Williams Tell

By Fred L. Williams

Did You Know—

That during the past two or three years the Texas State Highway Department has spent something over $400,000 in Donley County, and that a large part of that expenditure went for labor? Most of the money passed through the hands of local merchants and business men. And, upon the completion of the topping project now under way on Highway 5, this expenditure will be greatly curtailed unless some other highway project in the county is taken up.

Highway 88—

It would seem that now is the logical time to start getting something done on the Highway 88 project. G. K. Reading, resident engineer for the department, stated that work has been pushed on all main arteries during the past several months in order to afford Centennial visitors good roads. Now that this work is being completed, it is expected that attention will be turned to connecting highways, such as Highway 88.

If and when the gap in Highway 88 from here to Turkey is improved and hard-surfaced, a direct all-paved road will be available for residents of the Lower Rio Grande Valley and intermediate points to Amarillo and on into Denver. At the present time, traffic is being routed all over the country, and is being forced to travel a much greater number of miles than would be necessary if the gap were improved.

This highway, in the opinion of this department as well as many of the citizens of the town, could be made one of Clarendon's greatest assets. It not only would bring a much greater number of tourists to the city, it would open up a profitable trade territory for a number of local business institutions. Many residents of the country immediately south are going to other towns to trade when they would much rather come to Clarendon if good roads were afforded. And, if this project could be started shortly after the completion of the work now under way on Highway 5, the highway payoff would be maintained.

All in all, we believe that the most beneficial thing that could happen to Clarendon (except a big rain) would be the culmination of this undertaking. Surely it is worth fighting for! Let's get together and see if concerted effort in this direction will not bear fruit.

Congratulations!

The skipper of this department extends hearty congratulations to his esteemed contemporary and competitor, Mr. J. C. Estlack, editor of The Donley County Leader, and well known Apostle of The Temple of Truth, upon his selection to head the Panhandle Press Association as president during the coming year.

Mr. Estlack's selection to this important post is a signal honor, and is well deserved. He has long been prominent in activities of the association, and at one time served in the capacity of secretary. His familiarity with the inner workings of the association will be of invaluable aid in the successful fulfillment of his duties, and with the whole-hearted support and co-operation of the members of the association, he will go far in developing and improving the organization. Congratulations, Mr. Estlack! And best wishes to your administration!

Doing Their Part—

The Bain Brothers, genial proprietors of the O-K Cafe, state that they are doing their best to bring on a good rain.

They have just finished placing new linoleum on the floor of the cafe, and state that the last two or three times they have replaced the linoleum the city has been favored with not only a rain—but a flood! And, the linoleum was ruined by the high water.

It is possible that the boys might be able to get up a collection around town to defray the expense of the new floor covering if they can guarantee results, especially since the new flood control dams are expected to hold back the flood waters.

Do You Know Them?

How many of the following list of names do you recognize? Some of them are still here, others have passed on or moved away, but we are just wondering if anyone will recall an event in which the following were associated:

VOTES GET FINAL SLASH SATURDAY NIGHT

"Savior of Texas"

General Sam Houston, one of the most dynamic leaders in American history, is the object of wide veneration in this Centennial year. Thousands are making their pilgrimage to his old Huntsville home.

HOME OWNERS IN DONLEY COUNTY RECEIVE $128,408

HOLC MAKES LOANS TO 67 INDIVIDUAL HOME OWNERS IN COUNTY.

Home owners in Donley County have received loans, for refinancing purposes, from the Home Owners' Loan Corporation, amounting to $128,408, as of January 2, 1936, according to an announcement made by H. P. Drought, San Antonio, state director of the National Emergency Council for Texas. This total represents 67 individual loans to home owners.

The total amount of loans closed in Texas by the Home Owners' Loan Corporation as of January 2, 1936, was $101,823,418, representing 43,741 individual loans. Six hundred and fifty-nine applications were pending on the above date.

As of March 26, 1936, 1,000,749 loans, amounting to $3,031,168,924, had been closed by the Home Owners' Loan Corporation throughout the United States. The average loan amounted to $3,030. On March 26, 1936, 17,963 loan requests remained on file with the Corporation.

Mrs. Harrison Simpson and Mrs. C. L. Jenkins went to Pampa this morning, Thursday, April 23, to attend the Parent-Teachers Association Convention being held in that city.

SUCCESS! FAILURE! WHICH?

Without a question of doubt this is one of the closest races that it has been the experience of the campaign manager to conduct and from all indications things will be "POPPING", the remaining days of the campaign.

With honors thus far about evenly divided all workers are preparing with feverish haste and intensity to make final stand for victory before 9 O'CLOCK this Saturday night, the close of the second period and the END of the BIG votes.

The totals listed below are a comparative standing of each of the candidates, as of date, although there may be a big change in the line up when the final report has been made this Saturday night for the close of this big "second period."

Table with 2 columns: Candidate Name and Total Votes. Includes names like ARNOLD, Mrs. Porter, Naylor Rt. (1,692,150), BEARD, Mrs. Johnnie, Clarendon (1,693,900), COLE, Miss Katherine, Clarendon (1,691,515), GROUND, Mrs. Wilton, Lelia Lake (1,690,690), KNIGHT, Mrs. C. L., Clarendon (870,300), MERCHANT, Mrs. V. C., Clarendon (1,693,850), MURPHY, Miss Lillian, Clarendon (1,694,125), NAYLOR, Mrs. T. E., Hedley (375,030), YANKIE, Mrs. L. E., Pampa Rt. (120,000)

The time has passed when just a lot of "well wishes" will be of any help to the candidates, it is going to take SUBSCRIPTIONS, and LONG TERM ones at that, to count for much, so dear friends, it's NOW or NEVER, if you intend to help your favorite.

It is a safe prediction that the candidates making the best showing this week, are sure to be numbered among the TOP-NOTCHERS and WINNERS of the Major Award, one week from this Saturday.

CAMPAIGN CLOSES SATURDAY, MAY 2ND

JOHN T. SIMS WILL SUCCEED MARTIN AS MAYOR OF CITY

IS APPOINTED AFTER MARTIN RESIGNS; COMMISSIONERS INSTALLED.

John T. Sims, former city commissioner, was appointed mayor of the City of Clarendon by Tom F. Connally and H. C. Brumley, outgoing city commissioners, Saturday, after the resignation of Mayor J. W. Martin had been read and accepted.

Martin submitted his resignation to the commission Saturday, and requested that it be accepted. Connally stated that Sims was selected to fill the vacancy created as a result of Martin's resignation because he had served on the city commission for a number of years, was familiar with the problems of the office, and had the executive ability to administer the affairs of the city in an efficient manner.

T. M. Pyle and W. B. Haile, new city commissioners, qualified and were sworn into office Monday, taking over the reins of city government with Mayor Sims on that day.

WHY THE LONGHORN PASSED

Stolid, bald-faced Herefords years ago replaced the spare but picturesque Longhorns which scampered across the plains long before Austin led his colony into the State. Today Centennial visitors will see the old frontier transformed into an empire of usefulness, the Chisholm trail having passed into distant memory.

Some Egg!

Last Saturday afternoon Miss Maggie Davis, 13-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Davis of the Martin Community brought into The News office for inspection one of the smallest chicken eggs that has probably been exhibited in Texas and maybe the world. At least this specimen looked like a "world's record."

The egg was the product of a mature size Rhode Island Red hen owned by Mrs. Davis, and weighed—believe it or not—64 grains, or one-eighth ounce. Measurements were 1 1/4 inches the short way and 2 inches the long way. Some Egg!

CITY TOURNAMENT TO BE HELD MAY 10-17

GOLF BALL SWEEPSTAKE HERE SUNDAY WILL BE "WARM-UP" FEATURE.

With tentative dates for the Ninth Annual City Golf Tournament set for May 10 to 17, inclusive, local shotmakers this week are polishing up their clubs for warm up play and will tee off Sunday in the first competitive test of the season, a golf-ball sweepstake.

Sunday's tourney will be medal play over an 18-hole route, with golfballs awarded every fourth player, according to his score.

A small entrance fee of 10 or 15 cents will be charged each player, for the prizes, according to Nollie Simmons, club manager. Recent rains have put the fairways in fine condition and with a little work around the greens, the course will be in exceptionally good shape when the first shots of the city tournament are fired.

COURT ADJOURNS AFTER LIGHT WEEK

GRAND JURY RETURNS TRUE BILLS; THREE CIVIL CASES ARE HEARD.

Two true bills were returned by the grand jury which reconvened for one day last Thursday, and three civil cases, one Friday and two this week, were disposed of to complete the spring term of court which was adjourned Wednesday.

No arrests have been made in the grand jury indictments, and the nature of the bills was not revealed.

Friday of last week the case of the Standard Saving & Loan Co. vs. E. Griggs was dismissed by Judge A. J. Fires.

The usury trial of R. B. Newman of Hedley, vs. Anna E. Bonar was held Monday and Tuesday, with a returned verdict in favor of the defendant.

Tuesday and Wednesday a damage suit, E. T. Baker vs. E. L. January, growing out of an automobile collision in August, 1933, was heard and continued until the next term of court.

7,500 Acres Terraced Here Since Last Fall

The county agent's office has supervised the terracing of 7,500 acres of farm land in Donley County since the crops were gathered last fall, according to a statement of County Agent H. M. Breedlove, Wednesday.

Breedlove also said that 15 calves have been put on feed by club boys recently, in preparation for various fat stock shows next year, and at least 30 are expected to have been fed out in time for the annual Donley County Show.

Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Brumley and daughter of Memphis were Clarendon visitors Tuesday night.

TWO DEAD AFTER SCHOOL BUS CRASH

11 SAMMORWOOD SCHOOL STUDENTS ARE HURT IN WRECK TUESDAY.

Guynon Laycock, 22, and Miss Alma Sechrist, 19, are dead, and 11 Sammorwood Consolidated High School students are suffering injuries sustained when the school bus in which they were riding failed to make a treacherous curve and crashed into an iron bridge railing over Dozier Creek near Shamrock Tuesday afternoon, according to press reports.

Laycock, the driver of the bus, died in a Shamrock hospital about two hours after the accident occurred. He lived at Abilene.

Miss Sechrist, a student of the school and resident of Dozier, died Wednesday.

Between 20 and 25 students were in the bus at the time of the accident, it was reported. Uninjured students who witnessed the accident were unable to give a reason for the crash, it was said. The driver evidently lost control of the bus as it approached the creek, they stated, and the machine plowed into the railing.

It was necessary to remove the door and the seat to extricate the driver from the trap caused by the impact with the bridge railing. He never regained consciousness.

Two other students suffered injuries which were considered serious but their condition is not critical. Only minor injuries were sustained by the others.

CROP LOANS ARE AVAILABLE HERE

APPLICATIONS BEING TAKEN BY MRS. O. C. WATSON, JR., AT POWELL'S OFFICE.

Government feed and seed loans will be made here throughout planting season, according to Mrs. O. C. Watson, Jr., who is taking applications at the office of C. C. Powell.

The loans, bearing 5 1/2 percent interest, are obtainable by tenant farmers only, who must secure the landlord's waiver of his interest in the crop until the loan is paid.

A limit of $200 is placed on the loans, Mrs. Watson said.

Cooper Is Sentenced As Habitual Criminal

V. E. Cooper was adjudged an habitual criminal in 47th District Court at Claude Tuesday and sentenced to seven years in the Texas penitentiary, District Attorney Grady Hazelwood said.

It is the first conviction in the district wherein the provisions of the state's habitual criminal law were enacted.

Cooper's conviction was obtained due to his sentence at Tyler in 1934, tried on a forgery charge. He also faced a six-year sentence assessed in Donley County April 3, after which he was held for Armstrong County on a forgery indictment.

Cooper, who also has served a term in a federal penitentiary, was held in jail at Claude awaiting transfer to Huntsville.

Mrs. Gilmer Ayers and little daughter, Lucetta Joyce of Clarendon, were Pampa visitors from Saturday of last week until Wednesday of this week with relatives and friends.

SECOND PERIOD IN NEWS' CAMPAIGN TO END SATURDAY

FINAL WEEK WILL SEE A GREAT DROP IN CREDIT VALUES.

Contestants in the News' Circulation Campaign have reached the turn, maneuvered themselves into place for the final dash and from now until the finish will be battling for supremacy under whip and spur. Contestants are preparing with feverish haste and intensity to make their final stand for victory, this Saturday night, April 25th, the close of the second period and the END of the BIG votes.

Big Week Hundreds of subscribers and thousands of votes will be turned into the campaign department this week. All contestants are working hard and in earnest, doing their best to get every vote they can. The big prize, the new automobile, the trip to California and cash bonuses, will be awarded the highest in the order of the final standing, a week from next Saturday night. The higher a contestant finishes the greater the award, so a great fight is expected on all sides before the gong sounds the close of the campaign on May 2nd.

Vote Slashed This Saturday night is the last chance to get the BIG votes on subscriptions. But three days remain in which to accumulate the CLUB votes. The BIG 50,000 club vote offer on every $20.00 reported will play an important part in this campaign. "Second Payments" will play a big part in the days' business from now until Saturday night, as contestants realize the big votes that can be piled up by using the second payment plan.

End Near Only two days are left of this all-important second period, and then only one more week of the campaign. After the campaign is over and the prizes awarded, the regrets in the world will be to no avail. The time to make reasonably sure of the prize most desired is RIGHT NOW. Wind up the close of the second period in a blaze of votes. Get a big enough reserve vote by Saturday night to WIN.

Committeemen Will Begin Work Soon

County Agent H. M. Breedlove announced Wednesday that the committees selected for work on the Soil Conservation Domestic Allotment program in the county will go into service in about 10 days.

The program, in which the government will pay the farmer who takes land out of cotton cultivation and plants it in soil conserving crops is the substitute for the AAA.

Payments to farmers at 5 cents per pound will be based on both soil building and conserving, and will be forwarded in one check. Names of the committeemen have not been announced.

Methodist Delegates Attend Conference

Mrs. Lester Schull and Mrs. Homer Bones attended the South-west Annual Conference of the Methodist Church held in Amarillo this week. Mrs. Schull and Mrs. Bones were delegates from the local Missionary Society. Several other ladies attended whose names were not available at this time.

One More Week!

Only one more week from this Saturday until May 2, the date upon which the big subscription campaign being conducted by The News will come to a close. And, as previously announced, all subscribers whose subscriptions are delinquent on that date will be dropped from the mailing list.

Renewals to date have far exceeded expectations, and the number of delinquent subscribers is relatively small. This is to serve as a reminder that the time is growing short, and those subscribers who have become "in arrears" are urged to get their renewals in before the closing date and help their friends who are working in the contest. Incidentally, it will prevent missing an issue of The News.

Don't put it off! Do it now!

IS COMMUNISM OR FASCISM NEAR?

"We're racing toward dictatorship! Communism or Fascism will be our lot if something isn't done."

This is the warning given to American workmen by Matthew Woll, vice president of the American Federation of Labor, in the Liberty Magazine. In making his own case, Mr. Woll makes the case for every American who wants no form of "ism" in this country, nor any form of dictatorship.

"Whether we admit it or not, we Americans are rushing toward governmentalism or a form of state socialism," Mr. Woll says. "We are turning our backs on individual rights, contract rights, property rights, even states rights. We are setting up a new form of society."

Building his case step by step, Mr. Woll points out that "one by one, under the stress of emergency, the great towers of democratic strength in this country have gone down and towers of dictatorial strength have arisen in their places. This is invariable the first step toward a socialistic state, whether of the Communist, or the Fascist or Nazi type."

"Government is already moving rapidly toward the full control of industry. The trend toward dictatorship is no longer a trend; it is a race. True it has been slowed down here and there by judicial opposition. But it is only a matter of time before courts, no matter how august, change in personnel until they reflect the will of the power which happens them. Judicial opposition alone will not permanently protect us."

Is those few words, Mr. Woll makes as fine a case for maintenance of the American system as has been made. He speaks for organized labor, but he sees plainly that property rights and human rights are the same. The fall of liberty means the fall of our entire structure.

The only safe time to make a prediction is after the thing has happened.

Never put off until tomorrow what you can get somebody to do for you today.

Cars may come and cars may go, but the time payments seem to go on forever.

Some folks don't tell what they know, while other folks tell what they don't know.

Some men who live a dog's life, probably do not have any license to do so.

BACK in the days when crowned heads were more numerous in Europe—and more popular—than at present, Carlos of Portugal paid his first visit to the British Isles. At the conclusion of his trip

King Edward, so it is said, asked young Carlos what, of all things in England, he liked best.

Now, Portugal's king was by way of being a consistent and sincere trencherman. He thought for a moment and then made answer: "The roast beef," he said.

"Is that all that has impressed you?" inquired His Majesty of England.

"Well," replied Carlos, "the boiled beef is not so bad." (American News Features, Inc.)

SIDELIGHTS

by MARVIN JONES Panhandle Congressman

In the light of publicity given to some of the AAA benefits, which are in effect the farmer's tariff, it is interesting to note some of the vast benefits enjoyed by large industrial companies under our tariff system.

The Aluminum Company of America in 1934 had earnings of 12 million dollars. Their tariff protection is sixty percent. When the tariff on aluminum was doubled in the Tariff Act of 1922, they did not give labor any increase in wages whatsoever.

Among the large companies manufacturing products many of which enjoy tariff protection are the United States Steel Corporation, the Allied Chemical and Dye Corporation, the Burroughs Adding Machine Company, the Eastman Kodak Company, the General Electric Company, the American Cast Iron Pipe Company, the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, and the Continental Can Company.

All of these companies do business running into millions of dollars and some of them into the hundreds of millions of dollars. Many of their products are protected by tariff rates varying from twenty to fifty percent.

AAA Payments Some of the AAA benefit checks were large. I assume, however, that they were made according to formula—and on an acreage or unit basis. The Department advises that in many instances the large owners had many tenants who participated in the benefits. Millions of checks were paid to several million individual farmers in the United States within a limited time. If any of the payments were not made according to formula—in other words, if anyone was given more than his pro rata share, then those who are administering the act are subject to criticism, provided such an unfair allotment was intentional.

Whether or not the program as a whole can be justified will not depend on the merit or demerit of a few of these payments but upon how the program as a whole was handled. It cannot be denied that the increased purchasing power of the farm and ranch has caused business to improve all over the country and in every line. It is difficult to see how the Southwest could have sustained itself without these payments.

LIBRARY NOTES

(By Mrs. C. A. Burton)

Lord Tweedsmuir, Governor General of Canada, was born plain John Buchan at Perth, Scotland, sixty years ago. He is spoken of as "author, statesman, lawyer, soldier, newspaperman," and a most friendly and interested neighbor to the United States. The High School people will be interested to know that he is the John Buchan, whose books are listed among the selected reading lists. Sorry we do not have any of them.

It is interesting to know that S. S. Van Dine, so well known for his mystery stories, particularly his murder stories, is in real life Willard Huntington Wright, a writer of philosophical and art works. He decided to do mysteries and assumed the name S. S. Van Dine. Now he is scarcely known by any other name, and though he started out to do only a few stories, so great was their success that he has not found a stopping place. Our readers never tire of his books, most of which are on our shelves.

We find ourselves interested in the statement that Flush, Katherine Cornell's dog star, is living in retirement with her in her Beekman Place home in New York City. Flush was so important a character in the play we still enjoy, "The Barrets of Wimpole Street." (Continued on Page Four)

I have no objection to any of the facts being made known and I understand the Department has none. In truth, I should like for the full facts to be made known all along the line.

The Tariff Wall But alongside these facts should be disclosed the tremendous advantages gained under the tariff system by the above-named and other companies. Certainly the largest of the AAA benefit checks did not compare in any way to the tremendous benefits enjoyed by the big industries behind the protection of the tariff wall.

I am not arguing the merits or demerits of either the farm or the tariff program. If there had been no tariff system, then no farm program would have been needed. Standing on the same level, the farmer could have looked after his own interests. But so long as we have a tariff system, certainly we should have a farm program. Let the full facts be known as to both.

DUB SHOTS (By DICK COOKE)

May 10-16 inclusive— which means, my friends that some of you nibblers will go into intensive training or the city tourney will be a four-cornered fight between the Gentry brothers, Joe Jackson, and Andy Woods who are hitting them hard and straight out on the hill these days. Brother Otis Jackson is also included in the betting odds and is ceeded a dark horse chance, but being a bad actor at the post (by which I mean qualifying) will probably be in the second flight.

Not that the smooth swinging gasoline magnate is not good enough, but for some reason, probably his own and personal, he has always chosen a lower flight.

A little more explanation about the sweepstakes Sunday. A small Clarendon spent Sunday with Mrs. Lusk's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Hefner.

Margaret Beach spent Sunday night with Johnnie Granger.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hefner, also Miss Letroux Scott, all of Clarendon, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Scott. Mr. and Mrs. Hefner were supper guests of Roy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Hefner.

Wheat Holdings Above Last Year

WASHINGTON—April 1 farm holdings of 97,058,000 bushels of wheat were, except for the 93,456,000 bushels reported April 1 last year, smallest since the spring of 1928 when they stood at 86,477,000 bushels, according to a bulletin from the Department of Agriculture.

The five-year average holdings (1928-32) are 127,000,000 bushels, indicated disappearance of wheat from farm stocks since Jan. 1 was 62,337,000 bushels, compared with an average of 44,048,000 bushels in the same period last year and with an average of about 121,000,000 bushels in the five years, 1928-32.

Farm stocks of corn on April 1 were estimated at 776,112,000 bushels, about 19,000,000 bushels greater than the average April 1 holdings of the five-year period from 1928-32 and nearly 340,000,000 bushels greater than the record small holdings of 436,377,000 bushels in 1935.

CAMPAIGN NOTES

By JACK HENSELER

Interest in the campaign is running high and strong. AND 'tis no idle boasting. It has not been confined to this locality alone, but has reached out until there are hundreds of eager friends who are watching the outcome with abated breath.

A striking feature of the past week, is the personal pride that has become noticeable. Some of the candidates have voiced their determination to win at all hazards. One declared to accept defeat would be hard. Another says she owes it to her friends who have helped her up to this point, she says that she will put forth every resource to the extent that when the final day comes everything will have been done and nothing left to better her chances to win. So on personal honor the race is being waged zestfully.

Shedding luster on this inspiring sight is the civic pride that is manifesting itself behind the various candidates. In short: each community and each faction is solidly behind their favorite and the "set that values their reputation of doing things is not going to allow someone to walk away with the most valuable prize when a little concentration will bring it HOME.

For that reason and for the reason that the difference in the value between the first and secondary award is several hundred dollars, you may expect to see a desperate struggle on all sides before the BIG prize is finally awarded on May 2nd.

It's quite gratifying to know that one's friends are saying, "We want our favorite to win" and so saying are backing it up with subscriptions.

More general action has taken place during the past week of the campaign than at any other time since the campaign started. Each of the workers is more determined to be declared winner of the automobile.

If you get the last word, you may have to take the first kick.

Library Notes—

(Continued from Page Two) statement that two more volumes on Texas history were added last week to Vice-President Garner's library, when Lowe Berger, vice-president of Bobbs-Merrill Publishing Company of Indianapolis presented Mr. Garner with copies of "The Father of Texas," by Eugene C. Barker and "The Road to San Jacinto," by J. Frank Davis.

A present day story writer whose stories are pleasant reading and therefore always received with interest is Sophie Kerr. She lives in one of the old brownstone mansions which is still maintained as a home on East 38th street in New York—a peaceful corner in the mad modernistic pattern of mid-town Manhattan. Here Mrs. Kerr has collected fine early American furniture for over thirty years, and has added slowly but tastefully to the four floors and cellar of the old mansion, always taking time to visit auction sales.

Her high-walled garden is reminiscent of 19th Century New York and in it she spends her summers doing most of her writing. In the fall she travels widely, usually by plane. Her winters are practically given over to music and the drama, few New Yorkers being so familiar with its theatrical life. Though she writes as Sophie Kerr, yet in private life she is Mrs. Sophie Kerr Underwood. But her venture in marriage was not a success, and she lives with her servants and her two black cats. We have only one of Sophie Kerr's books, "Girl Into Woman."

One of our very recent acquisitions is the Pulitzer Prize winner in Drama for 1935—"The Old Maid," by Zoe Akins, dramatized from Edith Wharton's novel of the same name. The play was produced in the historic old Empire Theater in New York where it proved a most distinguished dramatic success with Judith Anderson and Helen Menken in the leading roles. Its success was due to the tenacity of its producer, Harry Moses. He bought the play after one reading, enthusiastic from the first to its potentialities. Its reception was not cordial, but its producer remained confident of the outcome, and in three weeks it was the success of the season.

After finishing its New York run, the play was taken on the 12,000-mile tour from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and from the Canadian border to the Gulf of Mexico, having been played in 881 cities in 31 states. This tour was second only to that of "The Green Pastures," the colored classic which traveled 13,000 miles and played in 91 cities in 39 states.

The scene is in the firmly entrenched society of Old New York, and is given in five episodes covering the time from 1830 to 1850. The story takes one behind the scenes where Charlotte Lovell's misstep was hidden, and shows the innermost recesses of two women's hearts—the one who is the real mother, but dare not disclose the fact, the other who assumes the role of mother because of her love for the father whom she did not marry. Stark Young says, "Through most of the play the situation of character, even more than of narrative, remains alive, and is far more sophisticated than in most of our plays. There is a baffling confusion between good and bad impulses, conscious and subconscious, of the one, and a poignancy of retreat and advance, advance and retreat of obstinate force of character and frightened dread of consequences in the other."

Zoe Akins, the dramatist, was born in Humansville, Missouri, and was educated at home and in private schools. She began her writing career with contributions of poems and criticisms to magazines, later publishing a book of poems and many plays. She has recently been with the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Studio in California.

Edith Wharton, who wrote the story which was dramatized by Zoe Akins is one of our best known novelists, now living in France. Many of her books are on our shelves.

Several of our boy readers have been giving some of their books to the library in order that other boys might enjoy them. Cleo Russell, a boy who has been reading from the library since he was old enough to read, did such a splendid thing the other day. He had a Birthday and received a book for a gift. As soon as he had read it, he brought it down and gave it to us that others might get pleasure from it.

Shark Island's Moat of Terror Reproduced for Dramatic Film

Drawn by a woman's love, WARNER BAXTER attempts a thrilling escape from the inferno of a convict hell in "The Prisoner of Shark Island", 20th Century's stirring drama of the most tragic figure in American history.

"I realize that this moat will cost plenty, but we must have it for the picture!"

Nunnally Johnson, screen writer extraordinary, has been in motion picture work long enough to know that producers simply can't throw their money about like confetti, so there must have been a strong reason behind this note on the margin of the script for "The Prisoner of Shark Island," that he turned over to Director John Ford.

The moat in question was the shark-infested canal which guarded Fort Jefferson, the ghost-haunted federal prison off the coast of Florida, and the scene of the dramatic story of "The Prisoner of Shark Island," coming Sunday and Monday to the Pastime Theater.

Originally intended as the Gibraltar of America to guard the entrance to the Gulf of Florida, this immense brick structure was begun in 1846, and constructed at a cost of millions in money and hundreds of lives with material hauled painfully from the mainland. In its tremendous bulk, fifty feet high, squats over sixteen acres of space on a tiny key in the Dry Tortugas.

The moat must have been constructed in the spirit of grim humor by the designer of the prison, or perhaps to occupy the boondogglers of those days—if any such existed. Seventy-five feet wide and thirty deep, it ran along the forward wall of the imposing citadel a few hundred feet from shore. When it was filled with water it was supposed to be a powerful deterrent to invaders who had to come at least sixty miles across open sea to reach the island.

But when, at the close of the Civil war, the fortress was converted to a federal prison, the moat changed its character, too.

private schools. She began her writing career with contributions of poems and criticisms to magazines, later publishing a book of poems and many plays. She has recently been with the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Studio in California.

As a safeguard against the more than a thousand prisoners, and the unruly and mutinous soldiers who guarded them, some ingenious commander had it filled with additional guards—sharp-toothed, voracious sharks who slithered silently about in its water and who promised a terrible doom to any man who attempted a prison break.

Wild, unruly prisoners and men whose presence on the mainland constituted a danger to the Federal Government were transported to this island stronghold where few survived the rigors of imprisonment and fever. Among its inmates at one time were the accomplices of John Wilkes Booth, the man who killed Lincoln, and one man who had innocently aided the murderer when he was suffering from a broken leg. He was Dr. Samuel Alexander Mudd, the man whose moving story is revealed in "The Prisoner of Shark Island," and who was swept into this castle of murderers and criminals by the frenzy of the nation.

Warner Baxter plays the role of this gentle spiritual physician. And in the picture, as in real life, he suffers hideously at the hands of the brutal guards. Finally, in desperation he attempts an escape through the only possible route, the shark-filled moat!

It was to provide the vivid, terrifying drama of this escape scene, probably the high-spot of the picture's action, that Nunnally Johnson politely but firmly insisted in the building of the moat. And Director John Ford, who recognized immediately the dramatic potentialities of this portion of the script, complied with the request, although it required one hundred men, ten days time, and a large portion of the valuable sound stage space—and lots of money—to do it.

Texas Program Given At Junior Beaux Arts Club Tea Wednesday

Among the loveliest and most entertaining social functions of the year was the Centennial Tea given by the Junior Beaux Arts Club Wednesday afternoon, April 22, during the hours from 3 until 6, at the home of Mrs. Claude McGowan.

The theme of decorations for the afternoon was "The Panhandle," and bowls of snowball were placed at vantage points in the reception suite where the guests were greeted by Miss Mary Howren, the club sponsor, Cleo Brown, the club president, Mary Francis Powell, vice president of the club and Sara Virginia McGowan, the club secretary. About 75 members and invited guests were entertained during the afternoon.

Following is the very interesting program given at this affair: "Texas Nights," the poem written by Miss Howren which won first place at the district convention in Lubbock and read on this afternoon by Anna Moores Swift; piano selections by Dorothy Powell and Eloise Hill; "Pioneer Women," read by Rosalyn Bass; "At Dawning," an Indian song given by Mrs. W. G. Ward; "Entertaining Sister's Beau," a comic reading by Sara Virginia McGowan. The guests were served a dainty refreshment plate carrying out the pink, green and yellow color scheme in the dining room of the lovely home. Here the novel and very attractive centerpiece for the dining table brought exclamations of surprise from all. In this the natural resources of the Panhandle had been depicted. Boutonnieres of Texas wild-flowers were plate favors for the afternoon.

ONE SOCIETY

It is being talked around the college lately that the two present college societies, Palo Duro and Alpha Delta Psi, should emerge into one large society. At present there are not many attending the societies and it seems to be a good idea to have just one good society rather than two average ones.

One society for a student body of this size college could fully accommodate those students who are interested. It is believed that by thus joining, the increased number of members would create more enthusiasm and interest among the members and in their undertakings.

Since there has been so little activity among the societies this semester, they might at least get together for the remainder of this school year and have a number of real socials. This might be accomplished quite easily with a little cooperation. Everyone, it seems, is in favor of this plan; so possibly in the near future the societies will start meeting together.

Amateur Contest Is Big Success

"All right! All right! The next number is a group of impersonations by H. W. Lovell." This is followed by an advertisement of Dr. Allison's Black Tonic good for aches, pains, floor polish and heart throbs. "Major Bowes" Kerby gives Misses Anna Moores Swift and Sara Virginia McGowan the well known gong four times before he is able to shut them off. Tap dances, solos, duets, and trios, even negro preaching, all go at amateur night—and a good time was had by all, even Arthur Chase, Eloise Hill, and Billy Cooke, the winners.

Seldom has the old College auditorium had a more varied, snappy, entertaining, or colorful program. The only common characteristic of the acts was the vim with which they were rendered. It seems that this encouragement of talent and rewards of merit is the most beneficial endeavor yet undertaken by the College Dramatics club. A bouquet to its originator in Clarendon.

There are over a hundred volumes of these books which include all the magazines from the years 1925-1935.

OUR BOOK SHELF

Frances Winwar, author of "The Romantic Rebels," was born in Taormina, Sicily, of an old aristocratic family. Her first book about the pre-Raphaelites, Poor Splendid Wings, won a prize given by the Atlantic Monthly Press.

Her following book, "The Romantic Rebels," is the biography of Byron, Shelley, and Keats. In this book, Frances Winwar sets forth interestingly and honestly facts about these three mad geniuses. She gives a new viewpoint on Harriet's suicide and on Shelley's tragic death. She makes the reader understand Byron so well that we forgive him for things for which we before condemned him. Frances Winwar prides herself on making characters in her books live as they lived and speak as they spoke in real life. In this way, we can recognize her characters for what they really were.

In this biography, we come to know Keats, whose untimely death no doubt cost the world some wonderful works. Frances Winwar has spent much time abroad setting original sources of material for "The Romantic Rebels." She says, however, that some of her most valuable material was found at the Pierpont Morgan Library in New York City. She also states that her most moving experience while working in this library was being allowed to hold a lock of Keats' red-gold hair.

CHS Places At District Meet

At the district meet at Pampa Friday and Saturday, a number of C. H. S. students placed in the contests.

In the track and field events, Clarendon took sixth place with 10 points. Howard Strawn won first in the 440 yard dash; Colvin Lane took third in the mile run; Ralph Gandy won fourth in the 100 yard dash as did Eugene Saxton and Wesley Powell in the 200 yard dash and the discus respectively.

The tennis players failed to place, the boys being eliminated in the first rounds and the girls team losing in the semi-finals.

In the literary events Saturday, the boys' debating team, composed Jimmie Bourland and Johnnie Lott, won first place over all the other boys teams entered from counties in this district. It is also interesting to note that out of this county, the Leila Lake girls' debating team won first place as did a Hedley girl in the extemporaneous speaking. All these winners will enter the regional meet at Canyon on April 24 and 25.

Agriculture Boys Are Quite Active

The agriculture boys have been running terrace lines lately and are getting quite a bit of experience along the line. Last year there was also much good work done on many of the farms in Donley County. This is one of the many benefits derived from a course in agriculture under the ag. teacher, Mr. J. H. Hill.

The ag boys are organized in a club known as the Future Farmers of America. This club meets every Monday night in the dormitory in the boys' club room. Plans are being made for the boys to take a trip this summer to the Texas Centennial, and other points of interest in Texas.

CHS Band News

The Clarendon High School Band played a short concert before the drawing Saturday. The Band boys looked quite nice in their new maroon and white band uniforms. The band will play at the drawing a number of times in the future.

There are also a number of other engagements the band will fill soon. This afternoon the band played during assembly. Then on

Make Me a Texan!

It is easy enough for Texans to understand why visitors from other states can be greatly impressed with the magnitude of Texas, its wealth of great natural resources, its diversified climate, its unique and romantic history and its progressive spirit. It is an everyday occurrence for Texans to hear visitors praise the type of hospitality that is so typically "Texas," lauding the warm geniality and genuine friendliness that has been a natural characteristic of Texas for many years.

Texas is blessed with a meritorious characteristic that is by no means general. The same quality found in Texas is not a principle as commonplace among all states of the Union as the English language. It is a natural talent existing where the same characteristic is as much a part of its residents as the ability to read and write. It isn't a hereditary quality but more like a requisite to being a Texan.

Friday, class night, a band concert will be given before the seniors begin their program. Some time in the near future a few numbers will be played at a meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association.

The band is progressing nicely under the direction of Mr. Robbins and it has been announced that it shall continue meeting through the summer.

and it is a cross section of their opinion that puts Texas either on one side of the ledger or the other.

An interesting incident happened recently that exemplifies that fact that Texas has a certain effect upon residents of other states that should make Texans feel a bit proud.

An Easterner, after a recent visit to Texas, returned to his home state and immediately wrote a letter to Governor James V. Allred. "I have been through almost every state, but never have I seen the like of Texas," he wrote. "The people seem so different, too. Strangers greet you warmly and make you feel at home. Texas hospitality cannot be equalled. Is there any way by which I can become a Texan? I know this request is unusual, but I hope it is possible."

The writer went on to say that he wished residents of his own state could "see how Texans are" so that they might be inspired to the point of following such a splendid example.

Such an incident is rather unusual perhaps—not an everyday occurrence at all, but it is significant insofar as the point is concerned. That is to say, Texas is rich in fullness of hospitality in keeping with the physical size of the state. It should mean as much to Texans as its resources; its geographical magnitude and its romantic background.

Benefit Payments On Crop Contracts Suspended by AAA

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Records in the AAA comptroller's office revealed Friday that benefit payments due on more than 131,000 crop control contracts had been suspended by the adjustment administration.

Officials would make no estimates of the amount of money involved in the suspensions but said the action was temporary in most cases and that the farmers eventually would get their benefit checks.

In some cases, however, evidence of fraud was found, and high officials asserted that in such instances, when contracts had been violated, the suspension would become permanent. Technical error, mistakes, labeled by officials as honest and legal technicalities were said to have caused most of the suspensions. No estimate was made of the number of contracts suspended because of alleged violations. The AAA books showed that 96,865 contracts for 1935 had been suspended and the comptroller said about 35,000 additional suspensions have been carried over from previous years.

Beauty Operators Attend Convention

It is not the real business of a beauty culturist to try to make beautiful girls more beautiful. "The real reason for the beauty profession," according to Miss Nadine Haile, who operates a beauty salon here and who attended the Great Southwestern International Beauty Shop Owners Convention at the Adolphus Hotel in Dallas, Tuesday, "is of far greater importance to the girl whose hair may not be as she would like it, whose skin may be dry, whose nails may be brittle and whose personal charm may not be equal to her idea of the world's most beautiful woman. She requires beauty and the beauty culturists are meeting at Dallas to study ways and means of aiding 'the less than beautiful' girls who, according to their own admissions, want to add to their personal beauty and charm."

Miss Haile says, "When a beauty culturist can increase the beauty and personal charm of the fair sex to such an extent that the individual is both able and willing to set aside sums of money each week or month for this service, it means that the beauty profession of America is well on its way to being one of the country's most important industries or professions."

Miss Haile was accompanied by Miss Ruth Hartzog and Mrs. Nancy Dawkins, operators at her salon.

ASTOUNDING "LIFT" IN SINCLAIR H-C, Local Motorists Tell Sinclair Dealers

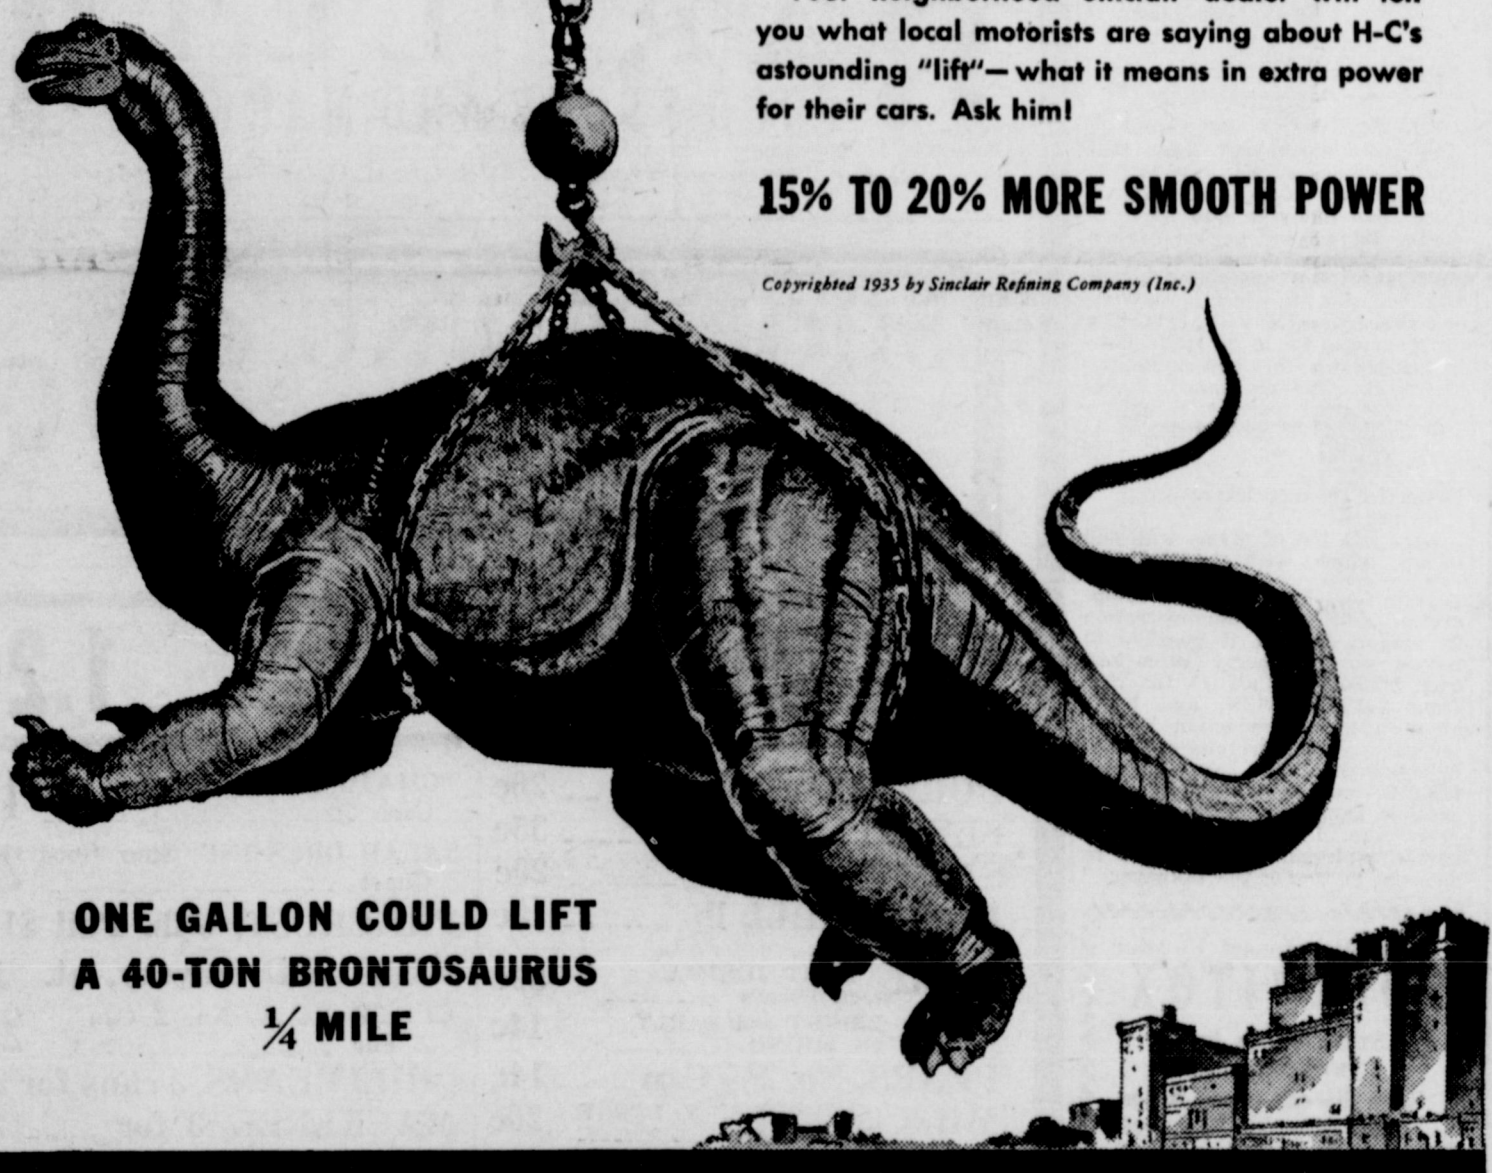

When you buy gasoline you buy liquid power. And power is measured by engineers in terms of lifting. A single gallon of Sinclair H-C Gasoline has the potential energy to lift 99 million pounds one foot. Putting that into a power picture we say one gallon of H-C could lift a 40-ton Brontosaurus 1/4 mile.

In automobile road tests Sinclair H-C Gasoline gave 15% to 20% more smooth power and from 1 to 3 more miles per gallon — compared to 12 other well-known gasolines!

Your neighborhood Sinclair dealer will tell you what local motorists are saying about H-C's astounding "lift" — what it means in extra power for their cars. Ask him!

FRIENDLY WHITE SHOES Easy to Clean

Here are shoes in all over white and in white combinations that are hard to soil, yet easy to clean. Grease, ink, and ordinary smudges are easily removed with soap and water.

We can't understand how Jarman makes such shoes for only $5.00.

The Malcolm, in all white Washette, is most appropriate for all Summer occasions. $5

A smart combination is the Malcolm in white Washette, trimmed in red calf. $5

This popular pattern in black calf and white Washette is preferred by many. $5

Soil Conservation Program Aims To Prevent Erosion And Rebuild Soil Fertility

COLLEGE STATION, April 23.—"Every cultivated crop takes a definite amount of original plant food out of the soil, and the necessary cultivation of such crops exposes the land to erosion. This results not only in additional losses of soil, but also in losses of fertility," says Jack Shelton, vice director and state agent of the Extension Service.

"Some crops deplete the fertility of the soil more than others and expose the land to a greater amount of erosion. It is the purpose of the new soil conservation act to put part of the land formerly devoted to such soil depleting crops into crops which will prevent erosion and will rebuild the fertility of the land to insure a stable supply of foods and fibers in the future.

"A brief review of figures determined by the agricultural experiment station over a period of nine years shows clearly the extent of soil erosion.

"Land with a two per cent slope when planted in cotton showed an average soil loss of 7.96 tons per acre per year. Land in milo lost 3.93 tons of soil. Land in buffalo grass lost 1.56 tons.

"These figures show that aside from the plant food used by the crop, farmers of the state pay more than two times as much washed away soil from a crop of cotton as they do for a crop of milo. Similarly, they pay more than five times as much for a crop of cotton as for a crop of buffalo grass.

"The importance of crops in the conservation of moisture was also demonstrated at Spur, where it was found that the cotton plot lost 2.83 inches of water in runoff; milo lost 1.76 inches, and the buffalo grass lost 1.03 inches.

"These results were obtained at the sub-station near Spur in Dickens County, located in the Rolling Plains region of North-

TRI-STATE FAIR RACE MEET WILL BE HELD MAY 8-16

AMARILLO MEET PROMISES TO BE LARGEST OF ITS KIND IN HISTORY.

AMARILLO, April 22.—Horse racing in the Panhandle is expected to reach a new high in all respects here May 8-16.

Ever since the Tri-State Fair commenced staging horse racing in Amarillo each succeeding meeting has surpassed the previous ones both in the matter of attendance and the quality of thoroughbreds entered.

That this spring's meeting next month will surpass even last fall's seasonally successful one is seen in the early swamping of the stable office for stall space and the fact that for three days during the races the West Texas Chamber of Commerce will convene in its annual meeting.

Mason King, the Tri-State's director of racing, announced last Saturday that over 300 stalls already had been reserved by horse owners. Ninety percent of these reservations are for thoroughbred, registered running horses.

This number of entries completely overflows the available stall space in the regular barns. However, King said that he would continue to accept reservations because during the spring meeting he has access to the stock barns at the Fair Grounds.

Delegates of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce will find their convention schedule so arranged it will permit them to attend the races in the afternoon. Post time each day will be at 2 o'clock p. m. The program will be speeded up so the final race will end promptly at 8 o'clock.

The Tri-State track has a reputation that extends over the entire country. Horse owners have come to know that the track is the best 5-8 mile course in the entire Southwest, and that every purse is paid as advertised in the condition books. Turf fans know that the races are conducted on a high plane, and the Texas Racing Commission has complimented the Tri-State officials for the manner in which they strive to uphold every detail of the state law.

Many Conveniences Afforded In Plan For Resettlement Families

Living expenses will be less than $20 a month in cash for the family buying one of the fertile, well equipped farms which have been authorized by the Resettlement Administration for 796 landless Texans and Oklahomans. But $58 worth of home-grown products will be used each month, and the family's living standards will be more satisfactory than those of city families with much higher cash incomes.

The resettlement family will have running water in its bathroom, and perhaps electric lights, the same as the city family. But it will also have what the city family does not — home-grown hams in its pantry, long shelves of home-packed fruits and vegetables, poultry, and fresh eggs and butter of its own raising. Meanwhile, it will be acquiring ownership of its own home, at cost no greater than renting a worn-out farm with a tumble-down cabin.

A typical plan as worked out by resettlement is for a 71-acre farm in the Harris County project announced last week. Out of its home-grown products, the family on this farm will eat 20 bushels of potatoes, and garden and orchard products valued at $75. It will use 25 bushels of home-grown cotton seed for planting, and feed to livestock 500 bushels of home-grown corn and seven tons of sudan. The value of the 15-acre home pasture for livestock is estimated at $70.

Livestock products used at home will include 200 pounds of butter, one calf, three pigs, 25 hens and 200 dozen eggs. Crops and livestock products used at home have a combined value of $695 a year, or $58 a month.

The family will need to put out only $225 in cash during the year, for living expenses—food $60, clothing $75, supplies $10, furnishings and equipment $20, housing upkeep $30, medical care $15, personal items $15. In addition, cash expenses for operating the farm will be $416. This covers feed $36, fertilizer $35, containers (for home-grown food) $30, machinery repair $20, hired labor $75, seed $35, veterinary $10, taxes $60, insurance $15, ginning $35.

It will be noted that the item for automobile is charged by the Resettlement Administration to necessary operating expenses.

Adding the $225 a year for cash living, and $416 for cash operating expense, cash outlay of the family buying this 71-acre resettlement farm is estimated at a total of $641. This is more cash than the average farm family in Texas takes in during the year, but the resettlement families are being placed only on the best land, and the farm management program is based on practices which return more income per acre than most farmers have been able to earn in the past.

After using what he needs at home, it is estimated that the resettlement farmer will sell seven bales of cotton for $350, three tons of sudan hay for $18, 90 bushels of peanuts for $55, 200 bushels of potatoes for $150, 12 tons of cabbage for $120, 25 fryers for $10, five hogs for $50, one calf for $10, one colt for $40, 500 pounds of butter for $125, and 700 dozen eggs for $140. It will bring him $1,138 cash. Out

Acord Dairy Is Damaged By Fire

A fire, believed to have started from an oil stove, caused damage estimated at from $200 to $300 to the bottling room of the J. M. Acord Dairy Sunday afternoon. The fire occurred about 6:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Acord and her son, Randall, were at home alone at the time. Randall discovered the blaze, and the two rushed to the barn and extinguished the flame, unaided, with water from a horse trough.

Teachers For Coming Year Are Re-Elected

Present teachers in the system of Clarendon Independent Schools were re-elected for the coming year at a meeting of the board of trustees held at the First National Bank building Saturday evening, April 18, according to an announcement by officials of the board this week.

Another meeting of the board has been called for next Saturday night, at which time finances for the operation of the schools for the coming year will be discussed.

of this, he will have to pay the $641 cash for living expenses and farm operation. Then he will hand the Resettlement Administration $315 as annual installment on the farm, which will pay out in 40 years. For five years, he will pay $75 a year to clear up the debt for livestock and farm machinery. Even then, he will have left $117 cash to bank.

The projects recently authorized include 200 farms in North Central Texas, 93 in the Wichita River Valley, 120 in Harris County, and 120 (for negroes) in Harrison County, Texas; and 200 farms in the Cookson Hills area and 65 in Southern Oklahoma. Tenant farmers and rehabilitation clients recommended by county agents and county advisory committees are being selected as prospective purchasers. Additional projects are under consideration.

The meeting Monday was presided over by Mrs. C. A. Burton, chairman. J. M. Hill was elected to the board to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Sam M. Braswell upon his removal from Clarendon.

An inscription for a marker for Donley County, as presented by the Advisory Board of Texas Historians, was approved at this meeting.

Lane as night watchman at $18 a month, and O. S. Anderson as street cleaner at $18 a month, a perusal of the minutes discloses.

It was also ordered that W. S. Carlisle be employed as street and water works superintendent at a salary of $75 a month, and mayor's and commissioners' salaries will remain at $25 a month.

F. L. Goldston, chief of police; George Garrison, assistant, and A. N. Wood, deputy, will resign their positions.

All the foregoing is effective May 1, according to the minutes of the meeting.

Martin, in resigning from the mayor's office, made the following statement: "I want to thank the city commission and tax-

Williams Tells

(Continued from Page One) Do you know them? Does that list of names recall any certain thing to any of you old timers? More than likely it does not.

The list of names was taken from a program for a play "Better Than Gold," presented in the high school auditorium here Wednesday evening, May 13, 1914. The program was found by R. L. Bain in the cellar of his house one day this week. The program is somewhat yellowed with age, but is still fairly well preserved and is quite legible.

Postoffice Nomenclature—Swiped:

Here is a list of towns with odd names, which, with the state in-players for their splendid co-operation during my administration as mayor, making it possible to reduce your property valuations over $120,000, reduce the tax rate from $150 to $1.20, and bring about a liberal reduction in water rates. Also, the city's bonded indebtedness has been reduced $23,650, and there is now more cash on hand than there was two years ago. I sincerely hope the new commission may be able to do even more for the taxpayers."
