Lakeview Hospital opens

Recovery Associates cordially invite everyone to attend the Grand Opening of Lakeview Hospital on Sunday, March 5, 1989 from 2 to 4 p.m. The Ribbon Cutting Ceremony will begin at 2 p.m. For additional information, please contact Lakeview Hospital at (817) 759-4796.

Lakeview Hospital is an outpatient diagnostic center and an inpatient treatment facility within Recovery Associates which specializes in the diagnosis and treatment of disorders of excess, including substance abuse, for adolescents, young adults and their families. Outpatient treatment means that the patients and their families utilize a combination of therapies for less than 10 hours per week. For patients requiring a therapeutic environment or needing treatment for substance abuse problems, referral to day treatment may be appropriate. Sherman House, located in Sherman, Texas is the primary facility for day treatment within Recovery Associates, along with Plano House, located in Plano, Texas.

While most patients can be served in outpatient or day treatment, some require inpatient treatment for a period of time to stabilize their physical or behavioral conditions before entry into day treatment. Lakeview Hospital offers an inpatient program for drug and alcohol recovery in addition to its outpatient diagnosis and treatment of other disorders of excess. The objective of inpatient treatment is to prepare the patient for entry to day treatment or outpatient care as soon as they are physically and emotionally ready to continue their recovery in their community.

Services at each of the facilities are provided by a highly qualified and professional staff. Nurses, drug and alcohol counselors, social workers and family therapists work under a physician, serving as medical director, and a clinical psychologist, serving as clinical director.

Lakeview Hospital is located just south of Muenster Memorial Hospital at 601 North Maple Street in Muenster. It is separated from MMH by a covered, secured walkway.

Beck Management and Recovery Associates of Lakeview will host the open house and send out a warm welcome to everyone to be present for the ribbon cutting ceremony, and to view the facility.

Hornet playoff hopes end in OT

In a bitter ending to a successful season, the Muenster Hornets, 20-7, saw the Alvard Bulldogs, 21-11, come from behind and win an overtime bi-district thriller, 74-71, last Friday night at Justin Northwest High School. The Bulldogs continued to run Tuesday at McKinney with a 70-68 win over Bland on 2 free throws with 2 seconds to play. They advance to the Regionals.

"Of the eight teams in our bracket, it could have been anybody's ball game. There were no dominant teams such as the Roxton and Fannindel teams of the past two seasons," said Coach

Ted Heers. "As it is, Sam Rayburn and Alvard made it to Kilgore. We're proud of our Hornets and their efforts. Three straight District championships takes a lot of work."

The hardworking Hornets had to reach deep last Friday to overcome a horrible 1 for 14 first period shooting effort. They scored a season-low 5 points for the quarter and were down 17-5.

"There wasn't any reason to panic," said Heers. "We felt that we would eventually get some shots to fall. But playoff caliber teams will take advantage of you if you come out cold."

Alvard saw Muenster knuckle down on the defensive boards and win the second period 24-14. Mike Pagel went to the line with two seconds left and the Hornets trailing 30-29. Pagel missed and Keith Klement was whistled for the foul. Alvard connected on the front end for a 31-29 lead.

"That was a big play. It turned out to be a 3-point turnaround."

Muenster took charge in the third quarter as they stormed to a 46-37 lead. But Alvard chopped it to 47-42 as the fourth period began. The Bulldogs erupted for 26 points in the fourth quarter, the most points given up by a Hornet team for one quarter.

"Our defense broke down during the final quarter. But our guys felt pretty sure that they were committing a foul if they looked at an Alvard player. Well, it wasn't that bad, but the officiating and Mike fouling out hurt us defensively."

In the final hectic minutes of regulation, the Hornets had several chances to pull it out. With 27 seconds left and leading 68-67, the Hornets sent James Hennigan to the free throw line, but the 1-and-1 attempt rolled out. Chris Klement was whistled for a foul on Wes Fowler with 17 seconds left.

LUPE EVANS receives the prestigious Silver Beaver award, highest recognition for volunteers in the Scouting program. She has served for 10 years. Shown also is her Eagle Scout son, Murlin Evans.

Lupe Evans given Silver Beaver Award

Only two Muenster Scouting volunteers have earned the prestigious Silver Beaver Award. On Sunday, Feb. 26, 1989, Lupe Evans became a member of the elite group, joining Nick Miller who received the honor a number of years ago.

This award was given for noteworthy service of exceptional character to boyhood by registered Scouters within the territory under the jurisdiction of the Longhorn Council, Boy Scouts of America.

The award ceremony and dinner were held at Will Rogers Coliseum.

Sold Out! Capacity audience to see show

A bonanza for Beta Kappa's Centennial Style Show came with a telephone call to sponsors Tuesday morning, from Wanda Frix, a member of the Austin Texas Chamber of Home Economics Club.

She has a collection of vintage swim suits, authentic and dating from 150 years old and less, which she offered to Beta Kappa for use in Saturday's show. She developed the collection as her contribution to the Texas Sesquicentennial. It has been shown in several different cities.

Anticipation of a real treat is heightened by the prospects of an exhibit of three bridal gowns, one antique, another very modern, several old dresses, one at least an even hundred years old; also the 50-year-old gown worn by Miss Muenster of 1939; and vintage swim suits, in addition to a varied collection of other clothing from a number of years. Members are promising a few surprises also.

The Beta Kappa show, "One Hundred Years of Fashion," will be presented in the Sacred Heart Community Center on Saturday, March 4. Doors will open at 11 a.m. for viewing of displays. Serving of the catered luncheon by Rohmer's Restaurant will begin at 11:30. Hostesses will all be in period clothing.

Beta Kappa members will be joined by Bluebonnet Home Extension members in providing 'scrumptious' choices at the dessert bar. Bluebonnets will hold a Bake Night on Thursday to prepare.

The show will begin following serving of desserts, at approximately 12:30 p.m.

There will be another opportunity to view items on display, at the close of the program. Because of limited seating, no tickets will be available at the door.

THE ELEGANT GOWN and coronation cape and train worn by the former Gertrude Voth as Miss Muenster of 1939, in observance of the community's golden anniversary, will be featured in the Beta Kappa "One Hundred Years of Fashion" Show on Saturday, March 4 in the Community Center. In hope we were saved. But hope is not hope if its object is seen; how is it possible for what he sees? And hoping for what we cannot see means awaiting it with patience and endurance.

Letter from the Editor:

Dear "Concerned in the Country,"

The matter you wrote about is certainly one to be concerned about. However, if you're not concerned enough about it to put your name on your Letter to the Editor, it indicates how much you are willing to stand up to the problem yourself. In addition, this problem would be better handled through channels before becoming a public embarrassment to a well-meaning person.

Now that I have most of the attention of most readers; we don't publish letters without signatures, but yours, "Concerned," is going to the proper authority, I just wish you were more concerned.

Pioneer Portraits

Elsie Fuhrman was reared in nearby Lindsay, but her roots are firmly planted in Muenster's history.

She is the only living child of one of Muenster's founders, Wilhelm Flusche. He bought the first farm in the town, which, in 1889, was nothing more than a large expanse of tall prairie grass, a few trees and a dream of what could be. The farm, south of Muenster, now belongs to the Arthur Bayer family. Wilhelm's brothers, Emil, August and Anton, came to Texas looking for a suitable site for a German Catholic colony early in 1889. After much discussion, the brothers purchased 22,000 acres west of Gainesville to begin the town.

Wilhelm stayed in Muenster until 1891, when he and his brother Anton, started another German colony, which became Lindsay. In all, one or more of the Flusche brothers started seven Catholic German colonies, four of them in Texas. The others were in Kansas and Iowa.

Elsie was born Oct. 22, 1894 in Lindsay, the sixth of nine children. She grew up in the community and married Henry Fuhrman in 1921. After moving to Iowa, they returned to Lindsay two years later due to her husband's asthmatic condition. They farmed on land north of what is now the Gainesville airport, planning to make it their permanent home. World War II interfered, however, and they were forced to sell their acreage to make way for Camp Howze.

The family then moved to Muenster in 1942, and Mrs. Fuhrman has maintained a home in the community for the past 47 years. Her husband continued to suffer occasionally from asthma while they lived in Lindsay, but "he never had it after we moved to Muenster," she said. He died in 1976 at the age of 90.

Mrs. Fuhrman's memory has remained sharp during her 94 years, and she has many stories of the hardships, along with the good times, of the past.

An advocate of strong family ties, loyalties, and her Catholic faith, Elsie Fuhrman is typical of the hard-working pioneers who built a solid foundation of values for her six children, 22 grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren to follow. Though she had little formal education, her quest for knowledge of everything around her never diminished. For this reason, she always is eager to engage anyone in a conversation on any topic. She also encouraged her children to avail themselves of every educational opportunity. Several of them did, and returned to reside in Muenster, where they are productive, contributing members of the community. Her children are Rosalee Bayer, Coralee Pulte, Elsie Endres, Alvin, Jerry and Bill Fuhrman.

(This is the first of several articles honoring the descendants of Muenster's pioneers during this Centennial celebration. For information on featuring a member of your family, please call Alvin Fuhrman at 759-2251.)

Accident sends man to hospital

An accident north of Muenster before midnight Saturday night resulted in massive head injuries to Allen Sampson of Saint Jo, causing him to be Care-Flited to Harris Methodist Hospital in Fort Worth. He was first admitted to Muenster Memorial Hospital where he was stabilized and then transferred by helicopter, and reportedly remains in the Intensive Care Unit.

Muenster Chief of Police Helen Tompkins said that the Cooke

County Sheriff's Department requested local help to control the flow of traffic that was almost a "traffic jam," as curiosity seekers rushed to get a look. The Muenster Volunteer Fire Department was also dispatched by the Sheriff's department, said Chief Tompkins, but both ambulance and truck experienced difficulty in reaching the scene, because other drivers were clogging the road and many more were attempting to follow emergency vehicles.

She said Officer Bevins stemmed the rush of following cars by driving onto the center stripe and preventing passing.

Chief Tompkins said, "People seem to forget that following an emergency vehicle can bring a fine of up to $200. They don't realize the seriousness of the offense, and that a life could be lost when emergency vehicles are delayed by other traffic. Also, drivers should always be alerted to move to the right as soon as it is reasonably possible, to allow emergency vehicles to pass."

The accident in which Sampson, age 21, and two other passengers in the 1973 Ford pickup were injured, occurred about 10 miles north of Muenster as they were pulling a stock trailer and one round bale of hay. The driver, Virgil Welch, age 31, of Saint Jo lost control as the pickup fishtailed and flipped over several times. Another passenger,

R.C. Bilibrey of Rt. 1, Muenster was not injured. Welch received minor injuries, but Sampson was thrown through the windshield.

Chief Tompkins said, "The accident occurred as they were starting down a hill. Within a few feet to one side there was a 60-foot drop-off. If they had gone over into the canyon, it would have been a long time before they were found."

ever before and we believe Don and Joann have that level of commitment. The United program has been a stabilizing factor in the real estate economies of many of the towns we now have offices in because its real estate catalog and weekly mailing list of prospective buyers give area sellers national advertising exposure for their properties, resulting in a higher sales price and shorter marketing time. We are excited about bringing those services to Muenster."

United National is a full service real estate company, with offices in 45 states. United National corporate offices are located in Kansas City, Missouri.

Severe Weather Awareness Week Feb. 26 thru March 4

by Janet Felderhoff
Texas Governor William P. Clements Jr. has proclaimed the week of Feb. 26 through March 4, 1989 as Severe Weather Awareness Week in Texas.

The week is proclaimed annually to encourage Texans to be aware of the severe weather problems that can threaten the state. Some serious weather phenomena for which Texans should be prepared are heavy thunderstorms, tornadoes, hail, lightning, floods and flash floods.

Milton Knauf accepted the position of Emergency Management

Coordinator for Muenster last year. This is a new position created by the city to ensure smooth operation of each city department in the event an emergency situation threatens Muenster.

In an interview Monday, Knauf said that his duties include being familiar with all city departments and their responsibilities during an emergency, to coordinate efforts to achieve their goal efficiently and to help educate residents on what to do in a threatening situation.

"I would like to stress that in the event of some type of emergency, we have a plan for that situation which is to be put into effect and followed," stated Knauf. Plans are to hold a practice drill in the near future, but there is not a date set. Knauf said he is also working toward updating the warning system used by Muenster.

Since tornadoes are most prolific in Texas during the months of April, May and June, Knauf wants residents to know that the police and fire department are ready to watch over Muenster. When a tornado watch is issued, members of the fire department go to designated areas surrounding Muenster to spot any signs of trouble.

"In the event of a tornado, the fire siren on the water tower will sound one continuous blast for a minute or longer," stated Fire Chief Herbie Knabe.

Should someone site an actual tornado threat to Muenster, Knauf said the best method of alerting residents would be to dial 911. The county sheriff's department would then relay the information to the Muenster Police Department and other proper authorities.

North Texas lies on the southern tip of "Tornado Alley," which is a strip of Plains area where tornadoes are most frequently spawned.

On the average, 119 tornadoes touch ground in Texas each year, more than any other state.

With this information in mind, it would benefit every family to have a "safe" area in their homes, supplied with flashlights, portable radio, extra batteries, prescription medications, and sleeping bags or heavy blankets to offer protection from shattering glass, etc., and a first aid kit.

A periodic family tornado drill could help prevent panic and help everyone react quickly in the event of an actual tornado.

Reviewing the safety tips listed at the end of this article could someday ensure the safety of your family.

"Last year, at least 13 people in our state lost their lives as a result of tornadoes, thunderstorms winds, lightning and flash floods," said Governor Clements in his proclamation for Severe Weather Awareness Week. "Loss of life and property damage can be reduced if citizens are prepared for severe weather situations."

SAFETY RULES

Lightning

* When a thunderstorm threatens, move inside a substantial building or automobile.

* Inside a building, avoid using the telephone or electrical appliances. Lightning can travel through the lines.

* If shelter is unavailable, don't stand beneath tall, isolated trees in open areas. Avoid projecting above the surrounding landscape.

* If you are in an open area and you feel your hair stand on end, indicating lightning may be about to strike, drop to your knees and bend forward, putting your hands on your knees. Make as small a target of yourself as possible, but don't lie flat on the ground.

* Get away from tractors and other metal farm equipment.

* Get off of and away from motorcycles, scooters, golf carts and bicycles. Put down golf clubs.

* Stay away from wire fences, clotheslines, metal pipes, rails and other metallic paths which could carry lightning to you from some distance away.

Flash Flood

* Watch for rising water levels and be prepared to get quickly to higher ground.

* Do not try to drive through flooded areas.

* If water begins rising over the road, abandon your vehicle and head for high ground immediately.

* Do not attempt to cross flowing water which may be more than knee deep. If you have doubts, don't cross.

* Be very cautious at night because it is harder to recognize dangers of flash floods.

Tornadoes

* Home: Go to basement or lowest floor. Take cover in center of house in a small room such as a closet or bathroom or under sturdy furniture.

* Stay away from windows. Do not try to open or close windows when a tornado is approaching.

* Schools, Hospitals, Shopping Centers: Move to predesignated shelter areas or interior wall on lowest floor. Avoid non-reinforced construction areas and auditorium or gyms with long free-span roofs.

* Car, Mobile Homes: Leave your car or mobile home and get to nearest shelter, ditch or depression. Cover your head with your hands. Be aware of the possibility of flooding in low-lying areas.

* Never try to outrun a tornado in a car; it can easily be picked up and carried away by a tornado. A tornado watch means conditions are right for tornadoes to form. A warning means a tornado has been sighted in your area, and you should take cover quickly.

Lindsay Secular Franciscans to sponsor summer raffle

Plans are being made by the Secular Franciscan Fraternity of St. Peter's of Lindsay to sponsor a raffle in early summer to replenish funds.

Correspondence from Bishop Peter Chenapuramil of Kerala, India was shared with the group. He is grateful for Mass stipend money sent for Fr. Cletus and also the package of pecans.

The Bishop stated that there are plenty of vocations in India. In the state of Kerala, there are three seminaries meant for the 24 diocese. There are 670 students in one seminary. The seminarians there are sleeping huddled together in halls for want of space in the building.

It was decided to send the Bishop the balance of the tuition for adopted seminarian, John Mathai, who is presently in a seminary in Bombay, India.

Mrs. Mary Stoffels read from the New Rule Book and from Scripture and Mrs. Tony Hermes read from the Secular Franciscan Communicator.

Refreshments were served after adjournment by the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Zimmerer.

MHS Trustees attend workshop at UNT

All members of the Muenster ISD Board of Trustees attended an area workshop sponsored by the Texas Association of School Boards held at the University of North Texas on Wednesday, Feb. 15, 1989.

Muenster trustees attending the workshop included Annette Anderle, Harold Bindel, Jerry Bynum, Tom Flusche, Joe Hellman, Dennis Hess, Leon Klement and Charles Coffey, superintendent. The workshop provided area school board members with an opportunity to complete 6½ hours of the required 20 hours of board member training required by House Bill 72 enacted in 1984.

In the opening general session, workshop participants heard remarks by a representative of the University of North Texas, State School Board's Association President Byron Black, a representative of Texas Education Agency Commissioner Dr. William Kirby, and Mr. Orby Holden, Executive Director of the Texas Association of School Boards.

During the afternoon those in attendance participated in three different "break out" or small group sessions to acquire training in different responsibilities or duties of school board members.

The workshop concluded with a banquet featuring Mr. Larry Jenkins, a member of the select committee of education, speaking on the importance of education in the '90s from an industrial viewpoint. Muenster ISD Board of Trustees members are also preparing to engage in additional inservice board member training provided by the Education Leadership Associates of Lubbock, Texas.

Third Grade News...

This week we are going to make potpourri in art. We have to work hard on keeping the room neat because Mr. Reynolds is giving the cleanest room an award. The award is a little broom with decorations. We learned all the parts of an ear. We are going to have a visitor in Math class. Mrs. Jump gave away little books for the ones that did not get their names on the board. In reading, we read "The Two Stonecutters." We did our play last week. In science and english, we are having tests. It is time for the month that comes in like a lion and comes out like a lamb. The dentist came and talked about teeth. That is the third grade news.

A girl came by and asked if she could help John give the puppy a bath. John said, "Yes, you help me give the puppy a bath." When they were done, the puppy looked brand new. It looked like they got him from the city pound. The little girl asked, "What do we do with this little puppy?" John said, "Well, I guess we just have to keep the puppy." "What if your mom finds out," said the little girl. "She won't find out. I'll keep him safe." So one day mom went down in the basement. She saw something fluffy and white. She went a little more closer. It was a puppy. She felt a little mad at John. So when John came home with the little girl, John's mom said, "John, what is the secret? I know you have a secret." John knew what was the secret. So he told mom the truth. "O, mom, can we keep the little puppy? Can we, please?" "OK, you may keep him." "All right!"

Tigerettes dominate All-District team

At a recent meeting of coaches, the Sacred Heart Tigerettes landed five players on the 12-player All-District squad and three more Tigerettes received mention. Seniors Vickie Schmitt, Lisa Hamric and Noelle Hesse, along with juniors Amy Walterscheid and LaBecah Hess, were named to the 10-player squad. Michelle Walter, Jennifer Fuhrmann and junior Debbie Schmitt received honorable mention to the team.

"Anytime you have that many players named to the team and receiving honorable mention is a true indication of the balance of this team," said Tigerette mentor Jon LeBrasseur. Balance of the Tigerettes is very true as the leading scorer, Lisa Hamric, averaged 13 points per game but was followed by Vickie Schmitt, LaBecah Hess, Amy Walterscheid and Noelle Hesse, who all averaged 8-plus points per game. Jennifer Fuhrmann, Michelle Walter and Debbie Schmitt also led the Tigerettes in scoring in various games.

"What a group of seniors," said LeBrasseur. "Lisa can score at any time. Vickie was a force inside, Noelle did the things to make us go, Michelle could turn the game around with her speed and Jennifer was perhaps the most consistent player during the championship run, and Janel Flusche was 'Steady Eddie.'"

Next year's Tigerettes will be led by Amy Walterscheid, LaBecah Hess, and Debbie Schmitt. "If our juniors work hard this summer and continue to improve the way they did during the season, we will be competitive next year," said LeBrasseur. Hess was an explosive threat and Walterscheid was a Tigerette star during the playoffs. Schmitt, a starter, just didn't make mistakes with her steady play.

"It was a great year!" exclaimed LeBrasseur. "All of these players are very deserving of their honors." The Tigerette All-District performers will be participating in the District 1 - District 4 All-Star game next Monday evening at the University of Dallas. The girls will tip it off at 7 p.m., followed by the boys. Directions to the University of Dallas are as follows: 35E to Loop 12 or the Texas Stadium exit. Travel Loop 12 and exit Hwy. 114 to Grapevine. Take the University of Dallas exit and travel behind the University to the Field House located on the northwest end of campus.

Watch out for fractures

Fortunately, although even a small fracture can be a big problem, it's getting easier to prevent foot and leg injuries and to recognize such injuries quickly when they happen.

Stress fractures can occur while you're playing a sport, especially if you've just changed your training schedule. Sometimes, all it takes is striking your foot just once too often while you're running or jumping. The symptoms include pain, soreness or tenderness in the fracture area, along with swelling and discoloration of the skin.

One shoe company, Converse, conducted a study into the cause and effect of stress fracture to athletes.

Making the new athletic shoes even safer and more comfortable was the company's inclusion of a material called the Energy Wave in the heel and forefoot. The Energy Wave is an energy return system, a technology whereby an athlete's energy is recycled. In other words, the energy an athlete expends during a stride is returned much like a trampoline. The Energy Wave returns 50 percent of the energy expended by an athlete.

Most athletic shoes lose 20 percent of their cushioning value within the first 25 miles of use. The Energy Wave compound, by comparison, loses less than one half of one percent. Since the Energy Wave maintains its cushioning properties longer, the risk of stress fracture is reduced.

The new shoes, it seems, may help many sports lovers get their training regimens off on the right foot.

Muenster called time with 14 seconds and then worked the ball to J. Shane Wimmer for a 12-foot turnaround. The shot fell short.

"When J. Shane came over before the overtime, he said his wrist was stinging from the slap on the shot."

However, Weldon Hermes caught the ball underneath and put up a lay-in that perched on the edge of the rim and rolled away at the buzzer. In the overtime, Alvord seized the lead and game.

Senior J. Shane Wimmer played an outstanding game as he hit for 33 points, pulled down 9 rebounds, dished out 8 assists, while shooting 11 of 20 from the field and 8 of 11 from the line. Mike Pagel got a game-high 13 rebounds to go with 10 points. Junior James Hennigan dished out 6 assists, and scored 12. Keith Klement scored 6 points, Chris Klement 5, and Weldon Hermes 5.

Chris, Keith, Mike, J. Shane and Weldon all played their final varsity game for MHS.

"They gave us some great performances to remember. There is no doubt we will miss them. We thank them for leaving us a title to defend."

Returning for next season will be seniors James Hennigan and Scot Vogel; juniors Troy Pagel, Brad McDaniel, Brian Reiter, Terry Felderhoff, Steven Youngblood, Scott Hudspeth; and freshmen Ryan Sicking, Justin Ramsey, Steven Fisher, Tommy Teafattiller, Mike Gobble, Doug Hennigan, and Rex Huchton.

The JV team was 11-2 and junior high team was 9-3.

"We're in good shape for another year. We'll be young, but it's way too early to write us off like I've heard from some corners. We have some excellent young players."

The All-District teams will be announced next week.

Coming ag events...

by Craig Rosenbaum, County Extension Agent Pecan Orchard Management Workshop

This past year, as in several previous years, producers have realized extra income from native and improved pecan trees in creek bottoms and pastures throughout the county. Pecans offer a good opportunity for additional income to livestock and crop producers in the county.

A Native Pecan Orchard Management Workshop is scheduled for Tuesday afternoon, March 7, at 5 p.m. at the George Schmidkofer Farm at Gainesville. George will take those attending on a tour of his improved and native pecan orchard, discussing items of spacing, land clearing, disease and insects, along with their control, fertility, sales and harvesting as well as ground preparation. Fertility, along with insect control, are critical management practices when trying to improve native pecan groves. Producers will see an excellent pecan/cattle operation.

To get to the Schmidkofer Pecan Farm, go east on Highway 82 to the traffic signal at Nolan Chevrolet, turn north and you will see the farm approximately one mile north of Highway 82.

The meeting, sponsored by the Cooke County Beef Committee, is free and open to the public. A hamburger supper will follow the workshop.

4-H Livestock Show

The 4-H Livestock Show will be held this Saturday, March 4, at the Cooke County Fairgrounds. The show will begin at 9 a.m. with the poultry and sheep division. 4-H members from throughout Cooke County will be exhibiting their poultry, rabbit, dairy goat, sheep, swine, dairy, and beef projects during the day's activities.

The public is invited to attend the show.

These 4-H livestock projects offer youth opportunities to learn and apply critical thinking skills to real-life problems.

For example, in a project involving raising any animal, a youngster must do the following:

1. Compare and contrast the animals as the basis for deciding which to keep or cull, to breed or to buy. Basic training of this nature is done in livestock

- judging.
2. Identify characteristics of individual animals that qualify or disqualify as certain breeds or species.
3. Learn nutritional ration ingredients needed for health and growth and identify animal parts and their functions.
4. Use previous experience and subject matter learned to recognize health problems and courses of action needed.
5. Identify errors through recognizing and correcting mistakes. (Incorrectly identifying the breeding cycle or gestation period of an animal can cause a loss of productivity and money.)
6. Identify the main idea and generalize from the particular animal project to the entire food ecosystem as the youth determines profit or loss at the market price.

A 4-H project can do much more than teach a child production agriculture. It can, in fact, teach critical thinking skills which can be generalized to every area of a young person's life.

Crop insurance signup time is approaching

by Craig Rosenbaum, County Extension Agent

Producers in Cooke County are reminded that the deadline for applying for multiple peril crop insurance (mpci) is fast approaching.

Deadlines range from Feb. 15 in far South Texas to April 15 for North and Northwest Texas. Exceptions to the deadlines may occur as some growers strive to meet mpci requirements as a condition to receive benefits under the Disaster Assistance Act of 1988.

Improvements in the prices of a number of crop and livestock commodities should not distract producers from planning for unexpected production shortfalls such as occurred in many areas in 1988 due to drought conditions. That's where crop insurance comes in.

Actual Production History (APH) is the cornerstone of the mpci program. Under APH coverage, insurance protection is based on the grower's proven performance. In numerous cases, the premium cost per dollar of insurance coverage is less for high yields within a county. Policy emphasis has been toward obtaining accurate APH yields while striving to make data gathering and recording processes easier for both growers and insurance agents to use.

Provisions of the mpci program for 1989 are essentially unchanged from last year. However, several factors are expected to result in greater signup this year.

With the memory of limited rainfall in 1988 still fresh in mind, growers are taking a close look at mpci coverage. Agricultural lenders generally believe that mpci is an effective risk management tool. Thirdly, the Disaster Assistance Act will require some growers to insure 1989 planting to qualify for disaster benefits.

Because of disaster assistance legislation, ASCS program crops plus soybeans are insurable wherever they are grown in Texas. These crops include wheat, barley, oats, corn, grain sorghum, rice and cotton (upland and extra long staples). In those counties that do not have a rate table for the crop, the producer-applicant should have his crop insurance agent request that a premium rate be issued by the underwriting office.

What aspects of the Disaster Assistance Act would require a grower to insure crops in 1989?

First, a producer's actual crop yield must be less than 35 percent of expected production (a loss of more than 65 percent). In addition, the county ASCS committee must determine that crop insurance is available in the county for the crop. Once these two factors are determined, the producer must agree to obtain multiple peril crop insurance for the applicable 1989 crop. This is necessary to qualify for the receive disaster payments or deficiency payment forgiveness.

Remember that the local county ASCS office determines eligibility and administers the disaster assistance provisions, with signup ending March 31. Producers seeking specific information concerning their individual situations should contact their local ASCS office.

Producers needing additional information on the mpci program should contact their crop insurance agent.

Tax refund procedures established

by Craig Rosenbaum, County Extension Agent

Dr. Ken Stokes, Texas Agricultural Extension Service Economist, offers the following information on diesel tax (taken from Doane's Agricultural Report, Jan. 27, 1989):

Farmers who purchased diesel fuel between April 1 and Dec. 31, 1988, for off-highway use have two options to recoup the 15.1 cent per gallon excise tax paid during that period. You can use Form 4136 and apply the refund as a credit against self-employment or federal income taxes owed for 1988. Or you can receive a refund plus interest by using Form 843.

However, all diesel fuel on which you claim an excise tax refund must be used by the filing deadline of June 30, 1989. You must provide proof of purchase on a month-by-month basis. Interest will be calculated beginning with the first day of the month following the fuel purchase.

Large volume users who paid more than $1,000 in fuel taxes in the second or third quarter of 1988 were permitted to file for a refund at the end of the quarter. If they didn't file, then they now are eligible for a credit with no interest, not a refund. However, excise taxes paid by larger users during the fourth quarter will be repaid with interest.

County Agent's Report

by Craig Rosenbaum

Leaf rust was building momentum on Texas wheat until an Arctic mass chilled the state in early February. The cold weather brought rust development to a standstill, causing the disease cycle to make a new beginning.

Spores of the wheat leaf fungus are not killed outright by cold, but many of them will not find susceptible host tissue or persist long enough to cause infection. But those spores that do survive will infest wheat again as the crop makes new growth. A new spore population will be generated and the extent of disease development will depend on prevailing weather conditions.

Wheat producers need to constantly evaluate disease progress and determine what action, if any, should be taken. Fungicides are available if leaf rust becomes a major limiting production factor. Generally, fungicides should be applied as the flag leaf (last leaf) emerges from the boot.

Fungicides for controlling leaf rust are more profitable when potential yields exceed 40 bushels per acre. Each producer must ultimately make the decision concerning profitability.

Leaf rust typically develops first on older leaves and proceeds up the plant. Bumps or pustules filled with reddish-orange spores form on the leaf surface. These spores are easily airborne to other areas and move both short and long distances.

Producers are urged to check their fields carefully and often and explore options for control.
