Parent Teachers Ass'n. To Present Pep Parade At College Auditorium Nights of September 20-21st

Rehearsals are underway for "Pep Parade," the local talent show being sponsored by the Parent Teachers Association to be presented September 20 and 21 at the College Auditorium for the benefit of a school cafeteria, and they hope to be able also to purchase additional play equipment for the school children.

The play is under the personal direction of Mrs. Fern Johnson, of Oklahoma City, who has had much experience in this type of work. Mrs. Johnson states that she is greatly pleased with the cast and anticipates one of the finest shows that she has ever directed.

In addition to the comedy cast, "Pep Parade" has many colorful, tuneful chorus numbers as well as some added specialties. According to Mrs. Johnson, it's a gay show—a laugh show—an entertaining show and those attending the play will be amply repaid with two hours of good entertainment in addition to helping a worthwhile cause.

A Baby Contest will be held in conjunction with "Pep Parade." The contestants in this clever contest are between the ages of one week and six years of age. The boy and the girl, receiving the most votes will be presented a 14k gold ring. Each child is invited to participate on the stage the two nights of the play. All those wishing to enter the contest may do so by bringing two pictures with names on back, to the West Texas Utilities Company and leave them in the window there or send them to the school and the teachers will take care of them.

Rodeo & Dances To Be Connected With Fall Fair

Action has already begun toward holding of a rodeo to be sponsored by the American Legion on the afternoons of the 29th and 30th of this month in connection with the County Fair which will also take place on those days. The Legion will also sponsor a dance on the nights of the 28th and 29th to take place in the High School Gymnasium. In addition to all this, there is also the possibility of bringing in a carnival of which the proceeds would go to the Legion. Details have not yet been ironed out, but will appear in next week's issue of the Leader.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne McElroy attended to business in Amarillo Wednesday.

American Legion Outlines Gigantic Program In Meeting Tuesday Night

(By Legion Reporter)
Plans were formulated, approved, and discussed in the Tuesday night meeting of the American Legion here which, if adopted and undertaken by that organization, can be of benefit to every citizen of Donley County and actually put this place on the map. Any one of the plans formulated would be a gigantic undertaking for any small community or organization, but in the future, an attempt will be made to develop a majority of or all of the plans.

The first would be the establishment of a recreation center built and operated at the expense of the Legion to which the public would have access to. It would consist of a lake for fishing and boating, golf course, fresh water swimming pool, dance hall, and possibly other forms of amusement. The possibilities of acquiring such a site are in the hands of a committee now.

Bee Nichols of Stephenville, Texas has charge of the singing, and invites all those who love to sing to come out and help in the choir.

The meeting which began last evening will continue through Sept. 16th. Morning services are being held at 10:30 and evening services at 8:30.

Everyone has a cordial invitation to attend.

Parsons Bros. Observe 24th Anniversary

The Parsons Bros. Dry Cleaning plant is observing its 24th anniversary Saturday, Sept. 8th. The firm has been in several partnerships during that time but one of the original owners, Homer Parsons, has been with the concern continuously for that length of time.

Mr. Parsons started in the dry cleaning business when this type of service was a hard task due to the type of equipment used at that time. Today, he has one of the best equipped cleaning plants in this area and has the most modern type of equipment to do the job. A few years ago Mr. Parsons bought his present location on main street and since that time has remodeled the building from front to back and only this summer installed a large type air-conditioner capable of cooling a dry cleaning plant.

Mr. Parsons contributes his 24 years of success to his customers' patronage and his policy of giving his customers the very best in cleaning service.

Christmas Mail To Men Overseas Begins Sept. 15th

Christmas gifts to service men overseas must be sent between September 15 and October 15, J. C. Estlack, Clarendon postmaster, reminded families and friends of the men this week.

Regulations covering the mailing of gifts are the same as those last year, Mr. Estlack said. He pointed out, however, that it may be even more difficult this year to get the packages to their destination than last and urged that packages be sent as early in the mailing period as possible.

Mr. Estlack reviewed the rules and regulations for those sending overseas gifts. A parcel must not exceed five pounds and must not be more than 15 inches in length or 36 inches in length and girth combined. It should be marked "Christmas parcel" so that it may be given special attention to assure its arrival before December 25.

Not more than one parcel may be mailed in any one week to the same member of the armed forces by or in behalf of the same mailer.

When several items are included in one package, each must be packed securely so it will not become loosened and damaged. Hard candies, nuts, caramels, cookies, fruit cake and chocolate bars individually wrapped in waxed paper should be enclosed in inner boxes of wood, metal or cardboard.

Prohibited items include fruits and vegetables that may spoil, intoxicants, inflammable materials such as matches or lighter fluids, poisons and anything that may damage other mail.

Glass gifts should be substantially packed and sharp instruments such as razors and knives must have their edges and points protected so they cannot cut through the coverings and injure postal personnel or damage other packages.

Be sure the address is complete and accurate, with name, rank, serial number, organization, unit, and APO in care of the postmaster at the port of embarkation. Address it—then check it. Use a heavy box and strong cord.

Rural Schools Off To Good Start Monday

The rural schools of Donley County got off to a good start Monday, Sept. 3rd with all vacancies filled.

"With the Health and Safety education in mind, we hope to present a worth while program for all the schools of the county," stated Miss Ruth Richerson, Supt. of Donley County schools.

One of the aims set for this school year is to have every elementary school in the county use the evaluative material sent out by the Department of Education whereby we can measure and compare what we are doing according to the other schools of the state, added Miss Richerson.

The teachers hired for the rural schools are as follows:

Goldston—Mrs. Florence Hester, principal; Mrs. Earl Dean Hayward.

Ashtola—Mrs. Eutha Hickey, principal; Mrs. Hazel Brandon.

Martin—Mrs. J. C. Gibbs, principal; Mrs. Ben Kyser.

Chamberlain—Mrs. Donald Ballew, principal.

Hudgins—Mrs. Eleanor Bailey, principal.

UNITED COUNCIL OF CHURCH WOMEN MEET

The United Council of Church Women met in a called meeting Wednesday afternoon August 29th. Plans were made for the Silver Tea which is to be in the Parlor of the Methodist Church Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 9th.

The offering will be given in behalf of Leper Work. The Council feels it is very fortunate in having Mrs. U. J. Boston review the splendid book, "Who Walk Alone", at this time, and it is extending an invitation to all interested in this great leper work to attend.

Marshall Morris, recently honorably discharged from the Navy, is back on the old job at the Ice Plant. Marshall spent a number of months on small islands in the Pacific.

Ice customers are happy to have Marshall back on the job again and state that it seems like old times again.

MARSHALL MORRIS BACK ON OLD JOB AGAIN

Marshall Morris, recently honorably discharged from the Navy, is back on the old job at the Ice Plant. Marshall spent a number of months on small islands in the Pacific.

Ice customers are happy to have Marshall back on the job again and state that it seems like old times again.

Navy gifts should be sent during the same period as Army gifts, Sept. 15 to October 15. However, gifts destined for Navy, Marine or Coast Guard personnel may be sent throughout the year without a written request.

If there is reason to believe the man may be moved before the package reaches him, it is suggested that it is safer to wait until it can be mailed to the new address, even though this means asking him for a letter requesting the gift so it can be mailed after October 15.

Christmas cards may be mailed at any time, but they should be sealed and first class postage put on.

LIBRARY NOTES
By Mrs. C. A. Burton

The establishment of good public-library systems throughout the world will be the best possible insurance for the continued existence of democracy. Quoted from Postwar Rehabilitation Research Libraries. Two organizations are working especially on the question of books for the children of devastated countries. One of them is called "Books Across the Sea," the other is "Treasure Chests." The realization has come to the world that the problem of providing Europe's post-war population with public libraries as they are known in the Anglo-Saxon world is, a sociological problem of first magnitude. Books have been one of the war casualties. New books have gone out of print or out of stock very soon after publication. And they have grown thinner—the print smaller, the paper often poorer and poorer bindings. But that will soon be over—books will come into their own. Archibald MacLeish, the poet, and former Librarian of Congress, helped draft the replies to the

Refreshing to Sip On

Enthusiastic about frozen watermelon juice that she'd had deep in the heart of Texas, a Westinghouse home economist worked out these directions for making it: Press juice from pulp by hand or through sieve. Strain or not as preferred, but remove all large pieces of pulp. Pour into cube trays, adding a tiny pinch of salt to each trayful. It will be refreshingly cold—just right to sip from a glass—in about three hours. Don't expect it to freeze solid.

When Glass Splinters

When it comes to picking up splinters of glass, Westinghouse home economists use a damp wad of either absorbent cotton or toilet tissue.

Scissors Preferred

Kitchen scissors are preferred to a knife at the Westinghouse Home Economics Institute for such jobs as dicing celery, green peppers, or trimming fish and cubing meat. With scissors the work goes faster, and obviously one's fingers are out of harm's way.

TOTAL FAILURE.
Quoting from the Wichita Times, "the Americans had not landed in Japan more than a few hours until English speaking Japs galore appeared on the scene. The University of California led in graduate Japs with Harvard a close second. Two English daily papers were published throughout the war for the benefit of the large number of Japs educated in America and England." Then again, "Masaru Fujimoto, reporter of the English printed daily 'Mainichi' is a graduate of the University of California of the class of 1939 but assured the Americans there would be no trouble because it was Emperor Horihito's will that they land. Does it pay to educate Japs? Maybe our nation will wake up after this treat.

HOUSEHOLD WASHING MACHINES BACK IN STORES THIS FALL

Chester Bowles has told consumers that household washing machines, ironers and aluminum kitchenware will be back in the stores this fall at 1942 prices, the District Office of Price Administration has announced.

The Office of Economic Stabilization approved extension of the price program for consumer durable goods to the entire reconversion. In outline, the program is to grant increases at the production level to compensate for cost increases since 1941, when necessary to assure maximum production. Wholesalers and retailers, not the consumer, will absorb a substantial amount of these increases where their margins reasonably permit them to do this. Price Administrator Bowles told housewives this is what they can expect in the durable goods field during the next few months:

The output of household washing machines should reach pre-war levels this fall and shoppers should be able to find them in the stores in quantity by the end of the year.

The picture is pretty much the same for aluminum kitchen ware. Of course, shoppers should remember that washing machines and cooking utensils have been out of stock for some time and probably will be bought up very quickly.

Production of ironers will come along more slowly.

Edward Sawyer, Tommy Murphy and Gene Bryan spent the first of the week at the Molesworth ranch visiting Fred Molesworth before he leaves for school.

Saturday, Sept. 8th marks the end of twenty-four successful years for me in the Dry Cleaning business in Clarendon. Twenty-four years of success that only my friends and customers could have made possible.

I wish to pause at this time to express my sincere appreciation to you for your continued patronage throughout these years and will always try to merit your continued patronage in the future.

Modern Equipment Throughout

When first starting in the dry cleaning business our equipment was modern at that time but would be obsolete now. As the years have gone by, we have continued to keep our equipment modern and at the present time we have a fully equipped shop that is capable of giving you the very best in Dry Cleaning Service. During the past few years we have remodeled our building and only recently we installed a large air-conditioning system to make working conditions more comfortable—allowing employees to give you a better dry cleaning service.

G-E Armament Expert Describes Jet-Propelled Combat of Future

LOS ANGELES—Combat nine miles above the earth's surface by jet-propelled planes whose terrific speeds will hurtle them toward each other at more than 1000 miles per hour was portrayed by R. A. Averitt, of General Electric's Aviation Division, to engineers attending a meeting of the Institute of Aeronautical Sciences here recently.

Split-second timing will be necessary, according to Averitt, who predicted that aerial battles will be conducted at such a lightning-like pace that fighters will be in and out of range in two seconds or less. He said that gun turrets and gunsights will be mounted flush, or within the skin line of the jet plane, and even gun barrels will not be allowed to protrude.

The necessity for minimizing drag in every detail of the jet-propelled plane will outrule protruding turrets or sights, Averitt stated. Any significant protrusion may have such detrimental effect to the total jet plane performance as to render the plane useless for its purpose.

The jet-propelled bomber that emerges with Averitt's design analysis will include the following armament features:

1. Multiple-gun, remotely controlled nose and tail turrets.
2. Periscope sighting stations, either double-ended and mounted vertically in the airplane, or single-ended, mounted horizontally and capable of sighting in a forward or aft hemisphere.
3. Computers with hair-trigger brains that will make the most of limited effective firing range by overcoming problems of accurate lead computation and the like.

Emphasizing the need for close co-ordination of future armament development with airplane design, Averitt declared that jet propulsion opens a completely new approach to the design of bombardment airplanes. He predicted that further development in guns, sights, radar, computers, and accessories will produce designs far advanced beyond present equipment.

Some idea of the extent of the progress coming in aircraft armament is indicated in the fact that Averitt termed the direct-vision type sighting stations now used on the B-29 as "out of the question" for jet-propelled bombers. The periscope sights they will use instead will boast such additional refinements as fixed eyepieces and optical range finders.

Mr. and Mrs. Skeet Brown and family of Memphis, Mr. and Mrs. Loren Rhoades of Lefors, Miss Billy Jean Knox, Miss Mary Christie, Lt. Bob Hassard of Childress Field and Cadets Dick Williamson and Everett Smith of Amarillo Field visited in the Austin Rhoades home over the weekend.

EARLY DAYS OF AVIATION ALSO THE DAYS OF LONG SKIRTS—This is a composite picture made from two photographs showing early trials of the Wright brothers biplane at Fort Myer, Virginia. Spectators hold their breath while the little plane skims over the tree tops of Arlington Cemetery.

MOOS OF THE MOMENT

BY UNCLE BOB

of the Kraft Dairy Farm Service

If you want bigger bits of butterfat, there's nothing better for bigger bits of butterfat than a better bull.

And that bunch of B's without honey brings me to the matter of insuring a better future milk production in your herd by care in picking out a herd sire.

The best way to judge a bull is by the milk production records of its daughters. So before you select the animal which will sire your calves, check back on the bull's daughters. If those daughters are producing at a high rate and have done so since the first time they freshened, then the bull is good enough for your herd.

In the next few months, cows which will freshen in the fall of 1946 will be bred. A year from now, the milk producers of 1948-49 and later will be arriving on farms.

If you want cows that will make more pounds of milk and more pounds of butterfat at no more cost than ordinary cows, you have the answer in the selection of your herd sire.

In making your plans for winter feeding, remember that the extension people recommend that a cow be fed on a basis of the quantity of milk it produces. If we fed humans on the amount of work done, I know some folks who'd be living on bread and water—and not very good water, either.

When you figure out how much feed you'll need to take your cows through the winter at top production, check the milk production records of each cow. Each animal needs as much high quality forage which it will eat, plus one pound of grain for each three to five pounds of milk produced.

The exact amount of grain to feed depends also on the quality of the roughage and the breed of cow. Holsteins and Brown Swiss need a pound of grain for each four or five pounds of milk, but Jerseys and Guernseys need a pound for each three to four pounds of milk, Missouri says.

I suggest you get copies of feeding bulletins from your county agent, and you might like to write for Circular 405, Extension Service, College of Agriculture, Columbia, Mo., and a new Special Circular called "Feeding the Dairy Herd" just published by the Extension Service, College of Agriculture, Madison, Wis. *

And by all means watch for the winter feeding article in the September-October issue of the Kraftman. It is a most interesting and helpful discussion of this important part of your program. If you do not get the Kraftman regularly, write Uncle Bob at 500 Peshigo Court, Chicago 90, Ill., and I'll mail you one free.

Nearly starved to death one summer a lot of years ago. Worked on a farm which had a long-armed boarder who could reach the length of the table, with no trouble at all.

In case you've got any "boarders" in your herd, I suggest you check your feed supply and see if you can profitably replace such low producing cows with a well-bred heifer.

There's a fine hay crop this year, but it is a bit early to talk about the size of the grain crop. Just how much you'll have for your winter feeding is something you will want to check into at this time.

If your feed supplies don't look too plentiful for your herd, you surely would be using the supply you have to better advantage if part of it feeds a new and promising producer, rather than going to a low producing cow.

Heavy milk producers use feed more efficiently than do low producers and return more dollars in milk for the dollars in grain and hay consumed.

Better look into this item before you start your barn feeding program.

*NOTE: There usually is a 5c charge for pamphlets mailed to non-residents of a state, but possibly your own state has a free pamphlet on the same subject. Ask your county agent.

Protect Child's Health For School

Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, urges the parents of all children who will respond to the school bell for the first time in September to be sure the child is physically ready for school duties.

"First and foremost is the need for vaccination against smallpox. Parents should see that children are vaccinated before they are one year of age; however if not done previously, at school age vaccination becomes absolutely necessary," Dr. Cox said. "If your child has not been vaccinated, have it done immediately for his own protection and that of others."

Immunization against diphtheria is also highly important, Dr. Cox declares. This disease which causes serious illness and deaths among young children can be prevented with toxoid. The child who has never been protected should be given this safeguard against a dreaded killing disease. Even though he may have been immunized as a baby, doctors and health officers usually recommend an additional dose of toxoid to strengthen immunity before entrance into school.

"In addition, before you send your child to school you are urged to take him to your family physician and dentist for a thorough examination," Dr. Cox adds. "You will want to know that he is in good physical condition and can compete with the other children on equal terms. If the check-up reveals any weakness or defects they should be corrected at once. Don't let your child start his school life with any avoidable handicap."

Refrigerate Milk Sooner

The sooner milk and other dairy products are popped into the refrigerator, the better. If early morning delivery makes immediate refrigeration impossible, ask the milkman to set them in the shade or put a box outside to shield them from the sun. This advice from the Westinghouse Home Economics Institute is prompted by the fact that milk allowed to stand in the sun for several hours will have increased 10 to 20 degrees in temperature, thus causing a tremendous increase in bacteria which no amount of chilling afterward can reduce.

John M. Molesworth left last Saturday for Camp Savoy at Wimberly, Texas, for football conditioning before he goes back to Texas Military Institute.

When You Were Three

Tying your own shoes was a tough job. But your parents let you try. They knew it would help you to help yourself. Remember the thrill when the knot stayed tied?

Shifting for yourself has always been an American custom. As boy or man, just give an American an even break—a chance to get ahead—and he'll do the rest.

But when government goes into business, in competition with its citizens, the American idea of an even break is destroyed... for government in business takes special privileges that are denied the people.

Consider government power projects for example. They are TAX SLACKERS—DO NOT pay federal taxes; but get YOUR money from the U. S. Treasury at little or no interest; make up losses out of the pockets of the patriotic taxpayers.

On the other hand, America's business-managed power companies—owned and operated by millions of folks like you—are on their own. They pay their full share of taxes (near one-third of each gross dollar collected). They pay through able management, fair interest on money loaned by people like you to build the property.

Maybe you run a store or service station or beauty shop. View them—a next-door government politically managed competitor who has little or no rent, or taxes, or interest to pay, and who is kept in business partly by your tax money.

It is a tribute to American self-reliance that tax-paying, self-supporting companies supply over 80% of the tremendous amount of electric power used in this country. And it is a further tribute to the American system of private initiative that these companies provide America with enough electricity to meet even the gigantic demands of war—and, when most things cost more—still deliver this electricity at low pre-war prices and without political tax favors or subsidies.

RATIONING AT A GLANCE

By Peppy Blocker
Grade II truck tires have been removed from rationing. They have been reclassified as Grade III and may be transferred, mounted and used without a certificate. Also passenger tires made of reclaimed rubber are no longer on the list of rationed items. These tires are not capable of the same mileage obtained from other tires and naturally certificate holders do not care to relinquish certificates for them, therefore, they are now reclassified as Grade III and are ration-free.

The requests for Grade I passenger tires have become tremendous since the removal of gasoline rationing. Every application must, therefore, be complete and information given as to the eligibility of the applicant must be first hand and up to date. We do not have enough tires to begin to take care of all applicants so we will necessarily continue to solicit your full cooperation thru the present emergency, until production meets demand.

Sugar stamp No. 36 expires August 31st; No. 38 becomes valid September 1st and will be good through December 31st. No. 37 has been declared void since a great number of people used this stamp, or tried to use it, instead of Spare No. 37. So, if you still have sugar stamp No. 37 in your ration book, you may as well destroy it as it will definitely not be used.

Red stamps V2 through K1 are good for 10 points each; L1, M1, N1, and Q1 will become valid September 1st. V2 through Z2 expire August 31st. Shoe stamps one, two, three and four with airplane pictures, are each good for one pair of shoes indefinitely.

CAUTION IN BUYING WELDING EQUIPMENT

Operation of electric welding equipment on farms requires planning. For example, says M. R. Bentley, agricultural engineer for the A&M College Extension Service, it is possible to get a welding outfit too large to operate with existing rural line equipment. In such case it might be necessary to install a large transformer with, perhaps, a charge for wiring from transformer to welder. Another possibility is that the installation of a suitable transformer for the welder may increase the monthly minimum service charge. For these reasons, Bentley suggests that those served by rural electric lines who are considering buying electric welding equipment to operate from the line should talk the matter over with the power company or REA representative before making the purchase.

The idea, he explained, is to find out about these things before buying an electric welder so as to avoid misunderstandings or disappointments.
