MAKING before the National Republican Club at the Lincoln Day dinner in New York, President Hoover gravely discussed a number of important world problems...

Mr. Hoover pointed with pride, and possibly with some measure of surprise as well, to the fact that in the recent election his party had received fifteen million votes...

On another notable occasion there arose an uncompromising controversy between the "old guards" and the "new blood"...

Discussing an Error.

A SCATHING indictment of France by an outstanding Frenchman was published in the Lyons, France, "Le Democrite"...

"It was bad business because we have thereby broken the unity of action we had established with Great Britain and Italy for the continuance of the negotiations. It was bad business because, since we are no longer in agreement with the English, they will require us to pay them the very considerable sums we owe them."

As a general rule it may be said that anything which is bad morally is bad from a practical standpoint, whether it affects a nation or an individual.

Income Tax Facts

NOTE: Following is the list of a series of three articles dealing with income tax regulations. Information for the articles is obtained from a bulletin sent out by the Bureau of Internal Revenue.

BY CLARK COURSEY. It's a laugh to some people to mention paying of income tax this year—the fact that they don't have to pay the tax this year is about the only consolation for their reduced incomes...

Time for Filing. The period for filing income tax returns for 1932 began January 1 and ends at midnight, March 15. Every year millions of returns are filed and the Bureau of Internal Revenue says many mistakes are detected annually.

Head of Family Defined. A head of a family is defined by income tax regulations as "an individual who actually supports and maintains in one household one or more persons related to him by blood, marriage or adoption."

MAKES WOMEN LOSE FAT. Miss Eva M. Haines of Dayton Ohio writes: "I weighed 130 lbs. I started to take Kruschen. I never was so surprised as when I weighed myself the first week—I lost 7 pounds. I just bought my 3rd jar and am down to 145—am still taking them and never felt better in my life."

Local Tax Agencies Collect $301,077

Total taxes paid on the 1932 rolls to the three tax collecting agencies in Brown County to January 31, 1933, was $301,077.28. This total amount was collected by the county, the city and the water district.

The county collected $174,306.96 on state and county and school taxes or a little better than 45 per cent of the total roll which is $385,153.55. The county rate is $1 on the $100 valuation and the state rate is 30 cents. School rates average about $1.

The city collected $73,728.34 of city and school taxes or about 37 per cent of the total roll which is $198,268.96. The city and school rate is $1.85 on the $100 valuation.

Water District Collection. The water district collected $53,043.48 or 41.19 per cent of the total 1932 roll which is $128,787.46. The district rate is $1.20 on the $100 valuation.

Time for paying current taxes without penalty and interest ended January 31. The city, however, has extended the time for payment of city taxes without penalty and interest through February 15.

More people took advantage of the split tax payments in the county this year than did last year, according to County Tax Collector Lee Meek. The second half of taxes are to be paid on or before June 30 and by that time Mr. Meek believes the county will collect 65 or 70 per cent of the taxes. He says collections in the county have been fully as good as they were last year. Both the state and county rates have been cut this year and the total amount of money collected is not as great as was collected with a higher rate last year.

Collector Herman Bettis of Brown County Water District No. 1 says 1932 tax payments are still coming in and by June or July the per cent collected should be around 70 per cent.

City Time Extension. With the extension of time for paying city taxes without interest and penalty, Tax Collector H. H. Gresham at the city hall says the percentage of collections should be raised considerably. Many city taxpayers also took advantage of the split tax payment plan and will pay the second half of their taxes in July, he says.

Only 2,411 voters in Brown County paid poll taxes this year, but this decrease in number of payments is accounted for in that this is an off-election year. The 2,411 paid, of course, does not include a large number of exemptions.

Automobile registrations in the county were larger in number at the end of January than they were at the same time last year, but registration came to a standstill when the legislature passed a law extending the time for payments until April 1. Up to the last day of January this year about 3,800 sets of plates had been sold to automobile owners in the county. To the same time last year 3,750 sets had been sold. More trucks also were registered to Jan. 31 than were registered last year, the figures being 425 for this year and 415 to Jan. 31, last year.

Police are working on the case.

WHALEY IS AGAIN HOLD-UP VICTIM

J. F. Whaley, operator of the J. P. Whaley & Son Grocery store at 801 Melwood Avenue, was hijacked by a lone gunman shortly after 9 o'clock Monday night as he was going to his home on Whaley Street from the store. The robber got $4. The hijacker stopped Mr. Whaley near his home, 1000 Booker Street.

A few weeks ago a lone gunman held up Mr. Whaley's store while his son, Charles Whaley, was in charge and took a small amount of cash.

Police are working on the case.

Value of Certified Seed Illustrated in Two Cotton Crops. R. B. Beck who lives five or six miles from Brownwood, believes he has obtained a good example of the value of certified cotton seed.

Mr. Beck cultivated last year nine acres of cotton grown from certified seed, from which he got 1,940 pounds of lint cotton or an average of a fraction above 215 pounds to the acre. At the same time he had 13 acres planted with ordinary seed, from which he got a little over 2,300 pounds of lint or an average of 177 pounds to the acre.

Outside of the difference in the seed the conditions were as favorable for good production from the thirteen acres as from the nine acres, Mr. Beck states. With certified seed, he figures, the thirteen acres would have made him another bale.

COUNTRY BANKERS TO HANDLE FEDERAL CROP PRODUCTION LOANS

DALLAS, Tex., Feb. 15.—A committee of country bankers will be appointed in the near future to eliminate red tape and facilitate granting of federal crop production loans in the near future, One Sherrill, Southwest regional manager said Tuesday.

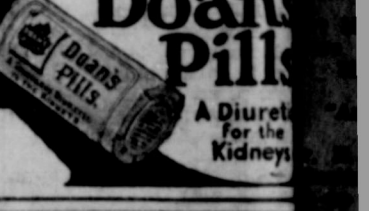

The committee will give final approval of 1933 loan applications. Last year it was necessary for a loan to go through three different departments in the Dallas office for approval. The "country banker committee" will have headquarters in Dallas and will pass on phases and other considerations.

The loan office will be reorganized by the first of March. "This committee will be composed of the agricultural type of banker who is thoroughly familiar with rural credits, who knows the needs of the farmer—his needs ability to pay," Sherrill declared.

He said regulations relating to 1933 crop loans have been received from Washington, "but are so tentative until they are submitted to the press from that point." He pointed, however, that the regulations are somewhat similar to those of last year. The maximum loan for an individual then was $4,000 for a farm with more than one acre and $1,600.

IS FAREWELL ADDRESS FOR AFRICAN PEOPLE BEING HELD IN BANGS

CLAPPER Correspondent writes: Following is the story about Mr. Grady as published: "C. M. Grady of Brownwood settled in Brown county in 1874. At that time, he recalls, Brownwood was just a log cabin town of about 20 houses."

"In June, 1875, Grady joined the State Rangers, Company E, in Maj. John B. Jones' battalion. Much of the territory they patrolled was an unsurveyed wilderness. Coleman county had not been organized. All of that section was rich grazing land and great herds of buffalo roamed the country."

"There was all kinds of wild game. Black bear were plentiful. On one hunt the rangers killed 23 bears, saving the state considerable expense on the company's winter meat bill. Grady had numerous exciting experiences in the continuous hunt for hostile Indians and outlaws. Once a company of 15 rangers, equipped for 20 days, spent 50 days hunting a band of Indians who had killed a comrade at Fort Chadbourne."

"Grady is getting much enjoyment out of the pioneer letters, he wrote, as many of those listed are old friends and comrades."

In the same issue as Mr. Grady's story, a Coleman county pioneer was listed as follows: "Mrs. R. L. Dunham of Coleman, experienced many years of struggle and hardship in West Texas. Her husband, who died in 1924, was a stockman and trail driver in the early seventies and eighties. He later sold out and ranched in Indian Territory, now Oklahoma."

PART OF STATE OBLIGATION IS MET BY COUNTY

Brown county, like many other counties in Texas, is going to be in a hole if the state continues failing to pay its agreed part of the bonded indebtedness for state highway construction.

The state, through its board on county and district indebtedness, agreed to take over more than $500,000 of county highway indebtedness several months ago. The county then set its road tax rate only for enough to take care of the county's part of maturing principal and interest, depending on the state to pay its share.

On March 1, $10,000 of the principal on bond series E will be due and interest due on this series amounts to $30,750. The total sum due on principal and interest is $40,750.

The state's share of the principal on this particular maturity was to be $3,456, but the county has been given notice that the state can only pay $1,152 of this amount. The county, in addition to its part of the payment, will have to pay $2,304 of the part the state agreed to pay. The county, then, will have to pay $3,456, when its share was to have been only $3,454.

Interest Payment The state's share of the interest due is $10,627.20 and the board of county and district indebtedness says the state will pay all of its share of the interest. The county's part of the interest is $20,122.80.

Hoover to America Leaves

BY RAYMOND United Press Staff NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—J. Edgar Hoover, in his flight to the American people, pledged the support of the republican party to the measure promoting the national gold standard. He spoke at a Lincoln day gathering of republicans here. Republicans will, he pledged, vigilantly oppose all harmful measures. Declaring he had no complaint at the outcome of the last election, Mr. Hoover predicted the republican party will be recalled to power by the American people. "An organization that can show more than 15,000,000 adherents at a place for 70 years—an irreducible minimum in the reaction from the worst depression the world has ever seen—is indeed testimony to the vitality of the principles which Lincoln enunciated," Mr. Hoover said. "Those principles, the fiber and the determination of the party assure that it will be recalled to power by the American people." Mr. Hoover renewed his plea for retention of the gold standard as the only path of safety for the nation. He added however that the world should endeavor to find a place for silver, at least in enlarged gold-silver coinage. Opposes Debt Cancellation Cancellation of war debts would not give relief and the importance of these debts in world trade is exaggerated, Mr. Hoover continued. He suggested that if central banks should cooperate to stabilize world currencies, some part of the debt payments might be set aside for temporary use in this way. Mr. Hoover asked for national solidarity in dealing with international questions. He said the best path to recovery lay in cooperating with the world in reviving consumption and stabilized currencies and reducing trade obstructions. He warned that if this way out is closed, America may have to take the less desirable alternative of withdrawing into its economic shell, booting tariffs, quotas and discriminations and artificially reducing farm and other production. He dismissed inflation and consequent abandonment of the gold standard as a certain road to destruction. Mr. Hoover left Washington in mid-afternoon and arrived at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel shortly before the Lincoln day dinner of the National Republican Club began. National party leaders were on hand in large numbers. As this was the last major address of Mr. Hoover before he leaves office, it was awaited with intense expectation as an index of the course he believes the party should follow in recovering from the blow of last November. Has No Complaint "The people determined the election," Mr. Hoover said in referring to that event at the outset of his address. "Those of us who believe in the most basic principle insisted upon by Abraham Lincoln—have no complaint. We accept and, as Americans, will continue wholeheartedly to do our part in promoting the well-being of the country. Our party can truly feel that we have held the faith; that we shall do so in the future is our solemn responsibility." In self-interest, no less than in altruism, nations must accept obligations to cooperate in achieving world stability, Mr. Hoover declared. "I am convinced that the first point of attack is to secure assured greater stability in the currencies of the important commercial nations," he said. Unshakable as he was during the campaign, that the gold standard must be preserved, Mr. Hoover said it was not necessary that nations forced off of gold restore former gold values but only fix the value of the metal at some point. "The American people will soon be at the fork of three roads. The first is the highway of cooperation among nations, thereby to remove the obstructions to world consumption and rising prices. This road leads to real stability, to expanding standards of living, to a resumption of the march of progress by all peoples. It is today the immediate road to relief of agriculture and unemployment, not alone for us but the entire world. "The second road is to rely upon our high degree of national self-containment, to increase our tariffs, to create quotas and discriminations, and to engage in definite methods of curtailment of production of agricultural and other products and thus to secure a larger measure of economic isolation from world influences. It would be a long road of readjustment into unknown and uncertain fields. But it may be necessary if the first way out is closed to us. Some measures may be necessary pending cooperative conclusions with other nations. "The third road is that we inflate our currency, consequently abandon the gold standard, and with our depreciated currency attempt to enter a world economic war, with the certainty that it leads to complete destruction, both at home and abroad. "The first road can only be undertaken by the cooperation among all important nations. "The question naturally arises whether other nations will cooperate to restore world confidence, stability and economic peace. In this connection, I trust the American people will not be misled or trifled with by the ceaseless stream of foreign propaganda that cancellation of war debts would give this international relief and remedy. That is not true. These debts are

WOULD REQUIRE EQUALIZED TAX ASSESSMENTS

AUSTIN, Texas, Feb. 15.—(AP)—Representative Fritz Engelhard of Eagle Lake has offered a bill to the Texas Legislature that would require all taxing districts to make the same assessment for tax purposes and would do away with the varying rates of assessment now in force. "The purpose of the bill, frankly, is to bring about a system which will place a certain assessed valuation on all properties, real and personal and mixed," Engelhard stated. "If this bill is passed, the same valuation will be used for state and county purposes, for city taxation and by school districts, road or highway districts, improvement districts and every other subdivision." Engelhard said many districts had evaded the law which set a tax limit of $1 on the $100 valuation for school districts by raising the assessed valuation of the property after the $1 limit had been reached. One school district has raised its assessments three times to evade the purpose of the law, Engelhard said. Another aim of the bill was elimination of the hundreds of separate tax assessors and tax collectors. Engelhard's figures showed there were 8,697 separate assessing and collecting agencies in the 254 counties. These would be abolished, except one agency for each county, as provided in a constitutional amendment adopted last year combining the office of county tax collector and county assessor. There are 48 separate tax assessing and collecting agencies in Dallas county, alone, each of which has the authority to evaluate property for tax making purposes, Engelhard reported. In most counties, the taxpayer has to visit several portions of the county to pay his property taxes. Under Engelhard's bill, the taxes in each tax unit would be fixed according to the needs of that unit on the common valuation and be collected by one agency which would distribute the proceeds to all subdivisions. In addition to putting an end to the confusion now attending tax assessing and collecting, the plan would result in a statewide saving of hundreds of thousands of dollars annually by doing away with the expense of maintaining the numerous costly agencies, Engelhard said.

SEEK PREVENT CUT IN WOLF FIGHT FUNDS

AUSTIN, Texas, Feb. 15.—(AP)—Representatives of the federal government, working in Texas for predatory animal control have ascertained that a wolf in its lifetime can do $1,000 worth of damage preying upon chickens, turkeys, hogs, sheep and goats. The wolf, or coyote thrives in the mosquito and hulsache sections of South Texas. He has been a subject of worry to farmers and ranchmen in that section for many years. Only in recent years has there been any concerted action to exterminate him. In former years the cowboy merely was satisfied to practice marksmanship with his pistol on the shifty coyote. Now he believes in setting traps and carrying on a systematic eradication campaign. C. R. Landon, in charge of the predatory animal work in Texas for the federal government, has been endeavoring, assisted by ranchmen and farmers, to get a more generous appropriation from the state legislature to uphold its part of the burden. Legislators are threatening to cut the allotment for this work in half, reducing it from $70,000 to $35,000. The work is financed by Federal, State and local contributions. Landon pointed out that last year nearly $37,000 less was spent for the work than in 1931, and the catch 7,244 more animals than in the previous year. The cost per animal of carrying on the work was reduced one half, from $12 to $6. Last year 20,379 predatory animals were destroyed by traps and poison. Of these, 17,079 were coyotes, 2,600 bob cats, 599 red wolves, 45 mountain lions and five ocelots. Landon said this protection cost $121,107, divided as follows: State funds, $58,639; Federal aid, $24,326; local contributions, $38,141.

Local Poultry House Celebrates First Anniversary

Brownwood Poultry & Egg Co., one of Brownwood's leading poultry markets, announces their first anniversary in Brownwood February 19. C. R. Staggs and Tom Guthrie are owners and managers. Mr. Staggs states that he has been in the poultry business for the past 21 years, and was connected with the Western Poultry Company of Abilene before coming to Brownwood to make his home and to be president of the local firm. Mr. Guthrie, whose home is Brownwood, says his seven years experience in handling poultry enables him to give the poultry and egg producers of this community an unusually good advantage in marketing their produce to obtain better prices. Mr. Staggs and Mr. Guthrie, on their first anniversary, wish to thank the people of this section for their very liberal patronage during the past 12 months, and hope to continue their pleasant business relations. Brownwood offers an unusually good market for the poultry raisers of Central West Texas, and Mr. Staggs and Mr. Guthrie say they believe they can be of good assistance to the producers in marketing their merchandise.
