A bull belonging to Clarendon's own Richard Stotts and Kori Brown of Groom also did very well at the show. Deep Down Expo 180D won the intermediate champion bull title.

Paducah Farmer Re-Elected To Farm Credit Board

Austin - Federal Land Bank Associations and Production Credit Associations within the Tenth Farm Credit District have re-elected B.L. Smith, Jr. to his fifth term on the Farm Credit Bank of Texas Board of Directors. His three-year term begins in January, 1996.

Smith, who raises cattle, cotton, and wheat near Paducah, was first elected to the board in 1984. As a member of the board, Smith will help direct policy for a $4.2 billion agricultural lending network which has approximately 52,000 loans outstanding to farmers and ranchers in Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi, New Mexico, and Texas.

A graduate of Texas A&M University with a degree in animal husbandry, Smith is a former director of the Federal Land Bank Association of Childress and a past member of the Federal Land Bank Stockholders Advisory Committee.

Smith is a long-time leader in his community and in agriculture. He has served as president of the Cottle County Texas Farmers Union and King-Cottle Water Supply Corporation, is a former director of the Farmers Co-op Gin and Gate City Rural Electric Co-op, and has been a Paducah Independent School District trustee.

Symphony To Play Concerts For Young People

The Amarillo Symphony will hold their annual Concerts for Young People on January 11 and 12, 1996, in the Civic Center Auditorium.

On both days the concert will be performed twice, at 10:00 a.m. and 1:00 p.m. James Setapen, Music Director and Conductor of the Amarillo Symphony, will lead all four performances. These performances are for children in the fourth and fifth grade from over 20 elementary schools throughout the Panhandle.

The program is titled, "Heroes in Music" and features music written from the 1800's to the present day. The program includes Aaron Copland's "Fanfare for the Common Man," excerpts from Beethoven's Fifth Symphony, Wagner's "The Ride of the Valkyries" and Menken's Selections from "The Little Mermaid." The children will also be invited to sing along with the orchestra on two selections.

Materials to prepare the students for these concerts were created by Geraldine Kidwell, Program Director of Music Education for the Amarillo Independent School District. Students study the music, the composers lives, and the instruments in the Symphony Orchestra. They then create art projects based on this program. The art projects will be displayed in the lobby during the concerts.

Seats are still available for one of the four performances: the Friday, January 12 performance at 10:00 a.m. Private schools and home schooled children may purchase tickets for this performance by calling the Amarillo Symphony after January 2, at (806) 376-8782. Tickets are $3.00 per student. Parents and teachers chaperoning students are admitted free.

DPS Urges Drivers To Exercise Safety During New Year's

Happy New Year! This is the traditional phrase that will sound all across our country as we bid farewell to the old and usher in a new year. However, safety officials fear that many "traditional" celebrations during this period will once again spawn many drunk driving fatalities on Texas roads.

This does not have to happen, and there are some ways we can prevent ourselves from becoming a victim according to Trooper L.B. Snider, Public Information Officer for the Texas Department of Public Safety. "Planning is the key to a

SCS Selling Evergreen Trees

For a tree row to be an effective wind break or barrier, species selection is critical. Evergreens should be used exclusively in windbreaks made up of only one or two rows of trees. Since evergreen trees are densely branched and retain their foliage in winter they provide year round protection.

For maximum protection it is important to select a tree that also retains its branches to the ground line. Pine trees such as the Ponderosa, Austrian, and Afghanistan pines all have a tendency to shed lower branches which allows the wind to pass freely underneath. Other evergreens, particularly Arizona Cypress, Eastern Red Cedar, and Rocky Mountain Juniper maintain their lower branches and thus provide better protection. All three of these dense evergreens grow well in our area. They are all drought and heat tolerant and will survive our winters. Of these three, Arizona Cypress will grow to be the largest in our area reaching a height of 50 feet. The other two will grow up to 35 feet high. Arizona Cypress also maintains its density best as it ages. The Arizona Cypress does best on deep soils while the Red Cedar and the Rocky Mountain Juniper grow well on poor sites.

All three are generally available through the Donley County Soil and Water Conservation District, however, the Arizona Cypress is usually in short supply. The Texas Forest Service usually sells out before they can place an order; therefore, if you are interested in placing an order for evergreen trees, especially the Arizona Cypress, please call 874-3576 or come by the SCS office at the corner of Fourth and Sulley as soon as possible.

Spivey, an Austin attorney, represented the plaintiffs in a lawsuit over a Dallas partnership's conflict of interest.

The judge in the case hit the defendants with an $8 million judgment. According to the article, this settlement is the biggest "legal malpractice award ever lodged by a Texas bankruptcy court."

Gramm Gives Estimate Of Tax Relief For Texas Families

WASHINGTON, DC — The Republican $500 per child tax credit would bring a total of $1.6 billion annually to more than 2 million Texas households according to a news release from US Sen. Phil Gramm's office.

More than $340,000 in tax relief would be felt in Donley County alone.

"Our tax cut is aimed at doing two things," Gramm said. "It allows working families in Texas to keep more of what they earn to invest in their own children. Secondly, it provides incentives for people to invest more money to create more jobs, more growth and more opportunity."

The House-Senate compromise on the balanced budget bill calls for a full $500 per child tax credit for individuals earning up to $75,000 and for couples earning up to $110,000 a year.

Approximately 608 children in Donley County families would be eligible for the proposed $500 credit. Estimates show that tax relief in Donley County would amount to $340,480 in 1996 and could be as much as $1,723,528 over the next seven years.

Nationally, the family tax credit would add a total of $23.1 billion to the household budgets of 28 million families.

Gramm said the balanced budget bill, which includes the $500 tax credit, will also lower interest rates

Texas joined the United States 150 years ago this week. Was it worth it?

Tomorrow marks the 150th anniversary of the United States voting to annex the Republic of Texas. It was on Dec. 29, 1845, that a joint resolution passed the House of Representatives by one vote, paving the way for statehood for Texas. Two months later on Feb. 19, 1846, Texas became the 28th state.

Now when other states commemorate their entrance to the Union, they do so with great pomp and flare. However, not much seems to be happening in Texas. Certainly there is nothing compared to the Sesquicentennial celebration in 1986 which honored 150 years of independence from Mexico.

While the current issue of Texas Highways, published by the Texas Dept. of Transportation, has nice article about how great statehood has been, the latest edition of Texas Republic takes a more critical view. "The State of Texas at 150: Was Annexation a Mistake?" reads the conservative magazine's cover.

Was annexation a mistake? It's a good question, and one that deserves some cogitation.

Texas Republic's editors speculate that the reason Texans aren't celebrating the state's anniversary is that many of them aren't altogether sure joining the United States was a smart move.

During Texas President Mirabeau B. Lamar's inaugural address, he emphatically warned that statehood in the American union would "ultimately prove as disastrous to our liberty and hopes as the triumphant sword of the enemy."

Lamar is certainly not my favorite Texas president, but in this instance history has fulfilled his prophecy.

In the last 150 years, and more especially in the last 50, Texans have seen many of their basic individual rights trampled by our friends at the federal government. In addition to that, federal mandates have stripped Texans of a great deal of their freedom to govern themselves on the state level.

From the dearly departed federal speed limits to the Endangered Species Act to abominably oppressive federal tax codes, the United States government has thrust itself into every aspect of our lives. I don't think that's what the Republic of Texas had in mind when it agreed to annexation.

As Texans, we are all proud of the role our Lone Star State has played as a part of the United States. We remember the Invasion of Normandy and the Battle of Iwo Jima the same as we do the Battle of San Jacinto and the heroes of the Alamo.

But we must also be mindful of what we have given up during our tenure of statehood.

The move is on now to beat back the intrusiveness of the federal government, and it is being led, quite naturally, by Texans. House Majority Leader Dick Arme, Sen. Phil Gramm, and Sen. Kay Bailey Hutchison are just the most prominent leaders of this movement. I hope they succeed, not only for the sake of Texans but for the sake of America also.

safe holiday. For instance, if you are hosting a party, inform all guests that they will not be allowed to drive in an intoxicated condition. Take up their car keys as they come in and keep a watchful eye throughout the event. Be prepared to take your guests home or make other arrangements for their safe return," Snider suggested.

"If you know ahead of time that you will be drinking, have a designated driver who is responsible for all driving. It is important that these plans be made ahead of the drinking because we know that sometimes our best intentions go out the window after a few drinks," Snider added.

While you may think that one or two drinks have no effect on you, any amount of alcohol in your bloodstream can affect how you think and react. Each year over 20,000 DWI related fatalities in the US attest to that fact.

"When you think about it, there is really no excuse for drinking and driving, especially during this holiday. Troopers will be on the lookout for impaired drivers, and if we catch you, you have more to lose than ever before under new DWI laws in Texas," Snider concluded.

Plain to survive this holiday by not drinking and driving. Also take advantage of your best defense against drunk drivers, a safety belt.

Dear Editor,

Time does fly, it seems only a short time since the 1994 elections, yet here we are preparing for the 1996 primary. Filing for a place on the primary ballot started December 3rd, 1995 and ends January 2, 1996, at 6:00 p.m. All applications must be received or post marked by that time.

The Donley County Republican Party has at this time the following candidates for the primary election:

- Randy White, County Commissioner, Precinct 1
- Rogers Hester, County Chairman
- Betty Hester, Precinct Chairman, Precinct 1
- Jacquetta Owens, Precinct Chairman, Precinct 3
- Opal Ramsey, Precinct Chairman, Precinct 4

We hope to have a candidate for Precinct 2 Chairman before the January 2nd deadline.

There were 250 people who voted in the 1994 Republican Primary (in Donley County). You will remember that we had sleet, snow, and a windy March 8, 1994, the worst day of the year. The party has come a long way since 1980 when I couldn't find a place to vote in the primary.

We in the Republican Party think there are many more conservatives here in Donley County, and we invite you to join us in our effort to make our government more responsive to our needs.

The primary election will be on March 12, 1996, the primary runoff will be on April 9, 1996, and the general election will be held on Nov. 5, 1996. I implore each of you to make definite plans to vote on these dates. That's how the democratic process is supposed to work. You can make a difference.

The 18th century author, Alexander Tytler, wrote in his book, The Decline and Fall of the Athenian Republic, "A Democracy cannot exist as a permanent form of government. A democracy always collapses over loose fiscal policy, followed by a dictatorship." The average age of the world's greatest civilization has been 200 years.

The Great Nations have all followed the same path to greatness then declined to complacency, to apathy, to dependency and back to bondage. Two hundred years, that's us. Loose fiscal policy, that's us. Apathy and dependency, that's us.

In 1994, the American people sent over 70 congressmen/women and several new Senators to Washington to change the direction our government was headed. They have been blocked at nearly every turn by entrenched politicians and the veto pen.

We all know that the budget must be balanced before our Government's loose fiscal policies bring us to bankruptcy. The interest on the nation's debt is now over $250 billion each year. If our government continues borrowing and spending as in the past, the income tax will not even pay the interest on our debt. Most financial experts predict insolvency will occur about 2002-2005. This also includes Medicare if the medical professional is allowed to continue to inflate their fees at 10% to 12% each year, three times the national average.

We can change this by going to the polls each and every election. We need to elect people who know who they work for, all the way from our Courthouse to the White House.

"My Best Christmas Present"

Ties, sweaters, socks, sleeves of golf balls, gift certificates to Sears and J.C. Penney.

In that respect, Christmas, circa 1995, was pretty much the same as were the names on the tags. Very nice people giving me very nice gifts.

Yet, one particular gift made this Christmas special. It came from Jimmy Johnson, a gentleman well known to Clarendon folks.

Perhaps Jimmy didn't even know he gave me a present, and, certainly, it wasn't in his official capacity as Donley County Justice of the Peace. Rather, it came in his role as president of the Clarendon Lions Club.

Last Friday night, three days before Christmas, Jimmy asked me to help deliver food to some of Clarendon's needy. It's a project the Lions undertake every Christmas, at which time the club donates a turkey, a box of canned goods, and a sack of staples to the less fortunate.

I had invested Friday afternoon in some frenzied, 12th-hour Christmas shopping with my son, Scotty. We got a late start driving home from Amarillo, so, I had to really step on it to get to the Lions Club at the appointed time.

By the time I arrived, Rev. Marty Hamrick had already picked up a big load of groceries and started making his deliveries. Because I was so late, I asked Scotty to make the deliveries with me, rather than dropping him off at the house first.

That, as it turned out, was a big part of what made my gift from Jimmy so special.

When I arrived at the Lions Club, Jimmy and Gene Alderson, club secretary, assigned Scotty and me our deliveries, some on the south side of town, some on the north.

(And, by the way, just finding some of the designated addresses was real a challenge. Specific street addresses, I'm learning as a newcomer, have little meaning in Clarendon. To begin with, more houses than not are unnumbered. Secondly, Clarendon residences don't learn their neighbors by street addresses. For instance, I don't reside at "809 Koogle," I live in the Bland House. Period.)

Our first stop proved reflective of the evening's effort. I pulled the truck up in front of the humble abode, wondering if I was in the right place. A barking, mixed-breed dog tied to a tree in the barren front yard greeted me.

The truth? I was frightened. A little frightened of the dog and a lot frightened of the unknown.

I told Scotty, "You wait in the truck until I meet the people." He didn't argue the point.

Frozen turkey in hand, I knocked on a side door - there was no electric doorbell - and an elderly woman dressed in overalls and a wool hat answered. I explained my purpose, and she replied with a smile nearly void of teeth. I then motioned to Scotty to bring forth the rest of our offerings.

I couldn't help but feeling awkward about the whole thing. I was out of my element, not only in terms of the physical surroundings, but also in terms of giving. Giving to someone genuinely in need represented unfamiliar turf to me.

Therefore, I sought to make the encounter brief, saying, "Merry Christmas from the Lions Club." I hastily returned to the truck, while Scotty, always much more the extrovert than his old man, conversed with the hunch-backed man of the house.

Despite my hurriedness, the woman followed me to the truck. I had denied her an opportunity to say thank you. You see, I really didn't know how to give.

"We're living on a fixed income," the woman rambled. "My husband can't work, and our food stamps only go so far. We just barely get by. This (the food) will be a big help to us. Thank you so much."

"You're welcome," I managed, remembering a telling line from an old novel. "He said nothing. There was nothing to say." Hemingway, I think. I don't recall.

Even my normally talkative son had little to say upon returning to the truck. His "Gee, Dad," while shaking his head, said it all.

For me, the highlight of the evening came when we'd finished our "official" run. Scotty asked, "Dad, could we go back (to the Lions Club) and make some more deliveries. These people really need the help."

And so we did. It was a cold, windy night, but I felt about as warm as I had in a long, long time. There have been too few times in recent years, as I have scratched and clawed up the ladder some would call success, when I have felt good about myself.

Last Friday, for a moment in time, I did feel good about myself. That was by far the most precious Christmas present I received. And for that, I thank you, Jimmy.

Scott Elliott is the President of Clarendon College.

Dear Editor:

I am writing to express my appreciation to the City of Clarendon, and specifically to Jim Roberts and Mayor Steve Smith, for assisting Clarendon College in transplanting the two pine trees on the northeast corner of our campus, thus enabling the erecting of the college's new marquee sign to proceed.

The transplanting of the trees is a shining example of one government agency coming to the rescue of another. Jim Roberts and his men did an outstanding job in moving the trees. The job required expert planning and a lot of hard work by several individuals.

Without the assistance of the City of Clarendon, the college would not have attempted to transplant the trees because of the considerable expense involved. This was just one example of how the City of Clarendon has assisted the college through the years. The City has always been a tremendous supporter of the college.

Neither the Board of Regents nor I am sorry for the decision that was made to erect the marquee sign at what we considered the optimum location on the campus. I'm sure I can speak for the Board, however, when I say that we are always concerned when the college's constituents - no matter how small or large the group - are unhappy with any element of the institution.

That's why I decided to ask the City to move the trees. I figured the best thing that could happen is that the college could still have its sign at the location that would do the most good to promote the institution, and the trees could possibly be saved, too.

Obviously, there is some question whether the trees, in their new location to the south, will live. Only time will tell.

I can report that the City and the college staff have done everything within their power to save the trees. For instance, several bags of potting soil were placed in the new holes in which the trees were planted. Also, the holes were packed with rich topsoil, rather than the clay-like soil that came out of the holes. A chemical root stimulant was added to the soil as well.

The area encircling the trees has been landscaped, and mulch will be added to try to hold in moisture around the root system. The trees will be watered as extensively as necessary. Our horticulture teacher, Curtis Schaefer, is serving as a consultant on the project. Also, the trees have been tied down with cables to protect against high winds uprooting them.

The trees have been pruned and painted where limbs had to be removed to also insure that our watering program does the most good.

All of us at the college are keeping our fingers crossed that the trees will live. But there's no sense in dodging the issue - I'm told it's a 50-50 proposition at best.

In any event, I am not writing this letter to revisit or rekindle this whole issue. Rather, I am writing to say a big thank you to Mayor Smith, Jim Roberts, and the other employees with the City of Clarendon.

Thanks not only for helping us with the tree project, but for all that you do for the college.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry "Corky" Lynn Leffew, n.e.e. Teresa Faye Bryant

Bryant-Leffew United In Marriage

Teresa Faye Bryant and Larry "Corky" Lynn Leffew were united in marriage at 2:00 p.m. Wednesday, September 27, 1995, at the Swan Song Wedding Chapel in romantic Hot Springs, Arkansas. The ceremony was officiated by Rev. Robert M. Gardner.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Bryant of Paden, Oklahoma, and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Gammill, Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Clonts, Ms. Pauline Bryant and of the late Mr. Bryant, all of Paden. The groom is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Leffew of Clarendon.

Teresa is a graduate of Paden High School and has attended Seminole Junior College, Central State University, Evangel College, and Northeastern State University. The bride earned a Bachelor of Science degree in Criminal Justice with emphasis on Administration of Justice and a double minor in Social Work and Sociology from Northeastern State University, Tahlesquah, Oklahoma. Corky is a graduate of Clarendon High School, and is currently self-employed as a welder.

After being united in marriage in Hot Springs, Arkansas, the couple enjoyed an elegant dinner at the famous Hamilton House Restaurant on the beautiful Lake Hamilton. The couple enjoyed their stay at SunBay Resort in Hot Springs. The next day they were off to Fort Smith, Arkansas, to visit with a dear friend of Teresa's, Glendy Berdan. That evening they all went to the oldest and largest winery in mid-America, which is located on the southern slopes of the Ozark Mountains. The Wiederkehr Wine Cellars is well known for its Ethnic German Restaurant in which they dined at later that evening. Following the nice trip to Arkansas the couple returned to Paden.

A reception was held in honor of the bride and groom on September 20, 1995. The charming and delightful Shawnee Country Club in Shawnee, Oklahoma, was the setting for a night to be remembered. Music and entertainment was provided by It's Showtime, Inc., out of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma. The club was decorated with a golf theme. Corky and Teresa enjoyed playing golf, and what a better place to have a wonderful party than the country club? The tables had personalized golf tees and golf balls for center pieces, and the head table was decorated with floating golf balls and floating candles. Teresa's mother, Faye, her aunt Regina Barkley, and cousin Elaina Barkley did a terrific job decorating and making golf figurines for the tables. The flower arrangements were prepared by Stacy Short-McNiell. The country club staff served the guests with the utmost kindness. The chef prepared a beautiful array of hors d'oeuvres, vegetable trays, fruit and cracker trays, finger sandwiches, and pretzels. Julie Bailey of Paden did an astonishing job on the wedding cake. The bride's cake was three tiered. She decorated the cake with the same colors in which the club had been decorated in; burgundy, navy, and gold. There were navy and burgundy roses surrounding the three tiers, as well as gold beads scalloped around the white icing. The bottom layer of the cake had two champagne glasses inserted in the center which were filled with sparkling champagne. The cake was topped with a unique double heart and flower arrangement with gold beads springing from the top.

The groom's table had a chocolate cookie that was garnished with green icing that symbolized a golf course. There were chocolate mints and nuts on the table as well. The bride's aunt, Gail Fipps, prepared the cream cheese mints that were on the groom's table.

The reception was a symbol of how dreams do come true. Once, all the guest arrived the couple was toasted by Teresa's cousin, Denise Dodd, and the enchanting evening began. The bride and her father danced the first dance to "Daddy's Little Girl." The bride and groom danced their first dance as husband and wife to the tune of George Jones' and Tammy Wynett's "One." The guests enjoyed the sounds of silly tunes such as: "The Chicken Dance", "The Limbo", and "The Hokie Pokie." There was an array of different music played such as: "I Swore", "Kiss You All Over", "Everybody Dance Now", "Strok'en", and "Love Will Keep Us Alive." The night was filled with laughter and joy. Teresa's cousin, Barbara June Bailey, sang "Statue of a Fool" and the bride's cousin, April Kerr, sang "I Will Always Love You" and "Two Sparrows in a Hurricane." Teresa had an unexpected old friend from Omaha, Nebraska, to make a grand entrance. Teresa had not seen her friend, Tanya York, in about seven years. There was such excitement in the room. Teresa's aunt, Juanita Adams, read a poem called "God's Man and God's Woman." The poem had great meaning. As the evening began to wind down, the guests slowly left with only memories that would last a life time.

Family and friends that attended the reception were Floyd and Faye Bryant, Johnny and Sandy Bryant, Pauline Bryant Charles and Ruby Adams, Mark and Stephanie Adams, Glen and Dorothy Davis, Juanita Adams, Melvin and Rosetta Bryant, Robert and Tracy McCalip, Dean Baker, John and Beulah Gammill, Louis and Regina Barkley, Elaina Barkley, Larry Reynolds, Brandy Reynolds, Sherman and Margrett Clonts all of Paden, Oklahoma; Mae Long, Bobby Musgrove, Jennifer Musgrove, Craig and Gail Fipps, Andy and Vickie Gammill, Bo and Cheryl Griffith, Phillip and Shirley Mlynek, Roy Pilkinton, all of Prague, Oklahoma; Johnny and Denise Dodd of Tahlequah, Oklahoma; Jimmy and Tammy Bost of Seminole, Oklahoma; Larry and Helen Sanders of Mason, Oklahoma; Angela Sanders of Bristow, Oklahoma; Donald Gordon, Tommy and Candy Murray, of Stroud, Oklahoma; Patrick Graf and Jintana Adams of Claremore, Oklahoma; Bobby and Barbara Bailey of Okmulgee, Oklahoma; Cecil Rodriguez and Maria Seferoglou, of Tulsa Oklahoma; Merlin and Maxcine Vincent of Morre, Oklahoma; Joe and Bonnie Kerr, April Kerr, Salvador Lopez, all of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma; Tanya York of Omaha, Nebraska; James and Rava McKinney, Edward and Connie McKinney of Clarendon; Kelby and Kimbel Leffew, Zac Lewis, of Panhandle; Tully Leffew and Donna Eggleston of Amarillo. Thanks to all of our guests for coming and helping us celebrate in the joyous occasion of our new life together.

Pre-nuptial courtesies included a wedding shower for the couple, hosted by Mae Long, aunt of the bride, and Sandy Bryant, sister-in-law of the bride. Refreshments were prepared by Margrett Clonts, grandmother of the bride.

After the celebration with family and friends, the couple returned to their home in Clarendon.

High Plains Better Health Notes

By Robert Powell, PA-C

Tinnitus is the hearing of sounds, either in one or in both ears, that are not occurring in the surrounding environment. Each individual may describe the sounds they hear differently. Bells, ringing, whistling, and hissing are common descriptions.

Tinnitus has many possible causes. Some are local and can be trivial and temporary, such as blockage of the ear canal with ear wax. Many causes involve other serious diseases. Tinnitus may be reaction to a drug. Aspirin is probably the most common cause of Tinnitus at all ages.

While Tinnitus may occur at any age, elderly patients are particularly susceptible. Changes in the aging ear are sufficient to produce Tinnitus in many people. Blood vessel changes that occur with aging may produce Tinnitus. A blood vessel cause may be suspected if the sound is pulsating, and particularly if it is in time with the heartbeat.

Treatment choices depend on the cause of the Tinnitus. If Tinnitus is a problem for you at night and interferes with falling asleep, the addition of soft background music with a timed clock radio may help.
