Lindsay's public hearing shows poor attendance

by Elaine Schad

The Lindsay School Board this week adopted a tax rate of 70.3 per $100 valuation of property for the 1989-90 school year to fund the district's $1.2 million budget.

The rate is divided, with 67 cents for maintenance and operation and 3 cents for debt service.

The new tax rate is a 20 percent tax increase and is 11 cents higher than last year's rate of 58.6 cents. It is a 24 percent increase over the district's effective tax rate, which is the rate needed to bring in the same amount of money as last year's tax rate. The district gained about $1 million in its total property values, from about $50.4 million for 1988 to $51.6 million for 1989.

Only three people attended last week's public hearing on the tax rate, with two expressing support for the rate, officials said.

There are two basic reasons for the increased rate, said Superintendent Gilbert Hermes. The money is needed for repairs. The district has budgeted about $17,000 in roof and other campus repairs in this year's budget. The second reason is the state will require all school districts to have a minimum tax rate of 70 cents beginning with the 1990-91 school year or face a dramatic loss in state funding. "It won't be such a big shock next year," Hermes said, since the rate will be already set at the state-required minimum.

With the new tax rate, the property owner in the Lindsay School District with an average home valued this year at $42,940 by the Cooke County Appraisal District will see an increase of about $77.64 in what they will pay in actual taxes, from about $189 last year to $267 this year.

Münster mayor to visit Muenster, attend German Day at the Fair

Muenster's 100th year centennial will be recognized at German Day in Texas, which has been designated by Governor Bill Clements to be Oct. 14 and 15 for the year 1989. Two events during the Texas State Fair will mark the occasion.

The City of Münster, Germany will be represented by the Lord Mayor of that city, Dr. Jörg Twenhoven, and friends. Also present from Münster, Germany will be Joachim Korth, patron and friend who has been instrumental in fostering friendly relations between the two cities.

Muenster's Mayor Ted Henscheid has issued an invitation to the Lord Mayor of Münster, Germany, Dr. Jörg Twenhoven, and friends to visit Muenster, Texas while they are in the United States for German Day. They will visit Muenster immediately before German Day activities. Mr. and Mrs. Joachim Korth of Münster, Germany have also been invited to visit Muenster at that time.

Mayor and Mrs. Ted Henscheid will be hosts to the visiting German mayor, while Mr. and Mrs. David Bright will host Mr. and Mrs. Korth. Sightseeing, receptions, etc. are in the planning for these visitors to Muenster on Oct. 13 and 14.

The 27th Annual German Day Pioneer Ball will take place in the Grand Kempinski Hotel, 15201 North Dallas Parkway in Dallas on Oct. 14, 1989. Along with honoring Muenster's centennial, this year's German Day in Texas will also honor Muenster's namesake, Münster, in the state of Westfalen, Germany, the town it was named after.

Mayor Ted Henscheid and his party will be honored guests at the ball, representing Muenster.

A cocktail hour, starting at 6 p.m., begins the night's activities. Dinner will be served to seated guests in the Grand Ball Room of the Grand Kempinski Hotel. The Dallas Town North Concert Band, under the direction of Max Tunnel, will provide the dinner music. The program opens with official greetings and various presentations. The program concludes with German songs by the Dallas Frohsinn Singing Society, and the 22nd appearance of the Soldiers Chorus of German Air Force from Fort Bliss, Texas. Dancing to 1 a.m. will conclude the Saturday

Schuetzenfest is "shot" in the arm for Centennial

In the same competitive spirit that Muenster's founding fathers displayed at the original Schuetzenfest celebrations, more than 100 people entered the Centennial Schuetzenfest Saturday, Sept. 2. Steve Fette of Muenster bested them all and claimed the Overall High Point trophy.

Leo Sandmann of Lindsay scored 71 out of a possible 100 in the .22 Rifle competition. In the Shotgun category, Jack McBride of Nocona found his mark 24 out of a possible 25 times. Black Powder Muzzle Loader competition saw Steve Fette score 52 out of a possible 100. All of these men were awarded first place trophies for that division.

Men, women and children were entered in one or more divisions of the shooting competition Saturday. The day-long event was held just south of Muenster on property owned by Urban Endres.

Schuetzenfest competitions held during Muenster's early years took place in the Muenster Park and the celebration lasted two days. An eagle was carved from a knotty piece of wood. There was a crown on its head and in one claw it held the "Reich's" sphere, in the other claw a scepter. The celebration was patterned after the Schuetzenfest in Germany.

The competitor who shot down the last piece of the eagle was awarded $25 and the title Schuetzenkoenig. Five dollars were awarded for shooting either the scepter or the globe.

It was customary for the Schuetzenfest king to choose his queen, his wife if he was married or otherwise his favorite girl. After winning he usually treated everyone to a round of drinks at the local bar.

On the second day of competition, a target of 30 stars arranged in a circular pattern was hoisted on a 60-foot pole. The marksman who shot down the last star was named "Star King" and received $5.

At the Schuetzenfest picnic in early Muenster, there was entertainment for the young and old. There was singing of old German songs, feasting and visiting.

Muenster's Park was the scene of the Centennial Schuetzenfest Picnic. There were antique toys, farm machinery and autos on display for old timers to reminisce over and the younger generations to learn about the past.

Games of skill offered children a diversion. The dunking booth seemed to be a favorite of everyone and the volunteers sitting in the booth had the coolest job in the park with their many plunges into the water.

Students of Master Choi's Tae Kwon Do class demonstrated their techniques and exercises. Muenster's Volunteer Fire Department gave an impressive demonstration of their skills in a Water Polo Drill.

There were 18 automobiles entered in the Antique Auto Show. Winners of the People's Choice Award were Bud Graham's 1960 Corvette, first, and E.O. Moser's 1961 Chevrolet convertible, second. Centennial Choice winners were: first place, a 1917 model T Ford owned by Ken Zwiggli, and second place, a 1940 Ford coupe owned by J.T. Weaver.

Bryan Sicking, chairman of the "Crank-It-Up" contest was pleased with the 11 entries. Chad Hudspeth of Forestburg was judged as having the best stereo system in his vehicle.

Winners in the Horseshoe Tournament have been announced. First game, Singles, single elimination, Jerry Reed, first; Steve Fuhrmann, second. Second game, Doubles, single elimination, Dan Bezner and Wade Walterscheid, first; Tim Hellman and Russ Smith, second. Third game, Singles, single elimination, Alan Hudspeth, first; Harold Owen, second. Fourth game, Doubles, single elimination, Dan Bezner and Wade Walterscheid, first; Harold Owen and Jeremy Owen, second. Fifth game, Singles, single elimination, John Monday, first; Steve Fuhrmann, second.

Crowning touches on the day's festivities was an evening of entertainment by vocalist duo, "Sweeter Than Honey." Jenny Lynn and Kelley Jean Wimmer captured the crowd's attention with their melodies.

The Schuetzenfest Competition was very successful and many competitors were heard to say that they hoped it would take place again next year. All who attended activities in the park had an enjoyable time. The oppressive summer heat hindered attendance at the picnic, but didn't succeed in causing a failure.

Blood drive sets record

Last Wednesday's Red Cross Blood Drive in honor of leukemia victim Travis Klement was Muenster's biggest drive since 1983. One-hundred, forty-three area citizens attempted to donate and 126 people were accepted. That number included 11 new first-time donors.

The blood collected will help replenish blood in area hospitals. That availability makes it possible for Travis or anyone else to get blood transfusions for only the cost of processing.

Several donors started or advanced their gallon club membership. Completing one gallon were: Todd Fisher, Lisa Walterscheid, Janelle Hellman, and Ronnie Hess. Henry Felderhoff and Jack Dangelmayr completed two gallons and Mac McCoy was honored for finishing his fifth gallon of blood.

Good News!

Who will separate us from the love of Christ? Trial, or distress, or persecution, or hunger, or nakedness, or danger, or the sword? As Scripture says: "For your sake we are being slain all the day long; we are looked upon as sheep to be slaughtered." Yet in all this we are more than conquerors because of him who has loved us.

Letters to the Editor

Aug. 29, 1989

To the Editor:

I have just read the article, "CCAD plan on brink of rejection" in Sunday's, Aug. 27, 1989 Gainesville Register which came in today's mail. The struggle for power between the taxing entities of Cooke County about how the five-man board is chosen is absurd. That power should be vested in the voting public - the taxpayers, not the tax receivers. We should elect one from each commissioner's precinct and one from the county at large. We desperately need some checks and balances operating in the power to tax in the county entities, in the State and in the Federal.

The county tax appraisal districts claim they have nothing to do with the taxes, but I am currently involved in a case where the Denton County Tax Appraisal District effectively raised the Pilot Point ISD tax on a 52-acre block of cross timber land in Cooke County from $1.80 per acre in 1982 to $39.95 per acre in 1988 by running wild, raising the valuation - completely unjustified.

On Nov. 7, 1989, we will vote on House Joint Resolution 102 "state legislature pay raise." A constitutional amendment that will forever remove any control by the voting public. It must be defeated.

Our power at the polls is being diluted on all levels of taxation. The only bright spot recently was when the Texas Supreme Court rendered an 8 to 1 decision in favor of the Denton and Ellis County taxpayers on the tax rollback issue.

An effective Texas Taxpayers Bill of Rights is a must and should include both initiative and referendum as well as recall provisions. By all means, vote, but study the issues and the candidates in order to vote intelligently.

Celebrating Bicentennial of U.S. Constitution

Compilation by Mary Katharine Smith, Constitution Week Chairman

The Commission on the Bicentennial of the United States Constitution was created by Congress (Public Law 98-101) in 1983. President Reagan appointed 23 members who were sworn in by Vice-President Bush on July 30, 1985. The Commission is chaired by the Chief Justice (Retired) from the United States Supreme Court, Warren E. Burger.

After the Continental Congress voted in favor of independence from Great Britain on July 2, 1776, and adopted the Declaration of Independence on July 4, it took up the proposal of Richard Henry Lee for a "Plan of Confederation" on July 12, 1776, a Congressional Committee presented "Articles of Confederation and Perpetual Union," which the Congress debated for more than a year. The body adopted the Articles of Confederation on Nov. 15, 1777, and submitted them to the 13 states for ratification, which had to be unanimous. By March 1, 1781, all the States had given their assent. The Articles of Confederation gave limited powers to the Federal Government. In 1786, James Madison described the Articles as "nothing more than a treaty of amity and alliance between independent and sovereign states." As interstate disputes over commercial matters multiplied, the weakness of the Articles of Confederation as a fundamental Charter became apparent. The march toward a new form of government began.

In May 1787, representatives from 12 American States convened in Philadelphia to amend the Articles of Confederation. Four months later, on Sept. 17, 39 of the 42 delegates still in Philadelphia signed the newly created National Constitution - a document that laid the foundations for a Democratic society, establishing a federal government of the people, by the people and for the people.

Today, this immortal document stands as the oldest written instrument of National Government in the world, the cornerstone of the American Republic, the document that has come to symbolize our National Ideals of Freedom, Justice, Equal Opportunity and Hope.

In 1989, we celebrate the establishment of the federal government and especially the executive branch.

George Washington, more than any other single American, was responsible for making the War of Independence a success. After the war, he worked to persuade Americans that they needed a stronger national government. By coming to Philadelphia in 1787 and presiding over the Constitutional Convention, Washington lent it his great prestige and authority. He effectually held the Convention together, and his approval and signing the Constitution was a great impetus when it came to ratification by the states. Following ratification, Washington was unanimously chosen as our first president; the Constitution went into effect with his inauguration on April 30, 1789. For two terms, he governed with dignity and restraint, providing the stability and authority our emergent country needed. He was 67 when he died at his beloved Mt. Vernon. Is there any wonder why he is referred to as the Father of our Country? And is "First in War, First in Peace, and First in the Hearts of His Countrymen."

The Constitution is the foundation of our Liberties, Inspired by the Magna Charta. Lest we forget: "Eternal Vigilance is the Price of Liberty."

Mayor Charles Woolfolk and all City Officials, County Judge Jim Robertson and all County Officials, join our President and the Congress of the United States in proclaiming Sept. 17-23, as Constitution Week, and in urging all citizens to fly the U.S. Flag, our greatest symbol of Freedom each day.

The Rebecca Crockett Chapter and the Francis Lightfoot Lee Chapter, National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution are sponsoring and planning special programs in honor of this Historic Observance.

New permit for oversized loads to be required in Texas

Beginning Sept. 1, a new annual permit allowing certain vehicles to exceed the maximum allowable weight will be issued by the highway department. The permit was authorized during the last regular session of the Texas Legislature.

The new law applies to vehicles carrying loads that can be "reasonably dismantled." Loads that cannot be broken down into smaller units are covered by current permit classifications.

Weight limits are set to protect Texas roadways from damage due to heavy loads. Permits allow heavier vehicles to travel designated routes upon payment of a fee, which helps cover road repair costs.

The new permit costs $75 a year and requires a $15,000 bond. It allows vehicles to exceed the maximum axle weight by up to 10 percent and the maximum gross weight by five percent. It applies to trucks operating on state highways, on county roads and bridges, and on other roads designated by the counties. It is not valid on the Interstate system.

This law also allows agricultural commodities, shipped in their natural state, to exceed axle weight by up to 12 percent and gross weight by five percent without a permit or bond.

Application for this permit will be by mail only. Further information and applications are available at highway district offices and tourist bureaus.

Rules to implement this new law were passed by the highway commission on Aug. 29 and will be posted in the Texas Register for public comment.

WHAT SITS OUT BACK, RUNS SUMMER AND WINTER, AND SAVES YOU MONEY?

A heat pump. And there are three good reasons you should get one.

A HEAT PUMP COOLS, HEATS AND SAVES.

Replace your old air conditioner with a new electric heat pump. It's a high efficiency air conditioner in summer. While, in the winter, it's the most energy efficient heating system you can own. On even the coldest days, a heat pump system operates efficiently and will provide all the warmth you need.

A HEAT PUMP CAN SAVE $130 A YEAR.

Compared to a gas furnace, a heat pump is more energy efficient. And TU Electric's low rates make heating and cooling your home with a heat pump an even better value. Tests have shown you can save $130 or more a year by installing a heat pump.*

GET MORE INFORMATION.

You can find out more about the amazing heat pump, including details on rebates, from your local heat pump dealer.

County Council officers sponsor officer training

by Carol M. Roberts, County Extension Agent-H.E.

On Aug. 24, 81 4-H club officers, adult leaders and club managers attended 4-H Club Officer Training. This annual event, which was planned and conducted by the 4-H County Council Officers, was held at Leonard Park.

The training session opened with the Pledge of Allegiance to the American flag followed by the 4-H Motto and Pledge. 4-H County Council Recreation Leaders, Richard Barnes and George Lutkenhaus, then led the group of club officers in "get acquainted" games.

Then 4-H club officers divided into groups according to the office held in the 1989-90 4-H year for training on specific duties and responsibilities for each office. These small group sessions were conducted by the 4-H County Council officers. Sherilyn Sicking, Council Chairman, focused on conducting efficient meetings in the training session for 4-H club presidents; John Krebs, Council 1st Vice Chairman, discussed program resources with 4-H club vice presidents. Amy Bartlett, Council Secretary, and Werner Becker, Council Treasurer, emphasized the importance of record keeping to 4-H club secretaries and treasurers. For 4-H club reporters, Laura Lutkenhaus, Council Reporter, promoted the visibility of 4-H programs through the local radio station and newspapers. James Krebs, Council 2nd Vice Chairman, discussed the flow of information between 4-H clubs and County Council with 4-H county council delegates and alternate delegates. Lastly, Council Recreation Leaders, Richard Barnes and George Lutkenhaus, pointed out the benefits of recreational activities to 4-H club recreation leaders.

Following the group sessions, 4-H County Council officers presented two skits to highlight the advantages of using proper parliamentary procedure to conduct efficient, organized meetings. In the first skit the council officers conducted a disorganized 4-H meeting. The second skit illustrated the use of a planned agenda and parliamentary procedure to conduct a model 4-H meeting.

While Council officers met with 4-H club officers, 4-H Club Managers met with Carol Roberts, County Extension Agent, for training. Training topics included county 4-H program goals, 1989-90 4-H enrollment, county committee assignments, and 1989-90 4-H calendar update.

After the training sessions, everyone enjoyed a hamburger supper coordinated by Evelyn Yeatts, County Extension Agent. Walter Lutkenhaus, a Lindsay 4-H club leader, cooked the burgers. Activities concluded at 7 p.m.

Grief Recovery Seminar set for Cooke County

Grief is defined in the dictionary as "deep sorrow, pain or mental distress caused by loss, remorse, affliction, etc. Every human will suffer from some type of grief in their lifetime. How an individual copes with this emotion can have considerable influence on the quality of their future life. Some people need help in attaining a positive direction.

With this goal in mind, Home Hospice of Cooke County is sponsoring a Grief Recovery Seminar in September and October 1989. It is for all who are experiencing grief or loss due to death, life threatening illness, divorce, a child going off to college, etc. The first two sessions are open to all, but after the second session, no new person will be allowed to come into the group.

Marilyn Dickson of Dallas will be the facilitator of this seminar. She is an associate minister and pastoral counselor at Northway Christian Church in Dallas. Mrs. Dickson has been director and teaching leader for grief seminars since 1985. More than 500 people have benefited from her seminars.

Co-facilitator for the seminar in Gainesville will be Michael Ann Rigler, social worker at Home Hospice of Cooke County and licensed professional counselor.

Ms. Rigler encourages anyone suffering from grief, but unsure if the seminar pertains to them, to come to the first two meetings and to get a feel for what is going on. They will learn about keeping a journal.

Recording emotions in a journal plays a major role in grief recovery, noted Rigler. "The more you write about a story, the more you can put it in perspective."

Persons interested in participating in the Grief Recovery Seminar are encouraged to pre-register for the sessions. To register, call 665-9891 or come by the Home Hospice Office, 1001 E. Broadway, Gainesville. You may register at the seminar. There is no fee and all that is needed to participate is a spiral notebook for use as a journal.

Meetings will be held at Texas Power & Light meeting room, 201 N. Dixon, Gainesville. They will be on Thursdays, Sept. 14, 21, 28 and Oct. 5, 12 and 19, from 7-9 p.m. Scheduled seminar topics include:

They talked about the different leaders that are in our society and gave a few do and don't tips about leadership. They also gave information about building self-esteem, personal feelings and how to handle feelings and develop mental skills.

At 6 p.m., a banquet was held and speaker E. Lynn Copeland, Director of the Texas 4-H Center, talked about "Up Front and Active: Will the Real Me Step Forward."

Afterwards, the LEAD and DARE groups broke up and group leaders explained more about the topic, "Up Front and Active." Later in the evening, a dance and vespers were held.

On Sunday, the group finished putting together their work in the LEAD and DARE group. They then shared with the DARE group, an activity concerning team work and cooperation.

Lindsay Secular Franciscans hear new programs

The Secular Franciscans Fraternity of St. Peter's Parish in Lindsay was hosted by Lawrence and Marie Zimmerer in their home for the afternoon meeting of Aug. 23.

Theresa Hermes, president, conducted the meeting and prayers. Veronica Klement presented Scriptural Readings. The members were happy to receive a letter from Bishop Peter of Kerala, India, telling of his improved health, but mentioning also the strict diet which has been imposed. The bishop also wrote about the fraternity's adopted Seminarian, John Mathai, who now is in his second year studying Philosophy in St. Pius Seminary in Bombay.

Bishop Peter also described several projects he has started to assist his parishioners, namely a poultry farm, and a fish farm. He said Tilapia fish were used to stock several ponds because they multiply fast.

He also told of a mighty program of literacy propagation that has been entered upon. All these programs have been instituted to encourage self-help among the poor.

The Lindsay Secular Franciscan Fraternity gives generously in support of Bishop Peter Chenoparampil's ministry. For this, he expressed his gratitude and prayers.

The president read passages from the Franciscan Forum and the SFO Communicator.

Father Martin Wolter, OFM, wrote from Eureka Springs, Ark. telling that John Michael Talbot was converted to the Catholic Church, joined the Secular Franciscan Order and the Little Brothers and Sisters of Charity.

The president thanked all for their kind cooperation and help toward the success of the recent garage sale. Plans for the Raffle included drawing for prizes after the November meeting. Ritual prayers closed the meeting. After adjournment, hostess Marie Zimmerer served cake, ice cream, tea or coffee. The next meeting will be in the home of Henry and Allie Kuhn on Sept. 12 at 2 p.m.

Hornets open season Friday against Pirates

The Muenster Hornet football season begins with a tough Collinsville team coming to town Friday night. Coach Bill Jump's Hornets are primed and ready for action. "Our guys are ready to attack," said the coach. "We expect a real test in the opener, but we are confident we will play well."

The Collinsville Pirates return nine starters from a strong team in '88. "They are not a real big team, but they have good quickness and are well coached," reported Jump. They will be looking to average a 27 to 9 loss to the Hornets a year ago.

The Hornets appear to be in good shape to begin the '89 campaign. The defense looks especially strong with several standout players. Scott Vogel at middle linebacker is one of the keys to stopping opponent offenses. "Scott is bigger and stronger and really likes to get after people," said Jump. "He is also responsible for making defensive adjustments on the field, so we have a lot of confidence in him." Defensive end Donnie Boydston is another big hitter and is expected to put a lot of pressure on enemy quarterbacks. Jeff Hellman has been a bit of a surprise at defensive tackle. "He has been all over the field, making a lot of plays," replied Jump. James Hennigan, at strong safety, is another defensive ringleader. "We expect James to hit like a linebacker and cover like a defensive back, and he isn't disappointing us," reported Jump. Marshall Smith is performing well at corner, as is Yancy Culp. Other big hitters for the Hornet defense are linebackers Troy Pagel and Mike Vogel.

Offensively, the Hornets return some talented players. "We feel we may have the top group of backs in the district with Jerry Brawner, James Hennigan, Scott Vogel, Marshall Smith and Mike Vogel," said Jump. "All have run the ball well and they like to block for one another." The offensive front is in good shape also with Keith Vogel and Scott Hudspeth at guards; Brad McDaniel and Jeff Hellman at the tackles; Donnie Boydston, Yancy Culp and Terry Felderhoff at tight end; and Michael Bierschenk at center. "Bierschenk is a strong kid and takes a lot of pride in doing a good job," said the Coach. "Keith Vogel performed really well in the scrimmage last week and we expect he will continue to do so." Quarterback Jerry Brawner is the key man on the offensive side of the ball. "Jerry is an experienced leader, we are confident he will do whatever it takes to move us down the field and into the end zone," said the Hornet mentor.

All in all, it looks like another exciting year of Muenster Hornet Football, so come out this week and support the Hornets in their season opener against the Collinsville Pirates! Game time is 8 p.m. at Hornet Stadium.

Tigers outscore Alvord, prepare for Era Hornets

The Sacred Heart Tigers are looking forward to the start of regular season play after outscoring the Alvord Bulldogs three touchdowns to one in last week's scrimmage. Tiger Coach John Sims reported the Tigers covered 140 yards with 52 rushing plays. Leading ground gainers were Chris Hess, 23 plays for 65 yards; Shawn Dangelmayr, 8 plays for 35 yards; and Tony Grewing, 8 plays for 30 yards. Passing was weaker with quarterback Shawn Dangelmayr missing 5 pass attempts and Stevan Nasche completing only 2 of 4.

Sims said he was proud of the Tigers' consistently good defense. "Even though we're terribly young and inconsistent on offense, we're running good and hitting hard. I'm confident we will improve through the season," he said. Sims pointed out that in the pre-season scrimmages, Dangelmayr had zero fumbles at quarterback.

The Tigers are looking at a tough season opener Friday night at Era. Sims says, "The Hornets should be district contenders. Their quarterback is awesome as are the running backs Messingill and Rodriguez. Their line isn't real big though - we should be able to stay with them there."

The Tigers are staying healthy so far. Only big tackle Darrell Mullins is questionable for the game because of a recent brown recluse spider bite on his arm, but Sims hopes to have him back.

The game will start at 8 p.m. tonight in Era.

Black powder hunters get to hunt deer longer

In most states, sportsmen who hunt with black powder guns can have a longer deer season and can harvest more game than the outdoorsmen who doesn't hunt with black powder. But to take a deer with a black powder rifle, a hunter must know how to get closer to the deer than he would with a conventional gun, a hunter should know how to shoot with iron sights and a hunter must understand how to load the powder charge and other components.

Usually the black powder hunter will have only one shot at a deer. By the time the hunter has reloaded the black powder gun the deer will be long gone. Unlike when using modern guns with scopes, the muzzleloader hunter must be very close to the deer being hunted. The muzzleloader hunter who uses the old-time iron sights must be a better shot than the hunter who uses a scoped gun. To become accurate with an old-time type gun, the outdoorsmen must do more than buy a black powder rifle off a sporting goods store shelf and go into the woods to hunt. He needs to purchase the black powder rifle now and practice, and practice, and practice on a range during the spring and summer.

Some of the most popular new rifles this year are the Connecticut Valley Arms (CVA) Hunter Hawken and the CVA St. Louis Hawken, two different type rifles that capture the beauty of the gun maker's art and the accuracy of the frontier hunter's style of shooting.

To learn more about how to shoot and hunt with black powder next fall, send $3.50 plus $1.00 postage and handling to CVA at 5988 Peachtree Corners East, Norcross, GA 30071 for their booklet entitled "The CVA Muzzleloading Hunter's Handbook."

Then plan to master your new black powder rifle so if you have the opportunity this fall to bag a buck with black powder, you can shoot straight and true.

Pioneer Pedal Bike Rally set at TWU

An anticipated invasion of 1,000 bicycle enthusiasts, 2,000 narrow tires, a tent city and an atmosphere filled with determination and energy has Texas Woman's University eagerly preparing for the university's 3rd Annual Pioneer Pedal Bike Rally.

The rally, which benefits the TWU athletic scholarship fund, will begin at 9 a.m. on Saturday, Sept. 23, at the intersection of Bell Avenue and Administration Drive on the TWU campus in Denton. According to TWU Athletics Director Jo Kuhn, the university anticipates between 700 and 1,000 participants in the rally.

One "pedal pause" rest stop will be set up every 10 miles of the 23-, 40- or 62-mile routes through the Denton County countryside. A rest stop will also be provided on the six-mile route.

Water, "Exceed" and other goodies will be provided at each rest stop. Riders will also be entertained by rest stop workers competing for the "Best of the Rest Stops." Riders will serve as contest judges.

"Sag wagons" will be available with water and road assistance for riders who have mechanical trouble or to transport those who are unable to complete their route. Medical personnel will be available throughout the rally.

Tent camping for rally participants is available on the TWU campus for a $5 per tent site fee.

Registration fees are $12 for non-TWU students, $8 for TWU students with I.D. and $10 per rider for families of four or more with children under 17. Late registration is $15. Children under the age of 14 must be accompanied by an adult.

Pre-registered pedal packets can be picked up between 9 a.m. and 9 p.m. on Sept. 22 on the ground floor foyer of Gibbs-Jones Hall or from 7 to 8:45 a.m. at the pre-registration tables.

All registered riders will receive a rally T-shirt. The first 1,000 riders will receive water bottles.

Major sponsors of the 1989 Pioneer Pedal include GTE, Forest Lane Bike Mart and "Exceed" Nutritional System.

For more information, contact the TWU athletic department at (817) 898-2378.

Golf championship scheduled for Sept. 10

On Sunday, Sept. 10, the Muenster Golf Association Championship Tournament will be held at the Nocona Municipal Golf Course.

Any golfer that has played in at least one tournament this year is eligible to play. In the event someone has not played in a tournament this year and desires to play in the championship, they will be welcome if they are living in Muenster or are a former member of the association.

The only cost for the tournament and refreshments will be the $5.00 membership dues which all members will be assessed on tournament day, Sept. 10.

Strict USGA rules will be upheld. Registration must be in by 8:45 a.m. for a shotgun start at 9 a.m. sharp.

Trophies will be awarded for 1st, 2nd, and 3rd in four divisions: men's handicap, men's scratch, ladies' handicap and ladies' scratch. There will also be trophies awarded for men's and women's longest drive and closest to the pin. Additional prizes include a $300.00 cash prize for any hole-in-one scored at the tournament. A special hole-in-one prize, sponsored by Coaches Trophies of Muenster, will be a new (well, not exactly new) 1971 Jeep CJ5 four-wheel drive hunter's dream. The Jeep will be given for a hole-in-one on the tough 165-yard 13th hole.

Following the tournament, there will be a barbecue dinner for all members at 2 p.m. in the Muenster City Park. Non-members attending will be charged $5.00 per person and $3.00 for students. Trophies and prizes will be awarded around 3 p.m. with election of officers for 1990 immediately following.

Hunt for venison at the grocery store

Venison is the most popular game meat in Texas. And until recently, in order to enjoy it, it was necessary to be a hunter or to know a hunter. But that is no longer true. Venison is as close as a local grocery store.

Venison is now being harvested commercially in Texas and is available in frozen 1 pound packages. Cuts include ground, chunks or chili grind.

Mike Hughes of the Broken Arrow Ranch in Ingram has been harvesting deer since 1983. Originally sold only to restaurants, Broken Arrow Ranch venison is now available to consumers at the retail level.

Commercially produced venison has several advantages over wild game:

1. Flavor: Commercial venison has a milder flavor than wild venison because it is grass fed. Harvesting methods are carefully controlled to avoid any stress on the animal and the result is a more tender product.

2. Versatility: Venison can be used in any recipe which calls for red meat. Because it is low in fat, it has a tendency to dry out if cooked improperly. For dry cooking methods, such as broiling, cook for a short time, cook rare to medium, and baste frequently. Serve ground meat dishes immediately after cooking.

3. Health: Because the exotics are allowed to graze naturally, their diet is free of pesticides and chemicals. They are also hormone-, steroid- and antibiotic-free. Venison is naturally low in fat, cholesterol and calories. Since it is a red meat, it is high in protein, minerals and vitamins. A 3 oz. serving of Axis venison contains only 116 calories and 1.27 grams of fat.

Celebrate the Labor Day holiday by serving venison burgers. Not only will the burgers be a conversation piece, but they will offer family and friends a healthy, flavorful meal. Mike Hughes suggests cooking patties by browning quickly over high heat. Reduce the heat and add a small amount of water or wine. Simmer, covered for 8 to 10 minutes. Serve immediately.

For more information, write to the Texas Department of Agriculture, 1801 N. Lamar, Suite 103, Dallas, Texas 75202.

VENISON MARENGO

- 2 lbs. venison chunks
- 2 T. butter
- 2 T. flour
- 1 c. white wine
- 1 c. beef bouillon
- Salt and pepper to taste
- 1 T. tomato paste
- 2 T. chopped shallots (or 1/2 clove garlic, chopped with 2 T. chopped onion)
- Bouquet garni (bay leaf, parsley, celery leaves and thyme tied in a cheesecloth bag)
- 1 minced clove of garlic
- 6 oz. mushrooms, sauteed in a little butter
- 2 small to medium tomatoes, peeled and sliced for garnish

Brown the venison in butter over high heat. Add flour, stir well, and cook for 2 to 3 minutes. Add wine, bouillon, salt and pepper to taste, tomato paste, shallots, bouquet garni and garlic. Simmer covered for 1 1/2 to 2 hours over low heat. Stir in sauteed mushrooms. Add the tomatoes and allow to heat for 2 to 3 minutes without stirring. Serve over pasta or rice. ## Fertilizing small grains for grazing and grain Producers must use fertilizers wisely. There are ways we can increase the efficiency of plant nutrients applied for small grains. Research and demonstrations throughout Texas for the past 20 years have shown that the rate, time, and method of applying phosphorus and nitrogen affect both yield and profits from fertilization. Potassium is generally needed only in East Texas and micronutrient problems with small grains are rare.

Phosphorus fertilization is very important because the small grain plant has a great need for this nutrient during seedling development. The number of tillers relate directly to the number of adventitious roots. Without adequate phosphorus, fewer adventitious roots are produced. In tests, where 80 pounds of phosphorus per acre were broadcast on the surface and harrowed into the soil, the average number of adventitious roots developed by Jan. 15 was five per plant. The same amount of phosphorus applied with the seed at planting produced 12 adventitious roots and so more tillers. Top grain yields require maximum tillering. The amount of fall growth is also affected by phosphorus.

Low rates of phosphorus with or near the seed also has increased seedling growth and the amount of winter pasture. On a phosphorus deficient soil, 40 pounds of phosphorus placed with the seed produced about twice as much fall growth as the same amount broadcast or banded between seed drills. Increases have been as much as eight more bushels of wheat per acre when phosphorus was placed in the drill with the seed at planting.

Nitrogen is important, too. For top yields, plants should never be allowed to suffer for lack of nitrogen. Wheat and other small grains need nitrogen at planting or a short time afterward for early grazing, and for top grain production.

Sufficient fall growth for early grazing cannot be expected without adequate nitrogen at planting. The advantages of planting early and favorable growing conditions can be lost because nitrogen fertilization is delayed until the condition of the stand can be determined. To establish a good uniform stand requires some nitrogen since most soils are deficient in this nutrient.

Another condition affecting fall nitrogen fertilization is the amount of straw from the previous crop. The bacteria and other micro-organisms needed to decompose the straw require nitrogen and can use soil and applied nitrogen thus reducing the amount available to plants. It may be necessary to apply a higher proportion of the total nitrogen requirements in the fall, if large amounts of stubble are present. The general rule has been to increase the nitrogen rate about 20 pounds per acre for each ton of undecomposed straw. However, a portion of this nitrogen is recovered during the final stages of decomposition so that as much as half of this may be available during the spring months. This means that about half of the extra nitrogen could be deducted from the late winter topdressing.

A good rule of thumb for wheat fertilization is 2 pounds of nitrogen and 1 pound of phosphorus per bushel of wheat expected. When grazing, the nitrogen rate should be doubled to give extra forage and compensate for the amounts removed by livestock. Split applications are also preferred to maximum nitrogen utilization.

AGRICULTURAL MILESTONES

Early interest in improving native Texas cattle by using herd bulls of British breeding gradually evolved into the mistaken belief that the best beef animals could be selected by conformation and color.

One foremost educator and researcher in animal science with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station told how surprised he was many years ago when demonstrating cutting yields to a class at Texas A&M.

He had selected six calves of superior conformation and six of inferior conformation for the demonstration. These animals were dressed and used in a cutting test for the college meats class. The results were surprising: the animals of superior conformation (short legs, blocky and heavy) didn't yield best.

"Yield" is defined as the percentage of the weight of a carcass found in the boneless, closely trimmed cuts from the loin, the rib, the round and the chuck. It is this closely trimmed roast and steak meat of the carcass that is most likely to be consumed by humans.

The reason the animals of superior conformation had a lower cutting yield of edible meat was that they had more fat. When the researcher reported these facts to his professional society and to producers, the response was somewhat negative. Time and trial, however, would prove him right. This pioneering research led eventually to development of cutability and yield grading as concepts for USDA grading of carcasses from red-meat animals.
