Williams Tells

By Fred L. Williams

Thanks for the Welcome!

The new "News" family arrived in Clarendon last Thursday night after somewhat of an eventful trip from the little coast town of Taft, Texas...

It has been a real pleasure to meet the fine people of Clarendon. We have enjoyed the past few days immensely, and are heartily grateful for the warm welcome that we have received here.

An Independent Newspaper— It is natural that rumors will become prevalent when it is learned that an old established business changes hands.

A Difficult Task— We hope that the family of News readers will realize that we are undertaking somewhat of a large assignment in taking over the management of the paper.

And an IMPOSSIBLE Task— We have no delusions about being able to fill the place of our predecessor, Sam M. Braswell, in the social and civic life of the community.

A Good Country— We have the greatest faith in this country. Enough, in fact, that we have made a very sub-

Young Explorer To Address Local Audience

JOE HILL APPEARS HERE AUGUST 1ST

JOE HILL, JR., TO GIVE ILLUSTRATED LECTURE AT JUNIOR COLLEGE.

Next Thursday night at 8 o'clock in the College Auditorium, the Clarendon Lions Club will have the pleasure of presenting Joe Hill, Jr., 21-year-old Eagle Scout, who accompanied the Second Byrd Antarctic Expedition to Little America, to Clarendon.

Joe will introduce his Eskimo dog, "Neeka," to the audience and present a number of exhibits to show in a pictorial way what members of the expedition wore and did during the 14-months stay at Little America.

Joe will explain in detail the working of the expedition and there will not be a dull moment in the entire address. The joys and sorrows of the expedition will be related as they were witnessed by an American boy as keen for adventure and the thrill of the unknown as any hero in fiction.

Those who have heard Joe talk say that the audience sits spellbound from the start of the narrative until its conclusion. He uses direct forceful language to describe vividly events of the expedition.

Joe was the youngest member of the ice party and in the tractor division; he will tell of his part in the 700-mile tractor expedition across the ice which took 64 days. He will also relate the rescue of Admiral Byrd after he had received carbon-monoxide poisoning from the small stove which he had carried with him to his advance base.

Other officers elected were Ed B. Antrobus, 1st vice-commander; Star Johnson, 2nd vice-commander; Nathan Cox, adjutant; Jerome Stocking, historian; C. B. Morris, post chaplain; C. Huffman, sergeant-at-arms; J. R. Porter, service officer; Ralph Andis, liaison officer; E. Ballew, Walter Clifford and H. R. Kerbow, executive committee.

JUDGE AND MRS. LOWE TOUR EAST

MAKES STUDY OF AGRICULTURAL CONDITIONS IN CANADA AND EAST.

County Judge and Mrs. S. W. Lowe returned Friday from an extended tour of twelve days in the Northeastern states and Canada on what was termed by Judge Lowe as a delayed honeymoon.

Judge and Mrs. Lowe went North to drive back a new car, and returned to Clarendon by way of Canada, Washington, D. C., and the Southern states. Visits were made with former Clarendon citizens in various cities of the East, and with relatives in Tennessee and Arkansas.

A call was also made on Congressman Marvin Jones in Washington.

Judge Lowe took quite an interest in the agricultural methods used in the Tennessee "hill country" stating it was amazing that hilltop soil produced as fine corn as was grown in the fertile valleys. Various tales were told the Judge on the manner in which hill sides were cultivated but he still has his own ideas, he stated.

An overnight visit was made in London, Ontario, Canada, and while there he made a study of the wheat and cherry districts in that part of the Dominion.

On his return to Clarendon Judge Lowe stated there was evidence of general recovery conditions existing in the Eastern part of the United States, and of course knew the Panhandle was still the finest part of the nation.

TO CALIFORNIA

Mr. and Mrs. Vadie Carpenter left Friday for California where they will spend three weeks visiting.

Local Man Interests Officials In Soil Conservation Program

C. H. Wisdom returned to Clarendon from Fort Worth Saturday after a conference with officials there on oil production, reforestation, water conservation and soil erosion. Mr. Wisdom carried with him papers from local business and professional men and women, newspapers, clubs, chamber of commerce, and county agent asking the government to render aid in the matter of water conservation, replacing dead timber along streams and fruit trees in orchards that have been destroyed by hard freezes and drouths the past few years. FINALS IN GOLF TOURNEY SUNDAY

BILLIE COOKE THRILLS GALLERY WITH SHOTS; ENTERS TOP FLIGHT.

Bucking a high wind and tricky greens, 32 golfers teed off Sunday in the President's Tournament at the Hillcroft Golf Course.

A. N. Wood and Dick Cooke tied for medalist honors with 74s. Cook won the 18 hole play-off, defeating Wood four and three.

Ira Merchant, pre-tourney favorite, failed to get his putter working and shot himself out of the running with an 80, a 79 being needed to land in the top flight.

Billie Cooke, Jr., was the sensation of the tournament when he shot the final nine holes in the qualifying rounds in 37 strokes to squeeze into the championship flight. He continued to thrill the gallery by disposing of Dude Gentry one up in 19 holes and carried Pinkey Kerbow to the 17th before dropping the hard fought semi-final match. Kerbow had trounced Dick Cooke, four and three.

A. N. Wood continues his march toward his second consecutive title by winning over Slim Parsons and Bill Cooke. Wood and Kerbow will meet in the 36 hole final Sunday.

The second flight also featured upsets when J. T. Patman nosed out Otis Jackson one up in 20 holes and Joe Jackson defeated Walter Wilson four and three.

Championship Flight

Dick Cooke, 74, lost to Pinkey Kerbow, 77, 4 and 3.

Dude Gentry, 75, was beat by Billie Cooke, 79, 1 up, 19 holes.

Slim Parsons, 78, lost to A. N. Wood, 74, 7 and 5.

Alex Cooke, 79, was defeated by Bill Cooke, 76.

Second Round

Billie Cook lost to Pinkey Kerbow, 2 and 1.

Bill Cooke was beat by A. N. Wood, 2 and 1.

SEALY INTERPRETS LIVESTOCK LAW

EXPERT EXPLAINS LAW PROHIBITING LOOSE LIVESTOCK ON HIGHWAYS.

Following is an interpretation of Senate Bill No. 143 pertaining to the prohibiting of loose stock on the highway as written by Tom Sealy, assistant to the legal investigation division of the state highway department:

"The legislature of the State of Texas this year passed a law providing that any person owning or controlling any horse, mule, donkey, cow, bull, steer, hog, sheep, goat or any other livestock who permits the same to run at large unattended on that portion of any designated state highway in this state which is inclosed by fences on both sides shall be guilty of a misdemeanor." PROJECT SPONSORS MEET IN AMARILLO

DONLEY COUNTY DELEGATIONS PLACE APPLICATIONS FOR IMPROVEMENT

Added impetus for setting up projects of the Works Progress Administration in the Panhandle was seen by District Director A. A. Meredith, following a meeting in Amarillo Wednesday of project sponsors over the Plains area with WPA officials, which was attended by a delegation from Donley County composed of S. W. Lowe, county judge; and G. G. Reeves, J. H. Hermesmeier and Will Chamberlain, county commissioners.

Representatives of all the 20 Panhandle counties in District 16 of the public works program—nearly 200 of them—heard Meredith outline plans and purposes of the WPA.

Talks were made to the delegation by the director and assistant director. Other district officials were introduced, including Clifford I. Davis, former Donley County relief administrator; director of the division of labor for the district.

Complete papers on the Highway 88 project were carried to the meeting by the Donley representatives. This project asks for an allocation of $25,000 for building a right-of-way ready for paving, on Highway 88 south from Clarendon to the Hall County line, a distance of seven miles, according to specifications approved by the state highway department, made by Engineer H. A. Marrs several months ago.

After a completion of this project the state would be asked to redesignate and maintain the highway. First designation has already been obtained on this road from Clarendon to Turkey, but since has been released by the Donley County commissioners' court, the usual procedure in such matters.

Other projects for Donley County placed before the District Board by their respective sponsors are: Hedley, caliche streets and building an underpass to take care of traffic from the business center of Hedley to Highway 5.

Lelia Lake representatives asked for an allocation to build a gymnasium and auditorium.

Projects already in force but which must be changed from the PWA to the WPA are: flood control; digging of fossils in Donley County and clerical help in county agent's office.

Scattered Showers Fall Over County

The light rain which fell in Clarendon Tuesday afternoon amounted to .21 of an inch, according to Weather Man Joe Goldston. The precipitation, although very light, was considered very beneficial to growing crops, in that it served to freshen them up considerably and will cause cooler temperatures.

Surrounding sections of the county reported all the way from one-fourth inch to four inches, the result of scattered showers over the county. Practically all of the county received some rainfall, but the greater portion fell in the northeast and southeast portions.

'Love Thy Neighbor' Spirit Shown Here

Neighbors of W. W. Moreland, farmer northeast of town, displayed true western spirit last week by cultivating and chopping the 100 acre Moreland farm when the owner became ill.

Fourteen or 15 neighbors worked untiringly on the farm until the work was finished. Through the kind efforts of his neighbors, Mr. Moreland was given ample time for recuperation without worry over his crop conditions.

Mr. Moreland is reported as greatly improved this week and is able to be out of bed.

DRINKING DRIVERS

(An Editorial in the Dallas Journal)

The reformers of prohibition have disappeared from our midst. Their promises re-echoed throughout the land a few short months ago. But now that performance and responsibility might logically be demanded there are no reformers of prohibition left to demand of it. They folded their tents, turned in their headquarter typewriters and departed. If any of the old letterheads are left, they are used for scratch paper now.

But it will be remembered that the reformers hoped to cut down traffic accidents by cutting down drunken driving. The theory being that beer and light wines would displace boot-leg liquor. Alas, that is not so. Liquor is still with us and so is drunken driving. The accident roll mounts to astonishing totals and the death toll is greater than ever.

Sober common sense, however, indicates that drunken driving is not the explanation. Perhaps drinking driving is. Nobody has said much about it, but it is scientifically established that the alcohol equivalent of three high-balls will mar the judgment, decrease the perceptive powers and slow down the muscular reactions of an automobile driver by percentages ranging from 15 to 50 percent. In traffic at forty miles an hour and faster any material impairment of alertness and efficiency is bound to be dangerous and apt to be fatal.

CHILDREN'S CRIME HOUR

Listening, as we do, to repeated complaints of parents who object to the penny-dreadful type of broadcasting that comes over the radio to their children at supper time we wonder at the shortsightedness of many advertisers and radio stations.

Concern over this type of program finds reflection not only in the ill will of potential customers toward the sponsors and the advertised product, but also in a statement by Anning S. Prall, chairman of the Federal Communications Commission. Mr. Prall is certain that some of the dime novels of the air are injuring children. And he offers the reminder that "about half a dozen stations have been taken off the air in recent years for failure to live up to the proper standards of public service."

The resentment against this type of program is not of the negative sort that is received and forgotten with an indifferent shrug; an embattled parent is a dangerous adversary for any institution, no matter how big, to face. School officials and educators in general have repeatedly emphasized the demoralizing effects of these programs. Highly strung children are keyed up to an uncomfortable pitch by radio shrieks and horror stories; and even the most phlegmatic child is apt to have his vocabulary corrupted and his standards warped in formative years by what might well be described as the Children's Crime Hour.

Many of these programs are a nuisance to parents also, and to a degree which it is hard for adults without children of their own to appreciate. Once a child's sympathy has been aroused by the sponsor of a product, it will plead and beg incessantly for the purchase of that product. In a current radio sequence, children were made to believe, though it was not actually stated, that purchase of a certain article would aid the fictional hero in securing money to pay for the necessary operation on his ailing mother!

The sheer impudence of an appeal to any child in the home, over the parents' heads, in behalf of an advertised product might be enough to give the sponsors pause; but combined with the ill effects of such programs upon the child, as shown by Professor Busse of New York University and others, and the resentment enkindled in grown-ups, it would seem that, even if advertisers do not, the radio powers that be would take heed in their own interest.—Christian Science Monitor.

Civilization is the history of surmounting difficulties.—Hoover.

A SOUND ROOSEVELT VIEW

Probably the most accurate description ever given of how taxes are paid was given by President Roosevelt in his famous Pittsburgh speech on October 19, 1932, as he was nearing the end of the campaign that elevated him to the White House. Said Mr. Roosevelt:

"Taxes are paid in the sweat of every man who labors, because they are a burden on production and can be paid only by production.

"If excessive, they are reflected in idle factories, tax-sold farms, and, hence, in hordes of the hungry tramping the streets and seeking jobs in vain.

"Our workers may never see a tax bill, but they pay in deductions from wages, in increased cost of what they buy, or (as now) in broad cessation of employment."

That was a sound view then, and it is just as sound now. The big change has developed in the tax burdens, itself. The burden, already excessive, has increased approximately $13,000,000,000 since the words quoted above were spoken.—Industrial Press Service.

TOO LITTLE OR TOO BIG?

He was just a dirty little street urchin, bedraggled, grimy and ill-kept. When we saw him the other day he was selling newspapers on a downtown Colorado Springs business corner.

There are lots of dirty little street urchins—in Colorado Springs and elsewhere. One sees them every day—sees them and feels sorry for them. But we noticed this young chap in particular—noticed him and felt sorry to a degree more than normal—for there was something about him that particularly attracted our attention. It was the fact that he was wearing a regulation O. D. army blouse.

Yes, a soldier's blouse was hanging about the upper part of his body. It struck him half way to the knees. Only his fingers protruded from the lengthy sleeves. The blouse flapped in the cold breezes—flapped as though it were on a scarecrow in some farmer's corn field. It was much too big for the little newsie. He was lost in it.

We looked at the boy. We wondered. We became sorry all over again. Hard times these that force American youngsters and American grownups, too, to wear cast-off clothing too large for them—or too small; or too ragged. Not enough to wear in a land that produces too much. No wonder we were sorry.

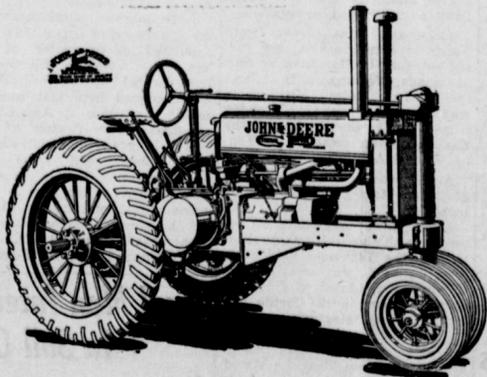

The youth was a pitiful figure. And we thought of the lad, of the blouse that was too big and of war—for the blouse was a garment of war. It was not difficult to think of war. Weren't the very papers that this lad of 14 or 15 years was carrying—weren't they telling of war clouds hovering over Europe? Yes—or war and of threats of war. Dictators, leaders, politicians, common citizens—most everyone talked of the possibilities of war. Many feared the race of armaments would end in conflict—maybe not now, perhaps not within the next two or three years; but in the not far distant future.

War looms. That seems certain. By this time we had passed by the newsboy with the army blouse that was too big. But we thought of him again. Two or three or four or five years from now—would he by that time have grown into the garment? A few years and it would fit him? No, we couldn't figure it that way.

Another thought came. The blouse isn't too big for American youth—whether their ages be 15, 16, 20 or 25. The garment of war is too little for the boys of this nation and every other. The youth of today have outgrown war blouses. They are the ones who are too big—too big for the tunics of war; too big for war itself.

Twenty years ago there were war clouds in Europe. And war came—the most devastating conflict in all history. America entered that war to make the world safe for Democracy. That war failed, as all wars fail. With the clouds of war again hovering over the European horizon—it behooves America, Europe and all nations to shun armed conflict that the world may be made safe this time for Democracy's most precious possession: Youth—youth that is too big for war.—Colorado Springs Farm News, Colorado Springs, Colorado.

"OLDEST PANHANDLE NEWSPAPER"

Many Children Accident Victims

Out of the total of 36,000 persons killed last year in automobile accidents in this country, 1,500 of the victims were under five years of age and around 3,800 others who met death were between the ages of five and 14, according to statistics.

Nearly 80 percent of all the children killed under the age of five were on the streets as pedestrians the total of such casualties amounting to almost 1,200. Slightly 75 percent of the children between the ages of five and 14 who were killed, or almost 2,900, were also in the streets as pedestrians.

Although many children were killed because of playing in streets, the records for that last year show that out of a total of approximately 5,300 child deaths there were only 1,800 that resulted from playing in the streets. More than 39,000 children under the age of five were injured non-fatally in automobile accidents last year, and 143,000 between the ages of five and 14 were also hurt. Around 25,000, or 64 percent of the child victims under the age of five, were injured while on the streets as pedestrians, and 93,000, or 65 percent of the children between the ages of five and 14 also injured, may be classed as pedestrians.

Altogether the automobile casualty record last year in this country included the deaths of 5,290 children under the age of 15 and the injuring of 182,210. While children should be taught to take care of themselves, the larger number of child victims of automobile accidents does not speak any too well of the manner in which many persons drive their cars. "Drive Carefully, We Love Our Children" is a safety message which always ought to be uppermost in the minds of all motorists.

The Texas Panhandle, where the West is yet new, is preparing to join with the South in honoring survivors of the legions in gray who followed the Stars and Bars in the 60s.

On September 3 to 6 many bands from down in the deep South will blare the strains of "Dixie" as the fast-dwindling celebrated veterans meet here for their forty-fifth and possibly last annual grand reunion.

LIBRARY NOTES
(By Mrs. C. A. Burton)

A biography of Louisa May Alcott, by Katherine Anthony, will be published this fall. The screen production of "Little Women" has renewed interest in the life of the author. Practically all of Miss Alcott's books are on our shelves, and are read with the same interest which we felt in them "when we were younger."

The Atlantic Monthly Press makes announcement of the fifth Atlantic novel contest which will close March 1, 1936. $1,000 is offered for the best unpublished novel submitted by that time.

Florence E. Barns of Austin has recently published "Texas Writers of Today" which is said to be rather a complete roster of Texas writers, both those of established worth, and those who "hope to be." Her introduction is rather an interesting resume of the history of first writings in Texas, and on down to the present.

It will be remembered that Audrey Wurdeman was the winner of the Pulitzer Prize in poetry in 1935 with her volume of verses entitled "Bright Ambush." She is the wife of Joseph Anslander who has attained considerable prominence as a poet, but who has always just failed to win the Pulitzer Prize. He married Audrey Wurdeman, a young girl, and she won the coveted award with her first effort. She was in Seattle when the announcement was made and she came at once to New York where she joined her husband. The story goes that he found his patients sorely tired as he tried to protect her from the reporters during the first days after honors came.

Joseph Anslander himself is a Harvard graduate. After doing graduate work in English he was sent abroad as a Parker Traveling Fellow to continue his work at the Sorbonne. In 1922 he was appointed to teach English composition and literature at Harvard and Radcliffe. He has reviewed poetry for leading periodicals, as well as contributing to them. In 1924 he was awarded the Blindman Prize for Poetry. He is the author of several volumes of poetry of which perhaps the best known is "The Winged Horse Anthology" in 1929. In 1930 he went to Europe to write a new kind of travel book, the account of a poet's pilgrimage through the Old World. Following the trail of the poets from Homer to the present day, he visited the places that have been the scenes of great poems. After occupying a tower on the Adriatic built by the Emperor Justinian, he returned to America and translated Petrarch's sonnets.

Any subject may be chosen, but a play related to the Southwest in theme and background will receive preference. The purpose is to stimulate creative dramatic writing among Texans and residents of the Southwest. The play will be produced in celebration of Texas Independence Day during the Centennial in Dallas by the sponsoring club. Dorothy Scarborough is editing a new book, "Selected Short Stories of Today"—an anthology of American, British and European short stories. Lions International in Mexico City
For Meet and Sight Seeing Tours

Chicago, Illinois.—For the first time in its history Lions International is holding its annual convention in a non-English speaking country. On July 23 an estimated 6,000 Lions and their friends gathered in the capital of Old Mexico for their four-day nineteenth annual meeting. They reached the Aztec capital by special train, by plane, by boat, and highway.

The convention program opened at 2:00 p. m., Tuesday, July 23, when International President Hascall of Omaha, official of the Standard Oil Company of Nebraska, took charge of the sessions. His reports, which will cover the record made by the Association during the past twelve months and will include recommendations for the new fiscal year will be one of the highlights of the business sessions.

Besides the business session for delegate and officers there will be an unusual amount of typical Mexican entertainment and hospitality. On Wednesday evening the President of the Republic of Mexico, Senor Lazaro Cardenas, received the delegates, and prior to this Ambassador Josephus Daniels received delegates at the United States Embassy. Some of the convention proceedings will be broadcast over a national hook-up in Mexico, which will be relayed by a number of American stations. Trips to the famous pyramids of the Aztecs, and the floating gardens of Zochimilco, a Mexican circus, and a trip around Mexico City are among the special features arranged for the delegates. The convention is being held in the magnificent Palacio de Belles Artes, recently completed, while many of the evening affairs will take place in the newly erected Foreign Club. It is expected that a large portion of the delegates will take advantage of the post convention tours through central Mexico.

A unique feature of this convention is the use of a "Pullman City" for the accommodation of the delegates who will not be able to secure hotel rooms during the convention. Every hotel room and available apartment, and a good portion of the accommodations available in private homes are already reserved. Hundreds, possibly thousands will therefore stay in Pullman City during the convention, where they will have their own lighting system, their own police force, a special canteen, restaurant facilities, shops, baths, and even carefully laid-out streets and boulevards lined with trees and flowers.

The convention will mark the close of a particularly successful year for the Lions organization, during which sizeable increases in both the number of clubs and the total membership of the Association were made.

SOIL EROSION MEETING AT MEMPHIS WEDNESDAY

County Agent H. M. Breedlove attended a meeting yesterday at Memphis where he conferred with the soil erosion heads of this district in regards to the Civilian Conservation Corps Camp to be established at Memphis as an aid to the farmers against erosion. The C. C. C. Camp will serve four counties, serving 25 miles of Donley County and extending almost to Clarendon. Mr. Breedlove together with three county agents and Camp Superintendent Hull compose the advisory committee.

Black Widow Spider Is Displayed Here

A black widow, that deadly specie of spider which has received such wide publicity of late, is on display at the Douglas & Goldston Drug Store in this city. The spider, a perfect specimen, is kept in a glass jar and is alive and enjoying the best of health, thank you. Flies, gnats, etc., comprise the widow's daily menu. The spider bears a perfect hour-glass marking on the under side of the abdomen, a brilliant red, which is in sharp contrast to the jet black of the rest of the body. The specimen is said to be somewhat smaller than the average black widow. The bite of the black widow is extremely poisonous and several deaths have been reported over the nation due to this cause.

Amendments Are Explained By Mann

Proposed Amendment No. 2 Temporary Commitment of Insane
Proposition No. 2 on the August 24th special election ballot has to do with the temporary commitment of insane persons, preliminary to a trial by jury. Under the present Constitution whereby everyone is guaranteed a jury trial, it is impossible to commit a mentally ill person to an institution for treatment or observation without the necessity of a jury trial. It has been pointed out that this is often very inconvenient and embarrassing. The proposal, according to Secretary of State Gerald C. Mann, if passed, would authorize the Legislature to pass such laws as would permit mentally ill persons to be confined to County Courts in institutions, presumably, or under the care of physicians or experts for a period of ninety days prior to a jury trial. It is presumed that the ninety day period of confinement would be for the purpose of observing such person.

The provisions would apply to persons not charged with a criminal offense. The Amendment specifically sets out that the right of trial by jury shall remain inviolate, but that in the particular case of insane persons a confinement period of ninety days for observation may be prescribed without the necessity of a jury trial. At the end of that time a jury trial would be had.

Pastime To Be Classy Theatre

In living up to his slogan "A class-A theatre for Clarendon," Homer Mulkey, owner of the Pastime Theatre, announced this week that he received another shipment of upholstered seats, making a total of 300 to be installed in the Pastime in the past several months. New sound effects and a new screen, together with enough upholstered seats for the entire theatre, have been ordered by Mr. Mulkey. The sound apparatus and screen are the best on the market, according to Mr. Mulkey. The old equipment of the Pastime Theatre will be moved to the theatre being installed by Mr. Mulkey in the old Borchert Building.

Soil and Erosion Survey Started In Memphis Tuesday

The survey will include sections of Hall, Childress, Collingsworth, Donley and Briscoe counties, Cawfield stated. It includes the mapping of soil types and erosion conditions over the area.

Sealy Interprets

(Continued from Page One) Each day such livestock are allowed or permitted to run at large is a separate offense. The punishment for each offense shall be a fine of any sum not more than two hundred dollars ($200.00). The law further provides that state highway patrolmen as well as local sheriffs and other local officers shall have the power to enforce said law.

"This law will become effective on August 10, 1935, and thereafter will be strictly enforced upon the complaint of any citizen of Texas.

"During the past few years livestock roaming at large on state highways have become a dangerous menace to the traveling public. Because of the carelessness and neglect of those who own or control such livestock, numerous accidents have resulted by reason of the collision with such livestock by automobiles lawfully operated upon the said highways, and a large number of people have been killed and others have been so seriously injured as to be maimed for life. In addition, untold property damage has resulted.

"The state highway department asks every citizen in this locality to co-operate with this department, with the local peace officers and with the state highway patrol in the enforcement of this law to the end that the state highways in this locality may be made more safe for the traveling public."

EROSION WORK TO BE STARTED

INSTRUCTION TO BE OFFERED ENROLLEES IN CCC CAMPS IN COUNTY.

Instruction in soil erosion control will be offered to enrollees in every Civilian Conservation Corps camp in the county as a part of the CCC program to reduce the huge damage caused annually by soil wastage. Robert Fechner, director of Emergency Conservation Works, has announced.

Outlines of study, prepared by the office of education and the Soil Conservation Service, have been submitted to the War Department, which is responsible for the administration of the general educational program. Instruction will be supervised for the most part by the educational advisers in the camps. Wherever possible, classes will be conducted by erosion control specialists regularly attached to the demonstration projects of the service.

"The primary purpose of the course is to give enrollees a rudimentary working knowledge of erosion control technique," H. H. Bennett, chief of the Soil Conservation Service said in commenting upon the program. "No attempt will be made to produce specialists within the few months the lessons will be offered. Many of these boys will return to farm homes after their enrollment expires. This training will give them a foundation for erosion control work to conserve the soil on their own land. Furthermore, many of them will be sufficiently interested to carry on their study of the technique of soil conservation which, unfortunately, is something all too few understand.

"The courses will be set up in two units of twelve weekly lessons each, the first unit being chiefly orientation, the second specialization. If the demand warrants additional studies, the service will be prepared to offer further specialization units in soils, agronomy, agricultural engineering and forestry."

College training courses, where-by college graduates or ex-students are given both classroom and practical instruction in erosion control, have been carried on by the Soil Conservation Service for more than a year in connection with its demonstration projects. Mr. Bennett added. Many graduates of the courses are now available for positions under the expanded program of the service.

Enrollees working in erosion control areas have been given instructions by specialists of the service during the past year. Complete courses in erosion control were offered at Bethany, Missouri and Urbana, Illinois, where regional directors of the Soil Conservation Service offered specialized instruction as a part of the educational program of the CCC camps in these regions.

Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Evans left this week for Gainsville where they were called to the bedside of Mrs. Evans' sister, Miss Ross, who was injured in an automobile accident Sunday.

Black Widows Bite Two Donley People

Two Donley County people, Mrs. Louie Thompson and Albert Johnson, were bitten this week by black widow spiders.

Mrs. Thompson noticed a small place on her arm and thought it to be a pimple, but in two days, although the poison was localized, a portion of her arm became inflamed. Mrs. Thompson sought medical aid and treatment prevented the poison from advancing in her body.

Albert Johnson of near Ashtola was working on a combine Monday evening when he was bitten on the back of the hand. Medical attention at once placed Mr. Johnson well out of danger, but the bite was very painful.

Rustic Bridge Added To Highway 5 Park

A splendid addition to the Theaten Park, recently built by the highway department on Highway 5 near Giles, is the rustic bridge, novel in this section of the country due to the shortage of timber.

The log bridge, 35 feet long and six feet wide, attracts many visitors to the park.

Bob Rankin, highway foreman, reports that a cobble stone finish concrete channel and spillway had recently been placed in the park. Bermuda grass has been planted along the channel.

CHURCH CHATS

"WITNESSING FOR CHRIST"
"And Ye Shall Be Witness Unto Me." Acts 1:3

The great business of all true Christians is to witness for Christ.

I. A witness is expected to testify only to what he actually knows. It must not be something he has heard or thinks but knows. Jesus Christ is called the "faithful and true witness" (Rev. 3:14). He said, "We testify that we do know and have seen." (John 3:11). The apostles were witnesses of facts that came under their observation, such as our Lord's life, His miracles, death and resurrection. Peter preached these facts on the day of Pentecost and said, "Wherefore we are witnesses." (Acts 2:32).

So, today, what is needed, in the pulpit and pew is not doubt, nor speculation, but testimony of facts—men and women who shall be able to say, "We know." Lip services is not enough in this case, they must also show by personal living that they are living witnesses of Christ Jesus.

II. A good witness is a willing one. "Thy people shall be willing in the day of thy power" (Psa. 110:3). What a poor witness Peter was in the judgment hall when he said, "I know not the man." But what a willing witness he was when he was filled with the Spirit on and after Pentecost.

III. Testimony to be valuable must be consistent. The evidence must not be contradictory. The witnesses who testified against Christ did not agree in their testimony. May it not be so with us who witness for Him today. May our lives and word agree. If we become acquainted with the Son of God and the eternal truths presented to us in God's Word all of us will tell the same thing, witness to the same truths and facts. Our testimony will not confuse those who know Him not but will lead them to true service to the Master and His church. We will witness for Christ as we should. He witnesses for us. "Whatever therefore shall confess me before men, him will I confess also before my Father which is in heaven." Matt. 10:32.

In our coming revival we hope to make you better acquainted with Christ and His program that you might become a true witness.

2 to 4 times greater film strength than plain mineral oil—even at motor heats of 225 to 425 degrees

BREEZES may cool you off as you drive, but your motor runs at terrific heats—from 225° in the crankcase to 425° in the cylinders. To protect your motor, your oil must have extra film strength and maintain it at these high temperatures. Otherwise, the lubricating film ruptures and the bearings and cylinders suffer damaging wear. Plain mineral oils have little film strength and oils over-refined by the new cleansing methods have even less. Moreover, these oils rapidly lose film strength as motor heat goes up. You can protect your motor far better with Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil, for tests on the Timken Machine prove that at high motor temperatures it has 2 to 4 times greater film strength than any plain mineral oil! More proof—supervised road tests were made in identical cars fitted with the new alloy metal bearings used in many 1935 cars. The bearings lubricated with a high-quality plain mineral oil showed 45% more wear than those lubricated with Conoco Germ Processed, the first alloyed oil. Say "O. K.—Drain"—fill with Germ Processed Oil. Drive far—drive fast—without a worry!

SCHOOL TRANSFERS

All transfers of both high school and elementary pupils must be made by August 1st. If a child has completed the training offered in the school in the district, it is also necessary that that child be transferred to the school of his or her choice where the next grade is taught. Any individual being dissatisfied with any transfer made by the county superintendent may appeal to the local board and the local board may then appeal from such action to the county board of trustees who shall have the right to annul and cancel the transfer allowed by the county superintendent. The very lawlessness and destructiveness of the liquor traffic is arousing again the moral citizenry of this country and again the liquor traffic will be branded the out-law that it is. Let every good citizen determine that his vote shall be cast on August 24th for the retention and enforcement of our state prohibition in Texas. ("DRY INK" will be continued)

SIDELIGHTS

by MARVIN JONES
Panhandle Congressman

Just now a tremendous fight is being made by processors and industrial groups against the Agricultural Adjustment Act. Hundred of suits are being filed to contest the validity of the act and to prevent the collection of the processing fees from which funds are obtained for carrying on the farm program. The recent decision of the United States Supreme Court has given encouragement to the hope of these groups that they may be able to stop the collection of these fees and thus destroy the farm program. We are all hoping that they may not succeed. It has been my privilege to handle in its passage through the House practically all the farm legislation of the administration. As a result of this legislation, not only have farm prices been materially increased but hundreds of millions of dollars have been paid to farmers in rental and benefit payments as a means of restoring price parity. More than one hundred million dollars have been restored to the farmers of Texas. In my judgement, this has been of great advantage to the entire country in tending to restore balanced conditions. Soon after the court decision referred to, we introduced in the House a measure ratifying the entire previous agricultural program and changing the original act in such a way as to retribute, in so far as possible, any question of the legality of the act in the future. This measure has already passed the House and is now undergoing a fight in the Senate. Before this is printed, we hope it may have passed the Senate and will be in conference between the two houses. I believe it is all-important that the farm program be continued in the interest of the entire country. The united manner in which the farmers have stood by this legislation has been encouraging to all those who have had a part in its enactment. We have come a long way from the fear, uncertainty and distressed farm conditions that prevailed at the beginning of the program. We cannot afford to surrender what has already been accomplished. Richard Morris of Claude is visiting this week in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wylie Morris.

Plans for Installing Lighting Equipment

By J. L. KERBY
There have been a number of methods used to secure the funds for the installation of athletic field lights. Many towns have used one game dedicated to the lighting project and have secured enough early ticket sales to pay for the system. McLean secured its lights in this manner. A second method, used by Memphis last year, is to sell season tickets for all or part of the games played at home. This does not work successfully when a team has to split the net receipts on two or more games. Third, Weatherford and a number of other towns have secured donations from the citizens, amounting to between 50 percent and 100 percent of the cost. Colleges that have a large amount of funds in their athletic accounts have purchased the lights outright. A few cities have been successful in issuing bonds to be paid with interest out of the net returns on the football games. Olney built a new park, including a fence, bleachers, and lights by this method in 1934. What does it cost to light an athletic field? The complete job, done correctly, costs between $1,500 and $1,750. These costs, approximated, are for reflectors, $600; transformers, $350; poles, $350; and wiring and labor. Some cities have been able to get this installation much cheaper because people in the city have donated part of the material or labor. McLean and Panhandle were given pipe for building towers, which were welded by welders in the districts who did not charge for their labor. In many towns the public utility which serves the city, has furnished the transformer and part of the labor for installation. So far, we have been unable to find donors of material for building towers and the general manager of the West Texas Utility Company has issued a statement that the company will not follow a policy of giving equipment to schools for athletic lighting purposes, due to the fact that the return, in the form of electricity used, is very small. Our plan, for raising the necessary funds for the lights, is to sell tickets to two of our important games for which we pay the visitors a flat guarantee for the game and do not split the net receipts. These two games are Shamrock, October 4; Groom, October 11. On August 5, the committee to raise the funds will start securing the pledges for the tickets to these games. Citizens are asked to purchase the tickets in blocks and resell these tickets to others who are not reached by the committee. Tickets may be purchased to either or both games. The pledgers will agree to accept and pay for these tickets between September 1st and September 15th, in order that the installation bills may be met. Those who purchase the tickets during this advanced campaign in blocks will have their names placed on the programs to be distributed at these games. Get your name on the list and let's get the lights installed in time for the first game with Claude on September 20. If the committee happens to miss you, call at the office of The Clarendon News or at Douglas & Goldston Drug Store and get your name on the list.

will you serve on a jury WITH THIS LADY?

Put Gulf "on trial"
Tried Gulf gas lately? If not, you've a big surprise coming. Put it "on trial" in your car for the next 3 weeks. Then see if you don't agree with this fair member of the Gulf "jury."
750 "Jurors"
750 car owners recently served as jurors in a "trial" of That Good Gulf Gasoline. They drove it for 3 weeks—compared it with their regular brands on (1) mileage (2) starting (3) pick-up (4) power (5) all-around performance.
Verdict—Gulf!
At the end of the trial, 7 out of 10 voted for Gulf on one or more of the five counts—many on all five. Why? Because Gulf is 5 good gasolines in one. Controlled refining gives it not merely 2 or 3 ideal gas qualities—but all five. Try Gulf 3 weeks. We'll bet it's your regular gas from then on!

 stantial investment here and we believe that investment is justified. Of course, we realize that old Jube Pluvius forgets to call around these parts every once in a while, and when he does it makes things kinda tough; and they do say that occasionally they have what local citizens call "sandstorms" and "dust storms," and we've been told they're not very pleasant. But, then, you can't have everything. It's still a good country, and we still believe it will "come back." It seems a bit strange to be in a country where the farmers want it to rain. The section in which we have resided for the past several years is so wet that all the old timers are suspected of having webs growing between their toes.

If things get just "too dry," we have a remedy which has not been known to fail during the past umpteen years. We will just simply wash up the old Chevy and grease it good, and then if it doesn't rain within three days it can be taken for granted that we are in for another one of those years in which precipitation just doesn't precipitate. We'll save that method as a last resort!

Quisenberry—

 Mr. Wright, a cowboy for many years before he was appointed Deputy Sheriff, did not dispose of his cowboy outfit when he accepted the county office and after three years of town life found the call of the open range too strong to resist. Mr. and Mrs. Wright will be located on the Hackberry Camp.

Local Man—

 Wisdom stated. "Recent legislation or court rulings have weakened incentive to expose good money opening up new oil territory, but there is still a possibility of interesting folks provided we can offer a block of sufficient size in favorable or semi-oil territory (we have BOTH) and at a comparatively small output of cash for expenses and some work, a 5,000-foot test well is a possibility."
