Sheep and Goat Purchases Will Start Here Soon

City Agent Expects Program To Under Way By Next Week;
12,000 Applications.

The federal government's sheep and goat purchasing program in Brownwood county will likely be begun next week, according to information given out by County Agent C.
Lehberg. This program will be similar to the cattle purchasing program which has been under way for several weeks.

Sheep and goat raisers of the county have made applications to purchase 10,000 sheep and 2,000 goats under government and as soon as the program can be begun, an application will begin the task of purchasing these animals. Additional applications for the sale of sheep and goats are expected to be made throughout the county.

Sheep and goats does one year old and over will be purchased. Mr.
Lehberg states. No male stock will be bought. The government will pay $2.00 per head for sheep and $1.50 for goats. Animals suitable for food will be shipped and the remainder will be sold. Owners of condemned sheep and goats will be required to kill the animals and dispose of the carcasses.

Lehberg states that the sheep and goats listed for sale to the government may be sheared before they are sold.

MISSING OFFICIAL TO BE HERE FRIDAY
TO EXPLAIN PLANS

R. A. Stuart, director of the Federal Housing Administration for the West Texas District, will be in Brownwood Friday, September 13, and at a public meeting to be held in the Gold Room, Hotel Brownwood, at eight P. M. He will explain the Federal Housing program to the public. The general public is invited. Real estate brokers, bankers, real estate agents, executives of building and loan associations, contractors and others in building material.

Stuart's address will be of interest to home owners
as well as to the groups mentioned.

Stuart's itinerary is being published by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and the office here is being held under the auspices of the Brownwood
Chamber of Commerce.

LOT ALLOTMENTS ARE SENT TO A. & M.

Permanent allotment certificates expected to be received within the next few days from state authorities for Brown county farmers. Tax exemption certificates also will be received in a short time, according to County Agent C. W. Lehberg.
More than 2,000 applications were received from this county to Texas A.
state headquarters, this morning.

Receipt of the permanent
allotment and tax exemption certificates, interim allotment certificates have been issued to about 1,000 farmers of the county.
Lehberg's supply of interim allotment certificates will be exhausted if received before receipt of permanent certificates.

Receipt of the permanent
allotment and tax exemption certificates, the gigantic task of the Brown county under the provisions of the AAA cotton program will have been completed.

Free fruit imported from France will be sold in six gallons of fruit per year, proving the species can be raised in the northwest's cool climate, its owner believes.

Divorce Reported Costly

Mrs. Rachel Lynch Clews Munger, 19-year-old heiress to a $30,000-000 chain store fortune, has created as much speculation through her Reno divorce from John Elliot Munger, young explorer, as through her unexpected marriage on June 8, 1933, and separation 11 days later. It was rumored the divorce property settlement on Munger totalled $12,000,000, but Mrs. Munger's mother called that amount ridiculously high.

COMMUNITY COUNCIL MAKES PLANS FOR YEAR'S WORK AND ADOPTS TENTATIVE BUDGET

RELIEF activities in Brown County supplementing that of state relief organizations, will be undertaken again this year by the Brownwood Community Council. It was decided at the initial meeting of directors of this organization this week. Relief organizations will be able to take care of only minimum food needs of families on the rolls, and without the assistance of the Community Council, many families in the county would be without sufficient clothing this winter.

SIX NEW BUILDINGS TO HOUSE CCC CAMP WILL BE BUILT SOON

Order For Materials Indicates Permanent Nature Of Camp To Be Built At State Park.

Six additional buildings, all suitable for winter quarters, will be constructed soon at Lake Brownwood Park, these being for use by the Civilian Conservation Corps camp that is scheduled to move to the park September 30. In addition, the present barracks at the park will be made suitable for winter use by the 250-man CCC camp.

The Brownwood Chamber of Commerce this week received from Captain John L. Pierce, of Fort Sam Houston, bid forms to be used in obtaining materials for the new buildings and present barracks that are to be added to. The forms are being turned over to Brownwood dealers and their bids will be opened at 10 o'clock Monday morning, September 17, in the Chamber of Commerce offices. An officer will be sent to Brownwood to receive and open the bids, Captain Pierce stated.

Specifications on the bid forms sent to Brownwood call for the use of 46,330 board feet of lumber, this not including roofing, hardware and other material to be used. According to previous estimates, the work to be done at the park in order to accommodate the 250-man CCC camp during the winter will cost about $10,000, this to include material and labor.

The CCC camp, now located at Buffalo Gap, in Taylor county, is scheduled to move to Lake Brownwood.

COMMISSIONERS COURT FIXES BUDGET FOR 1935; SALARIES RESTORED TO LEVEL OF 1933

RESTORING salaries of several county officials to the level of 1933; making provision for $1,200 for hospitalization of indigent citizens of the county, and fixing general expenditures at approximately the same figure as last year, the Brown county commissioners court Wednesday adopted the county budget for 1935. The budget calls for expenditure of $179,589.41 by the county next year, of which $65,162.50 will go toward retirement of county bonds.

The salary hike did not come without opposition. On the first salary item under consideration, it was proposed to raise the county judge's ex-officio salary $30 a month, or from $2,040 for the year to $2,400. Commissioners Chas. B. Palmer and E. S. Thompson voted for the raise, while Commissioners Jas. W. Phillips and J. A. Bettis opposed the raise. County Judge Courtney Gray broke the tie by voting for the increased salary. On other salary increases the court was unanimous.

Other salary increases included: county clerk ex-officio salary from $340 to $400; county attorney from $330 to $450 and county treasurer from $1,700 maximum to $2,000 maximum. All these officials in addition to the ex-officio salaries receive fees from their offices, with the exception of the treasurer. This is a free office, with the maximum figure set by the court.

The $179,589.41 anticipated expenditure of the county for the coming year is divided as follows: To be spent from the jury fund, $5411.00; from the road and bridge fund, $76,990.00; from the general fund, $32,925.84; interest and sinking fund, $65,126.50. In addition to this, the state will retire $33,737.43 of Brown county bonds, according to the present plan.

Salaries Established. Portions of salaries to be paid out of county funds were set as follows: County judge, $2,400; county clerk, $400; county attorney, $450; sheriff, $420 (estimated total to be paid from county general fund, $5350); commissioners, $1530 each, stenographer for county judge, $900; district clerk, $500; assessor-collector, $650; health officer, $900; court reporter, $1,342.84; county agent, $1,200; home demonstration agent, $1,200; auditor, $1,500; jailer, $975; janitor, $900.

Hospitalization of indigents was assured through the adoption of $1,200 for 1935 for this work. This project was requested by the Brownwood Community Council last year, but the court explained it must await adoption of a new budget. The court set aside a total of $3,270 for charity, which includes the $1,200 item.

Officers of the organization for the year were elected at a meeting earlier in the week. They are: J. Edward Johnson, president; Mrs. Carl McIntosh, vice president; Wendall Mayes, secretary; and Mrs. J. H. McKee, treasurer. Directors include the above officers and: D. T. Strickland, W. P. Murphy, John Yantis, Gilbert Harrison, Douglas Colson, E. J. Weatherly, Mrs. H. G. Lucas, Mrs. M. E. Wakefield and Mrs. Fred S. Abney.

At a meeting of directors Thursday morning, the budget committee, composed of Mrs. Lucas, Mrs. Abney, Mrs. McIntosh and Mrs. Wakefield, submitted a budget calling for expenditures totaling $1,200 for the year ending June 30, 1935. The budget will be divided as follows: Clothing, $500; medical relief, $300; bedding, $100; milk and lunches for school children, $150 and emergencies, $150. This is designed to take care of minimum necessities of the neediest families on relief rolls only.

Methods of raising the money needed will be worked out by the finance committee, of which Mr. Strickland is chairman.

The Community Council this year will continue its relief work at the Community House, which is under direct supervision of the Junior Service League. In addition, it will supply bedding, clothing and medical relief for needy families. One of the major activities will be the providing of milk and lunches for children of relief families at Ford and Looney schools. Children at other ward schools will be provided for by the parent-teacher organizations in those schools.

The Community Council is beginning its second year's work. Last year much good was done by this organization, under the direction of Mrs. H. G. Lucas, president. One of the projects sponsored was free hospitalization for relief families. Realization of this objective was in sight this week as the county commissioners court voted $1,200 into the 1935 budget for this work.

The unofficial vote tabulated by The Banner following the election and which included the Kimble county vote showed a greater total with South polling 28,626 votes and Runge 24,096 votes.

Ruins New Deal Painting; Jailed

Six months in jail was the sentence imposed on John Smiuske, shown here in court, for throwing naphtha on a painting that scathingly satirized the New Deal and especially the Roosevelt family, as it was exhibited in Tarrytown, N. Y. Smiuske ruined the picture, he said, because he did not like the idea of holding the Roosevelts up to ridicule.

SCHOOLS OF COUNTY OPEN SESSIONS FOR TERM OF 1934-1935

Schools in Better Shape for Opening Of Term Than in Many Years, Pierce Finds.

Five schools of the county, Bangs, Early-Williams, Cross Cut and Clear Creek, began their 1934-1935 school work Monday of this week and at least that many more, Zephyr, May, Indian Creek, Woodland Heights and Grosvenor, will open their doors next Monday. Mukewater, Concord and Clio are scheduled to begin this year's work on Monday, September 29. Holder school opened several weeks ago, but will suspend classes within a week or two to permit the students to help with gathering this year's cotton crop.

Schools of the county have done more work during the summer months in preparation for school openings than ever before. Superintendent F. D. Pierce states. The Blanket and Williams schools have made extensive improvements during the summer as have other schools of the county. Zephyr and Brooksmith, both seeking classification and affiliation this year, have made extensive preparations for the year's work. Zephyr has improved its library, class rooms and study hall. Brooksmith has made material improvements in its science room and library.

Many of the schools of the county have purchased new buses during the summer to replace buses that have been in operation several years.

Teachers contracts have not all been filed with the county superintendent but the following list gives the faculties of the rural schools, the list being based on available information at the county superintendent's office:

Cross Cut: W. T. Hughes, principal; Linden Newton, Mrs. J. P. Leight, Goldie Erwin, Elizabeth Tyson, A. H. Plummer, Mrs. W. T. Hughes.

Williams: Clive Pierce, superintendent; E. S. Scott, M. H. Chambers, Charlie Anderson, Annie Laurie Petsick, Hettie McClanahan, Lottie Mae Palmore, Sadie Seward.

Grosvenor: Arla E. Hallford, superintendent; Harvey Byrd, Elva Middleton, Elma Threatt, Mabel Byrd, Lillian Ayres.

Concord: Roy Simmons, principal; Inez Scott, Josephine Sanderson.

Blanket: W. B. Jones, superintendent; M. G. Smoot, principal; Carl Shannon, Mrs. V. L. Parks, Lydia Boenick, Lillie Pearl Allcorn, Maurine Bird, Lillian Durham, Mrs. W. B. Jones.

McDaniel: R. D. McLemore, Mrs. Deomar Triplett.

Early: C. E. Boyd, superintendent; W. P. Hopkins, Ira Funderburk, Ina Lightsey, Mrs. Erma Medcalf, Mrs. Ruby Gill, Clova Earl Kennedy, Lee Roy Preston, Mrs. Pearl Tolleson.

CITY TAX RATE IS CUT; R. L. M'GAUGH NEW CITY ATTORNEY

Sunday Picture Show Ordinance Is Repealed By Council At Busy Session.

Reduction of the city tax rate, the election of R. L. McGaugh as city attorney and the passing of an ordinance on first reading legalizing Sunday picture shows were the highlights of activities by officials of the city of Brownwood during the past week. The foregoing business, along with other routine matters, featured the regular meeting of City Council Tuesday night.

An ordinance fixing the tax rate at $1.80 per hundred dollar valuation, five cents lower than the 1933 rate of $1.85, was passed as an emergency and becomes immediately effective. In addition to lowering the tax rate, city officials announced that the total valuation of property in the city had been reduced by about $250,000, this having been done by the board of equalization which has just concluded its work. Total rendition of property for taxes last year was $10,133,000 as compared to a total of approximately $9,900,000 for this year.

In passing the ordinance fixing the tax rate for 1934, city officials also provided for the split payment plan for tax payers. The first half payments will be due from October 1 through January 31 with the second half payments to be made between July 1 and July 31. The usual ten per cent penalty and six per cent interest will be levied against taxes that become delinquent.

Judge R. L. McGaugh, of the law firm of McGaugh and Darroch, was chosen city attorney to succeed the late R. E. Lee after city council had read the applications of four attorneys for the place. In this connection, Mayor Thompson was ordered to draw up a resolution of respect and sympathy in the death of R. E. Lee, who served as city attorney for fourteen years.

City Council canvassed returns from the special election held last Saturday on Sunday movies and declared the official vote to be: For Sunday shows, 1121; against Sunday shows, 746. Council then passed an ordinance on first reading legalizing the Sunday movies. Mayor Thompson stated that Brownwood theaters may offer their first shows Sunday, Sept. 16.

BAND MUSIC ADDED TO SCHOOL COURSE

Public school students of Brownwood this year will receive free instruction in band music and those taking advantage of the band courses to be offered will be given credit for their work, according to announcements by W. R. Parker, band instructor. In years gone by no credits have been given students taking band courses but beginning this year, students availing themselves of this instruction will receive one-half credit toward graduation. However, a high school student must take the band course two years to receive credit—one full credit for the two years work.

Bands will be organized this year in the ward schools, junior and senior high schools, Mr. Parker states. Pupils from the fourth to sixth grades, inclusive, may enter the ward school bands. Classes in ward school band work will be taught two or three times each week. The junior high band will have daily classes and pupils in the eighth grade will receive credits toward graduation. The senior high band will also have daily classes.

Mr. Parker expects to have at least 35 in the senior high band and more than 100 students in all the schools. An orchestra in the schools is also to be organized but announcements concerning this will be made at a later date.

Work Resumed On Relief Projects In Brown County

Lake Brownwood, Pecan Station, State Park Benefit Through Resumption Of Work.

Work was resumed this week on a number of county work relief projects and will be continued for about ten days, officials at Brown county relief headquarters state. The relief office received a $6,000 check from the state relief office last week.

A crew of thirteen men has been at work at Lake Brownwood Park all week. Several park improvements are being completed, these including the digging of a water well.

Eight persons are being employed daily at the county canning plant on Coggin Avenue. This will be continued until October 10 and perhaps longer.

A test well is being dug at Bangs by a crew of four men and Friday a crew of eight men will begin digging a well in that city for municipal water supply. The well will be sixteen feet in diameter and twenty feet deep, or deeper if necessary. It will require about fifteen days to complete this job.

A crew of thirty men began work Tuesday morning clearing trees, brush, old fences and other rubbish from the basin of Lake Brownwood. This project was approved for the Brownwood water district which is providing transportation to and from the lake for the workmen. Eleven days will be required to finish this work.

Lateral road work in the four commissioners precincts will be begun Friday. A crew of 27 will be used in precinct one for nine days. These workmen will work three days, lay off three and work three until the full nine days are put in. In precinct two a crew of 21 will work for nine days and a smaller crew will work a few days longer doing clean-up work. A crew of thirty men will be used in precinct three for nine days while in precinct four crews of forty-five, thirty and forty will work three days each.

Twenty-four men went to work Wednesday clearing grounds at the federal pecan experiment station, this work to continue for five days. A crew of six men is kept busy daily at Brownwood cattle pens loading cattle purchased by the government.

OPENING EXERCISES OF TWO COLLEGES ARE HELD ON WEDNESDAY

Formal openings for Brownwood's two colleges, Howard Payne and Daniel Baker, were held Wednesday morning with large numbers of visitors and patrons, in addition to the student bodies, attending the programs. Pastors of Brownwood churches attended the openings and were introduced. They invited students holding membership in their churches to attend services while in school in Brownwood.

The two colleges began registrations for the fall terms Monday morning and this continued through Tuesday. The formal openings Wednesday were the first sessions of the year. Class work began at the two schools Thursday and other college activities will be organized within a few days. Registration of students will likely continue through this week as late arrivals have been reporting daily despite the fact that registrations were to have closed Tuesday.

Enrollments at both colleges have surpassed expectations, officials of the schools state. Optimism prevails on the campus of both colleges, it being the opinion of faculty members and officials that the 1934-1935 school year will be a most successful one.

Wild cotton is being exterminated because it harbors several insect pests dangerous to the commercial variety.

Selection this week of Dallas as the Centennial City of 1936 by the Centennial Commission means more than the mere fact that the North Texas city will be the site of the major celebration of Texas' 100th birthday. It is a definite milestone in the progressive steps that have been taken during the past ten or twelve years in holding a major celebration in Texas two years from now. And the most important milestone, as it marks the most definite step yet made toward actual achievement of the centennial.

Centennial City

It was of little interest to Texans generally which city of the three won the honor of holding the Centennial. San Antonio and Houston, probably favored historically, were unable to match the financial offer of Dallas, and so the major celebration went north.

Dallas probably will be able to give Texas a better Centennial celebration than would any other city in Texas. In the first place, it is a well known fact that a very high percentage of the visitors to a celebration of this nature come from within a radius of some 200 miles of the convention city. About 75 per cent of the population of Texas lives within such a radius of Dallas. This means that the main celebration will be available to most Texans.

The size of the bid of Dallas—more than $7,000,000—assures a well financed Centennial. It is the plan of the Centennial Commission to have this matched with at least five million dollars from the state, and another five million from the Federal government. This would give a 17,000,000 fund with which to inaugurate the celebration, which then could be made worthy of Texas.

The Texas Centennial now is an assured fact. It no longer is a project which must be established in the minds of the people. That the celebration is to be held, that an adequate celebration will be held, is established. It now is up to the people of Texas to see that it truly is representative of Texas' 100 years of glorious history.

We are reminded, through receipt of the address of the Republican candidate for Governor of Texas in accepting nomination, that there will be at least two tickets before the voters in the November elections. Hon. D. E. Waggoner of Dallas is the man selected by the Republican party to head their ticket this year, and as usual, the Republicans have selected a worthy leader.

Republican Convention

Mr. Waggoner arrives at some interesting deductions, however, when he delves into the statistics of the situation. He points out that there are some 1,108,000 poll tax payers in Texas, and probably from 200,000 to 250,000 who are entitled to vote through exemptions.

Taking these figures, he points out that only some 800,000 Texans voted in the second Democratic primary, leaving 508,000 eligible voters who for some reason or another, refrained from voting. If he should receive these 508,000 votes, he reasons, together with 150,000 who did vote Democratic in August, but who "would turn to conservative leadership," he would receive 658,000 votes, as against 650,000 votes for Mr. Allred.

The main difficulty with his reasoning, as we view the matter, is the impossibility of getting the 508,000 voters out to the polls. Taking into consideration that some 100,000 of them normally are Republicans, it seems an impossible task. For, if they weren't interested enough to vote with a spirited campaign for many offices in progress, who, except a hopeful candidate, expects them to vote when there is no contest to speak of?

Incidentally, the Republican party seems to lean toward life insurance executives as leaders. If we remember correctly, it was an executive of another large Dallas insurance company who was the Republican candidate for Governor two years ago.

Even the most optimistic supporters of President Roosevelt's New Deal policies admit that there is much to be done yet before America is definitely on its way out of the depression. And while the present policies of the Administration have worked wonders, new policies must be devised to keep conditions even as good as they are now through the months to come.

13c Cotton

The most noteworthy progress has been made in the line of agriculture, and the AAA, in contrast to policies of other administrations, has seemed to be equal to meet almost any emergency. Farmers are receiving good money for cattle that otherwise would have been a burden to them, corn, hog and wheat checks are filling in the gap between planting and harvest time, and good prices are available for such products as have been raised during the drought period that has beset the middle west.

We are particularly impressed by the success that has met the Administration's efforts to bolster the price of cotton. A reference to our files shows that one year ago, after the plow-up campaign was well under way, cotton was selling in Brownwood at 8.70 cents per pound. With the Bankhead Act in operation this year, the most drastic measure of the New Deal in agriculture, cotton was quoted here at 13.40, well above the 12 cent goal set a year ago.

It has been a hard course to follow, and beset by drastic practices, but maybe we are finally on the way out.

Lower Taxes

In these times of increasing cost of government, it is refreshing to note that the Brownwood city tax rate has been reduced five cents, from $1.85 to $1.80. The tendency for the past decade has been to increase taxes to the legal limit, regardless of the decreasing ability of taxpayers to meet these obligations.

Incidentally, reductions within the city have been decreased in recent years, tending to ease the burden on taxpayers within the city limits. In spite of this, the city has been maintained on a cash basis through the trying times of low collections.

The members of the city council have a hard, thankless task, and it is fortunate that Brownwood has been able to secure the services of men of foresight and ability, with the interest of the city and its people in mind.

Fifty Famous Frontiersmen

By Elmo Scott Watson

Rising Wolf, White Blackfoot
The blood of French nobility and of English aristocracy flowed in his veins. He was fair-haired and blue-eyed and white-skinned, but to this day he is revered among the Blackfeet Indians as "Rising Wolf," one of their own greatest and best-loved. Hugh Monroe was his name and he was born at Three Rivers, Quebec, in 1798, the son of Capt. Hugh Monroe of the British army in Canada and Amelle de la Roche, daughter of a noble family of French emigres.

When but sixteen years of age he persuaded his parents to let him enter the service of the Hudson's Bay company, the lords of the empire of fur, and that spring he started west with a flotilla of their canoes. The next year he was at Mountain Post on the Saskatchewan. Around the fort were camped thousands of Blackfeet, come there to trade for the white man's goods. But as yet the company had no Blackfeet interpreter and the H. B. C. factor at the post, impressed with the intelligence of young Monroe, detailed him to live and travel with the Pikuni (Piegan) tribe of the Blackfeet until he should learn their language and be able to influence them to return to Mountain Post each year to do their trading.

Young Monroe succeeded beyond the wildest hopes of the H. B. C. factor. The first thing he did, quite by chance, made a deep impression upon the Indians. He lighted the medicine man's pipe of tobacco by holding a burning glass, concealed in his hand, over it and the Blackfeet, awe-stricken by his apparent link with their great deity, the sun, thereafter regarded him as "great medicine." Later he strengthened the bond by marrying Sinoakpi, or Fox Woman, the daughter of Lone Walker, a great chief of the Pikuni.

During his long years with the Hudson's Bay company and later with the American Fur company, for which he became post hunter at Fort Benton in Montana and as a free trapper, Monroe extended his influence over the Blackfeet to other tribes as well until he was probably the best-known and best-liked white man among the tribes of the Northern Plains.

Rising Wolf and Fox Woman were the parents of two sons and two daughters, John, Francois, Lizzie and Amelia. The latter married Thomas Jackson, a Virginian, and they had two sons, Robert and William Jackson. Monroe had a great deal to do with the training of these two grandsons who became noted as scouts for Gen. Geo. A. Custer and Gen. Nelson A. Miles in the Sioux war of 1876-77.

John Ruskin went to the British Museum and looked at the penguin exhibit whenever he felt downhearted; this exhibit always made him laugh.

A POLITICAL GESTURE

(Dallas Times-Herald.)
Members of the Texas senate, who profess to be so anxious for Attorney General Allred to use drastic measures to enforce the law, seem to forget that the Constitution specifically says that it is the duty of the governor to see that the laws are enforced.

If these senators have expected the attorney general to take the action they suggest, they have not proposed to provide him with the funds necessary to increase his staff and to pay traveling expenses. Even now they do not suggest that this be done.

Political gestures of this kind are absurd. They are merely conducive to discord in the government at a time when harmony is especially desirable. Political factions who are defeated in the elections should accept defeat gracefully.

Even as governor, Allred will not be expected by the people of Texas to break all precedents by attempting to coerce district attorneys and sheriffs throughout the State. He will be expected only to co-operate with local officials and to do all he can to enable them to perform their duties and to co-operate with each other.

It is logical to suppose that these senators will make the same demand of the new attorney general that they make of Allred, but it is highly improbable that William McCraw will attempt to enforce the criminal laws himself unless the legislature amends the statutes and provides him with more money than any previous attorney general has had.

Co-ordination of the law enforcement machinery of the State would be desirable, but it would not serve the public interest for either the attorney general or the governor to attempt to act as dictator. The senators who have taken a slap at Allred probably would be among the first to oppose such a policy.

In Archer county 134 home demonstration club girls and women have reported planting fall gardens since the rains. Swiss chard, pinto beans, kale, beets, carrots and radishes were favorite vegetables with these gardeners.

ON TEXAS FARMS

George West—"It pays well to hog down corn in southwest Texas." C. E. Hale, tenant on the A. E. Probst farm in Love Oak county, told Frank Nagy, farm demonstration agent. Mr. Hale and Mr. Probst planted an early variety of corn with every other row in Chinese red cowpeas and on June 11 turned 65 head of hogs into the field. On June 26 the field had been cleaned and 35 hogs were sent to market where they were classed as top hogs and sold for 4 1-2 cents per pound. The remaining 30 hogs were turned into a ten acre patch and in twelve days they were moved to market and sold for 4 1-2 cents per pound. Mr. Probst and Mr. Hale figure that the last ten acre field alone was worth $100 by hogging it down, while they estimate that if it had been sold at 86 cents per bushel, they would not have realized more than $60.

San Saba—In spite of the dry weather, J. H. Hart of the Shiloh community in San Saba county, has had fresh corn to supply the local trade since early June besides having plenty for home use and for canning a winter's supply, according to N. E. Scudder, farm demonstration agent. Last year Mr. Hart was one of the four demonstrators who received samples of a new sweet corn developed at College Station, and his corn this year was planted from seed saved from last year's crop.

Crowell—Believing that it would be worthwhile to water his orchard during the extremely dry weather, Horace Taylor, Ford county farmer living in the Rayland community, began early to supply an abundance of water to his peach trees, according to Fred Rennels, farm demonstration agent. Mr. Taylor used a small engine placed over his well. The result is that his orchard is in good condition, borers are not attacking the trees, and the quality of the fruit has improved 50 per cent, Mr. Taylor says.

McKinney—Gherkins are raised instead of cucumbers by Mrs. W. P. Bryan, member of the Bethany Home Demonstration Club in Collins county, because they have the same flavor as cucumbers and produce abundantly until frost, according to Miss Helen Dunlap, home demonstration agent. Mrs. Bryan says that her eight vines have been in production for the past two weeks although her cucumber vines dried up on account of the drought. She now has 2 1-2 gallons of gherkins put up in brine for curing. After six weeks or longer she will soak out the brine and make the gherkins into sweet and sour pickles. Mrs. Bryan also has 16 gallons of cucumbers which she bought that are now in a brine solution for curing.

Edna—Forty-nine 4-H club girls in Jackson county reported to Miss Bonnie Cox, home demonstration agent, that they have made 270 garments this year at a cost of $89.58. The estimated value of the garments is $181.11 which gives the girls a return of $91.43 for their work. The same girls have mended 123 garments during the year.

TERRACING WORK IS UNDERTAKEN BY MANY VOCATIONAL CLASSES

G. H. Morrison, vocational cultural teacher of May School, in a prepared statement, The Banner, states that terracing of farming land is one of the most important things now before the farmers of this section. In his article, Mr. Morrison gives a summary of work done by his pupils during the past year, plus for the new school year, throughout his discussion, the importance of terracing is emphasized. His article follows:

"In the past year the May chapter of Future Farmers has raised a total of 23,396 yards of terracing. From these terraces lines total of 29,255 yards of terracing have been actually built, by future farmers and operators. This is only a small part of the land that needs terracing as most of the land in the May district is subject to soil erosion. Many of the fertile areas that our grandfathers put into cultivation have ceased produce because his children or grandchildren have not prepared for the land.

"These boys realize that they will not have any soil on which to live unless they can convince the fathers and neighbors that they must terrace and terrace now. Farmers who have lived on the farms for years do not realize why a change is taking place as the rains come and that the good topsoil is going down the creek never to return. If they would think back ten, twenty or thirty years and compare the field that day with its present state, the fact that someone down the creek owns the best part of the farm and will have the rest of it unless something is done immediately.

"The problem of saving the soil is not only important in the community, but over this state and other states as well. In the United States over thirty-five million acres—an area equal to one-fifth of the entire state of Texas, have already been abandoned because of washing. One hundred thousand acres are being turned out of production each year. Erosion is costing us above four hundred million dollars each year. Just think how many money that it. If it were all silver dollars and loaded on trucks carrying a ton each and taking twenty feet of space, they would make a train over 47 miles long equal to the distance from Cisco to Brownwood through May and Rising Star.

"Of course, all this cannot be prevented, but most of it can be prevented, growing cover crops, strip farming and proper management. During the past year county agents and vocational agriculture teachers, working with the people, have terraced over seven million acres of land."

U. D. C. ELECTS

Mrs. Mary E. White was elected president of the Winnie Day Chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy at a meeting of that organization last Friday at the Southern Hotel.

Other officers chosen were: Mrs. H. A. Newby, first vice-president; Mrs. W. D. McCulley, second vice-president; Mrs. E. B. Clardy, recording secretary; Mrs. H. H. Hubert, registrar; Mrs. W. H. Hubert, historian; Mrs. Hugh Stewart, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Warren, treasurer.

Reports from California's border checking stations indicate approximately 80,000 persons will enter the state this year by automobile, an increase of about 10,000 last year.

MISS GILSTRAP NEW
DEPUTY SUPERINTENDENT

Miss Opal Gilstrap, who has been assigned by the State Department of Education as supervisor of the Brownwood district, has opened her office on the third floor of the courthouse and has begun developing her plans for the year's work with schools of the district. Miss Gilstrap succeeds O. L. Davis who has resigned to accept the superintendency of the San Benito public schools.

Miss Gilstrap has been with the Department of Education for eight years. She served as high school supervisor before the state was divided into districts. Last year she served as supervisor of the San Antonio district.

Changes made in this district this summer place Brownwood nearer the center of the district than heretofore. Four new counties have been added to this district and three counties formerly in this district have been transferred to other districts. The counties added are Callahan, Eastland, Shackelford and Stephens. Those transferred to other districts are Llano, Mason and McCulloch. The district now comprises the following counties: Brown, Callahan, Coleman, Comanche, Eastland, Hamilton, Lampasas, Mills, San Saba, Shackelford and Stephens.

nish excellent green onions for the table through the winter. A few feet of Iceberg or China Winter Rose radishes will add another variety to the table. Ehogoin is a new variety of turnips which will grow well under hot weather conditions and which are reported to be lice proof. Others to include in fall garden are cabbage, Kohlrabi, lettuce, coiledars, kale, rape, rutabaga, spinach, parsley, squash, beans, peas, saffly and Irish potatoes.

The writings of Linnæus on the sex system in plant life shocked the religious world of the 18th century and were banned for years in several European countries.

Mount Vernon—Drouth has taken its toll, but H. L. Johnson of the Cypress community in Franklin county estimates that he will make at least 25 bushels of corn per acre according to V. O. Teddlie, farm demonstration agent.

Mr. Johnson says that he selected his best soil for corn, broke the ground deep and harrowed it thoroughly, planted in a water furrow, and cultivated intensely. He also attributes part of his success to the fact that he always plants peas in his corn and keeps his land built up in this manner.

Mason—Six calves fed by Byron Eckert, Mason county 4-H club boy, made an average gain of 3.33 pounds per day during the month of June according to R. B. Tate, farm demonstration agent. Young Eckert's calves averaged 420 lbs. on July 1st. They are eating a whole grain ration consisting of 50 per cent whole corn, 40 per cent whole oats, and 10 per cent pea sized cotton seed cake, while they also have access to a nurse cow and plenty of bright prairie hay.

Reading Fun in Store for Boys

Here's important news for the boys of America. THE AMERICAN BOY—YOUTH'S COMPANION, the nation's quality magazine for boys, has been reduced from $2.00 a year to $1.00. The three-year rate, formerly $3.50, has been reduced to $2.00.

"For a long time we have been seeking a way to reduce the cost of THE AMERICAN BOY to readers," states Griffith Ogden Ellis, editor. "Recently we have effected savings that make the cut possible, and we think boys will agree that the new price is big news on the reading front. We hope boys will help us to spread the good news by telling their friends."

Along with the cut in cost, the magazine's publishers are planning a magazine that will continue to set the pace in fiction, articles, and departments: The favorite characters of millions of boys will parade through THE AMERICAN BOY in new stories. Douglas Renfrew of the Royal Canadian Mounted, Hide-rack, the red-and-gold child, Bone-head Jim Tierney, the detective, will give the reader many exciting hours in the months to come.

William Heyliger, whose true-to-life, gripping vocational stories have won him wide acclaim from parents and librarians, as well as the hearty approval of boys, is working on new stories. Staff writers are interviewing famous coaches and athletes and world-renowned explorers, to bring boys the color and fun of sports and travel.

In short, THE AMERICAN BOY, under its new price, will continue to give boys a magazine that measures up to the best standards set by adult magazines. Send your subscription to THE AMERICAN BOY, 7430 Second Blvd., Detroit, Michigan. Enclose your name and address and the proper amount of money, and THE AMERICAN BOY will soon be headed your way, loaded with reading thrills.

Far-Away Schools
Send Exhibits To
Brownwood Pupils

Second grade students at Brownwood Heights ward school, taught by Miss Willie Payne McElroy, have been greatly interested this week in two exhibits, one sent here by second grade students at Seoul, Korea, and the other by second grade students at Bratislava, Czechoslovakia. Miss McElroy's students last year sent a portfolio of school work to the students in Korea and the exhibit from there is in return.

The exhibit from Korea contains a pair of baby shoes made of rubber; a pair of chop sticks made of nickel; a queer Korean spoon; a doll's dress made in the style of the county; a child's arithmetic work book; work done in the Japanese language, which the children are required to learn, a writing brush and a writing stick, a Korean flag made into a fan and art work of second grade Korean children.

Replica of Peasants Hut. One of the most interesting things in the exhibit from Czechoslovakia is a replica of a peasant's one-room hut, showing the furnishings and also three dolls dressed in native costume. The furniture in the doll's house was made by the children. The exhibit also contains a book of scenes of the country, each page in the book having been individually designed by the school children; a stamp collection; original Czechoslovakian letters with translations; and pictures of castle ruins.

The school asked for another exhibit from the Brownwood school. The Czechoslovakian children say they want to know all about Indians and want some dolls dressed in Indian costumes. They also want some sea shells, a collection of U. S. stamps and some information about American farming. This will be sent by Miss McElroy's pupils this year.

MAKING
Smart
CLOTHES

A rather famous society woman who is known for her excellent taste in clothes recently told her secret of smartness for the woman over thirty. "Simple, soft lines are always more flattering to a mature woman. And soft, grayed colors have a way of lending charm and interest to even a very plain dress. These are the basic principles of my clothes technique." Here is a dress adroitly designed to make a mature woman look more slender. It is simple—yes. But the flattering jabot, the three-quarter sleeves (full at the elbow) take away from any feeling of harshness that a too-tailored dress might have. It is suitable made in sheer, in crepe or in satin—and it will be especially lovely in a gray-green, a dusty rose, a gray-blue, or any not too brilliant shade. A smart woman will wear it for country club afternoons, for luncheons, at resorts, and at home. This is a Butterick Pattern and may be bought at your favorite department store.

CHURCHILL FAMILY
HOLDS REUNION

Relatives of T. J. Churchill, resident of Brownwood for many years attended a family reunion on the San Saba river twenty miles below Brady, Sunday, September 9. This was a delightful and beautiful place to meet. There was an abundance of shade and water.

Children and relatives attending this reunion were: Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Sparkman and children of Coleman, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Maedgen and children of Brookesmith, Mrs. George Churchill and children of Brady, Mr. and Mrs. Way King and children of Eldorado, Mr. and Mrs. Barnett and several others from Winters, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Churchill of Coleman was unable to attend the reunion which we regretted so much.

Eighty-four persons enjoyed the great feast that was spread at the noon hour. Good music was furnished by the nephews of Mr. Churchill. Every one regretted so much to say good-bye. But promised to meet back there one year from that date.

250 Enrolled On Opening Day Of
Williams School

Judge E. M. Davis, nominee for State Senator, of Brownwood, was the principal speaker September 10th at the opening exercises of the Williams Public Schools. His topic, which was delightfully discussed, was "The Forgotten Commandment" or "Work." A large crowd attended the opening exercises. Superintendent Clive Pierce introduced the faculty and made a short talk to the patrons. The enrollment this year is approximately 250 students.

Virginia Gee gave a clever reading. Elva Whidden, grammar school teacher, gave a piano solo, and Tillman Kingsbury, one of the F. F. A. boys, made a report on some of the trips the F. F. A. boys made this summer.

The faculty is made up of nine members. They are as follows: Clive Pierce, supt., mathematics; Marvin Chambers, principal, history and science; Annie Laura Petsick, English; E. W. Scott, vocational agriculture and bookkeeping; Darwin Anderson, sixth and seventh grades; Sadie Seward, home economics and fourth and fifth grades; Elva Whidden, second and third grades; Hettie McClanahan, primary; Lottie Mae Palmore, primary and second and third grades at Byrds school.

From all indications, Williams will have one of the best school years in the history of the school. The public is always welcome to visit the school.

SHORT ILLNESS IS FATAL TO R. E. LEE

Judge Robert Edward Lee, 54, a prominent attorney in Brownwood since 1904, died at 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon at his residence on Austin Avenue, his death following an illness of several weeks duration. Funeral services for Judge Lee were held Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock from the First Baptist Church with Dr. Karl H. Moore, pastor, officiating. Burial was made in Greenleaf Cemetery with Austin-Morris Company directing.

During his thirty years as a citizen of Brownwood, Judge Lee had given much of his time and talent in 1925 he served as county judge and to public service. From 1917 to prior to that had been county attorney for two years. At the time of his death he was serving as city attorney, having occupied that position intermittently for fourteen years. Judge Lee came to Brownwood January 26, 1904, to form a law partnership with Judge C. Wilkinson, Sr. At the time of his death, Judge Lee was senior member of the law firm of Lee and Muse.

Judge Lee was a member of the First Baptist Church and of the Line Riders Bible Class. He was a member of the Masonic and Knights of Pythias lodges.

Robert Edward Lee was born August 1, 1880, in Belton and was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben D. Lee. He was educated in the public schools of Belton, at Wedemeyer's Academy and at The University of Texas, receiving his A. B. and L. L. B. degrees from the latter institution. Mr. Lee was married to Miss Mary Moreman, at Plano, Texas, in April, 1906.

Judge Lee is survived by his wife; two brothers, Aubrey Lee, of Austin, and Ben D. Lee, of Corpus Christi, former sheriff of Nueces county; and one sister, Mrs. Lon Curtis of Belton.

SHOP CAREFULLY FOR YOUR REFRIGERATOR

get all 3 big savings

Lowest Operating Cost

Because its operating method is the simplest next to nature's, the gas refrigerator makes substantial savings on running cost . . . savings that continue throughout the long life of this remarkable refrigerator.

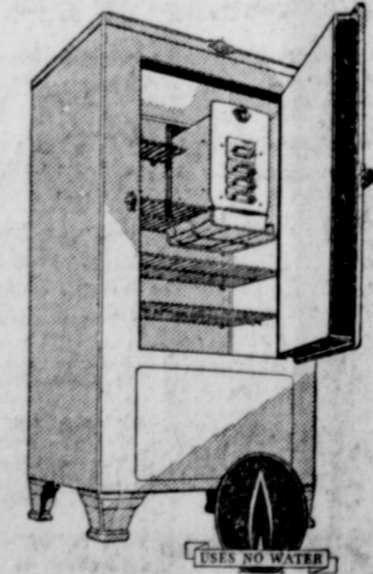

Reduced Food Bills

You can depend upon the gas refrigerator to give fuller food protection at all times. This enables you to save by taking advantage of all "specials," and by keeping left-overs fresh for days.

No Moving Parts

Parts that do not move cannot wear. It's easy to see that the gas refrigerator . . . without a single moving part . . . offers a third big saving—an economy that only one refrigerator, Electrolux, can give you.

Only Electrolux has them

Buy on Time

PAY AS YOU RIDE

The SAFE way to buy new tires is to buy them NOW, when you NEED them. Paying for them is EASY under our convenient BUDGET PLAN. We have made these payments so small, you will never miss the money. Why run the risk of driving on bald, unsafe tires when all you have to do is just drive in and let us put on new U. S. Royals, built of TEMPERED RUBBER? You won't find a safer tire . . . or a safer way to buy them. Don't put it off. Every mile you drive on bald tires, you run a double risk of accident and heavy repair bills. Moreover, increased tire prices are freely predicted. Buy now while prices are low.

U. S. Tires are guaranteed against all road hazards for a period of 12 months. Floyd Williford guarantees that you will be satisfied with U. S. Tires.

Try This Stunt to Tingle Your Spine

He flies through the hoop with the greatest of ease, does this daring young man on the zooming aquaplane. He is Herbert Weise, who pulls off the stunt at Virginia Beach, Va. He holds to a rope behind a motorboat and, when the boat nears a greased incline on which the paper hoop is mounted, he guides himself up and through while the boat veers to one side. Of course, it inclines the incline, that's another story.

Clara, Lu 'n' Em Try Milking Mechanical Cow

Clara, Lu 'n' Em, popular radio stars, secure first-hand information on mechanical milking while visiting the International Harvester exhibit at a Century of Progress Exposition. Here we see the girls along a side of the company's famous mechanical cow, a perfect reproduction of a pure-bred Holstein that is so lifelike in its appearance and actions as to start many a lively argument among the spectators crowded around her. In addition to being milked continuously, she moves her head and ears, chews her cud, blinks her eyes, switches her tail, breathes, moos, and gives milk.

Brownwood To Seek Press Convention

Brownwood will ask for the next convention of the Heart of Texas Press Association, it was announced by the Brownwood Chamber of Commerce this week. The association will hold a convention in Albany on Friday and Saturday of this week. Invitations to meet in Brownwood next year will be extended by the Brownwood Chamber of Commerce, city and county officials and local newspaper men. H. M. Jones of Brownwood is secretary-treasurer of the organization, but is not expected to attend the Albany convention, as he is recuperating from a recent operation. A number of Brownwood newspaper men will attend the convention, however. Rufus Higgs of Stephenville is president of the association.

Wins Trapshoot

Participating in the Grand American Handicap trapshoot at Vandalia, O., for the first time, Lawrence C. Dana, 58-year-old oil man of Derrick City, Pa., won the tournament. Dana, above, broke 24 of 25 clay targets to win a shoot-off with H. F. Pace of Marietta, O.

MATURE LEADERSHIP IS LEGION'S GOAL, M. J. BENEFIELD SAYS

Following the installation of newly elected officers, more than 100 members of Isham A. Smith post American Legion heard State Commander M. J. Benefield, of Brady, make a rousing speech urging Legionnaires of Texas to bigger fields of endeavor. Commander Benefield stated that any group must render service if it expects to prosper and added that the Legion, to take the place due it in the affairs of state and nation, must give of its time and talents to service for the state and nation. "We, the ex-service men, are now in the prime of life; we are the generation now in control of the county, state and national governments than was handed to us. We must serve and we must serve well," the commander stated.

Mr. Benefield also called attention to the fact that membership in the American Legion is an exclusive privilege to ex-service men. "Thousands would gladly join the Legion if permitted to," Mr. Benefield stated. The commander urged all to avail themselves of the exclusive privilege won by them through service in time of war.

The installation of officers was most impressive with Division Commander Orville H. Turner presiding. Joe Blagg was installed as Post Commander and Fred R. Donahoe was installed as adjutant. Other new officers installed were: C. N. Conlisk, L. G. Porter, Dr. Ben M. Shelton, vice commanders; J. Waldo Carson, service officer; M. E. Loudermilk, finance officer; Rev. I. K. Floyd, chaplain; Dr. A. J. Archer, historian; F. D. McNamee, sergeant-at-arms. The new executive committee includes Joe Blagg, Fred R. Donahoe, Dr. Homer B. Allen, W. D. Wells, John A. Collins, J. M. Hale and Orville H. Turner.

Killer of Wolves Collects $30 Bounty

Tom Campbell, who lives on the McInnis place on the shore of Lake Brownwood, exhibited in Brownwood Wednesday the scalps of two wolves killed by him.

Brown county pays a bounty of $15.00 each for wolves. Turkey raisers and stockmen have been reporting losses by wolves for the past several months.

A war is being waged to rid the county of all varmints of this type and the $15.00 bounty is being offered by the county to stimulate interest of hunters and trappers in this move.

Service League Will Hold Style Show Fri.

The Junior Service League, local charity organization, will hold a style show and luncheon Friday noon at the roof of Hotel Brownwood. Proceeds of the luncheon and show will go toward charity activities of the league.

Four Brownwood merchants, Garner-Alvis Company, The Shop of Youth, Knobler's Style Shop and Bettis & Gibbs will participate in the style show, in which a number of members of the Junior Service League will act as models.

The luncheon is scheduled for 12:30.

Selection Of Dallas As Centennial City Pleases Dr. Taylor

Dr. Thomas H. Taylor, official of the Centennial Advisory Board, declared this week he was glad that Dallas has been selected as the hostess city for the 1936 celebration. He said that the choice was a happy one and that he believed it the wisest choice that the board could have made. The site was chosen at a meeting of the board Sunday at Austin.

There were several bids for the central location for the centennial but with the present facilities of the state fair grounds Dallas was able to make a far better offer than any of the other cities bidding for the celebration.

Dr. Taylor pointed out the advantages of transportation, ease of accessibility and present building and grounds as leading factors in Dallas being the logical place for the celebration.

"I believe in doing as much as we can with what we have and I believe the Centennial Commission had that in mind in selecting Dallas. We should make our money go as far as we can and this can be done by using the present state fair grounds, instead of building new facilities somewhere else. We could have a mighty fine exposition over at Clio in Brown county, but we would have to go out there and build from the ground up.

"Dallas is also in an area of population and can be reached by more people than could some of the other proposed locations. It is very satisfactory, I think. Many Brownwood and Brown county citizens should be able to attend the celebration at Dallas," Dr. Taylor stated.

Plans are being perfected for the Williams High School chapter of Future Farmers of America to sponsor a community booth and put on an educational exhibit at the Rising Star Free Fall Fair, Sept. 14-15, according to E. W. Scott, teacher of vocational agriculture at the Williams school.

Special emphasis is being given the preparation of the educational booths which are relatively new in this area. They are different from any other kinds of booths and it is hoped that they will serve their purpose of being both educational and instructional, Mr. Scott states.

WILLIAMS PLANS BOOTH.

Plans are being worked out for the Williams High School Chapter of F. F. A. to sponsor a community booth and to put on an educational booth at the Rising Star Free Fall Fair, which is September 14-15, according to E. W. Scott, teacher of vocational agriculture. The boys are getting the necessary exhibits, together, and by September 14, a large number of exhibits should be ready to take their place at the fair.

Special attention is called to the educational booths, which are relatively new in this area. They are different from any other kind of booths, and it is hoped that they will serve their purpose of being both educational and instructional.

A Right From the Ould Sod

"Them was the days, lassies," ejaculates Tom Sharkey, the great Irish heavyweight who fought all the top fighters from Jim Corbett to Bob Fitzsimmons, Peter Maher and others. Tom visited the Irish village at the Chicago World's Fair and there encountered several colleens from Erin, to whom he is showing that lethal right of his, while bemoaning the lack of good Irish ring men today.

both educational and instructional.

The Rising Star Fair promises to be the best in several years, according to the Fair Association. Everyone is invited, and plenty of entertainment is assured those who attend.

EQUIPMENT ADDED.

Believing that having adequate equipment is necessary in putting over a successful vocational agriculture program, the Williams superintendent of schools, Mr. Pierce, the school board, and E. W. Scott, teacher of vocational agriculture, have been adding new equipment to the V. A. department. One hundred dollars worth of farm shop equipment was placed in the modern farm shop room last spring. Fifty-two dollars worth of farm shop equipment was purchased last week.

Eighty-three dollars worth of new books for the agriculture library have been ordered.

The Williams H. S. has one of the best equipped vocational agriculture departments in this area. The people are interested in vocational agriculture. With the promised cooperation of all concerned, a successful program should be put over this year.

The outlook for a good vocational agriculture enrollment is good. School began September 10.

C. A. Vaughn Starts Waco Implement Co.

C. A. Vaughn, formerly of Brownwood, has opened a new implement company in Waco, the firm being known as the Waco Implement Company, according to a news story carried recently in the Waco News-Tribune.

Mr. Vaughn had made Brownwood his headquarters for many years while he represented the John Deere Plow Company in this section of the state. Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn and their nine year old son moved to Waco several weeks ago.

DEMONSTRATION CLUBS

BUFFALO.
The Buffalo Home Demonstration Club met in the home of Mrs. Jack Thigpen Tuesday, September 11th.

The club had a very interesting meeting.

Miss Gertrude Brent, the County Home Demonstration agent, met with the club and gave a demonstration on plain cake making. She showed the club how to make a plain white cake and a gold cake.

After the cake demonstration the club had a business meeting in which they decided to have a play and a community fair which will be announced later.

After the business, punch and cake were served to ten members: Mesdames O. G. Curry, Theo Christy, Dan Evans, G. R. Bivins, Arnold Ragsdale, Jack Thigpen, Normie Christy, Warren Ragsdale, Harvey Guest and Miss Fern Ragsdale, one new member, Mrs. C. B. Davis, and eight visitors: Mesdames Smith, M. L. Graves, Charlie Evans, Jack Coker, W. L. Lancaster, J. S. Ragsdale, W. B. Curry and Miss Myrtice Graves.

"There are ways for us to fill our pantries in spite of the drought," Mrs. Homer Stewart told the Cottle county home demonstration agent. Some of Mrs. Stewart's ways were to exchange lard, of which she had plenty, for peaches to can; to sew and take her pay in peas; to can beef from cattle condemned for removal and use off her farm, but permitted as wholesome for home use.

Ballinger—Between 500 and 1000 green hides will be salted down for fall and winter tanning in Runnels county as a by-product of the condemned cattle bought in the government cattle-buying program, according to an estimate by Elmo

V. Cook, farm demonstration agent. These hides are being salted down by the producers who using 35 to 50 pounds of salt hide to preserve them until weather when tanning will be more pleasant occupation.
