occupancy. Furniture and fixtures for the hotel are arriving every day, and the rooms will be equipped as rapidly as possible.—Amarillo Tribune.

TO WHOM CONCERNED

This is written to testify to the real merit of the work of Mr. Tolzen, piano expert, in tuning, and rebuilding, and all forms of piano renovating.

It is further written in behalf of Mr. Tolzen who has been impersonated so prolifically all thru the Fanhandle. The bearer of this letter is the real expert who has been doing the work at Clarendon College for fifteen years. We will have no other, and the work of this bearer is of such high character that I have written this testimonial without solicitation, deeming it a pleasure to have done so, because of the high regard in which I hold both the man and his work.

Striking New Red Cross Poster

Chartered by Congress
To Relieve and Prevent Suffering
In Peace and In War
At Home & Abroad

Riveting the attention of the beholder on the fact that the American Red Cross is chartered by Congress as an official volunteer relief organization the dome of the Capitol at Washington, upon which is superimposed a large Red Cross, is the central figure of a new poster for the Annual Red Cross Roll Call. The poster, which has been pronounced one of the most striking of innumerable representations of the famous dome, is the work of Franklin Booth, a New York artist of wide renown. It will be displayed throughout the country during the Roll Call period, Armistice Day to Thanksgiving, when the Red Cross membership for 1923 will be enrolled.

Junior Red Cross Praised for Work Influencing Peace

The advancing standard of the Junior American Red Cross made two outstanding gains during the last year—one in the field of domestic activity, which is rapidly linking up the schools with the Junior program, the other a gain of a dozen countries in Europe pledged to organize Juniors on the lines of the American organization. For this accomplishment the American Juniors earned the hearty endorsement of the League of Red Cross Societies for its "erection of an international spirit of human solidarity among young people with a view to preparation of a new civilization for peace."

The forthcoming annual report of the American Red Cross for the year ended June 30, 1922, will show 24,528 schools enrolled, with a total of 4,481,845 pupils wearing the "I Serve" button of the American Junior Red Cross—the badge of unselfish service earned by each individual member through personal sacrifice.

If international school correspondence 736 classes and schools engaged in friendly communication with 623 schools in European countries, 30 schools in United States territories, 13 in South Africa and 10 in a miscellaneous list of foreign countries. The work in foreign fields in establishing playgrounds, school libraries, sewing and manual training classes, homes for war orphans, school reconstruction in devastated areas, encouraging community gardens and many other activities was financed through the National Children's Fund raised by the Juniors at a cost of $298,237.40. During the year $56,922.79 was contributed toward the fund, in which on July 1 there was a balance of $201,361.58.

Greatest Mother Summons Her Children

An allegorical concept of the Red Cross as a peace-time ideal is employed by the American Red Cross in a new and striking poster for its Annual Red Cross Roll Call. Spread out before the heroic size figure is the outline of the United States with a Red Cross superimposed upon it while around its borders are sketched scenes depicting the chief activities of the Red Cross today—service to disabled veterans of the World War, disaster relief and promotion of the public health. The poster is the work of Lawrence Wilbur, a New York artist and will be displayed throughout the country during the enrollment of the Red Cross membership for 1923.

ARTICLE ON THE SCHULE QUESTION

(E. O. Dexter, Okemah, Okla.)

Dear Editor:—Several of my friends has ast me to rite an article on the schule question of oklahome. They say i'm beter fited for rtin an article on that qestion than eny body else becoss i went to schule in the nue inglan states where we walked three milds and where we had to study hard to get an educashun and lern evry thing by hart, so i will endeavor to tel you sumthin about our schuls.

Further and above al we hav 9 months of schule in ech year, cept for a fue days as follers, wich is al holler days, (you likely kno wich they are with me menshuin them) at trads days when the stors try to sel al the goods they can for a doller, and betwen them comes the base bal friday p. m., when the stors is ast to close, and then comes the foot bal game when evry body must go and see the home boys get best unles they beet the visitin team. Then an ex-senitor send wurd that he will speak in the interst of his frend for the next govoner of oklahoma. For that occashun the schule kids must be re-herst for 3 weeks on a nue pease they never herd before, called America to sing. On the day the ex-senitor coms to town the schule is disimised at 10:35 a. m. in the mornin and the kids is told if they dont march with the teacher and the other kids they will hav it takn frum their grade, so they al march down to the corner of first and mane streat where they al try to sing the song they al re-herst on so long, and evry body cheers for them.

After the singin the ex-senitor and our mayer gets into a auto and the speaker prases the children and sperly the teachers for the good work they are doin, and the good exampl they set for the children to foller after schule at nite. Then he proceeds to tel about his frend who wants to be the next govoner of oklahoma, and he tels whatal the presnt govoner aint don that he sed he wuld, and he asts the kids to ast their pa and ma to vote for his frend for the next govoner of the grate state of oklahoma, becoss this is a great state and shuld hav a grate man for govoner next time. The kids al holler yes.

Then after talkin to the kids for thrs. and 35 minets abot his frend, (the poor tired kids is the only ones that culdn't get away, for the teachers tel them to stay til the gentleman gets thro) the ex-senitor concludes by sayin he was sorry for keepin them so long, but he knos they hav enjoud evry minet of the time and will profet by what they hav lerned by his short but interstin talk, and he hops to see al of them agan in the neer futur.

Of course this dos not includ al the days there is no schule, for there is teachers meatin, and the high schule puts 'on a sho at the opra hous to get mony to by base bal suits, and then there is two weeks vacashun on christmas day for the teachers to go and see their pap and ma they saw on Thanksgivin days, or mabee sum of them wants to get mared to sombody ele wich som dos.

Our schule sistem is considered the best of eny other state. We hav a gurl nine yers old in schule and evry nite when she cums home i ast her what al she lerned, and she tels me al abot as to how the boys thro paper wods at the teacher when she aint lookin, and who put the tack in the teachers seat. Of corse that is what we are intersted in becoss that is what we sen children to schule for, so theyl lern the same as we did when we went to schule, therefour that is why we can prase our schule sistem for we beleve we hav moor good schuls and good schule buldins, both in cites and towns and rural distrieks than eny body els, or eny other state eny where.

I hav been ast to rite an article on the difrent branches or studes of the schule qestion or edncashun, so i will take up ech branch sperately and try to convay to the yung mind the necessity of an educashun wich they shuld get when they are yung if not before. My next article will be on spellin. I considre spellin a very imporent branch of the schule problem and one that most children shuld lern the same as i did. After spellin i will take up ech branch of studyin as i considre the imporentes of them in turn.

Yurs very truly,
uncle e. o.,
The kids al cal me uncle e. o., box 15.

TRUE WORTH OF MAN

Proverbs say: "By the blessing of the upright the city is exalted." A good, true, righteous man is a benefit to a city. His own personality may be worth thousands to a community. It is not the man who is rich that adds to the welfare of a city. He may own banks, factories, stores and palatial homes, and yet prove a dead weight to the town. The second part of the verse we quoted tells this. It says: "But it is overthrown by the mouth of the wicked." It is what a mouth is for true worth for integrity, for nobility of purpose that constitutes his citizenship, for good or bad. Where a man's ideals are loose, his character depraved, he does not render real service to a community whatever his wealth may be. "Water seeks its level" and the level of a community is its citizenship, and to that level the community may go. Factories, railroads, architecture, school houses, churches will not of themselves exalt a city. It takes virtue, integrity, diligence to do that.—Exchange.

J. T. GUNN LOSES LIFE IN ACCIDENT

A terrible accident that has cast a pall of sadness over the entire community occurred at the Moreman Gin in Hedley on Tuesday morning of this week, resulting in the death of one of our most worthy and highly esteemed citizens, J. T. Gunn. Mr. Gunn had just unloaded a bale of seed cotton at the gin, and was driving his team out on the yard, when one of the lines slipped from his hand. He got on the wagon tongue to recover the line. The horses jumped, throwing Mr. Gunn to the ground, and one of them kicked him on the head, causing death instantly. The team ran away and created a commotion along the streets. Scores of people rushed to the scene of the accident in the hope that they might be of some help to their friend, but he was beyond the reach of human aid before the first ones arrived.—Hedley Informer.

UNITED WE STAND

EDWIN E. SLOSSON

We Americans do not believe that man his own tailor is the law of democracy. The king of France said, "I am the state." It was a lie and they cut off his head for it. The American citizen says, "I am the state," and it is the literal truth. All men are monarchs. This develops a sense of responsibility. In other lands the people can complain, "Why don't they do it?" In America we can only wonder, "Why don't we do it?"

Consequently the first lesson to be taught to an immigrant is that patriotism in the American sense is a different thing from Old World patriotism. Americanism does not mean loyalty to a king; it does not mean attachment to a particular spot of ground; it does not mean conformity to a fixed code of customs; it does not mean the perpetuation of traditional institutions; it does not mean the aversion to novel and foreign ideas; it does not mean hostility toward those who differ from us.

Americanism is one of the fine arts, the finest of all the fine arts, the art of getting along peaceably with all sorts and conditions of men. We Americans have had more experience in the practice of this art than other nations, and it is not undue boasting to say that we have acquired a certain proficiency in it.

A steel mill may contain twenty different nationalities and they do not quarrel any more than so many Irishmen or Poles in their native land. A city block is a map of Europe in miniature. The immigrants try to keep up their traditional antipathies, but there are few Old World feuds that, if let alone, can resist the solvent atmosphere of America. Their children when they go to school call each other names and stretch their little necks trying to look down on one another. And when they grow up they go in for partnership or intermarry. So scrapping and bargaining, quarrelling and fighting, studying together and working together, they learn to know each other and become good Americans together.

No nation was ever before put to such a strain as ours in the Great War, for none ever contained so many representatives of the belligerent nationalities, yet none proved more stable and strong. Our national motto was not true when it was adopted, but it is now. At last the American people, regardless of racial diversity, can say with sincerity: United we stand.

Our form of government is no hand-me-down from a former generation, no misfit borrowed from another land. It is made to measure and is re-made to fit. Our social system is more of a skin than a coat. It grows with us. Every Richard Lloyd Jones tells About Ants, Elephants and Us.

ZOOLOGISTS, who, in simpler language, are the bug-ologists, after microscopically observing the habits and conduct of ants for years, bring us the interesting information that these busy little workers in the humbler world are by their own voluntary action the most moral of all living creatures.

The ant, they tell us, is so intelligent that we are justified in trying to describe its existence by a kind of allegorical comparison with human life.

Busy as are these minute little creatures, their females are scrupulously clean. Several times each day they bathe their appearance with combs and brushes. The mothers are the only ones that are allowed to eat all they want. All others, by their established law, must abstain from over eating and drinking.

Soldier ants protect both the young and those who care for the young. The mother ant is treated with all the deference of an empress.

The ants limit their sleep to just that which is their need of rest and they destroy the drone and all those who would attempt to over-indulge in leisure or luxury.

They have architects and engineers. They build houses and bridges to conform with definite plans. They have their agriculture and horticulture and have been observed to domesticate as many as 584 different kinds of creatures.

Wonderful is the story of the ant. Some of our scientists who are better zoologists than sociologists quote the old Hebrew saying of thousands of years ago, "Go to the ant, thou sluggard, consider her way," and suggest that there is much in the ant the man might well try to emulate.

Other scientists tell us to consider the elephant.

The Hindoo tells us that he gets good work from that giant creature only so long as he is good to it. Should he abuse or offend it, he would lose the elephant's willingness to work and he might lose his life by incensing the elephant's ire. To appease the elephant, the Hindoo always feeds it before he himself partakes of food.

That gentleness and generosity do much to gain good work, is the moral lesson the scientist hands to us as the result of these observations.

He who wants to be either an elephant or an ant? Who would want to emulate their ways, interesting and perhaps intellectual as they appear to be?

The elephant has none of the generosity for which the scientific observer pleads. The elephant says, "Feed me first or I am likely to get mad and kick the daylight's out of you." There is nothing in that sort of a spirit worth emulating.

The ant is good to its own but it wars on every other creature that it cannot subdue and use. There is nothing so very big and magnanimous about that. What is more, outside of the grotesque trick elephants in the circus ring, no scientist has ever called upon us to see or hear an animal sympathy, nor have they shown us an animal-made picture of gracefully formed statue. Has any one ever yet seen an elephant pause in rapture before a gorgeous sunset?

What eye at the microscope has ever seen an ant lay down its work upon its hill to hark to the song of the lark?

Whatever are man's imperfections he is not only the research student, the truth seeker, but what is finer, he is the great appreciator. To be able to appreciate the wonders of the world—that in itself is living the higher life.

Poem by UNCLE JOHN

The Senatorial candidates have struck their smartest gait, an' hawk their wares on busted crates, all up an' down the State.

Contentin' voices rant an' roar, to warn us of our danger. . . . Nobody's honest any more CONFLICT—the Golden Rule's a stranger!

I reckon if we don't elect a rabid politician, we needn't ever much expect to better our condition. . . . And so—each candidate declaims in hate against the other, without a-calling' any names—that he's the Devil's brother.

I reckon that it's nip and tuck between contentin' forces—but I would sooner pass the buck, than hear their crime-discourses.

Why can't we have two honest men, to run against each other—who'd serve the people now an' then, an' treat 'em as a brother?

It seems to me, that politics has got so awful rotten, that we'd be in a better fix with all of it forgotten!

Yours truly,
Uncle John.

HONEY PHILOSOPHY for 1922

LAST week the New York police arrested a man and rushed him off to Bellevue Hospital to have his sanity looked into because he broke a whiskey bottle on Broadway, stood before the mirror in a shop window, proceeded to address himself and started to shave—naked as the day he was born. They hustled him into a taxicab and in five minutes the crowd had vanished into the morning city throng. In the great city of Calcutta, if a native made a sudden dash for a suit of clothes, put them on, and stood in front of a window to rub some hair tonic on his face wooing a beard, they'd hustle him into a "ghurry," the Indian form of taxicab, and have his brain looked into. Geography is a strange study. East is east and west is west, and as you see the thing so it is—that is, so we insist it is, but is it?

FIRST REGIONAL MEETING OF P. P. C. C. AT TULIA ON THURSDAY AFTERNOON, 2:30

The constitution of the Panhandle Plains Chamber of Commerce provides that regional meetings of the organization may be called at the discretion of the president at any city within the thirty-eight counties that comes within its boundaries. Not until this year has this been done, but immediately on the election of the president at the recent annual convention in Amarillo, he, in conference with Secretary W. N. Blanton agreed that these regional meetings were to be a part of the year's work and accordingly on invitation of Secretary Fielder of the Tulia Chamber of Commerce that city was selected as the place for the first regional meeting, and Thursday, Oct. 19th set as the date.

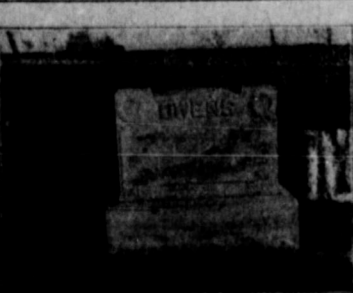

Arrangements have been made at Tulia for a wonderful reception and responses have been coming for the past two weeks from the directors officers and friends of the organization which guarantees a wonderful attendance. From Clarendon Mess. Ryan, Sitzer, Mulkey, Noble and Braswell will attend, possibly others. Reports from the Amarillo Board of City Development indicate that others will be a hundred Panhandle-Plains boosters go from that point and they are also offering to furnish transportation for all those who will come to Amarillo on Thursday morning.

The meeting will be held at 2:30 in the afternoon and will be taken up with reports from the secretary-manager, special committees and by inspirational addresses from men who know and love the great Panhandle

THE ORTHONIAN IN SWIMMING PARTY

The Y. M. C. A. natatorium last Thursday afternoon was the scene of a swimming party staged by the members of the Orthonian literary society of Clarendon College. Quite a large number of the members attended and most of them enjoyed the water. However, some professed a preference for "dry land." Following the swim the girls enjoyed delicious refreshments consisting of hamburgers.

"LADIES' DAY" SUNDAY AT METHODIST CHURCH

Following out the program announced some weeks ago, next Sunday will be "ladies' day" at the Methodist Church. Sunday morning at eleven, the pastor will preach a sermon especially to the ladies. At seven-thirty a program prepared by the ladies of the church will be rendered. The program appears elsewhere in this paper.

All are invited to attend these services, with special emphasis on the ladies Sunday.

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Lord's Day, October 22. Bible study 10 o'clock. Preaching morning and evening. Morning subject: "Moses a Type of Christ." Evening subject, "The Plant of Renown." Subject for Wednesday evening: "Adoption." The public is cordially invited to worship with us at all of these services.

T. M. Little, Sr., who was a visitor in Honeywell, Kansas, last Monday for the debate between Messrs Colley and Tyndall of the two branches of the Church of Christ, reports a great time with the two debaters holding their own very admirably. Mr. Little said that the town of Honeywell is only a small town, but that they have a good Church and that it was packed, to the doors during the entire debate. At the close of the debate, Rev. Colley challenged Rev. Tyndall to meet him in another debate to be held in Dallas about 90 days, the challenge was accepted and the two men parted the best of friends, to meet again in Dallas to go further into the subject.

"CITIZEN" WRITES AGAIN

Editor News: Something more than twenty centuries back, one of the greatest patriotic orators of the Roman Republic addressed this question to a conspirator against the peace of the Roman people: "Quosque tandem abutere, O! Catilina patientia nostra. We see the same thing today going on that stirred the soul of Cicero to demand of the conspirator of his time to know how long would he continue to abuse the patience of his people. We see calico horns would-be orators going over this good land raising a mighty dust, abusing people, better far than themselves. Stirring up strife with no earthly object in view except to confuse the people of the land and to try to decide them to think some great wrong needed righting and that they are the God-selected ones to do it. Demagogues of the worst type. Claiming to be the saviours of the country from a great evil. Knowing in their hearts full ninety per cent of all the evil charged is purely imaginary and false. Willing to sacrifice the democratic party of this good Democratic state of Texas, that their little ambitious souls might have opportunity to ride in office. Say they are going to redeem the state from the rule of a secret oath bound organization. Now lets see about this. Who is going to wrest the Democratic banner out of the hands of the present guardians? Is it not by a mixed gang of all nationalities and a combination of all the sore heads in the state? Disgruntless office seekers, led by another oath bound secret organization? What are we to gain by the exchange? Absolutely nothing that is for the good of the people. It is folly, nonsense to discuss the right of the Klan to vote for whom they please. When the element that is disturbing the peace of the state succeeds in overturning the best people of Texas, it will be time for Texas to blot out of her book of memory her heroes, her heroines, her Alamos and her San Jacintos. The time has come when the red blooded men and women of Texas call on the demagogues worrying the country to know how long do you intend to abuse our patience. We have the utmost confidence in the good red blooded white Protestant men and women of Texas, and in spite of injunction or any other thing an answer will be handed to this bunch on the 7th day of November that will do them for a time to come. Let every red blooded Texan, man and woman go to the polls that day and tell them something that they won't forget. Citizen.

FEDERAL GRAND JURY IS EMPANELED AT AMARILLO

Activities in the Federal courts Amarillo were marked Monday by the empanelling of the grand jury and the opening of the case of Craft vs. Santa Fe Railroad. The court is in session for a three weeks' term with Judge J. C. Wilson on the bench and Henry Zwiefel, district attorney.

LOCAL LIONS WILL HAVE CHARTER NIGHT OCT. 28

At the request of the Lions Club of Amarillo, "charter night" for the local order will be held Saturday, October 28, instead of the following Monday as was previously arranged. The initiation will be put on by the Amarillo club and they asked that the date be changed as they were sure a large number can come down Saturday. Local Lions voted to defer to their wishes at the weekly luncheon Tuesday.

RAY S. CARNEY, FORMER CLARENDON COLLEGE GRAD—NOW NEWS' LOCAL EDITOR

Readers of The News will recall that two weeks ago a representative of the U. S. Veterans' Bureau called on The News in contemplation of placing a service man here for training in the weekly newspaper vocation. All arrangements were made and Mr. Ray S. Carney arrived here Sunday night to assume his duties Monday morning.

Mr. Carney is not unknown to the people of Clarendon, having been a student of Clarendon College for some two years and having been a member of the graduating class of 1914. He was reared at Vernon and before entering the army service had work with the Vernon Record. He is also a graduate of the University of Texas and recently married a young lady of DeLeon, whom he met at the University. He had placement with the Electra News, but was removed to his city for the benefits of higher altitude.

The News feels that it is honored in having been selected by the government bureau as a suitable paper to be entrusted with the training of its wards in the arts of news gathering and newspaper management, and it further feels that it has been fortunate in having so bright and active a young man as Mr. Carney assigned here.

Mrs. Carney arrived here Tuesday night and they are at home to their old and new friends at the Hook residence.

PORTALES CITIZEN MOVES TO CLARENDON

J. S. Campbell and family of Portales, New Mexico are expected to arrive in Clarendon about the 19th of this month to make their home. Mr. Campbell has been manager of the Joyce-Pruitt Mercantile company at Portales and comes here to assume the management of the Little Mercantile company. Mr. Campbell comes highly recommended as a substantial citizen and one of whom any city may be proud.

MRS. MASHBURN IS HOSTESS

Mrs. John Mashburn was hostess to the T. E. L. class of the First Baptist church at her home on College Heights, Thursday, October 12. Following a delightful social hour delicious refreshments consisting of hot chocolate, cake and sandwiches were served to the following: Meses, Will Steward, Ed Barnes, Will Land, T. S. Roberts, John Mashburn, Ed Speed, Joe Smith, Tom Kemp, J. A. Harris.

FIRE DAMAGED GARAGE

Prompt action by the fire department prevented the complete destruction of Dr. Ellis' garage about 6 o'clock this morning. The building is thought to have been ignited from a pile of trash near by upon which some ashes had been placed several days ago. The Doctor can account for the conflagration in no other way and believes that the garbage must have been smoldering since he placed the ashes there. One side of the wall was damaged and a hole was burned through the roof.
