LIGHT RATE CUT FIFTEEN PER CENT

NEW SYSTEM OF RATES TO TAKE EFFECT WITH BILLING APRIL FIRST

Statement issued from the office of the West Texas Utilities Company the fore part of the week indicates that their rates for the consumption of power and light will be cut with the billing of April first.

The new system of charges will be based on the per room rate that has been almost universally adopted in the larger cities and centers for the distribution of power.

An explanation of the difference in the rates is rather complicated and the management of the local office has asked that the News not attempt to carry a full and detailed explanation on the matter as some misunderstanding might arise from such an explanation.

The rate cut will reach all phases of the uses of the power in the city. Commercial users and home users will benefit alike in the reduction.

WINDY VALLEY PAYS FARMER

DIVERSIFICATION PAYS FOR LIVING—OTHER CROPS ARE CASH

For this week's story, the News will take a long step from a spot some miles North and East of Clarendon to another spot a few more miles to the South of the city.

To begin with, this man has what is known as a hill top farm. To the unobserving, and to the man who has not seen the place, it might occur that this farm would wash badly and that the winds of the early months would blow the crops out completely.

Feedstuffs are raised in sufficient quantity to feed all the livestock on the farm and a barn is provided to care for the stored supply.

Pure bred Buff Orpingtons are raised on this farm and a considerable income is derived from this source.

Cream from fresh cows is sold in all seasons of the year when there is a milk producing cow on the farm.

Hogs are another large item on this farm. The past year, this one man raised twenty head, and killed them at home for the reason that the market would not justify the sale in bulk.

In the presentation of this series of stories, it is not the intention of the News to show any partiality to any part of the county. We will be glad to carry any story from any part of the county where a man is doing diversification and is making his farm pay, where his neighbor with the same acreage of farm is losing money.

One thing the recent moisture did for us—it showed up leaky spots in our roofs, we hadn't suspected for many months.

After the talks Sunday in all Clarendon churches on the necessary of conforming to the ordinance relating to traffic when the fire whistle blows, we may confidently expect to see the streets cleaned and full right of way given the fire truck as it hurries to the fire. Our people are intelligent and reasonable, therefore they will co-operate in the campaign to assist the fire boys arriving at fires in record time, without danger to life and limb.

Clarendon's 1928 Yard Beautiful contest has received its greatest impetus in the recent rains and snow. A splendid showing was made in 1927 in spite of the lack of rain during the growing months, but the present season in the ground affords encouragement to those who would prepare early in the year for the contest which ends in late summer. Chamber of Commerce officials are pleased over the number of potential entrants this year, and when you see a woman working in the yard these spring afternoons, you can bet that the man in the house has entered the lists to win a prize for the most beautiful yard in Clarendon.

CLAIMS VS FACTS

Publicity in this day of exaggeration is like advertising; the facts speak louder than praise. Few merchants now write flowing sentences praising their service. They use their space to give business news, and readers scan the advertisements for the interesting facts and prices therein contained.

So it should be with advertising for communities. Facts, figures, maps, pictures, and comments which show evidence of sincerity make the best impression. There are many places where such matter may be placed, but it requires expense and study to reach these publications. The Panhandle Automobile club recently furnished a good example of the kind of publicity of which we are speaking. It placed a two-page advertising story in the American Motorist, and a map of the Panhandle has, in connection with the story, an appeal which should be convincing.—Pampa News.

Fort Worth's Fat Stock Show will be host to the editors of Texas on Saturday, March 10th, one of the really big days of the big show. A full program of entertainment is arranged—just such Western hospitality as Fort Worth knows how to offer.

Childress is to be host to the Panhandle Press Association on April 20-21. The bustling city is arranging a lavish program of entertainment and the program committee has secured some outstanding talent for the program. Press boys and girls of the Panhandle will be on the job when President Oran Kelly, the smiling Irishman of Spearman gavels the table at the first session.

West Texas won the water rights controversy and won it because of the vigorous opposition of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce to the action of the state board of water engineers in granting water flow of the Colorado river to a power concern to the detriment of municipal and irrigation needs of West Texas. The West Texas Chamber of Commerce did a service in this matter which is worth more to this section than the entire cost of operation of the organization for the year 1928. All the other good offices of the body are, therefore, net profit to this section. Furthermore, the principle established in the water allocation fight, has been worth thousands, maybe millions, to Texas.

COTTON BAGGING ON COTTON

The superiority of cotton bagging as compared with jute as covering for American cotton bales has been demonstrated from a physical standpoint by the United States Department of Agriculture in test shipments of cotton to Germany and return to the United States.

That cotton bagging can be produced as cheaply as jute bagging is questionable, but further experiments will undoubtedly work out cheaper methods of production.

Use of cotton bagging on a large scale would no doubt reduce the price of jute bagging to a point where cotton could not compete with it.

But the factor of reuse of cotton bagging is in its favor. It can be used for certain manufacturing with a loss of only about two per cent in the process. Low grades of cotton, irrespective of staple can be used for bagging.

Working out new uses for low grade cotton and thereby withdrawing it from the market to some extent is a step in the right direction to assist the cotton farmer. If he could be made to benefit from the practice of selling cotton on its net weight and use of a lighter weight material such as cotton bagging instead of jute in the aggregate would mean an increased revenue to the producer.—Plainview Evening Herald.

AN INNOCENT OUTLAW

In the search for farm relief cure-alls, many things that could be done to help the agricultural situation are overlooked. Take the case of corn sugar, for instance.

The scientists in the Department of Agriculture who control the administration of the Pure Food and Drugs Act are depriving American farmers of a market for twenty million or more bushels of corn annually by ruling against the use of corn sugar in certain food products unless such a product is branded as containing dextrose. Corn sugar is dextrose, while cane and beet sugar are sucrose. Both, of course, are sugar, but the scientists declare that "sugar is the product chemically known as sucrose, chiefly obtained from sugar cane, sugar beets, sorghum, maple and palm." Corn sugar is not as sweet as cane or beet sugar, but it is in every respect as wholesome a food, while for some purposes it is superior.

No objection is made when corn sugar is used in the manufacture of candy, ice cream or bread, without designation, but this sugar is held to be an adulterant if so used in canned fruits or vegetables, preserves, jellies, jams, soft drinks, or condensed milk. Corn sugar cannot even be used in the curing of meats, if they are to be branded as sugar-cured.

In short, by denying that corn sugar is sugar in important usages, the super-critics in the Department of Agriculture confine the market for this most healthful product to restricted channels, rob the corn growers of a large market outlet, and compel unnecessarily large importations of foreign sugar.

Bills were introduced in the last congress to give corn sugar its rightful place. Similar measures will be before the present congress. But legislative action should not be necessary. The absurd ruling of the department scientists ought to be changed.

Only ten to fifteen per cent, of the total corn crop reaches the price-making markets. An increased demand for even twenty million bushels in that market would have a decidedly helpful effect upon prices.—The Agricultural Review.

Why Save?

Well, there are a thousand good reasons why you should save, to every one that you shouldn't. There may be sickness, unemployment and many other uncertainties.

It is equally necessary that the average man make his thrift effective by consistently building up his savings and placing them in sound investments that will earn at least a small, regular income. Money employed in honest, successful enterprises, is the most powerful foe of dependent old age.

A large American flag directed the way to the home of Mrs. Frank White, Wednesday afternoon when the ladies of the Aid Society of the First Christian Church, were hostesses to the ladies of the town with a silver tea.

GOOD BUSINESS

Good business principles demand that you have a bank account. It matters not if you are conducting a business with an income of $100 or $10,000 per month, week or year your business methods should be sound. Even the lady who is head of the house is conducting a business that should be along sound lines.

A bank account makes for surer business transactions, more convenience and a better check on what you are doing.

To study the situation with regard to behavior problem girls in public schools of New York City, a committee has been appointed by the superintendent of schools, with a view to the establishment of a probationary school for delinquent girls, as recommended by the teachers' council of the city. The committee is composed of women members of the supervising and teaching staffs of city schools. "Vagabonding" is a growing practice at Harvard University. The term is of recent coinage and it refers to attendance upon lectures not included in the student's regular courses. Professors encourage it, and every morning the Crimson prints a list of lectures of the day which are likely to be of general interest. The lectures themselves supply the information for the list and its publication is in effect an invitation to attend.—School Life.

SECOND OF OPERAS TO BE PRESENTED IS TOLSTOI'S RESURRECTION

"Resurrection" to be presented at Memorial auditorium March 1st, Wichita Falls, following the opera "Aida" on February 29th, is after the widely read story by Leo Tolstoi, Mary Garden will sing the leading role and her support includes other noted Chicago Civic Opera Company stars.

"Resurrection" is in four tableaux or acts. The first takes place on the estate of Anna Pavlovna, aunt of Prince Dimitri Nekliudoff, who has taken into her home the young Katiusha, the child of an unmarried village woman. She has been brought up half lady, half servant.

In her 16th year when Dimitri first knows her, she exerts a physical charm that stirs him and two years later, while visiting his aunt, on his way to rejoin his regiment where he is an officer, he is thrown with her again. The old physical charm, again calls to him and Katiusha, the young and ardent, falls desperately in love with him, yields herself to what she thinks is love and the curtain descends on the lovers in each other's arms.

The second act takes place at a rural railway station, where Katiusha, cast off by Dimitri's aunt when her approaching motherhood is discovered, waits to talk with him as he passes through on the train. In despair she looks through the window of a compartment and is kept from him by a guard, who closes the gate before she can get through. She sees her hope of oral redemption fade away, as the train pulls out with Dimitri and the curtain falls on her disconsolate figure walking from the station.

After the death of her baby, Katiusha follows a life of debauchery until in her degradation she inhabits the lowest places of vice and is imprisoned and falsely convicted of the murder of one of her drunken patrons. Dimitri, who has left the army, is on the jury that tries Katiusha and he recognizes her and realizes he is the cause of her degradation and a fierce complex struggle begins in his soul. He does all he can to save her, but through an error in technicality, through which the jury is misunderstood by the court, she is condemned. Dimitri, who has had a change of heart, resolves to devote himself to the redemption of the girl he has betrayed.

In the third act he visits her in prison. She is so degraded by her former surroundings she misunderstands him when he offers to make her his wife, and being under the influence of vodka she becomes inviting and then begs him for money. When he finally recalls to her the scenes of her girlhood, she turns from the maiden sorrow to bitterness against the man who has set her on the path to such depths, and falls on the floor in the violence of her grief. Dimitri places in her hand a photograph of her he has kept through the years. Holding it she reflects upon the past and falls into grief weary slumbers as the curtain falls upon a scene which has encompassed the gamut of human emotion.

In the fourth act Katiusha is traveling with the political prisoners where she has been placed through the political influence of Dimitri. Dimitri has followed her into exile, still trying to atone to her. It is Easter morning and as Dimitri receives word that Katiusha has been pardoned by the Czar, Simonson, a political prisoner, announces to Dimitri he wishes to marry Katiusha. Dimitri offers Katiusha her choice; Simonson or himself. She tells Dimitri for the final time she loves him deeply, but chooses to cast her lot with Simonson. As the prisoners move away singing "Christ is Risen" Dimitri and Katiusha exchange the three symbolic kisses of the Russian Easter-tide, and Katiusha, slowly shouldering her baggage and without looking back at the man who seduced and redeemed her, follows Simonson toward Siberia.

ISLAND'S ONLY CAR IS CHRYSLER

ANTICOSTI'S CAR HAS NO NUMBER, DRIVER NO LICENSE.—PRIVATE FILLING STATION

Mark Twain, in his "Random Notes of an Idle Excursion", recorded the fact that when he first visited Bermuda there was only one mahogany tree on the island. He knew there was only one, he said, because he was informed by a trustworthy native who passed it often and counted it many times. The genial humorist's informant would find another opportunity to exercise his mathematical talent if he could go the strange island of Anticosti in the mouth of the St. Lawrence river and count the automobile there. He could count it as often as he wished and his total would never vary. Anticosti is a large country, 140 miles long and 40 miles wide, but it has only one automobile—a Chrysler Sedan.

The Anticosti Chrysler has several distinctions that make it unique among all the products of the automobile industry. It is probably the only car in the world that has its own private filling station. It bears no number plates. It has no driver's license. It is not registered by any government. Operating a car in Anticosti is just like operating it in your own back yard, without ever going out on the public highways.

Anticosti, says a magazine writer who visited it recently, is the largest and most curiously administered private domain known in modern history. The whole island, with 3100 square miles of area, a town, churches, a chateau which cost a million dollars or more, forests, minerals and other natural resources of uncounted value, was for 30 years the property of Henri Menier, the French chocolate king.

Until his death in 1914 it was his private hunting and fishing ground, an experimental station where he worked out social and economic theories of life, a feudal seignory in which his word was law for all the inhabitants. He owned it as another man owns a watch or his golf clubs. Local tradition says it cost him $120,000 a year. As he spent only two months of the year there, his hunting and fishing stood him in about $2000 a day.

The island has passed into the possession of the Anticosti Corporation, which now operates it as a lumbering property, the largest in the world, with enormous reserves of timber including 15,000,000 cords of pulpwood ready to be cut. At present the corporation has an annual output of 150,000 cords that yields $15 a cord. The lumbering machinery and equipment on the island are said to be the most up-to-date and efficient to be found anywhere.

As Anticosti is cut off from the mainland by ice in the St. Lawrence for months in the year, Manager J. Henri Valquette, of the Anticosti Corporation, who drives the Chrysler, realizes that he must have an absolutely reliable car that is always ready for use. The nearest garage is at Rimouski, 200 miles across the water and beyond reach during much of the year because of ice. The manager's car must be able to go over rough corduroy roads to any point on the island when wanted and come back without a chance of failure. It must deliver the goods every time. Conditions of this kind determined Manager Val-

PERILS THAT SAILORS FACE IN SUBMARINES

Again the submarine has taken a toll of brave lives. For the second time in two years an undersea boat, this time the S-4, has been sunk off the New England coast by collision, the greatest peril of submarine navigation. Mechanical ingenuity has intensified the submarine's striking power to a high degree, but the safety factor for the men in these steel shells has only slightly increased. The latest American submarine perhaps holds some advantage over one of ten years ago in the margin of safety, but no combination of caution or mechanism can wholly end the danger of collision.

No story of the sea is more interesting than submarine navigation. This story will appear in the Monthly Magazine Section of the Clarendon News, March 15th.

EAST TEXANS TO ATTEMPT TO DISLodge BUFFALOES

Two very important basketball games will be played in Canyon on February 29 and March 1, when the Lumberjacks basketball team from Stephen F. Austin Teachers College of Nacogdoches invades the Plains Country.

These games are the most important to be played on the Buffalo Court for a long time. In fact they are considered as "THE GAMES" by the followers of the Buffalo Herd. The Buffaloes are now leading the Texas Interscholastic Athletic Association and in order to win the championship this year and bring the coveted position to the Panhandle for the second successive year, and for the third time in the past six years, the Buffaloes must win both games.

The boys from the "PINEY WOODS" are making an enviable record in their games, having won and lost about alike; but meeting some of the very best teams of the country. They are bringing a ranga bunch of men with a hope of being able to play over the West Texans and dislodge them from the top round of the T. I. A. A. ladder.

The Buffaloes are pointing to these games, and every indication is that should the Lumberjacks succeed in winning these games or in even splitting the series, two of the best basketball games ever played in West Texas will be the results.

These games will also mark the closing of the career of one of the best basketball men the South has produced, Alex Hale, who is playing his fourth year with the Buffaloes, has been the outstanding forward in Texas Basketball for the past four years. He has twice been captain of the team, and it was largely through his playing that the Buffaloes brought home the championship last season and bid fair to repeat this year. Many West Texas fans will want to see this brilliant player in his last act for West Texas.

DEPUTY COLLECTOR TO BE IN CLARENDON ON MARCH 1

For the convenience of those who are required by law to file Federal Income Tax Returns, a Deputy Collector of Internal Revenue will be at the Donley County State Bank, Clarendon, Texas on March 1st, 1928 to assist taxpayers in preparing their returns. No charge will be made for this service. The matter of filing Income Tax Returns should be given immediate attention, in order to avoid penalty and interest.

Returns for the calendar year 1927 should be filed not later than March 15, 1928, with the Collector of Internal Revenue for the district in which the taxpayer resides or has his principal place of business.

Form 1040A should be used if the income is derived chiefly from salaries and wages and does not exceed $5,000. Form 1040 should be used for net incomes of more than $5,000, or net incomes regardless of amount if derived from a profession or business, including farming, or from rents or sale of property.

J. J. ALEXANDER ASKS OFFICE OF COUNTY JUDGE

The News is authorized to announce the candidacy of J. J. Alexander for the office of County Judge and Ex-Officio Superintendent of Schools. Mr. Alexander has been a resident of this section for the past thirty-eight years, and a resident of Donley County for twenty-seven years of that time. His tenure of office as County Clerk and his subsequent connection with the affairs of the county from the standpoint of an abstract business he feels will fit him for the asked office better than any other of his qualifications. Mr. Alexander states that he plans to make the race on his merits and trusts that every voter in the county will give him their attention and due consideration before casting their ballot in the elections. His announcement will be found in the regular columns of the News from this time forward.

MOSLEY FOR SHERIFF AND TAX COLLECTOR

The News is authorized to announce M. W. Mosley as a candidate for the office of Sheriff and Tax Collector of Donley County, subject to the Democratic primaries.

Mr. Mosley ran a close second in a field of three for this office two years ago. It was not his intention to enter the race now, and he informed a number of inquirers, but his friends over the county have insisted so strongly that he has finally been persuaded to change his mind. And now that he is in the race, he is in it with both feet, and expects to make an active canvass of all parts of the county. He is running on his merits, is thoroughly qualified to discharge the duties of the office, and believes in the square deal to all alike. He says that if elected his motto will be: "A Square Deal To All Alike."

SECRETARIAL SCREENINGS

Clarendon Chamber of Commerce
G. L. BOYKIN, Secretary

We are still working with the view of getting a cheese factory here or some other equally as profitable market for milk. Things of this kind take time. Under present conditions the market for milk is not bad and is improving. What we need is production and the market will come.

Donley County should have its best fair in years this year. While this organization will gladly sponsor the fair the expense is too great to carry alone. To make the fair what it should be some other plan must be adopted for financing. The fair committee of this organization has a real big job. They will need your help.

Donley County farmers are certainly taking to terracing this year. Requests in this office are two weeks ahead for instruction in this valuable means of soil saving. No better work than this could be done on the majority of Donley County farms.

West Texas will have its best chance to show off before the public at the Ft. Worth convention this year it has ever had. Many visitors to the National Democratic Convention will be in the state at that time and the publicity facilities at Ft. Worth are unlimited. Plans should be made early for Clarendon to be favorably represented at that meeting.

There will be several oil tests drilling in this county before the year is over. Geologists say oil will be found in Donley County. In the meantime do not neglect the goose that laid the golden egg. The life of this county is agriculture.

It seems from reports of the state highway commission actions at Austin that at last we are about to receive a state highway designation for the Clarendon-Silverton road. A designation for this road has long been needed and will mean much to Clarendon if it goes through.

IN MEMORIAM

At 2:30 A. M., Feb. 16th, the Lord saw fit to call Bessie Butler to the world beyond.

Bessie, the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Butler was born at Royce City, Texas, Sept. 23, 1906 moving with her family to Clarendon in 1912. It was at Clarendon that she received her education, finishing Clarendon High School in 1926, and enrolling in Clarendon College that Fall. In September 1927 she again enrolled in Clarendon College only to withdraw to accept a position in the White Deer Public Schools where she was teaching when the Lord called. In 1922 she aligned herself with the church and in every act exemplified its highest ideals.

Beloved by all she will be missed, but her friends must find consolation in the fact that the Lord saw fit to use her in his heavenly home. And that the world is a better place to live as a result of her sojourn here. Sunny in spirit, kind and gracious of heart was she.

One who never turned her back but Marched breast forward, Never doubted clouds would break, Never dreamed, though right was worsted, Wrong would triumph, Held she fast to rise, or baffled to fight, Better, sleep to wake.

LAST RITES FOR CLAREN- DON GIRL HELD FRIDAY

Funeral services for Bessie Butler, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Butler were held in the First Baptist Church on Friday afternoon of last week at 3:00 o'clock. Interment was had in the citizens Cemetery. Rev. S. R. McClung conducted the last rites and was assisted by Rev. D. Carver of White Deer who sang a special number by request.

Bessie Butler was the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Butler. She was born in Royce City, Texas on September 23rd, 1906. When her parents moved to Clarendon in 1912, she accompanied them and made her home in this city since that time. She was a graduate of the Clarendon High School, finishing here in 1926. One year was spent in Clarendon College, and the second term was started, to be stopped when she secured the school in White Deer. In 1922 she aligned with the Church and was faithful to this part of her life to the very end. Early in this year she was stricken with a very severe case of smallpox and it is thought that death was caused from this source, although she had apparently recovered and was in fair health when last seen in Clarendon.

The popularity of the young lady was more in evidence at the Church during the funeral than at any other time. A large group of her friends from White Deer were here for the rites and the abundance of floral offerings and other tokens showered on the family brought mute evidence of the high esteem she held among the citizens of both Clarendon and White Deer. Pall bearers were among her close friends and classmates. They are: Rufus White, Paul Montgomery, Robert Dillard, George Esche, Clarence Whitlock and Lloyd Johnson. Flower girls in evidence were also numbered among her close friends and school mates. They are: Mrs. Lenode Goldston, Lucille Goldston, Mrs. L. C. Parker, Jr., Obie Crabtree, Mrs. Josephine Ball, Mrs. Bascom White, Lotta Bourland, Lillian Murphy, Eva Lee Morrison and Ruth McDowell.

Aside from her many friends who remain to miss the loved one, she leaves a large family of relatives to mourn her untimely going. Beside her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Butler, she leaves four sisters and five brothers. They are: Katie, Edna, Nell and Virginia. The brothers are: Erskine, Macklin, Marshall, Eugene and Oscar Junior.

Out of town friends from White Deer will include: Mrs. McCauley, W. H. Clay, Bob Zachry, Edith Simmons, Addine Simmons, Mary Ellen Simmons, Mrs. W. E. Simons, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Dacus, Mrs. Gaston Foote, Rev. and Mrs. D. Carver, Allie Lee Bolton, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Butler, O. K. Clark, Cliffie D. McDowell, Grover Seitz, Glenn Skaggs, Winfield Powers, Gracie Lee Hitchcock, Mr. and Mrs. Kuykendall, Miss Juanita Schaffer, Miss Fretta Dillon, H. P. Barnard, Jr., and Custer Lowary. Other friends are Marion Zachry of Pampa; Warren Lott of Amarillo; Mrs. J. M. Loving of Royce City; Mrs. Fitzpatrick of Ft. Worth. Charles Fitzpatrick and son James of Ft. Worth arrived too late for the last rites.

IN MEMORIAM

At 2:30 A. M., Feb. 16th, the Lord saw fit to call Bessie Butler to the world beyond.

Bessie, the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Butler was born at Royce City, Texas, Sept. 23, 1906 moving with her family to Clarendon in 1912. It was at Clarendon that she received her education, finishing Clarendon High School in 1926, and enrolling in Clarendon College that Fall. In September 1927 she again enrolled in Clarendon College only to withdraw to accept a position in the White Deer Public Schools where she was teaching when the Lord called. In 1922 she aligned herself with the church and in every act exemplified its highest ideals.

Beloved by all she will be missed, but her friends must find consolation in the fact that the Lord saw fit to use her in his heavenly home. And that the world is a better place to live as a result of her sojourn here. Sunny in spirit, kind and gracious of heart was she.

One who never turned her back but Marched breast forward, Never doubted clouds would break, Never dreamed, though right was worsted, Wrong would triumph, Held she fast to rise, or baffled to fight, Better, sleep to wake.

The Libretto of "Aida" was suggested to Verdi by the Khedive, and is by Antonio Ghislanzoni. Aida, daughter of Amonasro, King of the Ethiopians, has been captured by the Egyptians. She is loved by Radames, a young Egyptian warrior, who is sent by his King at the head of the army, to oppose Amonasro, who has made an incursion into Egypt in order to rescue his daughter. Radames returns victorious bringing back among his captives Amonasro, without knowing his identity. The King in gratitude names Radames as his successor, and offers him the hand of his daughter Amneris in Marriage.

Amneris, suspecting that Radames is loved by Aida has her watched. Amonasro conspires to escape and draws Aida and Radames into the plot, which is overheard by Amneris, the High Priest and others. Radames, whose marriage with Amneris is about to take place, determines to flee with Amonasro and Aida, but is apprehended with his accomplices. Radames is condemned to death by being buried alive underneath the temple, despite the intercession of Amneris. The last act

"KING or COMMONER?" No. 4

ECONOMIC SIGNIFICANCE OF THE AMERICAN COTTON INDUSTRY—From latest volume in Manhattan Library of Popular Economics, republished in serial form through courtesy of Bank of the Manhattan Company, New York.

ARTICLE FOUR "COTTON BROUGHT TEARS"

SOMETHING happened in 1926, something that the future historian is likely to set down as the turning point in the story of American Cotton—it was the tragedy of ruinous success.

Upon forty-eight million acres, an army of men, white and black, and even of women and children had been toiling to produce the cotton crop on which their living depended. Anxiously they had watched the weather, and vigilantly they had guarded against insect pests. This time, all conditions had been favorable to a remarkable degree. The stalks had grown thickly, blossomed and then fluffed out in millions of snowy bolls. Nature had smiled, the boll-weep had remained in check and each rejoicing planter had seen a vision of prosperity arising from his fields. Then he sought the market with his precious product, and his hopes crashed suddenly into black despair.

For from all over the cotton fields of the South, there came rolling a snowy flood—nine billion pounds—a billion pounds more than had been expected! Buyers were deluged; prices broke before its onrush. The hoped-for eighteen cents a pound crumbled to a scant twelve cents, which was less than the average cost of production.

Two million farmers and their families confronted ruin. For months most of them had been living on their prospective crops. Pledged at the supposedly safe figure of approximately fourteen cents a pound, it had furnished the credit for purchasing food, clothing and farm supplies. The small farmer who sold twenty bales—ten thousand pounds—was thus two hundred dollars poorer than he had reckoned himself before disposing of his crop. He could not pay his debts to the storekeeper and the banker. "Cotton brought tears instead of cash."

And yet, strange irony of fate! It need not have been a disaster, because only eight months after this tragic sacrifice, the same cotton was selling in the open markets of the world for eighteen cents a pound. The small farmer with his twenty bales might have paid all his debts and then have deposited four hundred dollars in the savings bank, could he have held his crop. Clearly the economics of the cotton industry must be sadly out of joint when so large a section of the nation's hard-working producers could be thus imperiled. There arose from many States a mighty cry for help to which the whole nation turned its attention.

The President appointed a commission to devise measures of temporary relief. Lending corporations were formed and millions of dollars of credit were subscribed to meet the emergency, although little of the money subscribed actually was used. Cooperative associations in some of the States withheld cotton from the market for a time. This experience set men to think-

Two million farmers and their families confronted ruin

They paid them perforce and the prices of their products rose in consequence.

Even the careless public recalled stories of how the German people during the War had been compelled to resort to paper clothing when cotton could not be had, and they remembered from their own experience how difficult and expensive it had been to replenish supplies of underwear and household cloths in the year following the Armistice.

In the light of these experiences, it was realized that the problem of the cotton grower was also one of the manufacturer and of every user of sheets, towels and napkins. It was apparent that the problems of the consumer and manufacturer of cotton goods were of concern to the producer of raw cotton.

The despot and erratic rule of the Cotton Trust must be curbed. America's second largest industry and in urgent need of corrective measures. (Next Article, "From Seed to Fabric")
