DONLEY COUNTY FARMERS APPROVE COTTON ACREAGE REDUCTION

THRONGS ATTEND CALLED MEETINGS

BELIEVED UNANIMOUS CONSENT WILL BE GIVEN REDUCTION IN COUNTY

Magnificent endorsement of the U. S. Government's plan for helping the cotton producing areas of the nation back to prosperity by voluntary reduction of planted cotton acreage was given by Donley county farmers this week.

Answering the call of hastily organized central and community committees, farmers gathered in throngs in school houses all over the county and in the county courthouse Tuesday, Wednesday and today to hear explanations of the plan and receive blanks for making offers of 25 to 50 per cent of their acreage, to be plowed under when a total of ten million acres is announced by Secretary Henry A. Wallace, of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Approximately 250 farmers assembled at the courthouse in Clarendon Wednesday afternoon. G. L. Boykin, as vocational agriculture teacher, is an ex-officio representative of the Department of Agriculture, Donley county having no county agent to handle this cotton acreage reduction program which, in counties having them, is in charge of the county agent. Mr. Boykin distributed copies of the "plow-under" offer and then explained it section by section, inviting questions when he had finished.

It was evident that the majority of the farmers came to the meeting well-informed on the plan. A number of questions were asked, bringing out certain confusing points which were quickly explained to the apparent satisfaction of those present. It was so clearly apparent that the farmers had their intentions already formed that there was no hint of a vote or test of opinion. They were there to obtain blanks and learn what to do with them and how to do it.

Many blank forms were filled out and signed during the afternoon, a large number of typewriters and the services of volunteer typists being enlisted. The work of completing offers of acreage will go on steadily throughout the county until Saturday night—the "dead-line" announced by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. If the vast army

Lower Postage Rate For Routes July 1st

After July 1, a first class letter may be mailed for two cents from Clarendon to an address on any rural or tar route served by the Clarendon postoffice.

It will still cost three cents to mail a first class letter to any address anywhere else than Clarendon or the rural and star routes served by the Clarendon postoffice. But first class letters to or from the Clarendon postoffice, addressed to or from the Clarendon postoffice or any of its rural or star routes will require only two cents postage.

Large Attendance Indicated For Hillcroft Invitation Tournament

Carl Parsons, chairman of the Tournament committee of the Hillcroft Golf Club, is in high spirits over the large attendance which seems assured for the annual Invitation Tournament, to be held here July 4th and 5th.

Invitations were mailed to about 350 golfers and the response indicates that probably 125 or more will tee off on the Fourth. He is confident that the attendance of last year will be greatly exceeded this year. Handsome prizes have been selected for the event, the first

Postoffice to Close Half-day Each Week

Complying with the provisions of the Shorter Work Week Law, recently enacted, Postmaster Chas. H. Bugbee has announced that the Clarendon postoffice will be closed each Wednesday afternoon, all members of the office force taking the required half-holiday on the same day.

The half-holiday could have been arranged so that one person could have been off duty at a time, but Mr. Bugbee and his staff believe that the public will be inconvenienced less by having the full force on the job at all times, except on Wednesday afternoons.

The public is requested to keep in mind the fact that office will be closed, by authority from the Postoffice Department, each Wednesday afternoon only, with no change in the hours of the personnel on other days.

"It is the sincere wish of our force to render the best possible service to our people," said Mr. Bugbee, "and we have felt that the selection of Wednesday afternoon for the half-day closing would be satisfactory to the greatest number."

LIONS OF GROUP NO. 3 MEET HERE

PAMPA, CHILDRRESS, McLEAN, ESTELLINE CLUBS SEND MEMBERS TO MEET

The Clarendon Lions Club was host Tuesday to the quarterly meeting of Group No. 3, composed of Childress, Pampa, McLean, Estelline and Clarendon. Fourteen Lions from the other four clubs were present.

Announcements were made by Lion President Ira Merchant that T. D. Nored, the president-elect, would be sent by the local club to the International convention at St. Louis, July 11-14, and that awnings had been placed over the windows of the Lions room at the Adair hospital, making the room much more comfortable.

Activity reports from the various clubs were next heard. Estelline reported that, although the club membership is small, they had been active in promoting wholesome play for schoolboys, by means of a baseball schedule. The winning team will be given a fishing trip to a nearby lake. The membership is also been quite active in RFC employment work.

C. A. Blanton, incoming president of the Childress club, made an excellent report. His club's activities covered; a cancer case treated numerous times; a team furnished in the drive for Red Cross funds, which put its job over 100 per cent; examination of many school children for defective eyesight and purchase of glasses for several; annual play; netting $116.00, all of which was donated to the Red Cross; baseball game under lights with B. & P. W. Club, netting over $100.00, half of which was given by the Lions to the Red Cross;

NEW DEAL DOLLAR DAY SUCCESSFUL

MERCHANTS' BARGAINS AND FREE AUCTION ATTRACT PEOPLE'S INTEREST

Broader plans for the next monthly "New Deal" Dollar Day, with Free Auction and "Let's Swap" features enlarged, are already being made as a result of the first of these events, held last Saturday.

Fine cooperation by the merchants made possible a combined offering of low-priced merchandise that was reflected in reports of a general increase in sales. The bargain offerings were especially attractive because of the general advance in prices of all kinds of manufactured goods. Dozens and dozens of items were on sale at prices below what the merchant would have to pay for them in the wholesale market. Foolish? No. The merchants owned the goods offered at slightly less than the current market prices and were willing to give their New Deal Dollar Day customers the benefit.

Each fourth Saturday hereafter will be, by agreement among the business firms of Clarendon, "New Deal" Dollar Day, when the lowest prices will be made on a wide range of merchandise, covering almost every home and personal need. The business firms want each "fourth Saturday" to become the trade territory's "get together day," a day when you may feel sure that you will see all your

DRUGGISTS TIE GREASE MONKEYS

OILERS MUST DEFEAT LIONS TO TIE REXALL FOR LEAGUE SERIES

With only three more games to be played, the twilight "soft-ball" league is drawing near its close. The 27 games played have brought many hours of pleasure to both players and spectators, all of whom genuinely regret the conclusion of the league series.

The News has heard rumors of the formation of a new league, but no information regarding it has come to The News from authoritative sources. Rumor has it that efforts are being made to organize at least four Sunday School teams, which with the Legion and Highway teams, would make a six-team league. Attendance on Sunday school would be a requirement of membership of the Sunday school teams. If the rumor is verified by actual developments The News will publish next week all available news on the new league.

In the league series soon to close, the Oilers and the Rexall teams have each played nine games and won seven. Each has one more game to play. Rexall will play the Legion today and the Oilers play the Lions Friday. If each wins, the tie will be played off between the two teams—and that would be a game worth seeing.

The Lions insist that they are going to take the last game with the Oilers—and the Rexall team seems to approve the Lions' spirit; anyway, they are strong for the Lions this week. And Monday the last game comes off between the Legion and Highway. The Legion has two more games to play and the Highway only one.

The present standing of the six teams:

Team	Played	Won	Pct.
Oilers	9	7	.777
Rexall	9	7	.777
Lions	9	6	.666
Baptists	10	4	.400
Legion	8	2	.250
Highway	9	1	.111

Independence Day Proclamation

Whereas it is very important that the American people should always reserve and remember July 4, 1776, as it was one of the greatest days in the history of this nation, on this day the great American Eagle screamed the glad notes of Freedom and Civilization all over this Continent. Therefore it is befitting that each year we should all observe the memory of Independence day, and live closer to God and the flag of our country than ever before.

Now, I, as Mayor of the City of Clarendon, Texas, respectfully request that our citizens observe July 4, 1933 as a holiday and ask the citizens of this city to bow to the flag of this country, and let us have a sane Fourth of July. We should give the God of Heaven the glory for the blessings we enjoy today.

LOCAL LIONS TO ANNUAL MEETING

NORED AND BRASWELL WILL ATTEND LIONS CONVENTION ST. LOUIS, JULY

Following a custom of many years, the Clarendon Lions Club will send its President-elect, T. D. Nored, to the 1933 International Lions Convention to be held at St. Louis, July 11-14, which will be the 17th annual convention of Lions.

Sam M. Braswell, International Director, will also attend the convention, accompanied by Mrs. Braswell. Mrs. Nored will also accompany her husband. Both couples are planning to make the trip by auto in order to make side-trips and will probably attend the "Century of Progress" at Chicago.

The Seventeenth Annual Convention of the International Association of Lions Clubs gives every indication of being outstanding in the majority of its features. An opportunity to visit the great Century of Progress Exposition at Chicago following the close of the convention has proved to be a wonderful attraction for many thousands of the more than 80,000 members of the Association, and it is confidently predicted that all attendance records

WHAT? NO TEXAS EXHIBIT AT CHICAGO? (An Editorial)

The thousands of Texans who are this week attending "A Century of Progress" at Chicago (and there are more than a dozen from Clarendon) will be ashamed when they fail to find an exhibit from the Lone Star State among the magnificent exhibits from other States.

But such is the case—and it might have remained the case if the indignation of the Texas Press Association, in convention at Houston early in June, had not aroused action on the matter. Enough of the big cities pledged sufficient immediate cash to start the work, and an exhibit is now in process of formation.

It will not be completed as planned, however, unless towns and cities alike contribute the necessary amount. Here's the plan: If each town and city will contribute an amount equal to one single penny for each person living in it, an exhibit worthy of Texas can be placed before the hundreds of thousands of people from all over the United States who will visit the great exposition.

Clarendon's quota would be $25 to $30. If Clarendon raises that much, its name will be placed on the Roll of Honor which will be displayed at the Chicago exposition, signifying that Clarendon is one of the towns, is too proud of Texas to permit it to be unrepresented at the greatest exposition ever held in the world.

You will give something toward the fund? If so, telephone The Clarendon News, or mail your check and every cent of it will be used for that purpose. The names of those who contribute to it will be published next week. Attend to it now, while you have it in mind.

Let's help Texas to have a worthy exhibit at Chicago!

RODEO THRILLS HERE NEXT WEEK

NORWOOD AND DODSON PRESENT SKILLED RIDERS IN CONTESTS FOR PRIZES

Cleo Norwood and Murray Dodson, experienced rodeo managers, have completed arrangements for the annual Clarendon Rodeo, to be held July 3-4, on the Chamberlain farm two miles south of town on the Silverton road.

Mr. Norwood is well, and favorably known to rodeo fans of this section, as he has been identified with several Fourth of July rodeos held here in the last three years. Mr. Dodson, whose home is at McKnight, is also well known and the personality of the two men assures a rodeo which will be well-managed and pleasing to riders and spectators alike.

On another page of The News will be found a complete list of prizes offered and rules under which the rodeo will be conducted. A small admission fee will be charged and it is the hope of the managers that the patronage will be liberal. Many of the best rodeo riders in this section of the state have signified their intentions to enter the contests.

The hope of the managers is that the Annual Rodeo will develop into an increasingly large and better Fourth of July event each year. People like to "go somewhere" or "do something of a holiday nature on the Fourth of July and the annual rodeo can easily be developed into an event that will draw crowds from long distances.

The News joins the rodeo managers and the business firms of Clarendon in urging that everybody who can do so attend the Clarendon Rodeo, which begins Monday afternoon at one o'clock. With an excellent program as published on another page of The News.

DEPUTY SHERIFF WEDS ARKANSAS GIRL SUNDAY

Deputy Sheriff Guy Wright and Miss Mozelle Alden, of Bentonville, Ark., were married Sunday, June 25th, at the bride's home. They are expected to return to Clarendon Saturday or Sunday.

The romance began when Mr. Wright met Miss Alden several years ago when she visited her uncle, Clarence Piercy, on the J. A. Ranch. The News joins Mr. Wright's many friends in wishing for the young couple a very happy married life.

Oilers Play Good Game With McKnight

The Clarendon Oilers played the McKnight baseball club at McKnight Sunday afternoon before a large crowd of local and Hedley fans, losing to McKnight by a score of 5-2. The Oilers' team was supplemented by A. J. Dyer and J. P. Rhode. With these two exceptions the team was the same as that playing in the local softball league. At McKnight regulation hard ball was played.

Mike Beard, manager of the Oilers, complimented the clean playing and courteous treatment accorded the visitors by the McKnight team. "They are a fine bunch of fellows, and it's a pleasure to be defeated by such good sports," he said.

Arrangements were made for a game to be played here on July 4th between the Oilers and McKnight, and baseball fans are assured of a ball game that will be fast and snappy. The McKnight team is one of the best in this section of the State, and the Oilers have demonstrated their ability to play a tight game with them. This assures a good Fourth of July baseball game.

The Oilers team has also matched a game with Claude, to be played at Claude Sunday, July 2nd.

RIGHT OF WAY NO. 5 ASSURED

STATE WILL JOIN COUNTY IN SECURING NECESSARY STRIP OF LAND

Instructions to secure right of way for highway No. 5 through Donley county by condemnation proceedings, where necessary, were issued to County Attorney R. Y. King by the Commissioners Court, in session Wednesday morning.

Four owners of farms across which the new highway was being routed by the State Highway Department have refused all offers of the court covering value of land and damages, the offers being based on the finding of the jury of view. The land owners were requested, on two recent dates, to appear before the court to present their claims, but did not appear.

The minutes of the court's Wednesday morning session, relating to the highway matter, read as follows: "Upon motion made by G. W. Beck, and seconded by R. A. Beverly, and unanimous vote, it was voted that Donley county, by and through the Commissioners' Court, hereby agree to secure by purchase or by condemnation a strip of land 50 feet wide (and wider when necessary) on each side of, and contiguous to, the center line of Highway No. 5, as the same is now, or may hereafter be, approved by the State Highway Department, and to deliver a clear title and the possession of said strip of land to the Highway Department as soon as practicable.

"It is the further order of this Court that the County Attorney be instructed to institute condemnation proceedings on behalf of the State of Texas and wherever necessary in order to hasten said road construction and in accordance with the maps and plans of the State Highway Commission.

"It is the further order of the Court that the Highway Department be invited to join by and through the Attorney General's department in said condemnation proceedings, should there be such, and all costs and expenses of securing said right of

Report On Prohibition Convention Will Be Made Sunday By Braswell

An address will be made by Sam M. Braswell next Sunday night at the First Methodist church 8:15 o'clock, on the high lights of the prohibition convention at Austin last Tuesday. Mr. Braswell was sent from Clarendon by friends of the Eighteenth Amendment to participate in the selection of delegates to the state repeal convention, and in his address will bring his hearers many interesting features of the convention.

The delegates who will represent the prohibitionists of the 31st senatorial district at the state convention are John L. McCarty, editor of the Dalhart Daily Texan, and Porter Underwood, Amarillo attorney.

The public is invited to hear the address, which will seek to present clearly the issue before the people and the plans of the prohibitionists for the protection of the 17th Amendment in Texas.

Donley county farmers are keenly interested in the Government's plan for reducing cotton acreage. Inquiry among them has disclosed an almost universal intention to join the movement, and it is safe to predict that the acreage which will be offered to the Government under the proposed plan will be fully up to the quota asked in the county.

Many farmers will agree to it mainly because of the immediate cash which will be paid to them for plowing under their cotton. But a larger percentage of them will do it because of the recognition of cotton acreage reduction as the lever which should operate to bring higher prices for such cotton as will be produced under the plan.

The week ending July 1 will probably go down in economic history as the week during which cotton farmers in the United States declared their independence of the crop to which they have so long been virtual slaves. The cotton farmer has heretofore cherished his right to plant cotton without regard to the probable effect of his planting. Nor does his agreement to destroy cotton which he has planted this year affect in the least the right he cherished, because his agreement is wholly voluntary.

The significant thing is that cotton farmers are this year thinking in unison. They have had ample proof that something has been wrong with the methods which have been followed. They have watched the carry-over of cotton increase each year, setting up a situation which demands a different course of action from that which has been the rule in the past. They see in the destruction of a probable third of the cotton acreage of the United States the disappearance of the carry-over which otherwise would be a bearish influence on the price of the 1933 crop.

Immediate decision must be made by each farmer, however. He must decide at once whether or not he will plow up a part of his cotton. He may offer as much as 50 percent of his crop to the government, but at least as much as 25 percent. And he is offered two options as to payment—one option calling for immediate cash payment in full, the other part cash and a share in the government pool based on his plowed-up acreage. The plans will be explained clearly at community meetings to be held this week.

No one should rejoice in the misfortune which has ridden the owner of Texas' largest wheat farm. Hickman Price believed that wheat production on a large scale would be profitable, regardless of the selling price of wheat. His operations began about the time wheat prices began to decline and he has suffered tremendous losses.

Large-scale farming suffers more than small-scale farming under bad conditions. Losses multiply out of proportion to the profits that the best conditions may bring. The American people have been too much inclined to boast about big farms—about "big" operations of all kinds, mercantile, manufacturing, livestock, farming, and what-not. The truth of the matter is that the town which can boast the greatest number of small farms can boast the greatest number of farm families whom depressions and bad market conditions can hurt least.

Ample authority can be found for the statement that a farm family of five people can enjoy a comfortable living on a 40-acre farm and require less than $100 per year in cash for supplies that can not be produced on the farm. Any town or city, surrounded by 40-acre farms, instead of "big" farms of 160 to 640 acres or more, will be a better business point. And its farm population will be more independent and more happy than "big" farmers. They can more easily get out of debt and more easily stay out of it. The good years, when yields and prices are best, will enable them to equip their homes for more comfortable living. The "bad" years will hold no particular terrors for them, because they will be able to meet the condition with a minimum of worry. They will live well all the time because they are making the farm produce practically all they require.

The farmer has not been alone in trying to be "big." The average merchant who prospers to such an extent that he finds his bank balance larger than he needs begins to plan expansion—a larger store, stock, or another store. His plans usually result in debt that involves what he originally owned debt-free. Something happens to "business" and before he knows it he is in a "tight." It happens to far too many Americans, so many that it may be said to be a characteristic of Americans.

Prosperous days will come again. Some profess to see them very near at hand. Americans—merchants, bankers, professional men, farmers—will find themselves once more making a profit on their operations. One wonders how many will remember to expand their operations only unless able to do it without imperiling with debt what they already own. How much safer it is to establish strong fortifications for what one owns; to make no plans for expansion that would make retrenchment difficult when stormy weather comes again.

Conservatism is sometimes overdone. But it rarely brings the regrets that over-optimism can bring, particularly when optimism is strongly influenced by ambition to be a "big" business man or farmer. It is more than likely, however, that undue and unwarranted expansion will be much more difficult under the new banking methods that are arising out of the wreckage of the depression. It is likely that efforts to obtain financing for expansion of already existing business enterprises or the establishment of new will meet with the frank advice that neither should be attempted, unless growth of the population to be served justifies it. Mere ability to finance new enterprises should not be permitted to threaten adequate and already existing businesses.

THE CHURCH VERSUS THE SALOON

"Whatever may be the outcome of the wet crusade, the Church will carry on the age-long conflict. The anti-prohibition politicians will be very zealous for a while at least in guarding against violations of the law in the states which legalize beer. They are very much concerned for fear that excesses, under the beer regime, will react against the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment. The slogan, in effect, of the leaders of the whiskey group is to keep fairly sober at least until after the election on Repeal. You must observe also that the 'old' saloon is not to be allowed. The tremendous difference is that in the 'new' saloon there will be no brass rails, and the drinker will sit down while he imbibes.

"If beer is not intoxicating, the 'thirsty' will have no interest in it. If it is intoxicating, it is habit-forming. If it is intoxicating, it is a violation of the Constitution. If it is non-intoxicating, then why propose the absurdity of protection of dry states from non-intoxicants? Furthermore, if the testimony, brought out by the wet advocates on the floor of Congress, that beer is a health drink containing the same food elements as milk, except the fat element, is true, then all regulations which discriminate against beer are unjust. It should be welcomed and encouraged as the boon of mankind and womankind, especially for those who are corpulently inclined. It is absurdly inconsistent to represent 3.2 percent beer as healthful and necessary, and at the same time propose any discriminating restrictions. A revenue on beer is the margin of profit which would keep the bootlegger in business. If you want to drive the bootlegger out of business, the legalized beer must be at a cheaper rate than at which he can afford to sell."—W. P. KING, Editor Nashville Christian Advocate.

FIRST WORLD'S FAIR CHEVROLET GIFT TO GIRL

CHICAGO, Ill., June 27.—To an eight-year-old Polish lass whose father works part time as a janitor went, scot free, the first car built on the assembly line operated by the Chevrolet Motor Company on "A Century of Progress" grounds.

The car was a gift of Chevrolet whose president, W. S. Knudsen, insisted that the first automobile of the line be given—rather than to a personage of national or local prominence—to some Chicago school child in or below the eighth grade. Odds against the child's winning were 400,000 to one, for 400,000 tickets requiring the entry of their name, address and school affiliation were distributed to eligible pupils just prior to the close of schools for the season. From the filled in blanks a five-year-old Winnebago Indian in full regalia, off a Fair grounds reservation, drew the winning name in the presence of Vincent Lopez, orchestra leader as principal judge, and Chevrolet and General Motors officials. Out came the name of Miss Dorothy M. Maciejewska, of 2828 West 39th Place, Chicago, who now knows the thrill of falling heir to an unexpected fortune. No member of her family has ever owned a car. A 24-year-old brother unable to get work for some time past will serve as her chauffeur.

One of the first public exhibits of Texas newspapers is being planned for the 1933 State Fair of Texas. Plans are now being worked out by newspaper men of the State, and State Fair officials. The exhibit will be judged and awards made for the best of practically every classification of newspaper printed in Texas.

Modern Electric Service . . . a Partner of Industry

Modern transmission line electric service has played an important and vital part in the progress and development of West Texas. With a new period of expansion awaiting this territory during the next few years—this dependable, economical and elastic power supply is destined to play an even greater role in the industrial drama to be enacted here.

Electricity has been the equalizing force that has enabled progressive small towns to compete on an industrial basis with large centers of population. Because of the adequate, inexpensive power supply furnished to this territory by the West Texas Utilities Company, it is possible for West Texas cities to go after, and secure, the valuable payrolls of industrial establishments. Much progress has been made during the past ten years—and considerably greater advances will be made during the coming decade.

The West Texas Utilities Company, serving 161 progressive cities, towns and communities in this "Land of Opportunity," will continue to work for the development of West Texas. With three major generating stations, nineteen auxiliary plants, more than 2,600 miles of transmission lines and scores of office buildings and warehouses throughout the 250,000 square miles it serves—this company's future and yours are inseparably linked. Working together we will accomplish marvels of progress during the next few years.

Do you know that your increased use of service is billed on a surprisingly low rate schedule . . . and adds only a small amount to your total bill?

"A GOOD FIGHT"

As the Apostle Paul faced death at the hands of the enemies of Christ and the church, he wrote to Timothy a 'd told him, "I have fought a good fight."

To fight a good fight, we must first of all be good. Good is the only power with which we can combat evil. Evil cannot successfully stand up before good. As the warm rays of the morning sun melts away the dew-drops, evil flees when good appears.

To fight a good fight, we must have courage. Courage to do right, regardless of cost. Many times it costs quite a bit to stand up for the right, it takes courage, but the reward is worth working for.

To fight a good fight, we must fight in the spirit of Christ. A good fight cannot have for its motive a desire to harm any one. It is fight against sin an devil that ruins the lives and souls of men.

A good fight, is a fight of love. Paul loved his fellow man. He loved as God had loved him. To fight a good fight against sin, we must love men. Sin seeks to destroy our fellow men. We begin to suffer pretty bad. We failed to receive any of the showers that have been falling near us, the past few day.

must fight sin for the love we have for men, that we may save them from the "wages of sin, death." You may not be an intellectual giant. There may be many questions that you cannot solve, but you can always love. You may have large hope and a boundless faith, but greater than either of these is love. Service performed under the inspiration of love is always effective. Love never fails. (1) If you fail to win men to Christ it is because you do not love them as you ought. (2) If you fail to inspire your church to give to missions it is because you do not love the missionary cause as you should. (3) If you fail to inspire your church members to love God's cause more, it is because you need to love God more. Do everything in love, and let love be the master principle of your life. "People will not quarrel with you if you love them." You can tell them of their sins and short coming, if you love them they can see it is sin you are fighting with and not them.

Our Sunday subjects are: "The Christian Race," and "Bringing Back The King."—W. E. Ferrell, Minister, First Christian Church Clarendon, Texas.

District Judge A. J. Fires was in Clarendon Monday and Tuesday on district court business.

DRY LAW REPEAL IS NOT ENOUGH

Unless all the signs are wrong the prohibition amendment is on the way out.

And while this will be the cue for most of us to rejoice or to weep, depending on our individual attitudes, it would be a very fine thing if we sat down quietly while there is still time, and figure out just what is going to come next.

We have set our faces toward repeal, apparently, and we have done it because the prohibition amendment hasn't worked out nearly as well as we expected it would.

In trying to abolish one set of abuses we saddled ourselves with a new set, and it begins to look as if we aren't going to put up with this new set very much longer.

But while we're getting rid of them, we want to make perfectly sure that we don't revive the old set.

The old-time saloon wasn't a great deal like the speakeasy, but it created evils just as real as those which the speakeasy has created.

It periodically disgorged frowsy drunks in such a way that it was unwise for women to appear unescorted on the streets at night.

It made a sore spot in the neighborhood which women actually feared to pass.

It was a festing breeding spot for rotten politics.

Now there is no sense in our forgetting those facts and pretending that anything at all will be better than the present era of bootleggers, rum runners, crooked officials and shady speakeasies.

We ought to be intelligent enough to find a system that would do away with the evils of the present regime without restoring the evils of the past.

We shan't do it if we try to kid ourselves into thinking that the evils of the past really didn't amount to much.

Finding the right solution is going to take a lot of earnest thinking.

We had better start thinking right now; and, in the process, we want to remember that we have two entirely distinct sets of abuses to correct, and not just one.—Daily News, Tucumcari, New Mexico.

Date Changed For Martin Cream Supper

The "old-fashioned" ice cream supper announced for Saturday night has been changed to Friday night—a day earlier. Everybody is invited to attend the supper and keep the change in date in mind.

Arrangements have been made to have some of the comic songs by Mr. Earthman, of Goldston, whose singing has proven so popular with those who have heard him. The proceeds of the ice cream sales will be used to buy song books and help the piano fund.

Lakeview Woman Is Drowned, Bell Ranch

Mrs. T. M. Isham, 39, of Lakeview, was drowned early Friday morning when a party of picnickers went for a swim in Lake Sealy on the Bell ranch after a midnight upper.

About twenty couples were in the picnic party.

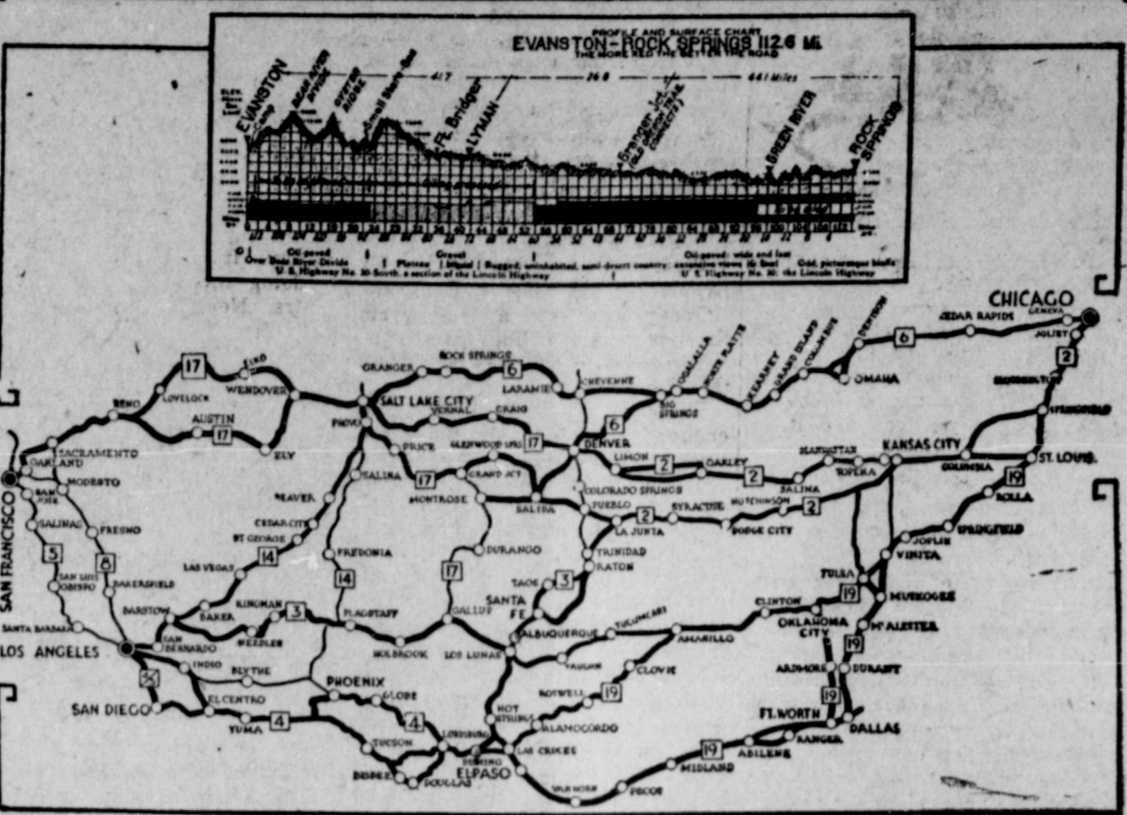

Disregarding warnings from friends, Mrs. Isham announced she was going to swim from a tree in the lake to the bank, some distance away. She dived from the tree and disappeared. The body was not recovered from the very deep lake until nearly nine o'clock Friday morning, when it came to the top about fifteen feet from the bank toward which she had started.

Hearing the woman's cries for assistance, W. W. Williamson and Miss Louise Cunningham went to her rescue, but the effort ended in failure and the near-drowning of the friends who were trying to save her in the darkness. Her husband was in the party, but had not joined in the swimming party.

The drowned woman is survived by her husband, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Gibbreath, of Dodge City, Kansas, a brother, Roy Gibbreath, of Lakeview, and several sisters.

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at the Baptist church at Lakeview.

Going to Century of Progress? Goodrich-Hobbs Guide Service Points Way to Comfortable Trip

Thousands of motorists will this year be seeking reliable information about routes to the amazing Century of Progress at Chicago.

To give the motoring public of Clarendon and Donley County every service on touring information, Doss Palmer of Palmer Motor Co., dealer for the B. F. Goodrich Rubber Company located at Clarendon has arranged to supply road information covered by the Goodrich-Hobbs guides.

particular guide designed for that route.

The 20 Goodrich-Hobbs Guides now ready to cover more than 50,000 miles of the best routes for long distance touring. They tell the truth without fear or favor and their purpose is to lessen the expense and add to the pleasure of cross-country trips. Profiles and charts are used to picture every hill and grade and reveal the exact condition of every mile of road surface.

No ads are sold but hotels, camps and eating places are inspected and the best in each price class is recommended and the highest and lowest rates plainly quoted. There is also a directory of authorized dealers and service stations for nearly every make of car.

Interesting scenic and historical places are pointed out and intimate comment about roads and service is given. It is utterly unlike any other map or guide and is most unique and original.

It is refreshing to find a guide that does not sell ads and that makes definite, unbiased recommendations about roads and service. It is a timely and welcome contribution to the welfare of the touring public.

PERSONALS

Mrs. N. S. Percival and children, W. O. N. S. Jr., Lucy, H. L., Mrs. Helen Roberts and Mrs. Chas. H. Tozier, were called to the bedside of their daughter and sister, Mrs. G. W. Goldman, of Amarillo, last Saturday night. She underwent a serious operation Sunday morning, but is reported to be getting along as well as could be expected. Mrs. Percival remained to care for her grandchild.

Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Shaver returned last Thursday night from a vacation trip to Hot Springs, New Mexico, taking the hot baths while there. Mr. Shaver enjoyed fishing at the Elephant Butte Dam, being lucky enough to take a 4½-pound black bass. In order to back up his yarn he brought the head back with him and has had it prepared for exhibition if and when necessary. It is strange that men feel that way about their fishing exploits. A man's account of his catch ought to be accepted at face value, but most of them get all set to show you the fish's face in proof.

Mrs. O. L. Fink and son, Kenneth, had as their guests this week her sister-in-law, Mrs. Edwin Fink and children, Stuart, Frances, and Helen, of New London, Minn. During the week they visited JA Ranch, and Ceta Canyon. The visitors said that they had found Clarendon the coolest place they had visited—cooler even than their own Minnesota home. They left for Dallas today.

Revs. M. M. Beavers and E. B. Bowen returned Friday from Dallas where they spent the week attending the special school of theology for pastors at Southern Methodist University.

Miss Vada Waldron left Monday afternoon for Chicago, where she will visit relatives and see the "Century of Progress." She expects to be gone three or four weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Vestal Mosley left Tuesday for the San Luis valley in Colorado, where they will make their future home.

Mrs. McHenry Crawford, of Childress, will arrive Friday for a week's visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Story.

HISTORY STILL IN THE MAKING

History is still in the making. Today we are living in the most eventful time in all history. Old ways, old standards and old systems no longer can survive because they do not meet the needs of the day. No business, no community, state or nation can defy the law of progress by moving backward a generation. Progress and prosperity demands the cutting loose from all hampering precedent, and uniting our forces unselfishly to clear the ground for a new era.

Engagement Is Announced

The News has received from an Annapolis friend of Ensign Jos. H. Bourland, a newspaper clipping announcing his engagement to a socially prominent New Jersey girl. The clipping reads: "Mr. and Mrs. B. K. Ford, of 862 Boulevard, Westfield, N. J., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Priscilla Ford, to Ensign J. H. Bourland, of Clarendon, Texas, one of the honor men of this year's graduating class of the United States Naval Academy. Ensign Bourland was regimental commander during his last year at the Academy, and also won the class of '29 and class of '27 awards presented respectively to the regimental commander and the holder of the highest fitness for service record. He has been assigned to the U.S.S. 'Maryland' at San Pedro, California."

The marriage of the young couple can not take place for two years, due to a Congressional ruling, made last year, requiring graduates of Annapolis Academy to defer marriage for two years following graduation.

Junior Choir Has Birthday Party

Tuesday evening after rehearsal, the Junior Choir enjoyed a party on the parsonage lawn. This was unique, in that it was Everybody's Birthday Party. To begin with Mrs. Fred Buntin told a very interesting and clever story. Then the crowd divided into groups, according to their birthday month. Each group gave a stant representative of the month, which was very clever. Another feature of the party was the Birthday Basket. This was passed and everyone donated something they could no longer use and when all the gifts were collected, a Grab Bag was promoted and all received another gift.

Later Mrs. Shelton's Sunday School Class served refreshments to the merry group. The Choir will practice Wednesday of next week, instead of the regular day, Tuesday.

Merry Group Enjoys Picnic

Kelly Creek was the scene of a gay picnic Wednesday evening when a party journeyed out, via truck, about sundown to eat their supper and reminisce.

Those participating in this event included Misses Josephine Murphy, Lois Alexander, Nell Butler, Julia Mae Caraway, Elgin Patrick, Wylfa Lee Alexander, Esther Morrison, Betty Walker, and Mesdames Meade Haile, H. A. Hitt, Glenn Allen, Katherine Stark, and Durwood Skelton.

B. & P. W. Club Installs Officers

Carrie Davis is president; Opal Pyle, 1st vice-president; Beatrice Antrobus, 2nd vice-president; Fannie Perry, recording secretary; Etta Harned, corresponding secretary; and Julia Mae Caraway, treasurer.

During the business meeting, it was decided that the club will become a luncheon club as it formerly was.

The Kicuawa Camp Fire Troop held their weekly meeting on Wednesday at their room in the Dormitory. These meetings will be held at the homes of the various members under the direction of the guardian, Miss Mary Frances Caraway.

Birthday Party For Billy Lowe

Honoring the seventh birthday of her little son, Billy, Mrs. S. W. Lowe entertained with a play party Tuesday morning, June 20th from 9 to 11 o'clock. The play yard, with its slide, sand-box, tent, see-saw and swing, was a merry scene for an hour, with over twenty youngsters playing various games.

Marching then into the living room, they were seated in a circle and Mrs. Jim Headrick and Miss Margaret Goldston amazed them with their keen art at storytelling. Then came the merry moment when Billy opened his many bright gifts, after which the guests gathered in the dining room, where the table was gay with yellow and white crepe paper decorations, with a huge birthday cake, bearing seven candles, occupying the center of the table. Wearing yellow and white paper caps, the children were served with ice cream and cake. As the eleventh hour arrived the happy little guests departed, carrying Cupid balloons as favors.

The guest list included Mary Nellie Key, Dorothy Anne Kennedy, John Ryan, Jr., Jerry Kerbow, Victor Smith, Cora Lee Muse, Fleetwood Cornell, Bobby Stark, Geraldine Ryan, Helen Porter, Javan Tucker, Douglas Richard and Wayne Doshier, Mariline and Betty Jo Bartlett, Joe Fowler, Jr., Carroll Bromley, Frankie and Galdine Hommel, Basil Kirtley, Jr., Sammy Jo Lowe, Dorothy Kerbow, Mrs. Walter Lowe, Mrs. B. If you cannot be clever, be careful.

Men cannot love where respect is impossible; women love where the men are without one redeeming quality.

A man in love seldom talks of the object; a woman rarely of anything else.

Doing all we can to promote our friend's happiness is better than to continually drink to his prosperity.

Every heart has some secret chamber of sorrows, and those whose seem most gay have often the grimmest skeleton.

The kindest toast we could give some deluded man would be the old one revised by one word, thus: "May your wives always be your sweethearts and your sweethearts (never) your wives."

Hesitate Before You Bring Liquor Back

(Extracts from an address by the great Southern orator and statesman, Henry W. Grady, at Atlanta, Ga., in 1888.)

My friends, hesitate before you vote Liquor back now that it is shut out.

Do not trust it.

It is powerful, aggressive and universal in its attacks.

Tonight it enters a humble home to strike the roses from a woman's cheek.

Tomorrow it challenges this Republic in the halls of Congress.

Today it strikes a crust from the lips of a starving child.

Tomorrow it levies tribute from the Government itself.

There is no cottage humble enough to escape it, no place strong enough to shut it out.

It is flexible to cajole but merciless in victory.

It is the mortal enemy of peace and order.

It is the despoiler of men, the terror of women.

It is the cloud that shadows the faces of children.

It is the Demon that has dug more graves and sent more souls unsaved to judgment than all the pestilences that have wasted life since God sent the plagues to Egypt, and all the wars that have been fought since Joshua stood beyond Jericho.

Oh, My Countrymen, loving God and Humanity, do not bring this grand old city again under the dominion of that power!

It can profit no man by its return.

It can uplift no industry, remove no interest, remedy no wrong. You know that it cannot.

It comes to destroy, and it shall profit mainly by the ruin of your sons and daughters, or mine.

It comes to mislead human souls, and to crush human hearts under its rumbling wheels.

It comes to convert the wife's love into despair, and her pride into shame.

It comes to still the laughter on the lips of little children.

It comes to stifle all the music of the home and fill it with silence and desolation.

It comes to ruin your body and mind.

It comes to wreck your home.

And it knows that it must measure its prosperity by the swiftness and certainty with which it wrecks.

 with this new 3-times-safer tire

HERE'S real news! You can get the blow-out protection of this "3-times-safer tire" FREE. We refuse to charge one penny extra for this remarkable Life-Saver Golden Ply invention.

Today's high speeds generate terrific heat inside your tires. This causes rubber and fabric to separate. A blister starts . . . and grows . . . bigger and bigger . . . until BANG! A blow-out! And you're headed for trouble . . . or worse!

Don't think that slower driving can save you from blow-outs, either. Sustained speeds—on longer trips—as low as 35 or 40 miles per hour can generate terrific heat, too. Don't take chances. That blister . . . that blow-out in the making . . . may be in your tire right now!

The new Goodrich Silvertown, with the Life-Saver Golden Ply, prevents this . . . makes you 3 times safer from blow-outs at high speeds. Come in and let us show you this remarkable tire. Remember it costs not a penny more than any other standard tire.

  2. Calves will be given the deadline start, in accordance with arena conditions, and when calf crosses the deadline he is the roper's calf, regardless of what happens. Ten seconds fine will be assessed for roper's mount being over foul line when starter's flag drops.
  3. Roper must not bust calf, but must dismount and go down rope and flank calf by hand and cross any three feet and tie in proper manner.
  4. A catch must be made with rope that will hold calf until the roper gets to him. Tie to be passed upon by the judge, and roper will not be allowed to touch calf in any manner after signalling for time, until judgement of the tie has been pronounced by the judge. Calf will be left tied down as long as deemed necessary by the judge to ascertain if tie is complete.

way and of such proceedings be paid by Donley county of the Road and Bridge fund, or any available county funds."

County Judge Lowe is authorized by law to appoint, if deemed advisable, an appraisal commission, with court powers, to appraise the property subject to condemnation and hear evidence relating to it. If the commission finds that the Court, through its jury of view, has offered an excessive amount for the property, its valuation shall determine the amount to be paid the property owner, less the court costs. If the commission decides that the Court offered less than should have been offered, its valuation must be paid to the property owner and the Court would have to pay the court costs.

Judge Lowe stated, however, that deeds to the property in question can be given to the State Highway Department immediately following the hearing of condemnation proceedings, regardless of any appeal that might be taken to a higher court.

The State Highway Department is said to be ready to begin construction of the highway within 30 days after it secures deeds to the right of way from Clarendon west to the Armstrong county line. Construction of grade county would mean the expenditure of thousands of dollars each month, to the benefit of every person in the county.

$10 worth of free seed for gardens of unemployed on city land, water for which was donated by the city (gardens reported to be flourishing); $5 donated quarterly to public library; distribution of collected magazines to rural schools (about 2,000 magazines donated by J. R. Bartlett); promotion of boys' baseball league, with Lion W. C. Davis at Lake Pauline now with a group of 55 boys on a camp; joint installation of officers of Lions and Rotary club Wednesday night; quarterly ladies' night programs. The Childress club has 26 members. Boyd Meador, former Clarendon citizen, reported that the McLean club had a large part in getting their closed bank reopened; 54 trees purchased for planting at the local cemetery by RFC workmen; new members added recently bringing total to 19.

The Pampa club reported a recent increase of the membership from 52 to 80; joined Rotary and Kiwanis clubs in donating $50 per month per club so that the free school cafeterias could be maintained, supplying 8500 lunches to children whose parents were not able to pay for them; carried on needy children's aid, averaging one case each month involving operations or medical treatment; sponsored lawn improvement contest; joining now with two other service clubs in providing playground equipment in two city parks.

Secretary J. E. Teer reviewed the activities of the Clarendon club, as related from week to week in The News. The Club now has 22 members.

C. A. Blanton, of Childress, was elected chairman of Group No. 3 and C. A. Broughton, also of Childress, was elected secretary. Pampa was chosen as the meeting place for the September group meeting.

The visiting Lions at the meeting were: from Childress—C. A. Blanton, Leonard L. King, C. A. Broughton; from Pampa—R. C. Wilson, B. W. Rose, Arthur Teed, Charlie Thut, Clyde M. Fatheree; from McLean—Boyd Meador, D. A. Davis, John Cooper, F. W. Harvey, Paul M. Bruce (Alamogordo); from Estelline, T. A. Power.

Harwood Beville, of Amarillo, and former Clarendon citizen, was the guest of Lion J. R. Porter. In the course of a brief talk, in which he expressed his keen enjoyment of the friendliness of Clarendon people, he told an interesting story of a negro's ingenuity. The Amarillo deputy marshal had a warrant for the arrest of a certain negro, for whom he inquired at the address on the warrant. A negro told him he was ready to go with him, and did so.

Two months later, when the case came up for trial, the complaining officer said, with astonishment, "Why, that's not the negro I wanted arrested!" The negro explained by saying, "Y'see, suh, de man yo' wanted had a job and I didn't, so I just thought I'd take his place!"

friends in Clarendon and when it will be distinctly to your advantage to do some shopping, or some swapping, or some selling at auction.

Free Auction Popular
A large number of farmers gathered on the auction lot, furnished by the Clarendon Grain Company. As was to be expected, there was not much brought in to be auctioned off—partly because of the short notice that was given, and partly because of the newness of the idea of a free auction.

A horse and some pigs were put up, however, and the spirited bidding showed that if there had been a liberal offering of property of all kinds there would have been lively bidding. Those who attended the auction were outspoken in their approval of the idea and expressed hope that the free auction would be continued. "People will bring their stuff in when it soaks in on them that they can have it sold for them at no cost," said one farmer to a group of other farmers, and they all agreed with him.

Band Gives Concert
An appreciated feature of the day's program was the band concert which was given by the Clarendon Band, under the direction of Gus B. Stephenson. The band, about twenty strong, assembled at two o'clock on Kearney street and played until nearly three o'clock, when they started for the auction grounds. There they played several more selections. Many compliments were heard throughout the concert and the music by the band was greatly appreciated.

The general approval given to the plan of holding each month a Free Auction Sale, together with opportunity for making "Let's Swap" exchanges, fully warrants the continuance of the events and, as stated at the beginning of this article, broader plans are already under way.

Free Auction Listing
In order to assist both sellers and buyers at the Free Auction Sales, the Clarendon News announces that, beginning with its next issue (July 6), it will list under the heading "AUCTION LISTINGS," free of any charge, anything which the owner wants to put up for auction at the next fourth Saturday Free Auction, which will be held on July 22nd.

This listing will serve as an "auction catalog" and will be valuable especially to the person who wants to auction anything off, as it will attract the attention of every person who might want to buy it. He will be able to go to the auction expecting something to be put up that he is already interested in. Listings will be run in each issue before the Free Auction. The News invites the people of the trade territory to use this free service it offers.

Anything may be listed for Auction—livestock, implements, furniture, poultry, feed, vegetables, canned goods or anything that may be found around the place that you would like to turn into cash. Claude Gamblin, Auctioneer Claude R. Gamblin, who is agent for the Panhandle Refining Company, is donating his services as auctioneer, without fee or commission. He is an experienced auctioneer, as was demonstrated last Saturday. He is anxious to serve the people as their auctioneer and at no cost to them, and is studying up a new line of "patter" to put pep and snap into the next auction. He will sell your advertised "Let's Swap" stuff if you wish.

"Let's Swap," Too
"New Deal" Dollar Day, with its crowds of good-humored people, will offer an excellent opportunity for swapping off what you no longer need for something you DO need. Remember that nobody likes to swap "sight unseen," so you will have a better chance to swap your stuff off if you bring it to town with you on "New Deal" Dollar Day.

To help you make better swaps, The Clarendon News will run free of charge, beginning with the next issue, your "Let's Swap" ads, just as heretofore. Note this: If you expect to bring your stuff to Clarendon on Dollar Day, so that the other fellow can see what you have to swap, just write in these three words, on Dollar Day," and your ad will be so listed. Of course, if you sell or swap it BEFORE Dollar Day, there's no harm done—will be sorry you didn't show up except that maybe somebody with your advertised stuff.

The Clarendon News gladly makes these offers to advertise your stuff, either for auction sale or for swapping, as a part of the general community service that it sincerely wants to render. Its paid advertising patronage, of course, makes this service possible, and The News believes that the service itself and its advertisers will be appreciated by the people of the will be broken. An unusually attractive program has been arranged for each day of the session, and the Lions of St. Louis have made extensive preparations to extend true southern hospitality to every delegate and guest.

The list of speakers is a notable one. All are prominent in their respective fields, and each is a recognized authority on his subject.

Lorado Taft, the most celebrated of American sculptors, has been secured to address the Wednesday session on "Beauty in American Life," and on Thursday, Professor Irving Fisher, of Yale University, famous economist, will speak on "Depression—Inflation and Deflation."

Of unusual interest will be the address of Mr. Frederick Landis, noted writer, known over the air as "The Hoosier Editor."

There will be $3,000.00 awarded in prizes to the best Band, Drum and Bugle Corps, and the best Quartette; and the best Convention Stunt will receive $500.00. The large number of entrants in each event insures keen competition.

Following the close of the Convention on Friday, July 14, special trains will leave at 4:00 p. m. for Chicago and the Century of Progress, where, on Saturday, July 15th will be celebrated the Lions International Assembly. A most interesting program, starting at 2:30 p. m., has been prepared, and will be given in the Court of Honor of the Hall of Science at the Century of Progress.

The Lions is the only Service Club having exhibit space on the Exposition grounds.

Plow-Under Cotton Plan at a Glance

Cotton growers are given the choice of two plans for receiving the benefits of the Farm Relief Act as applied to cotton. By contracting with the Federal Government to retire not less than 25 per cent nor more than 50 per cent of the cotton crop now planted, the farmer may choose either the ALL CASH plan or the CASH-AND-OPTION PLAN.

ALL CASH PLAN: Receive in cash this summer from $7 to $20 per acre for the land retired from cotton, the exact amount depending on what the land ordinarily yields. The cash payments under this plan will be made according to the following production table, yields to be determined on the basis of what the land ordinarily yields: Land yielding 100 to 124 lbs. lint, $7 per acre; 125 to 149 lbs. lint, $9 per acre; 150 to 174 lbs. lint, $11 per acre; 175 to 224 lbs. lint, $14 per acre; 225 to 274 lbs. lint, $17 per acre; 275 lbs. lint or more, $20 per acre.

Example: A man has 100 acres of cotton planted. He plows up 30 per cent of this, or 30 acres. It is determined that his land ordinarily yields one-quarter bale (125 lbs. of lint cotton). He would be paid this summer $9 per acre, or $270.

CASH-AND-OPTION PLAN—Under this plan the farmer would receive in cash this summer from $6 to $12 per acre for the land retired from cotton, the exact amount depending on what the land ordinarily yields, AND—

An option at 6 cents per pound on as many bales of Government-owned cotton as the land retired by the farmer would ordinarily yield. The government may sell this cotton at some favorable time during the year and pay the farmer the difference between the selling price and the six-cent options price.

The cash payments on this plan are to be made on the following production table: Land yielding 100 to 124 lbs. lint, $6 per acre;

125 to 149 lbs. lint, $7 per acre; 150 to 174 lbs. lint, $9 per acre; 175 to 224 lbs. lint, $10 per acre; 225 to 274 lb. lint, $11 per acre; 275 lbs. lint or more, $12 per acre.

Example: Taking the same case of a man who retired 30 acres out of 100 planted acres of cotton, and whose ordinary yields are determined to be one-quarter bale per acre, he would be paid $7 per acre, or a total of $210 cash. He would be given an option also at six cents per pound on 7 and one-half bales (the amount of cotton the 30 acres retired would produce). If sold when and if cotton is selling at 10 cents per pound he would be paid the difference between 10 cents and the option price of 6 cents, which would be $20 a bale. The 7 and one-half bales would bring him a total of $360.

Donley county produced 13,934 bales of cotton in 1932, 21,098 in 1931, 15,088 in 1930. Figuring production at the low average of 175 pounds of lint per acre, 14,000 bales of cotton would figure 40,000 acres in cultivation. Retiring one-third of this cotton acreage at $14 cash per acre would net the cotton farmers about $20,000 this summer. The figure is, of course, an estimate only. But it serves to indicate what the plan will mean if made effective by the signing up of the 10 million acres of cotton for plowing under.
