

C-G Highway Association Convenes Monday

LARGEST CONVENTION EVER HELD EXPECTED TO GATHER HERE NEXT WEEK

LOCAL COMMITTEE AND CHAMBER OF COMMERCE ARE WORKING TO HAVE ALL PLANS LAID WHEN CONVENTION OPENS HERE MONDAY MORNING. TENTATIVE PROGRAM HAS BEEN ARRANGED. LOCAL BUSINESS MEN REGISTER THIS WEEK.

Registration of the business men of the city of Clarendon and their representatives proceeded at a nice rate all the fore part of this week under the direction of Homer Mulkey, chairman of that committee.

Advices from J. Allen Wikoff, president of the Association, state that he will be in the city the latter part of this week to complete plans whereby the convention will be a great success.

As originally planned, the program will open Monday morning, June 27th. Rev. Algie B. Crocker of the First Christian Church will open the convention with the invocation.

The morning program will be given in great part to the preliminary organization and the laying of plans for the afternoon. In the afternoon of the first day, the Clarendon Country Club will be the place where the conventioners will hold forth in all their glory.

In the evening of the first day, Marvin Jones, representative from this district, will be the main speaker. His subject has not been announced.

Golfers from Brownsville to Denver are expected to be in the tournament which will be held on the morning of the second day beginning at 7 p. m.

The visitors will be cared for the second day at noon in a mammoth luncheon that will be held in three places in the city simultaneously.

Congressman John Morrow of New Mexico will be present and will speak at some time during the program.

Others who will be here for the occasion are: E. E. Jackson, vice president for Colorado, of Colorado Springs; Fred A. Young, first vice president of Bowie, Texas.

Attendance on the convention has been variously estimated at from 300 to 1,000. Plans are nearing completion whereby all visitors will be cared for whatever the number of delegates may be.

The attendance prize is attractive quite a bit of attention and it is thought that this will do a little toward making the attendance what it should be.

The first part of the Annual Summer round-up of the school children who are to start into the first grade of the public schools in September was held the first part of this week. The idea in view in this plan is to find the defects that can be remedied during the summer months and have the children in good physical condition for the opening of the school year.

The Upham people were the other of two companies who were actively engaged in working for the franchise of the city and they were the losers, the franchise having been granted to Mr. Hardendorf some two weeks past.

The Upham interests stated unofficially Saturday evening that they would have the gas in Clarendon soon after the first of September, the date they promised the product if they had been awarded the franchise.

One of the most enjoyable events that has been staged in the city for the past few days was that which was held Tuesday evening of this week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Wood.

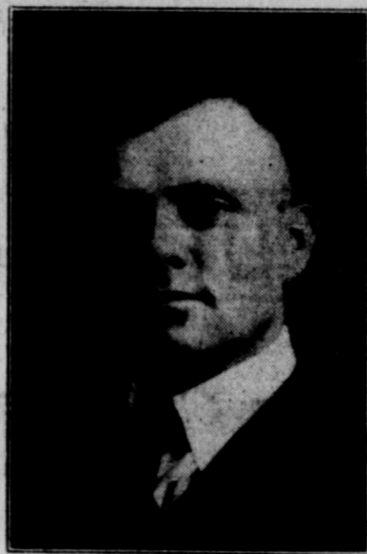

The game was a draw. At the close of the evening's playing, refreshments of a delightful nature were served to the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Morris, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Morris, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Lindsey, Mr. U. J. Boston, Mr. Claude Pyle, Mr. Mullinax, Pat Longan and Mr. Newman.

Mrs. Flora G. White, District Clerk; Miss Lottie E. Lane, County Clerk; and McHenry Lane are in Corpus Christi, attending the convention of State County and District Clerks Association.

Before returning to Clarendon, Mrs. White will visit with relatives in Fort Worth. Miss Lane and her brother will also spend their vacations before coming home.

Advices received in the News office early part of this week state that another meeting of the land owners near the location of the A-T well had been called and that they were yet considering the matter of further depth toward the pay that seems to be a short distance ahead of the drill.

Practically all plans were completed for the completion of this work early in the week, but the drilling has not yet been started toward completion. The date for the beginning of this work will be announced when it is made public.

HARDENDORF IS SOLD TO UPHAM

TRANSACTION IS COMPLETED SATURDAY EVENING. THE FRANCHISE TO STAND.

A transaction was completed last Saturday evening whereby the franchise and other holdings in Clarendon recently granted to A. J. Hardendorf of McLean became the property of the Upham Gas Company.

The Upham people were the other of two companies who were actively engaged in working for the franchise of the city and they were the losers, the franchise having been granted to Mr. Hardendorf some two weeks past.

CONCERT TO BE GIVEN SUNDAY

CHOIR AND ORCHESTRA OF METHODIST CHURCH TO GIVE PROGRAM AT 8:30 P. M.

The choir and orchestra of the First Methodist Church, assisted by a number of talented soloists, will present a concert at the Methodist Church Sunday evening, under the direction of Charles H. Dean, Jr., conductor of both the choir and the orchestra.

One of the most interesting numbers of the program will be a chimes solo by Vern Springer. Mr. Springer is an expert performer on the chimes, and his number on the Sunday evening concert will be something of a novelty, as the instrument is not often heard here.

The program follows: Gentle, Holy Saviour, Gounod; "Gloria," from 12th Mass, Mozart—Choir.

Violoncello Solo, selected—Mrs. Loyd Stallings. Vocal Solo, selected—Mr. Russell Paige.

"The Swan" from "The Carnival of Animals," Saint-Saens; "Largo" from "The New World Symphony," Dvorak—(Horn solos played by Mr. Rayburn Smith) Orchestra.

Chimes Solo, selected—Mr. Vern Springer. Let Mount Zion Rejoice, Herbert—Choir.

Violin Solo, selected—Miss Annis Owens. Organ Solo, Tannhauser March, Wagner—Mrs. Chas. Dean, Jr.

Overture, "William Tell," Rossini—Orchestra. "Largo" from Xerxes, Handel—Choir and Orchestra.

W. L. Ball left Tuesday evening of this week for Alameda, where he will visit for a short time with relatives and friends.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Chester C. Martin of Childress, June 15th, a son, who has been named Tony Allen. Mr. and Mrs. Martin are former residents of this city, as are the grand-parents of the very young gentlemen, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Allen.

TRAINING SCHOOL TO START SUNDAY

FOUR DISTRICT STANDARD SCHOOL EXPECTING FULL ATTENDANCE.

The preliminary announcement of the Standard Training School of Clarendon College to be held here all of next week starting with Sunday was carried in The News of last week. No changes have been noted in the faculty or plans of the school and it is thought that the entire program will be carried to completion with a minimum of change.

The school is originally intended for Sunday School and church workers and for pastors. The course is flexible, and is extended here to include all those who are in the least interested in Sunday School, Church or Epworth League work.

Classes will be so arranged that they will not conflict in any manner to keep those from attending who care to take any work at all.

COUNTRY CLUB PLANS JULY 4TH

ANNUAL CELEBRATION TO BE BIGGEST STAGED BY THE LOCAL CLUB.

Letters were mailed the members of the Clarendon Country Club the fore part of this week giving notice of the annual barbecue and picnic that will be held on the Country Club grounds July 4th.

Committees have been named to care for the different angles of the occasion. These are found to be as follows: General Arrangements; J. W. Martin, G. S. Garaway, W. W. Taylor and Phillips Gentry.

Entertainment will be handled by Holman Kennedy, Miss Mildred Martin and Mrs. Selden Bagby. Fire works and decorations will be under the care of Barcus Antrobus and F. W. Taylor.

The same arrangement that has been in vogue in the past will be held at this time. Each member may take one family in addition to their own family and any relatives that they may see fit to take to the club.

The recent additions to the property in the shape of the pergola and other improvements along the lake front, together with the Delco System that has been placed on the grounds will assist in making this the most enjoyable and largest picnic that has ever been staged on the grounds of the country club.

Not all the time, however, will be given to the study of hygiene. As a matter of fact, one of the most interesting features of the encampment will be the judging in the County Clothing Contest and the review of the entries.

Mrs. Barnes is here especially for the contest and will act as judge. A button hole contest will also be held, and there will be a lesson in Italian stitches. The full and well planned program for the encampment includes, too, an informal talk on music, by Mrs. Charles H. Dean, Jr., one of Clarendon's most accomplished musicians.

Mrs. Dean will talk on "Music for the Club Girls," at 9:30 Friday morning. Miss Marie Lee Hayden, District Home Demonstration Agent, will give a most valuable lesson in home beautification when she talks at 10:15 Friday morning on "Suitable Pictures For My Home."

With this group of splendid speakers, the programs for the encampment could not but be most interesting and worth while. But in addition, the encampment is providing the best of recreation and entertainment. At seven o'clock this evening, the Clarendon Municipal Band, directed by Mr. E. M. Lindsey, will give a concert on the lawn of the Girls Hall, for the special benefit of the visitors.

Between eight and nine, this evening the girls will enjoy stunts and games. Mr. Homer Mulkey, owner of the Pastime and Queen Theatre will be host to the entire group for the matinee Friday afternoon. The matinee party, which will begin at 3:30 will be the closing event of the encampment.

Visitors are cordially invited to attend all lectures in the auditorium, and many people have taken advantage of the opportunity to hear these splendid talks.

CLUB GIRLS HERE DONLEY-GRAY FOR ENCAMPMENT SPUDED IN

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE BEARING ALL EXPENSES OF TWO DAY MEET.

MANY CLARENDON PEOPLE SEE WELL SPUDED IN 16. WELL NEAR PRODUCER.

More than sixty club girls from all parts of Donley County are assembled in Clarendon for the Girls' Encampment which opened this morning at Clarendon College, under the direction of Miss Eula Key, County Home Demonstration Agent.

The Donley-Gray well, located on the south 80 acres of the southwest quarter of Section 79, Block 3, of Gray County, was spudded in last Thursday afternoon, while a number of interested stockholders from Clarendon looked on.

The Donley-Gray is about three quarters of a mile from the city of Pampa and is directly north of the Wilcox pool. Developments in the Jim Saunders well, which is between three and one-half and four miles southeast of the Donley-Gray, added considerably to the value of the Donley-Gray location.

The Donley-Gray is owned entirely by Clarendon men. It is capitalized at $125,000. All machinery for drilling the well is new and in good condition. Gas for running the boiler will be obtained from the city of Pampa.

Among those who went from Clarendon to see the well spudded in were the following: Judge J. R. Porter, G. E. Mullins, J. L. Bain, J. W. Gordon and family, Cal Merchant, E. M. Ozier, his brother, J. M. Ozier of Temple; J. H. Hurn, T. M. Little, J. M. Newman, G. G. Kemp, W. D. Van Eaton, Wm. Grounds, Fred Jones, and Clyde Atteberry.

The Girls' Encampment, an annual affair in counties where home demonstration work has been long established, is primarily recreational. The general theme of this year's encampment is "Health," and around that idea several talks and lectures have been planned.

The opening lecture, following registration, will be given this afternoon at three o'clock, by Mrs. C. R. Skinner, discussing "The Ideal Club Girl." While so will take into account many characteristics necessary to the ideal girl, Mrs. Skinner will doubtless emphasize the importance of health.

Dr. J. W. Evans, prominent dentist of this city, will lecture on "A Healthy Mouth." This will be one of the most instructive and valuable features of the entire encampment.

Mrs. Dora R. Barnes, Clothing Expert with the Extension Department of A. & M. College, will give at 8:30 tomorrow morning, Friday, Mrs. Barnes will give "A Recipe for Keeping Beautiful." Again the importance of health will be emphasized.

For two days the fore part of this week the service on some lines on the northern end of Kearney street was impaired due to the fact that a new cable was being put into position to care for the needs of the business men in that section of the city.

The new cable was hauled into place late Wednesday and the splicing crew will start its work in a short time and the inconvenience rendered will be forgotten when the service starts once more.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Shelton and family returned Friday evening, after spending two weeks with relatives and friends in Central and East Texas.

CLARENDON'S NEW COLLEGE.

Clarendon lost the Methodist College but is to have a new one. The school board has voted to establish a municipal junior college. The same buildings which formerly housed Clarendon College will be used for the new institution. Clarendon's promptness with plans to fill the gap in its educational affairs, since losing the Methodist school, will command the admiration of all the Panhandle.

Many Clarendon citizens fought hard to retain the Methodist college and the city was loyal to the school for years, but the recent turn of events has made Clarendon more of a beneficiary than a loser. Clarendon as a city has been able to purchase the college property at negligible sum, compared with what it would cost to erect new buildings, and its junior school will be supported by taxation.

The atmosphere and environment which the existence of the Methodist college for so many years gave to Clarendon, will be retained and the influence of the Methodist school in the city will undoubtedly be felt in the new college.

Clarendon did not give up when the Methodist conference voted to remove the school. On the other hand, Clarendon is coming back stronger than ever.—Amarillo Daily News.

KINDNESS.

Life is made up, not of great sacrifices or duties, but little things, in which smiles, kindness and small obligations given habitually, are what win and preserve the heart and secure comfort.

The drying of a single tear has more of honest fame than shedding seas of gore.

Kindness is a language the dumb can speak and the deaf can hear and understand.

A kind heart is a fountain of gladness, making everything in its vicinity freshen into smiles.

Kind looks, kind words, kind acts, and warm handshakes—these are secondary means of grace when men are fighting their unseen battles.

"I expect to pass through life but once. If, therefore there be any kindness I can show, or any good thing I can do, as any fellow-being, let me do it now, and not defer or neglect it, as I shall not pass this way again."

Kind words produce their own image in men's souls and a beautiful image it is. They soothe and quiet and comfort the hearer. They shame him out of his sour, morose, unkindly feeling. We have not yet begun to use kind words in such abundance as they ought to be used.

Each one of us is bound to make the little circles in which he or she lives better and happier. Bound to see that out of that small circles the tides may flow. Each may have fixed in her mind the thought that out of a single household may flow influences that shall stimulate the whole civilized world.—Exchange.

"HERE COMES THE BRIDE!"

June is here. The month of roses and blushing brides has again rolled around to renew our faith in a more or less colorless world. The breath of the traditional new-mown hay coaxes the passer-by, though most of the Maud Mullers pause not as they honk us to one side on their way to the country club or the village movie.

But the new bride "ain't quite what she used to be," regardless of what the old timers think was perfection in the annual bride crop. Those pioneer days when Grandma took her place in the field as a "hand" at planting and harvest times were gruelling physical tests of women. Upon their backs, particularly the farm woman of the first generation or two in each community, was built the foundation of our social structure of today.

Pioneering days have passed, however, and with them passed much of the dull, drab drudgery of a mere struggle for existence. The modern young man and woman live more in a day than their grandparents did in a month. They can mix rural and urban life to suit the taste. Their neighbors and friends are next door or a thousand miles away. Their world of work, art, music, politics, literature, sport and recreation is bounded only by their mutual ideas on those subjects.

But in health today's young folks, expressed in insurance company "probability" statistics, have the call by long odds. The cemeteries, particularly the rural ones, speak an eloquent language of progress in living standards. The bride of today insists on an equal share in the partnership, and she doesn't expect to be a slave any more than the other half of the team. Therefore the great spread of household conveniences like hot and cold running water at the tap on all floors, power washers, electric lights, vacuum cleaners, etc. If a tractor or a combine is a good thing to save time and man labor in the field a water system is a good thing to save time and woman labor inside the farm home.

Therefore, Ye Ed has nothing but praise for the 1927 crop of June brides. They are a better group than last year's, or those of the year before that, not to mention those of ten years ago.—Research Department National Association of Farm Equipment Manufacturers.

YOUR OWN NAME.

Write your name on a piece of paper, and look at it for five minutes.

It is the most precious thing you have. It is connected with all you are and hope to be. Your name carries the life history of hundreds of men and women.

Your father gave it to you. He had in his youth many temptations to soil his name, but he wore it ever, like a white plume over his heart.

One day your father went and offered his name to a beautiful young woman. She blushed and hesitated. Then her father and mother inquired if the name he offered was a good name.

Finally your mother accepted your name, and she did not wear her engagement ring with half the pleasure that she did your name.

Then, they two give that name to you. Your name was sung into your baby ears on the music of your mother's cradle songs. It was taken to the throne of God on the white prayers and hopes of your sweet mother. It is forever sacred.

Your father looked into your pudgy little face and breathed a sigh of pride as he thought, "Now I have given my name to a human soul."

More than all earthly possessions is an untarnished name. Yet how easily is a good name lost. It is harder to regain than it is to find again the lost gold in sunken ships.

How do you treat your name?
Is the local merchant glad when he sees your name in his account book?

How does the banker feel when you induce him to loan you some money? Will he have to discount your paper, because your name is not worth 100 per cent?

If the pastor of your little church ever wrote a line after the names on the church roll, what would he put after yours? The Bible says, "A good name is rather to be chosen than great riches."

If you and I in our poorest moments were given the choice of riches to anything else, we might take the riches. But every man who has gotten riches at the sacrifice of his good name has lived to regret his bargain.

You are not done with your name. It will be given to another. It may be your own child, or perhaps some man and woman will honor your life and name their child after you. The Scriptures say that we shall have names in heaven, and talks about the Lamb's Book of Life.

Treat your name as you do your soul and your inner honor, for what soils one will blast the other.
It is a great and pleasant thing to live, and breathe a name that will be blessing in our communities when we are gone.

I love to look over a book of great names—names that men have handed down, without a smear of deviltry on them. May you and I have enough sense and grace to do likewise.—By Dr. J. W. Holland in the Venus Express.

CLUB GIRLS PRESENTED GOOD PROGRAM SATURDAY

A rally of the women and girls who make up the Home Demonstration Clubs and the Girls Clubs of Donley County was held at the Court House Saturday, with the girls acting as hostesses. An excellent program, including a playlet and other numbers, was presented by the girls. The thirty guests present, many of them mothers of the club girls, enjoyed the program immensely and expressed themselves to that effect, there and then. Miss Eula Key gave an informal talk on "The American Beauty Girl."

One of the high points of the afternoon was reached when Miss Key, County Home Demonstration Agent, announced the plans for the Girls' Encampment to be held June 23rd and 24th. The interest and enthusiasm which has been very evident since the first plans were made for the encampment became positive hilarity when Miss Key told the girls that the Clarendon Chamber of Commerce had offered to bear all expenses of the encampment, and that the girls need not have any expense during the two days of the meeting.

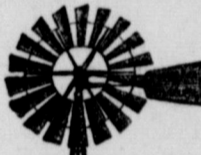

A business meeting of the County Council was held, following the rally. At this meeting, it was decided that a county-wide picnic would be held at Lelia Lake August 17th, to which all members of Home Demonstration Clubs and their husbands will be invited. Announcement was also made of the joint picnic of the Hedley and Giles Clubs on July 4th, and of the Lelia Lake Club's picnic at Lelia Lake on the same date.

Exports from Texas in 1926 amounted to $64,991,954. This was exceeded only by New York. The next state was Pennsylvania with about one-half the value of exports as compared with Texas.

ARTISTS WERE SCARCE IN O. HENRY'S DAYS.

One of the books for which collectors of early Americans ransack old and rare bookshops is a volume entitled "Indian Depredations in Texas," a collection of source stories of the tragedies of early settlers published in Austin, Texas, in 1890, by a firm of publishers, the Henry Hutchings Printing House. Only a limited number of copies were issued, and now there are probably not more than half a dozen in existence.

It has recently been discovered that the twenty-six crude and curious wood cuts with illustrate the volume are by none other than O. Henry, the novelist, who lived in Austin several years before he became famous as a writer.

A review of the incidents in connection with this early days history and the part played by O. Henry as illustrator, will appear in the Monthly Magazine Section of The Clarendon News, July 21st.

FISH LONGEVITY IN TEXAS WATERS.

By J. G. Burr, Game, Fish and Oyster Dept., Austin.

How long a fish will live in Texas streams depends mainly on the skill of fishermen. Few fish die of old age; they are mostly caught young. The tragedy is abated only when "they are not biting." The undersized bass is a victim of hasty strikes at a supposed bug or fly, and all fish, one way or another, meet an untimely end from the standpoint of the fish.

But it's great sport to take them, and when an angler's temptation is at stake, there is a temptation to carry home 50 or 100, even if they are short, and before they have reached the age of production.

Prior to a year ago the state had only one hatchery, located at Dallas, which sent out annually from 100,000 to 250,000 young fish since the time of its construction in 1915, but practically all were sent to lakes and private ponds. Last year, with two hatcheries added, a few fish were sent to streams and creeks. This year the application for fish include a greater number of streams.

That so few applications are made for fish to be placed in streams is due to the belief that they would soon be caught out by an irresponsible public. That is perhaps the greatest difficulty to a successful stocking of the fishing streams which were once the angler's delight.

The commission, with four hatcheries now in operation, hopes to send out from one half to a million fish annually. They must, of course, be allowed to reach maturity and reproduce, which will require at least a year. Observance of the fishing laws is imperative, and 100 per cent co-operation by the public is essential to the success of this important enterprise of the state.

Eleven inches for bass and seven inches for white perch and crappie are the lawful lengths.

Distribution of bass from the Tyler hatchery began this week, with Commissioner Will J. Tucker on the ground in close touch with the work.

EDITOR'S MEET CLOSED SATURDAY

EL PASO GATHERING OF EDITORS SELECT TEXARKANA AS 1928 SITE.

Among the many things done by the editors of the state in their annual meeting of the Texas Press Association in El Paso was the selection of Texarkana for their meeting place in 1928. Texarkana won over a hotly contested field of McAllen and Wichita Falls who were in the race and made hard competition to beat.

Honors have again been poured on The Clarendon News as is the custom whenever the paper enters any contest in the state for any reason whatsoever. This time, The News was third in the entire state in the contest for the A. H. Belo cup for the best all-round newspaper in the state. The White-wright Sun, published by J. H. Waggoner, was the winner of the cup with the Rockdale Reporter second in the race and The Clarendon News third.

In the Beard Contest of advertising, The News took second place in the quarter page or larger contest, losing this contest to the Kerrville Sun. This was a cash contest, the prizes to be distributed to the members of the force who set the ads. The job department of The News was disqualified from the job printing contest due to the fact that this cup was won by The News in the Texas Press Association last year.

Editor and Mrs. Braswell and family are expected to return to their homes here the latter part of this week from a vacation spent in the Texas Press Association and with relatives in Ranger and Rotan.

PREVENTION OF MALARIA.

This is the time of year when the case-rate malaria begins to rise, unless mosquito-control measures are used, according to Dr. J. C. Anderson, state health officer, who is conducting a campaign to secure the co-operation of individuals and communities in the control of this disease, and who urges mosquito-control programs in all towns in malaria sections.

"By mosquito-control," Dr. Anderson states, "is meant the elimination of mosquito breeding places. Medical science has made possible the prevention of malaria, as well as numerous other diseases, and the fact, that mosquitoes, the carriers of this disease, are allowed to breed unmolested to become a health menace to a community, is indeed regrettable. Malaria is not only a health problem, but is also the cause of serious economic loss to any town or district.

Methods of Mosquito Control.

"Methods recommended to householders for the prevention of mosquito breeding on premises is as follows:

"As mosquitoes breed only where there is water, it is well to fill low places, and to drain ditches and ponds where practical.

"Where rain water is kept in barrels or other containers, cover one a week with half a pint of kerosene. Where refrigerator drains under house, keep oiled also.

"Clean out clogged gutters, and do not allow water to stand in horse troughs, tin cans, or other containers.

"Tanks, ponds and underground cisterns should be stocked with minnows, which can be obtained from the oyster, fish and game commission, Austin.

"Screen houses with 16-mesh wire, as mosquitoes can gain entrance through larger mesh. Keep screens in good repair."

Dick Hughes of Whitdeer spent Sunday here.

BOY AND GIRL CLUBS HELP MAKE STATE FAIR BIG SUCCESS.

Boys and Girls Clubs will contribute in no small degree to the interest in and the success of the Million Dollar Live Stock Show at the State Fair of Texas, Oct. 8 to 23, according to Dr. A. E. Flowers, superintendent of the State Fair Live Stock Department.

"Boys and Girls Clubs have been organized in different parts of the state," says Dr. Flowers, "and county agents have assured us that they will have many fine exhibits of Holsteins and Jerseys in the Club Department's show."

"Extra liberal premiums have been offered this year for Galf Club work. At least 20 premiums are to be given in each class—Holsteins and Jerseys. This should arouse the keenest interest and the finest spirit of rivalry.

"We are trying to arrange so that all Boys and Girls Club exhibits may be shown in one separate building, which will be devoted to this line of educational work entirely. This we believe will increase the interest of the boys and girls and what is also important, that of the general public.

The State Fair of Texas is an educational institution. One of the most outstanding departments is that embracing the Boys and Girls Club work. With the exhibits scattered through several buildings it is hard for the public to visualize the extent of the important work being done by the young people. But with all those exhibits in one building anyone can get a good general idea of what the boys and girls are accomplishing and can realize the great importance to the future of Texas."

COW'S YEARLY PRODUCTION WORTH MORE THAN 19 BALES OF COTTON.

A group of bankers visiting the Georgia State College of Agriculture were shown a Holstein cow whose milk during the course of a year actually sold for more than 19 bales of cotton would bring at 12 cents per pound. During the past year that cow produced 16,461.8 pounds of milk, weighed and recorded daily, or the equivalent of 1914.16 bales. The milk was retailed through the Agricultural College creamery at 60 cents per gallon for a total of $1148.49.

The market price of 19 bales of cotton at 12c per pound, the price at which a considerable part of the last crop changed hands is $1140, or 8.49 less than the milk from the single cow. That cow's record furnishes the starting point for some calculations that should prove interesting for every cotton planter.

How does the cash productivity of a good Holstein cow compare with the cash productivity of cotton? Let us ask what farmer could fill in the following questions according to his own land and local conditions, and draw his own conclusions.

1. How many acres are required to produce 19 bales of cotton?
2. What is the value of the land?
3. What is the cost of making the crop?
4. At the best price reasonable to expect, what is the profit?
5. How many Holstein cows could be supported on this land, supposing all possible feed for them to be grown at home?
6. What profit could reasonably be expected from such a herd?
7. If the market for whole milk is not good, what other stock could be raised on the skim milk after selling the cream?
8. What profit could be expected in this way?
9. In view of the foregoing figures, does it seem advisable to begin withdrawing land from cotton in order to start building up a dairy herd as rapidly as money can be found for the investment?

The Augusta Chronicle, discussing this comparison, said:

"The lesson to be drawn is, of course, obvious. For us of Georgia helplessly to talk about agriculture being prostrated when we have the cow, the hog and the hen, to say nothing of fruits, vegetables, grains, etc., to supplement cotton, is a confession of impotency and cowardice that should make us ashamed of ourselves. We need to wake up."

PHOENIX RESEARCH BUREAU

SILK HOSE OUTPUT DOUBLED BY THE KNEE LENGTH DRESS.

Four years ago, ten pairs of stockings were manufactured for every woman over ten years of age in the United States. In 1926, each woman had twelve pairs of hose due her, the Phoenix Research Bureau computes from available sources. This would imply that a good many women must be going around barefooted, to average matters up, in view of the vast army of young business women who buy a new pair of stockings every week as regularly as paying their rent or washing their hair.

This represents a twenty per cent increase in hosiery production in the brief space of four years, but even more striking is the change in styles. When women had ten pairs apiece for a yearly average, six of these were wool, cotton, lisle or some mixture, and four pairs were silk. With the shrinking of skirts, stocking standards were also raised till now, with twelve pairs a year, eight of them are silk and four of other materials. This means a doubled output of silk hose and a third decrease in wool, cotton and other sorts.

250 HENS ON SOME FARMS NO CHICKENS ON OTHERS

BY F. W. KAZMIER, BRYAN, TEXAS.

There has been a time when Agriculture educational agencies, have given out promiscuous and more or less misleading and dangerous information. The campaign that was conducted several years ago and is still being carried on in some places, "50 hens on every farm" must have originated in the mind of a "school teacher farmer" that never saw a farm in his life and that did not have the slightest conception of actual farm work. No good, could be accomplished, even tho it were possible to successfully put over such a program.

First, we claim, that not every farmer or farmer's wife is temperamentally suited to profitable poultry production. Some of these men and women, so to speak would fail with their flock even tho the every individual of the flock lived up to the fabulous possibilities of the "golden goose that laid the golden egg". Not every farmer wants to keep chickens. Why insist that he should? I have heard them say "that thing was forced upon me" and its a failure. No man will succeed in anything he can't take care of in an enthusiastic and whole-hearted way.

A flock of 50 hens on a farm is from the very first a money losing proposition, because it is too small a number. Farmers of to-day and most certainly those of the coming generation are going to keep books, records, cost accounts, a labor account and when that happens they will invariably find the small flock of 50 hens on the wrong side of the ledger and in red ink. They will have lost him or her money when they started figuring their time as worth anything.

No Scavengers
Some times the thought is advanced that a small flock of chickens can pick up enough waste grain on the farm, to be an economical factor necessary on every farm. On the majority of Texas farms there is very little waste grain, and after three or four dogs get into the kitchen waste, not very much of that is left.
To produce high grade eggs chickens must not be looked upon as scavengers. They must be fed clean wholesome feed.

Quality Eggs
A flock of 50 chickens on a farm and even 100, is too small a unit to be a profitable investment. The time has come when farmers are going to have some say about the selling of their products. We believe producing a product is the only 50 per cent of the farmers task. The marketing of the product is the other 50 per cent of the job. As long as he devotes all of his time producing his products and then gives it away to the first fellow that makes an offer, he will be the "under dog." How many manufacturers would agree to manufacturing an indefinite supply of their line, and trust to luck they could sell it? They actually consider the sales and of their business, next most important to the product.

The producing end of their business gives them the least worry. As the farmer prospers, so will the entire community prosper. For this reason the business men can afford to get behind any program that will help the farmer get more for his product.

We do not believe that the middle man is the chief cause of low prices to the farmer. We do believe, however, that the majority of "so-called middle men" do not encourage the farmer to produce a better product. They do not pay a premium for quality.

The farmer owning 50 hens, cannot gather the eggs three times a day, he cannot deliver them to the shipping station every day, he cannot spare the time from his other duties to give the flock first-class care and attention they need. That is the chief reason the 50 hen flock on the farm is a money-losing proposition.

250 Hens on the Farm.
The farmer with 250 hens can afford to gather the eggs three times a day and deliver them to the market once a day. He has enough volume to justify the time necessary to deliver and produce a high grade quality product. Which is easiest to market, the eggs from four farmers with 1000 hens or from 20 farmers with 50 hens?

A safe and truly profitable farming program should encourage some farmers with 250 hens, or more and some with no chickens. Some farmers make good hog-men, but as poultry raisers they are failures. Why encourage such to go into the chicken business? They have already failed before getting started.

Woman Suffrage
Times have changed. We have the radio, prohibition, the vitamins, aeroplanes and woman suffrage. They are now keeping books, if not on paper, at least in their minds. It is no longer possible to explain the fact that farm women don't charge anything for their labor, hence the 50 hen unit farm poultry flock is unprofitable.

I hope I am not misunderstood in this article. My hope was to bring out the fact that the small or 50 hen unit farm poultry flock, was a money losing proposition, and that the 250 to 500 hen unit farm poultry flock was a great money making asset to any well managed farm.

STORY HOUR ENJOYED BY FORTY CHILDREN, TUESDAY

The Pathfinder Story Hour, one of the pleasantest features of the summer vacation for the smaller children of Clarendon, was attended Tuesday by forty little girls and boys who listened eagerly to five stories read by Miss Sarah Thompson. Mrs. J. L. McMurtry, who acted as sponsor for the evening, says the children were so much interested in the stories that they cut short their play hour in the school yard to hear more.

The Story Hour is one of the numerous services of the Pathfinder Club to the city, and it is held for the benefit of all children under twelve years of age. A cordial invitation is extended to all parents to bring or send their children, at seven o'clock every Tuesday evening, to the Central Ward School yard, where they may hear stories by some talented story-teller.

Mrs. A. A. Robinson and her daughters, Mrs. Jossaway of Fort Worth, Mrs. H. Slate of Amberst, and Miss Alice Robinson of Waco, visited Dr. and Mrs. B. L. Jenkins, Miss Irma Lewis, and other friends in this city the early part of the week. They are all former residents of Clarendon.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Johnson returned Thursday night after a two weeks' vacation trip through Oklahoma.

Miss Marie Thornton spent the week-end in Amarillo.

A "FLOWER SHOWER" FOR BRIDES AND OTHERS.

There are so many different sorts of showers for prospective brides, I wish some enterprising friend would begin with a "planting shower," if the young people are lucky enough to start out with a little home right at the beginning. Can you think of a sweeter memorial of friendship and youth than lilacs and sweet syringa and pyrus japonica and bridal wreath and all the marvellous bulbs—all of them lasting through the long years to come, each spring recalling the giver; each spring flinging abroad beauty and fragrance yearly increasing, and so making it possible to pass on that beauty to the neighborhood; a beauty that never wears out or grows old-fashioned as so many gifts do. No danger of moth and rust there.

Nor is there any necessity for confining one's flower shower to a prospective bride. Other people moving into a new and bare place would be just as appreciative and need the kindly thought even more, for enthusiasm is lacking with the gathering of years, and to have things brought to you instead of having to go for them means a great deal.

A shower for the schoolgrounds in return for the entertainments the teachers and children are always getting up for the parents would be a great addition to the attractiveness of the grounds and the impression the community makes upon the passer-by.—Mrs. Lindsay Patterson, in The Progressive Farmer.

Mr. and Mrs. Cal Merchant, Mrs. Cooper and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Ozier, Mrs. Roy Ozier and little Billy Ozier of Temple, left Wednesday afternoon to visit relatives and friends in Panhandle.

Miss Leta Verne Martin has as guests this week, Miss Eva Walker of Montague and Miss Lucille Titsworth of Bowie.

The highest type of six-cylinder performance—the finest type of bodies known to the industry—the most desirable mechanical features. And new low prices—the lowest prices ever placed on sixes of comparable size, performance and quality!

SECRETARIAL SCREENINGS

A recent visitor to the South Plains and the Plainview district particularly, remarked on the number of farms with bountiful gardens, flocks of poultry, hogs and dairy cows that was in evidence from the roadside. Farmers of West Texas are more and more adopting a live at home program and the farm garden named above is one of the best sources of help along that line. It not only cuts the family grocery bill, and can be made a source of income to some extent, but is one of the best and most valuable means of keeping the family healthy.

There is nothing so necessary to the success of the Chamber of Commerce as man power. Money is of course necessary, but personal service for the good of the community is the vital thing. The success of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States is built upon that fact that men whose services could not be purchased by any firm, corporation or individual, for any sum of money are giving freely of their time and efforts to the organization. The welfare of Clarendon should be of sufficient interest to our members that they should be willing and glad to go as far as the members of the national organization are apparently anxious to go.

Clarendon continues to grow and to build. With two buildings under construction and another to start in the near future the indications are that plenty of building activity can be seen in Clarendon all summer.

Too Much "Acid?"

Excess Uric Acid Gives Rise to Many Unpleasant Troubles.

AUTHORITIES agree that an excess of uric acid is primarily due to faulty kidney action. Retention of this toxic material often makes its presence felt by sore, painful joints, a tired, languid feeling and, sometimes, toxic backache and headache. That the kidneys are not functioning right is often shown by scanty or burning passage of secretions. Thousands assist their kidneys at such times by the use of Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic. Doan's Pills are recommended by many local people. Ask your neighbor!

TEXAS TALKS

The Joys of Rejuvenation. By Mrs. Wesley Peacock. The return of my youth has been a great joy to me, but it has been a greater joy to my children, for whom I have lived even as Cornelia the Roman matron, who said of her children, "These are my jewels."

Before I was married I taught oratory and physical culture in a boarding school for girls, and after my marriage I did not relax my physical and mental gymnastics for the sake of my body and for the sake of the bodies of the children whom I expected and to whom I had consecrated my young life; and when they came they were blessed with strong bodies and normal minds, their rightful inheritance.

While psychologists are uncertain whether acquired characters are transmissible to children, we all know that the strength or weakness of the expected child depends upon the prenatal influence exerted by the mother. As an expectant mother, I tried ever to control my emotions, exercising self-control in fear and anger, so that the children also might develop emotional control after their emergence into this life. A mother who can not control herself can not control her children. In the ghoulish regions of the great lakes in order to forestall endemic goitre in children doctors administer iodine compounds to their mothers. Is this not prenatal influence?

I desired to be strong before my children came, realizing that my health would be their health; my exercise, their exercise; my diet, their diet; my thoughts, their thoughts; my emotions, their emotions. Best of all, every one of them was a love baby in a sacred meaning. Perhaps 90 out of every 100 babies come as unwelcome guests into their homes; and this accounts for so much unrest, so much lawlessness, so much insanity in the last few years. This also explains the alarming increase in the number of suicides among children since the war. They were war babies without homes, without love, and too often without God.

If my children have never disobeyed me it is because I have spared them both the rod and the tongue lashings that have spoiled the lives of so many innocents, and I have protected them from teasing, fright, and deception. I have always tried to answer their curious questions, to play their games, to quicken their imaginations, and to perfect them in love for the beautiful.

The heart's desire and prayer of every Jewish woman for a thousand years was to become the mother of the prophetic child destined to redeem Israel; and hence all Jewish children were welcome visitors heralded as good angels in every home from Abraham to Jesus.

Fred Maher of Dallas spent the week-end here with Mrs. Maher and their small daughter. Mrs. Maher and the baby are spending the summer with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Antrobus.

More than any other agency known to man, demonstrates to a very great advantage the need for paint on all exposed surface. Walls will split and crack, where they would be protected and remain absolutely firm if they were covered with paint.

Our line of ready mixed paints is such that they may be used by anyone without a great deal of practice. Results are worth while and the appearance of the place is materially assisted by the application of even the first coat of paint.

WM. CAMERON & CO., Inc.

Lumber and Building Materials.

STANDARDIZING EGGS AND POULTRY

BY F. W. KAZMEIER BRYAN, TEXAS.

The price of eggs in our Southwestern country is comparatively low, and the outlook is, that we may expect low prices for several months. Of course, we expect, the price to soon start on an upward grade, however this climb will appear slow to many of us.

The law of supply and demand will always be a determining factor in the price of eggs and poultry. Floods, no doubt have caused the marketing of thousands of chickens, that would otherwise have been kept off the market. This factor no doubt contributed to our below average price on broilers and fryers this spring. We may not have this factor to deal with another year.

CONSUMPTION

The more eggs people eat, the greater the consumption, the greater the demand and the higher the price of eggs. It stands to reason that the better the eggs the more they will eat, and the poorer in quality the eggs, the less people will eat. Hence a decreased demand and lower price. For this reason if for no other, a determined fight must be made by all concerned to improve the quality of our market eggs.

To show you that the above assertion is true, we can state the fact, that in Canada, altho the youngest nation, more has been done to improve and standardize eggs and poultry than any other country. This fact cannot be denied. The Canadian egg and poultry producers have long ago appreciated the importance of quality. Quality in Canada does not only mean external appearance of egg, but interior condition as well. That is why in Canada the per capita consumption is 28.1 dozens of eggs. This in spite of the fact that in Canada eggs the year around range all the way from 25 cents to $1.00 per dozen. This also proves that price of eggs is only a small factor influencing consumption. Take on the other hand our Texas condition. The average farmer, here, is little interested in producing quality eggs, especially with reference to interior condition. Even those that make an effort to produce graded eggs, do not place importance on interior quality. Take our U. S. standard of eggs, which is a great improvement over our old system of marketing eggs, which actually gives too much value on appearance of shell and size of egg. A small egg of good quality it seems to me will do more to increase consumption than a large egg with a good shell of poor interior quality. In other words not enough stress has been placed upon producing eggs of high grade interior quality.

Eggs because of the fact that they come in sealed packages permit unscrupulous people to take advantage of the consuming public. For this reason, every body that has the welfare of the poultry industry of our great Southwest at heart, must join hands with those that are making a sincere effort to preserve and improve the interior quality of market eggs.

THE EGG AS LAID

Is a wonderful food, next to milk probably the most valuable food for the human race. It is true that the feed fed to laying hens does affect the quality of the egg. This is an important fact and in some future article we will discuss it more in detail. In this article we will confine ourselves, to helping get people interested in preserving the good qualities of the egg as it is laid.

In Canada in 1926 the average egg consumption per capita was 337 eggs per year. In the United States, during the same period, the average per capita consumption was only 204 eggs. This in spite of the fact that eggs in United States average about 33 1-3 per cent lower in price, than in Canada.

INTERIOR QUALITY

There is no doubt, that the greatest factor to help increase the consumption of eggs is a high grade interior quality. If Texas Poultry raisers and farmers are interested in getting more for their eggs, the first thing to do is to produce a better egg. The first few days after an egg is produced are very important, in order to maintain its interior quality.

AT OUR DOOR

The cause of poor quality eggs must be placed at the doors of farmers and poultry raisers, especially farmers. More than 90 per cent of the nations egg supply are produced by farmers and only a very small per cent by commercial poultrymen. For this reason, those of you, that are disappointed in the price of eggs please remember, you have no right to complain. The product you are producing is not worth any more.

- A few things to remember in producing high interior quality eggs:—
1. Remove all male birds from the flock.
 2. Gather eggs at least 3 times a day.
 3. Provide special coops for broody hens, and confine in the same quick.
 4. Market eggs once a day and at least every other day.
 5. Keep in a cool temperature, as close to 50 degrees as possible.
 6. Grade all eggs sold on the market.
 7. Never offer for sale any eggs you are not certain as to quality or feel in the least doubtful about.
 8. Market only clean eggs, produced in clean hen houses and laid in clean nests.

C. M. T. C. SHOWS BOYS HOW TO SPEND THEIR TIME.

An analysis of how the majority of American boys spend their time has just been made public by a committee of our leading "Boys' organizations." This committee was composed of representatives from national church and school groups, Boy Scouts and Y. M. C. C., also experts from playground and other constructive boys' work and play organizations.

Their survey was based on the daily averages from the weekly totals for the current year, in order to arrive at a fair basis of computation, and to give credit to all of the influences present.

The greatest time is spent in sleep, averaging nine hours a day. Counting 365 days to the year, about 2 3-4 hours, or 1-9 of a "boys' time" is spent in school.

The churches claimed fifteen minutes, 1-4 hour daily, and 4 hours were spent indoors, in study, reading, eating, games or work.

The second largest amount of time is spent outdoors in play or work, an average, the year round, of 8 hours daily or three thousand hours.

The entire analysis shows that 5-9 of the average boy's time is unorganized and undirected.

It is a part of this 5-9 of the boy's time that the C. M. T. Camps reach.

The C. M. T. C. programs are composed of things boys like to do fitted together with things they ought to do.

The students do things for themselves during the thirty day periods, inspired and led through the wholesome influences of good companionship and of the expert men of character who are their leaders and instructors.

They accept the entire program as their own and are good, not only because they have to be, but because they want to be. Their days being organized and systematized for them while in camp, definite periods being allotted to work, play, meals and sleep, crystallizing the good habits already initiated in home and school, lead them to use organization and system of their own volition after returning home.

The C. M. T. Camps, organized and directed by experts in efficiency and system, thus assisted in raising the standards of efficiency of thousands of future American citizens, and are efficient aids to their parents and educators in trying to gain that objective.

HALL COUNTY PAVING TO START IN IMMEDIATE FUTURE

The following paragraphs were clipped from the last week's issue of the Memphis Democrat, and give all details attendant on the building of the hard-surfaced road on Highway 5 through Hall County. Other counties between Fort Worth and Clarendon are contemplating the hard surfacing of their roads and it is predicted that it will be a very short time before there will be a good road all the way between the two towns. The article follows:

The paving contract for Highway Five through Hall County was let Tuesday of last week at Austin, the successful bidder being V. P. Strawn of Salt Lake City, Utah, whose bid totaled $360,411.45. There were thirteen bidders on this project, there being about $84,000 between the highest and lowest bidder.

There were eleven counties in Texas that road contracts were let in at the meeting of the Highway Commission Tuesday, and Hall County was the largest contract, in fact, it was larger than all others combined.

The letting of the contract for Hall County is good news to our people, as this road project has been uncertain for several years. Judge Hoffman states that he is well pleased with the results of the meeting at Austin and feels that the contract was let to a concern well equipped to do the work, and who are highly recommended.

Judge A. C. Hoffman and C. L. Hasie, county engineer, were in Austin at the time contract was let. Judge Hoffman returning home on board a train on which a representative of the Strawn Construction Company was a passenger, and in conversation with him, was told that work would begin within thirty days on paving Highway Five.

Five Judge Hoffman urgently requested this contractor to use local labor on this place of work as much as possible.

There will be 13.5 miles of the paved road, beginning at the Donley County line west of Memphis and running to the river on the east of Memphis.

It is understood that the contractor was given 150 working days to complete the paving of this road.

THE AMARILLO MOUNTAINS.

By S. D. Burton.

Did you know that there is a big mountain range, some thirty or forty miles northeast of Amarillo? Unless you have studied some of the recent literature along this line it is probably a surprise to you to know that such a range exists. These mountains extend in a north-west southeasterly direction and are probably near 200 miles in length. They extend across Wheeler, Gray, Carson, Moore and on into Dallam or Hartley counties. They are from thirty to forty miles wide. This mountain range has its origin in what is known as the Granite Ridge, which forms the core of the mountain range. It is believed that this range is an extension of the Arbuckle-Wichita range of Oklahoma. These mountains form the major fold of the Panhandle oil field.

Why have we not heard of these mountains long ago? Simply because they were not known to exist until the development of the oil field. The drilling of the wells has brought about this information and the drilling has been done over such a wide scope of territory that practically the entire range is pretty well defined. After these mountains were uplifted there followed a long period of erosion, then an invasion by the seas and a long period of marine deposition. The Granite Ridge which forms the core of these mountains, at that time, formed the shore lines of two seas, known to geologists as the North and South Salt basins. During this period of deposition the North basin must have teemed with marine life, (it is from decayed animal and vegetable matter that oil is believed to have its origin) for it is in these basal deposits that the oil and gas of the Panhandle field is produced and it has been the rule so far that only the territory north of the Granite Ridge is productive. There is no good reason why this is true that any one knows of; but it has been found to be so, so far as development has gone.

The Big Coach Oil Company's well, which is now drilling, is just a few miles north of this granite ridge, and should penetrate these old deposits of millions of years in age, and bring forth the liquid gold. If you have not invested in this organization you should at least be fair with yourself and investigate the proposition fully. The company is being sponsored by local men and you will be given an equal chance at the profits when the well comes in.

There will be other articles follow which will tell you something of the Geology of the Panhandle field. Keep this article for reference in connection with the ones that follow.

WHAT $2,000 MEANT TO LINDBERGH!

When Lindbergh won the support of his St. Louis backers he had more to offer than his fine qualifications for the New York-to-Paris hop. He showed them that he meant business by offering $2,000, his own savings, toward expenses. Who knows but what this was the deciding factor—this display of his supreme belief in himself? But where would he have been if he hadn't saved that $2,000. Your opportunity may depend on ready money some day—and a bank account with us will help you to accumulate it.

WHAT'S DOING IN WEST TEXAS

West Texas Chamber of Commerce

Ahlens—One hundred and twenty-nine outstanding West Texas business leaders and professional men have been named by President R. W. Haynie of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce to serve on the eleven active bureaus of the regional organization for the year 1927-28. Appointments embrace representatives from towns and cities in every district of the West Texas Chamber territory and the bureaus embody every phase of activity necessary to continued growth and prosperity of the West. Two new bureaus created include the Oil and Gas Bureau and the Highways and Transportation Bureau.

Ralls—Tractors and graders are at work on construction of the Ralls-Post Highway. This work is being financed by the road district which voted bonds several months ago and is under supervision of County Commissioner Early Long and the commissioner's court.

McLean—The McLean Chamber of Commerce has already gone on record as favoring a delegation to the 1928 meeting of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce at Fort Worth.

Stamford—Plans are underway in various towns and cities for entertainment of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce motorcade during the first ten days of July. The trip will touch the most scenic and picturesque spots of the resort section of West Texas and Eastern New Mexico. All those desiring to make the trip are requested to write the West Texas Chamber of Commerce office at Stamford immediately.

Stephensville—Plans are being perfected here for erection of a modern tourists park. The project is under direction of the local chamber of commerce.

Miami—When the 1927-28 school term opens here, Miami students will be housed in a new $65,000 school building. Contract for the structure has been awarded and preliminary work is under way.

Alpine—A large cotton oil mill will be erected here in July to be completed by opening of the fall season. Arrangements for building the structure are now under way by representatives of the Pearsall Company who are to build the plant.

San Saba—Deal has been closed with the Hokenbury Hotel System,

Inc., of Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, to sell stock for erection of a 35-room hotel in this town. Local committees are completing sale of stock, and work on the modern hostelry is expected to start at an early date.

Coahoma—Rapid progress is being made by the pipeline crew working near here on a line from Midland to Ranger. Local business concerns are enjoying increased business due to presence of the crew in the Coahoma trade territory.

Levelland—The first wheat crop of any consequence was sown in Hockley County this season. Every indication points to the fact that this country is well adapted to the growth of that grain and the acreage planted is in good condition.

Bledsoe—A new $100,000 combined high school and grammar school building will be opened formally here next September when 175 pupils of the Bledsoe district and a faculty of ten teachers start off the 1927-28 school year. Bledsoe schools have leaped from 7 pupils and one teacher in 1925 to almost 200 in 1927.

PUBLIC HEALTH LAWS.

Two bills affecting public health, far reaching in their scope, were passed by the special session of the Legislature just closed. One of these bills, provides for the reorganization of the State Department of Health, with the appointment by the Governor of a State Board of Health, composed of six members, and the appointment of the state health officer of this board. This bill carries the emergency clause, and was signed by the Governor, on the 9th of June.

Another bill affecting public health is the new vital statistic law, which has also been signed by the Governor. This bill is modeled after laws now in effect in states within the registration area of the United States, one of the features being the appointment by the state health officer of a registrar in every precinct in the state, these registrars making reports direct to the state health department. It is hoped that the enactment of this law will increase reports to the extent that Texas will within the next year be admitted to the federal registration area.

BEST SELLING BOOK COMES TO TOWN AS MOVIE.

Samuel Goldwyn, whose fondness for best selling novels as preferred subjects for big films dates back to his pioneer film-making days, has done it again. The maker of "Stella Dallas" now presents "The Winning of Barbara Worth," a Henry King Production based on the Harold Bell Wright best selling novel which sold into two million copies. The film comes to the Pastime Theatre next week.

The producers of the film, which boasts of Vilma Banky in the Barbara Worth role and Ronald Coleman as the Eastern engineer, Willard Holmes, estimate that ten million people have already read the novel. There were, first of all, the two million purchasers of the original Wright $2 book. Then additional millions read the serialization of the novel in more than one hundred newspapers in the United States alone. And now, synchronized with release of "The Winning of Barbara Worth" by the United Artists Corporation comes the popular-priced A. L. Burt Co. photoplay edition, with more thousands reading the Wright story.

Samuel Goldwyn was so anxious to have the benefit of the ten million readers of Harold Bell Wright's tale that he paid, according to his own admission, $125,000 for the screen rights to "The Winning of Barbara Worth."

Frances Marion, famous scenarist, adapted the novel to the screen and Henry King directed the picture.

Assembly Record Set

Six and one-half minutes was the time required by an eight-man team representing the Washington section, Society of Automotive Engineers, to assemble one of these Chevrolet truck chassis, at the recent S.A.E. summer meeting, French Lick, Ind.

Eight members of the Washington section, Society of Automotive Engineers, demonstrated the advantages of standard automotive parts recently by assembling a half-ton Chevrolet chassis in the record time of six and one-half minutes, in competition with six other teams similarly engaged. The stunt was a feature of the Society's annual summer meeting at French Lick, Ind.

While the assembled delegates derived much amusement from watching the seven teams vie for a record in a line of work with which they were unfamiliar, except in theory, the performance also carried its lesson to many of the watchers. But for the perfectly-fitting parts, the assembly might have required hours instead of minutes. The elapsed time was strikingly short, in view of the fact that none of the assemblers were connected with Chevrolet nor familiar with its mechanical details. Three of the winning team were engineers of the United States Bureau of Etandards.

The slowest team required only a few minutes longer than the fastest, and its hurry added amusement to the contest. As a test of each man's team's work, each car had to run five times around a

TO PREPARE TEACHERS OF HANDICAPPED CHILDREN

The seven trucks were shipped to French Lick from the Chevrolet factory at Flint, Mich. Such parts as the distributor assembly, the wiring system, gasoline tank, carburetor, a front and rear wheel, and various other units, together with a miscellany of bolts, nuts and screws, were then removed and tossed into boxes in the pits adjacent to the assembly space. Equipped only with two sets of tools such as are furnished with each Chevrolet truck, each team had then to select the parts and put them in their proper place.

A training school for teachers of handicapped children will be maintained by the Board of Education of Marion, Illinois, in cooperation with the Southern Illinois State Teachers College, if the plans recently announced by Superintendent C. W. Conrad are carried out. It is expected that Mrs. Elizabeth Baird Kuhn, supervisor in the Marion public schools, will be critic teacher for the new school, and that credit will be given by the college for practice teaching in the Marion school for handicapped children.—School Life.

This Chevrolet truck chassis was assembled by Washington members of the Society of Automotive Engineers at the summer meeting in French Lick, Ind., in 6 1/2 minutes.

CHANGES PLANNED SECOND STREET FOR CITY OFFICES BRIDGE PLANNED

MANY CHANGES TO BE MADE IN CITY HALL TO MAKE COMPLETE CENTER.

SLAB VIADUCT SIMILAR TO ONE ON FIRST STREET TO BE ERECTED SOON.

Advices from the office of the Mayor early this week state that the city of Clarendon will soon make a number of changes in the City Hall to make this one of the most complete civic buildings in this section of the state.

Plans call for the tearing out of a number of the partitions now existing in the building, the making of larger and better arranged offices and the placing of a fire station with quarters for a man who will live in the place and be on hand for response in case of fire.

Offices will be provided in the building for the Mayor, for the City Secretary, for the City Engineer and for the Chamber of Commerce. In all probability the Pathfinder Library will be given more room than they have at the present time to allow for growth that is certain to come.

The gymnasium that is in the rear of the present City Hall will be floored over and the upper part will be given to living quarters for the fireman on duty. The lower floor will be converted into a fire station and will be used to store the fire truck and possibly a part of the city's equipment of trucks and engines. The swimming pool will be floored over and this part of the building will be made into a rest room and meeting place for the ladies who come to the city. All facilities are present to make this one of the most popular places in the city. The room will be fitted for club meetings and for reading room. A ground floor entrance will be provided to make the place easier of access.

The exterior of the building will also be refinished with stucco and some other improvements done to make the place a real civic center. It is thought that the work will be started in the very near future.

One of the most welcome changes in the downtown section of the city will be that of the erection of the concrete slab viaduct over the ditch on Second street. This structure was planned to be included in the original paving contract that made the paving meet on Second street and has been delayed from time to time due to other matters that needed the attention of the forces of the city.

It is thought at this time that the work will be started immediately on the structure as all plans are ready and all that is needed will be the word from the City Commission.

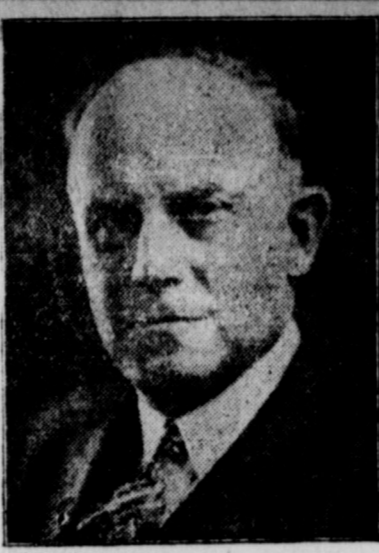

The bridge as planned will be similar to the structure on First street with the exception that it will be of a lighter material, leaving the heavier traffic to pass over the bridge on First street. Reinforced concrete will be used throughout the bridge and it will be one of the finest bits of work seen here.

HIGHWAYS ARE HEARD TUESDAY

LIONS LUNCHEON IS TURNED TO DISCUSSION OF HIGHWAY MATTERS.

A small attendance of the Lions Tuesday of this week was occasioned by the absence of a number of them from the city for various and sundry reasons. Interest was good and the members who were present took themselves in hand to keep the matter going as best possible. J. R. Porter was the presiding officer due to the absence of others of the cabinet who could fill the office. The Boss Lion continues his absence from the city and will in all probability return the latter part of this week to take up his duties here.

Letters or cards were received by all the members of the Lions Club from the Boss Lion and a lot of discussion was heard from the members on the conduct of the wanderer while he was out of the state and city. His full report will be given at various times during the coming year when other Texas visitors are interviewed as they are seen.

The Highway Committee was asked to make its report and stated that the stencil would be here the early part of the week and that volunteers were wanted to assist in painting the poles in the streets with the appropriate markings. Lions Garrison, Porter and Bigger responded. Late Tuesday it was noticed that Lion Bigger had the poles leading out of the city to the west well painted with black and that the coat of white would be added as soon as the stencil was received.

Lion Douglas reported that the committee named on the matter of the trash disposal had done some work and that the city was planning to take action immediately. The roadway will be cleared and a fence will be built along the trees to hide as much as possible the dump ground from the view of the passing public. In addition to this, a sign will be posted authorizing the payment of a reward of $25.00 for the vagrant caught dumping trash on the roadway. Lion Douglas also stated that a new law had been passed which prohibited the depositing of trash within 300 yards of a State highway. Discussion of one nature and another led to the committee to be retained until the law should be received and thoroughly considered from all angles before any action should be taken in the matter.

The acting Boss Lion stated that the committee named in this connection had made a name for themselves in that they had a law passed to assist them in their work.

The matter of hard surfacing the road through Donley County was taken and discussion was had on this from all angles that could be covered. Other counties in this section were spoken about in this connection and the statement was made that Donley and Armstrong counties would soon be the only two stretches between Fort Worth and Amarillo who were lacking in the hard surface road.

Announcement was made of the Colorado-to-Gulf Highway Association which will meet in Clarendon Monday and Tuesday of next week. The Lions were asked to co-operate in every way possible to make this meeting a great success. Adjournment as usual.
