The Spirit of Christmas finds a way . . .

Leave it to a Yank! He'll MAKE a Christmas tree out of jungle brush. He'll MAKE its shining star out of a plastic windshield fragment. And the joy of Christmas greetings and gifts which have reached him . . . his memories of home . . . will send Christmas carols singing through his ears . . . even if he has to keep quiet as a mouse!

Those things are the physical manifestations of Christmas, cheering to see. But it is the spirit of Christmas that is unquenchable in every American fighter's heart. It is akin to the fighting spirit which is proving him the world's most skillful warrior. Yet with the reason for war removed, it is the sweet and gentle spirit which believes first in — "Peace on Earth, Good Will to Men."

Our heartfelt season's greetings go out across the miles of ocean, land and sky, to our uniformed forces around the world. And because we share their faith, we believe that in the spirit of Christmas our wishes will find their way deep into the hearts of the men who have been our advertisers, subscribers and neighbors . . . and who now do their duty in the spirit of Victory!

Mary Ann Hesse, 11, Died Monday After One-Day Illness

Funeral Services For Daughter of Joe Hesse Were Held Wednesday

Mary Ann Hesse, 11 year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hesse, died at a Gainesville hospital shortly after 8 o'clock Monday evening following an illness of less than 24 hours.

Funeral services with high mass of requiem were held from Sacred Heart church here Wednesday morning at 9:30 with Pastor Fr. Thomas officiating, and burial was in the local cemetery.

The school children's choir sang the mass and pupils of the 5th grade received Holy Communion in a body. After the mass the casket was opened and students filed in single line to pay their last respects to their little classmate.

Six cousins were active pallbearers and classmates of the 5th grade were honorary pallbearers. Funeral arrangements were under the direction of Mrs. Nick Miller.

Mary Ann was born in Muenster on September 1, 1932, the third child of Mr. and Mrs. Hesse, and was a student in the fifth grade of the parochial school.

Her death came as a severe shock to all who knew her. On Sunday afternoon she was apparently in good health, attended church services and played with her sisters and brothers. In the late evening she complained of being ill and as her condition grew steadily worse, on Monday she taken to a Gainesville hospital at about 2 o'clock in the afternoon and placed in an oxygen tent, but all efforts to save her life were useless. The little spirit did not linger long. Six hours later it winged its way toward heaven.

Mary Ann was an adept pupil, quiet and studious and was gifted with the needle. She loved to make fancy work and also assisted her mother with the family sewing.

Survivors are the parents, three brothers and four sisters, Leo, Raymond, Irma, Edna, Caroline, Bernard and Jane, Uncles, aunts and cousins also survive.

Attend Pilot Point Funeral

R. M. Zipper and daughters and Barney Voth were in Pilot Point Saturday to attend funeral services for the former's brother, Frank Zipper, 60.

Also at the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Jesko of Eriena, Texas, and her brother-in-law, Wm. Ohlig of Hereford. Mrs. Jesko is the former Miss Sallie Zipper, well known locally. They spent the weekend with relatives in the county and were here Sunday as guests of her brother, R.M. Zipper and family and also visited briefly with a number of friends in this city before returning home Monday morning.

Mid-Nite Mass On Christmas Schedule Here

Sacred Heart Church will again have mid-night Mass this Christmas, Pastor Father Thomas announced Sunday in giving the schedule of divine services for the day.

The schedule is as follows: Mid-night: The Angel's Mass. A High Mass with sermon and Communion.

7:00 a.m.: The Shepherd's Mass, A low Mass with sermon and Communion and Christmas hymns.

9:00: High Mass, sermon and Communion, followed immediately by benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

The privilege of celebrating mid-night Mass is given by the Bishop of the diocese to this parish for parishioners. Others are welcome, but it was announced that all must submit to the regulations in helping to keep Holy Night a Silent Night. All unnecessary noise must be avoided the pastor said.

Sacred Heart Church Installs New Furnace And Speaker System

Two new improvements at Sacred Heart Church are a more adequate heating system and the installation of a loud speaker system. The former has been in service for the past two Sundays and the public address system will be used for the first time on Christmas.

The old, worn out furnace that had seen its best days years ago was discarded and in its place was installed a larger furnace, purchased from the Pilot Point Catholic church when it was replaced there by butane gas. The heating apparatus includes four electric fans for circulation.

The loud speaker system consists of a microphone at the pulpit, 8 loud speakers down stairs and two upstairs. It will be put into use for the first time at Mid-night Mass on Christmas.

Jos. Flusche Gets Letter From Cousin Now War Prisoner

Joseph Flusche, Sr., residing 2 miles northeast of this city, received a letter on Dec. 16 from a cousin who is now a German Prisoner of War, interned at Camp Huntsville, Texas. Mr. Flusche and his cousin formerly corresponded when the latter still resided in Germany. During the last several years, however, their correspondence ceased and he had no idea of his cousin's whereabouts until he received the letter.

The message is written in neat German script on a sheet especially provided by the U.S. Government for prisoners and resembles to a great extent the V-Mail sheet with which all are familiar here.

The Flusche family were the first original settlers of Muenster having immigrated from Munster, Westphalia, Germany, where this cousin also resided.

The letter in its original form is as follows:

U.S.A. den 19. 11. 1943. Werter Herr Flusche: Ich, Johannes Barwe bin der Sohn von Bernard Barwe welcher aus Telgte bei Munster, Westfalen, stammt und mit Ihnen verwandt ist. In den Früheren Jahren haben wir ja öfters Nachricht von Ihnen erhalten.

"Da ich nun als Kriegsgesfangener in Texas weile, möchte ich gerne die alten Beziehungen wieder aufnehmen. So wie wir uns in der Heimat freuen wenn ein Brief aus Texas am kam, so wurde ich mich hier freuen, eine Nachricht von Ihnen zu erhalten.

"In der Hoffnung auf eine erfreuliche Nachricht verbleibe ich mit herzlichsten Grüssen, Ihr Johannes Barwe.

Translated into English the message is:

"Worthy Mr. Flusche: I, John Barwe, am the son of Bernard Barwe, who originated out of Telgte in Munster of Westphalia, and am related to you. In the earlier years we often received correspondence from you.

"Now that I am a Prisoner of War lingering in Texas, I would like to take up again the old correspondence. Just as we in the old homeland would be happy when a letter came from Texas, so would I now here be happy to receive a letter from you.

"In the hope of an early letter I remain with most heartfelt greetings, Yours, John Barwe.

Muenster Votes For School Tax

101 Favor Maintenance Tax; 37 Oppose Measure In Saturday's Election

Muenster voted a school maintenance tax Saturday when election for this purpose took place. The election carried by a majority of 64 votes, there being 101 cast for the tax and 37 against it.

This action authorizes the board of trustees of the Muenster Public School to assess a tax of 25 cents on the 100 dollar valuation of all taxable property in the district.

As this is a sliding scale tax it is up to the trustees to determine the amount of funds needed and to set the tax rate accordingly. It cannot exceed 25 cents but may be any figure lower than that, and will be the lowest that the board can set and still operate, it was pointed out.

The board of trustees is willing to accept the wishes of the people in this district and will do all in its power to render the kind of service necessary, it was stated.

The board met Tuesday evening to officially declare the election results and to take up other business coming before it at that time.

REV. FATHER FROWIN SENDS CHRISTMAS GREETINGS TO ALL

From Father Frowin, former pastor, comes this greeting to the people of Muenster and to all his friends who read this message.

"Dear Friends, May the Infant Jesus bring to each of you the generous blessings of Christmas-tide. May you experience the same true peace and joy at His coming as the shepherds experienced on that first Christmas.

"I shall remember you in a special manner on that day. I will not be able to offer the Holy Sacrifice. Let us give Glory to God in the Highest.

"With best wishes for peace and prosperity throughout the New Year, and asking your kind prayers, I am, yours devotedly, Father Frowin."

Miss Catherine Rollman is back at the home of her parents here and is reported improving after suffering a relaps following an appendicitis operation. Returned to her home on the sixth day after the operation, she was taken seriously ill the following day and went back to the hospital at Gainesville to spend another week. She was moved home again last Friday.

A MERRY CHRISTMAS AND A BRIGHT AND HAPPY NEW YEAR

As another Christmas comes around we feel that we have an unpaid obligation, an obligation of gratitude. Friends of this institution have made possible a certain amount of progress and prosperity for our organization. These friendships have been an enjoyable experience, one in which we believe we have the confidence and esteem of the people whom we strive to serve. And now, all we ask is the privilege of a continuance of these fine relationships to enable us to look forward with genuine enthusiasm to the future.

No Blackout of Christmas

By IRIS DAVENPORT

There is a difference between observing Christmas Day and in keeping Christmas. Henry Van Dyke so beautifully points this out in his lyrical, challenging gem, "Keeping Christmas."

Perhaps all the sorrow and suffering, all the horror and brutality of war, all the fear and force abroad in the world makes you doubtful and questioning, as was troubled little Virginia Hanlon when she wrote in 1897 to the editor of the New York Sun, "Please tell me the truth; is there a Santa Claus?" One sentence from Frank Church's assuring answer has become historic. I give it to you: "He exists as certainly as love and generosity and devotion exists and you know that they abound and give your life its highest beauty and joy." And, these exist because of the coming of the Christ Child whose birthday we observe on December 25, the most important day of the year. Truly it has been said that if all the birthdays of the year were placed in one, there would still be one greater—that of the Prince of Peace, who brought new life and hope for humanity.

Tyranny Ruled Then, Too

When that magic star appeared in the sky, the world then was an armed camp. A ruthless ruler and his henchmen ruled by fear and force. There were confusing contrasts and cause for questioning in that day just as there is today. You will recall now many were lacking in tolerance, kindness, consideration, love for others; how some had these virtues and some had not.

You will also recall how the innocent were slaughtered. Yet on that historic night the heavens were filled with music and the angelic hosts sang "Peace on Earth, good will toward men." No doubt, to many the melodious prophesy of that Holy Night seemed far off as it does today. It was not mortal music, but a Divine melody attuned to echo and resound in the hearts of men; given so that we may know that love is the strongest force in all the world—stronger than evil, hate or death itself.

Much preparation is made for the Yule season. Shouldn't we prepare ourselves as well as our gifts and our homes for this sacred and secular celebration? So it is well to ponder on Christmas but do not let your musings become tangled with doubt, for Christmas is not a myth or fairy tale, neither is it a rosy rumor, nor a fragile dream. Because of the Babe that was placed in a manger in Bethlehem of Judea almost two thousand years ago, because of the love, faith and hope He gave and the lessons He taught, there has been no blackout of Christmas. It still abides and ever glows, surviving the centuries of oppression, greed and slaughter.

The Spirit Of Love

The observance of the day gives realization of the eager hopes of children, recalls poignantly to adults happy memories of childhood thrills enjoyed during the holidays and makes the human heart more responsive to the spiritual influence of the One whose birthday it is.

Wouldn't it be fine if this responsiveness could be maintained and if our deeds throughout the year could be motivated by the spirit of love that envelops our hearts and home at this season? This could be done if we carried the love of this season into every day; if we practiced generosity, thoughtfulness, kindness, consideration and tolerance long, long after the holly and mistletoe are dried and discarded.

"Christmas is the crossroads where all the world may meet". The world is a sorry sight now. By truly keeping Christmas we can make the meeting at the crossroads a happier and more frequent one.

Another Merry Christmas. Not up to the standards to which we have been accustomed, of course, but by comparison with that in other parts of the globe, still a very memorable event. Thank God, America can enjoy the glimmer of yule lights instead of the chaotic blaze of air raids. By judicious use of ration points it can have a semblance of customary feasts. Its silent night will not be shattered by the roar of bomb and shell or by the rattle of machine gun.

Despite our participation in this war we still have the good fortune of being substantially at peace. We have tasted only inconvenience and minor sacrifice. None of the horrors they are having on the other side of the world. No blood, death, destruction, hunger or exposure—except to the small percentage of us who went across.

However, while accepting our blessings with thanks, we fervently pray that the next Christmas will be back to our old standard. And that every other nation will be able to share our merriment. We hope that the men of our fighting forces, having restored peace, will be back to enjoy its comforts with their loved ones. We hope the spirit of Christmas pledged more than nineteen centuries ago to men of good will will prevail in human relations for many generations to come.

One of the nicest Christmas presents your scribe has heard of in the service is the sheaf of furloughs dished out to a battalion just back from a hitch in the Aleutians. Normal procedure is to restrict furloughs to a small percentage of the organization's strength. In this case the war department said every one was granted 21 days plus travel time. Another exception you'll notice. The usual limit is 15 days and no allowance for travel time.

Well, it's no more than those boys are entitled to. For that matter it's no more than any outfit from across the water should get. After months of loneliness, fighting and primitive living the boys have earned a lot more. They've already done their part. They should be permanently relieved of any further worries about the war. Probably would be if the war department could spare their services.

This battalion took part in the occupation of Kiska. Hence their trouble was confined almost entirely to a struggle with the elements. You've heard of the Aleutian gales. Rain soaked and moving alone at various speeds from 60 to 120 miles per hour. Anything under 60 is considered a mere breeze.

Contrary to popular belief, the occupation of Kiska wasn't a bloodless affair. True the Nips had skeddaddled. Pulled out in submarines leaving the bulk of their equipment thoroughly boobyed up for the inquisitive Yankee soldier. As usual, a few paid for their curiosity with life or limb. There were land mines, too, that inflicted a few more casualties before engineers and ordnance men cleaned up the traps.

In the light of previous releases on the Kiska occupation, this little revelation may not be quite in harmony with OWI policy. Con does not recall seeing a correction of the first statement claiming there were no losses.

However, we presume, after all this time, the real story has been told. Nothing could be gained by continued silence. On the other hand, some men might profit by another reminder that it does not pay to use enemy paths or fumble with enemy equipment. Certainly several occasions. We used to claim German raids on England were inhuman, now they say the same about our raids.

Viewpoints will continue to determine our attitude and choice of words all the way through this mess and for a long time afterward. What we call a contemptible trick the enemy will call a stroke of masterful strategy, and vice versa. So, even though we admit everything's fair in war, the verbal barrage goes on, keeping pace with the actual fight. Like the clamor at a ball game. Seems like sound and fury signifying nothing but experts say it has an effect on the final score.

Getting back to the original subject, this is Christmas, the day that's synonymous in America with cheer, thoughts of home, and a year to exchange greetings with old friends. Only a few GIs will be lucky enough to observe it in the traditional way. The others—well, most of 'em understand, They know about transportation problems and other circumstances to prevent all of them from getting away at the same time. They'll make the most of it, meanwhile hoping to do better next year.

Con is one of those. He had his leave a couple of months ago. Now it's someone else's turn. So, from Fort Sill he extends sincere wishes for the best possible Christmas with a hope that he and all the rest of the boys will be home for keeps next Christmas.

Odd, Lovely Christmas Greetings from Foreign Lands Reach Muenster

To the Enterprise this year came a variety of unusual and interesting Christmas greeting cards from the boys overseas. Of course, the good old American types were also included, those with Santa and sleigh bells, with poinsettias, Yule log, Christmas trees and the most popular of all the ones with the menager scene.

Odd and lovely ones from foreign lands include the one from Pic. Huco Wilde from the Middle East. An open faced card it is dated "Persia, 1943-1944" and contains the message, "From this ancient cradle of civilization—where a new and glorious page of history is being written—I send you hearty greetings and best wishes for a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year." On the other half, opposite the printed message, are pictured two soldiers clasping hands over a medallion of green with a white, seven-pointed star in one corner and a red dagger cadri-corner beneath it with the explanation, "The medallion between the American and Russian soldiers is the official insignia of the Persian Gulf Service Command, the U.S. Army supply line to Russia. The star is from the flag of Iraq (Mesopotamia) the sword from the government flag of Iran (Persia). Red stands for sacrifice, white for purity and green for agriculture. All three colors are common to the flags of both countries."

From S. Sgt. Ferd Yosten comes an enveloped pale pink card, shot with silver and with the following message in silver printing: "Wishing you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year from Italy."

An odd and clever one from Master Sgt. Leon Hellman is cartooned in black and white and reproduced on a regular V-Mail sheet. In the center is a map of Africa, done in black, while on it to one side, apparently depicting the sector in which he is stationed is a white Christmas tree, decorated with balls and topped with a cross. Surrounding the map are wind blown sprays of holly. Above the map is "Merry Christmas," beneath it "et bonne annee", and for the signature, "Just Doc."

A similar greeting reproduced on V-Mail comes from Sardinia from Sgt. Frank Felderhoff. As a member of the army engineers, his greeting bears, almost as large as the sheet, the three steeped castle, the engineer's insinua, above it the Christmas star, to the side a palm tree and riding to the castle an Arab chieftan astride a horse. The greeting "Merry Christmas" is in English.

Christmas greetings from the Panama Canal Zone are sent by Cpl. Bobbie Lutkenhaus. It is a folder the front of which depicts a ship entering the canal locks. One inside page holds an appropriate Yule verse relating to the tropics, while facing it is a photograph of moonlight on tropic waters, surrounded by palm trees.

From S. Sgt. Jimmy Lehnertz, with the 5th Army on the road to Rome, comes a lovely technical-colored highly glossy card portraying the scene of the Nativity with the Infant Savior resting his head on a red pillow and stretching his tiny arms toward Mary and Joseph, who are clad in the customary blue and brown garments, kneeling in adoration, while an angel in a flowing pink robe kneels to one side. Above the manager scene are shown members of the angelic choir in pale pink, blue and white garments and between the two groups are shown the hills of Bethlehem and date trees. Imprinted at the bottom of the card is the simple message "Buon Natale."

ANDREW SCHOECH HONORED ON BIRTHDAY SUNDAY

Andrew Schoech was honored with a birthday dinner Sunday at Valley View when his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Cler, entertained a group of relatives in keeping with the occasion.

In addition to the honoree and his family the guest list included Mr. and Mrs. I.A. Schoech and daughter, Harriette, and Mr. and Mrs. Al Wiesman and children of this city.

Glee Club Sings Carols

For Christmas Pageant
Tuesday afternoon the annual Christmas program, a pageant, "Follow the Star," was presented by the eighth grade pupils under the direction of Sister M. Gertrude. The High School Glee Club rendered the Christmas Carols for the program, directed by Sister M. Geraldine and accompanied by Juanita Weinzapfel at the piano. The first and final numbers of the afternoon were vocal selections by the Glee Club. The first was "O Holy Night" and the final "The First Christmas Morn."

Where to? Oh, then you didn't hear and see the happy group of carolers who left the campus of Sacred Heart High, Wednesday afternoon at one o'clock for Camp Howze to bring the Yuletide spirit to the soldiers confined to the hospital.

At two o'clock the group assembled in the lounge of the Camp Station Hospital and sang for the soldiers not confined to the wards. The chorus sang "O Holy Night," and "The First Christmas Morn," and a vocal duet "Gesu Bambino" was sung by Gladys Wilde and Juanita Weinzapfel accompanied by Alma Marie Luke. Katie Mae Walterscheid played several selections on the accordian.

The Christmas Carols then echoed through the long hallways and throughout the wards to the accompaniment of Katie Mae Walterscheid's accordian. We wish to thank Katie Mae for accompanying the students to the Camp. We also wish to thank the following for so generously furnishing transportation: Messrs. and Mmes. Gus Hellman, J.B. Wilde, Felix Becker, Ben Seyler, Frank Bayer, Hubert Felderhoff, J. M. Weinzapfel and Al Fleitman. The high school faculty accompanied the pupils to Camp.

Christmas Party

The high school boys and girls did not miss their Christmas party yet; neither did we this year. Of course, it was dear ole Santa that brought us together for an hour of fun.

The party was held in the school auditorium which was fittingly decorated by the Decoration Committee under the direction of Sister M. Georgia. In the west end of the hall was a typical living room scene centered around the Christmas tree.

The entertainment was opened with a grand march and was followed by active and appropriate games for this happy season. To avoid fainting from sheer exhaustion the active games were halted long enough for all the guests to gather comfortably around the lovely Christmas tree and sing all the Christmas carols we knew. About this time Santa again appeared and distributed the gayly and beautifully wrapped gifts which the students brought for their friends and teachers.

After the distribution, refreshments were served by the Sophomore class also under the direction of Sister M. Georgia.

We wish to thank the chairmen of the various committees for planning such a successful party. To Alvin Fuhrmann, chairman of the decoration committee; to Juanita Weinzapfel, chairman of the entertainment committee; and also those who helped the committees.

This Is The Way Merry Christmas
LIVES IN HIS HEART

There is one sacred trust we at home must keep for each man in uniform who is dear to us: and that is the warmth and cheer of the home he is fighting his hardest — to return to at the soonest possible date!

Whether Christmas morning may find him deep in a jungle sweating under camouflaged garb — or flying over enemy boundaries in Europe, on a bombing mission — or wrapped in fur robes at an Arctic base, the spirit of Christmas will be gloriously alive, radiating from his visualization of how YOU are keeping this Christmas at home — for his sake!

The tree may be smaller this year — but the brilliance of its trimmings, even if home-made, will shine out to say "Merry Christmas" to your hero. The children may get less costly, more practical gifts, so that more money could go into War Bonds — but their enjoyment and laughter will ring out to echo "Merry Christmas" to that man in uniform!

No matter what sacrifices we are rightly making through the year — no matter what loneliness fills our hearts for those in battle—on December 25th let us hold our chins high, put a sparkle in our eye — and bring Christmas to everyone we can! Our fighting men wish it so!

A Christmas Story About Good Old Santa Claus

By ZEKE CARSIE

Lots of peepul has caused me to lose confidence in em on account of the way they have carried on, but there's one feller I have just as much faith in and love for as I ever had before, and that is Santa Claus. The reason is that he aint never let me down yet.

He aint the kind of a chap who will pat you on the back before your face and then hit you in the eye behind your back. No, sir, he is a square-shooter and is always ready to go about four-fifths of the way, instid of half-way, with about all of us when Christmas time comes around.

If most of us got our just dues old Santy would "treat" us like they say the Scotch do their friends — very seldom, and not much them.

But this Christmas will and ought to be a diferent one to any we have had in a long time, for our country is in the biggest war the world has ever seen and Santa Claus, of all peepul, wants to do his part to help our country and others fighting on our side to win so that we can keep on having Christmas and Santa Claus and all theother fine things that makes up what we call freedom and liberty.

So none of us ought to expect or want as many prezents or as fine or expensive ones as we generally get, because old Santy is buying lots of War Bonds right now and lettin Uncle Sam have all the steel and tin and aluminum and rubber to use to whip the day-lights out of the Japs and Germans.

Let's not be disappointed any or lose any of our old time faith in him like the little boy who kept on actin bad so much that finally his mama said, "Tommy, if you dont quit being such a bad boy the devil is going to get you." Tommy said, "Ah, dont try to give me that stuff. There aint no real devil. The devil is just like Santa Claus — he's Daddy."

So while good old Santy is workin in day and night helpin our Uncle Sam keep America free and happy nobody who has got a dime's worth of patriotism in their hide will be unhappy or surprized over what they get or dont get for Christmas. At least, they shouldn't be as much surprized as little Johnny, age 4, was. He and his little pal, Henry, was talkin about seemin old Santy fill up their stockings. Said little Henry, "After old Santy filled up my stockin he went out of the back door instid of goin up the chimney." "Well, that aint the way he done at our house," replied little Johnny, "because when he finished fillin up all of our stockings he went and crawled in bed with mama."

But whether he does or doesnt do just what we expect him to do this year, we oughta hold tighter than ever to the spirit of Santa Claus.

The patron saint of England is St. George.

The Hindenburg was the first aiship to make regular trips between the United States and Europe.

MADE SUPREME SACRIFICE

—Ensign Robert Weinzapfel, son of Mayor and Mrs. J.M. Weinzapfel, a naval dive bomber pilot, was Muenster's first casualty in World War II. He gave his life for his country on Dec. 9, 1941, while he was on duty as a member of the aircraft carrier U.S.S. Lexington. While at St. Mary's he received his elementary aeronautical training under the Civil Aeronautics Authority and after graduation joined the Navy Air Corps, winning his wings and Commission in May, 1941, after which he was assigned to the Lexington in the dive bomber squadron.

Poinsettia Is The Favorite Yule Flower

Poinsettias are among the most appropriate plants for home decoration at Christmas time and with proper care they may be easily preserved. They are native to the semitropics and were discovered in Mexico by an American minister to that country, Joel R. Poinsett, for whom they were named.

The botanical name of Poinsettia is Euphorbia pulcherrima; it belongs to the Spurge family and in its native habitat is a shrub of 10 feet or more in height. Since this plant is of a semi-tropical nature it requires constant warmth and humidity which if supplied will prevent the dropping of the leaves when it is transferred from the humid air of the greenhouse to the dry air of the average home.

The Poinsettia needs sun, a warm moist atmosphere and plenty of water when blooming. It thrives best in a temperature ranging from 70 to 80 degrees Fahrenheit. It is sensitive to sudden changes in temperature and it must never be placed in a direct draft. If the temperature drops below 60 degrees at night the leaves will turn yellow and fall prematurely.

The plant should be promptly placed in a sunny window as soon as received.

The Poinsettia, frequently known as the "Christmas Flower", is the only flower introduced by America and used the world over for Christmas decoration.

Keep 'Em Laughing

To the four freedoms for which the United Nations are so gloriously fighting, we suggest the addition of a fifth — Freedom to Laugh.

The free exercise of that God-given characteristic, a sense of humor, has had much to do with making America what it is today.

The ability to laugh when we're weary and laugh when we're blue has often meant the difference between victory and defeat in the past — and is still in the grueling months to come.

Because we believe "a little nonsense now and then" helps keep up the morale when and where the pressure of the war effort is most felt —

Let's keep 'em Flying
Keep 'em Rolling
Keep 'em Laughing.

Muenster's honor roll for World War II has grown steadily until today it reaches the total of 178. There is hardly a family in the community who has not given a son to the service of Uncle Sam, and many families boast of two, three and even four stars on their service flags.

Muenster is proud of her valiant sons, stationed on every battle front of the global war. Her sailors do duty on the seven seas, her air force men fly in every combat zone, her soldiers are battling in every foreign country where U.S. forces are engaged against the enemy.

There are no complaints from Muensterites who are steeled to war's hardships and sorrows. Many have spent suspense-filled weeks, waiting for word from loved ones following such engagements as the fifth army's bloody fight on Salerno Beach, the battles on the Solomons, on the Gilbert Islands, at New Guinea and all the other major affairs since the bombing of Pearl Harbor.

Today two men have made the supreme sacrifice and one is reported missing.

Muenster has four 4-star families, the Joe Lehnertz, John Felderhoffs, A.T. Hoehns and John Yosten. Eight families have three sons each in the service: Messrs. and Mrs. Herman Luttmer, Joe Swirzynski, John Miller, Ben Luke, Henry Trachta, Joe Paulter, Sam Epps, and Frank Martin, while there are 31 families that have two sons apiece in the armed forces.

In addition to those shown in pictures in this edition, the honor roll lists the following:

HENRY MILLER, a warrant officer with the navy, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Miller. He has been in the service since March 1923, and is doing sea duty.

CHRISTOPHER MILLER, S2C, is serving with the navy in Hawaii. He has been in the service since June, 1941, and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Miller.

PVT. CHARLIE MILLER, has been in the army since January, 1942, and is stationed in Porto Rico. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Miller.

LEON HELLMAN, Son of Wm. Hellman, is a master sergeant. He volunteered for the army air corps in October 1935, and is stationed overseas since the past November. He is an airplane line chief. His wife resides in this city.

A Blessed Christmas

Christmas comes this year to a world stirred and made hopeful by the appearance of the first faint outlines of peace after hard and hateful years of war.

With this dawning hope comes the question: How long must we wait for the fullness of peace and, how will it be accomplished and preserved?

The heart of the answer is in the story of the Nativity read from our altars on Christmas morn.

Let us approach the Christmas crib with joy, and humility, and with grateful remembrance of the thousands of our fellow men who have laid down their lives to earn for us another chance to make a world where men of good will may live in peace with their brothers.

Christmas joys and blessings to all.

MERRY CHRISTMAS

We are hoping that each of you enjoy the Merriest Christmas ever.

Your consideration of this firm in the past has been of tremendous importance and it is with gratitude for your patronage that we extend our most cordial good wishes for the Yuletide Season.

Herr Motor Co.
Muenster

The people of these United States have observed 167 Christmases since the Declaration of Independence. And before that, there were about 175 years of pioneering, during which, amid all sorts of odds, the families within this land's shores celebrated the merry holiday.

This wartime Christmas finds us with much to be solemn about—much to fight for, and much to pray for.

But there have been Christmases before, when things seemed even darker for us.

So with the true American spirit of fortitude, inner gaiety and deeply rooted faith, we're going to celebrate this December 25th in the good old fashioned Christmas spirit.

Holly in our windows; festively trimmed trees; remembrances for everyone — especially the children — Christmas Carols — and above all, Christmas services in Church, where we'll bow and extend the season's greetings to friends and neighbors.

That's Christmas, American style. That's the way our fighting men around the world like to think of it. That's the way they too will spend next Christmas — at home — if each of us does everything in our power to speed Victory!

Ceramic Stove Model Built
The first ceramic cooking stove model to be built in the U.S. was recently demonstrated at the National Bureau of standards. The stove contains only 80 pounds of metal, mostly cast iron. The pre-war all metal model which it supplants weighed 1,085 pounds. The ceramic stove is designed to be heated with anthracite or coke. It uses only about 10 pounds of fuel in 24 hours and if it is fired every 12 hours, it will be ready for use at any time. It is expected that the first ceramic cooking stoves will reach the market around the first of the year. The purchase price has not been determined yet, but is presumably will be lower than that of the all-metal ones.

FIGHT PAPER WASTE
Paper is used in the production of many of the weapons of war—bomb bands, wing tips, parachute flares, fuse tank linings, practice bombs, airplane signals and shell containers.

A reduction of 25 percent in the use of wrapping paper and bags by the public will mean an annual saving of over 250,000 tons of paper. This is enough to make 90,000 V-Boxes for emergency rations for combat units.

The public is asked to save all types of waste paper. The paper should be kept dry. It can be sold to a junk dealer or donated to a charitable organization or it may be collected by a local salvage committee.

Waste paper collections can be speeded up if paper boxes are taken apart and flattened, wrapping paper is smoothed out and folded, newspapers are neatly folded, magazines are properly bundled, and brown bags are flattened and bundled.

Once U.S. fighting men are over seas, it takes 81 tons of supplies per month per man to keep them there, compared to 43 tons per month per man in the last war. This requires huge quantities of containers and packing material.

At The Post Box

Because so many of Uncle Sam's Mailmen have joined the Armed Forces, it has been necessary to find some easier method of distributing mail so that new, untrained employees will be able to make as fast delivery as possible under the stress of war.

This new method simply adds a numeral after the name of the city indicating the delivery district in which the address is located — for example: "Kansas City 4, Missouri" or "Minneapolis 6, Minnesota." The postal area in each of these 175 cities is divided into districts, each bearing a number, and that number is to be placed immediately following the name of the city in the address, as shown above. The cooperation of all individuals, as well as large firms, is asked in placing the proper district number after the name of the city on all mail addressed to the cities affected.

DON'T SHOOT RABBIT IF HE DOESN'T RUN

Hunters seeking to supplement their meat supply with a bag of cottontails should hold their fire if the rabbit appears sluggish or fails to run, according to an article in Hygeia, the Health Magazine.

For the rabbit may be infected with tularemia, a form of undulant fever often fatal to man, the article says.

Dr. Thomas G. Hall, Chicago, author of the article, says the number of victims of the disease has been increasing in recent years. Because 90 percent of the human cases are contracted from wild rabbits, most cases come during the hunting season, he says.

He warns hunters to wear rubber gloves while skinning and dressing rabbits. Housewives, he says, should make sure the meat is cooked thoroughly to destroy possible infection.

This Christmas finds wartime America busy working and fighting and sacrificing for Victory . . . busy hastening the return of "Peace on Earth, Goodwill Toward Men."

This season, encircled by the traditional holly wreaths in the windows of American homes and business offices throughout the land, may be found service flags . . . telling of sons, fathers, husbands and employees who are serving on the far-flung battle fronts.

This Christmas finds more than 350 employees of Texas Power & Light Company serving in the Armed Forces all over the world . . . on land, on sea, and in the air. Equally vital to the war effort, here on the home front T. P. & L. employees are doing a magnificent job loyally fighting the battle of production . . . keeping electric power continuously available for military camps, air fields, war industries, as well as for all civilian needs . . . giving full support to every phase of the war program, working, saving, giving, sharing, sacrificing for Victory. Our whole Company is devoting its resourcefulness and its resources to the job of winning the war.

Thus by working and fighting and sacrificing, we express a Christmas wish to one another throughout the world . . . and this wish is that amidst all the sorrows that arise from war, we may, on this particular Christmas, rededicate ourselves to the cause of Victory . . . for only with Victory will come the return of Peace to a world where Freedom, as represented by our cherished American Way of Life, shall continue to live!

The Most Appreciated Gifts this Christmas will be War Bonds

Wherever he may be this Christmas

He'll read and re-read a dozen times, every letter from home—every greeting card. He'll unwrap and fondle every gift sent to him from mother, father, sister, sweetheart, friends.

For these things speak of home. And though everyone tries to make Christmas as gay as possible where he is; as bright as the service decorations may be; as strong as the friendships he may have made with those now near to him — yet so far from home, all his thoughts will be with you, AT HOME, this Christmas!

And though your thoughts are of him — there's a difference. You still are in the cheerful atmosphere of your household. You still are surrounded by loved ones. You can only imagine his life "out there". But he's living it; and the reality of that life contrasts starkly with the warmer reality of his memories of "home".

That's why we must all be unceasing in our efforts to end this war soon and bring him to the home he's dreaming of this Christmas. That's why we must buy more War Bonds than we even think we can — That's why above all, we must give the present with a future this Christmas.

May Christmas bring joy, and Peace and Contentment, and may the New Year be one filled with Health and Prosperity . . .

Your associations have made the past year happy for each of us and we trust these friendships may continue for many years to come.

"ALONE with GOD
this Christmas Night"

Gunfire is shattering the air below — the enemy objective is only a few moments away. A turmoil of thoughts follow each other within a lone American boy's mind. They're distinct and sure. They've been nurtured all his life in the unclouded atmosphere of rightness and decency. In the midst of roaring motors and tense anticipation of hair-breadth escape, the boy's eyes are calm, his hands unflinching in performance. He feels strangely at peace. It is Christmas night.

The remembrances of past joys on this beloved anniversary are engraved forever in his heart. And now, at this important life-or-death moment, they have a reassuring effect. The belief in his hopes arises from his strengthened faith. More than ever before in his life, he is "alone with God". And his increased power growing out of his great faith is such that no enemy can vanquish!

We, safe in our gay, Christmas-cheered homes, can match our faith to his. We MUST do that, or deny loyalty to the freedoms for which he's fighting. We MUST and WILL buy War Bonds and MORE WAR BONDS — until Victory.
