HALF WAY MARK IS REACHED IN TAKING CENSUS OF FARMS

The half way mark toward completing the Federal Farm Census of 1935 has been reached, according to W. R. Chambers, supervisor in the 27 county Brownwood district. Only two farmers have refused to give the information.

Almost without exception the enumerators have received splendid cooperation from farm and ranch owners visited. Some of the enumerators are finishing their districts, and all the others are making good progress.

Mrs. Opie Bowden of the Rockwood district in Coleman county was the first enumerator in the district to finish the work. Mrs. Kate Laws of Glen Cove was second, Luke Ligon of Adamsville was third, John Ruller of Concho county was fourth. Very few enumerators have resigned and had to be replaced during the census which started January 2.

O'Connell Commends Work
T. J. O'Connell, area census supervisor from the San Antonio office, was here this week and commended Mr. Chambers and his assistants on the work in the Brownwood district. Especially were the workers in the district office commended, these being Fred Bell, assistant supervisor, Brooke D. Smith, Chas. Hynum and Miss Lillie Bowman.

The census when completed will show the number of farms and ranches, their value, the number of livestock of all kinds and their value, the kind and value of crops harvested in 1934, the amount of mortgage debt on the farms and ranches and a number of other interesting things.

BRECKENRIDGE WINS DEBATE TOURNAMENT

Breckenridge carried off most of the honors at a debate tournament held at Brownwood High School Saturday in which twenty-five teams from schools in the Oil Belt District participated.

The Breckenridge girls' team defeated the Brownwood girls, Charlie Mae Scott and Galena Mae Taylor, by a 2 to 1 vote in the finals. Ben J. Dean of Breckenridge won first place in boys' extemporaneous speech and Mary Louise Zimmerman of Breckenridge won first place in girls' extemporaneous speech contest.

The Brownwood boys' debate team, Albert Smith Cone and Hal Cherry, won the tournament in the boys' division, defeating a team from Hamlin, Jones county.

CAPT. O'BRIAN NEW COMMANDER AT CCC

Captain E. D. Rattray who has been in command of the CCC camp at Lake Brownwood Park has been transferred to the Belton CCC camp. He will be succeeded by Capt. C. M. O'Brian from Belton who arrived Monday to take command of the camp.

Captain Rattray has made many friends here, and a Chamber of Commerce official has expressed its appreciation of his efforts. "The Chamber of Commerce particularly appreciated the splendid spirit of cooperation that has characterized Captain Rattray's relations with the local business interests who are desirous of making this camp the best in this area."

One of the strangest businesses in London is the human skeleton business of G. Rouilly, who imports skeletons from Germany, Austria, Italy and Russia, and sells or hires them to medical students.

Hands Show Strain on Hauptmann

Sole trace of the strain under which Bruno Hauptmann labored as he underwent his ordeal on the witness stand was the rigid clasp of his hands. Tightly gripping his left hand with his right, he sat in the witness chair, answering questions slowly and carefully as he fought to break through the net of evidence woven around him.

COMMITTEEMEN FOR 1935 COTTON PLAN ARE BEING ELECTED

Community committeemen for the 1935 cotton program in Brown county have been elected in three communities. Committeemen from precinct No. 4 are T. M. Barleson, Chapel Hill; P. H. Herring, Indian Creek; and M. L. Guthrie, Brooksmith; from precinct No. 2 G. G. Goss of Angel, D. Dewbre of May and H. A. Duzler of Cross Cut; from precinct No. 3, T. J. Cade of Blanket, W. F. Timmins of Zephyr and L. W. Garmon of Early High.

The Bangs election was scheduled for 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon, to be held in the city hall there.

Much interest is being shown throughout the county in the elections, and a large vote is being cast.

LIQUOR CASES HEAD CRIMINAL DOCKET

Sale of whiskey with nine indictments, is the leading charge on the docket for the criminal week of the February term of district court which will begin here Monday.

Burglary is next with eight cases; possession of whiskey and possession of beer are next with four cases listed for each.

Other indictments are one for child desertion, one for embezzlement, one for theft, one for forgery and one for theft of more than $50.

Any indictments returned by the grand jury, which will go into session Monday, will be included on the docket.

CAPTAIN HONORED AT CCC ENTERTAINMENT

Captain E. D. Rattray was honored at the stunt night program given at Camp Chester Harrison Friday night. He announced that he will be transferred soon to the camp at Belton.

The Brownwood American Legion post was in charge of the program, and thirty-three Legionnaires as well as other Brownwood and Bangs citizens attended. Following Captain Rattray's announcement C. W. Carter, speaking in behalf of the Legion, thanked Captain Rattray for the work he has done while here and assured him that the Legion and other Brownwood friends would regret his leaving.

The program included a group of numbers sung by a trio composed of Miss Elva Scott, Miss Birdie Cox and Mrs. G. E. Keith, readings by Miss Elizabeth Britton, a sing-song led by Mrs. Edna Savage Saunders, Harmonica selections and a talk on how to make hair grow were the contributions of two enrollees to the program.

Sandwiches, coffee and cake were served to guests at the close of the program.

2,000 ATTEND BALL HONORING BIRTHDAY OF NATION'S LEADER

More than 2,000 people attended the second annual Birthday Ball honoring President Roosevelt, held at Soldiers and Sailors memorial hall, Brownwood, Wednesday night. The ball was one of a series held throughout the United States on the occasion of the President's birthday.

The dance was one of the most successful ever held in Brownwood and attendance more than doubled that of last year, when the first birthday ball was held.

Miss Adelaide Lake, princess of the American Legion, was crowned queen of the ball in the opening ceremony, by J. Edward Johnson, chosen as Brownwood's most honorable citizen. J. Claude Smith was master of ceremonies, and introduced the court and the floor show numbers which followed the presentation of the court.

Miss Louise Bettis and Miss Mary Alyce Watson were ladies in waiting to the queen, and little Miss Margaret Snyder was crown bearer.

Following the coronation, princess and ladies in waiting from the following organizations were presented: Business and Professional Women's Club, Rotary Club, Kiwanis Club, Lions Club, D.A.R., University Women, Twentieth Century club, Junior Twentieth Century club, Junior Service League, Wednesday Study Club, Princes of Syracuse, Fire Department, Shubert Music Club, and Garden Club.

Lon L. Smith, Jr., and Miss Nonnet Brumagere, assisted by members of the Ralph Britt organization, presented a floor show, after which the Grand March inaugurated the dancing.

No estimate of the receipts were available Thursday, but it is expected that last year's record of $500 will be exceeded.

Dr. Mollie W. Armstrong, general chairman of the Birthday Ball, which was sponsored locally by the Business and Professional Women's Club, Thursday expressed her appreciation to all who assisted in making the ball a success. In addition to the general committee, hundreds of local citizens assisted in preparations.

A large number of out of town people were in attendance.

Paving Lien Holders Sue Property Owners

There are 64 suits brought by the Real Estate Land Title and Trust Company against property owners on Vincent street and Austin avenue on paving contracts included in the 1935 cases on the civil docket for the February term of court here.

The docket includes 24 cases that have been filed since January 1, 1934 and prior to that time.

BROWN COUNTY TO ASK FOR $1,065,000 PWA FUNDS FOR ROADS, HOSPITAL AND JAIL

COUNTY officials this week are drawing preliminary estimates seeking to secure $1,065,000 allotment of PWA funds for the construction of a county hospital, improvements on the county jail, and hard-surfacing about 100 miles of county lateral roads. The applications will be presented to the state PWA engineer in Fort Worth Friday by County Judge A. E. Nabors and members of the commissioners court.

LEAGUE COMMITTEE WILL MEET HERE ON FRIDAY AFTERNOON

C. F. Wesner, general director of the Brown County Interscholastic League, has called a meeting of the executive committee to be held at Howard Payne College Friday afternoon at 4:30.

The date for the meet may be set at this session or this action may be postponed until at later time. Dates for the county basketball tournament already have been set and plans for the tournament will be discussed at the Friday afternoon meeting. Points of eligibility to be brought up by anyone also will be heard by the committee. The tournament is to be held February 14, 15 and 16.

There will be three class A schools in the contests this year, Brownwood High School, May High School and Bangs High School. The other schools will compete in contests for class B and C schools. A rule of the League is that when a school has a high school enrollment of as many as 120 the preceding year it will compete in class A contests.

Mr. Wesner announced today that he had appointed Mrs. R. B. Lee of Brownwood director of the story telling contest for the meet.

SENTIMENT GROWING IN FAVOR OF STATE EXPERIMENT STATION

Sentiment is beginning to crystallize throughout the sandy land sections of Brown county and the counties to the north in favor of the district, according to Chester Harrison, secretary of the Brownwood chamber of commerce.

Mr. Harrison spent Tuesday and Wednesday visiting interested sections of Brown, Erath, Comanche, Eastland and Callahan counties in the interest of the establishment of the station. Everywhere he found people very much interested in the project, and anxious to do anything possible to further its establishment.

During the two days, Mr. Harrison visited county agents, chambers of commerce officials, business men and farmers throughout the district, gathering much information of value.

Petitions are being circulated among farmers in most of the counties asking members of the legislature to vote for establishment of the station somewhere in the cross timber sandy land area. No locality is being specified, as the movement is not a selfish one, but one through which farmers throughout the district would benefit.

A bill creating the station will be introduced in the Senate by Senator E. M. Davis and in the legislature by Representative Courtney Gray, in the near future, Mr. Harrison stated. It is being held up at present, pending securing of necessary data. Residents from all of the counties visited expressed a willingness to appear in Austin before the legislative committee in support of the bill, if such action is deemed necessary.

Movement to establish the station was started after a preliminary report of W. M. Beck, in Brown county making a soil survey for the United States government, indicated that the sandy land section contains some of the best farming land to be found in the state, but that it is not being farmed properly at the present time. The station would be for the purpose of devising the best method of developing the section.

Mr. Harrison on his trip found that the drought of the past summer had wrought great damage to the sandy land farms of the area, and in many instances, great mounds of sand have been blown up on the uncultivated farms.

Child Actress in Broadway Debut

Ida Miller, 16-year-old girl from New York's East Side, has caused a bigger stir than many a minor stage star because Daniel Frohman, veteran producer, sponsors her first Broadway appearance in a benefit show. Frohman says she has the poise and flash of a veteran actress.

CHURCH EDUCATIONAL LEADERS TO MEET IN BROWNWOOD FRIDAY

Dr. C. C. Seelman, president of Southern Methodist University, of Dallas, and Dr. King Vivion, president of Southwestern University, of Georgetown, will be the principal speakers at an educational meeting of the presiding elders, preachers and workers of the Methodist churches of the Brownwood and Cisco districts which has been called by Bishop H. A. Boaz. The meeting will be held at the First Methodist Church in Brownwood Friday, February 3, opening at 10 a. m.

In addition to college heads appearing on the formal program, presidents of other Methodist colleges in Texas will attend and discuss phases of educational work.

Lunch will be served at the church at noon Friday by the ladies of First Methodist Church of Brownwood.

This meeting is one of a series being held in Texas. A similar meeting will be held in Fort Worth on January 30 and at Austin Avenue Methodist Church in Waco January 31.

Rev. Tom Brabham, president of Texas Woman's College, Ft. Worth, in a letter to Rev. P. E. Chappell, pastor of Brownwood First Methodist Church announcing this meeting, says: "We have just finished a tour of the Northwest Texas Conference and I was surprised at the large crowds that gathered for these meetings." He states that there will be no reference to finances and no collection taken at the session here.

AAA CHECKS FOR COUNTY RECEIVED

All checks due this county from the federal government on the cattle purchasing program have been received except for contracts that were signed in the closing days of the program. County Agent C. W. Lehmburg received a large bundle of checks Monday.

A large number of 1933 cotton plow-up option checks are being received also. These are being mailed direct to the grower and are not being handled by Mr. Lehmburg's office. These checks are based upon a set price of $7.60 per bale, net on the 1933 program.

1,000 Teachers Expected To Be At Meeting Here

Mid-Texas Association In Annual Convention In Brownwood February 1 and 2.

Interest this week is centered on the annual session of the Mid-Texas Educational Association which meets in Brownwood Friday and Saturday, January 25 and 26. The Brownwood Chamber of Commerce and other organizations are making every effort to make the visiting teachers' visit pleasant as well as profitable.

"Curriculum Revision" is the general subject of the meeting. Two of the principal speakers are Chas. N. Shaver, Huntsville, president of the Texas State Teachers' Association, and Dr. Fred C. Ayer, professor of Educational Administration, University of Texas. Shaver will speak on "The School Situation in Our State" and Dr. Ayer will discuss "The Trend Toward Integration in the Curriculum."

There are to be three general sessions, one Friday morning, one Friday evening and the final one Saturday morning. Topics of general interest will be dealt with and committee reports and business matters will be included on the program.

The various sectional meetings will be held Friday afternoon, and the following sections and chairmen are announced: school board and school superintendent section, C. H. Huffard; primary section, W. A. Bridwell; music section, Miss Clara Drey; high school section, J. R. Stalcup; commercial section, J. Piner Powell; home economics section, Miss Lucy Mae Ricks; vocational agriculture section, A. J. Spangler.

Members of the Parent-Teachers Association Council and the Brownwood Chamber of Commerce are entertaining the visitors with a tea on Friday afternoon from 4:30 to 6:30 o'clock at the Hotel Brownwood. Wives of the superintendents and principals of the city schools, together with wives of school board members will be included in the receiving line. Another social feature will be Texas Vocational Arts Luncheon Friday for all teachers, commercial teachers, home economics teachers and vocational agriculture teachers attending the meeting. It is to be held at the Southern Hotel.

A number of the visitors have been asked to meet with the Rotary Club at its regular weekly luncheon Friday. Some of the visiting school officials will be asked to deliver addresses.

Mayor W. H. Thompson has issued the following message of welcome to the teachers of the Mid-Texas Association:

"The City of Brownwood feels honored that you have selected this city in which to hold your annual meeting."

3,500 HOMES ARE LISTED IN SURVEY

Information blanks showing the location of the house occupant, owner and repair needs were secured on 3,213 houses in Brownwood in the canvass in the Better Housing Program which was completed Thursday. A canvass of Bangs was made Friday, and 293 blanks were secured.

Ten canvassers are doing the work under a work relief project. R. E. Call is supervisor of the project.

Seventy-six information blanks on buildings at Zephyr, 103 at May and six at Owens, were secured this week. Surveys will be made at Brooksmith, Winchell and Indian Creek before the work is completed in this county.

Texas will be heartened at the number of recently-released convicts that have been ordered returned to prison by Governor Altred. During the past few weeks, possibly a dozen of those receiving clemencies at the hands of the outgoing Governor have been returned to Huntsville to resume serving their sentences.

Too Many Pardons

In each case, the ex-convict, beneficiary of a furlough or parole or conditional pardon, had been caught in the act of committing some new crime, or arrested under suspicious circumstances. In one instance, those officially listed as requesting the parole were reported as denying knowledge of the application.

Although the wholesale granting of clemencies is to be frowned upon, it is not chargeable entirely to the outgoing Governor that those who benefited from acts of clemency were not appreciative. The fact that they had been convicted of crimes indicated the mental calibre of many of them, and that they violated a trust was not to be unexpected.

It does emphasize, however, that there is need for drastic reform of our pardon and parole system. Where clemency is entrusted to the occupant of one state office, it is unfair to expect that a thorough study of each of the thousands of applications can be made. If any clemencies are granted, many mistakes are liable to be made. If too few are granted, injustice might result.

Lee Simmons, head of the prison system, recently complained that many prospective prisoners were arriving in Huntsville with pardons in their hands. It makes us more appreciative of the non-pardon policy of Governor Neff.

There is some honesty in this world after all; not everyone who evades honest payment, even to the government, enjoys the seeming profit. It may seem fine at the time, but in later years, many apparently live to regret it.

Conscience Money

This has grown up at Washington a "conscience fund" that now aggregates more than a half million dollars. It is made up of payments made to the government by people who at one time or another defrauded—or felt that they did—the government out of various sums. Usually the payees are unknown.

The record composes one of the most interesting of governmental documents, an Associated Press story states. The fund is 124 years old, dating back to 1811, and contributions have been made to the fund every year since 1827, with the single exception of 1848. The record was reached in 1916, when receipts totaled $54,923.15. Payments range from a 1c stamp to $80,000. The largest amount was made in a series of four returns from an unidentified donor.

The 1c stamp came from a person who bought a lead pencil in Buffalo from a Canadian, and sent the penny to pay the 50 cent duty on the purchase. Another interesting payment was a farthing, received from a Britisher, who was incensed at his country's failure to pay a war-debt installment. The farthing represented his pro rata share of the indebtedness. A tourist sent in payment for acorns picked up as souvenirs on the battlefield at Gettysburg.

The file discloses that religion is the impelling motive behind most contribution and payments, although some are dictated by other motives.

A short time ago the National Industrial Conference Board, an independent fact-finding institution, sent a questionnaire to more than 12,000 American newspapers, large and small. It asked editors to report on the state of public opinion in their localities on a number of questions of national interest. Answers were received from editors of 5,050 newspapers with a gross circulation of 24,843,677.

What The People Think

An advance summary of the survey has been published by the board. It affords an exceptional cross-section of present-day public thought. An overwhelming majority of the editors said that the people in their localities were opposed to government price-fixing of both farm and factory prices. Eighty-nine per cent were opposed to increasing the national debt; 94 per cent were against government competition with industry, and 74 per cent opposed to redistribution of wealth by taxation. A majority of the public, according to the editors, favored government fixing of minimum wages and hours, and compulsory old-age pension.

The board also asked the editors to tell what factors would, in their judgment, contribute most to increasing business confidence. Seventy-two per cent favored decreasing government control of business, 71 per cent mentioned decreasing government expenditures; 66 per cent suggested a stabilized currency, and 70 per cent favored a balanced budget.

The government's great better housing campaign is beginning to show results. Construction touched bottom in 1933, when, during an average four weeks, only $18,000,000 was spent, as compared with $59,000,000 during a similar period in 1931.

Results From FHA

The new campaign was started in the middle of August throughout the nation. In the four weeks following $19,000,000 was spent. By October 13, the four-week expenditure had reached $29,000,000, and $36,000,000 was spent during the four weeks which closed November 10. Later figures are not available. The campaign now has been extended to cover almost every section of the United States.

The depression hit the building industries harder, probably, than it did any other field. It is estimated that more than 1,000,000 homes, involving an expenditure of $8,000,000,000, would have been built had there been no depression.

SALESMAN SAM BY SMALL

TO EXPEDITE COTTON EXPORTS

(Houston Post.)

The cotton South finds encouragement in the announcement from Washington that the State department, acting under instructions from the president, is to make a thorough survey of the possibility of selling more American cotton throughout the world.

Francis B. Sayre, assistant secretary of State, and son-in-law of Woodrow Wilson, has been placed in charge of the new effort to promote sales of the South's cotton abroad.

The import of this move clearly is that the administration has veered away from the scheme of limiting cotton production in the United States to domestic needs. It is notice that the government will offer new aid in expanding the foreign markets for American grown cotton. The restriction upon production will continue through next year. That has already been settled. Restriction of production, however, no longer will be relied on to eliminate the surplus. An increase in distribution and consumption will be sought.

This is an effort that is overdue. Too long has emphasis been placed on production curtailment, while too little attention was given to encouraging purchasing of our cotton abroad. A few weeks ago the State department interfered with a prospective sale of 500,000 bales to Germany. A difference of opinion still exists as to whether or not the department's position in the matter was tenable. In any event, exportation of half a million bales was stopped by a State department ruling.

Negotiations are going on between American government representatives and representatives of sixteen other countries looking to the making of reciprocal tariff agreements. An effort is being made to expedite the exportation of cotton through clauses in the proposed agreements. It is to be hoped that this means of stimulating exports will be, at least in a measure, successful.

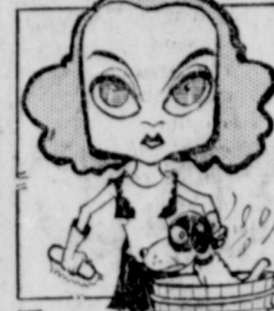

The need for increasing the movement of Southern cotton into foreign trade channels is becoming daily more urgent. It is clear enough now that restriction of production is not alone going to eliminate the surplus soon. The 1934 crop is not moving into consumptive channels rapidly. The government has been making loans of 12

A Brief History Of Brown Co., From 1876

By NITA BILBREY

Mr. J. I. Bilbrey of Blanket came to Brown county in 1876. He related the following paragraph pertaining to Brown county.

In 1876 there were no fences anywhere, no roads, just trails that were made as the people wound their way around and through the brush and shrubbery. No land was cleared, so therefore, no crops were made. There were no wells and the people got water from the springs and small streams.

The people had no money. Only once in a while they would get possession of fifty cents or a dollar. They traveled from place to place taking their supplies and driving a team of oxen. Sometimes the people possessed a team of Spanish ponies they had caught and tamed themselves.

Those people that lived in houses lived in log houses with a fire place which heated the building, and one window with no panes in it. They hunted in the forest for wild animals, such as deer, turkey, cattle and a few hogs.

In that day and time stake ropes and six-shooters were the law. If one man violated a law he received a bullet in return.

In 1870 there were 26 cotton planters in Brownwood. In 1934 there were 26 cotton planters in Brownwood. The cotton industry has grown to such an extent that it is necessary to have a committee to represent the cotton growers in the election of the county officials.

The election of these community committeemen is as important to the cotton growers of Brown county as the election of any county official in a political election.

DAVIS SPONSORING ANTI-LOBBY BILL

Provisions forbidding state department heads and employees to lobby will be included in a new anti-lobby bill...

Other bills have been introduced in the Legislature this session regarding lobbying...

Senator Davis in his anti-lobby bill provides that no member of the Legislature shall be permitted to ask employment of a department for any friend or relative...

"There have been flagrant violations," he said. "Department officials have thought they had the right to lobby on the floor at any time..."

Three new barracks Authorized At Camp

Construction of three additional barracks will begin at an early date at the CCC camp at Lake Brownwood State Park. Authority to start work on the buildings was received last week.

The new barracks, which have been needed since the camp was brought up to full strength of 243 enrollees when the new enrollment period began early this month, will be the same in design as the 40 present buildings for enlisted men. Each building houses six men and is 15x20 feet.

FUNDAMENTALIST METHODIST CHURCH

Mr. and Mrs. H. K. German have come to the church as associates in the work with the pastor. They expect to sail some time this year for the Sudan interior mission field of Africa. Brownwood is fortunate to have these talented and consecrated people in the community.

"The Man who went to Heaven without baptism, without joining a church, without a mourners bench and without even being good," is the message for Sunday evening. The Germans will sing at all the services of the day. The boys and girls and the young people will meet at 6:30 o'clock.

Three Bible classes will be conducted next week, Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday nights.

"March of Time" Is Coming To Lyric

Fan mail before a motion picture has been shown on the screen is a topsy-turvy procedure, yet this is the amazing record of The March of Time, the thrilling new motion picture series which will be shown exclusively in Brownwood at the Lyric Theatre Friday and Saturday, February 1 and 2.

The announcement that The March of Time would appear on the screen was made during the regular Friday night national broadcast of the March of Time on the air, December 7th. For two successive years in the national Radio Editors Poll conducted by the N. Y. World-Telegram, this program was voted the best and most interesting dramatic program on the air. According to a survey made by Columbia Broadcasting Company's Dr. Daniel Starch, an average of 32,570,000 listeners tune in weekly on the program.

Arthur Pryor Jr. who is in charge of production for March of Time of the air, will also supervise the scoring and orchestrating for the motion picture. William Spler and Homer Pickett, assistants to Mr. Pryor in the radio presentation, will have similar responsibilities with March of Time on the screen. For nearly a year the editors of TIME have been working on a motion picture feature patterned after their March of Time radio news dramatizations. They believe that just as radio audiences and editors hall their vivid reenactments of news events as the best dramatic show on the air, so cinema audiences will be interested in a motion picture portraying scenes and incidents leading up to and following important topics in the news. The screen presentation will run for twenty minutes and will cover seven or eight subjects.

Members of the Texas Legislature who are interested in simplifying court procedure in Texas would do well to consider the case of the ailing juror in the Hauptmann case. A few days ago, during the trial of the case, one of the jurors suffered a slight heart attack. Doctors were rushed to his aid, and he is being watched as closely as the defendant as the trial progresses.

Alternate Jurors

It is just possible, of course, that the juror in question might become seriously ill, or some juror might die, in which case there would be a mistrial. Up to the present time, it is estimated that the trial has cost the state of New Jersey about $80,000, and the total cost of the trial is expected to approximate $100,000.

This $80,000 already spent would be wasted entirely should one of the jurors be unable to continue in attendance at court. It is presumed that the case would start over again at the beginning, in which another $80,000 would have to be spent in bringing it up to its present state. Further, the state has disclosed its case, and the defense has gone far in presenting its side. Each would face a new trial at this time under certain disadvantages.

It is too much to expect that twelve men or women, selected at random, kept long hours in a stuffy court room and in virtual confinement at all times, should be able to withstand the ordeal of a long, drawn out trial without illness. The human body is too frail. And while the Hauptmann trial doubtless will go on to conclusion, other trials may not fare so well.

It has been suggested that Texas follow the example of several other states in providing an alternate juror, who would serve throughout the trial, but would assist in reaching a verdict only in event one of the twelve selected was unable to serve throughout the trial. It would cost little to qualify an additional juror, and in any case in which the alternate juror served, the state would be saved a great expense.

The plan is worthy of serious consideration by the present Legislature.

Everyone who knew Senator E. M. Davis of Brownwood before he became a member of the Texas Senate knew that he would take an active and important part in legislative procedure in Austin. His activities since the present session opened have made it apparent to the entire district.

Active Senator Davis

It is gratifying to note, also, that the legislative program outlined last summer by Judge Davis in his campaign for the senate was not just a group of fine sounding platform planks designed to secure votes, and to be forgotten once the office is gained. Too many times has such been the case.

During the past ten days, however, Senator Davis has introduced bills in the Texas senate designed to carry out three of the measures he considered the most important to more economical and efficient government: bills touching on simplified court procedure, on lobbying before the Legislature, and for the creation of a State Conservation Board to foster soil erosion prevention by terracing.

The measure that most affects every citizen is the Davis plan to place terracing tools and machinery within the reach of every farmer. He proposes that one-fourth of each county's motor vehicle registration fees, up to $12,500, be appropriated to finance the work, with anticipated Federal aid.

Senator Davis proposes that counties make available without charge to farmers used county road building machinery, with competent operators at a stated sum. The machinery would be used in terracing work. Through such a plan, the Senator points out that almost every farm in the state could be properly terraced. "Our soil is our greatest resource, and when this is permitted to be destroyed through erosion, our wealth and productivity is gone forever," Senator Davis states.

We consider it fortunate indeed that a man of the vision, and the ability of Judge Davis has been selected to serve this district in the state senate.

A few months ago a great passenger liner burned at sea, with a loss of life totaling about 150. Recently a track Canadian passenger train tore onto a siding and telegraphed a "holiday special." A score of people died.

Permitted Slaughter

Each of these tragic incidents was headlined in newspapers throughout the civilized world. Millions of people were literally horror-stricken. Public and private bodies immediately started inquiries in an effort to fix the blame and punish those who were guilty. The whole force of public opinion, backed by the authority of the law, determined that everything be done to make certain that there would be no more similar accidents.

Yet those killings, horrible as they were, were infinitesimal compared with a form of accident which the public accepts with complete indifference—the automobile killings. Last year, incompetent, reckless or careless drivers and pedestrians accounted for a killing every fifteen minutes, and an injury every 31 seconds. The year showed a record killing in the United States of 36,000 and an injury total of 1,000,000. What would the public have done if the railroads and steamships had killed 36,000 persons in one year?

Practically every accident, whether it results in killings or only in scratched fenders, is the result of the human element. Ninety per cent of automobile drivers are safe, careful and competent. Ten per cent are reckless, careless or incompetent. And that ten per cent menaces the lives, health and property of us all.

If one steamship accident or a bad railroad accident, killing comparatively few people, causes revolutionary legislation to protect the public, what should be the safety program resulting from 36,000 automobile killings in one year?

A THOUGHT ON POULTRY

The hope has been expressed by several local poultrymen that the rising prices of eggs and chickens would encourage raisers to increase production this year. Flocks in this section have been sold off steadily for the past two years, and it is confidently predicted that a real shortage will bring good profits to poultry raisers the coming season.

In the Ozark regions of Missouri and Arkansas, parts of Tennessee, Kentucky, and Alabama, the bitterweed, Helianthus, tenuifolius, yields plenty of golden honey to bees, but it is as bitter as quinine.

ON PUBLIC DEBT

(San Angelo Times) You owe $285. You don't? Oh yes, you do! That's your share of the 51 billion dollar debt of the federal, state, and local governments of the country.

You may think you're square with the world and owe no man anything, but you're not — so long as these public debts continue to mount. It's a claim against everything you own or ever hope to own.

The federal government debt is now 31 billion dollars (it will soon be 34 billion) and local governments owe some 20 billion dollars. Nobody else is ever going to pay it but you.

But it isn't so bad. If you were a Britisher, you'd owe $991 in the same way. If the World War had come on another year, you'd probably owe more than you do now. But if you were a Britisher you would realize that the 3 1/2 billion war debt to the U. S. A. would not be paid and that the colonies would pay their part of this $991.

As a matter of fact no nation in the world in peace time has had six years of billion dollar deficits such as we have.

Treasury figures reducing these debts to terms of the individual citizen are fortunate, because they bring home a thing that people are apt to forget about public debts.

Really, there isn't any such thing as a public debt. A public debt is simply a collective debt of all of us, and as long as it exists, no man is debt-free.

Do you own a home? It isn't debt-free, even though you've paid for it in full. Have you money in the bank? It isn't solely yours—the public treasury has a potential claim for $235 against it.

Do you draw wages or a salary? It isn't all yours for certain until these public debts are paid.

We're apt to think of the public treasury as some sort of inexhaustible fountain pouring out gold from a mysterious source. There's nothing mysterious about it. It all comes out of your pockets, and the pockets of your neighbors.

And that's true regardless of what kind of taxes are used to raise the money. Income taxes, tariff levies, production taxes, sales taxes, gas taxes, cigarette taxes, amusement taxes, liquor taxes — they all come from one source in the long run, the only source there is—the pockets of the people who work to produce either goods or services.

All this is not saying the money shouldn't be spent. The best authorities agree that the country collectively can carry a heavier debt than we are now carrying, without going to the bow wows.

But every man, woman and child has a direct interest in seeing that the money is well spent and that we get something of permanent value for the money.

So the next time you hear of a billion-dollar appropriation, think to yourself, "That's $3 out of my neighbor's pockets. Is it worth it?"

WATCH OUT FOR COLDS SEQUEL

By DR. WILSON G. SMILLIE Professor of Public Health Administration, Harvard University School of Public Health.

The after-effects of colds may be much more serious than the cold itself. In most instances a cold lasts only a week or so, and then the person gets well. Small children are particularly likely to suffer from complications of colds, especially from inflammation of the ear drums. Thus babies should be protected as much as possible from contact with people who have colds.

Elderly people are very likely to develop a prolonged troublesome bronchitis following a cold and should take special precautions to avoid exposure to the elements during the acute stages of a cold.

Pneumonia is the most serious consequence of a cold. Not infrequently pneumonia follows some careless exposure or neglect by a person who has a bad cold. It is particularly important not to commit some indiscretion or suffer exposure at the height of a cold—the third or fourth day.

Chronic colds Chronic colds are quite a different story. They may follow an acute cold, but are nearly always caused by an infection of one of the nasal sinuses and require special medical attention.

If your cough continues long after the acute cold has passed, if you have lost your appetite and are feeling badly, losing weight and feel generally run down, don't delay, but go to a doctor and have your chest examined. It may be nothing serious and your doctor will reassure you. These symptoms may indicate an early stage of tuberculosis. We all know how important it is to recognize this condition at its earliest beginning.

There is some evidence that resistance can be built up against the ill effects of colds by improving the general body condition, through such measures as the proper selection of articles of diet. Milk, vegetables, fruits and cod liver oil have often been suggested as valuable foods in this respect.

The working population of Chicago, based on 1930 census figures, consists of 1,149,714 males and 889,395 females.

College—Peanut producers agree under the 1935 production adjustment contract, not to reduce the number of share tenants or share croppers in 1935 below the number in 1934 and not to reduce the percentage of the total peanut acreage grown by such tenants and croppers in 1935 below the number acre grown in 1934, according to information received from Washington by E. A. Miller, Extension agronomist.

All share tenants and share croppers who produce peanuts in 1935 on farms covered by contracts will receive part of the benefit payment. If the share tenant or share cropper produces peanuts in 1935 on the same farm on which he produced peanuts in 1934, he will share in the benefit payment in the proportion to his interest in the total 1934 peanut production of that farm. If he moves to another farm under contract in 1935 he will receive a share of the benefit payment that would have gone to the old tenants and croppers who have moved from that farm.

The share tenants and share croppers do not sign the contract, but the landlord received the benefit payment in trust and agrees to divide the payments with his tenants or croppers according to their respective interests in the crop.

Goliad—With 13 men on the waiting list and approximately 1,900 acres represented, Goliad county farmers are turning to terracing in a big way, according to K. J. Edwards, farm demonstration agent. Terrace lines have been run on six farms in the county during the month, and with one exception the terraces will be put up with county equipment. Costs on terracing by county machinery have been running from 75 cents to $1 per acre in Goliad county, and as this is about the same cost as for one good plowing the farmers figure that the benefits of terracing are worth many times the small cost.

Itusk—"The 713 containers of foods I canned this year cost me approximately $19, and I figure that they are worth $125.75," Miss Zona Martin, farm food supply demonstrator in Cherokee county, told Miss Irene Price, home demonstration agent. All the food canned was grown on the Martin farm. Miss Martin bought an automatic sealer, a bottle capper, jars and cans to aid her in canning her food supply.

Port Lavaca—Thirty-eight articles of clothing including eight dresses have been made this year by Mary Margaret Walker, 11, member of the Long Mott 4-H club in Calhoun county, according to Miss Irene Gibson, home demonstration agent. In addition to clothing made for herself, Margaret made a dress and a pair of bloomers to match from two gingham flour sacks for her 5 year old sister.

Wellington—As a part of her bedroom improvement work for the year, Mrs. John Jones, bedroom demonstrator for the North Wellington Home Demonstration Club in Collingsworth county, improved her clothes closet by adding linen storage space and an extra rod for clothes that are out of season. Her closet had only two shelves in the back and one rod for hanging the clothes, so that practically three-fourths of her storage space was lost. By adding new shelves and a new rod, Mrs. Jones has organized her space so that she has room for her clothes, accessories and linens. Lumber already on the place was used, and as Mr. Jones did the work there was no cash expenditure for the improvement of the closet.

Corn is grown without the aid of rain on the Canary Islands. Dew supplies the moisture and the stalks are so short that the birds touch the ground. The crop is planted in a bunch of cinders, preventing evaporation.

SCHOOL BOARD SEEK $75,000 FOR STATION

Plans are being made for an application by the Brownwood school board for $75,000 in PWA funds for the construction of a station building auditorium for the Fort Worth Public Works Administration. The application is receiving approval from the PWA.

The amount to be applied for will be about $75,000. Should the application be approved and funds made available, the station building would be the property of the PWA.

The application is being submitted to the PWA. Included in the plan is the construction of a station building auditorium for the Fort Worth Public Works Administration.

Early History of Texas

Shown from the Austin Papers. This country has been very healthy this year and we are getting on pretty well in every respect. I will pay you a visit some time but cannot tell when. It shall be as soon as possible. I know you cannot visit me and I do not wish you to take such a journey — it is too long, and exposed to some dangers. Remember me affectionately to Mr. Perry and all old friends and acquaintances.

"Your brother,
"S. F. AUSTIN."

Another letter written two years later, to his brother-in-law, James F. Perry, also refers to the perplexities and difficulties confronting the empresario:

"San Felipe de Austin 14 Oct.
"San Felipe de Austin,
14 Oct. 1830.

"Dr. Brother:
"I have the satisfaction of acknowledging the receipt of yours of 2nd October from New York, and of informing you of the safe arrival of the Nelson. I rec. a letter yesterday from John Austin stating that the Nelson was at Brazoria and he was then unloading your goods. She lost her false keel coming over the bar and thumped severely—the bar is much worse than when you came over — Henry Austin came near losing his steam boat going out. He put to sea very much damaged and I have not heard of him since.

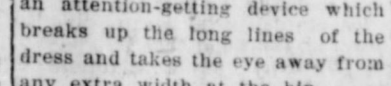

"I wrote to John to follow your instructions strictly as to the goods and not open them until Mr. Hunter arrives. I have not yet finished the store house. It is raised, the shingles are hauled, the plank is all sawed and wagons have come after it. So that I hope it will be ready by the time Hunter arrives. I have no house under way for the family—you will get out in the spring and the weather will be pleasant and you can get along very well until some buildings are put up. Emily has seen a new county in times long past and can manage very well for a month or two. The fact is I have no one to attend to business and if I undertake to build while I am absent it will cost ten piers. My advice is that you build on the out lots above Williams; in this place on the creek—I think the situation a healthy one.

"Edwards gets the league at the point—there was no other way of arranging the thing. The tract between the two creeks I think is the best stock farm in the lower country, and I am clearly of opinion that stock is the best business that can be followed, and if you intend to go into that business the Clear Creek and Dickenson's Creek is the best tract you can get. I am very anxious for you to be here. We can soon fix ourselves comfortably — the family will have to undergo some privations the first year. I leave here the day after tomorrow

MAKING Smart CLOTHES

The woman who is over forty has a definite clothes problem. In the first place, her figure is usually beginning to mature, and she must have clothes designed to flatter her. In the second place, she wants smart, wearable clothes that are neither 'kiddish' nor 'old lady'.

The dress sketched above is a perfect one for the woman over forty. It has grand simple lines, lines definitely designed to do something for her. It is not fussy, but fashionably soft. The little bit of fullness just above the skirt is an attention-getting device which breaks up the long lines of the dress and takes the eye away from any extra width at the hip.

This is one of the famous Butterick Patterns designed for women. Make it in a bright print on a dark ground (that's very slenderizing, you know) or in one of the interesting new cloxy weaves. Choose black for it only if black is very good on you; don't feel that because you are over forty, you have to wear black. Green with a blue grayed cast to it, soft grayed, the new grayblue — any colors that are not too intense will be charming on you. You can buy this Butterick Pattern at your local department store.

FEWER TURKEYS ON LOCAL MARKET, BUT PRICE MUCH BETTER

Due to a better market, turkey growers in this section have received about $2000 more for turkeys this season than they did last year, although fewer turkeys have been marketed.

To February 1, 1934, 75 cars of dressed turkeys had been shipped from Brownwood for which growers received approximately $150,000. For 44 cars this season they have received about $152,000.

Six carloads of turkeys have been shipped from here since the Christmas market. The price has been good during January, growers receiving 16 and 17 cents per pound for No. 1 birds, but the market has dropped off now and practically all turkeys that will be sold this season are expected to be in the dressing plants by February 10. Most of the turkeys marketed this month have gone into cold storage for retail sale later.

Brownwood is recognized as one of the leading turkey shipping points in Texas. Turkeys are brought from a radius of from 75 to 100 miles for sale here. Several dressing plants operate during the heavy seasons, giving employment to several hundred people.

Ratray Leaves As CEC Commander

Captain E. D. Ratray, who has been in command of the CEC camp at Lake Brownwood, left Tuesday afternoon for Belton where he is to assume duties as commanding officer. Captain O'Brian, who is to take his place at the local camp, is expected to arrive the latter part of this week to take over his command.

Captain O'Brian has made a good showing with the Belton camp and has a fine record as an officer, area officers say. He is a World War veteran and is a graduate in 1914 of Harvard University.

Lieut. Paul Ivanchik is in command of the camp here until O'Brian arrives.

Hughes Appointment Endorsed By Women

Brownwood Business and Professional Women's Club at a meeting Tuesday night passed a resolution approving confirmation of the appointment by Governor Alfred of Mrs. Sarah T. Hughes, representative in the Legislature from Dallas county, as district judge. Copies of the resolution were sent to Senator E. M. Davis of Brownwood and to other state senators.

Mrs. Frank W. Sorell of San Antonio, state chairman of the highway beautification program, and Mrs. W. R. Roberts of Brownwood chairman of this highway division for the program, were guests of the club. They complimented the club on its work in connection with the beautification program and spoke particularly of its part in securing Few bushels Reese Drouth Resister Seed Corn, way under the market. Come early as it won't last long. — Looney's.

The club adopted another resolution, copies of which will be sent to Senator Davis and Representative Courtney Gray, urging passing of a state stock law to prohibit stock being turned loose on the highway. The necessity for such a law was told by Mrs. Roberts.

(Simply Add to Gas and Oil)

GIVES CARS NEW LIFE

Is your car losing its original pep? Disappointing on pick up? Overheating on long runs? Then, a pleasant revelation is in store, the first time you use PYROIL.

PYROIL does immediate wonders for any car—new or old. Simply added in small quantity to regular gasoline and oil supply, PYROIL establishes a heat, wear, dilation-proof surface of self-lubrication on every moving metal part. Actually, builds lubrication into the metal. PYROIL withstands the withering heat of the motor head where ordinary oil burns into carbon. Hence, it supplies constant lubrication to valves, stems, guides, pistons, cylinder walls, that no motor heat can affect; that can't wear off as long as sustained; that can't wash off. Frees sticky valves at once. Seals rings. Aids compression. Banishes hard carbon. Makes your motor better every mile you ride. Drive into your filling station or garage and ask more about PYROIL, the greatest lubricating process ever developed. Ask for a free copy of the amazing "Story of Pyroil."

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church met in the auditorium of the church Monday afternoon at 2 p. m. in a regular business session and study meeting. The meeting was called to order by our President, Mrs. W. W. Hicks, who led in a short devotional service and business session, after which the Mission Study superintendent gave a chapter from our Mission Study book on "Orientals in Japan," which was well rendered and very instructive. Plans are being made to entertain the next zone meeting which will convene here the 2nd Thursday in March. The following report of the year's work for our society ending in 1934 has been handed in for publication: All programs of work have been carried out. Will receive two council credits on Mission Study Books. Four boxes of supplies sent to institutions, valued at $12.00; five new subscriptions to the "World Outlook." Very active in social service work, remembering one family in a very substantial way at Christmas. Have "gone over the top" with our finances paying our mission pledge of $50 in full. Also our Scarritt fund. Finances in full for the year are $90.12. Our Society will again be on the honor roll for our year's work, winning 90 points out of 100.

ANNOUNCING

The beginning of a series of articles on Osteopathy to start in the next issue of this paper. Osteopathy is an American institution, and in the short space of fifty years has grown from one lone physician—its founder—to the second largest recognized school of the healing art in the world, with practitioners in every state in the union and most foreign countries. In our first article we will give you a brief history and definition of the subject.

MOTHER! don't experiment with your Child's Cold

Often, "mere colds" have serious consequences. It is dangerous to neglect a cold—equally dangerous to experiment with half-way measures.

Feel safe! Use Vicks VapoRub—the proved external method of treating colds. No risks of constant internal "dosing," which so often upsets delicate digestions and lowers resistance than most needed.

DOUBLE DIRECT ACTION
Just rubbed on at bedtime, VapoRub fights a cold direct—two ways at once—by stimulation and inhalation. This combined poultice-vapor action loosens phlegm—soothes irritated membranes—eases difficult breathing—helps break congestion. Often by morning the worst of the cold is over.

Film Folk Make a Match of It

A strikingly happy match is this one, which united Jocelyn Lee, film actress, and James L. Seymour in marriage at Hollywood. Only a few close friends witnessed the ceremony. Seymour, an associate film producer, is the second husband of Miss Lee, who divorced Luther Dancy a divorcee in 1931.

RENFO'S REPRESENTED AT REXALL MEETING

Saved by new Vitamins of Cod Liver Oil in tasteless tablets.

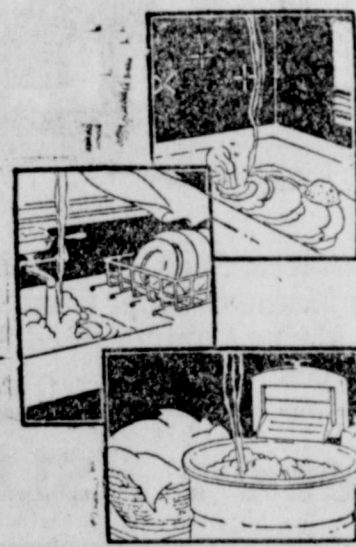

Pounds of firm healthy flesh instead of bare scraggy bones! New vigor, vim and energy instead of tired listlessness! Steady, quiet nerves! That is what thousands of people are getting through scientific latest discovery—the Vitamins of Cod Liver Oil concentrated in little sugar coated tablets without any of its horrid fishy taste or smell.

McCoys' Cod Liver Oil Tablets, they're called "Cod Liver Oil in Tablets," and they simply work wonders. A little boy of 8, seriously sick, got well and gained 10½ lbs. in just one month. A girl of thirteen after the same disease, gained 1 lb. the first week and 2 lbs. each week after. A young mother who could not eat or sleep after baby came got all her health back and gained 10 lbs. in less than a month.

You simply must try McCoys' at once. Remember if you don't gain at least 5 lbs. of firm healthy flesh in a month get your money back. Demand and get McCoys'—the original and genuine Cod Liver Oil Tablet.

Insist on the original McCoys'—there are none better.

RUSSIAN BALLET IN SAN ANTONIO, FEB. 22

The taste for Russian ballet will be renewed with the appearance of the famous Col. W. de Basil's Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo, in San Antonio, at the Public Auditorium, on Washington's Birthday, February 22nd.

The fifty dancers, with their three carloads of scenery, 6,000 costumes and thousands of pairs of satin ballet slippers, have embarked this year on a five-months' tour of the United States, convinced by their reception last season that America is hungry for the unique art of dancing, music, decoration and drama which it had not had for nearly two decades before.

So widespread has been the clamor for them, in fact, that New York last year paid $25 a seat to see their premiere, and recalled them twice after their initial run of ten weeks.

One of their stops this year was Mexico City, whither they were invited by the Mexican government to open the new Palace of Fine Arts with a season of ballet.

Work To Start On Bangs Auditorium And Gym Soon

Actual work of construction on the combined auditorium and gymnasium at Bangs school probably will start within the next two weeks. The contract has been awarded to Lemmons & Heddes of Bangs for $11,420. It is expected that James C. Jones, Brownwood architect, will issue the work order on the building this week.

The PWA has 10 days in which to send a representative to approve of starting of the work after the work order is issued.

Bids on the building were opened December 21 and the three low bids were sent to the PWA regional office at Fort Worth. The PWA approved of expenditure of $12,300 on the building, 30 per cent of which is a grant and 70 per cent of which is a loan secured by bonds voted by the school district.

SCHOOL OFFICIALS ARE NOW ASKING FOR AN ADDITIONAL $490 FROM THE PWA TO DO EXTRA WORK ON THE BUILDING.

FANS TALKING NEW HPC COACH AS BELL CONSIDERS CHEANEY

Brownwood football fans this week were discussing prospective candidates for the head coaching position at Howard Payne College, following the announcement from Dallas that Joe Bailey Cheaney, present coach, was one of two leading candidates for assistant coach at Southern Methodist University.

So popular is Cheaney with Brownwood fans, that no one considers it likely that he will not be chosen at S. M. U., and speculation here only is whether the offer will be attractive enough to suit the Howard Payne mentor. Most guesses are that it will be.

Cheaney visited Matty Bell, new head coach of the S. M. U. Mustangs, Wednesday, and Dallas newspapers said he apparently was well pleased with the interview. Two days previously, Bell had interviewed Vic Hurt, director of athletics at Oklahoma Baptist University. The Dallas News said Thursday that indications were that either Cheaney or Hurt would be named assistant to Bell within the next few days. Brownwood fans are sure it will be Cheaney.

The appointment at Dallas will be made soon, Bell said, since he is anxious to have his assistant on the job when spring football training starts March 6.

Should Cheaney be given the Dallas post, there will be plenty of candidates for the Howard Payne coaching job, considered the best Texas college job outside the Southwest Conference. Most of the local fans seem to favor McAdoo Keaton, Cheaney's assistant for the top position. There is a possibility, however, that Cheaney might be able to take Keaton with him to Dallas, as the freshmen coaching job is open at S. M. U., as well as other positions on the coaching staff. Cheaney and Keaton have worked so well together that the Dallas school might prefer to use them both.

Dozens of other prospects are being discussed by fans here, and should the position be open, there are certain to be plenty of applicants.

Cheaney has had spectacular success at Howard Payne, and Brownwood fans would hate to lose him. But all appreciate the greater opportunity afforded by the chance to move up into the big time, and should he leave, he will go with the best wishes of football fans from this section.

Widow on Trial As Slayer

Mrs. Mary Irene Buccolo (above) went on trial in Washington, D. C., in one of the capital's infrequent notable murder cases. She is charged with having killed her husband, Rudolph Buccolo, in a jealous rage after discovering his affection for a young candy store clerk.

Nobody's Business

By JULIAN CAPERS, JR.
Austin, Feb. 6.—Here is a true story, typical of the difficulties east Texas citizens have encountered with oil thieves, since tightened proration restrictions in the giant east Texas pool have stemmed the flood of illegally produced oil.

An operator with two fine wells on one lease saw them suddenly start running salt water instead of high-grade crude. Investigation revealed a watchman employed on the lease had been bribed for $100 a night to permit oil thieves to connect a temporary pipeline and run thousands of barrels of the owner's oil nightly, until the wells were ruined. The operator swore somebody was going to the penitentiary. He employed detectives and a special prosecutor. Weeks of painstaking effort rounded up the evidence, bit by bit. Grand jury indictments were returned against a group of defendants. Weeks later when the cases were called for trial, many of the prosecution witnesses were missing—having left the state.

The operator spent thousands of dollars bringing the missing witnesses back. After another long delay, when the defendants and their lawyers finally appeared in court, they submitted an affidavit signed by a member of the legislature, stating he was chief defense counsel, but could not attend the trial while the legislature was in session. The court ruled that under the state law, it had no choice but to grant another delay until the legislature adjourns in May.

Ordinarily, that would end the story. But the aroused east Texan, having spent about $26,000 seeking justice, wouldn't stop. That is why Governor Jimmie Allred has on his desk a bill changing the criminal law so that absence of a legislator-lawyer need not delay such trials in future. Besides, it is the draft of a message asking the legislature to pass it as an emergency measure. Somebody may go to the penitentiary yet for running those east Texas wells. But it will be expensive justice.

The forty-fourth legislature, now in session, apparently has seen the end of one of the oldest lobbying rackets in Texas. When the state adopted the Robertson insurance law, in 1906, requiring out-of-state life insurance companies to invest part of their Texas premium income in the state, a group of large eastern companies withdrew from Texas.

Almost every two years since, money has appeared from some mysterious source to hire lobbyists, speakers and publicity men to conduct a campaign for repeal of the Robertson law. Each time the legislature has decisively voted its faith in the law that enabled Texas insurance companies to stud the skyline of the state's principal cities with skyscrapers, built with Texas money.

Now, apparently, the flow of propaganda money has dried up at its source. Not a lobbyist in Austin has mentioned repealing the Robertson law at this session. Nobody can recognize a lost cause as quickly as a lobbyist—and, to a lobbyist, no cause is so dead as one that has no money behind it. By this test, the Robertson law repeal racket seems definitely ready for the last rites.

The temper of the 44th legislature, at this early stage, is very distinctly one of investigation and regulation. Six public utility regulation bills already have been prepared or offered, with probably more to come. Chief of these is the so-called Montgomery bill, said to have been written largely by the hand of Gov. Allred, collaborating with Dr. R. H. Montgomery, economics professor of Texas university. It provides a utility commission appointed by the governor and approved by the senate. It sets up machinery for valuating utility properties and fixing rates with return on actual investment fixed at from 4 to 8 per cent "average over a period of years, and not for any particular year." It specifically outlaws returns on "intangible assets" and permits home rule cities either to surrender their utility regulation problems to the commission, or to retain their own control, while buying technical assistance from the commission at actual cost. In the event of a rate controversy, cost of the commission's operations would be borne by the utilities themselves, thru a special tax. Members of the legislature were called to the executive mansion in small groups where Prof. Morrison explained the bill for a week prior to its introduction. It bears the signatures of more than 60 members of the house and it has already caused the util-ly representative in Austin some sleepless nights.

Jimmy Walkers Off for 'Vacation'

Sen. Ken Reagan, handsome West Texan, has made a distinct bid as a presiding officer in the senate recently, in the absence of Lieut. Gov. Walter Woodul, who has been in Washington on personal business. Reagan's dignified work in the chair, during the heat of acrimonious debate over the senate "investigate everything" resolution, with such firebrands as Sens. Holbrook of Galveston, Tom DeBerry of Red River and Rawlings of Tarrant, drew high praise from former Lieut. Gov. Edgar Witt, who sat in the gallery during the debate and who knows from experience what a tough spot the presiding officer of the senate is in when the boys get rough.

Announcement by Congressman Joe Eagle that he will be a candidate for the United States senate in 1936, against the veteran Sen. Morris Sheppard, has revived the persistent rumor in Austin that Gov. Allred, if all goes well during the next year and a half, may be a candidate against Sheppard. The governor has never discussed the possibility with his closest friends, but the story has been circulated throughout the state and with it goes the report that if Allred does not seek a second term as governor, William McCraw, the attorney general, will certainly seek the governorship. Clyde Smith, of Woodville, unsuccessful candidate for the attorney generalship last July, now assistant secretary of state, is reported ready to make another bid for the place whenever McCraw steps out.

GAINED 20 POUNDS IN TWO MONTHS

"Up to two months ago my stomach was in such a bad condition I could not even take a cup of coffee in the morning without being in distress for two or three hours. I bought a bottle of your Emulsion and it helped me from the start, so much so that people thought something had happened to me all of a sudden.

"Since then I have used six bottles and now I can get up in the morning and eat corned beef and cabbage, my stomach is in such good condition."

—E. H. Knobloch, 1955 Lincoln Ave., Chicago, Ill.

Milks Emulsion restores healthy, natural bowel action. This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream. Wonderful for weak, sickly children. You are urged to try Milks Emulsion. Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 60c and $1.20 per bottle. The Milks Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold by druggists everywhere.

ANTI-LOBBY BILL IS PROPOSED BY DAVIS

Following is a summary of Senator E. M. Davis' bill to regulate lobbyists:

Davis' bill has as its basic requirement the provision that everyone who is hired to promote the passage of legislative measures or to promote or oppose the approval of those that have been passed should register with the Secretary of State. It would be unlawful to give or accept pay for such service which payment is made contingent on the passage or defeat of such measures. Two months after adjournment of a Legislature anyone that had employed a lobbyist would have to file a sworn statement with the Secretary of State setting forth the names of those he had employed and the measure they had been engaged to promote or oppose. From this provision of the bill those that appear as agents of counties, cities, towns or public boards or institutions would be exempted. Also those that appeared before committees of the Legislature without pay would be exempt from this requirement. Also would those whose service in the promotion or opposing of pending measures consisted only in the drafting of a bill, the supplying of facts or the rendering of opinions concerning the validity of measures.

One that obtained anything of value, or sought it, on the representation that he would or could control the action of a member of the Legislature would be guilty of a felony. It would be a felony, too, to attempt to influence the course of a member with the promise of employing or appointment of the member or of any constituent. The offer of anything of value or the proposal to any corporation that such an offer be made likewise would be a felony.

Felony Penalties

To promise to employ or threaten to discharge any one if made a member of the Legislature as a means of influencing its course with respect to any legislative measure would be a felony punishable by as much as two years' confinement in the penitentiary and disqualification for office holding. Members of the Legislature would not be forbidden to solicit the employment of relatives, friends or in the continued employment in or out of the penitentiary is a right, doubtless, but to be restricted by such a law back up such a promise to anything would be a felony with imprisonment years and dishonorable disqualification.

The final prohibition is one that would be a felony, up to two years' imprisonment or anyone employed on the floor of either house of the Legislature, reserved therefor while in session. This would be a felony, up to two years' imprisonment and disqualification for office holding. This would be a felony, up to two years' imprisonment and disqualification for office holding. Lake Fisherman Is Assessed $25 Fine

John Gabbert, Brownwood, was fined $25 and costs in the justice court Monday morning for fishing in Lake Brownwood. This is the first case to be brought into court for violation of the fish sanctuary at Lake Brownwood since its establishment about a year ago. Gabbert was arrested Sunday morning by Game Warden J. H. Woods.

Mr. Woods said that he and his deputies plan to keep a close watch over the waters of Lake Brownwood during the remainder of the spring and into the fall in order to keep people from fishing in the lake. He said that it was his intention to do all possible to have the law obeyed.

"We don't want to be forced to fine anyone else for violation of this law and would rather give them a good warning and ask that they please refrain from violating the law than have to fine them," Mr. Woods said.

FUNDAMENTALIST CHURCH NOTES

Boys' and Girls' Choir.
A Junior choir has been organized at the Fundamentalist Methodist Church under the direction of the associate pastor, Mr. H. K. German. Meetings will be conducted Monday 4 p. m. and Saturday at 10 a. m. All boys and girls who care to enter will see Mr. German at the church Monday at 4 o'clock.

The young people of the Fundamentalist Methodist Church will meet Sunday at 6:30 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Harold K. German will lead the program. Mr. German will speak and special music will be rendered.

R. H. Laferty of the Fundamentalist Methodist Church has announced "Physical and Spiritual Light" as the subject for the boys and girls Sunday evening at 6:30. A contest for membership is one and the airplane scheme will be used. All boys and girls will want to be present.

Wednesday, 2:30 p. m., February 6th, the Berean Sunday School class will meet with Mrs. P. T. Stanford at 1105 Avenue D.

Thursday, 2:30 p. m., February 7th, class will meet at the parsonage, 1105 Avenue D.

Bible Classes.
Much time will be given to Bible teaching during the next few weeks at the Fundamentalist Methodist Church. Mr. German will teach Monday and Friday nights. Mr. George Broughton will teach a prophetic class in the book of Daniel each Tuesday evening and the pastor will teach the Sunday school lesson on Wednesday nights. Much interest on the part of the community is manifested in these classes, it is said.

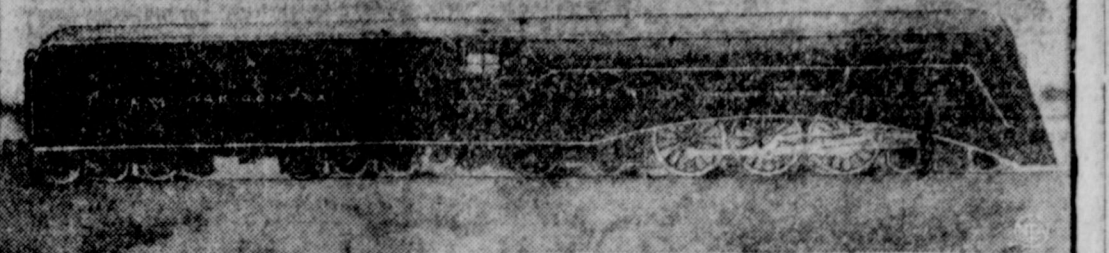

The committee of the Fundamentalist Methodist Church to ordain and license ministers will meet Saturday, February 16th, 10 a. m. to recommend men to the church for the ministry. Sunday, February 17th, the church is planning for a day of consecration.

"The Love of God Proved by the existence of death, hell and the lake of fire," will be the subject of the message by Rev. P. T. Stanford Sunday evening. Mr. German will sing "Jesus Rose of Sharon," a trio will sing "Precious Hiding Place." In Partnership with God, subject Sunday morning. Solo, "Keep in Christ I Am Satisfied."

First Streamline Steam Locomotive Faces Test Soon

This first streamlined high power steam locomotive soon will be given a series of tests by the New York Central railroad to demonstrate the rail line's faith in steam, despite recent advances in Diesel-powered locomotives in the west. The engine, named the Commodore Vanderbilt, after founder of the road, is streamlined to cut air resistance 35 per cent at a speed of 70 to 90 miles an hour.

Work Started On Paving Of Square

The work of paving the streets on the north and west sides of the court-house square in Brownwood was started this week. The county is to pay approximately $500.00 of the total cost of the paving, which is a city and county project.

The present work is being done on North Broadway. Scrapers began digging down the grade this morning and hauling the surplus dirt farther down that street to fill in a low place near the Harp Motor company rear door.

Extension horticulturist J. F. Rosborough met a man who told him that his party cotton check was ear-marked to buy fruit trees for a home orchard. That seemed such a good idea to Rosborough that he has made up charts for 1-4 acre fruit plots to be planted in Northwest Texas, Central Texas, or South Texas.

Judging from these charts, peaches, grapes and berries may range the entire State while South Texas features citrus fruits and North Texas revels in cherries and apples.

On January 14, Rosborough met with the county farm demonstration agents of Smith and Cherokee counties and a number of farmers from both counties to visit near-by orchards and give demonstrations in pruning peach trees. Farmers present made up a pool to buy approximately 5000 trees to be planted this spring in home orchards varying in size from one to three acres.

Kaufman county home demonstration club women reported that in 1934 they planted 6,686 fruit trees to help furnish balanced diets in their homes. They have 9,984 berry vines of bearing age and 594 grape vines. To these they added 58,836 feet of tomatoes, 157,977 feet of cantaloupes and 159,298 feet of watermelons.

Robert Breen Is The Young Hamlet Of Oxford Players

Dominant factors in the success of the Oxford Players, coming to the Howard Payne auditorium on Thursday and Friday, Feb. 7th and 8th, are youth, beauty, and charm.

According to advance reports, this organization vests the important work of Shakespeare and other dramatists, with a fresh vitality and power heretofore absent in similar dramas.

All who are familiar with their Shakespeare know Hamlet was a young man. Why not, then, have a young man to play the role.

During the engagement here, Mr. Breen will be seen on Thursday night as a young Romeo playing opposite the beautiful and charming Wilva Davis as Juliet.

On Friday night in Hamlet, he will reveal a newly conceived and remarkable portrait of the Prince of Denmark.

Additional Relief Funds Depend On Congress' Action

Unless additional appropriations for relief are made by Congress the $9,256 allotted to Brown county for direct relief, work relief and administrative costs in the first half of February, may be all that will be received here, according to C. E. Boyett, County Administrator.

The present work relief program in the county was scheduled to end February 7, but work cards were issued Thursday to carry on the program without a break through February 21.

$200,000 Finale In "Kid Millions"

As a magnificent gesture of confidence in the American public's appreciation of novelty in screen entertainment, Samuel Goldwyn expended $210,000 on the production of a unique Technicolor fantasy ending for "Kid Millions."

Nothing quite like this sequence has been filmed before. It may best be described as "Silly Symphony," done with human beings and with exaggerated settings and properties instead of animated cartoons.

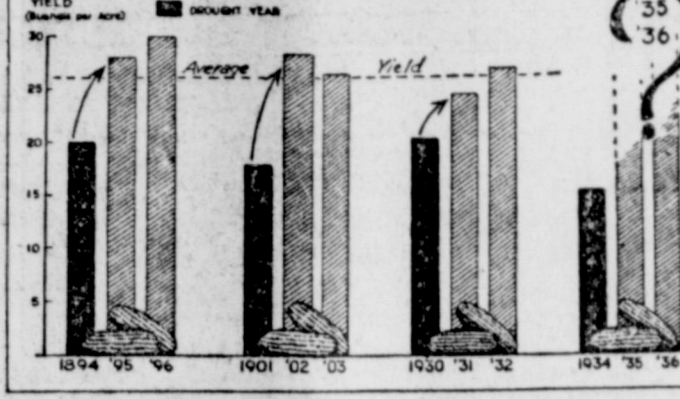

Among the amazing settings are a fantastic ice cream factory, three huge "contented cows" which moo and nod and swish their tails while lovely Goldwyn Girls as milk maids sing and dance for them; a gigantic ice cream freezer on the top of which an ice skating ballet of thirty beautiful girls is staged; a free ice cream counter where 300 youngsters are served ice cream to the rhythm of a new Kahn and Donaldson song hit, and a row of truly colossal ice cream sodas, each of which is thirty feet high.

CORN YIELDS HAVE INCREASED FOLLOWING DROUGHT YEARS

A STUDY of the past reveals that corn yields have a pronounced tendency to return to normal or better following seasons of abnormally dry weather. As indicated by the shaded columns in the above graph, the production per acre after the three severe drought years of 1934, 1931, and 1930 rose from a low average of about 19.6 bushels to approximately the normal United States annual average of about 26 bushels per acre.

HOG NUMBERS FOLLOW CHANGES IN CORN PRODUCTION

HOG numbers in the United States follow closely the changes in corn production. Since 1920-21, as indicated by the bottom line in the graph above, there have been three peaks of heavy hog slaughter—the marketing years of 1923-24, 1928-29, and 1933-34.

SECOND GOOD WILL TRIP IS PLANNED

Plans are being made this week for a second good will trip to a nearby community following the successful program at May last Thursday night.

The May home demonstration club served supper in the basement of May Methodist Church, and several girls from May High school entertained with songs.

Will Talbot of Brownwood presided as toastmaster. Preliminary arrangements were in charge of D. C. Pratt.

The program opened with each Brownwood man introducing himself and his guest. Invocation was by Rev. W. T. Veatch, pastor of the May Methodist Church.

Entertainment numbers by the May girls were: Quartet, Misses Willie L. Keeler, Ellie Turpin, Christine Parson and Ida Bell Morrison; trio, Iris Shultz, Willie L. Keeler, and Emma Jean Bailey; duet, Ida Bell Morrison and Christine Parson.

Members of the May home demonstration club who with Miss Annie Mae Lappe, president, prepared and served the supper were: Mesdames A. N. Lancaster, Mack Holt, Doc Dewbre, B. H. Betts, Dee Willett, Percy Wiggins, Boots Allen, W. P. Vanderveer, J. W. Phillips, E. R. McQuaid, Claud Willsett, Robert Bell, A. L. Petty, Ed Keng, A. J.
