A SOMEWHAT JUSTIFIED CHARGE

When leaders of the Farm Holiday movement charged that the money barons of Wall Street still had a strangle hold on farm prices; that the New Deal had turned out to be the same old deal with variations, there was certainly some justification for the declaration.

Living costs have advanced sharply and the market for farm products has been all too sluggish. With the government buying millions of bushels of wheat the price has failed to net the farmer in the Southwest much over sixty cents per bushel. With the government offering to lend ten cents a pound on cotton, the local markets have been unable to get much above the nine cents. So with constantly advancing living costs the farmer is justified in wondering just when his income is to be brought up in line with other commodities.

One striking example of the particular aversion Wall Street gamblers have for giving the Southern farmer a square deal, happened only this week. Monday, following the President's address of Sunday night, wheat made a fair advance and held it. Stocks flashed a strong advance and bonds had a fine upward trend. Cotton advanced about a dollar and a quarter a bale, but before the day's market closed had lost all its gains through the determined opposition of market operators.

People here in the South are going to be forced to demand certain things of the administration and the nation at large in order to keep living conditions on a decent level.

Justice and not charity, should be the united and unrelenting cry of the South.

AN EASY WAY TO SPEED BETTER TIMES

Nearly everybody wants to help in the movement for better times, and the only reason many do not help is that they fail to recognize any present means of so doing.

Now there is an easy way for everybody to help bring back better times, and The News is urging that everybody in Clarendon begin now to do that very thing—it is simple and it is easy. Just PAY YOUR ACCOUNTS PROMPTLY and with a smile.

This means your ordinary thirty-day bills due the various business firms of the city. Bills that you pay, though sometimes tardily, sometimes long after they are due—this is the sort of bills we are talking about.

If everybody will begin NOW to pay off their small accounts promptly and their heavier indebtedness just as fast as they can, Clarendon and Donley County will be an entirely different place within sixty days.

Let's bring to realization BETTER TIMES in Clarendon and Donley County.

IDEALS VS PROFITS

It begins to look now as if the United States would shortly recognize Soviet Russia, thereby completely reversing a policy maintained by Presidents from Wilson to Hoover.

The News is perfectly willing to admit that this country needs every ounce of foreign commerce that we can legitimately acquire, but we are still old fashioned enough to raise the question about ethics among nations as among individuals, and we greatly deplore any pressure that would cause the administration to officially recognize a nation that proudly boasts of having dethroned God and debanked Christianity. In this respect Russia has assumed a position from choice which we might excuse in a heathen nation on the grounds of ignorance.

No commercial gain can outweigh the loss of ethics, the standards of civilization and citizenship that recognition of Russia would entail.

GERMANY DEMANDS EQUALITY

As much as we are offended by the class hatreds preached and enforced by the Hitler government in Russia, we cannot but listen with respect and interest to this announced demands for an equal footing with other first-rate powers.

Germany lost the war and has been paying dearly for it ever since. Nations that won the war have also been paying dearly. But there is reason to the argument that there should be an end to any effort to continually humiliate Germany.

Hitler might not be sincere in his offer to disarm to the last man with other world powers, but we should certainly enjoy having that sincerity put sincerely to test. Peace based on equality is a solution to much of the threatenings of Europe.

HOW PERVARICATORS DO CALCULATE

Not long ago certain people argued that prohibition cost the nation too much money for enforcement, not willing to even recount the fines and penalties collected which offset almost the entire expense—not counting the great moral and economic gains which prohibition certainly provided.

Now those same people are quoting figures—but are using a method opposite to the one formerly employed. They now say that beer is bringing in at the rate of $150,000,000 a year in taxes, but they are omitting to say what it costs to collect that sum, and they are not intending to count the great cost to national commerce his diversion of beer money and taxes from the channels of legitimate business. Nobody expected them to recognize the costs in morals and misery that go along with the other huge sums.

"CRIME ON THE INCREASE"

Sunday's newspapers carried a story about the increase in crime over the nation.

We heard a few months ago that if we would only bring beer back, that the crime wave would be broken. That people would have respect for law and that citizens and courts would stand for more rigid penalties.

Kinda odd, crime being on the increase with beer on sale all about us in nearly every direction. Makes us glad that Donley had the character and judgement to keep it out here, considering the published results in other places.

ANOTHER SHAMEFUL CHAPTER

Dr. E. F. Jarrel, of Tyler, has written into his life history a sordid chapter in the recital of testimony by himself and others, culminating in his resignation from the State Livestock Sanitary Commission.

As manager of Governor Ferguson's campaign in his section of East Texas, which received by far the greater part of the governor's appointments, Dr. Jarrel ran up a radio broadcast bill of $700 or $800. The manager of the station testified that "several" persons paid him $150 to $250, saying they were sent to him by Dr. Jarrel, receipts being given in each case.

Royce Williams, of Gilmer, and D. H. Williams, of Poteet, testified that they collected about $2,000 from persons whom they assured they would receive jobs from Dr. Jarrel and turned the money, less expenses, over to the doctor. All this testimony and more before a Senate committee. And the doctor resigns, protesting to governor Ferguson that he is "entirely innocent."

Texans send ignorant black negroes to the penitentiary for stealing chickens, and vote into power men like Jim Ferguson whose henchmen get away with such stuff as the Senate committee has been uncovering. Proof continues to accumulate that the average voter ought to be denied the right of suffrage.—Childress News.

Library Notes

By MRS. C. A. BURTON

Since Children's Book Week is just around the corner in November, I'm going to give a little review of a children's book, "Calico Bush" by Rachel Field. The author was born in Stockbridge, Mass. After private school her education was completed in Radcliff College, where she did her first writing of plays. After school she went to New York which is still her home and where for eight months of the year she is very busy writing and drawing in the shadow of picturesque St. Mark's-in-the-Bouwerie. The other four months of the year she spends in her summer home on an island off the coast of Maine. Since childhood this has been her summer home. Here she has talked to the early settlers, explored the rocky inlets and shores and delighted in the quaint names that have come as heritages from the handful of French settlers who dared the rugged Maine wilderness and made their homes here.

One day she heard of Maypole paint, so named, according to the Maine legend because a French girl had once given a Maypole dance there, something so colorful in the severe pioneer life that its memory has lingered. This story gave Rachel Field the inspiration to write "Calico Bush", the story of Marguerite Ledoux, a bound-out French girl—"a over the week-end, also attended the pie supper.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Goldston and children visited relatives at Amarillo last Saturday.

Mrs. Curtis Benson and son, C. L., of Clarendon, visited Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hudson Sunday afternoon.

Quite a number from Clarendon attended the services here Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Howard Rhodes and Misses Mattie and Irene Rhodes attended the Dallas Fair last week-end.

Mr. John Rhodes made a trip to Littlefield last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dilli visited her father at Windy Valley Saturday and Sunday.

flowering spring in the wilderness, a sprightly phantom in calico." We meet her just on Shiphood, when the Sargent family are moving from Marblehead to Mount Desert. Marguerite, remembering an entirely different sort of life in her homeland, France, is vividly impressed with every detail of this pioneer voyage. The Sargents had expected a home to be ready for them, but when they arrived, the little cabin which had been built by earlier settlers had been burned by Indians. The building of a home was only the beginning of the adventures which make the story extremely interesting, giving a vivid picture of the life of the time. Legend and ballad add to its interest. The book is a Junior Literary Guild book which is in itself a guarantee of its worth. We have enjoyed having it on our shelves for our younger readers.

The author, Rachel Field, won the Newberry Medal in 1930 for her story "Hitty—Her First Hundred Years"—a realistic story for children of the early life of children in the New World.

The Library Board met Saturday at their usual place of meeting—the Mayor's office.

The members of this board are Mayor Cagle, Ex-officio Chairman, Mesdames J. T. Sims, Paul Shelton, and Messrs. W. H. Patrick and S. M. Braswell, and the librarian. These busy people are never too busy to come at the call of the librarian to discuss matters of interest to the library. They are very happy over the splendid way in which the library is being able to serve the people.

BEFORE DAYLIGHT ON A RANCH

A Short Story by William Sullivan, English pupil of Clarendon Jr. High

It was about two hours before daylight on a ranch in Western Texas. The big ranch house was silent except for the night sounds that broke the stillness. Far off in the distance a lone wolf was howling mournfully, lifting its voice toward the sky above. The bunk house was full of sleeping cowboys. Near the bunk house a lone youthful cowboy was standing. He was thinking of the years past, when as a boy he had lived in the big ranch house, and the memory brought a bitter smile to his lips.

He had been forced to leave home at the age of seventeen on account of some trouble. He had been "framed" for a crime of which he was not guilty, and the man who had "framed" him was foreman of the ranch. All this had happened five years before and he had come back to settle accounts. As he neared the bunk house, he reached down and felt the two forty-fives that hung low at his sides to be sure that they were loose in their holsters.

The foreman of the ranch was a tall man about thirty-five years old with a small mustache about his upper lip. He had just risen and was looking out the window, when he heard a rasping voice coming from the door behind him. He whirled and went for his gun, for he knew the voice. The foreman, quick as he was, was not fast enough to match the skill of the youth. The guns of the youthful cowboy both blazed a flame of death, and the foreman pitched forward, dead with his gun half drawn. The youth backed slowly out of the doorway with a crooked smile on his lips.

As the youthful outlaw rode away he turned to gaze for the last time upon the ranch house in which he had spent many a happy childhood hour. He thought of his parents, who had died when he was a small boy, and his face softened for a moment. He had gone the trail of the outlaw, the wrong trail. He had no home, no friends, and no loved ones. He knew that some day he would either be caught or stop some one's bullet. He could see nothing but unhappiness ahead.

The sun was rising in the East, sending out its warm glow and beautiful colors.

Why the Sudden Change to Liquid Laxatives?

Doctors have always recognized the value of the laxative whose dose can be measured, and whose action can be controlled.

The public, too, is fast returning to the use of liquid laxatives. People have learned that a properly prepared liquid laxative brings a perfect movement without any discomfort at the time, or after.

The dose of a liquid laxative can be varied to suit the needs of the individual. The action can thus be regulated. It forms no habit; you need not take a "double dose" a day or two later. Nor will a mild liquid laxative irritate the kidneys.

The wrong cathartic may keep you constipated as long as you keep on using it.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a prescription, and is perfectly safe. Its laxative action is based on senna—a natural laxative. The bowels will not become dependent on this form of help. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is at all druggists. Member N. R. A.

DEATH CLAIMS R. E. MERCHANT

OLDEST LIVING NATIVE BORN TEXAN SUCCEUMS HERE AT THE AGE OF 94

Richard English Merchant, father of Cal Merchant, with whom he made his home, died Monday noon after an illness of several months.

"Uncle Dick," as he was familiarly known, was born in Nacogoches County, Texas, January 22, 1839. In 1855 the family moved to Denton County, where they resided for a number of years. On March 22, 1860 he was married to Mary Ann Black and to this union was born ten children, four of whom are still living.

In 1889 he moved to the Panhandle where his wife died Feb. 15th, 1915. He has been a member of the Baptist Church eighty years and claimed the distinction of being the oldest living native born Texan. At the time of his death "Uncle Dick" was 94 years, 9 months, and 1 day old.

Mr. Merchant was recognized as one of the stalwart characters of the Panhandle for the past thirty years and his going is a blow to this entire section of Texas. He held the esteem and reverence of hundreds who knew him and his community is deeply saddened by his passing. Christian characters such as his are all too few in this hurrying age and generation.

Funeral services were held at the Cal Merchant home Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock, led by the Rev. B. N. Shepherd officiating. Mrs. J. L. McMurry had charge of the music. Interment was in the Panhandle cemetery.

Pallbearers were grandsons of the deceased, Leroy Carhart, Jim Harrison, and Noble Roberts of Panhandle and Ira, Virgil, and Jack Merchant of Clarendon.

Surviving him are two daughters and two sons, Mrs. Alice Tuttle of Stillwater, Okla., Mrs. E. T. Tuttle of Panhandle, Cal Merchant of Clarendon, and N. J. Merchant of Fort Worth, also seventeen grandchildren and fifteen great-grandchildren.

Lions Celebrate—

As an unlisted item of the program Lion W. H. Patrick was recognized and in his own inimitable way presented to Miss Dorothy White a new and modernistic vanity case with Lions pin in appreciation of her five year's services as club pianist. Miss White responded briefly to say that when Miss Rhoda Wiedeman, the present pianist, got married she was ready to take on her old job again.

Then came the mysterious extra of the program. Program Chairman Drennan introduced Effendi Ben Hoozis, from the mystic highlands of Mesopotami, who had traveled thousands of miles to be present on this occasion and read the truth in his crystal in answer to questions asked by the ladies present. Most of these questions were about sundry habits and doings of the Lion husbands present, and did the Effendi do his stuff. He did and the answers were received by much applause, unanimous except for the person whose doings were being revealed. It was rumored that the Effendi was none other than Lion Burton, but Mrs. Burton vehemently denied this after listening to the performance.

Another very popular feature of the program was the musical reading given by Miss Rosalyn Bass, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. John M. Bass. Her encore, "The Old Fashioned Girl That Knows How to Cook," touched a ready response in the hearts of the Lions, who have a real preference for cooks.

Came then the presentation of the guest speaker of the occasion, Deputy District Governor E. L. Pitts of Lubbock, who had been assigned to the program here in the enforced absence of District Governor Del W. Harrington of El Paso, who was kept away by the critical illness of his wife. Judge Pitts is well known by the Clarendon Lions and they welcome him to the anniversary in his introduction by Lion Sam M. Braswell, who spoke highly of Judge Pitts as a citizen, a professional man, and a leader in Lionism. Deputy Governor Pitts began his address by delivering the name of Lions International, four silver keys to Lions Douglas, Stallings, Chase and Caraway, as a mark of distinction for their work in bringing into the club two new members each.

Judge Pitts reviewed the work of Lions International in its larger aspects then brought the picture closer home and enlarged on the pride that should be felt by Lions of this district in the accomplishments in recent years. He interspersed his address with witticisms admirably timed and held his audience in close attention for about thirty minutes, extolling the worthiness of club and personal service under the Lions Code of Ethics.

This address brought to an end the well received program of the evening and the eleventh birthday of the Clarendon Lions Club is history.

BEAUX ARTS WOMEN JUDGE PAMPA SHOW

Again Clarendon Club Women are honored. This time several of the members of the Les Beaux Arts Club were asked to judge the Pampa Flower Show which was held Tuesday, October 16th and sponsored by the Pampa Garden Club.

Mrs. W. W. Taylor, Mrs. A. L. Chase, Mrs. L. S. Bagby, and Mrs. Oscar Jenkins were members making the trip and report that the flowers were lovely indeed.

Among the many delightful social affairs of the week was the entertaining of the 1922 Bridge Club by Mrs. W. H. Cooke, Tuesday afternoon, at her home.

The entertaining suite was artistically decorated with bouquets of pink and bronze dahlias and red roses, which added much to the afternoon enjoyment. In the games of auction bridge, awards went to Mrs. Odos Caraway for club high and to Mrs. Sam Dyer for consolation cut.

At the conclusion of the games a sumptuous two course afternoon luncheon was served. Attending were: Mrs. R. L. Bigger, Mrs. Phillips Centry, Mrs. Sam Dyer, Mrs. Seldon Bagby, and Mrs. Meredith Gentry, guests.

Mrs. Charles Bugbee, Mrs. Odos Caraway, Mrs. R. A. Chamberlain, Mrs. T. H. Ellis, Mrs. A. R. Letts, Mrs. J. B. McClelland and Mrs. John Sims, Sr., members.

Tuesday evening at seven o'clock, the B. & P. W. Club met in the home of Mildred Martin, with Julia Wiedman and Opal Pyle as hostesses, and Mae Shaver leader.

After a delicious waffle supper a short business session was held, at which time final plans were made for the Autumn Tea to be given Monday. Carrie Davis who is president, told the club of her being transferred to Shamrock and asked that they accept her resignation. The club was invited to a picnic at the Morris Ranch, which invitation was gladly accepted.

The remainder of the evening was spent playing forty-two and bridge. Those present were:

Mrs. Margaret Goodson, guest; Zell Rogers, new member, Carrie Davis, Fannie Perry, Lottie Lane, Leila Lamons, Gwendolyn Couch, Helen Wiedman, Julia Wiedman, Julia Mae Caraway, Mantie Graves, Mae Shaver, Mildred Martin, Opal Pyle, and Norma Rhode.

Demonstration Club Hallow'en Party

The spooks and witches ran riot last Friday afternoon when Mrs. Lester Schull entertained the Clarendon Home Demonstration Club, at her home.

The house was decorated with all the things which make a Hallow'en party complete, such as ghosts, jack-o-lanterns, and cats.

Contests and games were played much to the enjoyment of everyone present and Mrs. C. D. McDowell and Miss Fannie Perry delighted their hearers with several ghost stories. In the main contest, the winning side received a huge box of all-day suckers, which they shared with the losers.

Mrs. J. C. Estlack presided over the business meeting, in the absence of the president and heard the reports of each member for the past month.

The hostess served delicious pumpkin pie with whipped cream to Mrs. T. R. Brown, Mrs. J. N. Newland, Mrs. J. L. Schull, guests.

Mrs. G. A. Anderson, Mrs. Sloan Baker, Mrs. A. H. Baker, Mrs. C. D. McDowell, Mrs. John Clark, Mrs. M. W. Mosley, Mrs. H. J. Edington, Mrs. W. D. Van Eaton, Mrs. A. L. Chase, Mrs. Wylie Morris, Miss Fannie Perry, Mrs. J. A. Tomb, Mrs. M. T. Crabtree, and Mrs. J. C. Estlack, members.

Mothers Club With Mrs. Dillard

The Mothers Self Culture Club met in the home of Mrs. Frank Bourland Friday, with Mrs. Robert Dillard, hostess for the afternoon.

With fifteen members present, the club had a very interesting and educational session, with Mrs. Bill Bromley discussing "How to Handle Quarreling Children", while Mrs. T. H. Ellis told about "Offsetting Influences of Girl Next Door." Mrs. J. R. Porter gave a clever reading.

At the conclusion of the program, the hostess served delicious refreshments.

Mrs. Clyde Douglas will be hostess to the club at its next meeting, November 10th, at the Club Room. All members are urged to be present as some important issues are to be voted on.

Autumn Tea Will Be Monday, October 30th

From five to seven o'clock Monday afternoon, the Clarendon Business and Professional Woman's Club will sponsor an Autumn Tea at the Woman's Club Room in the City Hall.

This tea is being given to raise funds to add to the Clubs School Fund, which is for the use of some deserving girl. A small admission is being charged and the Club invites all the club women of the city and the public in general to attend and help this worthy cause.

Tuesday afternoon, Justice of the Peace Hubert P. Day united in marriage Miss Roberta Boyce and Robert Keith of Hedley. The ceremony was performed in the County Clerks office.

Both young people come from prominent families of Hedley, where Mr. Keith works in a garage. The news joins their friends in wishing them success and happiness.

B. P. R.'s Enjoy Cotton Party

And what a "Cotton Party" it really was! The ladies wore cotton boll blossoms in their hair and the gentlemen donned mustaches, Van Dykes, and sideburns of cotton. All this took place in the Braswell home Thursday evening, when Mr. and Mrs. Sam M. Braswell entertained the B. P. R. Club.

Games of forty-two were played with the score pads decorated with miniature ladies and gents with cotton hair, and the pencils had a green boll on the end. The clever little nut cups were open bolls of cotton and added much to the attractiveness of the tables.

After an evening of merriment and laughter over the "cotton", the hostess served nut jello and "cotton cake" to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rathjen, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Powell, Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Burton, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Boykin, and Mrs. J. R. Porter.

1912 Needle Club Guests of Mrs. Letts

Mrs. A. R. Letts was charming hostess to members of the 1912 Needle Club and several invited guests, at her home, Thursday afternoon.

The room was gaily decorated with fall flowers and pleasant conversation and needle work featured the entertainment for the afternoon.

The hostess served a delectable salad course, in the late afternoon, to Mrs. John Fleming, guest; Mrs. L. S. Bagby, Mrs. J. B. Baird, Mrs. R. A. Chamberlain, Mrs. Sella Gentry, Mrs. B. L. Jenkins, Sr., Mrs. Anna Hall, and Mrs. C. W. Taylor, club members.

SIXTY TURN OUT FOR PEP RALLY

Thursday night the first pep rally—that is a real pep rally—was held at the old school building. Nearly sixty students participated. Some fifteen or twenty band boys were there to play the school songs. The students marched down the street to the tune of "When That Old High School Team Falls in Line." After marching down the street twice, led by the band, the students stopped at each stop signal and gave yells. Much real school spirit was displayed at this pep rally. Perhaps the pep squad has become inspired to do better by the fighting spirit that has seized the Bronchos.

Junior High Report

The Junior High students are studying harder and are happier. Every morning we have been singing for about fifteen minutes. We sing "Carry Me Back To Old Virginia" and "Old Black Joe" most of the time because they seem to be great favorites of the students. Maxine Tomlinson from Lelia Lake visited our school last Thursday with Madeline Taylor. We were very glad to have her.

The sixth grade has no exciting news, but it does have a new pupil, Virginia Vaughn. To get the sixth weeks tests over was a great relief to the sixth grade students, but to get the grades we made on them makes us want to do them over. Better luck next time!

The seventh grade has some new pupils who are twins, Leona and Leola Peabody. They were here last year. Some pupils have the fever. Isn't it terrible? But it is only the fever of talking. Since some of the "Gabbler Boxes" were moved, they are a lot better. We hope they will soon get over it entirely.

South Ward Activities

All the grades have started their Hallowe'en posters and decorations.

Mrs. Headrick's and Miss Waldron's rooms have started a very musical "Rhythm" Band. More first graders are coming, two in Mrs. Headrick's room and three in Miss Waldron's.

In the second grades Miss Fox and Miss Stephens are carrying out a "unit system" of Indians. They are drawing, cutting, and molding them with clay. They will start reading "Hiawatha" in a few days. They also enjoy walks to the park and other places that are near. A circus was started, and they have plenty of animals. They are going to have them all year and more, we hope.

The third grades have Indian relics and tables decorated with Indians and Indian things that the pupils have contributed. They have also started their "scrap book of Birds".

The fifth grade English classes now have a race on, in the use of periods and capitals. Which will win, the Chevrolet or the Fords?

The Sims P. T. A. met for the first meeting of the year last Thursday. An interesting program on October was given by the fifth grade. A large number was present and much interest was shown.

McLean Tigers Nosed Out By Clarendon Bronchos 7-0

The fans fortunate enough to be present at the McLean-Clarendon game witnessed by far the most exciting game of the season. The outlook for the Bronchos at the end of the half was rather low. In the first quarter McLean marched down the field to the 2 yard line with practically no pause, but the Bronchos had a very timely bit of good luck and recovered a fumble and punted, recovering the punt.

The 2nd quarter found the Bronchos decidedly on the defense, constantly having to kick. Dowell, McLean's fast man, made a spectacular 40 yard run down a broken field before he was finally downed.

The whole scene changed after the half, the Bronchos having caught on to the "tricky" play of the McLean team.

The third quarter was practically a "draw".

But in the 4th quarter Mann of Clarendon recovered a fumble and the Bronchos started their drive. After reaching approximately McLean's 40 yard line the Bronchos opened up an aerial attack, passing 7 times with 5 of them complete, usually Greene to O. C. Watson, always "plugging" at the right side of the field.

When the 3 or 4 yard line was reached, with 6 minutes to play, Hudson made a beautiful run around left end for a touchdown and E. Watson kicked extra point, making the score 7-0.

McLean received kick-off and made one complete pass, bringing the ball into Clarendon territory but having to punt. Clarendon made line plays, keeping the ball as long as possible. McLean then tried to come back with an aerial attack of their own, but E. Watson seemed to have a jinx on them, intercepting two passes. The game ended with Clarendon in possession of the ball and with a score still 7-0.

The starting line up for the teams were as follows:

Clarendon		McLean
Martin	RE	Robinson
Behrens	RT	Ellison
Mann	RG	H. McCarty
McMahan	C	G. McCarty
Easterlin	LG	Woods
Noble	LT	Bogan
O. C. Watson	LE	A. Christian
Greene	LH	Crockett
Whitlock	QB	C. Christian
Word	RH	Dowell
Watson	FB	Tolliver

Very few substitutes were made. In the first quarter Gorman was substituted for Noble. In the second quarter Hudson was substituted for Word. In the fourth Word went in for Green and McCrary went in for Hudson.

SOPHOMORES BROADCAST

This is station SOPH, broadcasting from our studio in the Clarendon High School. We will bring you the latest news flashes. Everybody is thrilled about the ball game last Friday. It has been a general theme of conversation. We are hoping the game with Shamrock will have the same results as the former one. An epidemic of gum chewing has swept the school. This greatly dismays the teachers. This concludes the news for today. Listen in on "The Broncho Range" every week.

Maroon and White Squad Have Stunt

The game was grand and we are proud of our boys playing? McLean left to the sadness of some, and the happiness of others, defeated. The band was out and played all through the game. Both of the Pep Squad had a stunt, and after the game the McLean girls had red eyes and the Clarendon girls had happy faces and sore throats.

We hope that all the Pep Squad will be able to go to Shamrock because we need everyone to yell that's possible.

Week-End Party At Morris Ranch

On Saturday evening a group of boys and girls went to the Morris Ranch to spend the week-end. Among those present were Vera Noland, Lloyd Martin, Marjorie White, Wesley Carroll, Evelyn Murphy, Kenneth Brown, Jo Ella Stewart, Roy Stargel, Helen Lawler, Heavy Whitlock, and the hostess, Eleanor Morris.

Miss Morris, who is soon to become the bride of Mr. Tom Blasengame of Channing, gave the party as a farewell to her friends. The group arrived at the ranch house in time for supper. After supper various pleasures were pursued. Vera, Jo Ella, and Evelyn entertained the group with a polo game. Jo Ella was the horse, Vera the ball, and Evelyn the player. Much black coffee was consumed during the night, especially by Wesley Carroll.

At a late hour the group retired to the bunk houses. But boys will be boys and too much noise kept the girls from sleeping; so, the girls had to desert their bunk house and go to the house to sleep. Kenneth Brown, the personification of manly courtesy, helped everyone to put on his boots the next morning. Although the girls did not get more than an hour's sleep during the night, they were ready for breakfast at seven. The boys who had a good night's sleep after making so much noise no one else could sleep, were not ready for breakfast until nine.

Horseback riding, shooting, climbing, and various other sports filled the day. After dinner, however, the girls began to feel the effect of a sleepless night and were ready to return to town. The group returned to town about four o'clock and reported one of the most enjoyable week-ends ever spent regardless of the fact that everyone was tired.

Seventh Grade Students Honored

Last Friday evening John M. Bass, Jr., was honoree at his home with a party celebrating his thirteenth birthday. Delightful games were played throughout the evening.

Rambling Reporter Finds Varied Names

Putting on my hood and bib and TUCKER, I got in my HUDSON and started WEST on a wild-goose CHASE. For many SUMMERS, my very BONES had longed for a ramble in the GREENE, DEWEY WOODS. As I DREW near the heart of the WOODS, I got out to see if I were on the WRIGHT road. I heard footsteps in the UNDERWOOD. Suddenly a MANN appeared. At first I thought he was a BLACKMAN but he was WHITE and a SHEPHERD by occupation. "What are you doing?" he BLAIR-ed out. "Getting my BEHREANS," I replied. "McCRACKEN nuts," I heard a CLUCK and a hen appeared. "That's my FOWLER I'm badly mistaken," he shouted. "Catcher and HOLDER if your ARMSTRONG," he commented. "I'm afraid I might SKINNER," I said as I ran after it. I tore my STOCKING and had to send my dress to the TAYLOR. We failed to BLOCKER and the hen escaped.

"We haven't DUNN very good; now, we can't BAKER TEAT," the MANN said.

We got in my HUDSON and started down the HILL. The ditches along the way were filled with MUDDY WATERS.

"We ESTLACK four miles," the MANN said. I ate dinner with him and we had SALMON. The boy told his Dad he would be a GOODSON if he would give him a few NICHOLS.

"Son, you know I own NOLAND; we're poor FOLKES," the MANN replied. He also told the boy a BARROWER or a LINDER never to be. Goodbye was my last WORD before I left. I jumped in my OTTO as I am not much of a WALKER, to SPEED away.

As I jolted along home, I awoke with a start and found English Class was over. Thinking over my dream on the way to the Education Class, I thought of how many different names there were in the Clarendon Schools.

ALPHA DELTA PSI

Station ADP represented its initial broadcast from the Rodgers' Hotel west of Clarendon last Wednesday night. A reception was held at the studio with interested patrons and radio stars participating in games during station announcements. The apparatus was loaned and set up by Edwin Eanes, local Radio Repair Expert.

As the season is taking on a Hallowe'en spirit, the rooms were decorated in orange and black with tallow candles for illumination. In the dining room Miss Zell Rodgers served Hallowe'en punch, cakes and decorated apples to the listeners-in and performers.

At the beginning of the program Robert McKee was given a formal welcome into the Alpha Delta Psi. K. O. Brown was inaugurated as chief announcer. He gave faithful advertisements of tooth paste, chewing gum, cigarettes, breakfast food, gasoline and other articles before the representative of each presented his number. Frequent reminders of the time were given in unison with the proverbial stroke of the chimes, a set of guitar strings.

A copy of the program follows: Clara, Lou and Em—Edna, Bonnie, Wanda.

Ruth Etting—Oleta.

Edna Wallace Hopper—Reba.

Styles for Men—H. W. Emily Post—Sylvia.

A great variety of phonograph records was played during the pauses in the regular program. "Learn to Croon" was practically worn out, and everyone has memorized after many, many repetitions. Delbert was the radio technician and general handy man.

At a late hour the group retired to the bunk houses. But boys will be boys and too much noise kept the girls from sleeping; so, the girls had to desert their bunk house and go to the house to sleep. PALO DURO

Members of the Palo Duro Literary Society held a business meeting on Wednesday, October 18, to discuss the subjects of future programs. As many helpful suggestions were made, there are certain to be interesting programs at future meetings. The programs will be put in year book form so that all members will know what their parts are to be in time to make thorough preparations. The new members, Geraldine Pratt and Ardis Patten were welcomed into the Society. Geraldine Pratt was elected to fill the vacancy left by Drew Wilkerson, who resigned his position as reporter to work with the newly organized High School Orchestra. After the meeting adjourned members of the Society went to the home of President McMurtry and dined.

The girls will be in charge of Miss Headrick and Miss Thornton. Mr. Stocking and Mr. Hutton will have charge of the boys.

H. W. Lovell spent the week-end in Ashtola with his relatives.

Roy Stargel attended the funeral of his Aunt, Mrs. Crowder, in Memphis Monday.

At a late hour the group retired to the bunk houses. But boys will be boys and too much noise kept the girls from sleeping; so, the girls had to desert their bunk house and go to the house to sleep. Should I Write?

(By Ruby Armstrong)

After being frequently requested to write something for "Along the Broncho Range," which incidentally would fill a long felt desire, I am doing my part.

How do the authors do it? Never have I attempted to write under pressure of being asked but not being told what to write about. I become "tongue-tied" in my right arm. I might write of "Our School" but we all know about it or should know. I might attempt a column a-la-Miss Dix but the lovelorn on the campus are too numerous, and my studies would have to be neglected. Again I could aspire to be a Miss Winchell, but though my averduois is sufficient, I feel that it is not distributed to the biceps and forearms in sufficient quantities and who knows there might be an Al Jolson on the campus, and I have never felt that the left eye was the proper place for a beefsteak. Or perhaps a sage like discussion in the Mode of Brisbane in "Today," but he is so fond of airplanes and the heights, either literary or atmospheric, always did make me dizzy.

Maybe for your benefit and my well being I should refuse to write at all until the muse strikes me. Sorry Jo Ella.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS HOLD REGULAR MEETING

The Camp Fire Girls had their regular meeting October 18. The meeting was called to order with the pledge of allegiance to the flag. One new member was initiated, after which Mrs. McGowan served cookies and hot chocolate. A party was planned for Saturday night at the Country Club.

AGRICULTURE CLASSES MAKE BOOK ENDS

The Aggies are all busy making one of the ten jobs that are required in the course. Nearly everybody is making book ends because they seem to be more easily made. We have also been drawing graphs of different objects in the department. Such work as bench-making and estimating cost of work benches and tables is being accomplished.

Notes From A Convenient Cuff

The old cuff is a bit soiled, the eyes a bit bleary, the head a bit large, but did I have fun! I have just gotten back from a week-end at the Morris ranch; boy, were the eats splendid! (If you will pardon the new word last arch, Red Cross supplied dozens of workers and one hundred thousand dollars toward the fund needed to care for the injured and their families, including many orphans of the disaster, and the other necessary assistance to the victims. Without the support of the public through memberships enrolled each year, the work would have been necessarily limited to what it was possible to do with funds voluntarily contributed for the disaster.

"There are several types of memberships to be had," the chapter head explained. "The annual membership is $1, but any individual may take larger memberships with full confidence that the added support given the chapter is needed and most welcome. Only fifty cents of the membership fee goes to the national organization. In the case of a five, or ten, or twenty-five dollar membership, the money all stays here to be used locally, except the fifty cents which goes to the National Red Cross.

"Our Roll Call in Donley County will be launched on November 11, Armistice Day, and during the ensuing two weeks every adult in the county will be invited to join the Red Cross. I am confident that, on account of the service rendered the community during the past years and the continuing need during the months of recovery which are ahead, a larger membership than ever before will be enrolled by the chapter. Mrs. W. H. Patrick has accepted the post of Roll Call chairman and will be assisted by a large committee of volunteers in conducting the membership campaign."

coined for this particular instance, but mere Websterian phrases would not suffice.)

Got a letter from the local boys at N. M. M. I. this A. M. and the whole substance of their missive was expressing a wish that someone would steal Gabriel's horn. (Gabriel in this instance being the bugler at the Institute.) Benson thinks it a bit strange that he should have a nurse maid at the ripe old age of nineteen.

I see in the literary reviews that a Dublin policeman has written a glowing bit about the tiny island of Blasket called, "Twenty Years A-Growing." The author, Maurice O'Sullivan, upset the idea that all cops are dumb. A new insight into seven bitter days in the life of a family of wage earners has been given us in "Requiem," by A. C. Fisher.

That marvelous display of clean hard-fought football brought to us Friday surpassed any class B competition I have ever seen. This fellow Gorman plays a neat game of ball in case anyone happens to ask you. Of course there were stars but all other reporters will write glowing accounts of their prowess. Everyone forgot his envious prejudice at "Hud" when he got in and pitched with the boys Friday. He's a grand player and a good guy.

As a rule the boys only compliment a fellow by saying "He's a good guy," and that includes everything, but girls have a more complete vocabulary to express an idea of another girl. The highest compliment I can pay a girl is that she's a good sport. Say, anyone who says Mutt White doesn't snore should come around to see me. I have conclusive proof from listening in on the week-end party at Morris Ranch. I have just finished reading Rafael Sabatini's "Bardeley's the Magnificent" and my admiration for this man increased one hundred per cent.
