The entry fee in calf roping for the two days will be $12. The same premiums and average money will be paid in the ribbon roping event. The entry fee for the ribbon roping will be the same as the calf roping event.

Worley Goes To Philippines

Rep. Eugene Worley left Washington Tuesday night for the Philippines with the congressional party going there to participate July 4 in the Philippine independence celebration. Worley was appointed as an official observer by Speaker Sam Rayburn.

Worley is a member of the House Insular Affairs Committee which handled the independence legislation in Congress, and he was instrumental in securing provision for United States bases there.

He said he hopes to be able to stop in the Bikini area on the return trip to witness one of the atom bomb tests.

Fiddling Contest Here July 4th

Old time fiddle music still finds many to appreciate the standard music of the pioneer. This section has some of the best talent to be found in the state.

On the afternoon of July 4th around 5 o'clock, the contest will be held on the main street section. The players with their accompaniment will be on the platform where they will have plenty of elbow room.

Any fiddler can enter the contest. Prizes will be given. Register your name with either of the committeemen having the matter in charge. Select the piece you want to play—there should be two selections.

J. C. Estlack and Will Payne will have charge of the contest. Three mighty good men will do the judging. Each of them know good music. They are Buster Culwell, R. T. Brown and Will W. Crawford. These men have heard all the old tunes down through the years. Every effort will be made to see that each player gets a fair break.

Those having the street dance in charge will be seen by fiddlers to get on the "playing" list for the dance. The dance will be held right after the rodeo the night of the 4th. Good music and square dancing just like you saw in your childhood.

Clarendon welcomes you, wherever you are, on July 4th.

Mr. and Mrs. Harwood Beville of Amarillo were visitors in Clarendon Tuesday.

Clarendon Lions Club

By Edith McCrary

Tuesday, June 25, the regular meeting of the Clarendon Lions Club was held in the Antro Hotel. Guests present were Mr. Powell and Sgt. Fondeau.

Election of officers was held. Those assuming office for the next term are: President, Lee Bell; 1st Vice Pres., Walker Lane; 2nd Vice Pres., Carl Almond; 3rd Vice President, J. R. Porter; Directors, Carroll Knorpp, and J. W. Murphy; Tail Twister, C. B. Robinson; Lion Tamer, Homer Estlack; Sec.-Treas., O. D. Lowry.

A few remarks concerning the Aviation Club and the work it is doing were made by Lion Winston Welch. He introduced Mr. M. C. Powell who spoke to the Lions about the construction of a road to the airport. Mr. Powell pointed out the advantages the project would bring to the community if it could be carried out.

With regard to this work Lion J. R. Bulls stated that the county officials were making progress, having made surveys and estimates of drainage material. Lion Cap Morris, spokesman for the city officials, told the Lions that an additional fifteen year lease on the airport had been secured. Also supporting the road project is the chamber of commerce; Lion R. E. Drennan pledged their support and cooperation in making the undertaking successful.

On the 30th of July, the state Highway Commission will be in session for hearings. Lion J. R. Gillham said he would make an appointment on that day for a hearing on the airport road project, and Lion Cap Morris urged that all who possibly could attend the session to make an effort to do so.

Lion J. R. Gillham spoke to the chairmen of committees for the July 3, 4th celebrations and asked that the other lions support those men.

It was suggested by Lion Breedlove that the Lions back a clean-up campaign before the celebration. Acting upon his plan, boss Lion Lowell appointed Lions Riney, Burton and Bulls to investigate the possibilities of securing material for spraying the alleys and back roads with DDT.

The club was adjourned after singing "America" while facing the flag.

Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Watson and Mrs. Lena Antrobus spent the weekend at Perryton with Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Watson Jr. and family.

Clarendon Welcomes You Here July 3rd & 4th

DODGERS TO PLAY QUAIL SUNDAY

The Clarendon Dodgers baseball club was scheduled to meet the Childress team last Sunday there, but the rain halted the event. However, there is still one more team that they must meet, and it is the Quail club. The local team will go over there for the game, and manager Bill Adams urges everyone to drive over and enjoy the contest. The team needs the support of this community and deserves it.

Adams is trying to secure a truck to haul anyone that is interested in going who does not have a ride, and he states that several cars will also make the trip. The players and anyone else wishing to go along with them are scheduled to leave at 1 p. m. Sunday afternoon.

The all-star game, to be played at Quanah, is scheduled for July 4th. Four players from the Dodger team have been selected to play on the all-star team.

N. M. McGlone Services Held Sunday

Mr. McGlone passed away June 22nd as a result of a heart ailment. He has been a resident of Donley County since 1932 and was a veteran of World War I. At the time of his death he was an active and prominent farmer in the Hudgins community.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Bertha McGlone.

Pallbearers were Otto Elliott, J. C. Perdue, Marshall Harp, George Self, Price Webb and Boyd Christie.

Burial was in Citizens Cemetery with the Womack Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

TO TEACH IN ARIZONA
Margaret N. Hillman of Clarendon, since 1942 a teacher in the Hot Springs, N. M. high school, has been appointed assistant in mathematics at the University of Arizona at Tucson. She will join the faculty in Sept. A graduate of West Texas State College, Canyon, Texas, she received her bachelor's degree in 1942.

YOUNG CHILDREN SHOULD BE VACCINATED NOW

O. D. Lowry, principal of the Jr. High School, stated this week that all children who will be entering school this fall for the first time should be vaccinated now for smallpox so that it can be healing or healed by the time that school starts.

"The vaccination is compulsory before a child can enter school, so if it is done now there will be less danger of injury to the place than when school has started and all the children are playing," Mr. Lowry stated.

County Agent Urges Use Of Good Roughage

Plenty of good roughage is about two-thirds of the job of feeding a dairy cow and H. M. Breedlove, county agent, urges use of more good home-grown roughage. With supplies of concentrates short and the prices high, every effort should be made to replace as many pounds as possible with good roughage.

Highest quality hay is pasture with the water taken out so that it can be stored until needed. This means that hay should be harvested at as near the best stage for grazing as possible.

The difficulty lies in the small yield obtained at this stage which is best for grazing. By allowing the plants to reach the point where they are beginning to bloom, more tonnage will be obtained without sacrificing too much feed value. The man who waits to harvest hay until the plants have matured loses very much feed value although the yield might be higher. The season yield will be less, however, because plants cut when mature will not keep growing as plants cut earlier will do.

Although it does not take the place of hay and pasture, silage can be used to advantage on every farm. Silage is another source of cheap nutrients which can replace some of the high priced nutrients. The crop that yields the largest tonnage per acre should be used for silage. The better the feed that goes into the silo, the better the silage that comes out. Three tons per acre will be good feed insurance when grazing is short.

Demonstrations on trench silos will be held in different communities this fall and farmers in the county will have the opportunity to actually see a silo filled. Now is the time to plan for that silo this fall and make plans for the conservation of this fall feed crop if we are fortunate to make a good crop.

The complete program for the annual Third and Fourth of July Rodeo and Celebration has been completed and all work is now in the hands of the various committees, according to J. R. Gillham, chairman of the committee directing the annual event. The celebration will open Tuesday night, July 2nd with a dance sponsored by the American Legion.

The first rodeo will be held at 2 p. m. Wednesday, July 3rd. Bronc Riding, Calf roping, Junior bull riding, girls barrel race, ribbon roping, bull riding, bulldogging, and a quadrille dance on horseback, and a special matched roping event between the two top men of each roping club competing in the show will complete the program at each of the four shows to be held Wednesday afternoon and night and Thursday afternoon and night. Night shows will start at 8 p. m.

A street dance and another dance sponsored by the American Legion will start at 10 p. m. on the night of the Third. These dances will be held at the same time on the night of the Fourth.

An old fiddlers contest will be held at 5 p. m. on the afternoon of the Fourth.

The Lions club will have a lunch and drink stand at the football field and on Kearney Street. The advertising committee is making arrangements to have circulars dropped over all neighboring towns this week from airplanes of members of the Lions Club.

Good Rain Falls Here Sunday

One of the most welcome rains of the year fell here and over the entire county Sunday to quench the thirst of young growing crops and pasture grass.

The rain was measured at .93 inch at the airport and was a slow, soaking rain which practically all went into the ground. Another feature about the rain was that it was general over the entire Panhandle area, including the very dry territory down on the south plains.

Reports came to Clarendon Wednesday that a heavy hail storm had struck the McLean and Shamrock areas late Tuesday afternoon, leaving a trail of destruction behind and a deep layer of large hail stones. A heavy downpour of rain also accompanied the storm. Many from here watched the big white clouds which had formed in that direction.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Mooney had for guests Tuesday night his sister, Mr. and Mrs. Huey Davidson and Miss Daley Mooney and Bill Martin from Lockney. Miss Mooney stayed for a longer visit.

Meeting of Ropers, Ranchers And Cowboys Scheduled For Sunday

A meeting of all interested ropers, ranchers, and cowboys is being called at the Clarendon Roping Club pen at 4 p. m. Sunday. Officials and helpers for the annual July 3rd and 4th Rodeo will be named at this time.

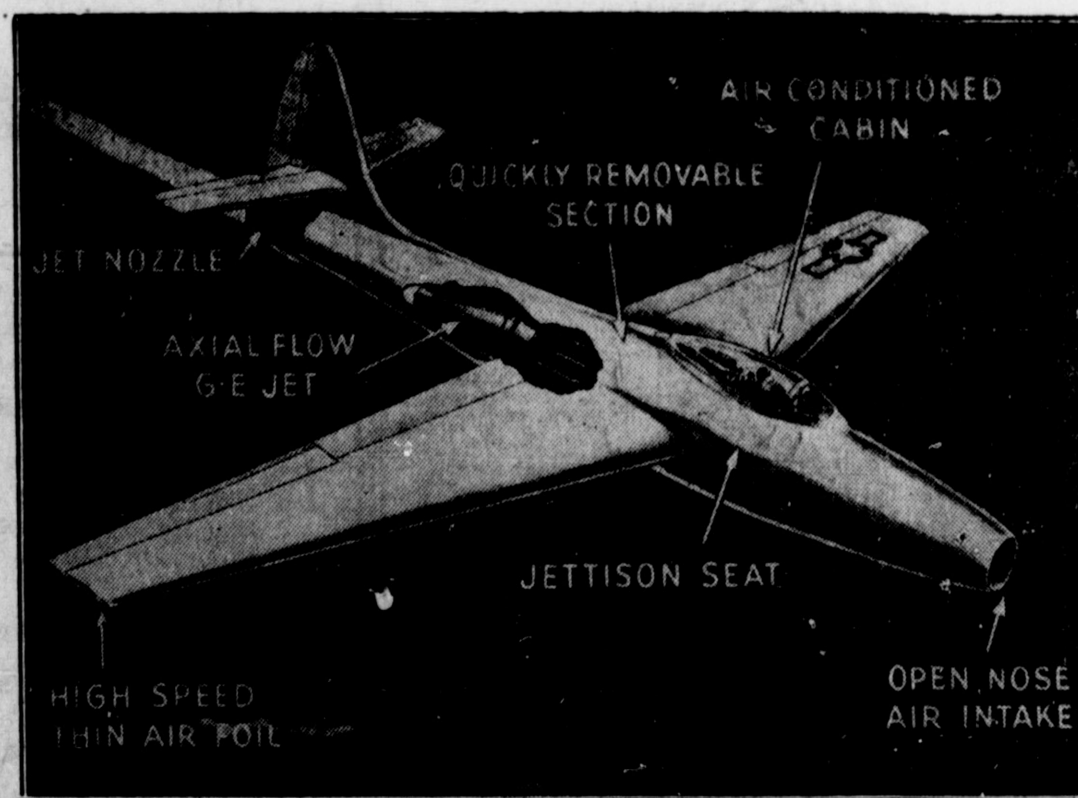

An arena director, two bronc and bull riding judges, barrier jerker and judge, flag judge, men to help crowd calves to pen, men to help return saddles and ropes to chutes, men to supervise work in chutes, men to help in keeping ropers lined up, timers, and other officials will be named. A lot of help will be needed and since the rodeo is strictly a community affair, a good attendance at the meeting is urged.

LIBRARY NOTES

By Mrs. C. A. Burton

A recent report on railway facilities of the future states that the Santa Fe is planning to have a free library on the train with "silence guaranteed."

A short time ago we mentioned the death of Thomas Dixon and this little sketch of his life was quite interesting to me. "Thomas Dixon, author and clergyman; in Raleigh, North Carolina; after a long period of ill health; eighty two; author of "The Clansman," which served as the basis for "The first million-dollar movie"—"The Birth of a Nation." Dixon also wrote many other novels, a number of plays, and six motion pictures. His first book, "The Leopard's Spots," was not written until he was 38, was an immediate success, selling almost a million copies, and making a fortune for the author. Dixon was proud of ancestral connection with the first Ku Klux Klan, and his theme was white supremacy.

At a recent auction of rare books, the famous Rosebury Shakespeare was sold to an unnamed collector for the sum of $50,000. This folio, one of the few perfect ones in existence, was printed in London in 1623, seven years after the death of Shakespeare, and originally cost one pound in English currency. The Library of Congress celebrated Shakespeare's birth date in April by using one of his early publications as the "Exhibit of the Week." Russia celebrated the 382nd birthday of Shakespeare with extensive ceremonies including performances of his plays, given in the 27 languages current in the Soviet Union.

A large quantity of printed material is being brought over from Germany and is being sorted by the Library of Congress in order to save all that will be useful. The material which Germany had looted from other countries will be returned to them. Nothing will be returned to Germany because it is Nazi propaganda.

Marion Hargrove of "See Here, Private Hargrove" fame is discontinuing his lecture tour because of his health. He is to receive his diploma from Central High School in Charlotte, N. C. He was in the class of '38, but failed to be graduated because of a half-point credit. Central High ruled that his army service would be accepted in lieu of the school course he had flunked. His diploma will make him a member of the Class of '46.

More than one hundred women have completed their study of the correspondence course in standard English Braille, Grade II, as conducted by the division of Books for the Adult Blind. This is an activity which reaches into all parts of the country on a truly national scale. The books which they transcribe into Braille at a great cost of time and effort reach blind in every state of the nation.

Visits Here Friday

PAT M. NEFF, Jr.

Pat M. Neff, Jr. of Houston, candidate for Attorney General, was in Clarendon Friday in the interest of his campaign.

While here Neff shook hands with as many friends and new acquaintances as possible and expressed regret that he could not stay longer and meet more people.

"I've always heard that Texas is a big state," the candidate remarked, "and after starting my statewide campaign for Attorney General, I can truthfully say that I believe it."

Neff said he will carry his campaign into every section of the state before the First Primary on July 27.

Neff has been a practicing attorney since 1928 and from 1933 to 1942 was an Assistant Attorney General under three administrations. He resigned to enter the Army in 1942. A native of Waco, he is 42 years old. This is his first bid for an elective office.

"I am running on my record as an Assistant Attorney General for more than eight years and on the recommendations of my friends for honesty, fairness and the courage to do what is right as your Attorney General," Neff stated. "I am already thoroughly familiar with the routine and administration of the department, as well as its responsibilities. My hope is that the people of Texas will apply the yardsticks of experience, merit and qualifications in this race, for I feel such a comparison will be to my advantage."

MISS PATRICIA GRADY BECOMES BRIDE OF BILL THORNBERRY

Miss Patricia Grady, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Nelson Grady of Clarendon, became the bride of Bill Geyer Thornberry, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Carey Thornberry, also of Clarendon, Thursday, June 20, 1946 at 8:30 a. m. in the Little Chapel-in-the-Woods at Texas State College for Women, Denton, Texas. The Rev. Philip W. Walker, pastor of First Methodist Church, Denton, officiated at the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a pale blue crepe street-length dress fashioned with a circular skirt. Her accessories were white and included a crystal studded belt, and an imported rosepoint handkerchief from France. She wore a white hat. Her only jewelry was a string of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom. She carried a small colonial bouquet of one white orchid surrounded by tube-roses.

The maid of honor was Miss Betty Fulmer, Clarksville, a former roommate of the bride. She wore a jonquil yellow dress and carried a small colonial bouquet of gladioli. Bob Ward, Clarendon, was best man, and Roy Bulls, Clarendon, and Byron Lee Bryans of Wichita Falls, cousin of the groom, were ushers.

Before the ceremony began Miss Mary Frances Cottle, TSCW, Denton, sang "Always" and "Because," accompanied by Miss Inagene McMillan, TSCW, Denton, on the organ. As the bridal party entered the traditional "Lohengrin" was played; during the ceremony "Intermezzo" and "Till the End of Time" furnished the background of music; and after the vows had been made "Mendelssohn" was heard.

Following the wedding a reception was held in the Tearoom at TSCW. Mrs. Don Grady and Mrs. W. C. Thornberry were hostesses.

Immediately following the reception the couple left on a trip for Colorado. The bride's traveling costume was a gold two piece suit with brown accessories and a white orchid corsage.

The couple will be at home in Clarendon, July 2nd.

The bride is a graduate of Clarendon High School and received her B. A. degree June 3, from TSCW. She was president of the Adelpian Club 1945-46 and a member of the Panhandle Club and president of it in 1944-45. The groom, a rancher, is a graduate of Clarendon High School and Clarendon Junior College.

Among the out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Kerbow, Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Fulmer and Miss Palma Van Burkleo, Clarksville; Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Bryans, Mr. Byron Lee Bryans, and Miss Mary Byman, Wichita Falls; and Miss Kathleen Grady, Clarendon.

PRICE CONTROL NEWS

By Peppy Blocker

"To be—or not to be. That is the question."

Yes, to be or not to be in favor of continued price controls is the question of today.

How is that question being answered? Well, let's take a look at the results of some of the many polls that have been taken by impartial and reliable sources.

According to the recent surveys made by the Gallup Poll, National Opinion Research Center, newspapers, and other independent organizations the nation is overwhelmingly in favor of continued price control.

In answer to the Gallup Poll question, 73 per cent of a cross section of the nation voted in favor of extending the price ceiling law.

The survey conducted by the National Opinion Research center showed that 82 per cent of the people favored the continuation of control "during the next year."

The results of a recent survey made by the Texas Poll revealed that 60 per cent of the Texans believe that controls should be extended beyond June 30, with the majority of these in favor of price control as long as there is a need for it.

That businessmen are on the side of price controls is reflected in survey of middle class businessmen by the National Opinion Research Center. It disclosed that 80 per cent of the middle class businessmen and 68 per cent of the wealthy and prosperous group think price controls should be continued for another year.

Rev. and Mrs. H. W. Hanks and a group of youngsters are attending the encampment at Ceta Canyon this week.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Davis of Lubbock are visiting their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Slavin.

Liberal Use Of Early Potatoes Stressed

Liberal use of early potatoes in homes three times a day can help fill the gap caused by the world shortage of cereals and many other food items. A record crop of from 70 to 75 million bushels are on their way to market from farms where an above average crop is being produced. While normal civilian consumption easily can absorb 60 to 65 million bushels, the extra 10 to 15 million bushels must be eaten this year to prevent any of the crop from going to waste.

Texas early crop potatoes, which are not suitable for storage purposes, cannot be shipped for foreign relief feeding because they will spoil in transit, wasting valuable space which can be filled with long keeping foods such as wheat and wheat products. Encouraging housewives to buy and serve more potatoes during the period of seasonal abundance, would ease demand on many processed foods, releasing them for famine emergency purposes.

Veterans in this area who plan to enroll in college for the first time this fall should apply immediately for their certificates of eligibility, if they wish to take advantage of free schooling and subsistence benefits offered by the government. Veterans Administration offices expect a flood of certificate applications during late summer and early fall, and the veteran who applies now will be sure of getting his certificate without undue delay. A veteran may apply for his certificate of eligibility at any Veterans Administration regional office or at a VA contact office in a small town.

Any veteran who served at least 90 days (or less if discharged because of service-incurred disability), part of it on or after Sept. 16, 1940, and was discharged under conditions other than dishonorable, is entitled to one year's schooling. In addition, he is entitled to a period of schooling equal to the length of time he spent on active duty in the armed forces. Accordingly, a veteran of 2½ years' service is eligible for 3½ years' schooling. No period of eligibility can extend beyond four years, and the veteran must begin his schooling within four years after his discharge or the official end of the war, whichever is later (the official end of the war has not yet been declared by Congress). Schooling must be completed within nine years after the end of the war.

The Veterans Administration will pay tuition and other normal charges up to $500 a school year; books and supplies are included in this sum.

If the veteran is unmarried, and does not have a full-time job, he is eligible to receive $65 monthly subsistence allowance. If he is married, the monthly allowance is $90.

WE WILL BE CLOSED
July 4th through Sat., July 6th
Opening again Monday Morning, July 8th.

NOTICE—No clothes will be accepted for cleaning after 6 p. m. Tuesday, July 2nd.

GARDEN GLANCES

"America beautiful lies in the hands of the gardeners."

The gay perennial phlox, Gladioli, cannas and different annuals are now radiant in many gardens.

Everyone is anticipating a feast of summer and fall blossoms and gardens since our recent rain. Have you noticed a greater number of beautifully kept green lawns we now have?

With so much building and painting as has taken place this spring and early summer, Clarendon is quite a progressive looking and beautiful town. Let us all make our grounds and homes as attractive as possible. Aside from the real pleasure each of us derive from it, we have contributed much to making our city and community a more desirable place in which to live. And may we create an interest in lawns and flowers among persons not yet interested, and inspire those already concerned to grow better flowers. Perhaps some day even passers-by may be saying, "Clarendon is truly the garden spot of the Panhandle."

25 to 44

By Bo Byers

(University of Texas journalism student and tutor in journalism, winner of the 1946 Clarence E. Gilmore Safety Contest Award).

If you are 25 to 44 years of age and if you have had eleven or more years of driving experience, watch out! You may be the next driver to kill someone in Texas.

That statement is not a Ripley "Believe-it-or-Not." It is based on hard statistical facts compiled by the Texas Department of Public Safety for the year 1945.

Yes, drivers in the 25-to-44 age bracket — which includes the greatest percentage of Texas drivers — were involved in far more fatal accidents than was any other age group.

And drivers with more than eleven years of experience behind the steering wheel are participants in a greater number of fatal accidents than persons in the brackets of less experience.

However, these statistics should not ease the consciences of automobile operators of other ages and less driving experience, for younger automobile operators with less experience accounted for nearly half the traffic fatalities of 1945.

Blame for our increasing death rate on the highways and in the cities cannot be placed on any one age or experience classification.

Nor can automobile manslaughter be stopped by citing statistics on types of accidents which have brought death to thousands of Texans in the past five years.

Traffic fatalities will diminish only when each driver feels his own personal responsibility.

Personal responsibility is seldom felt until the individual is made aware of the consequences he will suffer if he commits a wrong act.

Stiffer judgments should be passed on violators of traffic laws, and more prominent attention should be given to their wrong doings.

Only when a child is made to respect his parents does he begin to act in proper manner.

Too many automobile owners act as children when they climb behind the wheel of a car. City police and state patrolmen must crack down. If their numbers are insufficient, the city and state governments should build their forces as rapidly as possible.

Educating the public to drive safely will take years. The immediate need is more drastic action on the part of our law enforcement agencies.

Camp And Picnic Menus Listed

Camping and picnic season is here in earnest and tasty menus for outdoor excursions must be planned. Edith Lawrence, specialist in food preparation for the A&M College Extension Service, says the task can be made easy with a few simple rules and some interesting recipes.

Cameron Governor Candidate Hits Texas Political Machines

By Lorraine Barnes

Reese Turner, 37-year-old former Army sergeant and candidate for governor, asserted that a political machine not only controls Texas government but sends out talent scouts to recruit candidates.

"Just like the motion picture studios, the machine is constantly looking for men with talent, with box office appeal." He said his own campaign is to prove that ordinary citizens can elect a governor out of their own midst.

Turner served in the Army three years as an enlisted man. A former Cameron resident, he was a member of the House of Representatives from Milam County between 1938 and 1941, when he resigned to work for the Texas Railroad Commission. He resigned from the commission to make this race.

In his indictment of so-called machine politics, Turner asserted, "Perhaps the most cunning device the machine has for exercising control over the governor's office is the way it sponsors several well-known candidates. Instead of supporting one man who might be defeated, the machine bosses support a number of highly advertised men. No matter which one of these men is elected, the machine is still in power."

Turner charged that the "most fiendish" device of all for maintaining the alleged control over the governor's office is a wild expenditure of money, "the old system of putting on large and showy campaigns." He questioned why $50,000 may be spent to obtain election to an office paying $24,000 in two years.

The political machine has killed Democracy in Texas," Turner said. "It has made the belief that not only has the machine knocked us down but it has made us believe we can't get up again."

Turner urged old age assistance in the full amount authorized by the Constitution, peace between labor and management, abolition of unfair freight rates and means of curbing postwar crime.

"I know it's popular to talk about the ex-servicemen and what you intend to do for them," he continued. "Well, most of the politicians talk hot air." He said he resents the fact that politicians are using the problems of the ex-servicemen and women to create vote-getting issues.

The candidate discussed his proposals as "a contrast with the people," not as a platform. "I hate the word," he said, "because a platform has come to be something a politician gets elected on."

Call For More Home Canners

More home food preservation than ever before is being urged as food insurance for the coming winter and spring. Gwendolyn Jones, specialist in food preservation for the A&M College Extension Service, reports that this year's goal is to exceed the record of four billion jars of food canned by 25 million housewives in one war year. To safeguard American diets during the months to come when wheat products will continue to be in less than full supply, more vegetables especially will be needed to replace some of the food values and the "filling" quality of the wheat that goes abroad. The more garden vegetables that are put up in homes and in community canning centers the better the food insurance for this country.

Prospects so far are for good vegetable and fruit crops this season but production predicted so early in the season can rise or fall as weather hurts or helps the crops. Adequate supplies of glass jars, jar rings, and closures are expected. The supply of pressure canners has been increasing steadily. Housewives are advised, however, to lay in supplies of containers and equipment now to enable manufacturers to gauge demand and keep up production as needed.

Our grandmothers believed there was a destiny that shaped our ends. Daughters place more faith in girdles.

Where A Little Is A Lot

Hard work is no stranger to the farmer. He knows that what you get out of a job is based generally upon what you put into it. Most farmers, knowing the amount of effort it takes to have a successful farm, buy insurance against rain, hail or tornado damage to their buildings and their crops.

But the farmer, like the city resident, cannot protect himself or his family by any known means against a disease, infantile paralysis, which again is on the march in the United States.

However, while no means of prevention or cure of polio have been discovered, much can be done in the way of treatment, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis points out.

Treatment of infantile paralysis is expensive. Should someone in your family be stricken, the cost of prolonged treatment might sweep away your life savings were it not for the fact millions of farmers and city dwellers voluntarily support the annual March of Dimes—sole source of National Foundation funds.

Through such contributions multiple services await whenever polio may strike in any county of the nation, for National Foundation chapters stand ready to aid infantile paralysis victims regardless of age, race, creed or color.

There is no insurance against polio; but there is assurance that no infantile paralysis victim need go without aid because of lack of funds.

That indeed proves a little can mean a lot.

Asked to name five reasons why mother's milk is better for babies than cow's milk, the apprentice medical student with a severe hangover replied: "First because it is fresher; second, it is cleaner; third, the cats can't get it; fourth, it is easier to take to a picture show or picnic; fifth (after pondering several minutes) it comes in such cute little containers."

The deaf woman entered church last Sunday with an ear trumpet. Hardly had she found a seat when the usher leaned over and whispered: "One toot, sister, and out you go."

A man was discovered dead and the jury, puzzled as to the cause of death, finally reported: "It was an act of God under very suspicious circumstances."

New Canned Meat Provisions

Federally inspected meat slaughterers and canners may not produce canned meat for civilian consumption unless they deliver to governmental agencies 60 per cent of each week's total output of canned meat. This is the essence of the new war food order designed to obtain more canned meat for foreign relief shipment.

U. S. Department of Agriculture reports state that the order applies to any canned food which contains 20 per cent or more of meat or meat by-products. Excluded from the order are vinegar pickled meats in glass, canned soup, mince-meat, tamales, chow mein, chop suey, raviola, meat extract, infant and junior foods.

Department officials said that the new order is designed as the most effective and feasible means of facilitating the procurement of canned meat during the next few weeks. Large quantities of canned meat are needed for foreign relief programs. Because of distribution problems encountered by the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration, most of the meat required by that agency must be in canned form. The Navy still requires relatively small quantities of canned meat.

The Navy still requires relatively small quantities of canned meat.

REESE TURNER

Reese Turner was born April 17, 1909, at Curry, a rural community near Cameron, Texas. His father, Arvis B. Turner, was a tenant farmer.

He left the farm when he was 17, clerked in a grocery store in Cameron and finished high school at Yoe High, Cameron. He went 2 years to Evansville College, Evansville, Indiana and 2 years to Rutgers University, New Brunswick, N. J., paying his way in both schools with money earned working nights in restaurants. He took pre-law courses in college, but was forced by the depression to leave school before he entered law school.

After college days, he owned and operated restaurants in several cities, engaged in farming and stock raising, founded and operated a real-estate firm in Austin, conducted a Sunday morning radio show advertising real-estate, served in the House of Representatives and held a position with the Railroad Commission.

He was employed by the Railroad Commission in 1942 when he volunteered for service in the United States Army. He was trained at Aberdeen Proving Ground, Maryland, assigned to the Ammunition Supply Section of the post, and later placed in charge of the ammunition supply depot for rocket development on the Proving Ground. He was given Citation for the Army Commendation Ribbon. He was discharged in October, 1945 with the rank of sergeant.

After his discharge, Turner returned to his position with the Railroad Commission. He resigned in May, 1946, to run for Governor.

Mrs. Reese Turner was formerly Miss Dora Emma Duncum of Cameron and Austin. The couple have no children. They lost a son at birth in June, 1945.

Mr. Turner is a member of the Methodist Church and the Lions Club.

The candidate asserts that the political machine has cunningly disposed of government by and for the people in Texas, and replaced it with government by and for the machine. He says the machine uses many methods to maintain control over the government, the most fiendish of which is the wild expenditure of large sums of money to insure the election of one of its men to the office of governor. He calls attention to the fact that a machine candidate will spend from $30,000 to $50,000 for printing, radio entertainers, travel and other campaign expenses to win the governor's office which only pays $24,000 for the two-year term, and says the machine can afford to put out that kind of money because its bosses know they will profit tremendously through their control over the governor's actions.

Mr. Turner states that his dream is to return the governor's office to the people and establish a truly democratic government in Texas.

His campaign presents an interesting contrast to the campaigns Texans have seen in recent years. He is visiting an average of ten towns per day. There is no music or fan-fare when he enters a town. He goes quietly about his business of shaking the hand of every person he can see and requesting their assistance in his determined effort to beat the political machine. When he leaves, everyone feels that they have seen something new and wholesome in Texas politics.

The Testament Of An American

By Courtenay Terrett
 In support of the campaign of the National Americanism Endowment Fund to raise $450,000 in Texas as the opening of a $15,000,000 nation-wide drive to support an expanded program of public welfare work and education in the fundamental principles of Constitutional Americanism, permission to use this editorial, the second of four, was given The American Legion by Courtenay Terrett, war correspondent, essayist and author of many Hollywood and foreign motion pictures; and by Curtis Brown, Ltd. (Editor's Note)

When you and I go into an American hotel and - - by the grace of providence - - obtain a room, the desk clerk shoves over to us a pen and a card requiring our signature and home address. Nothing more.

In most of the countries of the world, even before this last war, it was necessary to set down your nationality, the number on your passport and the date it was issued, your profession and the reason why you were there (if you were a tourist you had to have a tourist visa; if employed, a stamped "permission" from the appropriate government bureau), and in some cases an exact accounting of the francs, marks, dinars, gulden, pounds or dollars you happened to have in your wallet.

Invariably, when I wrote "U. S. A." in the space specifying nationality, I got a reaction from the proprietor or clerk or whoever it was who took my card. In some cases it was a reaction of hostility (as in Germany in 1940) and in some cases open-armed hospitality (as in Finland during the first Russo-Finnish war) and in others the reaction was one of unabashed curiosity about me and my country and why I was allowed to roam abroad in such parlous time instead of being kept in uniformed readiness for a conflict which all of them knew would, eventually, engulf the United States.

The reactions were, as I have said, various. But at least they were positive - - whether hostile, cordial or curious, they gave that "U.S.A." I had written in their questionnaires more attention than if I had listed myself as from Tibet, Abyssinia or Iceland. Many of my fellow Americans were at that time fearfully and frantically pursuing the head-in-the-sand tactic of the ostrich in proclaiming that isolation - - the ignoring or what was happening in the world which buys our manufactures and produce - - would keep us out of a second world war. But the Europeans knew that was impossible.

The Germans and Italians hoped we would dilly-dally until our aid would be too late to be effective. The others, understandably, felt bitterly at our hanging back. All of them questioned me about a matter which has them completely perplexed - - did we have a national ideology?

I had never given much thought to it before, but they made me feel the necessity of being able to say why - - knowing all the faults and weaknesses of a national system which had surmounted those faults and weaknesses - - I should subscribe to a national credo.

I found that there was one. It was an "ism", but it was older by a century and more than the "isms" which had brought Europe to ruin.

It was, simply, Americanism.

I tried to put that inherited creed into words - - words for myself, not for others. I read, I thought. I read the writings of contemporaries who have thought deeply and consulted their consciences with every tap at their typewriters.

In the preamble to the Declaration of Independence and in the Bill of Rights or our Constitution I found an answer.

Americanism, I discovered (or rather, re-discovered, for like most of us, I had got my schooling in American History served as a gigantic sandwich in which the good meat was rendered tasteless by the requirement to memorize dates and Robert's Rules of Order) was merely the code of living I had learned at home - - painlessly.

It was a code of self-reliance, obedience to laws freely voted, and an implied responsibility for my fellow men.

If that could be made the testament of all Americans—a living testament, exemplified day by day—it might be possible to persuade the other 1200 million human inhabitants of this world that peace—not war—is the ultimate answer to our existence.

Driver who will add another name to the list of Texas traffic casualties.

You say you are not a Careless Driver? Are you sure?

That means you never drive at high speeds despite tires so old and worn they may blow out at any moment.

You never speed up to make an orange light at the last second before it turns red.

You never drive with your car headlights on at high beam when another car is approaching.

You never pass a car on the hill.

You have not violated a single traffic regulation during the past week.

Slow down, Mr. and Mrs. Texas. Would you swear under oath to all those statements?

Don't take a chance on becoming another Texas killer. Don't be a Careless Driver.

Phantom Killer

By Bo Byers
 (University of Texas journalism graduate student and tutor in journalism, winner of the 1946 Clarence E. Gilmore Safety Contest Award.)

A phantom killer has murdered five persons in Texarkana, and the people of that city are in a state of jitters.

A phantom killer took the lives of 1,502 persons on Texas highways in 1945 and had taken another 394 up to April 29 of this year. Yet this killer has caused no jitters among the populace of Texas.

This killer is the Careless Driver. He is as much a phantom as the man who has committed the Texarkana murders, for the victims of the Careless Driver never know in which car the murderer rides.

And YOU may be the Careless

Veterans' News

Nine out of ten of the loans that have been guaranteed by the Veterans Administration have been for the purchase of homes. The housing shortage has made this phase of the G.I. loan-guarantee program most important to many veterans, and has caused some of them to overlook the fact that they may obtain government guarantees on loans used to purchase farms.

The Servicemen's Readjustment Act (G.I. Bill) gives the government the power to guarantee up to $4000 of a loan used to purchase home, farm or business real estate, or $2000 of a loan used to purchase livestock, equipment, machinery or tools, or a business.

As in the case of home loans, the government never will guarantee more than half the total amount of a loan obtained for the purchase of a farm. If the veteran obtains a $10,000,000 loan, the government will guarantee its top amount, $4000. But if the loan is $6000, the government guarantee will be half the total amount, or $3000.

If a veteran wants to obtain a G.I. loan guarantee for the purchase of a farm, or to buy livestock and equipment for one he already owns, here's how he should go about it:

He picks out the farm he wants to buy, and finds a lender willing to loan him the necessary money. This lender may be a bank, building and loan association or other agency, or a private lender. He gives the lender the original copy of his discharge certificate, which will be returned after the deal has been concluded.

The lender sends a VA-approved appraiser to inspect the property the veteran wishes to buy, and in the meantime determines the veteran's chances of success in his venture, and his need for the property he wants to purchase. If the lender is satisfied with all phases of the transaction, he and the veteran close the deal, the papers are sent to the Veterans Administration, and the G. I. guarantee becomes effective.

Remember, the government does not loan money to veterans—it merely GUARANTEES a portion of the loan to the lender. This makes it easier for the veteran to obtain his loan, because his G.I. guarantee will serve as security of the best possible kind.

The woman, tasting her first drink of gin exclaimed: "Why, this tastes just like medicine my husband has been taking for the past 20 years."

A college education never harmed anyone willing to learn something afterwards.

AIR NEWS

By J. Fred Smith, Jr. TEN COMMANDMENTS FOR SAFE FLYING

1. Thou shalt not become airborne without checking thy fuel supply: (It only takes a few minutes to gas up—it may save you a forced landing.)
2. Thou shalt not taxi with carelessness: (Taxi slowly and make S turns to clear the area in front of the nose. Know the proper use of the controls for taxiing in a strong wind.)
3. Thou shalt ever take heed unto air traffic rules: (Keep a constant lookout for other aircraft. Follow the rules so that other pilots will know what you are going to do.)
4. Thou shalt not make flat turns: (This is particularly important when making power off turns. You steer with the ailerons, not the rudder.)
5. Thou shalt maintain thy speed lest the earth arise and smite thee: (Don't be fooled by the increase in ground speed resulting from a downwind turn. Keep sufficient airspeed.)
6. Thou shalt not let thy confidence exceed thy ability: (Don't attempt instrument flying in adverse weather conditions unless you have the proper training and the necessary instruments. Instrument flying is a highly developed science. Don't pioneer.)
7. Thou shalt make use of thy carburetor heater: (The carburetor heater is your friend. Know when to use it. Remember that it is easier to prevent ice in the carburetor than to eliminate it after it has formed.)
8. Thou shalt not perform aerobatics at low altitudes: (Aerobatics started near the ground may be completed six feet under the ground. There's safety in altitude.)
9. Thou shalt not allow indecision in thy judgment: (Be certain. You can't afford to make errors of judgment. "I think I can make it," is on the list of famous last words.)
10. Thou shalt know always—the good pilot is the safe pilot: (It's better to be an old pilot than a bolt pilot.)

A bird in hand isn't worth the risk.

And then there was the guy who attended the burlesque performance, suffered eye trouble, and visited an oculist for treatment. He was advised to "blink once or twice after this." "You won't miss much," the doctor said. Can't this case be settled out of court, inquired the judge. "Sure," replied Kelly, "that's what we were trying to do when the police interfered."
