MARCH 20, 1992

Lindsay Centennial ushered in with Mass

The community of Lindsay will celebrate 100 years of Catholic heritage during special ceremonies set for this coming week, beginning with a Centennial Mass celebrated by Bishop Joseph Delaney on Wednesday, March 25, at 7 p.m., coinciding with the first Mass offered on March 25, 1892.

Residents plan a second celebration in June to focus on the centennial of the town of Lindsay, which will coincide with the annual Homecoming Picnic, sponsored by St. Peter's Parish.

Prior to the date of the Centennial Mass, ladies of the parish will present a style show on March 20 at 6:30 p.m. and on March 21 at 11 a.m. and at 6 p.m., including a quilt show, a dinner and entertainment.

St. Peter's Parish shares a German Catholic heritage linked to kindred parishes in the northern part of the Diocese of Fort Worth, including Muenster, Pilot Point and Windthorst.

St. Peter's parishioners have weathered the storms of sending their sons off to World Wars during the 100 years and the storms of real sorts that destroyed by cyclones. The historic building that still stands today in its magnificence is now a Texas State Historical Site.

Traditions, handed down from generation to generation embellish the story of the parish with colorful sidelights on the personalities of the priests, religious and laymen who were, and are, the history makers of yesterday and today.

For more information about St. Peter's Centennial, call 665-4996.

Area students excel at Show

This year's Cooke County Junior Livestock Show and Sale came to an end Saturday with the auction of some 260 animals. The market swine dominated the sale with 164 sold. Only 29 steers were auctioned, along with 35 lambs and 4 pens each of broilers and meat rabbits.

Tom Thumb-Page paid $70.10 per pound for the 1,420-pound Grand Champion Steer shown by Jeff Graves, Era 4-H member. His check for $2,295.45 included a floor price of $995.45 bought by Jimmy Jack Biffle.

Dawn Prott of the Red River 4-H's Grand Champion Market Swine sold for a total of $487.44. Rite-Weld Supply purchased the premium for $400 with Gainesville Livestock buying the floor.

North Texas Packer Services took the bid on Lisa Rucks' Grand Champion Lamb for $300.00. 4-D Farms bought the floor for $58.95 on this Valley View 4-H project.

The champion pen of 3 rabbits were bought by Jean Dick, Mary Kay Cosmetics, for $100.00 with the animals given back to their owner, Clay Corbett of the Callisburg FFA. Danny Knight paid $150.00 for Dusty Wallace's champion pen of 5 broilers. He returned the birds to the Callisburg future farmer.

Local results from the show and winners are as follows:

Horse theft hearing set for March 26

by Elaine Schad

Area horse owners are invited to a public hearing in Denton on March 26 to explore the increasing problems with horse theft.

The hearing will be from 1 to 4 p.m. at the Sheraton Hotel at the University of North Texas, 2211 Interstate 35 North, in the Trustee Room.

The hearing is being conducted by the Texas Senate Subcommittee on Agriculture. It is being held in Denton because of the large number of horse owners in the Cooke, Denton and Wise County areas, said a spokesman for Senator Steve Carriker's office. Carriker, who represents Cooke and parts of Denton counties, is chair of the subcommittee.

While cattle theft has always been a problem, horse theft continues to grow due to the large demand for horse meat that is being exported to foreign countries and because there are very few laws to deter horse theft, said Amelia Donald of the American Horse Protection Association.

Gainesville chosen as ideal location for mall

by Elaine Schad

A new 180,000 square-foot upscale factory outlet mall proposed to be built by late summer 1993 just south of the Red River along Interstate 35 could have spinoff effects that could reverberate through the Muenster area.

The Gainesville City Council and Cooke County Commissioners Court this week paved the way for the mall to be built by approving grant payments to the developer over the next 10 years based on annual retail sales and employment requirements. The city also entered into an interlocal agreement with Cooke County, with the county agreeing to pay a third of each annual grant payment and the City of Gainesville paying the remaining two thirds.

Gainesville Factory Shops Limited Partnership, a division of the Prime Group based in Chicago, Illinois, proposes to build the factory outlet mall on the west side of Interstate 35 at the intersection of Farm-to-Market 1202 at the northern Gainesville city limits about three miles south of the Red River.

If the mall becomes a reality, it is expected to provide at least 150 jobs and pump an estimated $8 million into the county economy.

Muenster Chamber of Commerce officials are taking a wait-and-see attitude, but think the mall could have some impact on the Muenster economy. "Of course, if there are employees from Muenster working there, that will definitely help the economy," said Margie Starke, Chamber secretary. She had some concern that the mall could negatively impact small retail business, but felt there might be a chance of a positive impact on both retail and tourism in Muenster. "We're getting more noted as a German community, so maybe some of those people will come out to eat and shop here where things are a little more relaxed."

Officials with the development company said they will work hand-in-hand with the community in developing tourism. The other malls developed by the company have tourist information centers, and some have bus shuttles to the local towns. "It's beneficial to both of us to attract people to the area," said Paul Reed, development director for the Prime Group.

The mall will be similar to one which opened in San Marcos in August 1990, said Reed. The two-story tilt-wall construction will have a turn-of-the-century railroad station motif, which directly ties into Gainesville's history as a major railroad town, he said.

"We're aggressive in our leasing at this time. I believe it's a done deal," said Reed. Financial arrangements for the lease of the property are expected to be negotiated during the company's annual convention in Florida next week, said Reed.

The Cooke County location was selected because of the success of the retail sales market along the Interstate 35 corridor, because the city is well situated between the Dallas-Fort Worth and Oklahoma City areas, and because of the amount of traffic and income level of the people who travel the interstate, he said.

The developer plans to expand the Gainesville mall by an additional 90,000 square feet in 1994 and another 90,000 square feet by 1996.

The announcement comes at an opportune time for a city and county that have been struggling economically. "This project is a brand new approach to our economic development because it's retail," said Gainesville City Attorney Mack Barnhart, who said it will rekindle a new spirit in the community. "If nothing else, this comes at a time when we need a kick in the shin to get going, and I think that's the most important thing this project will do," he said.

The city and county have agreed to pay the developer $324,000 in grant funds the first year the factory shops open, if the shops generate minimum annual sales of $27 million and employ at least 150 people. The grant payments will increase to $1.2 million by the 10th year if the company reaches retail sales of $100 million. The city and county will fund the payments through sales tax, property tax and other city revenues, said Gainesville City Manager Lyle Dresher.

The mall is expected to generate an additional $800,000 in property tax and $520,000 in sales taxes for the city and county the very first year it is opened, said Dresher. The total economic impact is estimated at $8.3 million the first year, he said.

Spinoff benefits are expected to be numerous, including the use of local labor and materials for construction, an increase in utility customers, further improvements along Interstate 35, increased tourism and keeping more Gainesville shoppers at home, Dresher said.

The San Marcos mall, whose tenants include Nike, Vanity Fair, Corbin, Tourister Luggage and Donna Karen Fashions of New York, has netted a 30-percent sales tax increase for the City of San Marcos in the year it has been in operation, said Reed. Of that total, 70 percent can be directly attributed to mall sales, while 30 percent is from sales generated by other businesses whose sales have increased due to increased visitors to the city, he said. An estimated 8,000 shoppers visit the San Marcos mall daily, he said.

The Prime Group has opened five similar malls in San Marcos, Tennessee, North Carolina, Florida and Illinois since its beginnings in 1981. Besides the Gainesville mall, the company plans to open outlet malls in Colorado and Ohio in the next couple of years, said Reed.

Will our children pay for our extravagance?

by Congressman Charles Stenholm

One of the most frustrating realities for both the citizens of this great Country and their representatives in Congress is dealing with the size of our federal government. Without trying to determine which way to point the blaming finger - towards the citizens who demand more services and support, the legislators who make unrealistic promises, or the bureaucrats who enlarge their territory and lose touch with the imposition government makes on private citizens - the fact is that our government has reached proportions which few find manageable or even understandable.

Nowhere is that reality more true than in the area of the federal budget, debt and deficit.

Which one of us can really grasp the enormity of a $1 trillion budget? How important is a $350 billion annual deficit? How do we comprehend an accumulated debt which will pass the $4 trillion mark by September 1992?

It's hard to imagine what 4 trillion of anything is. Did you know that with $4 trillion, we could paper all of Abilene corner-to-corner with $100 bills and still have $1 trillion to hand out to every man, woman and child in the city - $10.8 million per person!

It would take the U.S. Bureau of Printing and Engraving and the U.S. Mint, working together at their present pace, more than 1200 years to print and coin $4 trillion.

If four million workers each worked at the average industrial wage from age 18 to nearly 80, they would have to pool their total life savings to come up with $4 trillion.

The enormity of the numbers is mind-boggling and yet we must find a way to deal with those numbers. Why? Because the numbers do not represent money the government has collected and then spent. That $4 trillion is the build-up of spending beyond our national means.

Our federal spending habits are analogous to what happens in a household where credit cards use and loan accumulation outpace income. The family which repeatedly decides to "Buy Now, Pay Later" soon finds itself on a treadmill which leads nowhere. Rapidly their interest payments reach a proportion where all the family can do is pay for the interest, never actually reducing the principle. It goes without saying that at this point in the family's economic life, the prospect of buying a new car or another TV or taking a vacation is seen as simply preposterous. Heaven help them if some emergency - long term illness, destruction of their home, or other major crisis - strikes at that point. There is no where to turn.

Unfortunately, this is exactly the place we find ourselves today as a national family. For the first time this year, the gross interest payments on the public debt of the United States will become the costliest single item in the federal budget. This means that as a Nation we are spending more on interest payments than we are on education or farm programs or senior citizens centers or any other single federal program. Predictions are that by next October the expenses for servicing the National debt will account for 21 percent of the entire fiscal year 1992 budget, or 57 cents out of every personal income tax dollar.

Making the problem even worse is the fact that America did not invest enough of the debt-increasing funds that we borrowed in the 1980s. Far more of the spending went for immediate gratification of wants than for solid investments in the future. Spending which has a return for the dollar - such as investment tax credits, infrastructure improvements, education and preventative health care were minor, almost irrelevant portions of that debt accumulation.

In addition to this $4 trillion debt, we are facing the equivalents of family emergencies: A health care system which the public is demanding to be changed, a savings and loan crisis, and an economy which is recovering from recession far more slowly than we would hope. On top of all of that, many Members propose spending for new programs - the equivalent of a new car or TV for the family.

Is all hopelessness and loss? Absolutely not. We do not need to wring our hands with depression and helplessness. But we do need to seriously face this problem head-on before we ruin the lives of our children and grandchildren. It is estimated that every member of the younger generation now entering the work force today will be forced to relinquish an additional $200,000 in taxes over their lifetimes just to pay for the debt we have accumulated to this point.

Those of us who are middle-aged and older must bear the responsibility of our actions. It took our Nation more than 200

Choices offered at May 2 local elections

Citizens dissatisfied with their present government supported new candidates in the Cooke County elections and showed a preference for new faces in many public offices. This trend may also be so of Muenster's local elections where many incumbents have drawn opponents. Voters will make their choices on Saturday, May 2, at the Muenster Public School where Mary Endres will be the election judge.

Places 1, 2 and 4 are open on the Muenster City Council. At deadline Wednesday, there were candidates for all three places, two having opponents. Place 1 incumbent Joe Koesler will run against Fran Voth; Place 2 incumbent Aubry Tuggle faces Pat Dennis; and Place 4 incumbent Arthur Hennigan is unopposed.

Eight candidates have filed for seats on the Muenster Memorial Hospital Board where five positions are up for election this year. Terms held by David Bright, Debbie Hess, Werner Becker Jr., Dr. Enrique Juarez and Lisa Walterscheid are up for election. Lisa Walterscheid has not filed for another term.

Voters will select five of the eight to serve a two-year term. The candidates are Debbie Hess, Lora Hennigan, David Bright, Dr. Juarez, Werner Becker Jr., Roger Taylor and Don Flusche.

The terms of Dennis Hess and Jerry Bynum are expiring on the Muenster Public School Board. Dennis Hess is unopposed and Mr. Bynum has not filed. Clifford Sicking has filed for that position.

GARDENERS...

Need some fresh ideas on what to do with your flower beds or vegetable gardens? The Muenster Enterprise is publishing its second annual Spring Lawn and Garden Issue next week. The special edition will be a part of the March 27 issue of The Muenster Enterprise and will be filled with great gardening tips, ideas, what's new, lots of photos, plus much more! Also several local gardeners will be featured.

Good News!

Rejoice, O young man, while you are young and let your heart be glad in the days of your youth. Follow the ways of your heart, the vision of your eyes; yet understand that as regards all this God will bring you to judgment. Ward off grief from your heart and put away trouble from your presence, though the dawn of youth is fleeting.

ECCLSIASITES 12:9-10

To the Editor,
In reality, this letter is addressed to the State Dept. of Highways and Public Transportation asking for an improvement in the current design of the northbound exit 483 (Lone Oak Rd.) on I-35. According to members of the Highway Dept., the east service road on I-35 from the Cooke-Denton County Line to Gainesville will be resurfaced this summer.

We humbly request that the current hazardous northbound exit ramp be both straightened and made wider. It is indeed foolish to spend millions and millions on I-35 in Cooke County and leave some of the very poorly designed, hazardous entry and exit ramps unchanged.

U.S. Postal Service sponsors Customer Recognition Day

Postmaster Virgil Henscheid has announced that Wednesday, March 25, has been designated by the U.S. Postal Service as Customer Recognition Day. Local postmasters were encouraged to choose any day in March for its observance, and March 25 was Henscheid's choice.

This is primarily a way for the U.S. Postal Service to tell its customers "We appreciate your business! Thanks for using our service!"

Promotion posters will be placed in the post office lobby and informational pamphlets will be available.

Put your mouth where your money is!

by Dave Fette

The Muenster City Council is trying to decide how much of your money to spend. "So, what else is new?" you say. You know the council was quick to spend your money on new welding equipment. That was needed to stop the practice of paying to use equipment belonging to a city employee. You know they did not spend your money on a new telephone system to replace the old system at City Hall.

Now, you should know that the council will decide what to spend on trash bags. It's time to order another year's supply. A repeat order of the same sacks we're used to will cost $25,125.00. Good, strong (and let's admit it, multi-use) sacks that are biodegradable. Joe Fenton has found another sack maker who offers a bag of the same material and glue, but of different dimensions, more rectangular and a little less volume. The same number of these sacks would save the city, I mean us, $5,250.00.

Some of the council members fear that we will throw a fit if they get different shaped sacks - I won't. Would you please tell them if you want to save five thousand bucks? In fact, I don't think it should be necessary to question that kind of decision.

We also have to buy some big-time lawn mowing equipment. You know that as of April, the city employees will be using their idle time maintaining the city parks. But, the city doesn't have equipment to do the job. Some sticky questions arise: Should we buy the more expensive, heavier, water-cooled, diesel equipment or the lighter, air-cooled, less-expensive model? How big or how small is the right size? Bigger - smaller - faster - slower - more or less trimming? Do you want the lawn to look like a lawn or a hatchet-job? (Whoops, sorry about the editorializing!) Should we buy out-of-county, in-county, in-town? Yes, good equipment is available locally.

As long as you're going to share your knowledge or opinion, how about telling the council how important the appearance and function of our parks are to you. Tell them how attractive beautiful parks are to our out-of-town friends who bring their money and good will to Muenster. While you're at it, tell them we need a full-time parks person who has his or her heart in it to make our parks even more beautiful and better maintained. Why not tell them?

Yes, it will probably cost more, but we've got $5,000.00 savings from the trash bags you're going to approve, for starters. Don't you think it's worth it?

Finally, thanks to Ben and Joe and Johnny and everybody who worked to clean out the creek. And thanks to Arthur Hennigan who has put substance in the title of Parks Commissioner.

The Tax Man Cometh

by Edwin Feulner

When you sit down to figure your taxes this year, think about this: Every dollar you send to the tax man actually could set you back as much as $1.65.

That extra 65 cents is how much it costs you and me to comply with the IRS's Byzantine regulations. And you thought it was merely a nuisance.

Each year, most taxpayers lose dozens of productive working hours keeping tax records and filling out IRS forms. In effect, we "donate" use of our homes, offices, telephones, calculators, and computers to the tax man. An estimated 45 million of us, tired of pulling out our hair, even hire outside tax preparers to suffer the frustrations and indignations for us. We also lose money when we avoid working overtime, delay capital gains, or forego investments to escape higher taxes.

The time we lose filling out those 1040s and related forms costs billions. According to tax expert James L. Payne, individuals and businesses spent more than 5.4 billion hours filling out IRS forms in 1985. That was the equivalent of 2,943,000 Americans working full time on federal taxes.

Based on the average salaries of accountants and IRS employees in 1990 — $28.30 an hour — this means that taxpayers spent $232 billion or more complying with federal tax policies last year, Payne writes in the Winter 1992 issue of Policy Review.

Total costs run higher when you add on the costs of IRS audits and responding to IRS inquiries. In 1990, related costs — for enforcement, forced collections, and litigation — ran to $64.5 billion, Payne estimates.

The irony is that much of this expense is totally unnecessary. For example, in 1990, the IRS issued 4.9 million letters to individuals who allegedly underreported their income. Incredibly, the General Accounting Office (GAO) — the Congressional audit agency — found that 48 percent of the "underreporter" notices contained errors!

Time and money also are lost as a result of the tax system's complexity. One-third of all U.S. employers are penalized in a typical year for making honest mistakes on the highly complex payroll-tax deposit rules. But even the IRS can't seem to figure out its own forms. According to the GAO, 44 percent of the penalties assessed in 1990 were wrong.

Finally, there's the money lost to a tax system that penalizes hard work and investment. A study conducted by economists at Michigan State University, Stanford University and the University of Western Ontario, in Canada, found that for every dollar raised in taxes, the economy lost 33.2 cents as a result of reduced production and investment. This translated into an economic loss of $315.6 billion in 1990, Payne says.

All told, the cost of collecting taxes in 1990 was an estimated $618 billion — far more than the $6 billion that shows up on the official budgets of the IRS.

"The tax system is the most expensive government 'program' of all, costing society over twice as much as defense, and over six times the bill for Medicare," Payne says.

These hidden costs mean that every federal program actually costs 65 percent more than its announced budget. The $20-billion housing program, for example, actually represents a sacrifice of $33 billion; a congressman's $125,000 salary actually costs the country $206,000, and so on.

Washington's taxaholics will tell you that the U.S. tax system is an effective way to finance public programs. Don't believe it.

Note: Feulner is president of The Heritage Foundation, a Washington-based public policy research institute.

About your pictures...

The Muenster Enterprise makes a sincere effort to protect pictures brought in for use in the newspaper, and expects the owners to return later to pick up their pictures. It sometimes happens that the owners forget for a long time. It also sometimes happens that well-meaning or accommodating relatives and friends volunteer to "take along an extra picture," fully intending to get that picture back to its original owner. Sadly, sometimes they mislay, forget or actually lose the item. And sometimes memory fails all of us, resulting in hurt feelings or angry accusations. It will therefore be the future policy here at The Muenster Enterprise to release pictures to immediate family members only. Exceptions may be made in rare instances only if the person claiming the picture will sign for it.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR WASTE DISCHARGE PERMIT RENEWAL

CITY OF MUENSTER, P.O. Box 208, Muenster, Texas 76252 has applied to the Texas Water Commission for renewal of Permit No. 10341-01 which authorizes a discharge of treated domestic wastewater effluent at a volume not to exceed an average flow of 207,000 gallons per day. The wastewater treatment facilities are approximately 800 feet south of the intersection of Hickory and Eddy Streets, south of the City of Muenster and north of Brushy Elm Creek in Cooke County, Texas. The effluent is discharged into Brushy Elm Creek; thence to the Elm Fork Trinity River Above Ray Roberts Lake in Segment No. 0824 of the Trinity River Basin.

In accordance with the Texas Surface Water Quality Standards, the Commission staff must determine the existing uses for the receiving water in the area of the proposed discharge and whether the proposed discharge will cause significant degradation to any high quality waters in the area. The unclassified receiving waters of Brushy Elm Creek have limited aquatic life uses. The designated uses for Segment No. 0824 are contact recreation, high quality aquatic habitat and public water supply. The effluent limitations in the draft permit will maintain and protect the existing instream uses. All determinations are preliminary and subject to additional review and/or revision.

The Executive Director of the Texas Water Commission has prepared a draft permit which, if approved by the Commission, will enforce more stringent effluent limitations in order to meet existing applicable rules and regulations. It is proposed that the expiration date of the renewed permit be specified as midnight, five years after date of Commission approval.

Legal Authority: Section 26.02B of the Texas Water Code and 31 TAC Chapter 305 of the Rules of the Texas Water Commission.

No public hearing will be held on this application unless an affected person who has received notice of the application specifically requests a public hearing. Any such request for a public hearing shall be in writing and contain (1) the name, mailing address and daytime phone number of the person making the request; (2) the statement "...request a public hearing"; and (3) a brief description of how the requester, or persons represented by the requester, would be adversely affected by the granting of the application. If the Commission determines that the request sets out an issue which is relevant to the application, or that a public hearing, would serve the public interest, the Commission shall conduct a public hearing, after the issuance of proper and timely notice of the hearing. If no sufficient request for hearing is received within 30 days of the date of publication of the notice concerning the application, the permit will be submitted to the Commission for final decision on the application.

Requests for a public hearing on this application should be submitted in writing to Kerry D. Sullivan, Assistant Chief Hearings Examiner, Texas Water Commission, P.O. Box 13087, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711, Telephone (512) 463-7908. Information concerning any technical aspect of this application can be obtained by writing Dale W. be to receive input on how laws could possibly be made that would deter horse theft, either through branding or other licensing procedures, she said. At present, horse thieves can simply steal an animal and then sell them to an auction or slaughter house without proof of ownership, she said.

While there is a ban on the sale of horse meat for human consumption in Texas, four of the 13 horse slaughtering houses in the nation are located in Texas, she said. Of the 320,000 horses slaughtered in the United States in 1990 for horse meat, 185,000 were slaughtered in Texas. Among the main buyers of horse meat are the European Community and Mexico, she said.

years to reach a $1 trillion debt. Now in little more than a decade, we will have quadrupled that debt. We are increasing the mortgage on future generations at the rate of about $400 million each day. We dare not place even more on our children's backs.

I believe we can tackle the debt problem with a three-pronged approach.

First, I believe our irresponsible behavior proves that we must have a more powerful tool to enforce budget restraint - Constitutional Amendment requiring a balanced budget. This Constitutional backstop will ensure adherence to a long-term deficit reduction plan by reminding us there is a day of accounting not far around the corner.

Secondly, I believe any new spending by the Congress must be done on a pay-as-you-go basis. Whether you are a conservative who believes that a balanced budget and smaller government are intrinsically preferable or you are a liberal who wants to get on with the business of caring for our citizens' needs through new programs, it is imperative that everyone recognizes debt - reduction must come first. Any spending bills must be paid for through reductions in other existing programs. If taxes are increased - something which I resist - that money must be devoted to deficit reduction, not new programs. Furthermore, we must take on those formerly "untouchable" areas such as entitlement spending.

Thirdly, we must streamline the federal government, improving our self-management, avoiding duplication and reducing overhead costs. These things must be done in both the Executive Branch (the various departments and agencies) and in the Legislative Branch (Congress). Government streamlining must be done for budgetary reasons and so that citizens feel they can work with their government, not be overwhelmed by it.

In many ways, the 1990s will feel like the hangover from the extended debt party of the 1980s. We will pay for national overindulgence now and over many years to come. As William Siedman, former chairman of the FDIC, said at a recent budget committee hearing, "When you've been on a bender, no amount of Tabasco sauce and tomato juice is going to make it better." You just have to face the headache and get on with the day.

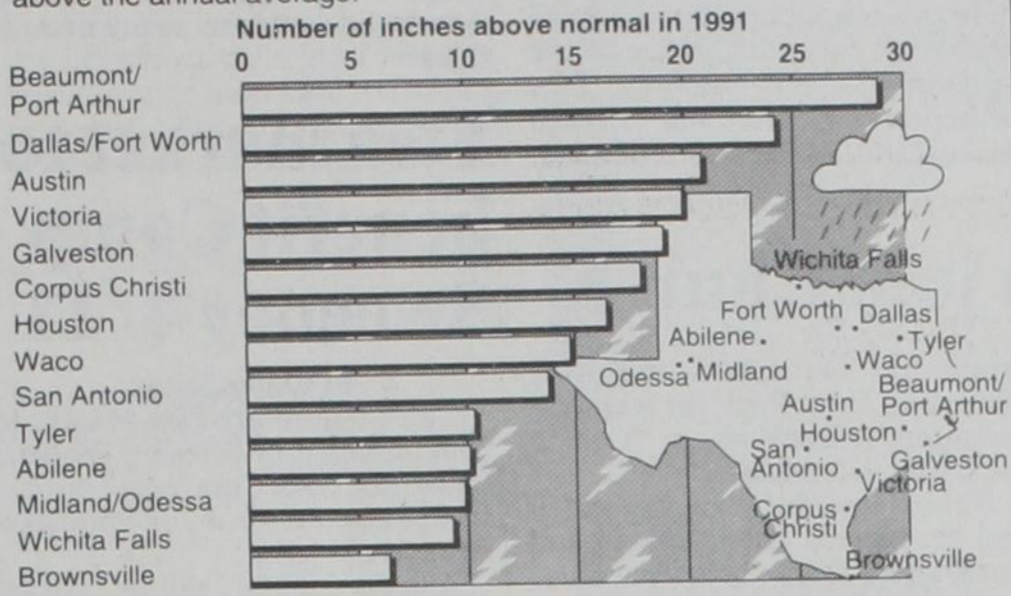

There are tough questions to be faced. Are you willing to postpone the COLA in your federal benefits for a year? Will you agree to requiring seniors who make over $60,000 or $100,000 a year to pay a greater portion of their Medicare benefits? If there is an honest $2 in spending reductions made for every $1 in taxes raised, will you support that tax increase? Will you limit the demands you make on Congress for new programs, new support, new benefits?

As your Congressman, I vow to you my willingness to pay and play my personal part - to start the budgetary restraint "at home" with a 20 percent reduction in the size of the Congressional budget including my own office operation and mail account, to pursue congressional and campaign finance reforms, and most importantly, to make deficit reduction the Number One priority in 1992.

Keeping an eye on Texas

Rainfall records rise across the state

In 1991 Dallas-Fort Worth and Austin experienced the wettest year recorded for their areas, while many other Texas cities showed rainfall totals far above the annual average.

Judge increases pressure on criminals

County Judge Ray Russell announced the implementation of a new program to force criminal defendants and their attorneys to dispose of their cases. Judge Russell explained that in the past, 20 misdemeanor cases a month were called for jury trial. Judge Russell has increased that number to 30, or an increase of 50%.

Judge Russell went on to explain that, while it is impossible to try that many cases a month, the criminal defense lawyers do not know which cases will be tried until shortly before the jury is impaneled, requiring each attorney to get prepared for trial or to have his client plead guilty.

Judge Russell also announced that he has eliminated the backlog of "Appeals" cases from Justice of the Peace and Municipal Courts. He said most County Courts have backlogs of hundreds or even thousands of these cases, which are appeals from traffic cases and other lesser misdemeanor cases.

Valley View gets state grant

by Elaine Schad

The Town of Valley View will receive a $187,000 state community development grant to be used for upgrading its wastewater treatment system, officials said this week.

The city must provide $101,000 in matching funds to receive the grant from the Texas Department of Housing and Community Affairs, said Valley View Mayor Owen Roane. Town aldermen will hold a public hearing at the end of April to discuss options of the grant and funding, he said.

The southern Cooke County community of 640 residents is awaiting word from the Texas Water Commission on renewal of its wastewater permit. The City of Dallas has protested renewing the permit at current treatment standards because of the town's proximity to Ray Roberts Lake.

Walnut Bend receives computers

ARCO Oil Company realizes the importance of schools having the latest technological innovations for preparing youth for future employment and existence in a rapidly-changing society. ARCO Production Supervisor Gil Mashburn and ARCO Assets Manager Bill Knight have joined into the latest trend of Industry-School linking by supporting the Walnut Bend School. ARCO's most recent contribution to the school was delivered recently by Gil Mashburn and Chuck Cheney of ARCO's Walnut Bend office. They delivered three state-of-the-art IBM color computers to the students at Walnut Bend School.

Walnut Bend Superintendent Charles Huneycutt commends ARCO for their support of public schools and the support that the ARCO employees personally give to the school as needed. During this year, ARCO has delivered teacher desk and file cabinets to the school. Superintendent Huneycutt elaborated the fact that this is the first school he has worked in where every teacher had all of the file cabinets they requested and needed.

Huneycutt states that the technology plan for the Walnut Bend School calls for their being a computer on each student's desk within the next four years. Thanks to companies like ARCO who care, Huneycutt says the plan is on target.

Era Vol. Fire Dept. hosts annual barbecue Mar. 21

The Era Volunteer Fire Department will host its annual barbecue this Saturday, March 21, at the Era School cafeteria.

The complete barbecue dinner will be served from 5 to 8 p.m. Tickets are $5 for adults and $3 for children.

The event is the largest annual fundraiser for the department, which has 25 members, said volunteer firefighter Junior Worthey.

The department has just finished equipping a new fire truck given to the department by the U.S. Forestry Service, he said. With the additional truck, the department now has a total of four vehicles to fight fires, including three regular trucks and a larger, 1,500-gallon truck, he said.

The public is invited to come out and support the volunteer firefighters.

Lifestyle

THE ENGAGEMENT and approaching marriage of Nora Cooper and Drue Bynum have been announced by her parents, Steve and Nelda Cooper of Muenster. Parents of the future-groom are Jerry and Kay Bynum, also of Muenster. Nora and Drue have chosen May 23 for their wedding day. The wedding will be held in First Baptist Church in Gainesville at 3 p.m. The bride-elect is a senior at Texas A&M University in College Station and will graduate in May. Bynum is a graduate of Muenster High School and graduated from the U.S. Military Academy at West Point.

CCC presents prestigious program by acclaimed artist

The Department of Music at Cooke County College will present Ms. Joan Wall in a vocal recital Thursday evening, March 26, at 7:30 p.m. in the Little Theater located on campus.

Ms. Wall is Professor of Music at Texas Woman's University in Denton, where she teaches vocal performance, language diction and directs the graduate program in vocal pedagogy.

Ms. Wall has sung as principal mezzo-soprano with the Metropolitan Opera Company of New York City, in Europe at the Deutsche Oper Berlin, the Netherland Opera and French Broadcasting, as well as in Canada, Mexico and 15 states in the U.S., performing opera, concert, recital and with symphonies. She has presented Master Classes for all the major professional vocal associations and for many universities.

There will be no charge for the recital and the public is urged to attend.

Three prepare to join Church

On Sunday, March 1, three candidates preparing to enter the Catholic Church began the final stage of their Lenten preparation for the Sacraments of Confirmation and Eucharist. They are Larry Gobble, Jerry Balthrop and Rhonda Jo Vagher.

The ceremonies began with a Rite of Sending during the 10:30 Mass in which the sponsors and congregation expressed their approval and support for the candidates. Sponsor for Larry Gobble is Monte Haverkamp; sponsor for Jerry Balthrop is Johnny Fisher and sponsor for Rhonda Jo Vagher is Barbara Bayer.

After Mass, the entire group enjoyed a lunch of fried chicken from Bayer's and vegetables and dessert prepared by Dorothy Fisher and Lucille Lutkenhaus of the Catholic Daughters of America. Then the group left for Christ the King Church in Iowa Park for a special ceremony referred to as "Call to the Easter Sacraments."

Bishop Joseph Delaney presided and recognized catechumens and candidates from area parishes. Again, he questioned their sponsors about their readiness and assured the candidates of the Church's support. A highlight of the service was when the candidates were introduced individually to the bishop. There was a reception afterward in the parish hall.

All three will join the church at the Easter Vigil Service when they will make a profession of faith and receive the Sacraments of Confirmation and Eucharist.

Clover Kids hold March meeting

The Muenster Clover Kids held their monthly meeting Tuesday, March 10, at 6 p.m. in the Sacred Heart kindergarten classroom. They opened the meeting by reciting the Pledge of Allegiance, the 4-H Pledge and Motto. Following this, each Clover Kid took a turn at telling what animal they showed at the 4-H Livestock Show on Feb. 29 and the ribbons they received for participating.

During the craft activity, each member used ice cream sticks to create their own special shelf decoration. Refreshments were served, followed by clean-up.

Attending the meeting were members Michelle Bayer, Andy Davis, Micah and Mackenzie Webster and new member Joseph Dangelmayr.

Adult leaders present were Annette Bayer, Laneta Martin, Teresa Webster, Jerry Sicking and John Dangelmayr. Helper was Yvonne Martin.

The next meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, April 14, at 6 p.m. at Sacred Heart kindergarten. Anyone age 5-8 years old is welcome to join the fun.

Bus tour to craft center offered May 1

“Don't Bag It” Lawn Care Kick-Off March 26

The City of Gainesville, in cooperation with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, will again this year be launching the “Don't Bag It” program. This program centers on three areas of lawn care - watering, fertilizing and mowing. The recycling program is aimed at reducing solid waste in landfills by urging citizens to leave their grass clippings on the lawn.

In many cities, grass clippings have been shown to increase the volume of solid waste from 20 to 30 percent during the summer. Leaving the clippings on the lawn will return valuable nutrients to the soil. Through this “Don't Bag It” program, homeowners will use fewer natural resources with less watering and chemicals.

A special “Kick Off” program for homeowners will be held Thursday, March 26, at 7 p.m., at the new Stanford House Senior Citizens Center on South Weaver Street in Gainesville. Goldthwaites of Texas, Inc. (Toro lawn mower distributors) again this year will donate a new Toro mulching lawn mower for a door prize at the “Kick Off” meeting. Additional information can be obtained from Gene Cravens, Gainesville Assistant City Manager, or Craig Rosenbaum, County Extension Agent.

MEGAN FELDERHOFF

Megan has happy third!

Megan Felderhoff turned three years old on March 5 and celebrated with her sisters, Jo Anna and Shaina; their parents, Barbie and David; and grandparents, Henry and Betty Felderhoff, at their home.

A birthday cake, “Harry Happy Face,” decorated by her father, was served with ice cream.

Megan celebrated again during the next several days with her cousins, Kimberly, Katie and Patrick Nix, and their parents, Brenda and Kim Nix; and with Candie and Adam Geiser.

She also went to visit her Grandma Celie and Grandpa Andy, who were unable to attend her birthday party.

Language development stressed at meeting

Sacred Heart Pre-School teacher Pam Dangelmayr, with the assistance of several Pre-School students, presented a program on the Language Development Area during the Feb. 24 Pre-School Parent Group meeting. It dealt with the stage in which a child begins reading and writing.

Rose Bartush demonstrated the movable alphabet using the object box to spell the name of objects and the language box where she matched the correct word card with the matching object card.

Stephanie Henscheid showed the alphabet using three-letter words with the short vowel sound and read a book using three-letter words combined to make sentences.

The movable alphabet with dictation and special letter combinations was demonstrated by Christopher Hoedebeck. Cheryl Bayer demonstrated the alphabet using object card and four-letter words.

During the Week of the Young Child, April 5-11, several events are planned including the annual Artfest on Thursday, April 9. Students from grades 7 and 8 will help with the Artfest. Parent volunteers are needed to work from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. and volunteers will be needed for set-up and clean-up. The Velveteen Rabbit will be performed at Casa Manana on April 7 and a field trip is planned for the event.

Colynda Sicking gave a program on Dental Hygiene to the Pre-School children and was thanked at the meeting by Mrs. Dangelmayr. Planning was started for the celebration of the Pre-School's 10th year.

The shelving units for Mrs. Dangelmayr's office were discussed and carpenters Glen Block and Bill Bayer will handle the project. Material costs are estimated at $600 and the labor is being donated.

Pat Jackson, president, adjourned the meeting and everyone helped to install the school's new mini-blinds. The next meeting will be March 23 at 7 p.m. in the Pre-School building.

Arts and crafts show in Saint Jo on April 4

On Saturday, April 4, the Twentieth Century Club of Saint Jo will sponsor the club's 15th Annual Arts and Crafts Show and Sale. "Springtime in Texas" is the show's theme this year.

Awards will be given for the Best of Show, the Judge's Award, People's Choice Award and First, Second, Third and Honorable Mention for all categories.

This show is designed for the amateur and the experienced; for adults and students.

Categories include, but are not limited to: oil, acrylic, watercolor, pastel, charcoal, graphics, drawing, photography, sculpture, tile/decorative, machine and hand stitchery, wearable art, quilts, ceramics, pottery and wood-working.

Adult registration is from 8 a.m. to 9:30 a.m. on Saturday, April 4; student registration is from 7 to 8 p.m. on Friday, April 3.

A beautiful handstitched quilt will be raffled. Tickets are $1.00 each or 6 for $5.00. The quilt is on display at Weldon's Custom Interiors on the Saint Jo Square.

Exhibition space is available for only $10.00 for those who wish to display art/craft items for sale only. Registration forms and raffle tickets are available at Goff's Flowers on the Square.

For further information, contact Norma Thompson, Box 195, Saint Jo, TX 76265, (817) 995-2544.

Cross-examination debaters attend meet

For the first time in the history of UIL Academic competition, debate has its own dates of competition separate from the annual Academic State Meet. Representing Muenster at the state meet were senior Rex Huchton and freshman Kerri Barnhill. Using an affirmative case involving the federal government assisting the homeless which are mentally ill,

Rex and Kerri began debating at 9 a.m. on Monday, March 16, and, after four rounds, with each round lasting 1½ hours of continuous debating, these two wound up with a 3-1 record and advanced to the octofinals round. The octofinals began at 9 a.m. on Tuesday, March 17. Rex and Kerri lost to the team from Lago Vista on a 2-1 decision of a panel of three judges.

To advance to the octofinals, Muenster defeated Thorndale, Evadale and Corsicana Mildred before being defeated by another team from Corsicana Mildred. Monday was a long, exhausting day for everyone. Debaters began at 8 a.m. and it was 8:30 p.m. when it was over for the day. Debate Coach Robert Wayne McDaniel is extremely pleased with Rex and Kerri this year. Considering that this is the first year for each to debate, they have complemented each other and represented themselves and Muenster very well. Since this is the first year for students to enter two speaking events, this made the state tournament more interesting. Excellent speakers from years past now had the chance to enter cross-examination debate and then later in the year enter another speaking event such as poetry, prose, informative or persuasive speaking.

Common questions about "Don't Bag It" lawn care problems

by Craig Rosenbaum

1. For best results, the "Don't Bag It" Lawn Care Plan recommends mowing every five to six days instead of once a week or longer. Isn't that more work?

Not really. Cutting grass before it's overgrown is easier and faster. Plus, you save the time and effort it takes to bag grass clippings and put them out for garbage pickup. "Don't Bag It" result demonstrators report less trouble overall with yard work. And don't forget... yard work is good exercise!

2. Will grass clippings cause thatch if left on the lawn? No. Thatch is a layer of organic material composed of plant parts that include roots, rhizomes, crowns and stolons - not the grass leaf or blade that you cut when you mow. The parts that cause thatch have a high lignin content, a substance that is very slow to decompose. Grass clippings do not contain much lignin and decompose fairly rapidly, returning valuable nutrients to the lawn.

3. My mower has a side discharge. What can I do about the unsightly rows of clippings left on the lawn when I remove the bag attachment?

If you leave a side discharge chute open, the grass clippings will blow out in small rows. When you close the chute, the clippings will be cut into smaller pieces by the mower blade and spread evenly beneath the mower.

Rear discharge mowers have an automatic trap door that closes when the bag attachment is removed. Most side discharge mowers have a trap door that can be lowered or attached manually. If your mower does not have a trap door, ask a lawn equipment sales or service dealer about installing one.

4. Can I turn my mower into a mulcher?

Yes, most manufacturers now offer kits that convert your mower to a mulcher.

5. I need a new mower. What should I buy?

Many new true mulching mowers are on the market now and more will be available. Bagging mowers may be fairly rare in a few years.

Extension Homemakers announce extended plans

A committee appointed by the Cooke County Extension Homemakers Council, including Betty Flynn, Lucille Lutkenhaus, Dorothy Fisher and Jo Ann Bibby, is arranging a May tour for all council members, to replace the customary May luncheon.

These plans highlighted the council meeting in the TU Electric Building on March 10 at 1:30 p.m. in Gainesville, presided by Dorothy Fisher, chairman.

Maryanne Fleitman of the Bluebonnet Club gave the Inspiration. Representatives of seven clubs answered roll call and gave club reports.

Wilma Richardson, secretary, read minutes and Mildred Davis, treasurer, gave her report. To date, 108 members from eight clubs have paid their dues for 1992.

A report on the Arts and Crafts Sell-O-Rama revealed that tables are selling well for the November 1992 date. Tommye Johnston of Sivel's Bend reported on Education Plus training, and appealed for volunteers.

Coins For Friendship were collected. The money helps support a fund for improvements at the Texas 4-H Center. Members also voted to again support the Cooke County Livestock Show and Sale by paying a premium on some of the animals sold there.

On March 17, five members and delegates attended the District meeting at Corsicana. Previously, Cultural Arts had been judged locally, and two entries were placed at the District level.

Refreshments in a St. Patrick's theme were served by the Bluebonnet Club of Muenster. Maryanne Fleitman is club reporter.

SH Drama class presents "Annie Get Your Gun"

The Speech and Drama Class at Sacred Heart High School have been putting the finishing touches on their spring play production that will be presented Friday, March 27, at 8 p.m. in the Community Center.

Students have selected the non-musical version of "Annie Get Your Gun." The play was originally produced on Broadway by Rogers and Hammerstein in 1946, but it still holds the color, zest and laughter of an old-time Wild West Show.

Advance tickets are on sale and can be purchased at the school. Tickets can also be obtained at the door for $4.00 for adults and $3.00 for children. Young and old alike are invited to attend the one-night-only performance and enjoy an evening of fine family entertainment.

Skit honors St. Joseph at Sacred Heart Mar. 12

Sister Mary John Seyler's Sacred Heart seventh grade class put on a short play Thursday, March 12, in honor of St. Joseph. Saint Joseph's Feast Day is celebrated on March 17.

Rev. Bonaventura Binzegger, OSB, made the Feast of St. Joseph a holy day for Sacred Heart Parish after a cyclone on July 31, 1893 destroyed the church. The red brick Gothic church stood until it began to crumble and was replaced with our present church which was completed in 1954. Parishioners still attend Mass in honor of St. Joseph on March 17 to ask his continued protection for the church and parish.

The play was performed several times Thursday for the various classes and parents and interested visitors. It was titled, "St. Joseph, This Is Your Life" and each student had a part.

SACRED HEART SEVENTH GRADERS participating in "This Is Your Life, Saint Joseph" included, l to r, standing - Adam Sicking, Joel Schilling, Paul Swirczynski, John Bartush, Tanya Knauf, Bart Sicking, Jody Felderhoff, Greg Flusche; front - Corey Hess, Michael Flusche, Brad Schilling and John Sparkman. Methodist Mission Home to conduct adoption orientation

The Methodist Mission Home of San Antonio will hold an all-day orientation for prospective adoptive parents at First United Methodist Church, 1928 Ross Avenue, Dallas, Texas on Saturday, April 4, 1992, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. The cost is $50 per couple. For advance registration, call (512) 696-7021 to assure yourselves a space and materials. You can register at the door.

Bryce Hatch, Director of Maternity and Adoption Services for the Home, will conduct the meeting. "Most couples, who have worked with us during the past year, have received a baby quicker than they ever thought possible," Hatch said recently. You could be the parents of an adopted child sooner than you think! Call for reservations today!

Lindsay Secular Franciscans hosted by Elizabeth Hoberer

Elizabeth Hoberer of Lindsay hosted the Secular Franciscans of St. Peter's Parish, when they met on March 10.

Theresa Hermes, minister, led the Preparation, Ritual and Holy Spirit prayers.

A number of letters were received to be presented to members: Fr. Anthony Plathe, chaplain of La Tuna Correctional Prison thanked them for rosaries and books; a letter from Sister St. John Begnard, SSMN, of the Fort Worth Diocese asked for rosaries and books for prisoners; a letter from Fr. Tom Gardner of the Franciscan Missionary Union asked for aid to build a retreat and formation center in the Amazon Valley of Brazil. Members voted to donate $115.00 to that project.

Members will send citizens petitions to President Bush and John Whitehead of Rutherford Institute protesting use of taxpayers' money to attack religious beliefs of people and to defame Christ.

Pat Bowman presented possible plans for a Centennial float. Members were reminded to pray the Daily Office. A get-well card to Marie Badgett was signed and mailed. Elvira Flusche made a motion to adjourn, followed by Ritual, Petitions and Renew Prayers. Jewell Sweeney will be hostess for the next meeting.

Mrs. Hoberer, March hostess, served a variety of pick-up foods and coffee.

News of the Sick

Ruby Wimmer underwent surgery last week and will be undergoing further treatment. She is home and cards will reach her at 1036 N.W. 25, Moore, OK 73160. Ruby is the daughter of Mrs. Angie Lutkenhaus.

Management practices should begin now for quail

Although winter rains over much of the state have provided wildlife with necessary food and cover, landowners and operators interested in quail habitat management should begin discing operations before the growing season later in March.

Discing in strips along the edge of existing stands of woody cover stimulates the growth of forbs, or weeds, which are highly sought after by quail and other wildlife, said Jim Lionberger, Texas Parks and Wildlife Department wildlife biologist in Snyder.

"The total diet of quail can consist of as much as 50 to 60 percent forbs," he said. "Most of the food comes in the form of seeds, but they also consume the green leaves."

Some forbs that respond well to discing, Lionberger said, are western ragweed, snow-on-the-mountain, native sunflower and croton (doveweed). Broomweed, considered undesirable by many ranchers, also serves as cover and food for quail.

Another way to stimulate forb growth is with "spot" or "flash" grazing. This involves grazing a small pasture with a large number of cattle for 7 to 10 days, then pulling them off for the remainder of the season, he said. While the area is being grazed, the cattle's hoof action creates soil disturbance that stimulates growth. If possible, this should be implemented and completed by the end of March.

Landowners also need to begin developing areas of woody cover for quail now. One method is by "half-cutting" small trees, which involves cutting halfway through the top side of the limbs no more than 30 inches above the ground and allowing the limbs to hang to the ground. This provides excellent loafing cover, Lionberger said. Multi-stemmed, smooth-barked trees are best suited for half-cutting and a circular pattern can be constructed by half-cutting limbs completely around the tree, thus creating living brush piles.

All trees along a fence row can be half-cut, but in pastures half-cut trees should be scattered 50 to 150 feet apart.

THE LEGEND OF THE SAND DOLLAR
Legend has it that these strange shells tell the story of Christ's suffering and his glory.

The five holes represent the five wounds of Christ. On the front the Easter Lily — its center, a five pointed star representing the Star of Bethlehem which led the shepherds from afar. On the back the outline of the Christmas Palm tree reminds us of his birthday. When the shell is broken open, five Doves of Peace and Good Will appear.

Because of this religious legend, this fascinating creature of the sea is often referred to as the Holy Ghost shell.

THE LEGEND OF THE DOGWOOD
There is a legend that at the time of the Crucifixion, the dogwood was the size of the oak and other forest trees. So firm and strong was the tree that it was chosen as the timber of the Cross. And from the Cross, it was said: "Never again shall the dogwood tree grow large enough to be used for such a cruel purpose. Henceforth it shall be slender and bent and twisted, and its blossoms shall be in the form of a cross...two long and two short petals."

"In the center of the outer edge of each petal there shall be nail prints, brown with rust and stained with red; and in the center of the flower will be a crown of thorns. And all who see it will remember."

THANK YOU

I would also like to thank the people of Muenster and Lindsay who kindly allowed me and my campaign workers to visit with them at their front doors and in their businesses, speak with them on the telephone and place signs on their property.

I would like to extend a heartfelt thank you to my family, my friends, my Campaign Treasurer and other campaign workers and supporters for the financial and moral support given to me during the campaign and for the long hours of work dedicated to my campaign.

I was overwhelmed by the tremendous support of the voters and I will continuously work hard to earn the trust that has been shown in me.

Hornet Relays Saturday

Muenster will host its 11th Annual Hornet Relay on Saturday, March 21, at Hornet Stadium. Field events begin at 8:30 a.m., with the top seven athletes going to the finals.

The girls' running preliminaries also start at 8:30, with the 3200m run final starting the races. The boys' prelims will begin at 10:45 or at the completion of the girls' prelims. The 3200m starts the boys' action on the track.

The running finals will begin one hour after the preliminaries. The meet will consist of four divisions - 1A girls, Class A, Class AA-AAA junior varsity; II Class AA-AAA girls; III boys Class A and AA-AAA junior varsity; IV Class AA-AAA boys.

The meet will consist of approximately 24 Class A teams from across the North Texas area. Muenster will be represented by the Hornet tracksters of Muenster ISD and the Tigers of Sacred Heart. Other area teams will include Lindsay, Era, Saint Jo and Valley View. There will be a combined 142A and 3A schools also participating.

Lady Hornets take first at Paradise

Muenster's Lady Hornets proved their talents in track and field events Saturday, by winning the Paradise meet with 145 points.

This was their second meet, with a few participating for the first time this season. "I was real proud of the girls as a team," said Coach Brian Strother. "Every point counts toward winning first place."

Muenster girls' results were as follows: 1600m, 3rd, Marlene Hess; 5th, Cheryl Hacker; 6th, Tonya Knabe. 3200m, 3rd, Marlene Hess; 4th, Lisa Russell; 5th, Misty Knabe. Shot, 1st, Roxie Knabe 38'6 1/2"; 6th, Danell Reiter 28'10". Discus, 3rd, Danell Reiter 87'3". High Jump, Amy Dankesreiter, 4th, 5'; DaLana Walterscheid, 5th, 5'.

100m, 5th, Denise Russell, 13.9. 200m, 2nd, Denise Russell, 28.8. 400m, 4th, Tina Klement, 107.1. 100m Hurdles, 2nd, Dianne Pagel, 16.5. 300m hurdles, 1st, Dianne Pagel, 50.92. 800m, 3rd, Amy Dankesreiter, 2:33.

Knights finish 2nd

The Lindsay Knights brought home the second place trophy from the Paradise Track Meet Saturday, earning 120 points and 18 medals. The Knights were beaten out by Class AA Jacksboro with 137 team points.

A big winner for Lindsay was Donnie Cox, earning four medals. A gold medal was won with his time of 15.84 in the 110m high hurdles. Cox finished 2nd in the 300m hurdles, clocking in at 42.6 and jumped 19'8" for a bronze in the long jump. he was also a member of the silver-finishing 400m relay team with Jeff Hermes, Pat Corcoran and Ronnie Dieter. Their time was 45.9.

Distance runner George Lutkenhaus brought home the gold medal in the 1600m run with a finish time of 4:53.

Silver medals were won by the 800m and 1600m relays. In the 800m, Keith Zimmerer, Chris Brown, Dan Zimmerer and Pat Corcoran teamed up for a 1:38.9 finish. The 1600m team of Fred Hughes, Keith Zimmerer, Jeff Hermes and Chris Brown clocked in with a 3:49 time.

Pat Corcoran also brought in points in the field events. His triple jump of 38'6" earned a bronze medal, as did his 128'10" discus throw. Corcoran finished 5th in the show, with a throw of 42'10". Kenny Fleitman earned a 5th place in the discus with an 118' toss.

Three Lindsay jumpers placed in the pole vault. Fred Hughes took a 3rd place medal with his vault of 10'6". Dan Zimmerer and Chris Brown cleared 9'6" to place 5th and 6th, respectively.

Keith Zimmerer earned a 4th place in the 400m, finishing with a time of 54.87. In the 800m run, Leslie Hess came in 4th and Shane Huchton 6th with times of 2:14 and 2:18. Jeff Hermes and Fred Hughes also placed in the 300m hurdles. Hermes' time of 44.6 earned a 4th place, while Hughes finished 6th at 45.4. Ron Dieter settled for a 6th place in the 100m dash, clocking in at 11.7 seconds.

The Knights will attempt to win the Hornet Relays Saturday in Muenster.

Short-handed Tigers capture fourth

The Sacred Heart Tigers competed in the Paradise Relays Saturday and, though short-handed, finished in fourth place. Ten of the 18 Tigers were absent, because of spring break and the County Livestock Show. "We had only 8 guys entered, but that didn't hold the Tigers back," Coach John Nasche commented. "We raced to a 4th place in a field of 16 teams and collected 12 personal-best records." The Tigers earned 57 points, trailing behind Class AA Jacksboro and Nocona and a tough

Lindsay team.

"I can't express how jubilant I am with the Tigers' progress. They continue to work hard, stay motivated and achieve new levels by shattering their own personal records from week to week," the coach continued.

To open the running events, the Tigers placed 1st, 2nd and 3rd in the 3200m run. Mark Flusche led the way with a 11:17.49 gold medal. Kelly Bayer followed at 11:33.35 with Jody Fleitman just inches behind with a time of 11:33.66. Flusche and Bayer both improved their personal records.

Sacred Heart continued to command the distance events with Aaron Berres taking the silver medal in the 800m run with a time of 2:12.52. Jason Hofbauer followed in 5th place. Neil Berres was the lone Tiger scoring in the 400m with a 6th place. Both Berres brothers set new personal records.

The Tigers once again showed their distance dominance by placing 2nd, 3rd and 4th in the 1600m run. Mark Flusche again led the way, breaking the 5-minute barrier for a 4:59.77 finish. Aaron Berres finished 5:03.10 and Kelly Bayer 4th at 5:14.38.

To finalize the scoring, the mile relay team of Jason Hofbauer, Werner Becker, Jason Frost and Neil Berres raced to a 3:52.84 5th place finish.

The Tigers will participate in the Hornet Relays Saturday. "We are looking forward to that meet because we will finally be at full strength," concluded Nasche.

Four Hornets finish 5th

Four Muenster Hornets attended the Paradise Track Meet Saturday and brought home 4 medals and a 5th place. Spring break and the County Livestock Show kept many members from attending.

Ryan Sicking was the Hornets' big winner, with 3 medals. His time of 42.17 gave him the gold in the 300m hurdles. Sicking won the silver in the 110m high hurdles with a 17.02 finish and a bronze medal in the long jump. His distance was measured at 19'9". Sicking settled for a 4th place finish in the 100m dash with a time of 11.58.

Mike Hacker's discus throw of 125'10 3/4" earned him the 3rd place medal.

Other Hornets competing were Brian Knabe and Tony Perryman.

Muenster hopes to be in full strength as they host the annual Hornet Relays this Saturday.

Tigerettes warm up

A short-handed Sacred Heart Tigerette team competed in the Paradise Meet Saturday and finished 10th out of 15 teams.

Shirley Henscheid finished 4th in the 1600m run with a time of 6:21. The 400m relay team of Deann Bayer, Vickie Bayer, Stephanie Grewing and Kelly Dangelmayr placed 5th at 57.4. Jenny Endres' time of 2:47 gave her a 6th place as did the 1600m relay. Vickie Bayer, Tiffany Fisher, Jenny Endres and April Truebenbach ran the relay in a time of 4:50.

The Tigerettes will compete in the Hornet Relays this Saturday in Muenster.

Walterscheid finishes college season on top

The SMU Lady Mustangs won their first post-season game last Wednesday night with an 85-77 win against 4th-seed Texas A&M. The Lady Mustangs were led by Muenster's Vicki Walterscheid as she established career highs with 29 points and 18 rebounds (7 offense, 11 defense). This also was a Southwest Conference Women's Tournament single game record.

Walterscheid played the total 40 game-minutes for the first time this season. "I never really got tired," she told the Dallas Morning News. "The guards got me the ball any time I wanted it, and that was a big key."

The senior post guard is said to be SMU's most consistent player this season, and their leading scorer, with a season total of 418 points and an average of 7 rebounds per game. Walterscheid has reached the double digit points in 16 of her last 17 games, including 9 straight and has been SMU's game-high rebounder 14 times this season.

The Sacred Heart graduate ranks 4th among SMU's all-time leaders with a 47.9 career field goal percentage (271 of 566). She tallied 3 double-doubles this season and has started 58 consecutive games for the Lady Mustangs.

In tournament action Thursday, the 5th-seed Lady Mustangs fell to top-seed Texas Tech in the semi-final match-up 79-67. Vicki put in 14 points in a contest that exchanged leaders throughout the playing time, making the game a close-fought battle.

Walterscheid ended her college basketball career by being named to the SWC Woman's All-Tournament Team.

Vicki Walterscheid, along with her many accomplishments on the court, has been listed on the Honor Roll at SMU.

Nikki Willett
This community has been saddened by the accidental death of a Forestburg High School student. Services for Nikki Willett, 15, were held Saturday, March 14, in the First United Methodist Church in Forestburg. Rev. Richard P. Dugger, pastor of the Forestburg Baptist Church, officiated. Interment was in Perryman Cemetery under the direction of Kreig-Owens-Brumley Funeral Home of Bowie.
Nikki passed away in Harris Hospital in Fort Worth Wednesday, March 12, from injuries received in an accident.
Nikki was born July 23, 1976 in Muenster, Texas. She was a member of the Forestburg Baptist Church, a student at Forestburg School where she was a member of the basketball team, tennis team and a member of the FHA.
Survivors include her father, Kevin Willett of Springtown; her mother, Teresa Metcalf of Forestburg; stepfather, Ken Metcalf of Forestburg; grandfather, Emanuel Willett of Sunset; stepbrother, Bryan Metcalf of Arlington; and sister, Kyla, of Forestburg.
Jack and Odessa Berry spent Wednesday in Marietta, Oklahoma with Johnnie and Katie Cook and their houseguests, Dorothy and Martin Dupslaff, Margie Knoedl and Virginia Brown, all of Little Rock, Arkansas. The Arkansas guests were cousins of Mrs. Berry and Mrs. Cook. They were enroute to visit other relatives in Dallas, San Antonio and Mission, Texas.
Mrs. Paula Barber, Charles and Angela of Wichita Falls came Saturday night for a visit until Monday with Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Hudspeth.
Kenda Hutson and Tiffany Hacker of Saint Jo spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hutson. Saturday night, the Hutsons and their guests attended the Saint Jo Opry. W.C. and Mary Ruth Hutson of Southlake had lunch with the Hutsons Sunday.
T. and Olivia Walford of Slidell visited Ted and Laura Belle Jackson Thursday afternoon.
Janice and Jim Conkright of Hereford visited her mother, Mrs. Josephine Berry, Tuesday and Wednesday. They had attended a Water Board Meeting in Lubbock and were enroute to attend the National Water Board Meeting in Fort Worth, then go to Austin to Study shows ways feed lots can protect water

by Joe Bryant

Feedlot operators and crop producers are teaming up to solve some problems before they become problems. And in the process, they're helping protect the water supplies for urban and rural residents alike.

Information from a research project conducted by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, Texas Cattle Feeders Association and Texas Agricultural Extension Service is helping farmers and cattle feeders put the nutrients in feedlot manure back into cropland in ways that don't endanger water supplies.

The manure from cattle in feedlots contains many nutrients cropland can use. But the questions researchers are trying to answer concern how much manure can be used, and how to apply it to avoid problems such as rainfall runoff contaminating water supplies.

"In the past, we've primarily looked at manure from a fertilization standpoint," said Thomas Marek, agricultural engineer with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Amarillo. "This study is looking at water quality effects and cropping procedures," that show how to match manure quantities and application methods to the amount of nutrients used by the crop. An even distribution of the manure is critical."

Preliminary results indicate that the low-nitrate nitrogen concentrations in the manure runoff from furrow irrigations meet the drinking water standards of the Environmental Protection Agency.

The study points out ways farmers and feeders can benefit while protecting the environment. Feedyards are a major market for feedgrain producers. Cropland can use feedlot manure for fertilizer to replenish and often improve the soil, while meeting environmental safeguards.

It takes about 4,500 acres of dryland or 2,250 acres of irrigated cropland for the manure from every 10,000 head of cattle. Texas feedyards annually feed some 5 million head, so there's not an oversupply of manure. Only about 135,000 irrigated acres, or 270,000 dryland acres, would handle the manure produced in those five counties.

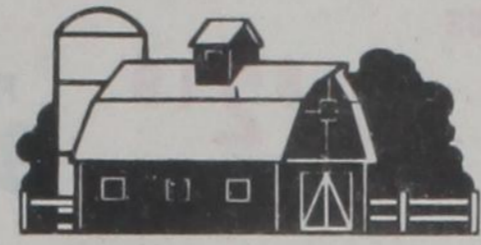

Feedlots operate under state permits and must meet strict regulations on manure handling and land application.

Commercial drivers beware

Congress has denied granting states the option to waive Commercial Drivers License (CDL) requirements for drivers of vehicles carrying agricultural products from retail outlets to the farm. The requirements apply to drivers of vehicles weighing more than 26,000 pounds and other special types of vehicles including those carrying hazardous materials that require placarding.

Accordingly, drivers are required to pass a driving and skill test and obtain their CDL by April 1, 1992. Penalties for violating CDL requirements are severe with drivers and employers subject to $2,500 in civil fines.

Congress has recently completed action on the Federal Highway Bill, the Senate version contained an amendment to grant states waiver authority, but during conference on the bill, the amendment was dropped at the insistence of the House. As a result, all legislative and regulatory avenues of relief from the CDL provisions have been exhausted for now.

My Views from the Farm

Last Saturday was a big day for all the young people who had spent months feeding and pampering, looking after and worrying about their 4-H and FFA projects they had entered in the Cooke County Junior Livestock Show.

There was a variety of animals, shown and judged Thursday and Friday. There were beef and dairy animals, sheep and goats, hogs, rabbits and also some chickens. It was easy to see that these kids had spent a lot of time and expense getting their projects in proper condition for the show, and also for the final end, the sale, on Saturday.

As the sale progressed, one could soon see how much love and feeling went into the care and raising of these animals that had become pets to many of the owners, and quite a few of the young folk, instead of gloating over the good prices paid by the very generous buyers, had solemn faces and some were openly in tears over the sudden parting from the animals they had grown so close to as time passed. All these kids, their sponsors, the buyers and all the people who helped and encouraged them, are due a big hand for a good job.

When I began these writings a few weeks ago, it was not my intention to dip into politics, but after reading about, and hearing the news of many of our elected officials in Washington, writing checks in such an irresponsible manner, I am "Mad as hell!" Why? Think about it! This is just how our's, our children's, and our grandchildren's money is being blown - by incompetents who don't seem to know how to run their own business. If we ordinary citizens handled our finances in like manner, we would either be broke, in jail, or both.

One of these check "kickers," according to published reports, admitted to writing 671 overdrafts totaling almost $120,000.00. These people seem to think it's their God-given right to spend their lives in Washington as our elected and re-elected representatives. Folks, it's time we turned a lot of these people out to pasture, although they deserve worse.

Average retail beef prices up

Average retail beef prices increased slightly during the past month, the National Cattlemen's Assn. reports. Reporting on its monthly 19-city survey of supermarkets, NCA noted that the average price of six cuts on Feb. 13 was $3.04 per pound, compared to $3.01 on Jan. 9.

Prices remained well below levels prevailing during the first part of 1991. Supplies of beef have decreased recently, and wholesale prices have risen substantially.

However, some beef price featuring by retailers has continued, and average retail prices have not risen very much.

The six-cut average was up from a month earlier in 12 cities and down in seven cities. National average prices of lean ground beef and chuck roast decreased during the month, reflecting stepped-up featuring of those cuts. Round steak, sirloin steak and T-bone steak averages rose.

The average price of regular ground beef was unchanged. National average prices of the six cuts on Feb. 13 were: Regular ground beef, $1.57; lean ground beef, $1.94; boneless round steak, $3.04; boneless top sirloin steak, $3.90; T-bone steak, $5.32; boneless chuck roll roast, $2.45.

Average prices in the monthly survey (second Thursday of each month) vary from month to month and among cities partly because of variations in merchandising approaches and in the amount of prices featuring at the time of the survey.

Differences in wage, transportation and other costs are among other reasons for the variations in average prices among cities.

THE NEW MASSEY-FERGUSON MF 1160 compact tractor is now available at S&W Tractor Co. in Gainesville.

"The tractor is designed for farmers that need a compact 4-wheel drive with the power to handle heavy-duty jobs," said Leighton Smith. Smith welcomes everyone to stop by and check over his complete line of equipment at S&W Tractor. Courtesy photo

Total Management Workshop set for April

A total ranch management workshop in Bowie this spring will focus on survival in the 1990s and beyond. Using integrated resource management concepts in ranching operations, the six-day workshop is scheduled for April 14-16 and 28-30, 1992, at the First National Bank Community Room in Bowie, Texas. This IRM program is being sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

A major focus will be management of enterprises to capitalize on available resources. The importance of identifying and deciding what resources and enterprises are best in achieving a balance between supply and demand also will be discussed. The program includes how to develop the necessary tools to determine a ranch's needs, as well as methods of monitoring current conditions and trends to help ranchers avoid crisis management situations. Emphasis will be placed on the most effective use of ranch resources to develop management strategies, enterprise mixes and day-to-day activities. Ranchers will learn how to identify factors and set strategic goals for ranching success.

Enrollment, limited to 30 participants, will be offered on a first-come, first-serve basis. The fee for the workshop is $250 for the individual participants and a reduced fee of $200 for additional participants from one family or ranch. Because the successful management of any operation depends on coordination and cooperation among all parties involved, spouses and/or owners, managers and hands are encouraged to participate.

The workshop is being sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service Montague Program Building Committee, MSD/AgVet and Donnell Ag Products, Inc. For additional information, contact Ron Gill (214) 231-5362, Rayford Pullen (817) 894-2831, Tom Troxel/Larry White (512) 278-9151 or your local County Extension Agent.

The workshop will be conducted by Tom Troxel, Larry White, Ron Gill, Ken Stokes and J.F. Cadenhead, specialists with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Aspirin with caffeine was 23 to 44 percent more effective than aspirin alone for patients with sore throat due to acute tonsillitis, in a study reported in Archives of Internal Medicine.

The sweet smell of helleotropic, similar to vanilla, seems to relax patients so that they can more easily stay still for a magnetic resonance imaging (MRI) test, doctors found at Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center in New York.

Vitamins and minerals should be locked up, just like other drugs. Children are at risk for accident overdose poisonings from them.

Three ounces of oatmeal or two of oat bran a day - every day - do help cut cholesterol, when used as part of a low-fat, low-cholesterol diet, the Journal of the American Medical Association reports.

Women who take estrogen after menopause can cut their risk of heart disease almost in half, a large-scale, long-term study at Brigham and Women's Hospital in Boston found. Benefits outweigh risks, doctors say.

Correction

The color of ribbons won in the Dorset Southdown division of the Feb. 29 4-H Livestock Show by Amy Hilton Sicking and Lucas Bayer were incorrectly listed. Amy's sheep was Breed Champion of that division and won a blue ribbon. Lucas' sheep entry won a red ribbon.

WHY IS RED MEAT RED? Because it contains more iron (the nutrient most often deficient in many diets) than other meats, according to Dr. Jeff Savell, a meats scientist at Texas A&M University. What's more, the iron in beef is heme iron, which is more readily absorbed by the body than non-heme iron, found in plant foods.
