Report on the Co-op is "real good"

Cooke County Electric Cooperative held its Annual Membership Meeting on Monday, April 17, 1989. A large enthusiastic crowd was in attendance. The member-consumers were served a delicious meal by Rohmer's of Muenster.

Following the meal, the Saint Jo Opera entertained the large crowd. The group played and sang a number of country and western songs. Everyone enjoyed the music, giving them a standing ovation.

The membership heard a report of the Cooperative which was given by the new General Manager Philip Slater. He said that he

Carroll and Gobble will advance to Regional

With the start of spring came the beginning of tennis season. The Muenster Hornet men's and women's tennis teams traveled to Gainesville April 5-6 to compete in the District 17A Tennis Tournament.

Team members included Jennifer Carroll, Shonna Reiter, Sherilyn Sicking, Jannet Reeves, Mike Gobble, Jason Ashley, Kelly Colwell and Ryan Sicking, who was filling in for Brian Reiter who was ill during the tournament.

Jason Ashley started off the competition for the Muenster Hornets and drew last year's district champion, Robert Duncan of Lindsay. Ashley fought hard but was defeated in two sets.

The ladies' doubles team, composed of Sherilyn Sicking and Jannet Reeves, and the men's doubles team, composed of Kelly Colwell and Ryan Sicking, proved they were ready for competition when both teams won their first match. Unfortunately, both teams were would bring out some of the facts and figures about the Cooperative to illustrate what went on in 1988.

First, Cooperative people tell us to ask the question, "How are we doing?" of our membership. We hope the answer is "real good."

The function of the Cooperative, although we have many different activities going on, is to provide reliable service at the most economical price. The year 1988 was a year for reliable service at the best price to be provided.

He stated that the residential load has been increasing and it is thought that it will continue to increase.

That's only one aspect of why Cooke County Electric Cooperative is successful. Another aspect has to do with the human factors. The people involved are a real important part of Cooke County Electric Cooperative.

First of all the loyal membership, who came out this evening to hear speeches, be entertained and then vote for directors. That's an important job. You have done an excellent job in the past in electing good directors. The directors are an important part. You are an important part because you elected them - so membership is the No. 1 factor.

The second factor is the dedicated directors. These men spend a lot of time, meet a lot of people, do a lot of reading and make trips. They are the eyes and ears in your area.

The third factor is the manager. The general manager heads up the day-to-day operations. That person has to spend a lot of time and energy to be dedicated to see that success is achieved as Mike Sloan has done in the past.

The fourth factor is the employees. These are the front line people. The manager then introduced all of the employees and stated how long they had worked for the Cooperative.

He noted the Financial Analysis and Annual Report states the Plant Additions increased 7.8 percent to $606,046; Electric Plant (End of Year) increased 3.3 percent to $14,684,193; Peak Demand (Kilowatts) increased 6.8 percent to $47,684; Electric Energy Sales (KWH) increased 2.2 percent to $235,817,644; Number of Consumers (End of Year) was 9,629; and Average Cost to Consumer Per KWH decreased 7.1 percent from 5.6 cents in 1987 to 5.2 cents in 1988.

He cited that through the many years of the good operation of Cooke County Electric Cooperative, the rates have stayed the same, yet patronage capital and margins for 1988 totaled $303,806, which is a decrease of operating margins of $114,899. Even though the operations were handled well by good directors

MELISSA MILLER of Sacred Heart and Justin Hartman of Muenster Public School represented their schools on Friday, April 7, in the Texas finals of the National Geography Bee in Fort Worth. Geography Bee tests more than students' knowledge of subject

It was a test of endurance, nerves, and pressure points, but the top 100 students from the 1200 competing schools in Texas know they survived something very special when they participated in the Texas finals of the National Geography Bee.

The first-of-its kind competition was sponsored by the National Geographic Society of Washington, D.C.

Stung by the final report of a study conducted by the Society in conjunction with the Gallup Organization, indicating that Americans rank in the lowest third in an international test of geographic knowledge, the National Geographic Society developed a plan that was eagerly accepted by schools across the nation. Its purpose was to heighten the interest of students in many facets of geographic knowledge; and to increase awareness of the lack of general knowledge of World Geography; and to promote an interest in becoming better informed in the subject of geography.

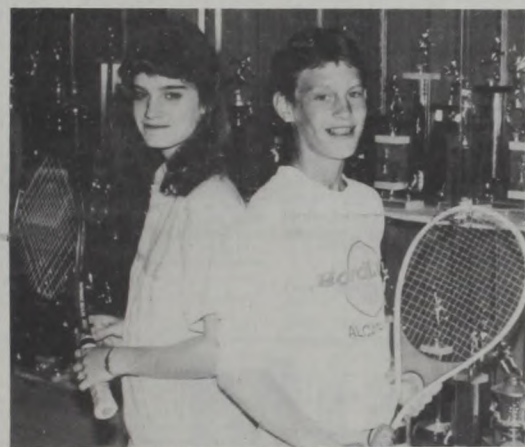

More than 1200 schools across Texas joined their counterparts across America in grades four through eight.

Both Muenster schools took active parts. Students first had to pass written tests along with their classmates, to come out the top winners. Each school's winners then were required to take another written exam. These tests were sent to the National Geographic Society, where the results were recorded.

Shortly before Easter, both schools were notified of their top winners. The sponsoring organization announced that Melissa Miller of Sacred Heart School and Justin Hartman of Muenster Public School were qualified, by their test grades, to advance a step higher in competition. They were among the top 100 students out of the 1200 competing schools and were invited to participate on Friday, April 7, when the group met on the TCU Campus in the Student Union Building.

Students came from all over the state, mostly from the heavily populated Metroplex areas and DFW, Houston and Austin and many little towns scattered throughout Texas, from Brownsville to the top of the Panhandle. They were shown a huge wall map with tiny flags indicating where each student lived and they made the exciting discoveries of their hometowns. Please See GEOGRAPHY, Pg. 2

Germanfest is coming

In scope of entertainment and sophistication of crowd management, Germanfest 1989 is a far cry from its beginning in the Bicentennial year of 1976. Even more so, it is a world apart from its forerunner, "Schutzenfest," the three day festival of Muenster's early day pioneers.

However, the kindred spirit of both is undeniable.

Gemutlichkeit! is much in evidence. Fellowship, friendliness, good will, good food, a spirit of reunion, the delight of "coming back home" are qualities of Gemutlichkeit. An eagerly offered, warm welcome awaits each guest: in a word, "Gemutlichkeit!"

Sponsored by the Muenster Chamber of Commerce, the festival is in its 14th year.

Growth has been phenomenal. The German Fun Run in 1976 drew 251 participants. The four day festival drew a total attendance of 5,000. For two years, it was held on parish grounds, and the next year was moved to the Muenster City Park, where great ancient trees that saw the first Schutzenfest again provided ideal shade for the Bier Garten and many picnic tables.

Variety and quality of entertainment continued to improve: A Metric Century Bicycle Rally had 119 participants in 1981. In 1988, there were more than 3,000 riders. The German Fun Run had grown to 4,000 runners from its initial 251. A Germanfest International Volksmarch was added in 1987, attaining marked interest. A Kinder Theatre with mimes, magicians, clowns and storytellers and a Karneval for children are only a few of the newest additions. Only in its second year, the Germanfest Praise Service has been moved from the Mid-Park in town to the City Park Pavilion for Sunday morning, April 30, at 9:30 a.m.

A complete report of entertainment available for Germanfest 1989 will be printed in next week's paper.

For readers interested in other factors of growth, attendance by the mid-1980s had grown to an estimated 55,000 for the three days.

Good News!

If anyone has given offense, he has hurt not only me, but in some measure, to say no more, every one of you. The punishment already inflicted by the majority on such a one is enough; you should now relent and support him so that he may not be crushed by too great a weight of sorrow. 2 CORINTHIANS 2:5-7

NOTICE!

Because of the hectic schedule involved the last few days before Germanfest, The Muenster Enterprise is moving the deadline for news copy and ad copy from Tuesday at 5 p.m. to Monday at 5 p.m. on April 24. The classified deadline will be moved up from Wednesday at noon to Tuesday at noon for that week only. The mailing date will therefore be on Wednesday afternoon. The Enterprise appreciates its readers' cooperation.

Evans opposes Bynum in school board election

LUPE EVANS

I have lived in Muenster since 1976 with my two sons. My oldest will graduate this year, my youngest is a sophomore.

I would like to be a member of the school board, not because I have any complaints or gripes with the present board; as far as I can see, they do a wonderful job. I do feel, however, that every parent should take an interest in their children's educational institution, not necessarily to oppose any policy, but to help in the smooth operation of the school and hopefully bring in a few new ideas.

Muenster is a caring community, so it has not been difficult to involve myself with volunteer work throughout the community, with my first interest being the welfare of our young people.

I have been involved with Boy Scouts of America since 1979 and have been a 7th grade CCD religious instructor for the past four years. The young people that I deal with are our future, therefore, it is most important that we see to it that we try to provide the opportunity for every child to reach his maximum potential in education.

I was president of the Muenster Public School P.T.O. for two years. I was also on the Board of Directors of the Muenster Chamber of Commerce for three years. I have been in business in Muenster since 1976; I own and operate The Hut, a children's ready-to-wear store.

JERRY BYNUM

It has been my pleasure to serve on the Board of Trustees of the M.I.S.D. for the last three years and with your support, I hope to serve you for another term. It has been a very interesting and enlightening time for me.

During my term, I have received over 23 hours of education on board procedures and policy making to better prepare myself for the position of board member.

The school has made progress in almost every area of academic standard. The school was first in the district UIL competition and had the largest number of participants of any school. This is a reflection of the emphasis the board and faculty has put on academics over the last few years. The experience I have gained over the last three years will be a great asset for the coming term.

My two children have been students in the Muenster school system over the last eight years. Drue is presently a cadet at West Point Military Academy and my daughter, Stephanie, graduates this semester. During their years in school, I have had an opportunity to be a part of the system, not only as a board member, but also as a concerned parent.

My goal as a member of the MISD Board of Trustees is to see that every student receives the best possible education for the tax dollars spent and that they are able to function as good citizens in our society.

Pioneer Portraits

Among the first settlers to arrive in the newly-organized community of Muenster in 1889 was Franz and Elizabeth Hesse and their 16-month-old daughter. Today, three of their descendants still reside here.

They are Alois Hesse, Dora Henscheid and Theresa Hesse. Alois is a resident of St. Richard's Villa, and Dora and Theresa recently recalled some of their family's long Muenster association.

"Dad had a good lumber business in Iowa, but he was a friend of the Flusche brothers (developers of Muenster), and he bought some land, sight unseen," said Mrs. Henscheid. When he brought his expectant wife and young daughter to the community, on Nov. 14, 1889, a land of rice and a "shed" were the only structures in the area. "Everything else was prairie and cowboys," said Miss Hesse.

But being the sturdy pioneers that they were, they made the best of the situation. Franz bought several lots, built a house and a hardware store close to the railroad station. He dropped the "z" from his name, and called the business the "Frank Hesse Hardware Store."

Dora and Theresa's sister, Anna, was the first baby born in Muenster. Others in the family besides Anna (Walterscheid) were Mary (Rohmer), Lena (Felderhoff), Rosie (Yosten), Joe, Tony and Alois Hesse, Dora (Henscheid), Theresa and Meinrad Hesse.

Since there was no church in the early months, services were held in the land office. The Hesses had built one of the first houses, so it became a place to congregate. "People used to come to our house, drink coffee and have cake after lunch," Dora said.

It was a focal point also, because it was one of the larger structures, with the house being part of the hardware store. Mr. Hesse later opened a lumber yard, which he eventually sold to

Dora Henscheid, Alois Hesse, Theresa Hesse

Waples-Painter Co. When the family moved to a farm west of town in 1909, the house was rented out.

Mr. Hesse died in 1924 and Mrs. Hesse in 1941. The children left home one by one, but Theresa and Alois decided to stay on the farm. They kept up the homestead until 1968, when they moved to town, and then sold the acreage to an nephew, Wilfred Walterscheid, in 1973.

Dora, Theresa and Alois marvel at the stalwart stamina that their parents and other settlers displayed in starting a town from nothing. Because of this perseverance, the Hesse descendants have been able to see a community that, while progressing through the years, has managed to retain the German Catholic values for which it was established.

(This is another in a series of stories spotlighting Muenster's pioneers during this Centennial year. If you have a family member you would like to feature, please contact Alvin Fuhrman.)

Look Us Over!

Our pride is showing!

Muenster will sparkle for Germanfest! — the result of combined, cooperative and concerted efforts by a group of homefolks last Saturday, determined to show a deeply ingrained German ethnic reverence for cleanliness, and this Saturday hopefully, by other groups, so far of undetermined sizes, who will gather to work within the city limits.

On April 15, Joe Fenton and several volunteers cleaned up from the south city limits as far as Fisher Road and back into town, picking up litter, paper, junk, cans, bottles, etc.

A full scale major clean-up, with Joe Fenton in charge, will be held this Saturday. Chief of Police Helen Tompkins said volunteers will meet at the City Hall Saturday at 9 a.m. She requests that everyone and anyone with an hour or more to give, "join us at the City Hall or anywhere else we are working, within the city limits, and help us clean up and improve the appearance of our town."

The regular service provided on Wednesdays by the City truck will offer an opportunity to get rid of discards, worn-out appliances, broken furniture, limbs, and items that are not general household garbage. It is necessary to phone City Hall, 759-2236, by Tuesday to get names on the list.

This continuing determination to enhance the appearance of the community, and pride in the impression given visitors will support a year that reaches out to potential new residents searching for a place to retire; or to a young family hoping to find a safer lifestyle; or to prospective new industry that appreciates a background of cleanliness and neatness, two proven attributes of the German work ethic.

Quite possibly, this could induce favorable responses to the unspoken invitation to "Look Us Over!" not just at Germanfest time, but all year long.

District 8 Director is Andy Roewe. Kenneth Littles is deputy director. Lindsay branch representatives include Rita Sandmann, Mary Jane Fleitman and Richard Schroeder, field supervisor.

Members and their families are invited. Reservations should be made by April 21 by calling Rita Sandmann at 668-8608 or Ed Sandmann at 668-7550.

Fun Run workers to meet Sun.

All German Fun Run workers are invited to attend a meeting on Sunday, April 23, to prepare for the upcoming race.

Chairmen must be there with their list of helpers to pick up workers' caps and T-shirts.

The fence crew will meet at 2 p.m. in the City Park, followed by a meeting at 7 p.m. in the KC Hall of the general workers.

According to Dan Hamric, the Fun Run requires about 300 workers to put on a successful race, so everyone pitch in to make this the best Fun Run yet!

later defeated and eliminated from the match.

Shonna Reiter, one of the ladies' singles players, was hampered by a sore ankle and was eliminated from the tournament in her first match.

The most successful of the Muenster Hornet tennis players were Mike Gobble and Jennifer Carroll. Mike Gobble won his first two matches easily, but faced tougher competition in the championship match when he faced Robert Duncan. Gobble gave Duncan all he wanted, but lost the match in the first two sets.

Jennifer Carroll dominated the ladies' singles bracket, losing only three games in two matches, while finishing first, claiming the district championship.

Mike and Jennifer will travel to Kilgore the last week of April to compete in the Regional Tournament.

School board considers TEAMS policy change

by Elaine Schad

The Muenster School Board is considering a policy change which will require students in seventh and ninth grades to attend tutorials for non-mastery of the TEAMS test.

The policy now states that the tutorials are optional, but the board wishes to strengthen the policy to help those students, said Superintendent Charles Coffey.

In other business, the board renewed its media contract with the Region 11 (eleven) Service Center, and tentatively set the school employee banquet for May 20.

GEOGRAPHY

Upon arrival, the students were registered and were presented keepsake sacks of gifts, maps, etc. and then were dismissed into five groups of 20 students each, for preliminary rounds of questions. The Muenster students, by chance, were in separate groups.

Spectators were not allowed in the preliminaries, that continued for about an hour and a half. The competition tested knowledge of geographic subjects including oceanography, zoology, history, cartography (map making), geology, climatology, and geomorphology (study of the earth's surface).

Judges kept scores as each student answered verbally, one question at a time, during preliminaries, until each had been given 10 questions.

At the conclusion, students were served refreshments and then rejoined their parents in a general assembly. Many of the students called the competition intense and the questions hard.

The 10 finalists were the top two students from each of the five preliminary groups of 20. Melissa Miller was one of the 10 finalists, who were announced and then invited to the stage.

George W. Bush, son of President Bush and new owner of the Texas Rangers baseball team, moderated the double-elimination final round.

Jokingly, he asked, "Question No. 1! Where do the Rangers play baseball?"

But quickly the questions became much more difficult. Each student on stage approached the microphone to answer. Eliminations continued until only two students were left. The winner was a student from Houston and runner-up was from College Station, Texas.

Many more boys competed than girls. Melissa Miller won fifth in the state competition, one of only two girls who competed in the finals.

The winner was awarded a plaque and $100. He advanced to national competition in Washington, D.C. on May 18-19. First prize is a $25,000 college scholarship.

In addition to the many apparent advantages gained by students in a competition of this magnitude, there is the immeasurable advantage received from meeting and getting to know many students statewide.

Melissa Miller and Justin Hartman were accompanied to Fort Worth by their parents, Betty and Robert Miller and Irene and Roy Hartman.

Hospital Medicare survey favorable

The Texas Department of Health recently conducted its annual Medicare survey at Muenster Memorial Hospital. The hospital was found to be in compliance in all areas with few deficiencies being cited.

A six-member team spent two days reviewing all aspects of the hospital. Individual departments were surveyed for quality of care, safety and compliance with very strict state and federal regulations.

The team reviewed patient records (in-patient, out-patient and Emergency Room) and minutes from board, medical staff, nursing staff, departmental and Quality Assurance Committee meetings.

Herman Carroll, hospital administrators, stated he believes all hospitals should have high standards, but he questions some of the regulations in their relative value for patient care. "It seems all of our employees are supporting the 'paper' industry more each year with the ever-increasing required documentation of services to satisfy regulations. More and more professionals are taken away from direct patient care to 'treat' the paper chase. The federal government wants hospitals to keep costs down, but requires them to spend more to treat fewer patients."

The survey team made many favorable comments about the operation of the hospital and the quality of care rendered to the patients.

Smith resigns

by Elaine Schad

Carl F. Smith, executive vice president of the Gainesville Area Chamber of Commerce since June 1984, has submitted his resignation effective Saturday to pursue other interests. A search for Smith's replacement will begin immediately with the appointment of a search committee, which hopes to fill the position within 90 days, said chamber officials.

Smith is credited with working toward economic development with other city officials to bring several businesses and industries to the city within the past five years. A 90-acre industrial park, Corporate Square, has been developed north of Gainesville.

The location of Borden

Chemical, Inc. and its expansion, as well as new industries including Bazflex of Texas, Inc., Circuit Breaker Sales Co., Plano Machine and Instrument, Unimax Hearing Instruments, Barrett Plating and Metal Finishing, Exhaust and Accessories Mfg. Co., have all had economic impact during those years. The plant expansion of Cooke County's largest industry, Weber Aircraft, also received assistance during that time.

Bernadine R. Malone dies in Fort Worth

Bernadine (Roberg) Malone, 69, a native of Muenster and longtime resident of Fort Worth, died there on April 9, 1989 at 11:33 p.m., after an illness of several years.

Mass of Christian Burial was offered in Sacred Heart Church of Muenster on Wednesday, April 12, by Father Victor Gillespie; and interment was in Sacred Heart Cemetery, directed by McCoy Funeral home. Rosary services were held in McCoy Chapel on Tuesday at 4 p.m. and at 8 p.m.

Mrs. Malone was born in Muenster on Sept. 14, 1919 to Henry Roberg Sr. and Katie (Brun) Roberg.

Muenster Community College Needs Your Help

Muenster Community College? Well, you probably know it by another name — Cooke County College. But that doesn't change the fact that CCC is YOUR community college too. In the past four years, a total of 103 graduates of the two Muenster high schools have earned associate degrees at CCC — 69 from Muenster High and 34 from Sacred Heart. Overall, some 232 Muenster residents have been enrolled for credit during that same period. Your community college has experienced remarkable growth in recent years — six straight semesters of all-time record high enrollment, in fact, and a 51% increase on campus since 1985.

But this growth hasn't come without a price: Cooke County College has seriously outgrown its facilities. Most urgently needed are a new library, more classrooms and specialized instructional space for badly needed new technical programs such as electronics. These three items are what the proposed $1.2 million bond issue will pay for, and even with the estimated 2.3¢ increase necessary to fund it, CCC will still have, by far, the lowest tax rate among all county taxing entities. For what it returns to our county in so many ways, that's a tremendous bargain.

Without expanded facilities, CCC cannot continue to grow; indeed, it cannot adequately serve the numbers of students enrolling now. Please...

Invest in the future of YOUR community college.
Vote "FOR" the college bond issue May 6.

ABSENTEE VOTING: To vote absentee in person, come to the President's office (across from library) on the CCC campus between 8:00 AM and 4:30 PM, Monday - Friday, April 17 through May 2. You do not have to give a reason in order to vote absentee if you do so in person. To vote absentee by mail, request a ballot by calling or writing to Mary Jo Leach, Cooke County College, 1525 W. Goldenweds celebrate April 15

MR. and MRS. FRANK SCHILLING
... on their wedding day ...

Surrounded by their six children and spouses, 23 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren and a host of friends, Frank Schilling and Caroline Streng Schilling celebrated the golden anniversary of the day they were married on April 17, 1939, with Father Frowin Koerd officiating in Sacred Heart Church at 8 a.m.

They marked the anniversary with a Mass of Thanksgiving and repeated their vows on Saturday, April 15, 1989, with Father Victor Gillespie celebrating at 5 p.m.

Music was presented by The Czech Harvesters of Dallas who performed a Polka Mass. They also led congregational singing of "Chapel in the Valley," "Under Skies of Blue," "At This Sacrifice" and "Adio." Song sheets were in pews for the congregation.

The Schillings' grandchildren participated in the special liturgy. Liturgical Readings were given by granddaughters Kelly and Laura Schilling. Offertory gifts were carried to the altar by Joel Schilling, Charles Schilling, Casey Sandmann, all grandsons, and Amy Pagel and Derek Haverkamp, great-grandchildren. Amy's blue rose represented one deceased grandson.

Mass servers were grandsons Michael Schilling, Brad Schilling and Kyle Sandmann.

Ushers were grandsons, Brian and Darrell Herr, Tom and Shawn Dangelmayr and Jon Schilling.

Also in attendance with the honored couple were their wedding attendants of 1939, her sister, Marie De Blois of Irving, and his brother, Carl Schilling.

Altar decorations included arrangements of white gladioli, white spider mums, pink carnations and greenery, and blue bows. Gold bows marked family pews in the center aisle.

Mrs. Schilling attended her golden anniversary in a royal blue brocade silk two-piece dress with ivory accessories and a pale pink rose corsage with tiny pearl loops and pink lace with gold leaves. Her husband had a rosebud boutonniere. In 1939, the bride wore an ivory satin wedding gown which she and Lu Vogel designed and made.

The matron of honor wore a pink print two-piece dress for the anniversary. In 1939, she wore a light blue taffeta full-length gown made by the bride.

RECEPTION

A reception, dinner and dance followed in the Sacred Heart Community Center, hosted by the Schillings' sons and daughters and their spouses.

Granddaughters Sherri Haverkamp and Janet Pagel secured guest signatures in the anniversary book, at a table covered with white taffeta and gold decorations.

Dinner was catered by Louise Schad, Elfrieda Hundt and Marie Hundt.

The honor couple's table was covered with white satin with metallic gold trim, and gold metallic skirting. Their wedding picture was used in the centerpiece with blue candles and a blue flower arrangement, and silver candelabra.

The original keepsake ornament from their wedding cake 50 years ago was used on the golden anniversary cake. A daughter, Charlotte Dangelmayr, baked both the white wedding cake decorated with blue flowers and gold leaves, and the chocolate groom's cake, assisted by another daughter, Doris Sandmann.

Serving the cake were granddaughters Cindy, Erica, Lisa and Tina Schilling and Leah and Allison Walterscheid.

The hall was beautifully decorated by Aileen Knabe with blue flower arrangements, lighted candles in votive cups on guest tables and gold center streamers.

A program followed dinner, with Tom Herr, a son-in-law, as emcee. Immediately following the program, The Czech Harvesters of Dallas played for dancing. Alois and Virginia Pelzel of Pilot Point, a niece and nephew led the Grand March, in which all 250 guests participated.

Guests enjoyed viewing a display table of keepsakes. Various pictures of the couple, their children and children's children were shown. Also the couple's marriage license of 50 years ago and a handmade handkerchief the bride made for her wedding day.

Frank is the son of the late John and Rosina Pelzel Schilling. Caroline is the daughter of the late Henry and Emma Streng. They attended Sacred Heart School and are members of Sacred Heart Church.

The Schillings are parents of six children: Virgilla, Mrs. Tom Herr; Charlotte, Mrs. Bill Dangelmayr; Frank Schilling Jr.; Deborah, Mrs. Robert Walterscheid; Duwayne Schilling; and Doris Lyn, Mrs. Leroy Sandmann.

They have lived all their married life on the same farm they bought from his father, John Schilling.

Caroline has been a homemaker, wife and mother, loving to sew for her children and grandchildren. Frank worked in the oil field and farmed, and was a substitute Rural Mail Carrier for 40 years. In 1950, he started a Grade A dairy business, operating it until his retirement in 1987.

Attending the anniversary celebration from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. John Phillips and son of Dallas; Mrs. Elizabeth Dumas of Carrollton; Mrs. Mary Cannaday of Wichita Falls; Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hoggins of Archer City; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Spaeth of Longview; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Pannell of Irving; Mrs. Yvonne Coates and Tabatha of Irving; Mrs. Evelyn McDaniel and son Jim of Richardson; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Martin and family of Huntsville; Mr. and Mrs. Martin Krahl of Valley View; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Pelzel of Ennis; Mr. and Mrs. Alois Pelzel of Pilot Point; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Pelzel of Denton; and others from Gainesville, Lindsay, Whitesboro and Muenster.

The theme of the celebration began on Friday night when Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schilling Jr. and family hosted the rehearsal dinner at the new Center Restaurant.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schilling hosted brunch for the couple on Saturday morning, and Charlotte and Bill Dangelmayr hosted her parents for Sunday dinner at noon, and then all of the family Sunday night for a hamburger supper, with homemade ice cream and cake.

Early childhood screening planned for county schools

Each year an Early Childhood Screening is held to attempt to identify children at an early age who are suspected of having problems which could be corrected before entering school. Many problems can be corrected if treated early and those which are not fully corrected can be treated more successfully if early intervention takes place.

not seem to hear or see as he should; does not behave or learn appropriately for his age, please call your neighborhood school for an appointment.

The schedule for county schools is as follows:

May 4, Lindsay ISD, Cafeteria, 9 a.m. to 11:15 a.m.; and Sivel Bend, Resource Room, 1:30 p.m. to 2:45 p.m.

May 8, Valley View, Central Library, 9 a.m. to 11:15 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. to 2:45 p.m.

May 9, Muenster, Knights of Columbus Hall, 9 a.m. to 11:15 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. to 2:45 p.m.

May 10, Callisburg, Rad Ware School, 9 a.m. to 11:15 a.m.; and Walnut Bend, Library, 1:30 p.m. to 2:45 p.m.

May 11, Era, Community Center, 9 a.m. to 11:15 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. to 2:45 p.m.

St. Anne's discusses future plans

Bertha Knabe, secretary, reviewed minutes of the December meeting and read communications, cards of thanks, and told of get-well cards.

Members signed for work hours in the Germanfest booth and signed a spiritual bouquet card for Pope John Paul II on his May 18 birthday and his 10th anniversary as Pope.

In other business, members discussed the Catholic State League Convention July 15 and 16 in San Antonio. Items for the convention's flea market and cancer bandages and pads are solicited.

Margaret Fisher won the door prize. Members lost in death during 1988 include Gertie Fisher, Evelyn Schilling, Marie Walter, Elizabeth Knabe, Catherine Walterscheid, Elsie Horn, Marie Felderhoff.

4-H presentations prepare for Roundup

by Carol M. Roberts, County Extension Agent-H.E.

On April 6, the Cooke County 4-H Roundup was held at the Whaley United Methodist Church in Gainesville. Six junior and two senior 4-H members presented illustrated talks or method demonstrations before judges, parents and other 4-H'ers.

In preparing 4-H presentations, 4-H'ers have the opportunity to develop their communication skills. 4-H'ers choose a topic of personal interest and then organize materials in preparation for their presentation. Presentations are then categorized according to the 1989 Texas 4-H Roundup Guide.

4-H'ers learn that first-hand experience in speaking before groups allows them to develop a confident and convincing presentation style. 4-H presentation participants develop skills which contribute to their leadership development and growth in self-esteem. 4-H presentations also open opportunities for 4-H'ers to share their knowledge and skills with others.

At Thursday evening's contest, 4-H'ers were divided into two groups for judging. John Bourquin with Purina Co. and a former county Extension agent and LaVern Nortman, a former 4-H leader from Lindsay, judged the following presentations: Junior 4-H'ers Robert and George Lutkenhaus with their presentation, "Moove Over Parasites;" junior 4-H'er Eric Vann with "Don't Fiddle Around

With Me;" junior 4-H'er Holly Howell with "Friday Night Fit;" and senior 4-H'er Clifford Lutkenhaus with "Will Your Animal Make The Headlines?"

Denise Martin, Valley View school teacher and former 4-H'er, and Rita Sandmann, a former 4-H leader from Lindsay, judged the following presentations: junior 4-H'er Kristy Hughes with her presentation, "To Button Or Not To Button;" junior 4-H'ers Sara Flusche and Michelle Dennis with "Babysitting;" junior 4-H'er Charlene Lutkenhaus with "Yeast Bread for Beginners;" and senior 4-H'er Sheryl Sicking with "Suicide Bound."

Because each presentation fitted into different roundup categories, all presentations are eligible for the District 4-H Roundup. District Roundup will be held on April 22 at the Frisco High School. An additional presentation by Michael Becker, Muenster 4-H club, entitled "Have You Had Your Milk Today?" will also participate at District Roundup.

Blue ribbons were awarded to Kristy Hughes Red River 4-H Club; Holly Howell, Silver Cedar 4-H Club; and Clifford Lutkenhaus, Lindsay Senior 4-H Club. Red ribbons were awarded to Robert and George Lutkenhaus, Lindsay Junior High 4-H Club; Charlene Lutkenhaus, Lindsay Junior High 4-H Club; and Sheryl Sicking, Muenster 4-H Club. A white ribbon was awarded to Eric Vann, Mountain Springs 4-H Club.

It is open to the general public at no charge.

Sponsored by the Cooke County College Art Department, this 24th edition of the Cooke County Art Show includes works by artists ranging from elementary schoolers to non-student adults of all ages. Any artist whose work is totally original in concept and execution and which has been created within the past year was eligible to enter.

Media include oil, acrylic and watercolor paintings (landscapes and general); graphics (prints, drawings and pastels); ceramics, fibers, jewelry, wood carving and other original crafts; sculpture; mixed media; and both color and black and white photography.

Winners in the various age divisions in each media category will receive their cash awards or certificates during formal awards ceremonies scheduled for Sunday afternoon beginning at 4:30.

Also open to the public, this awards ceremony will be followed at 5 p.m. by a special concert to be presented in the CCC Little Theater by the Cooke County Chorale under direction of Glenn Wilson and accompanied by a string quartet. There is no admission charge.

"If you have never attended the public exhibition of all the works in one of our Cooke County Art Shows," said Mary Frances VanPelt, show director and head of the CCC Art Department, "you are truly missing a real treat. The quality of the work is excellent, and it's especially interesting to see the exceptional talent of our local artists."

VanPelt added that a large number of the works are available for purchase and will be so identified.

Loaves and Fishes visited by students

Ten students of the Junior Religion Class of Sacred Heart High School, accompanied by Barbara Fuhrmann, DRE (Director of Religious Education), and Emily Klement, Youth Director of Sacred Heart, spent Thursday, April 13, at the Loaves and Fishes Soup Kitchen in Fort Worth.

Students and adults assisted in preparation of the food and arrangement of the dining area before the people arrived for a meal and cleared the yard around the building.

Directors are Arlen and Helen Voldness of Fort Worth.

The class served the meal to approximately 200 people. The kitchen averages about 265 daily.

After the meal, the kitchen was cleaned and mopped; dishes washed; and the dining area put back in order for the next day.

Many of those who came for a meal were from an area near the soup kitchen; others were transients; homeless; street people; and some were just plain hungry with no means of obtaining food.

Loaves and Fishes is a ministry made up of a network of several churches, individuals and corporate donations on Hattie Street in Fort Worth. It can also function as a food bank when needed.

The students and adults from Sacred Heart made the trip in the school van.

Scouts hold Bridgeover

Muenster Cub Scout Pack 664 and Troop 664 held Bridgeover ceremonies on April 17 at 7 p.m. in the VFW Hall.

He presented each new Scout with a mother's pin to present to their mother. Rodney Knabe, Senior Patrol Leader, presented them each with the Boy Scout rank badge and Joe Weinzapfel presented each with the Boy Scout neckerchief. They were then introduced to their patrol leader, Tommy Joe Dankesreiter.

After bridging ceremonies, all Scouts joined together and recited the Scout Law led by Tommy Joe and the new Scouts. The meeting then was adjourned by all Scouts joining in the living circle with the Scoutmasters Minute given by Rodney Knabe.

Webelos graduating into Boy Scouts were Jake McCoy, Scott Poole, Joey Martin, Jeff Felderhoff, Jeff Flusche, James Klement, C.J. Muller and Cody Sicking.

A short parents' meeting was held by Waylen Poole to discuss the upcoming canoe trip this weekend and other upcoming activities.

Johanna Trout, an eighteen-year-old Georgia woman, helped organize the Georgia Battalion that headed for Texas in late 1835. She presented the battalion with a silk "Lone Star" flag, "blue on white, with a single five-pointed star subscribed Liberty or Death." Most of the Georgia Battalion was massacred at Goliad on March 27, 1836, and her flag was ripped to shreds. But the Lone Star had already become a symbol of Texas Revolution among the Rebels.

The Allen brothers, land speculators who founded Houston, encouraged Sam Houston to establish the capitol of the new republic in their own town. Houston "was, predictably, enchanted with the idea of a capitol city named after himself." The Allen brothers even promised to build the capitol at their own expense, so Houston City was named capitol of Texas in late 1836.

The first boatload of goods headed for Houston was brought up Buffalo Bayou in January 1837 by New Orleans merchant Frank Lubbock. He missed the site entirely and continued upstream until he ran out of bayou. He backtracked until he found the landing, which turned out to be a narrow path leading up the bank. When the first legislature convened in May, 1837, the capitol was still unfinished and carpenters lashed tree branches to the roof for shade.

Muenster boys claim district championship

Muenster Hornets rode balanced scoring, strong relays and a couple of "peak at the right time" performances to outdistance the field for the district title Saturday at Paradise. The boys scored 164 points while Lindsay finished second with 148 points. The Hornets scored points in every event except the long jump. "We went in as the favorite this year," said Coach Jump. "It takes a lot of character to perform under that type of pressure, but our guys rose to the occasion from start to finish."

The field events were completed Friday with the Hornets doing well in every area. "The two real surprises for us were Jerry Brawner in the high jump and Mike Vogel in the pole vault. Not fourth place finish in the 100m and a fifth in the 200m. The sprints belonged to Lindsay, finishing 1-2-3 in the 100.

Not the case in the 400m with Muenster dominating the competition. James Hennigan zoomed to a first place finish in that event with a 52.7 clocking, followed closely by John Bednarick in second at 52.8. Marshall Smith rounded out the strong showing by finishing fifth.

The Hornets scored again in the 800m with Michael Bierschenk finishing fourth, Doug Hennigan fifth, and Jerry Brawner sixth.

Muenster needed big points in the 1600m and that is just what they got. Yancy Culp blazed to a first place finish in 4:47 with Chris

Tigerettes capture Tom Landry Relay

The Sacred Heart Tigerettes returned to Addison to defend their 1988 Tom Landry track title and returned to Muenster with another Tom Landry Relays crown. Overcoming makeshift lineups, the Tigerettes put on an incredible performance on Saturday afternoon to capture the championship. "With Michelle's injury we had to make changes in our relays and both squads with the substitutions set season PRs," said Coach LeBrasseur. "This team is coming together as everyone did their job on Saturday. The girls put on a great effort."

In the field events on Friday, Vickie Schmitt continued her dominance over opponents as she again captured the gold in the shot and discus. Schmitt tossed the discus 110'8" for her PR. "Vickie has the potential to toss the discus 120'," said Coach Mary Bartush. "We have two weeks left and with the continued hard work by our throwers, I expect great things." Sophomore Sharon Fuhrmann also PR'd in the discus with a 101'9 1/2" toss for a silver. The shot silver also belonged to Fuhrmann. J.J. Dowd added points for the Tigerettes with her 5th place finish. "Coach Bartush is doing another outstanding job with our throwers," said Coach LeBrasseur. "Hopefully, she can again produce another state champion."

Amy Walterscheid jumped to a third place finish in the triple jump and Lisa Hamric scored 1/2 point for the Tigerettes with a 6th place tie in the high jump. Before suffering a hyperextended knee, Michelle Walter leaped to a fourth place finish in the long jump.

In the 3200m run on Friday afternoon, Amy Bayer clocked in at 13:14 for third followed by Vickie Bayer in fourth. The Tigerette runners saw one of the top 3200m runners in the state in Flowers of Trinity Valley. The freshmen clocked in at 10:53 for the gold. At the conclusion of Friday's running, the Tigerettes had 58 1/2 points to 42 for Dallas Christian, a AAA school.

Lisa Hamric opened the finals for the Tigerettes with a silver run in the 100m hurdles. The Tigerette 400m relay team of Robin Greathouse, Lisa Hamric, LaBecah Hess and Amy Walterscheid scored a second with a 53.9 clocking. Middle distance runners Shirley Henschel and Angela Endres scored big points for the Tigerettes with a 5th and 6th place finish in the 800 run.

After the 100m dash, the Tigerettes trailed the Lady Chargers by 2 1/2 points. LaBecah Hess clocked in a 65-400 run for a gold followed by teammate Angela Endres in 6th for big points for the Tigerettes. Hess's run was a PR for the season. In the 800m relay, the squad of Shirley Henschel, Lisa Hamric, J.J. Dowd and Robin Greathouse, clocked a PR for a 4th place finish to put the Tigerettes on top by 7 1/2 points. Amy Walterscheid again turned in a great performance in the 200 for the silver, upping the Tigerette lead to 9 1/2 points going into the 1600m run.

Dallas Christian entered the 1600m run with the top runner of the field only to be knocked off by a determined Amy Bayer. Bayer clocked in at 5:57 for the gold to edge the Lady Charger. Freshman Shirley Henschel set another PR with a third place finish at 6:04. Henschel has improved her time every meet this year. With the great performance by the 1600m runners, the Tigerettes led by 17 1/2 points entering the 1600m relay.

Vickie Bayer opened the 1600m relay with a strong run, followed by Angela Endres to keep the Tigerettes in fourth place. LaBecah Hess took the baton and immediately passed two teams only to find herself 50 yards behind Dallas Christian with 100 meters to go. At the exchange, Hess narrowed the gap to 40 yards where Amy Walterscheid charged after the Lady Chargers to pull within five yards at the finish. Walterscheid clocked in at a 63 split and the 1600m relay squad turned in a season PR of 4:26 for the silver and the Tom Landry Relay Championship.

Next action for the Tigerettes will be the District Championship this Friday here in Muenster. The Tigerettes may also run Saturday in Southlake in a Regional Qualifiers meet.

Hornettes qualify 11 for Regionals April 29

The MHS Hornettes entered the track and field District 17A Championships at Paradise last weekend as underdogs, but proved that a misnomer with their best performance of the year.

With only the mile relay to run, Muenster had 117 points, Paradise 120, and Lindsay 115. The host Panthers raced to victory, outdistancing the strong Knightette foursome. The Hornettes were fourth, but their quartet of Amy Dankesreiter, Shonna Reiter, Lisa Robison and LaNell Sicking clocked their best time this year, 4:23.40.

"Our girls probably have the best running group in the area," said Coach Ted Heers. "This year we are just short in four of the five field events. It's always a little to run the event. Dankesreiter finished third in 2:37.58. Freshman Kristi Bierschenk was fifth in 2:45.50.

Hurdler Denise Anderle entered the district championship seeded fifth, but the junior clocked her best time ever, a 17.62 for a silver medal and a trip to Kilgore.

Anderle qualified as a freshman, but was beaten out last spring, finishing third. "This was a sweet one for Denise," said Heers. "Her hard work paid off."

Also qualifying for Kilgore were the 800 and 400 relay teams. The 800 contingent of LaNell Sicking, Lisa Robison, Marcia Vogel and Reiter clocked a 1:53.50 for second place. The sprint relay team of Hoenig, Kim Anderle, Vogel and Jami Flusche also garnered a that we didn't expect them to do well, but who would have expected them to improve the way they did?" Jerry finished second in the high jump, clearing 6'0" after a season's best of 5'4." Mike finished third in the pole vault, clearing 11'6" with a previous best of 10'0." Others scoring in the field were:

Steven Fisher, third in the high jump; Donnie Boydston, second in the discus and fourth in the shot; Brad McDaniel, fourth in the discus; and Jeff Hellman, sixth in the shot.

The Hornets entered the running events in third place behind Paradise and Lindsay. That would soon change with the 3200m run. "The distance races have been strong for us all year. Yancy, Chris and Terry have been the class of the district," reported Jump. Chris Klement finished first in the event with an excellent time of 10:41 with Yancy Culp a close second at 10:45. Terry Felderhoff came in seventh.

Next up was the 400 relay with Muenster expected to do well. The Hornet team of James Hennigan, Keith Klement, Marshall Smith and Scott Vogel finishing second behind a blistering 43 second relay from Lindsay.

The hurdle events were a source of needed scoring as Donnie Boydston finished second in both the 110 HH and the 300 IH. Ryan Sicking, first in the 300 IH and fifth in the 110 HH, and Tony Perryman finishing sixth in the 110 HH. "Ryan was another that saved his best competition for the district meet," replied the coach. Ryan shaved three seconds off his best time of the season to run away from the field in the 300s. "Ryan will be a force in the hurdles for several more years," said Jump with a smile. Muenster sprinter Scott Vogel scored with a Klement finishing third, and Terry Felderhoff fifth. "Yank ran an excellent race, he seems to get stronger every week," replied Jump.

Muenster went into the final event, the 1600m relay, with a comfortable 18-point lead, but they were determined not to allow anyone to sneak up on them. The team of Bednarick, Smith, Culp and Hennigan sprinted to a second place finish and their best clocking of the year with a 3:37.

"All of the credit goes to the guys. As usual, they just went out and refused to lose. I am proud of each and every one of them," grinned the coach with the District 17A Championship Plaque sitting neatly on his desk.

Sacred Heart to host district meet Friday

Muenster will be the site of the TAPS District I A-AA district track meet this Friday. The 3200m run is scheduled to get underway at 9:50 with the junior high division followed by the high school division. The field events will begin at 10 a.m.

Teams entered in the meet will be from Oakridge, Tyler Street, Lexington Academy, Lakehill, Lutheran and Sacred Heart. Because of the small number of runners, their will be no preliminary runs. All runs will be finals.

The meet will give athletes one more chance to qualify for the TAPS State Championships in Waco April 28 and 29. The first place winner is not automatically qualified for the State Championships. TAPS qualifications are set in accordance with the NCAA in that in order to qualify for the State Championships, the participant must meet the TAPS qualifying standard for that event.

PARTICIPANTS in the District Track Meet included Lindsay tracksters, clockwise, Julie Fuhrmann, 3rd in the shot put; Joel Metzler, gold-winning long jumper; Mike Dieter, last leg of the regional-bound 400m relay team; Felicia Hellinger, long jump silver medalist; and Chris Hanks, 2nd place pole vaulter.

disappointing to get beat, but we were proud of our girls just putting themselves in the hunt."

The Hornettes' field event strength has been the high jump and it showed at Paradise. Freshman Amy Dankesreiter jumped 4'11" to beat teammate Kim Anderle. Anderle did a 4'10", as both qualified for Kilgore. Freshman Jennifer Lippe went out at 4'8" to finish fifth.

Freshman Tina Klement led the Hornettes' strongest contingent, the distance runners, as she garnered seconds in the 1600 and 3200 runs, setting school records in the process of 5:45.89 and 12:40.98! The trio of Klement, sophomore Amy Hoenig and Freshman Tonya Knabe scored 31 points. Hoenig scored a third in the 3200 with a 13:15.75 and fourth in the 1600 with a 6:01.85. Knabe captured fourth and sixth with 13:30.20 and 6:18.96 respectively.

"Muenster has outstanding quality in the distance events. From the 800 through the 3200, we have depth from the seventh grade through the varsity." Hoenig and Knabe's times were their personal bests. Junior Shonna Reiter ran a fine 2:31.84 in the 800 for a silver medal and regional berth. It was only her second time second place finish, clocking a 55.08.

Flusche brought home a fourth place in the 100 with a 14.34 time. Robison, nursing a sore thigh, clocked a 66.21 in the 400 meters for a fifth place. Sicking won fifth place in the 200 meters with a 29.05 clocking. Reiter rounded out the point total for MHS with her best long jump of the year of 15'5 1/4" for a sixth place finish. Sophomore Melissa Bayer also got a sixth place finish, clocking a 67.66 in the 400 meter run.

Also traveling with the Hornette team were Leslie Klement, and Sheryllyn Sicking. Klement clocked her best in 400 of 69.65. Sicking competed in the shot and discus.

"The girls are running well. With two weeks of sunshine, we could really get some good times by the Regional."

The team will be in Denison this Friday for a regional qualifiers meet. The Regional Finals will be at Kilgore Saturday, April 29, with prelims to be held Friday, April 28.

The repeated late freezes experienced across the state since Feb. 1 have caused extensive damage to the Texas wheat crop. The loss due to these freezes has caused a number of questions to arise.

If the freeze occurred during vegetative growth, there appears to be a considerable variance between fields in any given area with respect to the degree of winter-kill. Factors which appeared to contribute to winter-kill include the following:

Variety - There is a great deal of difference between varieties with respect to winter-kill. Some of the hard red winter wheats with the best survival were Century, Chisholm, Payne, Pioneer 2165, Pioneer 2180, Siouland, Sturdy, TAM 105, TAM 106, TAM 107, TE 5221, Thunderbird and Vona. Those particularly damaged included Collin, Mesa, Mit, NK Probrand 812, TAM 200, TAM 201 and Waco. In general, hard red winter wheats survived somewhat better than soft red winter wheats, while oats were damaged considerably more than wheat.

Planting Date - was not a major factor unless joint extension was observed. Stage of growth and rate of growth at the time of the freeze were the major considerations. Stage of growth was affected by grazing management, fertility, planting date and variety.

Fertility - had a major impact on survival, particularly in the late freezes. Freeze injury to vegetative tissue occurs when ice crystals form within the cell. These crystals rupture cell membranes which cause desiccation and death. Hardened wheat cells are less turgid, have a low relative water content and an altered state of protein chemistry when compared to unhardened, or rapidly growing, cells. Fields that had large amounts of available nitrogen and had adequate moisture were growing rapidly at the time of the last freeze. These tender parts were frozen more readily than more dormant plants which had a lower relative water content. Fields with adequate P and K fertility in general appeared to survive better than those with low P and/or K contents.

Grazing Management - Grazing pressure inhibits joint extension. Wheat which had late grazing pressure was not as advanced in development as wheat with light or no grazing pressure and generally survived the freeze better, as the growing point had a higher probability of being protected by the soil.

Moisture or Irrigation - Wheat that had good moisture during the early February freeze generally survived much better than drought stressed wheat. Moisture in the soil around the growing point serves as an insulator against very cold air. Wet soils require much more cold weather before reaching temperatures dangerous to the growing point than do dry soils. In dry areas of Central Texas, winter-kill was much more severe on terrace tops, where soil moisture was short, than on the flat areas between terraces, where moisture was adequate. The same conditions that insured survival of the first major freeze led to damage from later freezes. Fields that had good moisture and fertility were not dormant, but were growing rapidly, and as a consequence, were much more susceptible to freezing weather. Fields where irrigation was delayed had a better survival rate.

Insect Damage - Abnormal greenbug populations were found across much of the state prior to the onset of extremely cold weather. Wheat that was stressed from damaging levels of greenbugs, and particularly wheat that was affected by drought and greenbug stress had a low survival rate.

AGRICULTURAL MILESTONES

TODAY'S BUYER of feed or fertilizer in Texas is confident that the contents in the bag will match the contents listing on the bag. It wasn't always this way. At the turn of the century, claims of the value of both feed and fertilizer offered for sale were frequently at wide variance with their true value.

A part of this was ignorance but much of it was fraud. To protect consumers, the Texas Legislature passed a law in 1899 governing the sale of fertilizers and poisonous insecticides in the State, and made the Professor of Chemistry of the Agricultural and Mechanical College (Agricultural Experiment Station Chemist) responsible for fixing a valuation for both fertilizers and poisons.

In 1905, another law was passed adding concentrated commercial feeds to the consumer goods that must be tested and supervised for quality assurance by Experiment Station staff. The Experiment Station Director was made responsible for supervision, with the State Chemist, a member of the Experiment Station staff, responsible for testing and enforcement.

Today, the Station Director is still responsible for quality control of feeds and fertilizer, whether it is a box of birdseed or a boxcar load of feed, a package of fertilizer for African violets or a trainload of fertilizer for thousands of acres.

However, the regulation of the sale and use of poisonous insecticides was transferred to the State Department of Agriculture in the 1940s while the State Chemist's laboratories continued to analyze samples of insecticides for the Department for another 30 years.
