PROGRAM BY FINE ARTS STUDENTS

MACDOWELL CLUB PRESENTS ARTIST STUDENTS OF W. T. S. T. C., AT CANYON

The MacDowell Club of this city will present a group of talented West Texas State Teachers College students and a member of the faculty in its annual Fine Arts program, at the College Auditorium, Saturday evening, May 6, at 8 o'clock. The group includes Frances Snodgrass, Oscar Croson, C. W. Batchelder, Frances Usery, Farris Sears and Leon Landon.

Miss Frances Snodgrass, soprano, is coming in place of Miss Mary Helen Hardin, who is the official "song bird" of the Press Association and whose convention meets at Amarillo on the same date. Miss Snodgrass is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Roy C. Snodgrass, of Amarillo, and a talented pupil of Mr. Wallace R. Clark, head of the music department of the Canyon college.

Miss Frances Usery is a senior student in the college at this time. She is a pupil of Miss Pauline Bingham, head of the piano department, and is considered one of the best piano students the college has had for some time.

Mr. Oscar Croson is a violin pupil of Mr. Herschel Coffee. He has had considerable experience in orchestra, choir and radio work, but is this year doing his first college work.

Mr. C. W. Batchelder, who is a member of the Speech faculty, in the few years that he has

Whitefish, Sunny View Schools Close

The schools at Whitefish and Sunny View will complete their year's work this week. Miss Evelyn Curry and Mrs. Fincher Davenport have been teachers in the Whitefish school for the past three years and have been very popular. Under their coaching the Whitefish school has won the spelling contest at the county meet for the past three years.

They will be succeeded next year as teachers by Mrs. Willie Anna Gorman, principal, and Miss Dunkle. Mrs. Gorman is a graduate of Clarendon College and has had summer work at the University of Texas. Miss Dunkle, who is a Whitefish community girl, is at present attending the state teachers college at Canyon.

Teachers at the Sunny View school the past year were Mrs. Sada Gray Payne, who has taught there for the past three years, and Mrs. Donald Ballew, who taught her first term there this year.

PALODURO PARK PROJECT LOOMS

LONG BATTLE FOR PANHANDLE RESORT SEEMS WON AT LAST

After a trip through certain sections of the Paloduro Canyon Wednesday participated in by state officials representing the Parks board, the water board and the highway department, along with fifty Panhandle citizens enthused at the prospect of prompt success in securing the long desired state park in the canyon, a meeting was held in Amarillo in the evening at which plans were adopted which promises actual construction work within thirty days.

Clarendon and Donley County was represented by W. H. Patrick, Homer Mulkey, C. J. Douglas and Sam M. Braswell. Mr. Patrick served as a member of the steering and nominating committee, which resulted in the election of Odos Caraway as the Donley County member of the executive committee of the project empowered to proceed with the work.

In what is expected to be the most profitable organized movement in realizing the dream of the Palo Duro Park, state and officials and delegations of Panhandle park boosters at a banquet in the Amarillo Hotel named the executive committee to take immediate steps to secure necessary right-of-way for the "Goodnight Trail" and other scenic canyon drives. The projects would be a part of President Roosevelt's conservation program.

With the Federal government ready to begin work, and the state ready to declare the areas as state parks, the only remaining problem is obtaining of the right-of-way to be deeded to the state. That problem is a local one it was explained.

As a result, a committee recommended that the "Palo Duro Canyon project be commenced at the point of entry made by Colonel Goodnight in 1876; that the 'Goodnight Trail' follow down the canyon; and that it be constructed in Randall and Arm-

Record Attendance at Bray Singing

Hundreds of people, in spite of adverse weather conditions, enjoyed a very pleasant day last Sunday in an all-day singing and a big dinner. The Bray people were gratified by what is believed to be the largest crowd ever to attend since the new school building was erected, and the amount of food left from the dinner seemed to be nearly equal to that eaten. People from several of the neighboring communities brought baskets of lunch and spread with the Bray people. So large was the crowd that four tables across the room was not sufficient to serve all at once.

Many numbers of special music were rendered and enjoyed by all. Short talks were made upon closing in which expressions of appreciation for the contributions made which served to make the day such a pleasant one.

It is hoped that the affair can be repeated next year.—C. W. Howard.

COLLEGE SEEN AS VALUABLE ASSET

CHICAGO U. MAN SAYS IS WORTH TEN TIMES OVER ITS COST

That Clarendon's Junior College is "worth easily ten times what it costs" was the assertion made by a field representative of the University of Chicago to Supt. H. T. Burton this week. The remark was the result of the university man's inquiry into the number of high school graduates of last year who are attending college this year.

He visited Clarendon to secure the names of last year's graduates in connection with the annual award by the University of Chicago of scholarships to graduates who measure up to certain qualifications. He was told that 18 of the small class of 21 graduates of 1932 were attending college, most of them attending Clarendon Junior College. He expressed amazement at the fine

W. F. ASHMEAD IS KILLED BY TRAIN

VETERAN RAILROAD MAN OF JERICHO BADLY MANGLED THURSDAY NIGHT

W. F. Ashmead, of Jericho, met a tragic death Thursday night at 9:05 o'clock, when his body was badly mangled and cut completely in two by a passing Rock Island freight train, the fatal accident occurring in front of the Jericho depot. His body was found by his son and a friend shortly after the train had passed.

For the past 30 years Mr. Ashmead had been in charge of the Rock Island water pumping plant at Jericho, retiring two months ago on pension. He was the father of a large family of children and enjoyed the respect and admiration of a wide circle of friends throughout the country and among railroad men.

William Frank Ashmead was born in Missouri on June 7, 1867, and was married to Miss Emma Palmer Jan. 9, 1888. They came to Jericho to make their home in 1902.

Funeral services for the veteran pumper were held Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Jericho school building by Rev. W. H. Baker, pastor of the Presbyterian church. Pallbearers were L. E. Osborn, J. H. Clark, Thomas O. Kirby, E. C. Schaffer, J. E. Hunt and R. L. Darnell. Interment was made in the Groom cemetery.

Three daughters and four sons, in addition to the widow, survive. The daughters are Mrs. Jodie Helm, Jericho; Mrs. Jimmie Helm, Groom; and Mrs. R. C. Brown, Etter. The sons are Arthur, Elmer and Lloyd Ashmead, of Jericho, and Francis Ashmead, of Oakdale, Pa. Eighteen grandchildren survive.

Mrs. Joe Luther, of New York, visited here over the week-end with her uncle, G. F. Keener. Mrs. Luther is the former Christeen Chitwood, under which name she conducts cooking schools for the larger daily papers, closing one for the Amarillo News recently.

MUSICAL PROGRAM BY BOYS OF CITY

MUSIC TEACHERS ARRANGING MUSIC WEEK PROGRAM BY THEIR BOY PUPILS

A feature program showing several programs which are being arranged for Music Week in Clarendon will be rendered by the boy music pupils of the city. All the music teachers of Clarendon are co-operating in this unusual program.

Group numbers, solos, duets and trios, using various instruments, will provide a program which will not only be enjoyable, but which will demonstrate the fine interest which is being taken by the boys of the city and by their parents in instrumental music.

Arranged by the teachers who feel that the study of music is a refining influence in the life of boys, as well as girls, the program should be attended by every parent. Children especially should be urged to attend it. Many of them who have heretofore shown no special interest in music study will receive a new impression of its beauty and worth-while nature.

The program will be given Thursday night, May 11, at the College auditorium, at 8:00 o'clock. No admission will be charged and the teachers who are sponsoring the program are expecting an excellent audience.

Coaches Arrange Football Schedule

Coaches of Class B football teams of this district met at Claude Tuesday afternoon to arrange tentative conference schedule for the 1933-34 games.

The meeting was presided over by H. T. Burton, who is district chairman. He was accompanied by Coaches Frank Stocking and John G. Hutton. The schedule for the Bronchos is, of course, incomplete as yet, with four open dates—Nov. 3-17-24-30.

Games to be played in Clarendon are: Oct. 13, Claude, here; Oct. 20, McLean, here; Nov. 11, Memphis, here. Games away from home: Oct. 6, at Wellington; Oct. 27, at Shamrock.

Frank Whitlock and E. F. Bryan, of Amarillo, went to Pampa Tuesday on business, returning by way of Kingsmill and Groom, where Mr. Bryan has two sections of wheat. Mr. Whitlock says that the wheat appears very "spotted" as to condition. All of it has been heavily grazed, and it is believed that a good rain in the next few days would bring it out and make a fair crop in the country they visited.

INCH OF RAIN IN DONLEY COUNTY

IS ACCOMPANIED BY WIND AND LIGHT HAIL; NO DAMAGE REPORTED

Bringing welcome relief from a succession of dust-storms and disagreeable winds, a rainfall of one inch was recorded late Wednesday afternoon in the official rain-gauge of Joe Goldston, local U. S. weather observer. The rain was accompanied by wind and hail, the latter of varying intensity, but not heavy enough to do any damage. Limbs were broken off a few shade and fruit trees.

The rain was the first to fall since March 28, when a rainfall of 1.45 inches was recorded in Clarendon, extending over not only Donley county but north nearly to Amarillo and Pampa. The rain this week will be of great benefit to crops which are already up, consisting chiefly of corn and grain sorghums, with a limited planting of wheat in certain parts of the county. Some cotton-planting has also been done.

Wednesday afternoon's precipitation extended from Wichita Falls northward, almost to the city of Amarillo and eastward from it covering most of the eastern Panhandle country. Heavy clouds overhanging Clarendon late Thursday give promise of more rain.

FIVE BRONCHOS GOING TO AUSTIN

DAILY TRAINING HARDENS THEM FOR PREMIER ATHLETIC EVENT OF YEAR

Five members of the Broncho team, accompanied by Coaches Frank A. Stocking and John G. Hutton, left this morning for Austin to participate in the State Interscholastic League Meet and track events Friday and Saturday. Winners of the championship of District No. 1 at Canyon two weeks ago, with excellent individual records, the team and their coaches are confident that they will bring honor to themselves and to their home town in the State contests.

They will go up against the crack men of all the many interscholastic districts of Texas. But they have trained every day, even in the face of sandstorms, and are full of pep and ginger, well hardened for the supreme effort of their track careers. High hopes are placed by Clarendon track enthusiasts in the sensational Hubert Reavis, whose performance has been consistently brilliant throughout his track contests. He will be entered in three events: high hurdles, low hurdles and 220 yard dash.

Lloyd Martin will enter in high jump and discus throw; O. C. Watson, Jr., in high hurdles and high jump; Frank Behrens in high and low hurdles; Delbert Linders in the shot put.

The coaches and team expect to return to Clarendon Monday or Tuesday. The championship joins The News in the hope that they will come back with many of the coveted honors.

Salvation Army Man Here On Campaign

W. D. Pedigo arrived in Clarendon today to call on the friends of the Salvation Army in the interest of its financial support. He stated that he was not expecting the customary financial assistance of the citizenship, but that the Salvation Army is in sore need of funds to carry on even a small part of its work.

He will greatly appreciate the contributions of whatever amounts the citizenship may feel able to give him when he calls on them.

... reflection upon the character, standing or reputation of any person or corporation which may appear in the columns of The News will be gladly corrected upon its being brought to the attention of the publisher.

WHEN THIS COUNTY WENT DRY

The impression that has long prevailed here, and in which this paper has shared, that Wichita county never voted itself dry by local option, is now shown to be an erroneous one.

The local option election which was held in April, 1918, was ordered as a result of a move to establish a saloon in the Friberg community northeast of Wichita Falls. The law which prohibited saloons within 10 miles of army camps had made Wichita Falls a dry town, as all of the city lay within the 10 mile limit. An enterprising individual discovered that there still was some territory in the county that had not been made dry by precinct elections or by federal law. When he undertook to establish a saloon there, a local option petition was promptly circulated and an election ordered. The local wets were more or less demoralized and probably realized that even if they could win the election, either state or federal prohibition would presently make the victory an empty one. So they offered no effective resistance and the county voted dry.

Substantially the same thing happened in Tarrant county at about the same time, so that Dallam county in the northwest corner of the Panhandle was, when federal prohibition went into effect, the only Texas county north of the Texas and Pacific railway that still permitted saloons. All the rest of North Texas had voted dry by local option.

Several recently published lists of "oases" in North Texas—that is, counties in which, if beer were legalized in Texas, it could be sold without local option elections, have included Wichita and Tarrant counties, but the compilers of such lists overlooked the dry elections held in war-time. —Wichita Daily Times.

MUSIC A REFINING INFLUENCE

Reference to the "Music Calendar" of this city on another page discloses that a noteworthy series of musical programs will be offered to its citizens. We are but giving expression to the general thought of the citizenship when we say that it appreciates the effort which is being put into the preparation and presentation of these programs by local and visiting musicians under the sponsorship of the MacDowell Club.

Back of it all is the sincere purpose of placing emphasis on music as a refining influence. It is not enough to say that "music hath power to soothe the savage breast." Far more does it have the power to soothe a troubled spirit, and wearied mind; to turn the thoughts to nobler things; to inspire hope and renewed zeal.

With no detraction from the worth-whileness of all the other programs which will be presented and which should be greeted with large audiences, we confess to a special interest in the program of the boy music pupils to be presented next Thursday evening. It is a distinct emphasis of an activity for boys which many older heads can remember as once being regarded as peculiar to the type of lad scornfully called "sissy" by his fellows.

Musical training opens up to boys a pleasure and satisfaction that can be replaced by nothing else. Many national figures—captains of industry, financial experts, political leaders, educators—are men who can turn to their musical instruments for the soul satisfying expression in music of their innermost spiritual longings.

That community which places heavy emphasis on the musical training of its boys and girls is injecting into their lives a refining influence which will endure and comfort and satisfy as long as they can hear its harmonies.

A local musician brought to us this week the story of the theft from his home of an old violin, as well as another valuable instrument. It had been handed down to him from his grandfather's hands. He loved it, not alone from the fact that it was said to be a worthy replica of a model made by Anton Stradivarius, but because it had sweet tone and all that goes into what violinists call the "soul" of a violin. We felt a deep sympathy for him in his loss and find it hard to understand how a vandal hand can bring itself to snatch in the dark hours of the night a treasure that could mean nothing to it but mere money value.

Since we learn that Nebraska places a value of $10 a ton on the red dust that the winds carry from Texas to that state, we have a different sort of feeling toward sandstorms. The people of the Nile Valley regard its annual flood as a gift of their gods. Who can doubt that we receive as much free dust from somewhere as does Nebraska? We will admit, at least to our housekeeper, that if a sandstorm is a blessing, it wears a disguise, but it really would be less taxing on the nerves if we could bring ourselves to boast about our sandstorms.

Comment

capitol city always has been a place keenly alive to news. Washington reminds one of ancient Athens, of which we have scriptural report that all the Athenians and strangers that were there spent their time in nothing else, but either to tell or to hear some new thing. The latest new thing is inflation. It has an advantage as a topic of conversation, in that most of the laity know nothing about it, and all the common folk stand on an equal footing so far as a display of ignorance is concerned. Perhaps many of the legislators are in the same fix. Our old friend the dictionary says that it means to enlarge excessively, especially so that the nominal value exceeds the real, as to inflate the currency. The book quoted does not state whether this is something good or something bad. In that dilemma, it is necessary to consult current sources of inflation. It is pointed out in Congress that inflation is the first step on the road to ruin, and also that it is the only method that will restore prosperity. The confusion of the average mind respecting inflation resembles that of the school boy in regard to natural history. When asked whether the frog were an amphibious animal, he answered: "Yessum. Dreadfully amphibious."

The United States is said to have made a happy start at the international conference by winning the confidence of certain of the delegates. The picture of a man with an unpaid bill trying to win the confidence of his debtor is not found in the art gallery of ordinary business. Soundly endorsed notes that go to protest are not handled in that way, nor are over-due installments on the radio.

Those who favor the retirement of mail carriers, clerks and other Federal workers at the conclusion of thirty years of service, apparently are not much impressed by the example of the well-known owner of the business who entered the employ of the house as an errand boy of twelve.

Miss MacDonald, daughter of Prime Minister MacDonald, points out a social distinction between England and the United States when she says that over there parents spoil their sons, whereas we spoil our daughters. There was a time when, if an Englishwoman married, her property became that of her husband. According to the law, the husband and wife were one, to which a wag added: "and the husband was that one." The conservatism of England is indicated by the lingering tendency to give the boys the first chance of the other side of the water. If Miss MacDonald may be taken as a specimen, English girls have not suffered greatly through lack of advantages, and on the other hand American boys seem to be doing pretty well, even though their sisters are said to have the first pick when the benefits are distributed.

Two Washington lawyers who had a disagreement in court, went outside and punched each other in the nose, which seems rather crude at first glance, but not such a bad idea upon more mature consideration. Probably their clients were saved a good deal of litigation and expense thereby. Before present-day legal procedure was known, persons who might otherwise have engaged in a law suit hired good scrappers, and the champions of the respective parties fought the matter out literally. The issue was disposed of then and there, there were no technicalities to bother, and the spectators were entertained. Some of the ways of the Middle Ages have a directness that is not without its appeal.

When a half-dozen elderly skippers of fishing vessels beat down the coast, and up the Potomac, to ask Congress for an increased tariff on fish, they brought to mind a vanishing industry. There was a time when Gloucester and scores of other towns on the seaboard supported fishing fleets that filled the harbors to such a degree that it was hard to find anchorage. Young men from the inland states, in search of adventure and profit, paid a visit to relatives in New England, and shipped for a season on the Banks. The canning industry, by which all sorts of provisions could be kept indefinitely, put a serious crimp in the trade in dry and salted fish. Commercial refrigeration and speedy railway transportation did it further harm. The au to was the last straw. Why keep a codfish on hand for the unexpected guest when one can drive to town, get a juicy steak, and have it over the fire, all within an hour? Yet the business of fishing is not to be ignored. Approximately a hundred thousand in the United States still make their living in that way. There was more than sentiment behind the old salts' voyage to Washington.

Broadcast speeches during the last presidential election cost the motion picture theatres $50,000 worth of business, it is estimated.

Rubber-covered screws intended for use as shelf hooks in refrigerator cabinets have been introduced.

What is this sensational . . .
COOLERATOR
that so many are talking about?

IT IS A REFRIGERATOR—but built to do things heretofore thought impossible. Over 950 Ice manufacturers have tested it and they agree that it will do these almost unbelievable things:

GIVES A CONSTANT, SAFE TEMPERATURE

in the entire food chamber. There is no cold or warm spot as the temperature will not vary more than two or three degrees. This means faster circulation, higher moisture content of the air and best possible food preservation.

ICE EVERY FOUR TO SEVEN DAYS

With a COOLERATOR in your home, the ice man most of the year will come only once a week, but even in the hottest climate it is never necessary to ice more than every four days. A good average for the year round is from four to six days.

This Saving In ICE Alone Will Pay For The Coolerator In a Short Time.

IMPORTANT: Whether your COOLERATOR is full of ice, half-full or nearly empty, the temperature in the food chamber WILL REMAIN THE SAME.

This is due to the absolutely NEW IDEA in the construction of the COOLERATOR, providing for circulation of the air against ONLY the bottom side of the ice and employing a "FIN-RACK" for the ice to rest on. You will have to see this new refrigerator to fully understand it.

It produces a constant air circulation which washes and purifies the air by carrying the odors and gases given off by the food to the surface of the ice, where melting ice produces the water which absorbs these gases and odors and carries them off through the drain pipe into the sewer.

THIS MEANS FOOD PURITY that is impossible except by using ICE, Nature's own refrigerant.

REMEMBER We are going to sell our two lines of refrigerators at COST. MAY WE TALK WITH YOU ABOUT ONE?

The teacher-trustee meeting Friday night was well attended and much interest shown. The ladies served delicious cake and coffee.

News is scarce this week, mostly sandstorms and those are not enjoyed.

It seems likely that much confusion will exist for a while, at least, as a result of legalizing beer before laws for regulating its sale have been enacted in states which have no such statutes at present. Also, it is reported that racketeers are planning to prey upon repeal amendment.

Prohibition Facts

By "BOZO"

"Bozo," the Prohibition Hound, noticed a very interesting item in "The Lookout" and is taking the liberty of passing it on to his many friends.

"It is reported in the morning paper that the President said to the photographers when he had signed the bill legalizing 3.2 beer, 'I hope you got the smile at the end.'"

At one "end" of this situation they smiled who expect the Federal Government to receive $150,000,000 annually to help balance the budget. Also they smile who anticipate financial profit from this partial restoration of the liquor traffic.

But at the other "end" of this situation are many millions who will not smile, if they may even keep back their tears. Mothers now know that their children may buy 3.2 beer openly and drink it freely. Mothers know that those who have any prospect of financial profits in the sale of 3.2 beer will leave no device untried which may lead children and youth to drink more and more of it, because the future of the traffic depends upon the creation of an insatiable appetite for alcohol. There may be no smiles at the "end" of this thing, for there will be a day of wrath.

"But whoso shall cause one of these little ones that believe on me to stumble, it is profitable for him that a great millstone should be hanged about his neck, and that he should be sunk in the depths of the sea" Matt. 18:6.

"Bozo" believes that many people are going to be caught by the bait and propaganda that is being circulated by the friends of 3.2 beer. This beer, MAY bring smiles and a type of happiness to a few, but it will bring tears, and additional burdens to thousands. Money spent for this beer will not be spent for food, clothes and shoes, and thousands of hungry little stomachs; many shivering little bodies will go without proper clothing and shoes. Smiles for some, but tears for many. We cannot afford to produce "smiles" at the price we are asked to pay.

Hypocrisy is the homage which vice renders to virtue.

CHURCHES

"REPENTANCE"

Repentance is often defined as sorrow for sin. This is an accomplishment but not repentance itself. Nor can repentance be defined as reformation of life, that is the fruit of repentance. (See Matt. 3:8). There is in genuine repentance, sorrow for sin, a change of will, and newness of life.

One has said: "When a man is so thoroughly filled with sorrow on account of his sins, that his will is subdued to the will of God, and he says, 'I will sin no more. I will heretofore submit to the will of God', he has repented." "Repentance," says Prof. J. W. McGarvey, "fully defined, is a change of will, caused by sorrow for sin, and leading to a reformation of life."

The necessary change in the mind, affections, and life is produced by the gospel. It is within the power of man to remain unmoved. If he refuses to give an attentive hearing, or to submit to its claims, he cannot be saved. "Except ye repent, ye shall ALL likewise perish, (Luke 13:3). "Repent ye, and be baptized, EVERY ONE OF YOU, in the name of Jesus Christ, unto the remission of your sins," (Acts 2:38).

The great trouble is that so many people postpone this action of repentance. They put it off until it is too late. Augustine said: "God has promised forgiveness to your repentance, but He has not promised to-morrow to your procrastination."

True repentance like that of Zaccheus, affects eye, hands and feet. He saw that he was a sinner, he heard the message of salvation, he took hold of Christ by faith, and ran joyfully in the way of obedience.

The first command, given by the first preacher in the New Testament was a command to "Repent." The burden of Christ's message to the people and to His disciples, was a message of "Repentance." The first command given by the Apostles on the day of Pentecost, was a command to repent. Christ's last message to the world through John the Revelator, was an appeal to "Repentance."

"Christian Failures" will be our subject Sunday morning. We want to show you how He turned His failures into success. "The Two Foundations" will be our subject Sunday night. We are building on one or the other; which? —W. E. Ferrell, Minister, First Christian Church, Clarendon.

It becomes increasingly apparent that the various relief and rehabilitation measures now in effect or under consideration will require a Federal outlay of three or four billion dollars, to be raised for the most part by bond issues. Thus while the present generation is paying for the depression—while the one following that will still be faced with some big debts left over from both.

Everyone accepts the fact that Bayer Aspirin is the swiftest form of relief for headaches, neuralgia, neuritis, periodic pain, and other suffering. If you've tried it, you know. But no one needs hesitate to take these tablets because of their speed. They are perfectly safe. They will not depress the heart. They have no ill effect of any kind. BAND DIRECTORS TO APPEAR HERE

SANDUSKY, TRUAX, STEPHENSON SOLOISTS IN CONCERT HERE MAY 12

Clarendon citizens who heard Robert O. Sandusky, cornet soloist, when he played here a year ago, will be glad to learn that he has again been secured for the band and orchestra concert which has been arranged by Gus B. Stephenson as one of the Music Week programs. The concert will be given Friday night, May 12, at 8 o'clock at the College auditorium.

Mr. Sandusky is conceded to be one of the most brilliant cornet soloists in Texas. He has been director of the Shamrock Municipal band for the past three years. A native of Tucumcari, N. M., he was educated at the University of Southern California. He is a member and secretary of the official West Texas Chamber of Commerce band.

Glenn A. Truax, violin soloist and director of the Memphis band, has also been secured for solo appearance on the same program. Mr. Truax came to Memphis from the state of Washington. In addition to orchestra and band instrument work, he is said to be a vocal soloist of great ability.

Gus B. Stephenson, director of the Clarendon band and orchestra, will also be heard in solo numbers on the program. Having lived and worked in Clarendon for about three and one-half years, he is well known locally and is regarded as possessing unusual ability as a musician and director.

In addition to the superior solo numbers which will be rendered, the program will include several band and orchestra numbers, duets and trios, and promises the audience a musical treat of great variety and high excellence. A small charge of 10 cents will be made for admission to assist in defraying actual expenses in connection with the program.

LOANS FOR SEED MADE 75 FARMERS

TOTAL LOANED BY COMMITTEE DOUBLES LOANS IN 1932; AVERAGE $82 EACH

Seventy-five seed loans, totaling $6,166.00, were made to Donley County farmers, according to J. D. Swift, chairman of the seed loan committee. Other members of the committee are U. J. Boston, owner of the Piggly Wiggly store, and G. M. Allen, prominent farmer. The same committee made the loans in 1932, when less than half as many loans were made, the loans averaging $85 each. The loans average this year average a little over $82 each.

Of the loans made in 1932, only $35 remained unpaid at the end of the collection year, over 99 per cent of all loans made being collected in full. The committee is especially anxious that the same high record, or a better one, be made on the seed loans made this year. Whether the seed loan privilege is available next year will depend on conditions, of course, but if available and needed, it will be worth a great deal to have a good record as the payment of the 1933 loans.

Two County Schools Are Consolidated

Organization of the school board of the new Midway Consolidated school district, No. 1, was effected last Monday night, following the unanimous vote of April 22 to consolidate the Pleasant Valley and Haekberry common school districts.

H. S. Mahaffey was elected president; Nelse Robinson, vice-president; Miss Katie Meaders, secretary. Other members of the board are M. W. Meaders, P. O. Thompson, A. A. Pierce and P. L. Arnold, all of whom were appointed by the county school board.

Taking its name from the fact that the new location is almost exactly midway between the old school buildings, a new Midway school building will be erected this summer on three acres of the J. A. Meaders farm. It will be a two-room frame structure. A teacherage is also planned. Funds for the new buildings will be provided by a bond issue of $2,000 to be voted on at as early a date as possible.

The unanimous vote given to the consolidation testifies to the 100 per cent satisfaction that the people of the newly formed district feel over its consummation. The Midway school will offer instruction next up to and including the eighth grade.

Clarendon was the only charge in the district with every member of the conference present. D. R. Davis and J. R. Porter were elected delegates to the Northwest Texas annual conference which will be held in Clarendon in November. In addition to those already named, the meeting was attended by M. M. Noble, J. H. Hurn, W. T. Hayter, G. L. Boykin, W. M. Patman, C. E. Griggs and Sam M. Braswell.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at the family home at 3:30 o'clock by Elder D. W. Hukel, of the Church of Christ, the large concourse of sorrowing friends and neighbors which gathered there following the casket to Hedley where interment was made. Valuable Instrument Stolen From Aycock

A very old and valuable violin, thought to be at least 100 years old, a fine guitar of Kraft manufacture which cost $87, both belonging to E. R. Aycock, and a fine banjo-mandolin belonging to

I. B. Pierce, were stolen Wednesday night from Mr. Aycock's wheeled house east of the First Baptist church.

The violin can be readily identified by its hand-carved cow-horn tailpiece, to which the strings are attached. It is an excellent copy of a famous Anton Stradivarius model, and is prized by Mr. Aycock not only on account of its superior tone qualities, but because it was handed down to him by his grandfather. Any information as to any of the instruments will be greatly appreciated by Mr. Aycock and the officers.

Mrs. Mitchell and their son, C. A. Jr., will join Mr. Mitchell here after the school at Brownwood closes.

One of the loveliest parties of the week was the one o'clock luncheon given by Mrs. R. L. Bigger at her home on Thursday for members of the Bluebonnet Bridge Club and several guests.

The tables were centered with dainty bouquets of colorful tulips and iris, while place-cards featuring the Spring motif marked each place.

In the games of bridge which formed the entertainment following the sumptuous luncheon, awards went to Mrs. C. G. Stricklin for club high and to Mrs. Odos Caraway for guest high.

Present for this delightful affair were, Mesdames J. H. Morris, W. H. Martin, T. H. Ellis, John Sims, Sr., James Trent, W. H. Cooke, Sella Gentry, L. L. Swan, C. H. Bugbee, L. S. Bagby, and Homer Glascoe, guests.

Mesdames A. R. Letts, C. G. Stricklin, C. T. McMurtry, Odos Caraway, George Ryan, W. H. Patrick, J. L. McMurtry, and C. B. McCanne, members.

Bill Scott of Twin Falls, Idaho, visited his cousin Mrs. Tom Bugbee and Mr. Bugbee last week.

Book Club Hears "Maid In Waiting"

John Galsworthy's novel "Maid In Waiting" was reviewed in the bi-monthly meeting of the 1926 Book Club at the Woman's Club Room on Tuesday afternoon.

Emma Powell gave a brief resume of the author's life and works, after which Jennie Cope told the story that deals with English society life and people.

In the business session, it was announced that the 1926 Book Club had won the $5.00 prize at the District Convention last week, for the best report on Educational work. This money is to be used to start a Student Loan Fund.

Mrs. Carroll Knorrp and Miss Katherine Cole were guests for the afternoon. Dainty refreshments were served by Emma Powell and Lorraine Patrick, hostesses.

Missiary Society Meets

The Missionary Society of the First Christian Church met in the home of Mrs. R. E. Paxon, Wednesday afternoon for the second lesson on the theme of "Seed Time in China." Mrs. E. C. Herd president of the society called the meeting to order. Mrs. R. H. Carver was the program leader.

Book reports were made by Mrs. W. T. Hayter and Mrs. F. A. White. Two readings were given by Mrs. Eddie Teer, and Mrs. Rayburn Stegall. Fourteen members and one visitor were present.

After the business session a social hour was held, at which time, the hostess served ice cream and cake.

LADIES AID SOCIETY WILL HOLD MARKET

The Ladies Aid Society, of the First Christian Church, will hold a market, and sell hot coffee and doughnuts at H. C. Kerbow & Sons' store next Saturday. The ladies have been working hard on their "Spring Glory" quilt and pot-holders for the past few weeks and the quilt will be on display at Kerbow's store the last of this week. This beautiful quilt will be given away Saturday afternoon at four o'clock.

Dinner-Bridge

On Wednesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Basil Kirtley were cordial hostess to their Night Club and friends.

A lovely dinner was enjoyed preceding the games of bridge. Mrs. M. P. Gentry was winner of the high score prize and Mrs. J. E. Teer of the consolation prize.

Attending were: Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Gentry and Mrs. Selden Bagby, guests; and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Teer, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. Simmons Powell, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stocking.

MEN'S BIBLE CLASS ENJOYS SOCIAL TUESDAY

The Come As You Are Men's Bible Class enjoyed themselves at a get-together social in the basement of the First Christian Church, Tuesday night. Rev. W. E. Ferrell, the teacher of the class had charge of the program, which was very unique. The price of admission was "One Bible Question." Every one present put a question in the box and the program consisted of answering these questions. A good time was had by all and many questions of importance were discussed and much information gained. After the Bible lesson, the class was served a generous helping of three kinds of ice cream, coffee, and cookies. The class will hold similar meeting every month from now on.

MRS. McMASTERS HERE

Mrs. Bertha McMasters, State Secretary of the Ladies Missionary Society of Texas, delivered an inspiring address to the local Missionary Society in the First Christian Church last Monday night. Mrs. McMasters is well known in this community and those attending the meeting enjoyed the lesson very much. She made a great appeal for a more consecrated and loyal service.

Large Crowd Sees Little Theatre Play

An audience which practically filled the College Auditorium greeted the presentation Thursday night of the Little Theatre play, "The Last of Mrs. Cheyne." One of the most carefully rehearsed plays which has ever been presented by the Little Theatre, the performance was highly creditable, both to the very capable director, Richard Ritchie, and to the cast of players.

The parts were so aptly cast and each player entered so thoroughly into the portrayal of the character assigned that the performance left little to be criticized. As the audience was leaving the auditorium one needed only to listen to the enthusiastic comment on the play and the players to know that the Little Theatre had registered one of its greatest successes, if not the greatest.

Yellowed Masonic Document Prized

An age-yellowed and water-stained Masonic document, printed on sheepskin vellum and in a good state of preservation, is highly prized by Mrs. Jess Davis, of the Martin community.

The document, dated Feb. 11, 1845, was issued to Hanson G. Catlett, Mrs. Davis' grandfather, by Austin Lodge No. 12 at Washington, Texas, of the Grand Lodge of the Republic of Texas. A Clarendon citizen, who is well versed in Masonic history, and

TRACK BOYS TO GO TO AUSTIN

We are very proud of the fact that five of our track team are to go to the State Meet at Austin. They are to leave here Thursday morning at 3:00 o'clock. The boys are: Lloyd Martin, Hubert Reavis, F. L. Behrens, Delbert Linders, and O. C. Watson, Jr.

FORUM ENJOYS PICNIC

The members of the Presbyterian Forum met at the Church at seven o'clock on Monday afternoon, May 1. The group was small in numbers but large in gayety and fun. Three cars, Mr. Rhodin Chase's, Silas Franklin's, and Robert Green's, furnished the transportation. It was decided that a new place to go would be very pleasing to all in general, so Mr. McKee got permission to go into Mr. Lem Taylor's ranch. The place was very beautiful. There was plenty of water surrounded by a large number of trees. After enormous quantities of food had been consumed, a great deal of hiking was done. At nine-thirty the cars were loaded and started for home with this joyous group, everyone of whom said he had a lovely time.

SENIOR CLASS PICNIC

Last Friday the Seniors went to Dripping Springs on their annual outing. The girls started the day by meeting at the Home Economics Department to make dozens of sandwiches. The task was completed by 8:30 and everyone became very anxious to leave. This was accomplished amid cheers for the Seniors.

A thrilling day was spent with only minor accidents to mar the fun. Everyone enjoyed himself climbing over the rocks and up the sides of the canyon. The usual quota of bruises, scratches, and sunburn are being displayed at school this week by those who went on the trip.

SENIOR CLASS NIGHT

May 5th, which is this Friday, is Class Night for the Seniors. An interesting and amusing program has been prepared. Sophomores and Juniors should plan to come and learn what gifts will be given them by Seniors. Everyone is urged to attend.

WELCOME !!!

All of the students have been remarking yesterday and today on how pleasant it is to have the Dean and Henry Wilder, the college mechanic, back home again. Although the students enjoyed the assumed feeling of freedom that always prevails when a teacher is absent, they were glad to see Mr. Clark return. And many of the students have said that that air of incompleteness that has hung around the campus for the last week has completely disappeared since Henry and his dry fun came back. The student body welcomes you home, Mr. Clark and Henry.

SURPRISE !!!

The Chemistry 123 class, not knowing that the professor was bothered with hay fever, decided to surprise him Friday afternoon. Six of the little boys in this class went out and gathered locust blossoms galore. The interior decorator of the crowd arranged these blossoms in the shape of a heart and the most effeminate young man in the class wrote a note, signing the name of a red-headed future school-teacher. The professor absolutely refused to notice this surprise for some time, but finally came over to see it.

The worst pinch of poverty comes from cheap shoes.

Palo Duro Literary Society

The Palo Duro Literary Society met Wednesday evening with their regular weekly meeting. A very interesting program presented by the members was as follows: "A Box of Dahlias," a short story by Elizabeth Kemp; and "Say It Isn't So" and "A Little Bit of Heaven," both by Bill Word. The meeting then adjourned until the next Wednesday evening.

DIARY OF A COLLEGE PEPPY

To school this morning at 7:30, as the Dean has returned from Austin whence he had the opportunity of observing the peculiar antics of the House of Representatives. Meditated for hours on what I could do to reform the government but found no satisfactory solution. Walked down the hall and noticed roller skates on the coat hangers. The small town girls who also been took no place have evidently read a heap. Talked to Emma Lee Johnson and learned that all skating isn't done on feet as some unsuspecting people are led to believe, though it is a trifle more comfortable and dignified. Wondered why Nova Cook has that "I think you're the nicest man in the world" look in her eyes and was informed today that her Dad is now traveling in the Chamberlain community which makes the traveling profession unusually attractive for said red head. Another sandstorm lasting the week-end past which was reminiscent of the geography tales about deserts.

HOME ECONOMICS PICNIC

Some 45 Home Economic students came to school Tuesday afternoon carrying good eats and fully attired for a picnic. Immediately after 3:00 they bounded for the Lem Taylor farm near Chamberlain. After arriving each one made a desperate effort to reach the top of the bluff first. After about two hours of hiking a delicious picnic lunch was spread and each one ate to his stomach's "discontent." About dark they started home. A good time was reported by every one.

A. A. Mayes and G. G. Kemp made a hurried trip into Oklahoma Sunday, returning the same day. Mr. Kemp stopped at Hollis, while Mr. Mayes visited Snyder, Altus and other points.

Alpha Delta Psi Literary Society

There were only eight members present Wednesday night, but we had three visitors. The society decided to entertain the High School Seniors Friday night, May 12. The exact type of entertainment has not been decided.

The program consisted of two piano solos by Lila Deal, "Lovely Call," and "The Doll Dance." "Students in a Hick College" was given by Emily Smith, and Lu McClellan prognosticated the future of the society members in 1943 something like this. "I see by the papers that Homer Estaback, that diminutive demon with the ladies, in our school days in Brooklyn. The paper mentioned him in connection with a party that was arrested on Coney Island. Many times I have wondered what one of our society members, Edwin Cox, would be doing by this time. I happened to pick a month-old Judge out of my wastebasket. I was idly glancing through when I saw Assistant Editor, Edwin Cox. I always knew that humorous side of his fortune. A brother Alpha Deltan passed on the street the other day in Milwaukee. It was a sandwich man whose extreme height caught my eye; it was Charles Walker. The mezzo soprano who is becoming quite the rage, by the way, is Helen Lawler. Wonder if she remembers me? I read in a Texas Outlook, that Oleta Camp, the professor of Domestic Science at Illinois State University, was to speak in Washington at a conference of Senators' Wives on the "Care of Babies." In looking over the morning news I see that George McCleskey and his wife (formerly Emily Smith) had left for Washington, D. C. where George is to attend the regular session of Congress. He says that he will help West Texas. Here's hoping. When I look back for ten years, I think of another member of the society, Lynn Floyd. Lynn has won much publicity and fame as a professional nurse. There is her pal, Una Vay Bradley, who is now an expert beauty operator.

Imagine Eldridge and Gable in "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm."

There's Harold Gattis asleep again. The rest of the boys get a kick out of throwing paper wads at him while he's asleep. Doesn't it make him nod when it hits him right in the ear? I suppose if the building were to burn he would burn with it. He would be too lazy to get up. I guess Ardis would burn too because he wouldn't leave his Spanish for anything in the world. Poor Willard, he doesn't have any one interesting to talk to. It's a pity Dorothy isn't in here this period. Dorothy Jo and Dorothea and Vivian are having their daily chat. They certainly can find plenty to laugh about.

There goes Willard doing that dumaflochy outfit on the daily naper with his hand and elbow. He can nearly play a tune. By the way, have any of you folks found Jack Latson's shoe? Size 13 1/2. E last. PIPE ORGAN ARGUMENT SETTLED BY THE NEWS

The argument among members of the Methodist church over the date of the installation of the pipe organ in that church should be finally settled by the following information taken from the files of The News: The pipe organ was installed during August and September of 1918, and was first heard on the occasion of a recital of pipe organ music, played by R. Dean Shure, of Clarendon College, on the night of Sept. 12, 1918.

SPORTS

SPORT SPUTTERS

BY O. C. WATSON, JR.

By the time you sport fans get a glimpse of this column, myself and four other Bronchos will be on our way to the state inter-scholastic league meet, at Austin, Friday and Saturday. The Bronchos will be accompanied by Coaches Hutton and Stocking. It would not surprise me a bit to see the Bronchos bring back several honors from the meet, from the ambitions they have been showing the past two weeks.

With the exception of a few minor injuries the Bronchos are in tip-top shape for the event. In spite of the "West Texas showers of sand" the boys are working out every day, with only one thing in their mind—to bring back the State Championship to Clarendon. It looks impossible for just five boys to accomplish a feat of this sort, but you must remember the same thing looked impossible at the District meet at Canyon. Did they not come home victorious?

The five Bronchos who are to make the trip are: Reavis, Martin, Watson, Behrens and Linders. Reavis will participate in the high hurdles, low hurdles and 220 yard dash; Martin in high jump and discus; Watson in high hurdles and high jump; Behrens in the high and low hurdles, and Linders in the shot put. The departing words from the Bronchos are "We Will Win."

The twilight league of the city is getting under way in a big fashion. At present only two teams have entered, but more are expected to enter at once. Just remember there is no cost to this and it is your opportunity to secure more recreation and be a boy again.

Next week I hope to have a surprise for you sport fans, so be sure and do not miss next week's News.

Library Notes

By MRS. C. A. BURTON

Not many years ago a Norwegian fisher boy landed in New York. He did not know a word of English; in his pockets were an American dime, a Norwegian penny, and a railroad ticket to Minnesota. He had left behind him the chance to become captain of a fishing boat in Norway; before him lay years of hard work in a strange land. His early education was limited, but a fierce desire for knowledge took him by storm in the new world. He started into grade school, and from there to college. He is O. E. Rolvaag, now professor of Norwegian literature at St. Olaf College, Minnesota. Having lived in America for many years, his viewpoint is typically American, yet he writes in Norwegian, and for the first time in American letters, an author who lives and works in our midst has had to be translated for us out of a foreign language.

His first book is "Giants in the Earth—A Saga of the Prairie." Its background is the boundless Dakota prairie with its relentless winds, its blinding snowstorms, its bleak and hostile spirit. This magnificent and powerful epic of the great northwest contains the following dedication: "To those of my people who took part in the great settling, to them and their generations I dedicate this narrative." It is the story of the utter incompatibility between Per Hausa, a rough, swashbuckling, natural pioneer, and his delicate, sensitive wife who loves him deeply. It is reality—but not sordid, not self-conscious, but packed with exuberant living.

This was soon followed by "Peder Victorious" which contains the story of the settling of the West with all its drama and romance. A critic has said, "There is authenticity on every page. When the chronicles of the Middle West are collected, the Rolvaag books will have a prominent place among them."

The third book of this pioneer series is "Their Fathers' God," in which are portrayed the vital problems of readjustment which face the second generation. The three form a great pioneer trilogy.

We have "Giants in the Earth" and "Peder Victorious" in the library, as well as "Pure Gold" which is not a part of the pioneer series, though a story of a pioneer couple of Norwegians in the West.

"Motormota" is the name given by an inventor in Italy to his new motor device in which the rider sits inside a big wheel.

CLARENDON KNOWS NO SUCH DISTRESS AS THIS

No one who knows the facts will deny that there have been cases of genuine need of food in Clarendon, but it is equally true that no family whose plight became known has been allowed to suffer for food for any length of time.

And by way of emphasizing the statement that Clarendon has known no such pitiful distress as has existed in the larger cities, the following story is quoted:

"Mr. Charles Richards, president of the Taxpayers' Civic Forum of Chicago, in a public address describing a photograph of a garbage dump at 103rd Street and Lake Calumet, in Chicago, said, 'Like hungry wolves, battling over the kill at the end of the hunt, I saw yesterday 500 men, women and children at the 103rd Street dump fighting for scraps of decayed food. . . . One man I saw dart to the shelter of a tumbling shaft. He carried in his hand half a loaf of bread rescued from the swill. This man did not recognize me, so intent was he on devouring his precious find, though I have known him for twenty years. Like others in the distracted mob, he lost his home and his savings were swept away. How did it happen? . . . A communist hall is within a stone's throw of this garbage dump, where the maddening, sickening spectacle drives boys and girls, men and women, to the red flag. At the garbage dumps and garbage cans of New York, and throughout the length and breadth of America, there are similar spectacles of hungry men, women and children. Who is responsible?'"

Don't you agree with me that it is infinitely better to be broke in a small town than in a big city where it is so hard to find anyone who is interested in your troubles or cares anything about them?

A. SMALL TOWNER

WHY I LIKE SCOUTING

Scouting is one of the best organizations a boy can be enrolled in for it is attractive, instructive and helpful. When a boy has signed up as a "Boy Scout of America" he takes an oath which sets out the most important duties that a scout has before him. When he takes the oath he joins an institution chartered by the United States Congress. The Congress signed this charter because they knew that the organization called "Boy Scouts of America," would make real citizens out of its men-to-be.

Another real part of the Scout is the motto, to me one of the greatest of any, "Be Prepared." This is a motto for everyone to try to live up to. To do so would mean lots of lives saved that are needlessly lost. The people could care for every emergency that they meet in life. There would not be half so much drowning; not even a third as many accident. Besides the motto there are twelve scout laws that are set forth in the handbook. These are ideal laws for the scout to live by. It is often said that a Scout is not a trouble-maker but a trouble breaker. The Scout's good turn daily is another good part about him. If he does his "good turn" daily, he will make other people like and respect him. To turn there is an overhand knot make him remember his "good" at the bottom of the Scout sign. Also the Scout carries a small diary around with him so that he may put in it the good turns that he does during the day. The Scout oath, as I mentioned in the former part of this essay, I now quote:

Trustees of the common school districts and small independents met at the county court house last Monday for classification of schools by the county board of education. Superintendent H. T. Burton, of the Clarendon schools, spoke on the friendly relationship which existed between the rural and independent school districts.

O. L. Jacobs, former county trustee from Precinct No. 2 and a well informed man in school affairs, commented on the friendly relation and co-operation between the school people of the county. He also complimented the people of their selection of W. A. Poovey as county trustee at large. Edwin Bale, trustee from Precinct No. 1 explained the position of the board in classification of schools. He told the patrons and trustees that the decisions as made would be according to the best interest of the majority. A few of the districts asked for their classifications to be raised to an eighth grade school. Giles asked and received an eleventh grade classification. Chamberlain will be an elementary, plus three, next year. Ashola and Windy Valley secured a correction in their classification as elementary, plus three. Midway Consolidated No. 1 will teach the eighth grade next term. All the other schools of the county will receive the same classification as last year.

Clarence Bairfield, R. F. Wiedman, J. W. Kent, trustees of Bairfield asked the County Board for a school next term. The Board decided that it was within the power of the County Superintendent to decide. The County Superintendent allowed the school. Miss Zell Rogers will teach the school next term.

W. A. Poovey was chosen as president of the county board of trustees. All the precinct trustees were present: Edwin Bale of precinct one, H. T. Burton of precinct two, Claude Nash of precinct three and W. M. Pickering of precinct four. The board passed a ruling that the state law as to overs and unders be strictly enforced next term in the common school districts. The county board discussed courses of study, standardization and many other things pertaining to the good of the schools. Their next regular meeting will be the first Saturday in August.

Electricity is a practical kind of "farm relief" that makes every dollar do the work of two or three on places where current has been introduced. Tests reveal that the farmer and his family save three months yearly by turning four farm tasks over to electricity, according to the American Washing Machine Manufacturers association. "Washing clothes by old methods requires more than 1 1/2 months of eight hour days a year," it says. "Pumping and carrying water, turning the cream separator and filling and cleaning kerosene lamps each consumes thirty eight hours a year."

Passing to the electrical age on the farm does more than give the farmer convenient cheap power for his tasks. It brings the home a higher standard of living by giving the family an abundance of clean clothes at all times, makes good appearance a matter of easy accomplishment. "Eighty-five percent of the farms still lack electrical power. Of course many of these enjoy the benefits of such advantages as gas engine-operated washers. To operate the farms the power of 16,000,000,000 horses is used. Animals furnish 61 percent, tractors 16 percent, motor trucks 4 percent, stationary engines 12 1/2 percent, windmills 1 percent, electricity 5 percent. Electricity will supplant much of this horse-power. Better yet, it will substitute for woman and man power."

Report On Legislation By State Teachers Association

The House of Representatives has passed the following measures but the Senate has not voted them to date:

(1) The total cigarette tax has been given to schools.

(2) A large portion of a graduated oil tax will go into school fund.

(3) A measure to enforce the gasoline and cigarette tax better.

(4) An income tax bill.

These measures, if adopted by the Senate, will yield revenue sufficient to furnish revenue for a per capita of $16 next year. The House will not attempt to pass any more revenue measures for schools until the Senate deals with those measures already sent to it by the house. The logic of the situation is such that a sales tax bill will not be considered seriously by the House until the Senate may have acted upon the measures already presented.

The Senate has passed an emergency appropriation bill to include all the tuition due the high schools from rural districts last year and this to be paid. This bill is now before the House.

RAILROADS SELL "VISITS" TO CENTURY OF PROGRESS

Chicago, May 4.—The railroads of the entire country, according to a formal announcement made today by the Western Railways' Committee on Public Relations, have adopted a new low-rate plan for the convenience of the visitors to Chicago's Century of Progress Exposition, whereby a prospective visitor may purchase, before he leaves home, his hotel accommodations in Chicago, his transfer from the railroad station to his hotel and back again, tickets of admission to the Exposition, and a sight-seeing tour of the city. Everything but meals is included in this new plan which combines the several advantages of lower prices to the visitors and of relieving him of any inconvenience in securing his hotel accommodations, and of enabling him to know before he leaves home just what his trip will cost.

These "visits" to the Century of Progress will be sold at every railroad station in the United States. They will allow stays in Chicago from one day up to five days or more. The prospective visitor will have his choice of 27 first-class hotels in Chicago from which to select his accommodations.

These hotels are grouped according to their normal scale of prices: for a one-day "visit" the cost will range from $4.50 to $6.50, including taxi from railroad station to hotel, one night's lodging (single room), a souvenir Century of Progress admission ticket, and taxi from hotel back to the railroad station. For a double room occupied by two persons, including the above additional services, the cost per person will range from $4.00 to $5.50. For a five-day visit, including taxi both ways between station and hotel, a tour of Chicago, three admission tickets to the Exposition and four nights' lodging, the cost will range from $14.75 to $22.75 for a single room, and from $12.75 to $18.75 per person for two occupants of a double room.

At every railroad station in Chicago special World's Fair departments will be installed, staffed by American Express travel men who will see that all incoming visitors secure their taxis to the hotels named on their coupons, receive their Exposition tickets and whatever else they are entitled to, and who will provide information, and in general, serve as a Chicago reception committee. This sale of complete "visits" to the Century of Progress is perhaps the most outstanding department ever made, on a nation-wide scale, from the standard railroad practice. This new plan is unique and promises to be one of the greatest cooperative movements ever fostered by the country's railroad systems. It is instituted in addition to the substantial reductions, previously announced, in railroad passenger fares between Chicago and all points.

How to train BABY'S BOWELS

Babies, bottle-fed or breast-fed, with any tendency to be constipated, would thrive if they received daily half a teaspoonful of this old family doctor's prescription for the bowels. That is one sure way to train tiny bowels to healthy regularity. To avoid the fretfulness, vomiting, crying, failure to gain, and other ills of constipated babies.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is good for any baby. For this, you have the word of a famous doctor. Forty-seven years of practice taught him just what babies need to keep their little bowels active, regular; keep little bodies plump and healthy. For Dr. Caldwell specialized in the treatment of women and little ones. He attended over 3500 births without loss of one mother or baby.

Liver Sufferers Amazed At Results Obtained From Remarkable New Treatment

Thousands Reporting Sargon Soft Mass Pills Have Brought Them Lasting Relief From Constipation—Sour Stomach—Sick Headaches—Gas—Bad Breath—Coated Tongue—Nervousness and Dizzy Spells After Everything Else Has Failed.

If Your Liver Is Not Performing Its Proper Functions—Sickness—Swelling and Ill Health Are the Inevitable Result.

Science Has Proved That Salts, Calomel, Mineral Waters, Oils, Laxative Pills, Herb Teas or Extracts Have No Effect Whatever on the Liver or Its Production of Bile.

Unless you have tried Sargon Soft Mass Pills you can have no idea of the effects produced by this natural cleansing of your liver and bowels. It makes you feel years younger, stronger, healthier and happier. It brings back life and color to faded eyes and cheeks, restores the appetite and sound digestion—gives you a new outlook on life itself. Bile is nature's laxative and your stomach and bowels require at least one quart of fresh bile every day to keep them clean, pure, free from fermentation, gas and disease germs. When your liver becomes sluggish the bile stagnates and stops flowing freely. The contents of your bowels become the breeding place for germs and poisons; your food does not digest—it just ferments and decays in the bowels. The blood absorbs these poisons and you suffer from constipation, gas, sick headaches, biliousness, nervousness and sour stomach. Sargon Soft Mass Pills remove the cause of this condition in nature's way. They are not like any other medicine you have ever taken. They are so gentle, thorough and natural in their action there is nothing about them to remind you that you have ever taken a medicine, and most remarkable of all you gradually reduce the dose until you no longer require a laxative of any kind. Insist on genuine Sargon Soft Mass Pills. Don't be misled. There are only two generally recognized substances which will actually stimulate a torpid or sluggish liver to cleanse and purify itself by increasing its production of bile. Sargon Soft Mass Pills contain both of these substances and no other advertised medicine on the American market today does contain them. Only one for a full 30-day treatment. At your druggist, or write G. F. Willis, Inc., Atlanta, Ga.—(adv.)

showing, saying that an average of about 50 per cent of high school graduates were able to attend college.

"Your citizenship is certainly to be commended for the maintenance of such an institution as you have in your Junior College," he said. "It gives boys and girls an opportunity for higher education at home of a type only rarely found, and you may be sure that your citizenship is doing something really outstanding," he added.

Fifty-Odd Graduates

Lists of the names of the fifty-odd boys and girls who will graduate this year will be secured later by the representatives of the University of Chicago, and it is possible that one or more of them may be awarded a scholarship. Mr. Burton stated at the Lions Club Tuesday in the course of his address on "Texas Education," one of the series of instructive programs which have been presented from time to time before the Lions.

Mr. Burton's discussion of Texas schools were intensely interesting to the Lions, bringing to light many facts with which the average citizen is not familiar. Stating that the first American schools were established in the 16th century as mission schools, by Jesuit priests. Mr. Burton said, "The high school is of pure American origin, the first one being established in Boston for boys in 1821. In Texas, the free school was preceded by the semi-free type of school, in which the well-to-do parents paid tuition for their own children and voluntarily paid the tuition of many other less fortunate children. This practice inevitably resulted in class distinction and friction between the 'poor boys' and the 'rich boy.' In 1853 the first wholly free school in Texas was established at San Antonio. The first college in Texas was Ruter-ville College, near LaGrange, in Fayette county, established in 1837, with 4 leagues (17,712 acres) of land from the State, but with the queer stipulation that it could never have more than $25,000 worth of property.

School Land Grants

"In 1876 a State law was passed giving each county in the state four leagues of land for school purposes. Most of the counties, including Donley county, sold their lands long ago, the usual price being about a dollar per acre. When sold the funds received were invested in State bonds. Donley county now receives interest on its bonds amounting to about 42 cents per scholastic

It is interesting to note that Swisher county held its lands until higher prices ruled and that county today receives interest from its permanent school fund amounting to about 342 per scholastic each year.

"A. & M. College was established in October, 1876, opening with six students—really a high school with military training added. Six years later the University of Texas was established. The College of Industrial Arts at Denton in 1903. The first "normal" school in Texas was Sam Houston school, established in 1879.

"The first high school in Texas was established at Brenham in 1875, with nine grades, following the granting of permission by the State at the earnest petition of its German people who wanted better schools for their children.

"There are 961 accredited and classified high schools in Texas and 225 of these belong to the Southern Association. Clarendon high school belongs to both, its students being admitted to any college or university in the association without entrance examinations."

West Texas Ranks High

Mr. Burton discussed the comparative rank of Texas with other states on the five points of attendance on schools, holding power, teachers' salaries, value of school properties and literacy, the figures being based on a school age of 14-17 years. He said that while Texas, as a whole, does not stand very high, ranking on the above points, respectively, 40th, 32nd, 37th, its low standing is due in large part to the high percentage of negro and Mexican population in large areas in Texas. "If that part of Texas west of the 100th meridian and north of the T. & P. railroad is considered separate from the rest of the State, it would rank well up among the top-notchers," he said.

Touching on the fact that the high school will graduate over 50 this year, as compared with only 21 last year, he said, "That small class last year really happened four years ago, when we decided no pupil would be graduated who had not really done the required work. It was a wise decision, as is evidenced by the fact that 16 of the graduating class of 1933 have made a four-year average of 89 or better. Graduation is now based on a four-year average, rather than a senior-year grade. It is a stiff requirement, but it is producing better scholarship," he said.

The executive committee named includes Odos Caraway of Clarendon, for Donley; L. P. White of Claude, for Armstrong; T. E. Johnson of Amarillo, chairman and Potter County representative; R. E. Baird of Canyon, for Randall; W. C. Dickey of Memphis, for Hall; Dr. J. W. Stevens of Tulia, for Swisher; J. A. Bain of Silverton, for Swisher, and Clyde Warwick of Canyon, secretary.

D. E. Colp, chairman of the Texas State Park Board, veteran battler for the park, said that the Goodnight Trail is first in importance and that a "site already has been obtained for the corollary state park. Now, the chief problem is to obtain the right-of-way for the "Goodnight Trail" and other scenic drives."

"The Palo Duro project is ranked among the three most preferable among the 34 specifications now on file in Washington," he said. "We must act quickly!"

Last night's banquet resolved itself into a tribute to Colonel Goodnight, termed the "Father of the Panhandle," with J. Evetts Haley, Texas University historical research worker and author of note, delivering scholarly praises for Goodnight, his personality and achievements.

Duro Canyon when he decided to locate in the Panhandle country, untried, infested with marauding bands of Indians. And he spent a comfortable fortune as a friend of frontier education."

James O. Guleke, Amarillo attorney and first publicly to announce the plan for the "Goodnight Trail," also eulogized the pioneer.

John Prichett, of the state board of water engineers, and Chester Cohn, of the state department of health, pledged support of those departments in developing the projects and explained many details already worked out.

Mrs. Phoebe K. Warner, of Claude, nationally known clubwoman, and member of the state park board, pledged the support of Panhandle women in the enterprise and asked the trail also memorialize Mrs. Goodnight, "the first woman who drove a team down that trail as a challenge to modern women of the Panhandle." If she accomplished that, we are pretty punk folks if we can't build that road, and build it now," she said.

P. S. Baley, of Amarillo, state highway department engineer, said his department is eager to take part in the construction program.

Others speaking were Sam Braswell, Clarendon; John McKnight and Horace Russell, of Amarillo; Clyde Warwick, of Canyon; Dr. J. W. Stevens, of Tulia; and J. P. Elliston, of Canyon.

The executive committee met again today at Claude where it and the visiting state officials were guests of the Claude Lions Club at noon. Committeeman Caraway, and Sam M. Braswell of Clarendon attended.

ROTARY OBSERVES YOUTH WEEK HERE

MAJOR ACTIVITY VOCATIONAL GUIDANCE; VISITS TO LOCAL FIRMS ARRANGED

In conjunction with Rotary Clubs all over the world, the Clarendon club's program Wednesday was devoted to observance of Youth Week, in addition to which Rotarians D. R. Davis and A. J. Dyer arranged for visits of boys and girls of school ages to various business firms. The object of the visits, which will be made today and Friday, is to enable the boys and girls to obtain a better knowledge of the particular occupation in which each happens to be most interested.

At the luncheon Jimmy Bourland, son of W. M. Bourland and contestant in public speaking at the District meet at Canyon recently, spoke to the members in behalf of the boys and girls, telling them his viewpoint of the inspiration which the interest of business men in the problems of youth arouses in their lives. "Not all boys and girls wish to follow the occupations of their fathers," he said, "and they appreciate the opportunity afforded them by asking questions about the business in which they are most interested."

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Chamberlain returned Friday morning from a few days visit in Dallas.
