

DUBBS LOCATES FORMER REBEL WHO SHOT HIM

CIVIL WAR FOUGHT OVER WHEN FORMER CLARENDON PIONEER MEETS THE MAN WHO WOUNDED HIM AT MISSIONARY RIDGE.

Rev. Emmanuel Dubbs, former Clarendon citizen and noted pioneer of the Panhandle, who arrived here last week from his home in Indiana for an extended visit with friends in this city and Amarillo, has had answered a question that has been in his mind for years, but one the answer to which he never hoped to receive. Years ago while he was fighting on the "yankee" side of the Civil war at the battle of Missionary Ridge, he was shot. Last Friday in Judge Airhart's office in the court house in Amarillo he found the man who shot him.

The following account of this unusual event is taken from the Amarillo News:

Johnny Reb and Yank fought over the Civil War Friday afternoon in Judge H. R. Airhart's office in the county courthouse. And Yank found out he was talking to the very Rebel that shot him in the battle of Missionary Ridge.

J. W. Ozier, adjutant of W. B. Plemons Camp of Amarillo and the Rev. Emmanuel Dubbs of Milford, Ind., formerly a buffalo hunter in the Panhandle, became acquainted Friday in Judge Airhart's office while the Rev. Dubbs was here on a visit. They began to swap yarns on the war and one thing led to another till they found out what they found out.

And this was it: Captain Ozier asked the old buffalo hunter if he was in the battle of Missionary Ridge.

"Yes, I was in the skirmish line of the Yankee army."

"In the skirmish line?" ejaculated Captain Ozier. "Were you shot?"

"Yes, I was the only man wounded among the skirmishers."

Whereupon, Captain Ozier clapped the old Yank on the back and shouted, "I was the man that shot you." Then the Johnny Reb told his tale. He said he was the sharpshooter for the Confederate forces and fired the only shot during the skirmish. He saw a human form in the distance and what he thought was a canteen. He fired at the man and saw him drop. He thought the Yankee was killed.

"So did my comrades think I was killed," interjected the old warhorse minister.

Then he told his tale. He was skirmishing before the famous battle of Missionary Ridge when suddenly a bullet drilled through his skillet which was hanging on his right side, it was a skillet instead of a canteen as Captain Ozier thought) grazed his thumb and knocked him senseless. His comrades thought him dead.

The two grizzled veterans then went ahead with their reminiscences and established beyond a doubt in their minds that they were the Rebel and the Yankee who started the Battle of Missionary Ridge. They even went into the topography of the scene of the shooting and their details dovetailed.

The Rev. Emmanuel Dubbs was not always a reverend, he said with a twinkle in his eye, Friday. He was for years a buffalo hunter in the vicinity of Clarendon and in one sense killed 1700 of the animals. He dried the meat and hides and sold them at Dodge City Kansas. He said he attended a revival meeting at one of the frontier churches in the Panhandle and got converted.

He preached and 27 were converted at the first service he held. He preached for 25 years and never took up a collection he says. A lot of money was given to him, but he gave away more than he received through the ministry, he says. But the Lord prospered him. Unlike most 80-year-old ministers he is not on the verge of starvation after years of sacrificial service. He has a good living at his home in Marion.

MATERIAL FOR NEW MAINS HAS BEEN RECEIVED

MONSTROUS DITCHER WILL EXCAVATE 2,000 FEET DAILY. WORK TO START THIS WEEK AND BE COMPLETED IN 45 DAYS.

With the arrival this week of Superintendent W. E. Kimrey and Foreman Weed Smith final arrangements are being made to start work on Clarendon's water and sewer extension project. The monstrous mechanical ditcher used by the James Construction company in their last contract at Electra arrived Tuesday and has been unloaded. Actual work is expected to start the latter part of this week.

The contract between the construction company and the city stipulates that the work shall be completed within forty-five days after the labor has been started. The company will bring some five or six skilled men with them and they intend to hire an additional quota of local laborers which will run the number in the "gang" up to about twenty-five or thirty. Several teams will also be used. With this number of helpers Foreman Smith expects to push the work to the limit and contemplates no trouble in having the enterprise completed as per contract.

Added to the procurement of an unusual number of workmen, the foreman points out the fact that the ditcher is guaranteed to dig 2,000 feet per day. Barring no mishaps to the machinery and in the event the weather continues favorable this machine will have no trouble in keeping ahead of the men laying the pipe. All of the pipe has arrived and it is the plan of those in charge to put the workmen at laying the mains as soon as sufficient excavation has been made to justify a start.

The completion of the project will mark the addition of approximately nine miles to Clarendon's water mains and will leave practically no section of the city without fire protection. Fifty-two new fire plugs will be installed and the extension sections have been so planned that only the outskirts and the thinnest sections of the city will not be accessible to the fire hose.

The extension to the southwest will reach eight blocks southwest of the college; to the southeast its terminal is the hospital. A new line will be laid on third street for ten blocks east of Kearney street. Ample arrangements have been made to care for the residents north of the railroad. These items include only the longest additions.

An elevated reservoir will be located on Clarendon Heights from which a six-inch main will lead to the city. Eight inch mains will be used within the business section. The consummation of the project will mean an increase in fire protection by a large per cent and a consequent reduction in the key rate of insurance.

These improvements are being financed from a $100,000 bond issue, voted April 4 by the property owners of Clarendon for purposes of water and sewer extension.

Odos Caraway and party left Wednesday night for Oklahoma City. They will drive back a bunch of new Buick cars.

The old buffalo fighter was also an Indian fighter. He was in the Indian war of 1874 and fought with Captain Billie Dixon in the Adobe Walls fight. He says he played the first furore ever laid in the Panhandle.

He is in the Panhandle now to visit relatives. He has three sons at Clarendon. Blue and Gray met and fought again the Civil War battles. But neither was blue nor neither was gray. Neither was Yank nor neither was Rebel. One shot the other. One's side won, the other's lost. But Friday they were comrades and ever till the final bugle blows will these grizzled veterans remain comrades.

Guess What They Are Talking About.

EXPLAINS NEED OF PLAYGROUNDS

SUPT. NELSON TELLS LIONS IMPORTANCE OF PROPER RECREATION FOR PUPILS.

The feature of the program at the Lions' luncheon Tuesday was an address by Superintendent J. E. Nelson of the city schools on the necessity to the school children of properly directed games and play, and the need of local schools for suitable playground equipment.

The speaker took occasion to outline the history of the playground movement and pointed out the splendid results being obtained in other cities from properly equipped grounds of recreation for the children. He insisted that it is only normal for a boy to play and argued that the proper thing to do is to properly guide this necessary expenditure of surplus energy.

The superintendent said that by giving the pupils ample facilities to play the question of discipline is materially reduced. He took the position that a playground is by many school systems regarded as one of the essentials and is provided for out of the public funds. This is the policy he advocates for the Clarendon schools.

The program was continued by a speech by Lion Wilder in which he "poured on" the jokes at the expense of some of those present, and a reading by Miss Nell Pirtle of Clarendon College.

Frank Houston of Childress, Will Guill of Memphis and W. J. Long of Pauls Valley, Oklahoma, were guests at Tuesday's luncheon.

All arrangements are being made for a splendid feast and a rousing good time Saturday night, when the local club is to receive its charter. The arrangements committee announced. The credentials will be delivered and the initiation put on by the Lions from Amarillo. Quite a bit of enthusiasm is being worked up among the Amarillo members and a large crowd is expected to come down for the occasion.

The following questionnaire has been mailed to the members:

On Saturday night, October 28, the Clarendon Lions Club has asked that all Amarillo Lions who can be their guests. We shall take along our orchestra, and it is our pleasure and duty, to make this Charter night one long to be remembered by our brother Lions. Your organization committee to make this a success, and also that Clarendon Club may know how many to prepare for says that you fill out the attached card and mail at once. Let's all go. You are assured of a fine time, both for yourself and wife, also for your

JAIL DELIVERY IS FRUSTRATED

ADVANCE INFORMATION LEADS TO APPREHENSION OF MEN WHILE SAWING ON BARS.

Advanced information acted upon by Sheriff J. H. Rutherford frustrated a jail delivery by prisoners of the Donley county jail Sunday night. The sheriff had been informed late Sunday evening by a friend of one of the prisoners that saws had been slipped into the cells and arrangements had been made for an escape Sunday night. Mr. Rutherford, seeking to catch them in the act, arranged to sleep in the jail and slipped up on the men while at work. They had just finished severing two of the bars and were resting before starting on the third.

A search of the persons of the prisoners and of the furnishings of the cell revealed three hack saws. One had been concealed in a seam in the wall; two others had been broken in half and the pieces were concealed on one of the perpetrators who had been informed that he would be removed from the jail on Monday morning. Evidently he intended to pursue his determination to escape at his next place of confinement, the sheriff believed.

Five men were imprisoned in the cell at the time of the attempted escape but only two were implicated in the attempted delivery. The affair was planned by Roy Eslinger, being held here on a charge of rape for the authorities of Montague county, according to Mr. Rutherford. He has jumped bond in that county. Eslinger induced another prisoner, held for a lesser offense, to assist him in the escape.

Harry Walker, sheriff of Montague county, arrived Monday from Bowie and carried Eslinger back with him to be lodged in the Montague county jail.

RECEIVES FINE CHICKENS

Fred Story received last week a pen of Rhode Island chickens which he declares includes some as fine stock as has ever been seen in the Panhandle. The pen includes four females and a male and was specially bred at the Owen Farm in Massachusetts. Mr. Story is a great chicken fancier and has a number of fine fowls.

LOCALS DEFEAT CLAUDE 20-0

HIGH SCHOOL WINS FIRST VICTORY WITH NEW BACKFIELD. USED MANY PASSES.

With an entirely new backfield and a system of interference functioning effectively in every play of the game, the Clarendon High School football team was able to defeat Claude High school 20 to 0 and incidentally record her first victory of the season Friday afternoon on the local grounds.

Clarendon resorted to open play almost entirely. Very few bucks through the line were attempted. With sweeping end runs that crushed the flanks of Claude's defense and with pass after pass successfully completed the local boys steadily marched down the field scarcely checked by the second line men of the opposition. The new backfield performed even beyond the expectation of Coach Carter and the interference was superior to any displayed by high school teams seen here for some time.

The line of the visitors held a shade of advantage over Clarendon and practically all of their gains were results of their strength in this quarter. Their entire offense might be described as a series of line bucks, many of which resulted in gains. However, their successes were not so consistent but that the ball was lost on downs the majority of the time. Ill-timed charges aid fumbles counteracted their few successful plunges.

The game Friday developed a new star in Fitzgerald at fullback. This man, entirely new at the game, intercepted a pass on Clarendon's 10-yard-line within the first five minutes of play and raced across the field for the first touchdown of the game. He played a spectacular game throughout and gave the fans more than a thrill with his broken field running and interference.

On the defense, Ingram at tackle was the star. He performed the unusual feat of getting every tackle in the first quarter but three. His work during the entire gameaided materially in checking the rushes of the visitors.

Following is the line-up that started the game:

SECOND ROADS MEETING TO BE HELD MONDAY

STEERING COMMITTEE READY TO REPORT RESULT OF THEIR INVESTIGATIONS. RECOMMEND SEMI-PERMANENT GRAVEL HIGHWAYS.

A mass meeting of all citizens of Donley county who are interested in the improvement of the county's roads will be called to assemble in the court house next Monday night. A decision to this effect was reached by the steering committee appointed some two weeks ago at a road mass meeting for the purpose of studying the situation with a view to ascertaining the most feasible method of procedure in improving Donley county highways. This committee, composed of Chas. Bugbee, chairman, M. M. Nobles, B. G. Smith, Odos Caraway and J. W. Noel, has been gathering data on the subject and in a meeting Monday agreed upon certain recommendations. W. H. Patrick is chairman of the mass meeting.

Donley county should vote a bond issue of $250,000 to be used in surfacing the highways with a semi-permanent gravel construction. This is the recommendation that will be made by the committee at the mass meeting Monday. Their idea is that the bonds be issued in serial form to be entirely taken up within thirty years. Upon an estimate of 9 per cent, to take care of the interest of 5 per cent and a sinking fund, the taxable valuation of the county shows that this project will raise the taxes but 35 cents on the $100 valuation. This is a liberal estimate, the committee says, because really 9 per cent will more than care for the bonds as, is a serial issue, the interest will decrease every year.

Basing their computation on the fact that the average farm in the county is a quarter section, the committee finds that the yearly cost to the farmers of the county then will be about $5.60 as the valuation of county renditions will average $10 per acre. This fact will be emphasized by good roads advocates as the general impression among the property owners of the county has been that the construction of improved highways in Donley would be materially more burdensome.

Upon the face of it, the committee points out, it would seem that these figures would be insufficient to care for the bonds but it must be remembered that these are computations only for the farms of the county and does not take into consideration the property owned by the cities and other property owned by foreign corporations which have to bear their share of the burden. The total valuation of taxable property within Donley county, according to the figures taken from the tax records at the assessor's office, is $6,373,990. Land values (which does not include city real estate) amount to $2,764,090. From this it is manifest that the farm lands bear but about one third of the taxation. In addition to this, a committee member remarked, should be taken the consideration that a large portion of this farm land is owned by several big ranches. It is estimated that these large ranches, city property owners, the railroad, the telegraph and telephone companies pay about three fourths of the taxes.

The urgency of the need of some action looking to the improvement of the highways is emphasized by several local citizens from foreign chambers of commerce and county officials following the inauguration of the good-roads movement here by the mass meeting two weeks ago. The tenor of these letters is that the movement is a most worthy one and one that should have been given consideration some time ago. One man who has been in close touch with the travel over the Colorado to Gulf Highway writes that he has received numerous complaints of the condition of Don-

BULLDOGS ARE PREPARED FOR DECATUR GAME

COACH BURTON PUTTING MEN THROUGH STRENUOUS TRAINING TO OVERCOME SUPERIOR WEIGHT IN TOMORROW'S CONTEST.

College park undoubtedly will be the scene of the classic of Panhandle football for this season tomorrow afternoon when the Clarendon College Bulldogs meet the aggregation from Decatur Baptist College. That Coach Harley True Burton of the Bulldogs regards the Baptists as no mean opponents is evidenced by the strenuous preparations he is making for the contest.

With determination to get revenge for the defeat of 33 to 6 suffered at the hands of the Wise county collegians last season Coach Burton is putting the men through a grueling work touching every phase of football. He is utilizing every moment of daylight possible and expects to have a materially strengthened machine on the field tomorrow. The training is not limited to a meticulous study of every department of the game, both offensive and defensive, but extends to sitting up exercises and physical work in order that there will be no weakening from the physical strain. A circle of the field at double time for a finale of the afternoon's practice is expected to put the men in the best of condition as to their wind.

Reports from Decatur say that the Baptists have an even stronger team than last season and the locals are made to realize that they will have to exert themselves to the fullest if they are to emerge from the contest as victors. The visitors will come here with practically the same team used last year, they having lost only two men by graduation. Added to this fact according to reports, they have an aggregation that averages 191 pounds all round and a line that will tilt the scales for a 200-pound average. The Bulldogs average is 176. Furthermore, in Coach Russell Dallas the Decatur tribe has a mentor of exceptional ability. At half back he was the backbone of the offense of the noted Fighting Illinois eleven and during the World War he was named as all A. E. F. half back.

To offset these advantages, Clarendon will rely on one of the speediest backfields ever developed in this section of the state and a repertoire of plays that can be executed and blocked only by men who are equally as fast. In Captain Jackson, Coach Burton has one of the headiest quarterbacks in the state and his generalship will equalize material advantages held by any opposing team. Faith in Jackson's ability to win against odds tomorrow is more than warranted by past experiences. On more than one occasion this heady general has pulled a game out of the fire with a vesatile attack that swept the opposition off their feet.

The athletic managers are preparing for the largest crowd that ever attended a football game in the Panhandle. Additional grandstands are being erected and arrangements are being made to care for an enormous crowd of "side line" fans. Quite a number of Decatur rooters are expected to accompany the team. In view of the fact that the contest is regarded as an All-Panhandle event, every high school coach and captain in the Panhandle have been invited to attend and have been mailed complimentary tickets. It is expected that 100 passes will be issued under this classification. In addition to this number and the "regular fans" from out of town, the spectators are expected to include a number of griders and coaches from institutions that expect to meet the Bulldogs later in the season.

ley county roads and that a great deal of the travel last summer was diverted to the south in order that the roads in this section might be avoided.

A VERY NEEDFUL PRAYER

Show me thy ways, O Lord: teach me thy paths. Let integrity and uprightness preserve me: for I wait on thee.—Psalm 25:4-21

Before the drive of the loyal Texans and the Mexicans fell to their knees and cried "Me no Alamo, Me no Goliad." There are going to be a few Democrats in Texas after Nov. 7th, who would willingly give ten years of their political lives if they could meet the withering attack of an outraged party with the truthful statement "Me no Peddy." As of old the slaughter will continue.

To show how progressive the Panhandle-Plains Chamber of Commerce is, Tullia voted $100,000 light and water bond issue on the very day that the organization held their regional meeting in that city. The vote was two to one in favor of progress and it goes without saying that it would have been three to one if the delegates had been able to avail themselves of Judge Swepston's invitation for every one to vote before leaving Tullia.

Headline in the daily press: "Harmless Gambling by Vets Tolerated at New Orleans." The News doubts that there is any such thing as "harmless gambling," but at that the boys had as much right to violate that law in the Creole City as the hotels did to violate the eighteenth amendment during the grain dealers convention two weeks before. There is too much of this "toleration" of the violation of all laws in this nation and unless it is checked and brought to a minimum there are rocks ahead for the ship of state.

The bird that seeks to trump up some excuse to delay the building of good roads in Donley county is the same old "aginer" he has always been. Kindly tolerate him but let the band play that mighty symphony of progress and prosperity.

The Quannah Tribune-Chief issued a splendid sixteen page special edition Tuesday of this week celebrating the holding of the annual session of the Northwest Texas Methodist Conference there next week. The issue contains interesting and valuable church history in this section and among other works of the church gives large space to description of Clarendon College, with illustrations of the main building and Pres. Slover.

Within the last week we have heard expressions of regrets that Clarendon did not have a going chamber of commerce just now, and the expressions came incidentally from a progressive farmer of the Brice county and a business man of this city who was never in the forefront of the chamber of commerce activity. The town and community is suffering financially every day without this mighty agency of progress and there is no consolation in the fact that Clarendon is now regarded as "the largest town in the United States without a chamber of commerce." Don't tell anybody about it for it is our city's only "family skeleton."

Governor Neff really did a very magnificent act when the other day he pardoned Fisher Alsop and remitted the $2000 fine imposed upon him for writing a slanderous article during the campaign of two years ago, reflecting upon the governor's birth and family. The people of Texas will applaud this setting aside of his personal resentment and magnanimously giving full pardon to an old man who was led into a very grave fault by someone higher up and in the heat of a bitter campaign. "He that ruleth his own spirit is just as true today as it was centuries ago on the Judean plains.

There are a few "mugwump" newspapers in Texas who are howling their heads off every day about the wonderful crowds that Peddy is drawing in his brainless campaign for fame as an also-ran in the senate race. Now the truth of the matter is this, no recent campaigners in Texas politics ever draw larger crowds than did Bailey and Ferguson, yet both of them were hopelessly defeated. Peddy can't draw half as big a crowd as Ferguson did this summer, even with the help of the short-sighted Republicans who know they can't help themselves but hope to sting the real Democrats of this state—it means just one thing and that is the eternal, overwhelming defeat of little George and the political end of those tin horn sports who think they can assume and spurn a Democratic primary pledge at their pleasure.

Spends $2000 to see Football Game

Mrs. D. H. Richardson, 86, of Davenport, Ia., spent $2000 to see a football game and "it was worth it" she says. She chartered a special car and took 25 relatives from Iowa to New Haven, Conn., to see their team beat Yale, 6-0. Mrs. Richardson happy and confident that her "Hawkeye Boys" are going to be declared the national champions this year, posed for this picture as her "special" started its triumphant return from the Yale Bowl.

Presidents and ex-presidents have often made the mistake of dabbling in state politics with the usual result that the people nearly always do just the opposite thing to the expressed wishes of the past or present executive. Now comes Warren Harding endorsing Peddy in a letter to some of his henchmen here in Texas. Just another sign pointing to the inevitable result on Nov. 7th. We hate to see a brother newspaper man go wrong that way, even if he is a Republican.

After seven very active and very brilliant years of service to his country, Premier Lloyd George of the British Empire has resigned. His passing is regretted by many admirers in America and by thousands of loyal followers in England and there are many observers who claim to know the peculiarities of the "tight little isle," who declare that the "little Welsh lawyer" will be recalled before many months. Kingdoms may prove as ungrateful as republics are said to be but many doubt that Bonnar Law will be able to handle the situation and will be soon forced to stand aside in the face of a popular demand for the return of Lloyd George.

Letter day orators are far behind their contemporaries of the early days of this republic in the matter of using fine, strong, virile language, yet simple as only the English language can be. Besides the great fundamental truth expressed, take this example as expressed by the American congress of 1787: "Religion, morality, and knowledge being necessary to good government, schools and the means of education shall be forever encouraged." We don't surpass the "fathers" in expression and our highest thought isn't much more than repetition of theirs. We may cultivate thought, and elegant diction by a closer acquaintance with the letters and utterances of the founders of this republic.

Commenting on what The Clarendon News had to say two issues ago on the organization of a Lion's Club for this city, the Amarillo Daily News has the following to remark: "No one would belittle himself as not to say that Clarendon is a city. But Clarendon is going more and more into the city class. The organization of a Lion's Club a short time ago is a real indication. When a city reaches a few thousand inhabitants, it begins taking on city styles. Hence, it is no surprise to know that Clarendon has graduated into the noon luncheon club class through the organization of the Lion's Club. The Panhandle Lions clubs evidently realize that the way to get the greatest publicity is to elect their newspaper men as president. Clarendon has elected Sam Braswell of the Clarendon News as president. Dalhart formed a club recently and made C. H. Walker, editor of the Dalhart Texan president. The retiring president of the Amarillo club was F. R. Jamison, another newspaper man. All these clubs seem to be prospering under the leadership of the newspaper men. But the Lion's Club is doing a great work all over the United States. There are fraternal ties that bind the members. They can go all over the land and find Lion's Clubs. If a Lion is away from home for the weekly or bi-weekly meeting, he can visit another club and be credited with attendance at his local club. By visiting other clubs, the Lion can see what they are doing of importance and report back home. With fellowship and civic affairs at their goal, the Lion's Club will be a factor for good in whatever community it is organized. Most city builders admit that it is easier to put over worthwhile projects since the organization of civic clubs like the Lions, Rotary, Kiwanis, Optimist and others."

ALLEGED MOONSHINERS

The sheriff and a party of officers Thursday noon brought in and lodged in jail a man named Sam Tucker, charged with moonshining. He was arrested in the early morning by the officers, at his cabin in the roughs, five miles south of Parnell.

Two barrels of corn mash was destroyed, as well as a kettle full, which was heating on a stove.

When Tucker came out of the cabin he had a shotgun. Deputy Mitchell was close beside him, and forced him to give the gun up.

The officers were Sheriff Pressley and Deputy Jodie Mitchell, John Harris, Joe Merrick and J. B. Burnett. They had been watching the premises all night.

Tucker is a single man and about 26 years of age.—Memphis Herald.

LOCAL MEN GO TO TULIA MEET

MANY PROBLEMS DISCUSSED BEFORE PANHANDLE-PLAINS CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

Odos Caraway, Harry Sinter, Homer Mulkey and Sam Braswell were in Tulia Thursday attending the first Regional meeting of the Panhandle-Plains Chamber of Commerce which met in the district court room of that city. Mr. Braswell is president of the organization. The session had a large attendance of representatives from practically every section of the Panhandle.

The meeting was devoted largely to the reports of various committees previously assigned to study various problems vital to this section of the state. Miss Laura V. Hamner as chairman of the committee on the All Panhandle school fair stressed the advantage of such an event and argued for county exhibitions to be held before the sectional big fair. In reporting on the Panhandle fair, Judge Hamlin of Farwell stated that the committee would entertain proposals from the towns represented at the meeting but that no action would be taken only upon a written proposal from the towns for a permanent location of the fair. These proposals must be in the hands of the committee not later than Nov. 20. At this point representatives of Amarillo and Plainview made strong bids to locate the show permanently in their cities.

Mr. Walker of Shamrock reported on the game and fish hatchery project and Hamlin Parmer discussed the car shortage. He stated that the Panhandle is now short some 3,000 cars but relief is promised within the next ten days.

R. M. Fielder, secretary of the Tulia Chamber of Commerce pointed out the danger of the pink boll worm in the border counties in New Mexico and asking that publicity be given to the menace in order that the farmers may be warned. President J. A. Hill of the West Texas State Normal College went into a lengthy discussion of the relation of that institution to the Panhandle and the necessity of co-operation and backing from the various Panhandle towns.

ADVERTISING MEN ARE REVEALING WONDERFUL FACTS ABOUT TEXAS

That Texas ranks first in "firsts" is being told to the world by Texas advertising men.

Texas is first in production of beef cattle, grain, sorghums, mules, cotton, goats, mohair, cotton seed and manufactured cotton seed products, onions, pecans, honey and total annual value of agricultural products, but resources and latent opportunities.

Texas has upward of 100,000,000 acres of cultivable land of which less than one-third is now improved. This small percentage of cultivable land has for the past three years led all other states of the union in total value of agricultural products by a wide margin. When fully developed, Texas will produce annually three or four times the value of the agricultural products of any other State in the union.

Texas produced during 1921, 2,129,000 bales of cotton, 175,000,000 bushels of corn, 60,000,000 bushels of oats, 5,996,000 bushels of rice, 123,000,000 pounds of peanuts, 20,810,000 bushels of wheat, 8,000,000 bushels of sweet potatoes and sorghum syrups 2,000,000 bushels of barley, 2,200,000 bushels of white potatoes and approximately 60,000 carloads of spinach, cabbage, onions, pecans, watermelons and other small crops.

Texas is coming rapidly to the front as the producer of the most diversified crop of the Union. The Plains regions are rapidly developing into great wheat and grain sorghum producing areas, while the Rio Grande Valley, Gulf Coast country and East Texas regions are rivaling California as producers of vegetables for the early markets of the north.

Texas is also considerable producer of fruits, ranking high among the peach producing States of the Union, with an average of about 4,900,000 bushels annually. Plums, prunes, apricots, apples and pears are also being produced in commercial quantities. About 1,000,000 pounds of figs are harvested annually, and within a few years Texas will rank with Florida and California as a producer of grape fruit. Citrus trees are now bearing in the Rio Grande valley and thousands of additional trees are annually reaching the age of maturity.

Flapper's Farewell!

The flapper is gone. She said she wouldn't wear long skirts—still here she is, wearing it and looking very charming in a new rich blue, hand-painted duvetyne trimmed with wolf fur, and all topped with a canary yellow hat trimmed with silk roses.

Live Stock

Texas has about 4,600,000 beef cattle upon her ranches in addition to about 1,500,000 dairy cattle. The State leads in beef production. Texas also leads in the number of goats with approximately 1,700,000 and mules with a total of 850,000. There are 990,000 horses on Texas farms, 220,000,000 chickens and turkeys.

About 174,000,000 gallons of milk are produced in the State annually, from which 49,000,000 pounds of butter are made. Approximately 64,000,000 dozens of eggs are produced on Texas farms each year. The total annual production of honey from 233,000 beehives is approximately 5,000,000 pounds. The annual production of wool runs from 12,000,000 to 20,000,000 pounds, while the mohair produced averages approximately 5,000,000 pounds.

Minerals

Texas produces, including petroleum, approximately $30,000,000 in mineral products annually. Besides producing an annual average of nearly 100,000,000 barrels of petroleum, the State produces practically one-half of the surplus supply of the world. Texas also ranks high in the production of pottery, brick, and other clay products, quick silver, fullers earth, cement, limestone, and lime, granite, marble and lignite. Texas also produces about one-half million tons of coal annually.

There are approximately 50 different valuable minerals found in various parts of the State, including such a wide range as iron, lignite, ochre, radio-active earth, potash, quick silver, salt, silica and granite. Some of these products, including salt and silica, are now being produced in commercial quantities.

Texas possesses one of the largest iron ore deposits in the United States. This deposit underlies 5,000 square miles of land in the vicinity of Rusk in East Texas, and contains a 60 percent metallic brown ore. Attempts to develop this deposit have not been very successful to date, due to the lack of source of fuel, but new processes of retorting lignite are expected to produce an abundance of fuel for this purpose within the next few years.

Other Natural Resources

Texas produces about 1,500,000,000 board feet of lumber annually, there being about 600 sawmills operating throughout the timber belts of East Texas. The greater portion of this timber production is pine, though there is a considerable amount of hardwood timber. Texas ranks well up among the States in this industry.

The annual production of oysters from Texas waters has ranged from 34,000 barrels to 103,000 barrels annually during the past ten years. For the same period approximately 4,000,000 pounds of fish have been taken from Texas waters annually by Texas fishermen.

Miss Irma Russell went to Clayton this week to play for the Rotary club. Miss Russell is a pianist of note and her services are sought far and wide in this part of the country. Clayton is said to be the smallest city in the United States with a Rotary Club.

MAY RELIEVE CAR SHORTAGE

EQUIPMENT TO BE BORROWED FROM EAST TEXAS ROADS BY COMMISSION'S ORDER.

The dearth of stock cars on the Fort Worth and Denver has become a serious matter and is materially affecting the movement of cattle locally, according to Local Agent C. H. Wisdom. Lack of cars has given the stock men all over this section of the country a great deal of concern this fall and in some cases it has been absolutely impossible to get any allocations. One man in the western part of Oklahoma was forced to ship a bunch of hogs to market in box cars.

As a result of the pressure brought to bear on the Interstate Commerce Commission some relief may be expected at the hands of that body within the near future. Announcement to this effect has been made to the public following persistent requests by Congressman Marvin Jones of Amarillo and congressman from other districts whose assistance has been enlisted by buyers who have come into this section. The relief will take the form of a loan of stock cars from lines that do not penetrate the stock-raising territory. The Katy, I. & G. N. and other lines in South and East Texas have been ordered by the commission to release stock cars for the use of roads in the Panhandle. Congressman Jones, in his report of conditions before the commission, requested 2,500 cars for the Santa Fe, 1,250 for the Rock Island and 1,000 for the Fort Worth & Denver.

Recently the matter has been taken up by the Panhandle-Plains Chamber of Commerce and Secretary W. N. Blanton received the following communication Wednesday from the Interstate Commerce Commission:

"Referring to various recent telegrams regarding the stock car situation. We have been handling this matter constantly and vigorously and believe that you will notice some improvement.

"With respect to the situation at Texline we are advised that the Colorado & Southern have orders for 75 cars at that point and for 325 in their New Mexico district, which includes Texline, for immediate loading. On the 12th instant they had 75 cars in transit to that territory and others in sight which it was thought would substantially relieve the situation there in a few days.

"In order to bring about a general improvement in the stock car situation in the southwest a program has been inaugurated for an arbitrary movement of empty stock cars to the Santa Fe and Illinois Central and it is believed that when these cars are distributed in your section the situation will be relieved to a considerable extent. As indicating the assistance being given these lines, will mention the fact that the Santa Fe had received from all lines at Chicago up to and including October 12, 253 cars and the Illinois Central had received a total of 24 cars from connections at that point. In addition to this it is understood that the Rock Island will be delivered 100 cars at Memphis.

"The situation on the F. W. & D. C. Ry is also being looked after to the greatest extent possible. They had a total of some 833 cars on their books to load as of October 7 and the M. K. & T., I. & G. N. and Fort Worth Belt have instruction to assist the F. W. & D. C. in taking care of their situation. The prevailing condition on the Santa Fe and Rock Island prevents them from assisting the F. W. & D. C.

"The whole matter is being followed up closely and, as above indicated, we hope for an early improvement in the situation."

A MOST IMPORTANT DEMONSTRATION of TYPE CORSETRY

By MISS REDWOOD
Wednesday, November 1st.

To those of us who really care about our appearance, it is important that we should understand the unmistakable Fashion tendency toward "personalized styles."

Gossard artistry introduced the idea of classifying women into nine ideal figure types and using this classification as the designing fundamental to create special corsets for their varying needs.

Gossard TYPE CORSETRY is an unfailing foundation for becoming dress and this special demonstration by an accepted style and corset authority is truly important to every woman who would make the most of her personal charm.

THOS. WILLIS BURIED HERE MONDAY AFTERNOON

Funeral services of Thos. Willis were conducted Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Methodist Church by Rev. J. T. Griswold and Dr. G. S. Slover. His remains were laid to rest in the Clarendon Citizens Cemetery.

Mr. Willis died Sunday at his home in Amarillo and his body was shipped here for burial. He was 80 years, 6 months and 26 days of age. Deceased was at one time a resident of Clarendon, having held the office of public weigher for a number of years. His son, Wade Willis, was formerly county clerk of Donley county and his granddaughter, Miss Faulette Willis, is now secretary for the Clarendon Light and Power Company. Mr. Willis has made his home in Amarillo several years.

MIDGET PUPS AND COLTS PLAY A TIE

In a very sensational game lasting from five to six o'clock Monday afternoon, the Midget Pups of Clarendon College and the Little Colts of the High School battled to a draw. When the reporter says between the hours of five and six, he means just that. By an improvement on the Walter Camp rules there were no quarters, halves or intermissions—just an hour of straight-ahead football which the few eye witnesses truly enjoyed. By common consent or some other reason the field generals of the two little teams seemed constitutionally opposed to punting on the fourth down, no matter how many yards there remained to gain. The Midget Pups kicked once from behind their own goal when they held the little Colts for four desperate downs, and the Colts kicked once about midfield when the necessary ten yards didn't materialize in the required downs. Truth of the matter is both teams with a little coaching could be smoothed into a real miniature football machine, for the little fellows have the wind (just think of that straight hour,) they have the fight, and speed in their middle name. The Little Colts excelled in line plunging, but the Midgets had it on 'em in end-runs. Passing was ineffective on both sides, except once when the Colts completed a pass and threatened to score. The man that pulls the whistle at the city pumping plant didn't know his whistle ended a football game, but it did—every fellow instantly quitting his place in line and saying "fellows, I gotta go."

The family of J. C. Guest left this week for California with their household goods and will make their home in that state in the future. Mr. Guest has been out there for some time and recently made arrangements to move his family. He will continue to follow the carpenter's trade.

J. R. Edmonds of Bryan, district demonstration agent, was in Clarendon on business Tuesday.

MRS. PATMAN TELLS OF TRIP TO "HOME TOWN"

I left Clarendon on a late train the evening of Sept. 12th and missed my train out of Fort Worth, went over to Dallas and spent a day and night with a granddaughter and caught the M. K. T. at 8:00 a. m. and went over to Como by 1 p. m. Spent the night with a daughter, met a brother there waiting for me to accompany him home at Bernice, La., the land of my birth and childhood days. I moved from there with my mother and three brothers, fifty-two years ago.

Oh! the many changes that have been made in that length of time. On Sunday I went to my old home church, where I was converted fifty-nine years ago. Later I visited the silent city of the dead where my father was buried, just sixty years to a day, the 21st of Sept. 1862. He was a Confederate soldier and gave his life for his country. As I stood there time seemed to turn back 60 years. I could see the open grave with all the fear and dread that childhood has of such things. I think I realized more than ever before how good God has been to me. There as I strolled over the old cemetery and read the inscriptions on the tombstones I found where nearly all of my loved ones and friends had gone.

Of all I left there fifty-two years ago, I only found six persons, two cousins and four friends. Most of their descendants are there, and so many of them came to see me and all vied with each other showing me a good time. After nine days spent so pleasantly with my brother and wife, some cousins and dear friends, on the 25th of Sept. I started on my return trip, stopped off at Ruston with a cousin, Dr. Harper. After spending a day and night in his pleasant home I went over to Shreveport where I had to wait 23 hours. (oh these strikes are such an awful nuisance). Next day on to Avinger, Texas, where I spent 24 hours with a niece, then on to Como to visit my daughter. After three weeks with there and at Sulphur Springs with loved ones I turned my face westward, and on the 14th of October, I arrived at Clarendon, Home Sweet Home.

Mrs. W. A. Patman.

METHODIST WOMEN WIN IN ATTENDANCE CONTEST

The Methodist women won over the men when they attended last Sunday's services 259 strong. Sunday was "Ladies Day" and the women of the church realized their determination to surpass the attendance of the men at the services of the previous Sunday. The previous Sunday was "Men's Day," and they had 210 present.

The last two Sundays at the Methodist church have been occasions of a sort of contest between the men and women of the congregation. Each class had charge of the services on the evening of their respective days and every effort was directed to outdo the other, both as to the program and as to the attendance. On "Men's Day," the young men of the church had charge of the services and rendered a most excellent program. The young ladies had charge of last Sunday's services and whether or not they surpassed the men depends upon the person to whom the question is addressed.

REV. GRISWOLD ASKS FULL ATTENDANCE SUNDAY

Inasmuch as next Sunday is the last before conference, Rev. J. T. Griswold requests a full attendance at the services of the Methodist church. There are a number of things he wishes to say to the congregation and he intends that Sunday shall be in the nature of a "rally day."

W. T. HAYTER DIRECTOR SERVICES CONFERENCE SUNDAY

The services at the Methodist church on Conference Sunday, Nov. 5th, will be in charge of W. T. Hayter. Services in the morning will be devoted to a discussion of church affairs from the laymen's view point. In the evening the choir will render a musical program which includes several instrumental numbers.

Mr. Hayter urges that there be a full attendance at these services. Everybody is cordially invited to be present. The programs will be printed in the News next week.

CLARENDON LOSES GAME TO CHILDRESS, 7 TO 0

Failure at critical moments cost the Clarendon high school football team the game with the Childress high aggregation on the local grid-iron Tuesday afternoon. In spite of the fact that the locals outplayed the visitors in every department of the game, their inability to take advantage of opportunities when a successfully executed play meant a touchdown gave the game to Childress by a score, 7 to 0.

The only score of the contest came in the third quarter. Childress kicked, held Clarendon for downs on their twenty-yard line and backed across for a touchdown. Practically all gains by the visitors were through the line. Clarendon resorted to their characteristic open playing and swept the opposition from one end of the field to the other, only to lose a chance to score by a dropped pass or a misplay of some character. Of thirty-two attempted passes, Clarendon completed twenty-three. They were held for downs on only three occasions. The loss of the game is readily understood in view of these facts and even spectators were at a loss to satisfactorily explain Clarendon's defeat.

However, the Childress boys did not return any too highly elated over their accomplishment for they came here touted as a machine superior to Clarendon in every respect and boasting of the high score they intended to run up. They met the surprise of their life in the stubborn defense of Clarendon and the lightning-like execution of passes.

MAJOR SIMPSON RECEIVES OFFICIAL COMMENDATION

Major E. A. Simpson arrived in Clarendon Wednesday morning. He has been at the head of the legal department of the National Guard during the period of marshal law at Denison but was relieved of duty when Governor Neff superceded the system of jurisprudence with the "Open Port" law last Saturday. The major holds the distinction of having prosecuted the first case under the "Open Port" law to come before the courts. He has had charge of the prosecution of a number of these cases over the state.

In acknowledgement of efficiently performed duties, Major Simpson is in receipt of the following letter of commendation from Col. C. W. Nimon who was in command of the troops at Denison:

"The Governor of Texas, has by his proclamation, bearing date of October 19, 1922, declared Marshal Law at an end in Justice Precinct No. 2, Crayson County, Texas, effective 6 p. m., October 21, 1922. This brings to a close one of the most difficult and important tours of duty that National Guard troops are called upon to perform. As commanding officer of the Marshal Law Zone, I have at all times felt myself in need of competent and loyal legal advice which you unhesitatingly gave me. It has been a real pleasure to have had the benefit of your association in this work and I have found your advice and counsel on the problems that have confronted me, clear, sound and invaluable, and I wish to congratulate you upon the work you have done here and to assure you that you have performed your full duty as a member of my staff in an efficient manner, satisfactory to me.

"Copy of this letter is being mailed to your commanding officer and to the adjutant general of Texas to be filed with your efficiency record."

(Signed "C. W. Nimon"

PUPS LOSE GAMES TO MEMPHIS AND PAMPA

Two defeats within the last week is the record of the Clarendon Pups. They were romped on by the high school in Pampa Saturday to the tune of 33 to 0 and Tuesday at Memphis the high school of that city took their measure with a field goal. The game ended 3 to 0 in favor of Memphis.

The Pups were clearly outclassed in every phase of the game at Pampa and the result of the game was never in doubt. The locals put up a listless fight while the Pampa boys displayed a remarkable improvement over their early season form. Their interference had been materially strengthened and they uncoiled a variety of plays that swept the Pups off their feet. Henry and Lewis is the backfield and Leuter in the line showed up particularly well for Pampa while Self for the Pups played a splendid game.

The contest at Memphis Tuesday was a real football game, both teams displaying exceptional strength on the defensive. The Pups developed the old fighting spirit and evidenced a remarkable improvement over their exhibition on the Plains. The only score either team was able to count was a field goal by Memphis.

CLARENDON CHRISTIANS GIVEN RECEPTION IN HUNNEWELL, KANSAS

A party consisting of W. J. Liesberg and wife, Mmes. J. R. Douhitt and W. Goldston, have returned recently from Hunnewell, Kansas where they attended a debate. Dr. John W. Tyndall, of Atlanta, Ga., having challenged Rev. A. O. Colley of Dallas, to meet him there at the Christian Church on the 9th and 10th and before going on the floor for the first session Dr. Tyndall, challenged Rev. Colley, again on the same propositions, to meet him in Dallas in ninety days.

Rev. Colley accepted, but later as the debate progressed, came on the floor with a revised proposition, asking for a change which Dr. Tyndall granted, and accepted without hesitation.

The debate, in every way was an eminent success from the Bible standpoint. The ardent speakers as students have studied much and long in order to give to those in attendance the things God said about what was should be and is.

The delegation was received by Dr. Tyndall, and later in the evening were given a wonderful reception by all members of the Christian Church, and each and everyone who were in the party regretted very much when time came to leave and hope to again be the guests of the good people of Hunnewell.

On the morning after the debate, and as time had come to start on the homeward journey, the party were guests of Dr. Taylor and wife, of Braman, Okla. Dr. Tyndall came that far on the return trip, in order to be with the people from Clarendon as long as possible, and while in Braman, sought Rev. Colley, in furtherance of the coming event at Dallas. Dr. Tyndall, requesting that the speakers have a stenographer to take the debate down in full, Rev. Colley not desiring to do so.

However, Dr. Tyndall will have the entire proceeding taken and then it can be published in its entirety. Dr. Tyndall is affirmative, though is being compelled to follow the negative, and not as before stated, which is in error.

Said, debate will be well advertised, and people will be there from most every state in the union, many from Clarendon, are already making plans to attend.

JOE ROMEO IN BUSINESS AT WASHINGTON D. C.

Friends of Joe Romeo will be glad to hear that he is again in the United States, the owner of a business in Washington, D. C., and doing well. This information is contained in a letter from Joe to the News in which he encloses check for subscription.

Joe Romeo will be remembered as having lived in Clarendon for several years. He was employed in Rathjen's shoe store but resigned when the World War broke out and was a member of the 5th Calvary band during that conflict. After the armistice he returned to his work here, saved up his money and went to Italy for a visit. But he tells in his own words what he has done since he left Clarendon:

"I came back from Italy last December and I have been in Washington since. I have little business here and I am doing pretty well. I am married and have a baby girl, too. You see how many things happen in a few years.

"We have lots of good papers here. I am subscribe to the times, one of Mr. Heart papers--and also I get a Italian paper from New York, but still I am not satisfied. I like to read the news of that little city in Texas where I live for five years and where I have many friends, especially the brothers of the Masonic Lodge of which I am still member."

TENNIS MEET IN PROGRESS

Interest being manifested by the net men indicate that the annual tennis tournament being held on the tennis courts at Clarendon College will prove to be the most attractive of its kind ever held here. The number of contestants is larger than usual and an excellent brand of tennis is being displayed. The wearers of the green and white have every hope of winning the championship of the Panhandle this season.

LYCEUM CONCERT FRIDAY EVENING WAS APPRECIATED

"An unqualified success and one of the most interesting programs of its kind ever rendered in Clarendon," was the common comment of those who heard the rendition of Misses Poppe, Verharr and Foster at the Clarendon College auditorium Friday evening. The occasion was Clarendon's first Lyceum number and an appreciative audience that crowded the hall frequently applauded throughout the evening.

Miss Poppe is a singer of international renown and her renditions Friday evening convinced all who heard her that her ability as a singer had in no way been exaggerated. She featured a group of songs including a French production and an Aria.

None the less enthusiastically received were the numbers by Miss Verharr who is a cellist with few equals in this country. Her parts consisted largely of some famous Russian and Hungarian folk-songs. The ability of Miss Foster as pianist added greatly to the success of the program.

LOCAL GUARDSMEN WILL MEET TOMORROW NIGHT

All members of Co. H are called to meet in full uniform at the armory at 7:30 tomorrow evening for the purpose of getting the equipment in shape for a final inspection by Major W. L. Culberson to be held Monday. This order has been issued by Lt. Geo. Taylor, company commander. Lt. Taylor added that money for the payroll is expected to be here by Friday and the boys will get their money at the meeting.

Major Culberson was through Clarendon Monday and made a trial inspection but proceeded on to look over the companies further up in the Panhandle and promised to return next week. He was accompanied by Lt. Harston of Hereford.

Lt. Taylor and the remainder of the boys in Co. H were relieved from duty when Governor Neff lifted martial law last week and superceded it with the "Open Port" law. The lieutenant arrived in Clarendon Saturday. It is expected that the Clarendon boys will all have returned home by the latter part of the week.

STORES MAY CLOSE FOR FOOTBALL GAME TOMORROW

A movement is on foot among the business men to effect an agreement to close all stores and places of business during the football game between Clarendon College and Decatur Baptist College tomorrow afternoon. Those who are behind the movement point out that this will probably be the biggest game in the Panhandle this season and that practically all clerks will want to get off to attend. Furthermore, they say, the visitors will practically all be in the game and there will be little business transacted even though the stores remain open.

The Decatur game has been well advertised all over this section of the country and one of the largest crowds ever assembled in Clarendon is expected to be present tomorrow. The business men are behind the Bulldogs and say that to close the stores for the event will be one way to evidence their support.

LOCAL CALVES ARE SHIPPED TO IOWA

Lewis Liebernicht loaded five cars of cattle Monday night to be shipped to Muscatine, Iowa. The shipment was billed to his son there and will be fattened before they are sold. Mr. Liebernicht also loaded out a lunch of stock from Groom this week.

LOTT VS. DODD CASE COMPROMISED TUESDAY

The verdict of the jury in the Lott vs. Dodd case read before the court Tuesday morning was somewhat of a compromise acknowledging to a certain extent the justice of both the claim of the plaintiff and the counter claim of the defendant. The case will probably be appealed.

The case has been before the local county court for several days and attracted quite a bit of attention. It was a civil suit and both sides had a large number of witnesses. Quite a number were from out of town.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY HOLDS SOCIAL MEETING

Social meeting of the Missionary Society according to the regular schedule of meetings, Wednesday, Oct. 18th, was the day for the social meeting of the Missionary Society of the Methodist women. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. G. M. Richards and about thirty women were present. They had been asked to come early and bring needles and threads and they complied with both requests. Two machines were ready for use, a deputation of "cutters out" were on the job, and soon every woman was busy at some kind of sewing, making over garments for unfortunate children and making quilts for the institutions of the church.

From its beginning about forty years ago, the Missionary Society has been busy at these two lines of work--sending the gospel to those who have it not, both at home and abroad, and caring for the needy in our own midst and the needy who are gathered into various institutions maintained by the church. The Clarendon Missionary Society has not lagged behind in any of these things. Besides supporting a Bible woman in Mexico, a Bible woman scholarship in China and a scholarship in Korea as the specials, this society has paid each year about $450 for the home and foreign work, and in addition to this has spent hundreds of dollars in caring for the needy and unfortunate in our own midst, as well as in upkeep of the church and parsonage, the entire furnishings of the parsonage having been paid for by the Missionary Society. No case of need has ever come to the ears of these women but that help was given.

In addition to this, the Missionary Society provides for the intellectual growth and development of its members. A splendid mission study class is just beginning its fall work studying, "Building With India" with Mrs. Frank Pounds as leader. The study proves to be very interesting. Refreshments of chicken salad and coffee were served at the close of the social meeting.

DISTINCTION LIST FOR FIRST MONTH

Total enrollment of and distinction list of the first month of the 1922-23 session of our city schools closed Friday, October 6th, 1922. The reports on file show that the total enrollment up to that time was 641, and that the distinction list for the first month was 108. Of the 641 enrolled in all schools for the month, 208 were in the high school, 112 were in the sixth and seventh grades in the high school building, and 312 in Central Ward. Of the 108 on the distinction list, 49 were in Central Ward, 41 in the sixth and seventh grades in the high school building, and 18 in the high school. There were only 33 tardies for the entire month and the number of visitors for the month was 98. Five rooms averaged more than 97 per cent in attendance for the month. They were as follows:

Miss Sybil Smallwood's room—98.08 per cent.

Mrs. Nelson's room—98.72 per cent
Miss Vesta Chrisman's room—97.46 per cent.

Miss Jackson's room—97.27 per cent.

The distinction list found below is composed of those who averaged 85 or more for the month. Those who averaged 90 or more are recorded with highest honors (Summa Cum Laude), and those who averaged 85 or more and less than 90 are recorded with high honors (Magna Cum Laude).

The entire enrollment for the first month is slightly less than for the first month last year, the enrollment for the first month last year being 681. It is believed that when those who have been compelled to remain out of school for a few weeks to gather their crops enter school the enrollment will exceed that of last year. Although it has been necessary to put one section of the sixth grade in the auditorium of the high school building until the new building is ready for use, the organization and discipline in the schools is better this year on the whole than in the past and satisfactory work is being done in all departments. The report on the distinction list follows:

THE ABILITY TO REASON A NECESSARY QUALITY FOR CITIZENSHIP

ARTHUR T. HADLEY

We are getting ready to be intelligent citizens—men who can judge public affairs, do independent thinking on national problems, and lead the nation into right lines of policy. Democracy needs this sort of leaders even more than it needs doctors or engineers; and it finds them very scarce. It is a good thing for a nation to have skilled medical advisers and skillful engineering experts. But it is an even better thing to have the energies of the nation as a whole wisely directed. The health of the body politic is more important than the health of one man or a hundred men. The waste due to misguided legislation is ten times greater than the waste due to miscalculated force. It is more fundamentally essential to preserve the country from political dangers at home or abroad than from the physical dangers which beset individuals.

The source of these dangers to the body politic lies in the fact that most people in their political and social relations are guided by emotion rather than thinking, intuition rather than judgment. They alternate between unreasoning selfishness on the one hand and unreasoned benevolence on the other. The history of Greece and Rome and the cities of Mediaeval Europe show how this difficulty over and over again has wrecked democratic government and brought nations which were once free under foreign rule or domestic tyranny.

First, we must know how to find out facts; where to look for them, evidence for one statement or another to test them, how to judge them in the face of our prepossessions. This is often a difficult task. We are always tempted to "accept the statement which is easiest to understand, instead of the one that is most scrupulously near the truth; to take our knowledge from the highly colored phrases of the novel or the newspaper, rather than from laborious investigation of our own. Our eye is so caught by the label, the headline, or the advertisement, that we feel no impulse to test the underlying reality. The bane of American work as a whole, both public and private, is the unwillingness of our people to take trouble to get things right.

But we must do something more. It is not enough for us or for the country to face facts truthfully. We must know the relative importance of different kinds of facts. The man who has facts at command, knows their relative values, and understands the art of stating them in proper order, is the guide whom the people crave. Men sometimes talk of the selfishness of the masses or of their lack of intellectual curiosity. The trouble is not so much selfishness as restricted vision; not lack of curiosity, but desire to gratify that curiosity too easily. The man whose study of language has taught him to avoid unnecessary words, and whose study of mathematics or of law has taught him to take his thoughts to pieces and put them together again until he has arranged them in the form of proof, goes out into the world equipped as a leader of men. His it is to lift them above their prejudices. His it is to help them to wisdom which the citizens must possess in order that a free commonwealth may remain free. His it is to develop the rational patriotism and rational religion on which permanent freedom must rest.

HURRAH FOR WEST TEXAS!

West Texas has California backed off the map when it comes to the devotion of the people for their own land. California long has boasted of the ability of her people to shout the praises of California, but in this line they have nothing on the people of West Texas. And the people of California are no keener in working for the development and progress of their state than are the people of West Texas.

West Texas is a great agricultural country. It was long the greatest livestock raising section of all the United States, and yet is, but the livestock raisers have learned to make use of forage crops and grain in combination with range grasses, so that they can get better results today off one acre than formerly off fifteen acres. They are raising graded and registered stock, too, instead of the longhorns, thereby getting better prices when they send the animals to market.

West Texas captured eight blue ribbons at the State Fair in Dallas for country agricultural exhibits, taking all the blue ribbons in sight. Some of the products are off irrigated lands, but irrigation is yet in its infancy in West Texas. With soil, climate and irrigation, West Texas will, within a few years, take rank as the greatest agricultural section of the United States.—Fort Worth Record.

PLOWED ACROSS STATE

D. B. Holcomb has just completed a contract with the Santa Fe in which he plowed twice across the Panhandle, from Shattuck, Okla., to Clovis, N. M., and from Canyon to Floydada and back. It required thirty-seven days to do the plowing. He used ten mules, three men, two disc plows and a chuck wagon.

He states that the plowing was easy most of the way, excepting north of Canadian when the sandhills were struck, and in places it required six mules to pull the chuck wagon. Two furrows with the double disc plows were plowed on either side of the right-of-way, for the purpose of preventing the spread of fire from the railroad property.—Randal County News.

DENVER SIGNS LABOR TERMS

UNION SYSTEM EFFECTED CALLING FOR INCREASES OVER LABOR BOARD AWARD.

Although little can be learned from local railroad men concerning the matter, dispatches from Fort Worth say that the Fort Worth & Denver Railway company has, through its vice president and general manager, F. E. Clarity, signed with the system chairman of the shop crafts an agreement covering the working conditions and wages governing the men employed on the Denver and Wichita Valley systems. The contract is with the new employees of these systems under the name of Mechanical Employes of the Fort Worth & Denver City and Wichita Valley Railways.

The agreement stipulates an increase in pay over the terms set forth by the Labor board of which the strike called in July was a protest. It also calls for an eight-hour-day with time and a half for overtime, Sundays and holidays. On the average the rate will be about two cents an hour above the Board's award. The terms are arranged so the rate of pay is governed by the degree of skill demanded by the job.

The plan is based on the theory of system unions organizations which has been tried by some of the largest industries in the United States successfully. A notable example of an effectively functioning "system union" is that of the Ford automobile company.

Following is a partial list of the new rates:

Mechanical department (including coppersmiths, boiler makers, machinists and coach department) 72 to 85 cents; lead mechanics, 85 cents; blacksmiths, 72 to 82 cents; painters, 60 to 80 cents; passenger car painters, 72 to 80; truck, platform and car painters, 60 to 72 cents; freight car repairers, 54 to 65 cents; working foreman, 75 cents; workmen on engine trucks, spring and break rigging, 68 cents; drill press workman, 63 cents; helpers, 47 to 49 cents.

ALVIN M. OUSLEY OF DENTON LEGION NATIONAL COMMANDER

The American Legion closed its fourth national convention in New Orleans Friday by unanimously electing Alvin M. Ousley of Denton as its national commander. The strange part of Mr. Ousley's elevation is that his "boom" was started by other Southern states and did not even receive the support of the Texas delegations until the latter part of the session. The Texans hesitated to support Mr. Ousley for commander until they had been released from instructions received at the Waco convention to the effect that they were to boost Wayne Davis for one of the vice-commanders. Whole-hearted support from his home state did not crystallize for the Denton man until local posts of Texas wired their representatives to get behind him.

The ex-service men re-affirmed their position in favor of the adjusted compensation bill and severely criticized General Sawyer, President Harding's personal physician, who has charge of the hospitalization of disabled men. Among the last actions taken were the tabling of resolutions regarding the Ku Klux Klan and the Volstead act. The session at New Orleans is declared to be the stormiest ever held by the Legion.

The next national convention will be held at San Francisco.

INDUSTRY DEVELOPMENT IS INDICATIVE OF INCREASE IN BUSINESS

New York, Oct. 25.—Developments of the past week in industry and finance are encouraging in many respects. Wholesale and retail activity in particular increased perceptibly being partly stimulated by the cooler weather. Continued strength in prices for farm products, however, over-shadowed for the moment other important industrial factors. Although cotton growers have sold the staple heavily, excellent buying by the foreign and domestic trade has given the market the needle support. A tardy awakening of spinners to the fact that a real shortage may have to be faced later, it is pointed out, is responsible for much of the present active demand. Cotton futures at 22c a pound or better are selling at the beginning of drastic deflation in 1920. The effect on the south's purchasing power already is apparent.

Prevailing grain prices also contrast sharply with the recently low levels and with prices of a year ago. While fear of war in the Near East gave this market its first impetus, continued strength since the smoothing out of the difficulties in that situation indicate a healthy statistical position. Reports of shortage abroad have been an important factor in the market of late. This has offset heavy marketing of grain, which has gone on apace in the face of a shortage of railroad cars. With wheat close to $1.15 a bushel at Chicago, the farmer is getting around $1.00 a bushel. While he may not realize any great profit at this figure, the fact that he is receiving nearly twice as much for corn as a year ago and that other farm products are plentiful and the transportation situation is no longer menacing, sales of finished steel are smaller and the demand for prompt delivery is less insistent. The industry has made up all the ground lost in the late summer and the trend is toward quieter conditions with prices working lower. Operations are being carried on at a rate close to the highest for the year—75 per cent of capacity. Steel has piled up at the mills on account of lack of transportation, but the volume small as compared with the middle of 1920. Coal output meanwhile increased somewhat during the past week. Bituminous coal is being mined at the rate of ten million tons a week, and anthracite production continues at approximately two million tons. While total output is perhaps less than required for consumption and building up of stocks, danger of suffering from possible shortages has passed. Declining fuel prices indicate the easier situation.

While the federal reserve system's weekly statement indicates discounting by interior banks to obtain funds for the movement of crops, bankers report an increasing supply of money coming in from the interior to this market. It seems therefore that no immediate tightening in the general money situation is in prospect. Commercial paper rates show a seasonal tendency to harden.

Exclusive Pictures of Amundsen in Arctic Snows Making Ready for Air Trip to North Pole.

In a door of a little hut 80 miles from Point Barrow, in the Arctic wastes, stands the grizzled and grey explorer, Capt. Amundsen, awaiting what seems an opportune hour during the long Polar night for the first airplane flight over the Top of the World—to the North Pole. These exclusive photographs are the first brought back of the hearty Norwegian explorer since his ship "Maud" anchored off Point Hope. Lower picture show Capt. Amundsen helping his crew unload the motors for his airplane. To the right, Capt. Amundsen in the door of his hut at Wainwright. Amundsen will fly an American all-metal plane.

Poem by UNCLE JOHN

I love to talk with fellers, with a glitter in their eye, in defiance of the panic that is slowly passin' by. . . . I love to see 'em swagger, an' to elevate their chin—an' to hear 'em speak of pluggin' till their ship comes in. . . .

I like to run across 'em, as we travel on our way. . . . I take a lot of stock in what they do, an' what they say. . . . I get my inspiration, and the firm desire to win, from the feller that's a-pluggin' till his ship comes in.

I ain't got time to listen at the bird of grim despair,—that dotes on disappointments, till they get him by the hair,—but you'll see my spirit quicken, like you'd smack me with a pin—when my neighbor speaks of pluggin' till his ship comes in!

HOMEY PHILOSOPHY for 1922

WHAT a wonderful boy they say he is—David Gladstone, fifteen years old, four feet tall, and yet a freshman in the College of Arts and Pure Sciences of New York University. He plans to enter law school as soon as he has completed his college requirements. Education? A prodigy, one of the seven wonders of the world. Ain't it a funny idea when those who see the setting of the sun know that a boy of seven—the age of reason—always has a much better education than Gladstone when he is taught, and really learns that happiness comes from making the other fellow happy. That's the meat. Why fuss over the trimmings?

TEXAS LEADS OTHER STATES IN FEDERAL AID FOR GOOD ROADS

Texas, with the largest Federal appropriation for roads, is leading all other States in Federal aid high-ways.

Plans submitted by the Texas Highway Commission, for a total of 3,764.4 miles of road have been approved by the Secretary of Agriculture. Texas leads in the amount of work under construction being 1,408 miles estimated to cost $20,679,793 as compared with New York 507.2 miles estimated to cost $20,366,364, and Nebraska 970.2 miles estimated to cost $5,393,415.

10 Per Cent Completions

Ten per cent of all completed Federal aid highways are in the State of Texas. The later reports show the mileage of completed Federal roads in the United States to be 14,852. Texas has completed 1,470 miles at a cost of $17,009,664. On this mileage Texas has collected $6,651,509 from the Federal Government. The total Federal aid paid the State including projects completed and those under construction amounts to $10,795,589. There is due the State on uncompleted projects an additional amount of $1,510,011, thus making a total of $12,305,600 Federal funds which the State is entitled to receive in reimbursements. This exceeds the amount of any other State, the nearest being Pennsylvania which has completed work on 1,174.4 miles.

STATES IN FEDERAL AID FOR GOOD ROADS

Of the entire apportionment to the State of Texas only $23,475,892 is available for actual allotment to other States in Federal aid high-ways.

Projects now pending before the State Highway Commission, for a total of 3,764.4 miles of road have been approved by the Secretary of Agriculture. Texas leads in the amount of work under construction being 1,408 miles estimated to cost $20,679,793 as compared with New York 507.2 miles estimated to cost $20,366,364, and Nebraska 970.2 miles estimated to cost $5,393,415.

State Has Advantage

Construction conditions are more favorable in Texas than any other State. The long construction season and the low labor cost gives Texas as a decided advantage over any State with but one exception, that labor costs in Texas are cheaper than in any other part of the United States. The East South Central Federal aid highways are in the State of Texas. The later reports show the mileage of completed Federal roads in the United States to be 14,852. Texas has completed 1,470 miles at a cost of $17,009,664. On this mileage Texas has collected $6,651,509 from the Federal Government. MEMPHIS BOYS FINED HERE FOR GAMBLING

Four young men of Memphis were tried here last week before the county court did not gain anything by having their cases transferred from Hall county on the plea of jurisdiction. They did not catch the personnel of the local system of jurisprudence in a very lenient frame of mind with the result that three of the number were "stuck." One of them will have to have a "lucky day" to recoup the sum of $145 which his last experience cost him. Two other who pled guilty came out of the scrape somewhat better financially and the fourth one was released when the prosecution failed to produce sufficient evidence to support the complaint.

MEMPHIS BOYS FINED HERE FOR GAMBLING

The offenders were arrested by Hall county officers and the case came on in that county first but was transferred upon plea by the defendants that the offense was committed west of the line in Donley county. According to reports, the game was staged in the middle of a road and such was the interest manifested that a farmer who desired to pass was obliged to wait until it suited the pleasure of the participants to let him proceed.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Glascoe left Monday night for Chicago in answer to a message calling him to the side of his mother who is quite ill.

THREE GUNS TAKEN FROM KERBOW STORE BY BURGLARS

Three guns, a lot of shells and two thermos bottles were taken from Kerbow hardware store by burglars who entered the store Friday night. One of the guns, of the most expensive make, was left in the store Friday afternoon by a traveling man.

Mr. Kerbow is unable to explain how the perpetrators effected entrance as there were no signs of violence evidencing the use of force. They made their exit by way of the rear door.

This is the second time the Kerbow store has been entered recently. Several weeks ago they lost some guns, shells, and a bunch of knives. On this occasion entrance was gained by prying open the front door.

RAILROADER OWNS PART OF WOOLWORTH BUILDING

Charles O. Walton, a railroad man of Wichita Falls is in New York City, where he was summoned by attorneys to settle a claim on a block of property located in the heart of the business district of that place.

The information received by Mr. Walton was to the effect that the Woolworth Building is one of the buildings now located on the block of land which was formerly owned by the Walton family "and never deeded over."

It is said that the land was originally leased to the Trinity Church for church purposes only, but that years ago the church sold the property.

Christmas Cards Induce Spirit of Optimism

For 1922 years the Christmas holidays have suggested to the world the brotherhood of men and the renewal of friendship. Every Christmas has been symbolized by a closer association—a more intimate knowledge of your relation to fellowman. Such an attitude toward the world inspires unselfish co-operation which, after all, is the epitome of optimism.

There is no more practical way of signifying your solicitude for the welfare of your friends than by remembering them with a Christmas card. The News will have a large variety of patterns this season and will be able to furnish you a quotation of any sentiment you may want to express.
