WILL RIDES THE RANGE AGAIN!

Above is reproduced a painting of Will Rogers, which is used on the Amarillo Fat Stock show catalogue and souvenir program, just off the press. The four-color painting was done by Harold D. Bugbee of Clarendon, nationally known western life painter, and shows Will on his horse, riding the open range. His gaze is toward far horizons and there is a look of contentment on his face. The western hat is pushed back just a little from his forehead and that untamed strip of hair threatens to drop down across his right eye. It is Will Rogers riding the range again!

"FORGOTTEN MAN" STILL UNDER DARK SKIES

Experts working for the Federal Emergency Relief Administration sat down not long ago to try to find out just who this forgotten man we have been hearing so much about really is.

Examining their records, they came to the surface at last with the following description:

He is between 45 and 65 years of age. He makes up about 27 per cent of the "employable" relief population; but there's a catch in the use of that adjective, because his chances of re-entering private industry are almost nil, 45 being accounted a sere and yellow age in employment offices these days.

The forgotten man, further, has little hope of cashing in under any employment insurance scheme, and unless he is getting very close to 65 no old-age pensions will do him much good.

If the administration's $4,800,000,000 work relief scheme goes through, it may mean a job for him, but the job will be only temporary and it won't pay him any very princely sum.

All in all, he is plodding along under a pretty dark sky, and there is little indication that his sky is going to get much lighter. And his existence under such circumstances is one of the most telling indictments imaginable against our whole social system.

The man who has passed 45 ought to be just entering the age in which he can enjoy the fruits of the society in which he lives. The experience he has gained in his work ought to make him a valuable man in his job; his years of living ought to have ripened his wisdom so that he could get more human values out of his life than ever before.

Instead, in all too many cases, passing on into middle age is apt to take him over the deadline beyond which there is no secure place for him. We seem to have arranged things so that we have no use for him.

If he has a job, he must worry about losing it; if he loses it, he is pitched into a situation from which it is constantly becoming more difficult for him to extricate himself by his own exertions.—Palestine Daily Herald.

SECRETS OF BUSINESS SUCCESS

The small town merchant who succeeds is the one who has what people want and lets them know about it. People are busy today. They will not take time to shop where merchants insist on keeping their wares and prices a secret. The busy stores are those who send to their customers' living rooms the home newspaper containing the stores' advertisement of products and prices. Advertising has become the greatest service in time-saver and money-saver to the busy housewife. She knows from the advertising where she can buy what she wants at the price she wants to pay. She does her shopping on a third of her original shopping time.—Journal-Transcript, Franklin, N. H.

Nothing Doing in the Fish Line

By IRVIN S. COBB

SOME people insist that measuring, class by class, the lowest order of human intelligence in America is found among Key West sponge fishermen. Others hold that the group-place at the foot of the column properly belongs to a certain order of theatrical producers.

ers. As proof of the value of their contention they point to the story of the theatrical manager, who, on being told that a play brought him by a certain dramatist was based upon one of Charles Dickens' novels, said:

"Well, you get hold of this fellow Dickens and bring him around to lunch tomorrow and we'll get his ideas and fix up a contract."

Without any desire to take part in the controversy over the respective merits of the theatrical managers and the Key West sponge-fishers, I herewith submit, for what it may be worth, an incident which happened in the office of a prominent producing manager, whose name is a household word in every actor's home. To him there came an experienced playwright bearing the script of a new piece which he had just finished.

"I don't want you should read it to me, now," said the manager. "Just tell me what it's like."

"Well," said the playwright, "it's a historical drama in five acts. I call it 'The Dauphin.'"

"For why do you call it that?"

"Because it's based on the story of the Lost Dauphin."

"I don't want it," said the manager emphatically. "It wouldn't go. The public wouldn't never stand for a play about a fish."

At The First Baptist Church

THERE IS ALWAYS WORSHIP—FELLOWSHIP—SERVICE

There is one thing in life that is self evident. It needs no argument. It needs no proof. It is an innate tendency. As surely as spring follows winter the soul turns toward God. Do what you will, say what you may, act as you please, there is deep down in the heart of every human being a longing after God and a life after this life. God has not placed that inborn feeling in our hearts to mock and torment us in this life. It is a reality, and this world is the place for us to prepare for life here and hereafter. The life that is associated with God in this world is more satisfactory to the individual and those about him, than the life that leaves God out. We can't explain away God. We can accept him. If God has a contract faith gets it. Faith will turn the power of God into our lives. There is no rest on the road that takes us away from our duty toward God. There is no place where it is easier to find God than in worship, and fellowship, and service, in your church. If at all possible be in your place at your church Sunday morning and commune with God, regardless of what anybody else does.

Regular services at the First Baptist Church Sunday morning and evening. We will be glad to have you in all of the services. J. Perry King, Pastor.

"There's something very tender about you darling."
"Why shouldn't there be? You've been dancing on them all night."

Says Tenants Forgotten in New Crop Bill

Washington.—Two-thirds of the farmers of the South stand to lose by the new farm bill, according to Professors H. Clarence Nixon and Charles S. Johnson, the Southern Policy Committee's experts on the tenant problem. Their comments were made public recently by Francis P. Miller of Fairfax, Va., secretary of the Southern Policy Committee. Mr. Miller pointed out that the opinion of these experts was based on the fact that on an average two in three of all the farmers in the cotton and tobacco belt are tenants or share-croppers. He added that proposed farm legislation for the South must be judged by what it does to tenants and share-croppers as well as by what it does for the landlords.

The statement, prepared by Messrs. Nixon and Johnson declares that "the farm bill, in the form in which it passed the Senate, threatens greater discrimination against tenants and offers larger advantages to landlords than did the AAA cotton program of 1934-35. The text of the bill shows that the tenant is left out of the picture entirely. An enlightened policy of administration with reference to tenants may be permissible, but is not legally required, and would be extremely difficult to enforce. The bill envisages absentee owners as well as other landlords as beneficiaries, to the disadvantages of the tenant tillers. Improvements of soil fertility, economic use of land and crop reduction, as provided for in the bill, are calculated to have direct adverse effects upon tenants without any compensatory benefits.

Only One Low Priced Car is FIRST in Everything That Counts

TERRAPLANE

JUST COMPARE

THIS with THIS

Terraplane alone among all popular low priced cars gives you this:

- Full 115-inch wheelbase.
● 195 inches over-all length.
● Most power—88 or 100 horsepower—with freedom from vibration at all speeds.
● Body all of steel, with seamless foot body with "soft-top."
● Most inside room—145 cubic feet—more leg and shoulder room, and widest rear seat.
● Completely new style—best insurance of the investment value of your car.
● The only rear opening baggage and tire compartment on 5 and 6-passenger models that can be had in any low priced car without extra cost. Spare tire lies flat inside.
● Duo-Automatic Hydraulic Brakes (patent applied for), two braking systems operating automatically from one brake pedal. And a third braking system from the easiest operating parking brake in the world.
● Extra deep "V-type" windshield—for added beauty and wider vision.

In every other popular low priced car this is what you get:

- 2 to 6 inches less wheelbase.
● 5 to 12 1/2 inches less over-all length.
● 3 to 18 less horsepower than Terraplane's 88—and not nearly as smooth.
● Body only partly of steel—or steel body with "soft-top."
● Less inside room—less shoulder and leg room—narrower rear seats.
● 1935 styling, changed only in details. Far more likely to be out of date by 1937.
● No rear opening baggage and tire compartment, except in cars where trunk models are available—at considerable extra cost. Spare tire mounted outside on all other models.
● Single main braking system—either hydraulic or mechanical—without complete reserve braking system and without Terraplane's type of easy acting parking brakes.
● Nothing like Terraplane's deep "V-type" windshield in any other low priced car.

HERE'S WHAT CAUSES LEAP YEAR

KEEPS SEASONS IN ORDER, GIVES FAIR MAIDENS THEIR CHANCE

This is leap year and February 29 is the cause of it. But the cause of February 29 dates back to 46 B. C. when the astronomers of Julius Caesar figured out that the solar year (the time it takes the earth to complete its orbit around the sun) was 365 days and six hours.

The six hours stumped them until they decided to add an extra day to every fourth year and make that 366th day February 29. This is "leap" year because the extra day causes the calendar to leap over a day of the week after February 29. Ordinarily the calendar rotates just one day because 365 is one over 52 seven day weeks. Thus March 1 fell on Friday last year, but will fall on Sunday instead of Saturday this year.

Pope Suppressed Ten Days The Julian astronomers didn't have the thing down pat, however, for the solar year is actually 365 days, 5 hours, 48 minutes and 45.51 seconds. By the time Pope Gregory XIII decided to act in 1582 A. D., the dates of the year had shifted 10 days out of season. To correct this Pope Gregory ordered that October 5, 1582, be made October 15, 1582. To take care of the discrepancy occurring thereafter Pope Gregory's astronomers decided that leap year should be omitted on every century year not divisible by 400. Leap year won't be suppressed again until 2100 A. D.

Anyway, leap year has a more romantic aspect. By tradition, if not by practice, it is the time a woman can propose marriage to a man. The origin of this counter attack in the love suit is less satisfactorily explained than the Julian and Gregorian calendars.

But apparently Margaret of Norway, who became queen of Scotland, started the thing in 1288 A. D. by saying there ought to be a law. She decreed that during the leap years of her reign every "Maiden lady of both high and low estate shall have license to bespoken ye man she likes." And if a bachelor didn't like taking the proponent to be his lawful "wyfe" he could be "mulcted" (fined) one pound or less. His only "out" was to be already engaged.

The Gregorian calendar was accepted in Italy, Spain, and Portugal on the same day it was ordered in Rome. In France it was accepted before the year was ended and in 1583 by the Catholic states of Germany. The German Protestant states retained the Julian calendar until 1700 when Sweden and Denmark also changed to the Gregorian or "new style" calendar. Russia held to the Julian calendar until the soviet union was formed.

In Great Britain the Julian calendar was abolished by the act of 1750. That same year saw the change in the British colonies in America. The birthday of George Washington, which was February 11, under the Julian calendar, became February 22 when the change occurred.—Chicago Tribune.

Governor Allred's Proclamation!

To early Americans, the word "Texas" meant friendship. Today the word "Texas" still means friendship, and more. It means opportunity, a land of fabulous natural resources, of rolling ranges, of loamy black farmlands, of unsurpassed climate, and—BEAUTY.

This year, Centennial Year, Texas is entertaining millions of visitors from every part of America. They're coming to see the Texas they've heard and read about. They will travel every part of our state. The favorable impression Texas and Texans make will result in a priceless asset for the Lone Star State.

Let each of us do everything possible to see that our visitors not only remember Texas as an empire of friendly people but as a land of BEAUTY, as well. This can best be accomplished by each citizen seeing that his or her premises is free from unsightly rubbish, made attractive with flowers or green lawns. In brief, let us all cooperate to the end that visitors will be impressed with the cleanliness and beauty of Texas as well as with our far-famed reputation for friendship.

IS DEPRECIATION CONSUMING YOUR HOME?

Depreciation asks no invitation into your home. And it needs no wide open doors for entrance. Rather, it delights in the narrow little slits around your weather-beaten windows and the loose shingles on your roof! . . . And the damage that depreciation does inside, once it sinks its teeth! Sometimes it's almost beyond repair! . . . Keep depreciation outside. Have the roof repaired. And the leaking eaves-troughs; the sagging doors and windows. We'll be pleased to estimate the low costs for materials that such repairs will take—with no obligation to you. A telephone call will bring us in a hurry.

Expect to Reach Quick Agreement On Farmers' Bill

Washington. — Satisfactory agreement on the new farm bill in the third House of Congress—the conference room—was forecast Sunday by Chairman Marvin Jones of the House Agriculture Committee.

The "Panhandle Congressman," expressing belief full study of House amendments would modify initial senate opposition, said "I don't think we will have any great difficulty in conference."

Jones is expected to head the list of conferees on the $500,000,000 soil conservation subsidy legislation which the house will appoint Monday, when it also will take up the 1936-37 agriculture appropriation bill.

Although details of the department money bill will not be made public until Monday, committee members said the total will be far beneath budget estimates and will not include $1,000,000 asked to carry on a tree-planting shelter-belt program in the Plains states.

Chairman Ellison D. Smith, (Demo.) of South Carolina, of the Senate Agriculture Committee, who heads farm bill conferees appointed by that branch Saturday has served special notice he will oppose a house amendment specifying that consideration be given share-croppers and tenant farmers in appropriating subsidies.

The method for apportioning funds to states under the so-called permanent co-operative program will become effective after two years is one of the major differences between the two branches.

Most public discussion, however, has centered around the share-cropper provision sponsored by Representative Malcolm C. Tarver, (Dem.) of Georgia, and an amendment by Representative

LIBRARY NOTES
(By Mrs. C. A. Burton)

Arthur Chapman, author of the famous poem, "Out Where the West Begins," died at his home in New York City in December at the age of 62. Besides this poem he wrote numerous histories and biographies dealing with the old West.

Gertrude Atherton, at 78, is busily writing a new novel in her San Francisco apartment where she has written six books within the past eight years.

Margaret Flint of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, a middle-aged woman, wife of an engineer and mother of six children, won the Pictorial $10,000 prize with her first novel, "The Old Ashburn Place." The author is a New Englander by birth, and her story is a New England novel of the soil. Other winners of this prize have been Mateel Howe Farnham with "Rebellion," Martha Ostenso with "Wild Geese," and L. M. Alexander with "Candy." Mateel Howe Farnham is a sister to Editor Gene Howe of Amarillo.

The drama which won the Pulitzer prize in 1935 was Zoe Akins' dramatization of Edith Wharton's novel, "The Old Maid." This year, two days after Miss Wharton's 74th birthday, the stage play of her "Ethan Frome" was presented in New York with higher critical acclaim than is often given. Few novels make so much money as a hit play. Although the novel has sold consistently since it came out in 1911, yet it promises to bring its author more within the year as a play than in its lifetime as a novel. Edith Wharton belongs to one of New York's most famous families, but she has never liked New York, and has spent much of her life abroad, particularly in Paris. She is described as an exquisitely dressed woman of independent wealth. Besides her "Ethan Frome" we have several of her other stories on our shelves.

Lewis Browne, author and lecturer, spoke in the Dallas Open Forum last Sunday on plenty not far above.

Last Sunday morning it was voted to change the hour of Sunday school from morning to 2:30 in the afternoon till the first of April. Then go back to morning again.

Brother Reavis filled his regular appointment Sunday morning and Sunday night.

Mrs. Warren Bray and children of Amarillo spent a few days last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Grant.

Mrs. Frank Elmore was on the sick list a few days last week.

The youngsters enjoyed a party at Mr. and Mrs. Brock's Saturday night.

Miss Skinner, one of the teachers, was called home this week as her mother is sick of pneumonia.

Mr. and Mrs. Jordan took Sunday dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Grant.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Veazy visited Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Elmore.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hudson, who have been visiting relatives at Sulphur Springs the last 12 days returned home Monday of this week. They were accompanied on the trip by Mrs. N. O. Hudson and Mrs. C. L. Benson of Clarendon and Miss Mavis Hudson of Childress. They report a very enjoyable trip.

Mrs. Darnell and Miss Minnie Gollihue of Jericho attended church and Sunday school here last Sunday.

"What Our Novelists are Saying." He said there was a time when it was almost impossible to speak about American novelists, but that a fiction that was definitely American had been created, and among other writers he mentioned Robert Rylee of Dallas, declaring that his "Deep Dark River" has definite value. This is a negro story which has received favorable criticism from other sources.

Dr. Charles W. Ramsdell, professor of American history at the University of Texas in a recent address gave this interesting statement about present day history writing: "Formerly historians emphasized great events and spectacular things, such as wars, political campaigns and the doings of great men. Now they try to learn of economic, social and other phases of life. They want to know how people lived in the past, and why they thought what they did."

"We cannot remind ourselves

Life for most of us is sufficiently dull and colorless. The workaday aspect of the world is always with us and oppresses us. Old - Age Pension Probe Committee For House Named

Washington, February 22.—A bipartisan committee was named Saturday by Speaker Byrns to investigate charges that old-age pension organizations—among which was listed the Townsend plan—had collected thousands of dollars in dimes and quarters for fantastic schemes.

The investigation, welcomed by officials of the Townsend organization will be directed by Representative Bell (Dem.), Missouri. Bell introduced the resolution for the inquiry and the House adopted it by a 240-to-4 vote.

Bell said the committee would be called together probably Monday for organization and to decide how much money it would need. The resolution does not specifically mention the Townsend plan for payment of $200 a month pensions to all persons 60 or older but Byrns and other House leaders agreed it was aimed at that organization.

BALANCED COIN SHOWS HUDSON ENGINE SMOOTHNESS

Workman indicating five-cent piece balanced on its edge on the cylinder head of a Hudson engine rotating at 2,200 revolutions per minute.

So free is the Hudson engine from vibration that a five-cent piece will stand on its edge on the cylinder head at over 2,000 revolutions per minute. Visitors passing through the Hudson factory are often given this demonstration in the block test room and it is a very graphic and impressive demonstration of the accuracy of balance of this motor, particularly since these engines are never even bolted down on the test blocks. The engines are simply deposited on the test blocks by the crane which brings them from the end of the assembly line. The fuel and water lines are connected and the engine is started under its own power and run under the watchful eye of the inspectors. As a part of the manufacturing routine all engines are given this block test at the factory. They are started at about 1,000 r. p. m. and run until warm after which the speed is increased to about 2,000 r. p. m. over two hours. When the coin balance test was photographed the engine was turning over at the rate of 2,200 r. p. m. Hudson engines are inherently balanced. The crankshafts are fitted with integrally forged counterweights which are so formed as to neutralize the opposing forces created in the engine so completely that they are practically nonexistent. In addition to this dynamic balance they must also be in static balance as determined by resting them across two knife-edge bars where they must balance in every position. Every shaft is checked for dynamic balance on the latest balancing machines which are mounted on solid concrete foundations that go down to hard pan. Back of that coin-balancing demonstration there is a story of science, mathematics, engineering and manufacture that would fill a volume.

Such readers as these design fiction and ought to have it. The library's message is to men and women cramped by toil and narrowed by routine, seeking some roadway into the larger realm about us. This wider world, in its friendliness and homeliness, the library represents. Here they meet old friends among books, and make new ones, and feel the horizon of their lives enlarge with the contacts.—E. A. Birge.

OUR BOOK SHELF

(Editor's Note: We are glad to announce that this Book Review column will appear each week, written alternately by Beatrice Garmon and Dorothy Powell.)

A problem of interest and of great concern to every American citizen is that of sending missionaries to foreign countries.

In Pearl S. Buck's new novel recently finished in the Woman's Home Companion, "The Exile," the problems of a missionary to China are set forth in such a way as to call forth both one's sympathy and admiration. This novel is the story of Pearl Buck's mother, who spent her life helping an ungrateful missionary husband spread Christianity to the Chinese.

Through a style so simple that it is readily understood, so interesting in the destination of the pennies in Sunday school collection plate can gain the desired information from reading Pearl Buck's "The Exile."

Centennial News

The General Motors Corporation entered the Texas Centennial Exposition last week. They leased the 4,600 seat auditorium for the six months of the Exposition, June 6 to November 29. The auditorium will be air conditioned and refinished. The first floor will be leveled with the stage, giving free passage through the exhibits of Chevrolet, Oldsmobile, Pontiac, Buick, La Salle, and Cadillac automobiles. Seats will be left in the balcony for crowds at the show to be presented by outstanding dance bands, stage, radio, and screen talent and other first rank talent. The auditorium, which will be known as "The Hall of General Motors," also contains the largest pipe organ in the Southwest.

The biggest, most colorful parade ever staged in the Southwest will open the Texas Centennial Exposition on June 6. Plans for this parade, which will include 40 historical floats, units of the army, navy and marines, Texas Rangers, and at least 20 bands, have been completed. The 40 historical floats will be the feature of the first division of the parade, depicting episodes of Texas from its discovery through its government under six flags, and its industrial, commercial, and agricultural development, to the present day. Mounted police and a cavalcade of "outriders," who will depict Texas under six flags, will lead the parade. Following them will come Governor Allred and other officials.

All Texans are urged to join in a drive to make the first day sale of Texas Centennial stamps on March 2, the greatest first day sale ever held. It was suggested that individuals could promote interest in state wide Centennial celebrations by writing friends or relatives in other states inviting them to visit Texas in 1936, and sending the letter to Gonzales to be mailed March 2 under new stamp cancellations. Such letters must be mailed under cover with the necessary money for stamps. The Centennial issue is a three-cent stamp. The letters then will be stamped with the Texas Centennial stamp and will be mailed from Gonzales with the coveted cancellation. A record first day sale is expected.

Mrs. John Blevins of Shamrock visited in Clarendon Sunday.

Independence Day Program Monday

High school, junior high, south ward and college classes will be suspended Monday, March 2, so that students may participate in a Texas Independence Day program. All Donley County schools will observe this day as a feature of the Texas Centennial.

Monday morning the local pupils will be hosts to students from Lelia Lake and Hedley at the college building. A program of singing is planned, and each of these schools will contribute to the program. The rural schools will meet in the First Methodist Church, where a similar program of patriotic songs will be given.

SPORT SHOTS

Last week we had an invitation basketball tournament over at the gym. This tournament was sponsored by the C. J. C. team. Other teams entering the contest were Clarendon Independent, Hedley Independent, Hedley High School, Lelia Lake, Salisbury, and Alarred. The college team won their first game from Lelia Lake; lost their second to the Clarendon Independents; won the third from Hedley Independents; and lost the last game to Hedley High School. Salisbury entered the final game with the Hedley High team, and was defeated by the Owls. Between games we had several exhibitions. E. Watson and Stopper Powell had a fencing duel. Cornell, T. Holtzclaw, Baxter, Grady, Butler and Rolls had a free for all battle in a wrestling match. Following this Reba Nichols and Lottie Rolls gave an exhibition of how girls should sling the gloves when it comes to boxing. The tournament was considered quite successful.

Hedley has plans of staging a tournament similar to the one held here this week-end; however, definite announcement has not been made.

Well, as the weather has got warmer, track will undoubtedly get in full swing. All the college boys interested in track and who can possibly work out are violently urged to start training. The C. J. C. track team lost a good man last week when Royce Turnbow moved to Roswell. The team will be weakened considerably by his leaving.

There's some talk going around that the college will have a hard base ball team this year. This seems to me like a very good idea as base ball is another mighty fine sport. Here's hoping some of this talk materializes and we can have a good team.

Since the warm weather, the tennis courts have literally been stampeded. There is usually a

Miss Blair Is New Language Teacher

Miss Evelyn Blair, whose home is in Denton, Texas, arrived here last week to take the position left vacant by Miss Bita May Hall.

Miss Blair is well prepared for this position. She took both the B. A. and M. A. degrees from the University of Texas. Study in Europe and in Mexico City also adds to her qualifications as a teacher of foreign languages. She has previously taught in Withworth Junior College at Brook Haven, Mississippi.

A SOPHOMORE REPORT

A sophomore reports that the poem appearing in the Senior Report last week has been known to her for at least ten years. In fact, her sister taught it to her along with her ABC's. It seems to us that some "very bright member of the senior class" is a big chiseler.

CAMPUS DIRT

What with trying to settle our twitching nerves after the double wedding, we seem to be having quite a time finding news.

H. W. Lovell told us very secretly that—he is scared to death of girls. That is why he seldom goes out with them. And he is such a big boy too. My, such a pity.

If you heard hair raising screams last Friday and have been wondering about them, we will try to explain. William Hardin and Elbert Bain (two brilliant scientists (?)) had wired the knobs of the physics laboratory. Anyone who passed was stopped and told to come in. As soon as the knob was touched, the toucher, to state it mildly, received a thrill.

It seems that several students have been out of school this week with colds and sore throats. Miss Howren has been suffering from a sore throat which impairs her explaining voice. Mr. Drennan has had a pretty bad sniffing cold, but neither has missed school.

We were more than a trifle surprised to find that Helen Green is cutting a wisdom tooth.

Dorothy Powell has started writing poetry. It is very sentimental.

mad scramble for the one good court available; the other courts are now being worked over, however, so that will help the cause some. Me thinks the college could also have a C. J. C. team. Games could be scheduled with other Junior Colleges or any tennis team that wishes a matched game. From all indications the high school will have a good tennis team this year.

Seniors Begin Work On Play

The seniors started work on their senior play last Tuesday. The title of the play is "Let's Get Married," and at present it seems to be quite appropriate for the occasion.

All the parts have been given out, and with only two more weeks left for practice they realize they must earnestly work on it. The date set for its presentation is March 12. From all indications it will be a great success due to the many amusing scenes involved in the plot.

ALPHA DELTA PSI

The Alpha Deltans met last Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock for their first meeting this semester. The new society room is the history room in the college building. Several new members were present at this meeting, and it is believed that the society is really going to accomplish much this semester. The program presented was enjoyed by all present. After the completion of the program, a discussion of possible things the society might do was carried on, and it was decided that the society would feature social activities as well as educational. Upon the completion of business, the meeting was adjourned until Thursday evening, February 27, 1936, at 7:30 o'clock.

High school seniors are given a cordial invitation to become members and are welcome to visit at any time.

With tears 'til later, The Corner Cleaners.

LITTLE AMERICA BEING REBUILT FOR FAIR SHOW

Visitors to the Texas Centennial Exposition will find themselves able to visualize Admiral Byrd's Little America camp at the end of the world. A $50,000 replica of that famous outpost of civilization will be one of the concessions at the Southwest's first World's Fair.

Ground was broken for the exhibit on February 14 by Admiral Byrd, in Dallas to fill a lecture date. He raised for the first time on continental American soil, the flag which flew over the Antarctic base camp. This flag will fly over "Little America in Texas" until the close of the Exposition, November 29. Many of the instruments used by the Byrd expedition will be displayed at the exposition together with log books and other data and several of the sled dogs. Lectures will be given regularly by members of the Byrd expedition who will be on duty there.

Santa Helena canyon on the Rio Grande in Brewster County, with walls which rise perpendicularly for 2,000 feet, will be a big Centennial year attraction.

Facts About Texas

Texas covers 262,898 square miles, comprising one-twelfth of the area in the United States and is larger by 53,000 square miles than Germany. Russia is the only European country with a larger area than Texas. Texas measures 863 miles from the extreme east to the west of its border.

Texas has 254 counties, the largest of which is five times bigger than the area of the state of Rhode Island.

Texas leads the nation in the production of cotton, petroleum, cattle, sheep, horses, goats, mules, carbon black, sulphur and mohair. Texas was a sovereign nation for nearly ten years; she was recognized as such by the United States, Great Britain, France, The Netherlands, and the Hanse Towns.

One-fifth of the present area of the United States was acquired with the annexation of Texas. The capitol at Austin was built for the state in exchange for 3,000,000 acres of public land that was converted into the XIT ranch, at one time the largest in the world.

Texas is the only state in the union that has a right to divide itself without the consent of congress. A joint resolution adopted by congress March 1, 1845, providing for her admission, gave Texas the unique authority to divide into as many as five states if the population is sufficient at any time her voters so decide.

Survey Shows Real Progress Is Made In Erosion Control Work During Past Year

By GEORGE MAY
(In Amarillo News)
"There is only slightly more than half as much Panhandle land exposed to wind erosion this spring as there was a year ago."—H. H. Finnell, U. S. Soil Conservation director for the Plains region.

"Judging by present conditions there will probably be about one-third less dust storms this year than last."—H. T. Collman, meteorologist at the U. S. Weather Bureau.

Dust storms began scouring the Plains early in January of 1935. There wasn't a damaging storm in the Panhandle during January of this year.

Edges of the dust bowl have been trimmed. There are about 1-2 million acres of land in the five-state wind erosion area without sufficient vegetative cover to protect the soil from damage. Last year there were more than 2-3 million acres of exposed land.

During the 12-month period prior to February 1, 1936, Amarillo had 16.76 inches of precipitation. During the 12-month period beginning February 1, 1934, Amarillo had 14.99 inches.

These facts, coupled with the pronouncements by the two government officials (they are both men who are not individually inclined to make unfounded statements) present a logical conclusion: Dust storms will be much less severe this year than last.

Mother Nature, the farmers and land owners, the State Extension Service, the U. S. Soil Conservation Service, and the Resettlement Administration have joined forces in the many-sided fight on dust storms.

Progress has been made. Mother Nature allowed the Plains 12 per cent more moisture during the 12-month period before February 1, 1936, than during the same period prior to February 1, 1935.

Summer rains helped greatly and then during January of this year there were four good snows. These brought sufficient moisture to double the normal figure for January precipitation.

Plains farmers have had a large part in the soil program. They have co-operated with the government agencies in every way possible and much of the credit for accomplishments up to this time is due to them.

There has been a direct change of attitude on the part of Plains farmers during the past few months.

Instead of standing by, hoping for the best to come, they are preparing for the worst. This is not necessarily pessimism. It is more likely a manifestation of their confidence in the fertility of the Plains soil and it shows their desire to protect their property from wind destruction.

Farmers Lend Hand
The State Extension Service

pioneered the conservation work on the Plains and thousands of farmers have put the methods recommended by that body into use.

The U. S. Soil Conservation Service, under direction of H. H. Finnell, brought 19,000 to 19,800 acres of eroding Dallam County land under control during 1935—in spite of the fact that during the year moisture was far below normal.

The government agency that recently entered the fight on the dust storms is the Resettlement Administration. This body is aiding thousands of farmers of the five-state wind erosion area to give their lands emergency treatment to prevent wind damage and before the rehabilitation program is finished many thousands more will be operating their farms under farm management plans that require application of the accepted measures to prevent soil erosion.

Less Wind Damage Likely
Although great progress has been made during the last year, wind erosion is due to take its annual toll this spring as it has during each year since the Plains land was first converted by the farmer's plow from grassed ranges into farms.

But the wind damage is to be much less than last year.

Velocity of winds, condition of soil and the amount of vegetative cover are factors that determine the damage Plains land suffers each year from wind erosion.

The soil expert—agronomist—can go into any field to tell extent of erosion damage.

The layman also knows in a general way. He can tell by the seriousness of the dust storms. We might say that dust storms are standard-bearers of the forces of erosion.

Some Progress Made
All of the dust is top soil taken from fields where it was once productive. As it is strewn at the will of the winds it can bring nothing but personal discomfort and spread the warning that destruction is in progress.

Then if the dust storms are a third, or a quarter, or a half less severe than last year we may know that something has been accomplished in the soil conservation program, and that conditions of the land are generally improved.

Vegetative cover—growing wheat, row crop stubble, weeds, or grass protect the ground sufficiently to prevent erosion. Land that is protected from the wind does not present a serious problem. The damage there is slight.

Some Damage to Wheat
It is the barren land, where crops have failed or fields that have been abandoned, that cause most of the erosion. A blowing field can destroy the crop in an adjacent field and even cause it to start blowing.

The emergency measure to stop fields from blowing is to plow them.

During the past few days there has been some damage to wheat. This was because the plants that had been frozen were too tender to withstand the wind. The extent of this damage is limited to small areas.

The greater part of wind damage in this section this year should be largely confined to the western part of the Panhandle. Farm land in Dallam, Hartley, Oldham, and Deaf Smith counties and part of Castro County is due to be damaged unless emergency measures are applied.

In the adjoining areas, the eastern part of Union County, New Mexico; Cimarron County, Oklahoma, and Baca County, Colorado, are also liable to see considerable soil loss.

Survey Is General
The foregoing survey is a generalization. There will be land outside of these boundaries that will be damaged—also there will be vast tracts within where there

HATCHERY OUTPUT IN TEXAS SHOWS SHARP INCREASE

January production of baby chicks by 19 reporting hatcheries in Texas showed a huge increase over January, 1935, according to the Bureau of Agricultural Economics. A general increase in eggs set and chick production was reported over the country, but the percentage increase for Texas was much greater than the national average.

Texas hatcheries reported a capacity of 728,793 eggs in January, a gain of 4.8 per cent over the same 1935 month. The number of eggs set in January was 366,717, a 376.6 per cent increase over a year ago, while the number of salable chicks hatched, 126,821, showed an increase of 569.8 per cent over the January, 1935, hatch.

For the United States, 388 hatcheries which reported both in 1936 and 1935 had an egg capacity of 38,452,681 this January, 7.53 per cent more than a year ago. The number of eggs set, 12,001,463, was 49.45 per cent more than in January, 1935, and the 4,474,003 chicks hatched represented 45.85 per cent increase. Hatcheries reported 54.47 per cent increase in advance orders for chicks on February 1 as compared with a year ago.

will be no damage whatever. But the limits of the "Dust Bowl" have been pushed in. Vegetative cover is generally better and the soil has more moisture than a year ago.

Mr. Collman says there is a dust storm in progress when visibility is cut to less than six miles.

Observers here make these reckonings by eye from the station at English Field.

Brief Storm in January
The only dust storm that struck Amarillo last month was a brief one that was pushed in ahead of a snowstorm on the twenty-ninth day of the month.

On February 7 the wind got up to 38 miles an hour for a short time during the afternoon. On the eighth there was a serious dust storm caused by the wind-shift line as a cold wave moved in. Settling dust covered the ground on the ninth. On the twelfth there was the same condition and the wind stayed under 20 miles an hour. On the thirteenth there was blowing dust and on the fourteenth settling dust. There was high blowing dust on the fifteenth and sixteenth, but it was not anything compared with the swirling dust storms of last February.

This year's record is obviously a great improvement over 1935, where there were eight dusts in January and 13 in February.

Old "Sombbrero Dance" Will Be Interpreted By Gladys Swarthout

A strikingly romantic dance that was popular nearly a century ago when Spanish dominance in Southern California was just beginning to wane, will be revived in Paramount's new musical, "Rose of the Rancho," which comes to the Pastime Theater on Wednesday and Thursday starring Gladys Swarthout and John Boles.

The "Sombbrero Dance," to be presented by Miss Swarthout, who makes her motion picture debut after a brilliant career in opera and on the concert stage, served the glamorous Spanish maidens of old Monterey as a means of expressing favor for their lovers.

In "Rose of the Rancho" Miss Swarthout, who plays the role of a wealthy Spanish landlady's daughter, falls in love with the dashing young government agent, played by John Boles. At the big fiesta in Monterey, after singing the romantic number, "Where Is My Love?", Miss Swarthout performs the Sombbrero dance. By ancient custom the young men toss their hats into the dancing arena and Miss Swarthout, after tripping in and out among the sombreros, finally steps on the hat belonging to Boles—thus signifying her love for him.

Though "Rose of the Rancho" stands out as one of screenland's major musical achievements, an interesting episode lies behind the production of the dances featured in the film. Diligent research failed to reveal the type of dancing popular in the resorts of Monterey back in the 1850's and Le Roy Prinz, Paramount's dance director, was on the verge of despair when Lucy Adams turned up.

Lucy Adams is 85 years old and lives in Glendale, California. When she heard that Paramount was producing a picture against the background of Old Monterey, she made her way to Prinz's offices.

that knocked them cold three-score and ten years ago. Prinz said the dance resembled the French can-can that first appeared in Paris in 1870, but that it had a certain distinctive rhythm and whirl.

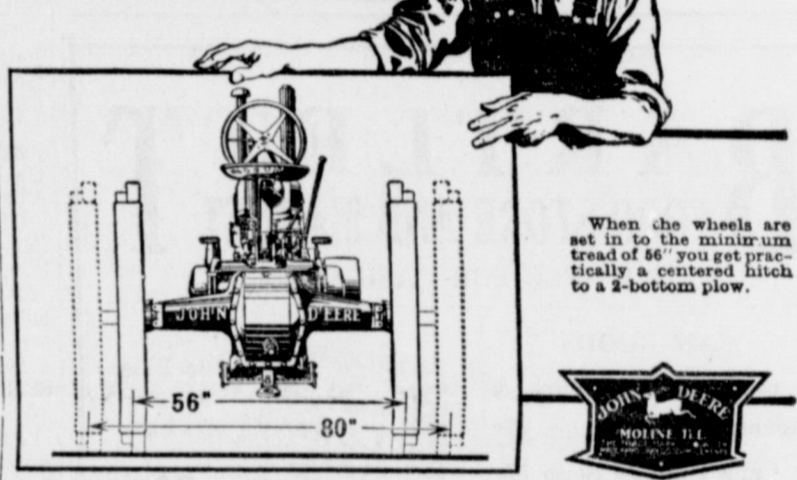

Thus Lucy Adams served as advisor when it came time for the beauties of Hollywood to reproduce authentic dance hall scenes from the days of the Forty-niners. Maria Ruiz, of Santa Barbara, and authority on early California dancing, also contributed greatly to the authenticity of the dance scenes.

Continental Again Proves Its Faith In Newspaper Ads

Ponca City, Okla.—During 1936 Continental Oil Company will spend nearly 75 per cent of its total consumer advertising appropriation for newspaper space, it was announced here recently by Wesley I. Nunn, advertising manager.

Nunn also stated that The News has been selected to carry Conoco advertising this year, and that this company has again approved one of the largest sales promotion budgets in its history.

"Continental's faith in the dividend earning power of newspaper advertising is founded upon sales increases directly traceable to this medium," said Nunn. "Last year, for example, there was a marked improvement in company earnings, despite excessive gasoline taxes and other adverse factors. Sales of Conoco Gorm Processed Motor Oil also reached an all-time high.

Cotton Seed Shipment To Mexico Is Heavy

Brownsville.—An unusually large amount of cotton seed is being shipped across the Rio Grande here to Matamoros for planting in that section and if growing conditions are normal a new record for production there seems likely.

Large levees being built along the south bank of the river by the Mexican federal government will protect the cotton planted near it. Most of the cotton of the Matamoros area and the Lower Rio Grande Valley is expected to move out of the valley by water, and a compress is to be built here to handle the cotton in this section.

I am now 52 years of age.

"Those who have offered for this office to this date are my friends, and will be when this campaign is over for the reason that this office, honorable though it is, if held with honor, it not to me, worth the sacrifice of friendship.

"Courts should be tribunals of justice, and without delay, where every human and property right is settled with fairness and in accordance with the law which fixes our relations each with the other, and with the commonwealth, and this justice should be had with the most possible dispatch, and with economy. It is my firm belief that when you have elected me your district judge, the court will be able to make such a record for fairness, economy and prompt dispatch of business, that you will feel with me, THAT THE HONOR OF BEING YOUR OFFICER LIES IN DOING WELL THE DUTIES IMPOSED, for to me there would be no honor in being your judge unless therein I could be such an officer as will do well the duties of such position.

"I most deeply appreciate the many friends over the district who, believing in me, have expressed their wish that I should offer for this office, and to all alike, I hope for your thoughtful consideration, and then your active support, and will endeavor to see you personally, that you may know the manner of man I am to offer for this important and honorable office."

Federated Clubs To Hold Food Sale Here

At a meeting of representatives of the federated clubs of Clarendon, Tuesday afternoon, February 25, it was voted that the clubs would hold a joint food sale for the purpose of raising money for work here.

The date for the sale was set for March 2, with hopes that the Centennial visitors, in looking over the school exhibits, will pay a visit to the club's booth, situated next to the Clarendon Hotel. Hamburgers, sandwiches, pies, cookies, coffee, and milk will be featured at moderate prices, according to the club's committee.

Supervisor—

(Continued from Page One) this work and 4,500 men and women are now working on the tax and land survey throughout the state of Texas. It is estimated that there are three-fourths of a billion dollars' worth of unknown property in Texas, which has never been assessed. The land now taxed is short 15 million acres of representing the actual acres in the state; less than 100 counties pay almost the whole burden of taxes while the other 154 counties pay a minority more from the state than they are paying for taxes. The Panhandle is included in the first category.

One of the purposes of this survey is to equalize the tax burden among different sections of the state; another is to discover land which has been escaping taxation. It is estimated that taxes can be reduced 25 per cent if this unknown land is discovered and assessed. Then, too, the survey will eliminate duplicate assessments where the boundary lines overlap and land is taxed twice, and the final result of the survey will probably be some uniform system for all 254 counties.

The survey will secure complete information about all Texas land as to the acres in cultivation, waste land, land affected by erosion, pasture land, improvements on the land, boundary lines, lien holders (if any), delinquent taxes and value of the land.

One copy of this information will remain in the county for future reference and the other will be sent to the state tax board. The sum of $8,023 has been allotted to Donley County to carry out the project, while $7,700 of which will be paid for payrolls. The commissioners court of each county usually furnishes the incidentals needed in the way of equipment. Mr. Anderson makes the statement: "If the survey is accurately and completely carried out 80 per cent of the taxpayers will pay 15 to 20 per cent less and 10 or 15 per cent will start paying taxes who have never paid before."
