BRONCS WALLOP HEDLEY 19 TO 6

VISITORS' PASSING ATTACK KEEPS BRONCS GUESSING THROUGHOUT GAME.

Leaving their native haunts the Hedley High School Owls journeyed to Clarendon Friday afternoon where a dazzling sunlit playing field and a brilliant offensive attack by the Clarendon High School Bronchos baffled the courageous visitors and left the Donley County Championship gonfalon still floating above the Maroon and White campus with a thrilling 19-6 victory for the locals.

Showing a reversal of form which characterized the Maroon and White play last week the charges of Coaches Stocking and Kerby played a wide-open heads-up brand of football which brought cheers from the Clarendon fans. The tricky passing of the visitors kept the game interesting from the first to the final gun. However, it was this form of offensive gesture which proved a boomerang to the Owls when, as they seemed certain to score in the first minutes of the contest by virtue of the splendid overhead attack, Captain Holtzclaw of the Bronchos intercepted a flat pass on his 10-yard line and scampered untouched the 90 yards for the initial counter.

Clarendon scored again in the second period after a series of powerful plays supplementing an aerial game placed the oval on the Hedley 15-yard line and Greene took a wide swing around end in a beautiful run for the score and added the extra point with a perfect place kick.

The Owls scored at the beginning of the fourth quarter with a perfectly executed pass good for 20 yards and Hunsucker fought his way the additional 30 yards for the only Owl tally. The Bronchos came right back and displayed a powerful drive which took the ball from their own 30 for a touchdown with Greene taking a nicely timed lateral for the score.

Hedley scored 14 first downs to Clarendon's 11.

Cornell, Martin, Word and Turnbow also stood out in the local attack and defense stands. While for the visitors, Armstrong, Bell, Pickett and Jones showed to a distinct advantage, causing the locals no end of embarrassment throughout the contest.

FRANK STOCKING RESIGNS MONDAY

RESIGNS AND LEAVES MONDAY FOR WASHINGTON TO TAKE UP WORK.

Frank Stocking, teacher and athletic coach for the past seven years, has resigned his position with the Clarendon College, and left Monday for Washington, D. C. to confer with Governmental authorities regarding appointment to government work, which he expects to be connected with. The school board met Monday night to consider the resignation and make the necessary adjustments in the teaching of classes which Mr. Stocking has been conducting.

Miss Temple Harris, teacher of History and Latin, will retain her Latin classes, and take over the Business Administration classes formerly held by Mr. Stocking. Mrs. J. L. Kerby will teach high school history and physics. J. L. Kerby, who has been associated with Mr. Stocking in coaching the athletics will take over the full duties pertaining to that work.

The school board as well as the patrons of the school, regrets the loss of Mr. Stocking as he had been a reliable and valuable member of the faculty, but his resignation was accepted because Mr. Stocking felt he was receiving an advancement in his new work.

Mrs. Sam Draden and daughter, Laverne, left Sunday morning to make their home in Boulder City, Colorado, where Mr. Draden is employed.

Little Theatre

May Reorganize

An effort is being made to reorganize the Little Theatre, when Miss Katherine Patrick, director of the old organization, called a meeting Monday of the directors of the Lion's Club, Business Women's Club and the Pathfinder Club, former sponsors. Formerly two members from each of these civic organizations constituted the Little Theatre Board of Directors. In the meeting Monday it was decided that each of these clubs would consider the matter thoroughly, and make a formal report at another meeting soon.

HIGHWAYMAN IS CAPTURED HERE

DESPERADO IS CHARGED WITH ROBBERY OF CANDY AND CIGAR TRUCK.

The solution to several hold-ups of candy and tobacco trucks which have occurred in the Panhandle recently, has probably been solved in the capture Tuesday afternoon of Virgil Stalcup alias Tom Hart, alias G. L. Glenn, alias George Garrison.

Stalcup was captured in the canyon breaks about five miles south of Clarendon and placed in the Donley County jail.

He is charged with robbery with firearms of S. P. Walker, of Childress, salesman for the Ponca Wholesale Co., Childress, which occurred about three miles east of Hedley, Texas, October 9. On this occasion the highwayman shot at Walker when he ordered him to stop his truck. Tuesday afternoon Walker positively identified Stalcup as the highwayman.

Stalcup is also wanted for robbery in Amarillo, Big Spring, Memphis and Borger and is also wanted for escaping jail from Dickens, Texas where he was awaiting transfer to Huntsville after being sentenced for robbery. When he escaped jail in Dickens he is said to have stolen a V-8 Ford automobile.

Ira Partain, salesman for the J. W. Chambers Cigar Co., of Childress was making his regular trip to Brice, ten miles South of Clarendon, when his attention was aroused at a car following him.

The car, a green 1934 Chevrolet Coupe, answered the description of the one which the robber of Walker used, and was known to Partain. When Partain reached Brice he called Guy Pierce, Sheriff of Donley County, who with Deputy Sheriff Guy Wright and County Attorney R. Y. King, started to Brice in an attempt to capture the suspect. Meanwhile, Partain had started toward Clarendon, and after going a few miles noticed the suspect again following him. When the Sheriff and possemen arrived on the scene, about five miles out, the suspect attempted to make a get-away, which led the officers in chase through range gates and fences, before the alleged robber ran his car off into a small canyon, making his way on foot about 300 yards ahead of the officers. In the chase on foot which covered about ten miles, Deputy Guy Wright shot at Stalcup about fifteen shots with a machine gun, while Sheriff Pierce took three shots at him with a six shooter. He was finally captured by R. Y. King in a draw of the canyon.

The officers brought him to Clarendon where he was fingerprinted, charged with robbery with firearms and placed under a $10,000 bond, to await the action of the grand jury now in session.

In the robbers car was a suit case of clothes, a .22 rifle and a .45 automatic pistol. He had a loaded .38 pistol on his person when captured.

The sheriff had been told by the officers of Dickens, Texas that this man was a desperate character and would probably shoot it out with officers if cornered, but he did not fire a shot in the chase Tuesday. Because he was reputedly known as a desperate character the sheriff called for assistance from the American Legion of Clarendon.

Stalcup is under sentence of 30 years from Potter County for

LIONS ARE HOSTS TO MARVIN JONES

GIVES SHORT ADDRESS TO LIONS ON CHARACTER. REVIEWS RELIEF.

When the Lion's Club met for their weekly Luncheon at the Antro Hotel, Tuesday noon, they dispensed with a regular program.

Congressman Marvin Jones of Amarillo was the special guest of the Club, and took for his speech the "Character of the People as Representatives of Our Government," when he stated that "we as individuals should strive to be honest with one another, as well as with our Government, because we have been passing through one of the greatest periods of chaos in the history of the present generation. We must prevent the spread of Communism, and help to maintain the best Government in the world."

Mr. Jones also gave a brief summary of the activities of the various branches of the Government operating under the NRA. His speech was thoroughly enjoyed by the club.

He was introduced by Judge J. R. Porter a friend of 25 years standing to the Congressman.

Other guests were Dr. W. T. Hackney, A. T. Cole, W. P. Cagle, Keith Stegall, J. C. Estlack, S. W. Lowe and B. P. Brents.

JUDGE W. T. LINK TO SPEAK ON PROPOSED AMENDMENTS

Judge W. T. Link has announced that he will speak at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon on the M System corner, with W. P. Cagle, County Democratic Chairman in charge of the arrangements.

Mr. Link says he will discuss the eight proposed amendments to the state constitution.

DENVER HOTEL IS BEING REPAIRED

WILL BE READY THIS WEEK TO HOUSE WORKMEN TO WORK ON FLOOD DAMS

W. R. Bowden, Federal Transit Bureau Director, of Amarillo was in the city last Thursday making estimates of the repair work to be done on the old Denver Hotel in order to accommodate the workmen who will be stationed here to do the work incident to the flood control work.

Monday a crew of workmen started the repair work on the building, and Tuesday another crew joined them. It is believed the repair work will be completed this week, and the other workmen will arrive very soon thereafter.

November 10 Final Date Cotton Pool

The News has been requested by R. C. Land, Assistant in Cotton Adjustment, to announce that November 10, has been set as the tentative final date for closing the Pool for Cotton Tax Exempt Certificates, and any person who has surplus certificates are urged to get in touch with Mr. Land at the Clarendon City Hall before November 10th.

Norma Rhodes, Julia, Helen, and Rhoda Wiedman, and Opal Pile went to Amarillo Tuesday evening.

Bill Wiedman of Tulsa, Oklahoma visited his mother, Mrs. F. Wiedman, on Sunday.

Mrs. R. L. Biggers went to Amarillo Friday night to attend the Pampa-Trinidad game.

robbery, life from Wichita County for robbery, and escaped April 4, 1934 from the Harlem Farm of the State penitentiary while under sentence of 45 years for robbery by firearms. He also is under a sentence from Wilbarger County.

Methodist Will Meet In Abilene November 14th

Northwest Texas Methodist with its approximately 500 congregations will be represented at its twenty-fifth annual session at Abilene, November 14-18, by approximately 500 itinerant preachers and 100 elected delegates in addition to 40 superannuates and numerous visitors. Sessions in the First Methodist Church will be presided over by Bishop Hiram Abiff Boaz, Houston.

The business sessions will be featured with reports from presiding elders and preachers and interspersed with addresses, sermons and transaction of routine conference business. On the closing day Bishop Boaz will announce the assignment of presiding elders and preachers for the ensuing year.

The Northwest Texas Conference—the infant conference of Texas—last year reported 68,570 members, a gain of 2554 for the year, including 172 local preachers. Of the gross increase 3,315 were received by baptism or on profession of faith and 4684 by certificate and otherwise. During the period 5445 were removed from the rolls by death, "lost sight of," and otherwise. Forty-three persons were licensed to preach; 2186 adults and 494 infants were baptized.

Those from Clarendon to attend the sessions besides the pastor, Rev. E. B. Bowen, are Judge J. R. Porter as a delegate and D. R. Davis as alternate.

These were elected at a district conference held last April in Shamrock.

IOOF ENTERTAIN WITH A SOCIAL MONDAY NIGHT

The I. O. O. F. lodge Monday night had a lodge social in the lodge rooms, with George E. Ragland acting as toastmaster at the program.

Following a drill practice, Rev. J. Perry King gave a talk on "Fraternalism." A song with guitar accompaniment was given by Miss Rosalyn Bass. Duet, by Misses Wilma Dee Smith and Louise Smith. Reading, Misses Rosalyn Bass and Wilma Dee Smith.

After the program a refreshment committee served pie, cake and coffee to the group.

F. M. Guinn of Littlefield was a guest.

ROAD SURVEY BE COMPLETE SOON

STATE HIGHWAY COMMISSION WILL BE ASKED TO DESIGNATE ROAD.

E. W. Marrs, of Turkey, the engineer doing the preliminary survey work on the proposed highway from Clarendon South to Turkey to connect highways 38 and 88, was in the city Monday and stated the survey work would probably be completed by the end of the week.

The expense of this work is being borne by Hall and Donley Counties and following the survey, the State Highway Commission will be asked to designate the road as a State Highway, so that it will be in line for being paved if it meets with the approval of the Commission.

This road will complete a national highway running from Kansas to the Mexican Border at Del Rio.

PRESBYTERIAN OFFICERS TO BE FED SUPPER BY AUXILIARY FRIDAY

At a regular meeting of the Board of Deacons and Elders of the Presbyterian Church, the Ladies Auxiliary will serve a supper to the church officers.

The supper will be given at the church at 7 pm, Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Nat Bradley and daughter, Barbara June, were Memphis guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Womack, Sunday.

Dr. A. W. Hicks, R. C. Land and J. P. Rhoades were in attendance last Friday night when Memphis whipped the Miami football team.

BRONCS TO PLAY CHILDRESS CATS

LOCALS TO TEST STRENGTH AGAINST CLASS A TEAM BEFORE McLEAN GAME.

The temperamental Bronchos of Coach J. L. Kerby will begin their series of road games this week when they journey to Childress to furnish competition for the Class "A" District 5 Bobcats Friday evening under the arcs. This contest was scheduled to see just exactly where the weakest points in the Maroon and White offensive and defensive and defensive departments fall, before next week's double-tough assignment against the designing and lusting Bengals of McLean.

While the local fans entertain no hopes for a victory against the heavier and experienced Class A machine, the Broncho mentor and fans as well do hope for and predict a close and interesting game. Hours have been spent in perfecting and developing a defense to trap the scintillating and hip shifting Ross Andrews, District 5 touchdown leaders, as well as the other capable backs of the Bobcats.

Even with such a gloomy atmosphere wrapping the coming nocturnal battle, it must not be forgotten that the past three times the Bronchos and Bobcats have met, very little hope has favored the Clarendon eleven, but on each occasion the Maroon and White has whipped their touted Class "A" opponents all over the field to take each decision.

A good crowd of Maroon and White backers will probably accompany the horses to the Bobcat Lair and cheer the efforts of the underdogs.

GRAND JURY HAS BUSY SESSION

GRAND JURY GOES INTO SECOND WEEK OF INVESTIGATIONS HERE.

The District Court Grand Jury which convened last week, in their investigations have returned the following criminal indictments: Brit Melton and Buck Andis, possession and sale of intoxicant liquor; John Hall, possession and sale of intoxicant liquor; Herman Mayfield, theft of over $50.00; H. L. Martin, burglary; and Buck Andis, possession and sale of intoxicant liquor.

The grand jury recessed last week until 1 p. m. Monday, when they again took up further investigations.

Lions To Celebrate Their Organization

The annual Charter Night celebration of the Lion's Club will be held at the Antro Hotel, Tuesday, October 30, at 7:30 p. m., for the Lions and their ladies. This celebration is an annual affair and is to commemorate the organization of the local Lion's Club, which was October 28, 1922.

The decorations will follow the Halloween scheme.

The program as arranged is as follows:

Song, assembly; invocation, Rev. J. Perry King; introduction of guests; College Trio, composed of Misses Louise Smith, Lovie Beavers and Wilma Dee Smith; welcome address, W. H. Patrick; introduction of the principal speaker, Sam M. Braswell; and the address by the Hon. George Jordan, Dallas, International Lions Sergeant-at-Arms, and past District Governor of District X.

The program committee is composed of R. E. Drennan, W. T. Link and Ira C. Merchant.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cornelius, and Homer Parsons attended the Memphis-Miami football game in Memphis last Friday night.

Otis Jackson was in Memphis last Friday night.

College Carnival Is Monday Night

Monday, October 29, the College Carnival and Stunt Show will be staged, and the public is cordially invited.

There will be side shows as well as free entertainment, and the evening will see the coronation of the school queen.

A brisk contest has been held to determine who the queen will be. The unsuccessful contestants will serve as maids of honor to the queen.

COTTON GINNING

The Clarendon gins up to Wednesday night had ginned 1082 bales of cotton this year.

The Goldston gin had ginned 165 bales.

PANHANDLE ASKS CENTENNIAL AID

HEARING GIVEN TO REPRESENTATIVES WEDNESDAY BY SENATE COMMITTEE.

A committee of Panhandle citizens left Monday for Austin to appear before the Senate Centennial committee Tuesday afternoon to ask that historic sites in this section of the state be included in the state's proposed celebration in 1936.

The committee members, representing the Amarillo and Canyon chambers of commerce, the Panhandle League, the Pampa Board of City Development, the Panhandle Centennial committee and other organizations, will urge the Senate to provide funds for adequately marking historic sites in the Panhandle and assist in financing one or more regional pre-centennial celebrations in this territory. Similar programs are planned in other parts of the state but the legislative bill as it now stands does not provide any financial support for celebrations or memorial markings in the Panhandle.

Among those in the group which left Monday night were George Briggs of Pampa; Sam Braswell, Clarendon, secretary of the Panhandle Centennial committee; L. F. Sheffy of Canyon, representing the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society, and T. E. Johnson of The Amarillo News-Globe, who will represent the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce and the Panhandle League. The delegation appeared before the Senate Centennial committee Wednesday, and were granted a hearing in which the state papers printed as follows:

From the Panhandle came the most novel Centennial plan, as presented to the Senate committee by Sam Braswell of Clarendon and L. F. Sheffy of Canyon, the latter with the West Texas State Teachers College and a historian.

Braswell, after learning of large amounts asked by various cities, caused a smile to go around the committee room when he said: "I am afraid the modest sum we ask will not interest this committee, since other sums asked are so large, for we need but $50,000 and if you can not give it to us, it will be perfectly all right, for we will go ahead and have a Panhandle Centennial anyway."

Braswell said the Panhandle citizens are planning to put on a Centennial and Western Pageant in Palo Duro Canyon, which will have a capacity to seat 30,000 persons, and in which canyon the last battle against the Comanches and Kiowas was fought, General McKenzie driving them out.

Sheffy told the committee of the old time cowboy towns in the Plains and Panhandle, including Tascosa and Mobeetie, where markers, restorations and celebrations are planned. The Canyon College has a West Texas museum, to build which the State contributed half and the citizens half.

W. B. Hailes left Wednesday morning to spend a few days in Fort Worth.

Frank White and Pauline Shelton attended the Home Coming at Canyon over the week-end.

JONES SPEAKS TO DONLEY CITIZENS

GIVES SUMMARY OF WORKINGS OF BRANCHES OF THE NRA.

As a special guest of the Lion's Club, Congressman Marvin Jones of Amarillo was introduced, to the people of Donley County, from the stage of the Pastime Theatre, Tuesday at 1:30 p. m., by J. T. Patman, President of the Club.

The Congressman expressed himself as being well pleased with the splendid turn-out to hear him speak, and was especially interested of the fact that the high school and College pupils were released from their studies in order to attend the speaking. As he is a very able speaker he is fully capable of bringing a message which the young people enjoyed, as well as the older people.

He admonished the young people to "be honest in all ways in your dealings with your fellow citizen, your employer and above all yourself. An employer does not want a stenographer or clerk who is dishonest," he stated.

"A young couple starting out in life now has a much better chance of succeeding than in those days five or six years ago when the country was piling up high their credits, and the inevitable day of the crash came. Money was plentiful, and those young couples then took advantage of their credit rating. When the crisis came, they were lost, and had to unlearn some of those things they had learned, but the young couple of today has seen the errors of others and are in a better position to profit by those observations. The experiences we have passed through the past five years have been trying ones, but we will be better able to cope with coming periods."

Jones in his eloquent language reviewed the period from 1926 to 1929 and the relation of the values of stocks and bonds to the high prices they attained in 1929. He stated the values were far below the prices at which they were selling.

He spoke at length about the Home Owners Loan Corporation, The RFC, The Federal Emergency Relief Administration and the Agricultural Adjustment Act. The Bill creating the AAA was introduced by Mr. Jones in his capacity as Chairman of the House Agricultural Committee. The Congressman stated that nearly all of these branches were self-sustaining except the FERA, which was giving direct relief to millions.

CLARENDONITE IS LABOR CHAIRMAN

DR. GEORGE W. STOCKING IS ADVANCED TO CHAIRMANSHIP OF BOARD.

The United States News of October 8, carried a story under the heading of "Who's Who in the Government," of the appointment of Dr. George W. Stocking to the Chairmanship of the Petroleum Labor Policy Board, recently.

The United States News has this to say in part about Dr. Stocking: "Born in the Lone Star State in 1892, Dr. Stocking took degrees at the University of Texas at Austin and the Columbia University at New York City. His career began with the Bureau of Education in the Philippine Islands, from which he stepped into the superintendency of schools in his home town of Clarendon, Texas.

In 1933 he came to Washington as technical advisor to labor on the Petroleum Code, Labor Advisory Board, NRA. During 1933-34 Dr. Stocking has been one of the twenty-odd members of the NRA Consumers Advisory Board as well as member of the Petroleum Labor Policy Board. The other day he became chairman of the latter board."

Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Kemp, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Cauthen and Jean Bourland and Dorothy Jo Taylor spent Wednesday in Amarillo.

THE AVERAGE MAN

Who is the average American?

The question was raised recently by President Roosevelt in his Green Bay speech. "Those who would measure confidence in this country in the future," he said on that occasion, "must first look to the average citizen."

It has remained for the economist of a down-town firm to look into the statistics and tell us what manner of person this "average citizen" actually is. . . . He appears to be not at all the dissatisfied anti-capitalist. . . . He is a person who is gainfully employed the greater part of the time. . . . Outside of the larger cities every second average man owns his own home. The average family has an automobile. Eight or ten million average citizens own stocks or bonds, and as depositors in our banks and holders of insurance policies four or five times that number are indirect holders of securities.

"The average man," concludes the author of this little statistical study, "is a capitalist. He has no patience with socialism or communism as he understands these philosophies, though recently he has been taking doses of both under misleading labels."

It might be well. . . to keep these simple facts in mind. . . This average man cannot be very confident if he does not know that he is going to keep his job. He cannot be confident if he cannot count on the maintenance of the purchasing power of his income. He cannot be confident if he cannot look forward to a measure of security for himself and his family in his later years as a reward for hard work and thrift. And he cannot be confident unless he is assured that business is on the mend.—New York Herald Tribune.

THE AMERICAN SPIRIT

To a great many citizens, Americanism is just a word. They pay it lip service—but they have a very poor knowledge of its actual meaning.

Real Americanism is a spirit. It is that spirit which inspired the founders of the country—a spirit of unselfishness, self sacrifice, iron-clad character. It gave us liberty of church, of press, of political belief. It freed us from intolerable monarchic domination and established a nation where the government was to exist for the individual, not the individual for the government.

Today, the American spirit stands for these things precisely as it did in the past. They are as important today as ever, and perhaps more important. The public is beleaguered from many sides by those who would effect sudden and irrevocable change in the very foundation stones of our government. The advocates of facism, communism, dictatorship and other theories are always active—and there is danger that they may seem persuasive to a people struggling with great, yet temporary, problems.

The public cannot be too strongly warned against seeking temporary benefits at the expense of permanent principals. Even the worst of depressions pass—and we will be a sad nation indeed, if after this one passes, we find that we have lost those constitutional guarantees of corporate and individual freedom that have made us great.

A SPECTACLE SORELY MISSED

In this changing age if there is one thing we miss more than any other on our streets in the Fall of the year, it is the dozens of cotton wagons standing on our streets with freshly ginned bales, with happy farmers showing their samples to vieing street buyers.

This era of cotton buying in the seed by the gins, who are owned by the cotton oil mills, is, to our way of thinking, detrimental to the farmer, the merchant, the ginner and the country at large.

We pine for a Newer New Deal which will bring back the street buyer, competitive bidding and staple sold on its merits. It would be better for all of us.

REFORM IS NEEDED IN MANY FIELDS

By A. C. Johnson, in Dalhart Texan

For the moment, tremendous public interests seems to be centered on efforts to bring about the production of more wholesome pictures. Unquestionably, such a reform is vitally needed. Only historians of the future with perspectives running back over many years will be able to measure the influence of the movies on the present generation, and particularly during the tragic decade following the World War when all bars were let down permitting filth, obscenity and subtle suggestiveness to run rampant.

However, this condemnation extends far beyond the movies into the fields of literature and music.

Civilized communities do not use streets and highways as channels for the disposal of sewage. Laws covering public health and sanitation deal with such matters and are rigorously enforced.

But through the eye from magazines and books pandering to the baser passions of humanity, there has come a stream of indescribable filth to pollute growing minds. And through the ear, from blatant, sensuous, discordant jangle of innumerable jazz bands, crooners, torch singers, etc., there has come another stream of suggestiveness even more insidious in its effects.

"Unclean, unclean," are they, even though done in the name of "art," "freedom of speech," etc.

While America is concerned with the purification of the movies, let there also be national concern and efforts to bring about a cleansing of these other sources of pollution to the wellsprings of the life of our young people.

Awake, America! and rally your gigantic forces in behalf of mental, moral and spiritual sanitation as you have done for the protection of the physical health of our nation!

IT'S UP TO THE DEMOCRATS

As long as the Republicans were in power Democratic leaders never ceased to denounce the Smoot-Hawley tariff law. But since the Democrats have come into office we have hardly heard a chirp out of them about the tariff. We think the high tariff rates are crippling foreign trade and retarding the return of prosperity. We wonder why the Democrats are not doing something about it. If the Smoot-Hawley tariff is the monstrosity they said it was and which we believe it to be, why don't they repeal it and pass a new tariff measure? One thing that we need is foreign markets—especially we of the South who raise more than half of the world cotton supply.—Lynn County News.

WITHOUT FREE SPEECH

Without free speech no search for truth is possible; without free speech no discovery of truth is useful; without free speech progress is checked and the nations no longer march forward towards the nobler life which the future holds for man. Better a thousandfold abuse of free speech. The abuse dies in a day, but the denial slays the life of the people, and entombs the hope of the race.—Charles Bradlaugh.

LIBRARY NOTES
(By Mrs. C. A. Burton)

Have you heard what a perfectly splendid thing the Junior Les Beaux Arts is doing? Indeed, by the time you read this they will have done it. They are having a Book Shower of Children's books for the City Library. Our hope is that the people of the town may respond in a worthwhile way to this public spirited effort of these young women. The joy of the children over a new book in their shelves will compensate for the effort.

The fact that "Treasure Island" is to be shown at the Pastime this week and that the Junior High students have been working so enthusiastically on a "Treasure Island Exhibit" has turned over thoughts with renewed interest to the author, Robert Louis Stevenson. His life itself reads like a romance, and we follow it with as keen interest as we do his stories. Always physically frail, yet always loving beauty both in nature and in literature, the boy's life was fostered and sustained by a devoted mother and an equally devoted nurse. Born in Edinburgh, spending much of his childhood in the Mause of Colinton, the home of his grandfather, the Rev. Mr. Balfour, he has made his beloved Scotland the scene of many of his stories. Yet he married an American, and lived some eventful years of his life in the United States. His biographer tells us that it was at the suggestion of his stepson, Lloyd Osborne, that he wrote "Treasure Island," and it was also of his suggestion that it became a "story without a woman in it." The story, we are told, went through a somewhat doubtful probation as a serial, but suddenly became a brilliant success in book form in 1883. Young and old, the adventurous and the stay-at-homes, read it with equal pleasure, and it established itself at once as the classic pirate story. Such it remains today.

Stevenson himself felt that he reached the climax of his art as a story teller in "Kidnapped." He says that story literally told itself. To me his "Dr Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" is his best. Had he written nothing but this allegory with its vivid portrayal of the two sides of human nature, the upright and self-respecting, and the base and depraved, with the constant warfare between the two, he would have established his place in literature.

In one of the prayers which he wrote for use in his household at Vaillima, in the Samoan Islands where the last years of his life were spent, he uses the expression "Eager to be happy." This was characteristic of his attitude toward life—it is this glowing, vital thing that one finds in his stories of adventure. When he was writing "Treasure Island," he said, "Its awful fun, boys' stories. You just indulge the pleasure of your heart, that's all; no trouble, no strain." And from Jim Hawkins' first appearance in the Admiral Benbow Inn to his triumphant home coming with the treasure, one takes the keenest delight in his young hero's prowess.

We have a book by John A. Stewart, "The Cap of Youth, Being the Love Romance of Robert Louis Stevenson." It is the story of Stevenson's passionate love affair with a beautiful and brave Highland girl—a girl who sacrificed herself for her love, and saved him to himself and to literature. Stewart has also written a biography of Stevenson which is considered the most authentic extant.

We cannot think of Stevenson's grave on the peak of the lonely Samoan mountain without a feeling of sadness—yet it was there he wanted to rest among a people whom he loved and who loved him devotedly. When a friend was once asked to sum up his life in a few words, he answered, "The joy of the struggle." Life was one long struggle with disease, but lived joyously and gladly.

Carter Not Billed
By Grand Jury

The Grand Jury which was in session last week, after an investigation of A. J. Carter who has been charged with arson, in the burning of a residence owned by him, returned no bill of indictment against him. He had been held in the Donley County jail pending the grand jury investigation and was subsequently released by the sheriff.

The Log of a Pirate

The Las Pirates met last Tuesday night week with eight members present. Pauline Shelton, Mary Lee Garland and Mrs. Dillard were voted into our club.

We organized a Parent-Teachers Association last Tuesday night week. President, Mrs. Merrill; Vice-President, Mrs. Poovey; Secretary, Mrs. Dillard.

P. T. A. meets once a month on Tuesday nights with a short program.

We are working very hard trying to standardize our school. Every period is 45 minutes long. Science period is 90 minutes long.

Most of the children have started back to school and have started to work.

Most of the new equipment has arrived after so long a time.

"REPENTANCE"

Two very important elements enter into the plan of salvation. To be saved involves God and man. It involves God's part and man's part. God's part consists in what He has done and what He will do. God's part may be deep and mysterious, hence the deep parts of the Bible. Man's part must be simple, so all men can understand it. Hence that which man is to do is simple and decidedly plain. If man will do his part God will surely do all that He has promised.

We have learned that "faith" is not a mysterious and impossible thing. It is simply the whole hearted belief of testimony. This testimony that Jesus is the Christ is given in the New Testament, God's Word.

Repentance is not an impossible thing to any man. It simply means, to make up the mind to quit sinning and rejecting Christ, and to accept and acknowledge Him wholeheartedly and sincerely. Repentance is often defined as sorrow for sin. This is an accomplishment, but not repentance itself. Nor can repentance be defined as reformation of life; that is the fruit of repentance. There is in genuine repentance, sorrow for sin, a change of will and newness of life. Repentance fully defined may be termed, "a change of will, or mind toward God, caused by sorrow for sin,

1000 Head Cattle to Be Bought by Today

County Agent T. R. Brown received a telegram from the College Station authorities Monday morning that Donley County was given an additional quota to buy 1,000 head of cattle in the Government cattle buying program. The buying of this quota must be completed by midnight tonight, and is supposed to be a final buying quota to be allotted this county.

This will mean that several thousands dollars will be paid leading to a reformation of life.

This necessary change of mind, affection and life is pronounced by the gospel. It is within the power of man to remain unchanged or unmoved. If he refuses to give an attentive hearing or to submit to its claims, he cannot be saved. "Except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish." (Luke 13:5). "Repent and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ, for the remission of your sins." (Acts 2:38).

Repentance, is one of the commands of the New Testament. Christ commanded it, (Luke 13:3, 5). The apostles commanded it, (Acts 2:38). God commands it, (Acts 17:30, 31). With this host of references on this subject, none should doubt the importance of this step in the plan of salvation. When we think of God's goodness it should lead us to repentance, (Rom. 2:4). Many difficulties and questions can easily be cleared up if we will accept God's word and not try to explain away or change the divine plan of salvation.

Next week, a lesson on Confession.

HEALTH OFFICER URGES INSPECTION STUDENTS

Austin, Texas, Oct. 24.—The daily inspection of school children and the removal and isolation of those found ailing, constitutes one of the most important factors in the control of communicable diseases, declared Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer.

Medical supervision of school children is, of course, the ideal method of disease control. However, in most communities, this is not possible. Parents and teachers can do a great deal in preventing the spread of disease. If the parent notices anything abnormal about the child, he should be kept at home.

The teacher should notify the parents of children who show any of the following symptoms: loss of weight, pallor, pains, flushing of the face, breaking out of any kind, cold in head, especially running eyes, evidence of sore throat, cough, vomiting, etc.

If children showing the early signs of the common children's diseases are excluded and their family physician consulted early, many epidemics could be averted and loss of time prevented. It is much better to have one child miss a few days of school rather than run the risk of spreading the disease to his classmates.

Eight Proposed Amendments Before Texas Electors In General Ballot November 8

Eight proposed amendments to the state constitution must be passed upon by voters in the Texas general election of November 8, in addition to the selection of state officers.

Heading the list in importance is the amendment providing for the abolition of the fee system in counties of over 20,000 population. Another important department is that setting up uniform tax on real estate and providing new tax exemptions.

The amendment proposals, in the order they appear on the ballot, follows:

1. Amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas providing that taxation of real property shall be equal and uniform; and that all property in this state, other than that owned by municipal corporations, shall be taxed in proportion to its value as may be ascertained as provided by law; and providing that the legislature may make reasonable classifications of all property other than real property, for the purpose of taxation, and the taxation of all property in any class shall be equal and uniform; and providing further that the legislature may impose poll tax and occupation tax and income tax and exempting from occupation tax persons engaged in mechanical and agricultural pursuits; and exempting from taxation $250 worth of household and kitchen furniture belonging to each family; and providing that the occupation tax levied by any county, city or town shall not exceed one-half that levied by the state for the same period.

2. Amendment of Article IX of the state constitution, by adding Section 2-A thereto, giving the commissioners' court general management and control of county affairs, and authorizing the legislature to provide more economical forms of county government and different than as now provided by law.

3. Amendment of Section 3 of Article VIII of the state constitution providing for the levying and collection of taxes and fixing the maximum amount thereof which can be collected and expended each biennium.

4. Amendment to the constitution of the state of Texas adding Section 61 to Article XVI abolishing the fee system of compensating all district officers and all county officers in counties having a population of 20,000 or more; and authorizing the commissioners' court to determine whether county officers in counties containing less than 20,000 population shall be compensated on a fee basis or a salary basis; and authorizing the commissioners' court in all counties of this state to determine whether precinct officers shall be compensated on a fee or salary basis.

5. Amendment to Section 1 of Article IX of the constitution of Texas, providing that the legislature may by two-thirds vote of both Houses create new counties and change the boundaries of existing counties.

6. Amendment to the constitution of the State of Texas permitting any home rule city to alter, or repeal, its charter every 12 months.

7. Amendment to the constitution of the state of Texas permitting home rule cities to so amend their charters that the elected officials of such cities may hold office not to exceed four years.

8. Amendment to the constitution of the State of Texas subjecting the lands of the University of Texas to taxation for county and school district purposes, and providing for the payment of said taxes to the proper authorities of the counties where said lands are located. —true7 said lands are located.

NEW CHARTERS IN TEXAS DURING AUGUST INCREASES 13 PERCENT

The number of new charters granted to firms to operate in Texas during August totaled 119, a rise of 13.4 per cent from July, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. This number was, however, a decline of 3 per cent from August last year, while total capitalization of $2,000,000 in August represented an increase of 10.2 per cent over a month ago, but a drop of 15.6 per cent from last year.

Corporations with capitalization of $5,000 or less, of which there were 56, showed an increase of 40 per cent over July and 2 per cent below last year while the four with capitalization of $100,000 or more was the same number as in July but 20 per cent below August a year ago.

Oil, real estate-building, and out-of-state permits showed an increase in comparison both with July and with August last year.

SHERIFF ARRESTS SUSPECTS MONDAY

TELEPHONE REQUEST FROM GOLDSTON LEADS TO ARREST OF THREE.

Two men and one woman giving their names as Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Rockwell, of New Orleans, and J. V. (Whitey) Archer of San Antonio, were arrested and placed in the Donley County jail Monday night about 7:15.

Persons arousing the suspicions of the operator of a grocery store at Goldston, ten miles north of Clarendon, stopped at the store late Monday to ask for highway information, and get some matches.

The groceryman became alarmed at their suspicious activities and telephoned Sheriff Guy Pierce, who with Deputy Sheriffs Guy Wright, Roy Jewell and County Attorney R. Y. King, stationed themselves on the highway coming into the business district of Clarendon.

Driving a new Dodge car with Montana License, the suspects stopped their car on the north side of the Donley County State Bank while Archer went to a drug store to get some matches, and Rockwell went to the McElvaney Tire Co., to purchase a small light bulb, while Mrs. Rockwell stayed in the car.

When the men returned to the car they were accosted by the officers, who found on their persons and in the car about $90 in currency, and $51.55 in silver and about 600 or 700 lead slugs of five, ten and twenty-five cent size, said to be used in slot machines.

Archer stated they stayed in Amarillo Sunday night after coming from Midland, Texas. He also stated he was formerly connected with the Almo Shows, and that Rockwell was a salesman for the Aluminum Company of America, with headquarters in New Orleans, La.

Rockwell had on his person an identification card purportedly issued by the Associated Press, but investigation with the Associated Press Bureau in Amarillo brought the statement that such cards were fakes, as the AP does not under any circumstances issue such identification cards.

After questioning the three parties, the sheriff released the woman from custody, but held the men for further questioning.

The silver found in the car was in a new money bag stamped with the name of the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas.

The finger prints of the men have been forwarded to the Department of Justice at Washington, D. C.

Rockwell and Archer were taken before the grand jury Tuesday morning, but were not indicted on any charges.

Hockwell paid a fine of $5.00 and costs for drunkenness, and they were released from custody, Tuesday morning.

Coach J. L. Kerby and wife were observing the different plays Memphis exhibited in the fast football game last Friday night between Memphis and Miami.

SOCIETY

JO ELLA STEWART, Editor

B. P. and W. Luncheon

Dimmed lights and spooky decorations greeted the Business and Professional Women when they enjoyed a Halloween party at the Club Rooms Friday night.

This social terminated a contest held last year by the club. Hostesses, Misses Ruth Donnell, Ruth Teat, Ruth Hartzog, Nadine Haile, Rhoda Wiedman, Mantie Graves, Julia Mae Caraway, Julia Wiedman, and Gwendolyn Couch, composed the losing side.

The guests were given a "cold welcome" at the door by Rhoda Wiedman, representing Miss Halloween and dressed in a sheet, who extended a rubbed-glove hand filled with ice to each member.

Fortunes were told by catching apples in a tub filled with water.

Mrs. Ruth Teat delighted the members by telling a story in the dark of her poor little kitten which had recently been mangled under the wheels of a fast moving automobile. She adequately described the parts of her kitten which she picked up after the accident by passing around pieces of cold macaroni, grapes, and pieces of fur.

The members were next taken through the clinic of Dr. Ruth Teat. She diagnosed their cases, and with heads, legs, and arms bandaged or their limbs in splints, they went on a scavenger hunt.

The hostesses won the prize by finding a piece of ice, a cigar stub, an old shoe, an old broom, a live black cat, a corset stave, a cow bell, a beer label, a piece of dog hair, a picture of Zazu Pitts, a grape, a corn pad, a spool of thread, and a pocket knife.

Miss Gomez, guest of the club, delighted the members by singing songs in five different languages.

Pumpkin pie and coffee were served to Misses Ruth Donnell, Ruth Teat, Ruth Hartzog, Nadine Haile, Rhoda Wiedman, Mantie Graves, Julia Mae Caraway, Helen Wiedman, Beatrice Antrobus, Gwendolyn Couch, Norma Rhodes, Opal Pile, Zell Rogers, Fanny Perry, Carrie Davis, Pearl Ross, Layma Taylor, Mildred Martin, Mary Frances Caraway, Gomez, and Mesdames C. C. Huffman, Miller, Tom Blasen-games, and Bert Smith.

Mrs. Sloan Baker's Hostess to H. D. Club

Mrs. Sloan Baker was hostess to the Home Demonstration Club Friday afternoon at her home.

Five members, Mrs. Sloan Baker, Mrs. M. T. Crabtree, Mrs. Lonnie Hahn, Mrs. C. R. Gambelin, and Mrs. W. D. Van Eaton, who have had birthdays recently were presented with lovely gifts. Each gift was opened and admired by the members.

Officers for 1935 were elected. Mrs. C. D. McDowell was elected president, and Mrs. J. C. Estlack will fill the office of vice-president. Mrs. Sloan Baker will serve in the capacity of secretary and treasurer.

A lovely afternoon luncheon was served to Mesdames Milt Mosley, O. L. Fink, John Clarke, J. C. Estlack, C. R. Gambelin, A. H. Baker, Lonnie Hahn, N. M. Lawler, E. A. Anderson, T. R. Brown, Lester Schull, C. D. McDowell, A. L. Chase, M. T. Crabtree, and W. D. Van Eaton.

Dorcus-Alathean Classes Enjoy Party

A cleverly planned Halloween party entertained Dorcus-Alathean class members of the First Baptist Church Thursday at the home of Mrs. Joe Bounds with Mrs. Ralph Andis as joint hostess.

Suitable contest games were played during the afternoon in rooms adorned with witches, black cats, and spooks.

Refreshments were served to Mesdames J. T. Warren, H. T. Burton, Carl Peabody, Bob Webster, Olin Bain, U. Z. Patterson, Ben Buck, Frank White, Marvin Land, Earl Alderson, Rhea Couch, Ralph Keys, Burns, Ben Hill, Perry Wood, and the hostesses Mrs. Ralph Andis and Mrs. Joe Bounds.

Thursday Evening Bridge Club

Mr. and Mrs. Forest Taylor were delightful host and hostess Thursday evening to the Thursday Evening Bridge Club. Three tables of players were entertained.

Autumn flowers in abundance decorated the rooms. After a lovely dinner, games of auction were enjoyed by the members.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Merchant received the highest score among the players.

Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Phillips Gentry, Mr. and Mrs. Seldon Bagby, Mr. and Mrs. Meredith Gentry, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Dyer, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Merchant, Dr. and Mrs. Oscar Jenkins, and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Forest Taylor.

Night Club Entertained

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stocking entertained the Night Club at their home Saturday evening.

Dahlias were used in decorating the tables for dinner. In the games of contract which followed the dinner, Mrs. Earl Alexander played high.

Participating were Mr. and Mrs. Simmons Powell, Mr. and Mrs. Basil Kirtley, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Teer, Mrs. Earl Alexander, and Miss Mildred Martin and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stocking.

Sims Family Reunion

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Sims held a family reunion in their home Sunday.

After a sumptuous dinner at noon, the family spent the remainder of the afternoon in reminiscent conversation.

Among those present were their son, Arthur Sims of Fort Worth, their daughters, Mrs. A. O. Walker of Amarillo and Mrs. Eva Draffin of this city, a granddaughter, Ann Marie Walker of Amarillo, and a son-in-law, A. O. Walker of Amarillo.

Mother's Self Culture Club Studies Games

Games was the theme of the lesson for the Mother's Self Culture Club Tuesday afternoon at the Club Rooms. Mrs. Van Kennedy and Mrs. Frank Heath were hostesses.

Hallowe'en suggestions and cut flowers furnished the decoration for the rooms.

Mrs. Walter Clifford was program leader and discussed "Getting the Family Together by Games." Mrs. Ralph Porter talked on "Indoor Games," and Mrs. Robert Dillard interestingly discussed "Outdoor Games." The concluding topic of discussion was "Playground Equipment" which was described by Mrs. G. L. Boykin. Little Miss Myrn McDowell and Master Jimmy Dean Howze delighted the members by singing a selection.

An ice course was served to Mesdames John Bass and Frank Brown, guests; and Mesdames G. L. Boykin, J. R. Porter, Bill Patman, Walter Clifford, Cap Morris, J. H. Howze, Clyde Douglas, Rolly Bromley, Roy Ingram, Carl Bennett, C. W. Galloway, Andrew Jay, Tom Murphy, Nathan Cox, Ralph Keys, Robert Dillard, D. F. Wadsworth, Henry Tombs, Will McDonnell, George Norwood, Oscar Jenkins, J. D. Swift, T. H. Ellis, members; and the hostesses, Mrs. Frank Heath and Mrs. Van Kennedy.

Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Entertain Thursday

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Morgan were cordial host and hostess to their "42" Club at their home Thursday evening.

The Hallowe'en color scheme featured in the entertaining rooms was carried out with lovely cut flowers, appointments for games, and shaded lights, and the same color note was used in the refreshments.

After the games, dainty refreshments were served to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Bain, Mr. and Mrs. Sloan Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Homer McElvaney, Mr. and Mrs. Varn McKee, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Morgan.

Mrs. Bagby Hostess At Dinner-Bridge

Mrs. L. S. Bagby was genial hostess at a bridge party and dinner Saturday evening at her home.

Autumn colors were used for bridge and dinner appointments and were repeated in lovely fall garden flowers.

After a seven o'clock dinner, games of contract were enjoyed by the guests. Miss Mildred Martin made high score and Mrs. Floyd Lumpkin received the cut for consolation.

Attending this enjoyable social were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stocking, Mr. and Mrs. Simmons Powell, Mr. and Mrs. Seldon Bagby, Mrs. Ed Teer, Mrs. Basil Kirtley, Mrs. Charlie Trent, Mrs. Floyd Lumpkin, Mrs. Earl Alexander, Miss Ineva Headrick, and Miss Mildred Martin.

B. P. AND W. LUNCHEON

The Business and Professional Women met in the Club Rooms for their Tuesday night luncheon. Decorations in keeping with the festive season were used in appointing the tables. A short business meeting was presided over by President Mantie Graves. Mrs. Paul Shelton, guest of the evening, presented a talk to the club on "Emblems."

Those attending the luncheon were Misses Nadine Haile, Ruth Hartzog, Lotta Bourland, Lottie Lane, Ruth Teat, Mantie Graves, Ruth Donnell, Carrie Davis, Lela Layman, and Mrs. Bert Smith.

Mrs. Ed Carlson Guest of Honor

Mrs. Ed Carlson who is to leave soon to make her home in Phoenix, Arizona, was honored by Mrs. Frank White Monday afternoon with a farewell party.

The guests presented the honoree with two lovely gifts which were opened and admired. Conversation furnished the entertainment for the afternoon.

Refreshments of punch and cake were served to Mesdames C. R. Gambelin, T. M. Ellis, C. W. Clappitt, Hanning, W. A. Davis, F. Wiedman, Clarence Pipes, Jim Tucker, Ed Teer, C. L. Knight, Carl Fronberger, Jim Casey, W. E. Ferrell, C. J. Ried, Homer Mulkey, Turner Nichols, E. A. Anderson, Lee Patton, Od Liesburg, Eva Humphrey, F. C. Johnson, and Misses Lee Patton, Rodd Ried, Mickey Ferrell, Ester Belle Hanning, and Marjorie White, and the guest of honor, Mrs. Ed Carlson, and the hostess, Mrs. Frank White.

LADIES AUXILIARY

The East Circle of the Baptist Church met in the church Wednesday afternoon for the Bible Study. Mrs. J. T. Warren led the discussion of the eleventh chapter through the book of second Samuel.

Six members were present.

The West Circle of the Baptist Church met in the Home of Mrs. A. W. Simpson. The study was the first in the new mission book, "Our Countryman's Salvation."

Refreshments were served by the hostess to nine members.

The Rex Ray Circle of the Baptist Church met in the home of Mrs. Ben Hill. Mrs. Joe Goldston presented the lesson from the mission book, "Seedtime and Harvest." Refreshments were served by the hostess to ten members.

The Presbyterian Ladies Auxiliary met in an inspirational meeting at the home of Mrs. J. H. Morris with Mrs. Homer Taylor as joint hostess.

After a short business session and devotional led by Mrs. Bil Word, Mrs. McKee gave a summary of the last three inspirational meetings.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses to eighteen members.

Mrs. W. H. Patrick was hostess to the St. John's Baptist Church auxiliary.

After the devotional led by Mrs. Swan, Mrs. George Ryan conducted the Bible lesson taken from the third chapter of Titus.

An afternoon luncheon was served by the hostess to eleven members.

The Girl's Auxiliary of the Baptist Church met Wednesday with twenty present. Mrs. Cornelius, G. A. Sponsor, led a short Bible lesson and plans for a Hallowe'en party were discussed.

The Ladies Aid of the Christian Church met at the Church with Mrs. C. A. Knight as hostess.

Mrs. Humphrey was leader of the lesson which was taken from the fifth chapter of James.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Knight to seven members.

Mrs. Paul Russ of Panhandle is visiting her mother, Mrs. W. B. Haile, this week.

Mrs. Roland Hostess

Mrs. R. W. Roland was hostess to eleven members of the Friendship Club and three of their guests at her home Tuesday afternoon.

The meeting was opened by prayer, and a scripture reading by Mrs. Harley Skinner followed. The remainder of the pleasant afternoon was spent in fancy needle work and conversation. Late in the afternoon, the hostess served a delicious refreshment course.

Guests present were Mesdames U. S. Absher, Marie McMan, and R. M. Chun. Members present were Mrs. C. R. Skinner, M. T. Crabtree, C. E. Linsey, Eva Womack, J. D. Stocking, M. E. Mongole, J. L. Allison, R. W. Roland, J. H. Harris, J. G. Teel, and Harley Skinner.

Mrs. Eva Womack will entertain the Friendship Club at their next meeting on November 13th at the home of Mrs. Ralph Andis.

Mrs. Ed Dishman Entertains Women

Mrs. Ed Dishman, who recently moved to Clarendon from McLean and who now lives in the Sorrell home, was hostess to the entire Woman's Auxiliary of the Presbyterian Church of McLean at her home here on Tuesday.

Beautiful autumn flowers were used as a centerpiece for the table and throughout the house. A lovely buffet luncheon was served after which a meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Hembree.

A most interesting program followed the short business meeting. After singing "Blest Be the Tie that Binds," the auxiliary repeated in unison the Lord's Prayer and the one hundredth Psalm.

Alaska, the National mission subject, was discussed by Mrs. T. J. Coffee, and Mrs. Arthur Irwin gave an interesting talk of India. The program was closed with the Mizpeth benediction.

Present at this enjoyable occasion were Mesdames J. A. Ashley, Donald Beall, T. J. Coffee, Ella Crabtree, Ella Cubine, Ercy Cubine, J. R. Davis, Arthur Irwin, Edward Gething, W. A. Greer, J. B. Hembree, Bob Lynch, T. A. Massie, N. S. Ray, Allan Wilson, Mills, Williamson, and McCoy, all of McLean, and Mrs. Carrie Sorrell and Mrs. U. J. Boston of Clarendon and the hostess, Mrs. Ed Dishman.

CHEERFUL CHATTERS

The chatterer believes the past week has been a happy one for all students. Perhaps this has been caused by a dealization that exams and receiving of report cards are over for another six weeks.

Though the owl in "Alice in Wonderland" dried the heroine's clothing by a recitation in history, such would never be the case in the History IV class. Because Mr. Stocking dislikes competition, many pupils are sent from class; perhaps they are dismissed by a mere hitchhiker's sign, or a thumb pointed toward the door; he may even tell them "goodbye," or "I'll be seeing you." So far the glass in the door has survived, but it may be broken before long if such high tempered persons as Dorothy Phelps, Charlie Word, and Nivian Taylor continue to misbehave. The instructor, not being able to understand the recitation of some pupils, complained of the great number of thumb suckers and was duly informed by Anna Moores Swift that that was the only way these students could refrain from speaking and thus being sent out of class.

During a current event discussion a difficulty arose as to whether the European King who so lately succumbed was of Jugoslavia, Czechoslovakia, or Hungary. Harold McDaniel declaring he was of the latter and that he starved to death.

Jimmie Bourland says he ain't been nowhere, but he's read a heap; huh, we didn't know there were so many books.

Oral themes in English IV were not without their bit of rumor. Vernon Reid, after having made a contradictory final statement in his talk, was asked by Miss Headrick if he meant what he said. "What did I say?" he replied. Some of the students found such grammatical subjects as adverbial or adjectival clauses, the period and comma faults etc. very humorous, but Dora Lucille Piercy and O. B. Carpenter, as well as Bobby Wilson, gave theirs with very long and solemn faces. Miss Headrick complained that she has to correct her students each Monday for whispering; we know several professors who find it necessary to scold their classes several times a day. M. L. Baker, preferred, it seems, by a certain redhead as well as by blondes and brunettes, says that he'll have to marry the teacher to pass English III, and that before he passes by his own ability, he'll be old enough to marry.

By the way, though Miss Horn-ton's hair is red, she is not the certain one we previously referred to; so maybe she won't accept. Let's hope not or some hearts might be broken.

The Ashtolians seem to have a good time on the bus. We hear that Willard Cook and J. W. Lovell are great musicians, while the others are vocal artists. Norris Dewey proved himself a human scarecrow, not in looks, but in actions, who he, with the help of a shocker, made several girls scream and boys shiver.

We have learned why Mr. Kerby is so stout; he eats candy between classes. Speaking of eating, Miss Berry, in a home ec class made the remark that people usually eat the lights of pork meat. Pete Powell chirply asked, "Lice?"

The chatterer will see you all at the college carnival. Incidentally, she's betting on Wanda to win.

The vacancy in the faculty staff caused by the departure of Mr. Stocking will be filled by Miss Harris. Mrs. Kerby, wife of the commercial teacher, will take over the duties formerly belonging to Miss Harris.

Tuesday night, Willard Skel-ton, Paul Greene, Dorothy Jo Ryan and several Memphites visited in Amarillo.

Hallowe'en Carnival Will Be One of Fun and Mystery

To be sure that every college student be given a chance to participate in the gala Gypsy carnival to be staged next Monday, October 29, Coach Kerby called an assembly Tuesday morning and assigned definite acts for each person.

The most surprising volunteer stunt was Ardis Patman's offer to appear as the "Bodyless Man." Several boxing matches were arranged, featuring such he-men as F. L. Behrens, John McCauley, McMahan, and Stud Linder. Emma Ruth Burkett, of "Aunt Milly" fame in the Senior play, was chosen supervisor of the fish pond. Poles, aunt Milly divulges, will be rented for ten cents, and the fisherman will be given what he brings up on his hook. Nellie Grady, in charge of the food booth, one of the most attractive stands of the carnival, has been seen rustling all sorts of tempting foods to put on sale for the refreshments of merry-makers. It is said that the Chamber of Horrors is not advised for persons who plan to walk home after the carnival. A curious mixture of Frankenstein, Jekyll and Hyde, and Paul Muni will be found in the Ghosts' booth. All of these sideshows, Mr. Drennan says, will not be holdups. He especially recommends such attractions as "Garlic the Strong" and "Alice the Goon and Wimpy" as the most worthy of a man's nickel.

For the feature of the evening, the "Big Top" will be opened at 9:45. This show will be given in the main auditorium, with excellent vaudeville acts, singing, dancing, acrobatics, and the climatic ceremony, the coronation of Carnival Queen. The queen and her attendants will be clad as gypsies, carrying out the gay theme of the carnival decorations and effects.

Alpha Delta Psi

Members of the Alpha Delta Psi Literary Society assembled Tuesday evening, October 16, with the coming Society play uppermost in their minds. Mrs. Rita Stocking soon relieved the suspense by giving a synopsis of the play and naming the cast. Although this production will be presented by amateurs, all members of the club, enthusiasm is being registered by the sponsors. Those who have character parts in the play are Delfia Bones, Wilma Dee Smith, Doris Casle, Nellie Grady, Wanda Mayfield, Homer Estlack, Lu McClellan, Robert Nichols, George McClesky, Sherman Irons, and Thayer Aard.

For the program, Milford Allen and Louise Smith gave interesting discussions of topics found in the book, "Lure of the Southwest."

A year book containing outlined programs for the rest of the scholastic term is being planned.

OWISSA C. F. G.

The Owissa troop met Wednesday and discussed bandaging, which is required for most of the members in reaching the next rank. A contest is to be held at the next meeting, and a prize is to be given away. The lucky person's name will be disclosed in next week's report.

Socrates of Sports

Rising to unexpected heights the Hedley Owls flew into town last Friday with a football team that gave the Broncs a pretty god run for their money. The two teams were about equal as to size and seemingly as to experience. The Owls lived up to their symbol and took to the air for almost of their gains as the Broncs line held fairly well. The S. S. noted that the lack of I. F. was very predominant among several members of both teams. If you don't know what I. F. means, come around and Socrates will wise you up. This deficiency could not be found, however, in Frank Holtzclaw or young Jessie Cornell, two Broncho backs who showed that they weren't afraid to hit 'em. Paul Greene of the locals was the highlight of play, as usual, with his punting and tricky running. This Cornell lad is a real star in the making; he is one of the shiftest runners a Broncho squad has ever produced.

The Hedley boys didn't have the largest score but they did have the largest number of supporters. The Hedley school officials and the whole little metropolis showed a wonderful attitude by backing and attending the game. Every what it is, it is what Clarendon needs. What has happened to our spirit? The Bronchos need the town's support and if the people of this town fail to render that aid, the Bronchos' failures are their too.

All ye duck hunters, get out the old 12 gauge and oil her up, cause tomorrow is the big day. Ducks are fairly plentiful in this territory this year, but if what all the boys are saying is true, they won't be very long. The S. S. has shot at more ducks never to hit any than most anybody. I suppose I should join some anti-duck hunting league as I am humane to the Webbed creatures.

Clarendon lost one of its most valued citizens when Frank A. Stocking left en route to Washington last Monday night. His departure will most certainly be felt by the Broncho football squad with whom he has worked so long. Mr. Stocking has made an enviable record as coach of the Broncho football teams, putting out a winning team every year. His team of 1931 reached the peak when it won the bi-district championship. The S. S. expresses his regrets to Mr. Stocking's leaving but sincerely wishes him a world of success in his new field.

NEAR TRAGEDY IN HOME EC ROOM

A tragedy was almost enacted by the second year home-ec girls recently. Cleo Eanes opened an oven door to see if the fire was burning; the flames burst out into her face, badly singeing her hair and blistering her face, all the home-ec girls are thankful that what might have been serious turned out to be only a slight accident.

Bob Word, Joe Montgomery, Charlie Word, Roy Beverly and Bill Gamblin went to the Dallas Fair Saturday.

Very Personel

In spite of the fact that the Clarendon High School pupils have put on a long face because of the departure of one of its best-loved instructors, the student body is still quite busily in going places.

Helen Louise Green went to Amarillo Sunday afternoon. You all know, I suppose, that she broke her brand new glasses and had to have them fixed.

Marie Carlisle spent the week-end with Velman Morgan. She said they had a "swell time just messing around."

La Verne McMurry drove her mother and June down to Cordell, Oklahoma, Friday afternoon. They spent the week-end with her grandparents there.

Someday get Vivian Taylor and Sue Powell off in a corner and ask them about their trip to the cemetery. I have heard that it is quite a hair-raising tale.

It seems that the majority of the History IV class have decided to grace Columbia University with their presence. They hope they will get to participate in the tomato, egg, and cabbage fights there that Mr. Stocking told them about.

I heard that So and So told Whatsis name that Mary Lois Hayter's pet hobby is to get herself introduced to handsome apple peddlers who play the piano.

The main topic of the day seems to be "How will I ever pass Physics?"

Palo Duro

The Palo Duro Society met Tuesday in their new room in the dormitory for a short program on "Movie Stars" with Sarah Virginia McGowan as leader. The house was called to order and roll call was answered with one's favorite movie star and why. Sam Barrow declined to explain why he preferred Mae West. Short an humorous discussions were made by Avis Lee McElvany, Geraldine Pratt, Ardis Patman, Harold McDaniel, and Dorothy Powell. After this portion of the program Arthur Chase entertained the group with a musical number, after which the meeting was adjourned.

There has been so little rivalry between the Junior and Senior classes that the words, "Juniors of 34-35" are to be seen written several places in the Seniors' home room.

Wee Willie Wonders

Well, well, that most special brain specialist, Big Chief Socrates, has gone and dug up the hatchet and took to the warpath, bent to scalp Mike and Willie so he sez, because we horned in on his wrestling racket. Since it is a poor money making game anyway we gladly return the promoting scheme to him. Now Socrates before you pound this scribe into a hamburger steak, or unmask him and perform other dire things upon his anatomy, let me say that you do not understand what a hard job you are tackling and what an under-developed mule you are making of yourself. Now Mike and I advise you to go home and tell mama to prepare a large and appetizing plate of Spinach for you and then make your will before chasing us up a tree.

Mike resents Socrates' crack about the wrestling promotion he was about to bill so he goes Einstein and sez that if Socrates was as good as he thinks he is, he could toss a chimney five miles by its smoke. In fact Mike sez that Socrates' brain is twice as big after drinking a glass of water. Everyone agrees on that point, for twice zero is still zero.

Mike got the jump on me by booting forth his best foot and boosting Wanda Mayfield in the column I entrusted him to write. Besides that he popped me for huffing and puffing in Viola Baker's behalf. Mike is so confident that Wanda will win that he has bet me his week's wages that she will win by a length; of course I agree, only I say Viola will win in a walk. Mike warns Socrates not to sell his mama's cow, Dondruff, and except to put Wanda out of the running by stuffing the box for someone else, for Socrates might get slipped up on. However, we want everyone to step right up and vote for them. Everyone vote before Monday night.

Since Socrates will squak, I won't say much on sports but the Broncs let the Owls score on them after I said they would hold them scoreless; now is that nice, I ask you? After that exhibition all that can be said is that McLean will wallop us to a tune of about 27 to 0, unless a miracle comes forth, and miracles are as scarce as hen teeth. Anyway, let's pull harder than ever for the Bronchos to best them. Remember last year. Let S. S. do some predicting on these games. What is a sport writer good for besides telling results. From the crack made

TO MR. STOCKING

On Monday morning I came to school in the usual state of happiness,

But alas and alack the day was turned into one of gloominess, Because I learned of the departure of Stocking

Which was to the school so very shocking. All of my dreams of passing Physics and history, Turned out to be an unsolved mystery.

South Ward And Jr. High News

The first, second, and third grades are all preparing for Hallowe'en. Posters, owls, and black cats are being made. In addition to this work, Mrs. Pre-witt's room is making a study of snails. In Mrs. Lane's fifth grade, they are collecting clippings of European affairs to put in a huge scrapbook, as they are studying Europe in geography. A program on Fire Prevention was given at assembly last Friday by the fourth and fifth grades. Among the many forms of entertainment there were slogans, rhymes, songs, and a play which displayed, to the critical eye, genuine talent. All of the Junior High students are indebted to the fourth and fifth grades for an hour of good entertainment.

Eugenia Noland accompanied her uncle to the Dallas Fair Saturday.

The Bronchos showed a slight sign of fight in their win over the Hedley Owls last Friday, but we wonder just what would have been the result of the game had Hedley scored on their opening drive which carried the Bronchos some fifty yards, only to have their efforts nullified with a tough break which turned into a touchdown for the Maroon and White. But just what would have been the effect on the locals, had the break not happened and Hedley scored?

So far this year the Bronchos have displayed their fight and determination only on frequent intervals—and those during practice and not on the gridiron during a game. Perhaps the locals are inexperienced and young, but so have other teams in bygone seasons—but never has there ever been displayed such a sloppy and half-hearted brand of football which has been turned in for the most part of this year.

It's up to the players themselves. If they have the courage—and it takes a bit of that element in the make up of each would-be football hero—they will show the fans of this community that the current football season will have its share of triumphs to atone for the disappointments entertained thus far. The coaches have certainly put in worlds of time and patience. I know it has been some time since the players have received the minute attention and personal direction in the fundamentals that this year's grid candidates are receiving. This column believes it's time the boys began delivering.

Clarendon and the whole community are still behind you, Bronchos, so give the Bobcats a good fight.

We have just noticed a bitter and unjust attack upon our good friend, Fred Thompson, Sports Editor of the Wichita Falls Record-News, by the writer of "Prep-torials," a column in the Vernon Times. It seems this gentleman is disgruntled because Fred failed to get out on the Times Building's roof and shout the praises of the Vernon Lions Football team which beat the Wichita Falls Coyotes a few weeks ago. He is further irritated by the fact that "The Rambler" mentioned in his column the following day that the plays most effective against the Coyote defense were a variety of spin plays which have been used in football circles for several years. Mr. "PEP" denounces the Wichita scribe because he refers to the Vernon spinners as being a bit old in the repertoire of football plays, in fact the writer takes this reference to heart and burns up under the impression that the Lions are being belittled and done wrong by a city slicker.

Fred was merely telling what plays were most effective and pointing out that the Coyotes should have been ready to meet such an offensive attack—which no doubt they should. We do want this Vernon writer to know that there is one little city in this territory that respects Mr. Thompson's forecasts and enjoys his IMPARTIAL ramblings and Clarendon takes no part in this person's screaming declaration that Fred it a "poor sport."

Come to Clarendon, Fred, even should you have to detour the home of the Lions—we like you up here.

Congratulations to Hedley's Owls. They played a beautiful game here Friday and had they not encountered such a bad break at the outset they might have taken the Bronchos' scalp home with them to hang in their trophy case beside their ever growing total of basketball victories. The Owls' aerial attack was one of the finest and best timed overhead game we know of in this country outside of the ones tossed by Mr. Norman of the Memphis Cyclones. It was all the more remarkable when one considers that this year is the first time in several seasons that the Green and White has placed a team on the field. Look out for the Owls next year. Let's just forget the game our Alma Mater played last Saturday in Austin, and I'll quit before I say something about the Aggies too—but watch Smews' Mustangs against Fordham at New York Saturday. We predict a great day for the leather tossing Ponies.

KICUWA CAMP FIRE

The members of the Kicuwa Troop met Wednesday afternoon, October 17, at the dormitory. The girls discussed ideas for the tea to be given soon. A program committee consisting of Marj Francis Powell, Helen Louise Green, and Peggy Word was appointed to get a program for the meetings. An entertainment committee made up of Laverne McMurry, Dorothy Powell, and Virginia Cluck was also appointed. The members discussed some plans for making money with which to pay the Camp Fire dues in November, and, since the president had definitely decided to make it a "committee meeting," she appointed Vivian Taylor, Anna Moores Swift, and Rosalee Grady to further develop the plans which were discussed.

THE SECOND QUESTION A DOCTOR ASKS

Here is some information that has relieved whole families from Constipation

When anyone is "out of sorts" the doctor's first question is about the bowels. And the second, what is being taken to help them. Doctors use laxatives, and expect you to use them. But they prefer a liquid laxative. Do you know why?

Doctors and hospitals use liquid laxatives because they've seen the damage sometimes done by highly concentrated drugs in the form of pills or tablets! They know that a properly made liquid laxative containing senna (a natural laxative) does not do this harm. And they use liquid laxatives to relieve the bowels, because the dose can be easily regulated.

What to Use

There is a preparation of fine herbs, pure pepsin, cascara, and senna which does away with all need of harsh cathartics. The active senna in Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is laxative enough for any adult, mild enough for any child. And there are other valuable ingredients in this delightful syrup.

Syrup Pepsin will usually relieve a case of constipation overnight. If a further dose is necessary, you give a smaller dose, each time less, until the bowels are moving regularly and thoroughly without any help at all!

If you have a youngster who

My husband, who is a druggist, first recommended Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin to me. It has always helped me and made me feel better. I have used it as a laxative for the entire family for 22 years. Mrs. M. McMaster, Peoria, Ill.

doesn't eat, doesn't gain, gets upset and bilious no matter how carefully you are about the diet—don't resort to strong cathartics which may only make matters worse.

Make this Test!

If you are "not yourself" because of a constipated condition, don't blame it on your blood condition, or your age. Try the help of Syrup Pepsin until you are relieved and nature restores your regularity.

When your bowels continue then to move regularly, comfortably, and completely every day—you'll know why most doctors favor a liquid laxative like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

THURSDAY CHAPEL PROGRAM VARIED

The student body and faculty gathered in the high school auditorium Thursday afternoon directly after the luncheon hour to enjoy a short program presented by high school and college students. A quartet was sung by Louise Smith, Hulda Jo Cauthen, Frances Fowler, and Dorothy Phelps, accompanied by Mrs. Powell at the piano. Following that number Bill Walker, accompanied by Arthur Chase, gave a trumpet solo. Much interest was shown in the first public appearance of the choral club who sang first, "One Fleeting Hour," and second, "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes." Mrs. Drennan closed the program with a short one-act comedy, satirizing "high school gamblers" which provided material for both laughter and serious thought.

Miss Nell and Flora Thomas of Electra were week-end guests of Edna Thomas, prominent high school sophomore.

Prize Egg Plant Exhibited Here

Mrs. J. M. Acord, who lives five miles west of town, is proudly exhibiting to her friends this week a prize specimen of egg plant. It is said to be the largest one ever grown in this section of Texas.

She grew the egg plant in her garden, and in circumference it measures 21 3-4 inches the long way, and 17 3-4 inches the short way.

Sunday Avis Lee McElvane and Harold McDaniels visited Sarah Virginia, who is staying at Mangum this week because of the critical illness of her father, who is in the hospital there.

Jimmy Lee Cole spent the week-end with her parents in Windy Valley.

Eloise Hill went to Amarillo Sunday.

Colorful History Of Old Clarendon As Told To Old Settlers At Tri-State Fair

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is a brief historical sketch of the City of Clarendon as read at the Panhandle Old Settlers Association meeting held in Amarillo during the Tri-State Fair.)

OLD CLARENDON
By KATHERINE PATRICK

About five miles north of Clarendon, where Carroll Creek flows into Salt Fork, are a few foundations of homes and crumbling rock walls; all that is left of Old Clarendon, that settlement so bravely begun by L. H. Carhart when in 1878 he brought a small band of men and women from the North and East and settled there. To me that particular spot has always been hallowed ground. I have spent many hours there astride my cowpony trying to imagine what that pioneer settlement was really like in the early eighties. But fact is always more interesting than fancy so I decided to talk to the few remaining old-timers who lived there about the life and happenings in the old town. Thanks to father and his keen interest in the history of the Panhandle, I have been able to collect some notes and incidentally have had some delightful visits with the old-timers.

The first settlers in a country unmistakable stamp the true character of that country. We citizens of today are very thankful that the brave little band of home builders who settled on the banks of Carroll Creek many years ago were gentlemen and gentlewomen. They started with the idea that the school, the church, and temperance were first requisites in making their enterprise successful. Among old-timers the town was known as Christian Colony and sometimes referred to as "Saint's Roost." All town property was sold with the provision that no intoxicating liquors of any kind should ever be sold on the premises. The first building erected was a school house which was used for school and church. The lumber was hauled from Dodge City, Kan., a distance of 250 miles. These settlers were from the finest families with a history of achievement, standing for all that is best in life. Many were college graduates, Harvard, Yale, Princeton, and the University of Virginia being represented. They were home-builders and came with the determination to stay and build a livable, happy home in the new country. All the ladies I have talked with have told me how really charming, homelike and comfortable the homes were. They did not come to Clarendon to "camp until their husbands could make enough money to return east." They were to stay and we are very sure that many of them are with us, among whom are Mrs. Henry Taylor, Mrs. Gentry, Mrs. J. B. McClelland, Mrs. Shan Atteberry, Will Lewis and Mrs. Ben Chamberlain.

On April 11, 1882, the county was organized and the newly elected officers were sworn in by Judge Emanuel Dubbs, then county judge of Wheeler County. These first officers were G. A. Brown, county judge; B. H. White, county clerk; J. D. Wilson, sheriff; W. D. Kimball, treasurer; Jas. T. Otey, tax assessor; J. H. Parks, surveyor, and County Commissioners Charles Goodnight, T. W. Morrison, L. R. Dyer and S. B. Nall.

Court was held in Old Clarendon and as there were 11 counties attached for judicial purposes, it usually lasted several weeks. At this time the social season was at its height and the visiting lawyers and their wives were entertained with many nice dinners and parties. Among the lawyers who came down from Mobeetie were Judge P. N. Willis, Judge W. H. Woodman and Temple Houston. Judge Woodman and Temple Houston were both dramatic and interesting speakers and the courtroom was always crowded when they were trying a case. Al Gentry was the first elected sheriff and was very popular with the citizens. There was very little lawlessness and one never thought of locking a door. Everyone was very hospitable both to friends and strangers and because of great distances visits sometimes lasted several days.

The Fourth of July was a big day in Old Clarendon, everyone from the many surrounding ranches came to town to celebrate. The ladies spent much time and effort in preparing fine basket dinners and ranches donated beees which were barbecued. Those who lived on the ranches had to start to town long before sunup and drive in a buckboard or wagon, or ride horseback many miles. The celebration always lasted two or three days with large platform dances every night. Music was furnished by a guitar, fiddle and Jew's harp. Square dances were the order of the day and the girls were very popular. In fact, there were only two single young ladies and one grass widow and 75 cowboys and men at one of the dances. No gentleman danced without a coat and this sometimes made it a little hard on a cowboy if his mail order suit had not arrived from Kansas City or Fort Worth. But if his boots were made by Justin, his hat by Stetson, he certainly was not socially ostracized because he could always borrow "the black seersucker coat."

It seems that one of the young men had recently arrived from the city bringing with him a black seersucker coat, quite the last word. This was truly the pride and joy of the young men. Since only a few men could dance at a time, Jim would come in wearing the black seersucker coat and ask his girl to dance a "set" with him. After his dance he would rather hurriedly excuse himself and make a bee-line for the front porch or some other appointed place. There Tom who measured six feet three, would don the black coat, and by carefully easing into it would be sure not to rip it up the back. True, the sleeves were about three inches too short, but he couldn't stop to worry over that or someone else would ask his girl for this dance. After Tom's dance was over he would hurry back and the same thing would happen all over again until all the cowboys had had a dance. The young ladies wondered why the boys rushed off and did not chat between dances but there was a good reason.

A housewarming was a real social event. Mrs. Bruce McClelland told me of the housewarming at her home. She had been in the country only a little while and had not yet learned all the customs and habits. She and Mr. McClelland invited about 25 of their closest friends and she prepared refreshments for that number. About 3 o'clock in the afternoon a ranchman arrived and on dismounting announced, "Well, Mrs. McClelland, I know the housewarming will be a big success. Everybody is coming. I guess maybe there will be about a hundred." Word had gone about that the young McClellands were giving a housewarming and as they were very popular everyone was coming. Mrs. McClelland was delighted, hurriedly sent Mr. McClelland to town for more food, and the party was a big success.

There were many English people in Old Clarendon and, of course, wherever the English is, there also is England, so it was not unusual for the ladies to serve afternoon tea.

When Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Lewis left Maryland for Texas they brought a car of furniture with them. On arriving at their new home, which was small, as lumber was expensive and had to be hauled overland from Dodge City, the problem arose as to what to do with their 18 rocking chairs. The ladies were delighted to help Mrs. Lewis by buying some of the chairs, as they were rare indeed in West Texas.

Everyone worked and people were neighborly. If a ranchman was riding along and noticed that his neighbor's fence was down or a water gap needed fixing he dismounted, "rolled one," took his pliers off his saddle and fixed it.

A visiting Englishman was talking to the hotel owner. "This is a most interesting country, but you don't seem to have the 'leisure class' like we have in England." "Leisure class," replied the hotel proprietor, "sure, we got 'em, but we call 'em tramps!"

The round-ups were always gay and jolly, families would start from home in the early hours and drive many miles in a wagon or buckboard. The men were anxious to help with the driving, roping and branding of

CHAMBERLAIN SCHOOL RE-OPENS MONDAY

Pupils of the Chamberlain School District may just as well prepare to hear the old school bell again for that school will resume next Monday morning, October 29, according to an announcement of the school board after a meeting held this week. The school closed October 1st, for an indefinite period so that the pupils could participate in cotton picking.

Dot Dunbar, Loreece Webster, Aubrey Lofland, Gutherie Bennett, and Edwin Thompson of Memphis visited in Clarendon Tuesday evening they accompanied Willard Skelton, Eugenia Noland, Billy Johnson, Evelyn Murphy, and Kenneth Brown to Amarillo.

Those attending the Panhandle Missionary Baptist Worker's Conference at Estelline Tuesday were Mrs. W. W. Simpson, Mrs. T. L. Kimbriel, and Reverend and Mrs. J. Perry King.

the cattle. The women and children looked forward to visiting with their friends and hearing news of the outside world. Someone always brought some of the recent newspapers and magazines. The ranch host barbecued beees and the ladies brought forth from the buggies and wagons great baskets loaded with pies, cakes, jellies and everything for a splendid feast. If the ranch had a large herd the round-up lasted two or three days with a dance every night. Everyone liked to attend weddings and, like housewarmings, an engraved invitation with a couple of envelopes was not necessary. At a large wedding, after the ceremony and wedding feast, while everybody was toasting the bride and groom, the minister, with an eye for business, suggested that he had a very fine big Bible out in his buggy and with all the other lovely gifts the bride and groom had received, this was all that was needed to complete the new home. This was a very expensive Bible, but he would be glad to sell it at a reasonable price because of his friendship for the bride and groom. So the hat was passed and the guests gave the Bible to the happy couple.

Practically every profession was represented in the little settlement. Dr. J. D. Stocking was the only doctor in that part of the Panhandle and many an early settler owes his life to the doctor's skill and good care. He traveled many miles horseback and in his buggy in all kinds of weather. The post office was located next door to Dr. Stocking's drug store, and Ralph Jefferson was the first postmaster. Morris Rosenfield had a store. Miss Fanny Caruthers, the teacher, was a well educated young lady and brought the first piano to town. Of course, this was quite welcome and many enjoyable evenings were spent at the piano. Mr. Combs was a violinist but had no violin. At one of the parties he appeared with a violin and when questioned, admitted he had been to Palo Duro Canyon, found a fine piece of cedar and carved his violin.

They had amateur theatricals but it was not always the players who stopped the show. At one of the programs the show had started when in strolled Temple Houston with Mrs. Allen on his arm. He was a tall, distinguished looking gentleman, wore a black Prince Albert coat, white shirt, high Texas boots, a big Stetson and white kid gloves. Mrs. Allen was dressed in a low-neck silk evening dress. They literally stopped the show. Cowboys threw their hats in the air, stomped and whistled. Mr. Houston nonchalantly fanned Mrs. Allen and acted like they were at the Metropolitan Opera house.

Three women whose life and work was closely linked with the early history of Clarendon are Mrs. Mary Dyer Goodnight, Mrs. Cornelia Wadsworth Adair, and Mrs. Mary Catherine Dunn Bugbee. These three ladies were among the first hostesses of the Panhandle. Every ranchman, cowboy, and stranger found a real welcome and splendid meal in their homes.

All of these men and women of Old Clarendon have left us a heritage of courage, energy, cheerfulness, refinement and hospitality.

The little pioneer town at the mouth of Carroll Creek on the Salt Fork of Red River is no more. The many joys, heartaches and sorrows experienced by that little band of pioneers are but memories. Some of their friends and relatives sleep the long sleep in the little cemetery on the hill to the east, where the silent cloud shadows fly.
