

Highlights and Sidelights FROM Your State CAPITOL

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN—Texas, and possibly the nation, may have a new political group—the "moderates." Sen. Lyndon Johnson started it when he commented that he was neither a liberal nor a conservative, but that he was a "moderate."

Since then the term has cropped up with increasing frequency in comments by leading figures over the state.

Governor Shivers has announced that he plans a tour into other states to urge selection of a "moderate" Democratic candidate for President.

With a Johnson-for-president move gaining momentum, Shivers commented, when asked if Sen. Johnson fitted the middle-of-the-road pattern, that he seemed "more moderate than extreme."

The Governor emphasized that he will not be working for any specific candidate on his tour. He also has no view, he said, of trying to form a "coalition" of Southerners, as has been suggested. "I hope to get into the West, the Middle West and possibly the East," he said.

Creeping Harmony

Harmony in the Texas Democratic Party moved slowly. Speaker Sam Rayburn, leader of the liberals, has demanded a state delegation pledged to support the party nominee.

Governor Shivers, conservative leader, has opposed an advance pledge to support "any nominee." Rayburn, however, has spoken approvingly of Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey, recently named national committeeman with the hope of bringing the two factions together.

Meanwhile the conservative Democratic State Executive Committee has launched a drive to get 3,500,000 persons to pay poll taxes or secure exemptions, for a big turnout next year. It expressed hope for 30,000 delegates at the convention set for May 26 in Dallas.

Rival liberalists have charged that the State Committee has "frozen" hotel space in Dallas with the design of keeping the liberals away.

Committee Clears Shepperd

In a closed session, a Texas Bar Association grievance committee voted to take no action on remarks Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd made about the Court of Criminal Appeals and Judge Lloyd W. Davidson.

Shepperd frequently has expressed himself as being opposed to closed sessions. He went to the meeting with a marked rule book containing passages on open and closed sessions of grievance committees, and requested that the hearing be open. The committee overrode the request.

Newsman, sent by their respective newspapers to report the committee meeting, were told to leave the room before the committee convened. No previous announcement of the session's being closed was made.

The hearing resulted after the election of Judge Davidson brought an about face in 104 indictments in turbulent Duval County. Shepperd commented that Davidson had expressed an opinion on the cases before they were presented to the court.

Following their four-hour session, the grievance committee said they had considered the matter and found that "no action should be taken. The matter is closed."

Highways Become Laboratories

Research to determine specific causes of injuries in passenger automobile accidents begins on Texas rural highways this week.

Sponsoring the cooperative program are the Texas Highway Patrol, Texas State Department of Health, and Cornell University Medical College.

Purpose of the project is to discover exactly what kills persons in traffic accidents. The inquiry may lead to a major revolution of car design.

Centex Chiefs Meet

Police chiefs from seven cities and patrolmen from Central Texas Counties met in Austin to discuss measures for slowing an area traffic toll which now nears an all time record.

Safe Driving Day, set by President Eisenhower for Dec. 1, will begin this year ten days before that date and extend 10 days after, according to an announcement by Capt. Jim Musick, at the meeting. Musick is manager of the Texas Safety Association.

He called on policemen and patrolmen to be particularly alert and much more severe on traffic violations during the period.

The case of the missing housewife

There's a roast cooking to perfection in the electric range. Ice cream is being made — in the refrigerator. Coffee is percolating. The children's play clothes are being washed clean as new.
But there's no one in the kitchen!
One clue solves the case — electricity. It works automatically — Mother doesn't have to stay in her kitchen. Right now, she's attending a P.T.A. meeting. And when she gets home, the dinner will be ready, the laundry done.
Another clue — electric servants work for low wages — costs only a few cents a day for the average family.
Isn't it by far the biggest bargain in your family budget? The men and women in your electric service company are constantly working to keep it that way.

Reserve Forces Act of 1955

FACT SHEET NO. 1

The Reserve Forces Act of 1955 was signed into law August 9, 1955.

Its purpose is to improve the measures by which our Reserve Forces may be so organized and trained that in the event of war they can be mobilized quickly to augment the Active Forces in combat and to carry out defense and internal security missions in the United States.

The Reserve Forces Act of 1955 established procedure and requirements for mandatory and voluntary active participation by individuals having Reserve obligations. The Act gives a member of the Reserve components definite information concerning his obligation to the nation, and places him in a known position of vulnerability to recall in emergencies.

The Act merely amends two of the principal laws constituting the foundation for the Reserve Forces; namely, the Armed Forces Reserve Act of 1952 and the Universal Military Training and Service Act.

There are four principal areas in which the Act provides affirmative legislation:

- (1) Improvement in the structure of the Army Reserve.
- (2) Establishment of a clear obligation for volunteers, appointees, and draftees who enter the service subsequent to August 9, 1955 to take part in training in the Ready Reserve, and establishment of effective measures to insure compliance with the obligation of members of the Army Reserve.

(3) Provision for recruiting of young men specifically for the Army Reserve and training of men for the Reserve components.

(4) Establishment of a lesser military obligation for individuals who enter the Armed Forces after August 9, 1955, and perform active service.

STRUCTURE

Ready Reserve
READY RESERVE — In the new structure, the Ready Reserve is designed to contain the Reserve Forces needed to meet the requirements during the early phases of a war or general mobilization. Therefore, it will contain all of the organized portion of the Reserve Forces.

Members of the Ready Reserve are subject to being ordered to active duty in case of war or national emergency declared by the Congress. They also may be ordered to active duty in case of a national emergency proclaimed by the President. However, not over one million members of the Ready Reserve can be ordered to active duty unless Congress shall have authorized a large number. If Congress declares a war or national emergency, members of the Ready Reserve may be ordered to active duty for the duration plus six months.

The statutory size of the Ready Reserve of the Reserve components is increased by the Act from 1,500,000 to 2,900,000.

The Ready Reserve will be subject to a continuous screening process to assure that its members are available in an emergency. By screening process is meant that process by which members of the Ready Reserve who possess critical civilian skills in excess of military requirements therefor, individuals occupying key positions in government or defense-supporting industry, those whose order to military service in an emergency would result in extreme personal or community hardship, and those who possess military skills in excess of requirements will be transferred to the Standby Reserve. Top priority for such transfer will be given to members who have participated in combat. The purpose of the screening process is to provide a proper distribution of skills in the Ready Reserve, to assure that no one possessing a critical civilian skill is retained in the Ready Reserve to perform a military job requiring a lesser skill, and to assure that only those readily available for service remain in the Ready Reserve.

STANDBY RESERVE — The Standby Reserve, the second element in the structure of the Reserve Forces, is essentially a non-organized pool from which the experienced personnel needed for the secondary phases of a war or general mobilization would be obtained through a process of selective recall.

By selective recall is meant the process which in time of mobilization would be applied to members of the Standby Reserve. Under the process no member of the Standby Reserve will be ordered to active duty until the Selective Service System has determined whether he is more essential to the defense effort, to the military service, or in his civilian pursuit. Determination of availability will take into consideration a proper allocation of critically skilled man-power between military service and essential defense-supporting activities. Volunteers will be considered as being available.

The Standby Reserve will not be under control of the Director of Selective Service. Members of the Standby Reserve retain their military status and, remain subject to military control under appropriate conditions. Selective service determines the availability of members for military service.

The Standby Reserve continues to be liable for active duty in time of war or national emergency declared by the Congress subject, however, to selective recall. (Continued)

GABIE BETTS BURTON LIBRARY NOTES

By May L. Prewitt

The books ready for use this week for adults are: "The Viking," by Edison Marshall, "The Governor's Daughter" by Denton Whitson, "Dawn's Early Light" by Thane and "The Light Heart" by Thane.

For the children we have: "Donald Duck & Chip 'N' Dale," by Walt Disney, "Handy Andy", "Mr. Mogg's Dogs", "Peter's Penicil," "Bill's Birthday Surprise", "Some Body Forgot." These are from the "Tell-A-Tale" list. They are not very substantially put together, and can not be replaced unless the store where they were purchased has a copy. The publishing company will not sell directly to Libraries or book stores. Our chain stores sell them, and while they are inexpensive, the stories and illustrations are clever.

If you haven't read "The Left Hand of God" by William E. Barrett, it is to be shown on the screen. Humphrey Bogart plays the role of the American flier who poses as a priest. This flier was a wonderful character, and the book has been very popular with all church affiliated persons.

We have a few new magazines but our chief helper for the magazine department has been ill. We have only one copy of each when she can't help us.

Clarendon Bulldogs Drop First Game To Decatur

The Clarendon College Bulldogs opened the basketball season last Friday night in Decatur. They came out on the short end of a 79-70 score.

The Decatur Indians were playing their fourth game of the season and were able to pull ahead near the end of the game.

The first half ended with the score 42-40 with the Indians leading. The Bulldogs moved ahead in the second half and remained in the lead until near the end of the game. The Bulldogs lost two starters, Boyd and Billy White, by the foul route about midway of the second half. Since this was their first game of the season, they played a very good game.

Bob Garton was high point man for the game with 20; Billy White had 15, Gary Kunka 14, Sherman Cosper 8, Boyd White 7, Carrol Stepp 2, and Fate Breedlove 4. Gene Harris also saw action.

The Bulldogs next game is Thursday night in Cactus, Texas. The Cactus club is a strong independent team and are expected to give the local boys a tough time.

On Monday, Nov. 14, the Bulldogs meet the Wayland "B" team in Silverton, Texas.

In the "B" game at Decatur, the Clarendon B squad won by a score of 63-46. Don Landers led the scoring in this game with 23 points. Other players seeing action and their points were: Jay Wilson 4, Kenneth Newman 4, Don Reeves 10, Carrol Favors 8, Robert Pickrel 14, and Jack Williamson 2.

The Clarendon A and B teams will meet the Decatur boys here at the College gym next Tuesday night, Nov. 15th. The first game is scheduled for 6 o'clock and the second game at 8. Come out and see the games and give the Bulldogs your support.

McLean Tigers Dump Bronchos, 26-13

The high spirited McLean Tigers pulled the props out from under an overconfident Bronco eleven last Friday night and humiliated them with the top end of a 26-13 score.

The Broncos received some bad breaks in the game but the McLean Tigers, cellar team in the district, took advantage of an over size dose of over confidence, and played better heads-up football about nine tenths of the game. The Bronco line folded up under the spirited onslaught of the Tigers giving them possession of the ball the majority of the game.

The Tigers scored their first tally in the first period and the Bronco came back in the second to make it 6-7 when Philley raced 28 yards for the counter. The Tigers were not satisfied so they tossed a neat pass into the end zone for their second tally but failed for the extra. The half ended 6-13 in the Tigers favor. The Bronco came back and tied up the score on the first play of the fourth quarter with Philley going over from the 4 and Behrens plunged for the extra. It was the next three minutes that were the most devastating for the Bronco as the Tigers pushed over two tallies in succession within that period of time. One was on a long runback of the kick-off to the Bronco 5, and the next was a recovery on the Bronco 10 that the Tigers turned into their final tally. The Bronco were really down at this point and lost more yardage than they gained from there on.

HEALTH NOTES

Texas State Dept. of Health

AUSTIN—The fact that dental decay is likely to occur in the mouth of the average person, despite proper home care given the teeth, does not lessen the importance of brushing the teeth and massaging the gums daily, nor does it minimize the need for a cleaning and inspection of the teeth twice a year by the family dentist. Dr. Henry A. Holle, Commissioner of Health, says that the lack of these measures gives added power to germs that attack the enamel of the teeth and gum tissues.

"If, despite the proper application of such procedures, decay is suspected or teeth are injured in any way, the thoughtful person will seek the dentist's office promptly for the necessary corrective work," Dr. Holle said.

"It is surprising, though, even in these days of comparatively painless dentistry, that so many persons neglect to make good their dental defects, inevitable or otherwise, because they foolishly fear the discomfort they might experience in the dentist's chair," said the Commissioner of Health. "There are others who having lost a tooth or several teeth make no effort to obtain replacements. Apparently they believe they can get along without them. Reduced masticating power, the annoyance and sometimes actual discomfort of chewing hard substances on the exposed gums, and crooked teeth are some of the possible consequences of gaps in the teeth."

Dr. Holle advised those who are interested in experiencing the best dental and bodily health possible, to give daily attention to their mouth and visit the dentist twice each year, and promptly seek the dentist's services should decay or other suspicious conditions arise between the periodic visits.

"In short," Dr. Holle declared, "successful mouth hygiene means not only intelligent personal daily application of prophylaxis but complete and timely cooperation with the family dentist as well."

College Girls Basketball Team To Play First Game Tonight At Cactus

The Clarendon Jr. College girls basketball team, 3rd place winners of the National AAU tournament last year, will open their season tonight with the Cactus All-Stars at Cactus with the game time set for 7:30.

Their next game will be at Plainview Nov. 19 where they will play the Wayland Flying Queens. This will be Wayland's Homecoming event and the game time will be 7:30.

The local team has only two sophomore players returning this year, Louise Short and Dianne Templeton, but there is a batch of new freshmen girls to bolster their chances of going a long ways this year. These girls will certainly appreciate your support for all games.

Coach C. R. Brown is asking readers of the Leader to submit suggestions for a name for the College girls team. If you have any good ideas, contact Mr. Brown or Supt. W. W. Pinkerton and let's give this girls team a good name.

In order for you to get acquainted with the girls who are coming out for the College girls team, we are happy to submit the following information regarding each one individually.

In September of this year Louise was one of the three finalists in the Miss Tall Texas Contest at San Antonio, Texas.

PATSY VINCENT, 5' 4", freshman from Idalou, Texas, where she played basketball three years and was captain of the 1955 team. Pat's team won district and Regional in 1953.
