MUENSTER, TEXAS, COOKE COUNTY, FRIDAY, MARCH 3, 1944

NUMBER 15

AT FORT KNOX

Pvt. Roman J. Klement, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Klement, is training with an armored division at Fort Knox, Kentucky. He entered the army on Oct. 18, last year, and has been at Fort Knox since that time. In a recent letter to his parents he advised that he is due his first furlough in the near future and will spend it here. His older brother, Sgt. Martin Klement, is also in the army, serving in New Guinea.

OUR BOYS WITH THE COLORS

Meet at Cassino

S. Sgt. Jimmy Lehnertz and Pvt. Henry Luttmer enjoyed a visit in Italy on Jan. 3, they have written their parents. Both boys are members of the 5th army stationed in the Cassino sector. Jim looked Henry up and they exchanged all the local news they knew and shared their Muenster Enterprise. "It was better than pay day," Henry wrote and Jim's delight was likewise expressed in similar words.

Stationed in India

S. Sgt. Ferd Yosten has written home to say that he was recently transferred and is now stationed in India. As an airplane mechanic he has been on duty in Africa, Sicily and Italy since going overseas. He is the son of Frank Yosten.

Transferred to Texas

Aviation Student Jack Hoehn is back in Texas, training at San Antonio, following his transfer, last week, from Meadeville, Pa. He has advised, adding that he certainly is glad to be back in the Lone Star State.

Foreign Assignment

Sidney J. Otto, machinist mate third class with the Seabees is now stationed on the West Coast, preparatory to a foreign assignment coming up sometime in the near future. He has written his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tony Otto. He was formerly at Davisville, R.I.

Arrived OK in England

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Rohmer had a letter last week from their son, Pfc. Albert Rohmer, written on his arrival in England where he is at present stationed. Before going overseas he was at Camp Pickett, Virginia.

In New Guinea

A letter Saturday from Sgt. Martin Klement to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Klement revealed that he is stationed in New Guinea and is feeling fine in spite of the heat. Previous letters from him since going overseas had not mentioned his station. Also on duty in New Guinea somewhere is S. Sgt. Carlton Davis of Gainesville. Well known locally. Friends here have had recent letters stating he is well.

In Navy Hospital

Earl Swingler, CM3C, is in the Navy hospital at Shoemaker, California, for observation and a possible operation on his back. He has written his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Swingler. The back ailment is a condition that has been bothering him ever since he was hurt in a car wreck here some years ago, before his entry in the Seabees, but had not been serious until recently. He wrote that he is confined to bed with a 10-pound weight on his right leg, which is anything but pleasant, but that otherwise he is doing alright. His only diversion at this time is reading and he'd enjoy hearing from friends in Muenster. Write him, using the following address: Earl Swingler, CM3C; U.S.N. Hospital, Ward A-4; Shoemaker, Calif.

Apparently the Russians have a touch of our Fourth of July complex. Only more so. Every time their boys at the front give 'em a good reason to feel elated they blaze away with a 20 salvo salute. Which, as we all know, is considerably more boisterous than firecrackers. Not many days ago they put on a real celebration by firing the salvos simultaneously in about a half dozen different cities.

Seems like an awful waste of ammunition. To our practical way of thinking those explosions could do ever so much more good going off in the middle of a pack of Henies.

There's a catch in this shooting business, however. The thing that counts is not the potential destruction a shell might cause but what it actually does. From that angle it is entirely possible that the boost to home front morale is worth more in the long run than the additional damage that might be inflicted on the enemy.

If the actual figures were known we'd all be astounded by the tremendous volume of ammunition wasted in battle. As an example take note of what happened lately during the invasion of one of the Pacific islands. In addition to bombs, five thousand shells were pumped out to the Japs. Later the infantry moved in, doubtlessly polishing off quite a number itself, and the total score of dead Japs amounted to about a thousand.

Incidentally, the figures also help us make an estimate on the cost of this war. Big calibre shells like those used run into hundreds of dollars apiece. Then add the cost of guns, planes, ships, trucks and other equipment, plus the expense of supplying all men and equipment, and you begin to arrive at a faint notion of the astronomical amount. One war bond doesn't go far in this fight, does it? And remember, that was only one little island.

On the other hand, we've learned long ago that the generous use of equipment and ammunition results in an enormous saving of lives. Every enemy put out of action by a shell is just another one of the doughboys won't have to face when they arrive upon the scene. Every enemy dazed by the incessant pounding, even if he should escape a wound, is an easier victim for the doughboys.

A favorite method of attack developed in this war is to have the infantry move up as nearly as possible behind the artillery barrage, usually about a hundred yards. Then, at a given signal, the fire is lifted and boys rush in to mop up. Before the enemy can recover from the surprise he has lost his chance to set set.

Sounds dangerous to flirt with one's own heavy fire that way, but actually it has proven less hazardous than keeping at a safe distance. Fewer men are lost as a result of short shots than are otherwise lost as a result of permitting the enemy to reorganize.

Artillery waste can be explained principally by two simple facts. The first being that the person directing fire seldom knows the exact location of his target. Usually there's neither time nor opportunity to survey for the range and angle. So the only resort is to estimate, which isn't simple when a person is scouting several thousand yards through the hazy distance. Then he sends out a round, watches where it lands, and tries to do better on the next one. Maybe he'll use a half dozen shells exploring that way before he gets close.

Finally, when he hears down for effective fire, the chances are that most shells will only tear big holes in the ground. If the enemy has dug in he is fairly safe from anything but air bursts and direct hits. So the only alternative is to pour out so many rounds that the odds are against him regardless.

In case you are wondering about the column's sudden return to battle technique, the answer might be a revival of interest in gunnery. Lately a group of us, growing some what weary of the paperized routine, decided that an informal review of gunnery would prove quite fascinating. It did. In fact, this is even better than it was back in the good old OCS days. The strain is delightfully absent. We don't worry about flunking every time we make a homer.

For the time being our activity is confined to proper methods of procedure. It consists of computing original data and following through the mission until the imaginary target is blown up. Next we're going to try our skill on a terrain board, which is an ingenious contrivance to teach the fundamentals of artillery fire without benefit of gun or crew.

The terrain board was introduced to the Field Artillery School after my officer candidate days. Quite often since then I've thought of how much money Uncle Sam could have saved by teaching

Senate Overrides Tax Bill Veto By Vote Of 72 To 14 Higher Postal Rates To Become Effective Latter Part of Month

First general effects of the new legislation resulting from the Senate's overriding the tax bill veto last Friday will be felt when higher postal rates become effective the latter part of next month.

Then, on April 1, an increased schedule of excise taxes become effective, jumping the levy on liquor from $6 to $9 a gallon (about 11 cents per drink on the 100-proof spirits) and extending through a list of other commodities and services.

The overriding vote was 72 to 14—16 more than the necessary two thirds majority, and the bill which congressional sources estimate will yield about $2,315,000,000 in additional revenue annually, became law.

The legislation has no effect on the individual income tax returns due March 15 on 1943 income, but some of the provisions include:

Increase in individual income taxes for 1944; a boost in the corporation excess profits tax; higher taxes on items classified as luxuries, which will include cabaret charges, cosmetics, furs, luggage and most jewelry which will bear a 20 per cent sales tax; rates on railroad tickets and local telephone services goes from 10 to 15 per cent; beer and wine go up along with liquor.

Increased postal rates in several categories of mail will increase the rate of in-town letters from 2 to 3 cents, and air mail charges rise from 6 to 8 cents per ounce. The out-of-town letter rate will remain at 3 cents.

The social security pay roll tax rate is frozen at 1 per cent for the rest of 1944.

Labor unions, farm co-operatives and other organizations are required to make financial statements to the treasury, although no tax is imposed.

There is no increase in the corporation normal or surtax rate of 40 per cent.

The new law exempts from taxation sums to servicemen and women as muster out pay.

It makes duty free the importation of lighter weight newspaper, during the war emergency.

LOCAL WOMEN TOLD OF NEED FOR NURSE'S AIDES; 5 RESPOND

Muenster women were called together last Wednesday by Mrs. O. H. Hellman, Red Cross Executive Board member, and Mrs. T. S. Myrick for a meeting to discuss the Red Cross volunteer Nurse's aide course which began this week in Gainesville.

Mrs. Beatrice Siebel, chairman of Red Cross volunteer service, was in charge of the meeting. An appeal was made to Muenster women to form a group for the new course.

Details on the training period were given by Mrs. Helen Tyler, captain of the Nurse's Aide corps, and Mrs. Howard Broadhead, an aide who received her training at the Camp Howze Station Hospital, discussed the duties of Nurse's aides by giving a review of a typical day at the hospital.

Lt. Marguerite Ray, a nurse at Camp Howze station hospital, told the group of her experiences on duty in the African-European theatres of war, gave praise to nurses aides now on duty at the hospital and stressed the need for more.

Mrs. Lois Atchison, recruiting chairman, and Mrs. Grace Stevens, publicity chairman for volunteer services, also attended the meeting.

5 Local Women Respond

Five local women began the course of instructions Tuesday. They are Mesdames G. H. Hellman, Henry Pette, Jim Cook and John Fisch and Miss Florene Endres. Also included in the class are Mrs. Johns and Miss Dorothy Winstead of the Hays community. The class consists of 24 students.

S. Sgt. Wilmer Luke left Tuesday evening to return to his duties at Lubbock following a 15-day furlough with relatives here.

Muenster Quota Set At $1,100; Mrs. G. H. Hellman Is Chairman

Confronted with responsibilities of unprecedented proportions with the world war entering its most crucial stage and with a stupendous task ahead in the post war era, the American Red Cross Wednesday morning officially opened its 1944 War Fund appeal with a voluntary subscription of two hundred million dollars by the American people as its objective.

Cooke county's quota in the drive is $23,400, more than double last year's goal, it was announced last week by W. C. Robinson, chairman of the financial campaign.

Muenster's quota is $1,100 and local solicitors are Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Hellman and Mrs. Jim Cook. Mrs. Hellman is chairman for this community.

Local solicitors have expressed confidence that a new and profound public appreciation of what the Red Cross is doing in this world emergency will assure an early completion of the drive.

One of the most important wartime Red Cross functions, it has been observed, has been the collection of human blood for plasma. Thirty five blood donor stations now are operating and some five million pints of the vital fluid have been collected thus far.

The Red Cross has trained 100,000 volunteer nurses' aides who are now serving in both military and civilian hospitals. Service men abroad express deep gratitude to the Red Cross for its "comforts of home" service, and Gen. Mark Clark, commander of the Fifth Army in Italy, made the following remark:

"Wherever the Fifth Army has moved the American Red Cross has kept pace with its advancement. In Africa, in Italy, at Salerno, at Naples and beyond, the Red Cross is on the job faithfully, continuously providing those special comforts which mean so much to the men after hard days of battle. Today Red Cross continues to carry on this work close to the fighting lines."

Chairman Robinson says that latest statistics show that Red Cross field directors in army and navy camps and stations are giving assistance to three servicemen every minute of the hour. One out of every five men in the armed forces has been served by the Red Cross field director during a recent 12-month period. Red Cross chapters, including Cooke county, have been equally as active. The county chapter handled 527 cases during the month of January alone.

In the 1943 campaign Muenster and the county went over the top of the assigned goal. The 1944 drive must be equally as successful.

RATION TOKENS WENT INTO CIRCULATION THIS WEEK MONDAY

Ration tokens went into circulation Monday at grocery stores as change on food ration stamps.

The plastic discs, designed to save time at grocery and market centers, were being issued by merchants as change when purchasers presented 10-point food stamps. On an 18-point purchase the customer formerly collected from the ration book from three to six stamps totaling 18 points. Under the token plan the customer lays down two 10-point stamps and receives two tokens in change.

Green stamps K, L and M in Book 4 will be used through March 20th at face value. Likewise brown stamps Y and Z in Book 3 will be used for the same period.

Blue stamps 8-A, B, C, D and E in Book 4 became valid Monday morning at ten points each for processed foods through May 20. In the same book, red stamps 8-A, B and C for meats, cheese, etc., will be worth 10 points each through May 20.

Tokens given as change will be retained to be used later, with or without other ration stamps, for additional purchases of rationed goods. Tokens have no expiration date.

CITY GIVES NOTICE OF ANNUAL ELECTION ON TUESDAY, APRIL 4

Meeting in a special session last week Muenster city council gave notice of the annual election of city officials on the first Tuesday of April, which falls on the 4th.

Two aldermen are to be elected at that time for positions No. 1 and No. 2.

Today, the incumbents, I. A. Schoech and Nick Miller, are the only persons on the ticket.

Those who intend to have their names on the ticket are required by law to announce their candidacy at least ten days before the election, the city secretary has reminded. If they enter the race after that date their votes will have to be written in at the election.

R. L. McNeelley, I. A. Schoech, J. W. Fisher and J. M. Weinzapfel and son, Joe, were in Denison Friday to attend a meeting of the South Western Power association and had the opportunity to inspect the Denison dam. This special privilege, not yet accorded the public, was extended to persons attending the one-day session.

Flu and Pneumonia Prove Fatal; Funeral Arrangements Pending

Mrs. A. T. Hoehn, 59, died Wednesday evening at 7:30 in a Gainesville hospital following an illness of pneumonia and other complications. She had been sick less than two weeks.

News of her passing comes as a severe shock to her many friends, who, while they were aware she was ill, had no idea that her condition was critical. She was taken to the hospital on February 20 suffering from influenza, then contracted pneumonia and grew suddenly worse this Tuesday. Wednesday morning her children were called to her bedside.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete pending word from relatives living at a distance, but will be held here from Sacred Heart church, of which she was a faithful member.

Mrs. Hoehn was born June 5, 1884 at Chatham, Canada. She was Miss Bertha Denny before her marriage to Mr. Hoehn on August 1, 1907. They were residents of Burkburnett for several years before coming to this city almost two decades ago. Mrs. Hoehn was a registered nurse and engaged in that capacity for a number of years before her marriage.

Survivors are the husband, two daughters, Mrs. Ed Cler, Garland, and Miss Jane Hoehn, a senior cadet with the army nurses corps, Austin; four sons, Lt. Albert Hoehn, with the Navy, somewhere in the Marshall Islands; Lt. C. M. Hoehn, with the army air corps, stationed at Tallahassee, Fla.; Aviation Student, Jack Hoehn, training at San Antonio, and Bill Hoehn, who resides at home, and one granddaughter of Garland. Also surviving are sisters and brothers.

Miss Jane Hoehn had been serving as her mother's nurse since she was taken to the hospital, and the other children, with the exception of Lt. Albert Hoehn, arrived during the day on Wednesday.

Truck To Pick Up Waste Paper Will Be Here Saturday

A truck to collect waste paper will be in Muenster this Saturday, March 4, and citizens are urged to give their utmost cooperation in the drive for this vital war material.

Through cooperation with J. P. Flusche, local junk dealer, the army truck will make the rounds throughout the city district and will pick up waste paper that has been boxed or bundled and set out at curbs or in alleys.

Persons residing outside the city limits are asked to bring their old papers in and deposit them on the truck in the morning which will be stationed at Flusche's junk yard. Later the truck will make the rounds to pick up city papers.

It was pointed out that all waste paper including newspapers, old magazines, cardboard cartons, boxes and so forth is classed as essential scrap and full cooperation is requested.

SUGAR STAMP 40 IS GOOD FOR ONE YEAR

In answer to hundreds of queries now being received in grocery stores throughout the city and at Cooke County rationing board, the board Friday announced that sugar stamp No. 40 in war ration book No. 4 for five pounds of sugar for home canning purposes is valid throughout the year until February 28, 1945.

The first canning allotment was released earlier than originally planned, the board said, to take care of early fruit crops in the southern part of the country. However, housewives should remember that this five pounds which became valid February 1 is part of the maximum of 25 pounds obtainable for home canning throughout the year 1944 and until February 28, 1945.

In North Carolina Pfc. Pete Stoffels is now on duty at Camp Butler, N.C., following completion of maneuvers in Tennessee, his mother, Mrs. H. P. Stoffels advised this week. Their other son, Pvt. Henry Stoffels, is stationed with the army in New Guinea.

ANGELINE KNABE AND CPL. ROY SHUMAKER WED FEBRUARY 22

A pretty wedding of last week was that performed at Sacred Heart church here Tuesday morning to unite Miss Angeline Knabe of this city and Cpl. Roy Shumaker of Camp Howze and Rensselaer, Ind. Pastor Father Thomas officiated at the rites and at the nuptial high mass. Music was furnished by the church choir assisted by Sister Leonarda at the pipe organ.

The bride chose for her wedding gown a floor length frock of white, fashioned with a draped jersey bodice and full skirt of marquisette. She wore a finer tip veil held in place with a wreath of sardinas and carried an arm bouquet of roses. Her only ornament, worn as "something old and something borrowed" was a pearl necklace belonging to her sister-in-law, Mrs. Adolph Knabe.

Attending as maid of honor was the bride's twin sister, Miss Adeline Knabe, who wore a dress of aqua brocaded satin made with fitted, long waisted bodice and full skirt. She wore a head-dress of pink roses and her flowers were a corsage of pink carnations.

Martin Becker, cousin of the bride, was best man.

Present in the sanctuary was Chaplain Woodruff of Camp Howze who received Cpl. Shumaker into the church. He was baptized Monday with Miss Adeline Knabe and Martin Becker as sponsors, and received his first Communion during the nuptial mass.

Following the church services a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Knabe, to the bridal party and Chaplain Woodruff.

During the day an informal reception was held at the Knabe home and dinner was served to 40 relatives and friends. A dance in the K of C hall in the evening concluded festivities. Music was furnished by Miss Mildred Walterscheid, Henry Yosten, Alfred Bayer and Andy Walterscheid.

Mrs. Shumaker is a native of this city, attended Sacred Heart school, and was a member of the Young Ladies Sodality.

PORTRAYS CHRIST

—Josef Meier, who enacts the leading role in the Passion Play, bears the reputation of being one of the world's outstanding Christus portrayers. Now a United States citizen, Meier comes originally from Westphalia, Germany. His ancestors long before him were Biblical Dramatists and he has been trained since childhood to enact the role of Christ. The Passion Play comes to Fair Park, Dallas, on March 5 and continues through the 12th. Two shows are featured daily, a matinee at 2 and evening performance at 8:15.

Bezner went for them to drive them back.

A recent issue of the San Francisco Calif. Examiner carried a picture of Lt. Ray Bezner and his brother, Seabee Huseo Bezner and an accompanying article told how the young men had assisted in the 4th War Loan drive by making personal appearances throughout that sector, telling of their experiences overseas. The boys are sons of Mr. and Mrs. John Bezner.

A.S. Ralph Bezner, home on a 6-week sick leave, left last Tuesday for California to visit with his brothers, Seabee, Herbert and Huseo Bezner at Camp Parks, and will go from there to Oregon for a visit with another brother, Lt. Ray Bezner, after which he reports at Brigham City, Utah, on March 4. Lt. Bezner is now stationed at Redmond, Oregon, for duty.

F.A. WIESE FAMILY HAS REUNION SATURDAY

Mr. and Mrs. F.A. Wiese of Gainesville went to Victoria, Kansas last week to visit their son, Cpl. Francis Wiese, who was to go overseas. Following their visit there they spent a few days in another city and then returned home to find the son they just told goodbye waiting to welcome them home. His plans to leave were changed and he was granted a 4-day pass. He is a senior gunner.

On Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Wiese entertained with a family reunion at their home for which the whole family was present. In addition to Cpl. Francis those present were Pfc. Paul Wiese who is being transferred from Chanute Field, Ill. to Clovis, N.M., and had a several days pass; Leonard Wiese, student at Subiaco Academy, who was home for the weekend; and Bobby Wiese, who lives at home.

us on something like that instead of blowing away all the precious ammunition. Thousands of rounds running into hundreds of thousands of dollars. And to think that a terrain board can be built for the cost of only a few light artillery shells.

Actually the thing is a miniature replica of a range. Through field glasses from a distance of 60 or 80 feet it looks very much like the wide open spaces.

Here's an idea on how it works. Below a lot of dressed up burlap, which serves as the surface, there is a small bottle of chemical mixture supported by a roller on a graduated framework. The operator below moves that bottle around to correspond with the command shifts of range and deflection angle and then presses a rubber bulb. A tiny puff of smoke drifts up through the burlap looking very much like the cloud of dust and smoke kicked up on the range when a shell explodes. It helps a fellow get the system down pat, and later, out on the range, he finds that the real thing

PASSION PLAY TO SHOW IN DALLAS MARCH 5 THRU 12

The original Black Hills Passion Play, with Joseph Meier, world famous Christus portrayer comes to Fair Park auditorium in Dallas on March 5 and continues through March 12, under the sponsorship of the Lions Club of Dallas for the benefit of the Lion Club Child Welfare Fund.

This powerful drama has now become America's most widely hailed stage success. Adapted, and spoken in English the dramatic story of the Man of Galilee is told in 22 soul-stirring scenes, enhanced with mammoth settings, colorful and authentic costumes heightened by the brilliance of modern stage effects and executed by players steeped in the tradition of the world's most famed presentation. The play is now in its 701st year of continuous presentation.

It had its origin in 1242 in Luesen, Westphalia, Germany, and after nearly 700 years of showing in its home in Europe, with the rise of the Axis regime, the play started on a world tour and in 1937 arrived in the United States. At the request of many Americans, the famous play was finally permanently transplanted in this country in 1937 and a home for it was established in the Black Hills of South Dakota near the tiny village of Spearfish, where the largest passion play grounds in the world were erected. The script was translated and adapted into the English language and this world famous drama is now being shown in major American cities for the first time with the dialogue in English. It comes to Dallas after breaking all-time attendance records in such cities as Philadelphia, Washington and Baltimore. Tickets went on sale Monday, the 21st of Feb., at Passion Play Headquarters in the Magnolia Bldg. Street floor, Dallas.
