Public opinion says to keep diving board and slide at pool

The Muenster City Council decided in favor of public opinion Monday night and will keep the diving boards and slides in place at the municipal swimming pool. Mayor Ted Henschel said, "We always respect the recommendation of our established boards but in this case I think we all agree with the many citizens who have expressed their opinion. We must decline the park board recommendation to remove the high diving board and the shallow water slide."

After half a year of council meetings, workshops and legal laundering, the council has passed the ordinance granting a twenty year franchise to North Texas Communications Co. for cable television service. Both the city and Muenster Cable TV agreed with all aspects of the third reading including the 4 percent franchise fee which is passed directly through to the customers. The maximum allowable fee is 5 percent. The new franchise agreement will not go into effect until 1992.

A request by Neil Huchton to install gas storage tanks on city easement at the Kerr McGee station was tabled awaiting the final word from the State of Texas. The State Fire Marshall initially says no.

Cooke County Tax Appraisal

District appraiser Brenda Urrutia and TAD board member Robert Klement were at the council meeting to answer questions on and encourage acceptance of the 1991 Appraisal District budget. An amount of $447,990.00 is proposed for the appraisal job and $16,000 for tangible personal property. Muenster does its own collection and thus does not pay for the collection job. Urrutia said that one employee has been eliminated from the mapping section and the computer earlier proposed for mapping is out. "We think our budget is pretty stingy," said Urrutia, "and we will try to be even more efficient." Councilman Aubry Tuggle asked about the chronic problems with mis-registered vehicles on the Muenster tax rolls. Urrutia said they hoped to solve the problem by using regular employees to do the job instead of temporary part-time people on the computer entry job. Urrutia also encouraged everyone to come in for help on tax problems. "I think you will find an improved image and reception now," she said.

Muenster paid $6,452.87 for tax appraisal last year. The service will cost $590.26 more in 1991. The budget is the second lowest in the state when compared with counties of comparable size.

Councilman Tuggle recommended cooperation with the new effort and image at CCTAD. The budget was accepted unanimously.

Other council action included: -John Appel requested that his assessment for street paving be lowered to facilitate sale of the property. He claimed that the appraiser did not know the actual size of the property and therefore the cost should be lower. The council will not make a decision until the actual cost of the project is known.

-The council listened to a sales presentation by Kenny Bezner on a FAX machine but delayed a decision until a local offer can be examined.

-The city will ask Alan Sicking and Eddie Ramsey to continue as zoning board members.

-The city will ask John Bartush, Ben Bindel and Dave Flusche, Jr. to continue as park board members.

-The city will contact Dr. Marvin Knight for nomination for the Cooke County Tax Appraisal District Review Board.

-Recommendation of the Zoning Board was accepted to rezone the eastern three lots of the south half of block 31 residential to business use.

-The council approved payment of monthly bills totalling $18,681.83.

Muenster VFD initiates plan to improve firefighting efficiency

Muenster Volunteer Fire Department members have begun a task that is both monumental in effort and will take considerable time to complete. They are asking the cooperation of residents and business owners in the area served by MVFD in submitting floor plans of their buildings.

The floor plans should be drawn to scale and contain important information such as the location of all windows, doors, closets; where flammables are stored; and the place to find service connections and in rural homes the outside water tank. Only members of the Muenster

Fire Dept. will have access to the plans which will be kept under lock at all times. Enroute to a structure fire the plans will be studied so that firemen entering a smoke filled building will have a visual idea of its layout.

"Having a building plan drawn to scale gives us a general idea of the layout of the structure and what is in the structure such as hazardous paint, gas, etc. and tells us if there is anything unique about the building," said Herbie Knabe, Muenster fire chief. "You can't see anything in a building filled with smoke, but we could pull the plan and know the number of rooms and where to look."

Knowing that there is a bedroom located a certain number of feet down the hall could help save a life, said another fireman. "You can't see in smoke and have to feel your way around."

The grid sheets, and information on how to complete them, are available at City Hall, Muenster Milling Co., Knabe Tire, Endres Motor, Gehrig's Hardware and various other local businesses. "If you need help call City Hall and they will relay the message," instructed Ronnie Felderhoff, project chairman. "We expect this to be a long project."

Burglars strike Muenster again

According to local police reports three Muenster homes were burglarized Saturday night, Dec. 1. The incidents at the Ronnie Weinzapfel home, 604 N. Ash and the Martin Kralickes home south of Muenster on FM 373 were discovered and reported Saturday. The thefts at the Gerald Graham residence, located just southwest of Muenster, weren't discovered and reported until Monday.

Two suspects were apprehended along FM 373 by Muenster Police Officer Bob Stovall at 9:45 p.m. Saturday. They are suspected in the burglary of the Kralickes'.

The burglars were apparently interrupted when the Kralickes' daughter and family, who were visiting for the weekend, returned from a wedding reception. According to a family member Liz and Michael Harpel were given a ride home by her brother-in-law Terry Walterscheid. It took her some time to locate the house key and the burglars had fled the scene by the time anyone entered the home.

Muenster Police Chief Helen Tompkins reported that very little was taken in any of the break-ins. Officers from the Muenster Police Department met Monday afternoon with investigators from the Cooke County Sheriff's Office and Texas Rangers to discuss the cases, as well as other area burglaries.

In other police news a two-vehicle accident occurred at 8:24 p.m. on Friday, Nov. 30 in the intersection of Hwy. 82 and Main St. The driver of the pick-up failed to yield the right of way. Its two passengers who were from Nocona were treated for injuries and released. The female driver of the other vehicle from Wichita, Kansas was transported to the Muenster Hospital.

Cooke County Electric announces outstanding achievement winners

The Spanish Fort and Hood Community Improvement Clubs took home the Traveling Trophies for outstanding achievement Nov. 27 at the annual Community Club Banquet.

Cooke County Electric Cooperative and the County Extension Agents for Cooke and Montague counties sponsor the banquet each year. It honors the achievements of community improvement clubs, which maintain community centers and provide leadership, public service and social events in rural areas.

Held in the CCEC auditorium each year, the banquet is attended by officers and spouses of various area community improvement clubs.

The Spanish Fort Community Club was chosen as the outstanding club in Montague County because of several community building activities. The club sponsored a Fish Fry that raised $1,100 for the upkeep of the Old Spanish Fort cemetery and a cake walk that raised $632 for the community center.

The club also erected a 50-foot flagpole in front of its community center and adopted for beautification a three-mile stretch of highway. Members not only cleared trash and debris along the highway frontage, they also planted bluebonnets and wildflowers.

The Hood Community Club placed first among Cooke County Clubs with an active year. Members sponsored a variety of

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

It's that time of year again for our hearts, minds, and helping hands to turn toward those less fortunate than ourselves. One special way that your readers might want to show that love and concern is by generous donations of food, gifts, and clothing to the Fifth Annual UNIMAX Christmas program.

They will have between now and December 19 to bring their donations by the UNIMAX factory for distribution to ten selected needy families in Cooke County. These are not merely "food basket" type gifts, but sometimes represent a months' supply of food for a family of four, not to mention the invaluable clothes and toys for some special children.

The crowning event of the whole project, once more, is the coming of Santa at the home of Max & Donna Chartrand, 1738 E. Broadway (Gainesville), on Tuesday evening, Dec. 11, 6:00 to 8:30 p.m. During this time children can give their Christmas wishes to Santa in person, have hot cocoa and cookies, and have a wonderful time enjoying the beautiful decorations and music!

So, I hope you'll get the word out! They may call me at 665-3298 for more information. Thanking you all for past support in the Annual UNIMAX Christmas Project, I am

Sincerely Yours,

To the Editor:

This letter may be a reminder that comes a little late for some people; but for us procrastinators it may be right on time. What I am referring to is our shopping for the holidays. I think we have an outstanding place to do our Christmas shopping. It is Muenster.

Although we may not have the hectic, frantic atmosphere of the malls; we have stores that have a marvelous selection and variety of gifts. Although we may miss the tradition of fighting the mobs and being ignored by the sales people in the city stores; we can enjoy the slower pace and friendliness of shopping with our neighbors who are our home-town merchants.

Muenster is a pretty neat place for a lot of reasons and the more we shop at home, the neater place it will become.

Check-out Muenster's stores; you won't be disappointed.

Merry Christmas,

ATTENTION!

It's time to dust off those boxes of Christmas lights and decorations! The Chamber of Commerce lighting contest, "Sparkling Enchanted Storybook Land," will be judged from Dec. 7-16. The ballots will appear in the Dec. 7 and 14 issues of The Muenster Enterprise and must be turned in to the Chamber office no later than noon Monday, Dec. 17.

Because The Muenster Enterprise has been receiving many calls asking for names and addresses of men and women in service in the MidEast this Christmas season, we will print every name and address we receive from parents or other family members of service personnel for the convenience of those who wish to send holiday greetings or gifts. Please help us and your own relatives, neighbors and friends who are asking for names and addresses. Because of the expected load of ordinary holiday mail, it is essential to get yours in the mail without delay.

Give the gift that lasts a lifetime!

If you have loved ones who live alone, you're probably concerned about their well being. Although they can live happily on their own, one day they might have an emergency... and you may not be there to help.

Muenster ISD Superintendent responds

Tutorials are not a cure-all for student achievement.

On behalf of the faculty (particularly our secondary teachers) of Muenster ISD, I would like to address last week's letter that dealt with tutorials at MISD. I would like to express our concern for any youngster that drops out of school. It is most unfortunate when this happens and there is a genuine desire on the part of dedicated teachers (and we have these at MISD) to help all they can. However, that help is only half of the equation. Having dealt with youngsters over the past 22 years, it's certainly a fair and accurate statement "that you can lead a horse to water but you can't make him drink." That's why the other half of the equation is so important, parental support and commitment to education. An emphasis from the home on the importance of school and seeing to it that youngsters meet their responsibilities is absolutely critical. It's hard work seeing that this occurs, and if parents aren't diligent, often times the youngster's education has gaps in it and it becomes difficult to catch up.

Tutorials at MISD go above and beyond State requirements because our staff are professionals and do have a genuine desire to see students achieve. Many schools set tutorials up entirely before or after school making them strictly voluntary. We don't do that at MISD. This year we've set aside a 22-minute period each day for tutorials, requiring students to attend that have failed or are borderline in classes. If students need additional help because of problems in more than one class, or if a student needs help that is not failing, we've asked them to contact their teacher to set up a time for student and teacher to get together, if the daily tutorial period is not enough. I don't believe there is a teacher on staff that would not willingly come in early or stay late (one or the other, or in some cases both) in order to help a student. As a matter of fact, that is the "gist" of what the administration tells any parent that wants extra help for their child. There is no requirement that teachers stay 30 minutes before or after school, although many do on their own. Just as some of our teachers already this year have come in early (7:15-7:30 a.m.) to meet with students that have needed extra help only to have that student show up a few times then quit coming altogether. The administration at MISD, along with our teachers, wants all the youngsters to experience success.

Tutorials are not normally started, officially, until the end of the first six weeks; however, our high school administrator, out of concern for several students, initiated tutorials this year on 9/18/90 which was after the third week of school. As mentioned earlier, just because a student attends a tutorial doesn't necessarily solve all problems. It's what that student puts into the session that will determine what that student gets out of that session. One point of clarification is also needed on what a tutorial is or should be. Tutorials, as required by the Texas Education Agency, are to give help to students that are behind in current class work. If students have failed classes previously, or have a poor background in a subject, tutorials will not be able to solve this problem expediently.

Tutorials are designed to help students who are behind in current work, not to provide instant help for what a student did not get a year or two ago. That kind of tutoring is available, but it takes longer to get results because the student is trying to keep up with current classwork which he/she can't, because they have no, or a very weak, background, so in essence, the "cart is being placed before the horse." This leads to frustration because the student is trying to cram one or two years of what should have been learned into daily tutorials. You cannot make up in three weeks what it took you a semester or a year to fall short in. Tutorial teachers are not there to go over assignments "blow by blow," they are there to answer questions that students have over work they should be doing during the tutorial. Teachers are there to guide, direct and help, but it is not feasible to assign one teacher to one student and that was not the State's intent for the tutorial session, nor is it necessary. Once again, that type of individual help can be worked out between teacher and student.

It is true that MISD has very high academic standards - certainly anything less than that would be unacceptable. However, we have a very strong desire, supported by policy and procedure to identify youngsters early that are having problems and get them into a program for tutorials that will help them to achieve. Good teachers respond to the challenge of how to "get across" their subject matter to students that are having problems and our staff is dedicated to responding to those in need. Being new to Muenster, I've really been impressed with their willingness to go that "extra mile."

As mentioned earlier, there is a concern when a youngster drops out of school. This could have potential ramifications further down the road for all concerned. It's obviously frustrating to the school, parent, and student. Sometimes it's important that we find someone to blame, that of course eases the conscience but doesn't do anything for solving the problem of a student that has dropped out.

Comparing tutorials from one six weeks to another, we can see some very positive results. Fifteen students that were in tutorials last six weeks are no longer in there. This would indicate that those students did, and are, benefiting from our tutorial program. We will never fix all the cracks in education. Unfortunately, some students do fall through those cracks. I believe it is unfair and indefensible to blame a school that does care and makes a genuine effort to salvage youngsters. Obviously, we're doing something right in Muenster ISD since the drop out rate in Muenster in the past has been 0. Our system is not "fool proof" and we're always open to suggestions on how to better it. But we are not neglecting our students, any of them, not because we have written this down on a piece of paper, but because the people that teach are caring, compassionate and professional and anytime one is lost, it hurts.

Bill King dies at age 62

Cooke County, its school districts and its towns and a host of sports fans and friends and co-workers have joined his family in mourning the sudden death of Bill King of Gainesville, at age 62, on Tuesday evening. He suffered a cardiac arrest in his home and was pronounced dead upon arrival at 7:39 p.m. at Gainesville Memorial Hospital.

Bill King was born on May 25, 1928, the son of Consuelo Smith King Shepherd and the late Raymond P. King. His father preceded him in death on July 13, 1938.

He attended Gainesville High School, Cooke County College and North Texas State University. He married the former Margaret Jo Lynch on Dec. 11, 1953. He served in the military in the Korean War for two years.

A long-time sports editor of the Gainesville Daily Register, he won awards for his editorials, sports news writing and photos and contributed greatly to the Register's annual sports special football edition. He was highly respected by coaches, players and co-workers who depended on him for factual, interesting and fair reporting of athletics in Cooke County for more than 25 years.

For many years he reported Friday night football games for Cooke County schools, and occasionally attended Muenster High School Hornet games and Sacred Heart High School games. He was a friend of R.N. Fette, owner-publisher-sports writer of The Muenster Enterprise. Bill King devoted part of his column "King of The Road" to Fette when he died in August 1986, writing, in part "a journalistic legend died this week in Muenster"...and, "many's the time we walked the sidelines of many football games and discussed school boy athletics."

For a time he was in the real estate business and then became an officer in the Gainesville National Bank before returning to the Register to become featured columnist in "King of the Road."

Funeral services were held Friday at 2 p.m. at Whaley United Methodist Church, officiated by Rev. Bourdon Smith, followed by burial in Fairview Cemetery directed by Geo. J. Carroll and Sons Funeral Home.

Survivors include his wife Margaret Jo King; three sons, Bill R. King Jr., Keith G. King, and Karl S. King; his mother, Consuelo Shepherd; a daughter-in-law; two grandsons, one brother and two cousins.

Edelweiss Kinderhaus' Grand Opening rings in yule season

A shop specializing in unique toys, quality gifts, antiques, handmade quilts, and crafts has opened in Muenster just in time to benefit the busy holiday shopper. Owners June Bartush and Marlene Fisher have announced that their Grand Opening will be Thursday, Dec. 6 through Saturday, Dec. 8.

A ribbon cutting ceremony was held on Monday, Nov. 26 and their first day of business was Nov. 23. Store hours are Monday through Saturday, 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. After Christmas they plan to be closed on Mondays.

"We talked about opening a business like this years ago," remarked June Bartush. "The time and opportunity were finally right and when Tops and Teams moved we decided to go ahead with our plans."

The variety of items available in Edelweiss Kinderhaus are a combination of both partners' interests. Both enjoy antiques, June especially appreciates dolls, and Marlene enjoys crafts. "I couldn't find unique and educational toys for children in area stores," said

Marlene. "They were available through catalogues and I thought why not (in a store) where you can see them before purchasing."

Marlene Fisher is a registered nurse and is presently employed in the pediatric department of Denton Regional Medical Center. Her experience with children enables her to assist customers in selecting age appropriate toys.

"Our product line will always be changing," commented the partners. "We want to serve people and hope that our customers will tell us their ideas on the merchandise that they would like to see."

Freshly painted white shelves display a wide array of unique educational and imported toys that will provide entertainment for all ages. Dolls lay sleeping in cradles or sit on miniature furniture. Antique furniture and shelves display quilts, linens and afghans.

Also on display are quality gifts such as crystal, pottery, pewter, potpourri, bath items, leather goods, tapestry, music boxes, and wood items. The merchandise is well arranged and easy to examine.

Reflecting the mood of the new business is an antique wall mirror that has been a part of the building since it was a saloon in 1902. The building has since housed a number of businesses including two cafes, a drug store, and a sporting goods store. The mirror's ornate frame and cabinet make an outstanding backdrop for the shop's check-out counter.

As a drawing card for their Grand Opening Edelweiss Kinderhaus is offering 15 percent off select items, and if an expected shipment of doll trunks arrive customers purchasing both a doll and trunk will get a $5 discount off the trunk price.

Drawings for door prizes will be held each day. On Thursday the hours are 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. and wine, cheese and fruit will be served. Prizes and drawing times are 4 p.m., Ravensburger Puzzle; 6 p.m., Baking Set; 8 p.m., Afterburner Plane, Dino Stamp and Mosaic; 8:30 p.m., Gunther Scout German Airplane.

Friday's hours are 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. with refreshments of cookies and punch. Drawing times are 12 noon, Lauri Puzzle; 2 p.m. Finger Print Kit and Fluorescent Clay; 4 p.m., Pottery Item; 5 p.m., Super Toy Factory Kit.

Saturday's hours are 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. Wassail and a variety of confections such as truffles, divinity and fudge will be served. Prizes and drawing times will be at 10 a.m., Noah's Ark Uniset; 12 noon, Box of Potpourri; 2 p.m., Circus Music Box and Circus Stencils; 4 p.m., Bucket of Goodies.

Also on Saturday the grand prize drawing for a pair of Moon Shoes will take place at 6 p.m. Marlene and June will gift wrap purchases on request.

informative and entertaining programs and participated in several community projects. The club installed five signs that point the way to Hood and built a ramp to provide better access to the community center for elderly and infirm citizens. The club also sponsored an annual homecoming each

May and makes donations to the Myra and Era Volunteer Fire Departments.

Dr. Cherry Cunningham, a marriage and family counselor who practices in Sherman, delivered a speech on self-esteem that was warmly received. She told the assembled community club leaders that to love others, they must first love themselves.

To build self-esteem a person needs to hold positive thoughts about themselves. She likened a person to a large kettle. When good things are put into the kettle (praise, compliments, love) the person can make a good stew from which to serve others. When people are put down and made to feel bad, they have bad ingredients in their stew and have a hard time serving up something good to those with whom they come in contact.

Dr. Cunningham suggests avoiding people who put you down. Instead surround yourself with people who help you feel good about yourself and work hard to help them feel good about themselves. She also said that a person should always keep some "stew" in reserve. If people give to the point they feel tired and used up, their pot is empty. "Save some for yourself," she advised, noting that a person has to be healthy in order to give.

Ray Powell, Vice President of the CCEC Board of Directors, delivered the invocation and CCEC Member Relations Specialist Eric Williams acted as master of ceremonies. Powell also handed out $100 checks presented each year by CCEC to clubs in its service area. Clubs served by CCEC include Callisburg, Woodbine, Mountain Springs, Downard Fairplanes, Sivells Bend, Ross Point, Hood, Spanish Fort, Illinois Bend and Forestburg.

The meal was prepared by Evelyn Yeatts and Cassie Bullock, Cooke County Extension Agents; Imogene Evans, Mountague County Extension Agent; and Carla Evans, Imogene's mother-in-law.

Veterans given first chance to bid on land

AUSTIN - Detailed information on 447 tracts of forfeited state land included in a February 26 sale is now available through the Texas Veterans Land Board (VLB).

Located in 113 Texas counties, these tracts are being offered exclusively to eligible Texas veterans and can be purchased with no down payment.

The VLB will finance the entire amount of all winning bids. There is no limit on the amount loaned or on the number of tracts that an individual can bid on. However, eligible Texas veterans are limited to one land purchase in the sale.

Mauro noted that setting aside new forfeitures exclusively for bids from Texas veterans is a long-time VLB policy.

Tracts not sold in the February sale will be offered to both veterans and non-veterans through local real estate agents.

Eligible Texas veterans will receive a 7.99 percent interest rate with a 30-year assumable fixed-rate loan. A $25 non-refundable fee for each bid submitted is required.

The sale will be by sealed bid only, with a minimum bid set by the board. All bids must be received by February 26 at 1 p.m. Bidders need not be present at the bid opening.

Details of the sale and a description of each tract and its location can be obtained by calling the VLB toll-free at 1-800-252-VETS.

Sen. Carriker receives award

AUSTIN - On Wednesday, Nov. 14, the Texas Transit Association presented its Legislator of the Year award to Senator Steve Carriker (D-Roby). This award is given to legislators who have shown outstanding support for public transportation in Texas. Carriker marshalled efforts in the Senate to increase funding for rural and small city public transportation systems.

The award was presented to Senator Carriker by TTA president Anthony Kouneski. "Senator Carriker went beyond the call of duty to help transit providers with a critical piece of legislation in the Senate last session. His efforts are greatly appreciated," Kouneski said.

The Texas Transit Association is an organization of 52 members consisting of small city systems such as Abilene Transit System in Abilene, rural systems such as Texoma Area Paratransit System located in the Sherman/Denison area, and Metropolitan Transit Authorities, such as DART in Dallas.

We were there when no one else would serve you

In 1938, citizens of this area helped create and organize Cooke County Electric Cooperative. By working together, we were able to bring electric power to rural farms, ranches, schools and oilfields.

Over the years, we've provided a steady source of reliable and reasonably-priced electric power -- power that lets rural people enjoy most all the conveniences of living in town. Electricity improved country lifestyles and productivity. We're proud of that history and anxious to serve you in the future.

Ed Cler celebrate 50 golden years on Nov. 24

MR. and MRS. ED CLER
...on their wedding day, Nov. 1, 1940...

Ed and Aileen Cler gathered with their children and grandchildren to celebrate their golden wedding anniversary on Saturday, Nov. 24. It was the first time since 1975 that the whole family was together.

Saturday afternoon the family first met at Memories Studio for family portraits and then proceeded to the Knights of Columbus Hall for a family dinner catered by Cathie and Francis Fuhrmann at 5 p.m.

Master of ceremonies for the dinner program was Gary Cler, the couple's oldest son, who gave a short family history. Each of the nine children, Phyllis Youngblood, Gary, Sandra Fuhrmann, James, Deborah Randolph, Christa Cash, Tony, Mark, and Douglas, were introduced by their birth announcements as it appeared in The Muenster Enterprise in the month and year of their birth.

Open House honoring the anniversary couple began at 7 p.m. and continued through the evening. Music from the "Big Band Era" was played throughout the evening. Grandson, Tommy Youngblood, provided the stereo.

Granddaughters Mindy Cash, Karen Cler, Michelle Fuhrmann, and Julie Wyatt presided at the guest book, registering 150 guests.

The three-tiered anniversary cake was baked and decorated by Cathie and Francis Fuhrmann. It was topped by a heart-shaped spunglass keepsake ornament with a gold 50th in the center.

The chocolate fudge groom's cake was baked by Sarina Fuhrmann, and decorated by her sisters, Sharon and Jennifer, in a dairy scene depicting the business their grandfather ran for many years.

The cakes were cut by granddaughters Diane (Youngblood) Hoening, Cindy Youngblood and Donna Fuhrmann, and served by granddaughters Sarina and Elizabeth Fuhrmann and Melissa Randolph.

The hall was decorated by the children. The main table held a floral arrangement of nine flowers, one for each of the nine children for the month in which they were born. The guest book table held an arrangement of 23 flowers - one for each grandchild's birth month. Both arrangements were made by Lora's Flowers. Another table held photograph albums, and on the main table a baby picture of each of the children was used as a place card.

As a special gift to their parents, the children each wrote a love letter that was put into a handmade anniversary photo album. The album also held the newspaper account of their wedding and the birth announcements of their nine children, with space reserved for pictures of the celebration.

Those seated at the main table were the honor couple, Ed and Aileen Cler; Jane Hoehn, who was her sister's maid of honor, and Armella Cler, who graciously sat in for her late husband, Werner Cler, who was his brother's best man. Also at the table were the nine children and their spouses.

Out of town guests came from Washington State, Florida, St. Louis, Little Rock, Houston, Austin, Nocona, The Colony, Arlington and Gainesville and Fayetteville, North Carolina.

Edward J. Cler and Aileen F. Hoehn were married Nov. 1, 1940 at St. Mary's Church in Gainesville by Father John P. Brady in a Nuptial Mass at 8:30 a.m. Bertha Jane Hoehn was maid of honor for her sister and Werner Cler, now deceased, was his brother's best man.

Ed is the son of the late Charles and Elizabeth (Kleiss) Cler. Aileen is the daughter of the late Albert T. and Bertha (Donnelly) Hoehn.

After their marriage they lived on the Stacey Lease north of Muenster, where Ed worked for Trumper Oil Pet. Co. Aileen became a registered nurse, graduating from the Gainesville Sanitarium School of Nursing and passed her State Board in Oct. 1940.

Later Ed left his job to take a course in aircraft sheetmetal fabrication at North Texas Agricultural College (now the University of Texas at Arlington). He was hired by Southern Aircraft Corp. of Garland and began work there on Dec. 7, 1941. While Ed was in school, Aileen was employed at All Saints Hospital in Ft. Worth as a registered nurse.

Ed and Aileen lived in Garland from Dec. 1941 to May 1947. Phyllis and Gary were born there. In 1947 they moved back to Muenster to the Lehnertz farm three miles west of town shortly before their third child, Sandra was born. For the next eleven years, Ed farmed, raised stock and worked part time in town. During this time James, Deborah, Christa and Tony were born.

In 1958, Ed and Aileen went into the dairy business, and sold their first Grade-A milk the day their eighth child, Mark, was born. In November of the following year Doug was born, completing the family.

In 1963, Aileen went to work as a registered nurse in Nocona at Majors Clinic. In 1964 she joined the staff of Muenster Memorial Hospital where she worked until her retirement in 1976. Ed retired from active work in Oct. 1981.

The entire family was present for the celebration.

Phyllis (Cler) Youngblood lives west of Muenster and works for Nocona Boot Co. She has six children, Tom, Bob, Diane, Billy, Cindy and Steven.

Gary married Mary Scully of Spokane, Wash. They have three boys, Keith, Michael, and Steven. They live in Snokomish, Wash. Gary is self-employed.

Sandra (Cler) Fuhrmann married Leon Fuhrmann. They have seven children, Donna, Richard, Jennifer, Sharon, Sarina, Elizabeth and Michelle. They live in Myra. She is employed at Modern Floors.

James is employed by Clyde Fisher at his Miller Lite Warehouse in Denton. He also lives in Denton.

Deborah (Cler) Randolph married Eric Randolph. They have two daughters, Julie Wyatt and Melissa. She is employed by the Family Life Christian Academy in Gainesville. Their home is in Thackerville.

Christa (Cler) Cash is married to Gerald (Gerry Bob) Cash. They have two children Mindy and Jeremy. Their home is in The Colony.

Tony is employed at Weber Aircraft and lives west of Muenster.

Mark is employed at Valente in Muenster and lives in Myra. He has two daughters, Dea and Karen.

Douglas is employed by Schmidkofer Automotive in Gainesville. He is also attending school at Aero-Tech in Dallas. He has one daughter, Courtney.

The celebration was videotaped by Nell and Winston Roach of Forestburg.

Muenster Elementary students collect for Food Basket

Muenster elementary students, grades kindergarten through five, are sharing their blessings this Christmas season by collecting their 9th Annual Food Basket for the needy. The boys and girls are bringing canned foods to the classroom during the month of December. Each year Helen Tompkins, Muenster Chief of Police, sends an officer to pick up the canned foods for distribution to needy families in Muenster and Cooke County.

Muenster students are also sharing their Christmas joy with St. Richard's Villa, Muenster Public Library, the Muenster Enterprise, S.N.A.P. and Muenster Hospital by making Christmas cards, tray favors, singing Christmas carols and presenting brief skits during the month of December.

The students are also sending prayers, cards and letters to James Bright's Marine Battalion in Saudi Arabia. The students are especially interested in James' safety since he is a graduate of Muenster Public School.

Muenster teachers are also collecting their annual school supplies and warm clothes for needy children in the county.

Guests from a distance attend Cler anniversary

Among out of town guests who came from a distance to attend the golden wedding celebration of Ed and Aileen Cler were Mrs. Cler's brothers, sister and their families, Bertha Jane Hoehn of Holiday, Florida; Albert and Lois Hoehn of St. Louis, Mo.; Bill and Rita Hoehn of Deer Park, Tx.; Jack and Jeanne Hoehn of Nocona and their daughters and families Sheila and Jerre Butler of Austin; Terri and Biddy of Spanish Fort and Mark Martin and Bradley Biddy. Also Vic and Loretha (Cash) Bringle of Arlington.

Among relatives who spent most of a week here were Keith and Michael Cler of Cherey, Wash.; Gary and Mary Cler and son Steven of Smokomish, Wash.; An Bogrette of Holiday, Fla.; and Diane Holzeman of Little Rock, Arkansas.

Saint Jo C of C sponsors Tour of Homes

The third annual Chamber of Commerce Tour of Homes will take place in Saint Jo, Sunday, Dec. 9, from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. Two large old homes will be toured as well as the studio home of a local artist and a beautiful new ranch home located in the hills north of Saint Jo.

Conducted by the Saint Jo Chamber of Commerce the town will start from 109 West Williams Street. It is one block off Highway 82, turn southwest at the Chevron Station, and look for sign at the third house on the left. Tickets will be available at this point and a map to the other homes.

Each of the homes are beautiful from the standpoint of design, as well as their ability to endure and serve the family who uses each.

A fee of $5 per person will be charged and is to be used to support the Chamber's work for 1991.

Professional nursing staff completes recertification

The Muenster Memorial Hospital Professional Nursing Staff has recently completed the annual CPR re-certification program. Jodie Knight, R.N., certified CPR instructor of Gainesville, conducted the training session. All R.N.s and L.V.N.s on the Muenster Memorial Hospital staff were re-certified at that time.

Dustin is terrible two!

DUSTIN HESSE

Dustin Hesse celebrated his second birthday on Thursday, Nov. 8 with a party hosted by his parents, Curtis and Kristi Hesse of Muenster.

The party theme was M&Ms. There was an M&M cake made especially for Dustin by his great-aunt Janice Hesse. It was served to guests with ice cream. He also enjoyed opening his presents.

Joining in the celebration were grandparents Tom and Lucille Hesse, Jessie York, and Stanley and Sandy Kemp; aunts Tom

York and Glenda Kemp; uncle Mike Hesse; sister Kendy Jordan; cousin Tausha Kemp; and friends Sharon, Darryl, and Colton Swirczynski, Joe Smith, Amy Prather, Hannan Jordan; and great grandmother Mae Smith of Whitesboro.

Saint Jo Opry plans third anniv. show

The Saint Jo Opry will be having their third anniversary show Saturday, Dec. 8 in the school auditorium in Saint Jo, beginning at 7:00 p.m.

The Saint Jo Opry began three years ago as a musical show in the Lions Club building on the square in Saint Jo. After two shows, the 100 seating capacity of the building overflowed. The monthly musical was then moved to the school auditorium where it is still being held.

Invited to appear as guests on the anniversary show is the Headrick family from Gainesville. This singing group consists of the father, Jerry, daughters Laura, 17; Mandy, 13; Lacy, 10; and son Andy, 12.

Other guests are Fred Steiny and granddaughter from Boyd, Texas. Mr. Steiny plays fiddle and the granddaughter will give a clogging performance. They are talented and entertaining.

The opry is sponsored by the Country Cut Ups, and donations from proceeds go toward community projects. Admission is $2 for adults and children 12 and under are admitted free. Concessions will be available.

Holiday takes Lindsay group to Missouri

A late fall vacation was enjoyed by Ralph and Debbie Hermes and baby daughter, Jessica, when they went to Branson, Mo. for the Thanksgiving holiday weekend, accompanied by Ralph's mother, Theresa Hermes.

Enroute, they stopped in Vinita, Okla. where they visited cousins, Kunigunda Lodes and her daughters, Mary Sue and Clara Mae; also Michael and Evelyn Koessler and Mrs. Max Koessler who met them at the Lodes home for a three hour visit, before the Hermes continued on to Branson.

In Lindsay, when school was dismissed for the Thanksgiving holidays, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Mitchell and David and Brandi Fuhrmann picked up the Hermes children, Jennifer and Jason, to bring them to Branson, Mo. also. They all met at the vacation resort, joined by Mr. and Mrs. R.L. Crockett and granddaughters, Christi and Cathy Smith.

On Sunday they attended Mass at Our Lady of the Lake Church where Father Ernest Marquart is Pastor.

On Monday they drove to Eureka Springs, Ark. to see the statue of Christ of the Ozarks. Later they saw the Fish Hatchery, went boat riding on Lake Taney Combo and the children swam in an indoor pool. They went sightseeing to enjoy miles of Christmas lights and decorations.

At The Shepherd of the Hills they attended an outdoor theatre for a traditional country Christmas play featuring the Newborn King Live Christmas Drama.

On the way home they stopped in Springfield, Mo. to see the Bass Pro Shop, world's largest sporting goods store. In Vinita, Okla. they went to the largest McDonald's Restaurant built over Highway 65. For all of them, the fall vacation was a memorable event.

St. Richard's Villa News

by Frances Reiter

On Monday, Father Joe Weinzapfel had Mass at 9:00 for all residents.

Maureen Griggs came and played dominoes in the afternoon.

On Tuesday we had arts and crafts and made Christmas baskets with all kinds of seasonal flowers to decorate the tables for the Yuletide season.

In the afternoon Juanita Bright came and entertained with songs and played the piano.

Our weekly bingo game was on Wednesday at 10 a.m. Callers were Julia Cunningham, Gen Pels, Margaret Kupper and Catherine Hermes.

We have another new resident, Lee Puckett from Gainesville.

Wednesday was Beauty Shop Day with Mrs. Herr operating.

Thursday during Arts and Crafts the residents strung popcorn and painted ornaments for the Christmas tree.

The Christmas tree is up and being decorated. It's beginning to look like Christmas at the Villa.

Mrs. David Bright came out and played the piano and sang Christmas carols. Everyone enjoys her music.

Millie Voth and Lucille Hess came Friday with bananas and cookies for all the residents.

Mildred Lawson played her acordion and all had a sing-a-long fest.

The tree is up in the center of the lobby and it sure looks nice with all the decorations made by the residents in Arts and Crafts.

In the entrance room the Nativity scene is up. It has been used for the past five years. It is an antique which belongs to Frances Reiter and there are flower arrangements at vantage places.

Gerry Walterscheid is back on the job at the nurses desk. She has been off for the past four weeks because of surgery. Welcome back Gerry. All the residents are glad to see you doing so well.

Out of town guests were: Mary Ward of Derby, Kansas; Brother Steward of Forestburg; Bill and Gene Brown of Dallas; Mary and Clyde Morbitzer of Windthorst; Raymond Kelley of Irving; Rose Hudspeth of Myra; and Ruth Willis of Bowie.

On Sunday the Baptist church had services at 9:00 a.m. with Mr. and Mrs. Chris Cain speaking and leading the Christmas carols.

Happy Holidays from St. Richard's!

Warren and Shelly Sicking of Rt. 2, Muenster announce the birth of their first child, a son, on Nov. 28, 1990 at 7:25 a.m., weighing 8 lb. 4 oz. and measuring 21 inches in length. They have named him Joshua Louis. His grandparents are Louis and Pauline Sicking of Rt. 2 Muenster and Alvin and Pat Fleitman of Rt. 4, Gainesville. The great-grandparents are Johnny and Anna Fleitman of Muenster and Albert and Polly Dulock of Fort Worth.

CC Friends of the Family to begin program

We at Cooke County Friends of the Family are excited about how well our adult support group for survivors of sexual assault or incest has been doing. The response has been so positive that we have decided to coordinate another group whose purpose is to provide a supportive atmosphere for teenage survivors of sexual assault or incest. Our focus is on the teenagers, ages 13-18, who are dealing with the diverse effects of a sexual victimization.

The start up date will be Tuesday, Dec. 4. The free meetings will be held at our office, 400 S. Weaver (the old campfire office). If you are aware of a teenager who might benefit from this program, please contact us at 665-2873.

Women support Auxiliary

There was a full house at the Nov. 29 meeting of the Muenster Memorial Hospital Auxiliary held in the hospital's south wing. More than 50 women attended showing great community interest in reactivating the organization.

Kathy Northcutt of Denton presented a program on Breast Awareness. The chairman of the MMH board of directors' Doctor Recruitment committee, Debbie Hess reported on the present doctor situation in Muenster and the progress being made.

A nominating committee was selected to choose a slate of officers which will be voted on at the January meeting. Committee members are Janie Taylor, Pat Wimmer, Christi Klement, Glenda Russell, and Margie Starke. Date and time of the meeting will be announced at a future date.

It was decided that dues would be $6 per year and they can be sent to the Muenster Chamber of Commerce office until a treasurer is elected. There are many women who expressed the desire to join, but who were unable to attend the first meeting, said Margie Starke.

It was agreed that the organization's goals were to be a welcoming committee for prospective doctors' wives and newcomers to the community; to have health awareness programs periodically for the entire community; to sponsor fund raisers; and, most importantly, to keep the Muenster Hospital in the public eye.

Door prizes were given away and winners were Toni Hess, Ginny Schneider, Adeline Sicking, Betty Kralicke, and Brenda Rigby.

Blood Drive on Dec. 7 at Gainesville hospital

A Pre-Holiday Blood Drive will be held Friday, Dec. 7 from 7 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the conference room on the first floor of the Gainesville

Memorial Hospital, sponsored by the Texoma Regional Blood Center Mobile Unit. The public is invited to participate!

Meredith celebrates two!

MEREDITH HENNIGAN
Meredith Emily Hennigan, daughter of Mike and Janie Hennigan, turned 2 years old on Friday, Nov. 2. She celebrated the event on Saturday, Nov. 3 with a party in her home.

Sharing honors with Meredith was her special friend, Tony Perryman, who turned 17 on Friday, Nov. 2.

Meredith's parents hosted a turkey and dressing dinner. Cake was also served to the guests. Everyone enjoyed watching Meredith open her gifts.

Joining in the celebration were Meredith's sisters, Michelle, Mindy and Megan; cousins Dyan, Bradley and Greg Fisher; Ryan, Brandon, and Kimberly Klement; Aunt Carol Klement; and grandparents Vince and Trudy Felderhoff and Pat and Alice Hennigan.

Unable to attend but sending gifts and greetings were Meredith's godparents Debby Fisher and Pat Hennigan Jr.

THE KINDERGARTENERS at Muenster Public School enjoyed Children's Book Week in November. Each child brought a favorite book to school and "read" it to the class during that week. Some kindergarteners dressed up as the main characters of their book. The week was enjoyed by all.

4-H'ers participate as state leaders

by Sherilyn Sicking

An interesting challenge was experienced by two Cooke County 4-Hers as they traveled to Brownwood to serve as State Resource leaders for the Jr. Leadership Retreat held there Nov. 16 through Nov. 18.

Sherilyn Sicking of the Muenster 4-H club and Sean Herbold of the Silver Cedar 4-H club had this opportunity after attending the Teen Leaders Retreat in January of this year.

They trained 200, 13 through 13 year old 4-Hers from across the state; Sherilyn in planning monthly club meetings and Sean in the area of reporters.

Both of these senior 4-H members are outstanding leaders in their clubs and county. It was an interesting and different experience for them at the state level.

Their mothers, Evelyn Sicking and Jimmie Herbold, were in charge of transportation. Evelyn and Carla Sicking of Decatur stayed and participated in the leaders' programs.

Evelyn, a 13 year leader in 4-H, has the distinction of having her youngest child in her last year of 4-H and her oldest grandchild, Robert of Decatur, as a new 4-Her at the youngest age possible in 4-H at the same time.

LUCIEN GEHRIG

Lucien is 10!

Lucien Gehrig was honored when several of his classmates helped him celebrate his tenth birthday, following school on Nov. 16. The party was held in the home of his parents, Jim and Cindy Gehrig.

Lucien's cake was decorated to resemble a baseball field, with two baseball trading cards topping the cake. After gifts were opened and games were played, the guests were treated to a hot dog and chili supper and were served cake, ice cream and soft drinks.

Attending were his parents; sisters Joanna and Karen; brother Mark; grandmother Josephine Schilling; cousin Glen Dangelmayr; and friends Joseph Reiter, Charlie Schilling, Joe Becker, Adam Barnhill, Jesse Luke, Patrick Miller, Duncan Campbell, Stephen Bartush, Russell Fette, and Nicholas Yosten.

In the evening Lucien and his friends were treated to a game of bowling at All Star Lanes in Gainesville.

A party was held in the home of Lucien's grandparents, Alma and Herman Stoffels, on Thanksgiving Day to celebrate the November birthdays of their grandchildren. Honorees included Lucien whose birthday is Nov. 19; Jackie Bartush whose birthday is Nov. 29; and Stephen Bartush who celebrates on Nov. 3.

Support the Food Drive

The Muenster ISD Student Council members are sponsoring a food drive to collect canned goods (and other nonperishable food items) to support families in the Muenster area. This will help families at Christmastime and later this winter. For those who need a nudge to get into the Christmas spirit, this would be a good start.

A large box is located in the lobby of the high school. All Muenster ISD students are encouraged to contribute to the project as is any Muenster citizen who would like to give during this season of sharing.

Other Student Council projects during the month of December include shopping for the group's Little Angel, which is done as an annual tradition; and sending Christmas cards to Muenster ex-students who are serving in the military in the Middle East.

Baptism

Pollard

A christening ceremony was held for Kalyssa Michelle Pollard, infant daughter of John and Cheryl Pollard, on Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 22, 1990 at 10:30 a.m. in Our Lady of the Perpetual Help Catholic Church of Selma, Tx.

Reverend Patrick Cronin, pastor, officiated the ceremony. Kalyssa's godparents are an aunt and uncle Rita and Craig Bayer. She wore the christening outfit that was also worn by her mother and all of the Charles Bayer's children at their baptisms.

Kalyssa was actually baptized on Oct. 18 by Fr. Cronin in Humana Women's Hospital of San Antonio. It was the same date that her mother, Cheryl, was baptized on 26 years ago.

The John Pollard's hosted a dinner in their home after the christening. There was a special cake baked for Kalyssa by her grandmother Carolyn Bayer. It was decorated in white icing with a cross, an angel, and pink flowers. An inscription read "Our Little Lamb of God, Kalyssa Michelle."

Attending the christening and dinner were grandparents Charles and Carolyn Bayer; godparents Craig and Rita Bayer; an uncle Curt Bayer; and Fr. Patrick Cronin.

John Herr is stationed in Saudi Arabia

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Herr talked to their son, Pfc. John Herr. Johnny is serving in the U.S. Army, stationed in Saudia Arabia.

Johnny was at the home of an oil company employee on Nov. 16, when his mother learned he could be called. Johnny asked his mother to thank everyone for all the prayers, letters and packages from home.

His address is: Pfc. John R. Herr, 453-25-4069, Aco 3/41 INF 2nd., APO, NY, NY 09371-0010.

Era Honor Roll

The Era ISD submitted a list of honor students to the Muenster Enterprise for the second six weeks of the semester. Following is a list of the students and their grade classification:

Sixth grade - Erin Alphin, Lane Enderby, Leslie Ford; Seventh grade - Jennifer Bullard, Patrick Cannon, Aide Rodriguez, Dennis Turner; Ninth grade - Jim Morris; Tenth grade - Stacy Johnson, Gayle Lange; Eleventh grade - Jeremiah Bentley.

Oops!

There were two names inadvertently switched on last week's Muenster Public School Honor Roll. Elliot Klement and Jeff Lutkenhaus were placed on the 'B' Honor Roll, instead of the 'A' Honor Roll where they should have been.

CCC CHRISTMAS FOR KIDS - Hanging her stockings by the chimney with care is Vickie Dye, Cooke County College support staff member who is coordinating the decorations and activities for this year's second annual CCC "Community Christmas for Children." Set for Thursday evening, Dec. 6, it was open to all local and area youngsters and their families at no charge. Those attending enjoyed games, music and entertainment, as well as Christmas cookies and other refreshments. A real live Santa Claus was on hand to hear kids' Christmas wishes.

Use your fireplace efficiently

As winter approaches, many Texans will begin using their fireplaces again. The snap and crackle of a warm fire is comforting on cold, winter nights, but a fire is not a very efficient heat source. For those planning to use a fireplace, try the following tips from the Texas Energy Extension Service to have the warmest, most efficient fire possible.

- *Reduce heated air loss - Lower the thermostat setting on the central heating system to 50 to 55 degrees F when the fireplace is in use. By doing this, the furnace will not use as much fuel while the fireplace is in use.

- *Provide a fresh air source - Close all doors and warm-air supply ducts into the room where the fireplace is located, but open a window near the fireplace about 1/2 to 1 inch high. This will allow combustion air to be drawn from the partially open window instead of from the rest of the house.

- *Adjust the damper as the fire burns - Dampers help control the combustion process in wood by limiting the amount of air to the process. The damper should be fully open at the start of the fire, and about half open after the fire is burning well. When a fire is not burning, the damper should be closed so heated air will not be lost up the chimney.

- *Build the fire directly on the firebox floor - building the fire directly on the firebox floor prevents excess air from burning the fire too quickly. Grates allow continued air circulation underneath the fire, which cools the fire temperature and makes the fire burn quickly. Other devices, such as air circulating grates, usually do not increase efficiency because they also decrease combustion temperatures.

Although fireplaces are not efficient heating sources, their aesthetic appeal keeps their popularity high. For more information on efficient use of fireplaces, call the Texas Energy Hotline at 1-800-643-SAVE. Ask for your free copy of the Texas Energy Extension Service fact-sheet "Fireplaces."

CERTIFIED PUBLIC ACCOUNTANT Curtis J. Klement of El Paso has been appointed to the Presidential Advisory Cabinet of the Texas Society of Certified Public Accountants. He is a manager with the Coopers and Lybrand Accounting Firm. Klement is the son of Mrs. Marcie Klement of Muenster and the late Roddy Klement.

Rosa Neu feted on 90th

Mrs. Rosa Neu was honored on her 90th birthday on Saturday, Nov. 30, when her daughter, Pat, Mrs. Arnold Henscheid, hosted an evening dinner in her home that was attended by family members. Present were Alfred Neu of Lindsay; Elitha Endres of Muenster; Paul and Lorene Neu of Lindsay; Charlie Wimmer of Muenster; Tom and Mary Henscheid and children Matthew, Daniel and Kathryn of Arlington; Glenn Henscheid of Spring, Texas; and the hosts, Pat and Arnie.

ROSA NEU

On Sunday afternoon, Pat and her daughter-in-law Mary were hostesses for a Come and Go surprise party for 17 close friends and relatives from Lindsay, Gainesville and Muenster. They all had a great time reminiscing with the honoree.

A Christmas theme was used in decorations, refreshment table and a decorated cake by Pat Henscheid.

Airborne soldiers to reminisce Aug. 15-17

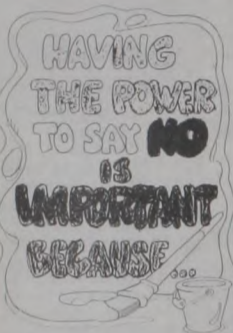

Airborne soldiers of the 101st Airborne Division who helped to shape history on Operation Desert Shield in Saudi Arabia, at Normandy, Bastogne and in Holland during World War II, and in Vietnam will have their 46th Annual "Gathering of the Eagles" of the 101st Airborne Division Association in Sparks, Nevada Aug. 15, 16, 17, 1991. Attendance is expected to be 1,200-1,500.

The 101st Airborne Division Association has more than 5,200 active members from all 50 states and six foreign countries. Many of the members served in the Division in World War II and dropped behind the German-held beaches of France, made an airborne assault on southern Holland, held fast at Bastogne to stop the last German offensive in The Battle of the Bulge, continued the offensive into Germany and captured Hitler's Eagles Nest in Berchtesgaden, Austria. A large part of the membership are veterans of the war in Vietnam. Men who fought with the "Screaming Eagles" at Hamburger Hill, Dak To, in the Tet Offensive, and other important engagements with the North Vietnamese Army. They never lost a battle. The Association also has a number of active duty members who are assigned to the 101st Airborne Division (Air Assault) over 17,000 strong, in Saudi Arabia as part of the multinational task force that makes up Operation Desert Shield.

For more information about the 46th Annual Reunion or membership in the Association, write to: Ivan Worrell, Executive Secretary, 101st Airborne Division Association, 101 East Morris Street, Sweetwater, TN 37874 or phone (615) 337-4103.

Just Say NO!

you could have an enormous breakdown and die. If you say NO you are cool. If you do not and take it, you are going to die. Drugs may make you feel high, but inside you're really low. So don't do drugs and be cool and say NO.

Schedule of Meetings

by Raegen Koessler
Muenster Public School
Having the power to say NO is important because drugs are very harmful to the body. When you say NO to drugs, you are doing something very smart! People who do drugs soon die because drugs messed up their bodies. Once people start doing drugs, they soon get hooked on them and they can't stop. In almost everybody's life, someone will ask you to do drugs, and what you say is NO! And that is why having the power to say NO is important!

Alzheimer's Support Group
The Alzheimer's Support Group will meet on Monday, Dec. 10 at 7 p.m. in St. Richard's Villa. All interested persons are welcome to attend.

Muenster 4-H
The Muenster 4-H club will hold their regular meeting an hour earlier in December.

They will meet at 6:00 p.m. at Sacred Heart High School then go to St. Richard's Villa to sing Christmas carols and return to Sacred Heart for their meeting and refreshments.

Special guest for this meeting will be Cassie Bullock, the county extension agent.

Deadline for Auxiliary fundraiser is December 15 is the deadline for submitting names and donations to the Muenster VFW Ladies Auxiliary project "In Lieu of Christmas Cards." Profits from this annual event are put into two funds - one for the benefit of local citizens having difficult times and the other helps to fund such projects as Camp Sweeney, Denton State School, Cooke County Development Center, etc.

To add your name to the list contact: Juanita Knabe, Box 474, Muenster; Janet Barnhill, Box 15, Muenster; or Frances Bayer, Rt. 1, Box 1, Muenster.

Bad weather days are listed

When weather forecasts predict inclement weather (snow, sleet, ice roads, etc.) Muenster ISD will notify parents, students, teachers and other interested parties by 6:30 a.m. of the status of school for that day. Media sources will be notified by the deadline above - sometimes they do not broadcast the closing at that exact moment so "staying tuned" would be beneficial.

Please do not call the school or administrators. These lines must be kept open so the administrators may communicate with weather stations and other school districts.

The following media will be used: KXAS - TV Channel 5; KXII - TV Channel 12; WBAP Radio 820 AM; KGAF 1580 AM; Muenster Cable Channel 2.

Whitesboro hosts shopping

The Whitesboro Area Chamber of Commerce is planning for a "Shop Whitesboro Christmas" evening on Thursday, Dec. 6. Area merchants in the downtown area will be staying open late as part of the festivities.

The chamber is planning to have carolers throughout the evening, special Christmas music, along with the official lighting of the Christmas decorations. Other activities are being planned to help make shopping more festive.

The chamber of commerce will have a care package drop box available for items to be sent to the area soldiers in the Middle East.

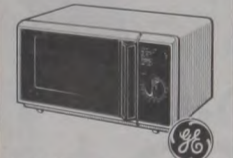

Plan to take part in this special evening, as the merchants keep the doors to their stores open late for shopping needs. For more information call April at 564-3331.

Hornets defeated in Regional playoffs

The bigger you get, the harder you fall. Muenster's Hornets found out how hard it is to fall in a playoff game last Saturday night, falling 32-8 to Burkeville in Hawkins in the state playoff's Regional competition.

The Mustangs, whose record improved to 10-2, put the game in the bag with their quickness and speed, scoring all but one touchdown on break-away runs.

"I thought we could have been closer," said Coach Grady Roller, "but it's hard to when you can't catch them." Muenster had trouble stopping Burkeville's Brian Hawthorne, who ran for 177 yards on 18 carries and Aaron Spikes, who wound up with 139 yards. "They were quicker, faster and outplayed us. They put it together and we couldn't," said Coach Roller.

Muenster received the opening kick, picking up one first down and moving steadily until a quarterback sack forced a punt. The Hornets' defense held the Mustangs to 7 yards, receiving the ball after the fourth punt.

Muenster's second drive was stopped by an early turnover, but again the defense held, allowing only 8 yards.

Behind the running of Troy Pagel and Ryan Sicking, the Hornets gained 26 yards before being stopped, punting on 4th down.

Two plays later, Spikes broke loose for a 56-yard touchdown run. The extra point kick counted and with less than a minute remaining in the first period, Burkeville took a 7-0 lead.

The Hornets carried the ball into the second quarter, moving the ball to mid-field, but were again stopped on downs. Muenster held the Mustangs to two 2-yard runs, then covered a fumble on Burkeville's 18-yard line. The loose ball was covered by Mike Hacker. Pagel took the ball to the 14, but a quarterback sack and lost yardage on the third attempt left the Hornets 19 yards from a first down. Rajko Jelen attempted a 43-yard field goal, but the ball went to the right, returning possession to the Mustangs.

A 27-yard run took Burkeville to mid-field. Three plays later Spikes again broke loose for a 40-yard touchdown run. The PAT counted and with 4:04 remaining in the 1st half, the Mustangs had a 14-0 lead.

The Hornets' next attempted drive went into reverse. An incomplete pass, two minus runs and a 15-yard clipping penalty forced Muenster to punt on 4th and 41. Burkeville ran out the clock in 3 plays, going to the locker room.

"The boys were grumpy and irritable by halftime," said Roller. "They haven't been behind and didn't know how to handle it." The coaches attempted to calm the players during the break and told them to "play the best that you can do - show your pride."

The Mustangs started the second half, moving the ball 56 yards in 5 plays to score again. The PAT failed and the board read 20-0 with 9:40 on the clock.

Starting their first 2nd half drive from their own 7-yard line, runs by Pagel and Mike Vogel took the ball to the 25. A 5-yard penalty and incomplete pass couldn't help the 6-yard pass gain by Pagel, but a roughing the kicker call did give the Hornets another chance.

From their 45-yard line, the Hornets were stopped by the Mustang's defense with two incomplete passes and a no gain run, forcing Brad McDaniel to punt again.

Burkeville ran three plays, punting, with Muenster returning the ball on their 4th play. The ball was returned by Hawthorne, for an 87-yard touchdown run. The extra point failed, making the score 26-0.

Pagel ran the ball into the final quarter and on 4th and 15 on the 26-yard line, the Hornets attempted a first down run, but failed, giving the ball to the Mustangs.

Burkeville's threat was stopped when a 4th down attempt ended in a 10-yard loss when Brad McDaniel caught the Mustang runner behind the line.

Starting on their 32-yard line, the Hornets began their scoring drive. "Everything started to click," said Roller. A 34-yard run by Ryan Sicking was followed by a 9-yarder by Pagel, then a 14-yard gain by Sicking to give Muenster a first down on the 17-yard line. Vogel picked up 6 and Pagel 3 on three tries, leaving the Hornets with a 4th and 1 predicament.

A run by Pagel was good for 4 yards, putting the ball on the 5-yard line. Two plays later Sicking took the ball in for the 5 for 6 points. A pass from Mike Gobble to Terry Felderhoff was good for two points, and the Hornets were on the scoreboard 26-8 with 5:42 remaining in the game.

Burkeville started on their 46-yard line. The 5-play drive ended with a 10-yard run by Spikes. The PAT failed and the Mustangs took a 32-8 lead. Muenster ate up three minutes attempting to score again, but the drive was stopped when Burkeville picked off a Hornet pass, ending the game after one run.

"We had a tremendous year, and we're not disappointed in the team," said the Hornet coach. "Even I didn't think we would get that far in the playoffs when the season started."

Troy Pagel led the Hornets' rushing game, picking up 81 yards in 15 carries. Ryan Sicking followed gaining 60 yards. Quarterback Mike Gobble finished the season completing 2 of 9 passes for 8 yards, which included one to Pagel for 5 yards.

"We have a lot of talent coming back," said Roller. "We won't have to start from scratch next year." The Muenster coach hopes to develop quickness, "the speed will come with it. We can't get any more physical," he concluded.

Coach Roller wishes to thank the community and the fans for their support and the coaches and the team for an outstanding year. "The support of the community has been excellent."

Tigers place in Lindsay tourney

The Sacred Heart boys participated in Lindsay's round robin tournament last weekend, bringing home a third place trophy. Other teams participating were Valley View, Saint Jo and Lindsay.

The Tigers opened their competition Thursday with a 29-39 loss to Valley View. Lack of practice was evident, with "everyone except Jason Endres playing below their potential," said Coach John Nasche, who's not too concerned because the Tigers had only two practices before this game, due to football playoffs. Endres led the scoring with 15 points.

The second round of action matched the Tigers with Lindsay on Friday. The Knights handed Sacred Heart a 69-40 defeat and went on to win the tournament. "Their fast break killed us in the first period," said Nasche, "but after we settled down we played even with them."

Stevan Nasche led the Tigers with 14 points with Jason Endres and Shawn Dangelmayr assisting with 10 and 8 points. Sacred Heart was 10 of 21 from the free throw line for the game. The loss was in a way a moral victory, according to the coach, in that the Tigers held the Knights to their lowest point total of the tournament.

The final game played Saturday afternoon evened the Tigers' record to 2-2, with a 52-42 victory over Saint Jo. The victory earned Sacred Heart a third place trophy in their "best game of the year." "It's encouraging to see the boys play this well without any practice," Nasche said. "We ran our No. 5 offense; the only way the guys know it is on paper, we haven't even stepped through it in practice."

The Tigers were 15-38 from the free throw with seven of these in the last period, to pull away from the Panthers. "It goes to show just how important free throws really are," said Nasche.

Jason Beyer was high scorer with 16 points. Stevan Nasche and Jason Endres scored 14 each with Shawn Dangelmayr adding 6 and Joe Bedowitz 2. "It's great to win another game and a trophy," concluded the coach. "In time I know we will develop into a solid basketball team."

Jason Endres was named to the All-Tournament team.

Pigskin Payoff participants pocket prize, preserve pride

Terry Walterscheid took the big prize of $100.00 for winning the 1990 Muenster Enterprise Pigskin Payoff contest. Having the highest percentage of correct picks, 74.1 percent, earned Terry a season total winnings of $110.00. Second place honors went to Neil Huchton. His percentage was 73.5, making his total winnings $75.00 for the season. Tied for third place were Mark Grewing, Mark Klement and Henry Kessler with a 72.8 percent of correct games picked.

The third year of the contest proved to be successful, with over 50 entrants some weeks. Thirteen contestants never missed entering the thirteen weeks of the contest. They include Barbie Barnhill, Tim Bindel, Wilfred Bindel, Mike Felderhoff, Mark Grewing, Benny Haverkamp, Mickey Haverkamp, Edna Hermes, Neil Huchton, Peachie Huchton, Mark Klement, Henry Kessler and Terry Walterscheid.

Other big weekly winners were Tim Ratliff, Mark Grewing, Henry Kessler, Mike Felderhoff and Mickey Haverkamp. In the final week of the Enterprise football contest, only 23 entrants tried for the last time to win the weekly cash. Neil Huchton took the honors with 19 correct scores chosen and a 33-point spread on the tiebreaker. Second place went to Terry Walterscheid, who also with 19 picks, finished behind Neil with a 34-point difference in the tiebreaker game. Coming in a close third were Peachie Huchton, Mark Klement, Duane Haverkamp, and Shirley Noonan with 18 correct guesses.

On the playoff games, everyone correctly picked Monday over Ft. Davis and Southlake Carroll over Gilmer. Two missed Mart, Bishop Dunn and Garden City's victories, while only one missed Georgia Tech of Georgia.

The most missed games included Italy's 38-8 loss to Oakwood, everyone picked Italy to win. Only one correctly guessed Ben Bolt over Thorndale, who won on penetrations and three correctly chose Muenster to lose their Regional playoff game.

The weekly winners picked up their cash at Gregg's Chevrolet, who mistakenly remained the tie breaker sponsor for a second week.

A special thanks goes to all the sponsors for giving The Enterprise the opportunity to publish more high school sports and make the contest possible.

Tigerettes stumble

Sacred Heart's Tigerettes only managed one win against two losses in the Lindsay tournament this past weekend, but according to Coach LeBrasseur, his youngsters are molding into a solid team. "We lost two nail-eaters, but we continue to move ahead," said LeBrasseur. "Valley View is undefeated and Lindsay has the most talent in the county, and we took both teams to the wire. You sure would like to come away with a 3-0 mark but I'm very pleased with the girls' effort, their time is near!"

The undefeated Valley View Eagles provided first round action for the Tigerettes and after an offensive first period things slowed to a defensive struggle. The Tigerettes led 20-19 at the half and 27-23 after three. The final frame was a free shot battle with the Lady Eagles connecting on 10 and the Tigerettes only five. The 16-point Lady Eagle period ended the Tigerettes' upset ideas 39-34.

J.J. Dowd again led the Tigerette offense with 13. Deann Bayer and Sharon Fuhrmann each hit for 6. Shirley Henscheid scored 4, Vickie Bayer 3, and Jennifer Walters scored 2.

Tigerettes short again!

At the Tiger Den Tuesday evening the Sacred Heart Tigerettes played their best defensive game of the season, only to fall 2 points short as the Knightettes of Lindsay snuck home with a 35-33 win. "The girls left it all on the floor," said Coach LeBrasseur. "We are just so close!"

Lindsay connected on 5 of 6 free shots in the first half, while the Tigerettes went 0 for 5, to push Lindsay to a 19-10 first half lead.

Eleven points from Tigerette forwards J.J. Dowd and Vickie Bayer cut the Lindsay lead to 31-24 at the end of the third period. J.J. Dowd continued her dominance in the half as she snared 7 rebounds and scored 5 points as the Tigerettes cut the Lindsay lead to 34-33.

The Tigerettes played great defense, causing two Lindsay miscues, but the Tigerettes misfired once and a costly turnover with 30 seconds doomed the Tigerettes. A Kristy Krebs' free shot pushed the Lindsay lead to 2 with 9 seconds left in the game. Another Tigerette error allowed the Knightettes to run out the clock for the 35-33 win. "You look at the score and some of the mistakes we made, but we also got some good things out of this game," said LeBrasseur. "I think J.J. played her best half of the year and April kept us in the game. The more we play the better we get and if we continue our hard work our time will come."

J.J. Dowd led the Tigerettes with 11. April Truennenbach hit for 6, Vickie Bayer 5, Sharon Fuhrmann 4, DeAnn Bayer 3 and Jennifer Walter and Shirley Henscheid 2 each. The Tigerettes were 11 of 25 from the charity line and if they could have hit 3 more a victory at the Tiger Den would have been.

Scoring for Lindsay were Kristi Krebs 9, Melanie Anderson and Gretchen Hoinig 8 each, Debbie Fangman 7 and Cassandra Fuhrmann 3.

The girls from Lindsay also outscored the Tigerette ninth grade team 23-12 in the preliminary contest. Deanna Hess and Erica Schilling each scored 4 and Amy Fisher and Jennie Endres scored 2 each.

Janel Fuhrmann lead Lindsay with 8 points, Tisha Krebs added 7, Janel Hellinger 4 and Michele Dennis and Shari Krebs scored 2 each.

Next action for the Tigerettes was Thursday evening against Prosper in the Prosper tournament. Tip-off was at 7:00. The ninth grade Tigerettes will be in the Forestburg tournament with some of the Tigerettes. Game time is set for 7:00 against Saint Jo at Saint Jo.

Robin tournament the Tigerettes and the hosts, Knightettes, tangled, with Lindsay picking up a hard fought 42-38 win.

Gretchen Hoinig proved too much for the Tigerettes as the 6'1" post scored all 16 Lindsay third period points. The Tigerettes, down 34-23 entering the final period, mounted a charge to pull within four with 48 seconds. "We shot two 1 and 1's at the line but they just didn't fall today, said LeBrasseur. "We were on the verge of a blow-out but the girls did a great job to come back for a shot at a win."

Seniors Sharon Fuhrmann and J.J. Dowd hit for 14 and 12 to lead the Tigerettes. Vickie Bayer added 5, Shirley Henscheid 4 and Robin Greathouse rounded out the scoring with 2.

The Tigerettes' lone win came in a 67-41 blasting of the Saint Jo Pantherettes. Sharon Fuhrmann led the Tigerettes with 18 and junior shooter Shirley Henscheid shot out for a season high of 17. Deann Bayer also hit double-digits with 12. Rounding out the scoring were J.J. Dowd with 8, Vickie Bayer 5, Jennifer Walter 4, Christy Yosten 2, and Robin Greathouse 1.

Lady Cubs score big win

The Sacred Heart Lady Cubs upped their season record to 3-1 with a 32-15 win over the Lady Horns of Forestburg in the Tiger Den Monday night.

Tiffany Fisher scored all 6 of the Lady Cubs' first period points to give the Lady Cubs a 6-3 edge. Both squads struggled in the half as the Lady Cubs took an 11-6 lead into the locker room.

Stephanie Grewing, Sarina Fuhrmann and Kerri Endres found the range in the third period as the Lady Cubs scored 10 for the period and limited the Lady Horns to 2. Grewing hit for a personal best of 11 points to lead the Lady Cubs. Other scorers were: Tiffany Fisher, Kerri Endres and Sarina Fuhrmann with 6 each; Loretta Reiter 2, and Jennifer Campbell 1. The Lady Cubs (3-1) travel to Prairie Valley (3-1) Monday in a battle of second place teams. Montague leads the NTJHC with a perfect 4-0 mark.

Winners braved cold

The Muenster Golf Association held its regular monthly tournament on Sunday, Dec. 2 with 33 members participating in the four-person scramble, despite the cold wind and rain. Play was at Nocona Municipal Course.

Winners of first place was the team of Kenny Hartman; Larry Pribble; La Marylis Fore; and Willie Wimmer, with a score of 61.

In second place were Cal Wells; Bob Hermes; Della Hellman; and Steven Stoffels, with a score of 62.

Don Endres, Willie Walterscheid, Tim Schneider and Faye Hamric earned third place, with a score of 63.

Next month's tournament will be held on Jan. 6 at Nocona Hills Golf Course.

Lady Hornets finish third

The Muenster girls' basketball team won 2 of 3 games last weekend in Henrietta to bring home a third placetrophy.

The Hornets opened the tournament Thursday morning with a 10-0 game. The girls didn't start rolling until the 2nd quarter, after scoring only 6 points. "The press started working and the defense tightened up," said Coach Brian Strother. Muenster took a 20-15 halftime lead.

DaLana Walterscheid was the only scorer the third quarter with 6 points, giving Muenster a 26-23 lead going into the final quarter.

The fourth quarter belonged to Muenster, scoring 17 points. Melissa Bayer hit 7 points that period, with Leslie Klement playing a good game. As a team, the Lady Hornets were 9-13 from the free throw line in the final quarter.

Walterscheid led the team with 10 points, with Bayer and Brandy Debnam adding 9 apiece. Amy Otto hit 6, Leslie Klement 5 and Danelle Reiter and Kim Anderle 2 points each.

Friday night Muenster tangled with the host team, Henrietta. The 3A team dominated the game, taking a 9-2 lead the first quarter. "Henrietta had a 6'2" girl that intimidated us a little," said Strother. "We ran our offense well, except we didn't score off the passing game."

The second quarter Muenster cut Henrietta's lead to 6, but mistakes ended the half 22-12.

The third quarter was a "nightmare" for Muenster, outscored 25-6, the Hornets fell behind 18-47 going into the final round. "The fourth we showed how we should have played," said the coach. But they couldn't close the gap, losing 51-26.

Bayer finished the night with 8 points, with Kim Anderle adding 6 and Walterscheid 4. Reiter, Debnam, Otto and Theresa Kubis each added 2 points.

Muenster returned to Henrietta Saturday morning to play a 9:00 game because of the football playoffs. "It was early for all of us," Strother said. "It was the beginning of a long day for most of the kids and me." The Lady Hornets started the game well, taking a first quarter 11-10 lead over 2A Nocona. The next period was a defensive struggle ending with a 19-17 score. "We went a little cold in the third," commented the coach, as Muenster fell 32-28. "The fourth quarter and free throws have been good to us so far this year," said the coach. Amy Otto gave Muenster the lead with four straight free throws. "Three freshmen, Danelle, Theresa and Amy, with Leslie Klement, sparked us this morning," Strother commented. "They played good defense and were scoring points as well."

The fourth quarter saw Muenster 10 of 13 in free throws, with Melissa Bayer shooting 8-8. The score was 42-40 with 15 seconds remaining in the game, when Debnam hit two free throws, giving Muenster a 44-40 score.

"I was real proud of the girls for playing so good throughout the tournament, especially Saturday morning. Our goal was to prove we were there." The Muenster coach concluded by stating that the bench and good free throw shooting were instrumental to their success so far this year.

Cubs get second victory

The Sacred Heart junior high Cubs evened their record to 2-2 with a 32-31 victory over Forestburg Monday night.

"We played a real good game; the kids are coming along real well," said Coach John Nasche. Jason Hess is credited for a good game, rebounding and breaking Forestburg's press for 12 points.

Trent Truennenbach led the scoring with 14 points. "In time, with Trent's athletic ability, he will become one of the areas best all-around athletes," said Nasche. John Klement is also credited for playing his best game, scoring 6 points. Jake McCoy and Brandon Bayer also played well.

"We were winning 32-24 with 1:45 remaining in the game and blew our lead by substituting a little early," said the Cubs' coach. "They came storming back, but we held on to the win."

The Cubs' next game is December 10 at Prairie Valley.

Did You Know?

According to the latest changes in the Rules of Golf, if a ball overhanging the hole falls into the hole after the time limit is expired, a penalty stroke is incurred and the player is deemed to have holed out with his last stroke. The player is, however, allowed enough time to reach the hole without unreasonable delay and an additional ten seconds to determine whether the ball is at rest.

That's just one golf rule that's changed since 1987. You'll find the full and revised rules of the game in a newly updated book published by the United States Golf Association (USGA). The purpose of these revisions is to make the Rules of Golf more uniform, easier to learn and apply. A copy of the revised "Rules of Golf 1988" is available for $1.50 postpaid from USGA, Golf House, P.O. Box 3000, Far Hills, New Jersey 07931-3000.

Alcohol consumption during pregnancy can damage fetus

Avoid alcohol if you're pregnant or planning a pregnancy, warns the Texas Medical Association. Even a small amount of alcohol in some mothers can cause mental retardation, brain damage, or other abnormalities in the baby. Ironically, fetal alcohol syndrome, the third-leading cause of mental retardation in the United States, is completely preventable.

With April designated as National Alcohol Awareness Month, TMA emphasizes the dangers of alcohol on unborn babies. "Alcohol is a neurotoxin," said Anthony Lucci, M.D., a Houston obstetrician who serves on TMA's Committee on Maternal and Child Health. That means alcohol acts as a poison on the brain and central nervous system.

It doesn't matter whether it's beer, wine, or liquor, he said. "It's the amount of alcohol in the drink." A glass of wine, a can of beer, and a mixed drink all contain about the same amount.

When a pregnant woman drinks, the alcohol goes from her stomach into her bloodstream, and passes directly to the fetus, easily crossing the placenta to the baby's bloodstream.

Fetal alcohol syndrome, caused by heavy drinking, is characterized by mental retardation, heart defects, facial deformities, and small body size. Studies indicate that even moderate drinking during early pregnancy can impair the child's intellectual ability. The effects of light drinking have not been proven. So far, a "safe" amount to drink during pregnancy hasn't been determined.

"We really don't know the toxic effect of alcohol on the fetal brain," observed Dr. Lucci, because setting up proper research conditions in the womb is difficult. Because the outcome is so uncertain, "it's best to eliminate alcohol entirely during pregnancy," he said. Combining alcohol with smoking, overexertion, and other stresses makes damage to the baby even more likely, Dr. Lucci added.

Not drinking is important even when planning a pregnancy. Studies indicate that alcohol may be linked to sperm count and sperm quality in the father, as well as miscarriage in the mother.

During the first weeks after conception, embryonic cells are dividing rapidly and vital organs, such as the brain, are forming. Thus, the fetus is especially vulnerable at a time when many women don't even know they are pregnant.

Organ formation and neurological development in the baby continue during the middle three months of pregnancy, making that another critical period. The last three months are a less hazardous time, although not risk free.

Eat better, Americans!

A survey indicates Americans are not eating enough foods considered beneficial in preventing cancer, and a Texas A&M nutritionist says it's an indication people aren't following basic nutrition guidelines.

"Despite the abundance of nutrition information available," said Dr. Mary Kinney Sweeten of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, "the study by the National Cancer Institute shows that people are not eating enough fruits and vegetables and whole-grain cereals."

The survey showed that on a given day 40 percent of adults did not eat a fruit and 20 percent did not eat a vegetable. Eighty percent of those surveyed did not eat any high-fiber cereals or whole-grain breads.

"You need four or more servings from the fruit and vegetable group each day," Dr. Sweeten said. She also recommends at least four servings from the bread and cereal group.

Researchers looked at 24-hour dietary recall data collected between 1976 and 1980 during the second National Health and Nutrition Examination Survey conducted by the National Center for Health Statistics. The survey covered data from 11,658 people.

Blossom Patterson, lead investigator of the study, said that the data should still largely reflect current eating patterns, particularly fruits and vegetables, based on U.S. Department of Agricultural Continuing Survey data that showed minimal changes in the consumption of these foods between 1977 and 1986.

Although 24-hour recall data are not necessarily representative of an individual's usual daily intake, Patterson said, it does give a picture of group intake on any given day.

Women followed what's considered a better cancer prevention diet than men, and people over 55 had better diets than younger adults, Sweeten said. But all the groups needed much improvement in consumption of fruits, vegetables and whole grains.

"Fruits and vegetables thought to be of special importance to cancer risk reduction are those rich in vitamins A and C," Patterson explained in a survey report. "But about three-quarters of the study population failed to include a vitamin A- or vitamin C-rich fruit or vegetable in the day's diet."

Sweeten said good sources of vitamins A and C are dark green leafy vegetables, citrus fruits, and deep yellow-orange fruits and vegetables.

On the day of the survey, less than 20 percent of the population ate a vegetable from the cruciferous family such as cabbage, greens, broccoli, cauliflower, turnips and brussels sprouts, Sweeten said. These vegetables are high in nutrients, low in calories, and are believed to reduce cancer risk.

Corn and dried beans, relatively rich in fiber, were eaten by only 20 percent of adults.

"Because so many Americans did not eat enough fruits and vegetables, and consumption of whole-grain breads and cereals was also low, daily fiber intake was only about 11 grams - well below the recommended 20 to 30 grams," Patterson said.

Because the survey was based on data collected between 1976 and 1980, there is a possibility that Americans are now eating more of these foods, Sweeten said. More restaurants are offering salad and fruit bars, for example, although their health benefits could be offset by heavy toppings of salad dressings and cheeses. Certainly a wealth of information on proper diet is available to encourage Americans to eat right.

Texas State Arts and Crafts Fair set for May 24 - 26, 1991

KERRVILLE - The Texas State Arts and Crafts Fair will look to a more effective concentration of days for the 1991 event. Dates for the Kerrville based event will be May 24-25-26, Friday, Saturday and Sunday of Memorial Day weekend.

The TCAF board of directors, in making the decision to change from a two weekend to a one weekend event, added a Friday afternoon opening to the Memorial Day weekend. Normally occurring in June, the second weekend had traditionally encountered temperatures several degrees hotter.

Longer daily hours will provide opportunities for some special "Cool, Cool of the Evening" entertainment and shopping. Fair hours are Friday, 5:00 p.m. - 9:00 p.m., Saturday, 9:00 a.m. - 9:00 p.m. and Sunday, 9:00 a.m. - 6:00 p.m. Several cooler white tents are also being made by the tent company before the 1991 event.

Ticket prices will remain the same, with the popular family ticket continued. The family ticket allows the second and third child, between 6-12 years of age, free entry, plus a 50 cent reduction on the ticket for the first child. Children under 6 have always been admitted free, and this policy will continue.

Free parking and free, air-conditioned shuttle buses from the parking lot to the gate will be continued for visitor comfort. The strong educational stance of the event will continue with even more emphasis on complete demonstrations of historic arts and on children's programs. All educational programs are totally free to ticketholders. Musical entertainment remains family oriented and free to fairgoers. Two stages with shaded seating will offer continuous performances. For more information, contact TACF, P.O. Box 1527, Kerrville, TX 78029. Telephone - (512) 896-5711.

Advanced Science class goes on field trip by Jenny Yosten

Tuesday, Nov. 12, the Sacred Heart High School Advanced Science Class went on a field trip to the Dallas Zoo. The class has been studying the evolution of humans. The class went as a way to further investigate the evolution of humans from primitive beings. The group stayed at the zoo until about 12:30. From there, the group went to the Westend Marketplace for lunch. The class spent time walking around, eating lunch and playing games.

The advanced science students who went on the trip are Bernice Bartel, Kelly Bell, Mark Flusche, Gregg Hess, Ryan Hess, Cher Moster, Stevan Nasche and Lisa Schilling. Ms. Mary Beth Bartush is their teacher.

A Senior Privilege by Dawn Knabe

The seniors of Sacred Heart High School are given a special day once a month. The Senior Class President, Robin Greathouse, presented a plan to Mr. Murdock. She suggested that the seniors be allowed to dress up and not wear their uniforms and order lunch from a local restaurant the second Thursday of each month.

The seniors give the food selections to Kim Cler, the Vice President, before 10:00 on the second Thursday. They have enjoyed these days of good food and nice clothes. They have six more Senior Days left. They are as follows: Dec. 13, Jan. 10, Feb. 14, March 14, April 11, and May 9.

The members of the senior class are Melanie Bayer, Jason Beyer, Kim Cler, Shawn Dangelmayr, J.J. Dowd, Angie Endres, Jason Endres, Sharon Fuhrmann, Robin Greathouse, Arnie Hess, Ryan Hess, Jayna Hofbauer, Dawn Knabe, Darrell Mullins, Jon Schilling, Katherine Vickers and Jenny Yosten.

December Festivals & Events

The following events, selected by Michelle Weber at the Tourism Division of the Texas Department of Commerce, are but a few of the many excellent opportunities offered by communities across the state.

December 6-8 - 14th Annual Old-Fashioned Christmas Open House, Canyon. This children-oriented event is highlighted by a Victorian Santa, antique sleigh, a children's story corner, a Christmas tree for youngsters and musical entertainment. All events are held at the Pioneer Town. Contact Linda Hutton, P.O. Box 967, W.T. station, Canyon 79016 (806/656-2244).

December 7-9 - Kristkindl Markt, Fredericksburg. A centuries-old German festival, Kristkindl Markt, is recreated when vendors, craftspeople and entertainers under tents decorate Main Street in holiday splendor. The Market Square is transformed into a Christmas Village of booths filled with toys, decorations, handcrafted specialties, music and German food.

Mark December 7 (6-9 p.m.) on your calendar for a special Markt preview, with proceeds going to charity. Contact Fredericksburg Chamber of Commerce, P.O. Box 506, Fredericksburg 78624 (512/997-6523).

December 7-9, 14-16, 21-23 - Fiestas de las Luminarias. The River Walk is illuminated by the glow of thousands of candles in celebration of the 400-year-old tradition representing the lighting of the Holy Family's way to Bethlehem.

December 9 - Las Posadas. Enjoy a beautiful ceremony of song and candlelight of the reenactment of the Holy Family's search for an inn. The procession winds along the River Walk with the participants singing traditional songs and hymns until it reaches La Villita, where a clay figure of the infant Jesus is placed in the creche. Pinata parties for the children follow in the plazas of La Villita.

County Agent's Report

by Craig Rosenbaum

Renovation of Coastal Bermudagrass pastures

Renovation is a practice or series of management practices which "restores the vigor" or "makes new again." In pasture management, renovation refers to improvement of a permanent pasture by changed management. Renovation of Coastal Bermudagrass pastures may be as simple as soil testing and applying proper fertilization; or as complex and intensive as destroying the existing sod, preparing a seedbed and sprigging again. The intensity and level of renovation required depends on the reason for the decreased vigor, and the management goal of the producer.

Although many reasons exist for Coastal Bermudagrass pasture decline, the following symptoms would indicate that renovation should be considered: 1. Reduced yields; 2. Thin stands with bare ground showing and a decrease in amount and vigor of rhizomes; 3. Invasion of broadleaf weeds and undesirable grasses; 4. Rough soil surfaces; 5. Poor drainage; 6. Poor water penetration in soil profile; 7. Accumulation of nutrients in the top one inch of soil.

The following summarizes renovation practices and is given to help you select those which are relevant to your operation. These include: Minimum Renovation - Soil testing, Fertilization, Weed control, Prescribed burning; Extensive Renovation - Subsoiling or chiseling, Discing or plowing, Sodseeding, Replanting.

Soil testing and fertilization
The first renovation practice should be extensive soil testing and fertilization in accordance with the soil test recommendations. This includes not only nitrogen, but also phosphorus (P), potassium (K), lime, and any micronutrients needed. Soil testing different levels of the soil profile would indicate the availability of nutrients to plant roots (i.e. soil test the top 2 inches, from 2 to 6 inches, and from 6 to 12 inches). In many fields, potassium has been depleted due to fertilization with nitrogen alone, along with the removal of hay from the pasture. Remember six tons of hay/acre removes not only 300 pounds of N, but also 60 pounds of P, and 240 pounds of K/acre. Production of such hay yields with N alone results in "mining" K from even those soils with inherent high levels of K. Low levels of K in the soil profile decreases rhizome growth and vigor, resulting in thin Coastal Bermudagrass stands.

Weed Control
Weeds compete with Coastal Bermudagrass for water, nutrients, and sunlight. Weeds at establishment prevent good stands, and often result in plantings which do not cover for years or which never obtain a good grass cover. Thin, weakened Coastal Bermudagrass stands from low fertility, drought, or other cause cannot compete with weeds and must be helped with appropriate weed control. Result demonstrations in Victoria County have shown that from 3 to 7 pounds of Coastal Bermudagrass will be produced for each one pound of weeds controlled.

Subsoiling, chiseling, discing, and plowing
These operations will partially destroy the sod, but are used to renovate Coastal Bermudagrass pastures under certain conditions. Subsoiling and chiseling will eliminate compaction layers. This will loosen the soil and allow penetration of moisture in the soil profile, decrease water runoff, and aerate the soil for better root development. Soil types which become very compact and develop plowpans will respond to equipment that loosens the soil below the compaction layer.

More intensive discing or plowing will incorporate organic matter in the soil, incorporate fertilizer and lime, destroy grassy weeds, scatter cut Coastal sprigs, along with increasing soil water penetration. If done in the fall, it also allows for sodseeding of legumes in the pasture.

Often cultivation of Coastal hay pastures is desirable to smooth the soil surface making haying easier. This is especially true where fire ants are prevalent, or where cattle were allowed to graze during wet conditions. Any of the above renovation practices should be done during grass dormancy (winter) with care taken to conserve soil moisture, especially in a drought.

Replanting

Replanting of Coastal Bermudagrass stands should only be considered when inadequate live rhizomes are left. In a pasture which was once productive, this usually only happens after an extreme drought. The expense of this operation makes it prohibitive except under unusual conditions.

Dr. Dale Lovelace, Extension Forage Specialist, will present a Pasture Renovation Workshop on Thursday, Dec. 13, at the Robert Martindale Farm located at I-35 and Hockley Creek Road, approximately five miles south of Gainesville. The workshop will begin at 1:00 p.m. and feature Renovation Equipment Demonstrations and No Till Drill Demonstrations. Company representatives will be on hand to answer questions about the equipment. Following the demonstration, producers can tour the Grazing Demonstration on the Milton Ward Ranch at Sivils Bend.

Ward has established grazing turpines, tyfon, wheat, oat, triticale, and rye plots. Tonnage and protein analysis will be available at the tourstop.

4-H Fitting and Showing Clinics

Four-H members, parents and leaders are invited to a Fitting and Showing Workshop for Sheep, Beef, and Swine on Saturday, Dec. 8, at the Cooke County Fairgrounds.

Four-H members with the beef and sheep projects will meet at 10 a.m. till noon. Beef and sheep project members are invited to bring their animals to practice showing and showmanship.

The swine session will begin at 1 p.m. at the Fairgrounds. Several swine projects will be available for boys and girls to work with.

The workshop is designed for instruction on daily care and maintenance of livestock projects with proper show ring techniques and grooming and fitting.

Agriculture Marketing Club

The regular Ag Marketing Club meeting for agriculture producers in Cooke County is scheduled for Monday, Dec. 10, 9 a.m., at North Texas Bank and Trust in Gainesville. This month's topics include Budget Analysis for Small Grains and Stocker Cattle along with Agricultural Options Market. Dr. Ken Stokes, Extension Agronomist, will be at the regular monthly program.

Producers interested in agricultural marketing alternatives including futures, options, and other marketing strategies are invited to attend.

Lamb and Swine Validation

4-H and FFA members who will exhibit market lambs and market swine projects at the 1991 Cooke County Junior Livestock Show must have these livestock projects validated on Saturday, Dec. 15, 1990. All animals must be validated between the hours of 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. A schedule of times for various communities to participate in the validation is listed below.

8 a.m. - Valley View, Mountain Springs Area; 9:30 a.m. - Callisburg, Woodbine Area; 11:00 a.m. - Era Area; 12:30 p.m. - Muenster Area; 2:00 p.m. - Lindsay, Sivils Bend Area; 3:00 p.m. - Gainesville Area.

All validation will take place at the Cooke County Fairgrounds. 4-H and FFA members must enter and have their animal available for tagging and validation. Entries require an official entry card and an eligibility and drug awareness card to be signed by both exhibitor and parent or guardian. Entry fees are due the day of validation.

All other market animal entries which include market rabbits and market broilers, along with breeding animal entries of all species, are due to your local vocational agriculture teacher if you are in FFA or to the County Extension Office if you are a 4-H member on Friday, Dec. 14. Late entries will not be accepted. It is a requirement that you be at validation with your lamb or swine market project. If you have any questions, contact your local vocational agriculture teacher or County Extension Office as soon as possible.

House Ag committee chairman commended

WACO - The president of the Texas Farm Bureau recently commended House Agriculture Committee chairman Kika de la Garza for his efforts to adopt a generally favorable Farm Bill despite criticism from some areas in agriculture.

"Recognizing the severity of the situation regarding prices for several farm commodities, Chairman de la Garza engineered an Omnibus Farm Bill which accomplished the demands of the majority of Congress and helped to secure farm income for the 1990s," said S.M. True.

True said the "realists" in agriculture recognize the public's demand for reduced federal spending and specifically the attack on farm program spending. "The 1990 Farm Bill represents the best that could be crafted and passed with a majority vote of the Congress," True said.

True said that through adoption by Congress of a complicated law, farmers will receive a combination of benefits that will allow them the "opportunity for profit through the market system as well as to maintain a 'safety net' of farm programs."

"Certainly," said True, "the provisions didn't happen by accident and were not created by someone who has deserted agriculture or farmers and ranchers."

"While there are others who also deserve credit for the true spirit of the 1990 Farm Bill," True said, "the name 'de la Garza' is prevalent throughout the new law. And, without his leadership, the bill would have, most likely, been unacceptable."

The TFB president called it "unfortunate" that organizations that claim to represent agricultural producers chose to attack Chairman de la Garza in the press. These groups, True said, show little recognition of reality, and give farmers and ranchers the unfavorable reputation that many urban citizens think they deserve.

"The Texas Farm Bureau is proud of the efforts of the Chairman of the House Agriculture Committee and salutes Kika de la Garza's leadership," True said.

Farm Bureau adopts new safety resolutions

SAN ANTONIO - Voting delegates to the 57th annual Texas Farm Bureau convention demonstrated their strong support for protection of the environment by adopting resolutions relative to that end at the 4-day meeting included Nov. 28.

The 1,143 delegates also elected S.M. True to a ninth one-year term as president of the state's largest general farm organization.

Following adjournment of the convention, the Board of Directors met and re-elected Don Smith (Hopkins County) as vice president and selected Billie Ray Huddleston of Celina (Collin County) as secretary-treasurer.

Huddleston farms with his son, Charles Ray, in Collin County, raising wheat, grain sorghum, cotton, oats and corn.

Delegates called for a method of waste management services. They urged the Texas Department of Agriculture to recall, collect and dispose of out-dated farm pesticides with no penalty for possession of such chemicals.

In other action, the delegates said:

*The primary purpose of the Texas Department of Agriculture should be to promote the advancement of agriculture and to educate the public on agriculture.

*The provision in the state law forcing local school districts to raise ad valorem taxes to maximize state funding should be disallowed.

Voting delegates, in approving several national recommendations to be forwarded to the American Farm Bureau Federation for consideration at the 72nd annual meeting Jan. 6-11 at Phoenix, Ariz. said:

*Target prices should be set at the average cost of the production and should not be reduced below their 1990 levels.

*Payment limitation should not be tied to gross income.

*Federal crop insurance should be an option separate from participation in federal farm programs. Moreover, the sign-up for federal crop insurance should be allowed until the planting date cut-off for that crop.

Rick Perry of Haskell, the Agriculture Commissioner-elect, spoke to the delegates during the convention, crediting TFB, in particular, for his victory over incumbent Jim Hightower.

"You did it," Perry told them. "You made the difference. We'll never forget what Texas agriculture gave us."

Year end brings tax worries, more work

by Elaine Schad

The end of the year brings thoughts of the holidays, but also the end of another income tax year.

Farmers, just like everyone else who must deal with Uncle Sam's tax bite each year, still have time to make some tax management moves which could end up saving federal tax dollars, said a state agricultural economist.

Ken Stokes, extension economist for the Texas Agriculture Extension Service, told a group of Cooke County farmers recently that very little can be done to alleviate the 1990 income tax liability after January 1.

"After January 1, you have very little flexibility in taxes," said Stokes. "About the only things are the type of depreciation you will use and possibly an IRA."

Taxes are getting increasingly complicated, said Stokes. The 1986 Tax Reform Act simplified things for the lower income levels, but added to the complexity for middle and upper income individuals, he said. "Just like any other business, you need to know how to manage taxes," said Stokes.

Among things that farmers can do to possibly decrease their income tax liability is to pay their property taxes before the end of 1990 so they can deduct farm-related taxes as an expense.

Paying children a legitimate wage for legitimate work will benefit both the farmer and the child, who will probably be taxed at a lower income level, said Stokes. Farmers are not required to pay Social Security taxes as employers if children are under age 18.

Some farmers may be able to benefit by paying workers with commodities, which does not require social security withholding, rather than with money, said Stokes.

Farmers, along with other self-employed people, will get a break on their 1990 taxes for the first time by being able to deduct a half of the self-employment taxes they owe directly from schedule 1040, said Stokes.

Other general guidelines for farmers to help lessen their income tax liability include:

-Try to keep stable income that doesn't fluctuate greatly which could result in paying taxes in a higher income bracket. That would have to be weighed against the net income benefit, officials said.

-Generally, the longer a person can legally delay paying taxes, the greater will be the cash flow for business and personal use, said Stokes.

-Keep bank statements and clearly indicate all funds deposited.

-Keep complete records, which will be the basis for good tax management decisions.

-It is probably more to a farmer's benefit to deduct actual vehicle expenses rather than straight mileage, said Stokes.

The 1990 Internal Revenue Service Publication, "Farmer's Tax Guide," should be available by January at local agricultural extension offices, said Stokes.

To receive the free publication, "Income Tax Management for Farmers," write the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, College Station, Texas, 77843.

SWCD offers seedling trees

The Upper Elm-Red Soil and Water Conservation District is sponsoring a seedling tree program according to Richard Connett, District Conservationist with the USDA Soil Conservation Service in Gainesville.

The tree program enables farmers, ranchers and rural and suburban landowners to obtain the seedling trees at a nominal cost.

Several adapted species of conifers are available as potted trees. Seedling hardwoods are available as potted trees. Seedling hardwoods are available as bare rooted plants. Wildlife packets are also available to enhance wildlife habitat and offer food for quail, deer, turkey and squirrels.

The Soil Conservation Service is the technical agency that assists the Upper Elm-Red Soil and Water Conservation District in carrying out its programs. Conservationists are available to assist with questions concerning the seedling tree program.

GRASS FIRE CONTROL DEMONSTRATION

Stihl, Inc. and the Muenster Garden Center are cooperating with the Muenster Fire Department to offer a free demonstration on how to control a grass fire by putting out the fire with air force alone, from a Stihl backpack blower. Weather permitting, this demonstration will be held at the Sacred Heart Cemetery Thursday, Dec. 13, at 5:00 p.m.

We will have many available units for everyone to try one themselves. If you would like, give us your name and we will call you to remind you of the demonstration. Otherwise, come at the above time and be prepared to see an exciting new way to control pasture and timber fires. Of course, there is no obligation and absolutely no pressure to buy any products.

These blowers can also be used to clean off equipment, barns and sheds, clean yards of leaves and debris. There are really many uses for a Stihl backpack blower. Hope to see you there!

Muenster ISD fifth graders write on drug awareness

The Muenster ISD fifth grade students of Theresa Walterscheid wrote brief commercials or "pitches" to convince others to stay Drug Free. Following are their writings:

Stay Drug Free by Emily Felderhoff

The reason I will stay drug free is because I know other people love me. Drugs would ruin my life. They would kill me. They would fry my brain, and last but not least, they will mess me up. I have been asked to use drugs 2 times before I said NO! and ran to a grown-up. Using drugs is not cool. Those who use drugs don't use their brains.

by Bryan Hudspeth

The best thing to be is drug free because if you take drugs it will fry your brain. When you smoke or sniff drugs it goes to your brain. It messes it up and sometimes it makes you think you can fly. The kind of fly I mean isn't the kind where you go in an airplane. I mean where you go jump off a tall, tall building. If you did this I think you know what would happen. Right, squashed flatter than a pancake. And I don't think you would want to be like that. It can also make you think other things too. It can make you do what anybody else wants you to do. For example, if someone wanted you to give you a million dollars, you might do it. It just depends on how much you took. So, stay DRUG FREE!

Power Writing by Barry Fleitman

I like drug free people because they try to convince their kids to not use drugs. Many drug free people help to stop people using drugs. People that use drugs can go to prison for life. Some drug people try to get help. Another reason it is good to be drug free is because if a pregnant woman used drugs the baby may have to take certain amounts of it to be able to live. You need to be drug free so that you can help make the world a drug free world. So be a drug free person.

Drug Free is Best by Jeff Wilde

I will never use drugs because I do not want to fry my brain. I don't want to use drugs because I wouldn't be able to play any sports. I love sports. I couldn't make good grades either. You could die real quick. Some drugs can kill you the first time you take them. If I took drugs I would always have to run from the cops. I would probably get arrested, and be in jail half my life. These are the reasons why I won't use drugs.

by Brandon Grewing

Drug free is very, very good. You do not want to use drugs, they will fry your brain. If someone offers you some, don't take it because if you want to be a football player it will ruin that. And another thing, it can kill you. I know that I will not use drugs in my life because I want to be a NFL football player and I want to go to ATM and be a football player. I want to be smart.

by Brian Fleitman

Drug Free is the best because you are able to do more things than if you are on drugs. I don't want to mess up my brain, and my career. I want to be a professional football player, but if you take drugs you can't. Some people take drugs and they don't live a good life. You can't get a job, or anything. You would have no future. If you don't use drugs you may have a great future. If you take too many drugs you could die. So be smart, don't use drugs!!

"Drug Free is the Best!" by Cody Perryman

I don't want to use drugs because it could kill my job and me. Drugs will fry my brain. Then I'll become a scuzzy. If you're a druggie somebody might kill you over a drug operation. The cops will come looking for you and worst of all you would be mean to everybody and nobody would like you. Finally you wouldn't even like yourself and go crazy.

Drug free is best by Amanda Boaz

I do not want to take drugs because it makes other people think it is cool. Drugs could kill you or make you hurt other people. Some people take them and then drop out of school. I will never drop out of school. I want to get a good education - (a nurse). If my friends took drugs I would not play with them. It could be dangerous. Please have a nice day without drugs that could harm you!!!

by Chrisyon Harris

Drug free is best because if you take drugs you embarrass your friends the way you act in front of them. If you take drugs you will be harming your body. Many people take drugs and they aren't a happy sight. People that take drugs think that it will solve their problems. People that don't do drugs are very healthy and strong. They do not act weird or hurt anyone. I think that people should never take drugs.

by Michael Grewing

Drug Free is the best thing to be. If you are Drug Free you won't be a Doopy. If you use drugs you are really frying your brain. The reason why you want to stay away from drugs is because they will kill you. If you use drugs you will probably drop out of school and then you'll be dumb for the rest of your life. So be Drug Free.

by Brad Escobedo

I will not do drugs because I will die. And I won't get to play baseball and be as good as Mike Schmidt, my favorite player. He has broken records and set records. He has won trophies and gold gloves. That's why I won't do drugs.

Drug Free is Best by Angela Russell

Drug Free is Best because you fry your brain. Being Drug Free is best because you don't get nutty in the hospital and your face isn't all beat up and you're not pale and all junked up and you live a lot longer life then when you use drugs. Drugs are very dangerous for your health. They make you get sick and your body is sometimes weak from drugs. When you don't do drugs it's a lot easier on you health.

by Missy Hacker

Drugs aren't right for me because I want to stay drug free. So stick with me and be drug free. If someone offers you drugs what will you say? You will say no to them. Don't fry your brain.

by Cory Charles

Drug Free is Best for you because it is dangerous. It could kill you. Most kids take drugs because they think it is cool, but it isn't. If someone tries to offer it to me I will say no because it will fry my brain.

Drug Free is Best by Kristine Hartman

I will never use drugs because they will ruin my brain. I've heard a lot about it and when my grandma smokes and I smell the smoke I hate it! A lot of people die each year from drugs. The part I hate about it is at the beginning when there's a kid walking down the sidewalk, and a person steps out and says, "Try this, it's good for you, just like candy, this is how you use it." Sometimes the kid will say "no" and if he believes the person he'll take it. That's one way it get's started. There are many more ways to get started and a lot of them refuse. That's my paragraph about drugs.

Drug Free

You never want to take drugs because they will mess up your brains and make you feel really bad. You will also lose your friends and you could get in deep trouble, but most important of all, you could die. It is really hard to quit taking drugs because once you take them you'll be hooked on the drugs. So if anyone ever offers you drugs just say "No" and run away.

by Jerry Stoffels

Drug Free is best for people. If you use drugs it will fry your brain. Another reason drugs are bad is because they are illegal. If the police catch you selling, buying, using, or if you are around people that are using them you will be arrested. If you are arrested you will have to pay a big fine. If anyone offers you to take drugs, Just Say No!! After you tell them no run away.
