Candidates file for election to Muenster City Council May 4

Elections for officers on the Muenster City Council will be held on Saturday, May 4. As deadline for filing for positions passed on March 20, the following candidates have indicated their intentions to seek office.

Mayor Ted Henscheid has filed for Mayor and is unopposed. Gilbert Kubis filed for position 5, succeeding Al Hess who declined to seek re-election.

The position Willie Wimmer held will be subject to write-in, since he did not seek re-election and no one filed for position 3. Wimmer is completing 8 years of service on the City Council.

Elections will be held at Muenster Public School on May 4.

Six sign up for school board race

Muenster ISD's Trustee Election will be held May 4, 1991. Incumbents Harold Bindel, position 5, and Leon Klement, position 7, are running unopposed.

Dolphy Joe Hellman, position 6, has declined to seek re-election after having served the Muenster ISD District for a number of years. Four candidates will vie for position 6. They are Jan Cain, Wayne Klement, Jim Endres and Tom Hartman. Each trustee position is for a 3-year term. The election will be held on Saturday, May 4 at the Muenster Public School.

ALAN GOLDSMITH brought two live rattlesnakes to Tender Loving Care Day Care Center on Tuesday. He gave the youngsters snake safety tips and allowed them to touch the reptile. His professional handling impressed the adults. Shown, l to r, are children Chelsea Felderhoff, Kirk Hartman, Chad Tempel, Aaron Walterscheid, Shannon Hartman, Neil Bayer, Jared Britian and Daniel Russell, and adults Nancy Endres and Wanda Flusche. Goldsmith is a spokesman for the annual Gainesville Rattlesnake Roundup. The event will be April 13 and 14, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the National Guard Armory. Benefits will go toward the Donna (Ma) McClinton family for medical expenses. For more information, call 817-668-8080. Janie Hartman Photo

Klement and Miura are recognized at FHA State Meeting April 12-13

Representatives for the Muenster Chapter of Future Homemakers of America are attending the 1991 State Leadership Conference, along with 5500 members and advisors from Texas. "FHA/HERO: The Mysterious Solution" is the theme of the 1991 meeting which is being held in the San Antonio Convention Center in San Antonio this Friday and Saturday, April 12 and 13.

Two Muenster FHA members will be especially recognized at the meeting. Hiroko Miura, Japanese exchange student living with Henry and Janie Weinzapfel, will address the state membership this Friday evening by bringing greetings from Future Homemakers of Japan. Hiroko was aided by an FHA scholarship to come to the United States. She will also attend the National FHA meeting in Washington, D.C. in July, a week before her return to Japan.

Kristen Klement will be recognized for being a recipient of the Future Homemakers of America - C.J. Davidson Scholarship on Saturday morning during the second general session. Kristen is one of 10 Future Homemakers from Texas to receive this four-year scholarship for those majoring in Vocational Home Economics. Kristen plans to major in Home Economics at Texas Tech University next fall.

HIROKO MIURA and KRISTEN KLEMENT

Dynamic keynote speakers and presentations by members are highlights of the two-day conference. Interesting sessions on leadership skills, cult awareness, family communications, teen pregnancy and other critical teen issues are scheduled for members to attend during the two-day session.

The business of the Texas Association, Future Homemakers of America will be conducted during the House of Delegates session on Friday, April 12. Installation of the 1991-92 state officers will climax Saturday evening's session.

Attending from Muenster High School are Kristen Klement, Hiroko Miura, Jami Kemper, Misty Cullum, Darlene Hess, Tracey Vogel, Christin Cain, Misty Gieb and Joni Sturm, FHA sponsor.

Future Homemakers of America is an organization sponsored by the Vocational Home Economics Education Division, Texas Education Agency with Judith A. Hetherly, Director, and Sharon Reddell Pierce, State Advisor.

KRISTY KREBS, Lindsay High School senior, signed a letter of intent to participate in the University of North Texas track program next season. Krebs, a contender for the state meet, holds six school track records and is Lindsay's first track scholarship winner. Witnessing the signing are, at left, her father and stepmother, Kenneth and Barbara Krebs. At right are her mother and stepfather, Theresa and Pat Benton. Her coach, George Thomason, is also pictured. Watch next week's Enterprise for a report on Kristy's academic and track achievements. Janie Hartman Photo

Discovering Cooke County government...

Surveyor holds historical documents

From the County Extension Office
The following information is one of a series of spots on Discovering Cooke County Government brought to you by the Cooke County Extension Program Council, by Ron Melugin.

In November of 1884 the Cooke County Commissioners Court, responding to requests of landowners in the far western part of Cooke County, ordered the county surveyor, who was D.L.R.

Butt, to survey the Cooke County/Montague County line. The county surveyor was instructed to mark the county line at one mile intervals and at each end with bois d'arc posts eight inches in diameter and six feet in length with three feet of each post to show above ground with a proper inscription.

Delbert West, the current Cooke County surveyor, has recently seen one of these bois d'arc markers, now over 100 years old.

Today, the office of county surveyor is largely an honorary position since the public land of the state has virtually disappeared. Although West has been elected to four terms as county surveyor, this is a non-salaried position. West does not have an office in the courthouse but maintains a business office as a certified land surveyor at 106 West Elm. An especially interesting historical document in West's office is a Cooke County map showing the original land patent owners. (A land patent is a transfer of state land to an individual.)

Also, of special historical interest, three parcels of public land in Cooke County were designated by the state for the support of public schools in Cooke, Fannin and Hunt counties. Proceeds from public land in the Mountain Springs area went to Cooke County schools; proceeds from public land in the Callisburg area went to Fannin County schools. Hunt County school land was near where the I-35 rest stop south of Gainesville is now.

Edelweiss is vandalized

Edelweiss Kinderhaus was vandalized last weekend when someone threw a rock or possibly shot a BB from a high powered BB gun through the front plate glass window. A definite cause of the damage hasn't yet been determined.

The act occurred sometime between late Saturday evening and early Sunday morning. The window, valued at $249, was made of safety glass that slowly splintered.

A reward is being offered by the Muenster Chamber of Commerce to anyone who comes forward with information that leads to the arrest and conviction of the offender. Anyone who has information to report should contact Muenster Police Chief Helen Tompkins. The caller may remain anonymous.

MEMBERS of the Forestburg Volunteer Fire Department hosted the meeting of the Montague County Fire Fighters Association last Friday evening at their new fire station. High point of the meeting was public display of Forestburg's new fire truck. The new Ford F600 truck was acquired with help from the Texas Forest Service. Pumps, tanks and custom metal work were installed by Flusche Enterprises of Muenster. The combination pumper has a capacity of 650 gallons and can dispense water or foam at a rate of 200 gallons per minute. It has room for extra hoses, lighting and rescue equipment. The new fire hall has four bays and office/meeting room. It was constructed by JAW Construction Co. of Muenster. Except for Forest Service help, all money for the building and truck was raised through donations and fundraiser projects. Members of the Forestburg VFD pictured are Wayne Moseley, Michael Forrester, Jimmy Raney, Larry Eldridge, Larry Dill, Virgil Forrester, Jeff Balthrop and Paul Ray Baird. Dave Fette Photo

Good News!

Everyone who practices evil hates the light; he does not come near it for fear his deeds will be exposed. But he who acts in truth comes into the light, to make clear that his deeds are done in God.

JOHN 3: 20-21

Letters to the Editor

I am writing this letter to just let people in Muenster and surrounding area know how important our mini-bus is to us.

When Joe messed up his knee, we just didn't know how we could get him back and forth to his orthopedic doctor's office since he was in such pain if he had to move it whatsoever.

Suddenly, I remembered what Pat Walterscheid (mini-bus driver) had once said to me about needing a ride anywhere. Just call her and that's what we did. And she got the handicapped mini-bus and our problems were solved.

Charlie Luttmier, our grandson, built Joe a ramp. Right up the ramp and into the mini-bus went the wheelchair with Joe in the chair, with no problems.

So, when anyone, young or old, needs a ride anywhere, give the mini-bus a call and they will work with you and get you to and from without a problem, even if the ride is just for fun or an appointment, and not an emergency, like our call was. Call anytime, help keep the mini-bus busy.

Thanks, Mini-Bus!

Three Webelos receive Cub Scouting's Arrow of Light

Cub Scouting's highest award, the Arrow of Light, has been earned by three members of Muenster's Pack 664. Erik Walterscheid, Jerry Stoffels and Matt Muller received the award at a special ceremony Monday at the VFW Hall.

The ceremony was conducted by three Order of the Arrow Boy Scouts who were named only by their official titles, Allowat Sakima-great chief, Mateu-medicine man and Nudiket-guard of the fire. Dressed in full traditional costume of the plains Indians, the team walked slowly into the quiet hall and explained the importance of the occasion then addressed the awardees directly about the honor and responsibility of the Arrow of Light and the brotherhood.

Next, Cubmaster Shirley Knabe, presented the awards and patches. The patch consists of a golden arrow with a rising sun behind it. This patch is the only Cub Scout award which can be carried forward and worn on the Boy Scout uniform. Walterscheid, Stoffels and Muller will join the local Boy Scout troop at Bridge-over ceremonies in May.

The three Indians then walked slowly out of the Hall and were not seen again. Cubmaster Knabe expressed thanks to the Bischuwi Aney chapter, Nishkin Halupa A Pe Lachi Lodge of the Order of the Arrow, Boy Scouts of America for conduct of the ceremony.

WEEK of the Young Child celebration was held in the Muenster City Park (top) on Wednesday. Students of Sacred Heart Pre-School, Kindergarten and first grade, their teachers and the children's parents took time to picnic and play in the park. Texas tax burden shift from state to local has left both crippled

Commentary by Bob Bullock, Lt. Governor of Texas

Texas went 13 years, from 1971 to 1984, without any increase in any state tax. In fact, several taxes were reduced as oil and gas taxes brought in windfall revenue.

But the next six years, from 1984 to 1990, were a different story, not only at the state level, but for local governments, too.

At the state level, there were major tax increases in '84, '86, '87 and '90, with several hikes in the gasoline tax, sales tax, insurance tax, corporate franchise tax, cigarette taxes, alcohol taxes and with more items being added to the sales tax base.

And at the local level, there were such tremendous property tax hikes that Texas local governments from 1982 through 1988 had the dubious distinction of being #1 in the nation in the rate of property tax increases.

But there is more to the story than just the raw increases - and that is the story of how the state tax burden actually shrunk and how the heaviest tax burden shifted to local property taxes.

Consider:

*State tax revenue compared to personal income actually declined 14.9 percent from 1978 to 1987, despite the barrage of tax increases in the '80s.

*In the same period, local property tax revenue increased 18.7 percent when compared to personal income.

*Local property tax increases amounted to hikes of 28.9 percent on the tax bills of Texas property owners, the highest increase in the nation for the years 1980-88.

*As a result of this shift, Texas fell from 44th to 48th place in overall state tax burden in the nation but our local governments moved up from 29th to 10th place in total local tax burden.

Of the 10 most populous states, only Florida beats Texas in how much more money is derived from local government than from the state to finance government services.

That shifting of the burden to property taxes continues today - and it will continue to worsen unless the state turns to a significant new revenue source to relieve the local burdens in public schools, jails and health care.

What caused the shift from state to local sheds light on the financial problems facing state government and the schools today, as well as being a warning sign of worse problems in the future if Texas continues its current course.

Expressing these tax shifts compared to personal income tells a very revealing story: the primary tax sources of both state and local depend on hard goods and property that represent only a fraction of the Texas economy which creates income, wealth and growth.

In the state's case, that dependence rests on a hodgepodge of selective taxes. The sales tax is the only state tax that has any chance to grow with the economy, but when compared to personal income, the sales tax yield has actually declined since 1982 despite the rate increases applied to it. That has happened because the sales tax largely does not apply to the fastest growing elements of the economy - services, for instance.

But even so, the state has continued to overwork the sales tax. In 1982, it produced 42 percent of the state's tax revenue, but as oil and gas taxes took a nosedive, the Legislature flogged the old sales tax horse with rate increases until today it carries more than 61 percent of the load - with a rate that is among the highest in the nation.

The same erosion has taken place in the base of other major state tax sources to this extent: All of the state tax bills enacted since 1984 were responsible for putting an additional $4.2 billion in the treasury in 1990 - but only $200 million of that was due to economic growth and inflation, while the rest was due to rate increases.

Clearly, the state tax system has structural problems. And what about the other side of the coin - the state spending pattern? It is interesting to see what has happened there in the past 13 years.

Total state spending, again compared to personal income, has risen less than 3/4th of one percent since 1978.

Surprisingly, even that small increase has not gone to education. State education spending - for both public schools and higher education - has dropped from 49.9 percent of the budget to 43.6 percent since 1978, despite the fact that in 1990 the state spent $3.8 billion more on public schools than it did in 1978.

Local school districts, of course, have no other tax source but the property tax, and unless bold new alternatives are found, property taxes will go skyhigh when a new school finance equalization plan is adopted.

Virtually, every school finance equalization bill considered by the Legislature would cause hundreds of school districts to increase property taxes, some perhaps in the 30, 40 and even 50 percent range.

With those kinds of increases, Texas local governments would surely in the '90s again be known for having the nation's fastest growing property tax and perhaps even move from 10th to 1st in total burden.

That is obviously intolerable. But the equally obvious alternative may not be much more workable - that is, more state aid from a state government whose own tax system is on a no-growth plan.

And that's why it is time to discuss a state income tax.

A low-rate, flat-rate state income tax could be used to completely eliminate the local school property tax on all residential property while at the same time reducing the sales tax rate and finally putting state government on the road to financial stability without the constant need for selective tax rate increases.

The federal government years ago began shifting its burdens to the states without shifting an equal amount of money to pay for many vital programs. Texas state government has done the same to the schools and to a degree to all local governments.

It is time to reverse the trend and have the state pay for its mandates and responsibilities. Certainly, chief among those is the constitutional mandate that the state provide a system of public education. But the state cannot meet its responsibilities any more than the school districts can as long as the state is tied to a revenue system going in the opposite direction of the economy and the population growth.

Muenster native dies at 83

Joe W. Fleitmann, a life-long resident of Muenster, prominent farmer and dairyman and agricultural businessman, died suddenly at age 83 on April 6, 1991 at 12:15 a.m. at Saint Richard's Villa, where he was admitted after dismissal from Muenster Memorial Hospital.

He was born on April 12, 1908 in Muenster to Joseph Fleitmann and Kathryn Roewe Fleitmann. On Nov. 20, 1934 he married Angeline Mary Bengfort of Lindsay. They became parents of two daughters, Clara Neusch of Lindsay and Dorothy Fleeman of Gainesville; and five sons, Paul and Ray of Muenster, Robert and Daniel of Gainesville, James of Okotoks, Alberta, Canada; also an infant daughter, Angeline, deceased, and an infant son, Jerry, deceased.

Joe W. Fleitmann was a member of the Board of Directors of Muenster Farm Mutual, a member of Saint Joseph Society, a past-member of the Knights of Columbus, and a member of Sacred Heart Church.

Joe and Angeline Fleitmann started their married life in 1934 on a farm southeast of Myra. In 1943 they bought a farm east of Muenster, and started the Grade A Dairy in 1949. In 1986, they retired from the dairy and moved back to the farm southeast of Myra. At both sites their establishment and their outstanding vegetable gardens were showplaces.

They remained active on the farm until November 1989 when ill health forced Joe to curtail his work. In September 1990, his health failing, they moved into a home in town on North Oak Street.

Mass of Christian Burial was offered for Joe W. Fleitmann on Tuesday, April 9, 1991 in Sacred Heart Church, with Father Victor Gillespie OSB, Father Sebastian Beshoner OSB, Father Joe Wein-zappel and Father Harry Fisher, present in the sanctuary and concelebrating the Mass.

The First Reading of the funeral liturgy was given by a granddaughter Becky Fleitman; the Second Reading by a son, James Fleitman. Petitions and Prayers of the Faithful were read by a granddaughter, Cynthia Tempel. Offertory gifts were carried to the altar by grandsons Barry, Brian, Justin and P.J. Fleitman. A nephew, Ben Fleitman, Jr., assisted as Eucharistic Minister. Mass servers were family friends, Jeff Yosten, Tommy Dankesreiter and Bryan Hudspeth. Music Ministers were Emily Klement, Pam Fette and Ruth Felderhoff. Selections were "Amazing Grace," "Psalm of the Good Shepherd," "Send Us Your Spirit," "Irish Blessing," "Like a Shepherd," and "How Great Thou Art."

Tuesday morning, preceding departure for the church, a family Rosary was held in the McCoy Chapel, led by a daughter-in-law, Dorothy Fleitman.

On Monday, April 8, a Rosary Service was held in the McCoy Chapel at 4 p.m. and a Vigil at 8 p.m.

Burial was in Sacred Heart Cemetery, directed by McCoy Funeral Home of Muenster. Pallbearers were grandsons of Joe W. Fleitmann, including Michael Neusch, James Neusch, Tim Fleeman, David Fleitman, Rex Fleitman and Wade Fleitman.

Survivors include his wife, Angeline Fleitmann; two daughters Clara Neusch of Lindsay and Dorothy Fleeman of Gainesville; five sons Paul and Ray of Muenster, Robert and Daniel of Gainesville, James of Okotoks, Alberta, Canada. Also one sister, Anna Jostwerner of Muenster; four brothers Andrew, Anton, and Ben of Muenster, and Herman of Gainesville. Also 19 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren and a number of nieces and nephews. He was preceded in death by his parents, an infant son and infant daughter; one brother August Fleitman, a WWII casualty; and one sister Elizabeth Fleitman.

Among out of town relatives attending the funeral were Ed Bengfort of Farmington, N.M.; Henry and Shirley Roewe of Oklahoma City; Joe and Ida Frank of Canyon; Andy Roewe of Wichita Falls; Conrad Roewe of Haskell; Jean and Regina Moore of Grapevine; Catherine Hamilton, Joe and Liz Pels, William and Marcella Koerner, Jackie Speed and Mary Ann Pels all of Pilot Point; Don and Patsy Bezner and Ray Bengfort of Gainesville; Rex Fleitman of Fort Carson, Colo.; Robert and Elizabeth Barham of Whitesboro; Gilbert and Lynn Neusch of Fort Worth; Michael Neusch of Canton; Stan and Cindy Tempel and Tim and Yolanda Fleeman and son Derek of Gainesville and many from Lindsay, Sivells Bend and Cooke County areas.

Services held for Steve Moster

Steve Moster, 76, a longtime resident of Muenster, community leader, and former city manager and city superintendent, died in Saint Jo Nursing Center on April 9, 1991 at 6:40 a.m., following a lengthy illness. He had been hospitalized twice at Muenster Memorial Hospital in the recent past.

He was born on Sept. 2, 1914 at Mt. Kisco, N.Y., one of four children born to Italian parents, the Peccaros. They were Tony, Steve, Frank and Theresa. The parents died during the flu epidemic that swept across the country during WWI. Eventually, the four children (Steve, then, was hardly four years old) were sent with 14 other orphans to Texas on the famous "Orphans' Train" by the Children's Aid Society of New York, which placed 100,000 children with adoptive parents during the several years the train was in existence.

Tony, the oldest, and Theresa, the youngest were adopted by Joe and Margaret Sicking of Gainesville. Steve and Frank were adopted by Leo and Theresa Moster of Muenster. The adoptive parents, after being told the wish of the birth mother, saw to it that the children visited each other often. In their late teen years, they all were able to live together on the Sicking farm in Gainesville, a dream they never realized would happen. The families have always been close.

The three brothers all served in WWII, but Frank was lost in Italy on Dec. 9, 1943. Steve served in the Pacific Theater and was discharged on Jan. 2, 1946.

On Jan. 15, Steve Moster was married to Mary Wiedemann in Sacred Heart Church. Steve returned to his pre-war job for Joe Bezner Sr., County Commissioner for Precinct 4.

The City of Muenster was looking for a reliable person to replace an aging I.A. Schoech who worked during the War Years. So, Steve took the job in March 1946 and remained active with the City more than 33 years.

In 1953, Steve Moster was named City Manager. In 1960, he was appointed City Judge. In 1963, he was given the title of City Superintendent. In 1979, he officially retired, but remained as a part-time consultant until 1983.

During his tenure, great improvements were made on the city sewer system, and Muenster built a first-class swimming pool. Moster was a longtime Merit Badge Counselor for the Boy Scouts, working with Nick Miller.

He was the official weatherman for 30 years, sending in reports to county and state. In 1987, he was honored by the U.S. Dept. of Commerce National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration with the "Thomas Jefferson Award" for 40 years of dedicated service to city, state and nation.

He also served the VFW Post as commander and was VFW Service Officer for a number of years. He also served as Lions Club President; was a Life Member of the Knights of Columbus and St. Joseph's Society and Sacred Heart Church.

Mary and Steve Moster are the parents of two sons, Frank Anthony Moster and Christopher Eugene Moster, who now live in Denton and Sanger, respectively. There are also a daughter-in-law and two grandchildren. Other survivors include his mother, Theresa Moster of St. Richard's Villa; one sister, Florence (Mrs. Richard) Grewing of Muenster; and two brothers, Joseph E. Moster of Muenster and Brother Thomas Moster of Subiaco Abbey, Arkansas.

Preceding him in death were his father, Leo Moster; three brothers, Frank Moster, Charlie Moster and Tony Sicking; one sister, Theresa Sicking.

Mass of Christian Burial was offered on Friday, April 12, 1991, at 10 a.m. in Sacred Heart Church, concelebrated by Father Victor Gillespie, OSB, and Father Sebastian Beshoner, OSB.

The Sacred Heart Men's Choir provided sacred music, with Anthony Luke at the organ.

Liturgical Readings were given by Brother Thomas Moster and Monica McCoy. Offertory gifts were carried by Sara Hess, Gina Yosten, Sheri Bonner, Jason Vogel. Petitions were read by Tara Yosten and Leslie Grewing. Ryan Bayer was the Eucharistic Minister. Mass servers were Brandon Bayer, Jason Frost and Scott Frost.

Burial was in Sacred Heart Cemetery, directed by McCoy Funeral Home.

Full military rites were conducted by the Muenster VFW Post, rifle squad and honor guard.

Alvina Hellman dies April 8

Mass of Christian Burial was held for Alvina H. Hellman on Thursday, April 11, 1991, in Sacred Heart Church at 10 a.m., officiated by Father Victor Gillespie, OSB, and Father Sebastian Beshoner, OSB.

She died on April 8 at 10:10 p.m. in Gainesville Memorial Hospital after a brief but serious illness.

Alvina Hellman was born on July 21, 1921 in Muenster to William Gehrig and Katherine Hergen Gehrig. She attended Sacred Heart Schools and graduated from Muenster High School.

On Sept. 14, 1938, she was married to Charley Hellman in Sacred Heart Church. He survives, with two daughters, Charlene Cowan of Hurst and Janelle Hellman of Muenster; and four sons, Donald Hellman, Mark Hellman and Dale Hellman, all of Muenster, and Louis Hellman of Hanford, California; also 10 grandchildren.

Other survivors are three sisters, Leona Eberhart and Emma Lou Hess of Muenster and Virginia Carter of San Antonio.

ALVINA H. HELLMAN

She was preceded in death by her parents; one son, Billy Ray Hellman; one brother, George Gehrig; and one sister, Clara Gehrig Fette.

Alvina Hellman was well known locally. She was a homemaker, wife, mother, grandmother, and good friend. She was an Avon Lady for more than 25 years; a longtime member of the Catholic Daughters of the Americas and the Auxiliary to the VFW; and a member of Sacred Heart Church.

Participating in the special funeral liturgy for the Mass of Christian Burial were Roger Taylor with the First and Second Readings; Janie Taylor and Frances Bayer as Eucharistic Minister; Ruth Felderhoff, Pam Fette and Christi Hesse as Music Ministers. Emily Klement sang for the Vigil Service at McCoy Chapel Wednesday at 7 p.m. A Rosary Service was also held at 4 p.m.

Interment was in Sacred Heart Cemetery, directed by McCoy Funeral Home of Muenster. Pallbearers were Allen Eberhart, Gene Eberhart, Brent Hess, Jim Gehrig, Clyde Walterscheid and David Yosten.

Mass servers were Gregg Flusche, Michael Flusche, John Bartush, Jonathan Grewing and Waylon Hess.

Death takes Anna Mae Stoffels

Anna Mae Stoffels has succumbed to the crippling illness from which she suffered for more than a decade. Her death occurred in Gainesville Memorial Hospital on April 9, 1991 at 2:30 a.m.

She was born on June 20, 1931 in Muenster to William N. Fuhrmann and Margaret Orth Fuhrmann. On Oct. 27, 1948 she married Meinrad Stoffels in Sacred Heart Church. She was a homemaker and a charter employee of Muenster Memorial Hospital and a member of Sacred Heart Church.

Mass of Christian Burial was offered in Sacred Heart Church on Thursday, April 11, 1991 at 2 p.m. by her brother, Father Nicholas Fuhrmann OSB, pastor of St. Mary's Church of Gainesville, assisted by Father Sebastian Beshoner OSB as concelebrant.

ANNA MAE STOFFELS

Sister Genevieve McConnell OSB gave a Reading from the Old Testament and "Book of Wisdom" and Jack Murdoch gave a Reading from the New Testament from "Revelations."

Music Ministers were Ruth Felderhoff, Christi Hesse, Emily Klement, Anne Poole, Patti Bayer, and Eric Gray. "The Song of the Angels" was the Meditation and the recessional was "Battle Hymn of the Republic," chosen because it was used similarly at the funeral of Anna Mae's husband, Meinrad Stoffels, who preceded her in death in September, 1970. Also preceding her in death were her parents.

She is survived by three daughters, Susan Banks of Paul's Valley, Okla., Darla Wood of Harrison, Ark., Sara Long of Gainesville; and four sons Donald, Douglas and Mike Stoffels, all of Muenster, and Nick Stoffels of Moss Lake; and 13 grandchildren.

Also four sisters, Tillie Wachsman of Wichita Falls, Rose Stoffels, Theresa Huchton and Mickey Haverkamp, all of Muenster. Also five brothers, Father Nicholas Fuhrmann of Gainesville, Brother Henry Fuhrmann of Subiaco, Ark., Joe, Tony and Aloys Fuhrmann, all of Lindsay.

Burial was in Sacred Heart Cemetery, directed by McCoy Funeral Home. Pallbearers were Stephen Stoffels, Kevin Fuhrmann, Roger Haverkamp, Leonard Fuhrmann, Ronnie Wachsman and Terry Huchton.

The Rosary was prayed at McCoy Funeral Chapel on Wednesday, April 10 at 3 p.m. and the Vigil Service was held at 6 p.m.

Eighth graders queried on interests

by Steve Cooper
MISD Superintendent

The Kuder General Interest Survey was given to the Eighth grade this year. The Interest Survey results indicate interest in ten general areas. The ten general areas are listed below with an explanation of each major interest:

1. Outdoor interest - work or activity that keeps you outside most of the time.
2. Mechanical interest - preference for working with machines or tools. Engineers are among the many jobs involving mechanical interest.
3. Computational interest - preference for working with

4. Scientific interest - understanding of nature and solution of problems. Major interests relating to the physical world.
5. Persuasive interest - meeting and dealing with people, in convincing others of a cause or point of view, or in promoting projects or things to sell.
6. Artistic interest - indicates a preference for doing creative work with the hands.
7. Literary interest - an interest in reading, writing, and research activities.
8. Musical interest - an interest by persons who enjoy playing an instrument, singing or performing in musical activities.

9. Social Service interest - activities that indicate a preference for activities that involve helping people.

10. Clerical interest - work that involves specific tasks requiring precision and accuracy. If you have high clerical interest you probably enjoy school subjects and activity that require attention to detail.

The eighth grade students were given their profile sheets and Mr. Vernon Austin, the school counselor, discussed the results of the Interest Inventory with the entire class. The students were given individual profile sheets to inform their parents of the results. Any parent who would like to visit with the school counselor, should call for an appointment and talk with Mr. Austin.

The groom is the son of Wilfred and Ida Mae Bindel of Muenster. A reception followed the wedding at their home in Denton. Others present for the ceremony were the bride's sister and brother-in-law Wendi and Tom Wasson, and her brother John Meyer II. Also the groom's parents, and his brother and sister-in-law Ben and Tina Bindel and children, Brandon and Danielle; his nieces Laura, Diana and Alicia Garcia of Lewisville; and friends from Gainesville, Muenster, Denton, Lewisville, Sanger and Dallas.

Sacred Heart celebrates Week of the Young Child

by Sharon Fuhrmann
The National Association for the Education of the Young Children sponsors the "Week of the Young Child" every April to focus attention on the needs of young children and their families. The theme for the week was "Good Beginnings Never End."

Sacred Heart's preschool, kindergarten and first grade classes observed this week, April 8-12, with many special and educational activities. On Monday, April 8, an opening Mass was presented by the first grade. Mass was started with a procession by the children. Several teachers participated by reading, while the Preschool children performed a meditation song, "Praise Him, Praise Him," after communion. Mrs. Christy Hesse led in the singing with Mrs. Ruth Felderhoff playing the organ.

Tuesday, April 9 was a day of separate activities for the three classes. Preschool traveled to Billie and Jerry Fleitman's farm to feed and play with the animals. They were accompanied by their teachers Pam Dangelmayr and Kathy Berres. Kindergarten traveled to Gainesville to tour the Gainesville Fire Department and the Frank Buck Zoo. They ate at McDonald's for lunch. Muenster City Hall played host to the Sacred Heart first graders on Tuesday. They were given a tour of the Muenster Fire Department and the Police Station.

Wednesday was a day for the families at the Muenster City Park. The children, accompanied by their parents, enjoyed sack lunches. They played in the park and were especially excited by the school bus ride down to the park.

"Artfest" was held on Thursday under the pavilion. This activity was sponsored by the Preschool Parents Association. The seventh and eighth grade students were asked to help at the various craft booths. Students from the preschool and elementary were able to make a variety of arts and crafts projects during the afternoon hours.

On Friday the kindergarteners renewed their Baptismal vows at the 8:00 a.m. Mass. Parents were encouraged to attend. Immediately following the Mass a reception was held in the cafeteria for parents and guests. Preschool finished the week by planting spring flowers outside the Preschool building with the help of some of the parents.

Teachers and staff making this week possible are Pam Dangelmayr, Kathy Berres, Judy Pagel from Preschool; Debbie Zimmerman and Lanetta Martin from kindergarten; Anne Poole and Michelle Knauf from first grade.

Opry set for April 13

The Saint Jo Opry will be held Saturday night, April 13 in the school auditorium. The show will begin at 7:00 p.m., sponsored by the Country Cut Ups.

Preceding the opry will be the Saint Jo Fire Department Fish Fry beginning at 5:00 p.m. in the school cafeteria.

Appearing on the Saint Jo Opry this month will be Mr. Gene Brown on the fiddle, Jimmy Horn as vocalist, and Sylvia and The Entertainers.

Concessions will be provided by the Saint Jo P.T.O. with funds being used for the purchase of new cafeteria furniture. The show is hosted by Sonny and Dee Cole, who extend a sincere welcome to all to come and enjoy the music and fun.

Admission is $2 for adults and children under 12 are admitted free. Donations from proceeds are made to area and county fire departments and community organizations.

A GROUP OF EMPLOYEES await their turn for an inside look around at the CareFlite Ambulance that visited Cooke County Electric Co-op last Wednesday and received instructions to summon and direct CareFlite personnel to the scene of a medical emergency. Crew members include Philip O'Rear, Sheliah Henderson and Deborah Grant. O'Rear is a friend of the Paul Dangelmayr family.

CareFlite stops at Co-op

A CareFlite ambulance and crew visited Cooke County Electric Cooperative last Wednesday to provide information about emergency responses available in case of severe injuries.

The helicopter ambulance crew explained that the key to saving lives is providing high quality emergency care during the "golden hour" - the first hour after a severe injury occurs, according to Judson Perry, Safety Coordinator at CCEC. Since CCEC employees routinely travel to the most remote corners of Cooke and Montague counties, they are sometimes in places it would take an ambulance dispatched from Gainesville or Nocona upwards of 30 minutes to reach.

In those cases, the speedy helicopters from Fort Worth could provide response similar to those of ground-based ambulances. And the CareFlite helicopter, which travels at 150 miles per hour, can quickly transport the severely injured to major trauma or burn centers, saving the delay that would be needed in cases of transfers.

The CareFlite visit was a step to increase awareness of safety issues. Even though the Cooperative has not had a life-threatening injury in the past 43 years, safety is always a concern since employees routinely use heavy equipment and work on live electrical wires high above the ground.

Employees were told how to summon a CareFlite ambulance via radio and telephone and to help the helicopter crew find remote locations. Cooperative personnel also discussed how lights from company vehicles could be used to illuminate a safe landing area at night.

St. John's welcomes new members

by Elaine Schad
A reception was held Sunday for the three RCIA candidates who were welcomed into the Catholic Church during services on Holy Saturday at St. John's Catholic Church in Valley View.

The St. John's Altar Society sponsored the reception after the 9:30 Mass. Newly received into the church were Burt Hilliard, sponsored by E.J. Schad; Rickey Collett, sponsored by Billy Bierschenk; and Brenda Canterbury, sponsored by Joe Canterbury. Father Harry Fisher, pastor, prepared the candidates.

A new RCIA class will begin at St. John's in the Fall. Anyone interested can contact Father Fisher.

Personal

Mrs. Margaret Fisher has returned home after spending two weeks visiting her daughter and family Rosemary and Mike Lardner and children David and Kathy of Lititz, Pennsylvania. They took her sightseeing over a wide area.

Very memorable was visiting and attending services in the Church of St. Catherine Laboure in Harrisburg, Pa., honoring the Miraculous Medal. They also took her to see the vast Hershey factory.

St. Mary's Church is site of April 6 Nuptials

Janie Lynn Schumacher of Gainesville became the bride of Michael Lutkenhaus of Muenster on Saturday, April 6, 1991 in a Nuptial Mass at 5:30 p.m. in St. Mary's Catholic Church.

The bride is the daughter of Richard and Florence Schumacher of Gainesville. She is the granddaughter of Mary Haverkamp and the late Lee Haverkamp and the late Henry and Elizabeth Schumacher. The groom is the son of Walter and Kathy Lutkenhaus of Lindsay. He is the grandson of August and Armella Lutkenhaus of Muenster and the late Lawrence and Olivia Streng.

Father Nicholas Fuhrmann officiated the double ring ceremony at an altar adorned with pink hydrangeas and white Easter lilies.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a traditional wedding gown of white satin and Alencon lace, featuring a Queen Anne neckline, with long lace sleeves with shoulder puffs. The sleeves were accented by pearl droplets, and tapered to bridal points at the wrist. The fitted bodice, appliqued with seed pearls and sequins along with pearl droplets, tapered to a tiny Basque waistline. The back of the gown, flowing into an extra-full cathedral train, was completely outlined in ruffles. It also featured a sheer back bodice, detailed lace cut-out work and an exquisite bow at the waistline.

A waltz-length bridal veil and headpiece, designed by the bride and her maid of honor, featured a hat with lace appliques, seed pearls and sequins and a silk and pearl flower spray.

She carried a bridal bouquet of white and pink satin roses, stephanotis, and iridescent satin and pink ribbons, entwined with a rosary belonging to her late great-aunt Verona, now belonging to the bride's mother. Her bridal attire was completed with gold and diamond earrings and a diamond necklace, gifts from the groom.

ATTENDANTS
Lisa Hoedebeck of Gainesville, a friend of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Laura Lutkenhaus of Lindsay, groom's sister, and Brandy Bezner of Lindsay, bride's niece. They were attired in pink moire' taffeta tea-length dresses featuring a soft sweetheart neckline with full inset sleeves trimmed with bows, a low back neckline with a three tiered ruffle, and a bow at the waist. Each carried a nosegay of pink flowers with pink and white streamers. Each wore a strand of pearls, and a dainty pink floral and ribbon hairpiece.

Kristie and Pamela Lutkenhaus, cousins of the groom and daughters of Leo and Peggy Lutkenhaus of Muenster, were flower girls, wearing pink and white polished cotton dresses designed similarly to the bridesmaids. Each carried a basket of pink flowers and wore a wreath of flowers in her hair. Ring bearer was Scott Schumacher, bride's nephew and son of Rudy and JoAnn Schumacher of Gainesville. The original ring pillow was created by Peggy Potts, bride's sister.

Steve Kubicek of Valley View, groom's cousin, was best man. Groomsman were Warren Sicking of Muenster, friend of the couple, and George Lutkenhaus of Lindsay, groom's brother. Ushers were Mark and Kevin Schumacher of Gainesville, bride's brothers, and Dave Kubicek of Durant, groom's cousin.

Mass servers were Clifford and Robert Lutkenhaus of Lindsay, groom's cousins. Donna Neu, groom's sister of Lindsay, was lector. Eucharistic Ministers were Clarice Holder of Lubbock, bride's sister; Clara Hermes of Lindsay, Skipper Bezner of Lindsay, bride's brother-in-law; John Kubicek of Valley View, groom's uncle; and Peter Hyde of Gainesville. Offertory gifts were presented at the altar by Miklos and Shirley Nagy and daughter Sabrina of Lindsay.

Musical selection by organist Ruth Felderhoff and vocalist Christy Hesse included "Sunrise, Sunset," "Wind Beneath My Wings," "Amazing Grace," "How Great Thou Art," and "Ave Maria," with "Cannon in D" and Purcell's "Trumpet Tune" for processional and recessional.

RECEPTION
A reception hosted by the bride's parents was held in St. Mary's Parish Hall. The bride's table was decorated with silk ivy and ribbon, and also with large ribbon bows and lighted votive candles.

Guest book attendants were Donna Harlow of Canton, bride's sister, and Shelly Sicking, friend of the couple. The bride's cake was made by Mrs. Henry Spaeth, bride's aunt. The groom's cake was made by Barbara Bezner, bride's sister. Cake servers were Mary Kubicek of Valley View, Charlene Lutkenhaus of Lindsay, groom's cousins, Elizabeth Holder of Lubbock and Jennifer Bezner of Lindsay, bride's nieces. Rice bags were distributed by Stormie Schumacher of Kenton, Okla. and Leslie Schumacher of Gainesville, bride's nieces.

The bride is a 1988 graduate of Gainesville High School and attended Cooke County College.

She will attend the University of North Texas in the Fall. She is employed as a receptionist for CBS Field Services in Sanger.

The groom is a 1988 graduate of Lindsay High School. He attended Cooke County College and is employed with Cooke County Distributing Co. in Muenster.

The rehearsal dinner and party were hosted by the groom's parents in their home on April 4.

Since returning from a wedding trip to San Antonio, the couple is at home in Muenster.

Out of town guests came from Arizona, Houston, Lubbock, Kenton, Okla., Canton, Dallas and Fort Worth.

St. Richard's Villa

by Frances Reiter

On Tuesday afternoon in arts and crafts we made wall hangings using soap, net and silk flowers. We all enjoyed working on them.

Wednesday we played bingo. The players were Romana Bayer, Betty Yosten, Dorothy Yosten, Amanda Fuhrmann and Anna Fleitman.

Thursday morning Joe Hoenig came and had exercise and played the piano for an hour which everyone enjoyed. Thanks Joe. Irma Koelzer and Maureen Griggs came to play dominoes with us all afternoon. We were so glad to have Maureen back.

Mr. Fuson has a crew out here planting new trees and shrubs and beds of moss roses which are really pretty. All this new stuff has really improved the looks around St. Richard's.

Friday Juanita Bright entertained us by playing the piano and singing. Then that evening Father Sebastian had Mass and the Anointing of the Sacrament of the Sick. There was a good crowd of people present besides the residents.

Our sympathy goes to the Fleitman and Moster families for their recent losses. Also to our Director of Nurses Jan Hellman and employee Bonnie Stoffels, both of them losing their mothers-in-law.

Our April birthday party honored three residents, Lee Puckett, Mattie Rosson and Frances Reiter. We really had a nice crowd including Andy and Mary Ann Arendt, Butch Arendt, Mr. and Mrs. David Arendt and family, Rusty and Donna Reid and Randi, Cathy Arendt, Tim and Janie Hartman, Romana Bayer, Elsie Hoedebeck, Linda Knabe, Charlotte Zimmerer and Wilfred and Polly Reiter. The entertainment was just beautiful with Christi Hesse singing accompanied by her mother Ruth Felderhoff on the piano.

Eugene and Elsie Hoedebeck hosted a dinner Sunday night honoring Frances Reiter on her 88th birthday. Clem Reiter Jr. from Abilene, whose birthday was also that day, was at the dinner. Thanks Elsie for the delicious dinner.

"Read. Succeed." Theme used during Nat'l. Library Week

Reading is essential to leading a successful and productive life.

It is the single most effective skill people can use to learn, gather information, keep up with new developments in this rapidly changing world and communicate on a daily basis.

This year's National Library Week theme, "Read. Succeed." puts the focus on libraries and literacy. Libraries across the country will be celebrating April 14-20.

"We want to impress upon people of all ages and backgrounds that reading leads to personal success - success in school, in business and in life," said Bobbie Jane Slater, director of the Muenster Public Library.

National Library Week is the focal point of a year-long campaign with the message, "Read. Succeed."

"It's also a reminder to take advantage of the valuable resources and services available at the library," explained Slater. "The United States has the most extensive system of libraries - public, school, college and special - in the world. No American need be without books."

"We especially want to encourage parents to make regular visits to the library with their children and to set aside a special time each day for the family to read together," she said.

Mrs. Slater noted that research has proven that children who have been read to from an early age are more successful in school.

"A love of reading is the most beneficial and lasting gift a parent can give a child. Kids who read succeed," she added.

Be a part of the "Read. Succeed." celebration. Go to the library, check out a book and investigate all the services that are available.

All of the staff at the Muenster Public Library are willing to assist in any way to aid their readers.

Library hours are: Tuesday, 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Wednesday, 2:30 to 5:30 p.m.; Thursday, 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Skin wellness stressed at Auxiliary meeting

A "Skin Wellness Program" dealing with recognizing and preventing skin cancer was presented to members of the Muenster Memorial Hospital Auxiliary's March 28 meeting by Jan Cain.

Jan, a local Mary Kay consultant, showed a video and conducted a question and answer session as part of the informative program. Take home charts and pamphlets were made available for members.

Joan Walterscheid brought members up to date on the Health Fair planned for May 14 in the South Wing of the Muenster Memorial Hospital.

Donna Biffle, president, announced that Beta Kappa has agreed to turn over local sponsorship of the American Red Cross Blood Drives to the Hospital Auxiliary. The next drive is scheduled for October. Denise Pagel and Marlene Endres will co-chair the October event.

An update on the hospital's search for additional doctors was given by Lisa Walterscheid, a member of the hospital's board of directors. Dr. David Herr, an orthopedic surgeon, will make his final decision in September. An OB/GYN will also make a decision in September. Lisa also told of other recruitment methods being used.

A Historian will be included in the present slate of officers at the request of Donna Biffle. Two candidates were selected and an election is planned for the April meeting.

In other business: Members were asked to consider fund raisers and be ready to discuss ideas at the next meeting; proposed by-law revisions are available from Glenda Russell at the Muenster Hospital; Tudor Klement volunteered as chairman of program planning; and Joan Walterscheid announced that plans to purchase a cardiac monitor had still not been finalized.

Door prizes were won by Edna Klement and Janie Monday. The gifts were donated by Jan Cain and Margie Starke.

Due to the Germanfest weekend conflict with the fourth Thursday in April, members voted to move the April meeting date up two days. It will be on Tuesday, April 23.

Baptisms

Sparkman

Samuel Ben Sparkman was baptized March 16, 1991, at the 5 p.m. Mass in Sacred Heart Church. He is the son of Sam and Peggy Sparkman.

Samuel Ben wore a gown made by his mother for the occasion and a lace cap made by a family friend and worn by his brother and sister for their baptisms.

Baptism was made by immersion. Father Sebastian Beshoner, OSB, officiated. Sponsors for Samuel Ben were an aunt, Dianne Clegg, and John and Jo Sparkman, brother and sister of the infant.

Family members joined together for dinner afterwards and enjoyed a christening cake, baked and decorated by Samuel's mother.

Bayer

Beverly Ann Bayer, infant daughter of Keith and Collette Bayer, was baptized on Sunday, March 17, 1991, after the 10:30 Mass, with Father Victor Gillespie, OSB, officiating.

Beverly's grandparents, Art and Frances Bayer, served as her baptismal sponsors. She wore an heirloom gown which has been worn by all of her mother's sisters and brothers, and her big sister, Cheryl.

A celebration dinner followed in the Keith Bayer home, featuring a special baptismal-cake made by Cathie and Francis Fuhrmann, decorated with an angel and cross, flowers and the baptismal date.

Attending the baptism and dinner were Beverly's parents, her sister Cheryl, grandparents, great-grandparents, aunts, uncles and cousins.

Gifts were opened and pictures were made.

Preservation League sets Spring event

The Sherman Preservation League will present its annual "Sherman Past and Present" this year on April 21, celebrating with a new event billed as a "Garden Party" and old-fashioned ice cream social.

The event will be held from 2-6 p.m., on the grounds of the Roberts House at 915 S. Crockett. Activities will include a slate of family entertainment, from singers, to dancers, to a juggler; a Victorian style show; a cake walk; homemade ice cream and desserts sold by the Sherman Garden Club; and lawn games such as horseshoes and croquet, and more.

Tickets will be available for a tour of three homes, the C.S. Roberts House, owned by the Preservation League; the Ruth Davis house at 1028 S. Travis; and Toney Knox Village at 1316 S. Travis. Tickets for the mini-tour are $3 and will include rides on a horse-drawn carriage traveling between tour homes.

German-Texas Heritage Society invites membership

The German-Texan Heritage Society begins its 13th year with an invitation of membership to all persons interested in the German-Texan experience. The Society welcomes researchers, genealogists, history enthusiasts, folklorists, preservationists and others interested in the German heritage of Texas.

The 1991 German-Texan Heritage Society annual meeting will be held in Corpus Christi, Texas, Sept. 6, 7 and 8 at the Holiday Inn, Emerald Beach. The agenda offers many opportunities for all interests. Short trips to areas of local interest will provide enrichment to the entire program.

The year 1992 promises to be an even more eventful year as GTHS helps to prepare for the Sesquicentennial of the German Adelsverein in Texas. The opportunities offered under the auspices of the Adelsverein attracted thousands of Germans who brought to the state their knowledge and heritage, helping to shape the state of Texas as it is known today.

For more information about The German-Texan Heritage Society, please write to the state office at 1011 Meredith Drive, Suite C, P.O. Box 262, Manchaca, Texas 78652.

German students experience Texas culture and hospitality

Reinhild Skiba, Daniela Groger, and Nicole Steffen of Munster, Germany are spending their three week Easter break getting to know the sights and sounds of Muenster, Texas. The girls are students of Marienschule, an all-girls' Catholic School in Munster.

Reinhild and Daniela are house guests of Sylvan and Theresa Mae Walterscheid and Nicole is a guest of Harold and Jeannine Flusche. Eric Gray, Sacred Heart School's German teacher, was instrumental in arranging the students' visit to Texas. This is the second year that several students from Marienschule have visited Muenster and Sacred Heart School.

Germany's school system is quite different from the one in the United States, agreed the German girls. Instead of long summer vacation, time off is shorter with more breaks - six weeks for summer holiday, two and a half weeks Christmas vacation, one week during the Autumn, and three weeks for Easter vacation.

"There is no tuition in German schools," said Reinhild. "All people pay taxes to pay for schooling." Even though the girls attend a parochial school that is under the supervision of a bishop, they pay no tuition. The government funds all schools.

The girls were surprised at the casual manner in which classes are conducted in the U.S.A. Instead of taking different subjects every year, in Germany they continue with a subject from year to year.

All three visitors found Catholic church services in Muenster to be much more enjoyable than what they are accustomed to in Germany. Daniela liked our songs' melodies better. Reinhild thought that our songs were much happier. They were also impressed that so many people attend Mass and that many people go more often than on Sunday.

Germans have a healthier diet that includes more vegetables, fruits, salad and dark breads than the usual American fare according to the young ladies. Nicole commented that American food is much sweeter. "In Germany it is lighter - not so creamy," she said.

Daniela remarked on the great number of pick-up trucks found here in Texas and the long distances between places. In Germany most people ride bicycles because finding parking space is a problem. She likes American shopping because of the malls with many stores under one roof. Germany has long streets with shops located all along them.

"I can't understand why there is no disco here," wondered Reinhild. "There is no place for young people to go." She remarked that in Germany people go out for an evening around 10 or 11 p.m. and stay out dancing until 2 or 3 a.m. She was surprised that everything was closed here by 1 a.m.

Nicole Steffen, 18, has one brother. She enjoys dancing and listening to music and several sports including basketball, volleyball, swimming and running.

Classic and reggae music are favorites with Reinhild Skiba, 20. She also likes to play squash and badminton; enjoys squashing and going to a disco or pub. Reinhild earns spending money by writing articles for newspapers in Munster. She has two brothers and a sister.

Daniela Groger, 18, is active in jazz dancing, basketball and swimming. She is an avid reader and also likes to write. She lives with her parents and a younger sister.

"People are different here in Texas," remarked Reinhild. "They are not so closed - they seem more open." "They seem very interested in Germany," added Nicole.

Most families in Germany consist of two or three children, but according to the students, the trend now is for younger people to have three or four children.

Daniela, Nicole and Reinhild spoke animatedly of how people in Germany viewed the war in Iraq. There were two views. One side thought that the United States became involved because of oil. Others said Saddam must be stopped and was glad that the USA was involved.

"Many people in Germany think that America is the police of the world," said one of the girls. "When something is wrong in the world they go there and say 'No! That's not right!' America is always the first to step in and keep peace in the world."

There were demonstrations against the war in Germany, but people were not allowed to demonstrate in the streets until after the bombs were being dropped.

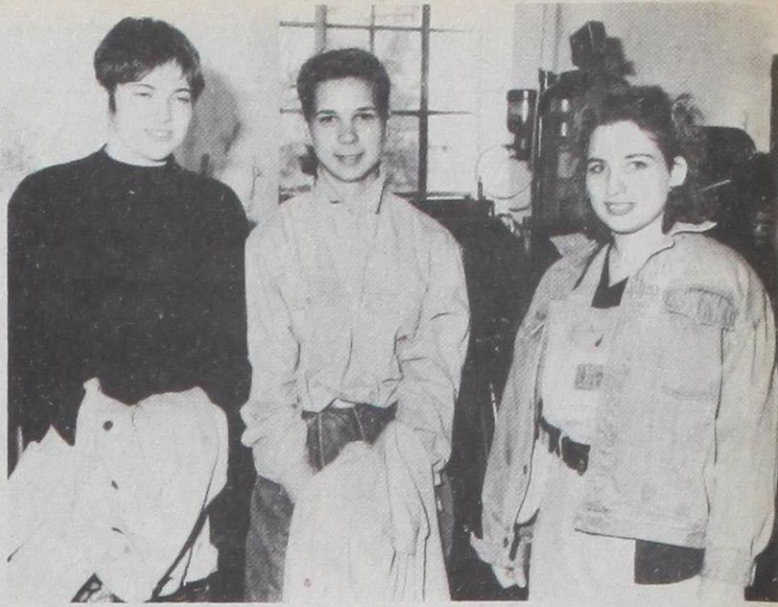

Germany has many problems right now. Since East and West Germany were rejoined the government is having financial problems because conditions in East Germany are so bad.

Reinhild said, "In East Germany everything is so old. The streets have not been kept up, houses have not water, hygiene is very bad. West Germans who go there can't believe it. A hotel was big and nice so that tourists weren't aware of the terrible conditions."

"The government was only interested in giving money for the military," stated Nicole. "They weren't interested in social or environmental problems. Everything will have to be built up now. Also it is very hard for people from East Germany to see products that are available in West Germany." She expressed sympathy for them because most don't have the money to purchase the things West Germans have.

"I like it very much that families are willing to take us for several weeks and try to give us the best time," Daniela said. All of the visitors agreed that they were having a good time and that everyone was very friendly. They were looking forward to their remaining days in Muenster.

Daniela arrived in Texas on March 18 and Nicole and Reinhild followed on March 21. They will make the return trip to Germany on Monday, April 15.

Bluebonnet Club seeks volunteers for Bike Rally

Fifteen Muenster Bluebonnet members and one guest, Rita McCorkle, met Monday, April 8 in the home of Kaye Wimmer for their annual salad supper. A business meeting was also conducted.

Judy McDaniel and Patti Bayer reported on the Germanfest Bike Rally. Volunteers from the community are still needed and anyone wishing to assist with the Bike Rally can volunteer by calling 759-4413 by Saturday, April 13. The Rally will be held on Saturday, April 27. Volunteers receive a Rally T-shirt and a Germanfest gate pass.

The Bluebonnet Extension Club and the Callisburg Club will host the county-wide council extension homemakers' clubs May luncheon on May 14 in the Gainesville Park Pavilion.

Maryanne Fleitman and Eileen Fisher told of plans and requested help with food preparations and decorations.

In other business: A request from the Muenster Memorial Hospital Auxiliary was discussed and approved; $200 was donated to ABBA; a donation was approved to help with prize expenses for Bingo at St. Richard's Villa; thank-you notes were read from the librarians of the City of Muenster, Muenster Public School, and Sacred Heart School for donations of Bluebonnet Award books, and from the families of Jason Beyer.

During the evening Secret Pals were revealed and new names chosen to be cheered and surprised in the coming year.

Rita McCorkle was welcomed as new member of the Bluebonnets. Maryanne Fleitman is hostess for the May 13 meeting.

Garcia girls spend time with relatives

Laura, Diana and Alicia Garcia spent spring break with their Grandparents Wilfred and Ida Mae Bindel and their Uncle and Aunt Ben and Tina Bindel and cousins, Brandon and Danielle.

Parents of the girls, Lionel and Phyllis Garcia of Lewisville, were on a trip to Spain and the Rock of Gibraltar.

Their return flight home gave an opportunity for a 24 hour lay-over, to spend with friends in New York, seeing the Statue of Liberty, Brooklyn Bridge and other tourist treats. Phyllis won her trip with her House of Lloyd sales. She is a supervisor.

The Ben Bindels returned the girls to their home after a visit to the Fort Worth Zoo.

Lady Hornets are district golf champs

The Muenster High girls' golf team has won its third consecutive district golf championship at Runaway Bay. At the district match on Monday, April 8, the Hornets scored 443, with the second place Grafrod team hitting 498, a 55-stroke advantage for the Muenster team. Jami Flusche finished with a silver individualist medal with a 107 score; Mindy Graham took third with 108. Kelley Wimmer's score of 110 earned her a fourth finish with Stephanie Wimmer and Lori Graham finishing tied for sixth place. Brandi Grewing rounded out the team. "The girls played a great team score with the course being so difficult," said Coach Brian Strother. "If we can shoot a low 400 score at regional, we might make it back to Austin. That's our goal, win regionals and go to Austin."

Regional golf is scheduled for April 22-23 in Abilene.

TAPPS All-District selections from Sacred Heart included, front, J.J. Dowd, Stevan Nasche and Sharon Fuhrmann. # Hornets prepare track for action-packed meet

Eleven schools will compete for district honors this Friday and Saturday on the Hornet Track in what Coach Grady Roller believes will be "an over-all better district meet than the past years."

The schools include Muenster, Lindsay, Era, Saint Jo, Windthorst, Alvord, Bryson, Grafrod, Petrolia, Perrin, and Ponder. The tentative schedule is as follows.

Friday, April 12
1:00 - boys' shot put and long jump; girls' discus and triple jump.

2:30 - girls' shot put and long jump; boys discus and shot put.
3:30 - 3200m Run, girls and boys.
4:30 - running preliminaries.
Saturday, April 13
12:00 - girls' high jump and boys pole vault.
1:00 - boys high jump.
2:30 or 30 minutes after the field events are finished - Running Finals.

Lindsay Jaycees to host 2nd annual golf tourney

The Lindsay Jaycees will be hosting their annual 2-man scramble golf tournament on Sunday, May 5, at the Gainesville Municipal Golf Course.

The event will kick off at 8:00 a.m. and participants will compete in five different flights. Entry fee is $30 per player.

Awards to be given away at the tournament include individual trophies and golf balls for first, second and third place in each flight. Trophies will also be awarded to the "Duffers of the Day" for the team which comes in last place overall.

A feature attraction will be the chance to shoot for a new 1991 model GMC half-ton pickup to be given away to the first golfer to score a hole-in-one on the fifth hole. Other hole-in-one prizes for each of the other par threes on the Gainesville layout include round-trip air fare for two to Germany, a vacation for two to Florida and a set of Mizuno irons.

There will also be consolation prizes of cash and merchandise for the closest-to-the-hole on each of the par threes, as well as for the longest drive on the fourth and twelfth holes.

All participants will be eligible for other prizes including dinners for two at various area restaurants which will be given away during a random drawing at the awards presentation. And there will be a contest for guessing how many golf tees are in a jar which will award cash prizes to the three closest answers.

A barbecue lunch and refreshments will be served in the Lindsay Park immediately following conclusion of play, at which time all of the awards will be distributed.

All interested players need to sign up by Wednesday, May 1. The tournament is limited to the first 40 paid entries. Entry forms are available at Gainesville Municipal Golf Shop.

Anyone with questions about the tournament can contact Danny Nortman at 817-665-8297.

Sacred Heart Tigers improve at Saint Jo's Red River Relays

"The Sacred Heart Tiger Track Team is improving each week," said Coach John Nasche. "I'm very pleased with our guys' effort and progress."

The Tigers placed 4th in the Red River Relays in Saint Jo last Saturday, behind Alvord, Petrolia and Bryson.

Tigers placing in the meet included Chris Hess 2nd in long jump, 5th in triple jump, 2nd in 400m dash and 3rd in 200m dash; Mark Flusche 2nd in 1600m run, 2nd in 3200m run; Jody Fleitman 1st in 3200m run, 4th in 1600m run; Kelly Bayer 3rd in 3200m run, 3rd in 1600m run, 4th in discus; Werner Becker 3rd in 800m run; Jason Hofbauer 4th in 800m run; Aaron Berres 5th in 800m run; and Chris Hess, Jason Hofbauer, Stevan Nasche, and Aaron Berres 4th in Mile Relay.

Jason Frost was unable to run and, according to Nasche, will help out at the district meet next week. "I am confident we will make a big push to become the 1991 TAPPS 2A District Champions," said the Tiger Coach. "Our guys have worked hard and all deserve a lot of recognition for their discipline, dedication and desire."

Knights place second in district golf tourney

The Lindsay Knights finished behind Petrolia in the District Golf Tournament held Monday at Runaway Bay. Petrolia edged the Knights by only 6 strokes, 371 to 377, for championship honors.

Migel Garcia earned a 3rd place individual medal, with 87 strokes. Darren Hundt shot 91, tying for 6th place, with Mark Williams 98 and Shawn Huchton 101. Jeff Hermes rounded out the team.

A second Lindsay team of Jason Benton, Joe Coke, Danny Hendry, Leslie Cler and Steve Bezner finished seventh out of the eleven teams that competed. Benton also tied for 4th individualist with a score of 89.

The second place team will advance to regional competition to be held April 22-23 in Abilene.

4-H announces County Ambassador Program

by Cassie Bullock
County Extension Agent

The definition of ambassador is 1) an official envoy; esp: a diplomatic agent of the highest rank...or appointed for a special and often temporary diplomatic assignment. 2) an authorized representative or messenger.

The Extension office is proud to introduce the Cooke County 4-H Ambassadors. And like Webster's definition, they are our special envoys on temporary assignment. Our Ambassadors are Werner Becker, Muenster 4-H; Sean Herbold, Silver Cedar 4-H; Sherilyn Sicking, Muenster 4-H; Clifford Lutkenhaus and Charlene Lutkenhaus, both of Lindsay Senior 4-H. The adult leader is Evelyn Sicking. This group of dedicated 4-H'ers and their parents have been making plans for a county Ambassador Program since last October. These 4-H'ers all attended Ambassador Training in Brownwood and wanted to have a program in Cooke County. They are a special group of 4-H'ers dedicated to improving 4-H and making others aware of the benefits of the program.

What does a 4-H Ambassador do? First, they promote and tell others about 4-H and what it does for youth. Second, Cooke County Ambassadors speak on youth issues to groups or organizations who invite them to speak. Third, they participate in community service. Fourth, they improve their personal leadership and presentation skills.

The goals set by this group last October were: 1) to overcome the "4-H only-does-livestock" image and that 4-H is only for those in rural areas owning land. 2) to inform elected officials about 4-H and involve them when possible and, 3) for those already in 4-H to gain a greater knowledge of 4-H opportunities, history, and future directions.

The Ambassadors are already taking steps toward their goals. For the last several months they have been guests on the Wednesday morning county agent's report on KGAF with 4-H agent, Cassie Bullock. They have done programs on the different 4-H projects and activities. They have also made arrangements for our newsletter, The 4-H Connection, to be sent to our local officials and state officials in order to inform them about 4-H and the local activities.

Another way the Ambassadors are moving toward their goals is by writing "Spotlights" for the 4-H newsletter. Spotlights inform parents, leaders and 4-H'ers about projects they may not be aware of.

If you would like for the 4-H Ambassadors to speak at a meeting or class, call Evelyn Sicking at 759-4388, or Cassie Bullock at 668-5412.

4-H Ambassador group discusses future plans

by Clifford Lutkenhaus

The fifth Cooke County Ambassador meeting was held on March 18 at 7:00 p.m. As planned at the February meeting, we came dressed for the meeting in our uniforms - black slacks or skirts and a white shirt or blouse. Louie Celaya, who leads the public speaking projects in Grayson County, listened to our speeches and gave helpful suggestions for improvement. As for the progress of the program we have decided on uniforms, nametags, business cards, community service ideas, selection process, possible groups to speak to, and publicity plans.

Clifford and Charlene Lutkenhaus, Sherilyn Sicking and Sean Herbold assisted in the 1991 Livestock Show Sale - our first community service project. We served at the buyers dinner and supper provided by the Cooke County Fair Association. Each of us represented the Ambassador program by wearing our uniforms, serving tables and giving directions to judges and buyers.

We will soon be opening positions for those who would like to become involved in the Cooke County Ambassador Program. One needs to be at least 14 years old and have two (2) years of 4-H experience, and attend the Ambassador camp, August 9-11 in Brownwood, Texas. Each will need to fill out an application and turn in a record book. The applicants will be interviewed by a panel of judges before final selections are made. Those interested need to contact the Extension office for more information.

I would like to thank all of the Ambassadors who are working together on their own time, establishing their new program. I want to give special thanks to Evelyn Sicking who has taken on the job of organizing and planning the meetings.

4-H'ers show and tell at County Roundup, Fair

by Cassie Bullock
County Extension Agent

Many 4-H'ers from all over Cooke County came to County 4-H Roundup Tuesday, April 2. Eleven 4-H'ers gave method demonstrations or illustrated talks; 65 entered an item in the Project Fair; and six participated in the Consumer Decision Making Contest. Method demonstrations and illustrated talks were presented in a variety of topics.

County Roundup participants will go on to District Roundup on April 20 at Faubion High School in McKinney. Those who will be attending in the junior division are Margaret Morgan, Bonnie Brooks, Robert Lutkenhaus and Michael Becker.

Representing Cooke County in the Senior Division will be Sherilyn Sicking, Charlene Lutkenhaus, Sean Herbold, Sara Flusche, Clifford Lutkenhaus, Werner Becker III and Greg Brooks.

Now in its second year, six 4-H'ers participated in the Consumer Decision Making Contest. In this event, 4-H'ers are given a situation and four possible solutions to the situation. The situations used at Roundup involved choosing the best camera, best pair of sunglasses, best bank for opening a checking account, and best credit card company. Individuals participating in the Senior Division are Sara Flusche, Sean Herbold and Sherilyn Sicking. They will participate at the District Consumer Decision Making Contest on May 4 at the Dallas District office.

The Project Fair is the other part of County Roundup. Those entering the art category were Anna Bayer and Leah Hermes. Nineteen entered in the ceramics category. They were Allison, Heath, Jeremy, Jordan, Lucas and Weldon Bayer, Eddie and Sandee Beck, Michael Becker, Bonnie Brooks, Kristen Creed, Cristy Drachenberg, Deann and Emily Felderhoff, Sherilyn Sicking, Becky Steed, Darrell and Wayne Twiner, and Dee Dee Walterscheid.

Leathercraft, another popular category, had 14 entries. They were Allison, Heath, Jeremy, Jordan, Lucas, and Weldon Bayer, Werner Becker, Kristen Creed, Cristy and Michael Drachenberg, Danny Felderhoff, Jessamy Sicking, Dee Dee and Josh Walterscheid.

Those entered in the miscellaneous category were Greg Brooks, Clifford, George and Robert Lutkenhaus, Margaret Morgan and Jennifer Lawler. The needlework category included Rachel Cravens and Lisa Goode.

Photography entries were Samantha Harris, Amanda Hitt, Amanda and Kristy Hughes, Laura Lutkenhaus, J.B. Pratt and Alicia Riddles. Woodworking had 13 entries. They were Betty Balthrop, Greg Brooks, Tanya Chase, Amanda Hitt, Charlene Lutkenhaus, Randal Paalik, Chad Phillips, Trey Phillips, Abby, Molly, Sadie and Sarah Trammell, and Casey McKown.

Kyle celebrates on Sesame Street!

KYLE ALLEN CALDWELL

Kyle Allen Caldwell was two years old on April 6 and celebrated with a party at his home that day, hosted by his parents, Jeff and Tammie Caldwell, and his sister, Brooklyn, of Gainesville.

A Sesame Street theme was used. Picture taking and gifts added to the fun. Relatives and friends attended from Wichita Falls, Gainesville and Muenster.

Joining the Caldwell family were the grandparents, Allen and Shirley Reiter; the grandmother, Lana Caldwell; Kyle's Aunt Janet Reiter and his cousin Adrienne; aunts Beverly and Natalie Caldwell; great-aunt and -uncle Carolyn and Billy Smith; cousins Tammy Balak and Brad and Autumn; uncle and aunt Danny and Vicky and son Daniel; great-aunt Bonnie Garrett; friends Raydene Patterson; Louis Workman; Deanna and Kevin Atkins and children Brandon and Mallory; Floyd and Terri Daniels; and a family friend, Pam.

Unable to attend were great-grandparents, John and Olivia Wimmer; Mrs. Pauline Caldwell; and Mrs. Elizabeth Carroll.

Festival set for April 20-21

Two established events, Spring Fling and Denton JazzFest, have combined their efforts to produce one major promotion - Denton Arts Festival. The two-day "arts in the park" will be held April 20-21 at Civic Center Park in Denton.

A major feature of the Denton Arts Festival will be the professional music groups who have appeared at Denton JazzFest. There will be continuous music on both the pop and jazz stages on Saturday and Sunday. Popular performers include Fingerprints, Bill Tillman Band, One O'Clock Lab Band, Carlos Guedes & Desvio and Brave Combo.

Another highlight of the festival, carried over from Spring Fling, is the arts and crafts exhibition. Artists from Texas and the southwest region of the country travel to Denton to show and sell their special creations. Items include original watercolors, handmade jewelry, pottery and more.

The festival opens at 10 a.m. on Saturday with musical entertainment continuing until 10 p.m. On Sunday the festival opens at noon and continues until sunset. Admission is free and all events are held in the Civic Center Park located at Bell Avenue and McKinney Street.

Pageant will feature fun!

The 3rd Annual Lake Texoma Pageant will be held May 4-5 at the Lake Texoma Lodge in Kingston, Okla. Everyone is invited to come and have a fun-filled weekend. All proceeds will go to a scholarship foundation.

Age groups will include Boys and Girls age 0-47 months, Girls age 4-17, Miss age 18-25, and a Mother/Daughter group. This is a perfect time for lots of fun and a time when a mother and daughter friendship can be made or enhanced. There is no age limit.

Events will include modeling, talent, photogenic, and swimsuit. Contestants may enter in all events or just one.

Pre-school Registration and Open House at St. Mary's set for April 22

by Elaine Schad

St. Mary's School announces registration for the 1991-1992 school year for the preschool and kindergarten classes.

Anyone interested in the program offerings at St. Mary's is invited to view the preschool and kindergarten classes in session during the regular class day on April 18 or any other day before the end of the current school year by checking with the school office.

An opportunity for interested people to ask questions about all the programs offered at St. Mary's for grades preschool through eight will be offered during a special Open House and Information Night to be held from 6 to 8 p.m. on April 22 at the school, 931 North Weaver Street in Gainesville.

The preschool will be in session on Monday and Wednesday each week from 8 a.m. to 3:15 p.m. The program is designed for children age 4 as of Sept. 1, 1991. Children learn skills for reading and math readiness as well as science, social awareness, art, religion, phonics and creative dramatics. The use of manipulatives and experiential learning are emphasized.

The St. Mary's Kindergarten is open to children who will be age 5 on Sept. 1, 1991. The state-accredited full-day kindergarten program at St. Mary's School is taught by Patsy Henry and offered five days a week. The curriculum features the basics of reading readiness, phonics, development of motor skills and other learning in anticipation of first grade, while offering a variety of special subjects, including art, music, educational field trips, creative drama and religion.

St. Mary's will begin its second year of the IBM computerized "Write to Read," program for kindergarten students, with each child gaining hands-on computer experience through daily use of the computer while developing skills that will give the student a head start toward writing mastery.

St. Mary's School is open to members of all faith affiliations. St. Mary's will celebrate its Centennial Year during 1991-1992, recognizing 100 years of education in the Gainesville community. Registration for all classes, preschool through grade eight, will be open to the public beginning Monday, April 15. For registration or other information contact Principal Diane Middlebrooks at 668-7898.

Doctors urge: Don't ignore minor ails!

HOUSTON - Many people ignore a sore throat or a sore on their lips, mouth, gums or tongue for a couple of weeks or longer, popping lozenges or applying medication in hopes that it will soon go away.

Sometimes such a delay can have serious medical consequences. Dr. Bobby R. Alford, a head and neck surgeon at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston, views such seemingly minor conditions as possible signs of head and neck cancer - a relatively unpublicized but easily detected medical threat.

"I am amazed at how advanced the cancer is by the time some patients see the doctor," Alford said. Sore throats or tongues, mouth or lip ulcers, hoarseness - all can be a sign of some type of head or neck cancer.

"In 1991, there were an estimated 30,800 new cases of oral cancer resulting in 8,150 deaths," he said. "The incidence is higher in men than in women and is most frequent in people past age 40."

Head and neck cancers often result in unnecessary deaths, Alford said, since treatment can be highly successful if the disease is caught early.

"A mouth ulcer may be a precursor to cancer," Alford said. "Changes in the membrane lining of the throat or even something as innocent as a 'sticking' sensation in the throat are other possible warning signs. The earlier patients get to the doctor, the better their chances."

Cancer can affect any part of the oral cavity including the lip, tongue or mouth, and in the throat. Cancer can also be found in the thyroid and saliva glands, the sinuses, the nose and the larynx.

Symptoms may include a sore that bleeds easily and does not heal, a lump or thickening of tissue or a red or white patch in the mouth or throat that persists. Difficulty in chewing, swallowing, speaking or in moving the tongue often occurs in later stages of the cancer.

Treatment usually involves surgery, radiation therapy, chemotherapy or a combination of all three. According to the American Cancer Society, the five-year survival rates are quite good for oral cancer, although the rates vary substantially depending on the site of the cancer.

Risk factors for oral cancer include cigarette, cigar or pipe smoking, use of smokeless tobacco or excess alcohol consumption. The risk increases dramatically for smokers who drink heavily.

The floor of the mouth, tongue, tonsils, middle section of the throat and the larynx are prime cancer sites for heavy smokers. Cancer in the lower portion of the throat, the swallowing passage, is often seen in those who drink excessively. The mouth and gums are affected by chewing tobacco.

Alford stresses good dental hygiene and regular dental and medical checkups, avoidance of tobacco products, good nutrition and abstinence or moderation in the use of alcohol are keys to prevention of head and neck cancer.

Registration for all classes, preschool through grade eight, will be open to the public beginning Monday, April 15. For registration or other information contact Principal Diane Middlebrooks at 668-7898.

Six Flags will feature new rides, shows for anniversary

A million dollar addition to Six Flags Over Texas' children's section, a Hollywood stunt show and a new lineup of stage musicals will highlight the theme park's 30th anniversary season.

The Arlington entertainment center began its 1991 run March 9.

Park President Bob Bennett said major changes have been made in the Looney Tunes Land area to address guests' requests for more children's rides which can be shared by parents.

"The section has a totally new look," Bennett said. "We have added a 41-foot Ferris wheel, a miniature train, miniature trucks and a children's swing ride. The entrance has also been completely redesigned."

Bennett said the former dolphin show area, now called the Tower Arena, will be the venue for a Hollywood stunt show produced for Six Flags by Ben Rossi of Orlando, Florida, who has put together similar shows for studio tour attractions. It will feature seven stunt performers.

"The show is full of action," Bennett said, "with stunts ranging from high falls to a slide-for-life from the 75 foot level of the Oil Derrick observation tower to the arena."

The show opened in mid-March.

"PIAZZI!" a new full-scale musical in the Southern Palace Music Hall will feature variety acts along with the park's youthful singers and dancers.

Another new musical will be presented in the Crazy Horse Saloon.

Bugs Bunny and his Warner Bros. cartoon pals will appear in a reprise of "Celebration on Ice."

Bennett said the park's latest wooden roller coaster, the Texas Giant, will begin the season faster and smoother than before. He said "fine tuning" of the tracks was carried out during the off-season, and the ride's trains have undergone major changes.

Six Flags will be open on weekends only until daily operation for the summer begins on May 25.

News stories for the Lifestyle Page should be NEW news. Please have your stories of birthdays, reunions, meetings, trips, special items of children's interest, etc. ready while they are newsy and current.

Mrs. Effie Mae Echols dies at 81
Funeral services for Mrs. Effie Mae Echols were held Friday, April 5, 1991 at 2 p.m. in the Kreig-Owens-Brumley Funeral Home Chapel in Bowie. Troy Borodon and C.E. Cole officiated at the service.

Interment followed in Mallard Cemetery under the direction of Kreig-Owens-Brumley.

Mrs. Echols passed away Tuesday, April 2, 1991 in the Denton Regional Medical Center following a lengthy illness.

She is survived by her husband D.D. Echols, three sons, Jimmy of California, Harvey of Washington State, Elvin of Watauga; five daughters, Laveta Mills of Burkburnette, Hazel Greenwood of Forestburg, Joyce Leeper of Denton, Carol Meckel of Idaho, Sondra McClarey of Lancaster; 23 grandchildren and 36 great-grandchildren. Also one sister Neva Milburn of Lake Worth, and several nieces and nephews. She was preceded in death by her twin sons, Howard Mack and Tommy Harold, and her twin sister Ethel, in the early 60s, and two sisters, Myrtle Hargrove of Graham and Lizzie Atchley of Elk City, Ok.

Mrs. Echols was born Feb. 2, 1910 in Ogelsby, Tex. Her parents were W.T. and Emma Taylor.

Effie Mae and D.D. Echols were married Feb. 9, 1930. They were married for 61 years.

Mrs. Echols was a member of the Church of Christ and was a homemaker. She enjoyed her family, children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren. She loved going to reunions for the last 20 years, when her health permitted.

Her father, being a Church of Christ minister, traveled with his family across the country in a covered wagon. He was holding meetings and doing church work at age 17. She once had a serious case of appendicitis and managed to survive after emergency surgery.

She will be missed by her family and friends.

Mrs. Audley Martin dies at age 91
Funeral services for Mrs. Audley Martin of Bowie were held Tuesday, April 2, 1991 in the Kreig-Owens-Brumley Chapel in Bowie.

Rev. David Carr, pastor of the First United Methodist Church of Bowie, officiated at the service. Interment was in Perryman Cemetery at Forestburg.

Mrs. Martin's husband, Dean Martin, preceded her in death.

She was a member of Polytechnic United Methodist Church in Fort Worth. She was a retired teacher and a member of the Rebekahs, Gamma Epsilon Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma, Eastern Star, Business Women and Professional Club. She was also a lifetime member of the P.T.A.N.E.A., the Retired Teachers Association and the E.D. Historical Society.

Mrs. Martin and her husband moved from Tarrant County to Bowie 17 years ago.

Mrs. Martin is survived by several nieces and nephews. Some live in the Forestburg area.

Henry L. Settle passed away in the Gainesville Memorial Hospital at 3:30 p.m. Saturday, April 6, 1991. The obituary will follow next week. Funeral services were Tuesday at 2 p.m.

Word was received in the Rosston Community of the death and funeral of Cleotis Skinny Slayton of Lewisville. The funeral services were held in Slidell Baptist Church. He was the brother of Mrs. Ethel Bewley, formerly of the Rosston Community.

Announcements
The Pet Vaccination Clinic will be Saturday, April 20, at the Ross Point Community Center from 1 to 4 p.m. Rabies and other shots will be available. Dr. Jerry McKown will be the veterinarian. Everyone is asked to bring their pets and get them a shot to prevent rabies.

The Rosston Baptist Church will have their regular dinner at the church Sunday, April 21 after church services. Rev. Denis Pellet and the members invite everyone to come.

Mrs. Marla Bullard and Jamie of Daingerfield arrived Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Maberry Sr. They then all went to the home of Marvin Maberry III and visited with him and his house guests, Mrs. Gaye Moore and Lanna of Waco and Carter Ray Maberry of Wichita Falls.

Mrs. Ruth Christian attended a bridal luncheon Saturday for Sheridan Strickland in the home of Terri Taylor in Fort Worth. She then visited her sister Ermima Dutton.

Mrs. Josephine Berry met Mrs. Veda Magee of Bowie and Gene and Lela Bell Eggleston of Fort Worth in Muenster Monday and they all had lunch together at The Center.

County Agent's Report by Craig Rosenbaum

Parasites against Greenbugs in Wheat

Greenbug parasites have been observed in wheat since mid-February and numbers have steadily increased, helping to keep greenbug numbers low in many fields. Greenbug infestations were low early this spring following the cold winter. Those that survived seemed to have been quickly attacked by the parasitic wasps.

Look for the tan, swollen greenbugs, called mummies, attached to the wheat leaves, as evidence of parasite activity. If parasitized greenbugs are found and greenbugs are of concern, wait a few days and recheck the field. Often, many of the greenbugs that appear healthy are actually parasitized, but have not yet died and "mummified." On sunny days, the black adult wasp can often be seen moving from one greenbug to another, stopping only a few seconds to deposit her egg inside (sting) the greenbug.

Alan Knutson, Extension Entomologist, observed the following greenbug information from Kansas. Greenbugs resistant to the major insecticides labeled on wheat and sorghum have been reported from Kansas in 1989 and 1990. Greenbugs in some sorghum fields survived an application of parathion and a second application of parathion plus Cygon. Laboratory test showed these "mutant" greenbugs were 90 times more resistant to parathion than greenbugs from an untreated field. The resistant greenbugs also showed cross-resistance to Di-Syston and Lorsban. This problem appeared to spread to more Kansas fields in 1990.

The message to Texas wheat producers is that insecticide resistance in greenbugs is a real possibility. If standard insecticides such as parathion, dimethoate and Di-Syston lose their effectiveness, new products will be more expensive and require costly registration procedures.

The key to slowing resistance development is to minimize insecticide exposure. In other words, treat for greenbugs only when necessary to protect the crop. Scout frequently, use economic thresholds and rely on beneficials as much as possible.

Pecan Grafting Workshop

Pecans have been successfully grafted since the mid 1800's. Grafting is the technique of joining plant parts of compatible species for continued growth. Since the 1950's inlay grafting by the Texas method has improved orchards throughout the state.

A special workshop designed to assist persons in developing grafting techniques is scheduled for Tuesday, April 16 at 5:00 p.m. Location will be on property across from the Gainesville Municipal Golf Course on the south side of Highway 82. John Cooper, Extension Horticulturist, will cover methods of inlay grafting, Four-Flap grafting, and budding techniques.

All interested persons are invited to attend the demonstration.

Old World Bluestem and Bermudagrass Tour

Producers in North Texas have been interested in Old World Bluestems for several years. The Old World Bluestems have been in the United States since the 1920's and 30's. During the 1970's and 80's more modern varieties became available. Old World Bluestems are adapted to many soil and weather conditions and due to the limited fertilizer requirements, they have gained wide acceptance. In 1990 two Old World Bluestem and other Grass Variety Plots were established in the county on the Dangelmayr Brothers Ranch and Fuhrmann Brothers Ranch. Varieties included Caucasian, Plains, PMT-587, WW Ironmaster, WW Spar, and other varieties.

A Workshop and Tour to view these plots and evaluate planting requirements, forage production, variety selection, and other aspects of growth will be held on Thursday, April 26th at 8:00 a.m. the plots on the Dangelmayr Ranch can be viewed. These plots are located approximately 2 miles West of FM 373. Take the first gravel road West off of CR 373 that is just North of FM 1630. These plots are located some 4 miles South of Muenster. At 5:30 P.M. the plots on the Fuhrmann Brothers Ranch will be evaluated. These are located approximately 2 miles North of Highway 82 on the gravel road next to the Precinct 4 County Dump. Producers needing more specific directions should call the County Extension Office.

Old World Bluestems are warm season seeded perennial grasses that have a definite place in grazing programs over the state.

County Small Grain Tour and Disease Workshop

Small grains, especially wheat seems to be several weeks early over the county. The early spring and hot dry weather is having its effect. The winds and thin wheat stands are both having a favorable effect on disease pressures. However, it is a good time to evaluate grain cultivars for presence of diseases like leaf rust, powdery mildew, septoria, and others.

On Friday, April 19, there will be a County Small Grain Tour and Disease Workshop to evaluate varieties of wheat, oats, and barley. Also, producers will be able to view the Herbicide Plots and Fungicide Plots if you wish. A schedule of the tour on Friday, April 19, follows:

- 8:00 A.M. - Yield Trails and Breeding Nursery - Texas Agricultural Experiment Station - FM 922 between Era and Valley View.
- Also at this location Insecticide work will be observed and discussed.
- 9:30 A.M. - Barley Variety Demonstration at the Klement Dairy on County Road 314 near Hood.
- 10:00 A.M. - Wheat Variety Demonstration on the Sicking Brothers Farm on FM 1198 South of Myra.
- 10:30 A.M. - Wheat Variety Demonstration on the Rudy Zimmerer Farm on County Road 438 Southwest of Lindsay.
- 11:00 P.M. - Wheat Variety Result Demonstration on the Henry Popp Farm located on Highway 82 West of McCoy's Lumber Yard.

Russell Sutton, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station Plant Breeder, will be on hand to explain the Small Grain Breeding Nursery and Yield Trial. Allen Knutson, Extension Entomologist, will be present to answer questions concerning Small Grain Insects. Jim Blalock, Extension Agronomist, will explain Herbicide Choices and Variety Selection. Norman McCoy, Extension Plant Pathologist, and John Cagle, Mobay Chemical Company, will discuss diseases of Small Grains.

Coffey full of worms!

MARIETTA - There's a head count of sorts under way at the sprawling Coffey Ranch in rural Love County, Oklahoma. The problem comes in telling the heads from the tails.

Researchers from the National Soil Tilth Laboratory in Ames, Iowa, are going to have their hands literally full of Southern Oklahoma earthworms for the next six months. The earthworm count is a cooperative effort between the Laboratory and the Ardmore-based Samuel Roberts Noble Foundation, which operates the 2,600-acre ranch.

Why count earthworms? What difference could the number and species of earthworms possibly make to the typical Southwestern rancher?

"We want to measure how different livestock grazing densities affect soil biology," explained Charles Griffith, a crops, forage and pastures specialist with the Noble Foundation. "Our goal is to better use livestock as a management tool."

Believe it or not, the always unheard, usually unseen and generally unheralded earthworm can reveal as much about what's happening in the soil as a thermometer and barometer can measure what's happening in the air above. Simply put, as goes the earthworm, so goes the soil.

"You want earthworms for several reasons," said Dr. Edwin Berry, an entomologist who concentrates on earthworms at the Soil Tilth Laboratory. "Number one is their burrowing activity, so more water can get into the soil and be utilized. Number two is that their burrows serve as an avenue for getting oxygen into the soil, so that microbes can use that oxygen to break down residue."

That residue includes dead plant tissue and, where livestock graze, the oft-maligned "cow chips." In a well-managed grazing scheme, earthworms and livestock work to each other's benefit. It's a "you scratch my back, I'll scratch yours" scenario; figuratively, if not literally.

Cattle droppings provide a ready food source for their subterranean partners, and earthworms, in turn, break up the soil compacted by the livestock. Earthworm burrows also provide a better growth environment for grasses, thereby increasing the food supply for the cattle.

Earthworms also can serve as a barometer of environmental conditions. Pesticides and herbicides can affect earthworm populations, and de-worming medication applied to livestock can remain in droppings long enough to damage earthworms' growth and reproduction.

Earthworms, as well, can change the environment in their own unique way. Their burrows, which allow water to penetrate the soil more rapidly, also can serve as channels for pesticides and other chemicals to move downward through the soil.

Measuring how earthworm burrows affect soil-water relationships is another facet of the Coffey Ranch study. An odd-looking assortment of equipment - including a rectangular tent, a vertical tank, a wet-dry vacuum and several hoses, gauges and pumps - simulates a steady rain of 2.5 inches per hour and measures how much water runs off the soil surface.

For both the runoff study and the earthworm count, researchers selected areas representing high-density grazing (30,000 to 45,000 pounds of live beef per acre), medium-density grazing (15,000 to 30,000 pounds), and low-density grazing (5,000 to 15,000 pounds). Runoff from 18 representative sites and earthworm counts from 90 five-gallon soil samples will give scientists a good idea of what's happening all over the ranch.

Griffith says he hopes the study will eventually benefit livestock producers by establishing the most efficient grazing and other management practices as they relate to soil, plant and animal ecology.

Wichita Falls will host Farm & Ranch Expo

The first Farm and Ranch Expo in Wichita Falls in 15 years will be held this Friday and Saturday, April 12 and 13, at the Wichita Falls Activities Center.

A variety of programs will be of interest to both rural and urban dwellers. Seminars, led by experts, will address timely topics of special concern, providing valuable information for Texoma residents.

Exhibitors will showcase a wide array of the latest products and services for farms and ranches, landscaping and gardening.

The doors open at 1 p.m. Friday and 9 a.m. Saturday, closing at 9 p.m. both days.

The first floor exhibits have free admission, with the seminars on the second floor having a one-time fee of $2.00.

Seminars on Friday include: Farm and Ranch Estate Planning, Computers in Agriculture, Safety in Food, '91 Farm Program Risks, Water Quality, and Ostrich Farming. Saturday will feature Organic Gardening, four sessions on Horse Training and Market, five sessions on Cotton, and lectures on Fruit Tree Care, Pond Management, Lawn Care, Vineyard Production, Vegetable Gardening, Landfills, Home Security, Yard Waste and Dog Psychology, just to name a few.

The Activity Center is located between 10th and 11th Streets on Indiana in Wichita Falls.

PRODUCTIVITY APPRAISAL

MAY LOWER THE PROPERTY TAXES ON YOUR FARM, RANCH, OR TIMBERLAND

Texas law provides farmers and ranchers, and timber growers with a way to lower their property taxes, known as productivity appraisal.

If you qualify, your agricultural land will be taxed on its capacity to produce crops, livestock, or timber, instead of its value on the real estate market. Productivity appraisal can lower the taxable value of your land, and lower your property taxes as a result.

If your land has never received productivity appraisal, you must apply to the appraisal district no later than Tuesday, April 30, to get tax benefits for 1991. If you miss this deadline, you may still be able to apply, but you will pay a penalty. Check with your appraisal district office.

If your land already receives agricultural or timber appraisal, you normally don't need to reapply unless the chief appraiser requires you to. If an annual application is required, the appraisal district will notify you by mail.

For more information and application forms, contact the appraisal district office at the address shown below:
