NUMBER 16

Last week's New Hampshire primary told us nothing new as far as the Democratic race is concerned. President Carter has good reason to assume that his nomination is in the bag. Ted Kennedy is finding that being more liberal than his already too liberal party is too much for the voters to take. Besides he's finding that the Chappaquiddick affair is too much for voters to forget.

Meanwhile Carter continues to relish the wave of popularity that surfaced with the Iranian and Afghanistan incidents. The nation which was sick and tired of his failure to do anything about inflation and the energy crisis suddenly forgot the domestic problems and got enthusiastic about patriotism. They liked Carter's cool hand in dealing with the hostage situation, giving him credit for saving lives, while meanwhile talking tough with Soviets for violating rights in Afghanistan.

The significant facts about the whole situation is that the president really hasn't done anything to settle the foreign affairs problem, nor has he done anything about the principal domestic problems. Mostly he has been reaping lush political benefits from the situation which can be blamed to a great extent on his own mistakes in the first place.

Declining respect for United States all over the world led the mob of irresponsible Iranians to assume, rightly, that they could get by with insulting the United States. And our military weakness, the result of a foolish defense policy, prompted the Russians to show their muscle.

On the other side of the political situation, the famous New Hampshire sample yielded the best sign that has been seen to date in the campaign. Ronald Reagan, the early GOP front runner, who lost a lot of prestige in the Iowa Caucus, emerged as the strong candidate for his party's nomination. If he can keep up the good work our country may at last have the good fortune to choose between the traditional principles on which it thrived for 150 years, and the socialistic principles on which it declined for the past 50 years.

Reagan is a dedicated conservative believing in the old time basics of free enterprise and personal freedom with the least possible burden of taxation and regulation imposed on the people whereas the government's responsibility mainly is to safeguard personal rights and national security. Reagan's policy is to eliminate useless spending thereby relieving taxpayers of that burden. This applies to unneeded projects and programs and to the thousands of unneeded bureaucrats who administer them. It applies also to our welfare system, eliminating drones who can and should pay their own way, and it applies especially to welfare cheats who ought to be taken off the rolls.

These are the kind of reforms we hear about every election year. Candidates have always promised more economy and lower taxation, but when they get into office they go back to government as usual. Well, it's different this time. Reagan has made such claims before and he has made good on them before. As governor of California he slashed expenditures, got the state out of the red and restored it to a solid financial footing. Meanwhile he lowered taxes enabling people to keep a higher percentage of their earnings for themselves.

At first glance it seems that this election year is just right for the Republicans. continued on Page 14...

Track Meet to Host Over 500 Contestants

Muenster High's first track meet in its new facility is shaping up as a big event. Coach Jerry Stinson said that he expects more than 500 participants in the 24 schools which have indicated that they will send teams.

Anna, Sanger, S&S, Muenster, Sacred Heart, Boyd, Era, Pilot Point, Pottsboro, Whitesboro, Greenhill, Saint Jo, Cumby, Bells, Carroll, Howe and Van Alstyne. Schools not sending girls teams are Perrin and Blue Ridge.

Curtis Henschel will be one of Sacred Heart's entries in the hurdles Saturday in the first track meet sponsored by Muenster High School on its new field. Janie Hartman Photo

The meet is booked for next Saturday, March 8, starting with a meeting at 8:15 in the MHS gym. Beginning at 9 o'clock a long list of preliminaries will start in both track and field events. According to Stinson's estimate there will be several preliminaries each in the elimination process that will determine eligibility for the finals, which will begin at 2:30.

In keeping with a new UIL regulation, the district has gone metric for the first time. Anticipating the change the MHS track was built to those specifications when under construction last year. Another special feature is our all weather surface providing ideal footing regardless of the elements.

Events booked for both boys and girls are the 400 meter relay, 100 meter dash, 200 meter dash, 400 meter dash, 800 meter dash, 1600 meter run, 1600 meter relay, high jump, shot put, discus and long jump. Events for boys only are 110 meter high hurdles, 300 meter intermediate hurdles and pole vault. And events for girls only are 100 meter low hurdles, 900 meter relay and triple jump.

Twenty four schools are represented, 22 of them being in both boys and girls divisions. They are Paradise, Lindsay, Valley View, Callisburg, Aubrey, and afterward to help reload. During collections they will serve donuts and fruit juices.

The regional center of the Red Cross blood service, with headquarters in Wichita Falls, serves 41 hospitals in an area of 28 counties of North Texas and South Oklahoma by providing free blood to patients of the hospitals or to members of the area receiving transfusions in other hospitals. The only charge is for processing and storage, delivery, etc. There is no charge for the blood because it is donated. Hence the total charge for a transfusion is about half of what is charged when commercial blood is used.

Affiliation with this system is regarded as a distinct asset to patients of the Muenster Hospital and to residents of the hospital district. The savings are substantial, especially when large quantities are used. When used for a district

Crowd Praises Arts-Crafts Show

Hundreds of visitors were at Muenster Public School Tuesday night for the open house observing Texas Public Schools week. The event was sponsored by the Muenster Parent Teacher Organization headed by Mrs. Don Park.

For the occasion all classrooms were open and teachers were present to show facilities as well as answer questions about classroom.

The special feature of the occasion was an arts and crafts show in the gym displaying handiwork from all grades, kindergarten through 12. Included drawings, paintings, posters, needlework, arrangements, welding and a wide variety of woodwork from the shop department. They had been judged before the show and awarded blue, red and white ribbons according to merit rather than competitively. In addition the outstanding entries of categories received Best of Show pink ribbons.

Of the 473 entries, 157 received first place blue ribbons, 98 received second

Reservoir Proposals Updated

The status of Muenster's proposed municipal reservoir was brought up to date Tuesday at the City Hall in a meeting of the City Water Board and the City Council with representatives of the Soil Conservation Service and Texoma Regional Planning Commission.

Attending were Mayor Leonard Endres, Engineer Don Fleming, Asst. City Superintendent Steve Moser, and Councilmen A.T. Tuggle and Richard Grewing of the City; Pres. Henry Weinzapfel and David Bright, Gene Hoedebeck and Michael Sloan of the water board; Ronald Herring, Beade Northcutt and Jack Bradley of SCS; and Jerry Chapman of TRPC.

Northcutt presented a breakdown of costs in the several stages of the project as of the newest estimates late in 1979. Costs were on cost of the land along with construction amounts to be charged for flood control and city water supply and recreation, the three purposes for which the project is intended.

Total cost currently is estimated at $3,093,720, of which $1,180,060 is quoted as the city and water district's share and $1,913,660 is the SCS share.

Herring explained that the total area required for the reservoir is 619 acres plus easement or purchase of an additional 53.2 acres for back-up space in case of extra heavy flooding. Surface area at the spillway level is 533 acres with a capacity of 10,550 acre feet. Some 6,000 acre feet of that quantity is for flood control and permitting it to flow away leaves a permanent pool of some 4,550 acre feet with a surface area of 309 acres. This is the water intended for the city's use, and is estimated to be adequate for the next 40 years at the present rate of growth.

Weinzapfel said that the water board's intention is to prepare a full presentation of the project for a hearing to be held soon. It will include details on cost and size along with proposals for retiring the debt.

Also on schedule is a meeting Friday at Austin to renew the district's water right permit. As pointed out by Weinzapfel, the permit secured 5 years ago has expired, and a new one is needed to keep the project going. In their meeting the board members expect the usual opposition from the City of Dallas, which wants the water rights to the entire Trinity Watershed.

Exceptions Apply To Zoning Ordinance

Up to now the exception applies more than the rule with regard to the city's recently adopted zoning ordinance. The city council at its regular meeting Monday night heard and approved four requests for locations of structures or activities outside the specified zones.

Evelyn and Jerry Sicking received a permit to convert the garage of their home, in southeast Muenster, into a beauty salon.

Mr. and Mrs. James Krahl received a permit to move a mobile home to a location on 5th street, a half block west of Mesquite. The area adjoins Sylvan's Trailer Park and in effect is an extension of the park.

Also granted was a permit to First Baptist Church to set up a mobile home for its pastor adjoining the church.

And Tommy Tuggle received a permit to erect a commercial building on the west side of Block 38, which amounts to an extension of an existing commercial zone. The east side of the block is on Main Street the space being occupied by Knabe Tire and Radiator.

In behalf of the Muenster Fire Department, Harvey Schmitt asked the council to provide fire phones in the homes of two more fire department members, also to sponsor attendance by two members at the annual firemen's school at A&M University, and also to furnish the meeting room with two tables and twenty chairs. The council approved the two additional phones, also voted to send our firemen to the short course and to provide one table and ten chairs for the meeting room.

Request for a street light on Cherry Lane was tabled pending a study of installation plans and costs relative to the buried lines of that area.

Also tabled was a noise ordinance, allowing council members until the next meeting to read it.

Salaries for the coming year are unchanged. The mayor will receive $90 a year and the councilmen will receive $4 per meeting.

Stenholm to Visit Saint Jo Saturday

Voters of the Muenster-Saint Jo area will have an opportunity Saturday night, Mar. 8, at 7 p.m. to meet with Congressman Charles Stenholm in the auditorium of Saint Jo High School.

A member of several key committees of the House, Stenholm is qualified to discuss agriculture, Social Security, energy and other urgent issues. His visit is sponsored by the Twentieth Century Club and the Lions Club of Saint Jo.

Chamber Prepares for Banquet

Will Nabors, communications specialist of Lone Star Gas Co., will be the speaker when the Muenster Chamber of Commerce holds its annual banquet next Wednesday night in the K of C Hall.

A member of the company's speaking bureau for the past three years, he has presented programs to numerous audiences throughout the Lone Star system. He is a graduate of the University of Texas at Austin and has served as district manager at Rockwall and Athens.

In addition to being the year's number 1 social event of the Chamber of Commerce, the banquet is the occasion for installing new directors and officers, recognizing its outstanding member of the year, and reviewing activities of the Change of Ownership For Flower Shop

Flowers by Dolores, the florist shop owned and operated by Dolores Luke across from Muenster Memorial Hospital for the past eleven years, has been changed in name, ownership and operation.

As of last Saturday, exactly 11 years after it was established on March 1, 1969, the new name is Creative Flowers and Gifts, and the new owners are Mr. and Mrs. Dwayne Pagel, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Wimmer, Sharlene Pagel and Robert Hartman. Operators are Sharlene Pagel and Mrs. Dwayne Pagel.

The intention of the new owners is to continue with their well established flower business and to add a line of gifts.

Flowers by Dolores had a humble beginning in the area originally serving as a carport of the Luke home. After installation of storage facilities and furnishings, it was crowded from the start, and soon began expanding into the home. The growth continued through several years until the family was crowded out and built a new home, leaving the other for sole use of the flower business.

Growth of trade area was comparable. Flowers by Dolores started as a service to Muenster, and its popularity spread gradually to the neighboring communities. Affiliation with Florist Transworld Delivery has further extended its trade area, enabling the flower shop to serve people of other communities, other states and even other nations. Through FTD it can make local delivery of flowers that were ordered on the far side of the earth, or it can originate an order for delivery thousands of miles away.

Races Indicated on 2 of 4 Local Election Ballots

As filing deadlines arrive, one race is indicated in the Muenster school board election on April 5, and two in the college trustee election. However, no contests are seen for the city council and hospital board elections.

On the school board, terms are expiring for Adam Wolf and Eddie Fleitman. Wolf, in Position 1, is not asking for re-election and Gerald "Jerry" Walterscheid and Dale Klement are candidates for his place. Fleitman is opposed for re-election.

On the board of Cooke County College, Don Howeth will not seek re-election to Place 6, and Chuck Williams, Alan Ritchey and Joe Fox are competing for his job. Also Boyd Ware, incumbent in Place 7 is challenged by Doug Selby.

Muenster Hospital District, with a filing deadline of March 11, has four present members asking for re-election. They are Albert Dangelmayr, William Hermes, George Berry and Rufus Henschel. Ray Voth, whose term is expiring, has indicated that he will not run. A vacancy presently exists for his replacement on the ballot.

The city election is routine. Incumbents Rich Grewing, Aubrey Tuggle and Bertha Hamric are all unopposed for re-election.

WHAT THE ECONOMISTS MEAN
 In the discussions about America's number one economic problem, inflation, we are deluged with terms which are bound to be new to most people. Let's see if we can't dispel some of the fog surrounding these economic terms used by the economists and commentators.

No matter whether it's the daily newspaper or a weekly news magazine we may be reading, we are bound to find an article discussing the latest action of the Federal Reserve Board in attempting to cure inflation. Here are two terms we need to understand.

The Federal Reserve Board refers to the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System. These seven individuals, appointed by the President for 14 year terms, set monetary policy for the System, which is the central bank of the United States.

Monetary Policy can be loose, tight or stabilized, according to the policies set by the Fed in either expanding money and credit, contracting it, or holding steady.

Inflation is an increase in the quantity of money and credit; deflation is a decrease. The desirable condition is stability which leads to stable or decreasing prices, depending upon productivity and total production.

Productivity is the principle measure of labor efficiency — output per manhour of work — or output per hour of labor input. Increases in productivity mean more supplies at lower cost; decreases in productivity increase prices. We can increase productivity by (1) reforming our tax policies to make possible higher rates of saving and capital investment;

(2) this will make possible greater spending for research and development; (3) reducing unnecessary and unrealistic government regulations; and (4) improving worker attitudes toward effort through economic education.

When we read about productivity it is generally related to the GNP — Gross National Product. This is the market value of the output of all goods and services produced by the nation's economy. It is used by the government and most economists as the major measure of economic growth. Unfortunately it is not an accurate measure, but that is another story. A more relevant measure of real economic growth is the national income.

National Income is the aggregate earnings of labor and property which result from production of goods and services by the nation's economy in a given year.

In connection with discussions of the GNP we generally see the term, recession. A recession is defined as two consecutive quarters of a decline in real GNP. Such measurements and announcements are carried out by the National Bureau of Economic Research. We are currently in the eighth recession since the end of World War II.

Often, in attempting to deal with recessions, the federal government increases the money supply as previously discussed. But in addition to an "easy money" monetary policy, the government's fiscal policy is used. Fiscal Policy refers to Washington's taxing versus spending plans. When government taxes less than it spends, it creates a budget deficit which must be covered by borrowing or inflating the money supply.

Federal Reserve Board, monetary policy, fiscal policy, productivity, inflation, gross national product, national income and recession are economic terms we should all understand.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

 TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Gov. Bill Clements promised voters he would improve relations with Mexico, and he apparently is working to comply on that issue.

Last week the Governor escorted visiting Mexican Gov. Manuel Bernardo Aguirre of Chihuahua around the Capitol and Austin. The two officials reportedly discussed a variety of issues, including illicit drug flow, energy, tourism, agricultural and beef imports and other economic developments.

Both Clements and Aguirre are cattlemen and Chihuahua is a major cattle producer and beef exporter to the U.S.

Aguirre is the second Mexican border governor to visit Clements this year.

Touring around Austin is not the only traveling Clements is planning for his near future.

The Republican governor, who has said he will do anything to defeat President Jimmy Carter, said last week he will spend about $50,000 traveling extensively throughout the state and nation with an anti-Carter message.

That news prompted Texas Democrats to speculate Clements is really going off on a campaign to win the vice presidential nomination for his party. Should his fellow Texans John Connally and George Bush deadlock in their efforts to get the top spot on the ballot, Clements would be a likely compromise choice for a winner—Reagan for example, seeking Texas and regional votes.

A spokesman for Clements said that wasn't the case, and two days later announced the plan had run into snags.

Clements' top political fund raiser Jim Francis said a provision in federal election laws might force Clements to give up the trip idea.

Since the Governor plans to spend more than $1,000, he would have to file with the Federal Election Commission, as he had intended all along. However, the commission interprets federal law to mean that Clements would have to stop spending independently once he has consultation with any presidential candidate.

The legal problems are being examined, apparently with an eye on continuing as planned.

New Hampshire Fallout

What will happen to two Texas Republicans following former California Gov. Ronald Reagan's primary victory last week in New Hampshire?

George Bush, despite earlier caucus wins, is not going to pull a sweep to the national Republican convention—he placed second behind Reagan.

And former Texas Gov. John Connally, who gained only two percent of the New Hampshire vote, is suddenly fighting a "loser" image, a new twist in his political career.

Connally reportedly is banking on a comeback in the March 8 primary in South Carolina, hoping to split conservative votes with Reagan and draw independents and conservative Democrats.

Texas Poll

Meanwhile, a Texas Monthly magazine poll tracking presidential candidates' progress in this state, shows President Carter out in front of party rival Ted Kennedy and a winner over either Reagan, Bush or Connally.

Carter's victory over Kennedy in New Hampshire, once considered Kennedy's turf since he comes from adjacent Massachusetts, may have sunk the idea of a Democratic presidential primary in Texas.

Unless Kennedy can prove he can muster a challenge, there is no reason to hold the primary, top party leader Billy Goldberg reasons, but it is up to the party's executive committee to decide.

Although it is too late to have a binding primary and the vote will simply be a ballot beauty contest, the idea is still a bone of contention for dogs of both parties.

Bottom line reasoning might be stated this way: with no Democratic primary to attract them, many Democrats might vote in the Republican primary where two Texans and the popular Reagan are listed on the ballot.

Who will gain and lose in Texas politics after that event is the million-dollar question.

Speaker Politics

Dallas Republican Rep. Frank Gaston last week sent a memo to his urban House colleagues urging big-city legislators to remain uncommitted to potential successors to Speaker Bill Clayton.

Clayton will face a federal grand jury this month in connection with allegations he received a bribe for political favors. His coming date with the courtroom has caused House members to look around for his replacement, but the Speaker reportedly is cheerful at work, convinced of his innocence and confident his name will be cleared.

Gaston, in his memo, blasted "rural, parochial interests" in the Legislature for ignoring big city problems such as housing, poverty and taxes. He wants urban representatives to maintain a bloc that will elect the next Speaker.

CAPITOL UPDATE

John Tower
 U.S. SENATOR for TEXAS
 142 RUSSELL OFFICE BUILDING
 WASHINGTON, D.C. 20510

Texans have always been proud to be Americans, and yet we treasure our unique state heritage — a legacy of independent will, pride and high principles.

Many of the cherished traditions which are a major source of strength today took shape during the brief nine years of the Republic of Texas. The Declaration of Independence which founded the Republic March 2, 1836, sets forth many of the values that have helped shape the Texas character.

When our Texas forebears spoke of tyranny from a "far distant seat of government," Mexico City was their target, not Washington, D.C. But while we today are not plagued by "the merciless savage, with the tomahawk and the scapling knife," some of the Texas freedom fighters' concerns have as much meaning today in the interminable conflict with a "savage" bureaucracy whose "weapons" are the regulation and impenetrable organization.

The authors of the independence document declared "the whole nature of their government has been forcibly changed without their consent." "...Moderation is at length so far lost by those in power that even the semblance of freedom is removed," the signers contended. Those words seem uncomfortably applicable to us today. Sometimes it even seems that we, too, are confronted by "a hostile majority in an unknown tongue" to the "point at which forbearance ceases to be a virtue."

Certainly, the brave citizens of the Texas Republic faced tyrannies unknown to us. We have not been militarily invaded. Our Legislature has not been dissolved. We still are blessed with the freedom and the means to seek the values underscored in the Texas Declaration of Independence — a strong defense, a strong public education system, protections for civil liberties, and freedom of religion.

And we have something else — the same indomitable spirit of our forefathers, as best exemplified in a letter, written by the young commandant of the Alamo, and an inspiration to all Texans then and now. Writing to "the People of Texas and all Americans in the world," Col. William Barret Travis said:

"I am besieged, by a thousand or more of the Mexicans under Santa Anna — I have sustained continual Bombardment & cannonade for 24 hours & have not lost a man — The enemy has demanded a surrender at discretion, otherwise, the garrison are to be put to the sword, if the fort is taken — I have answered the demand with a cannon shot, & our flag still waves proudly from the walls — I shall never surrender or retreat. Then, I call on you in the name of Liberty, of patriotism & everything dear to the American character, to come to our aid, with all despatch — The enemy is receiving reinforcements daily & will no doubt increase to three or four thousand in four or five days. If this call is neglected, I am determined to sustain myself as long as possible & die like a soldier who never forgets what is due to his own honor & that of his country — Victory or Death."

LEGAL BRIEFS

Federal Court System Is Clear Cut For Consumers

By Theodore I. Koskoff
 President
 Association of Trial Lawyers of America

Last month I discussed the various local and state courts that a consumer might have dealings with at one time or another during his/her lifespan.

Where the 50 state systems are complex as to size, population and the various and sometimes differing state statutes, the Federal judicial system is relatively simple. And since there may be a time in your life when you may have to go to a Federal court, I feel it is important for me to explain its system of justice.

There are some 90 U.S. District Courts throughout the country with at least one in each of the 50 states. Heavily populated states have more district courts as needed to handle the caseload. These district courts are Courts of General Jurisdiction.

They have the power to hear and pass judgment on both civil and criminal cases. That is, cases involving claimed violations of your personal civil rights, damages cases, and cases involving alleged violations of Federal criminal laws.

In civil cases, there are two restrictions on persons suing in the Federal district courts.

One, the plaintiff and the defendant must be residents of different states. And two, the amount of money involved in the civil lawsuit must be $10,000 or more.

However, there are some kinds of Federal civil lawsuits where these two guidelines do not apply. These cases belong exclusively in the district courts because the U.S. Constitution requires it or the Congress has so directed it. Among these are lawsuits involving bankruptcy, patents, trademarks, copyrights, and certain maritime matters.

Also within the Federal court system are several courts that handle only certain kinds of cases. These include, the U.S. Court of Claims which handles lawsuits against the U.S. Government; the U.S. Customs Court which handles cases arising under the tariff laws; and the U.S. Tax Court which handles cases arising under the Internal Revenue Code.

Like some state court systems, there are 11 U.S. Courts of Appeals that are concerned only with appeals or pleas for reversal of decisions by lower courts. Along with these 11 appeal courts are two special appeal courts in Washington, D.C. — the U.S. Court of Customs and Patent Appeals and the U.S. Court of Military Appeals.

And sitting majestically atop this whole structure of Federal courts is the U.S. Supreme Court.

Mrs. Wm. J. Miller Injured in Crash

Mrs. William J. Miller is in Muenster Memorial Hospital recovering from injuries received in a car accident near Brinkley, Ark., about 11 p.m. Sunday night. She and her husband were on the way to Alabama to accept delivery of dies for A-1 Metals of Gainesville.

The one car accident resulted from a blowout, which caused the pickup to swerve and glance off a guardrail then across the road to another guardrail. Mrs. Miller was taken to Mercy Hospital at Brinkley where her injuries were diagnosed as two fractured ribs, cuts on her leg, elbow and ear, and bruises. She was transferred by plane Tuesday to Muenster Hospital, arriving about 8 p.m.

Injuries to Mr. Miller were minor and the vehicle was still roadworthy. He continued Tuesday to Alabama for delivery of the machine parts.

One of the shortest measurable intervals of time is between the day a man sets a little extra money aside for a sudden emergency and the arrival of a sudden emergency.

Alertness, Breaks Favor Police

Alertness and the breaks favored two of Muenster's lawmen on their recent rounds. The first incident was on February 22 when Billy Pointer was notified that two suspicious characters were trying to load a motorcycle into a pickup at the public school while people were mostly at a track meet some 300 yards away.

An observer asked what they were doing and did not like their answer, so he took note of their license number and reported it to the police.

Later Pointer saw that pickup leave town with two tool boxes on the vehicle and alerted the sheriff's office dispatcher who promptly told area police.

The suspects, from Fort Worth, were nabbed by DPS patrolmen before they reached Gainesville and the tool boxes were recovered for Kenneth Selby and Tommy Patterson.

A week ago Ray Clevinger was driving off duty into Gainesville when his radio picked up a dispatcher's message that a prowler appeared to be trying a break-in at a store of the shopping village. Clevinger went directly to the location and caught the suspect in the act of breaking in.

And last Sunday night Pointer drove up to Rohmers in time to find someone busy at a window. The suspect escaped in the dark but left a heavy knife which apparently was in use to pry the window open. The same evening a burglar apparently gave up a break-in attempt at Jr. Elite Dress Factory. The aluminum frame door received scars but it did not yield.

Anna Walterscheid Has 90th

Mrs. Anna Walterscheid celebrated her 90th birthday Sunday afternoon in the home of a daughter and son-in-law, Liz and Norbert Koesler. Mrs. Walterscheid makes her home at OLV Convent in Fort Worth with another daughter, Sister Francesca, who brought her to Muenster Friday evening.

Four generation pictures were made during the party. Refreshments of birthday cake, ice cream and coffee were served and then the honoree opened her gifts.

Attending were her sisters Mrs. John Rohmer, Mrs. Dora Hense, Miss Teresa Hesse; their brother Al Hesse; a sister-in-law, Mrs. Ida Hesse; two nieces Sister Romana Rohmer and Sister Fidelis Rohmer; a daughter-in-law Lillian (Mrs. Wilfred) Walterscheid and granddaughters Christi Klement, Mary Alice Bayer and Martha Koesler; and three great-granddaughters, Denise and Melissa Bayer and Andrea Klement.

Unable to attend were son, Wilfred Walterscheid and another granddaughter Gretchen Kostyniak of Fort Worth. Three grandsons, Rudy, Karl and Fred Koesler stopped in for brief greetings and the honoree's son and family, the Leonard Walterscheids of Moab, Utah sent gifts and greetings.

Mrs. Walterscheid's birthday was on February 18 but the party was delayed by the snowy weather. She is the former Anna Hesse and was the first baby born in Muenster to the late Mr. and Mrs. Franz Hesse, pioneer settlers. Her sister, Mrs. John Rohmer was two years old when she came to Muenster with her parents and is the only living survivor who attended the First Mass in the new colony.

90th birthday of Mrs. August (Anna) Walterscheid was observed Sunday with a family party. During the festive event, a four generation picture was made, showing the above group, l to r. Mrs. Norbert (Liz) Koesler, Andrea Klement, Mrs. Anna Walterscheid and Mrs. Leon (Christi) Klement.

Beta Kappa Plans Germanfest booth

Beta Kappa members of the Muenster chapter of ESA met on February 20 in the home of Mrs. Kathy Fette to enlarge upon plans for their booth at Germanfest and to hear a book review by Mrs. Pam Fette. She reviewed the Jesse Lair best seller "I Ain't Got Much, Baby, but I'm All I've Got." The book enhances the thought that the basic need for love and feeling in personal lives, influences directly the improvement of the relationship with all people around us.

During the business meeting, plans were discussed for the chapter's booth at Germanfest where members will sell carrot cake and strudel, either whole or in individual servings.

The next Beta Kappa meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Marcie Wilde on March 19.

Childhood Cancer Life Prolonged

Children with cancer have a better chance of living a longer life today than ever before.

This new hope for cancer-afflicted children is the result of new drugs discovered through research, aggressive treatment by specialists, and parental alertness to early symptoms.

This April, as part of its annual educational and fund-raising Crusade, the Cooke County American Cancer Society Unit is reporting the following facts about childhood cancer.

Childhood cancers are different from adult cancers. They tend to grow more quickly because body tissues are growing rapidly and the cancer grows right along with them. Most often children have cancers of the blood, bone, brain, nervous system and kidney. Incidence and mortality have declined slightly over the years, but in 1980 cancer is expected to strike some 6,100 children, many of whose lives will be saved.

More than 60 percent of the leukemias in children are of the acute lymphocytic variety. In comprehensive cancer centers the five-year survival rate rises to 50 percent in children with this type of leukemia.

"Parents should see that a child has regular medical checkups both during preschool and school years," Mrs. Shirley Bianchi said. "In this way the doctor is familiar with the child's pattern of development."

Between checkups, any abnormal signs or symptoms for which there are no obvious causes should be investigated. These might include nausea, swelling, double vision, stumbling, nosebleeds, drowsiness or listlessness and persistent crying for which no reason can be found.

The ACS leader noted that "new" treatment methods require teamwork among radiologists, surgeons, and cancer specialists. Other members of the team are nurses, physiotherapists, and social workers who help achieve total care for the child with cancer. There is tremendous interest in the post-treatment lives of children whose cancer has been brought under control.

"The ACS believe that cooperation between parents, the general public and the medical sector will result in significant improvement in the control of childhood cancer," Mrs. Bianchi said.

USDA Urges Comments

The 60-Day public review period of proposed U.S. Department of Agriculture Soil and Water Conservation Programs is half over, Ronnie Herring District Conservationist at Muenster, said this week.

You have about 30 days to comment on the Soil and Water Resources Conservation Act of 1977 (RCA). Public comments are invited not only on conservation proposals, but USDA's process of carrying out the act and published documents.

Comments are invited on any subject in these documents, but USDA would most appreciate comments on one or more of the following areas:

- I. Resource problems ahead
- II. Assumptions for analysis

- A. Export levels
- B. Rate of technological change
- C. Living standards
- III. Analysis of seven resource areas
- IV. Conservation objectives
- V. Activities to attain objectives
- VI. Costs to attain objectives
- VII. Alternative strategies

We urge the public to stand up and be heard by making written comment on the conservation of our most valuable resource - OUR SOIL AND WATER.

Documents containing these proposals can be reviewed in Muenster at the Soil Conservation Service Office from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday - Friday.

Written comments can be sent to the RCA Response Analysis Center, P.O. Box 888 Athens, Georgia 30603.

Mathews Photographers

Mr. and Mrs. J.Y. Brandon of Rosston announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter Beverly to Charles Fleitman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Fleitman, Sr. of Muenster. Miss Brandon is a 1979 graduate of Era High School and is employed by the Gainesville Dress Company. She is a student at Cooke County College. Mr. Fleitman is a 1973 graduate of Sacred Heart High School and is employed by Tony's Seed and Feed in Muenster. Their wedding is planned for April 12 at 5 p.m. in Sacred Heart Church of Muenster.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Pursuant to TEX. REV. CIV. STAT. ANN. art. 1446c par. 43 (1975), Lone Star Gas Company hereby gives NOTICE of the Company's intent to implement a new schedule of rates effective on the latter of March 31, 1980 or such other date as new rates become effective in the City of Muenster, Texas to be charged for natural gas service to residential and commercial customers in the environs areas (outside incorporated limits of Muenster, Texas.)

The rate schedule is expected to furnish a 15.20% increase in the Company's gross revenues in the environs of Muenster, Texas.

A Statement of Intent has been filed with the Railroad Commission of Texas and is available for inspection at the Company's business office located at 105 S. Denton, Gainesville, Texas.

Any affected person desiring to contest such changes in rates can file a complaint with the Director of the Gas Utilities Division, Railroad Commission of Texas, P.O. Drawer 12967, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas, 78711.

Garden Center Bulletin

Now is the time to apply BALAN to your yards to completely eliminate crab grass, and grass burns in your lawn. BALAN is a granular weed killer easily applied with a fertilizer spreader and best of all, it is perfectly safe to use around trees and shrubs and is also safe on St. Augustine lawns. But be sure you apply it now or it will be too late for it to work properly.

Shipments of flowers, bulbs, bedding plants, and seeds are coming daily.

For your vegetable garden we have bulk garden seeds, seed potatoes, sweet hybrid onion plants, cabbage, broccoli, brussell sprouts, cauliflower and strawberry plants. We also have a large selection of outdoor spring bulbs, indoor potting bulbs and outdoor flowering bedding plants such as petunias, pansies and snapdragons.

Plan now for all your landscaping needs as we will be receiving thousands of trees, shrubs and roses in about 2 weeks.

Your bush roses can be pruned in the next week or so. Prune all canes to a 12" height, then remove 1/2 of the canes at the crown, starting with the oldest or damaged canes first. Then apply a rose food, water well and be ready for a burst of spring color.

German Heritage Society of Texas Invites Members

The German Texan Heritage Society is an organization devoted to building pride in the heritage of German Texans through historical research and cultural preservation. It is a united effort in Texas to disseminate information about archives, research projects, cultural events, folklore, publications and meetings related to German Texan topics. Founded in August 1978, the German-Texan Heritage Society is a state-wide, non profit organization. The Society publishes a Newsletter regularly in February and July, as well as supplements when needed. It is compiled by a group of dedicated volunteers. Everyone is welcome to join. Descendants of all German-speaking peoples, researchers, educational institutions, genealogists, historians, librarians, biographers, interested persons, etc. Membership classification is as follows: Patron $25; Contributing Library $10; Regular $5; Student $3.

The next statewide meeting is September 1980 in San Antonio. The official mailing address of the Society is: Dr. Dona Reeves, Dept. of Modern Languages, Southwest Texas State University, San Marcos, Texas 78666. Information on the Society and its most recent newsletter were shared with Muenster Public Library by Mr. Elmer I. Wiesman of Keller, who also sent a gift subscription of the Society's Newsletter to the Library. In addition, Mr. Wiesman has been a frequent contributor of historical publications, by donating them to the Muenster Public Library.

SCS Asks Views on Plant Materials

USDA's Soil Conservation Service (SCS) is currently making a study of alternative ways in which a National Plant Materials Centers Program can be conducted that responds to resource conservation needs. Ronnie Herring, SCS district conservationist at Muenster, says his agency is asking the public for their views on alternatives under consideration and for other proposals.

Herring says SCS, in cooperation with other Federal and State agencies and through other arrangements, presently operates and maintains 22 plant materials centers (PMC's) in the United States. Each center develops new plants for conservation purposes in the geographic area it serves that are released jointly with the State's agricultural experimentation station and other State and Federal agencies to commercial growers for production.

The plant materials center serving Texas and Oklahoma is located at Knox City, Texas. Plants that have been released from the Center in the past are selection 75 Kleingrass, Shoreline Common Reedgrass and Alamo Switchgrass. Selection 75 Kleingrass has been planted by a number of cooperators in the Muenster area and has proven to be a valuable source of forage for livestock. Shoreline Common Reedgrass has been planted on two Flood Retention Dams near Muenster in the Elm Fork Watershed. Once established will aid in controlling erosion from wave action near the waterline on the front of the dams. Two more sites in the Elm Fork Watershed are scheduled to be planted to Reedgrass this year along with the use of Alamo Switchgrass on one of the sites to also aid in shoreline erosion.

"The range of alternatives being studied for conducting a National Plant Materials Centers Program vary from continuation of the program as is to transferring complete operations and management of the centers over to nonfederal entities," Herring said. "First, we need to know what the public needs and wants and possible alternative ways national conservation plant materials needs might be met." Additional information concerning the plant materials program may be obtained at the SCS office in Muenster. Herring said that SCS would welcome concerned citizens inquiries and expressions of views.

Interested persons wishing to comment about the direction they think the future plant materials program should take are being encouraged to write letters by April 1 to George C. Marks, State Conservationist, Soil Conservation Service, P.O. Box 648, Temple, Texas 76501.

Learn About Your Gold, Silver Before You Decide to Sell

AUSTIN--Prospects of cashing in on the boom in precious metals may have you thinking about selling off that gold bullion that Uncle Fred willed you or unloading that tacky silver brooch Aunt Sally gave you for graduation.

If so, a little advance knowledge about the pricing of gold and silver can go a long way toward helping you determine the potential value of your cache.

"One of the major misunderstandings people have about the current gold and silver market concerns the ounce used in quoting precious metals prices," explained Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown.

The Commissioner noted that the Texas Department of Agriculture (TDA), which has the responsibility for checking and certifying the accuracy of all scales in the state, has recently been receiving consumer calls concerning gold and silver weights.

"You have to remember," Brown said, "that gold and silver are weighed by the troy ounce, a measurement which is less than the standard avoirdupois ounce. 16 of which we use to make a pound. Instead, there are 14.583 troy ounces in an American pound."

At the same time, the value of your gold or silver also depends on the quality, or amount, of pure metal in the item.

Gold or silver bullion is pure, uncoined metal in bars or ingots while gold and silver coins have had other metals added to give strength to the material. The amount of other metals in a particular coin depends on when and where the coin was minted and can best be determined with the assistance of a well-versed coin dealer.

Gold and silver jewelry is rarely made from pure material, particularly in this country, because the addition of other metals is desirable to give the item added strength. Quality of gold is measured in carats, with 24-carat gold referring to pure gold. A common quality of gold jewelry manufactured in the U. S. is 12-carat gold, which means that the item contains 50 percent pure gold.

Quality of silver is designated by the term fineness: Sterling silver, for example, contains 92.5 percent pure silver and is said to have a fineness of 925. Jewelry silver, an alloy containing 80 percent pure silver and 20 percent copper, has a fineness of 800. On the other hand, yellow gold used in jewelry is composed of 53 percent gold, 25 percent silver, and 22 percent copper.

Of course, the value of a piece of gold or silver jewelry also depends on other qualities of the piece, including the existence of precious or semi-precious jewels, as well as the craftsmanship and age of the piece.

Noting that the Texas Department of Agriculture is not in the business of appraising precious metals, Commissioner Brown advised, "Your best bet in determining the value of any gold or silver you may have, particularly if it is contained in a finished piece of jewelry or other item, is through an appraisal by a professional jeweler or metals dealer."

Appraisal prices vary, with most charging a minimum appraisal fee. Additional costs also vary, some charging on the basis of the time it takes to make the appraisal, other on a percentage of the appraised worth, and still others, depending on the current precious metals market.

If you do have any questions concerning accuracy of scales used in weighing your precious metals, contact the Weights and Measures Section at the Texas Department of Agriculture (Austin number: 512-475-6577) or a TDA representative at any district office. Brown concluded.

Weekend Brings SW Farm Show and Pull

With a thundering roar from hot rod tractors and four wheel drive trucks, the 1980 Southwest Farm Show and Championship Tractor Pull will get underway Thursday, March 6 at 7:00 p.m. with the first event.

Doors for the multi-million dollar farm show will be thrown open at 10:30 a.m. the next day at the Tarrant County Convention Center in Fort Worth.

The farm show is free to everyone and will be open each day from 10:30 a.m. until 6:00 p.m. Dates are March 7, 8 and 9.

According to R. B. Allen, Executive Vice President, Southwest Hardware & Implement Assn. sponsors of the large show and exhibition, this ninth annual show is the largest he has ever put together.

As a part of the farm show there will be a "Food 1980 - Garden to Gourmet" program each day from 1:30 p.m. to 4:00 p.m. The latest in food production, preparation and preservation will be presented by specialist and the Texas A&M Extension Service. Food related exhibits will be on display from 10:30 a.m. until 5:00 p.m.

The state wide FFA Contest will be held on Friday, March 7.

Also on Friday beginning at 10:00 a.m., a panel of top authorities will give the latest information on "Farm Use of Alternate Energy Sources".

This program entitled the New World of Agriculture, requires a $5.00 registration which includes lunch.

An annual highlight of the show is the Natural Fibers Fashion Review, free to the public, which will be held at the Convention Center theater at 4:00 p.m. Saturday, March 8.

Tickets are required for the four nights of truck and tractor pulling and may be purchased at any ticket office or Sanger Harris and Dillard's department stores in the Metroplex.

Family Gathers At Alfons Reiters

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alfons Reiter several days last week were family members for busy days of visiting and reunioning.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Reed and four sons of Texarkana arrived Thursday and remained through Friday. Mr. and Mrs. Larry Reiter and family of Dallas spent from Friday through Sunday. He was showing proudly the 10 year award he received from Dallas Power and Light Co. where he is an electrical engineer. Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Morrison and two sons of Sanger visited briefly Saturday afternoon after seeing other local relatives. Joining them for a Saturday visit and Sunday dinner in the parents' home were Sister Lillian Marie Reiter and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Reiter and children of Muenster.

from the Texas Energy Extension Service

What are the various kinds of solar collectors? Would you briefly describe them? T. W., Austin.

The three most commonly used types of solar collectors are the flat-plate collectors, evacuated tube collectors, and concentrating or tracking collectors.

The flat-plate collector, the most frequently used type, consists of a cover plate or glazing, absorber plate and coating, passages for heat-transfer medium, insulation, collector box or housing, and gaskets or seals.

The two kinds of flat-plate collectors are liquid-type and air-type collectors. The liquid-type collector is most frequently used for water heating and space heating, while the air-type flat plate collector is normally used for only space heating and cooling.

The second type of collector, the evacuated tube collector, resembles a vacuum bottle placed over a hairpin-looped, liquid-filled tube. This type works best in high-temperature applications in cases where extremely hot water is needed for industrial processes or for operating absorption chillers in residential or commercial cooling.

The third type, concentrating collectors, are called focusing or tracking collectors because they work by reflecting the sun's radiation off mirrors to concentrate it onto a very small absorber area. Various kinds of concentrating collectors include linear concentrating collectors, linear-trough, fresnel lens collectors, and compound parabolic mirror collectors.

Concentrating collectors are extremely complex and expensive, but they offer high efficiency in high-temperature collection for solar cooling and industrial process water heating.

In questions concerning necessary amounts of ventilating area, does ten square vent of ventilation area indicate ten square feet of opening to the outside? J. R. T., Nash.

Ten square feet of ventilation area does indicate ten square feet of opening to the outside. This space should be evenly divided between inlet and outlet area; in other words, half should be inlet area and half outlet area.

Avoid Errors, Delays By Using Label and Envelope, IRS Urges

Many simple errors that can cause weeks of delay in the processing of federal income tax returns could be avoided if taxpayers used the label and envelope that accompany their tax packages, the Internal Revenue said.

The peel-off label, which is encoded with the taxpayer's name, address and social security number, is designed to expedite processing at IRS Service Centers and prevent common errors that can delay issuance of refund checks.

One of the common and yet most troublesome errors that can be averted by use of the label is the listing of an incorrect or illegible social security number. Such an error can take weeks or even months to unscramble, the IRS said, and is one of the major causes of delayed refund checks.

The agency advised taxpayers to use the label, even if corrections are necessary. If such is the case — due to a change of address, for example — the correction should be marked directly on the label.

The IRS also noted that each label saves the government about ten cents in processing costs due to automation. Additional savings can be realized if taxpayers use the pre-addressed, coded envelope, which speeds sorting of tax returns during the annual deluge of mail that arrives at the ten IRS service centers.

IRS Credit Available To Working Parents

Working parents whose earned income and adjusted gross income for 1979 was less than $10,000 and had a child living with them, may now be eligible to receive up to $500 in earned income credit. In order to claim the credit, those eligible must file a return even if they owe no tax. The credit is based both on their earnings and adjusted gross income. For incomes over $6,000, the credit declines on a sliding scale and phases out completely once a person's income reaches $10,000.

The new change also allows individuals to receive advance payments of the credit each payday. Qualifying person should ask their employers for and fill out Form W-5 "Earned Income Credit Advance Payment Certificates."

Page 2 of the federal tax instructions has details about how to claim the earned income credit. Taxpayers with questions should call the IRS toll-free number listed in the local telephone directory.

Show Tips Given to Horse Club

Two meetings, with instructions, rules and demonstrations, were held for the Cooke County 4-H Horse Club in February. Members, parents and 4-H leaders met in the Twin Pine Arena in Muenster.

Hal Cheany, in charge of the program for Western Pleasure invited Don Thornhill to speak at the first meeting. He gave many rules, tips, and demonstrations with horses, also answering questions from the 4-Hers. Eddie Fleitman and Wilfred Sicking assisted in the arena. Ten members and a number of parents attended.

On February 26, Loyd Trubenback brought Buddy Hefflin from Marysville to give the program on halter. Each 4-H Horse Club member received individual instruction on handling a horse at halter. Wilfred Sicking assisted in the arena. Seven members and several parents attended.

There will be two meetings also in March, on the 2nd and 4th Tuesdays, and at the same location. Members are urged to arrive on time so that the meetings can begin promptly at 7:30 p.m. Nancy Sicking is club reporter.

Anderle Baptism

Corey Eugene Anderle was baptized Sunday, February 24. He is the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Anderle.

Father Stephen Eckart officiated, in Sacred Heart Church and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hoberer of Courtney, Okla. were godparents.

Corey wore the baptismal dress worn by his mother and his grandfather, Marcus Fuhrmann, at their baptisms. The dress was made by the late great-grandmother, Mrs. Tony Fuhrmann and is 55 years old.

Those attending the baptism and a family gathering at the Anderle home later were the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Fuhrmann, and Kenny, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Fuhrmann and Andrea, Mike Fuhrmann and Leslie, all of Lindsay; Mr. and Mrs. Mark Fuhrmann and Jennifer and Matthew of Muenster; and Corey's brothers and sisters, John, Kevin, Denise and Kim. Unable to attend were the paternal grand-parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Anderle of Windthorst.

SS Tax Rate Continues in '80

Most workers will pay the same social security tax in 1980 that they did in 1979, according to Gus Jones, Social Security District Manager in Sherman. The tax rate for 1980 will remain at the 1979 rate of 6.13 percent for the employed persons and 8.1 percent for the self-employed. Of course, those who have bigger earnings this year will pay the tax on the additional earnings.

The only other group of workers that will find a bigger social security tax bill in 1980 are those who earn over $22,900 a year. Last year only the first $22,900 was taxed and this year the first $25,900 is taxable. Those making over $25,900 will still not pay social security tax on their entire earnings.

Employed persons receive social security credit when their employers send the Forms W-2 to social security, but the self-employed must file an income tax return to get credit for self-employment income under social security.

Even though a person may owe no Federal Income tax, an income tax return is to be filed if a person had self-employment that produced a net profit of $400 or more. Self-employment social security tax is paid on this profit.

Under certain circumstances, it is possible to use an optional reporting method and get credit for earnings even if net earnings are less than $400.

The leaflet, "If you're self employed..." reporting your income for social security, contains more detailed information about how to report earnings, including information on the optional method. Free copies can be obtained at the Sherman social security office, located at 810 N. Travis. The telephone number is 893-4654.

Society Will Observe Patron Saint's Feast

Plans for the annual dinner and observance of St. Joseph's Day were completed at last Sunday's meeting of the society in the Community Center. Members set the date for Sunday, March 16 in the cafeteria. The Happy Hour at 5 p.m. will be followed by a fried chicken dinner at 6:00. Tickets are $3.50 each. Everyone is invited and reservations should be made by Friday, March 14 by calling 759-2729.

Seventeen members were present and Joe Hoening won the door prize.

Consumers, firms share food costs

The following is part of a series on the economy published by R.J. Reynolds Industries, Inc.

Rising food costs are frustrating to any grocery shopper. The situation, though, is just as frustrating for food companies.

Setting prices is a complex process that involves a range of variables, such as the availability of food commodities, transportation and storage expenses, and packaging costs.

And just like any other business, food companies must be concerned with earning a return on their operations. "We have to have prices high enough to recover our costs and to allow enough profit to perpetuate the business," says C. E. Shrewsbury, vice president — finance, R.J.R. Foods, Inc., subsidiary of R.J. Reynolds Industries, Inc.

As operation costs climb, companies are forced to raise prices to wholesalers, which in turn means higher prices for shoppers on the retail level.

While many factors influence product prices, supply and demand for foodstuffs in the marketplace has perhaps the strongest impact. Availability of farm commodities tends to run in cycles affected by growing seasons, weather conditions, size of crop planted and demand from both U.S. and foreign markets.

Buyers of commodities try to anticipate these cycles and make their purchases when supplies are high and prices are low. At the same time, food companies must set prices for the finished food product based on predictions of future food costs. When real costs exceed expectations, grocery store prices must go up to meet actual expenses.

Short supplies can also be artificially created by foreign countries that are primary suppliers of a single product such as sugar, coffee or cocoa. By limiting the quantity of the product available on the market, countries can create a "shortage" which results in higher prices.

The general inflationary trend and rising energy costs are strongly felt by the foods industry. It costs more to transport raw materials and finished goods. Labor and storage expenses are continually rising.

Cost of product packaging is another element that plays a major role in price determination, even though it's not directly related to food processing.

"Packaging costs are rising even faster than food commodity prices," says Don Harriss, director of purchasing for R.J.R. Foods. "And these packaging costs are often related to petroleum costs which are completely out of our hands."

Contrary to what many believe, no one particular group is profiting from higher food prices. U.S. Department of Commerce figures show that only two cents of every dollar spent on food is profit for the food production company, and six cents is the net income for the farmer. The remaining 92 cents goes for operation expenses, labor and supplies.

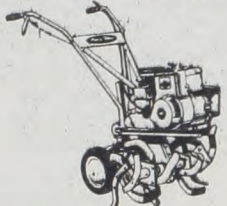

News of the Sick

August Fleitman returned home Tuesday, March 5 from Arlington Memorial Hospital where he was transferred on February 28 after being a patient in Muenster Memorial Hospital for two days. He will recuperate at home and will have a check-up Thursday in Arlington.

Dr. and Mrs. Jean Gebman and Ryan and Michael returned to their home in Santa Monica, California Sunday after a week's visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Hennigan, Sr. They came especially to attend the funeral of the grandmother, Mrs. Anna Sandmann. One day the Gebmans and Hennigans visited the paternal grandmother, Mrs. H.P. Hennigan of St. Francis Village.

Physical education classes adjust to today's students

COLLEGE STATION — The old-fashioned gym class led by a whistle-toting, military style PE teacher is disappearing from the schoolyards and gyms.

Physical education classes now are being designed for individual activity and structured to help youngsters learn lifelong skills, say physical education experts at Texas A&M University.

With the rising incidence of heart disease and other ailments, schools are realizing they have a responsibility to help children maintain healthy bodies through adulthood by teaching a variety of physical skills, notes Dr. Charles Shea.

On the elementary level, there is less emphasis on competition, he adds. Instead teachers work on motor skills, encouraging children to learn the best way to do a movement or a series of movements. In high school students are being taught things relevant to their world now and later in life, including outdoor recreation activities, ballet, tennis and equestrian skills.

YOU CAN BANK ON IT!

When properly used, it is often the key to a better lifestyle, but when abused, it can cause severe hardships. This magic ingredient is, of course, credit. Without credit, most of us couldn't live where we live, drive what we drive, dress the way we dress or enjoy the things we enjoy. The tricky part of staying on the good side of credit is to use it wisely.

To keep finance charges at a minimum and your credit rating high, pay all bills promptly.

Include the amount you allow for charge purchases in your monthly budget. Don't go over it unless there is a real emergency. Then adjust subsequent monthly budgets to take up the slack.

Almost no credit purchase is worth it if you have to sacrifice the fixed amount you save each month just to make the payments.

Establish your credit, then use it wisely. It can work for you every day of the year. You Can BANK On It!

SOUND ADVICE

All Ages Susceptible

The widely held belief that a hearing loss is equatable to old age is simply a myth, according to the Beltone Crusade for Hearing Conservation.

The crusade, sponsored by Beltone Electronics Corporation, world leader in hearing aids and electronic hearing test instruments, is designed to build public awareness of the problems of hearing impairments in today's society.

While it is true that hearing losses are most common among persons over age 55, hearing impairments can and do — strike individuals of all ages, even including infants.

Most hearing impairments encountered in the years from birth through the teen years are caused by birth defects. During young adult years the greatest threat to hearing ability comes from continuous or prolonged exposure to excessive noise.

Middle aged individuals face the hazard of otosclerosis, a disorder of bones of the middle ear. And for senior citizens the chief cause of hearing problems is presbycusis, a loss of hearing due to aging. This condition frequently results in the person being able to hear, but not able to understand clearly.

Tax Breaks Outlined

Kenneth E. Graeber, executive director of the State Property Tax Board (SPTB), today announced a statewide program to make citizens more aware of their rights, remedies and responsibilities as taxpayers.

"This public education program is the most comprehensive effort of its kind in the state's history. It will involve the State Property Tax Board, local tax assessors throughout Texas, and the newspaper and broadcast industries," Graeber noted. The state property tax official said the program consists of two elements. The first involves distribution of a comprehensive 12-page pamphlet titled "Taxpayers' Rights, Remedies and Responsibilities."

"The pamphlet discusses a broad range of tax-related matters, and will help Texans become much more knowledgeable on how the property tax system operates," the SPTB executive director said.

"Taxpayers may obtain a free copy by contacting county, city, or school tax offices in their area."

"The second element of the program consists of efforts by the news media to inform all Texans of tax rendition deadlines, and the procedures and requirements to apply for homestead exemptions and productivity values."

"Local tax assessors will also be cooperating in this part of the taxpayer education program," Graeber noted.

According to Graeber, the program is being conducted in March to enable Texans to apply for all tax relief to which they may be entitled before local tax rendition deadlines.

"To qualify for most homestead exemptions and productivity valuation for agricultural land, applications must be made to each jurisdiction before the rendition period ends. Most of the state's local taxing units have rendition deadlines of April 1 or April 30, and failure to make timely application causes loss of the tax relief until the next tax year," Graeber added.

He noted that when the new State Property Tax Code is fully implemented in 1982, all jurisdictions will have a rendition deadline of April 1.

SPTB officials said these categories of homestead exemptions are available: --General Homestead. Those persons qualifying for a residence homestead are entitled to a $5,000 exemption off the market value of the homestead for school tax purposes. An additional $3,000 county homestead exemption from assessed value is available against the portion of the county tax rate for farm-to-market roads or flood control.

--Persons 65 or Older.

Elderly citizens are entitled to an additional $10,000 exemption off the market value of their residence homestead for school taxes. And, while an elderly citizen's property may increase in value through the years, the school taxes owed in any one year cannot be greater than the amount owed in 1979 or in the first year the property owner qualified for the exemption, whichever is greater. An annual application to the school tax office is required.

By local option, school districts, cities and counties may offer additional exemptions to elderly homeowners of not less than $3,000.

--Disability Exemption. Citizens who are disabled and qualify for the residence homestead exemption are entitled to an additional exemption of $10,000 off the market value of their residence homestead. This exemption applies to school taxes only, and a property owner may not receive both the disability exemption and $10,000 exemption for the elderly.

School districts, cities and counties may offer an additional local option disability exemption of not less than $3,000.

--Disabled Veteran or Qualifying Survivor. Certain disabled veterans or their survivors may be entitled to an exemption ranging from $1,500 to $3,000, depending on the percentage of service-connected disability.

This exemption may be applied against the value of any property owned on January 1 of the year in which the application is made. The disabled veteran must be a Texas resident and complete an annual application at local tax offices. Only one property may receive the exemption, and VA or armed forces documents verifying disability are required.

State Property Tax Board officials said agricultural productivity values, mentioned earlier, may reduce the tax liability of qualified farmers and ranchers. Details on what types of land may be taxed on productivity rather than market value are available in local tax offices, or in the "Remedies" pamphlet.

Also available with safety toe.

SCHOOL NEWS

Colleges Visited by MHS Srs.

Muenster Public School Seniors who are planning to continue their education as college freshmen next fall have visited the school they hope to attend. A school policy provides each senior the privilege of one day of excused absence for this purpose.

Cathy Flusche and Janel Lutkenhaus used this privilege to visit Midwestern University in Wichita Falls on January 18. Judy Walterscheid toured Cooke County College on February 14 and Robert Weinzapfel and Roland Serna went to North Texas State University on February 7.

Julia Bright spent the weekend of February 15 at Baylor University with her brother, Sam. On February 29, Todd Richey, Phil Wolf, Curtis Pagel and Don Frazier visited the University of Texas at Austin, and Floyd Felderhoff and Gary Zimmerer went to Lubbock to visit Texas Tech.

Recent activity of Muenster Public School seniors has also included a meeting with a representative of Herf Jones Graduation Services to select their graduation announcements, calling cards, memory books and other graduation remembrances.

Alice Hellman Talks On China to 4-H

Mrs. Alice Hellman spoke to members of the Community 4-H Club, when the group held its February 19 meeting in the TP&L building. She showed pictures and told about her trip to China, giving many interesting facts and answering questions.

During the business meeting, John Zimmerer, president, gave a calendar of coming activities. Carl Zimmerer reported on Family Night, a county-wide family fun and participation program held in Gainesville.

Sixteen members and two adult leaders attended. Amy Davidson is club reporter.

Hornets Win 2 in Practice

MHS Hornets made a fine start in a pair of scrimmage sessions with Chico and Nocona. In their first contest they rolled over the Dragons 13 - 3, giving every member of the roster a piece of the action.

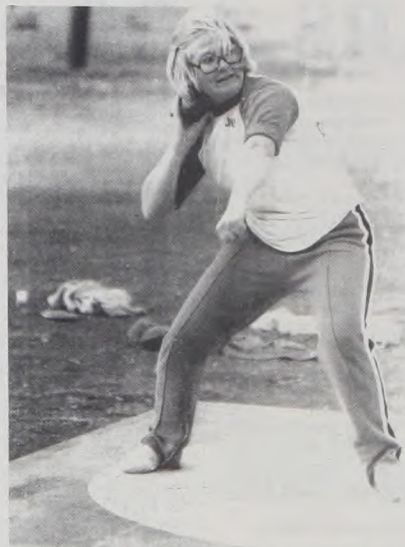

Bubba Swirczynski pitched the first three innings and Phil Wolf and Todd Richey pitched one each in the five inning contest. Hitters included Todd Richey and Bubba Swirczynski each 2, Ricky Winn, Benji Luke and Phil Wolf each 1.

The practice with Nocona was a double header with junior varsity losing in two innings and the varsity winning 9 - 5 in seven innings. Richey and Wolf shared the pitching job in the nine innings. Hornet hitters were Ricky Winn and Todd Richey 2 each, Phil Wolf, Mark Felderhoff, Don Frazier, Dale Swirczynski and Larry Fleitman one each.

Coach Kevin Nix says he is happy with the team's progress, which reflects valuable experience some of the boys had in last summer's activity. Defensive work is good he said, but they need lots of practice in their batting.

The first scheduled game will be at Chico Friday, the next one at Nocona on the 14th.

Grandparents at First Communion

Mr and Mrs. Norbert Klement and Mrs. John Otto were in Garland Sunday to attend the First Communion of their granddaughter, Lisa Otto, daughter of Jim and Shirley Otto. They were accompanied to Garland by Mrs. Dickie Cain of Ardmore.

Together they attended the 11:30 Mass in St. Pius X Church in Dallas. Celebrant was Father Francis J. Gabryl. The visitors were interested to hear of the impressive background of Father Gabryl who at one time had been a teacher of the present Pope John Paul II and had also been a POW in Germany during World War II.
After Mass the group visited with Msgr. Thomas Weinzapfel, pastor and were dinner guests of the Jim Ottos and Lisa and Lori.
The family dinner table was centered with a decorated First Communion cake, shaped as a cross. And then there were also gifts and special remembrances for the honoree.

Cheese - Care and Storage

True devotees of cheeses also know the care-and-storage do's, says Dr. Rose Tindall Postel, a foods and nutrition specialist with Texas A&M University.
Soft Cheeses
Soft, unripened cheeses (cottage cheese, cream cheese) need storage in airtight containers under refrigeration to prevent rapid spoilage and rancidity.
For a top-quality product, especially flavor, shelf life is usually five to seven days from the date of purchase.
Hard, Semi-Hard Cheeses
Also refrigerate hard and semi-hard cheeses.

Store them in the original wrapper, and once the seal is broken, wrap the product in a moist cloth or plastic wrap.
If you must store cut cheese for a long period, seal the surface with hot paraffin (paraffin) wax.
Don't worry about any mold that forms on cheese -- it's unappetizing rather than harmful and can just be cut away.
Freezer 'No, No's
Normally cheese should not be frozen. Freezing makes cheese dry and crumbly.
Of course, it's possible to freeze cheese with a fair amount of success -- small pieces, such as one pound or less and not over an inch thick, of cheddar, edam, muenster, swiss, provolone and mozzarella -- for as long as six months.
However, overall quality of flavor and smoothness isn't as good as the non-frozen product.

The good news:
Your farm is worth more today

The bad news: Your family may have a harder time keeping it. Because your land is worth more now, your heirs would be taxed more if you should suddenly die.
That's why a life insurance program designed to conserve your farm for your family isn't something you can set up and forget. Why not let me help you analyze your needs today and develop a life insurance program designed to keep your farm all in the family at a sensible cost.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my deepest gratitude to all who extended their sympathy to me, and to all of Roy's relatives, at his death. There were so many I can't hope to thank each one personally, however the many cards, prayers and personal words will always be remembered.
Mrs. Lois Townsley 16-1C1P

Our family wishes to thank each of the wonderful people who helped so much at the time of the sudden illness on Tuesday, February 26, and during the trip to the hospital, calling the doctor and remaining through the emergency. We are deeply grateful to Dr. Antonetti, the nurses and staff of Muenster Memorial Hospital, Father Stephen and all who phoned, sent cards with offers of help too numerous to mention. We appreciate the prayers and Mass intentions. All of you are very special to us.

March

The following events, selected by the Texas Tourist Development Agency, are but a few of the many excellent recreational opportunities offered by communities across the state. A more complete listing of Texas events may be obtained free of charge by writing TEXAS, Box 5064, Dept. C, Austin 78763.

March 6-16 — Springfest, McAllen. Here there is a full schedule of activities. Included are a carnival, parties, dances, arts & crafts show, barbecues, a marathon, tournaments for shuffleboard, bridge, waltzing, pinocle, pool, racquetball, golf, tennis and fire department pumper races. Additional activities are held across the border in Reynosa, Mexico. For details contact Springfest, Box 13347, McAllen 78501 (512-682-6221).

March 14-16 — St. Patrick's Celebration, Shamrock. Held annually on the weekend nearest March 17, this event draws thousands. Features are Irish food, a parade, carnival, old fiddlers' contest, Irish donegal competition, a domino tournament, team roping, ministerial alliance program, crowning of Miss Irish Rose and dances. For additional information contact the Chamber of Commerce, Box 5887, Shamrock 79079 (806-256-2501).

March 15, 16, 22 & 23 — The 45th annual Azalea Trail, Houston. Sponsored by the River Oaks Garden Club, the trail opens to the public the club's building and garden, Bayou Bend house and garden and five private homes and/or gardens. Hours are 11 a.m.-6 p.m. Tickets are $6 for all of the trail or $1 for each garden. Advance tickets for the complete trail are available for $4. For tickets and information contact the Garden Club, 2503T Westheimer, Houston 77098 (713-523-2483).

March 19-23 — Heritage Festival, Nederland. This southeast Texas community with Dutch heritage and its landmark windmill museum celebrate with a parade, pageants, art show, flea market, carnival, pet show, street dances and a Queen's Ball. For additional information contact the Chamber of Commerce, Box 891T, Nederland 77627 (713-722-0279).

March 20-30 — Houston Festival. In its second year and on the way to being one of the major events in the state, the festival offers the public a wide variety of visual and performing arts programs, indoors and out. The purpose of the event is to show and share the best products of Houston's growing artistic circles. The 1979 inaugural drew nearly half-a-million people. Most of the activities are free and occur outdoors in six staging areas within walking distance of the Cultural and Civic Center downtown. In addition to all the entertainment there is plenty of food and drink. For more details contact the Greater Houston Convention & Visitors Council, 1522T Main St., Houston 77002 (713-658-4200).

March 22, 23, 29, 30 and April 5, 6 — Texas Dogwood Trails, Palestine. A great time to visit this historic area and view the dogwoods in bloom. On the schedule, along with dogwood and historic homes tours, are high performance boat races on Lake Palestine, a parade, Civil War re-enactment, rides on the Texas State Railroad, arts and crafts, a chili cook-off, telling of tales, fiddlers' jamboree and a circus. For details contact the Chamber of Commerce, Drawer 1T, Palestine 75801 (214-729-6067).

March 23-29 — Derrick Days, Corsicana. Marking Corsicana's heritage as the site of the first oil-field west of the Mississippi, Derrick Days includes a 15 kilometer AAU Oil Town Minidhon, Texas State Championship White Water Canoe and Kayak Races, historic buildings tour, original musical revue, melodrama, sanctioned chili cook-off, oil and energy museums, roughneck rodeo, tricycle decorating contest and rock-a-thon for the oldsters. Crafts, exhibits, food, games, music and dancing round out the program. For details contact the Chamber of Commerce, Box 426T, Corsicana 75110 (214-874-4731).

March 28-30 — Spring Fling, Denton. This first time happening is planned as a family event with entertainment for all ages, concerts, arts and crafts, sports events, food, beverages and the Denton County Youth Fair and Rodeo. For more information contact the Chamber of Commerce, Drawer PT, Denton 76201 (817-382-9693).

March 29-30 — Starving Artists Show, San Antonio. Held at La Villita and along the Paseo del Rio in downtown San Antonio, this event features artists selling their work at minimum price. For details contact the Convention & Visitors Bureau, Box 2277T, San Antonio 78298 (512-223-9133).

Annual Germanfest. Muenster citizens take pride in their community and delight in sharing their German heritage and hospitality with guests from out of town. This 3 day Wurstfest promises plenty of beer, German sausages, German wines, "apfel strudel", lots of cheese and home-made cakes, breads, pies, all shining examples of the culinary abilities of Muenster homemakers. It will be a good idea to bring a "Guten Appetit." Events include the 15 kilometer German Fun Run and, new this year, a 5 kilometer German Fun Run, plus a motorcycle road-ee, a Polka Dance, two Country and Western dances and children's carnival rides... also continuous free entertainment in the park pavilion with polka and disco music and dances, choral singing, folk dancing, beard and chug-alug contests and arts and crafts booths. More information is available from 817-759-2257 or 817-759-2838 or 817-759-4254.

Scientists were puzzled at first when three white polar bears at the San Diego Zoo turned green. A check-up revealed that algae growing in the bears' pool had found a safe home inside the bear's hollow hairs.

The report is that most people, fed up by many years of wild spending and bureaucracy, are more conservative than at any time since the thirties, and they are swinging over by the thousands to the more conservative party.

All of that sounds fine, except that the GOP as a whole is not exactly a conservative stronghold. Like the Democratic party it has both liberals and conservatives, and a hot contest is now under way to discover which are preferred by the party members.

Bush has been running with the blessings of the liberal Eastern wing of the organization, and now come Former President Ford, with talk about getting on the ticket because Reagan is too conservative to win. He too has strong ties with the liberal GOP element prompting one to wonder whether he and Bush are teaming up to eliminate Reagan, after which Ford expects to coast into the nomination.

This development is unfortunate. Republicans, as the traditional conservative party, have their best opportunity in many years to bring solid principles back into government. Liberalism has led the country far down the road to national disaster, and the public at long last deserves a return to the basics which made America great. It would be a shame to be let down by the party which claims to be conservative.

Despite Carter optimism

it seems that voters will wise up before the campaign ends and turn him down. Whoever wins the GOP nomination definitely ought to be the next president. Let's hope that person will restore common sense to the office and not just continue with variations of the same old liberalism.

Rev. Bede Mitchel Suffers Stroke

Father Bede Mitchel O.S.B. suffered a stroke on February 27 in Memphis, Tenn. while assisting in St. Paul's Church. His planned month's stay there ended after the first week and he was returned to Subiaco Abbey to recuperate. A note was sent to the Eddie Krahl family Tuesday, asking them to inform his friends and former parishioners. Cards to cheer him may be sent to Subiaco Abbey, Subiaco, Arkansas 72865.

Still Dry!

Winter's coldest arrived during the past week, but otherwise the weather has been dry and near normal in temperature. Low and high readings recorded by Steve Moser, were as follows: Feb. 28, 55 and 88, Feb. 29, 44 and 58, Mar. 1, 14 and 30, Mar. 2, 9 and 42, Mar. 3, 23 and 61, Mar. 4, 47 and 82, Mar. 5, 24 and 52. The only moisture was .02 inch on March 1. Added to 1.58 in January and 1.71 in February, it brings the rain total to 3.29 inches for the year.

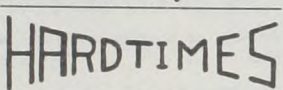

Warning!

A change in a wart or mole could be a cancer warning signal. Early treatment could save your life. See your doctor and make sure, says the American Cancer Society.

Thank You!

As the flower shop changes to new ownership, I cherish memories of sharing happy times with many friends at weddings, anniversaries, births, birthdays, proms, or when sending flowers to the hospital; and I sincerely hope the flowers have helped to comfort in sad times.

My family and I are grateful for the privilege and pleasure of serving you the past eleven years. Thanks also to our employees, especially Betty Rose Walterscheid, who has been my right hand for many, many long hours.

We will appreciate your continued support of the flower shop under its new ownership.
