Celebrate This Weekend

TOMMY TRANTHAM and his mules passed through Muenster Wednesday afternoon on his way to Lubbock. Trantham's homemade wagon has been his dwelling for three years. He said about traveling by wagon, "You see more... meet more than traveling in a vehicle... lots of children have never seen a wagon." Trantham keeps his adventures in Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas, where his family lives. He says the hardest part was getting used to going so slow. "It took me a year to slow down." The man and his wagon came through Muenster, heading east, around two months ago.

Muenster's Centennial Celebration this Saturday, Sept. 2, will begin at 11 a.m. in the City Park. The festivities are based on an old German Tradition, the Schuetzenfest, which was brought from Germany to America a hundred years ago by our ancestors.

A 1989 version of the traditional Schuetzenfest shooting competition will begin at 10 a.m. Saturday. There will be three categories in which marksmen can test their skills. The divisions and chairmen are as follows: Shotgun, Jack Flusche, 759-2534; .22 Rifle, Joe Fenton, 759-2805; and Black Powder, Steve Fette, 759-4568.

Entry fee will include shells and targets for the rifle and shotgun divisions, but black powder entrants must provide their own ammunition. Entrants can sign up at the event. A number of people have already pre-registered.

Anyone can enter and men and women will compete in the same categories. A list of rules will be available at the Schuetzenfest. General chairman is Willie Walterscheid. Six trophies are to be awarded and presentation will take place in the Park after completion of all divisions.

Overall high point award and local high point awards will be presented in each category.

There will be an opportunity for people to view relics from Muenster's past when the owner's of treasured antique farm machinery, toys and cars display them at the City Park Saturday. The Muenster Museum at 203 East 3rd Street will be open from 1 to 5 p.m.

The park pavilion is the location for the display of antique toys. Ed Pick of Muenster will be sharing his large collection as well as help-

Scrumptious hamburgers and hot dogs will be served from noon until 8 p.m. Soft drinks, popcorn and cotton candy will be available from the Boy Scouts' concession stand. Beer will be served by the Muenster Jaycees. Most of the food is being donated by local merchants and the proceeds will be donated to the Centennial Muenster's Volunteer Firemen are planning to present a Water Polo demonstration at 2 p.m. The demonstration will be held on Maple Street near the intersection of Hwy. 82 and the streets will be blocked during that time.

Water Polo is actually a training exercise used by firemen. It helps develop their skills in getting water where they want it. A ball is suspended about 18 feet above the ground on a 150 foot cable. Two teams of three men each work the firehoses to see which team can best control the ball.

A Tae Kwon Do demonstration will be held at 4 p.m. by Master Choi and students from his academies in Gainesville and Denton. Several Muenster residents plan to participate. The hour-long demonstration will show fighting and sparring techniques and form competition.

Breaking of boards or cement blocks will show the power of Tae Kwon Do when concentration and body training are combined.

A Horseshoe Tournament is scheduled to begin at 1 p.m. Competition will be in singles and doubles and trophies will be awarded to first and second place winners in each division.

A Singles Tennis Tournament will kickoff at 11 a.m. on the tennis courts built recently by the City gets dump permit

Another site in works while opponents continue to call for recycling

The disposal of Muenster trash and garbage in the Gainesville landfill should soon end. The City of Muenster has received a permit to bury municipal solid waste in a landfill to be constructed on land 3.6 mile north-northwest of Muenster. The land is owned by John David Fleitman and the landfill has been a source of controversy in the recent past with the rural neighbors objecting to it on environmental and aesthetic grounds.

Acceptance of this permit constitutes an acknowledgement that the city will comply with all of the terms, provisions, conditions, limitations and other restrictions embodied in the permit; with the "Municipal Solid Waste Management Regulations" of the Texas Department of Health; and with the pertinent laws of the State of Texas. This Type III permit requires disposal in a trench with compactation of solid waste and cover with a minimum of six inches of compacted earth not less often than once each month.

The facility is subject to inspection by state and local authorities and public health officials at any reasonable time.

City Administrator Joe Fenton said construction at the site will begin immediately. "We have to build an all-weather gravel access road, put up fences and signs and dig the pit in accordance with our operating plan and state health regulations," he said.

Fenton says operating the local landfill will result in substantial savings. The lease costs $400.00 per month versus $2,500.00 per month average that has been paid to the City of Gainesville for dumpings. The garbage trucks will now have only about a nine-mile round trip compared to the 50-mile round trip with each load taken to Gainesville. The money saved will go to operating the landfill, the general operating fund and establishing another landfill permit at a site purchased from Hermie Grewing. Fenton couldn't say for sure when operations will start on the Fleitman land, but he expects very soon.

Chief spokesman of the group opposing the landfill, Dave Flusche Sr., said there is nothing he can do legally to stop the dumping but what the city is doing doesn't make sense. "What they need to do is recycle," he said.

Flusche explained that he feels the city and all the area residents must take the lead in recycling. "What doesn't recycle then should go to a regional landfill." He said, Please See DUMP, Page 2

United Way prepares for CC kickoff

Cooke County United Way will kick off its 1989 fundraising campaign with a luncheon on Thursday, Sept. 7, at 12 noon in the Gainesville Civic Center.

Rob Mosbacher, Jr. of Houston will be guest speaker for the luncheon. He is a graduate of Georgetown University and SMU Law School and is presently serving as president of Mosbacher Energy Company.

In 1987, Gov. Clements appointed Rob Mosbacher Jr. to the Board of the Texas Department of Human Services and he was recently elected chairman. He was also appointed Chairman of the Governor's Task Force on Welfare Reform by the governor.

In recognition of his achievements, Mosbacher is a recent recipient of the Texas Jaycees Five Outstanding Young Texans and the 1988 President's Voluntary Action Award from President Reagan in ceremonies at the White House.

Tickets for this luncheon are $5 each and are available for purchase at The Muenster Enterprise, Gainesville National Bank, First State Bank and North Texas Bank and Trust.

Last year, the Cooke County United Way achieved its goal of $172,000.00. This year's goal of $189,500.00 is the highest ever according to campaign chairperson, Jane McLevey.

Celine Dittfurth is Muenster's contact person. Bill Winter is the United Way president this year. Anyone needing more information can contact Celine Dittfurth at Muenster City Hall or call the United Way Office in Gainesville at 665-1793.

H & W SUMMER SAUSAGE WINS

Summer Sausage, entered by H & W Meat Co. in Muenster, was named Grand Champion during competition held in conjunction with the 2nd Annual Convention of the Texas Association of Meat Processors. Summer Sausage is one of the more popular divisions of the product show which attracted 72 entries from Association members from across the state. Don Hess displays and the award-winning sausage.

MANY TREES in the Muenster area have taken on the appearance of late fall. The trees have fallen victim to the destructive fall webworm which strips foliage and spins unsightly webs in tree branches. At left, two fall webworms finish stripping leaves from this fruitless mulberry. Janie Hartman Photos

The webworms that ate Muenster

Or... Will there be anything left for the fire ants?

Webworms have invaded Muenster. They are gobbling leaves off the trees and spinning unsightly webs in the victim plants leaving behind trees bare except for the worms' webs. The webs give the tree a spooky "Halloween" appearance.

Fruitless mulberries, pecan trees, and sweet gums are favorites of the destructive insect. After defoliating their preferred trees, the greedy creatures will begin to munch on other trees and plants.

"Webworms are extremely hard to kill," warns local Garden Center owner, Roger Taylor. "It is most effective to spray in the early morning or late evening when the worms are out of their web. The web is hard to penetrate."

The insecticides recommended by Taylor are Dursban and Diazinon which should be applied to trees with a hose-end sprayer. It can take two or three days for a complete kill of the insects.

The insect overwinters in the ground under the host trees. Small white moths lay eggs on the leaves of trees. The webworms hatch from these, stated Roger Taylor.

In Neil Sperry's Complete Guide to Texas Gardening, he describes webworms as being 1-1/2-inches long when fully grown, but possibly as small as 1/8-inch. They are creamy white to pale brown and can appear anytime from late spring through fall. To control them, he suggests including liquid detergent or spreader-sticker to the insecticide to help spray penetrate the web. Also webs pruned out of trees should be destroyed.

This is the third generation webworm this season and the worst. Severity of an outbreak depends on conditions. "This is the worst infestation of webworms in the 17 years I've been back in Muenster," said Taylor. "I've never seen it this bad."

Normally, damage to trees is not permanent. Trees can generally stand the loss of leaves once a year. However, many local trees received damage to their leaves and bark from the severe hail storm this spring. Some lost all of their foliage.

Leaves are necessary to trees for the manufacturing of food for next year. Many trees will try to regenerate their leaves this season causing tremendous strain. All affected trees will be weakened. Some may die. According to Taylor, trees die a slow death and it may be possible to see detrimental effects from this year's stresses up to three years from now.

"I recommend very good care of affected trees for the next two years," said Taylor. This means plenty of water, fertilizer and insect control.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Dave,

The purpose of this letter is to thank you for your article on the rebuilding of our church. I found your article to be most accurate and I was very pleased with the photography that accompanied it. I was very pleased with your coverage of this story and our community appreciates your continued support.

Thank you again for your coverage of our story, you did a super job.

To the Centennial Committee,

On behalf of the Board of Directors and the Cooke County Heritage Society, I want to thank the Muenster Centennial Committee for donating the Muenster Centennial Book to the Morton Museum of Cooke County. We appreciate it very much. I know this will be an increasingly valuable addition to our archives as the years go by. I also want to thank the Centennial Committee for giving us the opportunity to sell the books in the museum. Thank you again for the donation and if there is anything else that I can do to help you, please let me know.

Sincerely,

Dear Juanita

Congratulations on the Muenster Centennial history. It is certainly a valuable collection of information.

I'm enclosing a small donation to help defray the publishing deficit. Perhaps a postscript to the volume could generate more funds. The fields of local and ethnic history as well as genealogy are expanding rapidly. You and your associates could further these investigations and profit from them. I'm sure that an immediate and continuing reaction to the Muenster history will be a flood of inquiries to obtain further information on families and individuals. A valuable postscript or follow-up to the history itself would be the compilation and sale of a print-out of names and addresses of individuals who have family information and would make it available to interested parties. For example, I have data on the Haverkamp and Bernauer families and would be willing to respond to inquiries.

Sincerely,
Della M. Flusche

P.S. I'll be in Decatur Aug. 22-Sept. 3. Drop in if you can. The new church is a grand tribute to the Muenster centennial and the Golden Jubilee of the Decatur parish.

NOTICE!

There will be no trash pickup on Labor Day, Monday, Sept. 4. All trash will be picked up on both routes on Tuesday, Sept. 5.

HELP!

Living Waters Mission in Gainesville is in dire need of food according to Muenster Police Chief Helen Tompkins. The mission offers anyone in need a place to sleep overnight and a meal. Transients in need of food, clothing or shelter often stop there for aid.

Chief Tompkins said there is also a need for children's clothing from toddler up to about size 8. Anyone with food or clothing to donate can bring it to City Hall or call and Helen Tompkins will pick up the items.

Williamson honored by Youth Comm. Texas youth

State Representative Ric Williamson (D-Weatherford) has been recognized as the outstanding legislator of 1989 by the Texas Youth Commission. Ron Jackson, Executive Director of the TYC, said in presenting the award to Williamson, "No member of the Texas House of Representatives worked harder and produced as much for the disadvantaged youth of this state than Ric. His commitment to disciplined programs for juvenile offenders is an example for us all." Larry York, Chairman of the Texas Youth Commission Board, observed that "Ric's leadership in securing funds for drug rehabilitation programs will result in fewer adult criminals in Texas. His vision and leadership is without comparison."

Williamson, who has been recognized by the Dallas Morning News, Texas Farmers Union and Texas Monthly for his work in the area of consumer protection and state fiscal policy, commented "the more we invest in quality education for our children today, the less we will be required to invest in welfare and prisons tomorrow. I am deeply touched by this honor which goes to only one House member each session."

"I think that the city garbage budget should be applied to incentives for private business to start serious recycling. I believe the operation could soon pay for itself in addition to protecting the environment, providing jobs, conserving resources and even getting the city out of the waste disposal business."

Flusche's research leads to his belief that this kind of operation will be law in a few years. "Why couldn't we start working toward the better solution now?" he asked.

Carriker honored for his rural initiatives

Sen. Steve Carriker, D-Roby, has been singled out for two awards by the Texas Farmers Union for his work on rural issues during the 71st session of the Texas Legislature.

The legislator was presented a "White Hat" Award by the TFU - based on his voting records and committee work. Carriker, who represented the 30th District, was also given special recognition for "outstanding leadership in behalf of family farmers and ranchers and rural Texas," said Joe Rankin, TFU president.

Special recognition was also given to Reps. Dudley Harrison, D-Sanderson, and Lena Guerrero, D-Austin.

"I'm very proud of the role I've been able to play in developing programs for the people who live in rural Texas," Carriker said. "I hope that my efforts will focus more attention on the special problems faced by those of us who make our living in rural communities."

According to TFU Legislative Consultant Patrick Cox, legislators were selected for their awards based on work on rural health care, increasing aid and making improvements in public education and programs for the elderly, legislation which will improve the competitiveness of the state's family farmers and ranchers in today's marketplace, and legislation that continues the existence of the Department of Agriculture.

Texas oil production rate still at 100 percent

The Railroad Commission has continued the Texas oil production rate for August 1989 at 100 percent of market demand.

Chairman Kent Hance and Commissioners John Sharp and James E. (Jim) Nugent continued the top production allowable after reviewing oil companies' nominations to buy a total of 1,909,094 barrels of Texas oil per day. The August nomination total, a decrease of 19,139 barrels daily when compared to July purchaser nominations, indicates market demand. August 1988 nominations totaled 2,018,846 barrels daily.

The Commission first went to the ceiling level for oil production in April 1972. It applies to all fields in the state except those that are assigned lower legal rates of production so that reservoir pressures will not be depleted before the maximum amount of oil has been recovered.

Chairman Hance also reported that August nominations for the purchase of Texas gas totaled 21,274,580 Mcf/d. August 1988 nominations amounted to 22,256,770 Mcf/d.

Major purchasers filed these August nominations: Amoco Production Company, 155,000 barrels, unchanged; Conoco, Inc., 68,000 barrels, down 300; Exxon Company, U.S.A., 173,300 barrels, down 1,700; Mobil Oil Corp., 128,000 barrels, down 2,000; and Phillips 66 Company, 74,500 barrels, unchanged.

Stenholm prepares for annual FunDay Sept. 9

Only a few weeks remain before the top leaders of the House Democratic leadership arrive in West Texas to join Charlie and Cindy Stenholm for their annual FunDay in Stamford.

House Speaker Tom Foley, Majority Leader Richard Gephardt, Congresswoman Barbara Kennelly and Congressman Mike Parker and Bill Sarpalus will join the Stenholms for the weekend.

Foley, of Spokane, Washington, has an active interest in agriculture issues. He was the Agriculture Committee Chairman from 1975 to 1981 and actively worked on the 1985 farm bill.

Gephardt, of St. Louis, Missouri, is a former Presidential candidate and former Democratic Caucus Chairman.

Kennelly is from Hartford, Connecticut. She serves on the House Ways and Means Committee and the Democratic Steering and Policy Committee. She supports child-care deductions and standard deductions for single-parent families.

Parker is a freshman lawmaker from Brookhaven, Mississippi. He serves on the Veteran's Affairs Committee and the Public Works and Transportation Committee.

Sarpalus is also a freshman lawmaker from Amarillo. He traded in his seat in the Texas

Senate to run for Congress and currently serves on the House Agriculture Committee, and Small Business Committee.

"I am honored to have the top House Democratic leaders as well as my fellow colleagues come to our FunDay," said Stenholm. "Not only will they be sharing their friendship with us, they will also have an opportunity to meet my constituents of the 17th District. I think this helps them better understand our part of the country."

This is Stenholm's 11th year of service in the U.S. Congress.

Everyone is invited to the picnic on Saturday, Sept. 9, at the Eriksdahl picnic grounds, east of Stamford. The food line opens at 4:30 p.m. and will be topped off with the annual treat of Comanche County watermelon.

The cost of the Saturday picnic is $10.00 a person. Those who sell or buy 10 tickets ($100) will be listed as a picnic host and will also be invited to the Congressional Reception Friday evening.

Anyone selling or buying 25 tickets ($250) for FunDay will be listed as a host of the picnic and Friday reception.

Budget approved for Cooke County

by Elaine Schad

Cooke County commissioners this week approved a $6.1 million budget for the fiscal year 1990 which begins Oct. 1, and adopted a tax rate of 41.9 cents per $100 valuation of property.

The budget is a 1.3 percent increase from last year's $5.9 million budget. Included is a 5 percent across-the-board increase for county employees and elected officials. The county judge's salary, the highest paid of elected officials in Cooke County, will rise from $29,226 to $30,687. Pay raises for all the county's 142 employees will add about $100,000 to the budget. The sheriff and county commissioners salaries will rise from $24,947 to $26,194. The county attorney's salary will rise from $26,000 to $27,300 and the county tax assessor-collector from $24,542 to $26,909.

Also included in the budget is a $57,000 increase in the sheriff department budget, mainly to pay for five additional jailers as mandated by the state to run the new county jail.

The tax rate is a 1-cent reduction from last year's rate of 42.9 cents.

A new half-cent sales tax referendum approved by voters in May, however, is expected to bring in an additional $400,000 in new revenues. A $5 increase approved for license tag fees will generate another $120,000 in new revenues, officials said.

The county is expected to spend $310,000 in reserves to balance the 1990 general fund budget, said County Auditor Gloria Parrish. Some reserve funds will also be used to balance deficit road and bridge budgets, she said. The tax rate is expected to generate about $3.1 million in revenues, Parrish said.

A $14 million increase in the county's taxable value plus the sales tax revenue drops the effective tax rate to 34.93 cents. The new tax rate is subject to rollback provisions, since it is more than 8 percent over the effective tax rate.

The new property tax rate is expected to raise taxes on the average Cooke County home valued at $35,496 by $6.28, or by 4.82 percent, if appraised value remained the same as last year.

In other business, commissioners:

- Approved a fire contract with the City of Muenster for Muenster to provide the county with service outside their city limits for a fee of $2,250.

- Approved the new salary schedule for elected officials.

- Rejected a proposal for staggered terms for the board of directors for the Cooke County Appraisal District.

Breakthrough discovered for Cystic Fibrosis

In a recent news release the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation has announced that scientific papers reporting the discovery of the Cystic Fibrosis gene have been accepted for publication in Science magazine. This is considered confirmation that the gene has been found.

Discovery of this gene is a major step in learning how the disease attacks the body and could lead to treatments that could save lives. Dr. Francis Collins of the University of Michigan and Dr. Lap-Chee Tsui of the Hospital for Sick Children in Toronto are the principal researchers credited with this breakthrough.

Cystic Fibrosis is a disorder of the breathing system, pancreas and sweat glands. About 30,000 people in the United States have Cystic Fibrosis. Most of them are whites.

Twelve million Americans carry the gene, but both parents must be carriers to pass the gene to their offspring. People with one normal and one abnormal copy of the gene are carriers of the disease, but they do not suffer from the disease.

When carriers have a child there is a 25 percent chance that the baby will inherit two bad copies of the gene and develop Cystic Fibrosis. Another might inherit two copies of the normal gene and be completely free from Cystic Fibrosis. A third child could become a carrier by inheriting one good and one bad one.

Muenster people can be proud of the part that they have played recently to help aid CF research. Over $21,000 was raised by the 1989 Muenster Madness Bike Rally on Aug. 12.

Activities held in the Muenster City Park and concessions garnered about $1,000 for the CF cause.

Last year, the total earnings of the entire rally was around $1,000. This year's event was so popular that national cycling magazines are inquiring about 1990 dates.

Ben Bindel, local rally chairman, gives a "big thanks" to everyone who volunteered time money or energy to this worthwhile event.

CCAD resolution killed

by Elaine Schad

Concerned that their influence would be lessened, the county's three largest voting taxing entities have effectively killed a proposal to stagger terms and give each taxing entity one vote in the selection of the Cooke County Appraisal District board of directors.

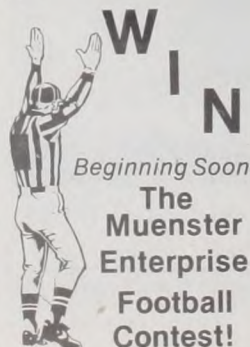

The Cooke County Commissioners this week became the third entity to reject the proposal. The City of Gainesville and the Gainesville ISD had earlier rejected the proposal. A three-fourths majority of the county's 11 voting entities was required for passage.

"If we approve this, our voting power would be diluted," said Cooke County Judge Jim Robertson.

Presently, five board members are elected every two years with voting entities given a certain number of votes in proportion to their tax levies. The three largest taxing entities have been able to place at least one director on the board without the help of any other entity. The smaller, rural school districts and cities, on the other hand, must pool their votes to select a number. The terms of all five CCAD board members expire Dec. 31.

Had the proposal been adopted, each entity would have been given one vote, giving the smaller entities the same voice as the larger ones. "I don't think anyone disagrees with the staggered terms," said CCAD board member Roger Martin. He said the CCAD may seek a change or clarification in the state property tax code which requires a change in how the entities vote if staggered terms are initiated. A similar resolution failed in 1986 for the same reason, with that board proposing a vote by precinct.

Lindsay ISD approves $1.2 million budget

by Elaine Schad
The Lindsay School Board approved a $1.2 million budget last week for the 1989-1990 school year.
The budget is an increase from last year's $1,017,987 budget, and includes several major additions. State-mandated salary increases of $1,800 per teacher and a 3 percent raise for auxiliary personnel will increase the budget by about $54,000. Roof repairs and painting on the campus will cost about $17,000. The district is also adding six new computers to its computer literacy program, converted the audio-visual room to a special education room, and is adding a new type of floor maintenance.
The board is expected to hold a public hearing on the tax rate sometime next week. The district is anticipating a tax increase, said Superintendent Gilbert Hermes. Lindsay's property values have increased from $50 million for 1988-89 to about $51 million for this year.

In other business, the school board:
- Approved a policy which will allow students in grades kindergarten through fourth to wear shorts, with lengths and types left to the teacher's discretion.
- Decided to convert the vacant lot near the kindergarten room into a lawn rather than a parking lot.
- Approved offering tutorial classes from 7:45 to 8:15 a.m. three times a week.
- Took no action on the Cooke County Appraisal District's budget, meaning the budget stands approved.
- Updated discipline management handbook, including a ban on paging devices, an expulsion policy which requires the district to notify another district if the student is attempting to enroll there. The board also passed a policy prohibiting boys from wearing earrings to classes or any school-sponsored event.

Valley View receives one year probation

by Elaine Schad
The Texas Water Commissioner has given the City of Valley View a one-year probationary period to comply with an enforcement order to upgrade its sewer system, temporarily setting aside a $2,700 penalty imposed for lack of compliance.
"Our plea was we could use the $2,700 on our system rather than giving it to the state," said Mayor John Kubicek. "The city of Valley View is very pleased the state leaned in our direction."
The town has received a two-year permit renewal on its sewer system, but is expected to meet stricter quality standards, because the effluent runs into a tributary that empties into Ray Roberts Lake. The TWC fined the town for submitting late reports on the compliance order.
Kubicek blamed the fine on a general lack of communication between the city, its engineer and the TWC. The city council has since hired another engineering firm, and has put Kubicek in charge of the enforcement order timetable.

"We're in compliance with discharge, and everything is in pretty good shape right now," Kubicek said. Should the city complete the requirements of the order according to schedule, they may request that the fine be taken away, he said.
The city this week is submitting a federal block grant application in hopes of getting funds for upgrading the system. The order calls for more regular monitoring of the system, installation of an additional aeration, and possibly upgrading the system to a higher quality 10-15 permit.

Rev. Harry Fisher is new Valley View pastor

by Elaine Schad
Rev. Harry Fisher will be welcomed as the new pastor at St. John's Catholic Church in Valley View after the 9:30 a.m. Mass on Sept. 3 and Sept. 10.
The Ladies of the Altar Society will host a reception with coffee and donuts after the Sept. 3 Sunday Mass. There will be a covered dish dinner following the Mass on Sept. 10.

Father Fisher will replace Rev. Gerald Cooney, who is leaving after five years at St. John's. Father Cooney will be an associate pastor in the Diocese of Dallas at Christ The King Catholic Church in Dallas. Father Fisher is coming to St. John's from Seymour. The Muenster native formerly served at parishes in Gainesville and Pilot Point.

Era ISD increases '90 budget

by Elaine Schad
The Era School Board last week approved a tax rate of $1.12 per $100 valuation of property to help fund the district's $1,370,363 budget for 1989-1990.
The tax rate is divided, with 85 cents for maintenance and operation and 27 cents for debt service. It represents a 3 percent total increase over the effective tax rate of $1.09. The effective tax rate is the rate which will bring in the same amount of tax dollars as last year. The actual tax rate, however, is 5 cents lower than last year's actual rate of $1.17.

Valley View ISD adopts new tax rate

by Elaine Schad
The Valley View School Board last week adopted a tax rate of $1.12 per $100 valuation of property and adopted a $1,956,362 budget for 1989-1990.
The tax rate is the same as last year's, and is divided with 70 cents for maintenance and operation and 42 cents for debt service. The district will use $86,000 in reserve funds to keep the rate at $1.12, the board decided.
The district used $108,000 in reserves last year to lower its tax rate. At the end of the 1989-1990 year, the officials estimate the district will still have just under $800,000 in reserves remaining. Board President Jimmy Kupper said the district wants to retain a good portion of its reserve funds in anticipation that more classrooms may be needed within the next couple of years to accommodate growth.

The budget represents a $156,000 increase from last year. Most of the increase, $114,000 will be for salaries. The district is passing along the state-mandated $1,800 teacher pay raise and a 6 percent salary increase for para-professional personnel. Another major expenditure will be $32,000 to purchase computer hardware to upgrade the district's computers. There will be a computer lab in all buildings and three computers in each classroom in grades three through six as a result of the purchases.

Tax rate is okayed by MISD trustees

by Elaine Schad
Muenster school trustees this week approved a tax rate of 62.062 per $100 valuation of property for 1989-1990 and adopted the budget for the new school year of $1,354,625.
The new rate is a 7.99 percent increase in revenues from last year's rate of 61.234 cents. The rate is divided, with 55.810 cents for maintenance and operation and 6.252 cents for debt service.
The district will take in more revenue with the rate mainly because of a $6 million increase in the tax base. The school district will use between $175,000 and $195,000 of its reserves to balance the budget, officials said.

The Muenster tax rate is expected to be the lowest in the county by the time all the entities have approved their rates. Comparable tax rates either approved or proposed for 1989-90 include $1.12 in both Era and Valley View school districts, a proposed $1.17 rate in Gainesville and 70.3 cents in Lindsay.
The new budget is about a $90,000 increase from last year's budget of $1,265,112. It reflects state-mandated teacher salary increases, a $5,000 increase for teacher supplies, and an increase in workman compensation rates.
The board, in another action, approved the proposal of the Cooke County Appraisal District to stagger the terms of the board of directors.

Couple exchange vows in St. Peter's Church

MRS. GREG JOSEPH HAVERKAMP

Mr. and Mrs. Greg Joseph Haverkamp were married on Saturday, Aug. 26, in St. Peter's Catholic Church in Lindsay. Father Denis Soerries celebrated their Nuptial Mass and officiated for their double-ring vows at 5 p.m. The couple is on a wedding trip to Nuevo Vallarta, Mexico and when they return will make their home in Denton.

The bride is the former Amy Sue Reiter of Muenster, daughter of Leonard Reiter of Muenster and Wanda Reiter of Gainesville. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Haverkamp of Lindsay.

Before an altar decorated with floral arrangements in shades of mauve and blues, and heart-shaped candelabras entwined with English ivy and holding lighted tapers, the bride was given in marriage by her father.

For her wedding gown, she chose a San Martin Original, imported from England, made of shimmering white satin trimmed with Schifflli embroidered lace. The exquisite lace was beaded throughout with pearl, sequins and occasional crystal drops. It featured a wedding band neckline with illusion yoke attached to a fitted bodice ending in a basque waistline. The front and back of the bodice were detailed in lace appliques and the sleeves were leg-of-mitten shaped with satin body and illusion cap trimmed in lace appliques. The skirt of the dress was full with a semi-cathedral train and was detailed with lace appliques both in the body and on the entire edge. A lovely satin bow at the back waistline completed the design of the dress.

The headpiece was a tiara style of white Venice lace trimmed in pearls and crystal beads with illusion fingertip-length veil completed with pouf and blusher of illusion.

She carried a white bridal cascade of hibiscus, ginger blossoms, marshberry sprays, pearl sprays and grape leaves, with her mother's rosary entwined.

For sentiment and tradition, she wore a filigree pin from her great-great-grandmother attached to the bow at the back of the dress, as "something old." For "something borrowed," she used the rosary that was a First Holy Communion gift to her mother.

ATTENDANTS

Mrs. Kirk Klement of Gainesville, the bride's sister Donna, was her matron of honor.

Mrs. Mark Klement of Muenster, the groom's sister Carol, Donna Haverkamp of Las Colinas and Janelle Haverkamp of Gainesville, also sisters of the groom, and Mrs. Danny Silmon of Muenster, the bride's sister Rhonda, and Mrs. Paul Cooper of Moss Lake, the bride's sister Lisa, were bridesmaids.

They wore tea-length gowns of mauves and blues, designed with round neck, dropped waistline and bow accent in back. They carried mixed Colonial bouquets in shades of mauves and blues.

The flower girl was the niece of the bride, Karime Klement of Gainesville, escorted by Jeffrey Haverkamp of Muenster, nephew of the bride.

The ring bearer was Nicholas Silmon of Muenster, bride's nephew.

Tommy Haverkamp of Krum was his brother's best man, Mark Klement of Muenster and Sammy Zimmerer of Watauga, both brothers-in-law of the groom, Dale Reiter, bride's brother of Muenster, Kirk Klement of Gainesville, bride's brother-in-law, and John Dieter of Gainesville, a friend of the groom, were groomsmen.

Pat Fuhrmann, Danny Silmon, Jeff Metzler and Doug Anderle served as ushers. Mass servers were Ronnie Dieter and Greg Arendt.

Also assisting with the special liturgy as Eucharistic Ministers were Lupe Evans of Muenster, Rudy Dieter of Lindsay and David Strittmatter of Pilot Point, uncle of the groom.

Liturgical wedding music included organ solos, "Trumpet Voluntare" for the bride's entry and "Canon in D" for the bridesmaids. Vocal selections were "The Rose," "Only A Shadow" and "Wherever You Go." Ruth Felderhoff of Muenster was organist and Emily Klement of Muenster and Roger Dieter of Gainesville were vocalists.

RECEPTION

A formal reception was held in the Knights of Columbus Hall in Gainesville, hosted by parents of the bride and groom.

Presiding at the bride's book were JoEll Hellman of Muenster and Sandy Tempel, also of Muenster.

The bride's table was covered with white lace cloths over mauve, decorated with English ivy entwined with pearl beads.

The three-tiered wedding cake, made by Betty Rose Walterscheid, was placed over a fountain and accented at the base with greenery, silk flowers and candles. The keepsake top layer held a cupid-and-hearts crystal ornament.

Cake servers were Terri Whitley of Muenster, Megan and Amber Taylor of Lindsay, and Crystal Sea of Cleburne.

A rehearsal dinner on Sunday, Aug. 19, was hosted by the groom's parents.

The bride is a graduate of Muenster High School and Cooke County College. She is employed as a Chiropractic Assistant by Ronald L. Rupert, M.S.D.C. of North Texas Chiropractic in Denton.

SH History students support Amelia Earhart's search

Sacred Heart High School History students expect to be on the leading edge of historical discovery as they donated funds to the International Group for Historical Aircraft Recovery (TIGHAR). TIGHAR will set out on Labor Day with a 14-person expedition in search of Amelia Earhart's aircraft which disappeared July 1937 near Howland Island in the South Pacific.

The TIGHAR group has evidence that the Earhart plane landed in the Phoenix Islands, 150 miles south of Howland, based on little-known 1947 naval photograph, and on post-loss radio signals which continued for one week after the aircraft went down.

The group also sent a letter of support for the search team, and will receive updates on the expedition's progress from its Wilmington, Delaware headquarters. One of the expedition leaders, Mr. Gillespie, will forward a handbook on the search project for the students.

Sacred Heart's participation in the project will be sponsored by Mr. Joe Caserta, U.S. History teacher.

Centennial quilt is ready for raffle

The Muenster Centennial quilt is finally completed after many hours of planning and delicate needlework.

June Bartush, Pam Dangelmayr, Joni Sturm and Lynn Dangelmayr served on the quilt planning committee which was organized by Juanita Bright.

Committee members planned the contents of the quilt squares and later pieced them. Each square is symbolic of a part of Muenster's history or heritage.

Squares are all hand applied or embroidered. Some are the personal design of their seamstress.

Squares and makers are as follows: Centennial logo, Gertrude Horn; Sacred Heart Elementary School, applique by Stacie Miller and drawing by Bert Hesse; church, Lucille Lutkenhaus; pump jack, Peggy Grewing; dairy scene, Jo Ann Sicking; hay wagon ride, Joni Sturm; cotton bolls, June Bartush; windmill, Dolores Miller; abundance of vegetables, Dorothy Mae Yosten; red barn, Pam Dangelmayr; medal of St. Benedict, Eva Walterscheid; and sunflower, Marcy Wilde.

The queen-size quilt was quilted by SNAP quilters and Dorothy Hartman did the binding.

What You Don't Know Can Hurt You.

But not if you take a few minutes to learn about electrical safety around your home or business.

Here are a few safety tips worth remembering.

Overhead.

Never fly a kite, or raise an antenna or place a ladder where it can come in contact with a power line. Touching power lines with any object can result in serious injury or even death. Stay clear of all overhead power lines.

Underground.

Know before you dig. Some neighborhoods have underground power lines. If you don't know whether you have underground power lines, or if you need to know their location, call TU Electric.

Out and around.

Pad mounted transformers, large metal boxes that are usually green or cream colored, are safe when they are closed and locked. However, if one is opened or damaged, it can be deadly. Call TU Electric immediately to report the situation and warn others to stay away until the repairman arrives.

Be safe around electricity.

Being aware of the location of power lines can save your life or the life of a loved one. So take time now, before you start your next fix-up project, to learn the location of power lines near your home or business. Because what you know about power lines can make the difference between being safe or being sorry.

DON'T LET A POWER LINE BE THE END OF THE LINE.

SH Tigers show improvement in test

The Sacred Heart Tigers had their first test of the year when they hosted Collinsville to a scrimmage Saturday night. "I'm pleased with the way things went," commented second-year coach John Sims. "We have a lot of work to do, but we're further along this year than last."

With nine starters returning from a 5-4-1 team, the Pirates outscored the Tigers 0-0 and 0-3, the first string holding their scoreless.

Collinsville took first possession, moving the ball early before the Tigers shut them down. "The kids were confused when we first started out," said Sims. "The first three plays they ran against us we had a new defensive tackle; it took a while to adjust."

Sacred Heart covered 4 fumbles and Shawn Dangelmayr intercepted two passes. The Tigers had only two turnovers, with their best penetration to the 30-yard line.

"The secondary players showed the biggest improvement," said the coach, noting Tony Grewing, Jason Endres, David Rohmer, David Miller and Ryan Hess as standouts.

"We lost everyone in the offensive backfield," he continued. "Tony and Ryan never carried and Shawn's a new quarterback. Chris Hess is the only one with experience." The Tigers lost seven starters from last year's 7-4 playoff team.

"I'm overall pleased with the younger kids and their efforts, they're hitting real well and much improved," said Coach Sims. "We have to have good defense and a great kicking game to make up for the young offense."

Sacred Heart travels to Alvord to scrimmage next Friday. Coach Sims is planning on running the same format as in the first scrimmage. "I hope the five sick and hurting boys will be ready."

Junior Josh McCoy will be out for the season with a shoulder injury, but Coach is looking for a few more new recruits with the start of school.

SACRED HEART defense fought hard against a tough Collinsville team at the season's opening scrimmage last Saturday night. The Tigers will travel to Alvord Friday night before their first true test against Era on Sept. 8. Janie Hartman Photos

Hornets face Howe

The Muenster High School football squads will travel to Howe Friday night for a 6 p.m. scrimmage. The Hornets scrimmaged among themselves last Friday night after Coach Bill Jump was unable to find a replacement team for Chico, who cancelled the practice earlier in the week.

The Junior Varsity will begin the night with two offensive and two defensive series, followed by three or four series for the varsity squad with 15 or more plays.

Howe will treat the Hornets to hot dogs after the scrimmage.

Muenster Golf Association to host championship

Dan Hamric, president of the Muenster Golf Association, has reserved Sunday, Sept. 10, for the MGA Championship Tournament to be held at the Nocona Municipal Golf Course. The tournament will break from its regular four-person scramble format to individual play in order to determine the top male and female golfers of the year. Hamric and his committee are hoping for a large turnout for the last big golf event of the year.

Any golfer that has played in at least one tournament this year is eligible to play. In the event someone has not played in a tournament this year and desires to play in the championship, they will be welcome if they are living in Muenster or are a former member of the association.

The only cost for the tournament and refreshments will be the $5.00 membership dues which all members will be assessed on tournament day, Sept. 10.

Since this is to determine the championship, strict USGA rules will be upheld. Regular winter rules will prevail and specific rules on the score card apply. A quick summary of a few rules to be enforced are: men will play from the blue (championship) tees; women will play from their regular tees; a lie may not be improved in the rough but only within the fairways; no relief may be taken away from trees, water, ditches, etc. unless in the fairways when a two-club drop may be taken. Golfers may pick their own twosomes for ease of cart rental problems. Two twosomes will be paired together by the directors Sunday morning. (Please don't try to request a particular foursome). Registration must be in by 8:45 a.m. for a shotgun start at 9 a.m. sharp.

Trophies will be awarded for 1st, 2nd and 3rd in four divisions: men's handicap, men's scratch, ladies' handicap and ladies' scratch. There will also be trophies awarded for men's and women's longest drive and closest to the pin. Additional prizes include a $300.00 cash prize for any hole-in-one scored at the tournament. A special hole-in-one prize, sponsored by Coaches Trophies of Muenster, will be a new (well, not exactly new) 1971 Jeep CJ5 four-wheel drive hunter's dream. The Jeep will be given for a hole-in-one on the tough 165-yard 13th hole.

Following the tournament, there will be a barbecue dinner for all members at 2 p.m. in the Muenster City Park. Non-members attending will be charged $5.00 per person and $3.00 for students. Trophies and prizes will be awarded around 3 p.m. with election of officers for 1990 immediately following. Golf Association members unable to play are welcome and invited to attend the barbecue and sign-up for the 1990 season.

Hunting, fishing license sales on rise in Texas

Texas followed a nationwide pattern of modest gains in sales of hunting and fishing licenses during fiscal year 1988, according to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

The number of paid hunting and fishing license holders, the numbers of licenses, permits and stamps sold, and gross expenditures by sportsmen for licenses increased across the board in Texas during 1988 over the previous fiscal year.

Similar figures were reported by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, indicating that hunting and fishing license sales nationwide increased some seven percent. The number of paid hunting and fishing license holders also increased slightly over 1987, the federal agency said.

In Texas, the numbers of resident and nonresident hunting and fishing license holders each increased by approximately one percent. A total of 1,202,781 persons purchased hunting licenses in 1988, compared to 1,190,075 in 1987. The number of fishermen purchasing licenses increased from 1,878,278 in 1987 to 1,897,041 in 1988. The number of nonresident fishing licenses and stamps increased by 1,270 during the period.

Sales of Texas' General Nonresident ($200) hunting license increased by 451 licenses, and in revenue by $117,964. However, this gain was offset by reduced revenues resulting from establishment of a new Nonresident Five-day Small Game License in 1988. The five-day license was purchased by many hunters who formerly were required to have the $75 Nonresident Small Game License which was valid for the entire fiscal year.

Texas hunting and fishing licenses and stamps expire each year on Aug. 31. New licenses will be available from department offices across the state and from retail outlets during August.

Hunting directory available

(AUSTIN)—"When the fall hunting season rolls around, the smart hunters will be those with a new copy of the 1989 Texas Hunter's Clearinghouse Directory," Deputy State Agriculture Commissioner Mike Moeller said. "A 90-page Directory Update is now available from the Texas Department of Agriculture for interested Texas hunters and landowners."

The June edition of the directory lists nearly 900 available leases covering a total of 5.3 million acres in every region of Texas. The June edition contains approximately 33,000 acres not listed in previous editions. Directory listings cover all types of game including white tail deer, turkey, javalena, pheasant and quail.

For more information on the Texas Hunter's Clearinghouse, write Office of Farmer Assistance Programs, Texas Department of Agriculture, P. O. Box 12847, Austin, Texas 78711.

THE LINDSAY KNIGHTS continue their tough daily workouts in preparation for Friday's scrimmage against Perrin. Action begins at 6 p.m. with the junior varsity and the varsity both seeing action. The Knights scrimmaged a tough Bells team last week, finishing 1-2. "Bell is picked to win their district," said Knights Coach Pat Benton. "With 60 players and 26 seniors, they may just make it." Lindsay starts pre-season on Sept. 8, hosting Aubrey in an 8 p.m. contest.

Migratory regulations adopted

Dove hunting regulations set by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission for the 1989-90 hunting season are similar to last year's, with the exception of a modified bag limit for mourning doves during the four-day white-winged dove season.

Meeting in Austin June 15, the commission adopted regulations for early-season species, including doves, rails, gallinules and teal ducks.

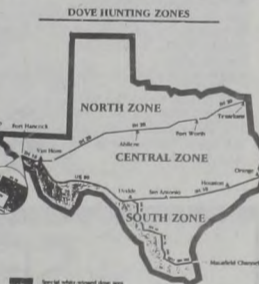

Mourning dove seasons for 1989-90 are: North Zone, Sept. 1-Nov. 9; Central Zone, Sept. 1-Oct. 30 and Jan. 6-15; South Zone, Sept. 20-Nov. 18 (Nov. 14 in the Special White-Winged Dove Area), and Jan. 6-15. The bag limit in all three zones is 12 mourning, white-winged and white-tipped doves in the aggregate, including no more than two white-winged and white-tipped doves per day. The possession limit is twice the daily bag limit. Shooting hours are one-half hour before sunrise to sunset.

The four-day whitewing season in the Special White-winged Dove Area is Sept. 2-3 and 9-10. One fully-feathered wing is required, as in the past, on all dressed doves at all times in the South Zone and the Special White-winged Dove area. Shooting hours during the special whitewing season are noon to sunset.

The commission authorized a change in the mourning dove bag limit during the whitewing season. In that portion of the Special White-winged Dove Area north and west of the International Toll Bridge and U.S. Highway 277 Spur in Del Rio, the limit is 10 white-winged, mourning and white-tipped (white-fronted) doves in the aggregate, to include no more than two white-tipped doves per day. South and east of that line, the limit is 10 white-winged, mourning and white-tipped doves in the aggregate, to include no more than five mourning doves and two white-tipped doves per day. The possession limit is twice the daily bag limit in each area.

Officials said the more restrictive bag limit south of Del Rio was due to biological concerns about late-nesting mourning doves. If research currently proposed by the department indicates the new regulations are not adversely affecting dove populations, the bag limit south of Del Rio may be adjusted in the future.

The season framework established by the U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service (USFWS) for 1989 continued the suspension of the early teal season started in 1988. Department biologists, together with other biologists in the Central Flyway, have sought to have the special teal season restored for the 1989 season but have been unsuccessful. The suspension of the teal season is due to continued drought on the breeding grounds.

Seasons and bag limits proposed for other early-season species are:

Rails, Sept. 1-Nov. 9, bag limit 15 King and Clapper rails, possession limit 30; bag limit 25 Sora and Virginia rails with a possession limit of 25.

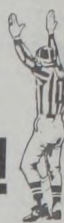

Gallinules, all species (common moorhen and purple gallinule), Sept. 1-Nov. 9; bag limit 15 per day, possession limit 30.

Shooting hours for rails and gallinules are one-half hour before sunrise to sunset.

The season remains closed on red-billed pigeons, band-tailed pigeons and shorebirds.

Practice safety awareness on Labor Day Sign up now for Boys Club football!

The traffic death count for the Labor Day weekend could go as high as 34 persons, the Department of Public Safety has estimated.

In 1988, 30 persons died in traffic accidents during the 78-hour Labor Day period. Two critically injured persons died later, for a total of 32 fatalities. This year's Labor Day period also is 78 hours, beginning at 6 p.m. Friday, Sept. 1, and continuing through midnight, Monday, Sept. 4.

"The Department of Public Safety will be doing everything it can to ensure you have a safe holiday, but we need your help," Col. Milner said. "Please, don't drink and drive, stay within the speed limit, and wear your safety belt."

Last year, 21 persons died in DWI- or speed-related accidents during the Labor Day period. That amounts to 66 percent of all the deaths. Also last year, of the 23 persons killed as occupants of cars, trucks or buses, 18 - or 78 percent - had not been wearing safety belts.

"We believe safety awareness does make a difference," Col. Milner said. "So far, no traffic fatality has been reported anywhere in Texas for June 13. If this holds up, it will be the first time since 1977 we have had a day with no traffic deaths in Texas. Let's make it happen again this Labor Day."

During the Labor Day period, all available DPS Troopers will be patrolling the state's roadways. Periodic reports on the number of traffic fatalities will be issued to remind motorists of the need for safe driving.

Muenster boys, grades 5 and 6, interested in playing Gainesville Boys Club Football, are urged to call Cliff Sicking at 759-4242 before Sept. 9.

Call as soon as possible as organizers need to know if there are enough interested boys to make a team.

Boys will suit up at 10 a.m. on Sept. 9, at the Gainesville Boys Club. An activity fee of $20 will be charged. The Boys Club membership fee is $12.

TX Ag Dept. accused of breaking state law; paid public money for lobbyists

The Texas Department of Agriculture paid 2 professional lobbyists to act on its behalf during the 1989 regular legislative session, despite a law prohibiting state agencies from hiring lobbyists, according to several recent media reports.

Lawmakers debated bitterly over sunset legislation which would determine the future of Hightower's job and the direction of the agency.

The Austin American-Statesman reported that Gordon "Doc" Arnold and Joseph Lynn Nabers, both former state representatives, were hired under separate contracts totaling $58,000.

The Dallas Morning News also revealed that the wife of a prominent state legislator allied closely with Ag Commissioner Jim Hightower was paid consultant fees by TDA. Kathy Dale Carraker, wife of Sen. Steve Carraker, D-Roby, got nearly $16,500 to compile a directory of rural artists and craftsmen who sell handicrafts.

Sen. Carraker, a member of the Natural Resources Committee and a former member of the House Ag and Livestock Committee, denied that his wife's consulting contract influenced his voting.

However, during his Senate race in 1988, the Lone Star Chapter of the Sierra Club noted in its endorsement that he was the only member of the (ag) committee "to oppose efforts to strip Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower of his authority to regulate pesticides."

Commissioner Hightower's hiring practices got him into hot water at least once before when he named his long-time companion to a key TDA management job. The position was eliminated by lawmakers after an effort to expand the state's nepotism law to include cohabitation failed.

In a copyrighted story, the Houston Chronicle said its investigation of TDA business practices showed that Commissioner Hightower used state-employed radio and television technicians to "feed local stations with news clips and canned stories during a major fight for his political life."

In addition to a 2-person press operation, Hightower also has a $1.3 million information services division which the paper claimed Hightower has used to advance his own political agenda.

During the debate over the agency, TSCRA, Texas Farm Bureau, Texas Cattle Feeders and a host of other mainstream ag groups argued that Hightower was abusing his office by diverting resources to promote his career and plans for a new political movement.

In fact, Hightower himself told the liberal Texas Observer newspaper in 1982 that he saw the ag commissioner slot as a "bully pulpit," a starting point to "run for the higher office, for our (populist) movement..."

Indeed, Hightower, for a time, did declare himself a candidate for the US Senate job held by Phil Gramm, but abandoned those plans, instead, to seek reelection.

TSCRA also has learned that TDA employees, in yet another apparent conflict with state law, were used to lobby lawmakers during the regular session. On numerous occasions, the TDA staff communicated from the state capitol via mobile phones reportedly provided by labor unions.

Under the state's Appropriations Act, state money cannot be used "for influencing the outcome of any election, or the passage or defeat of any legislative measure." The law prohibits state agencies from hiring people to lobby.

State law defines lobbyists as those "who, by direct communication with government officers, engage in efforts to persuade members of the legislative or executive branch to take specific actions."

The use of television feeds featuring politicians such as Hightower may also violate the intent of a law that prohibits the expenditure of state funds "to print publications of any type which prominently display the name or picture of statewide elected officials," the Chronicle said.

Between February and May, at the height of the legislative fight over his job, Hightower sent out 8 radio stories and 2 television packages featuring Hightower supporters. In all, Hightower was personally featured in 18 television and 17 radio spots during that time period, the Chronicle said.

TDA officials and lobbyists denied any wrongdoing. Commissioner Hightower was unavailable for comment.

However, the recent media revelations prompted Rep. Bruce Gibson, D-Godley, chairman of the House Government Organizations Committee, to call for a new, stricter ban preventing state agencies from hiring professional lobbyists. Gibson earlier told the media that Arnold and Hightower met with him during the session to discuss the sunset legislation.

"It was lobbying, no question about it," he said. "Anytime you contact a member about his position or policy, that's lobbying. If that's not, what is lobbying?"

County Agent's Report

by Craig Rosenbaum

Winter pastures for Cooke County

Winter pastures in Cooke County can provide high quality forage during the season when summer pastures are dormant. Winter pastures can also provide an option for harvesting grain. Winter forages will provide an equivalent feed ration of 2/3 grain and 1/3 cottonseed meal.

Rainfall patterns in North Central Texas are favorable for a long growing season, beginning in late August and continuing through May. Temperatures during much of this time are favorable for cool season forage production.

Winter grazing comes from early fall growth! Adequate fertilization and early planting are essential for early forage growth. All pasture production practices should be performed to maximize forage growth before Dec. 1. Forage growth is reduced remarkably when temperature declines below 65°F. As winter approaches, day length is shorter, cloud cover increases and cooler temperatures prevail. All these factors are unfavorable for optimum winter forage growth. Thus, winter grazing must be grown during fall months.

You should plant adapted, high yielding varieties. Plant certified seed which has been treated with a recommended fungicide.

Oats are not as winter hardy and will not grow at as low a temperature as will wheat, barley or rye. Oats are usually the most palatable of all small grains and provide early grazing.

Wheat is well adapted to the area and performs satisfactorily in the grazing program. Wheat and rye can survive lower temperatures than oats.

Rye usually provides early grazing, grows in mid-winter, ceases growth and matures earlier in the spring than other small grains. Ryegrass could be a good combination with rye.

Barley survives lower temperatures than oats, but forage production usually is less than other species.

Triticale is a hybrid between durum wheat and rye. Triticale frequently produces the highest forage yields of other species. The grain has little market value.

Ryegrass performs satisfactorily on soils with better moisture relationships. Ryegrass grows later in the fall and matures 4 to 6 weeks later in the spring than small grains. Ryegrass usually can be grown successfully in combination with small grain species.

Heavy seedings provide earlier grazing, although total forage production may be the same as with lower seeding rates. For combinations of ryegrass and small grains, plant 15 pounds of ryegrass in addition to 100 pounds of small grain.

And plant near Sept. 1. If seedlings are not made during early September, reduced fall and winter grazing can be expected.

Stocker Cattle Seminar set for Sept. 13

A special Stocker Cattle Seminar will be held Wednesday, Sept. 13, at the Cooke County Fairgrounds. Companies with cattle products and services will be on hand to visit with producers from 5:30 p.m. until the program starts at 7 p.m. A seminar will be held on health and receiving practices, live cattle evaluations, and forage and supplement management. Mark your calendars for Wednesday, Sept. 13!
