Highlights and Sidelights FROM Your State CAPITOL

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN — Adlai Stevenson, 1952 Democratic presidential nominee, kept his political thoughts and hopes mostly to himself during his Texas visit. He made only a left-handed jibe at political foe Gov. Allan Shivers.

Shivers has said he will not support Stevenson if he is the '56 presidential nominee.

In his University of Texas lecture, Stevenson said that, while not a full-time economic expert, he is a "full-time Democrat." He sidestepped a question from the audience on Texas tidelands, issue on which he and Shivers broke in 1952.

Stevenson was joined by Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn in an overnight visit at U.S. Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson's farm. Plane schedules allowed the three top-level Democratic leaders very little time to discuss their party's brightened prospects. They all disclaimed any political significance in the get-together.

Johnson and Rayburn said no change in Democratic Congressional tactics is planned as a result of President Eisenhower's heart attack. They said Demo leaders would, nevertheless, try to draft a Congressional program that will put a Democrat in the White House.

Apparently well on the road to recovery from his own heart attack, Johnson sent a telegram inviting President Eisenhower to Texas to hunt with him.

Shivers Criticizes Court

Last year's desegregation ruling by the Supreme Court was part of a long series of moves toward centralized government, Gov. Shivers contends.

U. S. Supreme Court justices "stepped out of their judicial robes" in their desegregation decision, he said. "Nine men, sitting 2,000 miles away, are not going to tell Crossroads, Texas, how they are going to run their schools," the Governor emphasized.

Shivers spoke at a meeting of oil well drillers in Houston, at the same time Adlai Stevenson addressed an Austin audience.

Earlier he pointed out the court ruling can be overridden by act of Congress or amendment to the U. S. Constitution. He cited recent tidelands legislation as an example.

Political Speculation

Sen. Price Daniel has indicated he may disclose his political plans during a series of speeches scheduled in Texas during November. He has kept the door open for a possible race for governor next year. His Senate term still has two years to go.

Meanwhile, Daniel will open hearings of the Senate judiciary sub-committee on narcotics in Austin, Oct. 12, and will hold other hearings in San Antonio, Houston, Dallas and Fort Worth.

Political speculation has swung toward the idea that Gov. Allan Shivers and other top officeholders may choose to seek re-election next year, Shivers for a fourth elective term.

Among the possibilities were Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey, Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd, and Agri. Comm. John C. White. The same speculation hinted that possibly U. S. Sen. Daniel might decide against the governor's race for which he has been discussed.

Gov. Shivers decision to run for re-election would greatly thin the ranks of prospective candidates. So far, only former Speaker Reuben Senterfitt has announced. Ralph Yarborough, twice defeated for the office, is regarded as a certain candidate. White and State Senator Jimmy Phillips of Angleton are probable entrants.

Teachers Due Jury Duty

This fall, for the first time in Texas history, some school teachers will have to interrupt the three R's to answer jury summonses.

Legislators, apparently by an oversight, deprived them of their traditional exemption. Jury service laws were rewritten last session after constitutional amendment made women eligible for duty. Old laws, specifically exempting "school masters," had been interpreted as meaning all teachers. That new statutes had dropped this classification did not come to light until school and fall court sessions began. Teachers summoned are expected to seek reprieve on the grounds that their absence would work a hardship on their schools.

DONLEY COUNTY SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

At a meeting in the Goldston community building, October 4, 1955, J. R. Porter was unanimously re-elected as the supervisor to represent zone 2 on the Donley County Soil Conservation District Board of Supervisors. Judge Porter has been chairman of the board since the organization of the District in 1947. Mr. W. C. Howard, Vice-president of the Texas Association of Soil Conservation Districts from Quanah was the speaker.

Kermit Evans seeded some alfalfa the first part of September in a manner that is not a common practice here, but which has promising features. Kermit mixed German millet and alfalfa and drilled it at the rate of 20 pounds of each per acre. He watered it to get it up, and with the rains we have had in September and this month has it up to a good stand. The millet is thick and about 6 inches high and should reach about a foot in height before frost kills it. This will furnish an excellent dead cover to protect the small alfalfa from blowing this winter and next spring. Lack of protection is the reason much of the alfalfa seeded in this District is lost before it can make enough growth to protect itself.

Kermit is planning on plowing up his old alfalfa next spring and planting cotton on that land, which is an example of crop rotation recommended by the District and the Soil Conservation Service technicians assisting the District. It will be interesting to compare the production on this alfalfa land and other land which has not been in alfalfa next fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Whitsell are the proud parents of a boy, Danny Alfred, born October 10th at Stewart Clinic. He weighed 6 lbs. and 12 oz. The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Fitzgerald and Mrs. A. L. Whitsell.

Migration Bit Early

AUSTIN—The migration trend among the preliminary flights of southward bound birdlife seems a little ahead of schedule this fall, Game Warden Tom Waddell of Eagle Lake reported to Austin headquarters of the Game and Fish Commission.

Waddell, veteran field observer down in the Colorado County concentration area, said the first cool spell reached the fringe of the Gulf Coast area about ten days early and had a proportionate effect on migrants.

Among the ducks, blue wing teal and pintails arrived on the average time and in normal numbers but the fleet green winged teal came in unusually large numbers yet at about the usual time.

Assorted song birds moved in, bunched up and got ready for further southward movement strictly on schedule, said Waddell who has kept comparative records on wildlife movement for more than thirty years.

And he noted that live oak acorns started falling ten days earlier this year than last and the buck deer began rubbing velvet off their horns fourteen days earlier this year. "So fall looks a little early," he concluded.

PINK BOLLWORM RESEARCH

Cotton cultural practices, a vital factor in the control of the Pink Bollworm, are being improved through research by Texas and U. S. Department of Agriculture entomologists.

Texas has been experimenting to determine under what conditions the pink bollworm can and cannot survive the winter in stalks or trash left in cotton fields. The highest rate of insect kill was achieved from:

1. Fall plowing to bury infested cotton bolls and trash in the warm humid areas of southern Texas.

2. Allowing stalks to stand overwinter and be plowed under in the spring in colder northern Texas. (This method has not yet received full approval of all entomologists, due to the varying climatic conditions.)

Records on the percentage of kill by early plowing under of the stalks showed a survival of only .04 percent in Port Lavaca fields. The rate was higher, 1.35 percent, at Waco.

In the colder regions, allowing stalks to stand through the winter and then plowed under in the spring proved effective under ideal weather conditions. Prolonged cold resulted in a pink bollworm survival of only .01 at Lubbock, .01 at Vernon and .03 percent at Chickasha, Okla.

Generally, spring plowing under of infested trash and bolls was less effective than fall plowing in all locations. Test plots at Waco and Mount Pleasant were studied where bolls and trash were allowed to remain on the surface of the ground. This method resulted in nearly 22 percent of pink bollworm survival.

The pink bollworm is the worst of all cotton insect pests. It is found in all cotton producing areas of Texas and in parts of Arizona, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Louisiana, and Arkansas.

This research is only one phase of an intensive program through the cotton belt aimed at developing effective ways of controlling the pest. Rigid federal and state quarantine and control programs have only slowed its spread. Complete eradication is still a remote possibility.

Exams Announced For Youths Seeking Appointments To Service Schools

Senator Lyndon B. Johnson has announced that Civil Service examinations for Texas boys seeking appointment to the Army, Navy and Air Force service schools will be held November 14 at 71 cities and towns throughout the state.

Senator Johnson uses the results of these examinations as a guide in making his appointments to the military academies.

Entrance requirements vary, but all three academies require that appointees be United States citizens. In the case of applicants to be considered by Senator Johnson, they must be residents of Texas. They must be between the ages of 17 and 21 years upon entry, must be single and must pass a rigid medical examination and a physical aptitude test. Candidates for the Air Force Academy must be able to pass the medical examination for flying training and a pilot aptitude test.

Persons interested in taking the competitive examination on November 14 are advised to write Senator Lyndon B. Johnson, Senate Office Building, Washington, D. C., not later than October 15th.

Capt. Led Jay of Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo. visited Saturday night with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Jay. He was enroute to Louisiana for Army maneuvers.

HEALTH NOTES

Texas State Dept. of Health

AUSTIN—There is hope on the horizon for the thousands of Texans who are suffering from heart disease, says Dr. Henry A. Holle, Commissioner of Health. Such tremendous advances have been made by medical science that some forms of heart disease, once incurable, can now be effectively remedied. Eventually a way will be found to prevent some forms of heart disease.

Heart disease is the leading cause of death in Texas. Last year 20,211 Texans died of diseases of the heart, 31 per cent of all deaths. There are 21 known types of heart trouble, but the three major types are rheumatic heart disease, high blood pressure and coronary heart disease.

Rheumatic heart disease is the damage done to the heart valves by rheumatic fever. Rheumatic fever is a disease of children and young adults, and often follows a "strep throat" or some other streptococcus infection. Medical science has given us new and better ways of treating these infections. As a result fewer hearts are being damaged and fewer persons are dying from rheumatic fever. With modern medicine, doctors can, if given a chance, prevent rheumatic fever by curing strep infections in the early stages.

Doctors do not know all the causes of high blood pressure, or hypertension as it is sometimes called. Sometimes it is caused by kidney disease, and sometimes by hardening of the arteries, nervousness, an overactive thyroid gland, or excessive weight. If a person with high blood pressure follows his doctor's advice, he may live happily and busily to old age. To hold down his blood pressure he must watch his weight, not work too hard or play too hard, and follow closely any special instructions of his physician, as to diet and other matters.

Many people think, mistakenly, that nothing can be done for coronary heart disease, the greatest heart killer from middle age onward. It is a disease of the arteries which supply blood to the heart muscle itself. These arteries may become hard and thick, allowing less blood to get to the heart muscle to nourish it. A much more serious condition, coronary thrombosis, develops when a clot forms in a thickened artery cutting off the blood flow. With proper treatment and rest, however, a person may recover completely.

According to Dr. Holle, work in the prevention of heart disease is moving ahead on many fronts. So far, medical science has been unable to prevent high blood pressure and coronary heart trouble, but has found ways of treating their after effects. But such treatment is allowing many persons to enjoy many years of added life.

LIBRARY NOTES

By May L. Prewitt

The Book Review page in some of the Sunday editions reviewed, and gave a complimentary comment on "Wah-ta-yah and the Taos Trail" by Lewis H. Garrard. You likely recall that a copy of this book was given us by Mr. Jerome Stocking recently. No new books have been received in the last week except a few replacements of worn out copies. These fifteen books replaced were memorial gifts that I have discussed before in my notes.

In the last issue of "Texas Libraries" there is a discussion of books issued and children far surpass adults in their patronage of the Libraries over various sections of the state.

In a magazine, "Presidio" published by the inmates of Fort Madison Prison, Iowa, they have had more magazines and books issued per capita than any Library of the United States. Their staff is mostly "Lifers," and expense and time have made it a worth while publication. The editor was paroled this past month due to recent Iowa Legislation that permits a discussion of the cases after 15 years of "serving" their sentence.

The Ballinger Library Board had many obsolete books destroyed during their recent "clean-up" week. We have a great number of useless books that it is going to be necessary to "retire" someday.

Since school began we have been on the alert for theme material. Please never destroy a history or literature book. They are certainly useful for references.

Last week I mentioned that the Autumn issue of Readers' Digest condensed Book had a condensation of Herman Wouk's "Margorie Morningstar". Mrs. Avery of Dallas reviewed this book of Houk's at the Forum in Wichita Falls last week.

Mr. and Mrs. O. L. McBrayer and family and Mrs. Clyde Davis and Cynthia spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Leldon McBrayer and went shopping in Fort Worth.

Mexico has a prescription for the world's bad news—have fun. The ingredients are dance, music, song, color and a light heart. These have made Mexico the gayest land in the world, in spite of wars, revolutions, politics and a devalued currency. Extending back 2000 years to the days of their pyramids, this sounds like a tested formula.

This area will have an eye-filling and earful of Mexican gaiety on Oct. 17 and 18 when a large company of Mexican artists, comprising a complete and traditional Fiesta of dance, music and dulcet voices will sweep into Amarillo under the direction of Miguel Lerdo de Tejada, one of Mexico's leading conductor-composers and, like his illustrious father, head of the National Tipica Orchestra.

Tipica means typical and this company of thirty will do not only the dances of the countryside, including the world-famed national dance, jarabe or "hat" dance, the bamba, jarana, zandunga and others, but will deliver a sizeable sample of the other arts. Ranchero songs done by lusty cowboys with their guitars and other unique instruments, catchy popular tunes played and sung by Mariachi band, and stage-screen stars delivering great songs of the people. There will also be current theatre and movie song hits accompanied by tipica music seldom heard in this country.

Those who have been to Mexico will see again the vigorous dances in dazzling rainbow-hued costumes and hear again the songs, flutes, marimbas, salterios and drums reminiscent of their visits to Oaxaca, Puebla, Michoacan, Chiapas, Tabasco, Campeche, Yucatan and the rest of the 29 states. Those who are seeing and hearing all this for the first time will have a spectacle and arm-chair pageant of the color, vivacity, passion and exhilarating spirit of our sister republic, where they say, "If you want to live forever, have fun."

There will be two performances at 8:15 each night and proceeds will go to Boys' Ranch. Advance tickets may be purchased at Boy's Ranch Headquarters, 600 W. 11th, Amarillo, priced at $3.60, $3.00, $2.40, $1.80 and $1.20.

Mr. and Mrs. George Garrison, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Soderberg and Pamela, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Whitlock visited Friday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Montye Garrison at Quanah.

Perch Nip Skin Diver

AUSTIN — Under-water observations of specially equipped aquatic technicians has been marked so far by a mere slight nipping of a worker by a brazen perch, reports the Chief Aquatic Biologist of the Game and Fish Commission.

He said the unscheduled incident occurred while Richard Clark, attired in skin diving regalia, sat motionless near the shore of Lake Travis in about twelve feet of water. The perch watched Clark for a few minutes and then darted up and bit the startled youth on the chest.

The subterranean tests have been undertaken to enable biologists to study antics of fish in their natural habitat. They mainly are interested in black bass which are naturally warier than perch and some other panfish species.

The Chief Aquatic Biologist said special equipment has been ordered to permit year-around continuation of the below-surface studies. The crewmen will wear insulated suits and other protective raiment. Tests are being concentrated on Lake Travis, near Austin.

GOLD IN THAT THAR—“Week-end prospectors,” soldiers stationed at Fort Richardson, Alaska, pan for gold in nearby Ship Creek, can average about $10 worth a day. Bronchos Defeat Panhandle 12-6

The Clarendon Bronchos marked up their second conference win of the season last Friday night defeating the Panhandle Panthers 12-6 on the local field.

It was a see-saw affair throughout most of the game and neither team found any dirt until the second quarter. The second quarter had just gotten underway when Payne hit Carl Evans with an eleven yard pass and the 6 points. The Bronchos second tally came early in the third period with Robert Mills turning on the speed for 24 yards and pay dirt. Panhandle made their only goal stripe crossing about midway of the fourth quarter. The Bronchos were knocking at the door again on the three yard line when the game ended. Panhandle had one of the strongest lines on defense that the Bronchos had met all season. The Bronchos were off on their blocking and open field tackling which gave the Panthers an opportunity to move along for nice gains throughout the game. Fumbles and pass interceptions hampered both teams.

A highlight of the game was the crowning of the Band Sweetheart at half time. Miss Jeannie McAnear, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. McAnear, was crowned Sweetheart of the band and her escort was Monte Smith; attendants were Jackie Estlack and Carol McAbee and their escorts were Winfred Self and Lynn Spier. Little Miss Kay Goar, band mascot, presented a bouquet of roses to the Band Sweetheart.

Judy Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Thompson, led the band as drum major. Judy was made assistant drum major near the close of school last year and is understudy of Jackie Estlack, present drum major. She attended Music Camp at West Texas State this past summer and will assume her duties as drum major next year.

Misses Rhoda Wiedman and Lucile Polk, Mrs. Julia Hauer and Mrs. Cordia Thompson spent the week end in Dallas where they attended the opening of the State Fair.

Restock Tests Aim At Future

AUSTIN—While Texas hunters are concentrating on the fall wildlife harvest, Game and Fish Commission technicians are looking ahead to future seasons, according to the Executive Director of the Game and Fish Commission.

He said he was reminded of this look-ahead program by some current planning board developments such as: Release of the first sage hens in an experimental restocking program near Marfa in the Big Bend country;

Negotiations looking to possible trapping of Aoudad sheep in California for release in the Palo Duro Canyon country in the Panhandle.

Plans to resume trapping of Big Horn sheep in Arizona for restocking the Black Gap Wildlife Management area West of the Pecos next year.

Reports that at least part of the one hundred fifty Spanish red-legged partridge have survived their first summer in the Panhandle (near Childress).

Meanwhile, the fisheries staff is going ahead with experiments to determine whether some marine species may be profitably adapted to far-inland lakes which have a heavy salt content. Latest move in this direction was transplanting of a consignment of speckled trout in Lake Kemp, near Wichita Falls, where redfish and blue crabs previously had been released experimentally.

Speckled trout, a great favorite among sports fishermen along the Gulf Coast, is a voracious predator and might help reduce the overpopulation of rough fish in inland waters.

Perhaps the most spectacular of the experimental projects was the dawn-to-dusk flying of the sage hens sixteen hundred miles from Montana to Marfa in west Texas. The fast hop by Warden-Pilot Frank Hamer was scheduled since technicians said the game birds might not survive more than forty-eight hours in captivity. Only two of the eighteen trapped sage hens were lost in transit.

The Executive Secretary said the restocking projects listed represent “a very small phase of our restoration work since we are primarily engaged in enhancing our native species.” “The tests are mentioned”, he added, “to reflect the varied efforts comprising a modern wildlife management program. In a state as large as Texas, where the contrast in habitat is so great, we are constantly exploring possibilities for stocking areas which now are barren of wildlife.”

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Naylor of Amarillo are the parents of a son. The young man arrived Tuesday, Oct. 11, and weighed 7 lbs. 8 oz.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Cross and Annette visited Sunday in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Lemons of Memphis.

BLWIN' Out the CORNERS Uncle Zeb

Someone has said that; "An after thought is when we have a mad desire to shut our mouth after we have already got our foot in it."

We hear a lot this day and time about positive thinking, and positive action, but we wonder sometimes if we hear enough about positive talking. Like the above saying we find so many times that we have opened our mouth to say something that we thought was important only to find out later that we could well have left it unsaid. So many times after we have talked with someone on the street we stop and ask ourselves if what we said added to or subtracted from the good of the situation, and many times we are forced to admit that our words were of no help. This always makes us feel terrible afterwards, but words once spoken are like the water gushing down the rivers. Like the waters in the river if it is controlled can become life saving and life building to the world. But if like the uncontrolled waters, these words go out to bring misery and ill-feeling in the lives of those about us.

Something else that makes us unhappy would be when we say or do things without thinking that someone looking at the situation from another angle see in our unknowing act something that hurts their feelings. Part of the time we can find words to make amends and again; other times it seems an impossible predicament. In times like these it seems that the more we say the worse a situation becomes. ELbert Hubbard once said; "Never explain; your friends don't need it, and your enemies won't believe you anyway." But we wonder if this rule will work even most of the time. I guess an occasional, "I'm Sorry" on our part couldn't hurt a thing anyway.

Our friend, James Mullins from down Lubbock way sends us another supply of old sayings; The following are a sample. Thanks James, a whole lot.

"It isn't the size of the dog in the fight, but the size of the fight in the dog that determines the winner."

"If what you did yesterday still looks good to you, you probably haven't done much today."

"Why be disagreeable when with just a little effort you can be a real stinker."

Every once in awhile we run across a human interest story that touches our hearts. So it is with our own personal experiences with so many of those who because of some sickness or misfortune are shut-ins. One such very wonderful person that we hear from real often is Miss Naomi Ruth Field, 903 Alston Ave. Ft. Worth, Texas. The author of the following wonderfully inspiring poem dedicated it to this fine young lady. Naomi spends much of her time entering contests at which she is pretty lucky.

SHUTIN
By Ruth Adams Belcher
Shutin - - I never liked the word—
It held a plaintive note
Until a different view I got
From what one Shutin wrote;
"Shutin?" she said - - "O, yes indeed,
Shutin from noise and strife,

But shut out are so many things
That cluttered up my life;
Shut In are peace, and faith, and hope—
Shut Out are fear and doubt;
Shut In are words and deeds of cheer
No heart can do without;
Shut In my mind are memories
Of gayer, brighter years;
I laugh sometimes, remembering,
Sometimes I yield to tears—
Shut In are friends I cannot lose,
I hold them in my heart;
And tho the miles stretch long between
We never are apart.
"Shutin" - - Why it's a blessed word—
My soul will one day trod
On happy feet, to heaven's door
And be shut In with God."

Region 9 covers the States of Oklahoma, Texas and New Mexico.

The purpose of the Retreat is to launch the 1956 program of activities of the Adobe Walls Council. Participating in the program will be R. J. Rust, Council President, Phillips, Texas; Don Cain, Executive Board Member, Pampa; E. F. Glasgow, Council Finance Chairman, Phillips; and Joe Trayler, Executive Board Member, Spearman.

This event, the largest gathering of volunteer Scouters ever held in the Adobe Walls Council, is being sponsored by adult members of the Order of the Arrow, honor camper organization of the Boy Scouts of America.

A feature of the program will be a free barbecue which is being provided by Mrs. Inez Carter of Pampa, and will be prepared and served by the Pampa Shrine Club. The barbecue, which will be served at 5:30, will follow the business session to be held in the Dining Lodge at Camp Ki-O-Wah.

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18TH DISTRICT

By Congressman Walter Rogers

FARM PROGRAM

As most people familiar with farm problems realize, the dilemma presently faced by the farmer is not a new experience. The tragedy lies in the fact that the basic problem has caused trouble in this country since the 17th century. The great difficulty has always found its source in the fact that the farmer's products have been forced to compete on the world market while the products which he needs to operate his farm were purchased by him from a protected, domestic market. In other words, he has been placed in a position of having to "sell low and buy high". This is the exact reverse of the age old success theory to "buy low and sell high".

There has always been a great deal of talk about getting this situation straightened out. But, like Mark Twain's remark about the weather, everyone talked about it but no one did anything. That is, until the present farm programs were brought into play during the depression years of the 1930's. It was through these programs that the income of the American farmer was brought up to where it approached a fair share of the national income. However, the continual sniping at these programs has finally resulted in a situation where the farmer again finds himself sliding backwards, in so far as his income is concerned. History has shown us that every time the farm income was allowed to drop and continued on a downward trend, it resulted in an over-all economic depression. The present decline in the present farm income must be stopped. If we have another depression in this country, it will be a man-made depression, because we have the know-how to avoid it. To allow it to happen would be inexcusable.

To those who continually preach against the farm program, and who seem to get great pleasure out of calling them farm subsidies, let me say this. The farmers build countries. They do not bankrupt them. Any statement to the effect that the farm programs of this nation are bankrupting the nation, just do not coincide with the facts. The truth is that the losses in some portions of the farm program, which were being tested on a trial and error method, do not amount to a thimbleful when compared with the vast subsidies that have gone to industry in this country for years before the farmer was thought of, nor to the vast sums of money that have been sent overseas as gifts and grants to many who had sought to destroy our government and our nation.

The advance of civilization has always required changes in laws and in programs under which people have lived. New problems are created by new discoveries and new advances in many fields. But it must be remembered that none of these problems, especially the farm problems, can be settled by destroying the American farmer, or whatever segment of our population might be affected by a particular problem.

Of course, there are many solutions offered to these problems, and they should all be carefully weighed because some suggestion in each of them might be an essential ingredient in the final successful recipe.

As of September 27, the public debt of this nation was $277,425,541,342.05. I am of the opinion that this debt is too high. I felt that it was too high when it was approximately 275 billions of dollars. I have consistently voted against increasing the authorization to go further into debt, because I have felt that there was not enough difference between the national income and the national debt. Under the free enterprise system of government, there will always be a public debt because we operate on a debtor creditor relationship in all of our activities and especially in the fields of government operation. And, as long as we have an expanding economy, we can expect a public debt to be related to the national income. However, I have always felt that the national debt should be far enough below the national income to avoid any chaotic conditions should the national income unexpectedly drop.

It was recently pointed out by one of the high officials of this country that Russia did not have any public debt. One of the metropolitan newspapers immediately replied in an editorial that the reason Russia did not have a debt was because everything in that country was owned by the state. Should there be a public debt it could be wiped out by an order of the ruling committee. It also pointed out that this same committee by the same type of order could also confiscate all savings accounts of individuals should any exist. In other words, in Russia, everyone owes the government and the government owes no one. As big as our national debt is, I prefer our system.

Parent - Teacher Talk

The Executive Board of the Sims P.T.A. held its October meeting on Thursday afternoon, October 6, at the school cafeteria. The president, Mrs. T. M. Caldwell, Jr., presided.

Mrs. Caldwell announced that all P.T.A. dues should be in by October 15 so they could be counted and tallied by the next meeting date, October 20. Get your dues in as soon as possible so they will be counted. Maybe your room will win the $5.00 prize.

October 17 has been proclaimed Teacher's Appreciation Day by Governor Shivers. Everyone can show their appreciation of our teachers by letting them know we are behind them and will help in any way we can.

This year there will be no Halloween Carnival. Later on, if the need arises, a project to raise money will be planned.

The next regular P.T.A. meeting, which is an afternoon meeting, will be held as usual at the Jr. High auditorium at 3:00 p.m. The program for the afternoon will be a panel type program with Mrs. R. C. Moss acting as moderator. The panel will consist of Mrs. Paul Wright, Ruth Ann King and Mr. R. E. Drennan. The theme for the discussion will be "Parents, Teachers and Youth Look at Our Schools." After the panel presents their ideas, a buzz session will be held in which the P.T.A. membership will participate. This should be a very interesting program and one all will benefit from. Let's all attend P.T.A. and bring our neighbors.

OIL PROGRESS WEEK
OCTOBER 9-15

Research Paces Oil's Progress

There are three reasons why America's petroleum industry has been able to supply the ever-increasing demand for energy called for by our mechanized way of life: 1, it has fearlessly invested its capital in the hazardous search for oil and gas; 2, it has steadily expanded its facilities; and 3, it has conducted endless research to find better, more efficient ways to make the oil products America needs.

Research! That's the key to the petroleum industry's progress. And the Humble Company assures itself a place of leadership in this field with two great research laboratories.

In the Humble Research Center in Houston scientists and engineers study all phases of finding, producing, and conserving oil and gas.

In the Research Laboratory at Humble's Baytown, Texas, Refinery, highly skilled technicians seek to develop new and better petroleum products, to improve those we already have, and to develop methods for making these products more efficiently.

Just as America's progress depends on oil, so oil's progress depends on research.
