COOKE COUNTY ATTORNEY, Augie Boto, presents one of three new Bendix 2-way portable radios to Muenster Police Chief Helen Tompkins.

Muenster Police Officers get radios from hot check fund

"Crime does pay ... the Police." Cooke County Attorney Augie Boto has used funds collected from hot check fees to purchase three new hand-held radios for the Muenster Police Department. The fees are paid by the hot check writer when the county attorney's office handles the collection of a check. "The funds collected are intended for anything to help law enforcement. Other county agencies got video cameras to mount in patrol cars, but Helen said she needed radios worse," said Boto.

Boto said the service is an offering of state law of which merchants are not taking full advantage. "We can help the holder of a hot check step by step. The success depends on using the service," he said. "Every year, the state legislature tries to take this money to the state as Senate Bill 204 is trying now, but we keep on fighting the effort. Besides our collection services, the safety of, and assistance to, our officers is good justification to bring hot checks to the county attorney's office."

The radios presented to Muenster Police Department cost $1,875.65 and included chargers and holsters.

Gregg's Chevrolet-Geo, Inc. forced to close dealership

The partial shutdown of a major Muenster business is not a rumor; it's a reality. On Monday, General Motors Acceptance Corporation pulled the new car floor plan at Gregg's Chevrolet, ending a 66-year history of Chevrolet dealership in Muenster, started by Joe B. Wilde.

Owner Gregg Wilde, who took over the family business from his father, Ray Wilde, in 1986, said, "I was forced to admit that the dealership just isn't going to be profitable." He listed several reasons for the decision to close. Competition in the car business is very tough. There is an inventory glut and GM is producing new cars at only 60 percent of capacity. "The economic recession and uneasiness of war have proved too much for us to overcome," Wilde explained. Environmental protection equipment requirements added to ever-rising overhead costs.

"We did well for a while, but as the economy went down, business fell off," he said. The customers and the dealership suffered from a lack of financing. "We've been operating at a loss for several months."

National economic woes and military conflict were not the only contributing factors. If a small town business does not have the support of the community, it can't survive. "Lots of people willingly go out of town for a $50.00 savings on a new car," Wilde said. "Several local business people have called me, asking if there was any way they could help, but it's going to take more than just the business people to keep this town going." "I'm depressed, but I'm very thankful and obliged to the many customers we've had and I'm looking at the future positively as a Muenster resident," he said.

For the time being, Gregg's Chevrolet will continue in the automotive service and used car business. They continue to offer factory-trained General Motors service and warranty work.

Wilde Insurance Agency is not affected in any way by this action.

Routine business occupies meeting

Several important but routine items occupied Muenster government and management at Monday night's meeting. Among action taken was:

- Procedures were started to annex Dr. Gerald Graham's property on the south side of town into the city limits.

- The city rejected a bid to mow grass in water yards and at the sewer plant, electing to do their own.

- Recommendations of the Zoning Board to accept plans to develop a street and three building sites near Weinzapfel Lake in Block No. 80 were approved. Handsome Walterscheid is the developer. The 40-ft.-wide street will be named after the late Richard Grewing.

- Sam Endres was appointed to the Park Board, replacing Mattie Swirczynski.

- Jim Roark, Dan Luke and Dan Bayer were re-appointed to the Waier District Board.

- Mayor Henscheid ordered the City Council election to be held on May 4, 1991. Finishing their elected terms are Mayor Henscheid; Willie Wimmer, Alderman Place 3; and Al Hess, Alderman Place 5. Interested candidates for these positions may sign up at City Hall through March 20, 1991.

- By a 3-2 vote, city employees will receive dental insurance to go with their established medical insurance. The dental insurance will cost the city $8.06 per employee per month. Dependents may be included at the employee's expense.

- Payment was approved for monthly bills totaling $36,787.10.

- Discussion was held and

Fire spread by high winds, threatens several homes

Winds gusting up to 40 miles per hour hindered firefighters from at least 12 area fire departments as they battled wildfire that burned an area five miles long and three miles wide between Bonita and Saint Jo. The fire, of unknown origin, was reported sometime before noon on Tuesday.

Several oil tanks and one or two buildings were lost to the fast moving flames. Several homes were threatened, but none were lost, according to Muenster Fire Chief Herbie Knabe. He estimated that at least 6,000 acres burned.

"At times, the flames reached 150 to 200 feet in the air," said Knabe. "It slowed down in the brush, but in the rolling hills with no timber, it moved like a fast rolling truck." The fire chief described the fire as "spectacular" and said that with heat and smoke, the firemen had difficulties telling how far the fire had gone.

Unusually high temperatures for early March (mid-90s) and low humidity, combined with the strong wind, was fatiguing to the firemen. Muenster was at the fire until about 10 p.m. Myra was out until around 1:30 a.m. and Saint Jo was on the scene until 6 a.m. Wednesday.

The fire burned to the Capps Corner highway. It crossed at one place, but was extinguished before it got out of control.

Among fire departments responding were Saint Jo, Muenster, Myra, Nocona Rural, Oak Shores, Henrietta, Forestburg, Sunset, Bellevue, Stoneburg, Montague and Gainesville. BKH Tank Trucks assisted with hauling water and Jimmy Jack Biffle provided tractors and plows to create barriers for the fire.

On Friday, March 1, less than a mile from Tuesday's fire, between 1,500 to 2,000 acres burned. The fire was east of the Capps Corner highway about a mile northeast of Camp Letoli.

The fire was in a brushy area and was not a fast-moving fire, said Muenster Fire Chief Herbie Knabe. A definite cause has not yet been determined for the fire.

Muenster Volunteer Firemen were at the fire from about 2:30 p.m. until 9 p.m. Also at the fire were Myra, Saint Jo and Forestburg Fire Departments.

"Don't burn until things green up more or we get some moisture," stressed Knabe. "When the wind is blowing and the humidity is 30 or lower, don't burn!" Heavy growth of grass and brush during the past two years has increased the fire hazard and a fire can get away so easily now, he said.

The best time to burn if you must is after sundown when the wind dies and humidity increases.

COOKE COUNTY EMS paramedics, l to r, Wes Reed and Thomas Epting, carry Charlie and Brad Schilling to the ambulance after examining the brothers. The boys and their mother, Sharlene Schilling, received minor injuries when their car was involved in an accident Tuesday about 5 p.m. at East Division and Mesquite St. A car, driven by Misty McCollum of Myra, clipped the back of Mrs. Schilling's car causing it to spin around, skid backwards and flip upside down. McCollum had failed to yield the right of way. The Schillings were transported to Muenster Memorial Hospital. Muenster Police Chief Helen Tompkins investigated the accident.

Hospital Auxiliary to purchase monitor for Emergency Room

Muenster Memorial Hospital's emergency room will soon have a new piece of equipment. MMH Auxiliary members agreed to purchase a cardiac/vital signs monitor after Joan Walterscheid, director of nursing, told of the benefits of having one especially for the emergency room.

Mrs. Walterscheid announced that the hospital is planning a Health Fair during the week of May 12-18 which is National Hospital Week. She invited the Auxiliary to participate and asked for two members to serve on the planning committee. Betty Rose Walterscheid and Donna Biffle agreed to help.

March 13 is drill time...

Tornado drill prepares citizens

March 10 through 16 has been designated Texas Severe Weather Awareness Week by Governor Ann Richards. Severe weather warnings are ineffective if the public doesn't receive the warning or is not informed on the safety procedures to follow. The purpose of Severe Weather Week is to provide people with the knowledge necessary to protect their lives when severe weather threatens.

A tornado drill is scheduled for Muenster on Wednesday, March 13 at 12 noon. At that time the fire siren will blow for one minute. This is Muenster's tornado warning. When it sounds people should tune in to Channel 2 for further instructions.

Anyone who has difficulty hearing the instructions needs to contact City Hall so that all problems can be worked out before an actual emergency should occur. The drill will give those in schools, homes, hospitals, and businesses the opportunity to see if they can receive a warning in a timely manner and then take the same precautionary actions which would be carried out during an actual tornado event.

Should weather conditions appear threatening on Wednesday, the drill will be postponed until Thursday at the same time.

Some interesting tornado facts are: The average number of tornadoes in Texas each year is 119 with an average of 11 Texans killed each year; tornadoes can occur at anytime of the day, but are most frequent in Texas between 3 p.m. and 6 p.m. CST; since 1950, there have been more than 4700 tornadoes in Texas; and since 1916, 1103 people have been killed by tornadoes in Texas.

Tornado Safety Rules
A tornado watch means that tornado development is possible. Keep a watchful eye on the sky for threatening weather, and stay tuned to radio, television, or NOAA Weather Radio for the latest weather information.
A tornado warning means a tornado has been sighted or indicated by weather radar. Persons in the path of the storm should seek shelter immediately, preferably on the lowest floor of a substantial building.

Lynn Joe Klement receives specialty certification in law

Lynn Joe Klement, a native of Muenster, and son of Ray and Irene Klement, now an attorney in Angleton, Texas, was among 500 Texas lawyers who received their Certificate of Special Competence from the Texas Board of Legal Specialization in February.

Klement, a 1970 graduate of Muenster High School, a 1974 Magna Cum Laude graduate of Texas A&M University and a 1982 graduate of the University of Houston School of Law, received his certification in the area of Personal Injury Trial Law.

For a time, early in his career, he was employed by the Tennessee Valley Authority at a nuclear engineering plant in Huntsville, Alabama.

Following this he was employed by Houston Light and Power Co. for eight years as an engineer. During this period he attended

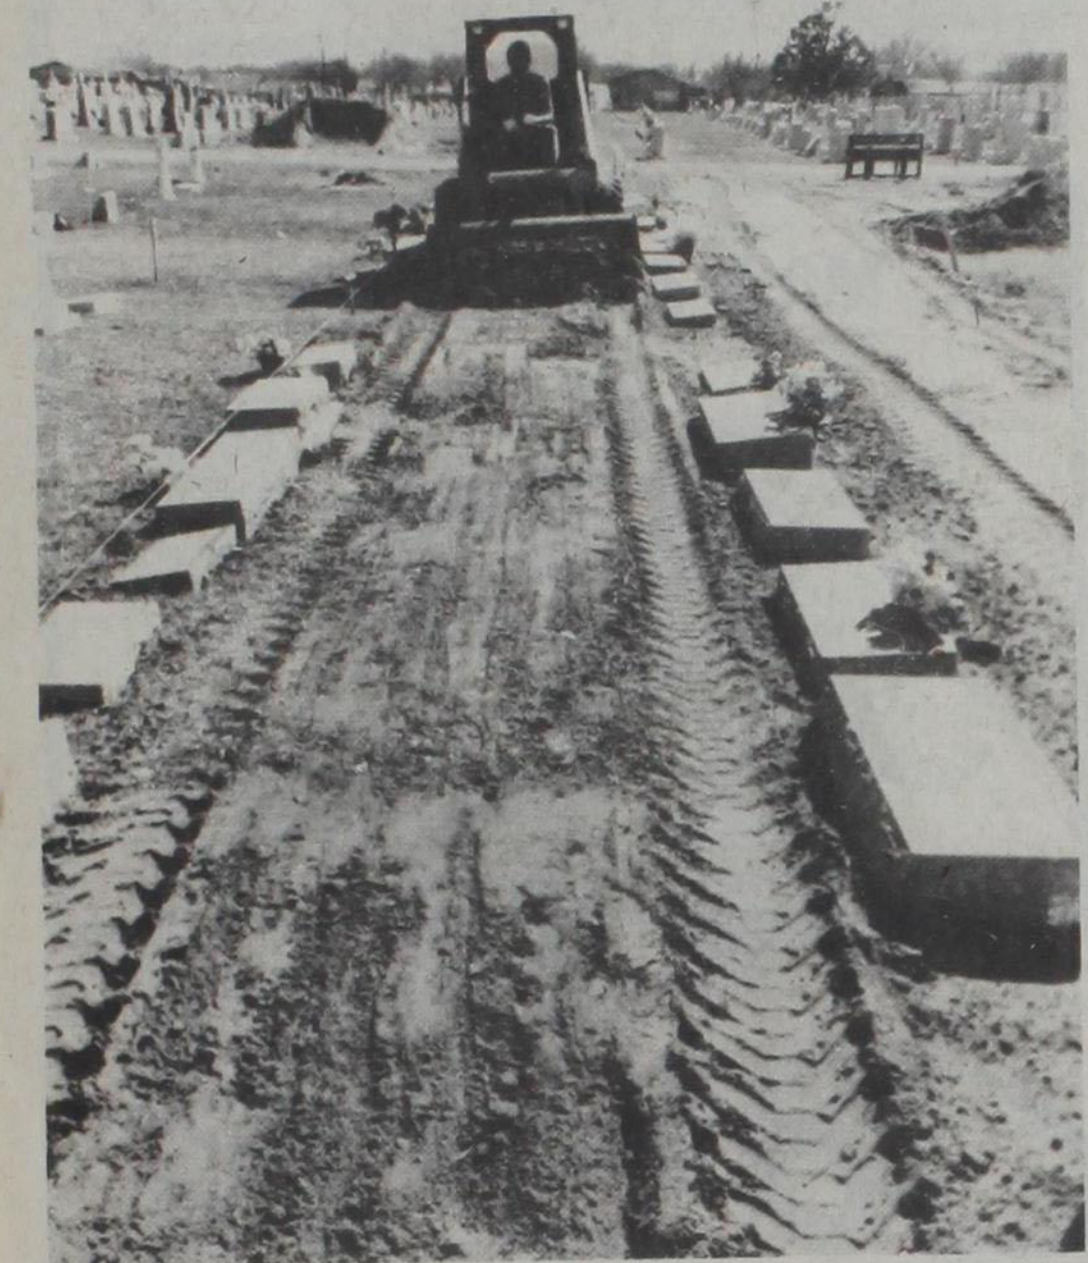

LYNN JOE KLEMENT night courses at the University of Houston School of Law. He is a member of Registered Professional Engineers in Texas and also of the Brazoria County and Texas Bar Associations.

There are 54,783 attorneys in Texas; of these, only 4,632 who are, like Klement, board certified qualified for specialty designations. Certification is achieved by a process concerned with experience, continuing legal education, peer review, and passing an exhaustive examination in the particular specialty field.

Certification was conferred at a banquet in Austin on Jan. 26, 1991, attended by dignitaries such as members of the Supreme Court of Texas, Texas Court of Criminal Appeals and officers of the State Bar of Texas.

Lynn Joe Klement and his wife, Robin, are residents of West Columbia, Texas. He has been practicing law in Angleton, Texas since 1986.

Valley View ISD votes on transfer fee

by Elaine Schad

Transfer students now attending Valley View schools and children of district employees will be exempt from the district's new transfer fee, trustees have decided.

The board voted 4-3 last month to assess a transfer fee of $360 per family for those students who live outside the school district boundaries.

Those who opposed the fee said they feared that the school may lose some state funding if the district lost transfer students because of the fee. The district receives about $3,000 per student based on enrollment.

Advocates of the fee claimed the district was spending more by having to provide additional facilities and teachers for the district's 58 transfer fees that the state funding would generate, and that a fee was only fair since many district residents were paying personal property taxes.

A grandfather clause will be added to the policy exempting from the fee all transfer students enrolled at Valley View schools as of Feb. 26. All children of district employees will be exempt. The board failed to exempt persons who lived outside the district but who owned property within the Valley View ISD or those who transfer into the district because of hardship.

The fee will be charged beginning with the 1991-1992 school year, officials said.

building. In Homes: A basement offers the greatest safety. In homes without a basement, take cover in the center part of the house, on the lowest floor, and in a small room such as a closet or bathroom, or under sturdy furniture. Stay away from windows. Do not attempt to open windows.

In schools, hospitals and shopping centers: Move to predesignated shelter areas. Interior hallways on the lowest floor are best. If the building is not of reinforced construction, go to a nearby one that is. Stay out of auditoriums, gyms, and other structures with long, wide free-span roofs.

In your car: Do not try to outrun a tornado. If available, leave your car and get into the nearest ditch or depression until the tornado passes. Cover your head with your hands.

In mobile homes: Mobile homes and trailers are particularly vulnerable to overturning during strong winds and should be evacuated when strong winds or tornadoes are possible. Mobile home communities and trailer parks should have a community storm shelter. If there is no shelter nearby, leave the trailer and take cover in a ditch or depression.

Lightning Safety Rules
When a thunderstorm threatens, move inside a substantial building or a vehicle. Inside a building, avoid using the telephone or electrical appliances. Lightning can strike near a building and travel through telephone or electrical lines into the building.

Get out of and away from open water.

If outside with no time to reach a safe building or vehicle, follow these rules: Do not stand underneath natural lightning rods such as tall, isolated trees in open areas. Avoid projecting about the surrounding landscape as you would do if you were standing on a hilltop, in an open field, on the beach, or fishing from a small boat.

If you are isolated in a level, open field and you begin to feel your hair stand on end, indicating that lightning may be about to strike, drop to your knees and bend forward putting your hands on your knees. Make as low and as small a target of yourself as possible, but do not lie flat on the ground.

Flash Flood Safety Rules
Know where high ground is and how to get there quickly.

Watch for rising water levels. Do not try to drive through flooded areas.

Abandon your vehicle if water begins rising over the road and head for high ground immediately.

Be cautious at night. It is harder to recognize the danger of flash flooding then.

Nuptials solemnized Feb. 2 at Sacred Heart Church

MR. and MRS. DWAYNE PAGEL
...nee Denise Hermes...

The wedding of Denise Hermes and Dwayne Pagel was held on Saturday, Feb. 2, 1991, at 2 p.m. in Sacred Heart Church with Father Victor Gillespie, OSB, officiating for the Nuptial Mass and double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of William and Mary Evelyn Hermes of Rt. 4, Gainesville, and the granddaughter of Mrs. Clem Hofbauer and the late Mr. Hofbauer and Mr. and Mrs. Julius Hermes Sr. of Lindsay. The groom is the son of Maurice Pagel of Muenster and the late Geneva Pagel.

Before an altar decorated with arrangements of white gladioli, tall floor candelabra, heart shaped with lighted votive candles, and white bows marking pews in the center aisle, the bride was given in marriage by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Wm. Hermes.

For her wedding, the bride chose a full-length bridal gown of antique lace, graced with beaded Schiffli embroidery. Pearl drops accented the high, wedding band mandarin collar. Beaded medallions decorated the fitted bodice. Sleeves were long and slim; the basque waistline dipped into the skirt trimmed with more medallions. A scalloped hemline, touched with seed pearls and beading, added the final touch of elegance.

Her white lace and tulle wedding hat was made by Mrs. Shari Boswell, designed with a cluster of stephanotis and tiny pearlized flowers under the wide brim. A full, beaded-net pouf accented the back of the hat.

Her bridal bouquet was a pyramid-shape of white silk calla lilies and lily of the valley, tied with lace streamers. For sentiment, she wore pear earrings borrowed from her sister, Laurie Rohmer.

ATTENDANTS

Matron of honor for her sister was Pam Sidwell of Muenster. Renate Pagel of Muenster, groom's sister-in-law, was bridesmaid and Amanda Russell, groom's niece and godchild, was junior bridesmaid. They wore formal gowns of matching design, with the matron of honor and bridesmaid in floral print and the junior bridesmaid in dusty rose taffeta.

The wedding rings were carried by the matron of honor and the best man.

Jacob Pagel of Muenster, groom's brother, was the best man. Troy Pagel, groom's brother, was groomsman and Byron Bradshaw of Gainesville, bride's nephew and godchild, was junior groomsman.

Ushers were Tim Hermes of Dallas, bride's brother, and Joe Pagel of Muenster, groom's cousin.

Mass servers were Leslie Cler, bride's nephew, and Chris Pagel, groom's brother.

In the special wedding liturgy, the First Reading was given by Alyce Cler, bride's sister; and the Responsorial Psalm and Second Reading and Offertory Petitions were given by Marlene Endres and Sharlene Hartman, both sisters of the groom. Offertory gifts were presented at the altar by Daniel Rohmer, Jonathan Martin, Lacy Endres and Jennifer Hermes.

Mrs. Geri Bivin was organist for wedding music and Shari Boswell and Billie Hendricks were vocalists. Selections included "Edelweiss," "Wind Beneath My Wings," "Theme from Ice Castles," "The Wedding Song," "Hymn of Joy," "Bridal March," "One Bread, One Body," "Only a Shadow" and "Trumpet Voluntary."

RECEPTION

A reception followed in the KC Hall, hosted by the bride and groom, with a seated dinner served to 110 guests. At 7 p.m., a buffet of assorted pick-up foods and wedding cake were served to additional guests. Dancing followed to music by Greg and Christine Burkhart ("Leather and Lace"). Decorations in the reception area featured groupings of ficus trees with a myriad clear tiny lights; lattice boards decorating wall space with pastel fans and flowers attached including tiny lights; and one lattice board with a picture display. Cathie and Francis Fuhrmann were in charge of catering, decorating and providing the wedding cake.

Judy Pagel of Muenster, groom's sister, and Laurie Rohmer of Muenster, bride's sister, presided at the guest book, at a table holding the bridal portrait, a photo of the groom, and an arrangement of fresh flowers. The table was skirted with white net, accented with dusty rose ribbon edging.

The table for the wedding party was decorated in a similar manner and held fresh flowers and lighted candles.

Guest tables were decorated with dusty rose and silver gray ribbon, candles and bud vases holding fresh flowers.

The three-tiered white wedding cake was placed over a lighted fountain. The lower layer was strawberry flavored, the middle layer was white and the top layer was chocolate. Cake servers were Lisa Russell, groom's niece, and Kim Hermes, bride's sister-in-law.

Videos of the wedding church service, reception and showers were made as a gift to the couple.

by the groom's sister, Glenda Russell.

Showers and a brunch on Jan. 19 were hosted by Laurie Rohmer, Pam Sidwell, Renate Pagel and Amanda Russell.

The bride is a 1976 graduate of Muenster High School. She is employed by The Ranch as a bartender. The groom is a 1966 graduate of Sacred Heart High School and is employed by The Ranch as a salesman, and also by Community Lumber Company. They are residing in Muenster.

High school art contest to be held in Gainesville

Congressman Charles Stenholm announced plans recently for the tenth annual art contest for high school students in the 17th District of Texas. Since it was first launched in 1982, the nationwide competition has generated more than 2200 district art competitions involving nearly 250,000 high school students. One winning entry from each congressional district will be displayed in the U.S. Capitol in Washington, D.C. this summer.

Students in grades nine through twelve from Cooke, Jack, Montague, and Wise counties should enter a preliminary contest to be held in Gainesville on Wednesday, April 3. Artwork may be brought to Powell's Fine Art, 201 Lindsay, in Gainesville anytime after Monday, April 1. All must be in place by 5:00 p.m. on Tuesday.

Other regional shows will be held in Abilene, Big Spring, Graham, Post, Snyder, Stephenville and Weatherford. Winners from the entire 35 counties of the 17th District will be announced at an awards brunch in Abilene on April 27. Charlie and Cindy Stenholm will host the honors brunch.

Artwork must be no longer than 30" by 30" (unframed) and two-dimensional. If a student chooses to do a landscape, it shall portray a Texas scene. Eligible categories are paintings, prints, drawings, or collages.

For more information and entry forms, contact Stenholm's office in Stamford at 915/773-3623, his office in Abilene at 915/673-7221 or Jo Ann Powell in Gainesville at 817/665-7171.

Granbury Opera House offers "Ten Nights"

The Granbury Opera House's next offering (March 1 - March 24) is "Ten Nights in a Bar Room," by Wm. W. Pratt, Esq., one of the most famous of the Old-Time temperance mello-dramas.

For reasons best known to itself, the Opera House staff has chosen to re-locate the action of the play from the "Sickle & Sheaf Inn" in rural England to the "Horn-ed Heifer Hotel" in the Granbury of the 1880s. Straining to the limits of its ingenuity and the capacity of its company of players, the Granbury Opera House promises some of the most spectacular theatrical effects ever attempted, plus heart-wrenching songs of the period, and popcorn to throw.

Performances are Friday and Saturday at 8 p.m.; Saturday and Sunday at 2 p.m. Please call the box office for ticket information and reservations (closed Monday), (817) 572-0881 or (817) 573-9191. Prices are $10-$12. Special discounts are available.

Here it is March and Spring is in the air!
On Monday we held our council meeting and discussed our do's and don't's, and voiced our complaints. All went well.

On Wednesday we had Bingo games, with Julie Cunningham, Theresa Hermes, Margaret Kupper and Leona Eberhart.
Joe Hoening entertained on Thursday, playing the piano for residents.

March 1 was First Friday. Father Victor Gillespie offered Mass at 6:30 p.m. A goodly number attended. Please keep coming. Our Lord loves to see a crowd at Holy Mass.

Our monthly birthday party was held on Sunday. There were three birthday honorees: Alice Hellman, Theresa Moster and Philomena Vogel. Betty Gilpin and Irma Koelzer served punch and cake. Mildred Lawson and her accordion entertained, assisted by nine of her singers from Gainesville and Lindsay: Theresa Hermes, Sister Henry Ann Fuhrmann, Albina Andrews, Ruby Van, Susan Shasteen, Virginia Krahl, Viola Rohmer, Dorothy Mae Yosten, and Marcella Schmitz. They sang several selections and "Happy Birthday," and "You Are My Sunshine," "Du, Du, Liegst Mir im Herzen," "My Heart Belongs to you, Lord," "The Birthday Song," "Don't Give My Shoes Away" and a spiritual, "Were You There?" Together, they gave an hour's performance.

On Monday, March 4, Father Joe Weinzapfel offered his weekly Mass at 9 a.m.

On Wednesday we played Bingo with Lu Vogel, the Dills and Margaret Kupper.

Make home safer for latchkey kids

COLLEGE STATION - School is in session, and for many children that means spending time at home alone once the school day ends.

National estimates indicate that as many as 15 million children ages 6-13 are at home by themselves some time of the day. Child care experts believe that there are at least one million latchkey children in Texas, but accurate figures don't exist.

"That's because parents are reluctant to admit that their children spend time at home alone," said Dr. Sarah Anderson, family life specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "They fear being seen as unfit parents. So, you get invalid statistics on latchkey children in the state."

Latchkey children who are victims of violent crimes or kidnappings make the headlines, but these cases are rare, Anderson said. National figures show that fires and accidents at home are the greatest threat, taking the lives of 4,000 children (many of them unsupervised) each year.

Parents who allow children to take care of themselves after school can do a number of things to help ensure their safety. Anderson suggested following these tips:

*Arriving home - If children walk home from school, tell them to walk with friends and never take alternative routes. They should always come straight home. Also, instruct children not to go inside if the door is open or unlocked.

*Keys - Instruct children to keep their house keys hidden inside a pocket, purse or wallet. Make sure all doors and windows can be locked and the child knows how to lock them.

*Safety rules - Establish and post house safety rules regarding answering the telephone and door, playing and using appliances. Put all dangerous items out of reach of children. Check electrical cords for bare wires and broken plugs and make sure children cannot trip over them.

*Emergencies - Post a list of emergency numbers and addresses near each telephone and make sure the phones are accessible to the child. Practice emergency procedures for fires and tornadoes. Be sure a smoke detector is on each level of the home, and that all smoke detectors have batteries and are working properly.

*Check-in - Designate an adult for children to check in with when they arrive home from school. Also, children may phone parents at work.

*Friends - Do not allow friends to visit when the child is home alone. Unsupervised play may lead to accidents.

*Quality time - When parents are home, time should be spent with children. Listen to their problems and answer questions.

Anderson advises checking with local county extension agents for more information on safety, self-care and alternatives for children at home alone.
